THE PSALMS.

[Ps. 18, v. 18.]

18 They came upon me in the day of my calamity:
   But the LORD was my stay.

19 He brought me forth also into a large place;
   He delivered me, because he delighted in me.

20 The LORD rewarded me according to my righteousness;
   According to the cleanness of my hands he recompensed me.

21 For I have kept the ways of the LORD,
   And have not wickedly departed from my God.

22 For all his judgements were before me,
   And I put not away his statutes from me.

23 I was also perfect with him,
   And I kept myself from mine iniquity.

24 Therefore hath the LORD recompensed me according to my righteousness,
   According to the cleanness of my hands in his eyesight.

25 With the merciful thou wilt shew thyself merciful;
   With the perfect man thou wilt shew thyself perfect;

26 With the pure thou wilt shew thyself pure;
   And with the perverse thou wilt shew thyself froward.

27 For thou wilt save the afflicted people;
   But I will shew mercy to the humble.

28 For thou wilt light my lamp:
   The LORD my God will lighten my darkness.

29 For by thee I run upon a troop;
   And by my God do I leap over a wall.

30 As for God, his way is perfect:
   The word of the LORD is tried;
   He is a shield unto all them that trust in him.

31 For who is God that saves me?
   And who is a rock, beside our God?

32 The God that girdeth me with strength,
   And maketh my way perfect.

33 He maketh my feet like hinds' feet:
   And setteth me upon my high places.

34 He teacheth my hands to war;
   So that mine arms do bend a bow of brass.

35 Thou hast also given me the shield of thy salvation:
   And thy right hand hath held me up,
   And thy gentleness hath made me great.

36 Thou hast enlarged my steps under me,
   And my feet have not slipped.

37 I will pursue mine enemies, and overtake them:
   Neither will I turn again till they are consumed.

38 I will smite them through that they shall not be able to rise:
   They shall fall under my feet.

39 For thou hast girded me with strength unto the battle:
   Thou hast subdued me under me those that rose up against me.

40 Thou hast also made mine enemies turn their backs unto me,
   That I might cut off them that hate me.

41 They cried, but there was none to save:
   Even unto the LORD, but he answered them not.

42 Then did I beat them small as the dust before the wind:
   I did cast them out as the mire of the streets.

43 Thou hast delivered me from the strivings of the people;
   Thou hast made me the head of the nations:
   A people whom I have not known shall serve me.

44 As soon as they hear of me they shall obey me:
   The strangers shall submit themselves unto me.

45 The strangers shall fade away, and shall come trembling out of their close places.

46 The LORD liveth; and blessed be my rock;
   And exalted be the God of my salvation:

47 Even the God that executeth vengeance for me,
   And that substeth peoples under me.

48 He rescueth me from mine enemies:

Even length of days forever and ever.

Thou makest him glad with joy in thy presence.

THE PSALMS.

And all my bones are out of joint: My heart is like wax; It is melted in the midst of my bowels.

My strength is dried up like a potsherd; And my tongue cleaveth to my jaws; And thou hast brought me into the dust of death.

For dogs have compassed me: The assembly of evil-doers have inclosed me; They pierced my hands and my feet.

I may tell all my bones; They look and stare upon me:

They part my garments among them, And upon my vesture do they cast lots.

But be not thou far off, O Lord: O thou my succour, haste thee to help me.

Deliver my soul from the sword; My darling from the power of the dog.

Save me from the lion's mouth; Yea, from the horns of the wild oxen thou hast answered me.

I will declare thy name unto my brethren: In the midst of the congregation will I praise thee.

Ye that fear the Lord, praise him; All ye the seed of Jacob, glorify him; And stand in awe of him, all ye the seed of Israel.

For he hath not despised nor abhorred the affliction of the afflicted; Neither hath he hid his face from him:

But when he cried unto him, he heard.

If his mother went out of the gate, if she sat at any place.

If she be cast out of the city, if she be moved from her place,

Put me not, O Lord, unto reproach; Lay not thy heavy burden upon me.

Remember me, O Lord, with favor; Look upon me, and be merciful unto me;

For I am a stranger with thee; A sojourner and as it were a guest; I abide not, and I shall depart:

 verdicts. 4 If I have smitten any; 5 If I have laboured, or if I have told lies.

Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: And I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

A Psalm of David.

1 The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.

2 He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: He leadeth me beside the still waters.

He restoreth my soul: He guideth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake.

3 Ye that fear the Lord, praise him, All ye hisseed of Jacob, glorify him, And stand in awe of him, all ye the seed of Israel.

For he hath not despised nor abhorred the affliction of the afflicted; Neither hath he hid his face from him:

But when he cried unto him, he heard.

If his mother went out of the gate, if she sat at any place,

Put me not, O Lord, to reproach; Lay not thy heavy burden upon me.

For I am a stranger with thee; A sojourner and as it were a guest; I abide not, and I shall depart:

Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: And I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

A Psalm of David.

The earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof; The world, and they that dwell therein.
2 For he hath founded it upon the seas, And established it upon the floods.

3 Who shall ascend into the hill of the LORD? And who shall stand in his holy place?

4 He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart; Who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, And hath not sworn deceitfully.

5 He shall receive a blessing from the LORD, And righteousness from the God of his salvation.

6 This is the generation of them that seek after him. That seek thy face, O God of Jacob.

7 Lift up your heads, O ye gates; And be ye lift up, ye everlasting doors: And the King of glory shall come in.

8 Who is this King of glory? The LORD strong and mighty, The LORD mighty in battle.

9 Lift up your heads, O ye gates; Ye shall be lifted up, ye everlasting doors: And the King of glory shall come in.

10 Who is this King of glory? The Lord of hosts, He is the King of glory. [Selah]

11 To thee, O LORD, do I lift up my soul. O my God, in thee have I trusted, Let me not be ashamed; Let not mine enemies triumph over me.

12 Consider mine affliction and my travail; And forgive all my sins.

13 Consider mine enemies, for they are many: And they hate me with cruel hatred.

14 Consider mine enemies, for they are many: And they hate me with cruel hatred.

15 Mine eyes are ever toward the LORD; For he shall pluck my feet out of the net.

16 Behold, I lift up my hands unto thee; I will make my prayer unto thee.

17 The troubles of my heart are enlarged: O bring thou me out of my distresses.

18 Consider mine affliction and my travail; And forgive all my sins.

19 Consider mine enemies, for they are many: And they hate me with cruel hatred.

20 O keep my soul, and deliver me: Let me not be ashamed, for I put my trust in thee.

21 Let integrity and uprightness preserve me, For I await on thee.

22 Redeem Israel, O God, Out of all his troubles.
26 A Psalm of David.

1 Judge me, O LORD, for I have walked in mine integrity: I have trusted also in the LORD without wavering.
2 Examine me, O LORD, and prove me; Try my reins and my heart.
3 For thy lovingkindness is before mine eyes; And I have walked in thy truth.
4 I have not sat with vain persons; Neither will I go in with dissemblers.
5 I hate the congregation of evildoers, And will not sit with the wicked.
6 I will wash mine hands in innocency; So will I compass thine altar, O LORD:
7 That I may make the voice of thanksgiving to be heard, And tell of all thy wondrous works.
8 LORD, I love the habitation of thy house, And the place where thy glory dwellth.
9 Gather not my soul with sinners, Nor my life with men of blood:
10 In whose hands is mischief, And their right hand is full of bribes.
11 But as for me, I will walk in mine integrity: Redeem me, and be merciful unto me.
12 My foot standeth in an even place: In the congregations will I bless the LORD.

27 A Psalm of David.

1 The LORD is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The LORD is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?
2 When evil-doers came upon me to eat up my flesh, Even mine adversaries and my foes, they stumbled and fell.
3 Though an host should encamp against me, My heart shall not fear: Though war should rise against me,
4 Even then will I be confident.
5 One thing have I asked of the LORD, that will I seek after; That I may dwell in the house of the LORD all the days of my life,
6 To behold the beauty of the LORD, and to inquire in his temple.
7 For in the day of trouble he shall keep me secretly in his pavilion: In the covert of his tabernacle shall he hide me; He shall lift me up upon a rock.
8 And now shall mine head be lifted up above mine enemies round about me; And I will offer in his tabernacle sacrifices of joy; I will sing, yea, I will sing praises unto the LORD.
9 Hear, O LORD, when I cry with my voice: Have mercy also upon me, and answer me.
10 When thou saidst, b Seek ye my face; my heart said unto thee, Thy face, LORD, will I seek. c Hide not thy face from me; Put not thy servant away in anger:
11 For my father and my mother have forsaken me. But the LORD will take me up. d Teach me thy way, O LORD; And lead me in a plain path, Because of mine enemies.
12 Deliver me not over unto the will of mine adversaries: For false witnesses are risen up against me, and such as breathe out cruelty.
13 I had fainted, unless I had believed to see the goodness of the LORD In the land of the living.
14 Wait on the LORD:

THE PSALMS.

Ps. 27, v. 14.

"Be strong, and let thine heart take courage; Yea, wait thou on the Lord."

28 A Psalm of David.

1 Unto thee, O LORD, will I call; My rock, be not thou deaf unto me:
Lest, if thou be silent unto me, I become like them that go down into the pit.
2 Hear the voice of my supplications, when I cry unto thee, When I lift up my hands toward thy holy oracle.
3 Draw me not away with the wicked, And with the workers of iniquity: Which speak peace with their neighbours, But mischief is in their hearts.
4 Give them according to their work, and according to the wickedness of their doings: Give them after the operation of their hands; Render to them their deserts.
5 Because they regard not the works of the LORD, Nor the operation of his hands. He shall break them down and not build them up.
6 Blessed be the LORD, Because he hath heard the voice of my supplications.
7 The LORD is my strength and my shield; My heart hath trusted in him, and I am helped: Therefore my heart greatly rejoiceth; And with my song will I praise him.
8 The LORD is their strength. And he is a strong hold of salvation to his anointed. Save thy people, and bless thine inheritance: Feed them also, and bear them up for ever.

29 A Psalm of David.

1 Give unto the LORD, O ye sons of the mighty,
2 Give unto the LORD the glory due unto his name; Worship the LORD in the beauty of holiness.
3 The voice of the LORD is upon the waters: The God of glory thundereth, Even the LORD upon many waters.

4 The voice of the LORD is powerful; The voice of the LORD is full of majesty.
5 The voice of the LORD breaketh the cedars; Yea, the LORD breaketh in pieces the cedars of Lebanon.
6 He maketh them also to skip like a calf; Lebanon and Sirion like a young wild-ox.

7 The voice of the LORD cleaveth the flames of fire.
8 The voice of the LORD shaketh the wilderness; The LORD shaketh the wilderness of Kadesh.
9 The voice of the LORD maketh the hind to calve, And stripeth the forest bare: And in his temple every thing saith, Glory.

10 The LORD sitteth as king at the Flood; Yea, the LORD sitteth as king for ever.
11 The LORD will give strength unto his people; The LORD will bless his people with peace.

A Psalm; a Song at the Dedication of the House; a Psalm of David.

And thou forgavest the iniquity of my sin. *Selah

6 For this let every one that is godly pray unto thee in a

Surely when the great waters overflow they shall not reach unto him.

7 Thou art my hiding place; thou wilt preserve me from trouble;

Thou wilt compass me about with songs of deliverance.

8 I will instruct thee and teach thee in the way which thou shalt go:

I will counsel thee with mine eye upon thee.

9 For he spake, and it was done; He commanded, and it stood fast.

10 The LORD bringeth the counsel of the nations to nought; He maketh the thoughts of the peoples to be of none effect.

11 The counsel of the LORD standeth fast for ever, The thoughts of his heart to all generations.

12 Blessed is the nation whose God is the LORD; The people whom he hath chosen for his own inheritance.

13 The LORD looketh from heaven; He beholdeth all the sons of men;

14 From the place of his habitation he looketh forth Upon all the inhabitants of the earth;

15 He that fashioneth the hearts of them all, That considereth all their works.

16 There is no king saved by one multitude of an host: A mighty man is not delivered by great strength.

17 An horse is a vain thing for safety: Neither shall he deliver any by his great power.

18 Behold, the eye of the LORD is upon them that fear him, Upon upon them that hope in his mercy; And delivereth them.

19 To deliver their soul from death, And to keep them alive in p peace.

20 Our soul hath waited for the LORD: He is our help and our shield.

21 For our heart shall rejoice in his holy name.

22 Let thy mercy, O LORD, be upon us, According as we have hoped in thee.

A Psalm of David; when he changed his behaviour before Abimelech, who drove him away, and he departed.

1 I will bless the LORD at all times: His praise shall continually be in my mouth.

2 My soul shall make boast in the LORD: The meek shall hear thereof, And be glad.

3 O magnify the LORD with me, And let us exalt his name together.

4 I sought the LORD, and he answered me, And delivered me from all my fears.

5 They looked unto him, and were lightened: And their faces shall never be confounded.

6 This poor man cried, and the LORD heard him, And saved him out of all his troubles.

7 The angel of the LORD encampeth round about them that fear him, And delivereth them.

8 O taste and see that the LORD is good: Blessed is the man that trusteth in him.

9 O fear the LORD, ye his saints: For there is no want to them that fear him.

10 The young lions do lack, and suffer hunger: But they that seek the LORD shall not want any good thing.

11 Come, ye children, hearken unto me: I will teach you the fear of the LORD.

12 What man is he that desireth life, And loveth many days, that he may see good?

13 Keep thy tongue from evil, And thy lips from speaking guile.

14 Depart from evil, and do good; Seek peace, and pursue it.

15 The eyes of the LORD are toward the righteous, And his ears are open unto their cry.

16 The face of the LORD is against them that do evil, To cut off the remembrance of them from the earth.

17 The righteous cried, and the LORD heard,
And delivered them out of all their troubles.

18 The Lord is nigh unto them that are of a broken heart, And saveth such as be of a contrite spirit.

19 Many are the afflictions of the righteous: But the Lord delivereth him out of them all.

20 He keepeth all his bones: Not one of them is broken.

21 Evil shall slay the wicked: And they that hate the righteous shall be condemned.

22 The Lord redeemeth the soul of his servants: And none of them that trust in him shall be condemned.

A Psalm of David.

1 Strive thou, O Lord, with them that strive with me: Fight thou against them that fight against me.

2 Take hold of a shield and buckler, And stand up for mine help.

3 Draw out also the spear, and stop the way against them that pursue me: Say unto my soul, I am thy salvation.

4 Let them be ashamed and brought to dishonour that seek after my soul: Let them be turned back and confounded that devise my hurt.

5 Let them be as chaff before the wind, And the angel of the Lord driving them on.

6 Let their way be dark and slippery, And the angel of the Lord pursuing them.

7 For without cause have they hid for me their net in a pit, Without cause have they digged a pit for my soul.

8 Let destruction come upon him at unawares; And let his net that he hath hid catch himself:

9 With destruction let him fall thereon.

9 And my soul shall be joyful in the Lord:

10 All my bones shall say, Lord, who is like unto thee, Which delivereth the poor from him that is too strong for him, Yea, the poor and the needy from him that spoileth them.

11 Unrighteous witnesses rise up; They ask me of things that I know not.

12 They reward me evil for good, To the breaching of my soul.

13 But as for me, when they were sick, my clothing was sackcloth: And my prayer returned into mine own bosom.

14 I behaved myself as though it had been my friend or my brother: I bowed down mourning, as one that bewaileth his mother.

15 But when I halted they rejoiced, and gathered themselves together:
The abjects gathered themselves together against me, and I knew it not: They did tear me, and ceased not:

16 Like the profane mockers in feasts, They gnashed upon me with their teeth.

17 Lord, how long wilt thou look on? Rescue my soul from their destructions, And my darling from the lions.

18 I will give thee thanks in the great congregation: I will praise thee among much people.

19 Let not them that are mine enemies wrongfully rejoice over me: Neither let them wink with the eye that hateth me without a cause.

20 For they speak not peace: But they devise deceitful words against them that are quiet in the land.

21 Yea, they opened their mouth wide against me; They said, Aha, aha, our eye hath seen it.

1 Or, held guilty. 2 Or, and the battle are against me. 3 Heb. darkness and slippery places.

4 Or, the battle of their set. 5 Or, into that very destruction let him fall. 6 Or, Malicious. See Ex. 23. 1.

THE PSALMS.

22 *Thou hast seen it, O LORD; keep not silence; O LORD, be not far from me.

23 *Stir up thyself, and awake to *my judgement, *even unto my cause, my God and my Lord.

24 *Judge me, O LORD my God, according to thy righteousness; And *let them not rejoice over me.

25 Let them not say in their heart, *Aha, so would we have it: Let them not say, *We have swallowed him up.

26 *Let them be ashamed and confounded together that rejoice at mine hurt: Let them be *clothed with shame and dishonour that magnify themselves against me.

27 Let them shout for joy, and be glad, that *favour my righteous cause: *Yea, *let them say continually, *The Lord be magnified, Which hath *pleasure in the prosperity of his servant.

28 And *my tongue shall talk of thy righteousness, *And of thy praise all the day long.

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David. The faithfulness reacheth unto the skies.

6 *Thy righteousness is like the mountains of God; *Thy judgements are a great deep: O LORD, thou *preservest man and beast.

7 *How precious is thy lovingkindness, O God! And the children of men take refuge under the shadow of thy wings.

8 They shall be *abundantly satisfied with the fatness of thy house; And thou shalt make them drink of *the river of *thy pleasures.

9 For with thee is *the fountain of life: *In thy light shall we see light.

10 O continue thy lovingkindness unto them that *know thee; And thy righteousness to *the upright in heart.

11 Let not the foot of pride come against me, And let not the hand of the wicked drive me away.

12 There are *the workers of iniquity fallen: They are thrust down, And *shall not be able to rise.

36 A Psalm of David.

1 *Fret not thyself because of evil-doers, Neither be thou *envious against them that work unrighteousness.

2 For *they shall soon be *cut down like the grass, And wither as the green herb.

3 *Trust in the Lord, and do good; And *well in the land, and *follow after faithfulness.

4 *Delight thyself also in the Lord; And *he shall give thee the desires of thine heart.

5 *Commit thy way unto the Lord; And *he shall bring it to pass.

6 *And he shall make thy right-

37 A Psalm of David.

1 *Fret not thyself because of evil-doers, Neither be thou *envious against them that work unrighteousness.

2 For they shall soon be *cut down like the grass, And wither as the green herb.

3 *Trust in the Lord, and do good; *Dwell in the land, and *follow after faithfulness.

4 *Delight thyself also in the Lord; And *he shall give thee the *desires of thine heart.

5 *Commit thy way unto the Lord; *Trust also in him, and he shall bring it to pass.

Rest in the Lord, and wait patiently for him:
Fret not thyself, because of him who prospereth in his way,
Because of the man who bringeth wicked devices to pass.

Cease from anger, and forsake wrath:
Fret not thyself, if tendeth only to evil-doing.

For evil-doers shall be cut off:
But those that wait upon the Lord, they shall inherit the land.

Yet a little while, and the wicked shall not be:
Yea, thou shalt diligently consider his place, and he shall not be.

But the meek shall inherit the land;
And shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace.

The wicked plotteth against the just,
And gnasheth upon him with his teeth.
The Lord shall laugh at him:
For he seeth that his day is coming.
The wicked have drawn out the sword, and have bent their bow;
To cast down the poor and needy,
To slay such as be upright in the way:
Their sword shall enter into their own heart.
And their bows shall be broken.
Better is a little that the righteous hath
Than the abundance of many wicked.

For the arms of the wicked shall be broken:
But the Lord  upholdeth the righteous.
The Lord knoweth the days of the perfect:
And their inheritance shall be for ever.
They shall not be ashamed in the time of evil:
And in the days of famine they shall be satisfied.
But the wicked shall perish.

And the enemies of the Lord shall be as the excellency of the pastures:
They shall consume,  smoke they shall consume away.
The wicked borroweth, and payeth not again:
But the righteous dealeth graciosly, and giveth.
For such as be blessed of him shall inherit the land;
And they that be cursed of him shall be cut off.
A man's goings are established of the Lord;
And he delighteth in his way.
Though he fall, he shall not be utterly cast down:
For the Lord upholdeth him with his hand.
I have been young, and now am old;
Yet have I not seen the righteous forsaken,
Nor his seed begging their bread.
All the day long he dealeth graciously, and lendeth;
And his seed is blessed.
Depart from evil, and do good;
And dwell for evermore.
For the Lord loveth judgement,
And forsaketh not his saints;
They are preserved for ever:
But the seed of the wicked shall be cut off.
The righteous shall inherit the land,
And dwell therein for ever.
The mouth of the righteous talketh of wisdom,
And his tongue speaketh judgement.
The law of his God is in his heart;
None of his steps shall slide.
The wicked watcheth the righteous,
And seeketh to slay him.
The Lord will not leave him in his hand,
Nor condemn him when he is judged.
Wait on the Lord, and keep his way,
And he shall exalt thee to inherit the land:
When the wicked are cut off, thou shalt see it.

[Ps. 39, v. 1.

9 Lord, all my desire is before thee;
And my groaning is not hid from thee. c Ps. 6. 6.
10 My heart throbeth, my strength faileth me:
As for the light of mine eyes, it also is gone from me. d See Ps. 6. 7.
11 My lovers and my friends stand aloof from my plague;
And my kinsmen stand afar off. e See Ps. 10. 15.
12 They also that seek after my life lay snares for me; j
And they that seek my hurt speak mischievous things, and imagine deceits all the day long.
13 But I, as a deaf man, hear not;
And I am as a dumb man that openeth not his mouth.
14 Yea, I am as a man that heareth not;
And in whose mouth are no reproofs.
15 For in thee, O Lord, do I hope:
Thou wilt answer, O Lord my God.
16 For I said, Lest they rejoice over me: AV when my feet slippeth, they magnify themselves against me.
17 For I am ready to halt,
And my sorrow is continually before me.
18 For I will declare mine iniquity; I will be sorry for my sin.
19 But mine enemies are lively, and are strong:
And they that hate me wrongfully are multiplied.
20 They also that render evil for good Are adversaries unto me, because I follow the thing that is good.
21 Forsake me not, O Lord:
O my God, be not far from me. y See Ps. 10. 1.
22 z Make haste to help me, O Lord my salvation.

39 For the Chief Musician, for Jeduthun. A Psalm of David.

THE PSALMS.

Ps. 40, v. 11.

1 I waited patiently for the LORD; And he inclined unto me, and heard my cry.

2 He brought me up also out of an horrible pit, out of the miry clay; And he set my feet upon a rock, and established my goings.

3 And he hath put a new song in my mouth, even praise unto our God: Many shall see it, and fear, And shall trust in the LORD.

4 Blessed is the man that maketh the LORD his trust, And respecteth not the proud, nor such as turn aside to lies.

5 Many, O Lord my God, are the wonderful works which thou hast done, And thy thoughts which are to us-ward:

6 They cannot be set in order unto thee; If I would declare and speak of them, They are more than can be numbered.

7 Sacrifice and offering thou hast no delight in; Mine ears hast thou opened: Burnt offering and sin offering hast thou not required.

8 Then said I, Lo, I am come; In the rollof the book it is written of me:

9 I delight to do thy will, O my God; Yea, thy law is within my heart.

10 I have not hid thy righteousess within my heart; I have declared thy faithfulness and thy salvation: I have not concealed thy loving-kindness and thy truth from the great congregation.

11 Withhold not thou thy tender mercies from me, ()Lord: Let thy lovingkindness and thy truth continually preserve me.

Ps. 40, v. 12. THE PSALMS.

12 For innumerable evils have compassed me about, mine iniquities have overtaken me, so that I am not able to look up;
They are more than the hairs of mine head, and my heart hath failed me.

13 Be pleased, O Lord, to deliver me:

14 Let them be ashamed and confounded together That seek after my soul to destroy it:

15 Let them be turned backward and brought to dishonour That delight in my hurt.

16 Let them be desolate by reason of their shame That say unto me, Aha, Aha.

17 But I am poor and needy; Yet the Lord thinketh upon me:
Thou art my help and my deliverer; Make no tarrying, O my God.

41 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

1 Blessed is he that considereth the poor: The Lord will deliver him in the day of evil.

2 The Lord will preserve him, and keep him alive, and he shall be blessed upon the earth:
And deliver not thou him unto the will of his enemies.

3 The Lord will support him upon the couch of languishing:
Thou makest all his bed in his sickness.

4 I said, O Lord, have mercy upon me:

5 Mine enemies speak evil against me, saying,
When shall he die, and his name perish?

6 And if he come to see me, he speaketh vanity;
His heart gathereth iniquity to itself:
When he goeth abroad, he telleth it.

7 All that hate me whisper together against me:
Against me do they devise my hurt.

8 An evil disease, say they, cleaveth fast unto him:
And now that he lieth he shall rise up no more.

9 Yes, mine own familiar friend, in whom I trusted, which did eat of my bread, Hath lifted up his heel against me.

10 But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon me, and raise me up,
That I may requite them.

11 By this I know that thou delightest in me, Because mine enemy doth not triumph over me.

12 And as for me, thou uphouldest me in mine integrity, And setttest me before thy face for ever.

13 Blessed be the Lord, the God of Israel, From everlasting and to everlasting.
Amen, and Amen.

BOOK II.

When shall I come and appear before God?

3 My tears have been my meat day and night, While they continually say unto me, Where is thy God?

4 These things I remember, and pour out my soul within me,
Ps. 42, v. 4.

THE PSALMS.

Ps. 44, v. 7.

How I went with the throng, and led them to the house of God,
With the voice of joy and praise, a multitude keeping holyday.

Why art thou cast down, O my soul?
And why art thou disquieted within me?
Hope thou in God: for I shall yet praise him
For the health of his countenance.

O my God, my soul is cast down within me:
Therefore do I remember thee from the land of Jordan,
And the Hermons, from the hill Mizar.

Deep calleth unto deep at the noise of thy waterspouts:
All thy waves and thy billows are gone over me.

Yet the Lord will command his lovingkindness in the daytime,
And in the night his song shall be with me,
Even a prayer unto the God of my countenance.

I will say unto God my rock, Why hast thou forgotten me?
Why go I mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?

As with a sword in my bones, mine adversaries reproach me:
While they continually say unto me, Where is thy God?

Why art thou cast down, O my soul?
And why art thou disquieted within me?
Hope thou in God: for I shall yet praise him,
Who is the health of my countenance, and my God.

Judge me, O God, and plead my cause against an ungodly nation:
O deliver me from the deceitful and unjust man.

For thou art the God of my strength; why hast thou cast me off?
Why go I mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?

O send out thy light and thy truth; let them lead me:
Let them bring me unto thy holy hill,
And to thy tabernacles.

Then will I go unto the altar of God,
Unto God my exceeding joy:
And upon the harp will I praise thee, O God, my God.

Why art thou cast down, O my soul?
And why art thou disquieted within me?
Hope thou in God: for I shall yet praise him,
Who is the health of my countenance, and my God.

For the Chief Musician; a Psalm of the sons of Korah.

1 We have heard with our ears, O God, our fathers have told us,
What work thou didst in their days, in the days of old.

2 Thou didst drive out the nations with thy hand, and plantedst them in;
Thou didst afflict the peoples, and spreadst them abroad.

3 For they gat not the land in possession by their own sword,
Neither did their own arm save them:
But thy right hand, and thine arm, and the light of thy countenance,
Because thou hadst a favour unto them.

4 Thou art my King, O God:
Command deliverance for Jacob.

5 Through thee will we push down our adversaries:
Through thy name will we tread them under that rise up against us.

6 For I will not trust in my bow, neither shall my sword save me.

But thou hast saved us from our adversaries,
And hast put them to shame that hate us.

And in God have we made our boast all the day long,
And we will give thanks unto thy name for ever. [Selah]

But now thou hast cast us off, and brought us to dishonour:
And goest not forth with our hosts.

Thou makest us to turn back from the adversary:
And which hate us spoil for themselves.

Thou hast given us like sheep appointed for meat:
And hast scattered us among the nations, as though thou soldst thy people for nought,
And hast not increased thy wealth by their price.

Thou makest us a reproach to our neighbours,
A scorn and a derision to them that are round about us.

Thou makest us a byword among the nations,
A shaking of the head among the peoples.

All this is come upon us; yet have we not forgotten thee,
Neither have we dealt falsely in thy covenant.

Our heart is not turned back,
Neither have our steps declined from thy way;
That thou hast sore broken us in the place of jackals,
And covered us with the shadow of death.

If we have forgotten the name of our God,
Or spread forth our hands to a strange god;
 Shall not God search this out?
For he knoweth the secrets of the heart.

Yea, for thy sake are we killed all the day long;
We are counted as sheep for the slaughter.

Awake, why sleepest thou, O Lord?
Arise, cast we not off for ever.
Wherefore hidest thou thy face,
And forgettest our affliction and our oppression?
For our soul is bowed down to the dust:
Our belly cleaveth unto the earth.

Rise up * for our help,
And * redeem us for thy loving-kindness' sake.

For the Chief Musician; set to *Shoshannim: a Psalm of *the sons of Korah. *Maschil. A Song of loves.

My heart overflows with a goodly matter:
*I speak the things which I have made touching the king:
My tongue is the pen of a ready writer.

Thou art fairer than the children of men;
Grace is poured into thy lips:
Therefore God hath blessed thee for ever.

Gird thy sword upon thy thigh, O mighty one,
Thy glory and thy majesty.
And in thy majesty ride on prosperously,
Because of truth and meekness and righteousness:
And thy right hand shall teach thee terrible things.

Thy arrows are sharp; the peoples fall under thee;
The peoples fall under thee; *They are in the heart of the king's enemies.

Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever:
A sceptre of equity is the sceptre of thy kingdom.
Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated wickedness:
Therefore God, thy God, hath anointed thee
With the oil of gladness above thy fellows.
All thy garments smell of myrrh, and aloes, and cassia;
Out of ivory palaces *stringed instruments have made thee glad.
Kings' daughters are among thy honourable women:

He maketh wars to cease unto the end of the earth; He breaketh the bow, and cutteth the spear in sunder; He burneth the chariots in the fire. 11

Be still, and know that I am God; I will be exalted among the nations, I will be exalted in the earth. 14

The LORD of hosts is with us; The God of Jacob is our refuge. [Selah]

Elaps your hands, all ye peoples; Shout unto God with the voice of triumph. 1

For the LORD Most High is terrible; He is a great King over all the earth. 2

He shall subdue the peoples under us, And the nations under our feet. He shall choose our inheritance for us, the excellency of Jacob whom he loved. 4

God is gone up with a shout, The Lord with the sound of a trumpet. 5

Sing praises to God, sing praises; Sing praises unto our King, sing praises. 6

For God is the King of all the earth: Sing ye praises with understanding. 7

God reigneth over the nations: God sitteth upon his holy throne. 8

The princes of the peoples are gathered together
To be the people of the God of Abraham:
For the shields of the earth belong unto God;
He is greatly exalted.

A Song; a Psalm of the sons of Korah.

Great is the Lord, and highly to be praised,
In the city of our God, in his holy mountain.

Beautiful in elevation, the joy of the whole earth,
Is mount Zion, on the sides of the north,
The city of the great King.

God hath made himself known in her palaces for refuge.
For, lo, the kings assembled themselves.
They passed by together.
They saw it, then were they amazed;
Trembling took hold of them:
Trembling took hold of them.

God will establish it forever.

As is thy name, O God, So is thy praise unto the ends of the earth:
Thy right hand is full of righteousness.

Let mount Zion be glad, Let the daughters of Judah rejoice,
Because of thy judgements.

Walk about Zion, and go round about her:
Tell the towers thereof.

Mark ye well her bulwarks, Consider her palaces;
'That ye may tell it to the generation following.

For the Chief Musician; a Psalm of the sons of Korah.

Hear this, all ye peoples; Give ear, all ye inhabitants of the world:
Both low and high, Rich and poor together.
My mouth shall speak wisdom;
And the meditation of my heart shall be of understanding.
I will incline mine ear to a parable:
I will open my lips saying upon the harp.
Wherefore should I fear in the days of evil,
When iniquity at my heels compasseth me about?
They that trust in their wealth, And boast themselves in the multitude of their riches;
None of them can by any means redeem his brother, Nor give to God a ransom for him:
(For the redemption of their soul is costly,
And must be let alone forever:)
That he should still live alway,
That he should not see corruption.
For he seeth that wise men die,
The fool and the brutish together perish,
And leave their wealth to others.
Their inward thought is, that their houses shall continue for ever,
And their dwelling places to all generations;
They call their lands after their own names.
But man abideth not in honour:
He is like the beasts that perish.

This their way is folly:
Yet after them men approve their sayings. [Selah]

14 They are appointed as a flock for Sheol;
Death shall be their shepherd:
And the upright shall have dominion over them in the morning;
And their beauty shall be for Sheol to consume, that there be no habitation for it.

But God will redeem my soul from the power of Sheol:
For he shall receive me. [Selah]

Be not thou afraid when one is made rich,
When the glory of his house is increased:
His glory shall not descend after him.

Though while he lived he blessed his soul,
And men praise thee, when thou doest well to thyself,
He shall go to the generation of his fathers:
They shall never see the light.

Man that is in honour, and understandeth not,
Is like the beasts that perish.

50 A Psalm of *Asaph.

1 *God, even God, the Lord, hath spoken, And called the earth from the rising of the sun unto the going down thereof."

2 Out of Zion, the perfection of beauty, God hath shined forth.

3 Our God shall come, and shall not keep silence: A fire shall devour before him, And it shall be very tempestuous round about him.

4 He shall call to the heavens above, And to the earth, that he may judge his people:
Gather my saints together unto me:
Those that have made a covenant with me by sacrifice.

6 And the heavens shall declare his righteousness; For God is judge himself.

7 O Hear, O my people, and I will speak; O Israel, and I will testify unto thee:
I am God, even thy God.

8 I will not reprove thee for thy sacrifices;
And thy burnt offerings are continually before me.

9 I will take no bullock out of thy house,
Nor he-goats out of thy folds.

10 For every beast of the forest is mine,
And the cattle 11 upon a thousand hills.

11 I know all the fowls of the mountains:
And the wild beasts of the field are 12 mine.

12 If I were hungry, I would not tell thee:
For the world is mine, and the fulness thereof.

13 Will I eat the flesh of bulls, Or drink the blood of goats?

14 Offer unto God the sacrifice of thanksgiving; And pay thy vows unto the Most High:

Ps. 52, v. 21.

21 These things hast thou done, and I spake to thee, and I spake in order before thine eyes.

22 Now consider this, ye that forget God, lest I tear you in pieces, and there be none to deliver:

23 Whoso offereth the sacrifice of thanksgiving shall glorify me; and to him that ordereth his conversation aright will I shew the salvation of God.

51 *Have mercy upon me, O God, according to thy lovingkindness: according to the multitude of thy tender mercies blot out my transgressions. 2 Wash me throughly from mine iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin. 3 For I acknowledge my transgressions: and my sin is ever before me. 4 Against thee, thee only, have I sinned, and done that which is evil in thy sight: that thou mayest be justified when thou speakest, and be clear when thou judgest. 5 Behold, I was shapen in iniquity; and in sin did my mother conceive me. 6 Behold, thou desirest truth in the inward parts: and in the hidden part thou shalt make me to know wisdom.

7 For the Chief Musician. *Maschil of David: when *Nathan the prophet came unto him, after he had gone into Bath-sheba.

9 o Hide thy face from my sins, and blot out all mine iniquities.

10 Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me.

11 Cast me not away from thy presence; and take not thy holy spirit from me.

12 Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation: and uphold me with a free spirit.

13 Then will I teach transgressors thy ways: and sinners shall be converted unto thee.

14 Deliver me from my bloodguiltiness, O God, thou God of my salvation; and *my tongue shall sing aloud of thy righteousness.

15 O Lord, open thou my lips; and my mouth shall shew forth thy praise.

4 Thou lovest all devouring words, 10 thou deceitful tongue.

5 God shall likewise destroy thee for ever, He shall take thee up, and pluck thee out of thy tent, And root thee out of the land of the living. [Selah 6.]

6 The righteous also shall see it, and fear, And shall laugh at him, saying, Lo, this is the man that made not God his strength; But trusted in the abundance of his riches, And strengthened himself in his wickedness. 8 But as for me, I am like a green olive tree in the house of God: I trust in the mercy of God for ever and ever. 9 I will give thee thanks for ever, because thou hast done it: And I will wait on thy name, for it is good, in the presence of thy saints.

6 Oh that the salvation of Israel were come out of Zion! When God 5 bringeth back the captivity of his people, Then shall Jacob rejoice, and Israel shall be glad.

54 For the Chief Musician; on stringed instruments. ✪ Maschil of David: when the Ziphites came and said to Saul, Doth not David hide himself with us? 1 Save me, O God, by thy name, And judge me in thy might. 2 Hear my prayer, O God; Give ear to the words of my mouth. 3 For strangers are risen up against me, And violent men have sought after my soul: They have not set God before them. 4 Behold, God is mine helper: The Lord is of them that uphold my soul. 5 He shall requite the evil unto mine enemies: Destroy thou them in thy truth. 6 With a freewill offering will I sacrifice unto thee: I will give thanks unto thy name, O Lord, for it is good. 7 For he hath delivered me out of all trouble; And mine eye hath seen my desire upon mine enemies.

55 For the Chief Musician; on stringed instruments. ✪ Maschil of David. 1 Give ear to my prayer, O God; And hide not thyself from my supplication, 2 Attend unto me, and answer me: I am restless in my complaint, and in moan; 3 Because of the voice of the enemy, Because of the oppression of the wicked; For they cast iniquity upon me. And in anger they persecute me. 4 My heart is sore pained within me: And the terrors of death are fallen upon me. 5 Fearfulness and trembling are come upon me.
5 And a horror hath overwhelmed me.
6 And I said, Oh that I had wings like a dove!
Then would I fly away, and be at rest.
7 Lo, then would I wander far off, I would lodge in the wilderness.
8 I would haste me to a shelter from the stormy wind and tempest.
9 Destroy, O Lord, and divide their tongue: For I have seen violence and strife in the city.
10 Day and night they go about it upon the walls thereof: Iniquity also and mischief are in the midst of it.
11 Wickedness is in the midst thereof: Oppression and guile depart not from her streets.
12 For it was not an enemy that reproached me; Then I could have borne it: Neither was it he that hated me that did magnify himself against me; Then I would have hid myself from him:
13 But it was thou, a man mine equal, My companion, and my familiar friend.
14 We took sweet counsel together, We walked in the house of God with the throng.
15 Let death come suddenly upon them, Let them go down alive into the pit: For wickedness is in their dwelling, in the midst of them.
16 As for me, I will call upon God; And the Lord shall save me.
17 Even evening, and the morning, and at noonday, will I complain, and moan: And he shall hear my voice.
18 He hath redeemed my soul in peace from the battle that was against me: For they were many that strove with me.
19 God shall hear, and answer them, Even he that abideth of old.

50 Be merciful unto me, O God; for man would swallow me up: All the day long he oppresseth me.
2 What time I am afraid, I will put my trust in thee.
3 In God I will praise his word: In God have I put my trust; I will not be afraid; What can flesh do unto me?
4 All the day long they wrest their words: All their thoughts are against me for evil.
5 They gather themselves together, they hide themselves, They mark my steps, Even as they have waited for my soul.

8 Thou tellest my wanderings:
Put thou my tears into thy bottle;
Are they not in thy book?

9 Then shall mine enemies turn back in the day that I call:
This I know, that God is for me.

10 In God will I praise his word:
In the Lord will I praise his word.

11 In God have I put my trust; I will not be afraid;
What can man do unto me?

12 Thy vows are upon me, O God: I will render thank offerings unto thee.

13 For thou hast delivered my soul from death:
Hast thou not delivered my feet from falling?

14 That I may walk before God
In the light of the living.

For the Chief Musician; set to *Al-tashheth. A Psalm of Da

1 Deliver me from mine enemies, O my God:
2 Deliver me from * the workers of iniquity, And save me from * the blood-thirsty men.
3 For, lo, they * lie in wait for my soul; The mighty * gather themselves together against me:
4 They run and prepare themselves without *my fault: *Awake thou to * help me, and behold.
5 Even thou, O Lord God of hosts, the God of Israel, Arise to visit all the * heathen: Be not merciful to any wicked transgressors. [Selah
6 They * return at evening, they make a noise like a dog, And go round about the city.
7 Behold, they * belch out with their mouth; *Swords are in their lips:

9 O my strength, I will wait upon thee: For God is * my high tower.
10 The God of my mercy * shall not forsake me:
11 Slay them not, lest my people forget:
12 For * the sin of their mouth, and the words of their lips, Let them even be taken in their pride, And for cursing and lying which they speak.
13 * Consume them in wrath, consume them, that they be no more:
14 And at evening let them return, let them make a noise like a dog, And go round about the city.
15 They shall * wander up and down for meat, And tarry all night if they be not satisfied.
16 But I will sing of thy strength; Yea, I will sing aloud of thy mercy in the morning:
17 Unto thee, O my strength, will I sing praises: For God * is my high tower, * the God of my mercy.

Psalm 61:4

Psalm 62:10

10 I will sing praise unto thy name for ever,
   That I may daily perform my vows.
Ps. 62, v. 9.

9 Surely men of low degree are vanity, and men of high degree are a lie: In the balances they will go up; They are together lighter than vanity.

10 Trust not in oppression; And become not vain in robbery: If riches increase, set not your heart thereon.

11 God hath spoken once, Twice have I heard this; That power belongeth unto God: Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy: For thou renderest to every man according to his work.

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

1 Hear my voice, O God, in my complaint; Preserve my life from fear of the enemy.

2 Hide me from the secret counsel of evil-doers; From the tumult of the workers of iniquity.

3 Who have whet their tongue like a sword, And have aimed their arrows, even bitter words:

4 That they may shoot In secret places at the perfect: Suddenly do they shoot at him, and fear not.

5 They encourage themselves in an evil purpose; They commune of laying snares privily; They say, Who shall see them?

6 They search out iniquities; We have accomplished, say they, a diligent search: And the inward thought of everyone, and the heart, is deep.

7 But God shall shoot at them With an arrow suddenly shall they be wounded.

8 So they shall be made to stumble, their own tongue being against them: All that see them shall wag the head.

9 And all men shall fear; And they shall declare the work of God, And shall wisely consider of his doing.

10 The righteous shall be glad in the Lord, and shall trust in him; And all the upright in heart shall glory.
For the Chief Musician. A Psalm. A Song of David.

1 Praise waiteth for thee, O God, in Zion: And unto thee shall the vow be performed.
2 O thou that hearest prayer, Unto thee shall all flesh come.
3 Iniquities prevail against me: As for our transgressions, thou shalt purge them away.
4 Blessed is the man whom thou choosest, and causest to approach unto thee.

1 Make a joyful noise unto God, all the earth:
2 Sing forth the glory of his name; Make his praise glorious.
3 Say unto God, How terrible are thy works! Through the greatness of thy power shall thine enemies submit themselves unto thee.
4 All the earth shall worship thee, And shall sing unto thee; They shall sing to thy name.

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David, a Song.

1 If God be merciful unto us, and bless us, and cause his face to shine upon us; [Selah]
2 That thy way may be known upon earth, Thy saving health among all nations. Let the peoples praise thee, O God; Let all the peoples praise thee.
3 O let the nations be glad and sing for joy: For thou shalt judge the peoples with equity, And 6<sub>5</sub> govern the nations upon earth. [Selah]
4 Let the peoples praise thee, O God; Let all the peoples praise thee.
5 The earth hath yielded her increase: God, even our own God, shall bless us.
6 God shall bless us; And all the ends of the earth shall fear him.
7 Thou, O God, didst send a plentiful rain, Thou didst confirm thine inheritance, when it was weary. Thou, O God, didst prepare of thy goodness for the poor.
8 The Lord giveth the word: The women that publish the tidings are a great host.
9 Kings of armies flee, they flee: And she that tarryeth at home divideth the spoil.
10 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David, a Song.

1. Let God arise, let his enemies be scattered; Let them also that hate him flee before him. 2. As smoke is driven away, so drive them away: As wax melteth before the fire, So let the wicked perish at the presence of God. 3. But let the righteous be glad; Let them exult before God: Yea, let them rejoice with gladness. 4. Sing unto God, zing praises to his name: Cast up a high way for him that rideth through the deserts; His name is JAH; and exult ye before him. 5. A father of the fatherless, and a judge of the widows, Is God in his holy habitation. 6. God setteth the solitary in families: He bringeth out the prisoners from prison, The rebellious dwelleth in deserts, But the righteouse be glad. 7. Let all the peoples praise thee, O God, let all the peoples praise thee. 8. The earth trembled, The heavens also dropped at the presence of God: Even you, O Sinai trembled at the presence of God, the God of Israel. 9. Thou, O God, didst send a plentiful rain, Thou didst confirm thine inheritance, when it was weary. Thou, O God, didst prepare of thy goodness for the poor. 10. The Lord giveth the word: The women that publish the tidings are a great host. 11. Kings of armies flee, they flee: And she that tarryeth at home divideth the spoil. 12. Will ye lie among the sheepfolds, as the wings of a dove covered with silver?
And her pinions with yellow gold;
When the Almighty scattered kings therein,
It was as when it snoweth in Zalmon.
A mountain of God is the mountain of Bashan;
An high mountain is the mountain of Bashan.
Why look ye askance, ye high mountains,
At the mountain which God hath desired for his abode?
Yea, the LORD will dwell in it for ever.
The chariots of God are twenty thousand, even thousands upon thousands:
The Lord is among them, as in Sinai, in the sanctuary.
Thou hast ascended on high, thou hast led thy captivity captive;
Thou hast received gifts among men, Yea, among the rebellious also, that the LORD God might dwell with them.
Blessed be the Lord, who daily beareth our burden, Even the God who is our salvation.
God is unto us a God of deliverances; And unto JEHovah the Lord belong the issues from death.
But God shall smite through the head of his enemies, The hairy scalp of such an one as goeth on still in his guiltiness.
The Lord said, I will bring again from Bashan, I will bring them again from the depths of the sea:
That thou mayest dip thy foot in blood, That the tongue of thy dogs may have its portion from thine enemies.
They have seen thy going, O God, Even the goings of my God, my King, into the sanctuary.
The singers went before, the minstrels followed after,
In the midst of the damsel's playing with timbrels.
Bless ye God in the congregations, Even the Lord, ye that are of the fountain of Israel.
There is little Benjamin their ruler, The princes of Judah and their council, The princes of Zebulun, the princes of Naphtali.
Thy God hath commanded thy strength, Strengthen, O God, that which thou hast wrought for us.
Because of thy temple at Jerusalem Kings shall bring presents unto thee.
Rebuke the wild beast of the reeds, The multitude of the bulls, with the calves of the peoples, Trampling under foot the pieces of silver;
He hath scattered the peoples that delighted in war.
Princes shall come out of Egypt; Ethiopia shall stretch out her hands unto God.
Sing unto God, ye kingdoms of the earth; O sing praises unto the Lord:
To him that rideth upon the heavens of heavens, which are of old; Lo, he uttereth his voice, and that a mighty voice.
Ascribe ye strength unto God: His excellency is over Israel, And his strength is in the skies.
O God, thou art terrible out of thy holy places: The God of Israel, he giveth strength and power unto his people.
Blessed be God.
For "the waters are come in unto my soul.
2 I sink in deep mire, where there is no standing:
3 I am come into deep waters, where the floods overflow me.
4 They that hate me without a cause are more than the hairs of mine head:
They that would cut me off, being mine enemies wrongfully, are mighty:
Then I restored that which I took not away.
5 O God, thou knowest my foolishness;
And my sins are not hid from thee.
6 Let them that wait on thee be ashamed through me, O Lord God of hosts:
Let not those that seek thee be brought to dishonour through me, O God of Israel.
7 Because for thy sake I have borne reproach;
Shame hath covered my face.
8 I am become a stranger unto my brethren,
And an alien unto my mother's children.
9 For the zeal of thine house hath eaten me up;
And the reproaches of them that reproach thee are fallen upon me.
10 When I wept, and chastened my soul with fasting,
That was to my reproach.
11 When I made sackcloth my clothing, I became a proverb unto them.
12 They that sit in the gate talk of me;
And I am the song of the drunkards.
13 But as for me, my prayer is unto thee, O Lord, in an acceptable time:
O God, in the multitude of thy mercy,
Answer me in the truth of thy salvation.
14 Deliver me out of the mire, and let me not sink:

Let me be delivered from them that hate me, and out of the deep waters.
15 Let not the waterflood overwhelm me,
Neither let the deep swallow me up;
And let not the pit shut her mouth upon me.
16 Answer me, O Lord; for thy lovingkindness is good:
According to the multitude of thy tender mercies turn thou unto me.
17 And hide not thy face from thy servant;
*For I am in distress; *answer me speedily;
18 Draw nigh unto my soul, and redeem it:
Ransom me because of mine enemies.
19 Thou knowest my reproach, and my shame, and my dishonour:
Mine adversaries are all before thee.
20 Reproach hath broken my heart; and I am full of heaviness:
And I looked for some to take pity, but there was none;
And for comforters, but I found none.
21 They gave me also gall for my meat;
And in my thirst they gave me vinegar to drink.
22 *Let their table before them become a snare;
And when they are in peace, let it become a trap.
23 *Let their eyes be darkened, that they see not;
And make their loins continually to shake.
24 Pour out thine indignation upon them,
And let the fierceness of thine anger overtake them.
25 *Let their habitation be desolate;
Let none dwell in their tents.
26 For they persecute him whom thou hast smitten;
And they tell of the sorrow of those whom thou hast wounded.
27 Add iniquity unto their iniquity:
Ps. 69, v. 27.

And let them not come into thy righteousness.
28 Let them be *blotted out of the book of life, And not be *written with the righteous.
29 But I am poor and *sorrowful:
Let thy salvation, O Lord, set me up on high.
30 I will *praise the name of God with a song, And will *magnify him with thanksgiving.
31 And it shall *please the Lord better than an ox, Or a bullock *that hath horns and hoofs.
32 The meek have seen it, and are glad: Ye that seek after God, *let your heart live.
33 For the Lord heareth the needy, And *despiseth not his prisoners.
34 Let heaven and earth praise him, The seas, and every thing that moveth therein.
35 For O Lord will save Zion, And build the cities of Judah; And they shall abide there, and have it in possession.
36 The seed also of his servants shall inherit it: And they that love his name shall dwell therein.

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David; *to bring to remembrance.

1 *Make haste, O God, to deliver me;
Make haste to help me, O Lord.
2 Let them be ashamed and confounded That seek after my soul:
Let them be turned backward and brought to dishonour That delight in my hurt.
3 Let them be turned back 4 by reason of their shame That say, Aha, Aha.
4 Let all those that seek thee rejoice and be glad in thee; And let such as love thy salvation say continually, Let God be magnified.
5 But I am poor and needy:
*Make haste unto me, O God:

Thou art my help and my deliverer:
O Lord, make no tarrying.

1 *In thee, O Lord, do I put my trust:
Let me never be ashamed.
2 Deliver me in thy righteousness, and rescue me:
Bow down thine ear unto me, and save me.
3 Be thou to me 4 a rock of habitation, Whereunto I may continually resort:
Thou hast *given commandment to save me;
For thou art my rock and my fortress.
4 *Rescue me, O my God, out of the hand of the wicked, Out of the hand of the unrighteous and cruel man.
5 For thou art my *hope, O Lord God:
Thou art my trust from my youth.
6 By thee have I been holden up 5 from the womb:
Thou art he that took me out of my mother's bowels:
My praise shall be continually of thee.
7 I am as 4 a wonder unto many:
But thou art my strong refuge.
8 My mouth shall be filled with thy praise, And with thy honour all the day.
9 *Cast me not off in the time of old age;
Forsake me not when my strength faileth.
10 For mine enemies speak concerning me, And they that watch for my soul take counsel together, Saying, God hath forsaken him: Pursue and take him; for there is none to deliver.
11 O God, be not far from me:
O my God, *make haste to help me.
12 Let them be ashamed and consumed that are adversaries to my soul;
Let them be covered with reproach and dishonour that seek my hurt.
13 But I will *hope continually,
Ps. 71, v. 14.

And will praise thee yet more and more.

My mouth shall tell of thy righteousness,
And of thy salvation all the day;
For I know not the numbers thereof.

I will come with the mighty acts of the Lord God:
I will make mention of thy righteousness, even of thine only.

O God, thou hast taught me from my youth;
And hitherto have I declared thy wondrous works.

Yes, even when I am old and grayheaded, O God, forsake me not;
Until I have declared thy strength unto the next generation,
Thy might to every one that is to come.

Thy righteousness also, O God, is very high;
Thou who hast done great things, O God, who is like unto thee?

He shall judge thy people with righteousness,
And the poor with judgment.

He shall come down like rain upon the mown grass:
As showers that water the earth.

In his days shall the righteous flourish;
And abundance of peace, till the moon be no more.

The kings of Tarshish and of the isles shall bring presents:
The kings of Sheba and Seba shall offer gifts.

The kings of Tarshish and of the isles shall bring presents:
The kings of Sheba and Seba shall offer gifts.

He shall have pity on the poor and needy,
And the souls of the needy he shall save.

He shall redeem their soul from oppression and violence;

And men shall pray for him continually;

They shall bless him all the day long.

And thy righteousness unto the king's son.

He shall judge thy people with righteousness,

He shall judge the poor of the people,
He shall save the children of the needy,
And shall break in pieces the oppressor.

They shall fear thee while the sun endureth,
And so long as the moon, throughout all generations.

He shall come down like rain upon the mown grass:
As showers that water the earth.

In his days shall the righteous flourish;
And abundance of peace, till the moon be no more.

He shall have dominion also from the sea to sea,
And from the River unto the ends of the earth.

They that dwell in the wilderness shall bow before him;
And his enemies shall lick the dust.

The kings of Tarshish and of the isles shall bring presents:

BOOK III.

A Psalm of Asaph.

1 Surely God is good to Israel,
Even to such as are pure in heart.

2 But as for me, my feet were almost gone;
My steps had well nigh slipped.

3 For I was envious at the arrogant,
When I saw the prosperity of the wicked.

4 For there are no bands in their death:
But their strength is firm.

5 They are not in trouble as other men:
Neither are they plagued like other men.

6 Therefore pride is as a chain about their neck;
Violence covereth them as a garment.

7 Their eyes stand out with fatness:
They have more than heart could wish.

8 They scoff, and in wickedness utter oppression:
They speak loftily.

9 They have set their mouth in the heavens,
And their tongue walketh through the earth.

10 Therefore his people return hither:
And waters of a full cup are wrung out by them.

11 And they say, How doth God know?
And is there knowledge in the Most High?

12 Behold, these are the wicked;
And, being always at ease, they increase in riches.

13 Surely in vain have I cleansed my heart,
And washed my hands in innocency;

14 For all the day long have I been plagued,
And chastened every morning.

15 If I had said, I will speak thus;
Behold, I had dealt treacherously with the generation of thy children.

16 When I thought how I might know this,
It was too painful for me;

17 Until I went into the sanctuary of God,
And considered their matter end.

18 Surely thou settest them in slippery places:
Thou castest them down to destruction.

19 How are they become a desolation in a moment!
They are utterly consumed with terrors.

20 As a dream when one awaketh;
So, O Lord, when thou waketh, thou shalt despise their image.

21 For my heart was grieved,
And I was pricked in my reins:

22 So brutish was I, and ignorant;
I was as a beast before thee.
23 Nevertheless I am continually with thee: Thou hast *holden my right hand. Thou shalt *guide me with thy counsel, And afterward *receive me to glory. For, lo, they that are far from thee shall perish: Thou hast destroyed all them that go a whoring from thee. But it is good for me to draw near unto God: I have made the Lord God my refuge, That I may *tell of all thy works.

74 * Maschil of Asaph.
1 O God, why hast thou *cast us off for ever? Why doth thine anger *smoke against the sheep of thine pasture?
2 Remember thy congregation, which thou hast *purchased of old, Which thou hast *redeemed to be thine inheritance; And mount Zion, wherein thou hast dwelt. Lift up thy feet unto the perpetual ruins, All the evil that the enemy hath done in the sanctuary. Thine adversaries have roared in the midst of thine assembly; They have set up their ensigns for signs. They *seemed as men that lifted up Axes upon a thicket of trees. And now all the carved work thereof is shattered. They break down with hatchet and hammers; They have *set thy sanctuary on fire; They have *profaned the dwelling place of thy name even to the ground.

They *said in their heart, Let us make havoc of them altogether: They have burned up all the synagogues of God in the land. We see not our signs: There is no more any prophet; Neither is there among us any that knoweth how long. How long, O God, *shall the adversary reproach? Shall the enemy blaspheme thy name for ever? Why *drawest thou back thy hand, even thy right hand? Pluck it out of thy bosom and consume them.

Yet *God is my King of old, Working salvation in the midst of the earth. Thou *brakest the heads of Leviathan in pieces, Thou gavest him to be meat to the people inhabiting the wilderness. Thou didst *cleave fountain and flood: Thou *driedst up mighty rivers. The day is thine, the night also is thine: Thou hast prepared the light and the sun. Thou hast *set all the borders of the earth: Thou hast made summer and winter.

Remember this, that the enemy hath reproached, O Lord, And that a foolish people have blasphemed thy name. O deliver not the soul of thy turtledove unto the wild beast: *Forget not the life of thy poor for ever.

Have respect unto the covenant: For *the dark places of the earth are full of the habitations of violence.
THE PSALMS.

21 O let not the oppressed return ashamed:
Let the poor and needy praise thy name.

22 Arise, O God, plead thine own cause:
Remember how the foolish man reproacheth thee all the day.

23 Forget not the voice of thine adversaries:
The tumult of those that rise up against thee ascendeth continually.

75 For the Chief Musician; set to *Al-tashheth. † A Psalm of Asaph, a Song.

1 We give thanks unto thee, O God;
We give thanks, for thy name is near:
Men tell of thy wondrous works.

2 When I shall find the set time,
I will judge uprightly.

3 The earth and all the inhabitants thereof are dissolved:
I have set up the pillars of it.

4 I said unto the arrogant, Deal not arrogantly:
And to the wicked, Lift not up the horn.

5 Lift not up your horn on high;
Speak not with a stiff neck.

6 For neither from theeast, nor from the west,
Nor yet from the south, cometh lifting up.

7 But God is the judge:
He putteth down one, and lifteth up another.

8 For in the hand of the Lord there is a cup, and the wine 10 foameth:
It is full of mixture, and he poureth out of the same:
Surely the dregs thereof, all the wicked of the earth shall 11 wring them out, and drink them.

9 But I will declare for ever,
I will sing praises to the God of Jacob.

10 *P All the horns of the wicked also will I cut off;
But the horns of the righteous shall be lifted up.

76 For the Chief Musician; on stringed instruments. A Psalm of Asaph, a Song.

1 In Judah is God known:
His name is great in Israel.

2 In Salem also is his tabernacle,
And his dwelling place in Zion.

3 There he brake the 16 arrows of the bow;
The shield, and the sword, and the battle.

4 Glorious art thou and excellent, from the mountains of prey.

5 The stouthearted are spoiled, they have slept their sleep;
And none of the men of might have found their hands.

6 At thy rebuke, O God of Jacob,
Both chariot and horse are cast into a dead sleep.

7 Thou, even thou, art to be feared:
And who may stand in thy sight when once thou art angry?

8 Thou didst cause sentence to be heard from heaven;
The earth feared, and was still,
When God arose to judgement,
To save all the meek of the earth.

9 Surely the wrath of man shall praise thee:
The residue of wrath shalt thou gird upon thee.

10 Vow, and pay unto the Lord your God:
Let all that be round about him bring presents unto him that ought to be feared.

11 *Vow, and pay unto the Lord your God:
Let all that be round about him bring presents unto him that ought to be feared.

12 He shall cut off the spirit of princes:
He is terrible to the kings of the earth.

77 For the Chief Musician; after the manner of Jeduthun. A Psalm of Asaph.

1 I will cry unto God with my voice;
Even unto God with my voice, and he will give ear unto me.

2 *P All the days of my trouble I sought the Lord:
My hand was stretched out in the night, and slacked not;
Ps. 77, v. 2.

THE PSALMS.

Ps. 78, v. 8.

My soul refused to be comforted.

3 I remember God, and am displeased:
I complain, and my spirit is overwhelmed. [Selah]

4 Thou holdest mine eyes watching:
I am so troubled that I cannot speak.

5 I have considered the days of old,
The years of ancient times.

6 I call to remembrance my song
in the night;
And my spirit made diligent search.

7 Will the Lord cast off for ever?
And will he be favourable no more?

8 Is his mercy clean gone for ever?
Doth his promise fail for evermore?

9 Hath God forgotten to be gracious?
Hath he in anger shut up his tender mercies? [Selah]

10 And I said, This is my infirmity;
But I will remember the years of the right hand of the Most High.

11 I will make mention of the deeds of the Lord;
For I will remember thy wonders of old.

12 I will meditate also upon all thy work,
And muse on thy doings.

13 Thy way, O God, is in the sanctuary:
Who is a great God like unto God?

14 Thou hast made thy secret place in the holiest of the holy:
The skies sent out a sound:
The voice of thy thunder was in the whirlwind;
The lightnings lightened the world:
The earth trembled and shook.

15 Thou way was in the sea,
And thy paths in the great waters,
And thy footsteps were not known.

16 Thou leddest thy people like a flock,
By the hand of Moses and Aaron.

17 Give ear, O my people, to my law:
Incline your ears to the words of my mouth.

18 I will open my mouth in a parable;
I will utter dark sayings of old:
Which we have heard and known,
And our fathers have told us.

19 We will not hide them from their children,
Telling to the generation to come the praises of the Lord,
And his strength, and his wondrous works that he hath done.

20 For he established a testimony in Jacob,
And appointed a law in Israel,
Which he commanded our fathers,
That they should make them known to their children:
That the generation to come might know them, even the children which should be born;
Who should arise and tell them to their children:
That they might set their hope in God,
And not forget the works of God,
But keep his commandments.

21 And might not be as their fathers,
A stubborn and rebellious generation;
A generation that set not their heart aright,
And whose spirit was not stedfast with God.
9 The children of Ephraim, being armed and carrying bows, turned back in the day of battle.

10 They kept not the covenant of God, and refused to walk in his law; and they forgot his doings, and his wonders that he had shewed them.

12 Marvelous things did he in the sight of their fathers, in the land of Egypt, in the field of Zoan.

13 He clave the sea, and caused them to pass through; and he made the waters to stand as an heap.

14 In the day-time also he led them with a cloud, and all the night with fire.

15 He clave rocks in the wilderness, and gave them drink abundantly as out of the depths.

16 He brought streams also out of the rock, and caused waters to run down like rivers.

17 Yet went they on still to sin against him, to rebel against the Most High in the desert.

18 And they tempted God in their heart by asking meat for their lust.

19 Yea, they spake against God; they said, Can God prepare a table in the wilderness?

20 Behold, he smote the rock, that waters gushed out; and streams overflowed; can he give bread also? will he provide flesh for his people?

21 Therefore the Lord heard, and was wroth: and a fire was kindled against Jacob, and anger also went up against Israel.

22 Because they believed not in God, and trusted not in his salvation.

23 Yet he commanded the skies above, and opened the doors of heaven; and he rained down manna upon them to eat, and gave them of the corn of heaven.

24 And he rained flesh also upon them as the dust, and winged fowl as the sand of the seas:

25 And he let it fall in the midst of their camp, round about their habitations.

26 So they did eat, and were well filled; and he gave them that they lusted after.

27 They were not estranged from their lust, their meat was yet in their mouths, when the anger of God went up against them, and a fire was kindled against Jacob, and anger also went up against Israel.

28 And they said, 'We will now fear our God: will we not also hearken unto him?'

29 And he remembered that they were but flesh; and marveled not at their vanity.

30 When he slew them, then they inquired after him: and they returned and sought God early.

31 And they remembered that God was their rock, and the Most High God their redeemer.

32 But they flattered him with their mouth, and lied unto him with their tongue.

33 For their heart was not right with him; neither were they faithful in his covenant.

34 But he, being full of compassion, forgave their iniquity, and destroyed them not: yea, many a time turned he his anger away, and did not stir up all his wrath.

35 And he remembered that they were but flesh; and marveled not at their vanity.

36 When he had heard their groaning, he remembered them.

37 And he said, I will requite their heart, and I will remember their sin.

38 But he, being full of compassion, forgave their iniquity, and destroyed them not: yea, many a time turned he his anger away, and did not stir up all his wrath.

39 And he remembered that they were but flesh; and marveled not at their vanity.

40 When he had heard their groaning, he remembered them, and the word that his sons and his servants had spoken toward him; all that they said.

41 And he forgave the iniquity of his people, and remembered not their sin for ever.

42 Selah.
THE PSALMS.

Ps. 78, v. 39.

A wind that passeth away, and cometh not again.

How oft did they rebel against him in the wilderness,
And grieved him in the desert!

And they turned again and tempted God,
And provoked the Holy One of Israel.

They remembered not his hand,
Nor the day when he redeemed them from the adversary.

How he set his signs in Egypt,
And his wonders in the field of Zaan;

And turned their rivers into blood,
And their streams, that they could not drink.

He sent among them swarms of flies, which devoured them;
And frogs, which destroyed them.

He gave also their increase unto the caterpillar,
And their labour unto the locust.

He cast upon them the fierceness of his anger,
Wrath, and indignation, and trouble,
A band of angels of evil.

He made a path for his anger;
He spared not their soul from death,
But gave their life over to the pestilence:

And smote all the firstborn in Egypt,
The chief of their strength in the tents of Ham:

But he led forth his own people like a sheep,
And guided them in the wilderness like a flock.

And he led them safely, so that they feared not:
But the sea overwhelmed their enemies.

And he brought them to the border of his sanctuary,
To this mountain, which his right hand had purchased.

He drove out the nations also before them,
And allotted them for an inheritance by line,
And made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tents.

Yet they tempted and rebelled against the Most High God,
And kept not his testimonies;
But turned back, and dealt treacherously like their fathers:
They were turned aside like a deceitful bow.

For they provoked him to anger with their high places,
And moved him to jealousy with their graven images.

When God heard this, he was wroth,
And greatly abhorred Israel:
So that he forsook the tabernacle of Shiloh,
The tent which he placed among men;

And delivered his strength into captivity,
And his glory into the adversary's hand.

Fire devoured their young men;
And their maidens had no marriage-song.

Their priests fell by the sword;
And their widows made no lamentation.

Then the Lord awakened as one out of sleep,
Like a mighty man that shouteth by reason of wine.

And he smote his adversaries backward:
He put them to a perpetual reproach.

Moreover he refused the tent of Joseph,
And chose not the tribe of Ephraim;

But chose the tribe of Judah,
The mount Zion which he loved.

And he built his sanctuary like the heights,
Like the earth which he hath established for ever.

70 He chose David also his servant,
And took him from the sheepfolds:

71 From following the ewes that give suck he brought him,
To feed Jacob his people, and Israel his inheritance.

72 So he fed them according to the integrity of his heart;
And guided them by the skilfulness of his hands.

79 A Psalm of Asaph.

1 O God, the heathen are come into thine inheritance; Thy holy temple have they defiled; They have laid Jerusalem on heaps.

2 The dead bodies of thy servants have they given to be meat unto the fowl of the heaven, The flesh of thy saints unto the beasts of the earth.

3 Their blood have they shed like water roundabout Jerusalem; And there was none to bury them.

4 We are become a reproach to our neighbours, A scorn and derision to them that are round about us.

5 How long, O Lord, wilt thou be angry forever? Shall thy jealousy burn like fire?

6 Pour out thy wrath upon the heathen that know thee not, And upon the kingdoms that call not upon thy name.

7 Turn us again, O God of hosts; And causethy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

8 Thou broughtest a vine out of Egypt: Thou didst drive out the nations, and planted it.

9 Help us, O God of our salvation, for the glory of thy name:
And deliver us, and purge away our sins, for thy name's sake.

10 Wherefore should the heathen say, Where is their God?

Let the revenging of the blood of thy servants which is shed
Be known among the heathen in our sight.

11 Let the sighing of the prisoner come before thee;
According to the greatness of thy power preserve thou those that are appointed to death.

12 And render unto our neighbours sevenfold into their bosom
Their reproach, wherewith they have reproached thee, O Lord.

13 So we thy people and sheep of thy pasture
Will give thee thanks for ever: We will shew forth thy praise to all generations.

80 For the Chief Musician; set to *Shoshannim Eduth. A Psalm of Asaph.

1 Give ear, O Shepherd of Israel, Thou that leadest Joseph like a flock; Thou art like an eagle to Ephraim and Benjamin, and Manasseh, 2 Before Ephraim and Benjamin, and Manasseh, stir up thy might, And come to save us.

3 Turn us again, O God; And cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

4 Thou hast fed them with the bread of tears, And givesthem tears to drink in large measure.

5 Thou makest us a strife unto our neighbours: And our enemies laugh among themselves.

6 Thou makest us a strife unto our neighbours:
And our enemies laugh among themselves.

7 Turn us again, O God of hosts; And cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

8 Thou broughtest a vine out of Egypt: Thou didst drive out the nations, and planted it.

9 Thou preparedst room before it,
And it took deep root, and filled the land.
The mountains were covered with the shadow of it, and the boughs thereof were like cedars of God.

She sent out her branches unto the sea, and her shoots unto the River.

Why hast thou broken down her fences, so that all they which pass by do pluck her?

The boar out of the wood doth ravage it, and the wild beasts of the field feed on it.

Turn again, we beseech thee, O God of hosts: look down from heaven, and behold, and visit this vine.

It is burned with fire; it is cut down: they perished at the rebuke of thine countenance.

Let thy hand be upon man of thy right hand, upon the son of man whom thou madest strong for thyself.

I should soon subdue their enemies, and I will turn my hand against their adversaries.

For he went out over the land of Egypt: where I heard a language that I knew not.

I removed his shoulder from the burden; his hands were freed from the basket.

Thou calledst in trouble, and I delivered thee; I answered thee in the secret place of thunders; I proved thee at the waters of Meribah.

Hear, O my people, and I will testify unto thee: O Israel, if thou wouldst hearken unto me!

There shall no strange god be in thee; neither shalt thou worship any strange god.

I am the Lord thy God, which brought thee up out of the land of Egypt:

Open thou my mouth wide, and I will fill it.

But my people hearkened not to my voice; and Israel would none of me.

So I let them go after the stubbornness of their heart, that they might walk in their own counsels.

Oh that my people would hearken unto me, that Israel would walk in my ways!

I should soon subdue their enemies, and I will turn my hand against their adversaries.

The haters of the Lord should submit themselves unto him: but their times should endure for ever.

He should feed them also with the finest of the wheat: and with honey out of the rock should I satisfy thee.

Sing aloud unto God our strength: make a joyful noise unto the God of Jacob.

For he is our God; we have waited for him, and he will work it.

He appointed it in Joseph for a testimony, when he went out over the land of Egypt:

When he went out over the land of Egypt:

7 Or, the speech of one that is c.

8 When he went out over the land of Egypt:

9 Or, the speech of one that is c.

10 Or, the speech of one that is c.
Ps. 82, v. 2.

And respect the persons of the wicked? Selah

3 Judge the poor and fatherless:

Do justice to the afflicted and destitute.

4 Rescue the poor and needy:

Deliver them out of the hand of the wicked.

5 They know not, neither do they understand;

They walk to and fro in darkness:

All the foundations of the earth are moved.

6 I said, Ye are gods,

And all of you sons of the Most High.

7 Nevertheless ye shall die like men,

And fall like one of the princes.

8 Arise, O God, judge the earth:

For thou shalt inherit all the nations.

83 A Song, a Psalm of Asaph.

1 O God, keep not thou silence:

Hold not thy peace, and be not still, O God.

2 For, lo, thine enemies make a tumult:

And they that hate thee have lifted up the head.

3 They take crafty counsel against thy people,

And consult together against thy hidden ones.

4 They have said, Let us take to ourselves in possession

The habitation of God.

5 Do thou unto them as unto Sisera, as to Jabin, at the river Kishon:

As to the river Kishon:

6 Which perished at En-rod;

They became as dung for the earth.

7 Make their nobles like Oreb

And Zeeb;

8 Ye, all your princes like Zebah and Zalmunna:

9 Who said, Let us take to ourselves in possession

The habitations of God.

10 O my God, make them like the whirlwind dust;

As stubble before the wind.

11 As the fire that burneth the forest,

And as the flame that setteth the mountains on fire:

12 So pursue them with thy tempest,

And terrify them with thy storm.

13 Fill their faces with confusion;

That they may seek thy name, O LORD.

14 Let them be ashamed and dismayed forever;

Yea, let them be confounded and perish:

15 That they may know that thou art the Most High over all the earth.

84 For the Chief Musician; set to the Gittith. A Psalm of the sons of Korah.

1 How admirable are thy tabernacles, O Lord of hosts!

8 O Lord God of hosts, hear my prayer: Give ear, O God of Jacob.

9 Behold, O God our shield, And look upon the face of thine anointed.

10 For a day in thy courts is better than a thousand. I had rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God, Than to dwell in the tents of wickedness.

85 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of the sons of Korah.

1 Lord, thou hast been favourable unto thy land: Thou hast brought back the captivity of Jacob.

2 Thou hast forgiven the iniquity of thy people, Thou hast covered all their sin.

3 Thou hast taken away all thy wrath: Thou hast turned thyself from the fierceness of thine anger.

4 Turn us, O God of our salvation, And cause thine indignation toward us to cease.

88 A Song, a Psalm of *the sons of Korah; for the Chief Musician; set to *Mahalath *Leannoth.

[Ps. 88, v. 10.

1 O Lord, *the God of my salvation,
I have cried day and night before thee:
2 Let my prayer enter into thy presence;
Incline thine ear unto my cry:
3 For my soul is full of troubles,
And my life draweth nigh unto Sheol.
4 I am counted with them that go down into the pit;
I am as a man that hath no help:
5 Cast off among the dead,
Like the slain that lie in the grave,
Whom thou rememberest no more;
And they are cut off from thy hand.
6 Thou hast laid me in the lowest pit,
In dark places, in the deeps.
7 Thy wrath lieth hard upon me,
And thou hast afflicted me with all thy waves. [Selah]
8 Thou hast put mine acquaintance far from me;
Thou hast made me an abomination unto them:
I am shut up, and I cannot come forth.
9 Mine eye wasteth away by reason of affliction:
I have called daily upon thee, O Lord,
I have spread forth my hands unto thee.
10 Wilt thou shew wonders to the dead?
Shall they that are deceased arise and praise thee? [Selah]
11 Shall thy lovingkindness be declared in the grave?
Or thy faithfulness in destruction?

12 Shall thy wonders be known in the dark?
And thy righteousness in the land of forgetfulness?

13 But unto thee, O LORD, have I cried,
And in the morning shall my prayer come before thee.

14 LORD, why castest thou off my soul?
Why hidest thou thy face from me?

15 I am afflicted and ready to die from my youth up:
While I suffer thy terrors I am distracted.

16 Thy fierce wrath is gone over me;
Thy terror hath cut me off.

17 They came round about me like waters all the daylong;
They compassed me about to destroy me.

18 A lover and friend hast thou put far from me,
And mine acquaintance into darkness.

89 Maschil of Ethan the Ezrahite.

1 P will sing of the mercies of the LORD forever:
With my mouth will I make known thy faithfulness to all generations.

2 For I have said, Mercy shall be built up forever;
Thy faithfulness shalt thou establish in the very heavens.

3 I have made a covenant with my chosen,
I have sworn unto David my servant;

4 Thy seed will I establish for ever,
And build up thy throne to all generations. [Selah]

5 And the heavens shall praise thy wonders, O LORD;
Thy faithfulness also in the assembly of the holy ones.

6 For who in the skies can be compared unto the Lord?
Who among the sons of the mighty is like unto the Lord?

7 A God very terrible in the council of the holy ones,
And to be feared above all them that are round about him?

8 O LORD God of hosts,
Who is a mighty one, like unto thee, O Jah?
And thy faithfulness is round about thee.

9 Thou rulest the pride of the sea:
When the waves thereof arise, thou stilllest them.

10 Thou hast broken Rahab in pieces, as one that is slain;
Thou hast scattered thine enemies with the arm of thy strength.

11 The heavens are thine, the earth also is thine:
The world and the fulness thereof, thou hast founded them.

12 A north and south, thou hast created them:
Tabor and Joppa rejoice in thy name.

13 Thou hast a mighty arm:
Strong is thy hand, and high is thy right hand.

14 Righteousness and judgement are the foundation of thy throne:
Mercy and truth go before thy face.

15 Blessed is the people that know the joyful sound:
They walk, O LORD, in the light of thy countenance.

16 In thy name do they rejoice all the day:
And in thy righteousness are they exalted.

17 For thou art the glory of their strength:
And in thy favour our horn shall be exalted.

18 For our shield belongeth unto the LORD:
And our king to the Holy One of Israel.

19 Then thou spakest in vision to thy saints,
And saidst, I have laid help upon one that is mighty;
I have exalted one chosen out of the people.

See Job 36. 6. 2 Or, are darkness 3 Or, sons of God 4 Or, gods See Ps. 29. 1. 5 Or, OPP. 6 Heb. an arm of might. 7 Or, trumpet sound. 8 Another reading is, thou shalt establish our horn. 9 Or, Even to the Holy One of Israel our King 10 Many MSS. and ancient versions read the plural. Other authorities have the singular.
20 I have found David my servant;
With my holy oil have I anointed him:
With whom my hand shall be established;
Mine arm also shall strengthen him.

The enemy shall not exact upon him;
Nor the son of wickedness afflict him.
And I will beat down his adversaries before him,
And smite them that hate him.

But my faithfulness and my mercy shall be with him;
And in my name shall his horn be exalted.
I will set his hand also on the sea,
And his right hand on the rivers.
He shall cry unto me, Thou art my father,
My God, and the rock of my salvation.
I also will make him my first-born,
The highest of the kings of the earth.
My mercy will I keep for him for evermore,
And my covenant shall stand fast with him.

His seed also will I make to endure for ever,
And his throne as the days of heaven.
If his children forsake my law,
And walk not in my judgements;
If they break my statutes,
And walk not in my commandments;
Then will I visit their transgression with the rod,
And their iniquity with stripes.
But my mercy will I not utterly fail.
Nor suffer my faithfulness to fail.
My covenant will I not break,
Nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lips.
Once have I sworn by my holiness;
I will not lie unto David:
6 His seed shall endure for ever,
And his throne as the sun before me.
It shall be established for ever as the moon,
And as the faithful witness in the sky.

But thou hast cast off and rejected,
Thou hast been wroth with thine anointed.
Thou hast abhorred the covenant of thy servant:
Thou hast profaned his crown even to the ground.
Thou hast broken down all his hedges;
Thou hast brought his strong holds to ruin.
All that pass by the way spoil him:
He is become a reproach to his neighbours.
Thou hast exalted the right hand of his adversaries;
Thou hast made all his enemies to rejoice.
Yea, thou turnest back the edge of his sword,
And hast not made him to stand in the battle.
Thou hast made his brightness to cease,
And cast his throne down to the ground.
The days of his youth hast thou shortened:
Thou hast covered him with shame.
How long, O Lord, wilt thou hidethyself forever?
Ninelong shall thy wrath burn like fire?
O remember how short my time is:
For what vanity hast thou created all the children of men!
What man is he that shall live and not see death,
That shall deliver his soul from the power of Sheol?
Lord, where are thy former mercies,
Which thou warest unto David in thy faithfulness?
Remember, Lord, the reproach of thy servants;
1 Or, do him violence. 2 Or, be faithful. 3 Heb. profane. 4 Or. One thing. 5 Or, As the moon which is reestablished for ever, and as the faithful witness before, and as a faithful witness before. 6 Or, And the witness in the sky is faithful? 7 Heb. hand. 8 Or, the grave.

90 A Prayer of Moses the man of God.

1 Lord, thou hast been our dwelling place
In all generations.
2 b Before the mountains were brought forth,
Or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world,
Even from everlasting to everlasting, thou art God.
3 Thou turnest man to destruction;
And asayest, Return, ye children of men.
4 For a thousand years in thy sight
Are but as yesterday when it is past,
And as a watch in the night.
5 Thou carriest them away as with a flood;
They are as a sleep:
In the morning they are like grass which groweth up.
6 In the morning it flourishteth, and groweth up;
And in the evening it is cut down, and withereth.
7 For we are consumed in thine anger,
And in thy wrath are we troubled.
8 Thou hast set our iniquities before thee,
Our secret sins in the light of thy countenance.
9 For all our days are passed away in thy wrath;
We bring our years to an end as a tale that is told.
10 The days of our years are threescore years and ten;
Or even by reason of strength fourscore years;
Yet is their pride but labour and sorrow;
For it is soon gone, and we fly away.

11 Who knoweth the power of thine anger,
And thy wrath according to the fear that is due unto thee?
12 So teach us to number our days
That we may get us an heart of wisdom.
13 Return, O Lord; how long?
And let it repent thee concerning thy servants.
14 O satisfy us in the morning with thy mercy;
That we may rejoice and be glad all our days.
15 Make us glad according to the days wherein thou hast afflicted us,
And the years wherein we have seen evil.
16 Let thy work appear unto thy servants,
And thy glory upon their children.
17 And let the beauty of the Lord our God be upon us:
And establish thou the work of our hands upon us;
Yea, the work of our hands establish thou it.

1 He that dwelleth in the secret place of the Most High Shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.
2 I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress;
My God, in whom I trust.
3 For he shall deliver thee from the snare of the fowler,
And from the noisome pestilence.
4 He shall cover thee with his pinions,
And under his wings shalt thou take refuge;
His truth is a shield and a buckler.
5 Thou shalt not be afraid for the terror by night,

Ps. 92.

A Psalm, A Song for the sabbath day.
1 It is a good thing to give thanks unto the LORD,
And to sing praises unto thy name, O Most High:
2 To shew forth thy lovingkindness in the morning,
And thy faithfulness every night,
3 With an instrument of ten strings, and with the psaltery;
With a solemn sound upon the harp.
4 For thou, LORD, hast made me glad through thy work;
I will triumph in the works of thy hands.
5 How great are thy works, O LORD!
Thy thoughts are very deep.
6 A brutish man knoweth not;
Neither doth a fool understand this:
7 When the wicked spring as the grass,
And when all the workers of iniquity do flourish;
It is that they shall be destroyed for ever:
8 But thou, O LORD, art on high for evermore.
9 For, lo, thine enemies, O LORD,
For, lo, thine enemies shall perish:
All the workers of iniquity shall be scattered.
10 But my horn thou exalted like the horn of the wildox:
I am anointed with fresh oil.
11 Mine eye also hath seen my desire on mine enemies,
Mine ears have heard my desire of the evil-doers that rise up against me.
12 The righteous shall flourish like the palm tree:
He shall grow like a cedar in Lebanon.
13 They that are planted in the house of the LORD
Shall flourish in the courts of our God.
14 They shall still bring forth fruit in old age;
They shall be full of sap and green:
15 To shew that the LORD is upright;
He is my rock, and there is no unrighteousness in him.
16 The LORD reigneth; he is apparelled with majesty;
The world also is stablished, that it cannot be moved.
17 The世界also is established, that it cannot be moved.
1 Thy throne is established of old:
1 Thou art from everlasting.

THE PSALMS.

3 The floods have lifted up, O Lord,
The floods have lifted up their voice;
The floods lift up their waves.
4 Above the voices of many waters,
The mighty breakers of the sea,
The Lord on high is mighty.
5 Thy testimonies are very sure:
Holiness becometh thine house,
O Lord, for evermore.

1 O Lord thou God to whom vengeance belongeth,
Thou God to whom vengeance belongeth, shine forth.
2 Lift up thyself, thou judge of the earth:
Render to the proud their desert.
3 Lord, how long shall the wicked,
How long shall the wicked triumph?
4 They prate, they speak arrogantly:
All the workers of iniquity boast themselves.
5 They break in pieces thy people, O Lord,
And afflict thine heritage.
6 They slay the widow and the stranger,
And murder the fatherless.
7 And they say, The Lord shall not see,
Neither shall the God of Jacob consider.
8 Consider, ye brutish among the people:
And ye fools, when will ye be wise?
9 He that planted the ear, shall he not hear?
He that formed the ear, shall he not see?
10 He that chastiseth the nations, shall not he correct,
Even he that teacheth man knowledge?
11 The Lord knoweth the thoughts of man,
That they are vanity.
12 Blessed is the man whom thou chastenest, 2 O Lord,
And teachest out of thy law;
13 That thou mayest give him rest from the days of adversity,

16 Who will rise up for me against the evil-doers?
Who will stand up for me against the workers of iniquity?
17 Unless the Lord had been my help,
My soul had soon dwelt in silence.
18 When I said, My foot slippeth;
Thy mercy, O Lord, held me up.
19 In the multitude of my thoughts within me,
Thy comforts delight my soul.
20 Shall the throne of wickedness have fellowship with thee,
Which frameth mischief by statute?

11 Light is sown for the righteous, And gladness for the upright in heart.

12 Be glad in the LORD, ye righteous; And give thanks to his holy name.

98 A Psalm.

1 O sing unto the LORD a new song; For he hath done marvellous things: His right hand, and his holy arm, hath wrought salvation for him.

2 The LORD hath made known his salvation: His righteousness hath he openly shewed in the sight of the nations: All the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God.

3 Make a joyful noise unto the LORD, all the earth: Break forth and sing for joy, yea, sing praises.

5 Sing praises unto the LORD with the harp; With the harp and the voice of melody.

6 With trumpets and sound of cornet: Make a joyful noise before the King, the LORD.

7 Let the sea roar, and the fulness thereof; The world, and they that dwell therein;

8 Let the floods clap their hands; Let the hills sing for joy together;

9 Before the LORD, for he cometh to judge the earth:

He shall judge the world with righteousness, And the peoples with equity.

99 1 THE LORD reigneth; let the peoples tremble: He sitteth upon the cherubim; let the earth be moved.

2 The Lord is great in Zion; And he is high above all the peoples.

3 Let them praise thy great and terrible name:

4 The king's strength also loveth judgement; Thou dost establish equity, Thou executest judgement and righteousness in Jacob.

5 Exalt ye the LORD our God, And worship at his footstool: Holy is he.

6 Moses and Aaron among his priests, And Samuel among them that call upon his name; He is God, that made us, and we are his; We are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.

9 Exalt ye the LORD our God, And worship at his holy hill; For the LORD our God is holy.

100 A Psalm of thanksgiving.

1 Make a joyful noise unto the LORD; all ye lands.

2 Serve the LORD with gladness; Come before his presence with singing.

3 Know ye that the LORD he is God: It is he that hath made us, and we are his; We are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.

He that walketh in *a perfect way, he shall minister unto me.

7 He that *worketh deceit shall not dwell within my house:
He that speaketh falsehood shall not be *established before mine eyes.

8 *Morning by morning will I destroy all the wicked of the land;

Ps. 102, v. 18.

1 Hear my prayer, O LORD, And let my cry come unto thee.

2 Hide not thy face from me in *the day of my distress;
*Incline thine ear unto me;

10 For my days *consume away *like smoke,
And my *bones are burned *as a firebrand.

My heart is *smitten like grass, and *withered;
For I *forget to eat my bread.

5 By reason of the voice of my groaning

6 I am like *a pelican of the wilderness;

Because of thine indignation and thy wrath:
For thou hast *taken me up, and *cast me away.

11 My days are like *ashadow that *declineth;
And I am *withered like grass.

12 But thou, O LORD, *shalt *abide for ever;
And thy *memorial unto all generations.

13 Thou shalt *arise, and have *mercy upon Zion:
For it is time to have pity upon her, yea, *the set time is come.

14 For thy servants take pleasure in her stones, And have pity upon her dust.

15 So then the nations shall *fear the name of the LORD, And all *the kings of the earth *thry glory:

16 For the LORD hath *built up Zion, He hath *appeared in his glory;
He hath *regarded the prayer of his people, And hath not despised their prayer.

18 This shall be *written for *the generation to come:

A Prayer of the afflicted, when he *is *overwhelmed, and *poureth out his complaint before the LORD.

1 Or, give heed unto the perfect way 2 Or, in the integrity of my heart 3 Or, the doing of unfaithfulness 4 Or, evil person 5 Or, sinner 6 Or, in smoke 7 Or, as an earthen 8 Or, is stretched
And a people which shall be created shall praise the LORD.

For he hath looked down from the height of his sanctuary;
From heaven did the LORD behold the earth:

To hear the sighing of the prisoner;
To loose those that are appointed to death;

That men may declare the name of the LORD in Zion,
And his praise in Jerusalem;

When the peoples are gathered together,
And the kingdoms, to serve the LORD.

He weakened my strength in the way;
He shortened my days.

I said, O my God, take me not away in the midst of my days:
Thy years are throughout all generations.

Of old hast thou laid the foundation of the earth;
And the heavens are the work of thy hands.

They shall perish, but thou shalt endure;
Yes, all of them shall wax old like a garment;
As a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shall be changed:

But thou art the same,
And thy years shall have no end.

The children of thy servants shall continue,
And their seed shall be established before thee.

Bless the LORD, O my soul;
And all that is within me, bless his holy name.

Bless the LORD, O my soul, And forget not all his benefits:
3 Who forgiveth all thine iniquities;
Who healeth all thy diseases;
4 Who redeemeth thy life from destruction:
Who crowneth thee with lovingkindness and tender mercies:
Who satisflieth thy mouth with good things;
So that thy youth is renewed like the eagle.

The LORD executeth righteous acts,
And judgements for all that are oppressed.
He made known his ways unto Moses,
His doings unto the children of Israel.

The LORD is full of compassion and gracious,
Slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy.

He will not always chide;
Neither will he keep his anger for ever.
He hath not dealt with us after our sins,
Nor rewarded us after our iniquities.

For as the heaven is high above the earth,
So great is his mercy toward them that fear him.
As far as the east is from the west,
So far hath he removed our transgressions from us.

Like as a father pitieth his children,
So the LORD pitieth them that fear him.
For he knoweth our frame;
He remembereth that we are dust.

As for man, his days are as grass;
As a flower of the field, so he flourisheth.
For the wind passeth over it and it is gone;
And the place thereof shall know it no more.

The mercy of the LORD is from everlasting to everlasting
On them that fear him,
His righteousness unto children's children;
And to those that remember his precepts to do them.
The LORD hath established his throne in the heavens;
And his kingdom ruleth over all.
Bless the LORD, ye angels of his:

His doings unto the children of Israel.
8 The LORD is full of compassion and gracious,
Slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy.
9 He will not always chide;
Neither will he keep his anger for ever.
10 He hath not dealt with us after our sins,
Nor rewarded us after our iniquities.
11 For as the heaven is high above the earth,
So great is his mercy toward them that fear him.
12 As far as the east is from the west,
So far hath he removed our transgressions from us.
13 Like as a father pitieth his children,
So the LORD pitieth them that fear him.
14 For he knoweth our frame;
He remembereth that we are dust.
15 As for man, his days are as grass;
As a flower of the field, so he flourisheth.
16 For the wind passeth over it and it is gone;
And the place thereof shall know it no more.
17 But the mercy of the LORD is from everlasting to everlasting
On them that fear him,
His righteousness unto children's children;
And to those that remember his precepts to do them.
18 To such as keep his covenant,
And to those that remember his precepts to do them.
19 The LORD hath established his throne in the heavens;
And his kingdom ruleth over all.
20 Bless the LORD, ye angels of his:

1 *Bless the LORD, O my soul.
2 O LORD my God, thou art very great; Thy |art clothed with honour and majesty.
3 Who coverest thyself with light as with a garment; Who stretchest out the heavens like a curtain:
4 Who *layeth the beams of his chambers in the waters; Who maketh the clouds his chariot; Who walketh upon the wings of the wind: 5 Who maketh winds his messengers; His ministers a flaming fire:
6 Who sendeth forth springs into the valleys; They run among the mountains:
7 They give drink to every beast of the field; The wild asses quench their thirst.
8 By them the fowl of the heaven have their habitation, They sing among the branches.
9 He watereth the mountains from his chambers: The earth is satisfied with the fruit of thy works.
10 He causeth the grass to grow for the cattle, And herb for the service of man; That he may bring forth food out of the earth:
11 And wine that maketh glad the heart of man, Which raiseth the heart.
12 The trees of the LORD are satisfied; The cedars of Lebanon, which he hath planted; Where the birds make their nests:
13 The high mountains are for the wild goats; The rocks are a refuge for the conies.
14 He appointed the moon for seasons: The sun knoweth his going down.
15 The young lions roar after their prey, And seek their meat from God. The sun ariseth, they get them away, And lay them down in their dens.
16 O LORD, how manifold are thy works! In wisdom hast thou made them all: The earth is full of thy riches.
17 Wherein are things creeping innumerable, Both small and great beasts.
18 There go the ships; There is Leviathan, whom thou seest Job 38. 12

27 These wait all upon thee,
That thou mayest give them their meat in due season.
28 That thou givest unto them they gather;
Thou openest thine hand, they are satisfied with good.
29 Thou hidest thy face, they are troubled;
Thou takest away their breath, they die,
And return to their dust.
30 Thou sendest forth thy spirit, they are created;
And thou renewest the face of the ground.
31 Let the glory of the LORD endure forever;
Let the LORD rejoice in his works:
32 Who looketh on the earth, and it trembleth;
He toucheth the mountains, and they smoke.
33 I will sing unto the LORD as long as I live:
I will sing praises to my God while I have any being.
34 Let my meditation be sweet unto him:
I will rejoice in the LORD.
35 Let sinners be consumed out of the earth,
And let the wicked be no more.
Bless the LORD, O my soul.

Ps. 105, v. 23.

1 O give thanks unto the LORD, call upon his name; Make known his doings among the peoples.
2 Sing unto him, sing praises unto him;
Talk ye of all his marvellous works.
3 Glory ye in his holy name:
Let the heart of them rejoice that seek the LORD.
4 Seek ye the LORD and his strength;
Seek his face evermore.
5 Remember his marvellous works that he hath done;
His wonders, and the judgments of his mouth;
6 O ye seed of Abraham his servant,
Ye children of Jacob, his chosen ones.
7 He is the LORD our God:
His judgments are in all the earth.
8 He hath remembered his covenant for ever;
The word which he commanded to a thousand generations;
9 The covenant which he made with Abraham,
And his oath unto Isaac;
10 And confirmed the same unto Jacob for a statute,
To Israel for an everlasting covenant:
11 Saying, Unto thee will I give the land of Canaan,
A portion of the inheritance of the lot of your inheritance:
12 When they were but a few men in number;
Yea, very few, and sojourners in it;
13 And they went about from nation to nation,
From one kingdom to another people.
14 He suffered no man to do them wrong;
Yea, he reproved kings for their sakes;
15 Saying, Touch not mine anointed ones,
And do my prophets no harm.
16 And he called for a famine upon the land;
He brake the whole staff of bread.
17 He sent a man before them;
Joseph was sold for a servant:
His feet they hurt with fetters;
And he was laid in chains of iron:
Until the time that his word came to pass;
The word of the LORD tried him.
18 He sent and loosed him;
Even the ruler of peoples, and let him go free.
19 The king sent and loosed him;
Even the ruler of peoples, and let him go free.
20 The king sent and loosed him;
Even the ruler of peoples, and let him go free.
21 He made him lord of his house,
And ruler of all his substance:
To bind his princes at his pleasure,
And teach his senators wisdom.
22 Israel also came into Egypt;
And Jacob sojourned in the land of Ham.

24 And he increased his people greatly, And made them stronger than their adversaries.

25 He turned their heart to hate his people, To deal subtilly with his servants.

26 He sent Moses his servant, And Aaron whom he had chosen.

27 *They set among them his signs, And wonders in the land of Ham.

28 He sent darkness, and made it dark; And they rebelled not against his words.

29 He turned their waters into blood, And slew their fish.

30 Their land swarmed with frogs, In the chambers of their kings.

31 He spake, and there came swarms of flies, And lice in all their borders.

32 He gave them hail for rain, And flaming fire in their land.

33 He smote their vines also and their fig trees; And brake the trees of their borders.

34 He spake, and the locust came, And the cankerworm, and that without number, And did eat up every herb in their land, And did eat up the fruit of their ground.

36 He smote also all the firstborn in their land, The chief of all their strength.

37 And he brought them forth with silver and gold: And there was not one feebler person among his tribes.

38 Egypt was glad when they departed: For the fear of them had fallen upon them.

39 He spread a cloud for a covering; And fire to give light in the night.

40 They asked, and he brought quails, And satisfied them with the bread of heaven.

41 He opened the rock, and waters gushed out; They ran in the dry places like a river.

42 For he remembered his holy word, And Abraham his servant.

43 And he brought forth his people with joy, And his chosen with singing.

44 And he gave them the lands of the nations; And they took the labour of the peoples in possession:

45 That they might keep his statutes, And observe his laws.

46 *Praise ye the LORD.

106 *O give thanks unto the LORD; for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.

2 Who can utter the mighty acts of the LORD, Or shew forth all his praise?

3 Blessed are they that keep judgment, And he that doeth righteousness.

4 Remember me, O LORD, with thy favour that thou bearest unto thy people; O visit me with thy salvation:

5 That I may see the prosperity of thy chosen, That I may rejoice in the gladness of thy nation, That I may glory with thine inheritance.

6 *We have sinned with our fathers, We have committed iniquity we have done wickedly.

7 Our fathers understood not thy wonders in Egypt; They remembered not the multitude of thy mercies; But were rebellious at the sea, even at the Red Sea.

8 Nevertheless he saved them for his name's sake, That he might make his mighty power to be known.

9 He rebuked the Red Sea also, and it was dried up: So he led them through the

And that he would overthrow their seed among the nations, and scatter them in the lands. See Ps. 44. 11. Num. 23. 3. Hos. 9. 10.

They b joined themselves also unto Baal-peor, and ate the sacrifices of the dead. c Isai. 8. 19.

Thus they provoked him to anger with their doings; and the plague brake upon them. d Num. 23. 7, 8.

Then d stood up Phinehas, and executed judgement; and so the plague was stayed. See Num. 25. 10-13.

And that was e counted unto him for righteousness, unto all generations for evermore. See Num. 20. 1-13. Deut. 1. 57.

They f angered him also at the waters of Meribah, so that it went ill with Moses for their sakes:

Because they were g rebellious against his spirit, and he h spake unadvisedly with his lips. See Judg. 1. 21, 27-36. Deut. 7. 2, 16. Judg. 2. 2. Judg. 3. 5, 6. Cp. Extr. 0. 2.

And the Lord commanded them; f As the Lord commanded them; but mingled themselves with the nations, and learned their works; and they i served their idols, which became a snare unto them:

Yes, they j sacrificed their sons and their daughters unto demons, and shed innocent blood, even the blood of their sons and of their daughters, whom they sacrificed unto the idols of Canaan; and the land was polluted with blood.

Thus were they k defiled with their works, and went a whoring in their doings.

Therefore was l the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people, and he abhorred his inheritance.

And he m gave them into the hand of the nations; and they that hated them ruled over them.

Their enemies also n oppressed them, w Neh. 9. 27.

And he m saved them from the hand of him that hated them, and redeemed them from the hand of the enemy.

And the waters covered their adversaries: there was not one of them left.

But lusted exceedingly in the wilderness, and tempted God in the desert.

And he n gave them their request; but sent o leanness into their soul.

They o envied Moses also in the camp, and Aaron the p saint of the Lord.

And the earth opened and swallowed up Dathan, and covered the company of Abiram.

And a fire was kindled in their company; the flame burned up the wicked.

They q made a calf in Horeb, and worshipped a molten image. Thus they r changed their glory for the likeness of an ox that eateth grass.

They s forgat God their saviour, which had done so great things in Egypt;

Wondrous works in the land of Ham, and terrible things by the Red Sea.

Therefore t he said that he would destroy them, had not Moses his u chosen one stood before him in the breach, to turn away his wrath, lest he should destroy them.

Yea, they v despised the pleasant land, they w believed not his word;

But w murmured in their tents, and hearkened not unto the voice of the Lord.

Therefore he x lifted up his hand unto them, that he would y overthrow them in the wilderness:
And they were brought into subjection under their hand. 43 Many times did he deliver them; But they were rebellious in their counsel, And were brought low in their iniquity. Nevertheless he regarded their distress, When he heard their cry: And he remembered for them his covenant, And repented according to the multitude of his mercies. He made them also to be pitied of all those that carried them captives.

47 Save us, O Lord our God, And gather us from among the nations, To give thanks unto thy holy name, And to triumph in thy praise.

48 Blessed be the Lord, the God of Israel, From everlasting even to everlasting. And let all the people say, Amen.

Praise ye the Lord.

BOOK V.

107 1 O give thanks unto the Lord; for he is good: For his mercy endureth for ever.

2 Let the redeemed of the Lord say so, Whom he hath redeemed from the hand of the adversary;

3 And gathered them out of the lands, From the east and from the west, From the north and from the south.

4 They wandered in the wilderness in a desert way; They found no city of habitation.

5 Hungry and thirsty, Their soul fainted in them. Then they cried unto the Lord in their trouble, And he delivered them out of their distresses.

7 He led them also by a straight way, That they might go to a city of habitation.

8 Oh that men would praise the Lord for his goodness, And for his wonderful works to the children of men!

9 For he satisfieth the longing soul, And the hungry soul he filleth with good.

10 Such as sat in darkness and in shadow of death, Being bound in affliction and iron; Of all those that carried them captives.

11 Because they rebelled against the words of God, And contemned the counsel of the Most High:

12 Therefore he brought down their heart with labour; They fell down, and there was none to help.

13 Then they cried unto the Lord in their trouble, And he saved them out of their distresses.

14 He brought them out of darkness and the shadow of death, And brake their bands in sunders:

15 Oh that men would praise the Lord for his goodness, And for his wonderful works to the children of men!

16 For he hath broken the gates of brass, And cut the bars of iron in sunders.

17 Fools because of their transgression, And because of their iniquities, are afflicted.

18 Their soul abhorreth all manner of meat; And they draw near unto the gates of death.

20 He sendeth his word, and heals them, And delivereth them from their destroyers.

26 They mount up to the heaven, they go down again to the depths:

Their soul melteth away because of trouble.

27 They reel to and fro, and stagger like a drunken man, And are at their wits' end.

28 Then they cry unto the Lord in their trouble, And he bringeth them out of their distresses.

29 He maketh the storm a calm, So that the waves thereof are still.

30 Then are they glad because they be quiet; So he bringeth them unto the haven where they would be.

38 He poureth contempt upon princes, And causeth them to wander in the waste, where there is no way.

13 Through God we shall do valiantly: For he it is that shall tread down our adversaries.

14 Hold not thy peace, O God of my praise; For the mouth of the wicked and the mouth of deceit have they opened against me: They have spoken unto me with a lying tongue.

15 They compassed me about also with words of hatred, And fought against me without a cause.

16 For my love they are my adversaries: But I gave myself unto prayer.

17 And they have rewarded me evil for good, And hatred for my love.

27 This is the reward of mine adversaries from the Lord, And of them that speak evil against my soul.

His heart is fixed, trusting in the LORD.
8 His heart is established, he shall not be afraid,

9 He hath dispersed, he hath given to the needy;
His righteousness endureth for ever:

He shall gnash with his teeth, and melt away:

4 The mountains skipped like rams,
The little hills like young sheep.
5 What aileth thee, O thou sea,
That thou dost flee?
Thou Jordan, that thou turnest back?
6 Ye mountains, that ye skipped like rams;
Ye little hills, like young sheep?
7 Tremble, thou earth, at the presence of the Lord,
At the presence of the God of Jacob;
8 Which turned the rock into a pool of water,
The flint into a fountain of waters.

II 15 1 Not unto us, O LORD,
But unto thy name give glory,
For thy mercy, and for thy truth's sake.
2 Wherefore should the nations say,
Where is now their God?
3 But our God is in the heavens;
He hath done whatsoever he pleased.
4 Their idols are silver and gold,
The work of men's hands.
5 They have mouths, *but they speak not;
6 They have ears, but they hear not;
7 They have hands, but they handle not;
Neither speak they through their throat.

8 *They that make them shall be like unto them;
Yea, every one that trusteth in them.

9 0 Israel, *trust thou in the LORD;
He is their *help and their shield.

10 O house of Aaron, *trust ye in the LORD;
He is their *help and *their shield.

11 Ye *that fear the LORD, *trust in the LORD;
He is their *help and *their shield.

12 The LORD hath been mindful of us; he will bless us:
He will bless the house of Israel;
He will bless them that fear the LORD,
Both small and great.

13 He will *bless them that fear the LORD,
Both small and great.

14 The LORD *increase you more and more,
You and your children.

15 *Blessed are ye of the LORD,
Which made heaven and earth.

16 The heavens are the heavens of the LORD;
But the earth hath he given to the children of men.

17 The dead praise not the LORD,
Neither any that go down into Sheol;
But *we will bless the LORD
From this time forth and for evermore.

18 *Praise ye the LORD.

5 They have mouths, *but they speak not;
 Eyes have they, *but they see not;
Noses have they, *but they smell not;
Feet have they, *but they walk not;
Neither speak they through their throat.

8 *They that make them shall be like unto them;
Yea, every one that trusteth in them.

9 0 Israel, *trust thou in the LORD;
He is their *help and their shield.

10 O house of Aaron, *trust ye in the LORD;
He is their *help and *their shield.

11 Ye *that fear the LORD, *trust in the LORD;
He is their *help and *their shield.

12 The LORD hath been mindful of us; he will bless us:
He will bless the house of Israel;
He will bless them that fear the LORD,

13 He will *bless them that fear the LORD,

16 The heavens are the heavens of the LORD;
But the earth hath he given to the children of men.

17 The dead praise not the LORD,
Neither any that go down into Sheol;
But *we will bless the LORD
From this time forth and for evermore.

18 *Praise ye the LORD.
Yea, in the presence of all his people;
19 In the courts of the LORD's house,
In the midst of thee, O Jerusalem.
1/ Praise ye the LORD.

117 1 O praise the LORD, all ye nations;
Laud him, all ye peoples.
2 For his mercy is great toward us;
And the truth of the LORD endureth for ever.
1/ Praise ye the LORD.

118 1 O give thanks unto the LORD; for he is good:
For his mercy endureth for ever.
2 Let Israel now say,
That his mercy endureth for ever.
3 Let the house of Aaron now say,
That his mercy endureth for ever.
4 Let them now that fear the LORD say,
That his mercy endureth for ever.
5 Out of my distress I called upon the LORD:
The LORD answered me and set me in a large place.
6 The LORD is on my side; I will not fear:
What can man do unto me?
7 The LORD is on my side among them that help me:
Therefore shall I see my desire upon them that hate me.
8 It is better to trust in the LORD
Than to put confidence in man.
9 It is better to trust in the LORD
Than to put confidence in princes.
10 All nations compassed me about:
In the name of the LORD I will cut them off.
11 They compassed me about; yea,
They compassed me about:
In the name of the LORD I will cut them off.
12 They compassed me about like bees;
They are quenched as the fire of thorns:
In the name of the LORD I will cut them off.

II9 M ALEPH.

1 Blessed are they that are perfect in the way,
Who walk in the law of the LORD.

2 Blessed are they that keep his testimonies,
That walk in his ways.

3 Ye, they do no unrighteousness;
They walk in his ways.

4 Thou hast commanded us thy precepts,
That we should observe them diligently.

5 Oh that my ways were established
To observe thy statutes!

6 Then shall I not be ashamed,
When I have respect unto all thy commandments.

7 I will give thanks unto thee
With uprightness of heart,
When I learn thy righteous judgments.

8 I will observe thy statutes:
O forsake me not utterly.

9 Wherewithal shall a young man cleanse his way?
By taking heed thereto according to thy word.

10 With my whole heart have I sought thee;
O let me not wander from thy commandments.

11 Thy word have I laid up in mine heart,
That I might not sin against thee.

12 Blessed art thou, O LORD:
Teach me thy statutes.

13 With my lips have I declared
All the judgements of thy mouth.

14 I have rejoiced in the way of thy testimonies,
As much as in all riches.

15 I will meditate in thy precepts,
And have respect unto thy ways.

16 I will delight myself in thy statutes:
I will not forget thy word.

Wonderous things out of thy law.

That it hath unto thy judgments at all times.

21 Thou hast rebuked the proud that are cursed,
Which do wander from thy commandments.

22 Take away from me reproach and contempt:
For I have kept thy testimonies.

23 Princes also sat and talked against me:
But thy servant did meditate in thy statutes.

24 Thy testimonies also are my delight
And my counsellors.

7 DALETH.

25 "My soul cleaveth unto the dust:
Quicken thou me according to thy word.

26 "I declared my ways, and thou answeredst me:
"Teach me thy statutes.

27 "Make me to understand the way of thy precepts:
So shall I meditate of thy wondrous works.

28 "My soul melteth for heaviness:
Strengthen thou me according unto thy word.

29 Remove from me the way of falsehood:
And grant me thy law graciously.

30 I have chosen the way of faithfulness:
Thy judgements have I set before me.

31 I cleave unto thy testimonies:
O LORD, put me not to shame.

32 I will run the way of thy commandments,
When thou shalt enlarge my heart.

33 "Teach me, O LORD, the way of thy statutes;
And I shall keep it unto the end.

This is my comfort in my affliction:
1 For thy word hath quickened me.
2 The proud have had me greatly in derision:
Yet have I not swerved from thy law.
3 I have remembered thy judgments of old, O Lord,
And have comforted myself.

In the house of my pilgrimage.
I have remembered thy name, O Lord, in the night,
And have observed thy law.
This I have had,
Because I kept thy precepts.

41 Let thy mercies also come unto me, O Lord; Even thy salvation, according to thy word.
42 So shall I have an answer for him that reproacheth me; For I trust in thy word.
43 And take not the word of truth utterly out of my mouth; For I have hoped in thy judgements.
44 So shall I observe thy law continually For ever and ever.
45 And I will walk at liberty; For I have sought thy precepts.
46 I will also speak of thy testimonies before kings, And will not be ashamed.
47 And I will delight myself in thy commandments, Which I have loved.
48 I will lift up my hands also unto thy commandments, which I have loved;
And I will meditate in thy statutes.

57 The Lord is my portion: I have said that I would observe thy words.
58 I intreated thy favour with my whole heart: Be merciful unto me according to thy word.
59 I thought on my ways, And turned my feet unto thy testimonies.
60 I made haste, and delayed not, To observe thy commandments.
61 The cords of the wicked have wrapped me round;
But I have not forgotten thy law.
62 At midnight I will rise to give thanks unto thee Because of thy righteous judgements.
63 I am a companion of all them that fear thee, And of them that observe thy precepts.

1 MEM.
For I have believed in thy commandments.

Before I was afflicted I went astray;
But now I observe thy word.

Thou art good, and doest thy statutes.

The proud have forged a lie against me:
With my whole heart will I keep thy precepts.

Their heart is as fat as grease;
But I delight in thy law.

It is good for me that I have been afflicted;
That I might learn thy statutes.

The law of thy mouth is better unto me
Than thousands of gold and silver.

Thy hands have made me and fashioned me:
Give me understanding, that I may learn thy commandments.

They that fear thee shall see me and be glad;
Because I have hoped in thy word.

I know, O LORD, that thy judgments are righteous,
And that in faithfulness thou hast afflicted me.

Let, I pray thee, thy lovingkindness be for my comfort,
According to thy word unto thy servant.

They that fear thee shall see me and be glad;
Because I have hoped in thy word.

I know, O LORD, that thy judgments are righteous,
And that in faithfulness thou hast afflicted me.

Let, I pray thee, thy lovingkindness be for my comfort,
According to thy word unto thy servant.

They that fear thee shall see me and be glad;
Because I have hoped in thy word.

I will never forget thy precepts;
For with them thou hast quickened me.

I am thine, save me;
For I have sought thy precepts.

The wicked have waited for me to destroy me;
But I will consider thy testimonies.

I have seen an end of all perfection;
But thy commandment is exceeding broad.

Oh how love I thy law!
It is my meditation all the day.

Thy commandments make me wiser than mine enemies;
For they are ever with me.
99 I have more understanding than all my teachers; For thy testimonies are my meditation.

100 I understand more than the aged, Because I have kept thy precepts.

101 I have refrained my feet from every evil way, That I might observe thy word.

102 I have not turned aside from thy judgments; For thou hast taught me.

103 How sweet are thy words unto my taste! Yea, sweeter than honey to my mouth!

104 Through thy precepts I get understanding: Therefore I hate every false way.

105 Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, And light unto my path.

106 I have sworn, and have confirmed it, That I will observe thy righteous judgments.

107 I am afflicted very much: Quicklen me, O Lord, according unto thy word.

108 Accept, I beseech thee, the freewill offerings of my mouth, O Lord, And teach me thy judgments.

109 My soul is continually in my hand; Yet do I not forget thy law.

110 The wicked have laid a snare for me; Yet went I not astray from thy precepts.

111 Thy testimonies have I taken as an heritage for ever; For they are the rejoicing of my heart.

112 I have inclined mine heart to perform thy statutes, For ever, even unto the end.

113 I hate them that are of a double mind; But thy law do I love.

114 Thou art my hiding place and my shield: I hope in thy word.

I22 A Song of Ascents; of David.
1 I was glad when they said unto me,
2 Let us go unto the house of the LORD.
3 Jerusalem, that art built as a city that is compact together:
4 Whither the tribes go up, even the tribes of the LORD, for a testimony unto Israel,
5 For there are set thrones for judgment, the thrones of the house of David.
6 Pray for the peace of Jerusalem:
7 Peace be within thy walls, and prosperity within thy palaces.
8 For my brethren and companions' sakes, I will now say, Peace be within thee.
9 For the sake of the house of the LORD our God I will seek thy good.

Ps. 123, v. 1.

I23 A Song of Ascents.
1 Unto thee do I lift up mine eyes, O thou that sittest in the heavens,
2 As the mountains are round about Jerusalem, so the LORD is round about his people, from this time forth and for evermore.
3 For the sceptre of wickedness shall not rest upon the lot of the righteous;
That the righteous put not forth their hands unto iniquity.
4 Do good, O LORD, unto those that trust in thee; and to them that are upright in their hearts.
5 But as for such as turn aside unto their crooked ways, the LORD shall lead them forth with the workers of iniquity.

2 If it had not been the LORD who was on our side, when men rose up against us:
3 Then they had swallowed us up alive, when their wrath was kindled against us:
4 Then the waters had overwhelmed us, the stream had gone over our soul:
5 Then the proud waters had gone over our soul.

1 When the LORD turned again the captivity of Zion,
   We were like unto them that dream.

2 Then was our mouth filled with laughter,
   And our tongue with singing:
   Then said they among the nations,
   'The LORD hath done great things for them.

3 The LORD hath done great things for us;

I27 A Song of Ascents; of Solomon.

1 Except the LORD build the house,
   They labour in vain that build it:
   Except the LORD keep the city,

   'And eat the bread of travaill:
   For so giveth unto his beloved sleep.

3 Lo, children are an heritage of the LORD:
   And the fruit of the womb is his reward.

9 The moon and stars to rule by night:
For his mercy endureth for ever.
10 To him that smote Egypt in their firstborn:
For his mercy endureth for ever:
11 And brought out Israel from among them:
For his mercy endureth for ever:
12 With a strong hand, and with a stretched out arm:
For his mercy endureth for ever.
13 To him which divided the Red Sea in sunder:
For his mercy endureth for ever:
14 *And made Israel to pass through the midst of it:
For his mercy endureth for ever:
15 But overthrew Pharaoh and his host in the Red Sea:
For his mercy endureth for ever.
16 To him which led his people through the wilderness:
For his mercy endureth for ever.
17 To him which smote great kings:
For his mercy endureth for ever:
18 And slew famous kings:
For his mercy endureth for ever:
19 Sihon king of the Amorites:
For his mercy endureth for ever:

For his mercy endureth for ever:
21 And gave their land for an heritage:
For his mercy endureth for ever:
22 Even an heritage unto Israel his servant:
For his mercy endureth for ever.
23 Who remembered us in our low estate:
For his mercy endureth for ever:
24 And hath delivered us from our adversaries:
For his mercy endureth for ever:
25 He giveth food to all flesh:
For his mercy endureth for ever.

26 O give thanks unto the God of heaven:
For his mercy endureth for ever.

1 By the rivers of Babylon, there we sat down, yea, we wept,
When we remembered Zion.
2 Upon the willows in the midst thereof
We hanged up our harps.
3 For there they that led us captive required of us songs,
And they that wasted us required of us mirth, saying,
Sing us one of the songs of Zion.

4 How shall we sing the Lord's song
In a strange land?
5 If I forget thee, O Jerusalem,
Let my right hand forget her cunning.
6 Let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth,
If I remember thee not;
If I prefer not Jerusalem above my chief joy.

7 Remember, O Lord, against the children of Edom
*The day of Jerusalem;
Who said, Rase it, rase it,
Even to the foundation thereof.
8 O daughter of Babylon, that art to be destroyed;
Happy shall he be, that rewardeth thee as thou hast served us.
9 Happy shall he be, that taketh and dasheth thy little ones against the rock.

1 I will give thee thanks with my whole heart:
Before the gods will I sing praises unto thee.
2 I will worship toward thy holy temple,
And give thanks unto thy name for thy lovingkindness and for thy truth:
For thou hast magnified thy word above all thy name.
3 In the day that I called thou answeredst me,
Thou didst encourage me with strength in my soul.
4 All the kings of the earth shall give thee thanks, O Lord,
Ps. 138, v. 4.] THE PSALMS. [Ps. 139, v. 21.

For they have heard the words of thy mouth.

5 Yea, they shall sing of the ways of the Lord:
For great is the glory of the Lord.

6 "For though the Lord be high, yet hast he respect unto the lowly:
But the haughty he knoweth from afar.

7 "Though I walk in the midst of trouble, thou wilt revive me;
Thou shalt stretch forth thine hand against the wrath of mine enemies, And thy right hand shall save me.

8 The Lord will perfect that which concerneth me:
"Thy mercy, O Lord, endureth for ever;
Forsake not the works of thine own hands.

139 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

1 O Lord, thou hast searched me, and known me.
Thou knowest my downsitting and mine uprising.
Thou understandest my thought afar off.

3 Thou searchest out my path and my lying down, And art acquainted with all my ways.

4 For there is not a word in my tongue, But, lo, O Lord, thou knowest it altogether.

5 Thou hast beset me behind and before, And laid thine hand upon me.

6 "Such knowledge is too wonderful for me;
It is high, I cannot attain unto it.

7 "Whither shall I go from thy spirit? Or whither shall I flee from thy presence?

8 If I ascend up into heaven, thou art there:
If I make my bed in Sheol, behold, thou art there.

9 If I take the wings of the morning, And dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea;
Even there shall thy hand lead me, And thy right hand shall hold me.

11 If I say, Surely the darkness shall overwhelm me, And the light about me shall be night;
Even the darkness hideth not from thee, But the night shineth as the day: The darkness and the light are both alike to thee.

12 For thou hast possessed my reins:
Thou hast covered me in my mother's womb.

14 I will give thanks unto thee; For I am fearfully and wonderfully made;
"Wonderful are thy works; And that my soul knoweth right well.

15 "My frame was no hidden from thee,
When I was made in secret, And curiously wrought in the lowest parts of the earth.

16 Thine eyes did see mine unperfect substance, And in thy book were all my members written,
Which day by day were fashioned, When as yet there was none of them.

17 How precious also are thy thoughts unto me, O God! How great is the sum of them!
If I should count them, they are more in number than the sand:
When I awake, I am still with thee.
Surely thou wilt slay the wicked, O God: Depart from me therefore, ye bloodythirsty men.
For they speak against thee wickedly, And thine enemies take thy name in vain.

21 Do not I hate them, O Lord, that hate thee? And am not I grieved with those that rise up against thee?
Ps. 139, v. 22. THE PSALMS.

1 I cry with my voice unto the LORD; With my voice unto the LORD do I make supplication.
2 I pour out my complaint before him; I shew before him my trouble. When my spirit was overcome within me, thou knewest my path.
3 In the way wherein I walk have they hidden a snare for me. Look on my right hand, and see; for there is no man that knoweth me: Refuge hath failed me; no man careth for my soul. I cried unto thee, O LORD; I said, Thou art my refuge, My portion in the land of the living.
4 Attend unto my cry; for I am brought very low: Deliver me from my persecutors; for they are stronger than I. Bring my soul out of prison, that I may give thanks unto thy name: The righteous shall compass me about; For thou shalt deal bountifully with me.
5 I spread forth my hands unto thee; My soul thirsteth after thee, as a thirsty land. A Prayer.
6 Make haste to answer me, O LORD: my spirit faileth; Hide not thy face from me; lest I become like them that go down into the pit. Cause me to hear thy loving-kindness in the morning; For in thee do I trust: Cause me to know the way wherein I should walk; For I lift up my soul unto thee.
7 Deliver me, O LORD, from mine enemies: I flee unto thee to hide me. Teach me to do thy will; for thou art my God: Thy spirit is good; lead me in the way of uprightness.
8 Quicken me, O LORD, for thy name's sake: In thy righteousness bring my soul out of trouble. And in thy loving-kindness cut off mine enemies, And destroy all them that afflict my soul; For I am thy servant.

Maschil of David, when he was in the cave; a Prayer.

1 Hear my prayer, O LORD; give ear to my supplications: In thy faithfulness answer me, and in thy righteousness. And enter not into judgement with thy servant; For in thy sight shall no man living be justised. For the enemy hath persecuted my soul; He hath smitten my life down to the ground; He hath made me to dwell in dark places, as those that have been long dead.

4 Therefore is my spirit overwhelmed within me; My heart within me is desolate. I remember the days of old; I meditate on all thy doings: I muse on the work of thy hands.

17 My son, walk not thou in the way with them;
18 We will all have one purse:

1 Or, prudence 2 Or, an interpretation 3 Or, riddles 4 Or, chief part 5 Or, teaching 6 Or, the grace of 7 Or, even the perfect 8 Or, Cast in the lot 9 Or, the net is spread in the sight of 10 Heb. at the head of the noisy streets. 11 Or, devolution 12 Or, early gently, but they shall not find me:

29 For that they hated knowledge,
And did not choose the fear of the LORD:

30 They would none of my counsel;

They despised all my reproof:

31 Therefore shall they eat of the fruit of their own way,
And be filled with their own devices.

32 For the backsliding of the simple shall slay them,
And the prosperity of fools shall destroy them.

33 But whoso hearkeneth unto me shall dwell securely,
And shall be quiet without fear of evil.

34 My son, if thou wilt receive my words,
And lay up my commandments with thee;

2 So that thou incline thine ear unto wisdom,
And apply thine heart to understanding;

3 Yea, if thou cry after discernment,
And lift up thy voice for understanding;

4 If thou seek her as silver,
And search for her as for hid treasures;

5 Then shalt thou understand the fear of the LORD,
And find the knowledge of God.

6 For the LORD giveth wisdom;
Out of his mouth cometh knowledge and understanding:

7 He layeth up sound wisdom for the upright,
2 He is 2 a shield to them that walk in integrity;
8 That he may guard the paths of judgement,
And preserve the way of his saints.
9 k Then shalt thou understand righteousness and judgement,
And equity, yea, every good path.

10 For wisdom entereth into thine heart,
And knowledge shall be pleasant unto thy soul;

11 Discretion shall watch over thee,
Understanding shall keep thee:

12 To deliver thee from the way of evil,
From the men that speak froward things;

13 Who forsake the paths of uprightness,
To walk in the ways of darkness;

14 Who rejoiceth to do evil,
And delighteth in the frowardness of evil;

15 Who are crooked in their ways,
And perverse in their paths:

16 To deliver thee from the strange woman,
Even from the stranger which flattereth with her words,

17 Which forsaketh the friend of her youth,
And forgetteth the covenant of her God:

18 k For her house inclineth unto death,
And her paths unto the dead:

19 None that go unto her return again,
Neither do they attain unto the paths of life:

20 That thou mayest walk in the way of good men,
And keep the paths of the righteous.

21 For the upright shall dwell in the land,
And the perfect shall remain in it.

22 But the wicked shall be cut off from the land,
And they that deal treacherously shall be rooted out of it.

3 My son, forget not my law;
But let thine heart keep my commandments:

2 For length of days, and years of life,
And peace, shall they add to thee.

3 Let not mercy and truth forsake thee:

4 Bind them about thy neck;
619
Write them upon the table of thine heart:
4 So shalt thou find favour and P good understanding,
In the sight of God and man.
5 *Trust in the LORD with all thine heart,
And lean not upon thine own understanding:
6 In all thy ways acknowledge him,
And he shall direct thy paths.
7 Be not wise in thine own eyes;
*Fear the LORD, and depart from evil:
8 It shall be health to thy navel,
And thy fat shall overflow with new wine.
9 Honour the LORD with thy substance,
And with the figs of all thine increase:
10 So shall thy barns be filled with plenty,
And thy fats shall overflow with new wine.
11 *My son, despise not the chastening of the LORD;
Neither be weary of his reproof:
12 For whom the LORD loveth he reproveth;
Even as a father the son in whom he delighteth.
13 *Happy is the man that findeth wisdom,
And the man that getteth understanding.
14 *For the merchandise of it is better than the merchandise of silver,
And the gain thereof than fine gold.
15 She is more precious than rubies:
And none of the thingsthou canst desire are to be compared unto her.
16 *Length of days is in her right hand;
And in her left hand are riches and honour.
17 Her ways are ways of pleasantness,
And all her paths are peace.
18 She is a tree of life to them that lay hold upon her;
And happy is every one that retaineth her.
19 *The LORD by wisdom founded the earth;
By understanding he established the heavens.
20 By his knowledge the depths were broken up,
And the skies drop down the dew.
21 *My son, let not them depart from thine eyes;
Keep sound wisdom and discretion.
22 So shall they be life unto thy soul,
And grace to thy neck.
23 *Then shalt thou walk in thy ways securely,
*And thy foot shall not stumble.
24 *When thou liest down, thou shalt not be afraid;
Yea, thou shalt lie down, and thy sleep shall be sweet.
25 *Be not afraid of sudden fear,
Neither of the desolation of the wicked, when it cometh:
26 For the LORD shall be thy confidence,
And shall keep thy foot from being taken.
27 *Withhold not good from them to whom it is due,
When it is in the power of thine hand to do it.
28 *Say not unto thy neighbour. Go, and come again,
And to-morrow I will give; when thou hast it by thee.
29 *Devise not evil against thy neighbour.
Seeing he dwelleth securely by thee.
30 *Strive not with a man without cause,
If he have done thee no harm.
31 *Envy thou not the man of violence,
And choose none of his ways.
32 For the perverse is an abomination to the LORD;
But his secret is with the upright.
33 *The curse of the LORD is in the house of the wicked;
But he blesseth the habitation of the righteous.
34 *Surely he scorneth the scorners,
But he giveth grace unto the lowly.
35 *The wise shall inherit glory;
1 Or, good repute. 2 Or, make straight or plain
3 Or, refreshing. 4 Or, approacheth. 5 Heb. draws forth. 6 Heb. thou shalt not dash thy foot.
7 Or, storm. 8 Or, counsel. 9 Or, friendship. 10 Or, Though.
But shame shall be the proportion of fools.

1 * Hear, my sons, the instruction of a father, And attend to know understanding:
2 For I give you good doctrine; Forsake ye not my law.
3 For I was a son unto my father, Tender and only beloved in the sight of my mother.
4 And he taught me, and said unto me, Let thine heart retain my words;
5 Keep my commandments, and live:
6 Get wisdom, get understanding:
7 Forget it not, neither decline from the words of my mouth:
8 Forsake her not, and she shall preserve thee;
9 Love her, and she shall keep thee.

Wisdom is the principal thing; therefore get wisdom:
10 * For with all thou hast gotten get understanding.
11 Exalt her, and she shall promote thee;
12 She shall bring thee to honour, when thou dost embrace her.
13 She shall give to thine head a chaplet of grace:
14 A crown of beauty shall she deliver to thee.

Hear, O my son, and receive my sayings; And the years of thy life shall be many.
15 I have taught thee in the way of wisdom; I have led thee in paths of uprightness.
16 When thou goest, thy steps shall not be straitened; And if thou runnest, thou shalt not stumble.
17 * Take fast hold of instruction; let her not go:
18 Keep her; for she is thy life.
19 Enter not into the path of the wicked, And walk not in the way of evil men.
20 Avoid it, pass not by it; Turn from it, and pass on.

16 For they sleep not, except they have done mischief; And their sleep is taken away, unless they cause some to fall.
17 For they eat the bread of wickedness, And drink the wine of violence.
18 But the path of the righteous is as * the shining light, That shineth more and more unto the perfect day.
19 The way of the wicked is as darkness:
They know not at what they stumble.
20 * My son, attend to my words; Incline thine ear unto my sayings.
21 * Let them not depart from thine eyes; Keep them in the midst of thine heart.
22 For they are life unto them that find them, And health to all their flesh.
23 Put away from thee a froward mouth, And perverse lips put far from thee.
24 Let thine eyes look right on, And let thine eyelids look straight before thee.
25 * Make level the path of thy feet, And let all thy ways be established.
26 * Turn not to the right hand nor to the left: Remove thy foot from evil.

My son, attend unto my wisdom; Incline thine ear to my understanding:
2 What thou mayest preserve discretion, And that thy lips may keep knowledge.
3 For the lips of a strange woman * drop honey, And her mouth is smoother than oil:
4 But her latter end is bitter as wormwood,
5 Sharp as a two-edged sword.
5 Her feet go down to death; her steps take hold on Hell;
6 So that she findeth not the level path of life:
Her ways are unstable and she knoweth it not.
7 Now therefore, my sons, hearken unto me,
And depart not from the words of my mouth.
8 Remove thy way far from her, and come not nigh the door of her house:
9 Lest thou give thine honour unto others,
And thy years unto the cruel:
10 Lest strangers be filled with thy strength;
And thy labours be in the house of an alien;
11 And thou mourn at thy latter end,
When thy flesh and thy body are consumed,
12 And say, How have I hated instruction,
And my heart despaired reproof;
13 Neither have I obeyed the voice of my teachers,
Nor inclined mine ear to them that instructed me!
14 I was well nigh in all evil
In the midst of the congregation and assembly.
15 Drink waters out of thine own cistern,
And running waters out of thine own well.
16 Should thy springs be dispersed abroad,
And rivers of water in the streets?
17 Let them be for thyself alone,
And not for strangers with thee.
18 Let thy fountain be blessed;
And rejoice in the wife of thy youth.
19 As a loving hind and a pleasant doe,
Let her breasts satisfy thee at all times;
And be thou ravished always with her love.
20 For why shouldst thou, my son, be ravished with a strange woman,
And embrace the bosom of a stranger?

21 For the ways of man are before the eyes of the Lord,
And he maketh level all his paths.
22 His own iniquities shall take the wicked,
And he shall be holden with the cords of his sin.
23 He shall die for lack of instruction;
And in the greatness of his folly he shall go astray.

My son, if thou art become surety for thy neighbour,
If thou hast stricken thy hands for a stranger,
Thou art snared with the words of thy mouth,
Thou art taken with the words of thy mouth.

Do this now, my son, and deliver thyself,
Seeing thou art come into the hand of thy neighbour;
Go, and deliver thyself, and implead thy neighbour.

Give not sleep to thine eyes,
Nor slumber to thine eyelids.
Deliver thyself as a roe from the hand of the hunter,
And as a bird from the hand of the fowler.

Go to the ant, thou sluggard;
Consider her ways, and be wise:
Which having no chief, overseer, or ruler,
Provideth her meat in the summer,
And gathreth her food in the harvest.
How long wilt thou sleep, O sluggard? When wilt thou arise out of thy sleep?
Yet a little sleep, a little slumber,
A little folding of the hands to sleep:
So shall thy poverty come as a robber,
And thy want as an armed man.

THE PROVERBS.

13 He winketh with his eyes, he speaketh with his feet; he maketh signs with his fingers;

14 *Frowardness is in his heart, he deviseth evil continually;

15 Therefore shall his calamity come suddenly;

16 There be six things which the Lord hateth;

17 'Haughty eyes, *a lying tongue, And *hands that shed innocent blood;

18 *An heart that deviseth wicked imaginations, *Feet that be swift in running to mischief;

19 *A false witness that *uttereth lies, And he that *soweth discord among brethren.

20 *My son, keep the commandment of thy father, And forsakenot the law of thy mother:

21 *Bind them continually upon thine heart, *tie them about thy neck.

22 When thou walkest, it shall lead thee; 2 When thou 3 sleepest, it shall watch over thee;

23 For *the commandment is *a lamp; and *the law is light; And *reproofs of instruction are the way of life:

24 To keep thee from the evil woman, From the flattery of *the stranger's tongue.

25 'Lust not after her beauty in thine heart; Neither let her take thee with her *Jehills.

26 For *on account of a whorish woman a man is brought to a piece of bread: 11 And the adulteress *huntesth for the precious life.

27 Can a man take *fire in his bosom, And his clothes not be burned?

28 Or can one *walk upon hot coals, And his feet not be scorched?

29 So he that goeth in to his neighbour's wife; Whosoever toucheth her shall *not be unpunished.

30 Men do not despise a thief, if he steal To satisfy his soul when he is hungry:

31 But *if he be found, he shall restore sevenfold;

32 He that committeth adultery with a woman is *void of understanding;

33 Wounds and dishonour shall he get;

34 For *jealousy is the rage of a man;

35 He will not regard any ransom;

36 But he will not spare in the day of vengeance.

37 Can a man take *fire in his bosom, And his clothes not be burned?

38 Or can one *walk upon hot coals, And his feet not be scorched?

39 So he that goeth in to his neighbour's wife; Whosoever toucheth her shall *not be unpunished.

40 Men do not despise a thief, if he steal To satisfy his soul when he is hungry:

41 But *if he be found, he shall restore sevenfold;

42 He shall give all the substance of his house.

43 He that committeth adultery with a woman is *void of understanding:

44 For *jealousy is the rage of a man;

45 He will not regard any ransom;

46 But he will not spare in the day of vengeance.

47 My son, keep my words, And lay up my commandments with thee.

48 And *lay up my commandments with thee.

49 Keep my commandments and live;

50 And my law as *the apple of thine eye.

51 Bind them upon thy fingers; 3 Write them upon the table of thine heart.

52 Say unto wisdom, Thou art my sister;

53 And call understanding thy kinswoman:

54 That they may keep thee from the strange woman,

55 From the stranger which flat- tereth with her words.

56 For at the window of my house I looked forth through my lattice;
And I beheld among the simple ones, I discerned among the youths, A young man void of understanding, passing through the street near her corner, and he went the way to her house; in the twilight, in the evening of the day, in the blackness of night and the darkness. And behold, there met him a woman with the attire of an harlot, and wily of heart. She is clamorous and wilful; her feet abide not in her house: now she is in the streets, now in the broad places, and lieth in wait at every corner.

So she caught him, and kissed him, and with an impudent face she said unto him: sacrifices of peace offerings are with me; this day have I paid my vows. Therefore came I forth to meet thee, diligently to seek thy face, and I have found thee. I have spread my couch with carpets of tapestry, with striped cloths of the yard of Egypt. I have perfumed my bed with myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon.

Come, let us take our fill of love until the morning; let us solace ourselves with loves. For the goodman is not at home, he is gone a long journey; he hath taken a bag of money with him; he will come home at the full moon. With her much fair speech she causeth him to yield, with the flattering of her lips she forçeth him away. He goeth after her straightway, as an ox goeth to the slaughter, or as his fetters to the correction of the fool. Till an arrow strike through his liver; as a bird hasteth to the snare, and knoweth not that it is for his life. Now therefore, my sons, hearken unto me, and attend to the words of my mouth. Let not thine heart decline to her ways, go not astray in her paths. For she hath cast down many wounded: yea, all her slain are mighty hosts.

Her house is the way to Sheol, going down to the chambers of death.

Doth not wisdom cry, and understanding put forth her voice? in the top of high places by the way, where the paths meet, she standeth; beside the gates, at the entry of the city, at the coming in at the doors, she crieth aloud:

Unto you, O men, I call; and my voice is to the sons of men. O ye simple, understand subtlety; and, ye fools, be ye of an understanding heart. Hear, for I will speak excellent things; and the opening of my lips shall be right things.

For my mouth shall utter truth; and wickedness is an abomination to my lips. All the words of my mouth are in righteousness; there is nothing crooked or perverse in them. They are all plain to him that understandeth, and right to them that find knowledge.
10 Receive my instruction, and not silver; And knowledge rather than choice gold.

11 For wisdom is better than rubies; And all the things that may be desired are not to be compared unto her.

12 I wisdom have made 1 * subtilty my dwelling, And find out * knowledge and 2 * discretion.

13 * The fear of the Lord is to hate evil; * Pride, and arrogancy, and the evil way, And 3 * the froward mouth, do I hate.

14 * Counsel is mine, and * sound knowledge: I am understanding; * I have might.

15 By me * kings reign, And princes decree justice.

16 By me 4 * princes rule, And nobles, * even all the judges of the earth.

17 I love them that love me; And those that seek me diligently shall find me.

18 Riches and honour are with me; * Ye 5 * a durable riches and righteousness.

19 My fruit is 6 * better than gold, * yea, than fine gold; And my 7 * revenue than * choice silver.

20 I walk in the way of righteousness, * In the midst of the paths of judgement:

21 That I may cause those that love me to inherit substance, And that I may fill their treasures.

22 * The Lord 9 * possessed me 10 in * the beginning of his way, * Before his works 8 * of old.

23 I was 11 * set up from everlasting, * From the beginning of the earth. * Or ever the earth was. 24 When there were no depths, I was 11 * brought forth; * When there were no fountains abounding with water.

4 Whoso is simple, let him turn in hither:

5 Come, eat ye of my bread,

And drink of the wine which I have mingled.

6 Leave off, simple ones, and live;

And walk in the way of understanding.

7 He that correcteth a scorner getteth to himself shame:

And he that reproveth a wicked man getteth himself a blot.

8 Reprove not a scorner, lest he hate thee:

9 Reprove a wise man, and he will love thee.

Give instruction to a wise man, and he will be yet wiser:

Teach a rightous man, and he will increase in learning.

For by me thy days shall be multiplied,

And the years of thy life shall be increased.

10 The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom:

And the knowledge of the Holy One is understanding.

And the years of thy life shall be increased.

And if thou scornest, thou alone shalt bear it.

She is simple, and knoweth nothing.

And she sitteth at the door of her house,

Who go right on their ways,

Who is simple, let him turn in hither:

Stolen waters are sweet,

And bread eaten in secret is pleasant.

A wise son maketh a glad father:

But a foolish son is the heaviness of his mother.

But righteousness delivereth from death.

But he thrusteth away the desire of the wicked.

22 As a jewel of gold in a swine’s snout, So is a fair woman which is without discretion.

23 The desire of the righteous is only good: But the expectation of the wicked is wrath.

24 There is that scattereth, and increaseth yet more: And there is that withholdeth more than is meet, but it tendeth only to want.

25 The liberal soul shall be made fat: And he that watereth shall be watered also himself.

26 He that withholdeth corn, the people shall curse him: But blessing shall be upon the head of him that selleth it.

27 He that diligently seeketh good seeketh favour: But he that searcheth after mischief, it shall come unto him.

28 He that trusteth in his riches shall fall: But the righteous shall flourish as the green leaf.

29 He that troubleth his own house shall inherit the wind: And the foolish shall be servant to the wise of heart.

30 The fruit of the righteous is as a tree of life: And he that is wise winneth souls.

31 Behold, the righteous shall be recompensed in the wicked: How much more the wicked and the sinner!

32 Whoso loveth correction loveth knowledge: But he that hateth reproof is brutish.

33 A good man shall obtain favour of the Lord: But a man of wicked devices will he condemn.

34 A man shall not be established by wickedness: But the root of the righteous shall never be moved.

35 A virtuous woman is a crown to her husband: But she that maketh ashamed is as rottenness in his bones.

36 The thoughts of the righteous are just: But the counsels of the wicked are deceit.

37 The words of the wicked are of lying in wait for blood: But the mouth of the upright shall deliver them.

38 The wicked are overthrown, and are not: But the house of the righteous shall stand.

39 A man shall be commended according to his wisdom: But he that is of a perverse heart shall be despised.
THE PROVERBS.

9 Better is he that is lightly esteemed, and hath a servant, than he that honoureth himself, and lacketh bread.

And the doings of a man's hands shall be rendered unto him.

15 The way of the foolish is right in his own eyes: But he that is wise hearkeneth unto counsel.

16 A fool's vexation is presently known: But a prudent man concealeth knowledge.

17 He that uttereth truth sheweth forth righteousness, But a false witness deceiveth.

18 There is that speaketh rashly like the piercing of a sword: But the tongue of the wise is health.

19 The lip of truth shall be established for ever:

But a lying tongue is but for a moment.

20 Deceit is in the heart of them that devise evil: But to the counsellors of peace is joy.

21 There shall no mischief happen to the righteous: But the wicked shall be filled with evil.

22 Lying lips are an abomination to the Lord: But they that deal truly are his delight.

23 A prudent man concealeth knowledge:

But the heart of fools proclameth foolishness.

24 The hand of the diligent shall bear rule: But the slothful shall be put under taskwork.

25 Heaviness in the heart of a man maketh it stoop; But a good word maketh it glad.

26 The righteous is a guide to his neighbour:

But the way of the wicked causeth them to err.

27 The slothful man roasteth not that which he took in hunting:

But the precious substance of men is to the diligent.

28 In the way of righteousness is life:

And in the pathway thereof there is no lack.

A wise son heareth his father's instruction:

But a scorner heareth not rebuke.

2 A man shall eat good by the fruit of his mouth:

But the soul of the treacherous shall eat violence.

3 He that guardeth his mouth keepeth his life:

But he that openeth wide his lips shall have destruction.

4 The soul of the sluggard desireth, and hath nothing:

But the soul of the diligent shall be made fat.

5 A righteous man hateth lying:

But a wicked man is loathsome, and cometh to shame.

6 Righteousness guardeth him that is upright in the way:

But wickedness overthroweth the sinner.

But there is that maketh himself poor, yet hath great wealth.

8 The ransom of a man's life is his riches:

But the poor heareth no threatening.

9 The light of the righteous rejoiceth:
But the lamp of the wicked shall be put out.

10 By pride cometh only contention:
But with the well advised is wisdom.

11 Wealth gotten by vanity shall be diminished:
But he that gathereth by labour shall have increase.

Hope deferred maketh the heart sick:

12 But when the desire cometh, it is like a tree of life.

But he that feareth the commandment shall be rewarded.

The law of the wise is as a fountain of life.

14 To depart from the snares of death.

15 Good understanding giveth favour:
But the way of the treacherous is rugged.

16 Every prudent man worketh with knowledge:
But a fool spreadeth out folly.

17 A wicked messenger falleth into evil:
But a faithful ambassador is health.

18 Poverty and shame shall be to him that refuseth correction:
But he that regardeth reproof shall be honoured.

The desire accomplished is sweet to the soul:
But it is an abomination to fools to depart from evil.

20 Walk with wise men, and thou shalt be wise:
But the companion of fools shall be SMART for IT.

21 Evil pursueth sinners:
But the righteous shall be recompensed with good.

22 A good man leaveth an inheritance to his children's children:
And the wealth of the sinner is laid up for the righteous.

23 Much food is in the tillage of the poor:
But there is that is destroyed by reason of transgression.

24 He that spareth his rod hateth his son:
But he that loveth him chasteneth him ten times.

25 The righteous eateth to the satisfying of his soul:
But the belly of the wicked shall want.

1 Every wise woman buildeth her house:
But the foolish plucketh it down with her own hands.

2 He that walketh in his uprightness fearedeth the Lord:
But he that is perverse in his ways despieth him.

3 In the mouth of the foolish is as a rod of pride:
But the lips of the wise shall preserve them.

4 Where no oxen are, the crib is clean:
But much increase is by the strength of the ox.

5 A faithful witness will not lie:
But a false witness uttereth lies.

6 A scorner seeketh wisdom, and findeth it not:
But knowledge is easy unto him that hath understanding.

7 Go into the presence of a fool, and thou shalt not perceive in him the lips of knowledge.

8 The wisdom of the prudent is to understand his way:
But the folly of fools is deceit.

9 The foolish make a mock at guilt:
But among the upright there is good will.

10 The heart knoweth its own bitterness;
And a stranger doth not intermeddle with its joy.

11 The house of the wicked shall be overthrown:
But the tent of the righteous shall flourish.

12 There is a way which seemeth right unto a man, but the end thereof are the ways of death.

13 Even in laughter the heart is sorrowful;
And a smile of the frowardeth the heart.

14 The way of the wicked is as darkness, where they know not what they do; and in they shall fall.
And the end of mirth is heaviness.

14 The backslider in heart shall be filled with his own ways: And a good man shall be satisfied from himself.

15 The simple believeth every word: But the prudent man looketh to his going.

16 A wise man feareth, and departeth from evil: But the fool beareth himself insolently, and is confident.

17 He that is soon angry will deal foolishly: And a man of wicked devices is hated.

26 In the fear of the LORD is strong confidence: And he that trusteth in the LORD shall not be moved.

27 The fear of the LORD is a fountain of life: To depart from the snares of death.

28 In the multitude of people is the king's glory: But in the want of people is the destruction of the prince.

29 He that is slow to anger is of great understanding:

But he that is hasty of spirit exalteth folly.

30 A sound heart is the life of the flesh: But envy is the rottenness of the bones.

31 He that oppresseth the poor reproacheth his Maker: But he that hath mercy on the needy honoureth him.

32 The wicked is thrust down in his evil-doing: But the righteous hath hope in his death.

33 Wisdom resteth in the heart of him that hath understanding:

But that which is in the inward part of fools is made known.

34 Righteousness exalteth a nation: But sin is a reproach to any people.

35 The king's favour is toward a servant that deviseth wisely: But his wrath shall be against him that causeth shame.

36 A soft answer turneth away wrath: But a grievous word stideth up anger.

37 The tongue of the wise uttereth knowledge aright: But the mouth of fools poureth out folly.

38 The eyes of the LORD are in every place, Keeping watch upon the evil and the good.

39 A wholesome tongue is a tree of life: But perverseness therein is a breaking of the spirit.

40 A fool despiseth his father's correction: But he that regardeth reproof getteth prudence.

41 In the house of the righteous is much treasure: But in the revenues of the wicked is trouble.

42 The lips of the wise disperse knowledge: But the heart of the foolish is clogged.

43 The sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination to the LORD: But the prayer of the upright is his delight.
9 The way of the wicked is an abomination to the LORD;
But he loveth him that followeth after righteousness.

10 There is a grievous correction for him that forsaketh the way:
And he that hateth reproof shall die.

11 One soul and two Abaddon are before the LORD: How much more then the hearts of the children of men!

12 A scorner loveth not to be reproved:
He will not go unto the wise.

13 A merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance: But by sorrow of heart the spirit is broken.

14 The heart of him that hath understanding seeketh knowledge:
But the mouth of fools feedeth on folly.

15 All the days of the afflicted are evil:
But he that is of a cheerful heart hath a continual feast.

16 Better is little with the fear of the LORD,
Than great treasure and trouble therewith.

17 Better is a dinner of herbs where love is,
Than a stalled ox and hatred therewith.

18 A wrathful man stirreth up contention:
But he that is slow to anger appeaseth strife.

19 The way of the sluggard is as an hedge of thorns:
But the path of the upright is made an high way.

20 A wise son maketh a glad father:
But a foolish man despiseth his mother.

21 Folly is joy to him that is void of wisdom:
But a man of understanding maketh straight his going.

22 Where there is no counsel, purposes are disappointed:
But in the multitude of counselors they are established.

23 A man hath joy in the answer of his mouth:
And a word in due season, how good is it!

24 To the wise the way of life goeth upward,
That he may depart from Sheol beneath.

25 The LORD will root up the house of the proud:
But he will establish the border of the widow.

26 Evil devices are an abomination unto the LORD:
But pleasant words are pure.

27 He that is greedy of gain troubleth his own house:
But he that hateth gifts shall live.

28 The heart of the righteous studieth to answer:
But the mouth of the wicked poureth out evil things.

29 The LORD is far from the wicked:
But he heareth the prayer of the righteous.

30 The light of the eyes rejoiceth the heart:
And good tidings make the bones fat.

31 The ear that hearkeneth to reproof getteth understanding.

32 The fear of the LORD is the instruction of wisdom;
And before honour goeth humility.

33 The preparations of the heart belong to man:
But the answer of the tongue is from the LORD.

34 All the ways of a man are clean in his own eyes:
But the LORD weigheth the spirits.

35 Commit thy works unto the LORD,
And thy thoughts shall be established.

36 The LORD hath made every thing for its own end:
Yea, even the wicked for the day of evil.

37 Everyone that is proud in heart is an abomination to the LORD:
Though hand join in hand, he shall not be unpunished.
By mercy and truth iniquity is purged:
And by the fear of the Lord men depart from evil.
When a man's ways please the Lord,
He maketh even his enemies to be at peace with him.
Better is a little with righteousness
Than great revenues with unjustice.
A man's heart deviseth his way:
But the Lord directeth his steps.
A divine sentence is in the lips of the king:
His mouth shall not transgress in judgement.
A just balance and scales are the Lord's:
All the weights of the bag are his work.
It is an abomination to kings to commit wickedness:
For the throne is established by righteousness.
Righteous lips are the delight of kings;
And they love him that speaketh right.
The wrath of a king is as messengers of death:
But a wise man will pacify it.
In the light of the king's countenance is life;
And his favour is as a cloud of the latter rain.
How much better is it to get wisdom than gold!
Yea, to get understanding is rather to be chosen than silver.
The high way of the upright is to depart from evil:
He that keepeth his way preserveth his soul.
Pride goeth before destruction,
And an haughty spirit before a fall.
Better is it to be of a lowly spirit with the poor,
Than to divide the spoil with the proud.
He that giveth heed unto the word shall find good:
And whoso trusteth in the Lord, happy is he.
The wise in heart shall be called prudent:
And the sweetness of the lips increaseth learning.
Understanding is a wellspring of life unto him that hath it:
But the correction of fools is their folly.
The heart of the wise instructeth his mouth,
And addeth learning to his lips.
Pleasant words are as an honeycomb,
Sweet to the soul, and health to the bones.
There is a way which seemeth right unto a man,
But the end thereof are the ways of death.
The appetite of the labouring man laboureth for him;
For his mouth craveth it of him.
A worthless man deviseth mischief:
And in his lips there is as a scorching fire.
A froward man scattereth abroad strife:
And a whisperer separateth chief friends.
A man of violence enticeth his neighbour,
And leadeth him in a way that is not good.
He that shutteth his eyes, it is to devise froward things:
He that companeth his lips bringeth evil to pass.
The hoary head is a crown of glory,
It shall be found in the way of righteousness.
He that is slow to anger is better than the mighty;
And he that ruleth his spirit rather than he that taketh a city.
The lot is cast into the lap;
But the whole disposing thereof is of the Lord.
Better is a dry morsel and quietness therewith,
Than an house full of feasting with strife.
A servant that dealeth wisely shall have rule over a son that causeth shame,
And shall have part in the inheritance among the brethren.
THE PROVERBS.

3 "The fining pot is for silver, and the furnace for gold; but the LORD trieth the hearts.

4 An evil-doer giveth heed to wicked lips; and a liar giveth ear to a mischievous tongue.

5 Whoso mocketh the poor reproacheth his Maker: and he that is glad at calamity shall not be unpunished.

6 Children's children are the crown of old men; and the glory of children are their fathers.

7 Excellent speech becometh not a fool: Much less do lying lips a prince.

8 A gift is as a precious stone in the eyes of him that hath it: whithersoever it turneth, it prospereth.

9 He that covereth a transgression seeketh love: but he that harpeth on a matter separateth chief friends.

10 A rebuke entereth deeper into one that hath understanding than an hundred stripes into a fool.

11 An evil man seeketh only rebellion; therefore a cruel messenger shall be sent against him.

12 Let a bear robbed of her whelps meet a man, rather than a fool in his folly.

13 Whoso rewardeth evil for good, and Evil shall not depart from his house.

14 The beginning of strife is as when one letteth out water: Therefore leave off contention, before there be quarrelling.

15 He that justifieth the wicked, and he that condemneth the righteous, Both of them alike are an abomination to the LORD.

16 Wherefore is there a price in the hand of a fool to buy wisdom, Seeing he hath no understanding?

17 A friend loveth at all times, and a brother is born for adversity.

18 A man void of understanding striketh hands, And becometh surety in the presence of his neighbour.

19 He loveth transgression that loveth strife; He that raiseth high his gate seeketh destruction.

20 He that hath a froward heart findeth no good: And he that hath a perverse tongue falleth into mischief.

21 He that begetteth a fool doeth it to his sorrow: And the father of a fool hath no joy.

22 A merry heart is a good medicine: but a broken spirit drieth up the bones.

23 A wicked man taketh a gift out of the bosom, To pervert the ways of judgement.

24 Wisdom is before the face of him that hath understanding: But the eyes of a fool are in the ends of the earth.

25 A foolish son is a grief to his father, And bitterness to her that bare him.

26 Also to punish the righteous is not good, Nor to smite the noble for their uprightness.

27 He that spareth his words hath knowledge: and he that is of a cool spirit is a man of understanding.

28 Even a fool, when he holdeth his peace, is counted wise: When he shutteth his lips, he is esteemed a prudent.

29 He that separateth himself seeketh his own desire, And rageth against all sound wisdom.

30 A fool hath no delight in understanding, But only that his heart may reveal itself.

31 When the wicked cometh, there cometh also contempt, And with ignominy cometh reproach.

32 The words of a man's mouth are as deep waters;
The Proverbs.

1 The wellspring of wisdom is as a flowing brook.
2 To *accept the person of the wicked is not good,
3 Nor to *turn aside the righteous in judgement.
4 A fool's lips enter into contention,
5 And his mouth calleth for stripes.
6 A fool's mouth is his destruction,
7 And his lips are the snare of his soul.
8 The words of a whisperer are as dainty morsels,
9 And they go down into the innermost parts of the belly.
10 He also that is slack in his work
11 Is a brother to him that is a destroyer.
12 The name of the Lord is a strong tower:
13 The righteous runneth into it,
14 And he that is slow to anger is safer than he that is swift to怒.
15 The rich man's wealth is his strong city,
16 And as an high wall in his own imagination.
17 Before destruction the heart of man is haughty
18 And before honour goeth humiliation.
19 He that giveth answer before he heareth,
20 It is folly and shame unto him.
21 The spirit of a man will sustain his infirmity;
22 But *a broken spirit who can bear?
23 The heart of the prudent getteth knowledge;
24 And the ear of the wise seeketh knowledge.
25 A man's gift maketh room for him,
26 And bringeth him before great men.
27 He that pleadeth his cause first needeth just;
28 But his neighbour cometh and searcheth him out.
29 *The lot causeth contentions to cease,
30 And parteth between the mighty.
31 A brother offended is harder to be won than a strong city:
32 And such contentions are like the bars of a castle.
33 To *accept the person of the wicked is not good,
34 Nor to *turn aside the righteous in judgement.
35 A fool's lips enter into contention,
36 And his mouth calleth for stripes.
37 A fool's mouth is his destruction,
38 And his lips are the snare of his soul.
39 The words of a whisperer are as dainty morsels,
40 And they go down into the innermost parts of the belly.
41 He also that is slack in his work
42 Is a brother to him that is a destroyer.
43 The name of the Lord is a strong tower:
44 The righteous runneth into it,
45 And he that is slow to anger is safer than he that is swift to anger.
46 The rich man's wealth is his strong city,
47 And as an high wall in his own imagination.
48 Before destruction the heart of man is haughty
49 And before honour goeth humility.
50 He that giveth answer before he heareth,
51 It is folly and shame unto him.
52 The spirit of a man will sustain his infirmity;
53 But *a broken spirit who can bear?
54 The heart of the prudent getteth knowledge;
55 And the ear of the wise seeketh knowledge.
56 A man's gift maketh room for him,
57 And bringeth him before great men.
58 He that pleadeth his cause first needeth just;
59 But his neighbour cometh and searcheth him out.
60 *The lot causeth contentions to cease,
61 And parteth between the mighty.
62 A brother offended is harder to be won than a strong city:
63 And such contentions are like the bars of a castle.
64 To *accept the person of the wicked is not good,
65 Nor to *turn aside the righteous in judgement.
66 A fool's lips enter into contention,
67 And his mouth calleth for stripes.
68 A fool's mouth is his destruction,
69 And his lips are the snare of his soul.
70 The words of a whisperer are as dainty morsels,
71 And they go down into the innermost parts of the belly.
72 He also that is slack in his work
73 Is a brother to him that is a destroyer.

76 And he that is slow to anger is safer than he that is swift to anger.
77 The rich man's wealth is his strong city,
78 And as an high wall in his own imagination.
79 Before destruction the heart of man is haughty
80 And before honour goeth humility.
81 He that giveth answer before he heareth,
82 It is folly and shame unto him.
83 The spirit of a man will sustain his infirmity;
84 But *a broken spirit who can bear?

88 And bringeth him before great men.
89 He that pleadeth his cause first needeth just;
90 But his neighbour cometh and searcheth him out.
91 *The lot causeth contentions to cease,
92 And parteth between the mighty.
93 A brother offended is harder to be won than a strong city:
94 And such contentions are like the bars of a castle.
Delicate living is not seemly for a fool;
Much less for a servant to have rule over princes.

The discretion of a man maketh him slow to anger;
And it is his glory to pass over a transgression.

The king’s wrath is as the roaring of a lion;
But his favour is as a dew upon the grass.

A foolish son is the calamity of his father:
And the contentions of a wife are a continual dropping.

House and riches are an inheritance from fathers:
But a prudent wife is from the Lord.

Slothfulness casteth into a deep sleep;
And the idle soul shall suffer hunger.

He that keepeth the commandment keepeth his soul:
But he that is careless of his ways shall die.

He that hath pity upon the poor lendeth unto the Lord.
And his good deed will he pay him again.

Chasten thy son, seeing there is hope;
And set not thy heart on this his destruction.

A man of great wrath shall bear the penalty:
For if thou deliver him, thou must do it yet again.

Hear counsel, and receive instruction,
That thou mayest be wise in thy latter end.

There are many devices in a man’s heart:
But the counsel of the Lord, that standeth.

The desire of a man is the measure of his kindness:
And a poor man is better than a liar.

The fear of the Lord tendeth to life:
And he that hath it shall abide satisfied;
He shall not be visited with evil.

The sluggard burielth his hand in the dish,
And will not so much as bring it to his mouth again.

Smiteth a scorner, and the simple will learn prudence:
And reproves one that hath understanding, and he will understand knowledge.

He that spoileth his father, and causeth away his mother,
Is a son that causeth shame and bringeth reproach.

Cease, my son, to hear instruction
Only to err from the words of knowledge.

A worthless witness mocketh at judgement:
And the mouth of the wicked swalloweth iniquity.

Judgments are prepared for scorners,
And stripes for the back of fools.

Wine is a mocker, strong and drinketh a brawler;
And whosoever erreth thereof is not wise.

The terror of a king is as the roaring of a lion:
He that provoketh him to anger is a son that causeth shame against his own life.

It is an honour for a man to keep aloof from strife:
But every fool will be quarrelling.

The slothful will not plow by reason of the winter;
And he shall yield in harvest, and have nothing.

Counsel in the heart of man is like deep water:
But a man of understanding will draw it out.

Most men will proclaim every one his own kindness:
But a faithful man who can find?

A just man that walketh in his integrity,
Blessed are his children after him.

A king that sitteth on the throne of judgement
Scattereth away all evil with his eyes.

Who can say, I have made my heart clean,
I am pure from my sin?
10 Divers weights, and divers measures,
Both of them alike are an abomination to the LORD.
11 Even a child maketh himself known by his doings,
Whether his work be pure, and whether he be right.
12 The hearing ear, and the seeing eye,
The LORD hath made even both of them.
13 Love not sleep, lest thou come to poverty;
Open thine eyes, and thou shalt be satisfied with bread.
14 It is naught, it is naught, saith the buyer:
But when he is gone his way, then he boasteth.
15 There is gold, and abundance of rubies:
But the lips of knowledge are a precious jewel.
16 Take his garment that is surety for a stranger;
And hold him in pledge that is surety for a strangers.
17 Bread of falsehood is sweet to a man;
But afterward his mouth shall be filled with gravel.
18 Every purpose is established by counsel:
And by wise guidance make thou war.
19 He that goeth about as a talebearer revealeth secrets:
Therefore meddle not with him that openeth wide his lips.
20 Whoso curseth his father or his mother, d His lamp shall be put out in the blackest darkness.
21 An inheritance may be gotten hastily at the beginning;
But the end thereof shall not be blessed.
22 Say not thou, I will recompense evil:
Wait on the LORD, and he shall save thee.
23 Divers weights are an abomination to the LORD;
And a false balance is not good.
24 A man's goings are of the LORD;
How then can man understand his way?
25 It is a snare to a man rashly to say, It is holy,
And after vows to make inquiry.
26 A wise king winnoweth the wicked,
And bringeth the threshing wheel over them.
27 The spirit of man is the lamp of the LORD,
Searching all the innermost parts of the belly.
28 Mercy and truth preserve the king:
And his throne is upholden by mercy.
29 The glory of young men is their strength:
And the beauty of old men is the hoary head.
30 Stripes that wound cleanse away evil:
And strokes reach the innermost parts of the belly.
I The king's heart is in the hand of the LORD as the watercourses:
He turneth it whithersoever he will.
2 Every way of a man is right in his own eyes:
But the LORD weigheth the hearts.
3 To do justice and judgment is more acceptable to the LORD than sacrifice.
4 A high look, and a proud heart, even the lamp of the wicked, is sin.
5 The thoughts of the diligent tend only to plenteousness:
But every one that is hasty uttereth but want.
6 The getting of treasures by a lying tongue is a vapour driven to and fro:
They that seek them seek death.
7 The violence of the wicked shall sweep them away:
Because they refuse to do judgment.
8 The way of him that is laden with guilt is exceeding crooked:
But as for his pure, his work is right.
9 It is better to dwell in the corner of the housetop,
Then with a contentious woman in a wide house.

10 The soul of the wicked desireth evil:
His neighbour findeth no favour in his eyes.

11 When the scorners are punished, the simple is made wise:
And when the wise is instructed, he receiveth knowledge.

12 The righteous man considereth the house of the wicked:
How the wicked are overthrown to their ruin.

13 Whoso stoppeth his ears at the cry of the poor,
He also shall cry, but shall not be heard.

14 A gift in secret pacifieth anger,
And a present in the bosom strong wrath.

15 It is joy to the righteous to do judgement;
*But it is a destruction to the workers of iniquity.

16 The man that wandereth out of the way of understanding Shall rest in the congregation of the dead.

17 He that loveth pleasure shall be a poor man:
He that loveth wine and oil shall not be rich.

18 The wicked is a ransom for the righteous;
And the treacherous cometh in the stead of the upright.

19 It is better to dwell in a desert land,
Than with a contentious and fretful woman.

20 There is precious treasure and oil in the dwelling of the wise;
But a foolish man swalloweth it up.

21 He that followeth after righteousness and mercy
Findeth life, righteousness, and honour.

22 A wise man scaleth the city of the mighty,
And bringeth down the strength of his head.

23 Whoso keepeth his mouth and his tongue
Keepeth his soul from trouble.

24 The proud and haughty man, his scorn is his name,
He worketh in the arrogance of pride.

25 The desire of the slothful killeth him;
For his hands refuse to labour.

26 There is that coveteth greedily all the day long:
But the righteous giveth and withholdeth not.

27 The sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination:
How much more, when he bringeth it with a wicked mind!

28 A false witness shall perish:
But the man that heareth shall speak unchallenged.

29 A wicked man hardeneth his face:
But as for the upright, he ordereth his ways.

30 There is no wisdom nor understanding Nor counsel against the Lord.

31 The horse is prepared against the day of battle:
But victory is of the Lord.

2 A good name is rather chosen than great riches,
And loving favour rather than silver and gold.

2 The rich and the poor meet together:
The Lord is the maker of them all.

3 A prudent man seeth the evil,
And hideth himself:
But the simple pass on, and suffer for it.

4 The reward of humility and the fear of the Lord
Is riches, and honour, and life.

5 Thorns and snares are in the way of the froward:
He that keepeth his soul shall be far from them.

6 Train up a child in the way he should go,
And he will not depart from it.

7 The rich ruleth over the poor,
And the borrower is servant to the lender.

Neither 11 oppress the afflicted in his gate:
For 2 the Lord will plead their cause,
And despise of life those that despise them.
24 Make no friendship with a man that is given to anger;
And with a wrathful man thou shalt not go:
25 Lest thou learn his ways,
And get a snare to thy soul.
26 Be thou not one of them that strike hands,
Or of them that are sureties for debts:
27 If thou hast not wherewith to pay,
Why should he take away thy bed from under thee?
28 Remove not the ancient landmark,
Which thy fathers have set.
29 Seest thou a man diligent in his business? he shall stand before kings;
He shall not stand before mean men.
30 When thou sittest to eat with a ruler, Consider diligently him that is before thee;

32 Be not desirous of his dainties; Seeing they are deceitful meat.
33 Eat thou not the bread of him that hath an evil eye,
Neither desirethou his dainties:
34 For as he reckoneth within himself, so is he:
Eat and drink, saith he to thee; But his heart is not with thee.
35 The morsel which thou hast eatenshalt thou vomit up,
And losethy sweet words.

23 He that soweth iniquity shall reap calamity: And the rod of his wrath shall fall.
2 He that hath a bountiful eye shall be blessed; For he giveth of his bread to the poor.
3 Cast out the scorners, and contentionshall go out;
Yea, strife and ignominy shall cease.
4 He that loveth purity of heart,
"For the grace of his lips the king shall be his friend.
5 The eyes of the Lord preserve him that hath knowledge,
But he overthroweth the words of the treacherous man.
6 The sluggard saith, There is a lion without:
I shall be murdered in the streets.
7 The mouth of strange women is a deep pit:
"He that is abhorred of the Lord shall fall therein.
8 Foolishness is bound up in the heart of a child; But the rod of correction shall drive it far from him.
9 He that oppresseth the poor to increase his gain,
And he that giveth to the rich, cometh, only to want.
10 Rob not the poor, because he is poor.
Neither oppress the afflicted in his gate:
For the Lord will plead their cause,
And despise of life those that despise them.
11 Make no friendship with a man that is given to anger;

9 Speak not in the hearing of a fool: For he will despise the wisdom of thy words.

10 Remove not the ancient landmark; And enter not into the fields of the fatherless:

11 For their redeemer is strong; He shall plead their cause against thee.

12 Apply thine heart unto instruction, And thine ears to the words of knowledge.

13 Withhold not correction from the child: For the fear of the Lord shall be the beginning of wisdom, And knowledge is the possession of fools.

14 Thou shalt beat him with the rod, And shalt deliver his soul from Sheol.

15 My son, if thine heart be wise, My heart shall be glad, even mine:

16 Yes, my reins shall rejoice, When thy lips speak right things.

17 Let not thine heart envy sinners: But be thou in the fear of the Lord all the day long:

18 For surely there is a reward; And thine hope shall not be cut off.

19 Hear thou, my son, and be wise,

20 Be not among winebibbers; Among glutinous eaters of flesh:

21 For the drunken and the glutton shall come to poverty: And drowsiness shall clothe a man with rags.

22 'Buy the truth, and sell it not; Yes, wisdom, and instruction, and understanding.

23 The father of the righteous shall greatly rejoice: And he that begetteth a wise child shall have joy of him.

24 Let thy father be glad, and thy mother rejoice, And let her that bare thee bring thee a sweetened Herb.

25 My son, give me thine heart, And let thine eyes delight in my ways.

26 For a whore is a deep ditch; And a strange woman is a narrow pit.

27 For she lieth in wait as a robber, And increaseth the treasures of men.

28 Who hath won the heart of a man; Who hath made him to enter into his heart?

29 Who hath compassioned who hath wounds without cause; Those that are of simple heart.

30 They that tarry long at the wine; They that seek out mixed wine.

31 Look not thou upon the wine when it is red, When it giveth its colour in the cup, When it goeth down smoothly:

32 At the last it biteth like a serpent, And stingeth like an adder.

33 Thine eyes shall see strange things, And thine heart shall utter for-ward things.

34 Ye child shall be as he that lieth down in the midst of the sea, Or as he that lieth upon the top of a mast.

35 They have stricken me, shalt thou say, and I was not hurt; They have beaten me, and I felt it not.

36 When shall I awake? I will seek it yet again.

37 Be not thou envious against evil men, Neither desire to be with them:

38 For their heart studieth oppression, And their lips talk of mischief.

39 Through wisdom is an house built up; And by understanding it is established:

40 And by knowledge are the chambers filled With all precious and pleasant riches.
A wise man is strong:
Yea, a man of knowledge increaseth might.
For by wise guidance thou shalt make thy war:
And in the multitude of counsellors there is safety.
Wisdom is too high for a fool:
He openeth not his mouth in the gate.
The thought of the foolish is sin:
And the sorner is an abomination to men.
If thou faint in the day of adversity,
Thy strength is small.
Deliver them that are carried away unto death,
And those that are ready to be slain see that thou hold back.
If thou sayest, Behold, we knew not this:
"Doth not he that weigheth the hearts consider it?
And he that keepeth thy soul, doth not he know it?
And shall not he render to every man according to his work?
My son, eat thou honey, for it is good:
And the honeycomb, which is sweet to thy taste:
So shalt thou know wisdom to be unto thy soul:
If thou hast found it, then shall there be a reward,
And thy hope shall not be cut off.
Lay not wait, O wicked man, against the habitation of the righteous;
Spoil not his resting place:
For a righteous man falleth seven times, and riseth up again:
But the wicked are overthrown by calamity.
Rejoice not when thine enemy falleth,
And let not thine heart be glad when he is overthrown:
Lest the Lord see it, and it displease him,
And he turn away his wrath from him.

Fret not thyself because of evil-doers;
Neither be thou envious at the wicked:
For there will be no reward to the evil man;
The lamp of the wicked shall be put out.
My son, fear thou the Lord and the king:
And meddle not with them that are given to change:
For their calamity shall rise suddenly;
And who knoweth the destruction of them both?
These also are sayings of the wise.
To have respect of persons in judgement is not good.
He that saith unto the wicked, Thou art righteous;
And deceit not with thy lips.
Say not, I will do so to him as he hath done to me;
I will render to the man according to his work.
I went by the field of the slothful,
And by the vineyard of the man void of understanding:
And, lo, it was all grown over with thorns,
The face thereof was covered with nettles,
And the stone wall thereof was broken down.
Then I beheld, and considered well:
I saw, and received instruction.

1 Heb. is in strength. 2 Heb. strength of might. 3 Or, victory. 4 Heb. foolishness. 5 Heb. favoring to the slaughter. 6 Or, forbear them not to deliver. 7 Or, this man. 8 Or, or a wicked man. 9 Or, pasture. 10 Or, fold. 11 Or, of their years. 12 Or, kisseth with the lips. 13 Heb. And wouldest.
A little folding of the hands to sleep:

34 So shall thy poverty come as a robber;
And thy want as an armed man.

1 These also are proverbs of Solomon, which the men of Hezekiah king of Judah copied out.

2 It is the glory of God to conceal a thing:
But the glory of kings is to search out a matter.

3 The heaven for height, and the earth for depth,
And the heart of kings is unsearchable.

4 Take away the dross from the silver,
And there cometh forth a vessel for the finer:

5 Take away the wicked from before the king,
And his throne shall be established in righteousness.

6 Put not thyself forward in the presence of the king,
And stand not in the place of great men:

7 For better is it that it be said unto thee, Come up hither;
Than that thou shouldest be put lower in the presence of the prince,
Whom thine eyes have seen.

8 Go not forth hastily to strive,
Lest thou know not what to do in the end thereof,
When thy neighbour hath put thee to shame.

9 Debate thy cause with thy neighbour him self,
And disclose not the secret of another:

10 Let he that heareth it revile thee.
And thine infamy turn not away.

11 A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in baskets of silver.

12 As an earring of gold, and an ornament of fine gold,
So is a wise reprover upon an obedient ear.

13 As the cold of snow in the time of harvest,
1 So for men to search out their own glory is not glory.
28 2 He whose spirit is without restraint
Is like a city that is broken down and hath no wall.
1 As snow in summer, and as rain in harvest,
So honour is not seemly for a fool.
2 As the sparrow in her wandering, as the swallow in her flying,
So the curse that is causeless lighteth not.
3 A whip for the horse, a bridle for the ass,
And a rod for the back of fools.
4 Answer not a fool according to his folly,
Lest thou also be like unto him.
5 Answer a fool according to his folly,
Lest he be wise in his own conceit.
6 He that sendeth a message by the hand of a fool
Cutteth off his own feet, and drinketh in damage.
7 The legs of the lame hang loose:
So is a parable in the mouth of fools.
8 As a bag of gems in a heap of stones.
So is he that giveth honour to a fool.
9 As a thorn that goeth up into the hand of a drunkard,
So is a parable in the mouth of fools.
10 As an archer that woundeth all,
So is he that hir eth the fool and he that hir eth them that pass by.
11 As a dog that returneth to his vomit,
So is a fool that repeateth his folly.
12 Seest thou a man wise in his own conceit?
There is more hope of a fool than of him.
13 The sluggard saith, There is a lion in the way;
A lion is in the streets.
14 As the door turneth upon its hinges,
So doth the sluggard upon his bed.
15 The sluggard burieth his hand in the dish;
It wearlieth him to bring it again to his mouth.
16 The sluggard is wiser in his own conceit
*Than seven men that can render a reason.
17 He that passeth by, and vexeth himself with strife belonging not to him,
Is like one that taketh a dog by the ears.
18 As a madman who casteth firebrands,
Arrows, and death;
So is the man that deceiveth his neighbour,
And saith, Am not I in sport?
19 For lack of wood the fire goeth out:
And where there is no whisperer, contention ceaseth.
20 As coals are to hot embers, and wood to fire;
So is a contentious man to inflame strife.
21 The words of a whisperer are as dainty morsels,
And they go down into the innermost parts of the belly.
22 Fervent lips and a wicked heart
Are like an earthen vessel overlaid with silver dross.
23 He that hateth dissembleth with his lips,
But he layeth up deceit within him:
24 When he speaketh fair, believe him not;
For there are seven abominations in his heart:
25 Though his hatred cover itself with guile,
His wickedness shall be openly shewed before the congregation.
26 Whoso diggeth a pit shall fall therein:
And he that rolleth a stone, it shall return upon him.
27 A lying tongue hateth those whom it hath wounded;
And a flattering mouth worketh ruin.
Boast not thyself of tomorrow; For thou knowest not what a day may bring forth.

Let another man praise thee, and not thine own mouth; A stranger, and not thine own lips.

A stone is heavy, and the sand weighty; But a fool's vexation is heavier than them both.

Wrath is cruel, and anger is outrageous; But who is able to stand before jealousy?

Better is open rebuke Than love that is hidden.

Faithful are the wounds of a friend: But the kisses of an enemy are profuse.

The full soul loatheth honeycomb: But to the hungry soul every bitter thing is sweet.

A prudent man seeth the evil, and hideth himself: But the simple pass on, and suffer for it.

A prudent man seeth the evil, and hideth himself: But the simple pass on, and suffer for it.

A continual dropping in a very rainy day
And a contentious woman are alike:

He that would restrain her restraineth the wind, And his right hand encountereth oil.

Iron sharpeneth iron; So a man sharpeneth the countenance of his friend.

Whoso keepeth the fig tree shall eat the fruit thereof: And he that waiteth on his master shall be honoured.

As in water face answereth to face, So the heart of man to man.

Sheol and Abaddon are never satisfied; And the eyes of man are never satisfied.

The finingpot is for silver, and the furnace for gold, And a man is tried by his praise.

The hay is carried, and the tendergrass sheweth itself, And the herbs of the mountains are gathered in.

The lambs are for thy clothing, And the goats are the price of the field:

And there will be goats' milk enough for thy food, for the food of thy household; And maintenance for thy maidens.

The wicked fleeth when no man pursueth: But the righteous are bold as a lion.

For the transgression of a land many are the princes thereof: But by men of understanding and knowledge the state thereof shall be prolonged.

A needy man that oppresseth the poor
Is like a sweeping rain which leaveth no food.

4 They that forsake the law praise the wicked:
But such as keep the law contend with them.

5 Evil men understand not judgment:
But they that seek the LORD understand all things.

6 Better is the poor that walketh in his integrity,
Than he that is perverse in his ways, though he be rich.

7 Whoso keepeth the law is a wise son:
But he that is a companion of gluttonous men shameth his father.

8 He that augmenteth his substance by usury and increase,
Gathereth it for him that hath pity on the poor.

9 He that turneth away his ear from hearing the law,
Even his prayer is an abomination.

10 Whoso causeth the upright to go astray in an evil way,
He shall fall himself into his own pit:
But the perfect shall inherit good.

11 The rich man is wise in hisown conceit;
But the poor that hath understanding searcheth him out.

12 When the righteous triumph, there is great glory:
But when the wicked rise, men hide themselves.

13 He that covereth his transgressions shall not prosper:
But whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall obtain mercy.

14 Happy is the man that feareth afar off:
But he that hardeneth his heart shall fall into mischief.

15 As a roaring lion, and as a raging bear;
So is a wicked ruler over a poor people.

16 The prince that lacketh understanding is also a great oppressor:
But he that hateth covetousness shall prolong his days.

17 A man that is laden with the blood of any person Shall flee unto the pit; let no man stay him.

18 Whoso walketh uprightly shall be delivered:
But he that is perverse in his ways shall fall at once.

19 He that tilleth his land shall have plenty of bread:
But he that followeth after vain persons shall have poverty enough.

20 A faithful man shall abound with blessings:
But he that maketh haste to be rich shall not be unpunished.

21 To have respect of persons is not good:
Neither that a man should transgress for a piece of bread.

22 He that hath an evil eye hasteth after riches,
And knoweth not that it shall come upon him.

23 He that rebuketh a man shall afterward find more favour
Than he that flattering with the tongue.

24 Whoso robbeth his father or his mother, and saith, It is no transgression; the same is the companion of a destroyer.

25 He that is of a greedy spirit stirreth up strife:
But he that putteth his trust in the LORD shall be made fat.

26 He that trusteth in his own heart is a fool:
But whoso walketh wisely, he shall be delivered.

27 He that giveth unto the poor shall not lack:
But he that hideth his eyes shall have many a curse.

28 When the wicked rise, men hide themselves:
But when they perish, the righteous increase.

29 He that being often proved hardeneth his neck shall suddenly be broken, and that without remedy.

1 Heb. without food. 2 Heb. perverseness of two ways. 3 Heb. his own eyes. 4 Heb. must be searched for. 5 Or, calamity. 6 Or, O prince that lacketh understanding and art a great oppressor, he sce. 7 Or, he that walketh perversely in two ways. 8 Or, For for a piece of bread a man will transgress. 9 Or, are in authority.
3 Whoso loveth wisdom rejoiceth his father: But he that keepeth company with harlots wasteth his substance.

4 The king by judgement establisheth the land: But he that exacteth gifts overcometh it.

5 A man that flattereth his neighbour spreadeth a net for his steps.

6 In the transgression of an evil man there is a snare: But the righteous doth sing and rejoice.

7 The righteous taketh knowledge of the cause of the poor:
The wicked hath not understanding to know it.

8 Scornful men set a city in a flame:
But wise men turn away wrath.

9 If a wise man hath a controversy with a foolish man, Whether he be angry or laugh, there will be no rest.

10 The bloodthirsty hate him that is perfect: And as for the upright, they seek his life.

11 A fool uttereth all his anger: But a wise man keepeth it back and stilleth it.

12 If a ruler hearkeneth to false witness, All his servants are wicked.

13 The poor man and the oppressor meet together:
The LORD lighteneth the eyes of them both.

14 The king that faithfully judgeth the poor, His throne shall be established for ever.

15 The rod and reproof give wisdom:
But a child left to himself causeth shame to his mother.

16 When the wicked are increased, transgression increaseth:
But the righteous shall look upon their fall.

17 Correct thy son, and he shall give thee rest; Yea, he shall give delight unto thy soul.

18 Where there is no vision, the people cast off restraint:
But he that keepeth the law, is happy.

19 A servant will not be corrected by words:
For though he understand he will not hearken.

20 Seest thou a man that is hasty in his words?
There is more hope of a fool than of him.

21 He that delicately bringeth up his servant from a child Shall have him become a son at the last.

22 An angry man stirreth up strife, And a wrathful man aboundeth in transgression.

23 A man's pride shall bring him low:
But he that is of a lowly spirit shall obtain honour.

24 Whoso is partner with a thief hatcheth his own soul:
He heareth the adjuration and uttereth nothing.

25 The fear of man bringeth a snare:
But whoso putteth his trust in the LORD shall be safe.

26 Many seek the ruler's favour:
But a man's judgement cometh from the LORD.

27 An unjust man is an abomination to the righteous: And he that is upright in the way is an abomination to the wicked.

28 The words of Agur the son of Jakeh; the oracle.

30 The man saith unto Ithiel, unto Ithiel and Ucal:
Surely I am more brutish than any man, And have not the understanding of a man:
Neither have I the knowledge of the Holy One.

4 Who hath ascended up into heaven, and descended? Who hath gathered the wind in his fists?

1 Or, that imposeth tribute. 2 Or, he that understandeth not knowledge. 3 Or, He saith and laugheth, and there is no rest. 4 Or, But the upright care for his soul. 5 Heb, spirit. 6 Or, eateth out of scarcity. 7 Heb, answer. 8 Or, business. 9 The meaning of the word is doubtful. The Vulgate renders it, refractory. 10 Heb, shall be set on high. 11 Or, Jakeh, of Moses. See Gen. 25. 14. 12 Or, burden. 13 Or, as otherwise read. I have seen myself, O God, I have seen myself, O God, and am consumed; for I am he. 14 Or, That I should have the knowledge of.
Who hath bound the waters in his garment?
Who hath established all the ends of the earth?
What is his name, and what is his son’s name, if thou knowest?
Every word of God is tried: He is a shield unto them that trust in him.
Add thou not unto his words, Lest he reprove thee, and thou be found a liar.
Two things have I asked of thee; Deny me them not before I die:
Remove far from me vanity and lies:
Give me neither poverty nor riches;
Feed me with the food that is needful for me:
Lest I be full, and deny thee, and say, Who is the Lord?
Or lest I be poor, and steal, And use profanely the name of my God.
Slander not a servant unto his master,
Lest he curse thee, and thou be held guilty.
There is a generation that curseth their father, And doth not bless their mother.
There is a generation that are pure in their own eyes, And yet are not washed from their filthiness.
There is a generation, Oh how lofty are their eyes! And their eyelids are lifted up.
There is a generation whose teeth are as swords, and their jaws teeth as knives, To devour the poor from off the earth, and the needy from among men.
The horseleach hath two daughters, crying, Give, give, Give, give. There are four things that are never satisfied, Yea, four that say not, Enough:
The grave; and the barren womb;
The earth that is not satisfied with water;

17 The eye that mocketh at his father,
And despiseth to obey his mother,
The ravens of the valley shall pick it out, And the young eagles shall eat it.

18 There be three things which are too wonderful for me,
Yea, four which I know not:

19 The way of an eagle in the air;
The way of a serpent upon a rock;
The way of a ship in the midst of the sea;
And the way of a man with a maid.

20 So is the way of an adulterous woman;
She eateth, and wrappeth her mouth,
And saith, I have done no wickedness.

21 For three things the earth doth tremble, And for four, which it cannot bear:

22 For a servant when he is king;
And a fool when he is filled with meat;
For an odious woman when she is married;
And an handmaid that is heir to her mistress.

24 There be four things which are little upon the earth, But they are exceeding wise:
The ants are a people not strong, Yet they provide their meat in the summer;
The locusts are but a feeble folk, Yet make they their houses in the rocks;
The locusts have no king, Yet go they forth all of them by bands;
The lizard taketh hold with her hands, Yet is she in kings’ palaces.

26 There be three things which are stately in their march,
THE PROVERBS.

30 Yea, four which are stately in going:
   the lion, which is mightiest among beasts, and turneth not away for any;
   the greyhound; the he-goat also;
   and the king, against whom there is no rising up.

31 If thou hast done foolishly in lifting up thyself, or if thou hast thought evil,
   lay thine hand upon thy mouth.
   For the churning of milk bringeth forth butter, and the wringing of the nose bringeth forth blood:
   the forcing of wrath bringeth forth strife.

The words of king Lemuel; the oracle which his mother taught him.

31 What, my son? and what, O son of my womb?
   and what, O son of my vows?
   Give not thy strength unto women, nor thy ways to that which destroyeth kings:
   it is not for kings, O Lemuel, it is not for kings to drink wine;
   nor for princes to say, Where is strong drink?
   lest they drink, and forget the law,
   and pervert the judgment of any that is afflicted.

Give strong drink unto him that is ready to perish, and wine unto the bitter in soul:
   lest they drink, and forget the law,
   and pervert the judgment of any that is afflicted.

Let him drink, and forget his poverty, and remember his misery no more.

Open thy mouth for the dumb,
   in the cause of all such as are left desolate.

Open thy mouth, judge righteously,

ECCLESIASTES;
OR, THE PREACHER.

The words of the Preacher, the son of David, king in Jerusalem.
Vanity of vanities, saith the Preacher; vanity of vanities, all is vanity.
What profit hath man of all his labour wherefore he laboureth under the sun? One generation goeth, and another generation cometh; and the earth abideth forever.
The sun also ariseth, and the sun goeth down, and hasteth to his place where he ariseth. The wind goeth toward the south, and turneth about unto the north; it turneth about continually in its course, and the wind returneth again to its circuits. All the rivers run into the sea, yet the sea is not full; unto the place whither the rivers go, thither they go again.
All things are full of weariness; man cannot utter it: the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the ear filled with hearing.
That which hath been is that which shall be; and that which hath been done is that which shall be done: and there is no new thing under the sun.
Is there a thing whereinof men say, See, this is new? it hath been already, in the ages which were before us. There is no remembrance of the former generations; neither shall there be any remembrance of the latter generations that are to come, among those that shall come after.
I the Preacher was king over Israel in Jerusalem. And I applied my heart to seek and to search out by wisdom concerning all that is done under heaven: it is a sore travail that God hath given to the sons of men to be exercised therewith. I have seen all the works that are done under the sun; and, behold, all is vanity and striving after wind.
That which is crooked cannot be made straight: and that which is wanting cannot be numbered.
I communed with mine own heart, saying, Lo, I have gotten me great wisdom above all that were before me in Jerusalem: yea, my heart hath had great experience of wisdom and knowledge.
I applied my heart to know wisdom, and to know madness and folly: I perceived that this also was striving after wind.
For all is vanity and is much grief: and he that increaseth knowledge increaseth sorrow.
I said in mine heart, Go to now, I will prove the with mirth; therefore enjoy pleasure: and, behold, this also was vanity.
I said of laughter, It is mad: and of mirth, What doeth it?
I searched in mine heart how to cheer my flesh with wine, mine eye with dance.
heart yet guiding me with wisdom, and how to lay hold on folly, till I might see what it was good for the sons of men that they should do under the heaven all the days of their life. 4 I made me great works; I built me houses; I planted me gardens and fields and vineyards; 5 I made me (gardens and) parks, and I planted trees in them of all kinds of fruit: 6 I made me pools of water, to water therefrom the forest where trees were reared: 7 I bought men-servants and maidens, and had servants born in my house; also I had great possessions of herds and flocks, above all that were before me in Jerusalem: 8 I gathered me also silver and gold, and the peculiar treasure of kings and of the provinces: I got me men singers and women singers, and the delights of the sons of men, concubines very many. 9 So I was great, and increased more than all that were before me in Jerusalem: also my wisdom remained with me. 10 And whatsoever mine eyes desired I kept not from them: I witheld not my heart from any joy, for my heart rejoiced because of all my labour; and this was my portion from all my labour. 11 Then I looked on all the works that my hands had wrought, and on the labour that I had laboured to do: and, behold, all was vanity and a striving after wind, and there was no profit under the sun.

And I turned myself to behold wisdom, and madness and folly: for what can the man do that cometh after the king? even that which hath been already done. 13 Then I saw that wisdom excelleth folly, as light exceedeth darkness. 14 The wise man's eyes are in his head, and the fool walketh in darkness: and yet I perceived that one event happeneth to them all. 15 Then said I in my heart, As it happeneth to the fool, so will it happen even to me; and why was I then more wise? Then I said in my heart, that this also was vanity. 16 For of the wise man, even as of the fool, there is no remembrance for ever; seeing that in the days to come all will have been already forgotten. And how doth the wise man die even as the fool? 17 So I hated life; because the work that is wrought under the sun was grievous unto me: for all is vanity and a striving after wind.

And I hated all my labour wherein I laboured under the sun: seeing that I must leave it unto the man that shall be after me. 19 And who knoweth whether he shall be a wise man or a fool? yet shall he have rule over all my labour wherein I have laboured, and wherein I have shewed wisdom under the sun. This also is vanity. 20 Therefore I turned about to cause my heart to despair concerning all the labour wherein I had laboured under the sun. 21 For there is a man whose labour is with wisdom, and with knowledge, and with skillfulness; yet to a man that hath not laboured therein shall he leave it for his portion. This also is vanity and a great evil. 22 For what hath a man of all his labour, and of the striving of his heart, wherein he laboureth under the sun? 23 For all his days are but sorrow, and his travail is grief; yea, even in the night his heart taketh no rest. This also is vanity.

There is nothing better for a man than that he should 'eat and drink, and make his soul enjoy good in his labour. This also I saw, that it is from the hand of God. 25 For who can eat, or who can have enjoyment, more than I? 26 For to the man that pleaseth him God giveth wisdom, and knowledge, and joy: but to the sinner he giveth travail, to gather and to heap up, that he may give to him that pleaseth God. This also is vanity and a striving after wind.

To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven: a time to be born, and a time to die; a time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted; a time to kill, and a time to heal; a time to break down, and a time to build.
up; 4 a time to weep, and a time to laugh; 5 a time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together; 6 a time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing; 7 a time to keep silence, and a time to speak; 8 a time to love, and a time to hate; 9 a time for war, and a time for peace. 10 What profit hath he that worketh in that wherein he laboureth? 11 He hath made everything beautiful in its time: also he hath set in the world their heart, 12 that which hath not yet been, that they may see that which is not; and that which is in the days to come, they know that they are mortal. 13 And also I saw under the sun, 14 that in the place of judgement, that wickedness was there; and in the place of righteousness, that wickedness was there. 15 I said in mine heart, that God shall judge the righteous and the wicked: for there is nothing better for the man that is under the sun, than to eat and drink, and enjoy good in his labour through 16 and moreover I saw under the sun, in the place of judgement, that wickedness was there; and in the place of righteousness, that wickedness was there. 17 I said in mine heart, that God shall judge the righteous and the wicked: for there is nothing better for the man that is under the sun, than to eat and drink, and enjoy good in his labour through 18 and moreover I saw under the sun, in the place of judgement, that wickedness was there; and in the place of righteousness, that wickedness was there. 19 I said in mine heart, that God shall judge the righteous and the wicked: for there is nothing better for the man that is under the sun, than to eat and drink, and enjoy good in his labour through 20 All go unto one place; all are of the dust, and all return to the dust again. 21 Who knoweth the spirit of all flesh? for the spirit returneth unto God who gave it. 22 Ecclesiastes 12:10-12

The tears of such as were oppressed, and they had no comforter; and on the side of their oppressors there was power, but they had no comforter. 2 Then I saw all labour and every skillful work, that is for this a man envies the neighbour of his neighbour. This also is vanity, and a striving after the wind. 5 The fool foldeth his hands, and his heart dzięki do good so long as they live. 6 And also a man that is alone is better than he that is with a woman. 7 For the two is better than one; because they have a good reward for their labour. 8 For if they fall, the one will lift up his neighbour: but woe to him that is alone when he falleth, and hath not another to lift him up. 9 Again, if two lie together, then they have warmth: 10 but how can one be warm alone? 11 And if a man prevail against another alone, two shall withstand him; and a threefold cord is not quickly broken.
CHAP. 4, v. 13.]

Better is a poor and wise youth than an old and foolish king, who knoweth not how to receive admonition any more. 14 For out of prison he came forth to be king; yet there came not a thing in his kingdom, that they went with the youth, the second, that stood up in his stead. 16 There was no end of all the people, even of all them over whom he was: yet they that come after shall not rejoice in him. Surely this also is vanity and a striving after wind. 17 Keep thy foot when thou goest to the house of God; for to draw nigh to hear is better than to give the sacrifice of fools: for they know not that they do evil. 18 Be not rash with thy mouth, and let not thine heart be hasty to utter any thing before God; for God is in heaven, and thou upon earth: therefore let thy words be few.

For a dream cometh with a multitude of business; and a fool's voice with a multitude of words. 4 When thou vowest a vow unto God, defer not to pay it; for he hath no pleasure in fools: pay that thou vowest. 5 Better is it that thou shouldest not vow, than that thou shouldest vow, and not pay. 6 Suffer not thy mouth to cause thy flesh to sin; neither say thou before the angel, that it was an error: wherefore should God be angry at thy voice, and destroy the work of thine hands? 7 For thus it cometh to pass through the multitude of dreams and vanities and many words: but fear thou God.

If thou seest the oppression of the poor, and the violent taking away of judgement and justice in a province, marvel not at the matter: for one higher than the high regardeth; and there be higher than they. Moreover the profit of the earth is for all: the king himself is served by the field.

He that loveth silver shall not be satisfied with silver; nor he that loveth abundance with increase: this also is vanity. 11 When goods increase, they are increased that eat them: and what advantage is there to the owner thereof, saving the behold ing of them with his eyes? 12 The sleep of a labouring man is sweet, whether he eat little or much: but the fulness of the rich will not suffer him to sleep.

There is a grievous evil which I have seen under the sun, namely, riches kept by the owner thereof to his hurt: and those riches perish by evil adventure; and if he hath begotten a son, there is nothing in his hand. 15 As he came forth of his mother's womb, naked shall he go again as he came, and shall take nothing for his labour, which he may carry away in his hand. And this also is a grievous evil, that in all points as he came, so shall he go: and what profit hath he that he laboureth for the wind? 17 All his days also he eateth in darkness, and he is sore vexed and hath sickness and wrath.

Behold, that which I have seen to be good and to be comely is for one to eat and to drink, and to enjoy good in all his labour, wherein he laboureth under the sun, 11 all the days of his life, which God hath given him: for this is his portion.

Every man also to whom God hath given riches and wealth, and hath given him power to eat thereof, and to take his portion, and to rejoice in his labour; this is the gift of God. For he shall not much remember the days of his life; because God answereth him.

There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, and it is heavy upon men: a man to whom God giveth riches, wealth, and honour, so that he lacketh nothing for his soul of all that he desireth, yet God giveth him not power to eat thereof, but a stranger eateth it; this is vanity, and it is an evil disease. 3 If a man beget an hundred children, and live many years, so that the days of his years be many, but his soul be not filled with good, and moreover he have no burial; I say, that an untimely birth is better than he: 4 for it

Heal the breaches of our walls, that they may not be enlarged: set up a watch in the gates, that the evil be not compassed abroad. 2 Prepare a way, take the crooked out of the midst of the city; guide the clean among the gates. 3 Remove strifes from among the children of Israel, and cause them to lodge every man in his chamber. 4 See that virtue and not vanity be seen in thee, and that it be not in vanity. 5 For wisdom is justified of her children. 6 Judge righteous cause, and deliver; look that it be right in all ways. 7 There is a city of which it may be said, a man entereth thereto not with pain, neither doth he cry out therein: 8 There are stores of every good, and there are no sorrowings therein: 9 For she is a refreshing to his sorrowing soul, and he taketh away from his sorrowings.

cometh in vanity, and departeth in vanity, and the name thereof is covered with darkness; and moreover it hath not been seen of the sun 1 nor known by it; 2 this hath rest rather than the other: 6 yea, though he live a thousand years twice told, and yet enjoy no good: do not all go to one place?

7 All the labour of man is for his mouth; and yet the appetite is not filled. 8 For what advantage hath the wise more than the fool? 9 or what hath the poor man, that knoweth to walk before the living?

9 Better is the sight of the eyes than the wandering of the desire: this also is 10 vanity and a striving after wind.

10 Whatsoever hath been, the name thereof was given long ago, and it is known that it is 11 man: neither can he 12 contend with it that is mightier than he. 13 Seeing there be many 14 things that increase vanity, what is man the better?

14 For who knoweth what is good for man in his life, 15 all the days of his 16 vain life which he spendeth 17 as a shadow? for who can tell a man what shall be 18 after him under the sun?

7 A good name is better than precious ointment; and the day of death than the day of one's birth. 2 It is better to go to the house of mourning, than to go to the house of feasting: for that is the end of all men; and the living will 3 lay it to his heart. 4 Sorrow is better than laughter; 4 for by the sadness of the countenance the heart is made glad. 4 The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning; but the heart of fools is in the house of mirth. 5 It is 6 better to hear the rebuke of the wise, than for a man to hear the song of fools. 6 For 7 as the cracking of thorns under a pot, so is the laughter of the fool: this also is vanity. 7 Surely 8 extortion maketh a wise man foolish; and 9 a gift destroyeth the understanding.

8 Better is the end of a thing than the beginning thereof: 8 and 10 the patient in spirit is better than the proud in spirit. 9 Be not hasty in thy spirit to be 11 angry:

for 12 anger resteth in the bosom of fools. 10 Say not thou, What is the cause that the former days were better than these? for thou dost not inquire wisely concerning this. 11 Wisdom 12 is as good as an inheritance: yea, more excellent is it for them that 13 see the sun. 14 For wisdom is a defence, even as 15 money is a defence; but the excellency of knowledge is, that 16 wisdom preserves the life of him that hath it. 17 Consider 18 the work of God: for who can make that which is straight, 19 when he hath made crooked? 20 In the day of prosperity be joyful, and in the day of adversity consider: 21 God hath even made the one side by side with the other, 22 to the end that man should not find out any thing 23 that shall be after him.

15 All this have I seen in the days of my 24 vanity: there is 25 a righteous man that perisheth in his righteousness, and there is a wicked man that 26 prolongeth his life in his evil-doing. 16 Be not righteous over much; neither 22 make thyself overwise: why shouldest thou destroy thyself? 17 Be not over much wicked, neither be thou foolish: 1 why shouldest thou die before thy time? 18 It is good that thou shouldest take hold of this; 19 also from 20 that 21 withdraw not thine hand: for he that feareth God shall come forth of them all. 22 That 23 wisdom is a strength to the man of things, and to know 24 that which is good and to afterwards see it; 25 for its end is long to come, and its path is in the darkness. 26 All this have I proved in 27 life, and to seek wisdom and the rea

8 Who is as the wise man? and who knoweth the interpretation of a thing? If a man's wisdom maketh his face to shine, and the hardnes of his face is changed.

4 Then I commended mirth, because a man hath no better thing under the sun, than to do his work which he doeth: and that heart which he doeth whatsoever pleaseth him. Because the king's word hath power; and who may say unto him, What dost thou? Whoso keepeth the commandment shall know no evil thing: and a wise man's heart discerneth time and judgment.
that feareth an oath. 3 This is an evil in all that is done under the sun, that there is one event unto all: yea also, the heart of the sons of men is full of evil, and 5 madness is in their heart while they live, and after that they go to the dead.

1 For to him that is joined with all the living there is hope: for a living dog is better than a dead lion. 5 For the living know that they shall die: but the dead know not any thing, neither have they any more a reward; for the memory of them is forgotten. 6 As well their love, as their hatred and their envy, is now perished: neither have they any more a portion for ever in any thing that is done under the sun.

7 Go thy way, eat thy bread with joy, and drink thy wine with a merry heart; for God hath already accepted thy works. 8 Let thy garments be always white; and let not thy head lack "ointment. 9 Live joyfully with the wife whom thou lovest all the days of thy vanity, which he hath given thee under the sun, all the days of thy vanity: for that is thy portion in life, and in thy labour wherein thou labourest under the sun. 10 Whatevery thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might; for there is no work, or device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in the grave, whither thou goest.

11 I returned, and saw under the sun, that the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, nor yet bread to the wise, nor yet riches to men of understanding, nor yet favour to men of skill; but time and chance happeneth to them all. 12 For man also knoweth not his time: as the fishes are taken in an evil net, and as the birds that are caught in the snare, even so are the sons of men snared in an evil time, when it faileth suddenly upon them.

13 I have also seen wisdom under the sun on this wise, and it seemed great unto me: 14 there was a little city, and few men within it; and there came a great king against it, and besieged it, and built great bulwarks against it: 15 now there was found in it a poor wise man, and he by his wisdom delivered the city; yet no man remembered that same poor man. 16 Then said
I, Wisdom is better than strength:
nevertheless the poor man's wisdom is despised, and his words are not heard.

17 The words of the wise spoken in quiet are heard more than the cry of him that ruleth among fools.
18 Wisdom is better than weapons of war: but one sinner destroyeth much good. 19 Dead flies cause the ointment of the perfumer to send forth a stinking savour:
so doth a little folly outweigh wisdom and honour.

20 A wise man's heart is at his right hand; but a fool's heart at his left.
3 Ye also, when the fool walketh by the way, his understanding faileth him, and he saith to every one that he is a fool. 4 If the spirit of the ruler rise up against thee, leave not thy place; for yielding allayeth great offences. 5 There is an evil which I have seenunder the sun, as it were an error which proceedeth from the ruler: 6 folly is set in great dignity, and the rich sit in low place. 7 I have seenservants upon horses, and princes walking as servants upon the earth. 8 He that diggeth a pit shall fall into it; and whoso breaketh through a fence, a serpentshall bite him. 9 Whoso heweth out stones shall be hurt therewith;
and he that cleaveth
wood is injured thereby,
"and he that wheteth the edge, then must he put to more strength: but wisdom isprofitable to direct. 10 If the serpent bite before it be charmed, then is there no advantage in the charmer.
11 The words of a wise man's mouth are gracious; but the lips of a fool will swallow up himself. 12 The beginning of the words of his mouth is foolishness: and the end of his talk is mischievous madness. 13 A fool also multiplieth words: yet man knoweth not what shall be; and that which shall be after him, who can tell him? 15 The labour of fools wearied every one of them, for he knoweth not how to go to the city. 16 Woe to thee, O land, when thy king is a child, and thy princes eat in themorning! 17 Happy art thou, O land, when thy king is the son of nobles, and thy princes eat in due season, for strength, and not for drunkenness! 18 By slothfulness the roof sinketh in; and through idleness of the hands the house leaketh. 19 A feast is made for laughter, and wine maketh glad the life: and money answereth all things. 20 Curse not the rich in thy bedchamber: for a bird of the air shall carry the voice, and that which hath wings shall tell the matter.

12 Cast thy bread upon the waters: for thou shalt find it after many days.

2 Give a portion to seven, yea, even unto eight; for thou knowest not what evil shall be upon the earth. 3 If the clouds be full of rain, they empty themselves upon the earth: and if a tree fall toward the south, or toward the north, in the place where the tree falleth, there shall it be. 4 He that observeth the wind shall not sow; and he that regardeth the clouds shall not reap. 5 As thou knowest not what is the way of the wind, nor how the bones do grow in the womb of him that hath child; even so thou knowest not the work of God who doeth all. 6 In the morning sow thy seed, and in the evening withhold not thine hand: for thou knowest not which shall prosper, whether this or that, or whether both shall be alike good. 7 Truly the light is sweet, and a pleasant thing it is for the eyes to behold the sun. 8 Yea, if a man live many years, let him rejoice in them all; 9 but let him remember the days of darkness, for they shall be many. All that cometh is vanity.

9 Rejoice, O young man, in thy youth; and let thy heart cheer thee in the days of thy youth, and walk in the ways of thine heart, and in the sight of thine eyes: but know thou, that for all these things God will bring thee into judgement. 10 Therefore remove sorrow from thy heart, and put away evil from thy flesh: for youth and the prime of life are vanity. 11 Remember also thy Creator in the days of thy youth, or ever the evil days come, and the years draw nigh, when thou shalt say, I have no pleasure in them; or ever the sun, and the light, and the moon, and the stars, be darkened, and the clouds return after the rain: 3 in the day when the keepers of the house shall tremble, and the strong men shall bow themselves, and the grinders cease because they are few, and those that look out of the windows be darkened, and the doors shall be shut in the street; when the sound of the grinding is low, and one shall rise up at the voice of a bird, and all the daughters of music shall be brought low; 5 yea, they shall be afraid of that which is high, and the terrors shall be in the way; and the almond tree shall blossom, and the grasshopper shall be a burden, and the caper-berry shall fall: because man goeth to his long home, and the mourners go about the streets: 6 or ever the silver cord be loosed, or the golden bowl be broken, or the pitcher be broken at the fountain, or the wheel broken at the cistern; 7 and the dust return to the earth as it was, and the spirit return unto God who gave it. 8 Vanity of vanities, saith the Preacher; all is vanity.

9 And further, because the Preacher was wise, he still taught the people knowledge; yea, he pondered, and sought out, and set in order many proverbs. 10 The Preacher sought to find out acceptable words, and that which was written uprightly, even words of truth.

11 The words of the wise are as cometh is vanity.
more, my son, be admonished: of making many books there is no end; and much study is a weariness of the flesh.

13 Therefore do the virgins love thee.

14 Draw me; we will run after thee:
The king hath brought me into his chambers:
We will be glad and rejoice in thee,
We will make mention of thy love more than of wine:
Rightly do they love thee.

If thou know not, O thou fairest among women,
Go thy way forth by the footsteps of the flock,
And feed thy kids beside the shepherds' tents.

9 I have compared thee, O my love, To a sted in Pharaoh's chariots.

Thy neck with strings of jewels.

We will make thee plaited with gold
With studs of silver.

Thine eyes as doves.

13 Behold, thou art fair, yea, pleasant:
Also our couch is green.
The beams of our house are cedar's,
And our rafters are fir.

Behold, thou art fair, my love; behold, thou art fair;

As a lily among thorns,
So is my love among the daughters.
3 As the apple tree among the trees of the wood,
So is my beloved among the sons.

1 I sat down under his shadow with great delight,
And his fruit was sweet to my taste.

4 He brought me to the banquet house,
And his banner over me was love.

5 Stay ye with me, o raisins, comfort me with apples:
For I am sick of love.

And his right hand doth embrace me.

7 I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem,
By the roes, and by the hinds of the field,
That ye stir not up, nor awaken love,
Until it please.

8 The voice of my beloved! behold, he cometh,
Leaping upon the mountains, skipping upon the hills.

9 My beloved is like a roe or a young hart.
Behold, he standeth behind our wall,
He looketh in at the windows,
He sheweth himself through the lattice.

10 My beloved spake, and said unto me,
Rise up, my love, my fair one, and come away.

11 For, lo, the winter is past, the rain is over and gone;
The flowers appear on the earth;
The time of the singing of birds is come,
And the voice of the turtle is heard in our land;

12 The fig tree ripeneth her green figs,
And the vines are in blossom.
They give forth their fragrance.
Arose, my love, my fair one, and come away.

14 O my dove, that art in the clefts of the rock, in the covert of the steep place,
Let me see thy countenance, let me hear thy voice;
For sweet is thy voice, and thy countenance is comely.

15 Take us the foxes, the little foxes, that spoil the vineyards;
For our vineyards are in blossom.

16 My beloved is mine, and I am his;
He feedeth his flock among the lilies.

17 Until the day be cool, and the shadows flee away,
Turn, my beloved, and be thou like a roe or a young hart.
Upon the mountains of Bashan.

1 I said, I will rise now, and go about the city,In the streets and in the broad ways,
I will seek him whom my soul loveth:
I sought him, but I found him not.

3 The watchmen that go about the city found me:
To whom I said, Saw ye him whom my soul loveth?
It was but a little that I passed from them,
When I found him whom my soul loveth:
I held him, and would not let him go,
Until I had brought him into my mother's house,And into the chamber of her that conceived me.

5 I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem,
By the roes, and by the hinds of the field,
That ye stir not up, nor awaken love.
Until it please.

6 Who is this that cometh up out of the wilderness like pillars of smoke,
The Song of Songs

Perfumed with myrrh and frankincense,
With all powders of the merchant?
7 Behold, it is the litter of Solomon;
Three score mighty men are about it,
Of the mighty men of Israel.
8 They all handle the sword, and are expert in war:
Every man hath his sword upon his thigh.

Because of fear in the night.

9 King Solomon made himself a palanquin
Of the wood of Lebanon.
10 He made the pillars thereof of silver,
The bottom thereof of gold, the seat of it of purple,
The midst thereof being paved with love,
From the daughters of Jerusalem.

Go forth, O ye daughters of Zion, and behold king Solomon,
With the crown wherewith his mother hath crowned him in the day of his espousals,
And in the day of the gladness of his heart.

Behold, thou art fair, my love; behold, thou art fair:
Thine eyes are as doves behind thy veil:
Thy hair is as a flock of goats,
That lie along the side of mount Gilead.

Thy teeth are like a flock of eves that are newly shorn,
Which are come up from the washing;
Whereof every one hath twins,
And none is bereaved among them.

Thy lips are like a thread of scarlet,
And thy mouth is comely:
Thy temples are like a piece of a pomegranate
Behind thy veil.

Thy neck is like the tower of David builded for an armory,
Whereon there hang a thousand bucklers,

All the shields of the mighty men.
5 Thy two breasts are like two new moons
That are twin moons of a roe,
Which feed among the lilies.
6 Until the day be cool, and the shadows flee away,
I will get me to the mountain of myrrh,
And to the hill of frankincense.
7 Thou art all fair, my love;
And there is no spot in thee.

Come with me from Lebanon, my bride,
With me from Lebanon:
Look from the top of Amana,
From the top of Senir and Hermon,
From the lions' dens,
From the mountains of the leopards.

Thou hast ravished my heart, my sister, my bride;
How much more is thy love than wine!
And the smell of thy ointments than all manner of spices!

Thy lips, O my bride, drop as the honeycomb:
Honey and milk are under thy tongue;
And the smell of thy garments is like the smell of Lebanon.

A garden shut up is my sister, my bride;
A fountain sealed.

Thy shoots are an orchard of pomegranates, with precious fruits;
Henna with spikenard plants,
Spikenard and saffron,
A Calamus and a cinnamon, with all trees of frankincense;
Myrrh and aloes, with all the chief spices.

Thou art a fountain of gardens,
A well of living waters,
And flowing streams from Lebanon.
THE SONG OF SONGS.

[CHAP. 6, v. 2.

The keepers of the walls took away my mantle from me.

8 I adjure you, O

Jerusalem, if ye find my beloved,

That ye tell him, that I am sick of love.

9 What is thy beloved more than another beloved,

What is thy beloved more than another beloved,

That thou dost so adjure us?

10 My beloved is white and ruddy,

The chiefest among ten thousand.

11 His head is as the most fine gold,

His locks are bushy, and black as a raven.

12 His eyes are like doves beside the water brooks;

Washed with milk, and fitly set.

13 His cheeks are as a bed of spices, as banks of sweet herbs:

His lips are as lilies, dropping liquid myrrh.

14 His hands are as rings of gold set with beryl:

His body is as ivory work overlaid with sapphires.

15 His legs are as pillars of marble, set upon sockets of fine gold:

His aspect is like Lebanon, excellent as the cedars.

16 His mouth is most sweet: yea, he is altogether lovely.

This is my beloved, and this is my friend, O daughters of Jerusalem.

6 What is thy beloved gone, O thou fairest among women? Whither hath thy beloved turned him, That we may seek him with thee?

2 My beloved is gone down to his garden, to the beds of his garden, and to gather lilies.

To feed in the gardens, and to gather lilies.
The Song of Songs

3 I am my beloved's, and my beloved is mine:
He feedeth his flock among the lilies.

4 Thou art beautiful, O my love,
as Tzirah,
Comely as Jerusalem,
Terrible as an army with banners.

5 Turn away thine eyes from me,
For they have overcome me.
Thy hair is as a flock of goats,
That lie along the side of Gilead.

6 Thy teeth are like a flock of ewes,
Which are come up from the washing;
Whereof every one hath twins,
And none is bereaved among them.

7 Thy temples are like a piece of a pomegranate
Behind thy veil.

8 There are three score queens, and fourscore concubines,
And virgins without number.

9 My dove, my undefiled, is but one;
She is the only one of her mother;
She is the choice one of her that bare her.
The daughters saw her, and called her blessed;
Yes, the queens and the concubines, and they praised her.

10 Who is she that looketh forth as the morning,
Fair as the moon,
Clear as the sun,
Terrible as an army with banners?

11 I went down into the garden of nuts,
To see the green plants of the valley,
And the pomegranates were in flower.

12 Or ever I was aware, my soul set me among the chariots of my princely friends,

13 Return, return, O Shulammite;
Return, return, that we may look upon thee.

Why will ye look upon the Shulammite,
As upon the dance of Mahanaim?

1 How beautiful are thy feet in sandals, O prince's daughter!

12 The joints of thy thighs are like jewels,
The work of the hands of a cunning workman.

2 Thy navel is like a round goblet,
Wherein no mingled wine is wanting:
Thy belly is like an heap of wheat
Set about with lilies.

3 Thy two breasts are like two fawns
That are twins of a roe.

4 Thy neck is like the tower of ivory:
Thine eyes as the pools in Heshbon, by the gate of Bath-rabbim;
Thy nose is like the tower of Lebanon
Which looketh toward Damascus.

5 Thine head upon thee is like Canaan
And the hair of thine head like purple;
The king is held captive in the tresses thereof.

6 How fair and how pleasant art thou,
O love, for delights!

7 This thy stature is like a palm tree,
And thy breasts to clusters of grapes.

8 I said, I will climb up into the palm tree,
I will take hold of the branches thereof:
Let thy breasts be as clusters of the vine,
And the smell of thy breath like apples;

9 And thy mouth like the best wine,
That goeth down smoothly for my beloved,

10 Return, return, O Shulammite;
Return, return, that we may look upon thee.
Gliding through the lips of those that are asleep.

Come, my beloved, let us go forth into the field;
Let us lodge in the villages.

Let us see whether the vine hath budded, and its blossom be open,
And the pomegranates be in flower:
There will I give thee my love.

Oh that thou wert as my brother!
That sucked the breasts of my mother!
When I should find thee without,
I would kiss thee;
Yea, and none would despise me.

I would lead thee, and bring thee into my mother's house,
Who would instruct me;
I would cause thee to drink of spiced wine,
Of the juice of my pomegranate.

His left hand should be under my head,
And his right hand should embrace me.

I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem,
That ye stir not up, nor awaken love,
Until it please.

Who is this that cometh up from the wilderness,
Leaning upon her beloved?

Under the apple tree I awakened thee:
There thy mother was in travail with thee,
1 The vision of Isaiah the son of Amoz, which he saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem.

2 In the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah.

3 Hear, O heavens, and give ear, O earth, for the Lord hath spoken: Have I been a great king for you, and ye have not made me光荣 in your heavens? But ye have loathed, as ye have despised my law; ye have not walked according to my judgments, but have done after the vain ceremonies of your own heart.

4 Therefore the Lord said, Behold, I will allure her, and bring her into the wilderness, and speak my words unto her heart.

5 And I will make her the mother of judgment; and she shall see her seed, whom she hath loved; and she shall be his glory.

6 And I will cause her to eat the good of the nations: and her sons shall be as innumerable as the sand of the sea; and they shall inherit the desolate inheritances.

7 And she shall destroy the7 foreigner, and they shall take root; the palace of the10 people of the north shall be brought in to the house of the Lord.

8 And I am wakened, and my abominations are in mine bowels.

9 And I will ordain the12 priest as glorious in mine house, and Judah shall be his glory.

10 For the Lord said, I have sworn by myself that judgements shall not depart from Judah, nor the priests from Levi, until I have caused that which is upon me to cease from mine enemies, and that the enemy should hear and be afraid, when all the people be gathered against me.

11 How lovely is fair Jerusalem, which goeth down to thee from the height of Mount Zion! Jerusalem shall be established for ever.

12 As fair as the40 mountains of south, and as pleasant as the gardens, and as Choice as Lebanon in all the delights thereof.

13 This shall be the sceptre of Gentile nations, and it shall destroy the kings of earth.

14 Therefore will I hedge up against her counsel, that she shall not turn in her heart again to deceit, nor return to deceit a second time.

15 Her foot shall be injected in the16 midst of the sea, and her heel shall be upon the dry land; and her king shall be delivered unto the40 Assyrians, and her nobles to Sardis.

16 He shall say, A wall is come down, and a wall is come down, saith the Lord of hosts, a wall is come down, and his wall shall fall, saith the Lord of hosts, and I will make a breach in that wall, and all people shall go through it.

17 Shall one Tottenham them, or shall one spare them? Shall one say, Alas over them? I will have no pity, saith the Lord.

18 But if ye will not hear, O sword of vengeance, if ye take up against Jerusalem vengeance, and destroy it with the sword, then shalt thou be no more a glory to Judah.

19 How is the faithful city become an harlot! it is full of judgment! righteousness lodged in her, but now murderers.

20 Her nobles have made lies in a covenant: her priests have violated me: her priests have cursed in the name of the Lord.

21 Therefore will I also make her priests as unclean: and her nobles as profane; and I will change their glory into shame.

22 But I will also make her priests as the priests of the20 levite, and her nobles as15 the nobles of Judah, and I will give them a law of peace, and they shall inherit the desolate inheritances.

23 O Lord, I am become as a35 utter castaway: go forth from me, for I am senseless.

24 For mine eyes are void of seeing, my days are allphlegmatic, I faint, and my heart is dismayed.

25 I say, I will speak in the name of the Lord: but he answered me, saying, Say, I said, thou art senseless.

26 And say, Behold, I will make thee a7 covenant with the house of Israel, and an everlasting covenant unto them; and I will cause them to be known amongst the nations, upon whom I have scattered them, that they may know that I the Lord am their God, to be feared by all the nations round about.

27 For the Lord thy God is a merciful God: he will not forsake thee, nor forget the covenant of thy fathers.

28 Remember what Amos saith, those who are in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, which said, Behold, I will bring again the captivity of my people which have been dispersed amongst the nations, as corn dispersed among a most fruitful field.

29 For thus saith the Lord, concerning the east country, and concerning the land of the south, and concerning the land beyond the river, and concerning the land of the north, and concerning the land of the desert;30 whom the Lord hath brought back, and returned unto Jerusalem and to Jerusalem: 31 the knowledge of me is as the waters of Jordan:

32 For I will publish the name of the Lord; as one maketh known his armoury; saying, Whither shall I go but to the Lord? and to the Law of the Lord will I not forsake.

33 Say ye every one unto his neighbour, Be merciful, O Lord, for good deeds;

34 and ye shall live in the land, and ye shall go in and out as ye please; and ye shall be multiplied and increased.

35 And the Lord will give unto you abundance of bread, and abundance of water, and abundance of corn; 36 and he shall destroy the40 nations that come against you, and will say, The Lord hath delivered the inhabitants of this land into mine hand, and I will take spoil of thee, as a king taketh spoil; and I will take joy in spoil, as a king doth take joy.

37 And thou shalt divide their spoil, and shalt take the spoil of thine enemies for a prey, and shalt do as it seemeth good unto thee; and thou shalt divide it in the presence of the Lord.

38 And the Lord shall make thee the head, and not the tail; thou shalt be above them, and they shall be below thee; 39 in the day that the Lord shall speak, thou shalt be strong in heart, and shalt perform thine office with might.

40 And thou shalt not fear, nor be dismayed, for the Lord is with thee, he will be a fear unto thy enemies, and he will deliver thee out of Evil hands.

41 Behold, the Lord cometh out of his place, and will come down, and will tread upon the high places of the earth.

42 The mountains shall melt like wax at the presence of the Lord, and all the earth shall dissolve as the wax of a candle; and there shall be no abstinence in the earth.

43 And the Lord shall sit as a king upon Zion, and upon his throne, and judge between the20 nations; and he shall gather together all nations, and shall be glorified.

44 And this man shall be a7 sign unto you, and a wonder in your eyes: according to all that was written of me, so shall it be fulfilled.
The word that Isaiah the son of Amoz saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem.

2 And it shall come to pass in the latter days, that the mountain of the Lord’s house shall be established in the top of the mountains, and shall be exalted above the hills; and all nations shall flow unto it.

3 And many peoples shall go and say, Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for out of Zion shall go forth the law, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem.

And he shall judge between the nations, and shall rebuke many peoples: and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks: nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.

5 Of Jacob, come ye, and let us walk in the light of the Lord. 6 For thou hast forsaken thy people the house of Jacob, because they are filled with customs from the east, and are soothsayers like the Philistines, and they strike hands with the children of strangers. Their land also is full of silver and gold, neither is there any end of their treasures; their land also is full of horses, neither is there any end of their chariots.

7 Their land also is full of idols; they worship the work of their own hands, that which their own fingers have made. 8 And the mean man 10 is bowed down, and the great man 11 is brought low: therefore forgive them not.

9 Enter into the rock, and hide thee in the dust, from before the terror of the Lord, and from the glory of his majesty. 10 The lofty looks of men shall be bowed down, and the haughtiness of men shall be bowed down, and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day.

11 And the idols shall utterly pass away.

12 And men shall go into the rocks, and into the holes of the earth, from before the terror of the Lord, and from the glory of his majesty, when he ariseth to shake mightily the earth.

13 And upon all the杞edars of Lebanon, that are high and lifted up, and upon all the oaks of Bashan; 14 and upon all the high mountains, and upon all the hills that are lifted up; 15 and upon every lofty tower, and upon every fenced wall; 16 and upon all the ships of Tarshish, and upon all pleasant visions.

17 And the loftiness of man shall be bowed down, and the haughtiness of men shall be bowed down, and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day.

18 And the idols shall utterly pass away.

19 And men shall cast away their idols of silver, and their idols of gold, which they made for them to worship, to the moles and to the bats; 20 to go into the caverns of the rocks, and into the clefts of the ragged rocks, from before the terror of the Lord, and from the glory of his majesty, when he ariseth to shake mightily the earth.

20 In that day shall the Lord cast you a veil, and remove your images, and you shall confound for ever the gardens that ye have chosen.

21 And ye shall be confounded for the gardens that ye have chosen, and ye shall be ashamed of the oaks which ye have desired; whose leaf fadeth, and as a garden hath no water. 22 And the strong shall be made low, and his work as a spark; and they shall go to the mountain of the Lord, to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths.

3 And he will judge between the nations, and shall rebuke many peoples: and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks: nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.

5 Of Jacob, come ye, and let us walk in the light of the Lord. 6 For thou hast forsaken thy people the house of Jacob, because they are filled with customs from the east, and are soothsayers like the Philistines, and they strike hands with the children of strangers. 11 And the idols shall utterly pass away.

12 And men shall go into the rocks, and into the holes of the earth, from before the terror of the Lord, and from the glory of his majesty, when he ariseth to shake mightily the earth.

CHAPTER 3, V. 1.

ISAIAH.

16 Moreover the LORD said, "Because the daughters of Zion are haughty, and walk with stretched forth necks and wanton eyes, walking and mincing as they go, and making a tiptoe with their feet: therefore the LORD will smite with a scab the crown of the head of the daughters of Zion, and the LORD will lay bare their secret parts. 17 In that day the LORD will take away the bravery of their anklets, and the 12 w cauls, and the 2 crescents; 19 the pendants, and the 18 bracelets, and the mufflers; 20 the 8 headtires, and the ankle chains, and the sashes, and the perfume boxes, and the amulets; 21 the rings, and the 9 nose jewels; 22 the a festival robes, and the mantles, and the shawls, and the satchels; 23 the hand mirrors, and the fine linen, and the turbans, and the veils. 24 And it shall come to pass, that instead of a sweet spices there shall be rottenness; and instead of a girdle a rope; and instead of a well set hair * baldness; and instead of a stomacher a w girding, and instead of a girding a scab, and instead of a scab a girding; 25 Thine men shall fall by the sword, and thy mighty in the war. 26 And a her gates shall lament and mourn; and she shall be 15 desolate and sit upon the ground. 27 And seven women shall take hold of one man in that day, saying, We will eat our bread our 18 reward evil unto themselves. 28 For Jerusalem is ruined, and Judah is fallen: because their tongue and their doings are against the LORD, to provoke the eyes of his glory. 29 The shew of their countenance doth witness against them; and they declare their sin as Sodom, they hide it not. Woe unto their soul! 30 for they have 20 the reward of evil unto themselves. 31 Say ye of the righteous, that it shall be well with him: 32 for they shall eat the fruit of their doings. 33 Woe unto the wicked! it shall be ill with him: for the reward of his hands shall be given him. 34 As for my people, 4 children are their oppressors, and women rule over them. 35 O my people, 2 they which lead thee cause thee to err, and destroy the way of thy paths. 36 The LORD standeth up to plead, and standeth to judge the 31 peoples. 37 The LORD will enter into judgement with the elders of his people, and the princes thereof: It is ye that 4 have eaten up the vineyard; the spoil of the poor is in your houses: 15 what mean ye that ye crush my people, and grind the face of the poor? saith the Lord, the LORD of hosts.
Let me sing for my well-beloved a song of my beloved touching his vineyard. My well-beloved had a vineyard in a very fruitful hill: and he made a trench about it, and gathered out the stones thereof, and planted it with the choicest vine, and built a tower in the midst of it, and also hewed out a winepress therein: and he looked that it should bring forth grapes, and it brought forth wild grapes. And now, O inhabitants of Jerusalem and men of Judah, judge, I pray you, betwixt me and my vineyard. What could have been done more to my vineyard, that I have not done in it? Wherefore, when I looked that it should bring forth grapes, brought it forth wild grapes? And now go to; I will tell you what I will do to my vineyard: I will take away the hedge thereof, and it shall be eaten up; I will break down the fence thereof, and it shall be trodden down: and I will lay it waste; it shall not be pruned nor hoed; but there shall come up briers and thorns: I will also command the clouds that they rain no rain upon it. For the vineyard of the Lord of hosts is the house of Israel, and the men of Judah his pleasant plant: and he looked for judgment, but behold oppression; for righteousness, but behold a cry.

Woe unto them that join house to house, that lay field to field, till there be no room, and ye be made to dwell alone in the midst of the land! In mine ears saith the Lord of hosts, Of a truth many houses shall be desolate, even great and fair, without inhabitant. For ten acres of vineyard shall yield one bath, and a homer of seed shall yield but an ephah.

Woe unto them that rise up early in the morning, that they may follow strong drink; that tarry late into the night, till wine inflame them! And the harp and the lute, the tabret and the pipe, and wine, are in their feasts: But they regard not the work of the Lord, neither have they considered the operation of his hands. Therefore my people are gone into captivity, for lack of knowledge: and their honourable men are famished, and their multitude are parched with thirst. Therefore hath he enlarged her desire, and opened her mouth without measure: and their glory, and their multitude, and their pomp, and he that rejoiceth among them, descend into it. And the mean man is bowed down, and the great man is humbled, and the eyes of the lofty are humbled: but the Lord of hostsis exalted in judgement, and God the Holy One is sanctified in righteousness. Then shall the lambs feed as in their pasture, and the waste places of the fat ones shall wanderers eat.

Woe unto them that draw iniquity with cords of vanity, and sin as it were with a cart rope: that say, Let him make speed, let him hasten his work, that we may see it: and let the counsel of the Holy One of Israel draw nigh and come, that we may know it!

Woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light, and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter!

Woe unto them that are wise in their own eyes, and prudent in their own sight!

Woe unto them that are mighty to drink wine, and men of strength to mingle strong drink: which justify the wicked for a reward, and take away the rightness of the righteous from him! Therefore as the tongue of fire devoureth the stubble, and as the dry grass sinketh down in the flame, so their root shall be as rottenness, and their blossom shall go up as one bath, and a homer of seed shall yield but an ephah.
mine eyes have seen the King, the lord of hosts. 6 Then flew one of the seraphim unto me, having a live coal in his hand, which he had taken with the tongs from off the altar: 7 and he 'touched my mouth with it, and said, Lo, this hath touched thy lips; and thine iniquity is taken away, 8 and thy sin purged.
8 And I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? Then I said, Here am I; send me. 9 And he said, Go, and tell this people, Hear ye 10 indeed, but understand not; and see ye 10 indeed, but perceive not. 10 * Make the heart of this people fat, and make their ears heavy, and shut their eyes; lest they see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and turn again, and be healed.
11 Then said I, Lord, *how long? And he answered, Until cities be waste without inhabitant, and houses without man, and the land become utterly waste, 12 and the LORD have removed men far away, and the forsaken places be many in the midst of the land. 13 And the LORD have caused that men be as sharp, and all their bows bent; their horses' hoofs shall be counted like flint, and their wheels like a whirlwind: 29*their roaring shall be like a lion, they shall roar like young lions: yea, they shall roar, and lay hold of the prey, and carry it away safe, and there shall be none to deliver. 30 And they shall roar against them in that day like the roaring of the sea: and if one look unto the land, * behold darkness and distress, and the light is darkened in the clouds thereof.

1 And it came to pass in the days of Ahaz the son of Jotham, the son of Uzziah, king of Judah, that Rezin the king of Syria, and Pekah the son of Remaliah, king of Israel, went up to Jerusalem to war against it; but could not prevent against it. 2 And it was told the house of David, saying, *Syria is confederate with Ephraim.
And his heart was moved, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the forest are moved with the wind.

3 Then said the LORD unto Isaiah,
Go forth now to meet Ahaz, thou, and Shear-jashub thy son, at the end of the conduit of the upper pool, in the high way of the ful-er's field; 4 and say unto him,
'Take heed, and be quiet; fear not, neither let thine heart be faint, because of these two tails of smoking firebrands, for the fierce anger of Rezin and Syria, and of the son of Remaliah. 5 Because Syria hath counselled evil against thee, Ephraim also, and the son of Remaliah, saying, Let us go up against Judah, and vex it, and let us make a breach therein for us, and set up a king in the midst of it, even the son of Tabeel: yea thus saith the Lord God; It shall not stand, neither shall it come to pass.

8 For the head of Syria is Damasc, and the head of Damascus is Rezin: and within three score and five years shall Ephraim be broken in pieces, that it be not a people: 9 and the head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is Remaliah's son. If ye will not believe, surely ye shall not be established.

10 And the Lord spake again unto Ahaz, saying, 11 Ask thee a sign of the Lord thy God; Ask it either in the depth, or in the height above. 12 But Ahaz said, I will not ask, neither will I tempt the Lord. 13 And he said, Hear ye now, O house of David; is it a small thing for you to weary men, that ye will weary my God also?

14 Therefore the Lord himself shall give you a sign; behold, a virgin shall conceive, and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel. 15 Butter and honey shall he eat, when he knoweth to refuse the evil, and choose the good. 16 For before the child shall know to refuse the evil, and choose the good, the land whose two kings thou abhorrest shall be forsaken.

17 The Lord shall bring upon thee, and upon thy people, and upon thy father's house, days that have not come, from the day that Ephraim departed from Judah; even the king of Assyria.

18 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the Lord shall shave with a razor that is hired, which is in the parts beyond the River, even with the king of Assyria, the head and the hair of the feet: and it shall also consume the beard.

21 And it shall come to pass in that day, that a man shall nourish a young cow, and two sheep; 22 and it shall come to pass, for the abundance of milk that they shall give he shall eat butter: for butter and honey shall every one eat that is left in the midst of the land.

23 And it shall come to pass in that day, that every place, where there were a thousand vines at a thousand silverlings, shall even be for briers and thorns. 24 And all the hills that were digged with the mattock, thou shalt not come thither for fear of briers and thorns, but it shall be for the sending forth of oxen, and for the treading of sheep.

8 And the Lord spake unto me, saying, 2 Ask thee a great tablet, and write upon it with the pen of a man, Maher-shalal-hash-baz; and I will take unto me faithful witnesses to record, Uriah the priest, and Zechariah the son of Jehedibiah. 3 And I went unto the prophetess; and she conceived, and bare a son. Then said the Lord unto me, Call his name Maher-shalal-hash-baz. 4 For before the child shall have knowledge to cry, My father, and, My mother, the riches of Damascus and the spoil of Samaria shall be carried away before the king of Assyria.

5 And the Lord spake unto me yet again, saying, 6 Forasmuch as this people hath refused the waters of Shiloah that go softly, and rejoice in Rezin and Remaliah's son; 7 now therefore, behold, the Lord bringeth up upon them the waters of the River, strong and many, even the king of Assyria and.
all his glory: and he shall come up over all his channels, and go over all his banks: and he shall sweep onward into Judah: he shall overflow and pass through; he shall reach even to the neck; and the stretching out of his wings shall fill the breadth of thy land. O Immanuel.

9 Make an uproar, O ye peoples, and ye shall be broken in pieces; and give ear, all ye of far countries: gird yourselves, and ye shall be broken in pieces: gird yourselves, and ye shall be broken in pieces.

10 Take counsel together, and it shall be brought to nought; speak the word, and it shall not stand: for with God is with us. 11 For the Lord spake thus to me with a strong hand, and instructed me that I should not walk in the way of this people, saying, 12 Say ye not, A conspiracy, concerning all whereof this people shall say, A conspiracy; neither fear ye their fear, nor be in dread thereof. 13 The Lord of hosts, him shall ye sanctify; and let him be your fear, and let him be your dread. 14 And he shall be for a sanctuary; but for a stone of stumbling and for a rock of offence to both the houses of Israel, for a gin and for a snare to the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

15 And many shall stumble thereon, and fall, and be broken, and be snared, and be taken.

16 Bind thou up the testimony, seal the law among my disciples. 17 And I will wait for the Lord, that hideth his face from the house of Jacob, and I will look for him. 18 Behold, I and the children whom the Lord hath given me are for signs and for wonders in Israel from the Lord of hosts, which dwelleth in mount Zion.

19 And when they shall say unto you, Seek unto them that have familiar spirits, and unto the wizards, that chirp and that mutter: should not a people seek unto their God? on behalf of the living should they seek unto the dead? 20 To the law and to the testimony! if they speak not according to this word, surely there is no morning for them. 21 And they shall pass through it, hardly bested and hungry: and it shall come to pass that, when they shall be hungry, they shall fret themselves, and 'curse by their king and by their God, and turn their faces upward:

9 And they shall look unto the earth, and behold, distress and darkness, the gloom of anguish: and into thick darkness they shall be driven away. 22 But there shall be no gloom to her that was in anguish. In the former time he brought into contempt the land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, but in the latter time he hath made it glorious, by the way of the sea, beyond Jordan, Galilee of the nations. 2 The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light: they that dwelt in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined. 3 Thou hast multiplied the nation, nation; thou hast increased their joy: they joy before thee according to the joy in harvest, as men rejoice when they divide the spoil. 4 For the yoke of his burden, and the staff of his shoulder, the rod of his oppressor, thou hast broken as in the day of Midian. 5 For all the armour of the armed man in the tumult, and the garments rolled in blood, shall even be for burning, for fuel of fire. 6 For unto you is born this child, unto you a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace.

7 Of the increase of his government and of peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to establish it, and to uphold it with judgement and with righteousness from henceforth even for ever. 8 The zeal of the Lord of hosts shall perform this.

8 The Lord sent a word into Jacob, and it hath lighted upon Israel. 9 And all the people shall know, even Ephraim and the inhabitant of Samaria, that say in pride and in stoutness of heart,
10 The bricks are fallen, but we will build with hewn stone: the sycamores are cut down, but we will change them into cedars. 11 Therefore the Lord shall set up on high against him the adversaries of Rezin, and shall stir up his enemies; 12 the Syrians before, and the Philistines behind; and they shall devour Israel with open mouth. 13 For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

13 Yet the people hath not turned unto him that smote them, neither have they sought after the Lord of hosts. 14 Therefore the Lord will cut off from Israel head and tail, palm-branch and rush, in one day. 15 "The ancients and the honourable man, he is the head; and the prophet that teacheth lies, he is the tail. 16 For they that lead this people cause them to err; and they that are led of them are destroyed. 17 Therefore the Lord shall not rejoice over their young men, neither shall he have compassion on their fatherless and widows: for every one is profane and an evil-doer, and every mouth speaketh folly. 18 For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

18 For wickedness burneth as the fire; it devoureth the briers and thorns: yea, it kindleth in the thickets of forest, and they roll upward in thick clouds of smoke. 19 Through the wrath of the Lord of hosts is the land burnt up: for every one is profane and an evil-doer, and every mouth speaketh folly. 20 And one shall snatch on the right hand, and be hungry; and he shall eat on the left hand, and they shall not be satisfied: 21 man eat every man the flesh of his own arm: 22 Manasseh, Ephraim; and they together shall be against Judah.

10 Woe unto them that decreed unrighteous decrees, and to the writers that write perver seness: 2 turn aside the needy from judgement, and to take away the right of the poor of my people, that widows may be their spoil, and that they may make the fatherless their prey! 3 And what will ye do in the day of visitation, and in the desolation which shall come 4 from far? to whom will ye flee for help? and where will ye leave your glory? 4 11 They shall only bow down under the prisoners, and shall fall under the slain. 12 For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

12 Ho Assyrian, is the rod of mine anger, the staff in whose hand is mine indignation! 6 I will send him against a profane nation, and against the people of my wrath will I give him a charge, to take the spoil, and to take the prey, and to tread them down liken the mire of the streets. 7 Howbeit he meaneth not so, neither doth his heart think so; but it is in his heart to destroy, and to cut off nations not a few. 8 For he saith, 'Are not my princes all of them kings? 9 Is not Calno as Carchemish? is not Hamath as Arpad? is not Samaria as Damascus? 10 As my hand hath found the kingdoms of the idols, whose graven images did excel them of Jerusalem and of Samaria; 11 shall I not, as I have done unto Samaria and her idols, so do to Jerusalem and her idols?

12 Wherefore it shall come to pass, that when the Lord hath performed his whole work upon mount Zion and on Jerusalem, 2 I will punish the fruit of the stoutheart of the king of Assyria, and the glory of his high looks. 13 For he hath said, By the strength of my hand hath I found them; and by my wisdom; for I am prudent: and I have removed the bounds of the peoples, and have robbed the treasures, and I have brought down as a valiant man them that sit on thrones: 14 and my hand hath found as a nest the riches of the peoples; and as one gathereth eggs that are forsaken, have I gathered all the earth: and there was none that moved the wing, or that opened the mouth, or chirped. 15 Shall he axe boast itself against him that is the head?
heweth therewith? shall the saw magnify itself against him that shaketh it? as if a rod should shake them that lift it up, or as if a staff should lift up him that is not wood.

16 Therefore shall the Lord, the Lord of hosts, send among his fat ones leanness; and under his glory there shall be kindled a burning like the burning of fire.

17 And the light of Israel shall be for a fire, and his Holy One for a flame: and it shall burn and devour his thorns and his briers in one day.

18 And he shall consume the glory of his forest, and of his fruitful field, both soul and body: and it shall be as when a standardbearer fainteth.

19 And the remnant of the trees of his forest shall be few, that a child may write them.

20 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the remnant of Israel, and they that are escaped of the house of Jacob, shall no more again stay upon him that smote them; but shall stay upon the Lord, the Holy One of Israel, in truth.

21 For though thy people Israel be as the sand of the sea, only a remnant of them shall return: a consumption determined, overflowing with righteousness.

22 For a consumption, and that determined, shall the Lord, the Lord of hosts, make in the midst of all the earth.

23 Therefore thus saith the Lord, the Lord of hosts, O my people that dwell in Zion, be not afraid of the Assyrian: though he smite thee with the rod, and lift up his staff against thee, after the manner of Egypt.

24 For yet a very little while, and the indignation shall be accomplished, and mine anger, in their destruction.

25 And the Lord of hosts shall stir up against him a scourge, as in the slaughter of Midian at the rock of Oreb: and his rod shall be over the sea, and he shall lift it up after the manner of Egypt.

26 And it shall come to pass in that day, that his burden shall depart from off thy shoulder, and his yoke from off thy neck, and the yoke shall be destroyed because of the anointing.

27 He is come to Aiath, he is passed through Migron; at Michmash he layeth up his baggage:

28 They are gone over the pass; they have taken up their lodging at Geba:

29 Gibeah of Saul is fled.

30 Cry aloud with thy voice, O daughter of Gallim! hearken, O Laishah!

31 O thou poor Anathoth!

32 This very day shall he halt at Nob: he shaketh his hand at the mount of the daughter of Zion, the hill of Jerusalem.

33 Behold, the Lord, the Lord of hosts, shall smite the Assyrian in the midst of all the earth.

34 Therefore thus saith the Lord, the Lord of hosts, O my people that dwellest in Zion, be not afraid of the Assyrian: though he smite thee with the rod, and lift up his staff against thee, after the manner of Egypt.

35 For though thy people Israel be as the sand of the sea, only a remnant of them shall return: a consumption determined, overflowing with righteousness.

36 For a consumption, and that determined, shall the Lord, the Lord of hosts, make in the midst of all the earth.

37 The vineyard of the Lord of hosts is in the midst of the land: but they expected a good harvest.

38 But he sent me against the vineyard, to cause it to be destroyed from before it, and to make it a wilderness; without the second, lion shall eat straw like the ox. 8 And the sucking child shall play on the hole of the asp, and the weaned child shall put his hand on the 19 basilisk’s den. 9 They shall not hurt nor destroy in all 4 my holy mountain: for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the LORD, as the waters cover the sea.

10 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the root of Jesse, which standeth for 4 an ensign of the peoples, unto him shall the nations seek; and his resting place shall be glorious.

11 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the Lord shall set his hand again the second time to recover the remnant of his people, which shall remain, 4 from Assyria, and 4 from Egypt, and from 4 Pathros, and from 4 Cush, and from 4 Elam, and from 4 Shinar, and from 4 Hamath, and from 4 the islands of the sea. 12 And he shall set up an ensign for the nations, and shall assemble 4 the outcasts of Israel, and gather together the dispersed of Judah from the four corners of the earth. 13 The envy also of Ephraim shall depart, and they that vex 4 Judah shall be cut off: Ephraim shall not envy Judah, and Judah shall not vex Ephraim.

14 And they shall fly down upon the shoulder of the Philistines on the west; together shall they spoil 4 the children of the east: they shall put forth their hand upon 4 Edom, and 4 Moab; and the children of Ammon shall obey them. 15 And the LORD shall utterly destroy the tongue of the Egyptian sea; and with his 4 scorching wind shall he shake his hand over 4 the River, and shall smite it into seven streams, and cause men to march over dry-shod. 16 And there shall be an high way for the remnant of his people, which shall remain, from Assyria; 4 like as there was for Israel in the day that he came up out of the land of Egypt.

1 And in that day thou shalt say, I will give thanks unto thee, O LORD; for though thou wast angry with me, 4 thine anger is turned away, and thou comfortest me. 2 Behold, God is my salvation; I will trust, and will not be afraid: for 4 the LORD is my strength and song; and he is become my salvation.

3 Therefore 4 with joy shall ye draw water out of the wells of salvation. 4 And in that day shall ye say, Give thanks unto the LORD, call upon his name, declare his doings among the peoples, make mention 4 that his name is exalted. 5 Sing unto the LORD; for he hath done excellent things: 4 let this be known in all the earth.

6 Cry aloud and shout, thou 4 inhabitant of Zion: for great is 4 the Holy One of Israel in the midst of thee.

13 1 The burden of Babylon, which 4 Isaiah the son of Amoz did see.

2 Set ye up an ensign upon the bare mountain, lift up the voice unto them, wave the hand, that 4 they may go into the gates of the nobles. 3 I have commanded my consecrated ones, yea, I have called my mighty men for mine anger, even 4 my powerfully exulting ones. 4 The noise 4 of a multitude in the mountains, like as of a great people! the noise of a tumult of the kingdoms of the nations gathered together! 4 the LORD of hosts musterdeth the host for the battle. 5 4 They come from a far country, from the uttermost part of heaven, even the LORD, and the weapons of his indignation, to destroy the whole land. 6 4 Howl ye; for 4 the day of the LORD is at hand; as destruction from the 4 Almighty shall it come. 7 Therefore shall all hands be feebly, and every heart of man shall melt: 4 and they shall be dismayed; 4 pangs and sorrows shall take hold of them; 4 they shall be in pain as a woman in travail: they shall be amazed one at another; their faces shall be faces of flame.

8 Behold, 4 the day of the LORD cometh, cruel, with wrath and fierce anger; to make the land a desolation, and to destroy the sinners thereof out of it. 9 For the stars of heaven and the constellations thereof shall not give their light:

the sun shall be darkened in his sun shall be darkened in his glory; and the moon shall not cause her light to shine. 11 And I will punish the world for their evil, and the wicked for their iniquity; and I will cause the arrogancy of the proud to cease, and will lay low the haughtiness of the terrible. 12 I will make a man more rare than fine gold, even a man than the pure gold of Ophir.

Therefore I will make the heavens to tremble, and the earth shall be shaken out of her place, in the wrath of the LORD of hosts, and in the day of his fierce anger. 14 And it shall come to pass, that as the chased roe, and as sheep that no man gathereth, they shall turn every man to his own people, and shall flee every man to his own land. 15 Every one that is found shall be thrust through; and every one that is taken shall fall by the sword. 16 Their infants also shall be dashed in pieces before their eyes; their houses shall be spoiled, and their wives ravished. 17 Behold, I will stir up the Medes against them, which shall not regard silver, and as for gold, they shall not delight in it. 18 And their bows shall dash the young men in pieces; and they shall have no pity on the fruit of the womb; their eye shall not spare children, all the king's daughters.

And Babylon, the glory of kings, the beauty of the Chaldeans' pride, shall be as when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah, so shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation: neither shall it be inhabited, neither shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation: neither shall the Arabian pitch tent there; neither shall shepherds make their flocks to lie down there. 21 But wild beasts of the desert shall lie there; and their houses shall be full of doleful creatures; and ostriches shall dwell there, and satyrs shall dance there. 22 And wolves shall cry in their castles, and jackals in the pleasant palaces; and her time is near to come, and her days shall not be prolonged. 23 For the LORD will have compassion on Jacob, and will yet choose Israel, and set them in their own land: and the stranger shall join himself with them, and they shall cleave to the house of Jacob, and bring them to their place: and the house of Israel shall possess them in the land of the LORD for servants and for handmaids: and they shall take them captive, whose captives they were; and they shall rule over their oppressors.

And it shall come to pass in the day that the LORD shall give thee rest from thy sorrow, and from thy trouble, and from the hard service wherein thou wast made to serve, that thou shalt take up this parable against the king of Babylon, and say, How hath the oppressor ceased! the golden city ceased! 3 The LORD hath broken the staff of the wicked, the sceptre of the rulers; 5 that smote the peoples in wrath with a continual stroke, that ruled the nations in anger, with a persecution that none restrained.

The whole earth is at rest, and is quiet: they break forth into singing. 8 Yea, the fir trees rejoice at thee, and the cedars of Lebanon, saying, Since thou art laid down, no feller is come up against us. 9 Hell from beneath is moved against thee, which shall not rejoice at thee, when art thou become weak as we? art thou also become weak as we? thy pomp is brought down to hell, and the noise of thy viols shall be no more. 10 Thy glory is come down to the grave, to the place of the dead. 11 Thy pomp is come down to the grave, to the place of the dead; 12 how art thou fallen from the heights of the clouds! like as the Most High, art thou become like unto us? 13 And thou saidst in thine heart, Yea, I will ascend into heaven; I will exalt my throne above the stars of God; and I will sit upon the mount of congregation, in the uttermost parts of the north: 14 I will ascend above the heights of the clouds; I will be like the Most High. 15 Yet thou shalt be brought down to hell, to the uttermost parts of the pit. 16 They that see thee shall narrowly look upon thee, they shall consider thee, saying, Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, that did shake kingdoms; 17 that made the world as a wilderness, and overthrew the cities thereof; "that let not loose his prisoners to their home? 18 All the kings of the nations, all of them, sleep in glory, every one in his own house. 19 But thou art cast forth away from thy sepulchre like an abominable branch, 10 clothed with the slain, that are thrust through with the sword, that go down to the stones of the pit; as a carcasse trodden under foot. 20 Thou shalt not be joined with them in burial, because thou hast destroyed thy land, thou hast slain thy people; 21 the seed of evil-doers shall not be named for ever. 22 Prepare ye slaughter for his children for the iniquity of their fathers; that they rise not up, and possess the earth, and fill the face of the world with cities. 22 And I will rise up against them, saith the LORD of hosts, and cut off from Babylon name and remnant, and son and son's son, saith the LORD. 23 I will also make it a possession for the porcupine, and pools of water: and I will sweep it with the besom of destruction, saith the LORD of hosts.

24 The LORD of hosts hath sworn, saying, Surely as I have thought, so shall it come to pass; and as I have purposed, so shall it stand: 25 that I will break the Assyrian in my land, and upon my mountains tread him under foot: then shall his yoke depart from off them, and his burden depart from off their shoulder. 26 This is the purpose that is purposed upon the whole earth: and this is the hand that is stretched out upon all the nations. 27 For the Lord of hosts hath purposed, and who shall disannul it? and his hand is stretched out, and who shall turn it back?

28 In the year that king Ahaz died was this burden.

29 Rejoice not, O Philistia, all of thee, because the rod that smote thee is broken; for out of the serpent's root shall come forth a basilisk, and his fruit shall be a fiery flying serpent. 30 And the firstborn of the poor shall feed, and the needy shall lie down in safety: and I will kill thy root with famine, and thy remnant shall be slain. 31 Howl, O gate; cry, O city: thou art melted away, O Philistia, all of thee; for there cometh a smoke out of the north, and none standeth aloof at his appointed times. 32 What then shall one answer the messengers of the nation? That the LORD hath founded Zion, and in her shall the afflicted of his people take refuge.
wilderness, unto the mount of the daughter of Zion. 2 For it shall be that, as wandering birds, as a scattered nest, so shall the daughters of Moab be at the fords of Arnon. 3 Give counsel, execute judgement; make thy shadow as the night in the midst of the noonday: hide the outcasts; bewray not the wanderer. 4 Let mine outcasts dwell with thee; as for Moab, be thou a covert to him from the face of the spoiler: for the extortioner is brought to nought, spoiling ceaseth, the oppressors are consumed out of the land. 5 And a throne shall be established in mercy, and one shall sit thereon in truth, in the tent of David; judging, and seeking judgement, and swift to do righteousness. 6 We have heard of the pride of Moab, that he is very proud; even of his arrogancy, and his pride, and his wrath; his boastings are nought. 7 Therefore shall Moab howl for Moab, everyone shall howl: for the raisin-cakes of Kir-hareseth shall ye mourn, utterly strucken. 8 For the fields of Heshbon languish, and the vine of Sibmah; the lordsof the nations have broken down the choice plants thereof; they reached even unto Jazer, they wandered into the wilderness; her branches were spread abroad, they passed over the sea. 9 Therefore will I weep with the weeping of Jazer for the vine of Sibmah: I will water thee with my tears, O Heshbon, and Elealeh: for upon thysummer fruits and upon thy harvest the battleshout is fallen. 10 And gladness is taken away, and joy out of the fruitful field; and in the vineyards there shall be no singing, neither joyful noise: no treader shall tread out wine in the presses; I have made the vintage shout to cease. 11 Wherefore my bowels sound like an harp for Moab, and mine inward parts for Kir-heres. 12 And it shall come to pass, when Moab presenteth himself, when he weariseth himself upon the high place, and shall come to his sanctuary to pray, that he shall not prevail. 13 This is the word that the LORD spake concerning Moab in time past.

1 The burden of Damascus. Behold, Damascus is taken away from being a city, and it shall be a ruinous heap. 2 The cities of Aror are forsaken: they shall be for flocks, which shall lie down, and none shall make them afraid. 3 The fortress also shall cease from Ephraim, and the kingdom from Damascus, and the remnant of Syria; they shall be as the glory of the children of Israel, saith the LORD of hosts. 4 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the glory of Jacob shall be made thin, and the fatness of his flesh shall wax lean. 5 And it shall be as when the harvestman gathereth the standing corn, and his arm reapeth the ears; yea, it shall be as when one gleaneth ears in the valley of Rephaim. 6 Yet there shall be left therein gleanings, as the shaking of an olive tree, two or three berries in the top of the uppermost bough, four or five in the outmost branches of a fruitful tree, saith the LORD, the God of Israel. 7 In that day shall his strong cities be as the forsaken places in the wood and on the mountaintop, which were forsaken from before the children of Israel: and it shall be a desolation. 8 And he shall not look to the altar, the work of his hands, neither shall he have respect to that which his fingers have made, either the Asherim, or the sun-images. 9 In that day shall his strong cities be as the forsaken places in the wood and on the mountain top, which were forsaken from before the children of Israel: and it shall be a desolation. 10 For thou hast forgotten the God of thy salvation, and hast not been mindful of the rock of thy strength; therefore thou plantest pleasant plants, and settest it with strange slips: 11 in the day of thy planting thou hegedest it in, and in the morning thou makest thy seed to blossom: but the harvest fleeth away in the day of grief and of desperate sorrow.

12 Ah, the uproar of many peoples, which roar like the roaring of the seas; and the rushing of nations, that rush like the rushing of mighty waters! The nations shall rush like the rushing of many waters: but he shall rebuke them, and they shall flee far off, and shall be chased as the chaff of the mountains before the wind, and like the whirling dust before the storm.

14 At eventide behold terror; and before the morning they are not. This is the portion of them that spoil us, and the lot of them that rob us.

18 Ah, the land of the rustling of wings, which is beyond the rivers of Ethiopia: that sendeth ambassadors by the sea, even in vessels of papyrus upon the waters, saying, Go ye swift messengers, to a nation tall and smooth, to a people terrible from their beginning onward: a nation that meteth out and treadeth down, whose land the rivers divide to the place of the name of the LORD of hosts, the mount Zion.

19 Behold, the LORD rideth upon a swift cloud, and cometh unto Egypt: and the idols of Egypt shall be moved at his presence, and the heart of Egypt shall melt in the midst of it. And I will stir up the Egyptians against the Egyptians: and they shall fight one against his brother, and every one against his neighbour; city against city, and kingdom against kingdom.

And the spirit of Egypt shall be made void within it; and I will destroy the counsel thereof: and they shall seek unto the idols, and to the charmers, and to the wizards. And I will give over the Egyptians into the hand of a cruel lord; and a fierce king shall rule over them, saith the LORD, the LORD of hosts.
let them know what the LORD of hosts hath purposed concerning Egypt. 13 The princes of 'Zoan are become fools, the princes of Noph are deceived; they have caused Egypt to go astray, that are the corner stone of her tribes. 14 The LORD hath mingled a spirit of perverseness in the midst of her: and they have caused Egypt to go astray in every work thereof, as a drunken man staggereth in his vomit. 15 Neither shall there be for Egypt any work, which head or tail, palm-branch or rush, may do.

In that day shall Egypt be like unto women: and it shall tremble and fear because of the shaking of the hand of the LORD of hosts, which he shaketh over it. And the land of Judah shall be come a terror unto Egypt, every one to whom mention is made thereof shall be afraid, because of the purpose of the LORD of hosts, which he purposeth against it.

In that day shall there be five cities in the land of Egypt that speak the language of Canaan, and swear to the LORD of hosts; one shall be called The city of destruction.

In that day shall there be an altar to the LORD in the midst of the land of Egypt, and a pillar at the border thereof to the LORD. And it shall be for a sign and for a witness unto the LORD of hosts, for they shall cry unto the LORD because of the oppressors, and he shall send them a saviour, and a defender, and he shall deliver them.

And the LORD shall be known in that day unto the Gentiles, and Egypt shall know the LORD in that day; yea, they shall worship with sacrifice and oblation, and shall vow a vow unto the LORD, and shall perform it. And the LORD shall smite Egypt, smiting and healing; and they shall return unto the LORD, and he shall be intreated of them, and shall heal them.

In that day shall there be ahigh way out of Egypt to Assyria, and the Assyrian shall come into Egypt, and the Egyptian into Assyria; and the Egyptians shall worship with the Assyrians.

And in that day shall Israel be the third with Egypt and with Assyria, a blessing in the midst of the earth: for that the LORD of hosts hath blessed them, saying, Blessed be Egypt my people, and Assyria the work of my hands, and Israel mine inheritance.

In the year that 7o Tarshish came unto Ashdod, when Sargon the king of Assyria sent him, and he fought against Ashdod and took it; 2 at that time the LORD spake by Isaiah the son of Amoz, saying, Go, and loose the sackcloth from off thy loins, and put thy shoe from off thy foot. And he did so, walking naked and barefoot. 3 And the LORD said, Like as my servant Isaiah hath walked naked and barefoot three years for a sign and a wonder upon Egypt and upon Ethiopia; 4 so shall the king of Assyria lead away the captives of Egypt, and the exile of Ethiopia, young and old, naked and barefoot, and with buttocks uncovered, to the shame of Egypt. 5 And they shall be dismayed and ashamed, because of Ethiopia theirexpectation, and of Egypt their glory. 6 And the inhabitant of this coastland shall say in that day, Behold, such is our expectation, whither we fled for help to be delivered from the king of Assyria: and we, how shall we escape?

The burden of the wilderness of the sea. 2 As whirlwinds in the South sweep through, it cometh from the wilderness, from a terrible land. 2 A grievous vision is declared unto me: the treacherous dealer dealeth treacherously, and the spoiler spoileth. Go up, O Elam; besiege, O Media; all the nations thereof to the spoil. 3 Therefore are my loins filled with anguish; my reins are pubished, because of the tumult of the daughter of my people. 4 To the king of Assyria shall the chief of the way, to the king of Babylon; 5 and he shall say, Prepare against the island of the Gentiles, against the isle of the sea, which sends forth merchants to the length of the earth, whose coast is much to be feared.

ISAIAH.

The 9th burden of the valley of vision.

What aileth thee now, that thou art wholly gone up to the house tops? 2 O thou that art full of shoutings, a tumultuous city, a joyous town; thy slain are not slain with the sword, neither are they dead in battle. 3 All thy rulers fled away together, they were bound by the archers: all that were found of them were bound together, they fled afar off. 4 Therefore said I, Look away from me, I will weep bitterly; 5 labour not to comfort me, for the spoiling of the daughter of my people. 6 For it is a day of discomfiture, and of treading down, and of perplexity, 7 from the Lord, the Lord of hosts, in the valley of vision; a breaking down of the walls, and a crying to the mountains. 8 And Elam became the quiver, with chariots of men and horsemen; and Kir uncovered the shield. 9 And it came to pass, that thy choicest valleys were full of chariots, and the horsemen set themselves in array at the gate. 10 And he took away the covering of Judah; and thou didst look in that day to the armour in the house of the forest. 11 For it is a day of discomfiture, and of treading down, and of perplexity, 12 from the Lord, the Lord of hosts, in the valley of vision; a breaking down of the walls, and a crying to the mountains. 13 And Elam became the quiver, with chariots of men and horsemen; and Kir uncovered the shield. 14 And it came to pass, that thy choicest valleys were full of chariots, and the horsemen set themselves in array at the gate. 15 For they fled away from the sword, from the drawn sword, and from the bow, and from the grievousness of war. 16 For thus hath the Lord said unto me, Within a year, according to the years of an hireling, and all the glory of Kedar shall fail: 17 and the residue of the number of the archers, the mighty men of the children of Kedar, shall be few: 18 for the Lord, the God of Israel, hath spoken it.

11 The burden of Dumah.

One calleth out unto me of Sel'fr, Watchman, 10 what of the night? Watchman, 10 what of the night? 11 The watchman said, The morning is come, and also 12 the night: if ye will inquire, inquire ye; 13 turn ye, come. 12 The burden upon Arabia.

In the forest of Arabia shall ye lodge, O ye travelling companies of Dedanites. 14 Unto him that was thirsty they brought water; 15 for they fled away from the sword, from the drawn sword, and from the bow, and from the grievousness of war. 16 For thus hath the Lord said unto me, Within a year, according to the years of an hireling, and all the glory of Kedar shall fail: 17 and the residue of the number of the archers, the mighty men of the children of Kedar, shall be few: 18 for the Lord, the God of Israel, hath spoken it.
die, saith the Lord, the LORD of hosts.

15 Thus saith the Lord, the LORD of hosts, Go, get thee unto this treasurer, even unto Shebna, which is over the house, and say, 16 What doest thou here? and whom hast thou here, that thou hast hewed thee out here a sepulchre? 17 Behold, the LORD will hurl thee away violently as a strong man; yes, he will wrap thee up closely. 18 He will surely turn and toss thee like a ball into a large country; and thou shalt die, and there shall be the chariots of thy glory, thou shame of thy lord's house. 19 And I will thrust thee from thy office, and from thy station shall he pull thee down. 20 And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will call my servant Eliakim the son of Hilkiah: 21 and I will clothe him with thy robe, and strengthen him with thy girdle, and I will commit thy government into his hand: and he shall be a father to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to the house of Judah. 22 And the key of the house of David will I lay upon his shoulder; and he shall open, and none shall shut; and he shall shut, and none shall open. 23 And I will fasten him as a nail in a sure place; and he shall be for a throne of glory to his father's house. 24 And they shall hang upon him all the glory of his father's house, the offsprings and the issue, every small vessel, from the vessels of cups even to all the vessels of flagons. 25 In that day, saith the Lord of hosts, shall the nail that was fastened in a sure place give way; and it shall be hewn down, and fall, and the burden that was upon it shall be cut off; for the Lord hath spoken it.

23 The burden of Tyre.

Howl, ye ships of Tarshish: for it is laid waste, so that there is no entering in: from the land of Kittim it is revealed: 2 Be still, ye inhabitants of Tyre, thou merchant of Zidon, that pass over the sea, have replenished. 3 And on great waters the seed of Shihor, the harvest of the Nile, was her revenue; and she was the mart of nations. 4 Be thou ashamed, O Zidon: for the sea hath spoken, the strong hold of the sea, saying, I have not travailed, nor brought forth, neither have I nourished young men, nor brought up virgins. 5 When the report cometh to Egypt, they shall be sorely pained at the report of Tyre. 6 Pass ye over to Tarshish: howl, ye inhabitants of the isle; thou whom the merchants of Zidon, that pass over the sea, have replenished. 7 Be thou ashamed, O daughter of Zidon: at the report concerning Egypt, so shall it be unto Tyre as in the song of the harlot. 8 Take an harp, go about the city, thou harlot that hast been forgotten; make sweet melody, sing many songs, that thou mayest be rememb...
17 And it shall come to pass after the end of seventy years, that the LORD will visit Tyre, and she shall return to her hire, and shall play the harlot with all the kingdoms of the world upon the face of the earth. 18 And her merchandise and her hire shall be holiness to the LORD: it shall not be treasured nor laid up; for her merchandise shall be for them that dwell before the LORD, to eat sufficiently, and for 14 From the uttermost part of the earth have we heard songs, glory to the righteous. But I said, 'I pine away, I pine away, woe is me!' "the treacherous dealers have dealt treacherously; yea, the treacherous dealers have dealt very treacherously. 15 'Fear, and the pit, and the snare, are upon thee. O inhabitant of the earth. 16 And it shall come to pass, that he who fleeth from the noise of the fear shall fall into the pit; and he that cometh up out of the midst of the pit shall be taken in the snare: for the windows on high are opened, and the foundations of the earth do shake. 17 The earth is utterly broken down, and the earth is moved exceedingly. 18 The earth shall be utterly emptied, and it shall fall, and not rise again. 19 The earth is made to shake as a drunkard; and shall be utterly emptied, and that he be gathered together as prisoners in the pit, and after many days shall they be visited. 20 Then the moon shall be confounded, and the sun ashamed; for our God shall be king in the midst of the earth. 21 And the earth shall be removed out of its place, and the mountain shall be removed into the midst of the sea. 22 And the mountains shall be melted under the inhabitants thereof; and the earth shall shake, in the midst thereof: then the earth shall be emptied, and it shall fall, and not rise again. 23 Then the moon shall be confounded, and the sun ashamed; for our God shall be king in the midst of the earth. 24 And he shall be gathered together as prisoners in the midst of the earth: and after many days shall they be visited. 25 Then the moon shall be confounded, and the sun ashamed; for our God shall be king in the midst of the earth.

strangers to be no city; it shall never be built. 3 Therefore shall the strong people glory thee, the city of the terrible nations shall fear thee. 4 For thou hast been a strong hold to the poor, a strong hold to the needy in his distress, a refuge from the storm, a shadow against the heat, when the blast of the terrible ones is as a storm between the walls. 5 As the heat in a dry place shalt thou bring down the noise of strangers; as the heat by the shadow of a cloud, the song of the terrible ones shall be brought low. 6 And in this mountain shall the LORD of hosts make unto all peoples a feast of fat things, a feast of wines on the lees, of fat things full of marrow, of wines on the lees well refined. 7 And he will destroy in this mountain the face of the covering that is cast over all peoples, and the veil that is spread over all nations. 8 He hath swallowed up death for ever; and the Lord GOD will wipe away tears from off all faces; and the reproach of his people he shall take away from off all the earth:
for the LORD hath spoken it.

And it shall be said in that day, Lo, this is our God; we have waited for him, and he will save us: this is the LORD; we have waited for him, we will be glad and rejoice in his salvation. 10 For in this mountain shall the hand of the LORD rest, and Moab shall be trodden down in his place, even as straw is trodden down in the water of the dunghill. 11 And he shall spread forth his hands in the midst thereof, as he that swim-meth spreadeth forth his hands to swim: and he shall lay low his pride together with the craft of his hands. 12 And the fortress of the high fort of thy walls 13 1 will destroy them, and brought to the ground, even to the dust.

17 In that day shall this song be sung in the land of Judah: We have a strong city; salvation will he appoint for walls and bulwarks. Open ye the gates, that the righteous nation which keepeth truth may enter in.

18 Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee: because he trusteth in thee.
19 Trust ye in the LORD for ever:
for in him the JEHovah is an everlasting rock.

20 And the LORD, he will ordain peace for us: for thou hast al-sowrought all our works for us. 21 LORD our God, other lords beside thee have had dominion over us; 22 But by thee only will we make mention of thy name.

23 They are dead, they shall not live; they are deceased, they shall not rise: therefore hast thou visited and destroyed them, and made all their memory to perish. 24 Thou hast increased the nation, O LORD, thou hast increased the nation; thou art glorified: thou hast enlarged all the borders of the land.

25 LORD, in trouble have they visited thee, they poured out a prayer when thy chastening was upon them. 26 Like as a woman swallow up. 2 Another reading is, in the dunghill:

with child, that draweth near the time of her delivery, is in pain and crieth out in her pangs; so have we been 1 before thee, O L ORD.
18 a We have been with child, we have been in pain, we have as it were brought forth wind; we have not wrought any deliverance in the earth; 2 neither have the inhabitants of the world fallen. 19 a Thy dead shall live; my dead bodies shall arise. Awake and sing, ye that dwell in the dust: for 3 thy dew is as the dew of herbs, and the earth shall cast forth 4 the dead.
20 Come, my people, enter thou into thy chambers, and shut thy doors about thee: hidethyself 5 for a little moment, until the indignation be overpast. 21 a For, behold, the LORD cometh forth out of his place to punish the inhabitants of the earth for their iniquity: 6 the earth also shall disclose her blood, and shall no more cover her slain.

In that day the LORD
27 with his sore and great and strong 5 sword shall punish leviathan the 6 swift serpent, and leviathan the 8 crooked serpent; and he shall slay 4 the dragon that is in the sea.

In that day: 7 A vineyard of wine, 8 sing ye 9 unto it. 3 I the LORD do keep it; I will water it every moment; lest any hurt it, I will keep it night and day. 4 Fury is not in me: 10 would that the briers and thorns were against me in battle! I would march upon them, I would burn them together. 5 Or else let him take hold of my strength, that he may make peace with me; yea, let him make peace with me. 6 7 In days to come shall Jacob take root; Israel shall blossom and bud: and they shall fill the face of the world with fruit.

Hath he smitten him 8 as he smote those that smote him? or is he slain 9 according to the slaughter of them that were slain by him?
11 In measure, 12 when thou send-est her away, thou dost contend with her; 9 the hath removed her with his rough blast in the day of the east wind. 9 Therefore by this shall the iniquity of Jacob be purged, and this is all the fruit of taking away his sin; 4 when he maketh all the stones of the altar as chalkstones that are beaten in sunder, so that the 8 Asherim and the sun-images shall rise no more.
10 For the defenced city is solitary, an habitation deserted and forsaken, like the wilderness: there shall the calf feed, and there shall he lie down, and consume the branches thereof. 11 When the boths thereof are withered, they shall be broken off; the women shall come, and set them on fire:
 12 for it is a people of no understanding; therefore he that made them will not have compassion upon them, and he that formed them will shew them no favour.

And it shall come to pass in that day, that the LORD shall 13 beat off his fruit, 14 from the flood of the River unto the brook of Egypt, and ye shall be 15 gathered 17 one by one, O ye children of Israel.
And it shall come to pass in that day, that 14 a great trumpet shall be blown; 15 and they shall come which were 16 ready to perish in the land of Assyria, and they that were outcasts in the land of Egypt; and 17 they shall worship the LORD in the holy mountain at Jerusalem.

Woe to the crown of pride of Ephraim, and to the fading flower of his glorious beauty, which is on the head of the fat valley of them that are 19 overcome with wine! 1 Behold, the Lord hath a mighty and strong one; as a tempest of hail, a destroying storm, as a tempest of mighty waters overflowing, shall he cast down to the earth 20 with the hand. 3 1 The prince of pride of the drunkards of Ephraim shall be trodden under foot: 4 and the fading flower of his glorious beauty, which is on the head of the fat valley, shall be as the firstripe fig before the sumer; 2 which when he that looketh upon it seeth, while it is yet in his hand he eateth it up. 5 In that day shall the Lord of hosts be for a crown of glory, and for a diadem of beauty, unto the residue of his people: 6 and for a spirit of judgement to him that sitteth in judgement, and for strength to them that turn back the battle at the gate. 7 But these also have erred through wine, and through strong drink are gone astray; the priest and the prophet 3 have erred through strong drink, they are swallowed up of wine, they are gone astray through strong drink; they 3 err in vision, they stumble in judgement. 9 For all tables are full of vomit and filthiness, so that there is no place clean. 10 Whom will he teach knowledge? and whom will he make to understand the 1 message? them that are weaned from the milk, and drawn from the breasts: 10 For it is precept upon precept, precept upon precept; line upon line, upon line; here a little, there a little. 11 Nay, but by men of strange lips and with another tongue will he speak to this people: 12 to whom he said, 'This is the rest, give ye rest to him that is weary; and this is the refreshing: yet they would not hear. 13 Therefore shall the word of the Lord be unto them precept upon precept, precept upon precept; line upon line, upon line; here a little, there a little; that they may go, and fall backward, and be broken, and snared, and taken. 14 Wherefore hear the word of the Lord, ye 4 scornful men, that rule this people which is in Jerusalem: 15 Because ye have said, We have made a covenant 7 with death, and with 8 hell are we at agreement; when 5 the overflowing scourge shall pass through, it shall not come unto us: for we have made 4 lies our refuge, and under falsehood have we hid ourselves: 16 therefore thus saith the Lord God, 8 Behold, I 9 lay in Zion for a foundation a stone, a tried stone, a precious corner stone 5 of sure foundation: he that believeth shall not make haste. 17 And I will make judgment 5 the line, and righteousness 3 the plummet: and the hill shall sweep away the refuge of lies, and the waters shall overflow the hiding place. 18 And 3 your covenant with death shall be disannulled, and your agreement with 8 hell shall not stand; when the overflowing scourge shall pass through, then ye shall be trodden down by it. 19 As often as it passeth through, it shall take you; 5 for morning by morning shall it pass through, by day and by night: and it shall be nought but 5 terror to understand the 5 message. 20 For the bed is shorter than that a man can stretch himself on it; and the covering narrower than that he can wrap himself in it. 21 For the Lord shall rise up 6 as in mount Perazim, he shall be wroth 5 as in the valley of 4 Gibeon; that he may do his work, his strange work, and bring to pass his act, his strange act. 22 Now therefore be ye not 5 scorners, lest your bands be made strong: for 5 a consummation, and that determined, have I heard from the Lord, the Lord of hosts, upon the whole 10 earth.

23 Give ye ear, and hear my voice; hearken, and hear my speech. 24 Doth the plowman plow continually to sow? doth he continually open and break the clods of his ground? 25 When he hath made plain the face thereof, doth he not cast abroad the 11 fitches, and scatter the cummin, and put in the wheat in rows and the barley in the appointed place and the spelt in the border thereof? 26 12 14 For his God doth instruct him aright, and doth teach him. 27 For the fitches are not threshed with a sharp threshing instrument, neither is a cart wheel turned round about upon the cummin; but the fitches are beaten out with a staff, and the cummin with a rod. 28 12 Bread corn is ground; for he will not ever be threshing it: and though the wheel of his cart and his horses scatter it, he doth not grind it. 29 This also cometh forth from the Lord of hosts, which is 5 wondrous in counsel, and excellent in 14 wisdom.
And the Lord said, Forasmuch as 7 this people "draw nigh unto me, and with their mouth and with their lips do honour me, but have removed their heart far from me, and their fear of me is a commandment of men which hath been taught them: therefore, behold, I will proceed to do a marvellous work among this people, even a marvellous work and a wonder: and "the wisdom of their wise men shall perish, and the understanding of their prudent men shall be hid.

15 Woe unto them that seek deep to hide their counsel from the Lord, and their works are "in the dark, and they say, Who seeth us? and who knoweth us? 16/ Ye turn things upside down! Shall the potter be counted as clay; that the thing made should say of him that made it,—He made me not; or the thing framed say of him that framed it, He hath no understanding? 17 Is it not yet a very little while, and Lebanon shall be turned into a fruitful field, and the fruitful field shall be counted for a forest? 18 And in that day shall "the deaf hear the words of the book, and the eyes of the blind shall see out of obscurity and out of darkness. 19 The meek also shall increase their joy in the LORD, and the poor among men shall rejoice in the Holy One of Israel.

20 For the terrible one is brought to nought, and "the slanderer ceaseth, and all they that watch for iniquity are cut off: 21 that "make a man an offender in a cause, and "lay a snare for him that reproveth in the gate, and "turn aside the just with a thing of nought. 22 Therefore thus saith the Lord, "who redeemed Abraham, concerning the house of Jacob: Jacob shall not now be ashamed, neither shall his face now wax pale.

23 But when he seeth his children, "the work of mine hands, in the midst of him, they shall sanctify my name; yea, "they shall sanctify the Holy One of Jacob, and shall stand in awe of the God of Israel.
24. They also "that err in spirit shall come to understanding, and they that murmur shall learn doctrine.

30. Woe to the rebellious children, saith the LORD, that take counsel, but not of me; and that cover with a covering, but not of my spirit, that may add sin to sin: that walk to go down into Egypt, and have not asked at my mouth; to strengthen themselves in the strength of Pharaoh, and to trust in the shadow of Egypt! Therefore shall the strength of Pharaoh be your shame, and the trust in your shadow of your confusion.

4. For his princes are at Zaan, and his ambassadors are come to Hanes. They shall all be ashamed of "a people that cannot profit them, that are not an help nor profit, but a shame, and also a reproach.

6. The burden of the beasts of the South.

7. Through the land of trouble and anguish, from whence come the lioness and the lion, the viper and the fiery flying serpent, they carry their riches upon the shoulders of young asses, and their treasures upon the bunches of camels, to a people that shall not profit them.

7. For Egypt helpeth in vain, and to no purpose: therefore have I called her "Rahab that sitteth still.

8. Now go, write it before them on a tablet, and inscribe it in a book, that it may be for the time to come, "for ever and ever.

9. For it is a rebellious people, lying children, children that will not hear the law of the LORD: to "which say to "the seers, See not; and to the prophets, Prophesy not unto us right things, speak unto us smooth things, prophesy deceits: get you out of the way, turn aside out of the path, cause the Holy One of Israel to cease from before us. Therefore thus saith the Holy One of Israel: Because ye despise this word, and trust in oppression and perservance, and stay thereon; therefore this iniquity shall be to you "as a breach ready to fall, swelling out in a high wall, whose breaking cometh suddenly at an instant. And he shall break it as a potter's vessel is broken, breaking it in pieces without sparing; so that there shall not be found among the pieces thereof a sherd to take fire from the hearth, or to take water withal out of the cistern.

15. For thus said the Lord God, the Holy One of Israel, In returning and rest shall ye be saved; in quietness and in confidence shall be your strength: and ye would not. But ye said, No, for we will flee upon horses; therefore shall ye flee: and, We will ride upon the swift; therefore shall they that pursue you be swift.

17. One thousand shall fall at the rebuke of one; at the rebuke of five shall ye flee: till ye be left as a besom upon the top of a mountain, and as an ensign on an hill.

18. And therefore will the Lord wait, that he may be gracious unto you, and therefore will he be exalted, that he may have mercy upon you: for the Lord is a God of judgement; blessed are all they that wait for him.

19. For the people shall dwell in Zion at Jerusalem: thou shalt weep no more; he will surely be gracious unto thee at the voice of thy cry; when he shall hear, he will answer thee. And though the Lord give you the "bread of adversity and the "water of affliction, yet shall not thy "teachers be hidden any more, but thine eyes shall see thy "teachers: and thine ears shall hear a word behind thee, saying. This is the way, walk ye in it; when ye turn to the right hand, and when ye turn to the left. And ye shall defile the overlaying of thy graven images of silver, and the plating of thy molten images of gold: thou shalt cast them away as an "unclean thing; thou shalt say unto it, Get thee hence.

23. And he shall give the rain of thy seed, that thou shalt sow the ground withal; and bread of the increase of the ground, and it shall be fat and plenteous.

ISAIAH.

[CHAP. 32, V. 4.

In that day shall thy cattle feed in large pastures. 24 The oxen likewise and the young ases that till the ground shall eat savoury provender, which hath been winnowed with the shovel and with the fan. 25 And there shall be upon every lofty mountain, and upon every high hill, rivers and streams of waters, in the day of the great slaughter, when the towers fall. 26 Moreover the light of the moon shall be as the light of the sun, and the light of the sun shall be sevenfold, as the light of seven days, in the day that the LORD bindeth up the hurt of his people, and healeth the stroke of their wound.

27 Behold, the name of the LORD cometh from far, burning with his anger, and in thick rising smoke: his lips are full of indignation, and his tongue is as a devouring fire: 28 and his breath is as an overflowing stream, that reacheth even unto the neck, to sift the nations with the sieve of vanity: and a bridle that causeth to err shall be in the jaws of the people. 29 Ye shall have a song as in the night, when a holy feast is kept; and gladness of heart, as when one goeth with a pipe to come into a city of良好的pastures. 30 And the mountain of the LORD, to the Rock of Israel.

31 For through the voice of the LORD shall the Assyrian be broken in pieces, which your own hands have made unto you for a sin. 32 And the ensign, saith the LORD, whose fire is in Zion, and his furnace in Jerusalem.

32 A king shall reign in righteousness, and princes shall rule in judgement.

Woe to them that go down to Egypt for help, and stay in chariots, because they are many, and in horsemen, because they are very strong; but they look not unto the Holy One of Israel, neither seek the LORD: 2 Yet he also is wise, and will bring evil, and will not call back his words: 3 but will arise against the house of the evil-doers, and against the help of them that work iniquity. 4 Now the Egyptians are men, and not God; and their horses' flesh, and not spirit: and when the LORD shall stretch out his hand, both he that helpeth shall stumble, and he that is holpen shall fall, and they all shall fall together. 5 For thus saith the LORD unto me, Like as when the lion growleth and the young lion over his prey, if a multitude of shepherds be called forth against him, he will not be dismayed at their voice, nor abase himself for the noise of them: 6 so shall the LORD of hosts come down to fight upon mount Zion, and upon the hill thereof.

3 As birds flying, so will the LORD of hosts protect Jerusalem; he will protect and deliver it, he will pass over and preserve it. 6 =Turn ye unto him from whom ye have *deeply revolted, 0 children of Israel. 7 For in that day they shall cast away every man his idols of silver, and his idols of gold, which your own hands have made unto you for a sin. 8 Then shall the Assyrian fall with the sword, not of man; and the sword, and the horse, and the battle, and the hirelings of the nations. 9 And *his rock shall pass away by reason of terror, and his princes shall be dismayed at the ensign, saith the LORD, whose fire is in Zion, and his furnace in Jerusalem.

Behold, a king shall reign in righteousness, and princes shall rule in judgement.

And a man shall be as an hiding place from the wind, and a covert from the tempest; as rivers of water in a dry place, as the shadow of a great rock in a weary land.

And the eyes of them that see shall not be dim, and the ears of them that hear shall hearken. 4 The heart also of the rash shall understand knowledge, and the tongue of the stammerers shall be ready to speak plainly. "The vile person shall be no more called liberal, nor the churl said to be bountiful. 6 For the vile person will speak villany, and his heart will work iniquity, to practise profaneness, and to utter error against the Lord, to make empty the soul of the hungry, and to cause the drink of the thirsty to fail. 7 The instruments also of the churl are evil: he deviseth wicked devices to destroy the meek with lying words, even when the needy speaketh right. 8 But the liberal deviseth liberal things; and in liberal things shall he continue. 9 Rise up, ye women that are at ease, and hear my voice; ye careless daughters, give ear unto my speech. 10 For days beyond a year shall ye be troubled, ye careless women: for the vintage shall fail, the ingathering shall not come. 11 Tremble, ye women that are at ease; be troubled, ye careless ones: strip you, and make you bare, and gird sackcloth upon your loins. 12 They shall smite upon the breasts for the pleasant fields, for the fruitful vine. 13 Upon the land of my people shall come up thorns and briers;* yea, upon all houses of joy in the joyous-city: 14 for the palace shall be forsaken; the populous city shall be deserted; the hill and the watch-tower shall be for dens for ever. 15 A joy of wild asses, a pasture of flocks; 15 until the spirit be poured upon us from on high, and the wilderness become a fruitful field, and the fruitful field be counted for a forest. 16 Then judgement shall swallow in the wilderness, and righteousness shall abide in the fruitful field. 17 And the work of righteousness shall be peace; and the effect of righteousness quietness and confidence for ever. 18 And my people shall abide in a peaceable habitation, and in sure dwellings, and in quiet resting places. 19 But it shall hail, in the downfall of the forest; and the city shall be utterly laid low. 20 Blessed are ye that sow beside all waters, that send forth the feet of the ox and the ass.

1 Woe to thee that spoilest, and thou wast not spoiled; and dealdest treacherously, and they dealt not treacherously with thee! When thou hast ceased to spoil, thou shalt be spoiled; and when thou hast made an end to deal treacherously, they shall deal treacherously with thee. 2 O Lord, be gracious unto us; we have waited for thee: be thou their arm every morning, our salvation also in the time of trouble. 3 At the noise of the tumult the peoples are fled; at the lifting up of thyself the nations are scattered. 4 And your spoil shall be gathered as the caterpillar gathereth: as locusts leap shall they leap upon it. 5 The Lord is exalted; for he dwelleth on high: he hath filled Zion with judgement and righteousness. 6 And there shall be stability in thy times, abundance of salvation, wisdom and knowledge: the fear of the Lord is his treasure.

7 Behold, their valiant ones cry without: the ambassadors of peace weep bitterly. 8 The high ways lie waste, the wayfaring man ceaseth: he hath broken the covenant, he hath despised the cities, he regardeth not man. 9 The land mourneth and languisheth: Lebanon is ashamed and withereth away: Sharon is like a desert; and Bashan and Carmel shake off their leaves. 10 Now will I arise, saith the Lord; now will I lift up my arm. 11 Ye shall conceive chaff, ye shall bring forth stubble: your breath is a fire that shall devour you. 12 And the peoples shall be as the burnings of lime: as thorns cut down, that are burned in the fire.

13 Hear, ye that are far off, what I have done; and, ye that are near, acknowledge my might. 14 The sinners in Zion are afraid; trembling hath surprised the godless ones. 15 Who among us shall dwell a with the devouring fire? who among us shall dwell with everlasting burnings? 16 He that walk-eth righteously, and speaketh up rightly; he that despiseth the gain of oppressions, that shaketh his hands from holding of bribes, that stoppeth his ears from hearing of blood, and shutteth his eyes from looking upon evil; 16 he shall dwell on high: his place of defence shall be the munitions of rocks: his bread shall be given him; his waters shall be sure. 17 Thine eyes shall see the king in his beauty: they shall behold him, a far stretching land. 18 Thine heart shall muse on the terror: where is he that counted, where is he that weighed the tribute? where is he that counted the towers? 19 Thou shalt not see the fierce people, a people of a deep speech that thou canst not perceive; of a strange tongue that thou canst not understand. 20 Look upon Zion, the city of our solemnities: thine eyes shall see Jerusalem a quiet habitation, a tent that shall not be removed, the stakes whereof shall never be plucked up, neither shall any of the cords thereof be broken. 21 But there the Lord will be with us in majesty, his place of defence shall be the munition of rocks: his bread shall be given him; his waters shall be sure. 22 For the Lord is our judge, the Lord is our lawgiver, the Lord is our king; he will save us. 23 Thy tactlings are loosed; they could not strengthen the foot of their mast, they could not spread the sail: then was the prey of a great spoil divided; the Lance took the prey. 24 And the inhabitant shall not say, I am sick: the people that dwell therein shall be forgiven their iniquity. 25 Come near, ye nations, to hear; and hearken, ye peoples: let the earth hear, and all things that come forth of it. 26 For the Lord hath indignation against all the nations, and fury against all their host: he hath utterly destroyed them, he hath delivered them to the slaughter. 27 Their slain also shall be cast out, and the stink of their carcases shall come up, and the mountains shall be melted with their blood. 28 And all the host of heaven shall be dissolved, and the heavens shall be rolled together as a scroll: and all their host shall fade away, as the leaf fadeth from off the vine, and as a fading leaf from the fig tree. 29 For my sword hath drunk its fill in heaven: behold, it shall come down upon Edom, and upon the people of my curse, to judge them. 30 The sword of the Lord is filled with blood, it is made fat with fatness, with the blood of lambs and goats, with the fat of the kidneys of rams: for the Lord hath a sacrifice in Bozrah, and a great slaughter in the land of Edom. 31 And the wild-oxen shall come down with them, and the bullocks with the bulls; and their land shall be drunken with blood, and their dust made fat with fatness. 32 For it is the day of the Lord's vengeance, the year of recompence in the controversy of Zion. 33 And the streams thereof shall be turned into pitch, and the dust thereof into brimstone, and the land thereof shall be burning pitch, thereof shall go up forever: from generation to generation it shall lie waste; none shall pass through it forever and ever, 34 But the pelican and the porcupine shall possess it; and the owls and the ravens shall dwell therein: and he shall stretch over it the line of confusion, and the plummet of emptiness. 35 They shall call the nobles thereof to the kingdom, but none shall be there; and all her princes shall be nothing. 36 And thorns shall come up in her palaces, nettles and thistles in the fortresses thereof: and it shall be an habitation of jackals, a court for ostriches. 37 And the wild beasts of the desert shall meet with the wolves, and the night-monster shall settle there, and shall find her a place of rest. 38 There shall the arrowmake her nest, and lay, and hatch, and gather under her shadow: yea, 39 Come near, ye nations, to hear; and hearken, ye peoples: let the earth hear, and the fulness thereof; the world, and all things that come forth of it. 40 For the Lord hath indignation against all the nations, and fury against all their host: he hath utterly destroyed them, he hath delivered them to the slaughter. 3 Their slain also shall be cast out, and the stink of their carcases shall come up, and the mountains shall be melted with their blood. 41 And all the host of heaven shall be dissolved, and the heavens shall be rolled together as a scroll: and all their host shall fade away, as the leaf fadeth from off the vine, and as a fading leaf from the fig tree. 42 For my sword hath drunk its fill in heaven: behold, it shall come down upon Edom, and upon the people of my curse, to judge them. 43 The sword of the Lord is filled with blood, it is made fat with fatness, with the blood of lambs and goats, with the fat of the kidneys of rams: for the Lord hath a sacrifice in Bozrah, and a great slaughter in the land of Edom. 44 And the wild-oxen shall come down with them, and the bullocks with the bulls; and their land shall be drunken with blood, and their dust made fat with fatness. 45 For it is the day of the Lord's vengeance, the year of recompence in the controversy of Zion. 46 And the streams thereof shall be turned into pitch, and the dust thereof into brimstone, and the land thereof shall be burning pitch, thereof shall go up forever: from generation to generation it shall lie waste; none shall pass through it forever and ever, 47 But the pelican and the porcupine shall possess it; and the owls and the ravens shall dwell therein: and he shall stretch over it the line of confusion, and the plummet of emptiness. 48 They shall call the nobles thereof to the kingdom, but none shall be there; and all her princes shall be nothing. 49 And thorns shall come up in her palaces, nettles and thistles in the fortresses thereof: and it shall be an habitation of jackals, a court for ostriches. 50 And the wild beasts of the desert shall meet with the wolves, and the night-monster shall settle there, and shall find her a place of rest. 51 There shall the arrow make her nest, and lay, and hatch, and gather under her shadow: yea, there shall the kites be gathered, every one with her mate. 16 Seek ye out of the book of the Lord, and read: no one of these shall be missing, none shall want her mate: for my mouth it hath commanded, and his spirit it hath gathered them.

And he hath cast the lot for them, and his hand hath divided it unto them by line: they shall possess it for ever, from generation to generation shall they dwell therein.

13 The wilderness and the solitary place shall be glad; and the desert shall rejoice, and blossom as the rose; 14 It shall blossom abundantly, and rejoice even with joy and singing; the glory of Lebanon shall be given unto it, the excellency of Carmel and Sharon: they shall see the glory of the Lord, the excellency of our God. 15 Strengthen ye the weak hands, and confirm the feeble knees. 16 Say to them that are of a fearful heart, Be strong, fear not: hold, your God will come with vengeance, with the recompence of God; he will come and save you.

Then the eyes of the blind shall be opened, and the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped. Then Shall the lame man leap as an hart, and the tongue of the dumb shall sing: for in the wilderness shall waters break out, and streams in the desert:

And the glory of Lebanon shall be given unto it, the excellency of Carmel and Sharon: they shall see the glory of the Lord, the excellency of our God. 3 Strengthen ye the weak hands, and confirm the feeble knees. 4 Say to them that are of a fearful heart, Be strong, fear not: hold, your God will come with vengeance, with the recompence of God; he will come and save you.

And the laman leap as an hart, and the tongue of the dumb shall sing: for in the wilderness shall waters break out, and streams in the desert, and the dry ground shall become a pool, and the thirsty ground springs of water: in the habitation of jackals, where they lay, shall be grass with reeds and rushes. And an high way shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called The way of holiness; the unclean shall not pass over it; but it shall be for those: the wayfaring men, yea fools, shall not err therein. No lion shall be there, nor shall any ravenous beast go up thereon, they shall not be found there; but the redeemed shall walk there: and the ransomed of the Lord shall return, and come with singing unto Zion; and everlasting joy shall be upon their heads; they shall obtain gladness and joy, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away.

Now it came to pass in the fourteenth year of king Hezekiah, that Sennacherib king of Assyria came up against all the fenced cities of Judah, and took them. And the king of Assyria sent Rabshakeh from Lachish unto Jerusalem unto king Hezekiah with a great army. And he stood by the conduit of the upper pool in the high way of the fuller's field. Then came forth unto him Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, which was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah the son of Asaph the recorder. And Rabshakeh said unto them, Say ye now to Hezekiah, Thus saith the great king, the king of Assyria, What confidence is this wherein thou trustest? If thou say, thy counsel and strength for the war are but vain words: now on whom dost thou trust, that thou hast rebelled against me? Behold, thou trustest upon the staff of this bruised reed, even upon Egypt; whereon if a man lean, it will go into his hand, and pierce it: so is Pharaoh king of Egypt to all that trust on him. But if thou say unto me, We trust in the Lord our God: is not that he, whose high places and whose altars Hezekiah hath taken away, and lieth and said to Judah and to Jerusalem, Ye shall worship before this altar? Now therefore, I pray thee, give pledges to my master the king of Assyria, and I will give thee two thousand horses, if thou be able on thy part to set riders upon them. How then canst thou turn away the face of one captain of the least of my master's servants, and put thy trust on Egypt for chariots and for horsemen? And am I now come up without the Lord against this land to destroy it? The Lord said unto me, Go up against this land, and destroy it.

Then said Eliakim and Shebna and Joah unto Rabshakeh, Speak, I pray thee, in the Syrian language; for we understand it: and speak not to us in the tongue of Egypt. For ver. 1-22, see 2 Kin. 18. 13, 17-19. See 2 Chr. 22. 4. And Rabshakeh said unto them, Say ye now to Hezekiah, Thus saith the king of Assyria, What confidence is this wherein thou trustest? If thou say, thy counsel and strength for the war are but vain words: now on whom dost thou trust, that thou hast rebelled against me? Behold, thou trustest upon the staff of this bruised reed, even upon Egypt; whereon if a man lean, it will go into his hand, and pierce it: so is Pharaoh king of Egypt to all that trust on him. But if thou say unto me, We trust in the Lord our God: is not that he, whose high places and whose altars Hezekiah hath taken away, and lieth and said to Judah and to Jerusalem, Ye shall worship before this altar? Now therefore, I pray thee, give pledges to my master the king of Assyria, and I will give thee two thousand horses, if thou be able on thy part to set riders upon them. How then canst thou turn away the face of one captain of the least of my master's servants, and put thy trust on Egypt for chariots and for horsemen? And am I now come up without the Lord against this land to destroy it? The Lord said unto me, Go up against this land, and destroy it.

Then said Eliakim and Shebna and Joah unto Rabshakeh, Speak, I pray thee, unto my master the king of Assyria, Thus saith the lord, the king of Israel, where is the God of the whole earth, that thou diest? Where is the God of the whole earth, that thou diest? The Lord is the name of our God. That made the earth by his power, who established it by his wisdom, and stretched out the heavens by his discretion. He gathereth the waters of the sea together as an heap; he layeth up the depth in storehouses. He setteth up the mountains by line; he establisheth all the ends of the earth. He remembers that the earth is made of a mixture of water and earth. He covereth the deep with clouds; he预备the waters that are hid under the earth. They flow out by the command of the Lord: they are gathered together as a herd; they are numbered and reckoned. When he bindeth the thick creeping things, the stalks thereof are an horror; when he passeth through, the waters are frozen, the breadth thereof is frozen together, so that there is no way for the fish to pass through.
the Jews' language, in the ears of the people that are on the wall.

12 But Rabshakeh said, Hath my master sent me to thy master, and to thee, to speak these words? Hath he not sent me to the men that sit upon the wall, to eat their own dung, and to drink their own water with you? 13 Then Rabshakeh stood, and cried with a loud voice in the Jews' language, and said, Hear ye the words of the great king, the king of Assyria. 14 Thus saith the king, *Let not Hezekiah deceive you; for he shall not be able to deliver you: 15 neither let Hezekiah make you trust in the Lord, saying, The Lord will surely deliver us; this city shall not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria. 16 Hearken not to Hezekiah: for thus saith the king of Assyria, *Make your peace with me, and come out to me; and eat ye everyone of his vine, and every one of his figtree, and drink ye every one the waters of his own cistern: 17 until I come and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of corn and wine, a land of bread and vineyards. 18 Beware lest Hezekiah persuade you, saying, The Lord will deliver us. 19 Hath any of the gods of the nations delivered his land out of the hand of the king of Assyria? 20 Where are the gods of Hamath and Arpad? where are the gods of Sepharvaim? and have they delivered Samaria out of my hand? 21 Who are they among all the gods of these countries, that have delivered their country out of my hand, that the Lord should deliver Jerusalem out of my hand? 22 But they held their peace, and answered him not a word: for the king's commandment was, saying, Answer him not.

23 Then came Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, that was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah the son of Asaph the recorder, to Hezekiah with their clothes rent, and told him the words of Rabshakeh.

37 And it came to pass, when king Hezekiah heard it, that he rent his clothes, and covered himself with sackcloth, and went into the house of the Lord.
it: and Hezekiah went up unto the house of the LORD, and spread it before the LORD. And Hezekiah prayed unto the LORD, saying, O Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, that sitteth upon the cherubim, thou art the God, even thou alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth; thou hast made heaven and earth.

And Hezekiah prayed unto the LORD, saying, O Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, that sitteth upon the cherubim, thou art the God, even thou alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth; thou hast made heaven and earth. Incline thine ear, O Lord, and hear; open thine eyes, O Lord, and see: and hear all the words of Sennacherib, which hath sent to reproach the living God. Of a truth, Lord, the kings of Assyria have laid waste all the countries, and their land, and have cast their gods into the fire: for they were no gods, but the work of men’s hands, wood and stone; therefore they have destroyed them. Now therefore, O Lord our God, save us from his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that thou art the Lord, even thou only.

Then Isaiah the son of Amoz sent unto Hezekiah, saying, Thus saith the Lord, the God of Israel, Whereas thou hast prayed to me against Sennacherib king of Assyria, this is the word which the Lord hath spoken concerning him: The virgin daughter of Zion hath despised thee and laughed thee to scorn; the daughter of Jerusalem hath shaken her head at thee. Whom hast thou reproached and blasphemed? and against whom hast thou exalted thy voice and lifted up thine eyes on high? even against the Holy One of Israel. By thy servants hast thou reproached the Lord, and hast said, With the multitude of my chariots I am come up to the height of the mountains, to the innermost parts of Lebanon: and I will cut down the tall cedars thereof, and the choice fir trees thereof: and I will enter into his farthest height, the forest of his fruitful field. I have digged and drunk water, and with the sole of my feet will I dry up all the rivers of Egypt. Hast thou not heard how I have done it long ago, and formed it of ancient times? now have I brought it to pass, that thou shouldest be to lay waste fenced cities into ruinous heaps. Therefore their inhabitants were of small power, they were dismayed and confounded; they were as the grass of the field, and as the green herb, as the grass on the housetops, and as a field of corn before it be grown up.

But I know thy sitting down, and thy going out, and thy coming in, and thy raging against me. Because of thy raging against me, and for that thine arrogancy is come up into mine ears, therefore will I put my hook in thine nose, and my bridle in thy lips, and I will turn thee back by the way by which thou camest. And this shall be the sign unto thee: ye shall eat this year that which groweth of itself, and in the second year that which springeth of the same; and in the third year sow ye, and reap, and plant vineyards, and eat the fruit thereof. And the remnant that is escaped of the house of Judah shall again take root downward, and bear fruit upward. For out of Jerusalem shall go forth a remnant, and out of mount Zion they that shall escape: the zeal of the Lord of hosts shall perform this. Therefore thus saith the Lord concerning the king of Assyria, He shall not come unto this city, nor shoot an arrow there, nor come before it with shield, nor cast a mount against it. By the way that he came, by the same shall he return, and he shall not come unto this city, saith the Lord. For I will defend this city to save it, for mine own sake, and for my servant David’s sake. And the angel of the Lord went forth, and smote in the camp of the Assyrians a hundred and fourscore and five thousand: and when men arose early in the morning, behold, they were all dead corpses. So Sennacherib king of Assyria departed, and went and returned, and dwelt at Nineveh. And it came to pass, as he was worshipping in the house of Nisroch his god, that Adrammelech and Sharezer his sons smote him with the sword: and they escaped into the land of Ararat. And Esarhaddon his son reigned in his stead.

In those days was Hezekiah sick unto death. And Isaiah the prophet the son of Amoz came to him, and said unto him, Thus saith the Lord, Set thine house in order; for thou shalt die, and not live. Then Hezekiah turned his face to the wall, and prayed unto the Lord, and said, Remember now, O Lord, how I have walked before thee in truth and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thy sight. And Hezekiah wept sore.

Then came the word of the Lord to Isaiah, saying, Go, and say to Hezekiah, Thus saith the Lord, the God of David thy father, I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears: behold, I will add unto thy days fifteen years. And I will deliver thee and this city out of the hand of the king of Assyria: and I will defend this city. And this shall be the sign unto thee from the Lord, that the Lord will do this thing that he hath spoken: Behold, I will cause the shadow on the steps, which is gone down on the dial of Ahaz, with the sun, to return backward ten steps. So the sun returned ten steps on the dial, whereon it was gone down.

The writing of Hezekiah king of Judah, when he had been sick, and was recovered of his sickness. I said, In the noon tide of my days I shall go into the gates of the grave: I am deprived of the residue of my years.

I said, I shall not see the Lord, even in the land of the living: I shall behold man no more with the inhabitants of the world.

Mine age is removed, and is carried away from me as a shepherd’s tent: I have rolled up like a weaver my life; he will cut me off from the shuttle. From day even to night wilt thou make an end of me.

14 Like a swallow or a crane, so did I chatter; I did mourn as a dove: mine eyes fall with looking upward.

And the Lord, I am oppressed, because of the bitterness of my soul.

15 What shall I say? he hath both spoken unto me, and himself hath done it: I shall go softly all my years because of the bitterness of my soul.

16 O Lord, by these things men live, And wholly therein is the life of my spirit: Wherefore recover thou me, and make me to live.

17 Behold, it was for my peace that I had great bitterness:

But thou hast in love to my soul delivered it from the pit of corruption;

For thou hast cast all my sins behind thy back.

18 For the grave cannot praise thee, death cannot celebrate thee:

They that go down into the pit cannot hope for thy truth.

19 The living, the living, he shall praise thee, as I do this day:
The father to the children shall make known thy truth.

20 The Lord is ready to save me: Therefore we will sing my songs to the stringed instruments All the days of our life in the house of the Lord.

21 Now Isaiah had said, Let them take a cake of figs, and lay it for a plaister upon the boil, and he shall recover. Hezekiah also had said, What is the sign that I shall go up to the house of the Lord?

22 At that time Merodach-baladan the son of Baladan, king of Babylon, sent letters and a present to Hezekiah: for he heard that he had been sick, and was recovered. And Hezekiah was glad of them, and shewed them the house of his precious things, the silver, and the gold, and the spices, and the precious oil, and all the house of his armour, and all... that was found in his treasures:

there was nothing in his house, nor in all his dominion, that Hezekiah shewed them not. Then came Isaiah the prophet unto king Hezekiah, and said unto him, What said these men? and from whence came they unto thee? And Hezekiah said, They are come from a far country unto me, even from Babylon. Then said he, What have they seen in thine house? And Hezekiah answered. All that is in mine house have they seen: there is nothing among my treasures that I have not shewed them. Then said Isaiah to Hezekiah, Hear the word of the Lord of hosts. Behold, the days come, that all that is in thine house, and that which thy fathers have laid up until this day, shall be carried to Babylon: nothing shall be left, saith the Lord. And of thy sons that shall issue from thee, which thou shalt beget, shall they take away; and they shall be eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon. Then said Hezekiah unto Isaiah, Good is the word of the Lord which thou hast spoken. He said moreover, For there shall be peace and truth in my days. Comfort ye, comfort ye my people, saith your God. Speak ye comfortably to Jerusalem, and cry unto her, that her warfare is accomplished, that her iniquity is pardoned; that she hath received of the Lord's hand double for all her sins.

The voice of one that crieth, Prepare ye in the wilderness the way of the Lord; make straight in the deserts a highway for our God. Every valley shall be exalted, and every mountain and hill shall be made low: and the crooked places shall be made straight, and the rough places plain: and the glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it. The voice of one saying, Cry. And one said, What shall I cry? All flesh is grass, and all the goodness thereof is as the flower of the field: the grass withereth, the flower fadeth; because the breath of the Lord bloweth upon it: surely the people is grass. The grass withereth, the flower fadeth: but the word of our God shall stand for ever.

O thou that tellest good tidings to Zion, get thee up into the high mountain; O thou that tellest good tidings to Jerusalem, lift up thy voice with strength; lift it up, be not afraid; say unto the cities of Judah, Behold, your God! Behold, the Lord God will come as a mighty one, and his arm shall rule for him: behold, his reward is with him, and his recompence before him. He shall feed his flock like a shepherd, he shall gather the lambs in his arm, and carry them in his bosom, and shall gently lead those that give suck.

Who hath measured the waters in the hollow of his hand, and meted out heaven with the span, and comprehended the dust of the earth in a measure, and weighed the mountains in scales, and the hills in a balance? Who hath directed the spirit of the Lord, or being his counsellor hath taught him? With whom took he counsel, and who instructed him, and who taught him in the path of judgement, and who taught him knowledge, and shewed to him the way of understanding?

Behold, then the nations are as a drop of a bucket, and are counted as the small dust of the balance: behold, he taketh up the isles as a very little thing. And Lebanon is not sufficient to burn, nor the beasts thereof sufficient for a burn offering. All the nations are as nothing before him; they are counted to him less than nothing, and vanity. To whom then will ye liken God? or what likeness will ye compare unto him? The graven image, a workman melteth it, and the goldsmith spreadeth it over with gold, and casteth for it silver chains. He that is too impoverished for such an oblation chooseth a tree that will not rot; he seeketh unto him a cunning workman to set up a graven image, that shall not be moved. 21 *Have ye not known? have ye not heard? hath it not been told you from the beginning? have ye not understood from the foundations of the earth? 22 *It is he that sitteth upon the circle of the earth, and the inhabitants thereof, are as grasshoppers; that stretcheth out the heavens as a curtain, and spreadeth them out as a tent to dwell in: 23 that bringeth princes to nothing; he maketh the judges of the earth as vanity. 24 *Yea, they have not been planted; yea, they have not been sown; yea, their stock hath not taken root in the earth: moreover he bloweth upon them, and they wither, and the whirlwind taketh them away as stubble. 25 *To whom then will ye liken me, that I should be equal to him? saith the Holy One. 26 Lift up your eyes on high, and see who hath created these, that bringeth out their host by number; he calleth them all by name; by the greatness of his might, and for that he is strong in power, not one is lacking. 27 *Why saiest thou, O Jacob, and speakest, O Israel, *My way is hid from the L ORD, and my judgment is passed away from my God? 28 Hast thou not known? hast thou not heard? *I the everlasting God, the LORD, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth not, neither is weary; 29 *there is no searching of his understanding. 30 He giveth power to the faint; and to him that hath no might he increaseth strength. 31 Even the youths shall faint and be weary, and the young men shall utterly fall: 32 but they that wait upon the LORD shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; they shall walk, and not faint. 33 *Keep silence before me, O islands; and let the peoples renew their strength: let them come near; then let them speak: let us come near together to judgment. 34 *Who hath raised up one from the east, whom he calleth in righteousness unto his foot? *He giveth nations before him, and maketh him rule over kings; 35 he giveth them as the dust to his sword, as the driven stubble to his bow. 36 He pursueth them, and passeth on safely; even by a way that he had not gone with his feet. 37 *Who hath wrought and done it, calling the generations from the beginning? *I the LORD, the first, and with the last, I am he. 38 The isles saw, and feared; the ends of the earth trembled: they drew near, and came. 39 They helped every one his neighbour; and every one said to his brother, Be of good courage. 40 So the carpenter encouraged the goldsmith, and he that smootheth with the hammer him that smiteth the anvil, saying of the soldering: It is good: and he fastened it with nails, that it should not be moved.

8 But thou, Israel, *my servant, Jacob *whom I have chosen, the seed of Abraham *my friend; 9 thou whom I have taken hold of from the ends of the earth, and called thee from the corners thereof, and said unto thee, Thou art *my servant, *I have chosen thee and not cast thee away; 10 fear thou not, for I am with thee; 11 be not dismayed, for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness. 12 *Behold, all they that are incensed against thee shall be ashamed and confounded: they that strive with thee shall be as nothing, and shall perish. 13 *Thou shalt seek them, and shalt not find them, even them that contend with thee: *they that war against thee shall be as nothing, and as a thing of nought. 14 For I the LORD thy God will hold thy right hand, saying unto thee, Fear not: I will help thee. 15 Fear not, thou worm Jacob, and ye men of Israel; I will help thee, saith the LORD, and 11 thy redeemer is the Holy One of Israel. 16 *Behold, I will make thee a new sharp threshing instrument having teeth: thou shalt thresh the mountains, and beat them small, and shalt make the hills as chaff. 17 *Thou shalt fan them, and the wind shall carry them away to judgment. 18 *Let the nations be afraid of thee, which have not known thy name; for they shall know that I am the LORD, the only God. 19 *The heavens are my throne, and the earth is my footstool: 20 hast thou not known? hast thou not heard? I gave my power unto the wind, and my might unto the mighty waters, 21 that create the winds, and furnisheth all flesh with food, and provideth for the beasts of the field. 22 I 23 *fear no man,OR, I 24 *fear no man, for I will deliver thee, and give thee the king's goods; 24 *fear no man.
away, and the whirlwind shall scatter them; and thou shalt rejoice in the LORD, thou shalt glory in the Holy One of Israel. 17 The poor and needy seek water and there is none, and their tongue faileth for thirst; I the LORD will answer them, I the God of Israel will not forsake them. 18 I will open rivers on the bare heights, and fountains in the midst of the valleys: 19 I will make the wilderness a pool of water, and the dry land springs of water. 20 I will plant in the wilderness the cedar, the acacia tree, and the myrtle, and the olive tree; I will set in the desert the fir tree, the pine, and the box tree together: so that they may see, and know, and consider, and understand together, that the hand of the LORD hath done this, and the Holy One of Israel hath created it.

21 Produce your cause, saith the LORD; bring forth your strong reasons, saith the King of Jacob.

22 Let them bring forth their causes, and declare unto us what shall happen: declare ye the former things, what they be, that we may consider them, and know the latter end of them; or shew us things for to come.

23 Declare the things that are to come hereafter, that we may know that ye are gods: yea, do good, or do evil, that we may be dismayed, and behold it together.

24 Behold, ye are of nothing, and your work of nought: an abomination is he that chooseth you.

25 I have raised up one from the north, and he is come; from the rising of the sun one that calleth upon my name: and he shall come upon rulers as upon mortar, and as the potter treadeth clay. 26 Who hath declared it from the beginning, that we may know; and beforehand, that we may say, He is righteous? yea, there is none that declareth, yea, there is none that sheweth, yea, there is none that heareth your words. 27 P I first will say unto Zion, Behold, behold them; and I will give to Jerusalem one that bringeth good tidings. 28 And when I look, there is no man; even among them there is no counsellor, that, when I ask of them, can answer a word. 29 Behold, all of them, their works are vanity and nought; their molten images are wind and confusion.

1 Behold my servant, whom I uphold; my chosen, in whom my soul delighteth: I have put my spirit upon him; he shall bring forth judgement to the Gentiles. 2 He shall not cry, nor lift up, nor cause his voice to be heard in the street.

3 A bruised reed shall he not break, and the smoking flax shall he not quench: he shall bring forth judgement in truth.

4 He shall not fail nor be discouraged, till he have set judgement in the earth; and the isles shall wait for his law.

5 Thus saith God the Lord, he that created the heavens, and extended them, he that spread abroad the earth and that which cometh out of it; he that giveth breath unto the people upon it, and spirit to them that walk therein: I the Lord have called thee in righteousness, and will hold thine hand, and will keep thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, for a light of the Gentiles; 7 to open the blind eyes, to bring out the prisoners from the dungeon, and them that sit in darkness out of the prison house.

8 I am the Lord; that is my name: and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise unto graven images. 9 Behold, the former things are come to pass, and new things do I declare: before they spring forth I tell you of them.

10 Sing unto the Lord a new song, and his praise from the end of the earth; ye that go down to the sea, and all that is therein, ye the isles, and the inhabitants thereof. 11 Let the wilderness and the cities thereof lift up their voice, the villages that Kedar doth inhabit; let the inhabitants of Selah sing, let them shout from the top of the mountains. 12 Let them give glory unto the Lord, and declare his praise in the islands.

13 The Lord shall go forth as a mighty man; he shall stir up jealousy like a man of war: he shall cry, yea, he shall shout aloud; he shall do mightily against his enemies.
14 I have long time held my peace; I have been still, and refrained myself: now will I cry out like a travelling woman; I will get up panting together. 15 I will make waste mountains and hills, and dry up all their herbs; and I will dry up the pools. 16 And I will bring the blind by a way that they know not; in paths that they know not will I lead them: I will make darkness light before them, and crooked places straight. These things will I do, and I will not forsake them. 17 They shall be turned back, they shall be greatly ashamed, that trust in graven images, that say unto molten images, Ye are our gods.

18 Hear, ye deaf; and look, ye blind, that ye may see. 19 Who is blind, but my servant? or deaf, as my messenger that I send? who is blind as he that is at peace with me, and blind as the LORD's servant? 20 Thou seest many things, but thou observest not; his ears are open, but he heareth not. 21 It pleased the LORD, for his righteousness's sake, to magnify the law, and make it honourable. 22 But this is a people robbed and spoiled; they are all of them snared in holes, and they are hid in prison houses; they are for a prey, and none delivereth; for a spoil, and none saith, Kneel. 23 Who is among you that will give ear to this? that will hear, and say, It is truth. 20 Ye are my witnesses, saith the LORD, and my servant whom I have chosen: that ye may know and believe me, and understand that I am he; before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me. 21 I, even I, am the LORD; and beside me there is no saviour. 22 I have declared, and I have saved, and I have shewed, and there was no strange god among you: therefore ye are my witnesses, saith the LORD, and I am God. 23 Yea, since the day was I am he; and there is none that can deliver out of my hand: I will work, and who shall not let it?

14 Thus saith the LORD, your redeemer, the Holy One of Israel: 2 'For your sake I have sent to Babylon, and I will bring down all of them as fugitives, even the Chaldeans, in the ships of their rejoicing. 15 I am the LORD, your Holy waters, I will be with thee; and through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee: 'when thou walkest through the fire, thou shalt not be burned; neither shall the flame kindle upon thee. 3 For I am the Lord thy God, the Holy One of Israel, thy saviour; I have given Egypt as thy ransom, Ethiopia and Seba for thee. 4 Since thou hast been precious in my sight, and honourable, and I have loved thee; therefore will I give men for thee, and peoples for thy life. 5 Fear not; for I am with thee: I will bring thy seed from the east, and gather thee from the west; 6 I will say to the north, Give up; and to the south, Keep not back: bring my sons from far, and my daughters from the end of the earth; 7 every one that is called by my name, and whom I have created for my glory; I have formed him; yes, I have made him. 8 Bring forth the blind people that have eyes, and the deaf that have ears. 9 Let all the nations be gathered together, and let the peoples be assembled: who among them can declare this, and shew us former things? let them bring their witnesses, that they may be justified: or let them hear, and say, It is truth. 10 Ye are my witnesses, saith the LORD, and my servant whom I have chosen: that ye may know and believe me, and understand that I am he; before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me. 11 I, even I, am the LORD; and beside me there is no saviour. 12 I have declared, and I have saved, and I have shewed, and there was no strange god among you: therefore ye are my witnesses, saith the LORD, and I am God. 13 Yea, since the day was I am he; and there is none that can deliver out of my hand: I will work, and who shall not let it?

One, the Creator of Israel, your King. 16Thus saith the Lord, *which maketh a way in the sea, and a path in the mighty waters; 17which bringeth forth the chariot and horse, the army and the power; they lie down together, they shall not rise; *they are extinct, they are quenched as flux:

18*Remember ye not the former things, neither consider the things of old. 19*Behold, I will do a new thing; now shall it spring forth; shall ye not know it? *I will even make a way in the wilderness, and rivers in the desert. 20The beasts of the field shall honour me, *the jackals and the ostriches: *because I give waters in the wilderness, and rivers in the desert, to give drink to my people, my chosen: 21the people which I formed for myself, 22that they might set forth my praise. 23Yet thou hast not called upon me, O Jacob; but I have been weary of me, O Israel. 24That thou hast not brought me the small cat of thy burnt offerings; neither hast thou honoured me with thy sacrifices. I have not made thee to serve with thy offerings, 25nor wearied thee with frankincense. 24Thou hast bought me no sweet cane with money, neither hast thou filled me with the fat of thy sacrifices. I have not made thee to serve with thy offerings, 26nor wearied thee with frankincense. 24Thou hast bought me no sweet cane with money, neither hast thou filled me with the fat of thy sacrifices. I have not made thee to serve with thy offerings, 26nor wearied thee with frankincense. 25I, even I, am he that blotteth out thy transgressions for mine own sake; but I will not remember thy sins. 26Put me in remembrance; 27thy first father sinned, and thine interpreters have transgressed against me. 28Therefore I will profane the princes of the sanctuary, and I will make Jacob a curse, and Israel a reviling. 1Yet now hear, *O Jacob my servant; and Israel, whom I have chosen: 2thus saith the Lord that made thee, *and formed thee from the womb, who will help thee: 3*I will pour water upon him that is thirsty, and streams upon the dry ground: 1I will pour my spirit upon thy seed, and my blessing upon thine offspring: 4and they shall spring up among the grass, *as willows by the waterscourses. 5*One shall say, I am the Lord's; and another shall call himself by the name of Jacob; and another shall subscribe with his hand unto the Lord, and surname himself by the name of Israel. 6Thus saith the Lord, the King of Israel, and *his redeemer the Lord of hosts: *I am the first, and I am the last; and beside me there is no God.

7*And who, as I, can proclaim it? let him declare it: *I will also hear what my people shall say; *for they shall all say, Thou hast使我 chosen.
among the trees of the forest: he planteth a fir tree, and the rain doth nourish it. 15 Then shall it be for a man to burn; and he taketh thereof, and warmeth himself; yea, he kindleth it, and baketh bread: yea, he maketh a god, and worshippeth it; he maketh it a graven image, and falleth down thereto. 16 He burneth part thereof in the fire; with part thereof he eateth flesh; he roasteth roast, and is satisfied: yea, he warmeth himself, and saith, Aha, I am warm, I have seen the fire: 17 and the residue thereof he maketh a god, even his graven image: he falleth down unto it and worshippeth, and prays upon it, and saith, Deliver me; for thou art my god. 18 They know not, neither do they consider: for he hath shut their eyes, that they cannot see; and their hearts, that they cannot understand. 19 And none calleth to mind, neither is there knowledge nor understanding to say, I have burned part of it in the fire; yea, also I have baked bread upon the coals thereof; I have roasted flesh and eaten it: and shall I make the residue thereof an abomination? shall I fall down to the stock of a tree? 20 He feedeth on ashes: a deceived heart hath turned him aside, that he cannot deliver his soul, nor say, Is there not a lie in my right hand? 21 Remember these things, O Jacob; and Israel, for thou art my servant: I have formed thee; thou art my servant: O Israel, thou shalt not be forgotten of me. 22 I have blotted out, as a thick cloud, thy transgressions, and, as a cloud, thy sins: return unto me; for I have redeemed thee. 23 Sing, O ye heavens, for the Lord hath done it; shout, ye lower parts of the earth; break forth into singing, ye mountains, O forest, and every tree therein: for the Lord hath redeemed Jacob, and will glorify himself in Israel. 24 Thus saith the Lord, thy redeemer, and he that formed thee from the womb: I am the Lord, that maketh all things; that stretcheth forth the heavens alone; that spreadeth abroad the earth; 25 who is with me? 26 that frustrateth the tokens of the liars, and maketh diviners mad; 27 that turneth wise men backward, and maketh their knowledge foolish: 28 that confirmeth the word of his servant, and performeth the counsel of his messengers; that saith of Jerusalem, She shall be inhabited; and of the cities of Judah, They shall be built, and I will raise up the waste places thereof: 29 that saith to the deep, Be dry, and I will dry up thy rivers: 30 that saith of Cyrus, He is my shepherd, and shall perform all my pleasure: even saying of Jerusalem, She shall be built; 31 and to the temple, Thy foundation shall be laid. 32 Thus saith the Lord to his anointed, to Cyrus, whose right hand I have holden, to subdue nations before him, and 33 I will loose the loins of kings; to open the doors before him, and the gates shall not be shut; 2 I will go before thee, and 34 make the rugged places plain: 5 I will break in pieces the doors of brass, and cut in Sunder the bars of iron: 35 and I will give thee the treasures of darkness, and hidden riches of secret places, that thou mayest know that I am the Lord, which call thee by thy name, even the God of Israel. 36 For Jacob my servant's sake, and Israel my chosen, 37 I have called thee by thy name: 7 I have surnamed thee, though thou hast not known me. 38 I am the Lord, and there is none else: I am the Lord, and there is none like me. 39 I will gird thee with strength, and make thy right hand mighty; 40 and thou shalt brandish under thy arms the children of thine enemies: and they shall call thee, The Lord thy God, in the holy mount of Zion, My holy mountain, the place of the name of the Lord. 41 Thus saith the Lord, the King of Israel, and his redeemer, the Lord of hosts, 42 I am the first: and I will be for a name; for a name, saith the Lord, to the house of Israel, and for a name, to the house of Judah, 43 that I will give mine hosts before thee, and divide to thee the spoil, and thine enemies shall be divided in the midst of thee: thou shalt know that I am the Lord, when mine holy mountain shall be established in the front of the nations. 44 And the Lord shall be king over all the earth: in that day shall there be one Lord, and his name one. 45 And it shall come to pass, that from whence the rod went, which was to thrust out the separation between Egypt and Israel, saying, Thou art mine; and I am thine: it shall come to pass, that in that day they shall say no more, The rod that was in mine hand, which was to thrust out the separation between Egypt and Israel. 46 Neither shall the light of the moon depart from the light of the sun in the day: for the Lord will be thine light, and thy God the brightness of his glory. 47 The Lord shall be king over all the earth: in that day shall there be one Lord, and his name one. 48 And it shall come to pass, that in the day that the Lord shall give thee rest from thy enemy, and from thy enemies; 49 and from the rod that went forth out of the Lord's presence, which thou shalt make to divide the two nations, 50 and the Gentiles shall bow themselves before the Lord: for his name shall be great in that day. 51 For behold, the Lord shall come as a strong man to brief the flesh; and the Spoils of them that made spoil of you shall be stripped of you, from the young man even to the little child. 52 Vot saith the Lord, the King of Israel, and his redeemer the Lord of hosts, 53 I will again smite this people a third time: and I will remove from them the remnant of the nations that are left, and I will scatter them unto the four winds, and no man shall be able to find them. 54 Then shall the Lord be king over the whole earth: as the name of God is one. 55 It shall come to pass in that day, that the Lord shall be king over the house of Judah, and over the cities of Jacob, and over all the tribes of the house of Israel, and over all the nations; and they shall call upon the name of the Lord, from the ends of the earth. 56 Thus saith the Lord, the King of Israel, and his redeemer the Lord of hosts, I am the first: and I will be for a name; for a name, saith the Lord, to the house of Israel, and for a name, to the house of Judah, that I will give mine hosts before thee, and divide to thee the spoil, and thine enemies shall be divided in the midst of thee: thou shalt know that I am the Lord, when mine holy mountain shall be established in the front of the nations. 57 And it shall come to pass, that in that day thou shalt call the Lord thine Helper. And he shall come and deliver thee: 58 and thou shalt call in the name of the Lord thy Helper. And he shall come and deliver thee.
it, What makest thou? or thy work, He hath no hands? 10 Woe unto him that saith unto a father, What begettest thou? or to a woman, With what travaillest thou? 11 Thus saith the LORD, the Holy One of Israel, and his Maker: Ask me of the things that are to come; or concerning my sons, and concerning the work of my hands, command me. 12 I have made the earth, and created man upon it; I, even my hands, have stretched out the heavens, and all their host have I commanded. 13 I have raised him up in righteousness, and I will make straight all his ways: he shall build my city, and he shall let my exiles go free, not for price nor reward, saith the Lord of hosts.

14 Thus saith the LORD, The labour of Egypt, and the merchandise of Ethiopia, and the Sabeans, men of stature, shall come over unto thee, and they shall be thine; they shall go after thee; in chains shall they come over: and they shall fall down unto thee, they shall be laid in dust, and shalt not rise: 15 Verily thou art a God that hidest thyself, O God of Israel, the Saviour. 16 They shall be ashamed, yea, confounded, all of them: all they: shall go into confusion together that are makers of idols. 17 But Israel shall be saved by the Lord with an everlasting salvation: yea, and all the seed of Israel shall be justified, and shall glory.

Hearken unto me, O house of Jacob, and all the remnant of the house of Israel, which have been borne by me from the belly, which have been carried from the womb; 4 and even to old age I am he, and even to hoar hairs will I carry you: I have made, and I will bear; yea, I will carry, and will deliver. 5 To whom will ye liken me, and make me equal, and compare me, that we may be like? 6 Such as lavish gold out of the bag, and weigh silver in the balance, they hire a godsmith, and he maketh it a god; 6 they fall down, yea, they worship. 7 They bear him upon the shoulder, they carry him, and set him in his place, and he standeth; 8 from his place shall he not remove: yea, one shall cry unto him, yet can he not answer, nor save him out of his trouble.

Remember this, and shew yourselves men: bring it again to mind, O ye transgressors. 9 Remember the former things of old: for I am God, and there is none else; I am God, and there is none like me; lo" declaring the end from the beginning, and from ancient times things that are not yet done; saying, "My counsel shall stand, and I will do all my pleasure: 11 calling a ravenous bird from the east, the man of my counsel from a far country; 12 yea, I have spoken, I will also bring it to pass; I have purposed, I will also do it. 13 Hearken unto me, ye stouthearted, that are far from righteousness: 14 I bring near my righteousness, it shall not be far off, and my salvation shall not tarry; and I will place salvation in Zion for Israel my glory.

16 Come down, and sit in the dust, O virgin daughter of Babylon; sit on the ground without a throne, O daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called tender and delicate. 17 Take the millstones, and grind meal: remove thy veil, strip off the train, uncover the leg, pass through the rivers. 18 Thy nakedness shall be uncovered, yea, thy shame shall be seen: I will take vengeance, and will accept no man. 19 Our redeemer, the LORD of hosts is his name, the Holy One of Israel. 20 Sit thou silent, and get thee into darkness, O daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called The lady of kingdoms. 21 I was wroth with my people, I profaned mine inheritance, and gave them into thine hand: thou didst show them no mercy; upon the aged hast thou very heavily laid thy yoke. 22 And thou saidst, I shall be a lady for ever: so that thou didst not lay these things to thy heart, neither didst remember the latter end thereof. 23 Now therefore hear this, thou 24 that art given to pleasures, that dwellest carelessly, that sayest in thine heart, 25 I am, and there is none else beside me; 26 I shall not sit as a widow, neither shall I know the loss of children: 27 but these two things shall come to thee in a moment: in one day, the loss of children, and widowhood: in their full measure shall they come upon thee. 28 Despite of the multitude of thy sorceries, and the great abundance of thine enchantments. 29 For thou hast trusted in thy wickedness; thou hast said, None seeth me; thy wisdom and thy knowledge, it hath perverted thee: and thou hast said in thine heart, 30 I am, and there is none else beside me. 31 Therefore shall evil come upon thee; thou shalt not know the dawning thereof: and mischief shall fall upon thee; thou shalt not be able to put it away: 32 and desolation shall come upon thee suddenly, which thou knowest not. 33 Stand now with thine enchantments, and with the multitude of thy sorceries, wherein thou hast laboured from thy youth; if so be thou shalt be able to profit, if so be thou mayest prevail. 34 Thou art weared in the multitude of thy counsels: let now the astrologers, the stargazers, the monthly prognosticators, stand up, and save thee from the things that shall come upon thee. 35 Behold, thou shalt be as stubble; the fire shall burn them; they shall not deliver themselves from the power of the flame: it shall not be a coal to warm at, nor a fire to sit before. 36 Thus shall the things be unto thee wherein thou hast laboured: they that have trafficked with thee from thy youth shall wander every one to his quarter; there shall be none to save thee. 37 Hear ye this, O house of Jacob, which are called by the name of Israel, and are come forth out of the waters of Judah; which swear by the name of the LORD, and make mention of the God of Israel, but not in truth, nor in righteousness. 38 For they call themselves of the holy city, and stay themselves upon the God of Israel; the LORD of hosts is his name. 39 I have declared the former things from of old; yea, they went forth out of my mouth, and I shewed them: suddenly I did them, and they came to pass. 40 Because I knew that thou art obstinate, and thy neck is an iron sinew, and thy brow brass: 41 therefore I have declared it to thee from of old; before it came to pass I shewed it thee: lest thou shouldst say, Mine idol hath done them, and my graven image, and my molten image, hath commanded them. 42 Thou hast heard it; behold all this; and ye,
Go ye forth of Babylon, flee ye from the Chaldeans; with a voice of singing declare ye, tell this, utter it even to the end of the earth: say ye, The Lord hath called his servant Jacob. And they thirsted not when he led them through the deserts: he caused the waters to flow out of the rock for them: he clave the rock also, and the waters gushed out. There is no peace, saith the Lord, unto the wicked.

1 Listen, O isles, unto me; and hearken, ye peoples, from far: the Lord hath called me from the womb; from the bowels of my mother hath he made mention of my name: and he hath made my mouth like a sharp sword, in the shadow of his hand hath he hid me; and he hath made me a polished shaft, in his quiver hath he kept me close: my glory will I not give to another.

Hearken unto me, O Jacob, and Israel my called: I am he; I am the first, I also am the last. Yea, mine hand hath laid the foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath spread out the heavens: when I call unto them, they stand up together.

Assemble yourselves, all ye, and hear; which among them hath declared these things? 'The Lord hath spread out the heavens: when he leadeth them together. Assemble yourselves, all ye, and hear; which among them hath declared these things? The Lord hath loved him; he shall perform his pleasure on Babylon, and his arm shall be on the Chaldeans. I even I, I have spoken; yea, I have called him: I have brought him, and he shall make his way prosperous. Come ye near unto me, hear ye this; from the beginning I have not spoken in secret; from the time that it was, there am I: and now saith the Lord God hath sent me, and his spirit. Thus saith the Lord, thy redeemer, the Holy One of Israel: I am the Lord thy God, which teacheth thee to profit, which leadeth thee by the way that thou shouldest go.

Oh that thou hadst hearkened to my commandments! then had thy peace been as a river, and thy righteousness as the waves of the sea: thy seed also had been as the sand, and the offspring of thy bowels like the grains thereof: his name should not be cut off nor destroyed from before me.

1 Or, I know. 2 Or, trial. 3 Or, He whom the Lord loveth shall hear. 4 Or, that of the bowels thereof Israel is not gathered, yet shall I be his. 5 Or, that my salvation may be 701 people, to raise up the land, to make them inherit the desolate heritages; saying to them that are bound, Go forth; to them that are in darkness, Shew yourselves. They shall feed in the ways, and on all bare heights shall be their pasture. They shall not hunger nor thirst; neither shall the heat nor sun smite them: for he that hath mercy on them shall lead them, even by the springs of water shall he guide them. And I will make all my mountains a way, and my high ways shall be exalted. Lo, these shall come from far; and, lo, these from the north and from the west; and these from the land of Sinim. Sing, O heavens; and be joyful, O earth; and break forth into singing, O mountains: for the Lord hath comforted his people, and will have compassion upon his afflicted.

14 But Zion said, Jehovah hath forsaken me, and the Lord hath forgotten me. Can a woman forget her sucking child, that she should not have compassion on the son of her womb? yea, these may forget, yet will not I forget thee. Behold, I have graven thee upon the palms of my hands; thy face I have engraved upon the palms of my hands. Thy children make haste; thy kings hold thy nursing fathers, and thy nurses shall be thy nursing mothers: they shall bow down to thee with their face to the earth, and shall kiss thine feet; and thou shalt know that I am the Lord, and they that wait for me shall not be ashamed. Shall the prey be taken from the mighty, or the lawful captive be delivered? But thus saith the Lord, Even the captives of the mighty shall be taken away, and the prey of the terrible shall be delivered: for I will contend with him that contendeth with thee, and will save thy children. And I will feed them that oppress thee with their own flesh; and they shall be drunken with their own blood, as with sweet wine: and all flesh shall know that I am the Lord, and they that wait for me shall not be ashamed.

50 Where is the bill of your mother's divorcement, where is the register of her卖 away? or which of my creditors is it to whom I have sold you? Behold, for your iniquities were ye sold, and for your transgressions was your mother put away. Wherefore, when I came, was there no man? when I called, was there none to answer? Is my hand shortened at all, that it cannot redeem? or have I no power to deliver? Behold, at my rebuke I dry up the sea, I make the rivers a wilderness; their fish stinketh, because there is no water, and dieth for thirst. I clothe the heavens with blackness, and I make sackcloth their covering.

The Lord God hath given me the tongue of them that are taught, that I should know how to sustaine with words him that is weary: he wakeneth morning by morning, he wakeneth mine ear to hear as they that are taught.
Lord God hath opened mine ear, and I was not rebellious, neither turned away backward. I gave my back to the smiters, and my cheeks to them that plucked off the hair: I hid not my face from shame and spitting. For the Lord God will help me; therefore have I not been confounded: therefore have I set my face like a flint, and I know that I shall not be ashamed.

He is near that justifieth me; who will contend with me? let us stand up together: who is mine adversary? let him come near to me. Behold, the Lord God will help me; who is he that shall condemn me? behold, they all shall be confounded.

Who is among you that feareth the Lord, that obeyeth the voice of his servant? he that walketh in darkness, and hath no light, let him trust in the name of the Lord, and stay upon his God. Behold, all ye that kindle a fire, that gird yourselves about with firebrands: walk ye in the flame of your fire, and among the brands that ye have kindled. This shall ye have of mine hand; ye shall lie down in sorrow.

Hearken to me, ye that know righteousness, the people in whose heart is my law; fear ye not the reproach of men, neither be ye dismayed at their revilings. For the moth shall eat them up like a garment, and the worm shall eat them like wool: but my righteousness shall be for ever, and my salvation unto all generations.

Awake, awake, put on strength, O arm of the Lord: awake, as in the days of old, the generations of ancient times. Art thou not it that cut Rahab in pieces, that pierced the dragon? Art thou not it which dried up the sea, the waters of the great deep; that made the depths of the sea a dry land? and the mountains went up forever.

Lift up your eyes to the heavens, and look upon the earth beneath: for the heavens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall wax old like a garment, and they that dwell therein shall die in like manner: but my salvation shall be for ever, and my righteousness shall not be abolished.

Hearken unto me, ye that know righteousness, the people in whose heart is my law; fear ye not the reproach of men, neither be ye dismayed at their revilings. For the moth shall eat them up like a garment, and the worm shall eat them like wool: but my righteousness shall be for ever, and my salvation unto all generations.

Attend unto me, O my people; and give ear unto me, O my nation: for a law shall go forth from me, and I will make my judgement to rest for a light of the peoples. My righteousness is near, and my salvation is gone forth, and mine arms shall judge the peoples; the isles shall wait for me, and on mine arm shall they trust.

Lift up your eyes to the heavens, and look upon the earth beneath: for the heavens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall wax old like a garment, and they that dwell therein shall die in like manner: but my salvation shall be for ever, and my righteousness shall not be abolished.

I may plant the heavens, and lay the foundations of the earth, and say unto Zion, Thou art my people.

Awake, awake, stand up, O Jerusalem, which hast drunk at the hand of the Lord the cup of his fury; thou hast drunken the bowl of the cup of staggering, and drained it. There is none to guide her among all the sons whom she hath brought forth; neither is there any that taketh her by the hand of all the sons that she hath brought up. These two things are befallen thee; who shall bemoan thee? desolation and destruction, and the famine and the sword; how shall I comfort thee?

Thy sons have fainted, they lie at the top of all the streets, as an antelope "in a net; they are full of the fury of the Lord, the rebuke of thy God. Therefore hear now this, thou afflicted, and drunken, but not with wine: thus saith thy Lord the Lord thy God; for that which I do shall make the land desolate, and all that dwell therein shall fall by the sword; while I destroy thee, I will judge thee, after the measure of thy ways, and thy transgressions shall be judged.

Awake, awake, put on strength, O Zion; put on thy beautiful garments, O Jerusalem, the holy city: for henceforth there shall no more come into thee the uncircumcised and the unclean. Shake thyself from the dust; arise, sit thee down, O Jerusalem: loose thy bands from the bottom of thy neck, O captive daughter of Zion.

For thus saith the Lord, Ye were sold for nought; and ye shall be redeemed without money. For thus saith the Lord God, My people went down at the first into Egypt to sojourn there: and the Assyrian oppresseth them without cause. Now therefore, what do I here, saith the Lord, seeing that my people is taken away for nought?

Who hath believed our report? and to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed? For he grew up before him as a tender plant, and as a root out of a dry ground: he hath no form nor comeliness; and when we see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him. He was despised, and we esteemed him not.

with grief: and as one from whom men hide their face he was despised, and we esteemed him not.

Surely he hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows: yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted.

But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed.

We all like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way: and the LORD hath laid on him the iniquity of us all.

He was oppressed, yet he humbled himself and opened not his mouth; as a lamb that is led to the slaughter, and as a sheep that before her shearers is dumb; yea, he opened not his mouth.

By oppression and judgement he was taken away; and as for his generation, who among them considered that he was cut off out of the land of the living? for the transgression of many was he numbered with the transgressors: yet he bare the sin of many, and made intercession for the transgressors.

Sing, O barren, thou that didst not travail with child: for more are the children of the desolate than of the children of the married wife, saith the LORD.

Enlarge the place of thy tent, and let them stretch forth the curtains of thine habitations; spare not: lengthen thy cords, and strengthen thy stakes. For thou shalt spread abroad on the right hand and on the left; and thy seed shall possess the nations, and make the desolate cities to be inhabited.

Fear not; for thou shalt not be ashamed: neither be thou confounded; for thou shalt not be put to shame: for thou shalt forget the shame of thy youth, and the reproach of thy widowhood shalt thou remember no more.

For thy Maker is thine husband; the LORD of hosts is thy name: and the Holy One of Israel is thy redeemer; the God of the whole earth shall he be called.

For a small moment have I forsaken thee; but with great mercies will I gather thee.

In overflowing wrath I hid my face from thee for a moment; but with everlasting kindness will I have mercy on thee, saith the LORD thy redeemer.

Therefore will I divide him a portion with the great, and he shall divide the spoil with the strong; because he poured out his soul unto death, and was numbered with the transgressors: yet he bare the sin of many, and made intercession for the transgressors.

15 Sing, O barren, thou that didst not bear; break forth into singing, and cry aloud, thou that didst not travail with child: for more are the children of the desolate than of the children of the married wife, saith the LORD.

16 Enlarge the place of thy tent, and let them stretch forth the curtains of thine habitations; spare not: lengthen thy cords, and strengthen thy stakes.

17 For thou shalt spread abroad on the right hand and on the left; and thy seed shall possess the nations, and make the desolate cities to be inhabited.

18 Fear not; for thou shalt not be ashamed: neither be thou confounded; for thou shalt not be put to shame: for thou shalt forget the shame of thy youth, and the reproach of thy widowhood shalt thou remember no more.

20 For a small moment have I forsaken thee; but with great mercies will I gather thee.

21 In overflowing wrath I hid my face from thee for a moment; but with everlasting kindness will I have mercy on thee, saith the LORD thy redeemer.

22 Therefore will I divide him a portion with the great, and he shall divide the spoil with the strong; because he poured out his soul unto death, and was numbered with the transgressors: yet he bare the sin of many, and made intercession for the transgressors.

shalt thou be established: thou shalt be far from oppression, for thou shalt not fear; and from terror, for it shall not come near thee.

5 13 Behold, they may gather together, but not by me: whosoever shall gather together against thee shall fall because of thee. 16 Behold, I have created the smith that bloweth the fire of coals, and bringeth forth a weapon for his work; and I have created the waster to destroy. 17 *No weapon that is formed against thee shall prosper; and every tongue that shall rise against thee in judgment shalt thou condemn. This is the heritage of the servants of the Lord, and their righteousness which is of me, saith the Lord.

55 1 *Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy, and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price. 2 Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread? and your labour for that which satisflieth not? hearken unto me, and eat ye that which is good, and let your soul delight itself in fatness. 3 *Incline your ear, and come unto me; hear, and your soul shall live: and I will make an everlasting covenant with you, even 4 the sure mercies of David. 4 *Behold, I have given him for a witness to the peoples, 5 a leader and commander to the peoples. 5 *Behold, thou shalt call a nation that thou knowest not, and a nation that knew not thee shall run unto thee, because of the Lord thy God, and for the Holy One of Israel; for he hath glorified thee.

6 Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near: 7 let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon. 8 For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord. 9 *For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts. 10 For as the rain cometh down and the snow from heaven, and returneth not thither, but wateth the earth, and maketh it bring forth and bud, so shall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth: it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereby I sent it. 12 *For ye shall go out with joy, and be led forth with peace: the mountains and the hills shall break forth before you into singing, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands. 13 *Instead of the thorn shall come up the fir tree, and instead of the brier shall come up the myrtle tree: and it shall be to the Lord for a name, for an everlasting sign that shall not be cut off.

56 1 Thus saith the Lord, Keep ye judgement, and do righteousness: 2 for my salvation is near to come, and my righteousness to be revealed. 3 Blessed is the man that doeth this, and the son of man that holdeth fast by it; *that keepeth the sabbath from profaning it, and keepeth his hand from doing any evil. 4 Neither let the stranger, that hath joined himself to the Lord, speak, saying, The Lord will surely separate me from his people: neither let the eunuch say, Behold, I am a dry tree. 4 For thus saith the Lord of the eunuchs *that keep my sabbaths, and choose the things that please me, and hold fast by my covenant: 5 *Unto them will I give in mine house and within my walls a memorial and a name better than of sons and of daughters; 6 I will give them an everlasting name, that shall not be cut off.

6 Also the strangers, that join themselves to the Lord, to minister unto him, and to love the name of the Lord, to be his servants, every one *that keepeth the sabbath from profaning it, and holdeth fast by my covenant; 7 *even them will I bring to my holy mountain, and make them joyful in my house of prayer; 8 their burnt offerings and their sacrifices shall be accepted upon mine altar: for mine house shall be called an house of prayer. for all peoples. 8 The Lord God which gathereth the outcasts of Israel saith, *Yet will I gather others to him, beside his own that keepeth his sabbath holy. 9 All ye beasts of the field, come to devour, yea, all ye beasts in the forest. 10 His watchmen are blind; they are all without knowledge; they are all dumb dogs, they cannot bark; dreaming, lying down, loving to slumber. 11 Yea, the dogs are greedy, they can never have enough; and these are shepherds that cannot understand: they have all turned to their own way, each one to his gain, 8 from every quarter. 12 Come ye, say I, they will fetch wine, and we will fill ourselves with strong drink; and to-morrow shall be as this day, a day great beyond measure.

The righteous perisheth, and no man layeth it to heart; and merciful men are taken away, none considering that the righteous is taken away from the evil to come. 2 He entereth into peace; they rest in their beds, each one that walketh in his uprightness.

3 But draw near hither, ye sons of the sorceress, *the seed of the adulterer and the whore. 4 Against whom do ye sport yourselves? 5 Against whom make ye a wide mouth, and draw out the tongue? 6 Ye are not children of transgression, *a seed of falsehood, 5 yea that inflame yourselves among *the oaks, under every green tree; 7 that slay the children in the valleys, under the clefts of the rocks? 8 Among the smooth stones of the valley is thy portion; they, they are thy lot: even to thee hast thou poured a drink offering, thou hast offered an oblation. Shall I be appeased for these things? 7 Upon a high and lofty mountain hast thou set thy bed: thither also wastest thou up to offer sacrifice. 8 And behind the doors and the posts hast thou set up thy memorial: 9 for thou hast discovered thyself to another than me, and art gone up; 10 thou hast enlarged thy bed, and made thee a covenant with them; thou lovestest their bed where thou sawest it. 9 And thou wentest to the king with ointment, and didst increase thy perfumes, and didst send thine ambassadors far off, and didst debase thyself even unto *hell. 10 Thou wast wearied with the length of thy way; *yet saidst thou not. There is no hope: thou didst find a quickening of thy strength; therefore thou wast not 11 faint. 12 And of whom hast thou been afraid and in fear, *that thou liest, and hast not remembered me, nor laid it to thy heart? 13 have not I held my peace even of long time, and thou fearest me not? 12 I will declare thy righteousness; and as for thy works, they shall not profit thee. 13 When thou criest, let them which thou hast gathered deliver thee; but the wind shall take them, a breath shall carry them all away: 14 but he that putteth his trust in me shall possess the land, and shall inherit my holy mountain. 14 And 15 he shall say, *Cast ye up, cast ye up, prepare the way, take up the stumbling-block out of the way of my people.

For thus saith the high and lofty One that inhabiteth eternity, whose name is Holy: 1 I dwell in the high and holy place, with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit, 2 to revive the spirit of the humble, and to revive the heart of the contrite ones. 16 For I will not contend for ever, neither will I be always wroth: for the spirit should 14 fall before me, and the souls which I have made. 17 For the iniquity of his 7 covetousness was I wroth and smote him, I hid my face and was wroth: and he went on 18 frowardly in the way of his heart. 18 I have seen his ways, and will heal him: I will lead him also, 19 and restore comforts unto him and to his mourners. 19 I will create the fruit of the lips: 20 Peace, peace, 21 to him that is far off and to him that is near, saith the Lord; 22 and I will heal him. 20 23 But the wicked are like the troubled sea; for it cannot rest, and its waters cast up mire and dirt. 24 There is no peace, saith my God, to the wicked.
Cry aloud, spare not,
1 lift up thy voice like a trumpet, and
2 declare unto my people their transgression, and to the house of Jacob their sins.

Yet they seek me daily, and delight to know my ways: as a nation that did righteousness, and forsook not the ordinance of their God, they ask of me righteous ordinances, they delight to draw near unto God.

Wherefore have we fasted, say they, and thou seest not? wherefore have we afflicted our soul, and thou takest no knowledge?

Behold, in the day of your fast ye find your own pleasure, and 2 exact all your labours.

Is such the fast that I have chosen?
1 to loose the bands of wickedness, to undo the bands of the yoke, and to let the oppressed go free, and that ye break every yoke?

Is it not this day so as to make your voice to be heard on high.

Is such the fast that I have chosen?
1 to do good, and to love mercy and to walk modestly towards thy God?

Is it not this the fast that I have chosen?
1 to call the sabbath a delight, and the holy of the Lord honourable; and shalt honour it, not doing thine own works, nor finding thine own pleasure, nor speaking thine own words:

Then shall thy light break forth as the morning, and thy healing shall spring forth speedily:
1 and the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfy thy soul in dry places, and make strong thy bones; and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters shall not fail not.

Behold, the Lord's hand is not shortened, that it cannot save; neither his ear heavy, that it cannot hear:

For your iniquities have separated between you and your God, and your sins have hid his face from you, that he will not hear.

None trusteth in righteousness, and none pleaseth in truth: they trust in vanity, and speak lies; they conceiveth mischief, and bring forth iniquity.

They hatch basilisks' eggs, and weaver the spider's web: he that eateth of theireggs dieth, and that which iscrushedbreaketh out into a viper.

Their webs shallnotbecome garments, neither shallthey cover themselves with their works: their works are works of iniquity, and the act of violence is intheirhands.

The way of peace they know not, and thereis no judge ment in theirgoings: they have made them crooked paths; who soever goeth therein doth not know peace.

Therefore is judgement far from us, neither doth righteousness.
60. Arise, shine; for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee.

For behold, darkness shall cover the earth, and gross darkness the peoples: but the Lord shall arise upon thee, and his glory shall be seen upon thee. And nations shall come to thy light, and kings to the brightness of thy rising.

Lift up thine eyes round about, and see: they all gather themselves together, they come to thee: thy sons shall come from far, and thy daughters shall be carried in the arms. Then thou shalt see and be lightened, and thine heart shall flourish like the flowers of the field. For the Lord has given thee the spoil instead of the young of thy sons.

nation and kingdom that will not serve thee shall perish; yea, those nations shall be utterly wasted. 13 The glory of Lebanon shall come unto thee, the fir tree, the pine, and the box tree together; to beautify the place of my sanctuary, and I will make the place of my feet glorious. 14 And the sons of them that afflicted thee shall come bending unto thee; and all they that despised thee shall bow themselves down at the soles of thy feet; and they shall call thee The city of the LORD, The Zion of the Holy One of Israel. 15 Whereas thou hast been forsaken and hated, so that no man passed through thee, I will make thee an eternal excellence, a legacy of many generations. 16 Thou shalt also suck the milk of the nations, and shalt suck the breasts of kings: and thou shalt know that I the LORD am thy savour, and thy redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob. 17 For brass I will bring gold, and for iron I will bring silver, and for wood brass, and for stones iron: I will also make thy officers peace, and thy exactors righteousness. 18 Violence shall no more be heard in thy land, desolation nor destruction within thy borders; but thou shalt call thy walls Salvation, and thy gates Praise. 19 The sun shall be no more thy light by day; neither for brightness shall the moon give light unto thee: but the LORD shall be unto thee an everlasting light, and thy God thy glory. 20 Thy sun shall no more go down, neither shall thy moon withdraw itself: for the Lord shall be thine everlasting light, and the days of thy mourning shall be ended. 21 They people also shall be all righteous, they shall inherit the land for ever; 22 the branch of my planting, the work of my hands, that I may be glorified. 23 The little one shall become a thousand, and the small one a strong nation: I the LORD will hasten it in its time. 24 The spirit of the Lord God is upon me; because the Lord hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek; he hath sent me to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and 4* the opening of the prison to them that are bound; 24 to proclaim 3* the acceptable year of the LORD, 2 and the day of vengeance of our God; to comfort all that mourn; 3 to appoint in the wilderness the way of righteousness, the planting of the Lord; 4* that he might be glorified. 4 And they shall build the old wastes, they shall raise up the former desolations, and they shall repair the waste cities, the desolations of many generations. 4* And strangers shall stand and feed your flocks, and aliens shall be your plowmen and your vinekeepers. 5 But ye shall be named the priests of the LORD: men shall call you the minsters of our God; ye shall eat the wealth of the nations, and in their glory ye shall boast yourselves. 7 For your shame ye shall have double; and in their portion: therefore in their land they shall possess double: everlasting joy shall be unto them. 8 For I the LORD love judgment, I hate robbery withiniquity; and I will give them their recompence in truth, and I will make an everlasting covenant with them. 9 And their seed shall be known among the nations, and their offspring among the peoples: all that see them shall acknowledge them, that they are the seed which the LORD hath blessed. 10 I will greatly rejoice in the LORD, my soul shall be joyous in my God; for he hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, he hath covered me with the robe of righteousness, as a bridegroom decketh himself with a garland, and as a bride adorneth herself with her jewels. 11 For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth the things that are sown in it to spring forth; so shall the LORD cause righteousness and praise to spring forth before all the nations.
1 For Zion's sake will I not hold my peace, and for Jerusalem's sake I will not rest, until her righteousness go forth as brightness, and her salvation as a lamp that burneth. And the nations shall see thy righteousness, and all kings thy glory: and thou shalt be called by a new name, which the mouth of the LORD shall name. 3 Thou shalt also be a crown of beauty in the hand of the LORD, and a royal diadem in the hand of thy God. 4 Thou shalt no more be termed Forsaken; neither shall thy land any more be termed Desolate: but thou shalt be called Hephzi-bah, and thy land Beulah: for the LORD delighteth in thee, and thy land shall be married. 5 For as a young man marreth a virgin, so shall thy sons marry thee: and as the bridegroom rejoiceth over the bride, so shall thy God rejoice over thee.

6 I have set watchmen upon thy walls, O Jerusalem; they shall never hold their peace day nor night: ye that are the LORD's remembrancers, take ye no rest, 7 and give him no rest, till he establish, and till he make Jerusalem a praise in the earth. 8 The LORD hath sworn by his right hand, and by the arm of his strength, Surely I will no more give thy corn to be meat for thine enemies; and strangers shall not drink thy wine, for which thou hast laboured: 9 but they that have garnered it shall eat it, and praise the LORD; and they that have gathered it shall drink it in the courts of my sanctuary.

10 Go through, go through the gates; prepare ye the way of the people; cast up, cast up the high way; gather out the stones; lift up an ensign for the peoples. 11 Behold, the LORD hath proclaimed unto the end of the earth, Say ye to the daughter of Zion, Behold, thy salvation cometh; behold, his reward is with him, and his recompence before him. 12 And they shall call them The holy people, The redeemed of the LORD: and thou shalt be called Sought out, A city not forsaken.

63 from Edom, with dyed garments from Bozrah? this that is glorious in his apparel, marching in the greatness of his strength? I that speak in righteousness, mighty to save. 2 Wherefore art thou red in thine apparel, and thy garments like him that treadeth in the winefat? 3 I have trodden the vinepress alone; and of the peoples there was no man with me: yea, I trod them in mine anger, and trampled them in my fury; and their lifeblood is sprinkled upon my garments, and I have stained all my raiment. 4 For the day of vengeance was in mine heart, and the year of my redeemed is come. 5 And I looked, and there was none to uphold: therefore mine own arm brought salvation unto me; and my fury, it upheld me. 6 And I trod down the peoples in mine anger, "and 17 made them drunk in my fury, and I poured out their lifeblood on the earth.

7 I will make mention of the lovingkindnesses of the LORD, and the praises of the LORD, according to all that the LORD hath bestowed on us; and the great goodness toward the house of Israel, which he hath bestowed on them according to his mercies, and according to the multitude of his lovingkindnesses. 8 For he said, Surely, they are my people, children that will not deal falsely, so he was their saviour. 9 In all their affliction he was afflicted, and the angel of his presence saved them: 10 in his love and in his pity he redeemed them; and bare them, and carried them all the days of old. 11 But they rebelled, and griev ed his holy spirit: therefore he was turned to be their enemy, and himself fought against them. 12 Then he remembered the days of old, Moses, and his people, saying, 13 Where is he that brought them up out of the sea, with the shepherd of his flock? where is he that took put his holy spirit in the midst of them? 12 That caused his glorious arm to go at the right hand of Moses? * that divided the water before them, so to make himself an everlasting name? 13 That led them through the valley, that the spirit of the Lord caused them to rest: so didst thou lead thy people, to make thyself a glorious name. 14 Look down from heaven, and behold from the habitation of thy holiness and of thy glory: where is thy zeal and thy mighty acts? the yearning of thy bowels and thy compassiones are restrained toward me. 15 For thou art our father, though Abraham kneweth us not, and Israel doth not acknowledge us: thou, O Lord, art our father; our redeemer from everlasting to everlasting, Zion is become a wilderness, Jerusalem a desolation. 16 For we are all become as the cattle that go down into the valley, the spirit of the Lord caused them to rest: so didst thou lead thy people, to make thyself a glorious name. 15 Look down from heaven, and behold from the habitation of thy holiness and of thy glory: where is thy zeal and thy mighty acts? the yearning of thy bowels and thy compassiones are restrained toward me. 16 For thou art our father, though Abraham kneweth us not, and Israel doth not acknowledge us: thou, O Lord, art our father; our redeemer from everlasting to everlasting, Zion is become a wilderness, Jerusalem a desolation.

65 I am inquired of by that asked not for me; I am found of them that sought me not: I said, Behold me, behold me, unto a nation that was not called by my name. 2 I have spread out my hands all the day unto a rebellious people, which walketh in a way that is not good, after their own thoughts; 3 a people that provoketh me to my face continually, sacrificing in gardens, and burning incense upon the mountains, and defiling my sanctuary, 4 with their abominable things in their vestes; 5 which say, Stand by thy sanctuaries, and let the fire consume the flesh. 6 Behold, it is written in my eyes, which I made, and they beheld it; when they were ready to go down, they fell down, and their mountains flowed down at thy presence. 4 For from of old men have not heard, nor perceived by the ear, neither hath the eye seen a God beside thee, which worketh for him that waiteth for him. 5 Thou meetest him that rejoiceth and worketh righteousness, those that remember thee in thy ways: behold, thou wast wroth, and we sinned: in them have we been of long time, and shall we be saved? 6 For we are all become as one that is unclean, and all our righteousnesses are as a polluted garment; 7 and we all do fade as a leaf; and our iniquities, like the wind, take us away. 8 And there is none that calleth upon thy name, that stirreth up himself to take hold of thee: for thou hast hid thy face from us, and hast consumed us by means of our iniquities. 9 But now, O Lord, thou art our father; we are the clay, and thou our potter; and we all are the work of thy hand. 10 Be not wroth very sore, O Lord, neither remember iniquity for ever: behold, look, we beseech thee, we are all thy people.

11 Thy holy cities are become a wilderness, Zion is become a wilderness, Jerusalem a desolation. 12 Our holy and our beautiful house, where our fathers praised thee, is burned with fire; and all our pleasant things are laid waste. 13 Wilt thou refrain thyself for them these things, O Lord? wilt thou hold thy peace, and afflict us very sore?
phemed me upon the hills: therefore will I first measure their work into their bosom.

8 Thus saith the LORD, 'As the new wine is found in the cluster, and one saith, Destroy it not, for a blessing is in it: so will I do for my servants' sakes, *that I may not destroy them all. 9 And I will bring forth a seed out of Jacob, and out of Judah an inheritor of my mountains: and my chosen shall inherit it, and my servants shall dwell there. 10 And Sharon shall be a fold of flocks, and the valley of Achor a place for herds to lie down in, for my people that have sought me.

11 But ye that forsake the LORD, that forget my holy mountain, that prepare a table for Fortune, and that fill up mingled wine unto Destiny; 12 I will destine you to the sword, and ye shall all bow down to the slayer: *because when I called, ye did not answer; when I spake, ye did not hear; but ye did that which was evil in mine eyes, and chose that wherein I delighted not.

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, *my servants shall eat, but ye shall be hungry: behold, my servants shall drink, but ye shall be thirsty: behold, my servants shall rejoice, but ye shall be ashamed.

14 And ye shall leave your name for a curse unto my chosen, and the Lord God shall slay thee; and he shall call his servants by another name: 15 And ye shall leave your name for a curse unto my chosen, and the Lord God shall slay thee; and he shall call his servants by another name: 16 so that he who blesseth himself in the earth shall bless himself in the God of truth; and he that sweareth in the earth shall swear by the God of truth; because the former troubles are forgotten, and because they are hid from mine eyes. 17 For, behold, I create new heavens and a new earth: and the former things shall not be remembered, nor come into mind.

18 But be ye glad and rejoice for ever in that which I create: for, behold, I create Jerusalem a rejoicing, and her people a joy.

19 And I will rejoice in Jerusalem, and joy in my people: *and the voice of weeping shall be no more heard in her, nor the voice of crying. 20 There shall be no more thence an infant of days, nor an old man that hath not filled his days: for *the child shall die an hundred years old, and *the sinner being an hundred years old shall be accursed.

21 And they shall build houses, and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them. 22 They shall not build, and another inhabit; they shall not plant, and another eat: for *as the days of a tree shall be the days of my people, and my chosen shall long enjoy the work of their hands.

23 They shall not labour in vain, nor bring forth for calamity; for *they are the seed of the blessed of the Lord, and their offspring 24 And it shall come to pass that, before they call, I will answer; and *while they are yet speaking, I will hear. 25 The wolf and the lamb shall feed together, and the lion shall eat straw like the ox: and *dust shall be the serpent's meat. *They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain, saith the Lord.

was evil in mine eyes, and chose that wherein I delighted not.

5 Hear the word of the LORD, ye that tremble at his word: Your brethren that hate you, that cast you out for my name's sake, have said, *Let the LORD be glorified, that we may see your joy; but they shall be ashamed. 6 A voice of tumult from the city, a voice from the temple, a voice of the LORD *that rendereth recompence to his enemies. 7 Before she travailed, she brought forth; before her pain came, she was delivered of a man child. 8 Who hath heard such a thing? who hath seen such things? Shall a land be born in one day? shall a nation be brought forth in one hour? behold, I shewed thee new things from the beginning. 9 Shall I bring to the birth, and not cause to bring forth? saith the LORD: shall I that cause to bring forth shut the womb? saith thy God. 10 Rejoice ye with Jerusalem, and be glad for her, all ye that love her: *rejoice for joy with her, all ye that mourn over her: that ye may suck and be satisfied with the breastsof her consolations; that ye may milk out, and be delighted with the abundance of her glory. 11 For thus saith the LORD, *Behold, I will extend peace to her like a river, and the glory of the nations like an overflowing stream; 2 and ye shall suck thereof; *ye shall be borne upon the side, and shall be dallied upon the knees. 13 As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you; and ye shall be comforted in Jerusalem. 14 And ye shall see it, and your heart shall rejoice, and *your bones shall flourish like the tender grass: and *the hand of the LORD shall be known toward his servants, and he will have indignation against his enemies. 15 For, behold, *the LORD will come *with fire, and *his chariots shall be like the whirlwind; to render his anger with fury, and his rebuke with flames of fire. 16 For by fire *will the LORD plead, and by his sword, with all flesh: and the slain of the LORD shall be many, 17 They that sanctify themselves, and purify themselves *to go unto the gardens, *behind one in the midst, *eating swine's flesh, and the abomination, and the mouse; they shall come to an end together, saith the LORD. 18 For I know their works and their thoughts: *the time cometh, that I will gather all nations and tongues; and they shall come, and shall see my glory.

19 And I will set a sign among them, and I will send such as escape of them unto the nations, to *Tarshish, *Pul and *Lud, that draw the bow, to *Tubal and *Javan, *to the isles afar off, *that have not heard my fame, neither have seen my glory; and they shall declare my glory among the nations. 20 And they shall bring all your brethren out of all the nations *for an offering unto the LORD, upon horses, and in chariots, and in litters, and upon mules, and upon swift beasts, to my holy mountain Jerusalem, saith the LORD, as the children of Israel bring their offering in a clean vessel into the house of the LORD. 21 And of them also will I take for priests and for Levites, saith the LORD. 22 For as the new heavens and the new earth, which I will make, shall remain before me, saith the LORD, so shall your seed and your name remain. 23 And it shall come to pass, that from one new moon to another, and from one sabbath to another, shall all flesh come to worship me, saith the LORD. 24 And they shall go forth, and look upon the carcases of the men that have transgressed against me: for their worm shall not die, neither shall their fire be quenched; and they shall be an abhorring unto all flesh.

THE BOOK OF THE PROPHET

JEREMIAH.

The words of Jeremiah the son of Hilkiiah, of the priests that were in Anathoth in the land of Benjamin: 2 to whom the word of the LORD came in the days of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah, 3 in the thirteenth year of his reign. 4 It came also in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, 5 unto the end of the eleventh year of Zedekiah, the son of Josiah, king of Judah; 6 unto the carrying away of Jerusalem captive in the fifth month.

Now the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 7 Before I formed thee in the belly I knew thee, and before thou camest forth out of the womb I sanctified thee; I have appointed thee a prophet unto the nations. 8 Then said I, Ah, Lord GOD! behold, I cannot speak: for I am a child. 9 But the LORD said unto me, Say what I say unto thee; be not afraid of their faces. 10 And thou shalt speak my words unto them; whether they hear, or whether they forbear, I will make them hear what I shall command thee. 11 Be not afraid of their faces; for I am with thee to deliver thee. 12 Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, Jeremiah, what seest thou? And I said, I see a rod of an almond tree. 13 Then said the LORD unto me, Thou hast well seen: for I watch over my word to perform it. 14 And the word of the LORD came unto me the second time, saying, What seest thou? And I said, I see two baskets of figs— 15 a basket of very good figs, and a basket of very evil figs. 16 Then said the LORD unto me, Knowest thou not what these are? 17 The good figs are unto me as a perfume; but the evil figs are unto me as stink: and I will set mine hand upon them, that they may have none that shall live of all the fruit of the earth, saith the LORD. 18 Now therefore discern well, what I say unto thee: 19 Behold, I will make thou art as clay, and I will make thy garments as an earthen vessel: and thou shalt be in the midst of the fire; and the fire shall not consume thee: 20 because of my pure gaze upon thee, saith the LORD. 21 Therefore thus saith the LORD; Behold, I will stretch out mine hand upon thee, and make thee a watchman unto the house of Israel. 22 And I will come unto them as a swift whirlwind, and will tread them down like aしょう地 of botanical garden. 23 And I will make the wild beasts of the earth to tremble at thy voice. 24 And I will make thee to fall upon them, and I will set thee upon their stones. 25 And I will make the Father of Israel to hear thee in the wilderness: 26 and I will cause the Egyptians to hear thee in the Hyperborean region; that they may know that I am the LORD, when I stretch out my hand upon them, and make myself known among them. 27 And I will bring thee into Egypt again: and the Egyptians shall SEE 2 Kin. 7. 28 And they shall know that I am the LORD, when I break the sticks of the Egyptians in the waters of the river, and make the Egyptians to stumble therein.

Egypt; that led us through the wilderness, by a land of deserts and of pits, through a land of drought and of the shadow of death, through a land that none passed through, and where no man dwelt? And I brought you into a plentiful land, to eat the fruit thereof and the goodness thereof: but when ye entered, ye defiled my land, and made mine heritage an abomination. The priests said not, Where is the LORD? and they that handle the law knew me not: a the rulers also transgressed against me, b and the prophets prophesied by Baal, and walked after things that do not profit. Wherefore will I yet plead with you, saith the LORD, and c with your children's children will I plead. For pass over to the isles of Kittim, and see; and send unto Ke-Davar, and consider diligently; and see if there hath been such a thing. Hast a nation changed their gods, which yet are no gods? but my people have changed their glory for that which doth not profit. Be astonished, O ye heavens, at this, and be horribly afraid, be ye very desolate, saith the LORD. Is Israel a servant? is he a homeborn slave? why is he become a prey? The young lions have roarced upon him, and cried: and they have made his land waste; his cities are burned up, without inhabitant. The children also of Noph and Tahpanhes have broken the crown of thy head. Hast thou not procured this unto thyself, in that thou hast forsaken the LORD thy God, when thou ledst by the way? And now what hast thou to do in the way to Egypt, to drink the waters of Shihor? or what hast thou to do in the way to Assyria, to drink the waters of the River? Thine own wickedness shall correct thee, and thy backslidings shall reprove thee: know therefore and see that it is an evil thing and a bitter, that thou hast forsaken the LORD thy God, and that my fear is not in thee, saith the Lord, the LORD of hosts. For of old time I have broken thy yoke, and burst thy bands; and thou saidst, I will not serve; e for upon every high hill and under every green tree thou didst bow thyself, a playing the harlot. Yet I had planted thee a noble vine, wholly a right seed: how then art thou turned into the degenerate plant of a strange vine unto me? For though thou wash thee with lye, and take thee much soap, yet thine iniquity is marked before me, saith the Lord God. How canst thou say, I am not defiled, I have not gone after the Baalim? see thy way in the valley, know what thou hast done. people. We are broken loose: we will come no more unto thee. 38 Can a maid forget her ornaments, or a bride her attire? yet, my people have forgotten me days without number. 39 How trimmest thou thy way to seek love? therefore even the wicked women hast thou taught thy ways. 34 Also in thy skirts is found the blood of the souls of the innocent poor: 1 have not found it at the place of breaking in, but upon all these. 35 Yet thou saidst, I am innocent; surely his anger is turned away from me. Behold, I will enter into judgment with thee, because thou sayest, I have not sinned. 36 Why gaddest thou about so much to change thy way? thou shalt be ashamed of Egypt also, as thou wast ashamed of Assyria. 37 From the days of the kings of Judah hast thou played the harlot. 38 And she committeth adultery with her neighbour, whose apparel is from purple to violet; 39 and she committeth adultery with them, and with every one of them by name: 40 and she saith, I will return again unto my first husband: for it was better with me then than now. 41 For she knew not that I gave her milk, and strengthened her with the wheat, and strengthened her with the oil and with the wine. 42 For when she sat as at the morning, she polluted herself with harlots: and she lay with men, and saw not that I had given her milk, and strengthened her with the wheat, and strengthened her with the oil and with the wine, which I had given her. 43 And I will raise up against thee them of thy own country: and they shall fell thee in thy own land: and they shall drive thee from thy house, and thou shalt depart into a land which thou knowest not. 44 Then it shall come to pass, when thou art spoiled by them, that thou shalt say, It was a bitter thing that the Lord thy God hath done unto thee. 45 And they shall cater to thee the words of an enemy, and say, He desired thee not to dwell in this land, thereby he sent thee from the face of the land which thou sittest, because thou didst follow the ways of thy father. 46 Nor didst thou follow after the Lord thy God; therefore hast thou not prospered in all things that thou didst do. 47 Nevertheless, we will return to thee: for we acknowledge to our iniquity; as it is this day, we have done amiss towards the Lord our God, both because our fathers taught us not to do so, neither gave us knowledge of thy deeds in their days. 48 Therefore the Lord was very angry with Zebaniah, and smote him, and his sons, and left him unto the sword. 49 For the children of Israel had sinned against the Lord their God, which brought them up out of the land of Egypt, from among the heathen, whose works they had put into their own hearts, and not kept the commandments of the Lord, nor followed his statutes, nor kept his judgments, nor walked in his paths. 50 Therefore the Lord said, Behold, I will give this people into the hand of the Chaldeans, into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, their enemy, and into the hand of his servants, by the hand of their servants, to destroy them and to cause them to perish; with a great sword shall I smite them, and I will give them into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of their persecutors, 51 to the sword, to captivity, and to spoil, and to take away, to the heaven, to the earth, to the air, and to all the waters that are under the earth, and I will cause to cease to be, all the works of the hands of man for ever, saith the Lord. 52 And it shall come to pass, that all these nations shall serve Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon; for him shall I give peace, that he may carry them into all the kingdoms whither he goeth; and I will make him master over the heathen, and over the kingdoms of the earth. 53 And these nations shall serve Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon seventy years. 54 And it shall come to pass, when seventy years are accomplished, that I will visit thee, and perform my words, which I sware unto thee, and to thy fathers. 55 And I will establish thee in the land, and will keep thee, and do good unto thee: and I will cause thee to inherit the land of thy fathers. 56 And I will cause thee to come into the land which thou sittest, both thou, and thy sons, and thy grandchildren, and I will deal with thee, and with thy children after thee for great good. 57 But if thou wilt not hear me, saith the Lord, then am I ready to visit you seven times more for your sins. 58 And I will smite you with the sword, and with famine, and with pestilence, and will deliver you unto the hand of the heathen, and will pollute you with all the heathen; and will give you up into the hand of spoilers, and they shall spoil you. 59 And it shall come to pass, when all these things are come upon thee, in the latter days, when thou shalt be turned and come to me, I will open thy mouth, and thou shalt say, It is the Lord that hath spoken. 60 But thou hast not called upon me, neither hast thou asked, Why hath the Lord done these things unto me? they that knew thee among the heathen shall say, Where is now thy wisdom? 61 And they that saw thee among the heathen shall say, Is this the one who went to make Israel to inhabit her inheritance? 62 All their enemies shall ask after thee, and ask thee, Where is he that made Israel to inhabit her inheritance? and they shall say, It is not he; for they shall have cast him out. 63 Therefore will I cast them out of my sight: because, when I called, they did not answer; when I spake, they refrained from me: and I have turned and shut them up, that they may go forth no more. 64 And they shall be consumed out of their land; and I will do to them what I have done to Jerusalem. 65 And Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came up, and filled Jerusalem with blood: and I delivered him into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, according to all that I spake, saying, It shall be, that the land shall be a desolation, and naked desolation, without inhabitant, even from the wilderness unto the city, to the middle of Egypt. 66 And it came to pass, in the three hundred and seventy and fifth year, in the first month, on the first day of the month, that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came up against Jerusalem with a multitude of men and horses, and entered into the city, and made it a desolation. 67 Then the word of the Lord came to Jeremiah, saying, Jeremiah, eat not bread, nor drink wine, nor smear thee with oil, till I inform thee. 68 And stick thou to the window, and pass no more through the wall. 69 Let not the foot of the dung be upon thee, nor go thou down into the house of mourning. 70 For I will make thee an object of reproach to all peoples, and to all nations, saith the Lord. 71 And it came to pass, in the four and twentieth year of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, in the month Elul, on the fifth day of the month, that the word of the Lord came to Jeremiah, saying, Jeremiah, meditate not in the land of Egypt, saying, I shall return again into the land of Judah: for I will certainly send thee into exile in Babylon; and thou shalt not return into the land of Judah. 72 And it shall be, when I send thee away, thou shalt meditate upon all the words wherewith I have spoken unto thee; and thou shalt speak unto the house of Judah every word thereof, saying, Hearken the words of this covenant, and do them. 73 For I will cause thee to return into the land of Judah; and thou shalt speak thine words there, and shalt not say, Why hast thou done amiss? 74 For I, saith the Lord, will cause to cease to be, all the works of the hands of this people, in that which they have done, saying, We will do this; and they shall not do that. 75 And now, lo, I have caused thee to return into the land of Judah; and thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; I have set my face against this city for evil, and not for good, saith the Lord; be not deceived by the word of this city of Judah, saying, The inhabitants of Jerusalem shall dwell safely. 76 For they shall be consumed from before me, as I consumed them, saith the Lord. 77 And it shall come to pass, when ye have consumed the land, and all fire thereof is consumed; and ye have eaten of the land of your enemies, and the survivors thereof are consumed; 78 and ye have been multiplied and increased in the land, in those days, saith the Lord, in the midst of the enemies that I have scattered you among the heathen, ye shall remember me, even me, Saith the Lord, and walk in my statutes, and keep my ordinances, and do them. 79 And ye shall dwell in the land that I gave to your fathers, and ye shall eat of the good of the land, in the place that I gave to your fathers; and ye shall not go after other gods, whose names are not known unto you. 80 But ye shall remember the Lord: for it is he that giveth you water to drink; and he made you to dwell in a land, whereof ye had not eaten, neither had ye seed within you. 81 Therefore when the Lord shall bring you into the land of the heathen, whither ye shall go into captivity, and shall serve them, and they shall hate you, and will not testify for you, or help you; 82 and they shall hate you, and persecute you, and shall take away all the substance of your good, and leave you naked and destitute: then shall the Lord be angry against you, and shall smite you with pestilence, and with fever, and with the sword, and with great anguish of heart, and of eyes, and of soul: 83 and he shall bring you into the land of your enemies, and into a land which ye know not; and there he will give thee for a heritage, and thou shalt serve other gods, which ye know not, or听说过。 be gathered unto it, {i}to the name of the Lord, to Jerusalem: {k}neither shall they walk any more after the stubbornness of their evil heart. 18 {l}In those days the house of Judah shall walk {m}with the house of Israel, and they shall come together out of the land of the north to the land that I gave for an inheritance unto your fathers. 19 But I said, How shall I put thee among the children, and give thee a pleasant land, a goodly heritage of the hosts of the nations? and I said, {n}Ye shall call me My father; and shall not turn away from following me.

20 Surely as a wife treacherously departeth from her husband, so have ye dealt treacherously with me, O house of Israel, saith the Lord. 21 A voice is heard upon the bare heights, the weeping and the supplications of the children of Israel; for they have perverted their way, that for they have forgotten the Lord their God. 22 *Return, ye backsliding children, {o}I will heal your backslidings. Behold, we are come unto thee; for thou art the Lord our God.

23 Truly in vain is the help that is looked for from the hills, the getment of the nations; {p}he is on his way, he is gone from before me; to make thy land desolate, that thy cities be laid waste, without inhabitant. 24 For this gird you with sackcloth, lament and howl: for the fierce anger of the Lord is not turned back from us. 25 And it shall come to pass at that day, saith the Lord, that the heart of the king shall perish, and the heart of the princes; and the priests shall be astonished, and the prophets shall wonder. 10 Then shall I, Ah, Lord God! *surely thou hast greatly deceived this people and Jerusalem, saying, Ye shall have peace; whereas the sword reacheth unto the soul. 11 At that time shall it be said to this people and to Jerusalem, A hot wind from the bare heights in the wilderness is gone up, and his chariots are *swift than eagles. Woe unto us! *for we are spoiled. 14 O Jerusalem, *wash thine heart from wickedness, that thou mayest be saved. How long shall thine evil thoughts lodge within thee? 15 For *a voice b declareth from Dan, and publisheth evil from the hills of Ephraim: 16 make ye mention to the nations; behold, publish against Jerusalem, that watchers come *from a far country, and give out their voice against the cities of Judah. 17 As keepers of a field are they against her roundabout; because she hath been rebellious against me, saith the LORD. 15 Thy way and thy doings have procured these things unto thee; this is thy wickedness; for it is bitter, for it reacheth unto thine heart.

19 My bowels, my bowels! I am pained at my very heart; my heart is disquieted in me; I cannot hold my peace; because thou hast heard, O my soul, the sound of the trumpet, the alarm of war. 20 Destruction upon destruction is cried; for the whole land is spoiled. 21 How long shall I see the standard, and hear the sound of the trumpet? 22 For my people is foolish, they know me not; they are sottish children, and they have none understanding: they are wise to do evil, but to do good they have no knowledge.

23 I beheld the earth, and, lo, it was waste and void; and the heavens, and they had no light.

24 I beheld the mountains, and, lo, they trembled, and all the hills moved to and fro.

25 I beheld, and, lo, there was no man, and all the birds of the heavens were fled. 26 I beheld, and, lo, the fruitful field was a wilderness, and all the cities thereof were broken down at the presence of the LORD, and before his fierce anger. 27 For thus saith the LORD, The whole land shall be a desolation; yet will I not make a full end. 28 Wherefore, a lion out of the forest shall slay them, a wolf of the evenings shall spoil them, a leopard shall watch over their cities, every one that goeth out thence shall be torn in pieces: because their transgressions are many, and their backslidings are increased. 29 For thus saith the LORD: and shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

10 Run ye to and fro through the streets of Jerusalem, and see now, and know, and seek in the broad places thereof, if ye can find a man, if there be any that doeth justly, that seeketh truth; and I will pardon her. 2 And though they say, As the LORD liveth, surely they swear falsely. 3 The LORD doth not look upon truth; thou hast stricken them, but they were not grieved; thou hast consumed them, but they have refused to receive correction: they have made their faces harder than a rock; they have refused to return. 4 Then I said, Surely these are poor: they are foolish; for they know not the way of the LORD, nor the judgement of their God. 5 I will get me unto the great men, and will speak unto them; for they know the way of the LORD, and the judgement of their God. 6 But these with one accord have broken the yoke, and burst the bands. 7 Wherefore will I visit for these things? saith the LORD: and shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this? 8 Go ye up upon her walls, and destroy; but make not a full end;
take away her branches: for they are not the LORD’s. 11 For the house of Israel and the house of Judah have dealt very treacherously against me, saith the LORD. 12 They have denied the LORD, and said, It is not he; neither shall evil come upon us: 13 and the prophets shall become wind, and the word is not in them: thus shall it be done unto them. 14 Wherefore thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts, Because ye speak this word, behold, I will make my words in thy mouth fire, and this people wood, and it shall devour them. 15 Lo, I will bring a nation upon you from far, O house of Israel, saith the LORD: it is a mighty nation, it is an ancient nation, a nation whose language thou knowest not, neither understandest what they say. 16 Their quiver is an open sepulchre, they are all mighty men. 17 And they shall eat up thy harvest, and thy bread, thy sons and thy daughters shall eat: they shall eat up thy flocks and thy herds: they shall eat up thy vines and thy fig trees: they shall beat down thy fenced cities, where thou trustest, with the sword. 18 But even in those days, saith the LORD, I will not make a full end with you. 19 And it shall come to pass, when ye shall say, Wherefore hath the LORD our God done all these things unto us? then shalt thou say unto them, Thus have they forsaken me, and served other gods, in whose land ye went. 20 Declare ye this in the house of Jacob, and publish it in Judah, saying, 21 Hear now this, O foolish people, and without understanding; 22 which have eyes, and see not; which have ears, and hear not: 23 Fear ye not me? saith the LORD: will ye not tremble at my presence, which have placed the sand for the bound of the sea, 24 by a perpetual decree, that it cannot pass it? and though the waves thereof toss themselves, yet can they not prevail: though they roar, yet can they not pass over it. 25 But this people hath a revolting and a rebellious heart; they are revolted and gone. 26 Neither say they in their heart, Let us now fear the LORD our God, that giveth rain, both the former and the latter, in its season; that reserveth unto us the appointed weeks of the harvest. 27 Your iniquities have turned away these things, and your sins have withholden good from you. 28 For among my people are found wicked men: they watch, as fowlers lie in wait; they set a trap, they catch men. 29 As a cage is full of birds, so are their houses full of deceit: therefore they are become great, and waxen rich. 30 They are waxen fat, they shine; ye, they overpass in deeds of wickedness: they plead not the cause, the cause of the fatherless, that they should prosper; and the right of the needy do they not judge. 31 Shall I not visit for these things? saith the LORD: shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this? 32 A wonderful and horrible thing is come to pass in the land; 33 the prophets prophesy falsely, and the priests bear rule by their means; and my people love to have it so: and what will ye do in the end thereof? 6 Flee for safety, ye children of Benjamin, out of the midst of Jerusalem, and blow the trumpet in Tekoa, and raise up a signal on Beth-haccherem: for evil looketh forth from the north, and a great destruction. 2 The comely and delicate one, the daughter of Zion, will I cut off. 3 Shepherds with their flocks shall come unto her; they shall pitch their tents against her round about; they shall feed everyone in his place. 4 Prepare ye war against her; arise, and let us go up at noon. Woe unto us! for the day declineth, for the shadows of the evening are stretched out. 5 Arise, and let us go up by night, and let us destroy her palaces. 6 For thus hath the LORD of hosts said, How ye down trees, and cast up a mount against Jerusalem: this is the city to be visited; she is wholly oppression in the midst of her. 7 As a well casteth forth her waters, so she casteth forth her wickedness:

5 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, "They shall thoroughly glean the remnant of Israel as a vine: turn again thine hand as a grapegatherer into the baskets. 10 To whom shall I speak and testify, that they may hear? 11 behold, their ear is uncircumcised, 12 and they cannot hearken: behold, 13 the word of the LORD is become unto them a reproach; they have no delight in it. 11 Therefore I am full of the fury of the LORD; 14 I am weary withholding in, 15 and I set watchmen upon my walls, and he that ears shall be given to the enemy. 15 Therefore I am full of the fury of the LORD; 16 I am weary withholding in, 17 and I set watchmen upon my walls, and he that ears shall be given to the enemy. 18 Therefore hear, ye nations, and know, O congregation, what is among them. 19 Hear, O earth: behold, I will bring evil upon this people, reventhe fruit of their thoughts, because they have not hearkened unto my words; and as for my law, they have rejected it. 20 *To what purpose cometh there to me frankincense from “Sheba, and the “sweet cane from a far country? 21 *Your burnt offerings are not acceptable, nor your sacrifices pleasing unto me. 22 Therefore thus saith the LORD, 23 Behold, I will lay stumblingblocks before this people: and the fathers and the sons together shall stumble against them; the neighbour and his friend shall perish. 24 Thus saith the LORD, 25 Behold, a people cometh 26 from the north country; and a great nation shall stand against them from the uttermost parts of the earth. 27 They lay hold on bow and spear; they are cruel, and have no mercy; 28 *Their voice roareth like the sea, and they ride upon horses; every one set in array, as a man to the battle, against thee, O daughter of Zion. 29 We have heard the fame thereof; 30 our hands wax feeble: anguish hath taken hold of us, and pangs as of a woman in travail. 31 Go not forth into the field, nor walk by the way; 32 be not plucked away. 33 Refuses shall men call them, because the LORD hath rejected them. 34 The daughter of my people, 35 gird thee with sackcloth, and wallow thyself in ashes: 36 mourn, as for an only son, most bitter lamentation; for the spoiler shall suddenly come upon us. 37 I have made thee a tower and Jo forlorn, and a desolation, a land not inhabited. 38 Therefore I am full of the fury of the LORD; 39 I am weary withholding in, 40 and I set watchmen upon my walls, and he that ears shall be given to the enemy. 41 They have healed also the hurt of my people lightly, saying, 42 Peace, peace; 43 when there is no peace. 44 Were they ashen when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not at all ashen, neither could they blash: therefore they shall fall among them that fall: 45 at the time that I will visit them they shall be cast down, saith the LORD. 16 Thus saith the LORD, Stand ye in the ways and see, and ask for the old paths, where is the good way, and walk therein, 4 and ye shall find rest for your souls: but they said, We will not walk thereon. 17 And I set watchmen over you, saying, Hearken to the sound of the trumpet; but they said, 5 We will not hearken. 18 Therefore hear, ye nations, and know, O congregation, what is among them. 19 Hear, O earth: behold, I will bring evil upon this people, even the fruit of their thoughts, because they have not hearkened unto my words; and as for my law, they have rejected it. 20 *To what purpose cometh there to me frankincense from “Sheba, and the “sweet cane from a far country? 21 *Your burnt offerings are not acceptable, nor your sacrifices pleasing unto me. 22 Therefore thus saith the LORD, 23 Behold, I will lay stumblingblocks before this people: and the fathers and the sons together shall stumble against them; the neighbour and his friend shall perish. 24 Thus saith the LORD, 25 Behold, a people cometh 26 from the north country; and a great nation shall stand against them from the uttermost parts of the earth. 27 They lay hold on bow and spear; they are cruel, and have no mercy; 28 *Their voice roareth like the sea, and they ride upon horses; every one set in array, as a man to the battle, against thee, O daughter of Zion. 29 We have heard the fame thereof; 30 our hands wax feeble: anguish hath taken hold of us, and pangs as of a woman in travail. 31 Go not forth into the field, nor walk by the way; 32 be not plucked away. 33 Refuses shall men call them, because the LORD hath rejected them.
Thus saith the Lord, the God of Israel, "Amend your ways and your doings, and I will cause you to dwell in this place. 7 Trust ye not in lying words, saying, The temple of the Lord, the temple of the Lord, the temple of the Lord; are these. 8 For if ye throughly amend your ways and your doings; if ye thoroughly execute judgment between a man and his neighbour; 9 if ye oppress not the stranger, the fatherless, and the widow; and shed not innocent blood in this place; 10 neither walk after other gods to your own hurt: 11 then will I cause you to dwell in this place, in the land that I gave to your fathers, from of old even for evermore. 12 Behold, ye trust in lying words, that cannot profit. 13 Will ye steal, murder, and commit adultery, and swear falsely, and burn incense unto Baal, and walk after other gods whom ye have not known, and come and stand before me in this house, in which my name is called, to offer burnt offerings and sacrifices, 14 and to commit rebellion and evil, to provoke me to anger? 15 Therefore thus saith the Lord, the God of Israel, to this people; 16 therefore thus saith the Lord, the God of Israel, to this people; 17 have sent unto you all my servants the prophets, daily rising up early and sending them: 18 yet they hearkened not, neither inclined their ear, but made their neck stiff: they did worse than their fathers. 19 And they despised my sabbaths, and profaned my sabbaths, when they said, The seventh day shall be for us a day of ease; in it we will do as we please. 20 Therefore thus saith the Lord; Do they provoke me to anger? saith the Lord: Do they provoke me to anger? saith the Lord: 21 when ye offer burnt offerings and sacrifices to me on the first and on the new moon, and on the sabbaths, 22 and on every green tree of the field, and on every high hill, and under every green tree: 23 have despised me, even ye, and walked after other gods, which ye knew not; 24 and I caused the waters to go over them to destroy them from before mine eyes. 25 And I brought them out of the land of Egypt unto this day, I have not lifted up Mine hand against them to destroy them. 26 Yet they have done evil in my sight, in that they have committed the abominations which were worse than all their fathers: 27 therefore will I cause you to be removed out of this land, into a land ofpilgrimages and a land ofbeggars: the land of Egypt and all lands whither ye shall go shall make you serve. 28 But I will assemble you, and bring you again into the land which your fathers possessed; and ye shall possess it, and dwell therein. 29 But if ye will not hear me, nor will walk after me to keep my commandments, then will I cause you to be removed out of this good land, and I will cause you to perish from among this good land, I will make you perish with a quick destruction, saith the Lord, of yours and of your children's children.
of his wrath. 30 For the children of Judah have done that which is evil in my sight, saith the LORD; they have set their abominations in the house which is called by my name, to defile it. 31 And they have built the high places of Topheth, which is in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to burn their sons and their daughters in the fire; which I commanded not, neither came it into my mind.

32 Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that it shall no more be called Topheth, nor The valley of Slaughter: for they shall bury in Topheth, till there be no place to bury. 33 And the carcases of this people shall be meat for the fowls of the heaven, and for the beasts of the earth; and none shall fray them away. 34 Then will I cause to cease from the cities of Judah, and from the streets of Jerusalem, the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride: for the land shall become a waste.

8 At that time, saith the LORD, they shall bring out the bones of the kings of Judah, and the bones of his princes, and the bones of the priests, and the bones of the prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, out of their graves: 2 and they shall spread them before the sun, and the moon, and all the host of heaven, whom they have loved, and whom they have served, and after whom they have walked, and whom they have sought, and whom they have worshipped: they shall not be gathered, nor be buried; they shall be for dung upon the face of the earth. 3 And death shall be chosen rather than life by all the residue that remain of this evil family, which remain in all the places whither I have driven them, saith the LORD of hosts.

4 Moreover thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD: A Shall men fall, and not rise up again? shall one turn away, and not return? 5 Why then is this people of Jerusalem slidden back by a perpetual backsliding? 6 They hold fast deceit, they refuse to return.

6 I hearkened and heard, but they spake not aright: no man repenteth of his wickedness, saying, What have I done? every one turneth to his course, as a horse that rusheth headlong in the battle.

7 Yea, the stork in the heaven knoweth her appointed times; and the turtle and the swallow, and the crane observe the time of their coming; 8 but my people know not the ordinance of the LORD. 9 How do ye say, We are wise, and the law of the LORD is with us? But, behold, the false pen of the scribes hath wrought falsely.

9 The wise men are ashamed, they are dismayed and taken: lo, they have rejected the word of the LORD; and what manner of wisdom is in them? 10 Therefore will I give their wives unto others, and their fields to them that shall possess them: for every one from the least even unto the greatest is given to covetousness, from the prophet even unto the priest every one dealeth falsely. 11 And they have healed the hurt of the daughter of my people lightly, saying, Peace, peace; when there is no peace.

12 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not at all ashamed, neither could they blush: therefore shall they fall among them that fall: in the time of their visitation they shall be cast down, saith the LORD. 13 I will utterly consume them, saith the LORD: there shall be no grapes on the vine, nor figs on the figtree; and the leaf shall fade; and the thing that I have given them shall pass away from them. 14 Why do we sit still? assemble yourselves, and let us enter into the defended cities, and let us be silent there: for the LORD our God hath put us to silence, and given us water of gall to drink, because we have sinned against the LORD. 15 We looked for peace, but no good came; and for a time of healing, and behold dismay!

voured the land and all that is in it; the city and those that dwell therein. 17 For, behold, I will send serpents, basilisks, among you, which will not be charmed; and they shall bite you, saith the LORD. 18 Oh that I could comfort myself against sorrow! my heart is faint within me. 19 Behold, the voice of the cry of the daughter of my people from a land that is very far off: Is not the LORD in Zion? is not her King in her? Why have they provoked me to anger with their graven images, and with strange vanities? 20 The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not saved. 21 For the hurt of the daughter of my people am I hurt: I am 4 black; astonishment hath taken hold on me. 22 Is there no balm in Gilead? is there no physician there? why then is not the health of the daughter of my people recovered? 23 Oh that my head were waters, and mine eyes a fountain of tears, that I might weep day and night for the slain of my people! 24 Oh that I had in the wilderness a lodging place of wayfaring men; that I might leave my people, and go to them from! for they be all adulterers, an assembly of treacherous men. 25 And they bend their tongue as it were their bow for falsehood; and they are grown strong in the land, but not for truth: for they proceed from evil to evil, and they know not me, saith the LORD. 26 Take ye heed every one of his neighbour, and trust ye not in any brother: for every brother will utterly supplant, and every neighbour will go about with slanders. 27 And they will deceive every one his neighbour, and speak lies; they weary themselves to commit iniquity. 28 Thine habitation is in the midst of deceit; through deceit they refuse to know me, saith the LORD. 29 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, I will melt them, and try them; for how else should I do, because of the daughter of my people? 30 Their tongue is a deadly arrow; it speaketh deceit:
his mouth, and teach your daughters walling, and every one her neighbour lamentation. 21 For death is come up into our windows, it is entered into our palaces; to cut off the children from without, and the young men from the streets. 22 Speak, Thus saith the Lord, The carcases of men shall fall as dung upon the open field, and as the handful after the harvestman, and none shall gather them.

23 Thus saith the Lord, Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his might, let not the rich man glory in his riches: 24 but I will punish all them which are circumcised in their uncircumcision; 25 Egypt, and Judah, and the children of Ammon, and Moab, and all them that have the corners of their hair polled, that dwell in the wilderness: for all the nations are uncircumcised, and all the house of Israel are uncircumcised in heart.

10 Hear ye the word which the Lord speaketh unto you, O house of Israel: Thus saith the Lord, Learn not the way of the nations: for then shall perish from the earth, and from under the heavens. 2 For he hath made the earth by his power, and has established the world by his wisdom, and by his understanding hath he stretched out the heavens: 3 when he utters his voice, there is a tumult of waters in the heavens, and he causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth; he maketh lightnings for the rain, and the thunderbolts, and the stormy wind out of his treasures. 4 He causeth the wind to blow in the days of the flood, which is but a stock. 5 There is silver for them that come but a tree out of the forest, the work of the hands of the workman with the axe. 6 They deck it with silver and with gold; they fasten it with nails and with hammers, that it move not. 7 They are like a palm tree, of turned work, and speak not: they must needs be borne, because they cannot go. Be not afraid of them; for they cannot do evil, neither is it in them to do good. 8 There is none like unto thee, O Lord; thou art great, and thy name is great in might.

11 Thus shall ye say unto them, The gods that have not made the heavens and the earth, these shall perish from the earth, and from under the heavens. 12 He hath made the earth by his power, and has established the world by his wisdom, and by his understanding hath he stretched out the heavens: when he uttereth his voice, there is a tumult of waters in the heavens, and he causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth; he maketh lightnings for the rain, and brings forth the wind out of his treasuries. 13 Every man is become brutish and is without knowledge; every goldsmith is put to shame by his graven image: for his molten image is falsehood, and there is no breath in them. 14 They are vanity, a work of delusion: in the time of their visitation they shall perish. 15 The portion of Jacob is not like these; for he is the former of all things; and Israel is the tribe of his inheritance: the Lord of hosts is his name.

17 Gather up thy wares out of the land, O thou that abidest in the siege. 18 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will sling out the inhabitants of the land at this time, and will distress them, that they may feel it. 19 Woe is me for my hurt! my wound is grievous: but I said, Truly this is my father, my grief, and I must bear it. 20 My
The word that came to Jeremiah from the Lord, saying, 8 "Hear ye the words of this covenant, and speak unto the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem; 3 and say thou unto them, Thus saith the Lord, the God of Israel, 8 "Cursed be the man that heareth not the words of this covenant, 4 which I command them, and speak unto them all the words of this covenant, 5 which I commanded your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, 6 out of the iron furnace, saying, 6 Obey my voice, and do them, according to all which I command you: 7 so shall ye be my people, and I will be your God: 8 that I may establish the oath which I made with your fathers. 9 I will make thee a great habitation, a dwelling place of jackals. 10 I will break the cities of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, saying, 11 Hear ye the words of this covenant, and do them, according to all which I have set up altars to the shameful thing, 12 even altars to burn incense unto Baal. 13 Therefore pray not thou for this people, neither lift up cry nor prayer for them: 14 for I will not hear them in the time that they cry unto me 15 for their trouble. 16 What hath my beloved to do in mine house, 17 seeing she hath wrought lewdness with many, and the holy flesh is passed from thee? 18 when thou doest evil, then thou -rejoicest. 19 The Lord called thy name, 20 A green olive tree, fair with goodly fruit: 21 with the noise of a great tumult he hath kindled fire upon it, and the branches of it are broken. 22 For the Lord of hosts, that planted thee, hath pronounced evil against thee, because of the evil of the house of Israel and of the house of Judah, which they have wrought for themselves in Provoking me to anger by offering incense unto Baal.

18 And the Lord gave me knowledge of it, and I knew it: then thou shewedst me their doings.

19 But I was as a gentle lamb that is led to the slaughter; and I knew not that they had devised devices against me, saying, Let us destroy the tree with the fruit thereof, and cast him off from the land of the living, that his name may be more remembered.

20 But, O Lord of hosts, that judgest righteously, that triest the reins and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them: for unto thee have I revealed my cause.

21 Therefore thus saith the Lord concerning the men of Anathoth, that seek thy life, saying, Thou hast not prophesied in the name of the Lord, that thou die not by our hand: as therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, Behold, I will punish them: the young men shall die by the sword; their sons and their daughters shall die by famine; and there shall be no remnant unto them: for I will bring evil upon the men of Anathoth, even upon the year of their visitation.

12 Righteous art thou, O Lord, when I plead with thee: yet would I reason the cause with thee: wherefore doth the way of the wicked prosper? wherefore are all they at ease that deal very treacherously? 2 Thou hast planted them, yea, they have taken root; they grow, yea, they bring forth fruit: thou hast seen it with thine eyes, and thou hast said, Behold, I will plant my vineyard, I will plant that which pleaseth me.

3 But thou, O Lord, knowest me; thou seest me, and triest mine heart toward thee: pull them out like sheep for the slaughter, and prepare them for the day of slaughter.

4 How long shall the land mourn, and the herbs of the whole country wither? for the wickedness of them that dwell therein, the beasts are consumed, and the birds; because they said, He shall not see our latter end.

5 If thou hast run with the footmen, and thou hast worn thee out, then how canst thou contend with horses? and though in a land of peace thou art secure, yet how wilt thou do in the pride of Jordan? for even thy brethren, and the house of thy father, even they have dealt treacherously with thee; even they have cried aloud after thee: I believe them not, though they speak fair words unto thee.

6 I have forsaken mine house, I have cast off mine heritage; I have given the dearly beloved of my soul into the hand of her enemies. 8 Mine heritage is become unto me as a lion in the forest: she hath uttered her voice against me; therefore I have hated her.

9 Is mine heritage unto me as a speckled bird of prey? are the birds of prey against her round about? go ye, assemble all the beasts of the field, bring them to devour. 10 Many shepherds have destroyed my vineyard, they have trodden my portion under foot, they have made my pleasant portion a desolate wilderness. 11 They have made it a desolation; it mourneth unto me, being desolate; the whole land is made desolate, because no man layeth it to heart.

12 Spoilers are come upon us from all the bare heights in the wilderness: for the sword of the Lord devoureth from the one end of the land even to the other end of the land: no flesh hath peace.

13 They have sown wheat, and have reaped thorns; they have put themselves to shame, and profit nothing: and they shall be ashamed of their fruits, because of the fierce anger of the Lord.

14 Thus saith the Lord against all mine evil neighbours, that touch the inheritance which I have caused my people Israel to inherit: Behold, I will pluck them up from off their land, and will pluck up the house of Judah from among them. 15 And it shall come to pass, after that I have plucked them up, I will return and have compassion on them; and I will bring them again, every man to his heritage, and every man to his land. And it shall come to pass, if they will diligently learn the ways of my people, to swear by my name, as the Lord liveth; even as they taught my people to swear by Baal; then shall they be built up

See Ezek. ch. 20. 10.
Thus said the LORD unto me, Go, and buy thee a linen girdle, and put it upon thy loins, and put it not in water. So I bought a girdle according to the word of the LORD, and put it upon my loins. And the word of the LORD came unto me the second time, saying, Take the girdle that thou hast bought, which is upon thy loins, and arise, go to Euphrates, and hide it there in a hole of the rock. So I went, and hid it by Euphrates, as the LORD commanded me. And it came to pass after many days, that the LORD said unto me, Arise, go to Euphrates, and take the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there. Then I went to Euphrates, and digged, and took the girdle from the place where I had hid it: and, behold, the girdle was marred, it was profitable for nothing.

Then the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, Thus saith the LORD, After this manner will I mar the pride of Jerusalem, and the great pride of Judah.

This evil people, which refuse to hear my words, which walk in the stubbornness of their heart, and are gone after other gods to serve them, and to worship them, shall even be as this girdle, which is profitable for nothing. For as the girdle cleaveth to the loins of a man, so have I caused to cleave unto me the whole house of Israel and the whole house of Judah, saith the LORD; that they might be unto me for a people, and for a name, and for a praise, and for a glory: but they would not hear.

Therefore thou shalt speak unto this word: Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, Every bottle shall be filled with wine: and they shall say unto thee, Do we not know that every bottle shall be filled with wine? Then shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will fill all the inhabitants of this land, even the kings that sit upon David's throne, and the priests, and the prophets, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, with drunkenness.

And I will dash them one against another, even the fathers and the sons together, saith the LORD: I will not pity, nor spare, nor have compasion, that I should not destroy them.

Hear ye, and give ear; be not proud: for the LORD hath spoken. Give glory to the LORD your God, before he cause darkness, and before your feet stumble upon the dark mountains; and, while you look for light, he turn it into the shadow of death, and make it gross darkness. But if ye will not hear, then will I say unto the king and to the queen-mother, Humble yourselves, sit down: for your headstresses are come down, even the crown of your glory. The cities of the South are shut up, and there is none to open them: Judah is carried away captive all of it; it is wholly carried away captive.

Lift up your eyes, and behold them that come from the north: where is the flock that was given thee, thy beautiful flock? What wilt thou say, when he shall set thee among the captives, or utter a word in the hearing of the daughter of them that trafficked with thee? Say thou unto them, Thus saith the LORD: Are these things come upon me? for the greatness of thine iniquity are thy skirts discovered, and thy heelssuffer violence. Can the Ethiopian change his skin, or the leopard his spots? then may ye also do good, that are accustomed to do evil.

Therefore will I scatter them, as the stubble that passeth away, by the wind of the wilderness. This is thy lot, the portion measured to thee, saith the LORD; because thou hast forgotten me, and trusted in falsehood. Therefore will I also discover thy skirts, 1 Or, jar 3 Or, it grow dark 4 Heb. mountains of twilight. 5 Or, stony darkness 6 Or, Sit ye down low 1 Or, your beautiful crown 8 Or, What will thou say, when he shall visit thee, seeing thou thyself hast instructed them against thee, even thy friends to be head over thee? 9 Or, multitude 10 Heb. taught. 11 Or, unto
The word of the Lord that came to Jeremiah concerning the drought.

14 Judah mourneth, and the gates thereof languish, they sit in black upon the ground; and the cry of Jerusalem is gone up. 2 And their nobles send their little ones to the waters: they come to the pits, and find no water; they return with their vessels empty: they are ashamed and confounded, and cover their heads. 3 Because of the ground which is chapt, the plowmen are ashamed, they cover their heads. 4 Yes, the kind also in the field calveth, and forsaketh her young, because there is no grass. 5 And the wild asses stand in the high places, they pant for lack of草. 6 And the wild asses stand in the high places, they pant for lack of草. 7 Though our iniquities testify against us, work thou for thy name's sake, O LORD: for our backsides are many; we have sinned against thee. 8 O thou hope of Israel, the saviour thereof in time of trouble, why shouldst thou be as a sojourner in the land, and as a wayfaring man that turneth aside to tarry for a night? 9 Why shouldst thou be as a man astonied, as a mighty man that cannot save? yet thou, O LORD, art in the midst of us, and we are called by thy name; leave us not. 10 Thus saith the LORD unto this people, Even so have they sinned against thee. 11 In the land and have no knowledge.

19 Hast thou utterly rejected Judah? hath thy soul loathed Zion? why hast thou smitten us, and there is no healing for us? We looked for peace, but no good came: and for a time of healing, and behold dismay! 20 We acknowledge, O LORD, our wickedness, and the iniquity of our fathers: for we have sinned against thee. 21 Do not abhor us, for thy name's sake; do not disgrace the throne of thy glory: remember, break not thy covenant with us. 22 Are there any among the vanities of the heathen that can cause rain? or can the heavens give snow?
1 Then said the Lord unto me, Though Moses and Samuel stood before me, yet my mind could not be toward this people: cast them out of my sight, and let them go forth. And it shall come to pass, when they say unto thee, Whither shall we go forth? then thou shalt tell them, Thus saith the Lord: Such as are for death, to death; and such as are for the sword, to the sword; and such as are for the famine, to the famine; and such as are for captivity, to captivity. And I will appoint over them four kinds, saith the Lord: the sword to slay, and the dogs to tear, and the fowl of the heaven, and the beasts of the earth, to devour and to destroy. 4 And I will cause them to pass with thine enemies into a land which thou knowest not: for I will make thee unto this people a fenced things. 6 Thou hast rejected me, saith the Lord, thou art gone back from mine ordinances, which I set before thee. 7 And I have stretched out mine hand upon thee again, and the Cainath of mine anger, as a deceitful brook, as a brook not found; because thou hast spoken against the mighty, against the Lord of hosts, his holy one, and hast said, Where is the house of the Lord? and where is thethreshold of his doors? 11 And I will make thee unto this people a fenced thing among nations, a reproach and a wonder among all men; 12 And I will stretch out mine hand upon thee; I will smite thee very sore, and will altogether destroy thee; and the like will I do unto thee. 13 Therefore have I stretched out my hand against thee, and destroyed thee; and thou wast as a wound incurable, which refuseth to be healed; willest thou indeed bring me unto a 15 watersthat fail? 14 And I will make thee unto the king of Assyria, as a deceitful brook, as a brook not found; because thou hast said against the Lord, by the multitude of thy many chariots, my strength and my might, and by the high places of Ееріо. 16 Because the Lord hath spoken it; therefore I will not turn back,

1 A glorious throne, set on high from the beginning, is the place of our sanctuary. 2 O Lord, the hope of Israel, all that forsake thee shall be ashamed; they that depart from me shall be written in the gates of this city. 3 The Lord, the fountain of living waters, and she shall be saved: for she that departeth from me shall be ashamed. 4 Behold, they say among the people, Behold, I will return to my first husband; for the first husband is better than seven husbands. 5 Shall a wise woman build seven houses? 6 Or, shall she not eat of the fruit of her hands? 7 She shall enjoy her fruit with joy, and her seed shall be strong in the land. 8 For thus saith the Lord, After the manner of the health in the desert shall all the inhabitants of the nations be blessed; even all that drink of the waters; for my mouth shall speak the truth, and judgment shall be in the earth. 9 And this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel; after those days, saith the Lord, I will put my law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. 10 And they shall teach no more every man his neighbor, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for all shall know me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith the Lord: for I will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their sin no more. 11 In the last days, it shall come to pass, saith the Lord, that mine house shall be called an house of prayer; but ye make it a den of thieves. 12 Therefore thus saith the Lord, If ye return, and keep my commandments; 13 And call the assembly together, and tell them to come up to the mountain; and I will give them rain in due season, and riches in fields, and new wine and oil in their tents, 14 And I will also send for many fish, and fowl of the heaven, and wild beasts out of all countries. 15 And, 16 And, I will plant them in their land, and they shall know that I am the Lord their God. 17 For thus saith the Lord, As I live, even though Sarah laugh to her husband, shall these things be: and no law shall annul the word of the Lord. 18 For thus saith the Lord, After the manner of a sworn oath, I have hitherto spoken in your ears: 19 For I know your叛反, and your transgressions, and your sins; 20 But your iniquities have turned away yoursavethiswear, and I will not hearing unto thee. 21 Therefore, thus saith the Lord, If ye turn again, I will return; if ye pull away, I will go: if ye speak good, I will do well to you; but if ye turn the back of your neck against my spirit, in the day when it shall come, ye shall know it. 22 For as a woman purgeth out the grime from off an ear, so shall I be purged out from off thine ossicles: and I will turn again to thee. 23 And I will make an everlasting covenant with thee, and will fill thee with the fear of my house for evermore. 24 And for this sake will I be unto thee a Father, and will compassion thee as a man doth his son: and thou shalt know the Lord thy God. 25 For thus saith the Lord, As the new wine is found in the clusters, and he that having it maketh not new wine, butteth it up with the old wine; 26 So will I do with you, O house of Israel, saith the Lord: and I will set my tabernacle among you, and be your God. 27 Then said I, Ah Lord Lord, is it not mine own countrymen? Therefore I said, I will not come in unto the house of the Lord. 28 Therefore said I, I will go in unto the forest; and it shall be found, that the wild beasts are therein; and I will come in unto the cave of the rock; and it shall be found, that the rocky places are therein. 29 Shall I come out to the rock of J Ethan, or shall I go into the rock of Oreb, and shall I make mine abode in the wilderness, or shall I go to the land of the Caser? 30 I will go to my bed with my might, and mine anger shall consume me. 31 And the Lord said, My Spirit shall not remain in that abomination for ever. 32 And it shall be, when my Spirit is withdrawn from them, I will hide my face from them at that time; and I will visit their iniquity; and their transgressions shall I not remember. 33 Then said I, Ah Lord Lord, knowest thou not what I do? 34 And the Lord said, Can the Ethiopian change his skin, or the leopard his spots? then may ye also say, Except the Lord shall have compassion on me, I shall not see light. 35 Then said I, Ah Lord, the nation which ye have chosen, is become the reproach of all the nations. 36 Thy servants shall be as the flocks in Egypt; the he goat also shall be their rulers: and the Lord shall bring upon them the works of the evil assembly which they have done, because they have forsaken his services. 37 And the Lord said, Go, get thee down to thefk, and these shall be the signs unto thee: 38 Behold, I will shake mine hand over thee in the places where thou are despised; and they shall know that I am the Lord. 39 And it shall come to pass, when I shall have brought them again from the people where they are dispersed, and shall be very sorry for them, and will bring them again, 40 Then shall ye know that I am the Lord, when I shall have brought you into the land of Israel, into the country which thy fathers dwelt in; and ye shall know that I am the Lord, when I bring you thither. 41 And ye shall know that I am the Lord, when I have brought you into the land which ye shall inherit, and when I have divided you among the nations, and when ye shall go into the fierce wilderness of Egypt, and shall be gathered into the land of Israel, 42 Then shall ye know that I am the Lord your God, which brought you forth out of the land of Egypt, and brake the houses of the gods in Egypt, and heard your weeping, and slew every beast in the field, or the wild beast which went on all fours, and the fowl of heaven, and brought them into the land of Egypt, and divided them among the nations, which ye shall be scattered therein. 43 And the Lord said, Where is the word of the Lord? it is gone back again unto me. 44 Therefore I will restore thee, O Jacob, and Israel shall not be ashamed; thou shalt not be confounded any more, neither shalt thou be dishonoured any more, until the time when thou shalt be converted. 45 And I will be a sanctuary to the Lord, for every throne in the house of Israel shall be known: the king shall sit at his throne, and all his princes shall stand by him. 46 Every man shall sit under his vine and under his fig tree, and there shall no one make him afraid; for the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea. 47 And it shall come to pass in that day, that, inJerusalem, the fortress shall be called the throne of the Lord, and the throne of the Lord shall be in the midst of Jerusalem: and he shall be king over all the earth; and in that day there shall no more be two kings in the house of Israel, neither shall there be twoOutline

The word which came to Jeremiah from the Lord, saying, 2 Arise, and go down to the potter's house, and there I will cause thee to hear my words. 3 Then I went down to the potter's house, and, behold, he wrought his work on the wheels. 4 And when the vessel that he made of clay was marred in the hand of the potter, I said, \( \ast \) Let it be again another vessel, as seemed good to the potter to make it.

5 Then the word of the Lord came to me, saying, 6 O house of Israel, cannot I do with you as this potter? saith the Lord. 7 Behold, as the clay in the potter's hand, so are ye in mine hand, O house of Israel. 8 At what instant I shall speak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom, \( \ast \) to pluck up and to break down and to destroy it; 9 if that nation, concerning which I have spoken, \( \ast \) turn from their evil, \( \ast \) I will repent of the evil that I thought to do unto them. 10 And at what instant I shall speak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom, \( \ast \) to build and to plant it; 11 if it do evil in my sight, that it obey not my voice, then I will repent of the good, wherewith I said I would benefit them. 12 Now therefore go to, speak to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, saying, Thus saith the Lord: Behold, I frame evil against you, and devise a device against you: \( \ast \) return ye now every one from his evil way, and \( \ast \) amend your ways and your doings. 13 But they say, \( \ast \) There is no hope: for we will walk after our own devices, and we will do every one after \( \ast \) the stubbornness of his evil heart.

14 Therefore thus saith the Lord: 15 Ask ye now among the nations, who hath heard such things: the virgin of Israel hath done \( \ast \) a very horrible thing. 16 Shall the snow of Lebanon fall from the rock of the field? or shall the cold waters that flow down from afar be dried up? 17 \( \ast \) For my people hath forgotten me, they have burned incense to vanity; and they have caused them to stumble in their ways, \( \ast \) in the ancient paths, to walk in bypaths, \( \ast \) in a way not cast up; 18 to make their land \( \ast \) an astonishment, and \( \ast \) a perpetual hissing; \( \ast \) every one that passeth thereby shall be astonished, \( \ast \) and shake his head. 19 I will scatter them \( \ast \) as with an east wind before the enemy; \( \ast \) I will \( \ast \) look upon their back, and not their face, in the day of their calamity.

20 Then said they, \( \ast \) Come, and let us devise devices against Jeremiah; \( \ast \) for the law shall not perish from the priest, nor counsel from the wise, nor the word from the prophet. \( \ast \) Come, and let us smite him with the tongue, and let us not give heed to any of his words. 21 Give heed to me, O Lord, and hearken to the voice of them that contend with me. 22 \( \ast \) Shall evil be recompensed for good? for \( \ast \) they have digged a pit for my soul. 23 Remember how I stood before thee to speak good for them, to turn away thy fury from them.

of the priests; and go forth unto the valley of the son of Hinnom, which is by the entry of the gate of Harsith, and proclaim there the words that I shall tell thee: and say, \( ^3 \) Hear ye the word of the Lord, O kings of Judah, and inhabitants of Jerusalem; thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring evil upon this place, the which whosoever heareth, \( ^* \) his ears shall tingle. 4 Because they have forsaken me, and have estranged this place, and have burned incense in it unto other gods, whom they knew not, they and their fathers and the kings of Judah; \( ^* \) and have filled this place with the blood of innocents; \( ^5 \) and have built the high places of Baal, \( ^* \) to burn their sons in the fire for burnt offerings unto Baal; \( ^* \) which \( ^* \) I commanded not, nor spake it, neither came it into my mind: 6 therefore, \( ^* \) behold, the days come, that \( ^* \) Pashur, the priest, son of Malchijah, the chief officer in the house of the Lord, shall not sit in the gateway of Benjamin, \( ^* \) to judge the people of Judah any more; \( ^* \) but \( ^* \) Magor-missabib. 7 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will make thee a terror unto thyself, and to all thy friends: and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, and thine eyes shall behold it: 8 and I will make this city an astonishment, \( ^* \) an astonishment: \( ^* \) and a hissing; every one that passeth thereby shall be astonishe, and hiss because of all the plagues thereof. 9 And I will make them to eat the flesh of their sons and the flesh of their daughters, and they shall eat every one the flesh of his friend, \( ^* \) in the siege and in the straitness, whereunto their enemies and they that seek their life, \( ^* \) shall come. 10 Then \( ^* \) shalt thou break the bottle in the sight of the men with thee, \( ^* \) and shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord of hosts: Even so will I break this people and this city, \( ^* \) as one breaketh a potter's vessel, \( ^* \) that cannot be made whole again: \( ^* \) and they shall bury in Topheth, \( ^* \) till there be no place to bury. 11 Thus will I do unto this place, saith the Lord, and to the inhabitants thereof, even making this city \( ^* \) as Topheth: 12 and the houses of Jerusalem, and the houses of the kings of Judah, which are defiled, shall be \( ^* \) as the place of Topheth, \( ^* \) even all the houses upon whose roofs they have burned incense unto all the host of heaven, and have poured out drink offerings unto other gods.

Then came Jeremiah from \( ^* \) Topheth, whither the Lord had sent him to prophesy; \( ^* \) and he stood in the court of the Lord's house, and said to all the people: 15 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring upon this city and upon all her towns all the evil that I have pronounced against it; \( ^* \) because they have made their neck stiff, \( ^* \) that they might not hear my words.

Now \( ^* \) Pashhur the son of Elioenai, \( ^* \) the chief officer in the house of the Lord, heard Jeremiah prophesying these things. 2 Then \( ^* \) Pashhur smote Jeremiah the prophet, and put him \( * \) in the stocks that were in the upper gate of Benjamin, which was in the house of the Lord. 3 And it came to pass on the morrow, that \( * \) Pashhur brought forth Jeremiah out of the stocks. Then said Jeremiah unto him, \( ^* \) The Lord hath not called thy name \( * \) Pashhur, but \( * \) Magor-missabib. 4 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will make thee a terror to thyself, and to all thy friends: and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, and thine eyes shall behold it: and I will give all Judah into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall carry them captive to Babylon, and shall slay them with the sword.

Moreover \( * \) I will give all the riches of this city, and all the gain thereof, and all the \( * \) precious things thereof, yea, all the treasures of the kings of Judah will I give into the hand of their enemies, which shall spoil them, and take them, and carry them to Babylon. 5 And thou, \( * \) Pashhur, and all that dwell in thine house shall go into captivity: and thou shalt die, and there shall thou be buried, thou, and all thy children, in Topheth, which is in the gate of the children of Hinnom.

21 The word which came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, when king Zedekiah sent unto him /Pashhur the son of Malchijah, and /Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the priest, saying,
2 Inquire, I pray thee, of the LORD for us; /for Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon maketh war against us: peradventure the LORD will deal with us according to all his wondrous works, that he may go up from us.
3 Then said Jeremiah unto them,
Thus shall ye say to Zedekiah:
4 Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, Behold, I will turn back the weapons of war that are in your hands, wherewith ye fight against the king of Babylon, and against the Chaldeans which besiege you, without the walls, and I will gather them into the midst of this city. 5 And I myself will fight against you with an out stretched hand and with a strong arm, even in anger, and in fury, and in great wrath. 6 And I will smite the inhabitants of this city, both man and beast: they shall die of a great pestilence. 7 And afterward, saith the LORD, I will deliver Zedekiah king of Judah, and his servants, and the people, and the men which are left in this city, from the pestilence, from the sword, and from the famine, into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those that seek their life: and he shallsmite them with the edge of the sword;
he shall not spare them, neither have pity, nor have mercy. 8 And unto this people thou shalt say, Thus saith the LORD: Behold, I set before you the way of life and the way of death. 9 He that abideth in this city shall die by the sword; 10 For I have set my face upon this city to give it into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire.

1 See ch. 32. 2 See ch. 36. 3 See ch. 29. 4 See ch. 25. 5 See ch. 23. 6 See ch. 18. 7 See ch. 14.
Thus said the LORD: Go down to the house of the king of Judah, and speak there this word, and say, 'Hear the word of the LORD, O king of Judah, that sittest upon the throne of David, thou, and thy servants, and thy people that enter in by these gates.

For thus saith the LORD: Execute ye judgement and righteousness, and deliver the spoilt out of the hand of the oppressor; and do no wrong, do no violence, to the stranger, nor to the fatherless, nor to the widow, neither shed innocent blood in this place. For if ye do this thing indeed, then shall there enter in by the gates of this house kings sitting upon the throne of David, riding in chariots and on horses, he, and his servants, and his people. But if ye will not hear these words, I swear by myself, saith the LORD, that this house shall become a desolation.

For thus saith the LORD concerning the house of the king of Judah: Thou art Gilead unto me, and the head of Lebanon: yet surely I will make thee a wilderness, and cities which are not inhabited. And I will prepare destroyers against thee, every one with his weapons: and they shall cut down thy choice cedars, and cast them into the fire. And many nations shall pass by this city, and they shall say every man to his neighbour, Wherefore hath the LORD done thus unto this great city? Then they shall answer, Because they forsook the covenant of the LORD their God, and worshipped other gods, and served them.

Weep ye not for the dead, neither bemoan him: but weep for him that goeth away; for he shall return no more, nor see his native country. For thus saith the LORD touching Shallum the son of Josiah, king of Judah, which reigned instead of Josiah his father, which went forth out of this place: He shall not return thither any more; but in the place whither they have led him captive, there shall he die, and he shall see this land no more.

Woe unto him that buildeth his house by unrighteousness, and his chambers by injustice; that useth his neighbour's service without wages, and giveth him not his hire; that saith, I will build me a wide house and spacious chambers, and cutteth him out windows; and it is cieled with cedar, and painted with vermilion. Shalt thou reign, because thou strivest to excel in cedar? did not thy father eat and drink, and do judgement and justice? then it was well with him. He judged the cause of the poor and needy; and it was well. Was not this to know me? saith the LORD. But thine eyes and thine heart are not but for thy covetousness, and for to shed innocent blood in this place. For if ye do this thing indeed, then shall there enter in by the gates of this house kings sitting upon the throne of David, riding in chariots and on horses, he, and his servants, and his people.

Go up to Lebanon, and cry; and lift up thy voice in Bashan; and cry from Abarim: for all thy lovers are destroyed, who loved thee, and who went from thee in the day that thou wast defiled.

Woe unto the shepherds, and their shepherds shall go into captivity: surely then shalt thou be asshamed and confounded for all thy wickedness. 23 O inhabitant of Lebanon, that makest thy nest in the cedars, how greatly to be pitted shalt thou be when pangs come upon thee, the pain as of a woman in travail! 24 As I live, saith the Lord, though Coniah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah were the signet upon my right hand, yet would I pluck thee thence; 25 and I will give thee into the hand of them that seek thee, and into the hand of the hand of them of whom thou art afraid, even into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of the Chaldeans. 26 And I will cast thee out, and thy mother that bare thee, into another country, where ye were not born; and there shall ye die. 27 But to the land whereunto your soul shall go back to return, thither shall they not return. 28 Is this man Coniah a despised vessel? is he a vessel wherein is no pleasure? wherefore are they cast out, he and his seed, and are cast into the land which they know not? 29 O earth, earth, earth, hear the word of the Lord. 30 Thus saith the Lord, Write ye this man childless, a man that shall not prosper in his days: 31 for no man of his seed shall prosper, sitting upon the throne of David, and ruling in Judah. 32 "Woe unto the shepherds that destroy and scatter the sheep of my pasture! saith the Lord. 33 Therefore thus saith the Lord, the God of Israel, against the shepherds that feed my people: Ye have scattered my flock, and driven them away, and have not visited them: 34 behold, I will visit upon you the evil of your doings, saith the Lord. 35 And I will gather the remnant of my flock out of all the countries whither I have driven them, and will bring them again to their folds; and they shall be fruitful and multiply. 36 And I will set up shepherds over them which shall feed them: and they shall fear no more, nor be dismayed, neither shall any be lacking, saith the Lord. 37 Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will raise unto David a righteous Branch, and he shall reign as king, and deal wisely, and shall execute judgment and justice in the land. 38 In his days Judah shall be saved, and Israel shall dwell safely: and this is his name whereby he shall be called, The Lord our righteousness. 39 Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that they shall no more say, As the Lord liveth, which brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt; 40 but As the Lord liveth, which brought up and which led the seed of the house of Israel out of the north country, and from all the countries whither I had driven them; and they shall dwell in their own land. 41 Concerning the prophets, Mine heart within me is broken, all my bones shake; I am like a drunken man, and like a man whom wine hath overcome; because of the Lord, and because of his holy words. 42 For the land is full of adulterers; for because of swearing the land mourneth; the pastures of the wilderness are dried up; and their course is evil, and their force is not right. 43 For both prophet and priest are profane; yea, in my house have I found their wickedness, saith the Lord. 44 Wherefore their way shall be unto them as slippery places, in the darkness: they shall be driven on, and fall therein: for I will bring evil upon them, even the year of their visitation, saith the Lord. 45 And I have seen folly in the prophets of Samaria; they prophesied by Baal, and caused my people Israel to err. 46 In the prophets of Jerusalem also I have seen an horrible thing: they commit adultery, and walk in lies, and they strengthen the hands of evildoers, that none doth return from his wickedness: they are all of them become unto me as Sodom, and the inhabitants thereof as Gomorrah. 47 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts concerning the prophets: Behold, I will feed them with wormwood, and make them drink the water of gall: for from the prophets of Jerusalem is profaneness gone forth into all the land.

16 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Hearken not unto the words of the prophets that prophesy unto you: they teach vanity: they speak a vision of their own heart, and not out of the mouth of the LORD.

17 They say continually unto them I that despise me, The LORD hath said, Ye shall have peace; and unto every one that walketh in the stubbornness of his own heart they say, No evil shall come upon you.

18 For who hath stood in the council of the LORD, that he should perceive and hear his word? who hath marked my word, and heard it? 19 *Behold, the tempest of the LORD, even his fury, is gone forth, yea, a whirling tempest: it shall burst upon the head of the wicked.

20 The anger of the LORD shall not return, until he have executed, and till he have performed the intents of his heart: in the latter days ye shall understand it perfectly.

21 I sent not these prophets, yet they ran: I spake not unto them, yet they prophesied, as But if they had stood in my council, then had they caused my people to hear my words, and had turned them from their evil way, and from the evil of their doings.

22 *Am I a God at hand, saith the LORD, and not a God afar off? 23 Can any hide himself in secret places that I shall not see him? saith the LORD.

24 Do not I fill heaven and earth? saith the LORD. 25 I have heard what the prophets have said, that prophesy lies in my name, saying, I have dreamed, I have dreamed.

26 How long shall this be in the heart of the prophets that prophesy lies; even the prophets of the deceit of their own heart? 27 Which think to cause my people to forget my name by their lies, and by their vain boasting:

28 Is it not to me, saith the LORD? and what have I waited for? is it not you, against whom I wait? 29 With which side shall I come against you to fight? 30 The prophet that prophesies of the things which shall ensue, and seeth them, saith, The burden of the LORD; and I will do them: he that prophesies of the present thing, and speaketh lie.

31 Behold, I am against the prophets, saith the LORD, that prophesy lies, saith the LORD, and do tell them, and cause my people to err by their lies, and by their vain boasting:

32 Behold, I am against them that prophesy lying dreams, saith the LORD, and do tell them, and cause my people to err by their lies, and by their vain boasting:

33 And as for the prophet, and the priest, and the people, that shall say, The burden of the LORD, I will cast you off, saith the LORD.

34 And as for the prophet, and the priest, and the people, that shall say, The burden of the LORD, I will even punish that man and his house.

35 Thus shall ye say every one to his neighbour, and every one to his brother, What hath the LORD answered? and, What hath the LORD spoken? 36 And the burden of the LORD shall ye mention no more: for every man's own word shall be his burden; for ye have perverted the words of living God, of the LORD of hosts our God. 37 Thus shalt thou say to every one of his neighbour, and every one to his brother, What hath the LORD answered? and, What hath the LORD spoken? 38 But if ye say, The burden of the LORD; therefore thus saith the LORD: Because ye say this word, The burden of the LORD, and I have sent unto you, saying, Ye shall not say, The burden of the LORD; 39 therefore, behold, I will utterly forget you, and I will cast you off, and the city that I gave unto you and to your fathers, away from my presence: 40 and I will bring an everlasting reproach upon you, and a perpetual shame, which shall not be forgotten.

3 The LORD shewed me, and behold, two baskets of figs set before the temple of like as fire? saith the LORD; and like a hammer that breaketh the rock in pieces?

30 Therefore, behold, I am against the prophets, saith the LORD, that steal my words every one from his neighbour. 31 Behold, I am against the prophets, saith the LORD, that use their tongues, and say, He saith. 32 Behold, I am against them that prophesy lying dreams, saith the LORD, and do tell them, and cause my people to err by their lies, and by their vain boasting:

33 And as for the prophet, and the priest, and the people, that shall say, The burden of the LORD, I will cast you off, saith the LORD. 34 And as for the prophet, and the priest, and the people, that shall say, The burden of the LORD, I will even punish that man and his house. 35 Thus shall ye say every one to his neighbour, and every one to his brother, What hath the LORD answered? and, What hath the LORD spoken? 36 And the burden of the LORD shall ye mention no more: for every man's own word shall be his burden; for ye have perverted the words of living God, of the LORD of hosts our God. 37 Thus shalt thou say to every one of his neighbour, and every one to his brother, What hath the LORD answered? and, What hath the LORD spoken? 38 But if ye say, The burden of the LORD; therefore thus saith the LORD: Because ye say this word, The burden of the LORD, and I have sent unto you, saying, Ye shall not say, The burden of the LORD; 39 therefore, behold, I will utterly forget you, and I will cast you off, and the city that I gave unto you and to your fathers, away from my presence: 40 and I will bring an everlasting reproach upon you, and a perpetual shame, which shall not be forgotten.

24 The Lord shewed me, and behold, two baskets of figs set before the temple of the LORD; after that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had carried away captive Jehoiakim, king of Judah, and the princes of Judah, with the craftsmen and smiths, from Jerusalem, and had brought them to Babylon.

1. One basket had very good figs, like the figs that are first ripe: and the other basket had very bad figs, which could not be eaten, they were so bad. 2. Then said the LORD unto me, What seest thou, Jeremiah? And I said, Figs; the good figs, very good; and the bad, very bad, that cannot be eaten, they are so bad. 3. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 4. Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel; Like these good figs, so will I reward the captives of Judah, whom I have sent out of this place into the land of the Chaldeans, for good.

6. For I will set mine eyes upon them for good, and I will bring them again to this land: and I will build them, and not pull them down; and I will plant them, and not pluck them up. 7. And I will give them an heart to know me, that I am the LORD: and they shall be my people, and I will be their God: 8. for they shall return unto me with their whole heart.

8. And as the bad figs, which cannot be eaten, they are so bad; surely thus saith the LORD; So will I give Zedekiah the king of Judah, and his princes, and the residue of Jerusalem, that remain in this land, and them that dwell in the land of Egypt, as one basket that is very bad, which cannot be eaten, they are so bad. 9. Then said the LORD unto me, 10. Go not after other gods to serve them, and to worship them: and provoke me not to anger with the work of your hands; and I will do you no harm. 11. Yet ye have not hearkened unto me, saith the LORD of hosts: Because ye have not hearkened unto me, 12. Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts: Because ye have not hearkened unto me, saith the LORD, 13. More and more shall they be consumed, and shall be consumed from off the land that the LORD hath given unto them and to their fathers.

14. The word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the people of Judah in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah; the same was the first year of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon; 15. the which Jeremiah...
I will bring upon that land all my words which I have pronounced against it, even all that is written in this book, which Jeremiah hath prophesied against all the nations.

14 For many nations and great kings shall serve themselves of them, even of them: and I will recompense them according to their deeds, and according to the work of their hands.

15 For thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, unto me: Take the cup of the wine of this fury at my hand, and cause all the nations, to whom I send thee, to drink it. 16 And they shall drink, and reel to and fro, and be mad, because among them the sword that I will send among them. 17 Then took I the cup at the LORD's hand, and made all the nations to drink, unto whom the LORD had sent me: to wit, to Jerusalem, and the cities of Judah, and the kings thereof, and the princes thereof, to make them a desolation, an astonishment, an hissing, and a curse; as it is this day.

18 Pharaoh king of Egypt, and his servants, and his princes, and all his people; 19 and all the mingled people, and all the kings of the land of Uz, and all the kings of the land of the Philistines, and Ashkelon, and Gaza, and Ekron, and the remnant of Ashdod; 20 Edom, and Moab, and the children of Ammon; 21 and all the kings of Tyre, and all the kings of Zidon, and the kings of the Isle which is beyond the sea; 22 and all the kings of the children of Israel, and all the kings of Arabia, and all the kings of the mingled people that dwell in the wilderness; 23 and all the kings of Zimri, and all the kings of Elam, and all the kings of the Medes; 24 and all the kings of the north, far and near, one with another; and all the kingdoms of the world, which are upon the face of the earth: and the king of Sheshach shall drink after them. 25 And thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Drink ye, and be drunken, and spue, and fall, and rise no more, because of the sword which I will send among you. 26 And it shall be, if they refuse to take the cup at thine hand to drink, then shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Ye shall surely drink. 27 For I begin to work evil at the city which is called by my name, and should ye be utterly unpunished? Ye shall not be unpunished: for I will call for a sword upon all the inhabitants of the earth, saith the LORD of hosts.

28 Therefore prophesy thou against them all these words, and say unto them, The LORD shall roar from on high, and utter his voice from his holy habitation; he shall mightily roar against his fold; he shall give a shout, as they that tread the grapes, against all the inhabitants of the earth. 29 A noise shall come even to the end of the earth; for the LORD hath a controversy with the nations, he will plead with all flesh; as for the wicked, he will give them to the sword, saith the LORD.

30 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, evil shall go forth from nation to nation, and a great tempest shall be raised up from the uttermost parts of the earth. 31 And the slain of the LORD shall beat that land, from one end to the other end of the earth; for the LORD hath a controversy with all nations; and he will plead with all nations, and will make them waste, and will deliver them to be for a prey, and will make them to be for a prey and spoil among all the nations; because of the fierceness of his anger.

32 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, evil shall go forth from nation to nation, and a great tempest shall be raised up from the uttermost parts of the earth. 33 And the slain of the LORD shall beat that land, from one end to the other end of the earth; for the LORD hath a controversy with all nations; he will plead with all nations, and will make them waste, and will deliver them to be for a prey, and will make them to be for a prey and spoil among all the nations; because of the fierceness of his anger.

34 Howl, ye shepherds, and cry; and wallow yourselves in ashes, ye principal of the flock: for the days of your slaughter are fully come, and I will break you in pieces, and ye shall fall like a pleasant vessel. 35 And the shepherds shall have no way to flee, nor the principal of the flock to escape. 36 A voice of the cry of the shepherds, and the howling of the principal of the flock! for the LORD layeth waste their pasture. 37 And the peaceable folds are brought to silence because of the fierce anger of the LORD. 38 He hath forsaken his covert, as the lion; for their land is become an astonishment because of the fierceness of the oppressing sword, and because of his fierce anger.
In the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, came this word from the LORD, saying, 2 Thus saith the LORD: Stand in the court of the LORD's house, and speak unto all the cities of Judah, which come to worship in the LORD's house, all the words that I command thee to speak unto them; keep not back a word. 3 It may be they will hearken, and turn every man from his evil way; that I may repent me of the evil, which I purpose to do unto them because of the evil of their doings. 4 And thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD: If ye will not hearken to me, to walk in my law, which I have set before you, to hearken to the words of my servants the prophets, whom I send unto you, even rising up early and sending them, but ye have not hearkened; 6 then will I make this house like Shiloh, and will make this city a curse to all the nations of the earth. 7 And the priests and the prophets and all the people heard Jeremiah speaking these words in the house of the LORD. 8 And it came to pass, when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking all that the LORD had commanded him to speak unto all the people, that the priests and the prophets and all the people laid hold on him, saying, Thou shalt surely die. 9 Why hast thou prophesied in the name of the LORD, saying, This house shall be like Shiloh, and this city shall be desolate, without inhabitant? And all the people were gathered unto Jeremiah in the house of the LORD. 10 And when the princes of Judah heard these things, they came up from the king's house unto the house of the LORD; and they sat in the entry of the new gate of the LORD's house. 11 Then spake the priests and the prophets unto the princes and to all the people, saying, This man is worthy of death; for he hath prophesied against this city, as ye have heard with your ears. 12 Then spake Jeremiah unto all the princes and to all the people, saying, This man is worthy of death; for he hath prophesied against this city, as ye have heard with your ears. 13 Therefore now amend your ways and your doings, and obey the voice of the LORD your God; and the LORD will repent him of the evil that he hath pronounced against you. 14 But as for me, behold, I am in your hand: do with me as is good and right in your eyes. 15 Only know ye for certain that, if ye put me to death, ye shall bring innocent blood upon yourselves, and upon this city, and upon the inhabitants thereof: for of a truth the LORD hath sent me unto you to speak all these words in your ears. 16 Then said the princes and all the people unto the priests and to the prophets: This man is not worthy of death; for he hath spoken unto us in the name of the LORD our God. 17 Then rose up certain of the elders of the land, and spake to all the assembly of the people, saying, Micaiah the Morahtite prophesied in the days of Hezekiah king of Judah; and he spake to all the people of Judah, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Zion shall be plowed as a field, and Jerusalem shall become heaps, and the mountain of the house as the high places of a forest. 19 Did Hezekiah king of Judah and all Judah put him at all to death? did he not fear the LORD, and intreat the favour of the LORD, and the LORD repented him of the evil which he had pronounced against them? Thus should we commit great evil against our own souls. 20 And there was also a man that prophesied in the name of the LORD, Uriah the son of Shemaiah of Kiriath-jearim; and he prophesied against this city and against this land according to all the words of Jeremiah: 21 and when Jehoiakim the king, with all his mighty men, and all the princes, heard his words, the king sought to put him to death; but when Uriah heard it, he was afraid, and fled, and went into Egypt: 22 and Jehoiakim the king sent men into Egypt, namely, Elnathan the son of Achbor, and certain men with him, into Egypt; 23 and they fetched forth Uriah out of Egypt, and brought him unto Jehoiakim the king; who slew him with the sword, and cast his dead body into the graves of the common people. 24 But the hand of Ahikam the son of Shaphan... was with Jeremiah, that they should not give him into the hand of the people to put him to death.

In the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, came this word unto Jeremiah from the Lord, saying, "Thus saith the Lord to me: "Make thee bands and bars, and put them upon thy neck; and send them to the king of Edom, and to the king of Moab, and to the king of the children of Ammon, and to the king of Tyre, and to the king of Zidon, by the hand of the messengers which come to Jerusalem unto Zedekiah king of Judah; and give them a charge unto their masters, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: Thus shall ye say unto your masters; 'I have made the earth, the man and the beast that are upon the face of the earth, by my great power and by my outstretched arm; and I give it unto whom it seemeth right unto me. 6 And now have I given all these lands into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, 'my servant; and the beasts of the field also have I given him to serve him. 7 And all the nations shall serve him, and his son, and his son's son, 'until the time of his own land come: and then many nations and great kings shall serve themselves of him. 8 And it shall come to pass, that the nation and the kingdom which will not serve the same Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and that will not put their neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, that nation will I punish, saith the Lord, with the sword, and with the famine, and with the pestilence, until I have consumed them by his hand. 9 But as for you, 'hearken ye not to your prophets, nor to your diviners, nor to your dreams, nor to your soothsayers, nor to your sorcerers, which speak unto you, saying, Ye shall not serve the king of Babylon: 10 for they prophesy a lie unto you, to remove you far from your land; and that I should drive you out and ye should perish. 11 'But the nation that shall bring their neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serve him, that nation will I let remain in their own land, saith the Lord; and they shall till it, and dwell therein.

And I spake to Zedekiah king of Judah according to all these words, saying, 'Bring your necks under the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serve him and his people, and live. 13 'Why will ye die, thou and thy people, 'by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as the Lord hath spoken concerning the nation that will not serve the king of Babylon? 14 'And hearken not unto the words of the prophets that speak unto you, saying, Ye shall not serve the king of Babylon: 15 for they prophesy a lie unto you. 16 For I have not sent them, saith the Lord, but they prophesy falsely in my name; that I might drive you out, and that ye might perish, ye, and the prophets that prophesy unto you.

Also I spake to the priests and to all this people, saying, Thus saith the Lord: 'Hearken not to the words of your prophets that prophesy unto you, saying, Be hold, the vessels of the Lord's house shall now shortly be brought again from Babylon: for they prophesy a lie unto you. 17 'Hearken not unto them; 'serve the king of Babylon, and live: wherefore should this city become a desolation? 18 But if they be prophets, and if the word of the Lord be with them, let them now make intercession to the Lord of hosts, 'that the vessels which are left in the house of the Lord, and in the house of the king of Judah, and at Jerusalem, go not to Babylon. 19 'For thus saith the Lord of hosts concerning the pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bases, and concerning the residue of the vessels that are left in this city, 20 which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon took not, when he carried away captive Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, from Jerusalem to Babylon, and all the nobles of Judah and Jerusalem; 21 yea, thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, 'concerning the vessels that are left in the house of the Lord, and in the house of the king of Judah, and at Jerusalem:
22 'They shall be carried to Babylon, and there shall they be, until the day that I visit them, saith the LORD: then will I bring them up, and restore them to this place.

28 And it came to pass in the same year, in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the fourth year, in the fifth month, that Hananiah the son of Azur the prophet, which was of Gibeah, spake unto me in the house of the LORD, in the presence of the priests and of all the people, saying, a Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, 'I have broken the yoke of the king of Babylon.

29 Within two full years will I bring again into this place all the vessels of the LORD'S house, that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon took away from this place, and carried them away to Babylon: and I will bring again to this place Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, with all the captives of Judah, that went to Babylon, saith the LORD: for I will break the yoke of Babylon. 30 Then the prophet Jeremiah said unto the prophet Hananiah in the presence of the priests, and in the presence of all the people, that stood in the house of the LORD, even the prophet Jeremiah said, Amen: the LORD do so: the LORD perform thy words which thou hast prophesied, to bring again the vessels of the LORD'S house, and all them of the captivity, from Babylon unto this place. 31 Nevertheless hear thou now this word that I speak in thine ears, and in the ears of all the people: 32 The prophets that have been before me and before thee of old prophets against many countries, and against great kingdoms, of war, and of evil, and of pestilence. 33 The prophet which prophesieth of peace, when the word of the prophet shall come to pass, then shall the prophet be known, that the LORD hath truly sent him. 34 Then Hananiah the prophet took the bar from off the prophet Jeremiah's neck, and brake it. 35 And Jeremiah spake in the presence of all the people, saying, Thus saith the LORD: Even so will I break the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon within two full years from off the neck of all the nations.

And the prophet Jeremiah went his way. 36 Then the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah, after that Hananiah the prophet had broken the bar from off the neck of the prophet Jeremiah, saying, 37 Go, and tell Hananiah, saying, Thus saith the LORD: Thou hast broken the bars of wood; but thou shalt make in their stead bars of iron. 38 For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: I have put a yoke of iron upon the neck of all these nations, that they may serve Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon; and they shall serve him: and I have given him the beasts of the field also. 39 Then said the prophet Jeremiah unto Hananiah the prophet, Thus saith the LORD: Even so will I break the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon within two full years from off the neck of all the nations.

Now these are the words of the letter that Jeremiah the prophet sent from Jerusalem unto the residue of the elders of the captivity, and to the priests, and to the prophets, and to all the people, whom I have caused to be carried away captive from Jerusalem unto Babylon: a after that Jeconiah the king, and the queenmother, and the eunuchs, and the princes of Judah and Jerusalem, and the craftsmen, and the smiths, were departed from Jerusalem; 3 b by the hand of Elasah the son of Shaphan, and Gemariah the son of Hilkhiah, (whom Zedekiah king of Judah sent unto Babylon to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon,) saying, 4 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, unto all the captivity, whom I have caused to be carried away captive from Jerusalem unto Babylon: 5 Build ye houses, and dwell in them; and plant gardens, and eat the fruit of them; and take ye wives, and beget sons and daughters; and take wives... for your sons, and give your daughters to husbands, that they may bear sons and daughters; and multiply ye there, and be not diminished. 7 And seek the peace of the city whither I have caused you to be carried away captive, and pray unto the LORD for it: for in the peace thereof shall ye have peace. 8 So thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Let not your prophets that be in the midst of you, and your diviners, deceive you, neither hearken ye to your dreams which ye cause to be dreamed. 9 For they prophesy falsely unto you in my name: I have not sent them, saith the LORD. 10 For thus saith the LORD, After seventy years be accomplished for Babylon, I will visit you, and perform my good word toward you, in causing you to return to this place. 11 For I know the thoughts that I think toward you, saith the LORD, thoughts of peace, and not of evil, to give you a hope in your latter end. 12 And ye shall call upon me, and ye shall go and pray unto me, and I will hearken unto you. 13 And ye shall seek me, and find me, when ye shall search for me with all your heart. 14 And I will make you a name, saith the LORD, among the nations, and ye shall be a blessing. 15 And ye shall multiply there, and be not diminished. 16 For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Thus saith the LORD concerning the kingdom of Judah, and concerning the house of David: 17 Thus saith the LORD, What profit is it, ye going to Babylon, to drink water, and to be made to labor in the houses and in the streets in the land of the Chaldeans? 18 For thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, I will send upon them the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, and will make them like vile figs, that cannot be eaten, they are so bad. 19 And I will pursue after them with the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, and will make them like vile figs, that cannot be eaten, they are so bad. 20 And I will deliver them to be tossed to and fro among all the kingdoms of the earth, to be an execration, and an astonishment, and an hissing, and a reproach, among all the nations. 21 For thus saith the LORD, Wherewith I sent unto them my servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them; but ye would not hear, saith the LORD. 22 Hear ye therefore the word of the LORD, all ye of the captivity, whom I have sent away from Jerusalem to Babylon.

23 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, concerning Ahab the son of Koalah, and concerning Zedekiah the son of Maaseiah, whom prophesy a lie unto you in my name: Behold, I will deliver them into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon; and he shall slay them before your eyes; 24 and of them shall be taken up a curse among all the captives of Judah which are in Babylon, saying, The LORD make thee like Zedekiah and like Ahab, whom the king of Babylon roasted in the fire: 25 because they have wrought folly in Israel, and have committed adultery with their neighbours' wives, and have spoken words in my name falsely, which I commanded them not; and I am he that knoweth, and am witness, saith the LORD.

26 And concerning Shemariah the Nehelamite thou shalt speak, saying, 27 Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, Because thou hast sent letters in thine own name unto all the people that are at Jerusalem, and to Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the priest, and to all the priests, saying, 28 The LORD hath made them priests in the stead of Jehoiada the priest, that ye should be officers in the house of the LORD, for every man that is mad, and maketh himself a prophet, that thou shouldest put him in the stocks and in the stocks. 29 Now therefore, why hast thou not rebuked Jeremiah of Anathoth, which maketh himself a prophet to you, 30 forasmuch as he hath sent unto us in Babylon, saying, The captivity is long: build ye houses, and dwell in them; and plant gardens, and eat the fruit of them? 1 Or, dream 2 Heb. a latter end and hope 3 Or, return to 4 Or, a terror unto 5 Or, unto 6 Or, the collar
The word that came to Jeremiah from the Lord, saying, 2 Thus speaketh the Lord, the God of Israel, saying,

Write thee all the words that I have spoken unto thee in a book.

3 For lo, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will turn again the captivity of my people Israel and Judah, saith the Lord; and I will cause them to return to the land that I gave to their fathers, and they shall possess it.

4 And these are the words that the Lord spake concerning Israel and concerning Judah. 5 For thus saith the Lord: We have heard a voice of trembling, of fear, and not of peace. 6 Ask ye now, and see whether a man doth travail with child: when every man with his hands on his loins, as a woman in travail, and as a woman travaileth with child: wherefore do I see every man with his hands on his loins, as a woman in travail, and as a woman travaileth with child?

7 Alas! for that day is great, so that none is like it: it is even the time of Jacob's trouble; but he shall be saved out of it. 8 And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord of hosts, that I will break his yoke from off thy neck, and will burst thy bands; and strangers shall no more serve themselves of him: but he shall serve the Lord their God, and David their king, whom I will raise up unto them. 10 Therefore fear thou not, O Jacob my servant, saith the Lord; neither be disconsolate: for, lo, I will save thee from afar, and thy seed from the land of their captivity; and Jacob shall return, and shall be quiet in and at ease, and none shall make him afraid. 11 For I am with thee, saith the Lord, to save thee: for I will make a full end of all the nations whither I have scattered thee, but I will not make a full end of thee; but I will correct thee with judgement, and will in no wise leave thee unpunished.

12 For thus saith the Lord, Thy hurt is incurable, and thy wounded grievous. 13 There is none to plead thy cause, that thou mayest be bound up: thou hast no healing medicines. 14 All thine lovers have forgotten thee; they seek thee not: for I have wounded thee with the wound of an enemy, with the chastisement of a cruel one; for the greatness of thine iniquity, because thy sins were increased. 15 Why criest thou for thy hurt? Thy pain is incurable: for the greatness of thine iniquity, because thy sins were increased, I have done these things unto thee. 16 Therefore all they that devour thee shall be devoured; and all thine adversaries, every one of them, shall go into captivity; and they that spoil thee shall be a spoil, and all that prey upon thee shall be a prey, and all that prey upon thee will I give for a prey. 17 For I will restore health unto thee, and I will heal thee of thy wounds, saith the Lord; because they have called thee an outcast, saying, It is 18 Thus saith the Lord: Behold, I will turn again the captivity of Jacob's tents, and have compassion on his dwelling places; and the city shall be built upon her own heap, and the palace shall remain after the manner thereof. 19 And out of them shall proceed Jacob's children, and his congregation shall be established before me, and I will punish... ish all that oppress them. 21 And their prince shall be of themselves, and their ruler shall proceed from the midst of them; and I will cause him to draw near, and he shall approach unto me: for who is he that hath had boldness to approach unto me, saith the Lord. And ye shall be my people, and I will be your God. 23 Behold, the tempest of the Lord, even his fury, is gone forth, a sweeping tempest: it shall burst upon the head of the wicked. The fierce anger of the Lord shall not return, until he have executed, and till he have performed the intents of his heart: in the latter days ye shall understand it.

At that time, saith the Lord, will I be the God of all the families of Israel, and they shall be my people. Thus saith the Lord, The people which were left of the sword found grace in the wilderness; even Israel, when I went to cause him to rest. The Lord appeared of old unto me, laying his hand upon me in the days of my youth; and the Lord hath found me in the open field; I was the son of mine father's youth. The shepherds sought me, sought me all the day long; but found me not. I was wounded with a sword, I was weakened with a stroke of thorns; I was thel with wild beasts, and the fowls of the heaven devoured me. They cut my flesh with their teeth, and my flesh went down to the earth. Then they said, Where is his God? But now the Lord hath stretched forth his hand, and has not let his strength be known.

For thus saith the Lord, Sing with gladness for Jacob, and shout for the name of the Lord, who riseth to make his hand strong for mercy, and for judgment, that he may turn again to the sons of Jacob. The Lord will give a signal for the nations; he will raise a trumpet for them. Sing, O heavens, and be glad, O earth; and the sea and things that move in the water: for the Lord is strong; the Lord is strong. Sing ye in the day of your king, and in the ancient day, in the day of Israel’s king. For the Lord is strong, in the day of his power. 20 The Lord is strong, the Lord is mighty in battle. 21 The Lord is strong, the Lord is mighty. His voice is full of kindness, his word is full of mercy. He will keep the covenant, and execute the truth toward his people. He will cause them to be strong and to come again. 22 For the Lord has comforted Jacob, and consoles Israel, and in Jerusalem has comforted her bones. 23 The tumult of the Lord is in the city, strong, or loud, as the noise of waters, as the noise of mighty waters. 24 And the stream of waters shall be in the streets, and the ditches shall be full of water. 25 They shall come with weeping, and they shall go with joyfulness. 26 I will turn their mourning into joy, and their sorrow into gladness.
Jeremiah

[Chap. 32, v. 2.]

The word that came to Jeremiah from the Lord in the tenth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the year that Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon began to attack Jerusalem, was the eighteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar.

Now at that time the king of Babylon's army besieged Jerusalem: and Jeremiah the prophet said, etc.
shut up in the court of the guard, which was in the king of Judah's house. For Zedekiah king of Judah had shut him up, saying, Wherefore dost thou prophesy, and say, Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall take it; and Zedekiah king of Judah shall not escape out of the hand of the Chaldeans, but shall surely be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon, and shall speak with him mouth to mouth, and his eyes shall behold his eyes; and he shall lead Zedekiah to Babylon, and there shall he be until I visit him, saith the LORD; though ye fight with the Chaldeans, ye shall not prosper.

6 And Jeremiah said, The word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 7 Behold, Hanamel the son of Shallum thine uncle shall come unto thee, saying, 'Buy thee my field that is in Anathoth: for the right of redemption is thine to buy it. 8 So Hanamel mine uncle's son came to me in the court of the guard according to the word of the LORD, and said unto me, Buy my field, I pray thee, that is in Anathoth, which is in the land of Benjamin: for the right of inheritance is thine, and the redemption is thine: buy it for thyself. Then I knew that this was the word of the LORD. 9 And I bought the field that was in Anathoth of Hanamel mine uncle's son, and weighed him the money, even seventeen shekels of silver. 10 And I subscribed the deed, and sealed it, and called witnesses; and weighed him the money in the balances.

11 So I took the deed of the purchase, both that which was sealed, according to the law and custom, and that which was open: 12 and I delivered the deed of the purchase unto Baruch the son of Neriah, the son of Mahseiah, in the presence of Hanamel mine uncle's son, and in the presence of those who witnessed the deed of the purchase, before all the Jews that sat in the court of the guard. 13 And I charged Baruch before them, saying, 14 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Take these deeds, this deed of the purchase, both that which is sealed, and this deed which is open, and put them in an earthen vessel; that they may continue many days. 15 For thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: Houses and fields and vineyards shall yet again be bought in this land.

16 Now after I had delivered the deed of the purchase unto Baruch the son of Neriah, I prayed unto the LORD, saying, 17 Ah Lord GOD! behold, thou hast made the heaven and the earth by thy great power and by thy stretched out arm; and there is nothing too hard for thee: 18 which showest mercy unto thousands, and recompenseth the iniquity of the fathers into the bosom of their children after them: the great, the mighty God, the LORD of hosts is his name; 19 great in counsel, and mighty in work: whose eyes are open upon all the ways of the sons of men; giving to every one according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings: 20 which didst set signs and wonders in the land of Egypt, even unto this day, both in Israel and among other men; and madest thee a name, as at this day; 21 and didst bring forth the people Israel out of the land of Egypt with signs, and with wonders, and with a strong hand, and with a stretched out arm, and with great terror; 22 and gavest them this land, which thou didst swear to their fathers to give them, a land flowing with milk and honey; 23 and they came in, and possessed it; 24 but they obeyed not thy voice, neither walked in thy law; they have done nothing of all that thou commandedst them to do: therefore thou hast caused all this evil to come upon them: 25 behold, the mounts, they are come unto the city to take it; and the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans that fight against it, because of the sword, and of the famine, and of the pestilence: and what thou hast spoken is come to pass; and, behold, thou seest it. 26 And thou hast said unto me, O Lord GOD! Buy thee the field for money, 27 and call witnesses; whereas the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans.

27 Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremiah, saying, 28 Behold, I am the LORD, the God of Israel, who brought thy fathers out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage. 29 And I took them, and brought them into the land, unto which I sware unto their fathers, and unto thee; 30 and I caused you to Multiplication Table.
all flesh: is there any thing too hard for me?

28 Therefore thus saith the LORD: Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the Chaldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and he shall take it. 29 and the Chaldeans, that fight against this city, shall come and set this city on fire, and burn it, with the houses, upon whose roofs they have poured out drink offerings unto other gods, to provoke me to anger.

30 For the children of Israel and the children of Judah have only done that which was evil in my sight from their youth: for the children of Israel have only provoked me to anger with the work of their hands, and the children of Judah, which they have done to provoke me to anger, they, their kings, their princes, their priests, and their prophets, and the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem. 31 And they have turned unto me the back, and not the face: and though I taught them, rising up early and teaching them, yet they have not hearkened to receive instruction.

32 But they set their abominations in the house which is called by my name, to defile it. 33 And they built the high places of Baal, which are in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to cause their sons and their daughters to pass through the fire unto Molech; which I commanded them not, neither came it into my mind, that they should do this abomination; to cause Judah to sin.

34 And now therefore thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning this city, whereof ye say, It is given into the hand of the king of Babylon by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence: 35 Behold, I will gather them out of all the countries, whither I have driven them in mine anger, and in my fury, and in great wrath; and I will bring them again unto this place, and I will cause them to dwell safely: and they shall be my people, and I will be their God: 36 and I will give them one heart and one way, that they may fear me for ever; for the good of them, and of their children after them: 37 so will I make an everlasting covenant with them, that I will not turn away from them, to do them good; and I will put my fear in their hearts, that they shall not depart from me.

41 Yea, I will rejoice over them to do them good, and I will plant them in this land assuredly with my whole heart and with my whole soul. 42 For thus saith the LORD: Like as I have brought all this great evil upon this people, so will I bring upon them all the good that I have promised them. 43 And fields shall be bought in this land, whereof ye say, It is desolate, without man or beast: it is given into the hand of the Chaldeans. 44 Men shall buy fields for money, and subscribe the deeds, and seal them, and call witnesses, in the land of Benjamin, and in the places about Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, and in the cities of the hill country, and in the cities of the lowland, and in the cities of the South: for I will cause their captivity to return, saith the LORD.

Moreover the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah the second time, while he was yet shut up in the court of the guard, saying, 2 Thus saith the LORD that doeth it, the LORD that formeth it to establish it: the LORD is his name: 3 Call unto me, and I will answer thee, and will shew thee great things, and difficult, which thou knowest not. 4 For thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning the houses of this city, and concerning the houses of the kings of Judah, which are broken down to make a defence against the mounts, and against the sword: 5 They come to fight with the Chaldeans, but it is to fill them with the dead bodies of men, whom I have slain in mine anger and in my fury, and for all whose wickedness I have hid my face from this city. 6 Behold, I will bring it health and cure, and I will cure them; and I will reveal unto them abundance of peace and truth.

7 And I will cause the captivity of Judah and the captivity of Israel to return, and will build them, as at the first. 8 And I will cleanse them from all their iniquity, whereby they have sinned against me; and I will pardon all their iniquities, whereby they have sinned against me, and whereby they have transgressed against me.

9 And this city shall be to me for a name of joy, for a praise and for a glory, before all the nations of the earth, which shall hear all the good that I do unto them, and shall fear and tremble for all the good and for all the peace that I procure unto it. 10 Thus saith the LORD: Yet again shall there be heard in this place, whereof ye say, It is waste, without man and without beast, even in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, that are desolate, without man and without inhabitant and without beast, 11 the voice of joy and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, the voice of them that say, Give thanks to the LORD of hosts, for the LORD is good, for his mercy endureth forever: and of them, that bring sacrifices of thanksgiving into the house of the LORD. 12 For I will cause the captivity of the land to return as at the first, saith the LORD.

13 And this Branch of righteousness shall grow up unto David; and he shall execute judgement and righteousness in the land. 14 In those days shall Judah be saved, and Jerusalem shall dwell safely: and this is the name whereby she shall be called, The LORD is our righteousness. 15 For thus saith the LORD: If ye can break my covenant of the day, and my covenant of the night, so that there should not be day and night in their season; 16 then may also my covenant be broken with David my servant, that he should not have a son to reign upon his throne; and with the Levites the priests, my ministers. 17 As the host of heaven cannot be numbered, neither the sand of the sea measured; so will I multiply the seed of David my servant, and the Levites that minister unto me. 18 And the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, saying, 19 Considerest thou not what this people have spoken, saying, The two families which the LORD did choose, he hath cast them off? thus do they despise my people, that they should be no more a nation before them. 20 Thus saith the LORD: If my covenant of day and night stand not, if I have not appointed the ordinances of heaven and earth; 21 then will I also cast away the seed of Jacob, and of David my servant, that I will not take of his seed to be rulers over the seed of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob: 22 For I will cause their captivity to return, and will have mercy on them.

The word which came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and all his army, and all the kingdoms of the earth that were under his dominion, and all the peoples, fought against Jerusalem, and against all the cities thereof, saying: 2 Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, Go, and speak to Zedekiah king of Judah, and tell him, Thus saith the LORD, "Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire: 3 and thou shalt not escape out of his hand, but shalt surely be taken, and delivered into his hand; 4 and thine eyes shall behold the eyes of the king of Babylon, and he shall speak with thee mouth to mouth, and thou shalt go to Babylon. 4 Yet hear the word of the LORD, O Zedekiah king of Judah: 'thus saith the LORD concerning thee, 'Thus saith the LORD concerning thee. 5 Yet hear the word of the LORD, O Zedekiah king of Judah: 'thus saith the LORD concerning thee, 'Thou shalt not die by the sword; 6 yet they shall make a burning for thee; 7 and they shall lament thee, saying, Ah Lord! for I have spoken the word, saith the LORD. 6 Then Jeremiah the prophet spake all these words unto Zedekiah king of Judah in Jerusalem, 7 when the king of Babylon's army fought against Jerusalem, and against all the cities of Judah that were left, against Lachish and against Azekah; 8 for these alone remained of the cities of Judah as fenced cities. 9 The word that came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, after that the king Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people which were at Jerusalem, 10 to proclaim liberty every man to his brother, and every man to his neighbour: 11 behold, I proclaim unto you a liberty, saith the LORD, to the sword, to the pestilence, and to the famine; and I will make you to be tossed to and fro among all the kingdoms of the earth. 12 And I will give the men that have transgressed my covenant, which have not performed the words of the covenant which they made before me, 13 when they cut the calf in twain and passed between the parts thereof; 14 the princes of Judah, and the princes of Jerusalem, the eunuchs, and the priests, and all the people of the land, which passed between the parts of the calf; 15 I will even give them into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life: 16 and their dead bodies shall be for meat unto the fowls of the heaven, and to the beasts of the earth. 17 And Zedekiah king of Judah and his princes will I give into the hand of the king of Babylon's army, which are gone up from you. 18 Behold, I will command, saith the LORD, and cause them to return, to return, and brought them into subjection for servants and for handmaids: 19 therefore the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying, 20 Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel: I made a covenant with your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage, saying, 21 At the end of seven years ye shall let go every man his brother that is an Hebrew, which hath been sold unto thee, and hath served thee six years, 22 thou shalt let him go free from thee: but 23 your fathers hearkened not unto me, neither inclined their ear. 24 And ye were now turned, and had done that which is right in mine eyes, in proclaiming liberty every man to his neighbour; and ye had made a covenant before me in the house which is called by my name: 25 but ye turned 26 and profaned my name, and caused every man his servant, and every man his handmaid, whom ye had let go free at their pleasure, to return; and ye brought them into subjection, to be unto you for servants and for handmaids. 27 Therefore thus saith the LORD: Ye have not hearkened unto me, to proclaim liberty, every man to his brother, and every man to his neighbour: 28 behold, I proclaim unto you a liberty, saith the LORD, to the sword, to the pestilence, and to the famine; and I will make you to be tossed to and fro among all the kingdoms of the earth. 29 And I will give the men that have transgressed my covenant, which have not performed the words of the covenant which they made before me, 30 when they cut the calf in twain and passed between the parts thereof; 31 the princes of Judah, and the princes of Jerusalem, the eunuchs, and the priests, and all the people of the land, which passed between the parts of the calf; 32 I will even give them into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life: 33 and their dead bodies shall be for meat unto the fowls of the heaven, and to the beasts of the earth. 34 And Zedekiah king of Judah and his princes will I give into the hand of the king of Babylon's army, which are gone up from you. 35 Behold, I will command, saith the LORD, and cause them to return, to return, and brought them into subjection for servants and for handmaids: 36 therefore the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying, 37 Thus saith the...
The word which came unto Jeremiah from the LORD in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, saying,

2 Go unto the house of the Rechabites, and speak unto them, and bring them into the house of the LORD, into one of the chambers, and give them wine to drink.

3 Then I took Jaazaniah the son of Jeremiah, the son of Habazziniah, and his brethren, and all his sons, and the whole house of the Rechabites; and I brought them into the house of the LORD, into the chamber of the sons of Hanan the son of Igdaliah, the man of God, which was by the chamber of the princes, which was above the chamber of Maaseiah the son of Shallum, the keeper of the door:

4 And I set before the sons of the house of the Rechabites bowls full of wine, and cups, and I said unto them, Drink ye wine. But they said, We will drink no wine: for Jonadab the son of Rechab our father commanded us, saying, Ye shall drink no wine, neither ye, nor your sons, for ever: neither shall ye build house, nor sow seed, nor plant vineyard, nor have any: but ye shall dwell in tents, and have obedient, and done according to all that Jonadab our father commanded us.

5 But it came to pass, when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came up into the land, that we said, Come, and let us go to Jerusalem for fear of the armies of the Chaldeans, and for fear of the army of the Syrians: so we dwell at Jerusalem.

6 Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremiah, saying,

7 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Go, and say to the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem,

8 Will ye not receive instruction to hearken to my words? saith the LORD.

9 The words of Jonadab the son of Rechab, that he commanded his sons, not to drink wine, are performed, and unto this day they drink none, for they obey their father's commandment: but I have spoken unto you, rising up early and speaking; and ye have not hearkened unto me.

10 I have sent also unto you all my servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them, saying, Return ye now every man from his evil way, and amend your doings, and go not after other gods to servethem, and ye shall dwell in the land which I have given to you and to your fathers: but ye have not inclined your ear, nor hearkened unto me.

11 Forasmuch as the sons of Jonadab the son of Rechab have performed the commandment of their father which he commanded them, but this people hath not hearkened unto me:

12 Therefore thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will bring upon Judah and upon all the inhabitants of Jerusalem all the evil that I have pronounced against them: because I have spoken unto them, but they have not heard; and I have called unto them, but they have not answered.

13 And Jeremiahsaid unto the house of the Rechabites, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Because ye have obeyed the commandment of Jonadab your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according to all that Jonadab our father commanded us;

14 Therefore thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel: Jonadab the son of Rechab shall not want a man to stand before me forever.

And it came to pass in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, that this word came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,

2 Take thee a roll of a book, and write therein all the words that I have spoken unto thee against Israel, and against Judah,

3 And it came to pass in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, that this word came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, saying, Take thee a roll of a book, and write therein all the words that I have spoken unto thee against Israel, and against Judah;
against all the nations, from the day I spake unto thee, from the days of Josiah, even unto this day. 3 "It may be that the house of Judah will hear all the evil which I purpose to do unto them; that they may return every man from his evil way; that I may forgive their iniquity and their sin. 4 Then Jeremiah called Baruch the son of Neriah; and Baruch wrote from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the LORD, which he had spoken unto him, upon a roll of a book. 5 And Jeremiah commanded Baruch, saying, I am shut up; I cannot go into the house of the LORD: therefore go thou, and read in the roll, which thou hast written from my mouth, the words of the LORD in the ears of the people in the LORD'S house upon the fast day: and also thou shalt read them in the ears of all Judah that come out of their cities. 6 It may be they will present their supplication before the LORD, and will return every one from his evil way: for great is the anger and the fury that the LORD hath pronounced against this people. 7 And Baruch the son of Neriah did according to all that Jeremiah the prophet commanded him, reading in the book the words of the LORD in the LORD'S house. 8 Now it came to pass, when they had heard all these words, they turned in fear one toward another, and said unto Baruch, We will surely tell the king of all these words. 9 And they asked Baruch, saying, Tell us now, How didst thou write all these words at his mouth? 10 Then Baruch answered them, He pronounced all these words unto me with his mouth, and I wrote them with ink in the book. 11 Then said the princes unto Baruch, Go, hide thee, thou and Jeremiah; and let no man know where ye be. 12 And they went into the king into the court; but they had laid up the roll in the chamber of Elishama the scribe; and they told all the words in the ears of the king. 13 Now the king sat in the winter house in the ninth month; and there was a fire in the brasier burning before him. 14 And it came to pass, when Jehudi had read three or four leaves, that the king cut it with the penknife, and cast it into the fire that was in the brasier, until all the roll was consumed in the fire that was in the brasier. 15 And they were not afraid, nor rent their garments, neither the king, nor any of his servants that heard all these words. 16 Moreover Elzaphan and Delaiah and Gemariah had made intercession to the king that he would not burn the roll; but he would not hear them. 17 And the king commanded Jerahmeel the king's son, and Seraiah the son of Azriel, and Shelemiah the son of Abdeel, to take Baruch the scribe and Jeremiah the prophet: but the Lord hid them.

27 Then the word of the Lord came to Jeremiah, after that the king had burned the roll, and the words which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Jeremiah, saying, 28 Take thee again another roll, and write in it all the former words that were in the first roll, which Jehoiakim the king of Judah hath burned.

29 And concerning Jehoiakim king of Judah thou shalt say, Thus saith the Lord: Thou hast hasted this roll, saying, 'Why hast thou written therein, saying, The king of Babylon shall certainly come and destroy this land, and shall cause to cease from thence man and beast? Therefore thus saith the Lord concerning Jehoiakim king of Judah: He shall have none to sit upon the throne of David: and his dead body shall be cast out in the day to the heat, and in the night to the frost.

30 And I will punish him and his seed and his servants for their iniquity; and I will bring upon them, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and upon the men of Judah, all the evil that I have pronounced against them, but they hearkened not. 31 Then took Jeremiah another roll, and gave it to Baruch the scribe, the son of Neriah; who wrote therein from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the book which Jehoiakim king of Judah had burned in the fire: and there were added besides unto them many like words.

37 And Zedekiah the son of Josiah reigned as king, instead of Coniah the son of Jehoiakim, whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon made king in the land of Judah. 2 But neither he, nor his servants, nor the people of the land, did hearken unto the words of the Lord, which he spake by the prophet Jeremiah.

3 And Zedekiah the king sent Jehucal the son of Shelemiah, and Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah, the priest, to the prophet Jeremiah, saying, 'Pray now unto the Lord our God for us. 4 Now Jeremiah came in and went out among the people: 'for they had not put him into prison. 5 And Pharaoh's army was come forth out of Egypt: and when the Chaldeans that besieged Jerusalem heard tidings of them, they brake up from Jerusalem.

6 Then came the word of the Lord unto the prophet Jeremiah, saying, 7 Thus saith the Lord, the God of Israel: Thus shall ye say to the king of Judah, that 'sent you unto me to inquire of me: Behold, 'Pharaoh's army, which is come forth to help you, shall return to Egypt into their own land. 8 And the Chaldeans shall come again, and fight against this city; and they shall take it, and burn it with fire. 9 Thus saith the Lord: Deceive not yourselves, saying, The Chaldeans shall surely depart from us: for they shall not depart. 10 For though ye had smitten the whole army of the Chaldeans that fight against you, and there remained but wounded men among them, yet should they rise up every man in his tent, and burn this city with fire.

11 And it came to pass that when the army of the Chaldeans was broken up from Jerusalem for fear of Pharaoh's army, then Jeremiah went forth out of Jerusalem to go into the land of Benjamin, to receive his portion there, in the midst of the people. 12 And when he was in the gate of Benjamin, a captain of the ward was there, whose name was Irijah, the son of Shelemiah, the son of Hananiah; and he laid hold on Jeremiah the prophet, saying, Thou fallest away to the Chaldeans. 13 Then said Jeremiah, It is false; I fall not away to the Chaldeans; but he hearkened not to him: so Irijah laid hold on Jeremiah, and brought him to the princes. 15 And the princes were wroth with Jeremiah, and smote him, and put him in prison in the house of Jonathan the scribe; for they had made that the prison.

16 When Jeremiah was come into the dungeon house, and into the cells, and Jeremiah had remained there many days; 17 then Zedekiah the king sent, and fetched him: and

1 Or, the son of Hemmelech 2 Heb. your souls. 3 Heb. thrust through. 4 Heb. from thence. 8 Or, house of the pit the king asked him secretly in his house, and said, Is there any word from the LORD? And Jeremiah said, There is. He said also, Thou shalt be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon. Moreover Jeremiah said unto king Zedekiah, Wherein have I sinned against thee, or against thy servants, or against this people, that ye have put me in prison? Where now are your prophets which prophesied unto you, saying, The king of Babylon shall not come against you, nor against this people? a

Now when Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, an eunuch, which was in the king's house, heard that they had put Jeremiah in the dungeon; the king then sitting in the gate of Benjamin; Ebed-melech went forth out of the king's house, and spoke to the king, saying, My Lord the king, these men have done evil in all that they have done to Jeremiah the prophet, whom they have cast into the dungeon; and he is like to die in the place where he is because of the famine; for there is no more bread in the city.

Then the king commanded Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, saying, Take from hence thirty men with thee, and take up Jeremiah the prophet out of the dungeon, before he die. So Ebed-melech took the men with him, and went into the house of the king under the treasury, and took hence old cast clouts and old rotten rags, and let them down by cords into the dungeon to Jeremiah. And Ebed-melech the Ethiopian said unto Jeremiah, Put now these old cast clouts and rotten rags under thine armholes under the cords. And Jeremiah did so. So they drew up Jeremiah with the cords, and took him up out of the dungeon: and Jeremiah remained in the court of the guard.

And Shephatiah the son of Mattan, and Gedaliah the son of Pashhur, and Jucal the son of Shelemiah, and Pashhur the son of Malchijah, heard the words that Jeremiah spake unto all the people, saying, Thus saith the LORD, He that abideth in this city shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence; but he that goeth forth to the Chaldeans shall live, and his soul shall be unto him for a prey, and shall live. Thus saith the LORD, This city shall surely be given into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall take it. Then the princes said unto the king, Let this man, we pray thee, be put to death; forasmuch as he weakeneth the hands of the men of war that remain in this city, and the hands of all the people, in speaking such words unto them: for this man seeketh not the welfare of this people, but the hurt. And Zedekiah the king said, Behold, he is in your hand: for the king is not he that can do any thing against you.

Then took they Jeremiah, and cast him into the dungeon of Malchijah the king's son, that was in the court of the guard: and they let down Jeremiah with cords. And in the dungeon there was no water, but mire: and Jeremiah sank in the mire.
And it came to pass when Jerusalem was taken, 1 in the ninth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the tenth month, came Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon and all his army against Jerusalem, and besieged it; 2 in the eleventh year of Zedekiah, in the fourth month, the ninth day of the month, a breach was made in the city;) 3 that all the princes of the king of Babylon came in, and sat in the middle gate, even Nergal-sharezer, Samgar-nebo, Sarsechim,

Rab-saris, Nergal-sharezer, Rab-mag, with all the rest of the princes of the king of Babylon. 4 And it came to pass that when Zedekiah the king of Judah and all the men of war saw them, then they fled, and went forth out of the city by night, by the way of the king's garden, by the gate betwixt the two walls: and he went out the way of the Arabah. 5 But the army of the Chaldeans pursued after them, and overtook Zedekiah in the plain of Jericho: and when they had taken him, they brought him up to Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon to Riblah in the land of Hamath, 6 and he gave judgement upon him. 7 Moreover he put out Zedekiah's eyes, and bound him in fetters, to carry him to Babylon. 8 And the Chaldeans burned the king's house, and the houses of the people, with fire, and brake down the walls of Jerusalem. 9 Then Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive into Babylon the residue of the people that remained in the city, the deserters also, that fell away to him, and the residue of the people that remained. 10 But Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard left of the poor of the people, which had nothing, in the land of Judah, and gave them vineyards and fields at the same time. 11 Now Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon gave charge concerning Jeremiah to Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard, saying, 12 "Take him, and look well to him, and do him no harm; but do unto him even as he shall say unto thee. 13 So Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard sent, and Nebushazban, Rab-saris, and Nergal-shareezer, Rab-mag, and all the chief officers of the king of Babylon; 14 they sent, and took Jeremiah out of the court of the guard, and committed him unto Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, that he should carry him home; so he dwelt among the people.

15 Now the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah, while he was shut up in the court of the saith the LORD: and thou shalt not be given into the hand of the men of whom thou art afraid. 16 For I will surely save thee, and thou shalt not fall by the sword; but thy life shall be for a prey unto thee: because thou hast put thy trust in me, saith the LORD.

1 The word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD, after that Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had let him go from Ramah, when he had taken him being bound in chains among all the captives of Jerusalem and Judah, which were carried away captive unto Babylon. 2 And the captain of the guard took Jeremiah, and said unto him, The LORD thy God pronounced this evil upon this place: 3 and the LORD hath brought it, and done according as he spake; because ye have sinned against the LORD, and have not obeyed his voice, therefore this thing is come upon you. 4 And now, behold, I loose thee this day from the chains which are upon thine hand. 5 If it seem good unto thee to come with me into Babylon, come, and I will look well unto thee; but if it seem ill unto thee to come with me into Babylon, forbear: 6 behold, all the land is before thee; whither it seemeth good and convenient unto thee to go, thither go. 7 Now while he was not yet gone back, Go back then, said he, to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, whom the king of Babylon hath made governor over the cities of Judah, and dwell with him among the people; or go wheresoever it seemeth convenient unto thee to go. 8 So the captain of the guard gave him victuals and a present, and let him go. 9 Then went Jeremiah unto Gedaliah unto Mizpah, and dwelt with him among the people that were left in the land.

10 Now when all the captains of the forces which were in the fields, even they and their men, heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah the son of Ahikam governor in the land, and had committed unto him men, and women, and children, and of the poorest of the land, of them that were not carried away captive to Babylon; 11 then they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, even Zedekiah the son of Hananiah, and Johanan and Jonathan the sons of Kareah, and Nether the son of Tamhumeth, and Jeriah the son of Shaphan, and Iddo the son of Micaiah, and Iddo the son of Zechariah, and the son of Berechiah, and the son of Mesheiah, and Zedekiah the son of Hananiah, and all the little ones that were left in the land. 12 Likewise when all the Jews that were in Moab, and among the children of Ammon, and in Edom, and that were in all the countries, heard that the king of Babylon had left a remnant of Judah, and that he had set over them Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan;

13 Moreover Johanan the son of Jerahmeel, and all his company, and all the people that were left in the land, gathered wine and summer fruits very much.

1 Or, shall be before thee 2 Or, right 3 Or, an allowance 4 Or, even Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were in the fields, came to Gedaliah at Mizpah, 14 and said unto him, Doest thou know that Baalis the king of the children of Ammon hath sent Ishmael the son of Nethaniah to take thy life? But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam believed them not. 15 Then Johanan the son of Kareah spake to Gedaliah in Mizpah secretly, saying, Let me go, I pray thee, and I will slay Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and no man shall know it: wherefore should he take thy life, that all the Jews which are gathered unto thee should be scattered, and the remnant of Judah perish? 16 But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam said unto Johanan the son of Kareah, Thou shalt not do this thing: for thou speakest falsely of Ishmael.

Now it came to pass in the seventh month, that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, the son of Elishama, of the seed royal, and one of the chief officers of the king, and ten men with him, came unto Gedaliah the son of Ahikam to Mizpah; and there they did eat bread together in Mizpah. 2 Then arose Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and the ten men that were with him, and smote Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan with the sword, and slew him, whom the king of Babylon had made governor over the land. 3 Ishmael also slew all the Jews that were with him, even with Gedaliah, at Mizpah, and the Chaldeans that were found there, even the men of war. 4 And it came to pass the second day after he had slain Gedaliah, and no man knew it, 5 that there came certain from Shechem, from Shiloh, and from Samaria, even fourscore men, having their beards shaven, and their clothes rent, and having cut themselves, with oblations and frankincense in their hand, to bring them to the house of the LORD. 6 And Ishmael the son of Nethaniah went forth from Mizpah to meet them, weeping all along as he went: and it came to pass, as he met them, he said unto them, Come to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam. 7 And it was so, when they came into the midst of the city, that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah slew them, and cast them into the midst of the pit, he, and the men that were with him. 8 But ten men were found among them that said unto Ishmael, Slay us not: for we have stores hidden in the field, of wheat, and of barley, and of oil, and of honey. So he forbore, and slew them not among their brethren.

Now the pit wherein Ishmael cast all the dead bodies of the men whom he had slain, by the side of Gedaliah, (the same was that which Asa the king had made for fear of Baasha king of Israel,) Ishmael the son of Nethaniah filled it with them that were slain. 10 Then Ishmael carried away captive all the residue of the people that were in Mizpah, even the king's daughters, and all the people that remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had committed to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam: Ishmael the son of Nethaniah carried them away captive, and departed to go over to the children of Ammon.

But when Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, heard of all the evil that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had done, 12 then they took all men, and went to fight with Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and found him by the great waters that are in the Gibeon. 13 Now it came to pass that when all the people which were with Ishmael saw Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, then they were glad. 14 So all the people that Ishmael had carried away captive from Mizpah cast about and returned, and went unto Johanan the son of Kareah. 15 But Ishmael the son of Nethaniah escaped from Johanan with eight men, and went to the children of Ammon. 16 Then took Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, all the remnant of the people whom he had recovered from Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, from Mizpah, after that he had slain Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, even the men of war, and the women, and the children, and the eunuchs, whom he had brought again from 6 Gibeon: 17 and they departed, and dwelt in 1 Geruth 2 Chimham, which is by 1 Beth-lehem, to go to enter into Egypt, 18 because of the Chaldeans: for they were afraid of them, because Iahmuel the son of Nathaniel had slain Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, 3 whom the king of Babylon made governor over the land.

1 Then all the captains of the forces, and 4 Johanan the son of Kareah, and 5 Zejaniah the son of Hoeshaiah, and all the people from the least even unto the greatest, came near, 2 and said unto Jeremiah the prophet, Let, we pray thee, our supplication be accepted before thee, and 3 pray for us unto the LORD thy God, even for all this remnant; 4 for we are left but a few of many, as thine eyes do behold us: 5 that the LORD thy God may shew us the way wherein we should walk, and the thing that we should do. 6 Then Jeremiah the prophet said unto them, I have heard thee; behold, I will pray unto the LORD your God according to your words; and it shall come to pass that whatsoever thing the LORD shall answer you, I will declare it unto you; 7 I will keep nothing back from you. 8 Then they said to Jeremiah, 9 The LORD be a true and 10 faithful witness amongst us, 11 if we do not even according to all the word wherewith the LORD thy God shall send thee to us. 12 Whether it be good, or whether it be evil, we will obey the voice of the LORD our God, to whom we send thee; 13 that it may be well with us, when we obey the voice of the LORD our God.

7 And it came to pass after ten days, that the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah. 8 Then called he 9 Johanan the son of Kareah, and 10 all the captains of the forces which were with him, and all the people from the least even to the greatest, 11 and said, unto them, 12 Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, 13 unto whom ye sent me to present your supplication before him: 14 If ye will still abide in this land, 15 then will I build you, and not pull you down, 16 and I will plant you, and not pluck you up: 17 for I repent me of the evil that I have done unto you. 18 Be not afraid of the king of Babylon, 19 of whom ye are afraid; 20 be not afraid of him, saith the LORD: 21 for I am with you to save you, and to deliver you from his hand. 22 And I will grant you mercy, that he may have mercy upon you, and cause you to return to your own land. 23 But if ye say, We will not dwell in this land; so that ye obey not the voice of the LORD your God; 24 saying, No; 25 but we will go into the land of Egypt, where we shall see no war, 26 nor hear the sound of the trumpet, nor have hunger of bread; and there will we dwell: 27 now therefore hear ye the word of the LORD, O remnant of Judah, thus saith the LORD of hosts, 28 the God of Israel: 29 If ye wholly set your faces to enter into Egypt, and go to sojourn there; 30 and 31 then it shall come to pass, that the sword, which ye fear, shall overtake you there in the land of Egypt, and the famine, wherose of ye are afraid, 32 shall follow hard after you there in Egypt; 33 and there ye shall die. 34 So shall it be with all the men that set their faces to go into Egypt to sojourn there; they shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence: 35 and none of them shall remain or escape from the evil that I will bring upon them. 36 For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: 37 As mine anger and my fury hath been poured forth upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, so shall my fury be poured forth upon you, when ye shall enter into Egypt: and ye shall be an execration, and an astonishment, and a curse, and a reproach; and ye shall see this place no more. 38 The LORD hath spoken concerning you, O remnant of Judah, 39 Go ye not into Egypt: 40 for ye have dealt deceitfully 41 against your own souls; 42 for ye sent me unto the LORD your God, saying, 43 Pray for us unto the LORD our God; 44 and according unto all that the LORD our God shall say, so declare unto us, and we will do it: 45 and I have this day declared it to you; but ye have not obeyed the voice of the LORD your God in any thing that for the which he hath sent me unto you. 22 Now therefore know certainly that ye shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, in the place whither ye desire to go to sojourn there.

And it came to pass that when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking unto all the people, all the words of the LORD their God, wherewith the LORD their God had sent him to them, even all these words, 2 a then spake Azariah the son of Hoshahah, and Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the proud men, saying unto Jeremiah, Thou speakest falsely: the LORD our God hath not sent thee to say, Ye shall not go into Egypt to sojourn there: but Baruch the son of Neriah setteth thee on against us, for to deliver us into the hand of the Chaldeans, that they may put us to death, and carry us away captives to Babylon.

So Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces, took all the remnant of Judah, that were returned from all the nations whither they had been driven to sojourn in the land of Judah; 4 the men, and the women, and the children, and the king's daughters, and every person that Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had left with Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, and Jeremiah the prophet, and Baruch the son of Neriah; 5 and they came into the land of Egypt; for they obeyed not the voice of the LORD: and they came even to Tahpanhes. 6 Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremiah in Tahpanhes, saying, Take great stones in thine hand, and hide them in mortar in the brickwork, which is at the entry of Pharaoh's house in Tahpanhes, in the sight of the men of Judah; 7 and say unto them, Thus saith the LORD the God of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will send and take Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon, my servant, and will set his throne upon these stones that I have hid; and he shall spread his royal pavilion over them. 8 And he shall come, and shall smite the land of Egypt; such as are for death shall be given to death, and such as are for captivity to captivity, and such as are for the sword to the sword.

And I will kindle a fire in the houses of the gods of Egypt: and he shall burn them, and carry them away captives: and he shall array himself with the land of Egypt, as a shepherd putteth on his garment; and he shall go forth from thence in peace.

The word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the Jews which dwelt in the land of Egypt, which dwelt at Migdol, and at Tahpanhes, and at Noph, and in the country of Pathros, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Ye have seen all the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem, and upon all the cities of Judah; and, behold, this day they are a desolation, and no man dwelleth therein; 3 because of their wickedness which they have committed to provoke me to anger, in that they went to burn incense, and to serve other gods, whom they knew not, neither they, nor you, nor your fathers. 4 Howbeit I sent unto you all my servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them, saying, Oh, do not this abominable thing that I hate. 5 But they hearkened not, nor inclined their ear to turn from their wickedness, to burn no incense unto other gods. 6 Wherefore my fury and mine anger was poured forth, and was kindled in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem; 7 and they are wasted and desolate, as it is this day. 8 Therefore now thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: Wherefore commit ye this great evil against your own souls, to cut off from you man and woman, infant and suckling, out of the midst of Judah, to leave you none remaining; 9 in that ye provoke me unto anger with the works of your hands, burning incense unto other gods in the land of Egypt, whither ye be gone to sojourn; that ye may be cut off, and that ye may be a curse and a reproach among all the people of the earth? 9 Have ye forgotten the wickedness of your fathers, and the wickedness of the kings of Judah, and the wickedness of their wives, and your own wickedness, and the wickedness of your wives, which they committed in the land of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem? 10 They are not humbled even unto this day, neither have they feared, nor walked in my law, nor in my statutes, that I set before you and before your fathers. 11 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will set my face against you for evil, even to cut off all Judah. 12 And I will take the remnant of Judah, that have set their faces to go into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, and they shall all be consumed; in the land of Egypt shall they fall; they shall be consumed by the sword and by the famine; they shall die, from the least even unto the greatest, by the sword and by the famine: and shall be an execration, and an astonishment, and a curse, even among all the nations wherefore I have brought them to.
CHAP. 44, v. 26. } JEREMIAH. [CHAP. 46, V. 13.]

name, saith the LORD, " that my name shall not more be named in the mouth of any man of Judah in all the land of Egypt, " saying, As the Lord God liveth. 27 Behold, I watch over them for evil, and not for good: " and all the men of Judah that are in the land of Egypt shall be consumed by the sword and by the famine, until there be an end of them. 28 And they that escape the sword shall return out of the land of Egypt into the land of Judah, " few in number; and all the remnant of Judah, that are gone into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, " shall know whose word shall stand, mine, or theirs. 29 And this shall be the sign unto you, saith the LORD, that I will punish you in this place, that ye may know that " my words shall surely stand against you for evil: 30 thus saith the LORD: Behold, I will give " Pharaoh Hophra king of Egypt into the hand of his enemies, " and into the hand of them of them that seek his life: as I gave " Zedekiah king of Judah into the hand of the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, his enemy, and that sought his life.

The word that Jeremiah the prophet spake unto Baruch the son of Neriah, when he wrote these words in a book at the mouth of Jeremiah, in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, saying, 2 Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, unto thee, O Baruch: 3 Thou didst say, " Woe is me now! for the LORD hath added sorrow to my pain; " I am weary with my groaning, " and I find no rest. 4 Thus shalt thou say unto him, Thus saith the Lord: 5 Behold, that which I have built will I break down, and that which I have planted will I pluck up; and this in the whole land. 6 And " seest thou great things for thyself? seek them not: for, behold, " I will bring evil upon all flesh, saith the LORD: but " thy life will I give unto thee for a prey in all places whither thou goest.

The word of the LORD which came to Jeremiah the prophet, " concerning the nations. 46 Of Egypt: " concerning the army of Pharaoh-necho king of Egypt, which was by the river Euphrates in Carchemish, which Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon smote in " the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah.

Order ye the buckler and shield, and draw near to battle. 4 Har- ness the horses, and get up, ye horsemen, and stand forth with your helmets; " furbish the spears, put on the coats of mail. 5 Wherefore have I seen it? they are dismayed and are turned backward; 6 their mighty ones are beaten down, and are fled apace, 7 terror is on every side, saith the LORD. 6 Let not the swift flee away, nor the mighty man escape; " to the north by the river Euphrates shall they stumble and fallen. 7 Who is this that riseth up like the Nile, whose waters toss themselves like the rivers? 8 Egypt riseth up like the Nile, " his waters toss themselves like the rivers: and he saith, I will rise up, I will cover the earth; I will destroy the city and the inhabitants thereof. 9 Go up, ye horses; and rage, ye chariots; and let the mighty men go forth: Cush and " Put, that handle the shield; and the " Ludim, that handle and bend the bow.

For that day is a day of the Lord, the Lord of hosts, a day of vengeance, " that he may avenge him of his adversaries: and 10 the sword shall devour and be satiated, and shall drink its fill of their blood: for the Lord, the Lord of hosts, hath made a sacrifice in the north country " by the river Euphrates. 11 Go up into Gilead, and take the balm, O virgin daughter of Egypt: in vain dost thou use many medicines; 9 there is no healing for thee. 12 The nations have heard of thy shame, and the earth is full of thy cry: 13 for the mighty man hath stumbled against the mighty, they are fallen both of them together.

The word that the Lord spake to Jeremiah the prophet, how that Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon should come and smite the land of Egypt.

1 Or, concerning
2 Or, Who is this like the Nile that riseth up, like the rivers whose waters toss themselves? Egypt is like the Nile that riseth up.
14 Declare ye in Egypt, and publish in Noph and in Tahapanes: say ye, "Stand forth, and prepare thee; for the sword hath devoured round about thee. 15 Why are thy strong ones swept away? they stood not, because the LORD did drive them. 16 He made many to stumble, yea, they fell one upon another: and they said, Arise, and let us go again to our own people, and to the land of our nativity, from the oppressing sword. 17 They cried there, Pharaoh king of Egypt is but a noise; he hath let the appointed time pass by.

18 As I live, saith the King, whose name is the LORD of hosts, surely like Tabor among the mountains, and like Carmel by the sea, so shall he come. 19 O thou daughter that dwellest in Egypt, 20 furnish thyself to go into captivity: for Noph shall become a desolation, and shall be burnt up, without inhabitant. 20 Egypt is a very fair heifer; but destruction out of the north is come, and it is come.

21 Also her hired men in the midst of her are like calves of the stall; for they also are turned back, they are fled away together, they did not stand: for the day of their calamity is come upon them, the time of their visitation. 22 The sound thereof shall go like the serpent; for they shall march with an army, and come against her with axes, as hewers of wood. 23 They shall cut down her forest, saith the LORD, though it cannot be searched; because they are more than the locusts, and are innumerable. 24 The daughter of Egypt shall be put to shame; she shall be delivered into the hand of the people of the north. 25 The LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saith: Behold, I will punish Amon of No, and Pharaoh, and Egypt, 26 with her gods, and her kings; even Pharaoh, and them that trust in him: 26 and I will deliver them into the hand of those that seek their lives, and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of his servants: and afterwards it shall be inhabitated, as in the days of old, saith the LORD. 27 But fear not thou, O Jacob my servant, neither be dismayed, O Israel: for, lo, I will save thee from afar, and thy seed from the land of their captivity; and Jacob shall return, and shall be quiet and at ease, and none shall make him afraid. 28 Fear not thou, O Jacob my servant, saith the LORD; for I am with thee: for I will make a full end of all the nations whither I have driven thee, but I will not make a full end of thee; but I will correct thee with judgement, and will in no wise leave thee unpunished.

47 1 The word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah the prophet concerning the Philistines, before that Pharaoh smote Gaza.

2 Thus saith the LORD: Behold, waters rise up out of the north, and shall become an overflowing stream, and shall swallow the land and all that is therein, the city and them that dwell therein: and the men shall cry, and all the inhabitants of the land shall howl. 3 At the noise of the stamping of the hoofs of his strong ones, at the rushing of his chariots, at the rumbling of his wheels, the fathers look not back to their children for feebleness of hands; 4 because of the day that cometh to spoil all the Philistines, to cut off from Tyre and Zidon every helper that remaineth: for the LORD will spoil the Philistines, the remnant of the 10 isle of Caphtor. 5 Baldness is come upon Gaza; Ashkelon is brought to nought, the remnant of their valley: Gaza is come upon Ashkelon; 6 what long wilt thou cut thyself? O thou sword of the LORD, how long wilt it be ere thou be quiet? put up thyself into thy scabbard; rest, and be still. 7 How canst thou be quiet, seeing the LORD hath given the charge against Ashkelon, and against the sea shore, there hath he appointed it.

48 1 Of Moab. Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Woe unto Nebo!

1 Or, according to some ancient authorities, Why is the strong one swept away? he stood not for. 2 Or, his sword as a scorpion to the daughter of Egypt, and the everlasting enmity. 5 Or, the gods. 6 Or, according to many ancient authorities, upon her. 7 Or, Her mouth is like that of the serpent as it goeth. 9 Or, for. 10 Or, hold thee guileless. 11 Or, sea coast.
for it is laid waste; t Kiriathaim is put to shame, it is taken; 1 Misgab is put to shame and 2 broken down. 2 The praise of Moab is no more; in Heshbon they have devised evil against her, Come, and let us cut her off 3 from being a nation. Thou also, O Madmen, shalt be brought to silence; the sword shall pursue thee. 3 The sound of a cry from Horonaim, spoiling and great destruction! 4 Moab is destroyed; her little ones have caused a cry to be heard. 5 For by the ascent of Luhith with continual weeping shall they go up; for in the going down of Horonaim they have heard the distress of the cry of destruction. 6 Flee, save your lives, and be like the heath in the wilderness. 7 For, because thou hast trusted in thy works and in thy treasures, thou shalt also be taken: and Chemosh shall go forth into captivity, 8 his priests and his princes together.

8 And the spoiler shall come upon every city, and no city shall escape; the valley also shall perish, and the plain shall be destroyed; as the Lord hath spoken. 9 Give wings unto Moab, that she may fly and get her away: and her cities shall become a desolation, without any to dwell therein. 10 Cursed be he that doeth the work of the Lord negligently, and cursed be he that keepeth back his sword from blood. 11 Moab hath been at ease from his youth, and he hath settled on his lees, and hath not been emptied from vessel to vessel, neither hath he gone into captivity: therefore his taste remaineth in him, and his scent is not changed. 12 Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will send unto him them that 6 pour off, and they shall pour him off; and they shall empty his vessels, and break their bottles in pieces. 13 And Moab shall be ashamed of Chemosh, as the house of Israel was ashamed of 1 Beth-el their confidence. 14 How say ye, We are mighty men, and valiant men for the war? 15 Moab is laid waste, and they are gone up into her cities, and his chosen young men are gone down to the slaughter, saith the King, whose name is the Lord of hosts. 16 The calamity of Moab is near to come, and his affliction hasteth fast. 17 All ye that are round about him, bemoan him, and all ye that know his name; say, How is the strong staff broken, the beautiful rod! 18 O thou daughter that dwellest in "Dibon, 19 come down from thy glory, and sit in thirst; for the spoiler of Moab is come up against thee, he hath destroyed thy strong holds. 19 O inhabitant of Ar, 20 stand by the way, and espy: ask him that fleeth, and he that escapeth; say, What hath been done? 20 Moab is put to shame for it is broken down: 21 howl and cry; tell ye it in Arnon, that Moab is laid waste. 21 And judgement is come upon the plain country; upon Heshbon, and upon *Jahazah, and upon *Mephaath; 22 and upon *Dibon, and upon *Nebo, and upon Beth-diblathaim; 23 and upon *Kiriathaim, and upon Beth-gamul, and upon *Kiriathaim, and upon Beth-gamul, and upon *Beth-meon; 24 and upon *Kerieth, and upon *Bozrah, and upon all the cities of the land of Moab, far or near. 25 The horn of Moab is cut off, and his arm is broken, saith the Lord. 26 Make ye him drunken; for he magnified himself against the Lord: and Moab shall wallow in his vomit, and he shall be in derision. 27 For was not Israel a derision unto thee? 28 was he found among thieves? for as often as thou speakest of him, thou waggest the head. 29 We have heard of the pride of Moab, that he is very proud; his loftiness, and his pride, and his arrogancy, and the haughtiness of his heart. 30 I know his wrath, and his pride, and his haughtiness. 31 Therefore will I howl for Moab; yea, I will cry out for all Moab: for the men of 2 Kiri-heres they shall mourn. 32 With more than the weeping of Jazer will I weep for thee, O vine of Sibmah: thy branches passed over the sea, they reached even to the sea of 49 Of the children of Ammon. Thus saith the LORD: Hath Israel no sons? hath he no heir? why then doth Malcam possess Gad, and his people dwell in the cities thereof? 2 Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will cause an alarm of war to be heard against Rabbah of the children of Ammon; and it shall become a desolate heap, and her daughters shall be burned with fire: then shall Israel possess it. 3 Howl, O Heshbon, for Ai is spoiled; cry, ye daughters of Rabbah, gird you with sackcloth, lament, and run to and fro among the fences, for Malcam shall go into captivity, his priests and his princes together. 4 Wherefore gloriest thou in the valleys, thy flowing valley, O backsliding daughter? that trusted in her treasures, saying, Who shall come unto me? 5 Behold, I will bring a fear upon thee, saith the Lord, the Lord of hosts, from all that are round about thee; and ye shall be driven out every man right forth, and there shall be none to gather up him that wandereth. 6 But afterward I will bring again the captivity of the children of Ammon, saith the Lord.

7 Of Edom. Thus saith the Lord of hosts: Is wisdom no more in Teman? is counsel perished from the prudent? is their wisdom vanished? 8 Flee ye, turn back, dwell deep, O inhabitants of Dedan; for I will bring the calamity of Esau upon him, the time that I shall visit him. 9 If grapegatherers came upon him, and the vintage gatherers were there, 10 Then shall Edom know that I am the Lord; thus shall they know my glory, for they shall be an oblation for me. 11 But the people of Israel shall possess their heritages; and Edom shall be a desolation unto all posterity, saith the Lord. 12 But thou, Edom, hast said, Behold, the eye of the Lord is upon the inhabitants of the lands of Moab; and Edom shall be consumed. 13 Therefore thus saith the Lord, I will give the inhabitants of the land of Moab such as sigh for thee, saying, I am lost; but I will cast thee into the pit, saith the Lord. 14 Therefore all the men of Sion shall be ashamed, and all that dwell among them shall be consumed, saith the Lord. 15 And I will make thee a prey, and the fruit of thy doings shall be consumed, saith the Lord; and ye shall not be esteemed any more in the earth. 16 For ye have sold yourselves for nought; your soul shall be precious, when ye shall possess the waste corners of Moab. 17 And the remnant of Edom shall be a prey, when all they that are round about them are taken away, saith the Lord. 18 And the word of the Lord was against the king of Moab, saying, 19 Even of Edom shall he be as a vessel wherein is no pleasure, saith the Lord; therefore be ashamed of your mothers; and be ashamed of your mother's mother. 20 For why have ye contended against me? saith the Lord; and why have ye working hurt to me? 21 Therefore, behold, I will magnify mine hand upon thee; and both mine indignation and my fury shall be poured out upon thee, in great wrath. 22 And I will make thee a prey, and the fruit of thy doings shall be consumed, saith the Lord. 23 And Edom shall be a desolation unto all posterity, and a desolation for ever; from generation to generation he shall not be inhabited. 24 For thus saith the Lord, I will destroy both Edom and all the inhabitants thereof; and I will cease to the little ones of Edom, saith the Lord. 25 But as for the children of Israel, saith the Lord, I am a great king to them; for as a father pitieth his children, so will I pitieth the house of Jacob; as a man pitieth his son, so will I pity the house of Judah. 26 Behold, the艰难 has come upon all thy strong ones; even all thy cities shall be broken in upon thee. 27 And the Lord will cause to cease in Moab, saith the Lord, him that offereth in the temples, and all the sacrifices thereof; 28 And it shall come to pass, that neither sacrifices nor libations shall be offered for the Lord, nor shall prayer be made; for I will cause an end to the prosperity of all the princes of Moab. 29 And I will utterly break down Moab before their enemies; of Moab there shall be no remnant: saith the Lord. 30 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, he shall fly as an eagle, and shall spread out his wings against Moab. 31 And the heart of the mighty men of Moab shall become as the heart of a woman in her pangs; and the great shall be as she which is at the laboring house; for the people shall be cuttings, and upon the loinssackcloth. 32 And the joy and joyfulness shall be taken away from the abundant wealth of Moab, and all joyfulness. 33 For the voice of the cities of Moab shall be as an alarm; for the city is broken down, and their shout doth fall into the waters of Heshbon, even unto Elealeh; for the winepresses are fallen. 34 Therefore is there no joy there, saith the Lord; neither shall there be a voice of mirth. 35 And the glory of Moab is come unto thee, O inhabitants of the land of Moab; even of yonder, O Chaldea, saith the Lord; for I have made thee a vessel of wrath unto the whole earth. 36 But now saith the Lord, Even I will cause him that is in the north to prosper, and shall turn him loose upon Moab to destroy it. 37 And Moab shall be withered as the salt sea; and the land shall be full of the ashamed, as a man is ashamed of his secret; and the pride of his might shall be turned into shame. 38 And Moab shall be as a vessel wherein is no pleasure, saith the Lord; therefore be ashamed of your mothers; and be ashamed of your mother's mother. 39 For why have ye contended against me? saith the Lord; and why have ye working hurt to me? 40 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will cause to cease in Moab, saith the Lord, him that offereth in the temples, and all the sacrifices thereof; 41 And the heart of the mighty men of Moab shall become as the heart of a woman in her pangs; and the great shall be as she which is at the laboring house; for the people shall be cuttings, and upon the loinssackcloth. 42 And the joy and joyfulness shall be taken away from the abundant wealth of Moab, and all joyfulness. 43 For the voice of the cities of Moab shall be as an alarm; for the city is broken down, and their shout doth fall into the waters of Heshbon, even unto Elealeh; for the winepresses are fallen. 44 And Moab shall be withered as the salt sea; and the land shall be full of the ashamed, as a man is ashamed of his secret; and the pride of his might shall be turned into shame. 45 And Moab shall be as a vessel wherein is no pleasure, saith the Lord; therefore be ashamed of your mothers; and be ashamed of your mother's mother. 46 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will cause to cease in Moab, saith the Lord, him that offereth in the temples, and all the sacrifices thereof; 47 And the heart of the mighty men of Moab shall become as the heart of a woman in her pangs; and the great shall be as she which is at the laboring house; for the people shall be cuttings, and upon the loinssackcloth. 48 And the joy and joyfulness shall be taken away from the abundant wealth of Moab, and all joyfulness. 49 For the voice of the cities of Moab shall be as an alarm; for the city is broken down, and their shout doth fall into the waters of Heshbon, even unto Elealeh; for the winepresses are fallen. 50 And Moab shall be withered as the salt sea; and the land shall be full of the ashamed, as a man is ashamed of his secret; and the pride of his might shall be turned into shame.
to thee, would they not leave some thee, some gleaning grapes? * if thieves by night, would they not destroy till they had enough? 10 * But I have made Esau bare, * I have uncovered his secret places, and he shall not be able to hide himself: his seed is spoiled, and his brethren, and his neighbours, and * he is not.

21 * The earth trembleth at the noise of their fall; there is a cry, the noise whereof is heard in the Red Sea. 22 Behold, * he shall come up and fly as the eagle, and spread out his wings against * Bozrah: and the heart of the mighty men of Edom at that day shall be as the heart of a woman in her pangs.

23 Of * Damascus. * Hamath is ashamed, and * Arpad; for they have heard evil tidings, they are melted away: * there is no sorrow on the sea; it cannot be quiet. 24 * Damascus is waxed feeble. * she turn-eth herself to flee, and trembling hath seized on her: anguish and sorrows have taken hold of her, as of a woman in travail. 25 How is
* the city of praise not forsaken, the city of my joy? 26 * Therefore her young men shall fall in her streets, and all the men of war shall be brought to silence in that day, saith the LORD of hosts. 27 And
* I will kindle a fire in the wall of
* Damascus, and it shall devour the palaces of * Ben-hadad.

28 Of * Kedar, and of the kingdoms of Hazor, which Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon smote.

Thus saith the LORD: * Arise ye, go up to * Kedar, and spoil the children of the east. 29 * Their tents and their flocks they shall take;
they shall carry away for themselves their * curtains, and all their vessels, and their camels: and they shall cry unto them, * Terror on every side. 30 * Flee ye, wander far off, dwell deep, O ye inhabitants of Hazor, saith the LORD; for Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon hath taken counsel against you, and hath conceived a purpose against you. 31 * Arise, get you up unto a nation that is at ease, that dwelleth without care, saith the LORD;
which have neither gates nor bars, dwell alone. 32 * And their camels shall be a booty, and the multitude of their cattle a spoil: and 1 I will scatter unto all winds them that have the corners of their hair polled; and I will bring their calamity from every side of them, saith the Lord. 33 And Hazor shall be "a dwelling place of jackals, a desolation for ever: "no man shall dwell there, "neither shall any son of man s0journ therein.

34 The word of the Lord that came to Jeremiah the prophet concerning Elam in the beginning of the regn of Zedekiah king of Judah, saying, 35 Thus saith the Lord of hosts:
Behold, I will break the bow of Elam, the chief of their might. 36 And upon Elam will I bring the four winds from the four quarters of heaven, and will scatter them toward all those winds; and there shall be no nation whither the outcasts of Elam shall not come. 37 And I will cause Elam to be dismayed before their enemies, and before them that seek their life: and I will bring evil upon them, even my fierce anger, saith the Lord; and I will set my throne in Elam, and will destroy from thence king and princes, saith the LORD. 39 But it shall come to pass in the latter days, that I will bring again the captivity of "Elat, saith the LORD.

The word that the Lord spake concerning Babylon, concerning the land of the Chaldeans, by Jeremiah the prophet.

Declare ye among the nations and publish, and setup a standard; publish, and conceal not: say, "Babylon is taken, Bel is put to shame, Merodach is dismayed; her images are put to shame, her idols are dismayed. 3 For out of the north there cometh up an nation against her, a which shall make her land desolate, and none shall dwell therein: they are fled, they are gone, both man and beast. 4 In those days, and in that time, saith the Lord, the children of Israel shall come, they and the children of Judah together; they shall go on their way weeping, and shall seek the Lord their God. 5 They shall inquire concerning Zion with their faces thitherward, saying, Come ye, and join yourselves to the Lord in an everlasting covenant that shall not be forgotten. 6 My people hath been lost sheep: their shepherds have caused them to go astray, they have turned them away on the mountains: they have gone from mountain to hill, they have forgotten their resting place. 7 All that found them have devoured them: and their adversaries said, We offend not, because they have sinned against the Lord, "the habitation of justice, even the Lord, "the hope of their fathers. 8 Flee out of the midst of Babylon, and go forth out of the land of the Chaldeans, and be as the he-goats before the flocks. 9 For, lo, I will stir up and cause to come up against Babylon an assembly of great nations from the north country: and they shall set themselves in array against her; from thence she shall be taken: their arrows shall be as of an expert mighty man; none shall return in vain. 10 And Chaldea shall be a spoil: all that spoil her shall be satisfied, saith the Lord. 12 Because ye are glad, because ye rejoice, O ye that pertain to Babylon, as you are a wilderness, a dry land, and a desert. 13 Because of the wrath of the Lord it shall not be inhabited, but it shall be wholly desolate: every one that goeth by Babylon shall be astonished, and his Vis at all her plagues. 14 Set yourselves in array against Babylon round about, all ye that bend the bow; shoot at her, spare no arrows: for she hath sinned against the Lord. 15 Shout against her round about: she hath submitted herself; her bulwarks are fallen, her walls are thrown down: for it is the vengeance of the Lord; take vengeance upon her; as she hath done, do unto her. 16 Cut off the sower from Babylon, and him that handeth the sickle in the time of harvest: * for fear of the oppressing sword * they shall turn every one to his people, and they shall flee one to every one to his own land.

17 * Israel is a scattered sheep; * the lions have driven him away: first the king of Assyria hath devoured him; and last this Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon hath broken his bones. 18 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, * I will punish the king of Babylon and his land, * as I have punished the king of Assyria.
19 * And I will bring Israel again to his pasture, and he shall feed on Carmel and Bashan, and his soul shall raise him up: and I will kindle a fire in his cities, and it shall devour all that are round about him.

20 In those days, and in that time, saith the LORD, * the iniquity of Israel shall be sought for, and there shall be none; and the sins of Judah, and they shall not be found: for * I will pardon them whom I leave as a remnant.

21 Go up against the land of * Merathaim, even against it, and against the inhabitants * of * Pekod: slay * and utterly destroy after them, saith the LORD, and do according to all that I have commanded thee. 22 * A sound of battle is upon the land, and of great destruction. 23 * How is the hammer of the whole earth cut asunder and broken! * how is Babylon * become a desolation among the nations!

24 * I have laid a snare for thee, and thou art also taken, O Babylon, and thou wast not aware: thou art found, and also caught, because thou hast striven against the LORD, against the Holy
One of Israel. 25 Therefore shall her young men fall in her streets, and all her men of war shall be brought to silence in that day, saith
the LORD. 26 Behold, I am against thee, * O thou proud one, saith the LORD, the LORD of hosts: * for thy day is come, the time that I will visit thee. 27 * And the proud one shall stumble and fall, and none shall raise him up; * and I will kindle a fire in his cities, and it shall devour all that are round about him.

33 Thus saith the LORD of hosts: * The children of Israel and the children of Judah are oppressed together: and all that took them captives hold them fast; * they refuse to let them go. 34 * Their Redeemer is strong; * the LORD of hosts is his name: * he shall throughly plead his cause, that he may give rest to the earth, and disquiet the inhabitants of Babylon. 35 A sword is upon the Chaldeans, saith the LORD, and upon the inhabitants of Babylon, and upon * her princes, and upon her wise men. 36 A sword is upon the Chaldeans, and upon all that was captured by them in the land of Babylon, and upon all the mingled people that are in the midst of her, and * they shall become as women: * a sword is upon her treasures, and they shall be robbed.

38 * A drought is upon her waters, and they shall be dried up: * for it is a land of graven images, and they are mad upon * idols. 39 * Therefore the wild beasts of the desert shall dwell there, and the ostriches shall dwell therein:
and it shall be no more inhabited forever; neither shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation.

40 * As when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah and the neighbouring neighbouring cities, to declare in Zion the vengeance of the LORD our God, the vengeance of his temple. 49 * Call together the archers against Babylon, all them that bend the bow; * camp against her round about: let none be thereof escape: * recompense her according to her work; * according to all that she hath done, do unto her: for she hath been proud against the LORD, against the Holy
One of Israel. 50 * Therefore shall her young men fall in her streets, and all her men of war shall be brought to silence in that day, saith
the LORD. 31 Behold, I am against thee, * O thou proud one, saith the LORD, the LORD of hosts: * for thy day is come, the time that I will visit thee. 32 And * the proud one shall stumble and fall, and none shall raise him up; * and I will kindle a fire in his cities, and it shall devour all that are round about him.

33 Thus saith the LORD of hosts: * The children of Israel and the children of Judah are oppressed together: and all that took them captives hold them fast; * they refuse to let them go. 34 * Their Redeemer is strong; * the LORD of hosts is his name: * he shall throughly plead his cause, that he may give rest to the earth, and disquiet the inhabitants of Babylon. 35 A sword is upon the Chaldeans, saith the LORD, and upon the inhabitants of Babylon, and upon * her princes, and upon her wise men. 36 A sword is upon the Chaldeans, and upon all that was captured by them in the land of Babylon, and upon all the mingled people that are in the midst of her, and * they shall become as women: * a sword is upon her treasures, and they shall be robbed.

38 * A drought is upon her waters, and they shall be dried up: * for it is a land of graven images, and they are mad upon * idols. 39 * Therefore the wild beasts of the desert shall dwell there, and the ostriches shall dwell therein:

against the Holy One of Israel.
6 Flee out of the midst of Babylon, and save every man his life; for it is the time of the Lord's vengeance; he will render unto her a recompence.
7 Babylon hath been a golden cup in the Lord's hand, that made all the earth drunken; therefore the nations are mad.
8 Babylon is suddenly fallen and destroyed: howl for her; take baalm for her pain, if so be she may be healed.
9 We would have healed Babylon, but she is not healed: forsake her, and let us go every one into his own country: for her judgement reacheth unto heaven, and is lifted up even to the skies.
10 The Lord hath brought forth our righteousness: come, and let us declare in Zion the work of the Lord our God.
11 Make sharp the arrows; hold firm the shields: the Lord hath stirred up the spirit of the king of the Medes; because his device is against Babylon, to destroy it: for it is the vengeance of the Lord, the vengeance of his temple.
12 Set up a standard against the wall of Babylon, make the watch strong, set the watchmen, prepare the ambushes: for the Lord hath both devised and done that which he spake concerning the inhabitantsof Babylon.
13 O thou that dwellest upon many waters, abundant in treasures, thine end is come, the measure of thy covetousness.
14 The Lord of hosts hath sworn by himself, saying, Surely I will fill thee with men, as with the cankerworm; and they shall lift up a shout against thee.
15 He hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and by his understanding hath he stretched out the heavens; 16 when he uttereth his voice, there is a tumult of waters in the heavens, and he causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth; he maketh lightnings for the rain, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures.
17 Every man is become brutish and is without knowledge; every goldsmith is put to shame by his graven image: for his molten image is falsehood, and there is no breath in them. 18 They are vanity, a work of delusion: in the time of their visitation they shall perish. 19 The portion of Jacob is not like these; for he is the former of all things; and Israel is the tribe of his inheritance: the Lord of hosts is his name.

20 Thou art my battle axe and weapons of war; and with thee will I break in pieces the nations; and with thee will I destroy kingdoms; and with thee will I break in pieces the horse and his rider; and with thee will I break in pieces the chariot and him that rideth therein; and with thee will I break in pieces the young man and the maid; and with thee will I break in pieces the old man and the youth; and with thee will I break in pieces the shepherd and his flock; and with thee will I break in pieces the husbandman and his yoke of oxen; and with thee will I break in pieces governors and deputies.

24 And I will render unto Babylon and to all the inhabitants of Chaldea all their evil that they have done in Zion in your sight, saith the Lord.

25 Behold, I am against thee, O destroying mountain, saith the Lord, which destroyest all the earth: and I will stretch out mine hand upon thee, and roll thee down from the rocks, and will make thee a burnt mountain. 26 And they shall not take of thee a stone for a corner, nor a stone for foundations; but thou shalt be desolate for ever, saith the Lord. 27 Set ye up a standard in the land, blow the trumpet among the nations, prepare the nations against her, call together against her the kings of Ararat, Minni, and Ashkenaz: appoint a marshal against her; cause the horses to come up as the rough cannonworm. 28 Prepare against her the nations, the kings of the Medes, the governors thereof, and all the deputies thereof, and all the land of his dominion. 29 And the land trembleth and is in pain: for the purposes of the Lord against Babylon do stand, to make the land of Babylon a desolation, without inhabitant.

30 The mighty men of Babylon have forborne to fight, they remain in their strong holds; their might hath failed; they are become as women: her dwelling places are set on fire; her bars are broken. 31 One post shall run to meet another, and one messenger to meet another, to shew the king of Babylon that his city is taken on every quarter: 32 and the passages are surprized, and the reeds they have burned with fire, and the men of war are affrighted.

33 For thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: 'The daughter of Babylon is like a threshing-floor at the time when it is trodden; yet a little while, and the time of harvest shall come for her. 34 Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon hath devoured me, he hath crushed me, he hath made me an empty vessel, he hath swallowed me up like a dragon, he hath filled his maw with my delicacies; he hath cast me out, swallowed me up like a dragon, he hath filled his maw with my delicacies; he hath cast me out.

35 The violence done to me and to my flesh be upon Babylon, shall the inhabitant of Zion say; and, My blood be upon the inhabitants of Chaldea, shall Jerusalem say. 36 Therefore thus saith the Lord: Behold, I will plead thy cause, and take vengeance for thee; and I will dry up her sea, and make her desolate, without inhabitant. 37 And Babylon shall become heaps, a dwelling place for jackals, an astonishment, and an hissing, without inhabitant. 38 They shall roar together like young lions; they shall growl as lions' whelps. 39 When they are heated, I will make their heat, and I will make them drunk, that they may rejoyce, and sleep a perpetual sleep, and not wake, saith the Lord. 40 I will bring them down like lambs to the slaughter, like rams with he-goats. 41 How is Sheashach taken! and the praise of the whole earth is surprised! how is Babylon become a desolation among the nations! 42 The sea is come up upon Babylon: she is covered with the multitude of the

JEREMIAH.

43 Her cities are become a desolation, a dry land, and a desert, a land wherein no man dwelleth, neither doth any son of man pass thereby. 44 And I will do judgement upon Bel in Babylon, and I will bring forth out of his mouth that which he hath swallowed up; and the nations shall not flow together any more unto him: yea, the wall of Babylon shall fall.

45 My people, go ye out of the midst of her, and save yourselves every man from the fierce anger of the LORD. 46 And let not your heart faint, neither fear ye for the rumour that shall be heard in the land; for a rumour shall come one year, and after that in another year shall come a rumour, and violence in the land, ruler against ruler.

47 Therefore, behold, the days come, that I will do judgement upon the graven images of Babylon, and her whole land shall be ashamed; and all her slain shall fall in the midst of her. 48 Then the heaven and the earth, and all that is therein, shall sing for joy over Babylon; for the spoilers shall come unto her from the north, saith the LORD.

49 As Babylon hath caused the slain of Israel to fall, so at Babylon shall fall the slain of all the land. 50 Ye that have escaped the sword, go ye, stand not still; remember the LORD from afar, and let Jerusalem come into your mind.

51 We are ashamed, because we have heard reproach; confusion hath covered our faces: for strangers hath come into the courts of the LORD's house. 52 Wherefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will do judgement upon her graven images; and through all her land the wound shall groan. 53 Though Babylon should mount up to heaven, and though she should fortify the height of her strength, yet from me shall spoilers come unto her, saith the LORD. 54 The sound of a cry from Babylon, and of great destruction from the land of the Chaldeans! 55 for the LORD spelleth Babylon, and destroyeth out of her the great voice; and their waves roar like many waters, the noise of their voice is uttered: 56 for the spoiler is come upon her, even upon Babylon, and her mighty men are taken, their bows are broken in pieces: 60 for the LORD is a God of recompences, he shall surely requite. 57 And I will make drunk her princes and her wise men, her governors and her deputies, and her mighty men; and they shall sleep a perpetual sleep, and not wake, saith the King, whose name is the LORD of hosts. 58 Thus saith the LORD of hosts: The broad walls of Babylon shall be utterly overthrown, and her high gates shall be burned with fire; and the peoples shall labour for vanity, and the nations for the fire; and they shall be weary.

59 The word which Jeremiah the prophet commanded Seraiah the son of Neriah, the son of Mahseiah, when he went with Zedekiah the king of Judah to Babylon in the fourth year of his reign. Now Seraiah was chief chamberlain. 60 And Jeremiah wrote in a book all the evil that should come upon Babylon, even all these words that are written concerning Babylon.

61 And Jeremiah said to Seraiah, When thou comest to Babylon, then see that thou read all these words, 62 and say, O LORD, thou hast spoken concerning this place, to cut it off, that none shall dwell therein, neither man nor beast, but that it shall be desolate for ever. 63 And it shall be, when thou hast made an end of reading this book, 64 that thou shalt bind a stone to it, and cast it into the midst of Eu- phrates: 65 and thou shalt say, Thus shall Babylon sink, and shall not rise again because of the evil that I will bring upon her: and they shall be weary.

Thus far are the words of Jeremiah.

1 d Zedekiah was one and twenty years old when he began to reign; and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Hamutal the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

2 And he did that which was evil... in the sight of the LORD, according to all that Jehoiakim had done. 3For through the anger of the LORD it came to pass in Jerusalem and Judah, until he had cast them out from his presence; and Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon. 4And it came to pass in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, that Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon came, he and all his army, against Jerusalem, and encamped against it; and they built fortresses round about. So the city was besieged unto the eleventh year of king Zedekiah. 6In the fourth month, in the ninth day of the month, the famine was sore in the city, so that there was no bread for the people of the land. 7Then a breach was made in the city, and all the men of war fled, and went forth out of the city by night by the way of the gate between the two walls, which was by the king's garden; (now the Chaldeans were against the city round about;) and they went by the way of the Arabah. 8But the army of the Chaldeans pursued after the king, and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho; and all his army was scattered from him. 9Then they took the king, and carried him up unto the king of Babylon to Riblah in the land of Hamath; and he pronounced judgment upon him. 10And the king of Babylon slew the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes: he slew also all the princes of Judah in Riblah. 11And he put out the eyes of Zedekiah; and the king of Babylon bound him in fetters, and put him in prison till the day of his death. 12Now in the fifth month, in the seventh year of king Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, came Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard, which was over the land: 13and he burned the house of the Lord, and the king's house; and all the houses of Jerusalem, even every great house, burned he with fire. 14And all the army of the Chaldeans, that were with the captain of the guard, brake down all the walls of Jerusalem round about. 15Then Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive of the poorest sort of the people, and the residue of the people that were left in the city, and those that fell away, that fell to the king of Babylon, and the residue of the multitude. 16But Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard left of the poorest of the land to be vine-dressers and husbandmen. 17And the pillars of brass that were in the house of the Lord, and the bases and the basins, and the spoons, and all the vessels of brass wherewith they ministered, took they away. 19And the pots, and the shovels, and the snuffers, and the bowls, and the spoons, and all the vessels of gold, in gold, and all the vessels of silver, in silver, the captain of the guard took away. 20The two pillars, the sea, and the twelve brazen bulls that were under the bases, which king Solomon had made for the house of the Lord: the brass of all these vessels was without weight. 21And as for the pillars, the height of one pillar was eight cubits; and a line of twelve cubits did compass it; and the thickness thereof was four fingers: it was hollow. 22And a chapiter of brass was upon it; and the height of the one chapiter was five cubits, with network and pomegranates upon the chapiter round about, all of brass: and the second pillar also had like unto these, and pomegranates. 23And there were ninety and six pomegranates on the sides; all the pomegranates were an hundred upon the network round about.
that saw the king's face, which were found in the city; and the scribe of the captain of the host, who mustered the people of the land; and threescore men of the people of the land, that were found in the midst of the city. 26 And Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard took them, and brought them to the king of Babylon to Riblah. 27 And the king of Babylon smote them, and put them to death at Riblah in the land of Hamath. So Judah was carried away captive out of his land. 28 This is the people whom Nebuchadrezzar carried away captive: in the seventh year three thousand Jews and three and twenty: in the eighteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar he carried away captive from Jerusalem eight hundred thirty and two persons: 30 in the three and twentieth year of Nebuchadrezzar Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive of the Jews seven hundred forty and five persons: all the persons were four thousand and six hundred.

The Lamentations of Jeremiah

1 How doth the city sit solitary, that was full of people! How is she become as a widow! She that was great among the nations, and a princess among the provinces.

2 She weepeth sore in the night, and her tears are on her cheeks; Among all her lovers she hath none to comfort her: All her friends have dealt treacherously with her, They are become her enemies.

3 Judah is gone into captivity because of affliction, and because of great servitude; She dwelleth among the heathen, and she findeth no rest: All her persecutors overtook her within the straits.

4 The ways of Zion do mourn, because none come to the solemn assembly;

5 All her gates are desolate, her priests do sigh: Her virgins are afflicted, and she herself is in bitterness.

6 Her adversaries are become the head, her enemies prosper; For the Lord hath afflicted her for the multitude of her transgressions:

7 Her young children are gone into captivity before the adversary.

8 And from the daughter of Zion all her majesty is departed: Her princes are become like harts that find no pasture, And they are gone without strength before the pursuer.

9 Jerusalem remembereth in the days of her affliction and of her miseries All her pleasant things that were from the days of old:

10 When her people fell into the hand of the adversary, and none did help her,
The adversaries saw her, they did mock at her desolations.

8 Jerusalem hath grievously sinned; therefore she is become as an unclean thing:
All that honoured her despise her, because they have seen her nakedness;
Yea, she sigheth, and turneth backward.

9 Her filthiness was in her skirts; she remembered not her latter end;
Therefore is she come down wonderfully; she hath no comforter:
Behold, O LORD, my affliction; for the enemy hath magnified himself.

10 The adversary hath spread out his hand upon all her pleasant things:
For she hath seen that the heathen are entered into her sanctuary, Concerning whom thou didst command that they should not enter into thy congregation.

11 All her people sigh, they seek bread; They have given their pleasant things for meat to refresh the soul:
See, O LORD, and behold; for I am become vile.

12 Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by? Behold, and see if there be any sorrow like unto my sorrow, which is done unto me, Wherewith the LORD hath afflicted me in the day of his fierce anger.

13 From on high hath he sent fire into my bones, and it prevaileth against them:
He hath spread a net for my feet, he hath turned me back:
He hath made me desolate and faint all the day.

14 The yoke of my transgressions is bound by his hand; They are knit together, they are come up upon my neck; he hath made my strength to fail:
The Lord hath delivered me into their hands, against whom I am not able to stand.

15 The Lord hath set at nought all my mighty men in the midst of me;
He hath called a solemn assembly against me to crush my young men:
The Lord hath trodden as in a winepress the virgin daughter of Judah.

16 For these things I weep; mine eye, mine eye runneth down with water;
Because the comforter that should refresh my soul is far from me:
My children are desolate, because the enemy hath prevailed.

17 Zion spreadeth forth her hands; there is none to comfort her;
The Lord hath commanded concerning Jacob, that they that are round about him should be his adversaries:
Jerusalem is among them as an unclean thing.

18 The Lord is righteous; for I have rebelled against his commandment:
Hear, I pray you, all ye peoples, and behold my sorrow:
My virgins and my young men are gone into captivity.

19 I called for my lovers, but they deceived me:
My priests and mine elders gave up the ghost in the city,
While they sought them meat to refresh their souls.

20 Behold, O LORD; for I am in distress; my bowels are troubled;
Mine heart is turned within me; for I have grievously rebelled:
Abroad the sword bereaveth, at home there is death.

21 They have heard that I sigh; there is none to comfort me;
All mine enemies have heard of my trouble; they are glad that thou hast done it:
Thou wilt bring the day that thou hast proclaimed, and they shall be like unto me.

22 Let all their wickedness come before thee;
And do unto them, as thou hast done unto me for all my transgressions:
For my sighs are many, and my heart is faint.
LAMENTATIONS.

1 How hath the Lord covered the daughter of Zion with a cloud in his anger!
2 He hath cast down from heaven unto the earth the beauty of Israel, and hath not remembered his footstool in the day of his anger.
3 The Lord hath swallowed up all the habitations of Jacob, and hath not pitied; he hath thrown down in his wrath the strong holds of the daughter of Judah; he hath brought them down to the ground:
4 He hath profaned the kingdom and the princes thereof.
5 He hath cut off in fierce anger all the horn of Israel; he hath drawn back his right hand from before the enemy: And he hath burned up Jacob like a flaming fire, which devoureth round about.
6 The Lord is become as an enemy, he hath swallowed up Israel; he hath swallowed up all her palaces, he hath destroyed his strong holds:
7 The Lord hath swallowed up all the habitation of Jacob, and hath not pitied; he hath not remembered his footstool in the day of his anger.
8 How hath the Lord covered the daughter of Zion with a cloud in his anger!
9 He hath stretched out the line, he hath not withdrawn his hand from destroying:
10 Her gates are sunk into the ground; he hath made a noise in the house of the LORD, as in the day of a solemn assembly.
11 Mine eyes do fail with tears, my bowels are troubled, my liver is poured upon the earth, for the destruction of the daughter of my people; because the young children and the sucklings swoon in the streets of the city.
12 They say to their mothers, Where is corn and wine? when they swoon as the wounded in the streets of the city, when their soul is poured out into their mothers' bosom.
13 What shall I testify unto thee, what shall I liken to thee, O daughter of Jerusalem? what shall I equal to thee, that I may comfort thee, O virgin daughter of Zion?
14 Thy prophets have seen visions for thee of vanity and foolishness:
15 And they have not discovered thine iniquity, to bring again thy captivity:
16 They have made a noise in the house of the LORD, as in the day of a solemn assembly.
17 The Lord hath purposed to destroy the wall of the daughter of Zion; he hath stretched out the line, he hath not withdrawn his hand from destroying:
18 But he hath made the rampart and wall to lament; they languish together.
19 Her gates are sunk into the ground; he hath made a noise in the house of the LORD, as in the day of a solemn assembly.
20 Mine eyes do fail with tears, my bowels are troubled, my liver is poured upon the earth, for the destruction of the daughter of my people; because the young children and the sucklings swoon in the streets of the city.
21 They say to their mothers, Where is corn and wine? when they swoon as the wounded in the streets of the city, when their soul is poured out into their mothers' bosom.
22 What shall I testify unto thee, what shall I liken to thee, O daughter of Jerusalem? what shall I equal to thee, that I may comfort thee, O virgin daughter of Zion?
23 Thy prophets have seen visions for thee of vanity and foolishness:
24 And they have not discovered thine iniquity, to bring again thy captivity:
25 But they have made a noise in the house of the LORD, as in the day of a solemn assembly.
LAMENTATIONS.

15 All that pass by clap their hands at thee;
They hiss and wag their head at the daughter of Jerusalem, saying:
Is this the city that men called
The perfection of beauty,
The joy of the whole earth?

16 All thine enemies have opened their mouth wide against thee;
They hiss and gnash the teeth; they say, We have swallowed her up;
Certainly this is the day that we looked for; we have found, we have seen it.

17 The Lord hath done that which he devised;
He hath fulfilled his word that he commanded in the days of old;
He hath thrown down, and hath not pitied;
And he hath caused the enemy to rejoice over thee,
He hath exalted the horn of thine adversaries.

18 Their heart cried unto the Lord:
O wall of daughter of Zion,
let tears run down like a river day and night;
Give thyself no respite; let not the apple of thine eye cease.

19 Arise, cry out in the night, at the beginning of the watches;
Pour out thine heart like water before the face of the Lord:
Lift up thy hands toward him for the life of thy young children,
That faint for hunger at the top of every street.

20 See, O Lord, and behold, to whom thou hast done thus!
Shall the women eat their fruit, the children that are dandled in the hands?
Shall the priest and the prophet be slain in the sanctuary of the Lord?

21 The youth and the old man lie on the ground in the streets;
My virgins and my young men are fallen by the sword:
Thou hast slain them in the day of thine anger; thou hast slaughtered, and not pitied.

22 Thou hast called, as in the day of a solemn assembly, my terrors on every side,
And there was none that escaped or remained in the day of the Lord's anger:
Those that I have dandled and brought up hath mine enemy consumed.

3 I am the man that hath seen affliction by the rod of his wrath.
He hath led me and caused me to walk in darkness and not in light.

Surely against me he turneth his hand again and again all the day.

4 My flesh and my skin hath he made old; he hath broken my bones.

5 He hath built against me, and compassed me with gall and travail.

6 He hath made me to dwell in dark places, as those that have been long dead.

7 He hath fenced up my ways with hewn stone, he hath made my paths crooked.

8 He is unto me as a bear lying in wait, as a lion in secret places.

9 He hath turned aside my ways, and pulled me in pieces; he hath made me desolate.

10 He hath bent his bow, and set me as a mark for the arrow.

11 He hath caused the shafts of his quiver to enter into my reins.

12 I am become a derision to all my people; and pulled me in pieces; he hath made me desolate.

13 He hath caused the shafts of his quiver to enter into my reins.

14 I am become a derision to all my people; and their song all the day.

15 He hath filled me with bitterness, he hath sated me with wormwood.

16 He hath also broken my teeth with gravel stones, he hath covered me with ashes.

1 Or, things to draw thee aside 2 Or, finished 3 Or, without light 4 Or, worn out 5 Heb. some.
And thou hast removed my soul far off from peace; I forgot prosperity.

And I said, My strength is perished, and mine expectation from the LORD.

Remember mine affliction and my misery, the wormwood and the gall.

My soul hath them still in remembrance, and is bowed down within me.

This I recall to my mind, therefore have I hope in the LORD.

It is of the Lord's mercies that we are not consumed, because his compassions fail not.

They are new every morning; great is thy faithfulness.

The Lord is my portion, saith my soul; therefore will I hope in him.

The Lord is good unto them that wait for him, to the soul that seeketh him.

The Lord will not cast off for ever.

For though he cause grief, yet will he have compassion according to the multitude of his mercies.

For he doth not afflict willingly nor grieve the children of men.

To crush under foot all the prisoners of the earth.

To turn aside the right of a man before the face of the Most High.

To subvert a man in his cause, the Lord approveth not.

Who is he that saith, and it cometh to pass, when the Lord commandeth it not?

Out of the mouth of the Most High cometh there not evil and good?

Wherefore doth a living man complain? a man for the punishment of his sins?

Let us search and try our ways, and turn again to the Lord.

Let us lift up our heart with our hands unto God in the heavens.

We have transgressed and have rebelled; thou hast not pardoned.

Thou hast covered with anger and pursued us; thou hast slain, thou hast not pitied.

Thou hast covered thyself with a cloud, that our prayer should not pass through.

Thou hast made us as the offscouring and refuse in the midst of the peoples.

All our enemies have opened their mouth wide against us.

Fear and the pit are come upon us, devastation and destruction.

Mine eye runneth down with rivers of water, for the destruction of the daughter of my people.

Mine eye poureth down and ceaseth not, without any intermission, till the Lord look down, and behold from heaven.

Thou hast covered with anger and pursued us; thou hast slain, thou hast not pitied.

Thou hast covered thyself with a cloud, that our prayer should not pass through.

Thou hast made us as the offscouring and refuse in the midst of the peoples.

All our enemies have opened their mouth wide against us.

Fear and the pit are come upon us, devastation and destruction.

Mine eye ranneeth down with rivers of water, for the destruction of the daughter of my people.

Mine eye poureth down and ceaseth not, without any intermission, till the Lord look down, and behold from heaven.

Mine eye affecteth my soul, because of all the daughters of my city.

They have chased me sore like a bird, that are mine enemies without cause.

They have cut off my life in the dungeon, and have cast a stone upon me.

Waters flowed over mine head; I said, I am cutoff.

I called upon thy name, O Lord, out of the lowest dungeon.
56 Thou heardest my voice; hide not thine ear at my breathing, at my cry.
57 Thou drewest near in the day that I called upon thee: thou saidst, Fear not.
58 O Lord, thou hast pleaded the causes of my soul; thou hast redeemed my life.
59 O Lord, thou hast seen my wrong; judge thou my cause.
60 Thou hast seen all their vengeance and all their devices against me.

61 Thou hast heard their reproach, O Lord, and all their devices against me;
62 The lips of those that rose up against me, and their imagination against me all the day.
63 Behold thou their sitting down, and their rising up; I am their song.

64 Thou wilt render unto them a recompence, O Lord, according to the work of their hands.
65 Thou wilt give them hardness of heart, thy curse unto them.
66 Thou wilt pursue them in anger, and destroy them from under the heavens of the Lord.

4 How is the gold become dim! how is the most pure gold changed!

The stones of the sanctuary are poured out at the top of every street.

The precious sons of Zion, comparable to fine gold,
How are they esteemed as earthen pitchers, the work of the hands of the potter?

Even the jackals draw out the breast, they give suck to their young ones:
The daughter of my people is become cruel, like the ostriches in the wilderness.

The tongue of the sucking child cleaveth to the roof of his mouth for thirst:

The young children ask bread, and no man breaketh it unto them.

They that did feed delicately are desolate in the streets:
They that were brought up in scarlet embrace dunghills.

6 For the iniquity of the daughter of my people is greater than the sin of Sodom,
That was overthrown as in a moment, and no hands were laid upon her.

7 Her nobles were purer than snow, they were whiter than milk,
They were more ruddy in body than rubies, their polishing was as of sapphire:

8 Their visage is blacker than a coal; they are not known in the streets:
Their skin cleaveth to their bones; it is withered, it is become like a stick.

9 They that be slain with the sword are better than they that be slain with hunger;
For these pine away, stricken through, for want of the fruits of the field.

10 The hands of the pitiful women have sodden their own children;
They were their meat in the destruction of the daughter of iny people.

11 The Lord hath accomplished his fury, he hath poured out his fierce anger;
And he hath kindled a fire in Zion, which hath devoured the foundations thereof.

12 The kings of the earth believed not, neither all the inhabitants of the world,
That the adversary and the enemy should enter into the gates of Jerusalem.

13 It is because of the sins of her prophets, and the iniquities of her priests,
That have shed the blood of the just in the midst of her.

14 They wander as blind men in the streets, they are polluted with blood,
So that men cannot touch their garments.

15 Depart ye, they cried unto them, Unclean! depart, depart, touch not:
When they fled away and wandered, men said among the nations, They shall no more sojourn here.

16 The anger of the Lord hath divided them; he will no more regard them:

They respected not the persons of the priests, they favoured not the elders.

Our eyes do yet fail in looking for our vain help:

In our watching we have watched for a nation that could not save.

They hunt our steps, that we cannot go in our streets: Our end is near, our days are fulfilled; for our end is come.

Rejoice and be glad, O daughter of Edom, that dwellest in the land of Uz:

The cup shall pass through unto thee also; thou shalt be drunken, and shalt make thyself naked.

The breath of our nostrils, the anointed of the Lord, was taken in their pits; Of whom we said, Under his shadow we shall live among the nations.

The cup shall pass through unto thee also; thou shalt be drunken, and shalt make thyself naked.

The punishment of thine iniquity is accomplished, O daughter of Zion;

He will no more carry thee away into captivity: He will visit thine iniquity, O daughter of Edom; He will discover thy sins.

Remember, O Lord, what is come upon us: Behold, and see our reproach.

Our inheritance is turned unto strangers, Our houses unto aliens.

We are orphans and fatherless, Our mothers are as widows.

We have drunken our water for money; Our wood is sold unto us.

Our pursuers are upon our necks: We are weary, and have no rest.

We have given the hand to the Egyptians, And to the Assyrians, to be satisfied with bread.

Our fathers have sinned, and are not;

And we have borne their iniquities.

Servants rule over us: There is none to deliver us out of their hand.

We get our bread with the peril of our lives Because of the sword of the wilderness.

Our skin is black like an oven Because of the burning heat of famine.

They ravished the women in Zion, The maidens in the cities of Judah.

Princes were hanged up by their hand;

The faces of elders were not honoured.

The young men bare the mill, And the children stumbled under the wood.

The elders have ceased from the gate, The young men from their music.

The joy of our heart is ceased; Our dance is turned into mourning.

The crown is fallen from our head: Woe unto us! for we have sinned.

For this our heart is faint; For these things our eyes are dim;

For the mountain of Zion, which is desolate; The foxes walk upon it.

Thou, O Lord, abidest for ever; Thy throne is from generation to generation.

Wherefore dost thou forget us for ever, And forsake us so long time?

Turn thou us unto thee, O Lord, and we shall be turned; Renew our days as of old.

But thou hast utterly rejected us, Thou art very wroth against us.
Now it came to pass in the thirty-first year, in the fourth month, in the fifth day of the month, as I was among the captives by the river Chebar, that the heavens were opened, and I saw visions of God. In the fifth month of the fifth year of king Jehoiachin, the son of Buzi, in the land of the Chaldeans, by the river Chebar; and the hand of the Lord was there upon him. And I looked, and beheld, and, behold, a stormy wind came out of the north, a great cloud, with a fire infolding itself, and a brightness round about it, and out of the midst thereof as the colour of amber, out of the midst of the fire. And out of the midst thereof came the likeness of four living creatures; and this was their appearance; they had the likeness of a man. And every one had four faces, and every one of them had four wings. And their feet were straight feet; and the sole of their feet was like the sole of a calf's foot: and they sparkled like the colour of burnished brass. And their wings thus; their wings were joined one to another; they turned not when they went; they went every one straight forward. As for the likeness of their faces, they had the face of a man; and they had four the face of a lion on the right side; and they four had the face of an ox on the left side; and they four had also the face of an eagle, and their faces were joined one to another; they turned not when they went; they went every one straight forward. As for the likeness of the living creatures, their appearance was as it were the likeness of a firmament, like the colour of the terrible crystal, stretched forth over their heads above. And under the firmament were their wings separate above; two wings of every one were joined one to another, and two covered their bodies. And they went every one straight forward: whither the spirit was to go, they went; they turned not when they went. As for the likeness of the living creatures, their appearance was as it were the likeness of a firmament, like the colour of a beryl: and they four had one likeness; and their appearance and their work was as it were a wheel within a wheel. When they went, they went upon their four sides; they turned not when they went. As for their rings, they were high and dreadful; and they four had their rings full of eyes round about. And when the living creatures went, the wheels went beside them; and when the living creatures were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up. Whithersoever the spirit was to go, they went; thither was the spirit to go: and the wheels were lifted up beside them; for the spirit of the living creature was in the wheels. When those went, those went; and when those stood, those stood; and when those were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up beside them; for the spirit of the living creature was in the wheels. And over the head of the living creature there was the likeness of a firmament, like the colour of the terrible crystal, stretched forth over their heads above. And under the firmament were their wings separate above; two wings of every one were joined one to another, and two covered their bodies. And they went every one straight forward: whither the spirit was to go, they went; they turned not when they went.
the noise of great waters, like the voice of the Almighty, a noise of tumult like the noise of an host: when they stood, they let down their wings. And there was a voice above the firmament that was over their heads, when they stood, they let down their wings. And above the firmament that was over their heads was the likeness of a throne, as the appearance of a sapphire stone: and upon the likeness of the throne was the likeness as the appearance of a man upon it above. And I saw as the colour of amber, as the appearance of fire within it round about, from the appearance of his loins and upward; and from the appearance of his loins and downward I saw as it were the appearance of fire, and there was brightness round about him. As the appearance of the bow that is in the cloud in the day of rain, so was the appearance of the brightness round about. This was the appearance of the likeness of the glory of the Lord. And when I saw it, I fell upon my face, and I heard a voice of one that spake.

And he said unto me, Son of man, of man, stand upon thy feet, and I will speak with thee. And the spirit entered into me when he spake unto me, and set me upon my feet; and I heard him that spake unto me. And he said unto me, Son of man, send thee to the children of Israel, to nations that are rebellious, which have rebelled against me; and their fathers have transgressed against me, and I will speak with thee. Whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear: for they are most rebellious. But thou, son of man, hear what I say unto thee; be not thou rebellious like that rebellious house: open thy mouth, and eat that I give thee. And when I looked, behold, an hand was put forth unto me; and, lo, a roll of a book was therein; and he spread it before me; and it was written within and without: and there was written therein lamentations, and mourning, and woe. And he said unto me, Son of man, eat that thou findest: eat this roll, and go, speak unto the house of Israel. So I opened my mouth, and he caused me to eat the roll. And he said unto me, Son of man, cause thy belly to eat, and fill thy bowels with this roll that I give thee. Then did I eat it; and it was in my mouth as honey for sweetness.

And he said unto me, Son of man, go, get thee unto the house of Israel, and speak with my words unto them. For thou art not sent to a people of a strange speech and of an hard language, but to the house of Israel; not to many peoples of a strange speech and of an hard language, whose words thou canst not understand. Surely, if I sent thee to them, they would hearken unto thee. But the house of Israel will not hearken unto thee; for they will not hearken unto me: for all the house of Israel are of an hard forehead and of a stiff heart. Behold, I have made thy face hard against their faces, and thy forehead hard against their foreheads. As an adamant harder than flint have I made thy forehead: fear them not, neither be dismayed at their looks, though they be a rebellious house. Moreover he said unto me, Son of man, all my words that I shall speak unto thee receive in thine heart, and hear with thine ears. And go, get thee to them of the captivity, unto the children of thy people, and speak unto them, and tell them, Thus saith the Lord God; whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear.

Then the spirit lifted me up, speak my words unto them, whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear: for they are most rebellious. But thou, son of man, hear what I say unto thee; be not thou rebellious like that rebellious house: open thy mouth, and eat that I give thee. And when I looked, behold, an hand was put forth unto me; and, lo, a roll of a book was therein; and he spread it before me; and it was written within and without: and there was written therein lamentations, and mourning, and woe. And he said unto me, Son of man, eat that thou findest: eat this roll, and go, speak unto the house of Israel. So I opened my mouth, and he caused me to eat the roll. And he said unto me, Son of man, cause thy belly to eat, and fill thy bowels with this roll that I give thee. Then did I eat it; and it was in my mouth as honey for sweetness.

And he said unto me, Son of man, go, get thee unto the house of Israel, and speak with my words unto them. For thou art not sent to a people of a strange speech and of an hard language, but to the house of Israel; not to many peoples of a strange speech and of an hard language, whose words thou canst not understand. Surely, if I sent thee to them, they would hearken unto thee. But the house of Israel will not hearken unto thee; for they will not hearken unto me: for all the house of Israel are of an hard forehead and of a stiff heart. Behold, I have made thy face hard against their faces, and thy forehead hard against their foreheads. As an adamant harder than flint have I made thy forehead: fear them not, neither be dismayed at their looks, though they be a rebellious house. Moreover he said unto me, Son of man, all my words that I shall speak unto thee receive in thine heart, and hear with thine ears. And go, get thee to them of the captivity, unto the children of thy people, and speak unto them, and tell them, Thus saith the Lord God; whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear.

Then the spirit lifted me up.
and I heard behind me the voice of a great rushing, saying, Blessed be the glory of the LORD from his place. 13 And I heard the noise of the wings of the living creatures as they touched one another, and the noise of the wheels beside them, even the noise of a great rushing. 14 So the spirit lifted me up, and took me away: and I went in bitterness, in the heat of my spirit, and the hand of the LORD was strong upon me. 15 Therefore I said, Amen. Praise ye the LORD. 16 And it came to pass at the end of seven days, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 17 Son of man, I have made thee a watchman unto the house of Israel: therefore hear the word at my mouth, and give them warning. 18 When I say unto thee, Thou shalt surely die; and thou givest him not warning, nor speakest to warn the wicked from his wicked way, to save his life; the same wicked man shall die in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at thine hand. 19 Yet if thou warn the wicked, and he turn not from his wickedness, nor from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquity; but thou hast delivered thy soul. 20 Again, when a righteous man doth turn from his righteousness, and commit iniquity, and I lay a stumblingblock before him, he shall die: because thou hast not given him warning, he shall die in his sin, and his righteous deeds which he hath done shall not be remembered; but his blood will I require at thine hand. 21 Nevertheless, if thou warn the righteous man, that the righteous sin not, and he doth not sin, he shall surely live, because he took warning; and thou hast delivered thy soul. 22 And the hand of the LORD was there upon me; and he said unto me, Arise, go forth into the plain, and I will there talk with thee. 23 Then I arose, and went forth into the plain: and, behold, the glory of the LORD stood there, as the glory which I saw by the river Chebar: and I fell on my face.

Then the spirit entered into me, and set me upon my feet; and he spake with me, and said unto me, Go, shut thyself within thine house. 25 But thou, son of man, behold, thou shalt lay bands upon thee, and shalt bind thee with them, and thou shalt not go out among them: 26 and I will make thy tongue cleave to the roof of thy mouth, that thou shalt be dumb, and shalt not be to them a reprover: for they are a rebellious house. 27 But when I speak with thee, I will open thy mouth, and thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: He that heareth, let him hear; and he that forbeareth, let him forbear: for they are a rebellious house.

Thou also, son of man, take thee a tile, and lay it before thee, and pour upon it for a wall of iron between thee and the city: even Jerusalem: 2 and lay siege against it, and build forts against it, and cast up a mount against it; set camps also against it, and plant battering rams against it round about. 3 And take thou unto thee an iron pan, and set it for a wallof iron between thee and the city: and set thy facetoward the siege of Jerusalem, d with thine arm uncovered; and point it unto thee. 4 And thou shalt lie upon thy right side, and shalt beare the iniquity of the house of Israel. 5 Moreover lie thou upon thy left side, and lay the iniquity of the house of Israel upon it: according to the number of the days that thou shalt lie upon it, *thou shalt bear their iniquity. 5 For I have appointed the years of their iniquity to be unto thee a number of days, even three hundred and ninety days: 6 so shalt thou bear the iniquity of the house of Israel. 6 And again, when thou hast accomplished these things, thou shalt lie on thy right side, and shalt bear the iniquity of the house of Judah: forty days, each day for a year, have I appointed unto thee. 7 And thou shalt set thy face toward the siege of Jerusalem, 6 with thine arm uncovered; and thou shalt prophesy against it. 8 And, behold, I lay bands upon thee, and thou shalt not turn thee from one side to another.
other, till thou hast accomplished the days of thy siege. 9 Take thou also unto thee wheat, and barley, and beans, and lentils, and millet, and spelt, and put them in one vessel, and make thee bread thereof; according to the number of the days that thou shalt lie upon thy side, even three hundred and ninety days, shalt thou eat thereof, 10 And thy meat which thou shalt eat shall be by weight, twenty shekels a day: from time to time shalt thou eat it. 11 And thou shalt drink water by measure, the sixth part of an hin: from time to time shalt thou drink. 12 And thou shalt eat it as barley cakes, and thou shalt bake it in their sight with dung that cometh out of man.

13 And the LORD said, Even thus shall the children of Israel eat their bread unclean, among the nations whither I will drive them. 14 Then said I, Ah Lord GOD! behold, my soul hath not been polluted: for from my youth up even till now have I not eaten of that which dieth of itself, or is torn of beasts; neither came there abominable flesh into my mouth. 15 Then he said unto me, See, I have given thee cow's dung for man's dung, and thou shalt prepare thy bread thereon. 16 Moreover he said unto me, Son of man, behold, I will break the staff of bread in Jerusalem: and they shall eat bread by weight, and with carefulness; and they shall drink water by measure, and with astonishment: 17 that they may want bread and water, and be astonied one with another, and pine away in their iniquity.

5 And thou, son of man, take thee a sharp sword, as a barber's razor shalt thou take it unto thee, and shalt cause it to pass upon thine head and upon thy beard: then take thee balances to weigh, and divide the hair. 2 A third part shalt thou burn in the fire in the midst of the city, when the days of the siege are fulfilled: and thou shalt take a third part, and smite with the sword round about it; and a third part thou shalt scatter to the wind, and I will draw out a sword after them. 3 And thou shalt take thereof a few in number, and bind them in thy skirts. 4 And of these again shalt thou take, and cast them into the midst of the fire, and burn them in the fire; therefrom shall a fire come forth into all the house of Israel.

5 Thus saith the Lord GOD: This is Jerusalem: I have set her in the midst of the nations, and countries are round about her. 6 And she hath rebelled against my judgements in doing wickedness more than the nations, and against my statutes more than the countries that are round about her: for they have rejected my judgements, and as for my statutes, they have not walked in them. 7 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Because ye are turbulent more than the nations that are round about you, and have not walked in my statutes, neither have kept my judgements, neither have done after the ordinances of the nations that are round about you; 8 therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I, even I, am against thee; and I will execute judgements in the midst of thee in the sight of the nations. 9 And I will do in thee that which I have not done, and whereunto I will not do any more the like, because of all those abominations. 10 Therefore the fathers shall eat the sons in the midst of thee, and the sons shall eat their fathers; and I will execute judgements in thee, and the whole remnant of thee will I scatter unto all the winds. 11 Wherefore, as I live, saith the Lord GOD, surely, because thou hast defiled my sanctuary with all thy detestable things, and with all thy abominations, therefore will I also diminish thee; neither shalt mine eye spare, and I also will have no pity. 12 A third part of thee shall die with the pestilence, and with famine shall they be consumed in the midst of thee; and a third part shall fall by the sword round about thee; and a third part I will scatter unto all the winds, and will draw out a sword after them. 13 Thus shall mine anger be accomplished, and I will satisfy my fury upon them, and I will be comforted: and they shall know that I the LORD have spoken in my zeal, when I have accomplished my fury upon them. 14 Moreover I will make thee a desolation and a reproach, among the nations that are round about thee, in the midst of all that pass by. So it shall be a reproach and a taunt, an instruction and an astonishment, unto the nations that are round about thee, when I shall execute judgments in thee in anger and in fury, and in furious rebukes: I the LORD have spoken it: 16 when I shall send upon them the evil arrows of famine, that are for destruction, which I will send to destroy thee; and I will increase the famine upon you, and will break your staff of bread; 17 and I will send upon you famine and evil beasts, and they shall bereave thee; and pestilence and blood shall pass through thee; and I will bring the sword upon thee: I the LORD have spoken it.

6 ...And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 2 "Son of man, set thy face toward the mountains of Israel, and prophesy unto them, and say, 3 Ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of the LORD God: Thus saith the Lord God to the mountains and to the hills, to the waterscourses and to the valleys: Behold, I, even I, will bring a sword upon you, and I will destroy your high places. 4 And your altars shall become desolate, and your sun-images shall be broken; and I will cast down your slain men before your idols. 5 And I will lay the carcases of the children of Israel before their idols; and I will scatter your bones round about your altars. 6 In all your dwelling places the cities shall be laid waste, and the high places shall be desolate; that your altars may be laid waste and made desolate, and your idols may be broken and cease, and your sun-images may be hewn down, and your works may be abolished. 7 And the slain shall fall in the midst of you, and ye shall know that I am the LORD. 8 Yet will I leave a remnant, in that ye shall have some that escape the sword among the nations, when ye shall be scattered through the countries. 9 And they that escape of you shall remember me among the nations whither they shall be carried captives, how that I have been broken with their whorish heart, which hath departed from me, and with their eyes, which go a whoring after their idols; and they shall loathe themselves in their own sight for the evils which they have committed in all their abominations. 10 And they shall know that I am the LORD: I have not said in vain that I would do this evil unto them.

7 ...And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 2 And thou, son of man, thus saith the Lord God unto the land of Israel: 3 An end: the end is come upon thee; and thine end is among thy abominations. 4 Now is the end upon thee, and I will send mine anger upon thee, and will give thy cities into the hand of thine enemies; and they shall rule over thee; and thou shalt be scattered among all the nations. 5 And I will scatter thee among the nations, and will disperse thee among the countries. 6 And will send against thee many men for slaughter, with the sword; and they shall judge thee according to thy ways; and I will bring upon thee all thine abominations. 7 And mine eye shall not spare thee, neither will I have pity: but I will bring thy ways upon thee, and thine abominations shall be in the midst of thee: and ye shall know that I am the LORD.
evil, / an only evil; behold, it cometh. 6 / An end is come, the end is come, it awaketh against thee; / behold, it cometh. 7 / Thy doom is come unto thee, O inhabitant of the land: / the time is come, the day is near; / a day of tumult, and not of joyful shouting, / upon the mountains. 8 Now will I shortly pour out my fury upon thee, and / accomplish mine anger against thee, / and will judge thee according to thy ways; and I will bring upon thee all thine abominations. 9 And mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity: I will bring upon thee according to thy ways, and thine abominations shall be in the midst of thee; / and ye shall know that I the LORD do smite. 10 / Behold, the day, behold, it cometh: / the rod hath blossomed, pride hath budded. 11 / Violence is risen up into a rod of wickedness; / and none of them shall remain, nor of their multitude, nor of their wealth: neither shall there be / eminency among them. 12 / The time is come, the day draweth near: let not / the buyer rejoice, nor / the seller mourn: / for wrath is upon all the multitude thereof. 13 For / the seller shall not return to that which is sold, / although they be yet alive: / for the vision is touching / the whole multitude thereof, / none shall return; neither shall any strengthen himself in the iniquity of his life. 14 They have blown the trumpet, and have made all ready; / but none goeth to the battle: / for my wrath is upon all the multitude thereof. 15 / The sword is without, and the pestilence and the famine within: / he that is in the field shall die with the sword; / and he that is in the city, famine and pestilence shall devour him. 16 But they that escape of them shall escape, and shall be on the mountains / like doves of the valleys, all of them mourning, every one in his iniquity. 17 / All hands shall be feeble, and all knees shall be weak as water. 18 They shall also gird themselves with sackcloth, and / horror shall cover them; and shame shall be upon all faces, and baldness upon all their heads. 19 They shall cast their silver in the streets, and their gold shall not be able to deliver / them in the day of the wrath of the Lord; / they shall not satisfy their souls, neither fill their bowels: / because it hath been the stumblingblock of their iniquity. 20 As for / the beauty of his ornament, / he set it in majesty: but / they made the images of their abominations / and their detestable things / therein: therefore / have I made it unto them as an unclean thing. 21 And I will give it into the hands of / the strangers for a prey, / and to the wicked of the earth for a spoil; / and they shall profane it. 22 My face will I turn also from them, and / they shall profane my / secret place: and robbers shall enter into it, / and profane it. 23 Make the chain: / for the land is full of bloody crimes, / and the city is full of violence. Wherefore / I will bring / the worst of the heathen, and they shall possess / their houses: / I will also make the pride of the strong to cease; / and / their holy places shall be profaned. 24 / Mischief shall come upon mischief, / and / they shall seek peace, / and there shall be none. 25 / The king shall mourn, and the princes / shall be clothed with desolation, and the hands of the people of the land / shall be troubled: / I will do unto them after their way, and according to their deserts will I judge them; / and they shall know that I am the Lord. 8 And it came to pass in the fifth day of the month, / as I sat in mine house, and / the elders of Judah sat before me, that / the hand of the Lord God fell / thereupon me. 2 Then I beheld, and, lo, / as likeness as the appearance of fire: / from the appearance of his loins and downward, fire: and from his loins and upward, as the appearance of brightness, as the colour of amber. And he put forth the form of an hand, and took me by a lock of mine head; and the spirit lifted me up between the earth and the heaven, and brought me in the visions of God to Jerusalem, to the door of the gate of the inner court that looketh toward the north; where was the seat of the image of jealousy, which provoketh to jealousy. And, behold, the glory of the God of Israel was there, according to the appearance that I saw in the plain. Then said he unto me, Son of man, lift up thine eyes now the way toward the north. So I lifted up mine eyes toward the north, and behold northward of the gate of the altar this image of jealousy in the entry. And he said unto me, Son of man, seest thou what they do? even the great abominations that the house of Israel do commit here, that I should go far off from my sanctuary but thou shalt again see yet other great abominations. Then he said unto me, Son of man, hast thou seen what the elders of the house of Israel do pollute the Lord's house, when they come in to eat bread, and to sin with all the abominations of the house, and pollute the Lord's sanctuary? And thou saidst, The way of this people is wicked before the Lord: but will they hear when I speak unto them? And the Lord said, Son of man, hearken unto what they do, and do thou the like; for they have dealt treacherously with me, saith the Lord God. Then said he unto me, Son of man, hast thou seen what the house of Judah do at Tammuz, and at the solemn feasts of the LORD, and have filled the land with violences, and have turned again to provoke me to anger: and, lo, they put the branch to their noses. Therefore will I also deal in fury: mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity: and though they cry in mine ears with a loud voice, yet will I not hear them. Then he cried in mine ears with a loud voice, saying, Cause ye them that have charge over the city to draw near, every man with his destroying weapon in his hand. And behold, six men came from the way of the upper gate, which lieth toward the north, every man with his slaughter weapon in his hand; and one man in the midst of them clothed in linen, with a writer's inkhorn by his side. And they went in, and stood beside the brasen altar. And there stood before them seventy men of the elders of the house of Israel, and in the midst of them stood Jaazaniah the son of Shaphan, with every man his censer in his hand; and the odour of the cloud of incense went up. Then said he unto me, Son of man, hast thou seen what the elders of the house of Israel do in the dark, every man in his chambers of imagery? for they say, The Lord seeth us not; the Lord hath forsaken the earth. He said also unto me, Thou shalt again see yet other great abominations which they do. Then he brought me to the door of the gate of the Lord's house which was toward the north; and behold, there sat the women weeping for Tammuz. Then said he unto me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? thou shalt again see yet greater abominations than these. And he brought me into the inner court of the Lord's house, and behold, at the door of the temple of the Lord, between the porch and the altar, were about five and twenty men, with their backs toward the temple of the Lord, and their faces toward the east; and they worshipped the sun toward the east. Then he said unto me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? Is it a light thing to the house of Judah, that they commit the abominations which they commit here? for they have filled the land with violence, and have turned again to provoke me to anger: and, lo, they put the branch to their noses. Therefore will I also deal in fury: mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity: and though they cry in mine ears with a loud voice, yet will I not hear them. Then he cried in mine ears with a loud voice, saying, Cause ye them that have charge over the city to draw near, every man with his destroying weapon in his hand. And behold, six men came from the way of the upper gate, which lieth toward the north, every man with his slaughter weapon in his hand; and one man in the midst of them clothed in linen, with a writer's inkhorn by his side. And they went in, and stood beside the brasen altar. And there stood before them seventy men of the elders of the house of Israel, and in the midst of them stood Jaazaniah the son of Shaphan, with every man his censer in his hand; and the odour of the cloud of incense went up. Then said he unto me, Son of man, hast thou seen what the elders of the house of Israel do in the dark, every man in his chambers of imagery? for they say, The Lord seeth us not; the Lord hath forsaken the earth. He said also unto me, Thou shalt again see yet other great abominations which they do. Then he brought me to the door of the gate of the Lord's house which was toward the north; and behold, there sat the women weeping for Tammuz. Then said he unto me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? thou shalt again see yet greater abominations than these. And he brought me into the inner court of the Lord's house, and behold, at the door of the temple of the Lord, between the porch and the altar, were about five and twenty men, with their backs toward the temple of the Lord, and their faces toward the east; and they worshipped the sun toward the east. Then he said unto me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? Is it a light thing to the house of Judah, that they commit the abominations which they commit here? for they have filled the land with violence, and have turned again to provoke me to anger: and, lo, they put the branch to their noses. Therefore will I also deal in fury: mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity: and though they cry in mine ears with a loud voice, yet will I not hear them.
Then he said unto me, "The iniquity of the house of Israel and Judah is exceeding great, and the land is full of blood, and the city full of wrangling of judgment: for they say, The LORD hath forsaken the earth, and the LORD seeth not." 10 And as for me also, mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity, but I will bring their way upon their head. 11 And behold, the man clothed in linen, which had the inkhorn by his side, reported the matter, saying, I have done as thou hast commanded me. 12 Then I looked, and behold, there appeared above the head of the cherubim as it were a sapphire stone, as the appearance of the likeness of a throne. 13 And he said unto me, "The throne of the God of Israel is set in the midst thereof."

18 And the cherub stretched forth his hand from between the cherubim unto the fire that was between the cherubim, and took thereof, and put it into the hands of him that was clothed in linen, who took it and went out. 19 And there appeared in the cherubim the form of a man's hand under their wings. 20 And as for the appearance of the wheels, they were as the colour of a beryl stone. 21 And as for their appearance, they four had one likeness, as if a wheel had been with in a wheel, and the whole body, and their backs, and their hands, and their wings, and the wheels, were full of eyes round about, even the wheels that they had. 22 And the cherubim mounted up: this is the living creature that I saw by the river Chebar. 23 And when the cherubim went, the wheels went beside them: and when the cherubim lifted up their wings to mount up from the earth, the wheels also turned not from beside them. 24 When they stood, these stood; and when they mounted up, these mounted up with them: for the spirit of the living creature was in them. 25 And the cherubim stretched forth their wings, and they rose up out of the earth and went into the firmament that was over the head of the cherubim. 26 And they went in between the whirling wheels, even under the cherub, and filled both his hand with coals of fire from between the cherubim, and scattered them over the city. 27 And the glory of the LORD mounted up from the cherub, and stood over the threshold of the house: and the house was filled with the cloud, and the court was full of the brightness of the LORD's glory. 28 And the sound of the wings of the cherubim was heard even to the outer court, as the voice of God Almighty when he speaketh. 29 And it came to pass, when he commanded the man clothed in linen, saying, Take fire from between the whirling wheels, that he went in, and stood beside a wheel. 30 And the cherub stretched forth his hand from between the cherubim unto the fire that was between the cherubim, and took thereof, and put it into the hands of him that was clothed in linen, who took it and went out. 31 And there appeared in the cherubim the form of a man's hand under their wings. 32 And as for the appearance of the wheels, they were as the colour of a beryl stone. 33 And as for their appearance, they four had one likeness, as if a wheel had been within a wheel, and the whole body, and their backs, and their hands, and their wings, and the wheels, were full of eyes round about, even the wheels that they had. 34 And for the wheels, they were called in my hearing, the whirling wheels. 35 And every one had four faces: the first face was the face of the cherub, and the second face was the face of a man, and the third the face of a lion, and the fourth the face of an eagle. 36 And the cherub mounted up: this is the living creature that I saw by the river Chebar. 37 And when the cherubim went, the wheels went beside them: and when the cherubim lifted up their wings to mount up from the earth, the wheels also turned not from beside them. 38 When they stood, these stood; and when they mounted up, these mounted up with them: for the spirit of the living creature was in them. 18 And the th glory of the LORD went forth from over the threshold of the house, and stood over the cherubim. 19 And the cherubim lifted up their wings, and mounted up from the earth in my sight when they went forth, and the wheels beside them: and they stood at the door of the east gate of the LORD's house; and the glory of God was over them above. 20 This is the living creature that I saw under the God of Israel by the river Chebar; and I knew that they were cherubim.

21 Every one had four faces apiece, and every one four wings; and the likeness of the hands of a man was under their wings. 22 And as for the likeness of their faces, they were the faces which I saw by the river Chebar, their appearances and themselves; they went every one straight forward.

Moreover the spirit lifted me up, and brought me unto the east gate of the LORD's house, which looketh eastward: and behold, at the door of the gate five and twenty men; and I saw in the midst of them Jaazaniah the son of Azzur, and Pelatiah the son of Benahah, princes of the people. 2 And he said unto me, Son of man, these are the men that devise iniquity, and that give wicked counsel in this city: 3 which say, The time is not near to build houses: this city is the caldron, and we be the flesh. 4 Therefore prophesy against them, prophesy, O son of man. 5 And the spirit of the LORD fell upon me, and he said unto me, Son of man, these are the men that devise iniquity, and that give wicked counsel in this city: 6 and ye shall be brought forth out of the midst of it. 7 Ye have multiplied your slain in this city, and ye have filled the streets thereof with the slain. 8 Therefore thus saith the LORD God: Your slain whom ye have laid in the midst of it, they are the flesh, and this city is the caldron: but ye shall be brought forth out of the midst thereof. 9 Ye have feared the sword; and I will bring the sword upon you, saith the Lord God. 10 And I will bring you forth out of the midst thereof, and deliver you into the hands of strangers, and will execute judgments among you.

O son of man, thou son of my flesh, and my flesh thou art. 12 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I will execute my judgments upon thee, and will deliver thee into the hand of strangers, and will contam thee unto a land far off from thy fathers, and from thy kindred; and I will execute my judgments upon you. 13 And I will bring one of you from every tribe of Israel out of all your悖子, and I will set him over them; and he shall keep mine ordinances, and do them: 14 and they shall keep mine ordinances, and do them, and shall be for me a sanctuary, thou and the land which thou shalt possess in the midst of my people; and they shall know that I am the Lord God.

15 Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 16 Son of man, thou son of my flesh, and my flesh thou art. 17 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I will deliver thee into the hand of Pharaoh Pharaoh of Egypt; and he shall be thy prince, and I will set my throne in the midst of Egypt, and the Egyptians shall know that I am the Lord God, when I have delivered thee into Pharaoh's hand. 18 And I will set my throne in the midst of the Egypt, and the Egyptians shall know that I am the Lord, when I have brought thee in again into the land of Israel.

19 And it came to pass in the year that king Uzziah died, that I ascended out of the midst of the void, and spake unto the kings of Judah, and said, 20 Hearken not unto him; for he prophesieth a lie unto you in his name. 21 Shall the eldest of Israel be among the false prophets? shall my people be among the false prophets? 22 Therefore thus saith the Lord God; In the midst of the void I will execute mine judgments. 23 And I will gather thee out of all places whither I have driven thee, and will bring thee again into the land of Israel. 24 And I will give thee for a habitation, and will also give thee an inheritance among my people. 25 And I will set my tabernacle in the midst of thee, and my presence shall be with thee, and I will be your God. 26 And thou shalt know that I am in the midst of Israel, and that I am the Lord God; and it shall come to pass, when the people shall go into thy house, and thy sons and thy daughters shall go in to thee, and they shall make thee to sin by5 doing their abominations in thee; and thy eyes shall have respect unto their detestable things their bdealing and their abominations, and ye shall abhor them in thy heart, and shalt not be joined with them, that ye take not their names upon you. 27 But mine hand shall not be upon him that differeth with the dead for their abomination; I will seal their guilt by their own lips, because they polluted it. 28 For I will make thee to the Jews a covenant of the land, to possess the whole land, the of Israel; and thou shalt possess the land and inherit it; I am the Lord. 29 And I will make thee to the land, and ye shall inherit the land, and I will make thee an everlasting covenant with thee which shall not be cut off. 30 And I will make thee a name, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord when I have made thee an inheritance to the Israelites, and when I have opened thy mouth, and chosen thee out of all the tribes of Israel; and I will make thee to enter into my covenant. 31 And I will also make thee a great name, that thou shalt be known throughout the land when thou comest no more.
The word of the Lord also came unto me, saying,

"Son of man, thou dwellest in the midst of the rebellious house, which have eyes to see, and see not, which have ears to hear, and hear not; for they are a rebellious house. Therefore, thou son of man, prepare thee'stuff for removing, and remove by day in their sight; and thou shalt remove from thy place to another place in their sight: it may be they will consider, though they be a rebellious house. And thou shalt bring forth thy stuff by day in their sight, as stuff for removing: and thou shalt go forth thyself at even in their sight, as when men go forth into exile. Dig thou through the wall in their sight, and carry out thereby. In their sight shalt thou bear it upon thy shoulder, and carry it forth in the dark; thou shalt cover thy face, that thou see not the ground: for I have set thee for a sign unto the house of Israel. And I did so as I was commanded: I brought forth my stuff by day, as stuff for removing, and in the even I dug through the wall with mine hand; I brought it forth in the dark, and bare it upon my shoulder in their sight. And in the morning came the word of the Lord unto me, saying, Son of man, hast not the house of Israel, the rebellious house, said unto thee, What doest thou? Say thou unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: This burden concerneth the prince in Jerusalem, and all the house of Israel among whom they are. Say, I am your sign: like as I have done, so shall it be done unto them: they shall go into exile, into captivity. And the prince that is among them shall bear upon his shoulder in the dark, and shall go forth: they shall dig through the wall to carry out thereby: he shall cover his face, because he shall not see the ground with his eyes. My net also will I spread upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare: and I will bring him to Babylon to the land of the Chaldeans; yet shall he not see it, though he shall die there. And I will scatter toward every wind all that are round about him to help him, and all his bands; and I will draw out the sword after them. And they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall disperse them among the nations, and scatter them through the countries. But I will leave a few men of them from the sword, from the famine, and from the pestilence; that they may declare all their abominations among the nations whither they come; and they shall know that I am the Lord. Moreover the word of the Lord came to me, saying, Son of man, eat thy bread with quaking, and drink thy water with trembling and with carefulness; and say unto the people of the land, Thus saith the Lord God concerning the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and the land of Israel: They shall eat their bread with carefulness, and drink their water with astonishment, that her land may be desolate from all that is therein, because of the violence of all them that dwell therein. And the cities that are inhabited shall be laid waste, and the land shall be a desolation; and ye shall know that I am the Lord. And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, what is this proverb that ye have in the land of Israel, saying, The days are prolonged, and every vision faileth? Tell them therefore, Thus saith the Lord God: I will make this proverb to cease,
And they shall no more use it as a proverb in Israel; but say unto them, The days are at hand, and the effect of every vision. For there shall be no more any vain vision nor flattering divination within the house of Israel. For I am the Lord; I will speak, and the word that I shall speak shall be performed; it shall be no more deferred: for in your days, O rebellious house, I will speak the word, and will perform it, saith the Lord God.

And again the word of the Lord came to me, saying, Son of man, prophesy against the prophets of Israel that prophesy, and say thou unto them, The vision that he seeth is for many days to come, and he prophesieth of times that are far off. Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord God: There shall none of my words be deferred any more, but the word which I shall speak shall be performed, saith the Lord God.

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, prophesy against the house of Israel that prophesy, and say thou unto them, The vision that he seeth is for many days to come, and he prophesieth of times that are far off.

Therefore saith the Lord God: Because ye have spoken vanity, and seen lies, and sinned against me; therefore, behold, I will accomplish my fury upon you, saith the Lord God.

And thou, son of man, set thy face against the daughters of thy people, which prophesy out of their own heart; and prophesy thou against them, and say, Thus saith the Lord God: Woe unto the foolish prophets, that follow their own spirit, and have seen nothing! O Israel, thy prophets have been like foxes in the waste places. Ye have not gone up into the breaches, neither made up the fence for the house of Israel, to stand in the battle in the day of the Lord. They have seen vanity and lying divination, that say, The Lord saith; and the Lord hath not sent them: and they have made men to hope that the word should be confirmed. Ye have not seen a vain vision, and have ye not spoken a lying divination, whereas ye say, The Lord saith; albeit I have not spoken?

Therefore thus saith the Lord God: Because ye have spoken vanity, and seen lies, and sinned against me; therefore, behold, I will accomplish my fury upon you, saith the Lord God. And mine hand shall be against the prophets that see vanity, and that divine lies: they shall not be in the council of my people, neither shall they be written in the writing of the house of Israel; neither shall they enter into the land of Israel: and ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

Because, even because they have seduced my people, saying, Peace; and there is no peace; and when one buildeth up a wall, they daub it with untempered mortar: therefore saith the Lord God; I will even rend it with a stormy wind, and an overflowing shower in mine anger, and great hailstones in fury to consume it. So will I break down the wall that ye have daubed with untempered mortar, and bring it down to the ground, so that the foundation thereof shall be discovered: and it shall fall, and ye shall be consumed in the midst thereof; and ye shall know that I am the Lord.
by your lying to my people that hearken unto lies. 20 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I am against your pillows, where-with ye there hunt the souls to make them fly, and I will tear them from your arms; and I will let the souls go, even the souls that ye hunt to make them fly. 21 * Your kershefs also will I tear, and deliver my people out of your hand, and they shall be no more in your hand to be hunted; * and ye shall know that I am the Lord. 22 * Because with lies ye have grieved the heart of the righteous, whom I have not made sad; and strengthened the hands of the wicked, that he should not return from his wicked way, * and be saved alive: 23 therefore ye shall no more see vanity, nor divine divinations: * and I will deliver my people out of your hand; * and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

Ezekiel 14:1

Then came certain of the elders of Israel unto me, * and sat before me. 2 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, 3 * Son of man, these men have taken their idols into their heart, and put the stumblingblock of their iniquity before their face: 4 should I be inquired of at all by them? 4 Therefore speak unto them, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: Every man of the house of Israel that taketh his idols into his heart, and putteth the stumblingblock of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to the prophet; * I the Lord will answer him therein according to the multitude of his idols; 5 * that I may take the house of Israel in their own heart, because they are all estranged from me through their idols. 6 Therefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God:  * Return ye, and turn yourselves from your idols; and turn away your faces from all your abominations. 7 For every one of the house of Israel, or of the strangers that sojourn in Israel, * which separateth himself from me, and taketh his idols into his heart, and putteth the stumblingblock of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to the prophet to inquire * for himself of me; * I the Lord will answer him by myself:

neither son nor daughter; they shall but deliver their own souls by their righteousness. 21 For thus saith the Lord God: How much more when I send my four sore judgements upon Jerusalem, 22 the sword, and 23 the famine, and 24 the noisome beasts, and 25 the pestilence. 26 To cut off from it man and beast. 22 Yet, behold, therein shall be left 27 a remnant that shall be carried forth, both sons and daughters: behold, they shall come forth unto you, 28 and ye shall see their way and their doings: 29 and ye shall be comforted concerning the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem, even concerning all that I have brought upon it. 30 And when I passed by thee, and saw thee wailing in thy blood, 31 I said unto thee, Though thou art in thy blood, live; yea, I said unto thee, Though thou art in thy blood, live. 32 I caused thee to multiply as the bud of the field, and thou didst wax great, and thou attainedst to excellent ornament; thy breasts were fashioned, and thine hair was grown; yet 33 thou wast naked and bare. 34 Now when I passed by thee, and looked upon thee, behold, thy time was the time of love; and 35 I spread my skirt over thee, and covered thy nakedness: yea, I sware unto thee, and entered into a covenant with thee, saith the Lord God, and thou becamest mine. 36 Then washed I thee with water; yea, I throughly washed away thy blood from thee, and 37 I anointed thee with oil. 38 I clothed thee also with broidered work, and shod thee with sealskin, and I girded thee about with fine linen, and covered thee with silk. 39 I decked thee also with ornaments, and I put bracelets upon thy hands, and a chain on thy neck. 40 And I put a ring upon thy nose, and earrings in thy ears, and a beautiful crown upon thine head. 41 Thus wast thou decked with gold and silver; and thy raiment was of fine linen, and silk, and broidered work; 42 thou didst eat fine flour, and honey, and oil: and 43 thou wast exceeding beautiful, and thou didst prosper unto royal estate. 44 And 45 thy renown went forth among the nations for thy beauty; for it was perfect, through my majesty which I had put upon thee, saith the Lord God. 15 "But thou didst trust in thy beauty, and playedst the harlot because of thy renown, and pouredst out thy whoredoms on every one that passed by; his it was. 16 And thou didst take of thy garments, and madest for thee high places decked with divers colours, and playedst the harlot upon them: the like things shall not come, neither shall it be so. 17 Thou didst also take thy fair jewels of my gold and of my silver, which I had given thee, and madest for thee images of men, and didst play the harlot with them; 18 and thou tookest thy brodered garments, and coveredst them, and didst set mine oil and mine incense before them. 19 My bread also which I gave thee, fine flour, and oil, and honey, whereewith I fed thee, thou didst even set it before them for a sweet savour, and thus it was; saith the Lord God. 20 Moreover thou hast taken thy sons and thy daughters, whom thou hast borne unto me, and these hast thou sacrificed unto me to be devoured. Were thy whoredoms a small matter, that thou hast slain my children, and delivered them up, in causing them to pass through the fire unto them? 21 And in all these abominations and thy whoredoms thou hast not remembered the days of thy youth, when thou wast naked and bare, and wast wailing in thy blood. 22 And it is come to pass after all thy wickedness, (woe, woe unto thee! saith the Lord God,) that thou hast built unto thee an eminent place, and hast made thee a lofty place in every street. 23 Thou hast built thy lofty place at every head of the way, and hast made thy beauty an abomination, and hast opened thy feet to everyone that passed by, and multiplied thy whoredom. 24 Thou hast also committed fornication with the Egyptians, thy neighbours, great of flesh; and hast multiplied thy whoredom, to provoke me to anger. 25 Behold therefore, I have stretched out my hand over thee, and have diminished thine ordinary food, and delivered thee unto the will of them that hate thee, the daughters of the Philistines, which are ashamed of thy lewd way. 26 Thou hast played the harlot also with the Assyrians, because thou wast unsatisfied; yea, thou hast played the harlot with them, and yet thou wast not satisfied. 27 Thou hast moreover multiplied thy whoredom in the land of Canaan, unto Chaldea; and yet thou wast not satisfied herewith. 30 How weak is thine heart, saith the Lord God, seeing thou dost all these things, the work of an imperious whorish woman; 31 in that thou buldest thine eminent place in the head of every way, and makest thy lofty place in every street; and hast not been as an harlot, in that thou scornest hire. 32 A wife that committeth adultery! that taketh strangers instead of her husband! 33 They give gifts to all harlots: but thou givest thy gifts to all thy lovers, and bribest them, that they may come unto thee on every side for thy whoredoms. 34 And the contrary is in thee from other women in thy whoredoms, in that none followeth thee to commit whoredom: and whereas thou givest hire, and no hire is given unto thee, therefore thou art contrary. 35 Wherefore, O harlot, hear the word of the Lord: 36 Thus saith the Lord God, Because thy filthiness was poured out, and thy nakedness discovered through thy whoredoms with thy lovers; and because of all the idols of thy abominations, and for the blood of thy children, which thou didst give unto them; 37 therefore, saith the Lord God, I will gather all thy lovers, with whom thou hast taken pleasure, and all them that thou hast loved, with all them that thou hast hated; 38 And I will judge thee, as women that break wedlock and shed blood are judged; and I will bring upon thee the blood of fury and jealousy. 39 I will also give thee into their hand, and they shall throw down thine eminent place, and break down thine lofty places; and they shall strip thee of thy clothes, and take thy fair jewels: and they shall leave thee naked and bare. 40 They shall also bring up an assembly against thee, and they shall stone thee with stones, and thrust thee through with their swords. 41 And they shall burn thine houses with fire, and execute judgments upon thee in the sight of many women; and I will cause thee to cease from playing the harlot, and thou shalt also give no hire any more. 42 So will I satisfy my fury upon thee, and my jealousy shall depart from thee, and I will be quiet, and will be no more angry. 43 Because thou hast not remembered the days of thy youth, but hast fretted me in all these things; therefore behold, I also will bring thy way upon thine head, saith the Lord God: and thou shalt not commit this lewdness above all thine abominations.

44 Behold, every one that useth proverbs shall use this proverb against thee, saying, As is the mother, so is her daughter. 45 Thou art thy mother's daughter, that loasteth her husband and her children; and thou art the sister of thy sisters, which losteth their husbands and their children: your mother was an Hittite, and thy father an Amorite. 46 And thine elder sister is Samaria, that dwelleth at thy left hand, she and her daughters; and thy younger sister, that dwelleth at thy right hand, is Sodom and her daughters. 47 Yet hast thou not walked in their ways, nor done after their abominations; but, as if that were a very little thing, thou wast more corrupt than they in all thy ways. 48 As I live, saith the Lord God, Sodom thy sister hath not done, she nor her daughters, as thou hast done, thou and thy daughters. 49 Behold, this was the iniquity of thy sister Sodom; pride, fulness of bread, and prosperous ease was in her and in her daughters; neither did she strengthen the hand of the poor and needy. 50 And they were haughty, and committed abomination before me: therefore I took them away as I saw good. 51 Neither hath Samaria committed half of thy sins; but thou hast multiplied thine abominations more than they, and hast justified thy sisters by all thine abominations which thou hast done. 52 Thou also, bear thine own shame, in that thou hast given judgement for thy sisters; through thy sins that thou hast committed more abominable than they, they are more righteous than thou: yea, be thou also confounded, and bear thy shame, in that thou hast justified thy sisters. 53 And I will turn again their captivity, the captivity of Sodom and her daughters, and the captivity of Samaria and her daughters, and the captivity of thy captives in the midst of them: 54 that thou mayest bear thine own shame, and mayest be ashamed because of all that thou hast done, in that thou art a comfort unto them. 55 And thy sisters, Sodom and her daughters, shall return to their former estate, and Samaria and her daughters shall return to their former estate. 56 For thy sister Sodom was not mentioned by thy mouth in the day of thy pride; 57 before thy wickedness was discovered, as at the time of the reproach of the daughters of Syria, and of all that are round about her, the daughters of the Philistines, which do despite unto thee round about. 58 Thou hast borne thy lewdness and thine abominations, saith the Lord. 59 For thus saith the Lord God: I will even deal with thee as thou hast done, which hast despised the oath in breaking the covenant. 60 Nevertheless will I remember my covenant with thee in the days of thy youth, and I will establish unto thee an everlasting covenant. 61 Then shalt thou remember thy ways, and be ashamed, when thou shalt receive thy sisters, thine elder sisters and thy younger: and I will give them unto thee for daughters, but not by thy covenant. 62 As I live, and I will establish my covenant with thee; and thou shalt know that I am the Lord: 63 that thou mayest remember, and be confounded, and never open thy mouth any more, because of thy shame; when I have... forgiven thee all that thou hast done, saith the Lord God.

17 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, a Son of man, c put forth a riddle, and speak a parable unto the house of Israel; 3 and say, Thus saith the Lord God: A great eagle a with great wings and long pinions, b full of feathers, which had divers colours, came a unto Lebanon, a and took the top of the cedar: 4 he cropped off the topmost of the young twigs thereof, and carried it into a land of traffic; he set it in a city of merchants. 5 He took also of the seed of the land, a and planted it in 2 a fruitful soil; he placed it beside many waters; 6 he set it as a willow tree. 6 And it grew, and became a spreading vine of low stature, whose branches turned toward him, and the roots thereof were under him: so it became a vine, and brought forth branches, and shot forth sprigs. 7 There was also another great eagle with great wings and many feathers: a and, behold, this vine did bend its roots toward him, and shot forth its branches toward him, from the beds of its plantation, that he might water it. 8 It was planted in a good soil by many waters, that it might bring forth branches, and that it might bear fruit, that it might be a goodly vine. 8 a Say thou, Thus saith the Lord God: 9 Shall it prosper? shall he not pull up therootsthereof, and cut off the fruit thereof, that it may wither; that all its fresh springing leaves may wither; even without great power or much people to pluck it up by the roots thereof? 10 Yes, behold, being planted, a shall it prosper? 11 a Shall it not utterly wither, when the east wind toucheth it? it shall wither in the beds where it grew.

11 Moreover the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, 12 Say now to the rebellious house, 1 Know ye not what these things mean? tell them, Behold, b the king of Babylon came to Jerusalem, and took the king thereof, and the princes thereof, and brought them to him to Babylon; 13 a and he took of the seed royal, 14 a and made a covenant with him; 15 a he also brought him under an oath, 16 a and took away the mighty of the land: 17 a that the kingdom might be base, that it might not lift itself up, but that by keeping of his covenant it might stand. 18 a But he rebelled against him in sending his ambassadors into Egypt, that they might give him horses and much people. 19 a Shall he prosper? shall he escape that doeth such things? shall he break the covenant, and yet escape? 20 a As I live, saith the Lord God, surely 21 a in the place where the king dwelleth that made him king, whose oath he despised, 22 a and whose covenant he brake, even with him in the midst of Babylon he shall die. 23 a Neither shall Pharaoh with his mighty army and great company make for him in the war, 24 a when they cast up mounts and build forts, to cut off many persons. 25 a For he hath despised the oath 26 a by breaking the covenant; and behold, 27 a he had given his hand, and yet had done all these things; he shall not escape. 28 a Therefore thus saith the Lord God: 29 a As I live, surely mine oath, which I spake unto him, that he should stand in the midst of Babylon, 30 a will I plead with him there for his trespass that he hath trespassed against me. 31 a And all his fugitives in all his bands shall fall by the sword, 'and they that remain shall be scattered toward every wind: and ye shall know that I the Lord have spoken it.

32 Thus saith the Lord God: 33 I will also take of the lofty top of the cedar, and will set it; 34 a I will crop off from the topmost of his young twigs a tender one, and 35 I will plant it upon an high mountain and eminent: 36 a in the mountain of the height of Israel will I plant it; and it shall bring forth boughs, and bear fruit, and be a goodly cedar; 'and under it shall dwell all fowl of every wing; in the shadow of the branches thereof shall they dwell. 37 And all the trees of the field shall know that I the Lord have brought down the high tree, have exalted the low
18 The word of the Lord came unto me again, saying,
2 What mean ye, that ye use this proverb concerning the land of Israel, saying, The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge?

3 As I live, saith the Lord God, ye shall not have occasion any more to use this proverb in Israel.

4 Behold, all souls are mine; as the soul of the father, so also the soul of the son is mine: so the soul that sinneth, it shall die. 5 But if a man be just, and doeth that which is lawful and right, and hath not eaten upon the mountains, neither hath lifted up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, neither hath defiled his neighbour's wife, neither hath defiled his neighbour's wife, nor given forth upon usury, nor increased, hath executed my judgements, hath walked in my statutes: he shall not die for the iniquity of his father, 6 he shall surely live. 7 As his father be just, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he shall surely live, he shall not die.

8 The righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him.

9 The soul that sinneth, it shall die: the son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son; the righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him.

10 If he beget a son that is a robber, he shall not live. 11 None of his transgressions that he hath committed shall be remembered against him: in his righteousness that he hath done shall he live.

12 None of his transgressions that he hath committed shall be remembered against him: in his righteousness that he hath done shall he live.

13 But if the wicked turneth away from his wickedness that he hath committed, and doeth that which is lawful and right, 14 he shall surely live, he shall not die.

15 None of his transgressions that he hath committed shall be remembered against him: in his righteousness that he hath done shall he live.

16 None of his transgressions that he hath committed shall be remembered against him: in his righteousness that he hath done shall he live.

17 If he beget a son that is a robber, he shall not live. 18 None of his transgressions that he hath committed shall be remembered against him: in his righteousness that he hath done shall he live.

19 Yet ye say, The way of the Lord is not equal. Hear 20 what the Lord saith.

21 If a son beget a son that is a robber, he shall not live. 22 None of his transgressions that he hath committed shall be remembered against him: in his righteousness that he hath done shall he live.

23 Have I any pleasure in the death of the wicked? saith the Lord God: and not rather that he should return from his way, and live? 24 But when the righteous turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, and doeth according to all the abominations that the wicked man doeth, shall he live? 25 None of his righteous deeds that he hath done shall be remembered: in his trespass that he hath trespassed, and in his sin that he hath sinned, in them shall he die.
now, O house of Israel: Is not my way equal? are not your ways unequal? 26 When the righteous man turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, 27 and dieth therein; 4 in his iniquity that he hath done shall he die. 28 Again, when the wicked man turneth away from his wickedness that he hath committed, and doeth that which is lawful and right, 29 he shall save his soul alive. 30 Because he considereth, and turneth away from all his transgressions that he hath committed, 31 he shall surely live, he shall not die.

32 Yet saith the house of Israel, Thy mother was like a vine, 33 in thy blood, planted by the waters: 34 she was fruitful and full of branch by reason of many waters. 35 And she had strong rods for the sceptres of them that bare rule, and 36 their stature was exalted among the thick boughs, and they were seen in 37 their height with the multitude of their branches. 38 But she was plucked up in fury, she was cast down to the ground, and the east wind dried up her fruit: her strong rods were broken off and withered; the fire consumed them. 39 And now she is planted in the wilderness, in a dry and thirsty land. 40 And fire is gone out of the rods of her fruit, it hath devoured her fruit, 41 so that there is in her no strong rod to be a sceptre to rule.

This is a lamentation, and shall be for a lamentation.

Moreover, take thou up a lamentation for the princes of Israel, and say, What was thy mother? 2 A lioness: she couched among lions, in the midst of the young lions she nourished her whelps. 3 And she brought up one of her whelps; 4 he became a young lion; 5 and he learned to catch the prey, he devoured men. 6 The nations also heard of him; 7 he was taken in their pit: 8 and they brought him with hooks unto the land of Egypt. 9 Now when she saw that she had waited, and her hope was lost, 10 then she took another of her whelps, and made him a young lion. 10 And he went up and down among the lions, 11 he learned to catch the prey, he devoured men. 12 And he knew their palaces, and laid waste their cities; and the land was desolate, and the fulness thereof, because of the noise of his roaring. 13 Then the nations set against him on every side from the provinces: 14 and they spread their net over him; 15 he was taken in their pit. 16 And they put him in a cage with hooks, 17 and brought him to the king of Babylon; 18 they brought him into strong holds, that his voice should no more be heard upon the mountains of Israel.

10 Thy mother was like a vine, 11 in thy blood, planted by the waters: 12 she was fruitful and full of branches by reason of many waters. 13 And she had strong rods for the sceptres of them that bare rule, and 14 their stature was exalted among the thick boughs, and 15 they were seen in their height with the multitude of their branches. 16 But she was plucked up in fury, she was cast down to the ground, and the east wind dried up her fruit: her strong rods were broken off and withered; the fire consumed them. 17 And now she is planted in the wilderness, in a dry and thirsty land. 18 And fire is gone out of the rods of her fruit, it hath devoured her fruit, 19 so that there is in her no strong rod to be a sceptre to rule. This is a lamentation, and shall be for a lamentation.

And it came to pass in the seventh year, in the fifth month, the tenth day of the month, that certain of the elders of Israel came to inquire of the Lord, 2 and sat before me. 3 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, 4 Son of man, speak unto the elders of Israel, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: Are ye come to inquire of me? 5 As I live, saith the Lord God, I will not be inquired of by you.

6 Wilt thou judge them, son of man, wilt thou judge them? 7 cause them to know the abominations of their fathers; 8 and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: In the day when I chose Israel, and lifted up mine hand unto the seed of the house of Jacob, 9 and made myself known unto them in the land of Egypt, when I lifted up mine hand unto them, saying, I am the Lord your God; 10 in that day 11 lifted up mine hand unto them, to bring them forth out of the land of Egypt into a land that I had esped for them, flowing with milk and honey, which is the glory of all lands: and I said unto them, Cast ye away every man the abominations of his eyes, and defile not yourselves with the idols of Egypt: I am the Lord your God. But they rebelled against me, and would not hearken unto me; they did not every man cast away the abominations of their eyes, neither did they forsake the idols of Egypt: then I said I would pour out my fury upon them, to accomplish my anger against them in the midst of the land of Egypt. But I wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be profaned in the sight of the nations, in whose sight I made myself known unto them in bringing them forth out of the land of Egypt. So I caused them to go forth out of the land of Egypt, and brought them into the wilderness, and I gave them my statutes, and shewed them my judgments, which if a man do, he shall live: and their eyes were after their idols. Nevertheless mine eye spared them from destroying them, neither did I make a full end of them in the wilderness. And I said unto their children in the wilderness, Walk ye not in the statutes of your fathers, neither observe their judgments, nor defile yourselves with their idols: I am the Lord your God; walk in my statutes, and keep my judgements, and do them, and hallow my sabbaths; and they shall be a sign between me and you, that ye may know that I am the Lord your God. But the children rebelled against me; they walked not in my statutes, which I gave them, neither kept my judgements to do them, which if a man do, he shall live: in them; they profaned my sabbaths: then I said I would pour out my fury upon them, to accomplish my anger against them in the wilderness. Nevertheless I withdrew mine hand, and wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be profaned in the sight of the nations, in whose sight I brought them forth. Moreover I lifted up mine hand unto them in the wilderness, that I would scatter them among the nations, and disperse them through the countries; because they had not executed my judgments, but had rejected my statutes, and had profaned my sabbaths, and their eyes were after their fathers' idols. Moreover also I gave them statutes and judgments, wherein they should not live; because they rebelled against my judgments, and walked not in my statutes, and profaned my sabbaths: then I said I would pour out my fury upon them in the wilderness, to consume them. But I withdrew mine hand, and made them a trespass against me, in that they saw every high hill, and every thick tree, and offered there their sacrifices, and there they presented their sacrifices, and there they presented the first fruits of their soil up unto me in the high place.
vocation of their offering, there also they made their sweet savour, and they poured out there their drink offerings. 29 Then I said unto them, What meaneth the high place 3 whereunto ye go? So the name thereof is called 2 Baalim unto this day. 30 Wherefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord GOD: Do ye pollute yourselves after the manner of your fathers? and go ye a whoring after their abominations? 31 and when ye offer your gifts, when ye make your sons to pass through the fire, do ye pollute yourselves with all your idols, unto this day? and shall I be inquired of by you, O house of Israel? 6 As I live, saith the Lord GOD, I will not be inquired of by you: that which cometh into your mind shall not be at all; in that ye say, We will be as the nations, as the families of the countries, to serve wood and stone. 32 As I live, saith the Lord GOD, surely with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arm, and with fury poured out, will I be king over you: 34 and I will bring you out from the peoples, and will gather you out of the countries wherein ye have been scattered; and I will be sanctified in you in the sight of the nations. 42 And there shall ye remember your ways, and all your doings, wherein ye have polluted yourselves; and ye shall loathe yourselves in your own sight for all your evils that ye have committed. 44 And ye shall know that I am the Lord, when I have wrought with you for my name’s sake, not according to your evil ways, nor according to your corrupt doings, O ye house of Israel, saith the Lord God.

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, 46 * Son of man, set thy face toward the south, and drop thy word to the South. 47 And say unto the forest of the South, Hear the word of the Lord; Thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I will kindle a fire in thee, and it shall devour every green tree in thee, and every dry tree: the flaming flame shall not be quenched, and all faces from the south to the north shall be burnt thereby. 48 And all flesh shall see that I the Lord have kindled it: it shall not be quenched. 49 Then said I, Ah Lord God! they say of me, Is he not a speaker of parables?

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, 2 * Son of man, set thy face toward Jerusalem, and drop thy word toward the sanctuaries, and prophesy against the land of Israel; 3 and say to the land of Israel, Thus saith the Lord: Behold, I am against thee, and will draw forth my sword out of its sheath, and it will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked. If seeing then that I will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked, therefore shall my sword go forth out of its sheath against all flesh from the south to the north: and all flesh shall know that I the LORD have drawn forth my sword out of its sheath; it shall not return any more. 4 It shall not return any more.

5 Sigh therefore, thou son of man; with the breaking of thy loins and with bitterness shalt thou sigh before their eyes. 7 And it shall be, when they say unto thee, Whereforesthou? that thou shalt say, Because of the tidings, for it cometh; and every heart shall melt, and all hands shall be feeble, and every spirit shall fail, and all knees shall be weak as water: behold, it cometh, and it shall be done, saith the Lord God.

8 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, 9 "Son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus saith the Lord: Say, A sword, a sword, it is sharpened, and also furbished: it is sharpened that it may make a slaughter; it is furbished that it may be as lightning: shall we then make mirth? a rod of my son, it contemneth the every tree, it is furbished, yea, it is sharpened, to give it into the hand of the slayer. 12 Cry and howl, son of man: for it is upon my people, it is upon all the princes of Israel: I smite therefore upon thy thigh.

13 For there is a trial; and what if even the rod that contemneth shall be no more? saith the Lord God. 14 Thou therefore, son of man, prophesy, and smite thine hands together; and let the sword be doubled the third time, the sword of the deadly wounded: it is the sword of the great one that is deadly wounded, which entereth into their chambers. 15 I have set the point of the sword against all their gates, that their heart may melt, and their stumblings be multiplied: ah! it is made as lightning, it is pointed for slaughter.

16 Gather thee together, go to the right; set thyself in array, go to the left; whithersoever thy face is set, I will also smite mine hands together; and I will satisfy my fury: I the Lord have spoken it.

18 The word of the Lord came unto me again, saying, 19 Also, thou son of man, appoint thee two ways, that the sword of the king of Babylon may come; they twain shall come forth out of one land: and mark out a place, mark it out at the head of the way to the city. 20 Thou shalt appoint a way, for the sword of the king of Babylon may come to Rabbah of the children of Ammon, and to Jerusalem the defended. 21 For the king of Babylon stood at the parting of the way, at the head of the two ways, to use divination: he shook the arrows to and fro, he consulted the teraphim, he looked in the liver. 22 In his right hand was the divination for Jerusalem, to set battering rams, to open the mouth in the slaughter, to lift up the voice with shouting, to set battering rams against the gates, to cast up mounts, to build forts. 23 And it shall be unto them as a vain divination in their sight, which have sworn oaths unto them: but he bringeth iniquity to remembrance, that they may be taken. 24 Therefore thus saith the Lord God: Because ye have made your iniquity to be remembered, in that your transgressions are discovered, so that in all your doings your sins do appear; because that ye are come to remembrance, ye shall be taken with the hand. 25 And thou, O deadly wounded wicked one, the prince of Israel, whose day is come, in the time of the 13th iniquity of the end; 26 thus saith the Lord God: Remove the mitre, and take off the crown: this shall be no more the same: exalt that which is low, and abase that which is high. 27 This also shall be no more, until he come whose right it is; and I will give it him.
And thou, son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus saith the Lord God concerning the children of Ammon, and concerning their reproach; and say thou, A sword, a sword is drawn, for the slaughter it is furnishto cause it to devour, that it may as lightning:

whiles they see vanity unto thee, whiles they divine lies unto thee, to lay thee upon the necks of the wicked that are deadl wounded, whose day is come, in the time of the iniquity of the end. Cause it to return into its sheath. In the place where thou wast created, in the land of thy birth, will I judge thee. And I will pour out mine indignation upon thee; I will blow upon thee with the fire of my wrath; and I will deliver thee into the hand of brutish men, skilful to destroy.

Thou shalt be for fuel to the fire; thy blood shall be in the midst of the land; thou shalt be no more remembered: for I the Lord have spoken it.

Moreover the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, And thou, son of man, wilt thou judge, wilt thou judge the bloody city? then cause her to know all her abominations. And thou shalt say, Thus saith the Lord God: A city that sheddeth blood in the midst of her, that her time may come, and that maketh idols against herself to defile her! Thou art become guilty in thy blood that thou hast shed, and art defiled in thine idols which thou hast made; and thou hast caused thy days to draw near, and art come even unto thy years: therefore have I made thee a reproach unto the nations, and a mocking to all the countries.

Those that be near, and those that be far from thee, shall mock thee, thou infamous one and full of tumult. Behold, the princes of Israel, every one according to his power, have been in thee to shed blood. In thee have they set light by father and mother; in the midst of thee have they dealt by oppression with the stranger: in thee have they wronged the fatherless and the widow. Thou hast despised mine holy things, and hast profaned my sabbaths. Slanderous men have been in thee to shed blood: and in thee they have eaten upon the mountains: in the midst of thee they have committed lewdness.

In thee have they discovered their fathers' nakedness: in thee have they humbled her that was unclean in her separation. And one hath committed abomination with his neighbour's wife; and another hath lewdly defiled his daughter in law; and another in thee hath humbled his sister, his father's daughter. In thee have they taken bribes to shed blood; thou hast taken usury and increase, and thou hast greedily gained of thy neighbours by oppression, and hast forgotten me, saith the Lord God.

Behold, therefore, I will smite mine hand at thy dishonest gain, and will blow the fire upon it, to melt it; so thou shalt be dross, therefore behold, I will scatter thee among the nations, and disperse thee through the countries; and I will consume thy filthiness out of thee. And thou shalt be profaned in thyself, in the sight of the nations; and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, the house of Israel is become dross unto me: all of them are brass and tin and iron and lead, in the midst of the furnace; they are the dross of silver. Therefore thus saith the Lord God: Because ye are all become dross, therefore behold, I will gather you into the midst of Jerusalem. As they gather silver and brass and iron and lead and tin into the midst of the furnace, to blow the fire upon it, to melt it; so will I gather you in mine anger and in my fury, and I will lay you there, and melt you. Yea, I will gather you, and blow upon you with the fire of my wrath, and ye shall be melted in the midst thereof. As silver is melted in the midst of the furnace, so shall ye be melted in the midst thereof; and ye shall know that I the Lord have poured out my fury upon you.
And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, say unto her, Thou art a land that is not cleansed, nor rained upon in the day of indignation.

There is a conspiracy of her prophetsin the midst thereof, like a roaring lion ravening the prey: they have devoured souls; they take treasure and precious things; they have made her widows many in the midst thereof. Her priests have done violence to my law, and have profaned mine holy things: they have put no difference between the holy and the common, neither have they caused men to discern between the unclean and the clean, and have hid their eyes from my sabbaths, and I am profaned among them.

Her princes in the midst thereof are like wolves ravening the prey; to shed blood, and to destroy souls, that they may get dishonest gain. Her prophets have daubed for them with untempered mortar, seeing vanity, and divining lies unto them, saying, Thus saith the Lord God, when the Lord hath not spoken.

The people of the land have used oppression, and exercised robbery; yea, they have vexed the poor and needy, and have oppressed the stranger wrongfully. And I sought for a man among them, that should make up the fence, and stand in the gap before me for the land, that I should not destroy it: but I found none. Therefore have I poured out mine indignation upon them; I have consumed them with the fire of my wrath: theirown way have I brought upon their heads, saith the Lord God.

The word of the Lord came again unto me, saying, Son of man, there were two women, the daughters of one mother: and they committed whoredoms in Egypt; they committed whoredoms in their youth: there were their breasts pressed, and there they bruised the teats of their virginity. And the names of them were Oholah the elder, and Oholibah her sister: and they became mine, and they bare sons and daughters. And as for their names, nakedness: then my soul was alienated from her, like as my soul was alienated from her sister. 19 Yet she multiplied her whoredoms, remembering the days of her youth, wherein she had played the harlot in the land of Egypt. 20 And she doted upon their paramours, whose flesh is as the flesh of asses, and whose issue is like the issue of horses. 21 Thus thou calledst to remembrance the lewdness of thy youth, in the bruising of thy teats by the Egyptians for the breasts of thy youth.

22 Therefore, O Oholibah, thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I will raise up thy lovers against thee, from whom thy soul is alienated, and I will bring them against thee on every side; 23 the Babylonians and all the Chaldeans, Pekod and Shoa and Koa, and all the Assyrians with them: desirous young men, governors and rulers all of them, princes and men of renown, all of them riding upon horses. 24 And they shall come against thee with weapons, chariots, and awagons, and with an assembly of peoples: they shall set themselves against thee with buckler and shield and helmet round about: and I will commit the judgement unto them, and they shall judge thee according to their judgements. 25 And I will set my jealousy against thee, and they shall deal with thee in fury; they shall take away thy nose and thine ears; and thy residues shall fall by the sword: they shall take thy sons and thy daughters; and thy residues shall be devoured by the fire. 26 They shall also strip thee of thy clothes, and take away thy fair jewels. 27 Thus will I make thy lewdness to cease from thee, and thy whoredom brought from the land of Egypt: so that thou shalt not lift up thine eyes unto them, nor remember Egypt any more. 28 For thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I will deliver thee into the hand of them whom thou hatest, into the hand of them from whom thy soul is alienated: 29 and they shall deal with thee in hatred, and shall take away all thy labour, and shall leave thee naked and bare: and the nakedness of thy whoredoms shall be discovered, both thy lewdness and thy whoredoms. 30 These things shall be done unto thee, for that thou hast gone a whoring after the heathen, and because thou art polluted with their idols. 31 Thou hast walked in the way of thy sister; therefore will I give her cup into thine hand. 32 Thus saith the Lord God: Thou shalt drink of thy sister's cup, which is deep and large: thou shalt be laughed to scorn and had in derision; it containeth much. 33 Thou shalt be filled with drunkenness and sorrow, with the cup of astonishment and desolation, with the cup of thy sister Samaria. 34 Thou shalt even drink it and drain it out, and thou shalt gnaw the sherds thereof, and shalt tear thy breasts: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord God. 35 Therefore thus saith the Lord God: Because thou hast forgotten me, and cast me behind thy back, therefore bear thou also thy lewdness and thy whoredoms.

36 The Lord said moreover unto me: Son of man, wilt thou judge Oholah and Oholibah? then declare unto them their abominations. 37 For they have committed adultery, and blood is in their hands, and with their idols have they committed adultery; and they have also caused their sons, whom they bare unto me, to pass through the fire unto them to be devoured. 38 Moreover this they have done unto me: they have defiled my sanctuary in the same day, and have profaned my sabbaths. 39 For when they had slain their children to their idols, then they came the same day into my sanctuary to profane it; and, lo, thus have they done in the midst of mine house. 40 And furthermore ye have sent for men that came from far: unto whom a messenger was sent, and, lo, they came; for whom thou didst wash thyself, paintedst thine eyes, and deckedst thyself with ornaments; 41 and satest upon a stately bed, with a table prepared before it, whereupon thou didst set mine incense and mine oil. 42 And the voice of a multitude being at ease was with her: and with men of the common sort were...

43 Then said I 1of her that was old in adulteries, Now will they commit whoredoms with her, and she with them. 44 And they went in unto her, as they go in unto an harlot: so went they in unto Oholah and unto Oholibah, the lewd women. 45 And righteous men, they shall judge them with the judgement of adulteresses, and with the judgement of women that shed blood; because they are adulteresses, and blood is in their hands.

46 For thus saith the Lord God: I will bring up an assembly against thee, and will give them to be tossed to and fro and spoiled. 47 And the assembly shall stone them with stones, and despatch them with their swords; they shall slay their sons and their daughters, and burn up their houses with fire. 48 Thus will I cause lewdness to cease out of the land, that all women may be taught not to do after your lewdness. 49 And they shall recompense your lewdness upon you, and ye shall bear the sins of your idols: and ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

24 In the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, 2 Son of man, write thee the name of the day, even of this the desire of thine eyes with a stroke: yet neither shalt thou make the day to pass, nor I will do it; I will not go back, 3 neither will I spare, neither will I repent; according to thy doings, shall they judge thee, saith the Lord God.

15 Also the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, 16 Son of man, behold, I take away from thee the desire of thine eyes with a stroke: yet 2 neither shalt thou mourn nor weep, neither shall thy tears run down. 17 Sigh, but not aloud; make no mourning for the dead, bind thy head with a band, and put thy shoes upon thy feet, and cover not thy lips, and eat not the bread of men. 18 So I spake unto the people in the morning; and 3 at even my wife died: and I did in the morning as I was commanded.

19 And 4 the people said unto me, Wilt thou not tell us what these things are to us, that thou doest so? 20 Then I said unto them, The word of the Lord came unto me, saying, 21 Speak unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God: Behold, 5 I will profane my sanctuary, the pride of your power, the desire of your eyes, and that which your soul pitieth; and your sons and your daughters whom ye have left behind shall fall by the sword. 24 And ye shall do as I have done: ye shall not cover your lips, nor eat the bread of men. 25 And your tares shall be upon your heads, and your shoes upon your feet: ye shall not mourn nor weep; but ye shall pine away in your iniquities, and moan one toward another. 24 Thus shall Ezekiel be unto you a sign; according to all that he hath done shall ye do: when this cometh, then shall ye know that I am the Lord God.

25 And thou, son of man, shall it not be in the day when I take from them their strength, the joy of their glory, the desire of their eyes, and that whereupon they set their heart, their sons and their daughters, that in that day he that escapeth shall come unto thee, to cause thee to hear it with thine ears? 27 In that day shall thy mouth be opened, to him which is escaped, and thou shalt speak, and be no more dumb: 28 go shalt thou be a sign unto them; and they shall know that I am the Lord.

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,"Son of man, set thy face toward the children of Ammon, and prophesy against them: 3 and say unto the children of Ammon, Hear the word of the Lord God: Thus saith the Lord God: Because thou saidst, Aha, against my sanctuary, when it was profaned; and against the land of Israel, when it was made desolate; and against the house of Judah, when they went into captivity: therefore behold, I will deliver thee unto the children of the east for a possession, and they shall set their encampments in thee, and make their dwellings in thee; they shall eat thy fruit, and they shall drink thy milk. 5 And I will make Rabbah a stable for camels, and the children of Ammon a couching place for flocks: and ye shall know that I am the Lord. 6 For thus saith the Lord God: Because thou hast clapped thine hands, and stamped with the feet, and rejoiced with all the despatch of thy soul against the land of Israel; 7 therefore behold, I have stretched out mine hand upon thee, and will deliver thee for a spoil to the nations; and I will cut thee off from the peoples, and I will cause thee to perish out of the countries: I will destroy thee; and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.

Thus saith the Lord God: Because that Moab and Seir do say, Behold, the house of Judah is like unto all the nations; 9 therefore behold, I will open the side of Moab from the cities, from his cities which are on his frontiers, the glory of the country, Beth-jeshimoth, Baal-meon, and Kir-hathaim, unto the children of the east, to go against the children of Ammon, and I will give them for a possession, that the children of Ammon may not be remembered among the nations: 11 and I will execute judgments upon Moab; and they shall know that I am the Lord.

12 Thus saith the Lord God: Because that Edom hath dealt against the house of Judah by taking vengeance, and hath greatly offended, and revenged himself upon them: 13 therefore thus saith the Lord God, I will stretch out mine hand upon Edom, and will cut off man and beast from it: and I will make it desolate from Teman; even unto Dedan shall they fall by the sword. 14 And I will lay my vengeance upon Edom by the hand of my people Israel; and they shall do in Edom according to mine anger and according to my fury: and they shall know my vengeance, saith the Lord God.

15 Thus saith the Lord God: Because the Philistines have dealt against the land of Israel with revenge, and have taken vengeance with despite of soul to destroy it with perpetual enmity: 16 therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will stretch out mine hand upon the Philistines, and I will cut off the Cherethites, and destroy the remnant of the sea coast. 17 And I will execute... great vengeance upon them, and make a prey of thy riches, and shall make a spoil of thy merchandise: and they shall break down thy walls, and destroy thy pleasant houses: and they shall lay thy stones and thy timber and thy dust in the midst of the waters. 12 And I will cause the noise of thy songs to cease; and the sound of thy harps shall be no more heard.

13 And I will make thee a bare rock: thou shalt be as a place for the spreading of nets; thou shalt be built no more: for I the Lord have spoken it, saith the Lord God.

14 Thus saith the Lord God to Tyre: Shall not the isles tremble at the sound of thy fall, when the wounded groan, when the slaughter is made in the midst of thee? 15 Then all the princes of the sea shall come down from their thrones, and lay aside their robes, and strip off their broidered garments: they shall clothe themselves with mourning; and make theea desolate city, like the cities that are not inhabited; and thou shalt be no more: for I the Lord have spoken it, saith the Lord God.

16 Now shall the isles tremble in the day of thy fall; yea, the isles that are in the sea shall be dismayed at thee. 17 And they shall take up a lamentation for thee, and say to thee, How art thou destroyed, that wast inhabited of seafaring men, the renowned city, which wast strong in the sea, she and her inhabitants, which caused their terror to be on all that haunt it! 18 Now shall the isles tremble in the day of thy fall; yea, the isles that are in the sea shall be dismayed at thee. 19 For thus saith the Lord God: When I shall make thee a desolate city, like the cities that are not inhabited; then will I bring up the deep upon thee, and cover thee; 20 then will I bring the deep upon thee, and cover thee.
The word of the Lord came again unto me, saying,
2 And thou, son of man, take up a lamentation for Tyre; and say unto Tyre, O thou that dwellest at the entry of the sea, which art the merchant of peoples unto many isles, thus saith the Lord God: Thou, O Tyre, hast said, I am perfect in beauty.

4 Thy borders are in the midst of the seas, thy builders have perfected thy beauty. They have made all thy planks of fir trees from Senir: they have taken cedars from Lebanon to make a mast for thee. Of the oaks of Bashan have they made thine oars; they have made thy benches of ivory inlaid in boxwood, from the isles of Kittim. Of fine linen with broidered work from Egypt was thy sail, that it might be to thee for an ensign: blue and purple from the isles of Elishah was thy awning. The inhabitants of Zidon and Arvad were thy rowers: thy wise men, O Tyre, were in thee, they were thy pilots.

9 The ancients of Gebal and the wise men thereof were in thee thy calkers: all the ships of the sea with their mariners were in thee to occupy thy merchandise. Persia and Lud and Put were in thy army, thy men of war: they hanged the shield and helmet in thee; they set forth thy comeliness.

11 The men of Arvad with thine army were upon thy walls round about, and the Gammadim were in thy towers: they hanged their shields upon thy walls round about; they have perfected thy beauty. Tarshish was thy merchant by reason of the multitude of thy handymen: they traded for thy wares with emeralds, purple, and brodered work, and fine wares, and coral, and rubies.

19 Damascus was thy merchant in precious cloths for riding. Arabia, and all the princes of Kedar, they were the merchants of thy hand; in lambs, and rams, and goats, in these were they thy merchants.

22 The traffickers of Sheba and Raamah, they were thy traffickers: they traded for thy wares with the chief of all spices, and with all precious stones, and gold. Haran and Canneh and Eden, the traffickers of Sheba, Asshur and Chilmad, were thy traffickers.

24 They were traffickers in choice wares, in wrapings of blue and broidered work, and in chestos of rich apparel, bound with cords and made of cedar, among thy merchandise.

25 The ships of Tarshish were thy caravans for thy merchandise: and thou wast replenished, and made very glorious in the heart of the seas.

26 Thy rowers have brought thee into great waters: the east wind hath broken thee in the heart of the seas.

27 Thy riches, and thy wares, thy merchandise, thy mariners, and thy pilots, thy traffickers, and the occupiers of thy merchandise, and all thy men of war, that are in thee, 14 with all thy company which is in the midst of thee, shall fall into the heart of the seas "in the day of thy ruin.

28 At the sound of the cry of thy pilots "the 15 suburbs shall shake.

29 And all that handle the oar, the mariners, and all the pilots of the sea, shall come down from their ships, they shall stand upon the land, 30 and shall cause their voice... to be heard over thee, and shall cry bitterly, and shall cast up dust upon their heads; they shall wallow themselves in the ashes: and they shall make themselves bald for thee, and gird them with sackcloth, and they shall weep for thee in bitterness of soul with bitter mourning.

And in their wailing they shall take up a lamentation for thee, and lament over thee, saying, Who is there like Tyre, like her that is brought to silence in the midst of the sea? When thy wares went forth out of the seas, thou filledst many peoples; thou didst enrich the kings of the earth with the multitude of thy riches and of thy merchandise. In the time that thou wast broken by the sea in the depths of the waters, thy merchandise and all thy company did fall in the midst of thee. All the inhabitants of the isles are astonished at thee, and their kings are horribly afraid, they are troubled in their countenance. The merchants among the peoples hiss at thee; thou art become a terror, and thou shalt never be any more.

The word of the Lord came again unto me, saying, Son of man, say unto the prince of Tyre, Thus saith the Lord God: Because thine heart is lifted up, and thou hast said, I am a god, I sit in the seat of God, in the midst of the seas; yet thou art not God, though thou didst sit thine heart as the heart of God: behold, thou art wiser than Daniel; there is no secret that they can hide from thee: by thy wisdom and by thine understanding thou hast gotten thee riches, and hast gotten gold and silver into thy treasures: by thy great wisdom and by thy traffic hast thou increased thy riches, and thine heart is lifted up because of thy riches: therefore thus saith the Lord God: Because thou hast set thine heart as the heart of God; therefore behold, I will bring strangers upon thee, the terrible of the nations: and they shall draw their swords against the beauty of thy wisdom, and they shall defile thy brightness. They shall bring thee down to the pit; and thou shalt die the deaths of them that are slain, in the heart of the seas. Wilt thou yet say before him that slayeth thee, I am God? but thou art man, and not God, in the hand of him that wouldest thee. Thou shalt die the deaths of the uncircumcised by the hand of strangers: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord God.

Moreover the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, take up a lamentation for the king of Tyre, and say unto him, Thus saith the Lord God: Thou sealest up the sum, full of wisdom, and perfect in beauty. Thou wast in Eden the garden of God; every precious stone was thy covering, the sardius, the topaz, and the beryl, the onyx, and the jasper, the sapphire, the emerald, and the carbuncle, and gold: the workmanship of thy tabrets and of thy pipes was in thee; in the day that thou wast created they were prepared. Thou wast the anointed cherub, covering cherub, to cover the Most High, thou didst walk uncircumcised upon my holy mountain: therefore did I cast thee as profane out of the mountain of God; and I have destroyed thee, O covering cherub, thou wast lifted upon forever:

The word of the Lord came again unto me, saying, Son of man, say unto the princes of Tyre: Wilt thou say before him that slayeth thee, I am God? Wilt thou yet say before him that slayeth thee, I am God? but thou art man, and not God, in the hand of him that wouldest thee. Thou shalt die the deaths of the uncircumcised by the hand of strangers: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord God.
And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, 20Son of man, set thy face toward Zidon; and prophesy against it, 21and say, Thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I am against thee, O Zidon; and I will be glorified in the midst of thee: and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall have executed judgements in her, and shall be sanctified in her. 22For I will send into her pestilence, and blood in her streets; and the wounded shall fall in the midst of her, with the sword upon her on every side: and they shall know that I am the Lord. 24And there shall be no more a pricking brier for thee: and they shall know that heaven is the Lord their God. 25Thus saith the Lord God: When I shall have gathered the house of Israel from the peoples among whom they are scattered, and I shall be sanctified in them in the sight of the nations, then shall they dwell in their own land, which I gave to my servant Jacob. 26And they shall dwell securely therein; yea, they shall build houses, and plant vineyards, and shall dwell securely; when I have executed judgements upon all those that do desolate and waste, and they shall know that I am the Lord their God. 29 In the tenth month, in the twelfth day of the month, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, 2Son of man, set thy face against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and prophesy against him, and against all Egypt: 3speak, and say, Thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I am against thee, Pharaoh king of Egypt, the great dragon that lieth in the midst of his rivers, which hath said, My river is mine, and I have made it for myself. 4And I will bring hooks into thy jaws, and I will cause the fish of thy rivers to stick unto thy scales; and I will bring thee up out of the midst of thy rivers, with all the fish of thy rivers which stick unto thy scales. 5And I will leave thee thrown into the wilderness, thou shalt never be any fish of thy rivers which stick unto thy scales. 6And I will leave thee thrown into the wilderness, and I will give thee for meat to the beasts of the earth and to the fowls of the heaven. 7And all the inhabitants of Egypt shall know that I am the Lord, because they have been a staff of reed to the house of Israel. 8When they took hold of thee by thy hand, thou didst break, and didst rend all their shoulders: and when they leaned upon thee, thou brakest, and madest all their loins to be at a stand. 9And the land of Egypt shall be a desolation and a waste; and they shall know that I am the Lord their God. 10Therefore behold, I will bring a sword upon thee, and it shall cut off from thee man and beast. 11And the land of Egypt shall be an utter waste and desolation, and they shall dwell in their own land: 12And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries. 13For thus saith the Lord God: At the end of forty years will I gather the Egyptians from the peoples whither they were scattered: 14and I will bring again the captivity of Egypt, and will cause them to return into the land of Pathros, into the land of their birth; and they shall be there a base kingdom. 15It shall be the basest of the kingdoms; neither shall it any more lift itself up above the nations: and I will diminish them, that they shall no more rule over the nations. 16And it shall be no more lifted up.
more the confidence of the house of Israel, bringing iniquity to remembrance, when they turn to look after them: and they shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

17 And it came to pass in the seven and twentieth year, in the first month, in the first day of the month, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, 18 Son of man, Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon caused his army to serve a great service against Tyre: every head was made bald, and every shoulder was peeled: yet had he no wages, nor his army, from Tyre, for the service that he had served against it: 19 therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I will give the land of Egypt unto Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon; and he shall carry off her multitude, and take her spoil, and take her prey; and it shall be the wages for his army. 20 I have given him the land of Egypt as my recompence for which he served, because they wrought for me, saith the Lord GOD.

21 In that day will I cause an horn to bud forth unto the house of Israel, and I will give thee the opening of the mouth in the midst of them; and they shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

30 The word of the Lord came again unto me, saying, 2 Son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus saith the Lord God: Howl ye, Woe worth the day! 3 For the day is near, even the day of the Lord is near, an a day of clouds; it shall be the time of the heathen. 4 And a sword shall come upon Egypt, and anguah shall be in 2 Ethiopia, when the slain shall be in 2 Egypt; and they shall take away her multitude, and her foundations shall be broken down. 5 2 Ethiopia, and 2 Put, and Lud, and all the mingled people, and Cub, and the children of 2 the land that is in league, shall fall with them by the sword.

6 Thus saith the Lord: They also that uphold Egypt shall fall, and the pride of her power shall come down: 7 2 from the tower of Sevene shall they fall in it by the sword, saith the Lord God. 7 And they shall be desolate in the midst of the countries that are desolate, and her cities shall be in the midst of the cities that are wasted. 8 And they shall know that I am the Lord, when I have set a fire in Egypt, and 2 all her helpers are 2 destroyed.

9 In that day shall messengers go forth from before me in ships to make the careless Ethiopians afraid: and there shall be anguish upon them, as in the day of Egypt; for, lo, it cometh.

10 Thus saith the Lord God: I will also make the multitude of Egypt to cease, by the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon. 11 He and his people with him, the terrible of the nations, shall be brought in to destroy the land; and they shall draw their swords against Egypt, and fill the land with the slain. 12 And I will make the rivers dry, and will sell the land into the hand of 2 evil men; and I will make the land desolate, and all that is therein, by the hand of strangers: 2 I the Lord have spoken it.

13 Thus saith the Lord God: I will also destroy the idols, and I will cause the 2 images to cease from 2 Noph; and there shall be no more a prince out of the land of Egypt: and I will put a fear in the land of Egypt. 14 And I will make 2 Patros desolate, and will set a fire in 2 Zoan, and will execute judgements in 2 No. 15 And I will pour my fury upon Sin, the stronghold of Egypt; and I will cut off the multitude of 2 No. 16 And I will set a fire in Egypt; Sin shall be in great anguish, and 2 No shall be broken up: and 2 Noph shall have adversaries in the daytime. 17 The young men of Aven and of Pi-beseth shall fall by the sword, and these cities shall go into captivity. 18 At 2 Tehaphnehes also the day shall 2 withdraw itself, when I shall break there the yokes of Egypt, and the pride of her power shall cease in her: as for her, a cloud shall cover her, and her daylight shall go into captivity. 19 Thus will I execute judgements in Egypt: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

20 And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the first month, in the seventh day of the month, that the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, 25 Son of man, I have broken the arm of Pharaoh king of Egypt; and, lo, it hath not been bound up to apply healing medicines, to put a roller to bind it, that it be strong to hold the sword. Therefore thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I am against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and will break his arms, the strong, and that which was broken; and I will cause the sword to fall out of his hand. 26 And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries. And 27 I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and put my sword in his hand: but I will break the arms of Pharaoh, and he shall groan before him with a groaning of a deadly wounded man. And 28 I will hold up the arms of the king of Babylon, and the arms of Pharaoh shall fall down; and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall put my sword in his hand: but I will break the arms of Pharaoh, and he shall groan before him with a groaning of a deadly wounded man.

And 29 it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the third month, in the first day of the month, that the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, 30 Son of man, say unto Pharaoh king of Egypt, and to his multitude; Whom art thou like in thy greatness? 31 Behold, the Assyrian was a cedar in Lebanon with fair branches, and put his shadow shroud, and of an high stature; and his top was among the thick boughs, and his root was by many waters. The cedars in Lebanon were fair in their beauty. And 32 I made him fair by the multitude of his branches; so that all the trees of Eden, that were in the garden of God, envied him. 33 Therefore thus saith the Lord God: Because thou art exalted in stature, and he hath set his top among the thick boughs, and his heart is lifted up in his height; 34 I will even deliver him into the hand of the mighty one of the nations; he shall surely deal with him: I have driven him out for his wickedness. And strangers, the terrible of the nations, have cut him off, and have left him: upon the mountains and in all the valleys his branches are fallen, and his boughs are broken by all the watercourses of the land; and all the peoples of the earth are gone down from his shadow, and have left him. Upon his ruin all the fowlsof the heaven shall dwell, and all the beasts of the field shall be upon his branches: to the end that none of all the trees by the waters exalt themselves in their stature, neither set their top among the thick boughs, nor that their mighty ones stand up in their height, even all that drink water: for they are all delivered unto death, to the nether parts of the earth, in the midst of the children of men, with them that go down to the pit. Thus saith the Lord God: In the day when he went down to hell I caused a mourning: I covered the deep for him, and I restrained the rivers thereof, and the great waters were stayed: and I caused Lebanon to mourn for him, and all the trees of the field fainted for him. 35 I made the nations to shake at the sound of his fall, when I cast him down to hell.
with them that descend into the pit: and all the trees of Eden, the choice and best of Lebanon, all that drink water, were comforted in the nether parts of the earth.

17 They also went down into hell with him unto them that be slain by the sword; yea, they that were his arm, that dwelt under his shadow in the midst of the nations.

18 To whom art thou thus like in glory and in greatness among the trees of Eden? yet shalt thou be brought down with the trees of Eden unto the nether parts of the earth: thou shalt lie in the midst of the uncircumcised, with them that be slain by the sword. This is Pharaoh and all his multitude, saith the Lord God.

32 And it came to pass in the twelfth year, in the twelfth month, in the first day of the month, that the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, take up a lamentation for Pharaoh king of Egypt, and say unto him, Thou wast likened unto a young lion of the nations: yet art thou as a dragon of the sea; and thou brakest forth with thy rivers, and troubledst the waters with thy feet, and fouledst their rivers. Thus saith the Lord God: I will spread out my net over thee with a company of many peoples; and they shall bring thee up in my net. And I will leave thee upon the land, I will cast thee forth upon the open field, and will cause all the fowls of the heaven to settle upon thee, and I will satisfy the beasts of the whole earth with thee.

5 And I will lay thy flesh upon the mountains, and fill the valleys with thy height. I will also water with thy blood the land wherein thou swimsmeest, even to the mountains; and the watercourses shall be full of thee. And when I shall extinguish thee, I will cover the heaven, and make the stars thereof dark; I will cover the sun with a cloud, and the moon shall not give her light.

8 All the bright lights of heaven will I make dark over thee, and set darkness upon thy land, saith the Lord God. I will also vex the hearts of many peoples, when I shall bring thy destruction among the nations, into the countries which thou hast not known. Yea, I will make many peoples amazed at thee, and their kings shall be horribly afraid for thee, and they shall tremble at every moment, every man for his own life, in the day of thy fall. For thus saith the Lord God: The sword of the king of Babylon shall come upon thee. By the swords of the mighty wilt thou taste the multitude to fall; the terrible of the nations are they all: and they shall spoil the pride of Egypt, and all the multitude thereof shall be destroyed. I will destroy also all the beasts thereof from beside many waters; neither shalt thou be foot of man trouble them any more, nor the hoofs of beasts trouble them. Then will I make the land of Egypt desolate and waste, a land destitute of that whereof it was full, when I shall smite all them that dwell therein, then shall they know that I am the Lord.

15 When I shall make the land of Egypt desolate and waste, a land destitute of that whereof it was full, when I shall smite all them that dwell therein, then shall they know that I am the Lord. This is the lamentation wherewith they shall lament; the daughters of the nations shall lament therewith: for Egypt, and for all her multitude, they shall lament therewith, saith the Lord God.

17 It came to pass also in the twelfth year, in the fifteenth day of the month, that the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

18 Son of man, wail for the multitude of Israel, and cast them down, even her, and the daughters of the famous nations, unto the nether parts of the earth, with them that go down into the pit. Whom dost thou pass in beauty? go down, and be thou laid with the uncircumcised. They shall fall in the midst of them that are slain by the sword: she is delivered to the sword: draw her away and all her multitudes. The strong among the mighty shall speak to him out of the midst of hell with them that help him: they are gone down, they lie still, even the uncircumcised...
pit. Pharaoh shall see them, and shall be comforted over all his multitude; even Pharaoh and all his army, slain by the sword, saith the Lord God. 32 For I have put his terror in the land of the living; and he shall be laid in the midst of the uncircumcised, with them that are slain by the sword, even Pharaoh and all his multitude, saith the Lord
God.

33 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, 2 Son of man, speak to the children of thy people, and say unto them,
When I bring the sword upon a land, if the people of the land take a man from among them, and set him for their watchman: 3 If, when he seeth the sword come upon the land, he blow the trumpet, and warn the people; 4 then whosoever heareth the sound of the trumpet, and taketh not warning, if the sword come, and take him away, his blood shall be upon his own head. 5 He heard the sound of the trumpet, and took not warning; his blood shall be upon him: whereas if he had taken warning he should have de-ivered his soul. 6 But if the watchman see the sword come, and blow not the trumpet, and the people be not warned, and the sword come, and take any person from among them; he is taken away in his righteousness, whereas if he had taken warning he should have de-ivered his soul.

pine away in them; how then should we live? 11 Say unto them,
As I live, saith the Lord God, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked; but that the wicked turn from his way and live: 12 turn ye, turn ye from your evil ways; for why will ye die, O house of Israel? 13 And thou, son of man, say unto the children of thy people, 'The righteousness of the righteous shall not deliver him in the day of his transgression; and as for the wickedness of the wicked, he shall not fall thereby in the day that he turneth from his wickedness: neither shall he that is righteous be able to live thereby in the day that he sinneth. 15 When I say to the righteous, that he shall surely live; if he he trust to his righteousness, and commit iniquity, none of his righteous deeds shall be remembered; but in his iniquity that he hath committed, therein shall he die. 16 Again, when I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die, if he turn from his sin, and do that which is lawful and right; 17 if the wicked restore the pledge, give again that he had taken by robbery, walk in the statutes of life, committing no iniquity: he shall surely live, he shall not die. 18 None of his sins that he hath committed, which he hath done that which is lawful and right; he shall surely live. 19 Yet the children of thy people say, 'The way of the Lord is not equal: but as for them, their way is not equal. 20 When the righteous turneth from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, he shall even die therein. 21 And when the wicked turneth from his wickedness, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he shall live thereby. 22 Yet ye say, 'The way of the Lord is not equal. O house of Israel, I will judge you every one after his ways.

23 And it came to pass in the twelfth year of our captivity, in the tenth month, in the fifth day of the month, that one that had escaped out of Jerusalem came unto me, saying, 'The city is smitten. 24 Now the hand of the Lord had been upon me in the evening, afore he that was escaped came; and he had opened my mouth, until he came to me in the morning; and my mouth was opened, and I was no more dumb. 25 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, 26 Son of man, they that inhabit those waste places in the land of Israel speak, saying, 'Abraham was one, and he inherited the land: but we are many; the land is given us for inheritance. 27 Wherefore say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: Ye eat with the blood, and lift up your eyes unto your idols, and shed blood: and shall ye possess the land? 28 Ye stand upon your sword, ye work abomination, and defile every one his neighbour's wife: and shall ye possess the land? 29 Thus shall thou say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: As I live, surely they that are in the waste places shall fall by the sword, and him that is in the open field will I give to the beasts to be devoured, and they that be in the strong holds and in the caves shall die of the pestilence. 30 And I will make the land a desolation and an astonishment, and the pride of her power shall cease; and the mountains of Israel shall be desolate, that none shall pass through. 31 Then shall they know that I am the Lord, when I have made the land a desolation and an astonishment, because of all their abominations which they have committed. 32 And as for thee, son of man, the children of thy people talk of thee by the walls and in the doors of the houses, and speak one to another, every one to his brother, saying, Come, I pray you, and hear what is the word that cometh forth from the Lord. 33 And they come unto thee as the people come, and they sit before thee as my people, and they hear thy words, but do them not: for with their mouth they shew much love, but their heart goeth after their gain. 34 And, lo, thou art unto them as a very lovely song of one that hath pleasant voice, and can play well on an instrument: for they hear thy words, but do them not.

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, 2 Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel, prophesy, and say unto them, even to the shepherds, Thus saith the Lord God: 3 Woe unto the shepherds of Israel that do feed themselves! 4 should not the shepherds feed the sheep? 5 Ye eat the fat, and ye clothe you with the wool, 6 ye kill the fatted: but ye feed not the sheep. 7 The diseased have ye not strengthened, neither have ye healed that which was sick, neither have ye bound up that which was broken, neither have ye brought again that which was driven away, neither have ye sought that which was lost, but with force and with rigour have ye ruled over them. 8 And they were scattered, because there was no shepherd: and they became meat to all the beasts of the field, and were scattered. 9 My sheep wandered through all the mountains, and upon every high hill: yes, my sheep were scattered upon all the face of the earth; and there was none that did search or seek after them. 10 Therefore, ye shepherds, hear the word of the Lord: 11 As I live, saith the Lord God, surely as much as my sheep became a prey, and my sheep became meat to all the beasts of the field, because there was no shepherd, neither did my shepherds search for my sheep, but the shepherds fed themselves, and fed not my sheep; 12 therefore, ye shepherds, hear the word of the Lord; 13 Thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I am against the shepherds; and I will require my sheeps at their hand, and cause them to cease from feeding the sheep: 14 neither shall the shepherds feed themselves any more; 15 and I will deliver my sheep from the cloudy and dark day. 16 And I will bring them out from the people, and gather them from the countries, and will bring them into their own land; and I will feed them upon the mountains of Israel, by the watercourses, and in all the inhabited places of the country. 17 I will feed them with good pasture, and upon the mountains of the height of Israel shall they fold be: there shall they lie down in a good fold, and upon fat pasture shall they feed upon the mountains of Israel. 18 I myself will feed my sheep, and I will cause them to lie down, saith the Lord God. 19 I will seek that which was lost, and will bring again that which was driven away, and will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which was sick: 20 and the fat and the strong I will destroy; I will feed them in judgment. 21 And as for you, O my flock, thus saith the Lord God: 22 Ye eat the fat, and ye clothe you with the wool, ye kill the fallow; their fold became a prey; neither did my shepherds search against the shepherds, and I will judge between the fat cattle and the lean cattle. 23 Because ye thrust with side and with shoulder, and push all the diseased with the sick, and the lame with the strong, and the fat with the lean. 24 And I will set up one shepherd over them, and he shall feed them, even my servant David; he shall feed them, and he shall be their shepherd. 25 And I the Lord will be their God, and my servant David prince among them; I the Lord have spoken it. 26 And I will make with them a covenant of peace, and will cause evil beasts to cease out of the land: and they shall feed in the meadows; 27 in their place shall the waste pastures become pastures; and the grass shall grow up; and the herbs of the field shall be plentiful, and the Jebusites shall shall eat unmown grass. 28 And I will multiply the fruit of the earth, and the sowing of the field; and the fruit trees shall yield their fruit freely, and the wine will flow out of the vats, and all men shall go in and drink. 29 And it shall come to pass that men shall dwell in the midst of the desert, and in the midst of the Burning wilderness; and the wilderness shall be like the garden of Eden, and the wilderness and the desert shall flow with water. 30 And my people shall dwell in the midst of it, and nevermore shall be a scorning; but all that sit upon the mountains of Zion shall laugh, saying, Behold, the Lord will deliver Zion, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and all the peoples that are gathered around, saying, Seek those that are lost, and bring them out of all places whither they have been scattered. 32 And the cloudy and dark day shall be wither, there shall be a day of clouds and thick darkness.
shall dwell securely in the wilderness, and sleep in the woods. 26 And I will make them and the places round about my hill a blessing; and a will cause the shower to come down in its season; there shall be *showers of blessing. 27 And the tree of the field shall yield its fruit, and the earth shall yield her increase, *and they shall be secure in their land; and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I have broken the bars of their yoke, and have delivered them out of the hand of those that served themselves of them. 28 And they shall no more be a prey to the heathen, neither shall the beast of the earth devour them; but they shall dwell securely, and none shall make them afraid. 29 And I will raise up unto them a *a plantation for renown, and they shall be no more consubsumed with famine in the land, neither bear the shame of the heathen any more. 30 And they shall know that I, the Lord their God, am among them, and that they, the house of Israel, are my people, saith the Lord God. 31 And ye my sheep, the sheep of my pasture, are men, and I am your God, saith the Lord God.

Moreover the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, 2 *Son of man, a set thy face against mount Seir, and prophesy against it, 3 and say unto it, Thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I am against thee, O mount Seir, and I will stretch out mine hand against thee, and I will make thee a desolation and an astonishment. 4 I will lay thy cities waste, and thou shalt be desolate; and thou shalt know that I am the Lord. 5 Because thou hast had a perpetual enmity, and hast given over the children of Israel to the power of the sword in the time of their calamity, 6 in the time of their iniquity, *in the time of their incognito, 7 therefore, *as I live, saith the Lord God, I will prepare thee unto blood, and blood shall pursue thee: 8thou hast not hated blood, therefore blood shall pursue thee. 9 Thus will I make mount Seir an astonishment and a desolation; and I will cut off from it him that passeth through and him that returneth. 10 And I will fill his mountains with his slain in thy hills and in thy valleys and in all *thy watercourses shall they fall *that are slain with the sword. 11 I will make thee perpetual desolations, and *thy cities shall not be inhabited: and ye shall know that I am the Lord. 12 Because thou hast said, *These two nations and these two countries shall be mine, and we will possess it; whereas the Lord was there; 13 therefore, *as I live, saith the Lord God, I will do according to thine anger, and according to thine envy which thou hast shewed out against the mountains of Israel, saying, *They are laid desolate, *they are given us to devour. 14 And thou shalt know that I have heard all thy blasphemies which thou hast spoken against the mountains of Israel, saying, *They are laid desolate, *they are given us to devour. 15 And ye have magnified yourselves against me *with your mouth, and have multiplied your words against me; I have heard it. 16 Thus saith the Lord God: *When the whole earth rejoiceth, I will make thee desolate. 17 As thou didst rejoice over the inheritance of the house of Israel, because it was desolate, so will I do unto thee: thou shalt be desolate, O *mount Seir, and all Edom, even all of it: and they shall know that I am the Lord.
word of the Lord God; Thus saith the Lord God to the mountains and to the hills, to the watercourses and to the valleys, to the desolate wastes and to the cities that are forsaken, which are become a prey and desolation to the residue of the nations that are round about: therefore thus saith the Lord God: Surely in the fire of my jealousy have I spoken against the residue of the nations, and against all Edom, which have appointed my land unto themselves for a possession with the joy of all their heart, with despite of soul, to cast it out for a prey: therefore thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I have spoken in my jealousy and in my fury, because ye have borne the shame of the heathen: 7 therefore thus saith the Lord God: I have lifted up mine hand, saying, Surely the heathen that are round about you, they shall bear their shame. 8 But ye, O mountains of Israel, ye shall shoot forth your branches, and yield your fruit to my people Israel; for ye are at hand to come. 9 For, behold, I am for you, and I will turn unto you, and ye shall be tilled and sown: 10 and I will multiply men upon you, all the house of Israel, even all of it: and the cities shall be inhabited, and the waste places shall be builded: 11 and I will multiply upon you a man and beast; and they shall increase and be fruitful: and I will cause you to be inhabited after your former estate, and will do better unto you than at your beginnings: and ye shall know that I am the Lord. 12 Yea, I will cause men to walk upon you, even my people Israel; and they shall possess thee, and thou shalt be their inheritance, and thou shalt no more henceforth bereave them of children. 13 Thus saith the Lord God: Because they say unto you, A land art thou a devourer of men, and hast been a bereaver of thy nation; therefore thou shalt devour men no more, neither bereave thy nation any more, saith the Lord God; neither will I let thee hear any more the shame of the heathen, neither shalt thou bear the reproach of the peoples any more, neither shalt thou cause thy nation to stumble any more, saith the Lord God.

16 Moreover the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, 17 Son of man, when the house of Israel dwelt in their own land, they defiled it by their ways and by their doings: their way before me was as the uncleanness of a woman in her separation. 18 Wherefore I poured out my fury upon them for the blood which they had poured upon the land, and because they had defiled it with their idols: 19 and I scattered them among the nations, and they were dispersed through the countries: and according to their way and according to their doings I judged them. 20 And when they came unto the nations, whither they went, they profaned my holy name; in that men said of them, These are the people of the Lord, and are gone forth out of his land. 21 But I had pity for mine holy name, which the house of Israel had profaned among the nations, whither they went. 22 Therefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God: 4 I do not this for your sake, O house of Israel, but for mine holy name, which ye have profaned among the nations, whither ye went. 23 And I will sanctify my great name, which hath been profaned among the nations, which ye have profaned in the midst of them; and the nations shall know that I am the Lord, saith the Lord God, when I shall be sanctified in you before their eyes. 24 For I will take you from among the nations, and gather you out of all the countries, and will bring you into your own land. 25 And I will sprinkle clean water upon you, and ye shall be clean; from all your filthiness, and from all your idols, I will cleanse you. 26 A new heart also will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you: and I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you an heart of flesh. 27 And I will put my spirit within you, and cause you to walk in my statutes, and ye shall keep my judgements, and do them. 28 And ye shall dwell in the land that I gave to your fathers; and ye shall be my people, and I will be your God. 29 And I will save you from all your uncleannesses: and I will call for the corn, and will multiply it, and lay no famine upon you. 30 And I will multiply the fruit of the tree, and the increase of the field, that ye shall receive no more the reproach of famine among the nations. 31 Then shall ye remember your evil ways, and your doings that were not good; and ye shall loathe yourselves in your own sight for your iniquities and for your abominations. 32 Not for your sake do I do this, saith the Lord God, be it known unto you: be ashamed and confounded for your ways, O house of Israel. 33 Thus saith the Lord God: In the day that I cleanse you from all your iniquities, *I will cause the cities to be inhabited, and the waste places shall be built. 34 And the land that was desolate shall be till’d, whereas it was a desolation in the sight of all that passed by. 35 And they shall say, This land that was desolate is become like the garden of Eden; *and the waste and desolate and ruined cities are fenced and inhabited. 36 Then the nations that are left round about you shall know that I the Lord have built the ruined places, and planted that which was desolate: *I the Lord have spoken it, and I will do it.

37 Thus saith the Lord God: For this moreover *will be inquired of by the house of Israel, to do it for them; *I will increase them with men like a flock. 38 As the flock of sacrifice, *as the flock of Jerusalem in her appointed feasts; so shall the waste cities be filled with flocks of men: *and they shall know that I am the Lord. 39 The hand of the Lord was upon me, and he carried me out in the spirit of the Lord, and set me down in the midst of the valley; and it was full of bones; 2 and he caused me to pass by them round about: and behold, there were very many *in the open valley; and lo, they were very dry. 3 And he said unto me, *Son of man, can these bones live? And *I answered, O Lord God, thou knowest. 4 Again he said unto me, *Prophesy over these bones, and say unto them, *O ye dry bones, hear the word of the Lord. 5 Thus saith the Lord God unto these bones: Behold, *I will cause a breath to enter into you, and ye shall live. 6 *And I will lay sinews upon you, and will bring up flesh upon you, and cover you with skin, and put breath in you, and ye shall live; *and ye shall know that I am the Lord. 7 So I prophesied as I was commanded: and as I prophesied, there was a noise, and behold an earthquake, and the bones came together, bone to his bone. 8 And I beheld, and lo, there were sinews upon them, and flesh came up, and skin covered them above: but there was no breath in them. 9 Then said he unto me, *Prophesy unto the wind, Son of man, and say to it, Thus saith the Lord God: Come from the four winds, O Spirit, and breathe upon these dry bones, and they shall live, and I will place you in your own land: and ye shall know that I am the Lord. 10 So I prophesied as he commanded me, and *the breath came into them, and they lived, and stood up upon their feet, an exceeding great army. 11 Then he said unto me, *Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel: behold, they say, Our bones are dried up, and °our hope is lost; °we are cleancut off. 12 Therefore *prophesy, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: Behold, °I will open your graves, and cause you to come up out of your graves, °O my people; and °I will bring you into the land of Israel. 13 And ye shall know that I am the Lord, when I have opened your graves, and caused you to come up out of your graves, °O my people. 14 °And °I will put my °spirit in you, and ye shall live, and I will place you in your own land: and ye shall know that °I the Lord have spoken it, and performed it, saith the Lord.

15 The word of the Lord came again unto me, saying, 16 And thou, *son of man, *take thee one stick, and write upon it, For *Judah, and for *the children of Israel his companions: then take another stick, and write upon it, For *Joseph, the stick of *Ephraim, and for all the house of Israel his companions: 17 and *join them for thee one to another into one stick; 2 that they may become one in thine hand. 18 And when 2 the children of thy people shall speak unto thee, saying, *Wilt thou not shew us what thou meanest by these? 19 say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God : Behold, I will take /the stick of Joseph, which is in the hand of Ephraim, and the tribes of Israel his companions; and /will put them 2 with it, even with /the stick of Judah, and 2 make them one stick, 2 and they shall be one in mine hand. 20 And the sticks whereon thou writest shall be in thine hand 3 before their eyes. 21 And say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God : Behold, I will take the children of Israel from among the nations, whither they be gone, and will gather them on every side, and /bring them into their own land: 22 and /I will make them one nation in the land, upon the mountains of Israel; and /one king shall be king to them all: and they shall be no more 2 two nations, neither shall they be divided into two kingdoms any more at all: 23 neither shall they defile themselves with their idols, nor with any of their transgressions: but 1 I will save them 8 out of all their dwelling places, wherein they have sinned, and will cleanse them: so 3 shall they be my people, and I will be their God. 24 And my servant *David shall be king over them; and they shall all have one shepherd: 2 they shall also walk in my judgements, and observe my statutes, and do them. 25 And 7 they shall dwell in the land that I have given unto Jacob my servant, wherein your fathers dwelt; and they shall dwell therein, they, and their children, and their children's children, 2 ever: and 2 *David my servant shall be their prince 2 for ever. 26 Moreover 2 I will make a covenant of peace with them: it shall be an everlasting covenant with them: and I will /place them, and /multiply them, and /will set my sanctuary in the midst of them for evermore. 27 *My tabernacle also shall be 2 with them; 2 and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. 28 And 2 the nations shall know that 4 I am the Lord that sanctify Israel, when 4 my sanctuary shall be in the midst of them for evermore.

38 1 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, 2 *Son of man, 3 set thy face toward *Gog, of the land of 2 Magog, the 2 prince of *Rosh, 1 *Meshech, and 1 Tubal, and 2 prophesy against him, 3 and say, Thus saith the Lord God: Behold, 1 I am against thee, *O Gog, 1 prince of 2 Rosh, 1 Meshech, and 1 Tubal: 4 and I will turn thee about, and 2 put hooks in thy jaws, and I will bring thee forth, and /all thine army, horses and horsemen, all of them clothed in full armour, a great company with buckler and shield, all of them handling swords: 5 *Persia, 1 *Cush, and 2 Put with them; all of them with shield and helmet: 6 *Gomer, and all his 5 hordes; 7 *the house of Togarmah in 8 the uttermost parts of the north, and all his hordes: even 2 many peoples with thee. 8 Be thou prepared, yea, prepare thyself, thou, and all thy companies that are assembled unto thee, and be thou a 3 guard unto them. 8 After many days thou shalt be visited: 9 in the latter years thou shalt come into the land that is brought back from the sword, that is gathered out of many peoples, upon the mountains of Israel, which have been a continual waste: but it is brought forth out of the peoples, and they shall dwell securely, all of them. 9 And thou shalt ascend, thou shalt come 2 like a storm, thou shalt be 2 like a cloud to cover the land, thou, and all thy 2 hordes, and many peoples with thee. 10 Thus saith the Lord God: It shall come to pass in that day, that things shall come into thy Therefore, son of man, prophesy, and say unto Gog. Thus saith the Lord God: In that day when my people Israel dwelleth securely, shalt thou not know it? 15 And thou shalt come from thy place out of the uttermost parts of the north, and thou shalt come upon the open field: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord God, to the nations, and to the kingdoms, that do evil to the land of Israel, that I would bring thee against them to consume them with my sword, in the land of Israel.

Behold, I am against thee, O Gog, prince of Rosh, Meshech, and Tubal: and I will turn thee about, and will lead thee on, and will cause thee to come up from the uttermost parts of the north; and I will bring thee upon the mountains of Israel: and I will smite thy bow out of thy hand, and will cause thine arrows to fall out of thy right hand. 4 Thou shalt fall upon the mountains of Israel, thou, and all thy hordes, and the peoples that are with thee: i will give thee unto the ravenous birds of every sort, and to the beasts of the field to be devoured. 5 Thou shalt fall upon the open field: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord God.

And I will send a fire on Magog, and on them that dwell securely in the islands: and they shall know that I am the Lord. 7 And my holy name will I make known in the midst of my people Israel; neither will I suffer my holy name to be profaned any more: and the nations shall know that I am the Lord, the Holy One in Israel.

Behold, it cometh, and it shall be known in the midst of my people Israel, and in the midst of the heathen, that I am the Lord; and my name will I make known in it. 9 And the countries that are about thee shall know that I am the Lord; and thy name shall be known in it, saith the Lord God, that I am the Lord.

And thou, son of man, prophesy against Gog, and say, Thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I am against thee, O Gog, prince of Rosh, Meshech, and Tubal: and I will turn thee about, and will lead thee on, and will cause thee to come up from the uttermost parts of the north; and I will bring thee upon the mountains of Israel: and I will smite thy bow out of thy hand, and will cause thine arrows to fall out of thy right hand. 4 Thou shalt fall upon the mountains of Israel, thou, and all thy hordes, and the peoples that are with thee: I will give thee unto the ravenous birds of every sort, and to the beasts of the field to be devoured. 5 Thou shalt fall upon the open field: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord God.

And I will send a fire on Magog, and on them that dwell securely in the islands: and they shall know that I am the Lord. 7 And my holy name will I make known in the midst of my people Israel; neither will I suffer my holy name to be profaned any more: and the nations shall know that I am the Lord, the Holy One in Israel.

Behold, it cometh, and it shall be known in the midst of my people Israel, and in the midst of the heathen, that I am the Lord; and my name will I make known in it, saith the Lord God, that I am the Lord.
they shall make fires of them seven years: so that they shall take no wood out of the field, neither cut down any out of the forests; for they shall make fires of the weapons: and they shall spoil those that spoiled them, and rob those that robbéd them, saith the Lord God.

11 And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will give unto Gog a place for burial in Israel, the valley of them that pass through 1 on the east of the sea: and it shall stop them that pass through: and there shall they bury Gog and all his multitude: and they shall call it The valley of Hamon-gog. 12 And seven months shall the house of Israel be burying of them, that they may cleanse the land. 13 Yea, all the people of the land shall bury them; and it shall be to them a renown, in the day that I shall make you known among the heathen, and among nations, and among all that are round about you, saith the Lord GOD.

15 And they shall set up a sign by it, and it shall be a proclaimed word unto the heathen: and they shall say, This is Gog, and these are they that pass through: and they shall bury Gog and all his multitude; they shall lay him in the deep valley of Hamon-gog. 16 And Hamonah shall also be the name of the city. Thus shall they cleanse the land.

17 And thou, son of man, thus saith the Lord GOD: Speak unto the birds of every sort, and to every beast of the field, Assemble yourselves, and come; gather yourselves on every side to my sacrifice that I do sacrifice for you, even a great sacrifice upon the mountains of Israel, that ye may eat flesh and drink blood. 18 Ye shall eat the flesh of the mighty, and drink the blood of the princes of the earth, of rams, and of lambs, and of goats, of bullocks, all of them fatlings of Bashan. 19 And ye shall eat fat till ye be full, and drink blood till ye be drunken, of my sacrifice which I have sacrificed for you. 20 And ye shall be filled at my table with horses and chariots, with mighty men, and with all men of war, saith the Lord God.
anc was 'like the appearance of brass, with a line of flax in his hand, and a measuring reed; and he stood in the gate. 4 And the man said unto me, 'Son of man, behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears, and set thine heart upon all that I shall shew thee; for to the intent that I might shew them unto thee art thou brought hither: 'declare all that thou seest to the house of Israel. 5 And behold, a wall on the outside of the house round about, and in the man's hand a measuring reed of six cubits long, 2 of a cubit and an hand breadth each: so he measured the thickness of the building, one reed; and the height, one reed. 6 Then came he unto the gate which I looked toward the east, and ™ went up the stepsthereof; and he measured the threshold of the gate, one reed broad: one reedy the other threshold, one reed broad. 7 And every 2 lodge was one reed long, and one reed broad; and the space between the lodges was five cubits; and the threshold of the gate by the porch of the gate toward the house was one reed. 8 He measured also the porch of the gate toward the house, one reed. 9 Then measured he the porch of the gate, eight cubits; 9 and the posts thereof, two cubits; and the porch of the gate was toward the house. 10 And the 5 lodges of the gate castward were three on this side, and three on that side; and the other three, one reed broad.

And he measured the breadth of the opening of the gate, ten cubits; and the length of the gate, thirteen cubits; 12 and a border before the lodges, one cubit was a gate to the inner court toward the south: and he measured from gate to gate toward the south an hundred cubits.

Then he brought me to the inner court by the south gate: and he measured the south gate according to these measures; and the lodges thereof, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, according to these measures: and there were windows in it and in the arches thereof round about: it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad. And there were arches round about, five and twenty cubits long, and five cubits broad. And the arches thereof were toward the outer court; and palm trees were upon the posts thereof: and the going up to it had eight steps. And he brought me into the inner court toward the east: and he measured the gate according to these measures; and the lodges thereof, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, according to these measures: and there were windows therein and in the arches thereof round about: it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad. And the arches thereof were toward the outer court; and palm trees were upon the posts thereof, on this side, and on that side: and the going up to it had eight steps. And he brought me to the north gate: and he measured it according to these measures; the lodges thereof, the posts thereof, and the arches thereof: and there were windows therein round about: the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits. And the posts thereof were toward the outer court; and palm trees were upon the posts thereof, on this side, and on that side: and the going up to it had eight steps. And a chamber with the door thereof was by the posts at the gates; there they washed the burnt offering. And in the porch of the gate were two tables on this side, and two tables on that side, to lay thereon the burnt offering and the sin offering and the guilt offering. And on the one side without, as one goeth up to the entry of the gate toward the north, were two tables; and on the other side, which belonged to the porch of the gate, were two tables. #Four tables were on this side, and four tables on that side, by the side of the gate; eight tables, whereupon they slew the sacrifices. And there were four tables for the burnt offering, of hewn stone, a cubit and an half long, and a cubit and an half broad, and one cubit high: whereupon they laid the instruments wherewith they slew the burnt offering and the sacrifice. And without the inner gate were chambers for the singers in the inner court, which was at the side of the north gate; and their prospect was toward the south: one at the side of the east gate having the prospect toward the north. And he said unto me, This chamber, whose prospect is toward the south, is for the priests, the keepers of the charge of the house. And the chamber whose prospect is toward the north is for the priests, the keepers of the charge of the altar: these are the sons of Zadok, which were of the Levites, to minister before the LORD; because they were hallowed, and went into the Most Holy Place of the house. And he measured the court, an hundred cubits long, and an hundred cubits broad, foursquare; and the altar was before the house.

Then he brought me to the porch of the house, and measured each post of the porch, five cubits on this side, and five cubits on that side: and the breadth of the gate was three cubits on this side, and three cubits on that side. The length of the porch was twenty cubits, and the breadth eleven cubits; even by the steps whereby they went up to it: and there were pillars by the posts, one on this side, and another on that side.
And he brought me to the temple, and measured the posts, six cubits broad on the one side, and six cubits broad on the other side, which was the breadth of the tabernacle.

And the breadth of the entrance was ten cubits; and the sides of the entrance were five cubits on the one side, and five cubits on the other side; and he measured the length thereof, forty cubits, and the breadth, twenty cubits.

Then went he inward, and measured each post of the entrance, two cubits: and the entrance, six cubits; and the breadth of the entrance, seven cubits.

And he measured the length thereof, twenty cubits, and the breadth, twenty cubits, before the temple: and he said unto me, This is the most holy place.

Then he measured the wall of the house, six cubits; and the breadth of every side-chamber, four cubits; round about the house on every side.

And the side-chambers were in three stories, one over another; and thirty in order; and they entered into the wall which belonged to the house for the side-chambers round about, that they might have hold therein, and not have hold in the wall of the house.

And the side-chambers were broader as they encompassed the house higher and higher; for the encompassing of the house went higher and higher round about the house: therefore the breadth of the house continued upward; and so one went up from the lowest chamber to the highest by the middle chamber.

I saw also that the house had a raised basement round about: the foundations of the side-chambers were a full reed of six great cubits.

The thickness of the wall, which was for the side-chambers, on the outside, was five cubits; and that which was left was the place of the side-chambers that belonged to the house.

And between the chambers was a breadth of twenty cubits round about the house on every side.

And the doors of the side-chambers were toward the place that was left, one door toward the north, and another door toward the south: and the breadth of the place that was left was five cubits round about.

And the building that was before the separate place at the side toward the west was seventy cubits broad; and the wall of the building was five cubits thick round about, and the length thereof ninety cubits.

So he measured the house, an hundred cubits long; and the separate place, and the building, with the walls thereof, an hundred cubits long; also the breadth of the face of the house, and of the separate place toward the east, an hundred cubits.

And he measured the length of the building before the separate place which was at the back thereof, and the galleries thereof on the one side and on the other side, an hundred cubits; and the inner temple, and the porches of the court; the thresholds, and the closed windows, and the galleries round about on their three stories, over against the threshold, cleft with wood round about, and from the ground up to the windows; now the windows were covered; to the space above the door, even unto the inner house, and without, and by all the wall round about within and without, by measure. And it was made with cherubim and palm trees; and a palm tree was between cherub and cherub, and every cherub had two faces; so that there was the face of a man toward the palm tree on the one side, and the face of a young lion toward the palm tree on the other side: thus was it made through all the house round about.

From the ground unto above the door were cherubim and palm trees made: thus was the wall of the temple. As for the doorposts, they were squared; and as for the face of the sanctuary, the appearance thereof was as the appearance of the temple. The altar was of wood, three cubits high, and the length thereof two cubits; and the corners thereof, and the length thereof, and the walls thereof, were of wood: and he said unto me, This is the table that is before the LORD. 23 And the temple and the sanctuary had two doors. 24 And the doors had two leaves apiece, two turning leaves; two leaves for the one door, and two leaves for the other. 25 And there were made on them, on the doors of the temple, cherubim and palm trees, like as were made upon the walls; and there were thick beams of wood upon the face of the porch without. 26 And there were closed windows and palm trees on the one side, and on the other side, on the sides of the porch: thus were the side-chambers of the house.

Then he brought me forth into the outer court, the way toward the north: and he brought me into the chamber that was over against the separate place, and which was over against the building toward the north. 3 Over against the twenty cubits which belonged to the outer court, was the bread Path of fifty cubits: and, lo, before the chambers, toward the outer court before the chambers, was a walk of ten cubits breadth inward, a way of one cubit; and their doors were toward the north. 5 Now the upper chambers were shorter: for the galleries took away from these, more than from the lower and the middlemost, in the building. 6 For they were in three stories, and they had not pillars as the pillars of the courts: therefore the uppermost was straitened more than the lowest and the middlemost from the ground. 7 And the wall that was without by the side of the chambers, toward the outer court before the chambers, the length thereof was fifty cubits. 8 For the length of the chambers that were in the outer court was fifty cubits: and, lo, before the temple were an hundred cubits.

9 And from under these chambers was the entry on the east side, as one goeth into them from the outer court. 10 In the thickness of the wall of the court toward the east, before the separate place, and before the building, there were chambers. 11 And the way before them was like the appearance of the way of the chambers which were toward the north; according to their length so was their breadth: and all their goings out were both according to their fashions, and according to their doors. 12 And according to the doors of the chambers that were toward the south was a door in the head of the way, even the way directly before the wall toward the east, as one entereth into them. 13 Then said he unto me, The north chambers and the south chambers, which are before the separate place, they be the holy chambers, where the priests that are near unto the LORD shall eat the most holy things: there shall they lay the most holy things, and the meal offering, and the sin offering, and the guilt offering; for the place is holy. 14 When the priests enter in, then shall they not go out of the holy place into the outer court, but there they shall lay their garments wherein they minister; for they are holy: and they shall put on other garments, and shall approach to that which pertaineth to the people.

15 Now when he had made an end of measuring the inner house, he brought me forth by the way of the gate whose prospect is toward the east, and measured about it. 16 He measured on the east side with the measuring reed, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed round about. 17 He measured on the north side, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed round about. 18 He measured on the south side, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed. 19 He turned about to the west side, and measured five hundred reeds with the measuring reed. 20 He measured it on the four sides: it had a wall round about, the length five hundred, and the breadth five hundred, to make a separation between that which was holy and that which was not holy.

holy and that which was common.

1 Afterward he brought me to the gate, even the gate that looketh toward the east:

2 And behold, the glory of the God of Israel came from the way of the east: and his voice was like the sound of many waters: and the earth shineth with his glory.

3 And it was according to the appearance of the vision which I saw, even according to the vision that I saw when I came to destroy the city; and the visions were like the vision that I saw by the river Chebar: and I fell upon my face. 4 And the glory of the Lord came into the house by the way of the gate, whose prospect is toward the east.

5 And the spirit took me up, and brought me into the inner court: and behold, the glory of the Lord filled the house. 6 And I heard one speaking unto me out of the house; and a man stood by me.

7 And he said unto me, Son of man, this is the place of my throne, and the place of the soles of my feet, where I will dwell in the midst of the children of Israel for ever: and the house of Israel shall no more defile my holy name, neither they, nor their kings, by their whoredom, and by the carcases of their kings in their high places; 8 in their setting of their threshold by my threshold, and their door post beside my door post, and there was but the wall between me and them; and they have defiled my holy name by their abominations which they have committed: wherefore I have consumed them in mine anger. 9 Now let them put away their whoredom, and the carcases of their kings, far from me, and I will dwell in the midst of them for ever.

10 Thou, son of man, shew the house to the house of Israel, that they may be ashamed of their iniquities: and let them measure the pattern. 11 And if they be ashamed of all that they have done, make known unto them the form of the house, and the fashion thereof, and the goings out thereof, and the comings in thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the laws thereof, and write it in their sight: that they may keep the whole form thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and do them. 12 This is the law of the house: upon the top of the mountain the whole limit thereof round about shall be most holy. Behold, this is the law of the house.

13 And these are the measures of the altar by cubits: (the cubit is a cubit and an handbreadth;) the bottom shall be a cubit, and the breadth a cubit, and the border thereof by the edge thereof round about about a span: and this shall be the base of the altar. 14 And from the bottom upon the ground to the lower settle shall be two cubits, and the breadth one cubit; and from the lesser settle to the greater settle shall be four cubits, and the breadth a cubit. 15 And the upper altar shall be four cubits; and from the altar hearth and upward there shall be four horns. 16 And the altar hearth shall be twelve cubits long by twelve broad, square in the four sides thereof. 17 And the settle shall be fourteen cubits long by fourteen broad in the four sides thereof; and the border about it shall be half a cubit; and the bottom thereof shall be a cubit about; and the steps thereof shall look toward the east.

18 And he said unto me, Son of man, thus saith the Lord God: These are the ordinances of the altar in the day when they shall make it, to offer burnt offerings thereon, and to sprinkle blood thereon. 19 Thou shalt give to the priests the Levites that be of the seed of Zadok, which are near unto me, to minister unto me, saith the Lord God, a young bullock for a sin offering. 20 And thou shalt take of the blood thereof, and put it on the four horns of it, and on the four corners of the settle, and upon the border round about: thus shalt thou cleanse it and make atonement for it. 21 Thou shalt also take the bullock of the sin offering, and he shall burn it in the appointed place of the house, without the sanctuary.
second day thou shalt offer a hegoth without blemish for a sin offering; and they shall cleanse the altar, as they did cleanse it with the bullock. 23 When thou hast made an end of cleansing it, thou shalt offer a young bullock without blemish, and a ram out of the flock without blemish. 24 And thou shalt bring them near before the LORD, and the priests shall cast salt upon them, and they shall offer them up for a burnt offering unto the LORD. 25 Seven days shalt thou prepare every day a goat for a sin offering: they shall also prepare a young bullock, and a ram out of the flock, without blemish. 26 Seven days shall they make atonement for the altar and purify it; so shall they consecrate it. 27 And when they have accomplished the days, it shall be that upon the eighth day, and forward, the priests shall make your burnt offerings upon the altar, and your peace offerings; and I will accept you, saith the Lord God.

Then he brought me back the way of the outer gate of the sanctuary, which looketh toward the east; and it was shut. 2 And the Lord said unto me, This gate shall be shut, it shall not be opened, neither shall any man enter in by it, for the Lord, the God of Israel, hath entered in by it; therefore it shall be shut. 3 As for the prince, he shall sit therein as prince to eat bread before the Lord; he shall enter by the way of the porch of the gate, and shall go out by the way of the same. 4 Then he brought me the way of the north gate before the house; and I looked, and beheld, the glory of the Lord filled the house of Israel, and I fell upon my face. 5 And the Lord said unto me, Son of man, mark well the entering in of the house of the Lord, and all the laws thereof; and mark well the entering in of the house, with every going forth of the sanctuary. 6 And thou shalt say unto the rebellious, even to the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God: O ye house of Israel, let it suffice you of all your abominations, 7 in that ye have brought in aliens, uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh, to be in my sanctuary, to profane it, even my house, when ye offer my bread, the fat and the blood, and they have broken my covenant, to add unto all your abominations. 8 And ye have not kept the charge of mine holy things: but ye have set keepers of my charge in my sanctuary for yourselves. 9 Thus saith the Lord God, No alien, uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh, shall enter into my sanctuary, of any alien that is among the children of Israel. 10 But the Levites that went far from me, when Israel went astray, which went astray from me after their idols; they shall bear their iniquity. 11 Yet they shall be ministers in my sanctuary, having oversight at the gates of the house, and ministering in the house: they shall slay the burnt offering and the sacrifice for the people, and they shall stand before them to minister unto them. 12 Because they ministered unto them before their idols, and became a stumblingblock of iniquity unto the house of Israel; therefore have I lifted up mine hand against them, saith the Lord God, and they shall bear their iniquity. 13 And they shall not come near unto me, to execute the office of priest unto me, nor to come near to any of my holy things, unto the things that are most holy: but they shall bear their shame, and their abominations which they have committed. 14 Yet will I make them keepers of the charge of the house, for all the service thereof, and for all that shall be done therein.

15 But the priests the Levites, the sons of Zadok, that kept the charge of my sanctuary when the children of Israel went astray from me, they shall come near to me to minister unto me; and they shall stand before me to offer unto me the fat and the blood, saith the Lord God: 16 they shall enter into my sanctuary, and they shall come near to my table, to minister unto me, and they shall keep my charge. 17 And it shall be that when they enter in at the gates of the inner court, they shall be clothed with linen garments; and no wool shall come upon them, while they minister in the gates of the inner court, and within. 18 They shall have linen tires upon their heads, and shall have linen breeches upon their loins; they shall not gird themselves with anything that causeth sweat.

19 And when they go forth into the outer court, even into the outer court to the people, they shall put off their garments wherein they minister, and lay them in the holy chambers, and they shall put on other garments, that they sanctify not the people with their garments. 20 Neither shall they shave their heads, nor suffer their locks to grow long; they shall only poll their heads.

21 Neither shall any priest drink wine, when they enter into the inner court. 22 Neither shall they take for their wives a widow, nor her that is put away: but they shall take virgins of the seed of the house of Israel, or a widow that is the widow of a priest. 23 And they shall teach my people the difference between the holy and the common, and cause them to discern between the unclean and the clean. 24 And in a controversy they shall stand to judge; according to my judgements shall they judge it: and they shall keep my laws and my statutes in all my appointed feasts; and they shall hallow my sabbaths.

Moreover, when ye shall divide by lot the land for inheritance, ye shall offer an oblation unto the Lord: an holy portion of the land: the length shall be the length of five and twenty thousand reeds, and the breadth shall be six thousand: it shall be holy in all the border thereof round about. 2 Of this there shall be for the holy place five hundred in length by five hundred in breadth, square round about; and fifty cubits for the suburbs thereof round about.

3 And of this measure shall thou measure, a length of five and twenty thousand, and a breadth of ten thousand: and in it shall be the sanctuary, which is most holy. 4 It is an holy portion of the land; it shall be for the priests, the ministers of the sanctuary, which come near to minister unto the Lord; and it shall be a place for their houses, and an holy place for the sanctuary.

5 And five and twenty thousand in length, and ten thousand in breadth, shall be unto the Levites, the ministers of the house, for a possession unto themselves, for twenty chambers. 6 And ye shall appoint the possession of the city five thousand broad, and five and twenty thousand long, side by side with the oblation of the holy portion: it shall be for the whole house of Israel.

7 And whatsoever is for the prince shall be on the one side and on the other side of the holy oblation and of the possession of the city, in front of the holy oblation and in front of the possession of the city, on the west side westward, and on the east side eastward: and in length answerable unto one of the portions, from the west border unto the east border. 8 In the land it shall be to him for a possession in Israel: and my princes shall no more oppress my people; but they shall give the land to the house of Israel according to their tribes.

Thus saith the Lord God: Let it suffice you, O princes of Israel: remove violence and spoil, and execute judgment and justice; take away your exactions from my people, saith the Lord God.

Ye shall have just balances, and a just ephah, and a just bath.

The ephah and the bath shall be of one measure, that the bath may contain the tenth part of an homer, and the ephah the tenth part of a homer: the measure thereof shall be after the homer.

And the shekel shall be twenty gerahs: twenty shekels, five and twenty shekels, fifteen shekels, shall be your maneh.

This is the oblation that ye shall offer; the sixth part of an ephah from an homer of wheat, and ye shall give the sixth part of an ephah from an homer of barley; and the set portion of oil, of the bath of oil, shall be the tenth part of a bath out of the cor, which is ten baths, even an homer; for ten baths are an homer: 15 and one lamb of the flock, out of two hundred, from the fat pastures of Israel; for a meal offering, and for a burnt offering, and for peace offerings, to make atonement for them, saith the Lord God.

All the people of the land shall give unto this oblation for the prince in Israel.

And the prince shall enter by the way of the porch of the gate without, and shall stand by the post of the gate: then he shall prepare his burnt offering and his peace offerings, and shall worship at the threshold of the gate; then he shall go forth: but the gate shall not be shut until the evening.

And the seven days of the feast he shall prepare a burnt offering to the Lord, seven bullocks for a sin offering, and an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram, and an hin of oil to an ephah. And in the seventh month, in the fifteenth day of the month, in the feast, shall he do the like the seven days; according to the sin offering, according to the burnt offering, and according to the meal offering, and according to the oil.

Thus saith the Lord God: The gate of the inner court that looketh toward the east shall be shut the six working days; but on the sabbath day it shall be opened, and in the day of the new moon it shall be opened. And the prince shall enter by the way of the porch of the gate without, and shall stand by the post of the gate, and the priests shall prepare his burnt offering and his peace offerings, and he shall worship at the threshold of the gate; then he shall go forth: but the gate shall not be shut until the evening.

And the people of the land shall worship at the door of that gate before the Lord in the sabbaths and in the new moons.

Thus saith the Lord God: In the first month, in the first day of the month, thou shalt take a young bullock without blemish; and thou shalt cleanse the sanctuary. And the priest shall take of the blood of the sin offering, and put it upon the door posts of the house, and upon the four corners of the settle of the altar, and upon the posts of the gate of the inner court.

And so thou shalt do on the seventh day of the month for every one that errETH, and for him that is simple: so shall ye make atonement for the house. In the first month, in the fourteenth day of the month, ye shall have the passover, a feast of seven days; unleavened bread shall be eaten. And upon that day shall the prince prepare for himself and for all the people of the land a bullock for a sin offering. And the seven days of the feast he shall prepare a burnt offering to the Lord, seven bullocks for a sin offering, and an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram, and an hin of oil to an ephah. And in the seventh month, in the fifteenth day of the month, in the feast, shall he do the like the seven days; according to the sin offering, according to the burnt offering, and according to the meal offering, and according to the oil.

Thus saith the Lord God: In the first month, in the first day of the month, thou shalt take a young bullock without blemish; and thou shalt cleanse the sanctuary. And the priest shall take of the blood of the sin offering, and put it upon the door posts of the house, and upon the four corners of the settle of the altar, and upon the posts of the gate of the inner court.
bullock without blemish; and six lambs, and a ram; they shall be without blemish: and he shall prepare a meal offering, an ephah for the bullock, and an ephah for the ram, and for the lambs according as he is able, and an hin of oil to an ephah. And when the prince shall enter, he shall go in by the way of the porch of the gate, and he shall go forth by the way thereof. But when the people of the land shall come before the Lord in the appointed feasts, he that entereth by the way of the north gate to worship shall go forth by the way of the south gate: and he that entereth by the way of the south gate shall go forth by the way of the north gate: and he shall not return by the way of the gate whereby he came in, but shall go forth straight before him. And when the princes shall prepare a freewill offering, a burnt offering or peace offerings as a freewill offering unto the Lord, one shall open for him the gate that looketh toward the east: and he shall prepare his burnt offering and his peace offerings, as he doth on the sabbath day; then he shall go forth; and after his going forth one shall shut the gate. And thou shalt prepare a lamb of the first year without blemish for a burnt offering unto the Lord daily: morning by morning shalt thou prepare it. And thou shalt prepare a meal offering with it morning by morning, the sixth part of an ephah, and the third part of an hin of oil, to moisten the fine flour; a meal offering unto the Lord continually by a perpetual ordinance. Thus shall they prepare the lamb, and the meal offering, and the oil, morning by morning, for a continual burnt offering.

16 Thus saith the Lord God: If the prince give a gift unto any of his sons, it is his inheritance; it shall belong to his sons; it is their possession by inheritance. But if he give of his inheritance a gift to one of his servants, he shall be his to the year of liberty; then it shall return to the prince: but as for his inheritance, it shall be for his sons. Moreover the prince shall not take of the people's inheritance, to thrust them out of their possession; he shall give inheritance to his sons out of his own possession: that my people be not scattered every man from his possession.

19 Then he brought me through the entry, which was at the side of the gate, into the holy chambers for the priests, which looked toward the north: and behold, there was a place on the hinder part westward. And he said unto me, This is the place where the priests shall boil the guilt offering and the sin offering, where they shall bake the meal offering; that they bring them not forth into the outer court, to sanctify the people. Then he brought me forth into the outer court, and caused me to pass by the four corners of the court; and behold, in every corner of the court there was a court. In the four corners of the court there were courts six inclosed, forty cubits long and thirty broad: these four in the corners were of one measure. And there was a row of buildings round about in them, round about the four, and it was made with boiling places under the rows round about. Then said he unto me, These are the boiling houses, where the ministers of the house shall boil the sacrifice of the people. And he brought me back unto the door of the house; and behold, waters issued out from under the threshold of the house eastward, for the forefront of the house was toward the east: and the waters came down from under, from the right side of the house, on the south of the altar. Then brought he me out by the way of the gate northward, and led me round by the way without unto the outer gate, by the way of the gate that looketh toward the cast; and behold, there ran out waters on the right side. 3 When the man went forth eastward with the line in his hand, he measured a thousand cubits, and he caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the ankles. 4 Again he measured a thousand, and caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the knees. Again he measured a thousand, and caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the loins. 5 Afterward he measured a thousand; and it was a river that I could not pass through: for the waters were risen, waters to swim in, a river that could not be passed through. 6 And he said unto me, "Son of man, hast thou seen this? Then he brought me, and caused me to return to the bank of the river. 7 Now when I had returned, behold, upon the bank of the river were very many trees on the one side and on the other. 8 Then said he unto me, These waters issue forth toward the eastern region, and shall go down into the Arabah: and they shall go toward the sea; into the sea shall the waters go which were made to issue forth; and the waters shall be healed. 9 And it shall come to pass, that every living creature which swarmeth, in every place whither the rivers come, shall live; and there shall be a very great multitude of fish: for these waters are come thither, and the waters of the sea shall be healed, and every thing shall live wheresoever the river cometh. 10 And it shall come to pass, that fishes shall stand by it: from En-gedi even unto En-eglaim shall be a place for the spreading of nets; their fish shall be after their kinds, as the fish of the great sea, exceeding many. 11 But the miry places thereof, and the marshes thereof, shall not be healed; they shall be given up to salt. 12 And by the river upon the bank thereof, on this side and on that side, shall grow every tree for meat, whose leaf shall not wither, neither shall the fruit thereof fail: it shall bring forth new fruit every month, because the waters thereof issue out of the sanctuary: and the fruit thereof shall be for meat, and the leaf thereof for healing.

13 Thus saith the Lord God: This shall be the border, whereby ye shall divide the land for inheritance according to the twelve tribes of Israel: Joseph shall have portions. 14 And ye shall divide it, one as well as another; concerning the which I lifted up mine hand to give it unto your fathers: and this land shall fall unto you for inheritance.

15 And this shall be the border of the land: on the north side, from the great sea, by the way of Hethlon, unto the entering in of Bethhoron: 16 And eastward, from Bethhoron unto the borders of Seir, the land of Edom; this is the south side. 17 And the border from the sea shall be Hazar-enon at the border of Damascus, and the border of Hamath; and the land of Israel, shall be Jordan; from the north border unto the great sea shall ye measure. 18 And the east side, between Hauran and Damascus and Gilead, and the land of Israel, shall be Jordan; from the north border unto the great sea shall be Hazar-enon. This is the north side. 19 And the sea shall go toward the Philistines northward, to the enterings in of Hamath. This is the west side. 20 And the south side southward shall be the great sea, from the smith northward as far over against the entering in of Hamath. This is the south side. 21 And the sea shall go toward the Philistines, and shall come up against the enterings in of Egypt, unto the great sea. This is the south side southward. 22 And the west side shall be the great sea, from the south border as far over against the entrance of Hamath. This is the west side. 23 "So shall ye divide this land unto you according to the tribes of Israel.

24 And it shall come to pass, that ye shall divide it by lot for an inheritance unto you and to the strangers that sojourn among you, which shall beget children among you; and ye shall be unto you as the homeborn among the children of Israel; they shall have inheritance with you among the tribes of Israel. 25 And it shall come to pass, that in what tribe ye shall give him his inheritance, saith the Lord God.

48 Now these are the names of the tribes: from the north end, beside the way of Heth—ion to the entering in of Hamath, to Hazar-enanath at the border of Damascus, northward beside Hamath; and they shall have their sides east and west; Dan, one portion. 2 And by the border of Dan, from the east side unto the west side; Asher, one portion. 3 And by the border of Asher, from the east side even unto the west side; *Naphtali, one portion. 4 And by the border of Naphtali, from the east side unto the west side; *Manasseh, one portion. 5 And by the border of Manasseh, from the east side unto the west side; Ephraim, one portion. 6 And by the border of Ephraim, from the east side even unto the west side; Reuben, one portion. 7 And by the border of Reuben, from the east side unto the west side; Judah, one portion. 8 And by the border of Judah, from the east side unto the west side, shall be the oblation which ye shall offer, five and twenty thousand reeds in breadth, and in length as one of the portions, from the east side unto the west side: and the sanctuary shall be in the midst of it. 9 The oblation that ye shall offer unto the LORD shall be five and twenty thousand reeds in length, and ten thousand in breadth. 10 And for these, even for the priests, shall be the holy oblation; toward the north five and twenty thousand reeds in length, and toward the west ten thousand in breadth, and toward the south five and twenty thousand in length: and the sanctuary shall be in the midst thereof. 11 It shall be for the priests that are sanctified of the sons of Zadok, which have kept my charge; which went not astray when the children of Israel went astray, as the Levites went astray. 12 And it shall be unto them an oblation from the oblation of the land, a thing most holy, by the border of the Levites. 13 And answerable unto the border of the priests, the Levites shall have five and twenty thousand in length, and ten thousand in breadth: all the length shall be five and twenty thousand, and the breadth ten thousand. 14 And they shall not sell it, neither exchange it, nor shall the firstfruits of the land be alienated: for it is holy unto the LORD. 15 And the five thousand that are left in the breadth, in front of the five and twenty thousand, shall be for common use, for the city, for dwelling and for suburbs: and the city shall be in the midst thereof. 16 And these shall be the measures thereof; the north side four thousand and five hundred, and the south side four thousand and five hundred, and on the east side four thousand and five hundred, and the west side four thousand and five hundred. 17 And the city shall have suburbs; toward the north two hundred and fifty, and toward the south two hundred and fifty, and toward the east two hundred and fifty, and toward the west two hundred and fifty. 18 And the residue in the length, answerable unto the holy oblation, shall be ten thousand eastward, and ten thousand westward: and it shall be answerable unto the holy oblation; and the increase thereof shall be for food unto them that labour in the city. 19 And they that labour in the city, out of all the tribes of Israel, shall till it. 20 All the oblationshall be five and twenty thousand by five and twenty thousand: yeshalloffer the holy oblation foursquare, with the possession of the city. 21 And the residuallshall be for the prince, on the one side and on the other of the holy oblation and of the possession of the city, in front of the five and twenty thousand of the oblation toward the east border, and westward in front of the five and twenty thousand toward the west border, answerable unto the portions, it shall be for the prince: *and the holy oblation and the sanctuary of the house shall be in the midst thereof. 22 Moreover from the possession of the Levites, and from the possession of the city, being in the midst of that which is the prince’s, between the border of Judah and the border of Benjamin, shall be for the prince. 23 And as for the rest of the tribes: from the east side unto the west side; Benjamin, one portion. 24 And by the border of Benjamin, from the east side unto the west... side; Simeon, one portion. 25 And by the border of Simeon, from the east side unto the west side; Issachar, one portion. 26 And by the border of Issachar, from the east side unto the west side; Zebulun, one portion. 27 And by the border of Zebulun, from the east side unto the west side; Gad, one portion. 28 And by the border of Gad, at the south side southward, the border shall be even from Tamar unto the waters of Meribath-kadesh, to the brook of Egypt, unto the great sea, 29 This is the land which ye shall divide by lot unto the tribes of Israel for inheritance, and these are their several portions, saith the Lord God. 30 And these are the goings out of the city; on the north side four thousand and five hundred reeds by measure; and three gates: the gate of Reuben, one; the gate of Judah, one; the gate of Levi, one; the gate of Benjamin, one; the gate of Dan, one; 33 and at the south side four thousand and five hundred reeds by measure; and three gates: the gate of Simeon, one; the gate of Issachar, one; the gate of Zebulun, one; 34 at the west side four thousand and five hundred reeds, with their three gates: the gate of Gad, one; the gate of Asher, one; the gate of Naphtali, one. 35 It shall be eighteenthousand reeds round about: and the name of the city from that day shall be, The Lord is there.

THE BOOK OF DANIEL.

I In the third year of the reign of Jehoiakim king of Judah came Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon unto Jerusalem, and besieged it. 2 And the Lord gave Jehoiakim king of Judah into his hand, with part of the vessels of the house of God: and he carried them into the land of Shinarto the house of his god: and he brought the vessels into the treasure house of his god. 3 And the king spake unto Ashpenaz the master of his eunuchs, that he should bring in certain of the children of Israel, even of the seed royal and of the nobles; 4 youths in whom was no blemish, but well favoured, and 5 skilful in all wisdom, and cunning in knowledge, and understanding science, and such as had such ability to stand in the king's palace; and that he should teach them the learning and the tongue of the Chaldeans. 5 And the king appointed for them a daily portion of the king's meat, and of the wine which he drank, and that they should be nourished three years; that at the end there

The king answered and said to the Chaldeans, *The thing is gone from me: if ye make not known unto me the dream and the interpretation thereof, ye shall be *cut in pieces; *and your *houses shall be made a dunghill. 6 But if ye shew me the dream and the interpretation thereof, *ye shall receive of me gifts and rewards and great honour: *therefore shew me the dream and the interpretation thereof. 7 They answered the second time and said, Let the king tell his servants the dream, and we will shew the interpretation. 8 The king answered and said, I know of a certainty that ye would *argue time, because ye see *the thing is gone from me. 9 But if ye make not known unto me the dream, *there is but one law for you: for ye have prepared lying and corrupt words to speak before me, till *the time be changed: *therefore tell me the dream, and I shall know that ye can shew me the interpretation thereof. 10 The Chaldeans answered before the king, and said, There is not a man upon the earth that can shew the king's matter: forasmuch as no king, *lord, nor ruler, hath asked such a thing of any magician, or enchanter, or Chaldean, 11 And it is a rare thing that the king requireth, and there is none other that can shew it before the king, except *the gods, *whose dwelling is not with flesh. 12 For this cause the king was angry and *very furious, and *commanded to destroy all the wise men of Babylon. 13 So the decree went forth, and the wise men were to be slain; and they sought Daniel and his companions to be slain. 14 Then Daniel returned answer with counsel and prudence to Arioch the captain of the king's guard, which was gone forth to slay the wise men of Babylon; 15 And the king said unto them, I have dreamed a dream, and *my spirit is troubled to know the dream. 16 Then spake the Chaldeans to the king *in the Syrian language, *Oh king, live for ever: tell thy servants the dream, and we will shew the interpretation.
17 Then Daniel went to his house, and made the thing known to Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, his companions: and that they would desire mericies of the God of heaven concerning this secret; that Daniel and his companions should not perish with the rest of the wise men of Babylon. 19 Then was the secret revealed unto Daniel in a vision of the night. Then Daniel blessed the God of heaven. 20 Daniel answered and said, Blessed be the name of God for ever and ever: for wisdom and might are his: and he changeth the times and the seasons: he removeth kings, and setteth up kings: he giveth wisdom unto the wise, and knowledge to them that know understanding: he revealeth the deep and secret things: the knoweth what is in the darkness, and the light dwelleth with him. 23 I thank thee, and praise thee, O thou God of my fathers, who hast given me wisdom and might, and hast now made known unto me what we desir'd of thee: for thou hast made known unto us the king's matter. 24 Therefore Daniel went in unto Arioch, whom the king had appointed to destroy the wise men of Babylon: he went and said thus unto him: Destroy not the wise men of Babylon: bring me in before the king, and I will shew unto the king the interpretation.

25 Then Arioch brought Daniel before the king in haste, and said thus unto him, I have found a man of the children of the captivity of Judah, that will make known unto the king the interpretation. 26 The king answered and said to Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, Art thou able to make known unto me the dream which I have seen, and the interpretation thereof? 27 Daniel answered before the king, and said, The secret which the king hath demanded can neither wise men, enchanters, magicians, nor soothsayers, shew unto the king; but there is a God in heaven that revealeth secrets, and he hath made known to the king Nebuchadnezzar what shall be in the latter days. Thy dream, and the visions of thy head upon thy bed, are these: as for thee, O king, thy thoughts came into thy mind upon thy bed, what should come to pass hereafter: and he that revealeth secrets hath made known to thee what shall come to pass. 30 But as for me, this secret is not revealed to me for any wisdom that I have more than any living, but to the intent that the interpretation may be made known to the king, and that thou mayest know the thoughts of thy heart. 31 Thou, O king, sawest, and beheld a great image. This image, which was mighty, and whose brightness was excellent, stood before thee; and the aspect thereof was terrible. 32 As for this image, his head was of fine gold, his breast and his arms of silver, his belly and his thighs of brass, his legs of iron, his feet part of iron, and part of clay. 34 Thou sawest till that a stone was cut out without hands, which smote the image upon his feet that were of iron and clay, and brake them in pieces. 35 Then was the iron, the clay, the brass, the silver, and the gold, broken in pieces together, and became like the chaff of the summer threshing-floors; and the wind carried them away, that no place was found for them: and the stone that smote the image became a great mountain, and filled the whole earth. 36 This is the dream; and we will tell the interpretation thereof before the king. 37 Thou, O king, art a king of kings, unto whom the God of heaven hath given the kingdom, the power, and the strength, and the glory; and wheresoever the children of men dwell, the beasts of the field, and the fowls of the heaven hath he given into thine hand, and hath made thee to rule over them all: thou art the head of gold. 39 And after thee shall arise another kingdom inferior to thee; and another third kingdom of brass, which shall bear rule over all the earth. 40 And the fourth kingdom shall be strong as iron: forasmuch as iron breaketh in pieces and subdueth all things; and as iron that crusheth all these, shall it break in pieces and crush. 41 And whereas thou sawest the feet and toes, part of potters' clay, and part of iron, it shall be a divided kingdom; but there shall be in it of the strength of the iron, forasmuch as thou sawest the iron mixed with miry clay. 42 And as the toes of the feet were part of iron, and part of clay, so the kingdom shall be partly strong, and partly broken. 43 And whereas thou sawest the iron mixed with miry clay, they shall mingle themselves with the seed of men; but they shall not cleave one to another, even as iron doth not mingle with clay. 44 And in the days of those kings shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom, which shall never be destroyed, nor shall the sovereignty thereof be left to another people; but it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand for ever. 45 Forasmuch as thou sawest that a stone was cut out of the mountain without hands, and that it brake in pieces the iron, the brass, the clay, the silver, and the gold; the great God hath made known to the king what shall come to pass hereafter: and the dream is certain, and the interpretation thereof sure. 46 Then the king Nebuchadnezzar fell upon his face, and worshipped Daniel, and commanded that they should offer an oblation and sweet odours unto him. 47 The king answered unto Daniel, and said, Of a truth thy God is the God of gods, and the Lord of kings, and a revealer of secrets, seeing thou hast been able to reveal this secret. 48 Then the king made Daniel great, and gave him many great gifts, and made him to rule over the whole province of Babylon, and to be chief governor over all the wise men of Babylon. 49 And Daniel requested of the king, and he appointed Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, over the affairs of the province of Babylon: but Daniel was in the gate of the king.

Nebuchadnezzar the king made an image of gold, whose height was three score cubits, and the breadth thereof six cubits: he set it up in the plain of Dura, in the province of Babylon. 2 Then Nebuchadnezzar the king sent to gather together the satraps, the deputies, and the governors, the judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, to come to the dedication of the image which Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up. 3 Then he satraps, the deputies, and the governors, the judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, were gathered together unto the dedication of the image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up; and they stood before the image that Nebuchadnezzar had set up. 4 Then the herald cried aloud, To you it is commanded, O peoples, nations, and languages, 5 that at what time ye hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, dulcimer, and all kinds of music, ye fall down and worship the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king hath set up: 6 and whose falleth not down and worshippeth shall the same hour be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace. 7 Therefore at that time, when all the peoples heard the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and all kinds of music, all the peoples, the nations, and the languages, fell down and worshipped the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up. 8 Wherefore at that time certain Chaldeans came near, and brought accusation against the Jews. 9 They answered and said to Nebuchadnezzar the king, O king, live for ever. 10 Thou, O king, hast made a decree, that every man that shall hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all kinds of music, shall fall down and worship the golden image: 11 and whose falleth not down and worshippeth, shall be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace. 12 There are certain Jews whom thou hast appointed over the affairs of the province of Babylon, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego; these men, O king, have not regarded thee: they serve not thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up. 13 Then Nebuchadnezzar was in his rage and fury commanded to bring Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. Then they brought these men before the king. 14 Nebuchadnezzar answered and said unto them, Is it of purpose, O Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, that ye serve not my god, nor worship the golden image which I have set up? 15 Now if ye be ready that at what time ye hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all kinds of music, ye fall down and worship the image which I have made, well: but if ye worship not, ye shall be cast the same hour into the midst of a burning fiery furnace; and 16 who is that god that shall deliver you out of my hands? 16 Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, answered and said to the king, O Nebuchadnezzar, we have no need to answer thee in this matter. 17 If it be so, our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace; and he will deliver us out of thine hand, O king. 18 But if not, let it be known unto thee, O king, that we will not serve thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast stet up. 19 Then was Nebuchadnezzar full of fury, and the form of his visage was changed against Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego: therefore he spake, and commanded that they should heat the furnace seven times more than it was wont to be heated. 20 And he commanded certain mighty men that were in his army to bind Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, and to cast them into the burning fiery furnace. 21 Then these men were bound in their hosen, their tunics, and their mantles, and their other garments, and were cast into the midst of the burning fiery furnace. 22 Therefore because the king's commandment was urgent, and the furnace exceeding hot, the flame of the fire slew those men that took up Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego. 23 And these three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, fell down bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace. 24 Then Nebuchadnezzar the king was astonished, and rose up in haste: he spake and said unto his counsellors, Did not we cast three men bound into the midst of the fire? They answered and said unto the king, True, O king. 25 He answered and said, Lo, I see four men loose, walking in the midst of the fire, and they have no hurt; and the aspect of the fourth is like a son of the gods. 26 Then Nebuchadnezzar came near to the mouth of the burning fiery furnace: he spake and said, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, ye servants of the Most High God, come forth, and come hither. Then Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, came forth out of the midst of the fire. 27 And the satraps, the deputies, and the governors, and the king's counsellors, being gathered together, saw these men, that the fire had no power upon their bodies, nor was the hair of their head singed, neither were their hosen changed, nor had the smell of fire passed on them. 28 Nebuchadnezzar spake and said, Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, who hath sent this angel, and delivered his servants that trusted in him, and have changed the king's word, and have yielded their bodies, that they might not serve nor worship any god, except their own God. 29 Therefore I make a decree, that every people, nation, and language, which speak any thing amiss against the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, shall be cut in pieces, and their houses shall be made a dunghill: because there is no other god that is able to deliver after this sort. 30 Then the king promoted Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, in the province of Babylon.

made me afraid; and the thoughts upon my bed and 'the visions of my head troubled me. Therefore I made a decree to bring in all the wise men of Babylon before me, that they might make known unto me the interpretation of the dream. 7 Then came in the magicians, the enchanters, the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers: and I told the dream before them; but 'they did not make known unto me the interpretation thereof. 8 But at the last Daniel came in before me, whose name was 'Belteshazzar, according to the name of my god, and in whom is 'the spirit of the holy gods: and I told the dream before him, saying, 9 O Belteshazzar, 'master of the magicians, because I know that 'the spirit of the holy gods is in thee, and no 'secret troubleth thee, tell me 'the visions of my dream that I have seen, and the interpretation thereof. 10 Thus were the visions of my head upon my bed: I saw, and behold a tree in the midst of the earth, and the height thereof was great, 11 'The tree grew, and was strong, and the height thereof reached unto heaven, and the sight thereof to the end of all the earth. 12 'The leaves thereof were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all: the beasts of the field dwelt, and upon whose branches the fowls of the heaven had their habitation; 13 'the tree was great, and was strong, whose height reached unto the heaven, and the sight thereof to the end of all the earth. 14 'The leaves thereof were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all; under which the beasts of the field dwelt, and upon whose branches the fowls of the heaven had their habitation: 15 'The king saw a watcher and an holy one coming down from heaven, and destroy it; nevertheless leave the stump of the roots thereof in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field; and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts of the field, till seven times pass over him; 16 this is the interpretation, O king, and it is the decree of the Most High, which is come upon my lord the king: 17 therefore let the wise men be driven from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field, and thou shalt be made to eat grass as oxen, and shalt be wet with the dew of heaven, and seven times shall pass over thee; till thou know that the Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will. 26 And whereas they commanded to leave the stump of the tree roots: thy kingdom shall be sure unto thee, after that thou shalt have known that the heavens do support. 27 Wherefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable unto thee, and break off thy sins by righteousness, and thine iniquities by shewing mercy to the poor; if there may be a lengthening of thy tranquillity. 28 All this came upon the king Nebuchadnezzar. 29 At the end of twelve months he was walking in the royal palace of Babylon. 30 The king spake and said, Is not this great Babylon, which I have built for the royal dwelling place, by the might of my power and for the glory of my majesty? 31 While the word was in the king's mouth, there fell a voice from heaven, saying, O king Nebuchadnezzar, to thee it is spoken: the kingdom is departed from thee. 32 And thou shalt be driven from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field; thou shalt be made to eat grass as oxen, and seven times shall pass over thee; until thou know that the Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will. 33 The same hour was the thing fulfilled upon Nebuchadnezzar: and he was driven from men, and did eat grass as oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven, till his hair was grown like eagles' feathers, and his nails like birds' daws. 34 And at the end of the days I Nebuchadnezzar lifted up mine eyes unto heaven, and mine understanding returned unto me; and I blessed the Most High, and I praised and honoured him that liveth forever; for his dominion is an everlasting dominion, and his kingdom from generation to generation: 35 and all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing: and he doeth according to his will in the army of heaven, and among the inhabitants of the earth: and none can stay his hand, or say unto him, What doest thou? 36 At the same time mine understanding returned unto me; and for the glory of my king-Chap. 5, v. 9.] DANIEL.

"Lords were perplexed. 10 Now the queen by reason of the words of the king and his lords came into the banquet house: the queen spake and said, "O king, live for ever; let not thy thoughts trouble thee; nor let thy countenance be changed: 11 there is a man in thy kingdom, in whom is the spirit of the holy gods; and in the days of thy father light and understanding and wisdom, like the wisdom of the gods, was found in him: and the king Nebuchadnezzar thy father, 1 the king, I say, thy father, made him master of the magicians, enchanters, Chaldeans, and soothsayers; 12 forasmuch as much as an excellent spirit, and knowledge, and understanding, interpreting of dreams, and shewing of dark sentences, and dissolving of doubts, were found in the same Daniel, 2 whom the king named Belteshazzar. Now let Daniel be called, and he will shew the interpretation.

13 Then was Daniel brought in before the king. The king spake and said unto Daniel, Art thou that Daniel, which art of the children of the captivity of Judah, whom the king my father brought out of Judah? 14 I have heard of thee, that the spirit of the gods is in thee, and that light and understanding and excellent wisdom is found in thee. 15 And now the wise men, the enchanters, have been brought in before me, that they should read this writing, and make known unto me the interpretation thereof: but they could not shew the interpretation of the thing. 16 But I have heard of thee, that thou canst read interpretations, and dissolve doubts; now if thou canst read the writing, and make known to me the interpretation thereof, "thou shalt be clothed with purple, and have a chain of gold about thy neck, and shalt be the third ruler in the kingdom.

17 Then Daniel answered and said before the king, 18 Let thy gifts be to thyself, and give thy rewards to another; nevertheless I will read the writing unto the king, and make known to him the interpretation. 19 O thou king, the Most High God gave Nebuchadnezzar thy father 2 the kingdom, and great- ness, and glory, and majesty; 20 and because of the greatness that he gave him, all the peoples, nations, and languages trembled and feared before him: whom he would he slew, and whom he would he kept alive; and whom he would he raised up, and whom he would he put down. 21 But when his heart was lifted up, and his spirit was hardened that he dealt proudly, he was deposed from his kingly throne, and they took his glory from him: 22 and he was driven from the sons of men; and his heart was made like the beasts, and his dwelling was with the wild asses; he was fed with grass like oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven: until he knew that the Most High God ruleth in the kingdom of men, and that he setteth up over it whomsoever he will.

23 And thou his son, O Belshazzar, hast not humbled thine heart, though thou knowest all this; 24 but hast lifted up thyself against the Lord of heaven; and they have brought the vessels of his house before thee, and thou and thy lords, thy wives and thy concubines, have drunk wine in them; 25 and thou hast praised the gods of silver, and gold, of brass, iron, wood, and stone, which see not, nor hear, nor know: 26 Jarchi: and the God in whose hand thy breath is, and whose are all thy ways, hast thou not glorified; 27 hast thou not glorified: 28 forasmuch as much as God hath numbered the kingdom of men, and divided, and given to the Medes and Persians. 29 Then commanded Belshazzar, and they clothed Daniel with purple, and put a chain of gold about his neck, and made proclamation concerning him, 2 that he should be the third ruler in the kingdom. 30 In that night Belshazzar the Chaldean king was slain. 31 And Darius the Medo received the kingdom, being about three-score and two years old.

6 It pleased Darius to set over the kingdom an hundred and twenty satraps, which should be throughout the whole kingdom; and over them three presidents, of whom Daniel was one; that these satraps might give account unto them, and that the king should have no damage. Then this Daniel was distinguished above the presidents and satraps, because an excellent spirit was in him; and the king thought to set him over the whole realm. Then the presidents and satraps sought to find occasion against Daniel as touching the kingdom; but they could find none occasion nor fault; forasmuch as he was faithful, neither was there any error or fault found in him. Then said these men, We shall not find any occasion against this Daniel, except we find something against him, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not. Then answered they and said before the king, That Daniel, which is of the children of the captivity of Judah, regardeth not thee, O king, nor the interdict that thou hast signed, but maketh his petition three times a day. Then the king, when he heard these words, was sore displeased, and set his heart on Daniel to deliver him: and he laboured till the going down of the sun to rescue him. Then these men assembled together unto the king, and said unto the king, Know, O king, that it is a law of the Medes and Persians, that no interdict nor statute which the king establisheth may be changed.

And the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the den of lions. Now the king spake and said unto Daniel, Thy God whom thou servest continually, he will deliver thee from the lions. Daniel answered and said before the king, O king Darius, live for ever. My God hath shut the lions' mouths, and they have not hurt me: forasmuch as before me. And a stone was brought, and laid upon the mouth of the den; and the king sealed it with his own signet, and with the signet of his lords; that nothing might be changed concerning Daniel. Then the king went to his palace, and passed the night fasting: neither were instruments of music brought before him: and his sleep fled from him. Then the king arose very early in the morning, and went in haste unto the den of lions. And when he came near unto the den to Daniel, he cried with a lamentable voice: the king spake and said to Daniel, O Daniel, servant of the living God, is thy God, whom thou servest continually, able to deliver thee from the lions? Daniel answered and said to the king, O king, live for ever. My God hath sent his angel, and hath shut the lions' mouths, and they have not hurt me: forasmuch as before me my innocence was found in me; and also before thee, O king, have I done no hurt. Then was the king exceeding glad, and commanded that they should take Daniel up out of the den. So Daniel was taken up out of the den, and no manner of hurt was found upon him, because he had trusted in his God. 24 And the king commanded, and they brought those men which had accused Daniel, and they cast them into the den of lions, them, their children, and their wives; and the lions had the mastery of them, and brake all their bones in pieces, or ever they came at the bottom of the den.

25 Then king Darius wrote unto all the peoples, nations, and languages, that dwell in all the earth; 2 Peace be multiplied unto you. 26 I make a decree, that in all my kingdom men tremble and fear before the God of Daniel: for he is the living God, and steadfast for ever, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed, and his dominion shall be even unto the end: 27 he delivereth and rescueth, and he worketh signs and wonders in heaven and on earth; who hath delivered Daniel from the power of the lions. 28 So this Daniel prospered in the reign of Darius, and in the reign of Cyrus the Persian.

7 In the first year of Belshazzar king of Babylon Daniel had a dream and visions of his head upon his bed: then he wrote the dream and told the sum of the matters. 2 Daniel spake and said, I saw in my vision by night, and, behold, four winds of the heaven brake forth upon the great sea. 3 And four great beasts came up from the sea, diverse one from another. 4 The first was like a lion, and had eagle’s wings: I beheld the wings thereof were plucked, and it was lifted up from the earth, and made to stand upon two feet as a man, and a man’s heart was given to it. 5 And behold another beast, a second, like to a bear, and it was raised up on one side, and three ribs were in his mouth between his teeth: and they said thus unto it, Arise, devour much flesh. 6 After this I beheld, and, lo another, like a leopard, which had upon the back of it four wings of a fowl; the beast had also four heads; and a dominion was given to it. 7 After this I saw in the night visions, and beheld a fourth beast, terrible and strong exceedingly; and it had great iron teeth: it devoured and brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with his feet: and it was diverse from all the beasts that were before it; and it had ten horns. 8 I considered the horns, and, behold, there came up among them another horn, a little one, before which three of the first horns were plucked up by the roots: and, behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of a man, and a mouth speaking great things. 9 I beheld till thrones were placed, and one that was ancient of days did sit: his raiment was white as snow, and the hair of his head like pure wool; his throne was fiery flames, and the wheels thereof burning fire. 10 A fiery stream issued and came forth from before him: thousand thousands ministered unto him, and ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him: the judgement was set, and the books were opened. 11 I beheld at that time because of the voice of the great words which the horn spake; I beheld even till the beast was slain, and his body destroyed, and he was given to be burned with fire. 12 And as for the rest of the beasts, their dominion was taken away: yet their lives were prolonged for a season and a time. 13 I saw in the night visions, and behold, there came with the clouds of heaven one like unto a son of man, and he came even to the ancient of days, and they brought him near before him. 14 And there was given him dominion, and glory, and a kingdom, that all the peoples, nations, and languages should serve him: his dominion is an everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away, and his kingdom that shall not be destroyed. 15 As for me Daniel, my spirit was grieved in the midst of my body, and the visions of my head troubled me. 16 I came near unto one of them that stood by, and asked him the truth concerning all this. So he told me, and made me know the interpretation of the things. 17 These great beasts, which are four, are four kings, which shall arise out of the earth. 18 But the saints of the Most High shall receive the kingdom, and possess the kingdom for ever, even for ever and ever. 19 Then I desired to know the truth concerning the fourth beast, which was diverse from all of them, exceeding terrible, whose teeth were of iron, and his nails of brass; which devoured, brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with his feet; 20 and concerning the ten horns that were on his head, and the other horn which came up, and before which three fell; even that horn that had eyes, and a mouth that spake great things, whose look was more stout than his fellows. 21 I beheld, and the same horn made war with the saints, and prevailed against them; 22 until the ancient of days came, and judgment was given to the saints of the Most High; and the time came that the saints possessed the kingdom. 23 Thus he said, ‘The fourth beast shall be a fourth kingdom upon earth, which shall be diverse from all the kingdoms, and shall devour the whole earth, and shall tread it down, and break it in pieces. 24 And for the ten horns, out of this kingdom shall ten kings arise: and another shall arise after them; and he shall be diverse from the former, and he shall put down three kings. 25 And he shall speak words against the Most High, and shall wear out the saints of the Most High: and he shall think to change the times and the law; and they shall be given into his hand until a time and times and half a time. 26 But the judgment shall sit, and they shall take away his dominion, to consume and to destroy it unto the end. 27 And the kingdom and the dominion, and the greatness of the kingdoms under the whole heaven, shall be given to the people of the saints of the Most High: his kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and all dominions shall serve and obey him. 28 'Here is the end of the matter. 'As for me Daniel, my thoughts much troubled me, and my countenance was changed in me: but 'I kept the matter in my heart.

8 In the third year of the reign of Belshazzar a vision appeared unto me, even unto me Daniel, after that which appeared unto me at the first. 2 And I saw in the vision; now it was so, that when I saw, I was in 'Shushan the palace, which is in the province of 'Elam; and I saw in the vision, and I was by the river Ulai. 3 Then I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold, there stood before the river a ram which had two horns: and the two horns were high; but one was higher than the other, and the higher came up last. 4 I saw the ram pushing westward, and northward, and southward; and no beasts could stand before him, neither was there any that could deliver out of his hand; but he did according to his will, and magnified himself. 5 And as I was considering, behold, an he-goat came from the west over the face of the whole earth, and touched not the ground: and the goat had a notable horn between his eyes. 6 And he came to the ram that had the two horns, which I saw standing before the river, and ran upon him in the fury of his power. 7 And I saw him come close unto the ram, and he was moved with choler against him, and smote the ram, and brake his two horns; and there was no power in the ram to stand before him: but he cast him down to the ground, and trampled upon him; and there was none that could deliver out of his hand. 8 And the he-goat magnified himself exceedingly: and when he was strong, the great horn was broken; and instead of it there came up four notable horns toward the four winds of heaven. 9 And out of one of them came forth a little horn, which waxed exceeding great, toward the south, and toward the east, and toward the glorious land. 10 And it waxed great, even to the host of heaven; and some of the host of the stars it cast down to the ground, and trampled upon them. 11 Yea, it magnified itself, even to the prince of the host; and it took away from him the continual burnt offering, and the place of his sanctuary was cast down. 12 And the host was given over to it together with the continual burnt offering through transgression; and it cast down truth to the ground, and it did its pleasure and prospered. 13 Then I heard a holy one speaking; and another holy one said unto that certain one which spake, How long shall be the vision concerning the continual burnt offering, and the transgression that maketh desolate, to give both the sanctuary and the host to be trodden under foot? 14 And he said unto me, Unto two thousand and three hundred evenings and mornings; then shall the sanctuary be cleansed.

15 And it came to pass, when I, even I Daniel, had seen the vision, that I sought to understand it; and, behold, there stood before me as the appearance of a man. 16 And I heard a man's voice between the banks of Ulai, which called, and said, Gabriel, make this man to understand the vision. 17 So he came near where I stood; and when he came, I was afraid, and fell upon my face: but he touched me, and set me up. 18 And he said, Behold, I will make thee know what shall be in the latter time of the end. 19 Now as he was speaking with me, I fell into a deep sleep with my face toward the ground: but he touched me, and set me upright. 20 And he said, Behold, I will make thee know what shall be in the latter time of the end of the indignation: for it belongeth to many days to come,

19 In the first year of Darius the son of Ahasuerus, of the seed of the Medes, which was made king over the realm of the Chaldeans; 2 in the first year of his reign I Daniel understood by the books the number of the years, whereof the word of the Lord came to Jeremiah the prophet, for the accomplishing of the desolations of Jerusalem, even seventy years. 3 And I set my face unto the Lord God, to make confession, and said, O Lord, the great and dreadful God, the king of kings, the Lord of lords, of all the earth, and thou hast made thy name great, as it is this day. 4 And I prayed unto the Lord my God, and made confession, and said, XO Lord, the great and dreadful God, which keepest covenant and mercy with them that love him and keep his commandments, 5 we have sinned, and transgressed against thee, and have done amiss in thy sight, to the profit of the enemies of thy people, which have despised thy name. 6 For, behold, the heathen have taken our goods away from thy temple, 7 and have cast their idols into the house which is called the temple of thy name. 8 And they have corrupted thy covenant with strangers of every sort, and have polluted thy land with their filthiness, in the midst thereof. 9 O Lord, remember how I stood before thee to make thy words understood, 10 and how I did after the word of thy mouth, and how I feared thy name, both when the king's commandment was given, and when it was required of me according to the law of thy people.

9 The people of the land made this treasure of silver and gold to be given to the king of Babylonia. 2 And the king gave orders, and they gave it in the king's name, to the people of the land. 3 And they made a king over them, and they made them live after the manner of the heathen, and they made them gods of silver and gold, in the likeness of the heathen. 4 And they went aside from the covenant of the Lord, and they did the things that were not fit, and they provoked him to anger by their sins. 5 And the Lord did not let the king of Babylonia give ear to his words, but he hardened his heart, and would not hear the words of the Lord God. 6 And the Lord did not deal with him according to his will, but he gave him over to the hands of the enemies, who did with him as they pleased. 7 And the Lord chose a king over the land, who made a covenant of peace, and who made the people of the land live in peace. 8 And the people of the land were obedient to the king, and they did the things that were fit, and they feared the Lord God. 9 And the king gave orders, and they gave it in the king's name, to the people of the land. 10 And they made a king over them, and they made them live after the manner of the heathen, and they made them gods of silver and gold, in the likeness of the heathen. 11 And they went aside from the covenant of the Lord, and they did the things that were not fit, and they provoked him to anger by their sins. 12 And the Lord did not let the king of Babylonia give ear to his words, but he hardened his heart, and would not hear the words of the Lord God. 13 And the Lord did not deal with him according to his will, but he gave him over to the hands of the enemies, who did with him as they pleased. 14 And the Lord chose a king over the land, who made a covenant of peace, and who made the people of the land live in peace. 15 And the people of the land were obedient to the king, and they did the things that were fit, and they feared the Lord God. 16 And the king gave orders, and they gave it in the king's name, to the people of the land. 17 And they made a king over them, and they made them live after the manner of the heathen, and they made them gods of silver and gold, in the likeness of the heathen. 18 And they went aside from the covenant of the Lord, and they did the things that were not fit, and they provoked him to anger by their sins. 19 And the Lord did not let the king of Babylonia give ear to his words, but he hardened his heart, and would not hear the words of the Lord God. 20 And the Lord did not deal with him according to his will, but he gave him over to the hands of the enemies, who did with him as they pleased. 21 And the Lord chose a king over the land, who made a covenant of peace, and who made the people of the land live in peace. 22 And the people of the land were obedient to the king, and they did the things that were fit, and they feared the Lord God.
as at this day; to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and unto all Israel, that are near, and that are far off, through all the countries whither thou hast driven them, because of their trespass that they have trespassed against thee. 2 O Lord, to us be longeth confusion of face, to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because we have sinned against thee. 3 To the Lord our God belong mercies and forgiven esses; 1 for we have rebelled against him; 10 neither have we obeyed the voice of the Lord our God, to walk in his laws, which he set before us by his servants the prophets. 11 Yea, all Israel have transgressed thy law, even turning aside, 1 that they should not obey thy voice: therefore hath the curse been poured out upon us, and the oath 1 that is written in the law of Moses the servant of God; for we have sinned against him. 12 And he hath confirmed his words, which he spake against us, and against our judges that judged us, by bringing upon us great evil: for we have not obeyed his voice. 13 As it is written in the law of Moses, all this evil is come upon us: 1 yet have we not intreated the favour of the Lord our God, 1 that we should turn from our iniquities, and 2 have discernment in thy truth. 14 Therefore hast the Lord watched over the evil, and brought it upon us: 1 for the Lord our God is righteous in all his works which he doeth, and we have not obeyed his voice. 15 And now, 3 O Lord our God, 3 that hast brought thy people forth out of the land of Egypt 3 with a mighty hand, and 3 hast given thee renown, as at this day; 3 we have sinned, we have done wickedly. 16 O Lord, 3 according to all thy righteousness, 3 let thine anger and thy fury, I pray thee, be turned away from thy city Jerusalem, thy holy mountain: 3 because for our sins, and for the iniquities of our fathers, 3 Jerusalem and thy people are become a reproach to all that are round about us. 17 Now therefore, O our God, hearken unto the prayer of thy servant, and to his supplications, and 3 cause thy face to shine upon the sanctuary that is desolate, for the Lord’s sake. 18 O my God, incline thine ear, and hear; open thine eyes, and behold our desolations, and the city which is called by thy name: 3 for we do not present our supplications before thee for our righteousness, but for thy great mercies. 19 O Lord, hear; O Lord, forgive; O Lord, hearken and do; 3 defer not; 3 for thine own sake, O my God, because 3 thy city and 3 thy people are called by thy name.

20 And whiles I was speaking, and praying, and confessing my sin and the sin of my people Israel, and presenting my supplication before the Lord my God for the holy mountain of my God; 21 yea, whiles I was speaking in prayer, the man Gabriel, whom I had seen in the vision at the beginning, 3 being caused to fly swiftly, 3 touched me about the time of the evening oblation. 22 And he 7 instructed me, and talked with me, and said, O Daniel, I am now come forth to make thee 8 skilful of understanding. 23 At the beginning of thy supplications the commandment went forth, 3 and I am come to tell thee; for thou art greatly beloved: therefore consider the matter, 3 and understand the vision. 24 Seventy weeks are decreed upon thy people and upon thy holy city, 9 to finish 10 transgression, and 11 to make an end of sins, 7 and to make reconciliation for iniquity, and 3 to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to seal up vision and prophecy, and 3 to anoint 14 the most holy. 25 Know therefore and discern, that 3 from the going forth of the commandment to restore and to build Jerusalem unto the anointed one, 3 the prince, shall be 16 seven weeks: and threescore and two, it shall be built again, with street and moat, 3 even in troublous times. 26 And 3 after the threescore and two weeks shall 3 the anointed one be cut off, and 11 shall have nothing: and the people of the prince that shall come shall destroy the city and the sanctuary; and his end shall be with a flood, and even unto the end shall be war; desolations are determined.

And he shall make a firm covenant with many for one week: and for the half of the week he shall cause the sacrifice and the oblation to cease; and upon the wing of abominations shall come one that maketh desolate; and even unto the consummation, and that determined, shall wrath be poured out upon the desolator.

In the third year of Cyrus king of Persia a thing was revealed unto Daniel, whose name was called Belteshazzar; and the thing was true, even a great warre: and he understood the thing, and had understanding of the vision.

In those days I Daniel was mourning three whole weeks. I ate no pleasant bread, neither came flesh nor wine in my mouth, neither did I anoint myself at all, till three whole weeks were fulfilled. And in the four and twentieth day of the first month, as I was by the side of the great river, which is Hiddekel, I lifted up my eyes, and looked, and behold a man clothed in linen, whose loins were girded with pure gold of Uphaz:

His body also was like the beryl, and his face as the appearance of lightning, and his eyes as lamps of fire, and his arms and his feet like in colour to burnished brass, and the voice of his words like the voice of a multitude.

And I Daniel alone saw the vision: for the men that were with me saw not the vision; but a great quaking fell upon them, and they fled to hide themselves. So I was left alone, and saw this great vision: and there remained no strength in me: for my comeliness was turned in me into corruption, and I retained no strength.

Yet I heard the voice of his words: and when I heard the voice of his words, then was I fallen into a deep sleep on my face, with my face toward the ground. And, behold, a hand touched me, which set me upon my knees and upon the palms of my hands. And he said unto me, O Daniel, great loved, understand the words that I speak unto thee, and stand up; for unto thee am I sent: and when he had spoken this word unto me, I stood trembling.

Then said he unto me, Fear not, Daniel; for from the first day that thou didst set thine heart to understand, and to humble thyself before thy God, thy words were heard: and I am come for thy words' sake. But the prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me one and twenty days; but, lo, Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me: and I remained there with the kings of Persia.

Now I am come to make thee understand what shall befall thy people in the latter days: for the vision is yet for many days.

And when he had spoken unto me according to these words, I set my face toward the ground, and was dumb. And, behold, one like the similitude of the sons of men touched my lips: then I opened my mouth, and spake and said unto him that stood before me, O my lord, by reason of the vision my sorrows are turned upon me, and I retain no strength.

For how can the servant of this my lord talk with this my lord? for as for me, straightway there remained no strength in me, neither was there breath left in me.

Then there touched me again one like the appearance of a man, and he strengthened me. And he said, O man greatly beloved, fear not: peace be unto thee, be strong, yea, be strong. And when he spake unto me, I was strengthened, and said, Let my lord speak; for thou hast strengthened me.

And he said, O man greatly beloved, fear not: peace be unto thee, be strong, yea, be strong. And when he spake unto me, I was strengthened, and said, Let my lord speak; for thou hast strengthened me.

And he said, Knowest thou wherefore I am come unto thee? and now will I return to fight with the prince of Persia: and when I go forth, lo, the prince of Greece shall come. But I will tell thee that which is inscribed in the writing of truth: and there is none that holdeth with me against these, but Michael your prince. 1 And as for me, in the first year of Darius the Mede, I stood up to confirm and strengthen him.

2 And now will I shew thee the truth. Behold, there shall stand up yet three kings in Persia; and the fourth shall be far richer than they all: and when he is waxed strong through his riches, he shall stir up all against the realm of Greece. 3 And a mighty king shall stand up, that shall rule with great dominion, and do according to his will. 4 And when he shall stand up, his kingdom shall be broken, and shall be divided toward the four winds of heaven; but not to his posterity, nor according to his dominion wherewith he ruled; for his kingdom shall be plucked up, even for others beside these.

5 And the king of the south shall be strong, and one of his princes; and he shall be strong above him, and have dominion; his dominion shall be a great dominion. 6 And at the end of years they shall join themselves together; and the daughter of the king of the south shall come to the king of the north to make an agreement: but she shall not retain the strength of her arm; neither shall he stand, nor his arm; but she shall be given up, and they that brought her, and he that begat her, and he that strengthened her in those times. 7 But out of a shoot from her roots shall one stand up in his place, which shall come unto the army, and shall enter into the fortress of the king of the north, and shall deal against them, and shall prevail: 8 and also their gods, with their molten images, and with their goodly vessels of silver and of gold, shall he carry captive into Egypt; and he shall refrain some years from the king of the north. 9 And he shall come into the realm of the king of the south, but he shall return into his own land. 10 And his sons shall war, and shall assemble a multitude of great forces, which shall come on and overflow, and pass through; and they shall return and war, even to his fortress. 11 And the king of the south shall be moved with choler, and shall come forth and fight with him, even with the king of the north: and he shall set forth a great multitude, and the multitude shall be given into his hand. 12 And the multitude shall be lifted up, and his heart shall be exalted: and he shall cast down tens of thousands, but he shall not prevail. 13 And the king of the north shall return, and shall set forth a multitude greater than the former; and he shall come on at the end of the times, even of years, with a great army and with much substance. 14 And in those times there shall many stand up against the king of the south: also the children of the violent among thy people shall lift themselves up to establish the vision; but they shall fall. 15 So the king of the north shall come, and cast up a mount, and take a well fenced city: and the arms of the south shall not withstand, neither his chosen people, neither shall there be any strength to withstand. 16 But he that cometh against him shall do according to his own will, and none shall stand before him: and he shall stand in the glorious land, and in his hand shall be destruction. 17 And he shall set his face to come with the strength of his whole kingdom, and upright ones with him; and he shall do his pleasure: and he shall give him the daughter of women, to corrupt her; but she shall not stand, neither be for him. 18 After this shall he turn his face toward the isles, and shall take many: but a prince shall cause the reproach offered by him to cease; yea, moreover, he shall cause his reproach to turn upon him. 19 Then he shall turn his face toward the fortresses of his own land: but he shall stumble and fall, and shall not be found.

20 Then shall stand up in his place one that shall cause an exactor to pass through the glory of the kingdom: but within few days he shall be destroyed, neither in anger, nor in battle.

21 And in his place shall stand up a contemptible person, to whom they had not given the honour of 1 Or, all this shall stir up the realm. 2 Heb. the kingdom: "but he shall come in time of security, and shall obtain the kingdom "by flatteries. 22 And with the arms of "a flood shall they be swept away from before him, and shall be broken; yea, also the prince of 1 the covenant. 23 And after the league made with him "he shall work deceitfully: for he shall come up, and shall become strong, with a small people. 24 "In time of security shall he come even upon *the fattest places of the province; and he shall do that which his fathers have not done, nor his fathers' fathers; "he shall scatter among them prey, and spoil, and substance: yea, he shall devise his devices against the strong holds, even for a time. 25 "And he shall stir up his power and his courage against 5 the king of the south with a great army; and the king of the south shall war in battle with an exceeding great and mighty army: but he shall not stand, for they shall devise devices against him. 26 Yea, they that eat of his 2 meat shall destroy him, and his army shall "overflow: "and many shall fall down slain. 27 And as for both these kings, their hearts shall be to do mischief, and they shall speak lies at one table: but it shall not prosper; for yet 4 the end shall be at the time appointed. 28 Then shall he return into his land "with great substance; and 5 his heart shall be against the holy covenant; and he shall do his pleasure, and return to his own land. 29 At the time appointed he shall return, and come into the south; but it shall not be in the latter time as it was in the former. 30 For ships of Kittim shall come against him; therefore he shall be grieved, and shall return, and 8 have indignation against the holy covenant, and 9 shall do his pleasure: he shall even return, and have regard unto them that 9 forsake the holy covenant. 31 And arms shall stand on his part, and 9 they shall profane the sanctuary, even the fortress, and 9 shall take away the continual burnt offering, and 9 they shall set up the abomination that maketh desolate. 32 And such as do wickedly against the covenant shall he 9 pervert by flatteries: but the people that know their God "shall be strong, and do exploits. 33 "And they that be wise among the people shall instruct many: 9 yet they shall fall by the sword and by flame, by captivity and by spoil, many days. 34 Now when they shall fall, they shall be holpen with a 9 little help: but many shall join themselves unto them with flatteries. 35 And some of 9 them that be wise shall fall, 9 to refine them, 9 and to purify, and 9 to make them white, even to 7 the time of the end: "because it is yet for the time appointed. 36 And the king shall 9 do according to his will; and 9 he shall exalt himself, and magnify himself above every god, 6 and shall speak marvellous things against 5 the God of gods: and 9 he shall prosper "till the indignation be accomplished; for 9 that which is determined shall be done. 37 Neither shall he regard the gods of his fathers, nor the desire of women, nor regard any god: for 9 he shall magnify himself above all. 38 But in his 7 place shall he honour the god of fortresses: and a god whom his fathers knew not shall he honour 9 with gold, and silver, and with precious stones, and pleasant things. 39 And he shall deal with the strongest fortresses by the help of a strange god; 9 whose name shall be strong against him 9 to his own hurt. 40 And at the time of the end shall the king of the south contend with him: and 9 he shall return into his own land. 41 He shall deal with the strong and the strong people, and the king of the south shall be his first prey. 42 "He shall stretch his hands also against the圣物: and he shall take his fathers' gods with him, and shall glory with them, and shall set them up for a god, and shall worship them, and shall sacrifice upon them. 43 "He shall even take "his own fathers' gods, and 9 he shall profane the sanctuary of his fathers, who were a light to him. 44 "He shall set up the mighty people who were before him for gods, and shall bring the cattle and the goods out of the nations: he shall divide the land for a price. 45 And at the time of the end shall the king of the south come against him like a whirlwind, with the power of a cloud: and he shall come upon the land with the strength of many ships; and he shall enter into the countries, and 9 shall overthrow and pass through. 46 He shall enter also into 'the glorious land, and many countries shall be overthrown: but these shall be delivered out of his hand. 9 Edom, and 9 Moab, and 9 the chief of the children of 9 Ammon. 47 "He shall stretch forth his hand also upon the countries: and the land of Egypt shall not escape. 48 "But he shall have power over the treasures of gold and of silver, and over all the precious things of Egypt: and the Libyans and the Ethiopians shall be at his steps. But tidings out of the east and out of the north shall trouble him: and he shall go forth with great fury to destroy and utterly to make away many.

And he shall plant the tents of his palace between the sea and the glorious holy mountain; yet he shall come to his end, and none shall help him. And at that time shall Michael stand up, the great prince which standeth for the children of thy people: and there shall be a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation even to that same time. And many of them that sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, some to everlasting life, and some to shame and everlasting contempt.

But thou, O Daniel, shut up the words, and seal the book, even to the time of the end: many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased.

Then I Daniel looked, and behold, there stood other two, the one on this side, and the other on that side. And one said to the man clothed in linen, which was above the waters of the river, How long shall it be to the end of these wonders? And I heard the man clothed in linen, which was above the waters of the river, when he held up his right hand and his left hand unto heaven, and sware by him that liveth for ever that it shall be for a time, times, and an half; and when they have made an end of breaking in pieces the power of the holy people, all these things shall be finished.

And I heard, but I understood not: then said I, O my lord, what shall be the issue of these things? And he said, Go thy way, Daniel: for the words are shut up and sealed till the time of the end. Many shall purify themselves, and make themselves white, but the wicked shall do wickedly; and none of the wicked shall understand: but the wise shall understand, and from the time that the continual burnt offering shall be taken away, and the abomination that maketh desolate set up, there shall be a thousand two hundred and ninety days. Blessed is he that waiteth, and cometh to the thousand three hundred and fifty days. But go thou thy way till the end be: for thou shalt rest, and shalt stand in thy lot, at the end of the days.

HOSEA.

1 The word of the LORD that came unto Hosea the son of Beeri, in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash, king of Israel.

2 When the LORD spake at the first by Hosea, the LORD said unto Hosea, Go, take unto thee a wife of whoredom and children of whoredom: for the land doth commitsin great whoredom, departing from the LORD. So he went and took Gomer the daughter of Diblaim; and she conceived, and bare him a son.

3 And the LORD said unto him, Call his name Jezreel; for yet a little while, and I will avenge the blood of Jezreel upon the house of Jehu, and will cause the kingdom of the house of Israel to cease. And it shall come to pass at that day, that I will break the bow of Israel in the valley of Jezreel. And she conceived again, and bare a daughter. And the LORD said unto him, Call her name Lo-ruhamah: for I will no more have mercy upon the house of Israel, that I should in any wise pardon them. 7 But 1 I will have mercy upon the house of Judah, and will save them by the Lord their God, and 2 will not save them by bow, nor by sword, nor by battle, by horses, nor by horsemen. 8 Now when she had weaned Lo-ruhamah, she conceived, and bare a son. 9 And the Lord said, "Call his name Lo-ammhi: for ye are not my people, and I will not be your God.

10 Yet the number of the children of Israel shall be as the sand of the sea, which cannot be measured nor numbered; and it shall come to pass, that 3 in the place where it was said unto them, 'Ye are not my people, it shall be said unto them, 'Ye are the sons of the living God. 11 And the children of Judah and the children of Israel shall be gathered together, and they shall appoint themselves one head, and shall go up from the land: for great shall be the day of Jezebel. 12 Say ye unto your brethren, 4 Ammi; and to your sisters, Ruhamah.

5 For her mother hath played the harlot: she that conceived them hath done shamefully: for she said, I will go after my lovers, that I may give me bread and my water, my wool and my flax, mine oil and my 6 drink. 6 Therefore, behold, I will hedge up thy way with thorns, and will slay her with famine; and she shall not find should she be centered; 7 and shal she seek her paths? 7 And she shall follow after her lovers; but she shall not overtake them: and she shall seek them, but shall not find them: 8 then shall she say, I will go and return to my first husband: 9 for then was it better with me than now. 8 For she did not know that I gave her the corn, and the wine, and the oil, and multiplied unto her silver and gold, which they 7 used for Baal.

9 Therefore 8 I will take back my corn in the time thereof, and my wine in the season thereof, and 9 will pluck away my wool and my flax which should have covered her nakedness. 10 And now 10 I will discover her lewdness in the sight of her lovers, and none shall deliver her out of mine hand. 11 I will cause all her mirth to cease, her feasts, her 11 new moons, and her 12 sabbaths, and all her 10 solemn assemblies. 12 And 11 I will lay waste her vines and her fig trees, 13 whereof she hath said, These are my hired: and these are my hire that my lovers have given me: and 12 I will make them a forest, and the beasts of the field shall eat them. 13 And 12 I will visit upon her the days of the Baalim, 11 unto which she burned incense, when 12 she decked herself with her 12 earrings and her jewels, and went after her lovers, and forgot me, saith the Lord. 14 Therefore, behold, I will allure her, and bring her into the wilderness, and 3 speak comfortably unto her. 15 And I will give her her vineyards from thence, and the valley of Achor for a door of hope: and she shall 16 make answer there, in as in the days of her youth, and as in the day when she came up out of the land of Egypt. 16 And it shall be 17 at that day, saith the Lord, that thou shalt call me Ishi; and shalt call me no more Baali. 17 For 14 I will take away the names of the Baalim out of her mouth, and they shall no more be mentioned by their name. 18 And in that day 18 I will make a covenant for them with the beasts of the field, and with the fowls of heaven, and with the creeping things of the ground: 19 and 19 I will break the bow and the sword out of the land, and will make them to lie down safely. 19 And I will bebrother thee unto me 14 for ever; yea, 15 I will betroth thee unto me in righteousness, and in judgement, and in lovingkindness, and in mercies. 20 I will even betroth thee unto me in faithfulness: and thou..." shall know the LORD. 21 And it shall come to pass in that day, says the LORD, I will answer the heavens, and they shall answer the earth; 22 and the earth shall answer the corn, and the wine, and the oil; and they shall answer 1 Jezebel. 23 And I will sow her unto me in the earth; and I will have mercy upon her that had not obtained mercy; and I will say to them which were not my people, Thou art my people; and they shall say, Thou art my God.

1 And the Lord said unto me, 2 Go yet, love a woman beloved of her friend and an adulteress, even as the Lord loveth the children of Israel, though they turn unto other gods, and love cakes of raisins. 3 So I bought her to me for fifteen pieces of silver, and an homer of barley, and an homer of barley of meal. 4 And I said unto her, Thou shalt not play the harlot, and thou shalt not be any man's wife: so will I also be toward thee. 5 For the children of Israel shall abide many days without king, and without prince, and without sacrifice, and without epod or teraphim: 6 afterward shall the children of Israel return, and seek the Lord their God, and David their king; 7 and shall come with fear unto the Lord and to his goodness in the latter days.

1 Hear the word of the Lord, ye children of Israel: for the Lord hath a controversy with *her that had not obtained mercy, and she shall not increase: because they have left off to take heed to the Lord, and to obey his voice, and to do according to his will, and according to his law; and they have sinned against him, 2 and he hath said unto them, I will send for many fish, and fowls of heaven; yea, the fishes of the sea also shall be taken away. 3 Yet let no man strive, neither let any let reproach: for they are as they that strive with the priest. 5 And thou shalt stumble in the day, and the prophet also shall stumble with thee in the night; and I will destroy thy mother. 6 My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge: 7 because thou hast rejected knowledge, 8 I will also reject thee, that *thou shalt be no priest to me: seeing thou hast forgotten the law of thy God, *I also will forget thy children. 7 As they were multiplied, so they sinned against me: 8 I will change their glory into shame.

they shall be ashamed because of their sacrifices.

Hear this, O ye priests, and hearken, ye house of Israel, and give ear, O house of the king, for unto you pertaineth the judgement; for ye have been a snare at Mizpah, and a net spread upon Tabor. And the revolters are gone deep in making slaughter; but I am a rebuker of them all. I know Ephraim, and Israel is not hid from me: for now, O Ephraim, thou hast committed whoredom, Israel is defiled.

4 Their doings will not suffer them to turn unto their God: for the spirit of whoredom is within them, and they know not the LORD.

5 And the pride of Israel doth testify to his face: therefore Israel and Ephraim shall stumble in their iniquity: Judah also shall stumble with them. 6 They shall go with their flocks and with their herds to seek the LORD; but they shall not find him;

for he hath withdrawn himself from them. 7 They have dealt dreadfully against the LORD; for they have borne strange children: now shall the new moon

devour them with their fields.

8 Blow ye the cornet in Gibeah, and the trumpet in Ramah: sound

an alarm at Beth-aven; behind and the trumpet in Kamath: sound

an alarm at Beth-aven; behind are the children of Israel.

9 Ephraim shall become a desolation in the day of judgement: for the Egyptians shall be his adversaries, and the Egyptians shall be his abomination.

10 The princes of Judah are like them that remove the land; and Judah

shall be ashamed because of their doings. 11 Ephraim is a city of them that work iniquity, and

Israel is defiled, also, O Judah!

8 See Joel 3.

12 When Ephraim saw his sickness,

and Judah saw his wound, then went

Ephraim unto Assyrria, and sent to king Jareb: but he is not able to heal you, neither shall

he cure

you of your wound.

13 When Ephraim saw his sickness,

and Judah saw his wound, then went

Ephraim unto Assyria, and sent to king Jareb: but he is not able to heal you, neither shall

he cure

you of your wound. 14 For I will be unto Ephraim as a lion,

and as a young lion to the house of

Judah: I will even I, will tear and go away; I will carry off, and there shall be none to deliver. 15 I will go and return to my place, till they acknowledge their offence, and seek my face: in their affliction

they will seek me

earnestly.

6 Come, and let us return unto the LORD; for he hath torn, and he will heal; he hath smitten, and he will bind us up.

2 After two days he will revive us: on the third day he will raise us up, and we shall live before him. 3 And let us know, let us follow on to know the LORD; his going forth is as the morning, and he shall come unto us as the rain, as the latter rain that watereth

the earth.

4 O Ephraim, what shall I do unto thee? O Judah, what shall I do unto thee? for your goodness is as a morning cloud, and as the dew that goeth early away.

5 Therefore have I hewed them by the words of my mouth: and thy judgements are as the light that goeth forth. 6 For I desire mercy, and not sacrifice; and knowledge of God more than burnt offerings.

7 But they like Adam have transgressed the covenant: there have they dealt dreadfully against me. 8 Gilead is a city of them that work iniquity,

it is stained with blood.

9 And a troop of robbers wait for a man, and after they be gone, they spoil him with his wealth.

10 In the house of Israel I have seen an horrible thing: there whoredom is found in Ephraim,

Israel is defiled. 11 Also, O Judah,

there is an harvest appointed for thee, when I bring again the capital of my captivity.

12 When I would heal Israel, then is the iniquity of Ephraim discovered, and the wickedness of Samaria; for they commit falsehood: and the thief entereth in, and the troop of robbers

will be unto Ephraim as a lion,

and as a young lion to the house of

Judah: I will even I, will tear and

go away; I will carry off, and there shall be none to deliver. 15 I will go and return to my place, till they acknowledge their offence, and

seek my face: in their affliction

they will seek me

earnestly.
eth without. 2 And they consider not in their hearts that I remember all their wickedness: now have we made our doings to pass before us; 3 they are before my face. 4 They make the king glad with their wickedness, and the princes with their lies. 4 They are all adulterers; they are as an oven heated by the baker; he ceaseth to stir the fire, from the kneading of the dough until it be leavened. 5 On the day of our king the princes made themselves sick with the heat of wine; he stretched out his hand with scorners. 6 For they have made ready their heart like an oven, whiles they lie in wait: 4 their baker sleepeth all the night; in the morning it burneth as a flaming fire. 7 They are all hot as an oven, and devour their judges; all their kings are fallen: none among them that calleth unto me. 8 Ephraim, he mixeth himself among the peoples; Ephraim is a cake not turned. 9 Strangers have devoured his strength, and 2 he knoweth it not: yea, gray hairs are there and upon him, and 2 he knoweth it not. 10 And 2 the pride of Israel doth testify to his face: yet they have not returned unto the Lord their God, nor sought him, for all this. 11 And Ephraim is like a silly dove, 2 without understanding: they call unto Egypt, they go to Assyria. 12 When they shall go, I will spread my net upon them; I will bring them down as the fowls of the heaven: 2 I will chastise them, 2 as their congregation hath heard. 13 Woe unto them! for they have wandered from me; destruction unto them! for they have trespassed against me: 2 though I would redeem them, yet 2 they have spoken lies against me. 14 And 2 they have not cried unto me with their heart, but 2 they howl upon their beds: 2 they assemble themselves for corn and wine, they rebel against me. 15 Though 2 I have taught and strengthened their arms, yet do they imagine mischief against me. 16 They 2 return, but not to him that is on high: they are 2 like a deceitful bow: their princes shall fall by the sword for 2 the rage of their tongue: this shall be their derision 2 in the land of Egypt.

8 11 Set the trumpet to thy mouth. 2 As an eagle he cometh against the house of the Lord: because 2 they have transgressed my covenant, and trespassed against my law. 2 They shall cry unto me, 2 My God, we Israel know thee. 3 Israel hath cast off that which is good: the enemy shall pursue him. 4 2 They have set up kings, 2 but not by me; 2 they have made princes, and I knew it not: of their silver and their gold have they made them idols, that they may be cut off. 5 2 He hath cast off thy calf, O Samaria; mine anger is kindled against them: 2 how long will it be ere they attain to innocence? 6 For from Israel is even this; the workman made it, and it is no God: yes, 2 the calf of Samaria shall be broken in pieces. 7 For 2 they sow the wind, and they shall reap the whirlwind: 18 he hath no standing corn; the blade shall yield no meal; if so be it yield, 2 strangers shall swallow it up. 8 2 Israel is swallowed up: now are they among the nations as a vessel wherein is no pleasure. 9 2 For 2 they are gone up to Assyria, like a wild ass alone among the nations; now will I lift up mine hand against them; and 2 they begin to be minished by reason of the burden of the 18 king of princes. 10 Yea, though they hire among the nations, now will I gather them; and 2 they begin to be minished by reason of the burden of the 18 king of princes. 11 Because Ephraim 2 hath multiplied his lovers. 12 Though 2 I write for him my law in ten thousand precepts, they are counted as a strange thing. 13 As for the sacrifices of mine offerings, 2 they sacrifice flesh and eat it; but the Lord accepteth not: 2 now will he remember their iniquity, and visit their sins; 2 they shall return to Egypt. 14 For 2 Israel hath forgotten 2 his Maker, and 2 builded 18 palaces; and 2 Judah hath multiplied fenced cities: but 2 I will send a HOSEA.

CHAPTER 8.

1. Rejoice not, O Israel, for joy, like the peoples; 2 for thou hast gone a whoring from thy God, thou hast loved hire upon every cornfloor. 3 The threshingfloor and the winepress shall not feed them, and the new wine shall fail her. 4 They shall not pour out wine offerings to the LORD, neither shall they return to Egypt, and they shall eat unclean food in Assyria. 5 What will ye do in the day of solemn assembly, and in the day of the feast of the LORD? 6 For, lo, they are gone away from destruction, yet Egypt shall gather them up; Memphis shall bury them: their pleasant things of silver, nettles shall possess them: thorns shall be in their tents. 7 The days of visitation are come, the days of recompence are come; Israel shall know it: the prophet is a fool, the man that hath the spirit is mad, for the multitude of thine iniquity, and because the enmity is great.

Ephraim is a watchman with my God: as for the prophet, a fowler's snare is in all his ways, and enmity in the house of his God. 9 They have deeply corrupted themselves, as in the days of Gibeah: he will remember their iniquity, he will visit their sins. 10 I found Israel like grapes in the wilderness; I saw your fathers as the firstripe in the fig tree at her first season: but they came to Baal-peor, and conspired themselves unto the shamefulness, and became abominable like that which they loved. 11 As for Ephraim, their glory shall fly away like a bird: there shall be no birth, and none with child, and no conception. 12 Though they bring up their children, yet will I bereave them, that there be not a man left:

yea, woe also to them when I depart from them! 13 Ephraim, like as I have seen Tyre, is planted in a pleasant place: but Ephraim shall return to Egypt, and they shall eat unclean food in Assyria. 14 Give them, O LORD: what wilt thou give? give them a miscarrying womb and dry breasts. 15 All their wickedness is in Gilgal; for there I hated them: because of the wickedness of their doings I will drive them out of mine house: I will love them no more; all their princes are revolters. 16 Ephraim is smitten, their root is dried up, they shall bear no fruit: yes, though they bring forth, yet will I slay the beloved fruit of their womb. 17 My God will cast them away, because they did not hearken unto him: and they shall be wanderers among the nations.

1 Israel is a luxuriant vine, which puttheth forth his fruit: according to the multitude of his fruit he hath multiplied his altars; according to the goodness of his land they have made goodly pillars. 2 Their heart is divided; now shall they be found guilty: he shall smite their altars, he shall spoil their pillars. 3 Surely now shall they say, We have no king: for we fear not the LORD; and the king, what can he do for us? 4 They speak vain words, swearing falsely in making covenants: therefore judgement springeth up as hemlock in the furrows of the field. 5 The inhabitants of Samaria shall be terror for the calves of Beth-aven: for the people thereof shall mourn over it, and the priests thereof that rejoiced over it, for the glory thereof, because it is departed from it. 6 It also shall be carried unto Assyria for a present to king Jareb: Ephraim shall receive shame, and Israel shall be ashamed of his own counsel. 7 As for Samaria, her king is cut off, as foam upon the water. 8 The high places also of Aven, the sin of Israel, shall be destroyed: the thorn and the thistle shall come up on their altars; and they shall say to the mountains, Cover us; and to the rock, Fall upon us.

1 Or, palaces 2 Or, unto corruption 3 Or, that 4 Or, neither shall their sacrifices be pleasing unto me: their bread shall be made them trc. 5 Or, as I have seen, to be Tyre, that is planted trc. 6 Or, prospered 7 Or, divided their heart 8 Or, smooth 9 Or, they swear falsely, they make covenants 10 Or, shall spring up 11 Or, see Deut. 12 Or, Hebrew. Chemarim. See 2 Kings 25. 1. 12 Or, Samaria is cut off with her king 13 Or, turns the hills, Fall on us. 9O Israel, thou hast sinned from the days of Gibeah: there they stood, that the battle against the children of iniquity should overtake them in Gibeah. 10 When it is my desire, I will chastise them; and the peoples shall be gathered against them, when they are bound to their two transgressions. 11 And Ephraim is an heifer that is taught, that loveth to tread out the corn; but I have passed over upon her fair neck: I will set a rider on Ephraim; *Judah shall plow, Jacob shall break his clods. 12 So sow yourselves in righteousness, reap according to mercy; break up your fallow ground: for it is time to seek the Lord, till he come and rain righteousness upon you. 13 Ye have plowed wickedness, ye have reaped iniquity; ye have eaten the fruit of lies: for thou didst trust in woman, in the multitude of thy mighty men. 14 Therefore shall a tumult arise among thy people, and all thy fortresses shall be spoil'd, as Shalman spoil'd Beth-arbel in the day of battle: the mother was dashed in pieces with her children. 15 So shall Beth-el unto you because of your great wickedness: at daybreak shall the king of Israel be utterly cut off. 16 When Israel was a child, then I loved him, and called my son out of Egypt, As they called them, so they went from them: they sacrificed unto the Basalim, and burned incense to graven images. Yet I taught Ephraim to go: I took them on my arms; but they knew not that I healed them. 4 I drew them with cords of a man, with bands of love; and I was to them as they that take off the yoke on their jaws, and I laid meat before them. 5 He shall not return into the land of Egypt; but the Assyrians shall be his king, and they shall serve him. 6 And the sword shall fall upon his cities, and shall consume his bars, and devour them, because of their own counsels. 7 And my people are bent to backsliding from me: though they call them to him that is on high, none at all will 8 exalt him. 8 How shall I give thee Ephraim? *how shall I deliver thee, Israel? how shall I make thee as Admah? how shall I set thee as Zeboim? mine heart is turned within me, my compassions are kindled together. 9 I will not execute the fierceness of mine anger, I will not return to destroy Ephraim: for I am God, and not man; the Holy One in the midst of thee: and I will not enter into the city. 10 They shall walk after the Lord, who shall roar like a lion: for he shall roar, and the children shall come trembling from the west. 11 They shall come trembling as a bird *out of Egypt, and as a dove out of the land of Assyria: and I will make them to dwell in their houses, saith the Lord. 12 *Ephraim compasseth me about with falsehood, and the house of Israel with deceit: 13 but Judah yet ruleth with God, and is faithful with the Holy One. 14 Therefore with the east wind: he continually multipliceth lies and desolation; and they make a covenant with Asshur, and oil is carried into Egypt. 15 The Lord hath also a controversy with Judah, and will punish Jacob according to his ways; according to his doings will he recompense him. 16 In the womb he took his brother by the heel; and in his manhood he had power with God: yea, he had power over the angel, and prevailed: he wept, and made supplication unto him: he found him at Bethel, and there he spake with us; 17 even the Lord, the God of hosts; *the Lord is his memorial. 18 Therefore turn thou to thy God: keep mercy and judgement, and wait on thy God continually. 19 He is a trafficker, *the balances of deceit are in his hand: he loveth *to oppress. 20 And Ephraim said, Surely I am become rich, I have found me wealth: in all my labours they shall find in me none iniquity that were sinning. But I am the LORD thy God from the land of Egypt; I will yet again make thee dwell in tents, as in the days of the solemn feast. 10 I have talked unto the prophets, and I have multiplied visions; and by the ministry of the prophets have I used similitudes.
11 Is Gilead iniquity? they are altogether devourers. in Gilead they sacrifice bullocks; yes, their altars are as heaps in the furrows of the field. 12 And Jacob fled into the field of Aram, and Israel served for a wife, and for a wife he kept sheep. 13 And by a prophet the Lord brought Israel up out of Egypt, and by a prophet was he preserved. 14 Ephraim hath provoked to anger most bitterly: therefore shall his blood be left upon him, and his reproach shall his Lord return unto him.

1 When Ephraim spake, there was trembling; he exalted himself in Israel: but when he offended in Baal, he died. 2 And now they sin more and more, and have made them molten images of their sliver, even Idols according to their own understanding, all of them the work of the craftsmen: they say of them, Let the men that sacrifice kiss the calves. 3 Therefore they shall be as the morning cloud, and as the dew that passeth early away, as the chaff that is driven with the whirlwind out of the threshing-floor, and as the smoke out of the chimney. 4 Yet I am the Lord thy God from the land of Egypt; and thou shalt know no god but me, and beside me there is no saviour. 5 I did know thee in the wilderness, in the land of great drought. 6 According to their pasture, so were they filled; they were filled, and their heart was exalted: therefore have they forgotten me. 7 Therefore am I unto them as a lion: as a leopard will I watch by the way: 8 I will meet them as a bear that is bereaved of her whelps, and will rend the caul of their heart: and there will I devour them like a lion; the wild beast shall tear them.

that they dwell under his shadow shall return; they shall revive as the corn, and blossom as the vine: the scent thereof shall be as the wine of Lebanon.

7 That which the palmer-worm hath lefthath the locust hath eaten; and that which the locust hath left hath the cankerworm eaten; and that which the canker-worm hath lefthath the caterpillar eaten.

8 Awake, ye drunkards, and weep; and howl, all ye drinkers of wine, because of the sweet wine; for it is cut off from your mouth.

9 For a nation is come up upon my land, strong, and without number; his teeth are the teeth of a lion, and he hath the jaw-teeth of a great lion.

10 He hath laid my vine waste, and my figtree: he hath made it clean bare, and cast it away; the branches thereof are made white.

11 Lament like a virgin girded with sackcloth for the husband of her youth.

12 The meal offering and the drink offering is cut off from the house of the Lord; the priests, the Lord's ministers, mourn.

13 The field is wasted, the land mourneth; for the corn is wasted, the new wine is dried up, the oil languisheth.

14 Blow ye the trumpet in Zion, and sound an alarm in my holy mountain: let all the inhabitants of the land tremble: for the day of the Lord is at hand, and as destruction from the Almighty shall it come.

15 Is not the meat cut off before our eyes, yea, joy and gladness from the house of our God?

16 The seeds rot under their clods; the garnerers are laid desolate, the barns are broken down; for the corn is withered.

17 How do the beasts groan! the herdsof cattle are perplexed, because they have no pasture; yea, the flocks of sheep are made desolate.

18 O Lord, to thee do I cry: for the fire hath devoured the pastures of the wilderness, and the flame hath burned all the trees of the field.

19 Blow ye the trumpet in Zion, and sound an alarm in my holy mountain: let all the inhabitants of the land tremble: for the day of the Lord is at hand, and it is nigh at hand: 20 a day of a memorial: for the fire hath devoured the pastures of the wilderness.

21 Woe unto you, Jacob; woe unto you, Israel, from the Lord your God.

22 Have not I also given you corn in abundance, and wine in abundance, and oil in abundance?

23 And I have given you increase and -heath: if ye had been wise, ye would have celebrated.

24 But ye have hearkened unto the voice of Balaam, saying, They will turn aside to see the valley; even though the best spoil be there, and though he have said, Go down, enter into the valley.

25 Go down, ye Jacob's seed, from the south, and ye Israel; go down, ye to the king's daughter.

26 Many people, great also and strong, have stirruped my feet, they have leaped upon me.

27 My blood is lost by the pit, and the priest is put in bonds: he that is mighty among the people ruleth in Zion.

28 And he contributed to the heavens, and he emptied them: he set over the waters, and gave them their place.

29 He looketh upon all the earth, and he maketh his armour strong against thee.

30 He hath made some to go down to the dust, even no remembrance; but the affliction of his servants they remember.

31 For God is my strength; the Lord is my song; he hath made me great.

32 The Lord is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer; my God, my rock, in whom I trust; he is my shield, and the horn of my salvation; my God, my fortress, and he is my refuge; my God, my strength, in whom I will trust.

33 To thee belongeth the greatness, and strength, and excellency, and honor, and majesty; for all things in heaven and in earth are thine.

34 The children of thy servants shall continueth in faith: they shall speak of thy power.

35 They shall return, and come to thee from the ends of the earth; and thy judgments shall be prepared before them.

36 The children of thy servants shall continueth in faith: they shall speak of thy power.

37 They shall return, and come to thee from the ends of the earth; and thy judgments shall be prepared before them.

38 The children of thy servants shall continueth in faith: they shall speak of thy power.

39 They shall return, and come to thee from the ends of the earth; and thy judgments shall be prepared before them.
darkness and gloominess, a day of clouds and thick darkness, as the dawn spread upon the mountains; *a great people and a strong, there hath not been ever the like, neither shall be any more after them, even to the years of many generations. 3 A fire devoureth before them; and behind them a flame burneth: the land is as the garden of Eden before them, and behind them a desolate wilderness; yea, and none hath escaped them. 4 The appearance of them is as the appearance of horses; and as 1 horsemen, so do they run. 5 Like the noise of chariots on the tops of the mountains do they leap, like the noise of *a flame of fire that devoureth the stubble, as a strong people set in battle array. 6 At their presence the peoples are in anguish: *all faces are waxed pale. 7 They run like mighty men; they climb the wall like men of war; and they march every one on his ways, and they break not their ranks. 8 Neither doth one thrust another; *they burst through the weapons, and *break not off their course. 9 They leap upon the city; they run upon the wall; *they climb up into the houses; *they enter in at the windows like a thief. 10 The earth quaketh before them; the heavens tremble: *the sun and the moon are darkened, and the stars withdraw their shining: 11 and *the Lord uttereth his voice before his army; for his camp is very great; *for he is strong that executeth his word: 12 for the day of the Lord is *great and very terrible; *and who can abide it? 13 Yet even now, saith the Lord, *turn ye unto me with all your heart, and *with fasting, and with weeping, and with mourning: 13 and *rend your heart, and *turn unto the Lord your God: *for he is gracious and full of compassion, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy, *and repenteth him of the evil. 14 Who knoweth whether he will not turn and repent, and *leave a blessing behind him, even *a meal offering and a drink offering unto the Lord your God? 15 Blow the trumpet in Zion, sanctify a fast, call a solemn assembly: 16 gather the people, sanctify the congregation, assemble the old men, gather the children, and those that suck the breasts: 17 let the bridegroom go forth of his chamber, and the bride out of her closet. 18 Then was the Lord jealous for his land, and had pity on his people. 19 And the Lord answered and said unto his people, Behold, 1 will send you corn, and wine, and oil, and ye shall be satisfied therewith: and I will no more make you a reproach among the nations: 20 but I will remove far off from you the northern army, and will drive him into a land barren and desolate, his forseaport *into the eastern sea, and his hinder part into the western sea; and his stink shall come up, and his ill savour shall come up, because he hath done great things. 21 Fear not, O land, be glad and rejoice: for the Lord hath done great things. 22 Be not afraid, *ye beasts of the field; *for the pastures of the wilderness do spring, for the tree beareth her fruit, the fig tree and *the vine do yield their strength. 23 Be glad then, ye children of Zion, and *rejoice in the Lord your God: 24 *for he hath given you *the former rain in just measure, and he causeth the earth to spring after rain. 25 And the floor shall be full of wheat, and the fats shall overflow with wine and oil. 26 And I will restore to you the years that the locust hath eaten, 27 and the cankerworm, and the caterpillar, and the palm worm, *my great army which I sent among you. 28 And ye shall eat in plenty and be satisfied, and shall praise the name of the Lord your God, that hath dealt wondrously with you: and your people shall *never be ashamed. 29 And ye shall know that *I am in the midst of Israel, and that *I am the LORD your God, and there is none else: and my people *shall never be ashamed.

And it shall come to pass afterward, that *I will pour out my spirit upon all flesh; and *your sons and *your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions:

And I will shew wonders in the heavens *and in the earth, blood, and fire, and pillars of smoke.

The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before the great and terrible day of the LORD come.

And it shall come to pass, that whoever shall call on the name of the LORD shall be delivered: for in mount Zion and in Jerusalem there shall be salvation, and escape to Jacob.

And it shall come to pass, that in the days of those days shall the daughters of Zion be desolate, and the cities of the测定者 shall be desolate,

And it shall come to pass, that in the hearth of Zion and in Jerusalem shall be this word of the LORD, as in the times of old, to prepare war: stir up the mighty men; let all the men of war draw near, let them come up.

to your plowshares into swords, and to your pruning-hooks into spears: let the weak say, I am strong.

Put ye in the sickle, for the harvest is ripe: come, let ye press it.

The sun and the moon are turned into darkness, and the stars withdraw their shining.

And the Lord shall roar out of Zion, and shall utter his voice from Jerusalem; and the heavens and the earth shall shake: but the Lord will be a refuge to his people, and a strong hold to the children of Israel.

And ye shall know that I am the Lord your God, dwelling in Zion my holy mountain.

And it shall come to pass in that day, that the mountains shall drop sweet wine, and the hills shall flow with milk, and all the brooks of Judah shall flow with waters.

for the desert shall become a pool, and the thirsty ground a fountain.

for the LORD shall cease to be angry, and he will turn and have compassion on us in the day of our calamity.

But the children also of Judah and Jerusalem shall build the vineyards; and they shall use them for drink, and not for vinegar; and the earth out of the wilderness and the desert shall flow with milk and honey.
AMOS.

1 The words of Amos, who was among the herdmen of Tekoa, which he saw concerning Israel in the days of Uzziah king of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash king of Israel, two years before the earthquake.

2 And he said, The LORD shall roar from Zion, and utter his voice from Jerusalem; and the pastures of the shepherds shall mourn, and the top of Carmel shall wither.

3 Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of Damascus, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they have threshed Gilead with threshing instruments of iron:

4 but I will send a fire into the house of Joram, and it shall devour the palaces of Damascus, and cut off the inhabitant from the valley of Aven, and him that holdeth the sceptre from the house of Aven, and the people of Syria shall go into captivity unto Kir, saith the LORD.

5 And I will break the bar of Damascus, and cut off the inhabitant from the valley of Aven, and him that holdeth the sceptre from the house of Aven, and the people of Syria shall go into captivity unto Kir, saith the LORD.

6 Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of Gaza, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they have carried away captive the whole people, to deliver them up to Edom:

7 but I will send a fire on the wall of Gaza, and it shall devour the palaces thereof: and I will cut off the inhabitant from Ashkelon, and him that holdeth the sceptre from Ashkelon; and I will turn mine hand against Ekron, and the remnant of the Philistines shall perish, saith the Lord God.

8 Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of Tyre, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they delivered up the whole people to Edom, and remembered not the brotherly covenant:

9 but I will send a fire on the wall of Tyre, and it shall devour the palaces thereof.

10 Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of Edom, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because he did pursue his brother with the sword, and cast off all pity, and his anger did tear perpetually, and he kept his wrath for ever:

11 but I will send a fire upon Te man, and it shall devour the palaces of Bozrah.

12 Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of the children of Ammon, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they have rippled up the women with child of Gilead, that they might enlarge their border:

13 but I will kindle a fire in the wall of Rabbah, and it shall devour the palaces thereof, with shouting in the day of battle, with a tempest in the day of the whirlwind:

14 and their king shall go into captivity, he and his princes together, saith the LORD.

15 Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of Moab, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because he burned the bones of the king of Edom into lime: but I will send a fire upon Moab, and it shall devour the palaces of Kerioth; and Moab shall die with tumult, with shouting, and with the sound of the trumpet: and I will cut off the judge from the midst thereof, and will slay all the princes thereof with him, saith the LORD.

16 Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of Judah, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they have rejected the law of the Lord, and have not kept his statutes, and their lies have caused them to err, after the which their fathers did walk:

17 but I will send a fire upon Judah, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem.

18 Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of Israel, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they have sold the righteous for silver, and the poor for a pair of shoes.

AMOS.

LORD, the God of hosts, will be gracious unto the remnant of Joseph. Therefore thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts, the Lord: Wailing shall be in all the broad ways; and they shall say in all the streets, Alas! alas! and they shall call the husbandman to mourning, and as such are skilful of lamentation to wailing. And in all vineyards shall be wailing: for I will pass through the midst of thee, saith the LORD. Woe unto you that desire the day of the LORD! wherefore would ye have the day of the LORD? it is darkness, and not light. As if a man did flee from a lion, and a bear met him; or went into the house and leaned his hand on the wall, and a serpent bit him. Shall not the day of the LORD be darkness, and not light? even very dark, and no brightness in it? I hate, I despise your feasts, and I will take no delight in your solemn assemblies. Take thou away from me the noise of thy songs; for I will not hear the melody of thy viol. But let judgement roll down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream. Did ye bring unto me sacrifices and burnt offerings, in the wilderness forty years, O house of Israel? yea, ye have borne Sicheth your king and Chiuin your images, the star of your god, which ye made to yourselves. Therefore will I cause you to go into captivity beyond Damascus, saith the LORD, whose name is the God of hosts.

6 Woe to them that are at ease in Samaria, and to them that are secure in the mountain of Samaria, the notable men of the chief of the nations, to whom the house of Israel come! Pass ye unto Calneh, and see; and from thence go ye to Hamath the great: then go down to Gath of the Philistines: be they better than these kingdoms? or is their border greater than your border? Ye that put far away the evil day, and cause the seat of violence to come near; that lie upon beds of ivory, and stretch themselves upon their couches, and eat the lambs out of the flock, and the calves out of the midst of the stall; that sing idle songs to the sound of the viol; that devise for themselves instruments of music, like David; that drink wine in bowls, and anoint themselves with the chief ointments; but they are not grieved for the affliction of Joseph. Therefore now shall they go captive with the first that go captive, and the revelry of them that stretched themselves shall pass away. The Lord God hath sworn by himself, saith the LORD, the God of hosts: I abhor the excellency of Jacob, and hate his palaces; therefore will I deliver up the city with all that is therein. And it shall come to pass, if there remain ten men in one house, that they shall die. And when a man's uncle shall take him up, even he that burneth him, to bring out the bones out of the house, and shall say unto him that is in the innermost parts of the house, I sthere yet any with thee? and he shall say, No; then shall he say, Hold thy peace; for we may not make mention of the name of the LORD. For, behold, the LORD cometh to take up the spoil of your riches, and the fruit of your covetousness.

7 Thus the Lord God showed me: and, behold, he formed locusts in the beginning of the Therefore hear thou the word of the Lord: Thou sayest, * Prophecy not against Israel, and * dropp not thy word against the house of * Isaac.
19 Therefore thus saith the Lord: Thy wife shall be an harlot in the city, and thy sons and thy daughters shall fall by the sword, and thy land shall be divided by line; and thou thyself shalt die in a land that is unclean, and * Israel shall surely be led away captive out of his land.

8 * Thus the Lord God shewed me: and behold, a basket of summer fruit. And he said, * A basket of summer fruit.

Then said the Lord unto me, * The end is come upon my people Israel; the land is not able to bear all his words, * For thus Amos saith, Jeroboam shall not stand, saith the Lord. 2 And the songs of the temple shall be bowlings in that day, saith the Lord: * The dead bodies shall be many; in every place shall they cast them forth with silence. 3 Hear this, * Ye children of Jacob, * Amos, what seest thou? And I said, * A plumb-line.

And the Lord stood beside a wall made by a plumb-line, with a plumb-line in his hand. 2 And the Lord said unto me, * Amos, what seest thou? And I said, * A plumb-line. Then said the Lord, Behold, I will set a plumb-line in the midst of my people Israel; * I will not again pass by them any more; 3 And the high places of Isaac shall be desolate, and the sanctuaries of Israel shall be laid waste; and I will rise against the house of Jeroboam with the sword.

10 Then Amaziah the priest of Beth-el sent to Jeroboam king of Israel, saying, Amos hath conspired against thee in the midst of the house of Israel: * The Lord, the God of Jacob, saith, * Behold, the Lord stood beside a wall made by a plumb-line, with a plumb-line in his hand.

Then said the Lord unto me, * Go, prophesy unto my people Israel. 15 * Now therefore hear thou the word of the Lord: Thou sayest, * Prophecy not against Israel, and * dropp not thy word against the house of * Isaac; 17 Therefore thus saith the Lord: Thy wife shall be an harlot in the city, and thy sons and thy daughters shall fall by the sword, and thy land shall be divided by line; and thou thyself shalt die in a land that is unclean, and * Israel shall surely be led away captive out of his land.

16 Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that * I will turn your feasts into mournings, and all your songs into lamentation; * and I will bring up sackcloth upon all loins, * and baldness upon every head; * and I will make it as the mourning for an only son, and the end thereof as a bitter day.

Lord God, that I will send a famine in the land, not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but of hearing the words of the Lord. 12 And they shall wander from sea to sea, and from the north even to the east; they shall run here and there to seek the word of the Lord, and shall not find it. 13 In that day shall the fair virgins and the young men faint for thirst. 14 They that swear by the sin of Samaria, and say, As thy God, O Dan, liveth; and, As the way of Beer-sheba liveth; even they shall fall, and never rise up again.

I saw the Lord standing beside the altar: and he said, 15 Smite the thresholds, that the thresholds may shake: and break them in pieces on the head of all of them; and I will slay the last of them with the sword: 16 neither shall one of them escape. 17 Though they dig into hell, thence shall mine hand take them; and though they climb up to heaven, thence will I bring them down. 18 And though they hide themselves in the top of Carmel, I will search and take them out thence; and though they be hid from my sight in the bottom of the sea, thence will I command the serpent, and he shall bite them.

And though they go into captivity before their enemies, thence will I command the sword, and it shall slay them; 19 and I will set mine eyes upon them for evil, and not for good. 20 For the Lord, the God of hosts, is he that toucheth the land and it melteth, and all that dwell therein shall mourn; 21 and it shall rise up wholly like the River; and shall sink again, like the River of Egypt; 22 and it is he that buildeth his chambers in the heavens, and hath founded his vault upon the earth: 23 he that calleth for the waters of the sea and poureth them out upon the face of the earth; 24 the Lord is his name. 25 Are ye not the children of the Ethiopians unto me, O children of Israel? saith the Lord. 26 Have not I brought up Israel out of the land of Egypt, and the Philistines from Caphtor, and the Syrians from Kir? 27 Behold, the eyes of the Lord God are upon the sinful kingdom, and I will destroy it from off the face of the earth; saving that I will not utterly destroy the house of Jacob, saith the Lord. 28 For, lo, I will command, saith the Lord, and I will sift the house of Israel among all the nations, like as corn is sifted in a sieve, yet shall not the least grain fall upon the earth. 29 To all the sinner of my people shall die by the sword, which say, The evil shall not overtake nor prevent us.

10 In that day will I raise up the tabernacle of David that is fallen, and close up the breaches thereof; and I will raise up his ruins, and I will build it as in the days of old; 11 that they may possess the remnant of Edom, and all the nations, which are called by my name, saith the Lord that doeth this. 12 Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that the plowman shall overtake the reaper, and the treader of grapes him that soweth seed; and the mountains shall drop sweet wine, and all the hills shall melt. 13 And I will bring again the captivity of my people Israel, and they shall build the waste cities, and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and drink the wine thereof; they shall also make gardens, and eat the fruit of them. 14 And I will plant them upon their land, and they shall no more be plucked up out of their land which I have given them, saith the Lord thy God.

THE vision of Obadiah.

Thus saith the Lord God concerning Edom: We have heard tidings from the Lord, and an ambassador is sent among the nations, saying, Arise ye, and let us rise up against her in battle. Behold, I have made thee small among the nations: thou art greatly despised.

The pride of thine heart hast deceived thee, O thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rock, whose habitation is high; that saith in his heart, Who shall bring me down to the ground? Though thou mount on high as the eagle, and though thy nest be set among the stars, I will bring thee down from thence, saith the Lord.

If thieves came to thee, if robbers by night, (how art thou cut off!) would they not steal till they had enough? If grapegatherers came to thee, would they not leave some gleanings? How are the things of Edom searched out! how are his hidden treasures sought up!

All the men of thy confederacy have brought thee on thy way, even to the border: the men that were at peace with thee have deceived thee, and prevailed against thee; they eat thy bread, they lay a snare under thee; there is none understanding in him. Shall I not in that day, saith the Lord, destroy the wise men out of Edom, and understanding out of the mount of Esau?

And thy mighty men, O Teman, shall be dismayed, to the end that every one may be cut off from the mount of Esau by slaughter.

And the kingdom shall be the Lord's.

Now the word of the Lord came unto "Jonah the son of Amittai, saying, 2 Arise, go to Nineveh, that is great city, and cry against it; for their wickedness is come before me. 3 But Jonah rose up to flee unto Tarshish from the presence of the Lord; and he went down to Joppa; and found a ship going to Tarshish: so he paid thie fare thereo, and went down into it to go with them unto Tarshish from the presence of the Lord. 4 But the Lord sent out a great wind into the sea, and there was a mighty tempest in the sea, so that the ship was like to be broken. 5 Then the mariners were afraid, and cried every man unto his god; and they cast forth the wares that were in the ship into the sea, to lighten it unto them. But Jonah was gone down into the innermost parts of the ship; and he lay, and was fast asleep. 6 So the shipmaster came to him, and said unto him, What meanest thou, O sleeper? arise, call upon thy God, if so be that God will think upon us, that we perish not. 7 And they said everyone to his fellow, Come, and let us cast lots, that we may know for whose cause this evil is upon us. So they cast lots, and the lot fell upon Jonah. 8 Then said they unto him, Tell us, we pray thee, for whose cause this evil is upon us; what is thine occupation? and whence comest thou? what is thy country? and of what people art thou? 9 And he said unto them, I am an Hebrew; and I fear the Lord, the God of heaven, which hath made the sea and the dry land. 10 So the shipmaster came to him, and said unto him, What meanest thou, O sleeper? arise, call upon thy God, if so be that God will think upon us, that we perish not. 11 And they said every one to his fellow, Come, and let us cast lots, that we may know for whose cause this evil is upon us. So they cast lots, and the lot fell upon Jonah. 12 Then said they unto him, Tell us, we pray thee, for whose cause this evil is upon us; what is thine occupation? and whence comest thou? what is thy country? and of what people art thou? 13 And he said unto them, I am an Hebrew; and I fear the Lord, the God of heaven, which hath made the sea and the dry land. 14 Nevertheless the men rowed hard to get them back to the land; but they could not: for the sea grew more and more tempestuous against them. 15 Wherefore they cried unto the Lord, and said, We beseech thee, O Lord, we beseech thee, let us not perish for this man's life, and lay not upon us innocent blood: for thou, O Lord, hast done as it pleased thee. 16 So they took up Jonah, and cast him forth into the sea: and the sea ceased from her raging. 17 Then the men feared the Lord exceedingly; and they offered a sacrifice unto the Lord, and made vows. 18 And the Lord prepared a great fish to swallow up Jonah; and Jonah was in the belly of the fish three days and three nights. 1 Then Jonah prayed unto the Lord his God out of the fish's belly. 2 And he said, I called by reason of mine affliction unto the Lord, out of mine eternity. And he answered me; out of the belly of hell cried I, and thou hearest my voice. 3 For thou didst cast me into the depth, in the heart of the seas, and the flood was round about me; all thy waves and thy billows passed over me. 4 And I said, I am cast out from before thine eyes; yet I will look again toward thy holy temple. 5 The waters compassed me about, even to the soul; the deep was round about me; the weeds were wrapped about my head. 6 I went down to the bottoms of the mountains; the earth with her bars closed upon me for ever: Yet hast thou brought up my life from the pit, O Lord my God. 7 When my soul fainted within me, I remembered the Lord: and he answered me out of his holy hill of Zion.
And my prayer came in unto thee, into thine holy temple.

They that regard lying vanities,

Forsake their own mercy.

But I will sacrifice unto thee with the voice of thanksgiving;

I will pay that which I have vowed.

Salvation is of the LORD.

And the Lord spake unto the fish, and it vomited out Jonah upon the dry land.

And the word of the Lord came unto Jonah the second time, saying, Arise, go unto Nineveh, that great city, and preach unto it the preaching that I bid thee. So Jonah arose, and went unto Nineveh, according to the word of the Lord. Now Nineveh was an exceeding great city, of three days' journey. And Jonah began to enter into the city a day's journey, and he cried, and said, Yet forty days, and Nineveh shall be overthrown. And the people of Nineveh believed God; and they proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them even to the least of them. And the tidings reached the king of Nineveh, and he arose from his throne, and laid his robe from him, and covered him with sackcloth, and sat in ashes. And he made proclamation and published through Nineveh by the decree of the king and his nobles, saying, Let neither man nor beast, neither flock nor herd, taste any thing: let them not feed, nor drink water: but let them be covered with sackcloth, both man and beast, and let them cry mightily unto God: yea, let them turn every one from his evil way, and from the violence that is in their hands. Who knoweth whether God will not turn and repent, and turn away from his fierce anger, that we perish not? And God said to Jonah, Doest thou well to be angry for the gourd? And he said, I do well to be angry even unto death. And the Lord said, Doest thou well to be angry for the gourd? And he said, I do well to be angry even unto death. And the Lord said, Thou hast had pity on the gourd, for which thou hast not laboured, neither madest it grow; which came up in a night, and perisheth in a night: and should not I have pity on Nineveh, that great city; wherein are more than sixscore thousand persons that cannot discern between their right hand and their left hand; and also much cattle?

The word of the Lord that I came to in the days of Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, which he saw concerning Samaria and Jerusalem.

2 Hear, ye peoples, all of you; hearken, earth, and all that is in it; and let the Lord God be witness against you, the Lord from his holy temple.

3 For, behold, the Lord cometh forth out of his place, and will come down, and tread upon the high places of the earth.

4 And the mountains shall be molten under him, and the valleys shall be cleft, as wax before the fire, as waters that are poured down upon a steep place.

5 For the transgression of Jacob is all this, and for the sins of the house of Israel. What is the transgression of Jacob? is it not Samaria? and what are the high places of Judah? are they not Jerusalem?

6 Therefore I will make Samaria as an heap of the field, and as the planting of a vineyard: and I will pour down the stones thereof into the valley, and I will discover the foundations thereof.

7 And all her graven images shall be beaten to pieces, and all her hire shall be burned with fire, and all her idols will I lay desolate: for of the hire of an harlot hast she gathered them, and unto the hire of an harlot shall they return.

8 For this will I wail and howl, I will go stripped and naked: I will make a wailing as the jackals, and a mourning as the ostriches.

9 For her wounds are incurable: for it is come even unto Judah; it reacheth unto the gate of my people, even to Jerusalem.

10 Tell it not in Gath, weep not at all: at Beth-le-Aphrah have I rolled myself in the dust.

11 Pass ye away, O inhabitant of Shaphir, in nakedness and shame: the inhabitant of Zaanan is not come forth: the wailing of Beth-uel shall take from you the stay thereof.

12 For the inhabitant of Maroth waiteth anxiously for good: because evil is come down from the Lord unto the gate of Jerusalem.

13 Bind the chariot to the swift steed, O inhabitant of Jerusalem: he was the beginning of sin to the daughter of Zion; for the transgressions of Israel were found in thee.

14 Therefore shalt thou give a parting gift to Moresheth-gath: the houses of Azzib shall be a deceitful thing unto the kings of Israel. 15 I will yet bring unto thee, O inhabitant of Moresheth, him that shall possess thee: the glory of Israel shall come even unto Adullam.

16 Make thee bald, and poll thee for the children of thy delight: enlarge thy baldness as the eagle; for they are gone into captivity from thee.

17 Woe to them that devise iniquity and work evil upon their beds! when the morning is light, they practise it, because it is in the power of their hand.

18 And they covet fields, and seize them; and houses, and take them away: and they oppress a man and his house, even a man and his heritage.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord: Behold, against this family do I devise an evil, from which ye shall not remove your necks, neither shall ye walk haughtily; for it is an evil time.

20 In that day shall they take up a parable against you, and lament with a dolorous lamentation, and say, We be utterly spoiled: he changeth the portion of my people: to the rebellious he divideth our fields.

21 Therefore thou shalt have none that shall cast the line by lot in the congregation of the Lord.

22 Ye shall not prophesy, ye shall not prophesy: they shall not prophesy to these: reproaches shall not depart.

23 Shall it be said, O house of Jacob, Is the spirit of the Lord straitened? are these his doings? Do not my words do good to him that walketh uprightly? But of late in the mouth of thy congregation of the Lord I have known reproaches.

24 Though ye shall fight with the sword, and though ye shall be蜚气的 same as the jackals, and a mourning like the ostriches. 30 For her wounds are incurable: for it is come even unto Judah; it reacheth unto the gate of my people, even to Jerusalem.

31 Tell it not in Gath, weep not at all: at Beth-le-Aphrah have I rolled myself in the dust.

32 Pass ye away, O inhabitant of Shaphir, in nakedness and shame: the inhabitant of Zaanan is not come forth: the wailing of Beth-uel shall take from you the stay thereof.

33 For the inhabitant of Maroth waiteth anxiously for good: because evil is come down from the Lord unto the gate of Jerusalem.

34 Bind the chariot to the swift steed, O inhabitant of Jerusalem: he was the beginning of sin to the daughter of Zion; for the transgressions of Israel were found in thee.

35 Therefore shalt thou give a parting gift to Moresheth-gath: the houses of Azzib shall be a deceitful thing unto the kings of Israel. 36 I will yet bring unto thee, O inhabitant of Moresheth, him that shall possess thee: the glory of Israel shall come even unto Adullam.

37 Make thee bald, and poll thee for the children of thy delight: enlarge thy baldness as the eagle; for they are gone into captivity from thee.

38 Woe to them that devise iniquity and work evil upon their beds! when the morning is light, they practise it, because it is in the power of their hand.

39 And they covet fields, and seize them; and houses, and take them away: and they oppress a man and his house, even a man and his heritage.

40 Therefore thus saith the Lord: Behold, against this family do I devise an evil, from which ye shall not remove your necks, neither shall ye walk haughtily; for it is an evil time.

41 In that day shall they take up a parable against you, and lament with a dolorous lamentation, and say, We be utterly spoiled: he changeth the portion of my people: to the rebellious he divideth our fields.

42 Therefore thou shalt have none that shall cast the line by lot in the congregation of the Lord.

43 Ye shall not prophesy, ye shall not prophesy: they shall not prophesy to these: reproaches shall not depart.

44 Shall it be said, O house of Jacob, Is the spirit of the Lord straitened? are these his doings? Do not my words do good to him that walketh uprightly? But of late in the mouth of thy congregation of the Lord I have known reproaches.
people is risen up as an enemy: ye strip the robe from off the garment from them that pass by securely as men averse from war. 9 The women of my people ye cast out from their pleasant houses: from their young children ye take away my glory forever. 10 Arise ye, and depart; for this is not your rest: because of uncleanliness that destroyeth, even with a grievous destruction. 11 If a man walking in a wind and false doctrine do lie, saying, I will prophesy unto thee of wine and of strong drink; he shall even be the prophet of this people.

12 I will surely assemble, O Jacob, all of thee; I will surely gather the remnant of Israel: I will put them together as the sheep of Bozrah: as a flock in the midst of their pasture, they shall make great noise by reason of the multitude of men. 13 The breaker is gone up before them: they have broken forth and passed on to the gate, and are gone out thereat: and their king is passed on before them, and the LORD at the head of them.

1 And I said, 'Hear, I pray you, ye heads of Jacob, and rulers of the house of Israel: is it not for you to know judgement? 2 Who hate the good, and love the evil; 3 Who pluck off their skin from off them, and their flesh from off their bones; 4 Who also eat the flesh of my people: and they flay their skin from off them, and break their bones: yea, they chop them in pieces, as for the pot, and as flesh within the caldron. 4 Then shall they cry unto the LORD, but he will not answer them: yea, he will hide his face from them at that time, according as they have wrought evil in their doings. 5 Thus saith the LORD concerning 'the prophets that make my people to err; that bite with their teeth, and cry, Peace; and whoso putteth not into their mouths, they even 'prepare war against him: 6 Therefore 'it shall be night unto you, that ye shall have no vision; and it shall be dark unto you, that ye shall not be divine; and the sun shall go down upon the prophets, and the day shall be black over them. 7 And the seers shall be ashamed, and the diviners confounded: 8 yea, they shall all cover their lips: for 'there is no answer of God. 9 But 'I truly am full of power by the spirit of the Lord; and of judgement, and of might, to declare unto Jacob his transgression, and to Israel his sin. 9 'Hear this, I pray you, ye heads of the house of Jacob, and rulers of the house of Israel, that abhor judgement, and pervert all equity. 10 They build up Zion with blood, and Jerusalem with iniquity. 11 The heads thereof judge for reward, and 'the priests thereof teach for hire, and 'the prophets thereof divine for money: 12 yet will they lean upon the LORD, and 'say, Is not the LORD in the midst of us? 13 no evil shall come upon us. 14 Therefore shall Zion be for your sake be plagued as a field, and Jerusalem 'shall become heaps, and 'the mountain of the house as the high places of a forest.

15 But in the latter days it shall come to pass, that the mountain of the LORD's house shall be established in the top of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above the hills; and peoples shall flow unto it. 1 And many nations shall go and say, Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, and to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for out of Zion shall go forth the law, and the word of the LORD from Jerusalem. 3 And he shall judge between many nations, and shall rebuke strong nations afar off; and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks: nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more. 4 But they shall sit every man under his vine and under his fig tree; and none shall make them afraid: 'for the mouth of the LORD of hosts hath spoken it. 5 For 'all the peoples 'will walk every one in the name of his god, and 'we will walk in the name of the LORD our God for ever and ever.

6 In that day, saith the LORD, will I assemble her 'that halteth, and I will gather her that is driven away, and her that I have afflicted; 7 And she that in the fire is burned, she shall be gathered out of the furnace, and she that is in the flame shall be taken out of the burning. 8 Then shall the Lord make a nation for thee for his inheritance, and an assembly of people as the tribes of the earth. 9 And they shall be great in the land of the Lord; and one of them shall be over them, and two shall lift up the alley by one. 10 And I will bring the third into captivity, and I will return them to their captivity. 11 And I will make you a, praise, and a proverb, among every people. 12 And ye shall be a curse among all peoples, for a reason of the house of Jacob: for they shall seek you, but shall not find: for they shall ask you, but shall not know the way of the LORD.

and I will make her that halted a remnant, and her that was cast far off a strong nation: and the LORD shall reign over them in mount Zion from henceforth even for ever. And thou, O tower of the flock, the hill of the daughter of Zion, unto thee shall it come; yea, the kingdom of the daughter of Jerusalem. Now why dost thou cry out aloud? Is there no king in thee, is thy counsellor perished, that pangs have taken hold of thee as of a woman in travail? Be in pain, and labour to bring forth, O daughter of Zion, like a woman in travail: for now shalt thou go forth out of the city, and shalt dwell in the field, and shall come even unto Babylon; there shalt thou be rescued; there shall the LORD redeem thee from the hand of thine enemies. And now many nations are assembled against thee, that say, Let her be denied, and me. But they know not the thoughts of the LORD, neither understand they his counsel: for he hath gathered them as the sheaves to the threshing-floor. Arise and thresh, O daughter of Zion: for I will make thine horn iron, and I will make thy hoofs brass: and thou shalt be in pieces many peoples: and thou shalt devote their gain unto the LORD, and their substance unto the Lord of the whole earth. Now shalt thou gather thyself in troops, O daughter of troops: he hath laid siege against us: they shall smite the judge of Israel with a rod upon the cheek. But thou, Beth-lehem Ephrathah, which art little to be among the thousands of Judah, out of thee shall one come forth unto me that is to be ruler in Israel: whose goings forth are from of old, from everlasting. Therefore will he give them up, until the time that she which travaileth hath brought forth: then the residue of his brethren shall return unto the children of Israel. And he shall stand, and shall feed his flock in the strength of the LORD, in the majesty of the name of the LORD his God: and they shall abide; for now shall he be great unto the ends of the earth. And this man shall be our peace: when the Assyrian shall come into our land, and when he shall tread in our palaces, then shall we raise against him seven shepherds, and eight principal men. And they shall waste the land of Assyria with the sword, and the land of Nimrod in the entrances thereof: and he shall deliver us from the Assyrian, when he cometh into our land, and when he treadeth within our border. And the remnant of Jacob shall be in the midst of many peoples as dew from the LORD, as showers upon the grass; that tarryeth not for man, nor waiteth for the sons of men. And the remnant of Jacob shall be among the nations, in the midst of many peoples, as a lion among the beasts of the forest, as a young lion among the flocks of sheep: who, if he go through, treadeth down and teareth in pieces, and there is none to deliver. Let thine hand be lifted up above thine adversaries, and let all thine enemies be cut off. And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the LORD, that I will cut off thy horses out of the midst of thee, and will destroy thy chariots: and I will destroy thy cities, and I will throw down all thy strongholds: and I will destroy all witchcrafts out of thine hand; and thou shalt have no more soothsayers: and I will cut off thy graven images and thy pillars out of the midst of thee; and thou shalt no more worship the work of thine hands. And I will pluck up thine Asherim out of the midst of thee: I and I will destroy thy cities. And I will execute vengeance in anger and fury upon the nations which hearkened not.

Hear ye now what the LORD saith: Arise, contend thou before the mountains, and let the hills hear thy voice. * Hear, O ye mountains, * the Lord's controversy, and ye enduring foundations... of the earth: for the LORD hath a controversy with his people, and he will plead with Israel. 30 my people, what have I done unto thee? and wherein have I wearied thee? testify against me. 31 For I brought thee up out of the land of Egypt, and redeemed thee out of the house of bondage; and I sent before thee Moses, Aaron, and Miriam. 32 my people, remember now what Balak king of Moab consulted, and what Balaam the son of Beor answered him: remember from *Shittim unto *Gilgal, that ye may know the righteous acts of the LORD. 33 Wherewith shall I come before the LORD, and bow myself before *the high God? shall I come before him with burnt offerings, with calves of a year old? 34 Will the LORD be pleased with thousand of rams, or with ten thousands of rivers of oil? shall I give my firstborn for my transgressions, the fruit of my body for the sin of my soul? 35 He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the LORD require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to *walk humbly with thy God? 36 The voice of the LORD crieth unto the city, and the man of wisdom will *see thy name: hear ye the rod, and who hath appointed it. 37 Are there yet the treasures of wickedness in the house of the wicked, and the scant *measure that is abominable? 38 Shall I be pure *with wicked balances, and with a bag of deceitful weight? 39 For the rich men thereof are *full of violence, and the inhabitants thereof have spoken lies, and their tongue is deceitful in their mouth. 40 Therefore I also have smitten thee with a grievous wound; *I have made thee desolate because of thy sins. 41 Thou shalt eat, but not be satisfied; and thy humiliation shall be in the midst of thee; and thou shalt remove, but shalt not carry away safe; and that which thou carriest away will I give up to the sword. 42 Thou shalt sow, but shalt not reap: thou shalt tread the olives, but shalt not anoint thee with oil; and the vintage, but shalt not drink the wine. 43 For the statutes of *Omri are kept, and all the works of the house of *Ahab, and ye walk in their counsels: that I should make thee a desolation, and the inhabitants thereof an hissing; and ye shall bear the reproach of my people. 44 Woe is me! for I am as when they have gathered the summer fruits, as the grape gleanings of the vintage: there is no cluster to eat; *my soul desareth the firstripe fig. 45 The godly man is perished out of the earth, and there is none upright among men: *they all lie in wait for blood; they hunt *every man his brother with a net. 46 Their hands are upon that which is evil to do diligently; *the prince asketh, and *the judge is ready for a reward; and the great man, he uttereth the mischief of his soul: thus they weave it together. 47 The best of them is *as a brier: *the most upright is *worse than a thorn hedge: the day of *thy visitation, is come; *now shall be their perplexity. 48 Trust ye not in a friend, put ye not confidence in a *guide: keep *the door of thy mouth from him that lieth in thy bosom. 49 For *the son dishonoureth the father, the daughter riseth up against her mother, the daughter in law against her mother in law; *a man's enemis are the men of his own house. 50 But as for me, *I will look unto the LORD; *I will wait for the God of my salvation: *my God will hear me. 51 Rejoice not against me, O mine enemy: *when I fall, *I shall arise; *when I sit in darkness, the LORD shall be a light unto me. 52 I will bear the indignation of the LORD, because I have sinned against him; until he plead my cause, and execute judgement for me: *he will bring me forth to the light, and I shall behold his righteousness. 53 Then *mine enemy shall see it, and shame shall cover her; which *said unto me. Where is the LORD thy God? *Mine eyes shall behold her; now shall she be trodden down as the mire of the streets. 54 A day for building thy walls! in that day shall the Nahum.

The burden of Nineveh.

The book of the vision of Nahum, the Elkoshite.

The LORD is a jealous God and avengeth; the LORD avengeth and is full of wrath; the LORD taketh vengeance on his adversaries, and he reserveth wrath for his enemies.

The LORD is slow to anger, and great in power, and will by no means clear the guilty: the LORD hath his way in the whirlwind and in the storm, and the clouds are the dust of his feet.

He rebuketh the sea, and maketh it dry, and drieth up all the rivers: Bashan languisheth, and Carmel, and the flower of Lebanon languisheth.

The mountains quake at him, and the hills melt; and the earth is upheaved at his presence, yea, the world, and all that dwell therein.

Who can stand before his indignation? and who can abide in the fierceness of his anger? his fury is poured out like fire, and the rocks are broken asunder by him.

The LORD is good, a strong hold in the day of trouble; and he knoweth them that put their trust in him.

But with an overrunning flood he will make a full end of the place thereof, and will pursue his enemies into darkness.

What do ye imagine? and who is a God like unto thee, which pardoneth iniquity, and passeth by the transgression of the remnant of his heritage? he retaineth not his anger forever.

He will turn again and have compassion upon us; he will tread our iniquities under foot: and he will cast all their sins into the depths of the sea.

Thou wilt perform the truth to Jacob, and the mercy to Abraham, which thou hast sworn unto our fathers from the days of old.
[CHAP. 1, V. 14.]

NAHUM.

I will make thy grave; for thou art vile. 15 Behold, upon the mountains the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace! Keep thy feasts, O Judah, perform thy vows: for 1 the wicked one shall no more pass through thee; he is utterly cut off.

1 He that dasheth in pieces, is come up before thy face: keep the munition, watch the way, make thy loins strong, fortify thy power mightily. 2 For 2 the Lord bringeth again the excellency of Jacob, as the excellency of Israel: for the emptiers have emptied them out, and 3 marred their vine branches. 3 The shield of his mighty men is made red, 4 the valiant men are in scarlet: the chariots flash with steel in the day of his preparation, and 5 the spears are shaken terribly. 6 The chariots rage in the streets, they justle one against another in the broad ways: the appearance of them is like torches, they run like the lightnings. 7 He remembereth his worthies: 8 they stumble in their march; they make haste to the wall thereof, and the mantelet is prepared.

6 The gates of the rivers are opened, and the palace is dissolved. 7 And Huzzab is uncovered, she is discovered, she is carried away, and her handmaids mourn as with the voice of doves, tabering upon their 8 breasts. 8 But Nineveh hath been from of old like a pool of water: yet they flee away; Stand, stand, they cry; but none 8 looketh back. 9 Take ye the spoil of silver, take the spoil of gold: for there is none end of the store, the glory of all pleasant furniture. 10 She is empty, and void, and waste: and 11 the heart melteth, and 12 the knees smite together, and 13 anguish is in all loins, and 14 the faces of them all are waxed pale. 15 Where is the den of the lions, and the feeding place of the young lions, where the lion 10 and the lioness walked, the lion's whelp, and 11 none made them afraid? 12 The lion did tear in pieces enough for his whelps, and strapped his lionesses, and filled his

3 Woe to 9 the bloody city! it is full of lies and rapine: 2 the prey departeth not. 2 The noise of the whip, and the noise of the rattling of wheels; and 3 praussing horses, and 4 jumping chariots; 3 the horseman 11 mounting, and the flashing sword, and 5 the glittering spear; 4 and a multitude of slain, and a great heap of carcasses: and there is none end of the corpses; they stumble upon their corpses: 4 because of the multitude of the whoredoms of the well favoured 5 harlot, the mistress of witchcrafts, that selleth nations through her whoredoms, and families through her witchcrafts. 5 Behold, I am against thee, saith the Lord of hosts, and 1 I will discover thy skirts upon thy face; and I will shew the nations thy nakedness, and the kingdoms thy shame. 6 And I will cast abominable filth upon thee, and 4 make thee vile, and will set thee as a gazin-stock. 7 And it shall come to pass, that all they that look upon thee shall flee from thee, and say, Nin eveh is laid waste: who will be mourning her? 8 Hence shall I seek comforters for thee? 8 Art thou better than 10 No-amon, that was situate amonst the rivers, that had the rampart was 16 the sea, and her wall was of the sea? 9 Ethiopia and Egypt were her strength, and it was infinite: 2 Put and 2 Lubim were thy helpers. 10 Yet was she carried away, she went into captivity: her young children also were dashed in pieces at the top of all the streets: and 11 they cast lots for her honourable men, and all her great men were bound in chains. 11 Thou shalt also be drunken, thou shalt be hid: thou also shalt seek a strong hold because of the enemy. 12 All thy fortresses shall be like fig trees with the firstripe figs: if they be shaken, they fall into the mouth of the eater. 11 Behold, thy people in the midst of thee are women; the gates of thy land are set wide open unto thine enemies: the fire hath devoured thy bars. 12 Draw thee water for the siege, strengthen thy fortresses: go into the clay, and lay the mortar. 13 Strong shall he all the devoure thee: the sword shall cut thee off, it shall devour thee like the cankerworm: make thyself many as the cankerworm, make thyself many as the locust. 16 Thou hast multiplied thy merchants above the stars of heaven: the cankerworm, make thyself strong like the locust. 18 Thou hast multiplied thy merchants above the stars of heaven: the cankerworm, make thyself strong like the locust. 18 Thy merchants are as the locusts, and thy marhsals as the swarms of grasshoppers, which camp in the hedges in the cold day, but when the sun ariseth they flee away, and their place is not known where they are. 18 Thy shepherds slumber, O king of Assyria: thy worthies are at rest: thy people are scattered upon the mountains, and there is none to gather them. 19 There is no assuaging of thy hurt: thy wound is grievous: all that hear the bruit of thee clap the hands over thee; for upon whom hath not thy wickedness passed continually?

HABAKKUK.

1 The burden which Habakkuk the prophet did see.

2 O Lord, how long shall I cry, and thou wilt not hear? I cry out unto thee of violence, and thou wilt not save. 3 Why dost thou shew me iniquity, and 4 look upon perverseness? for spoiling and violence are before me: and there is strife, and contention riseth up. 4 Therefore the law is slacked, and judgement doth never go forth: for the wicked doth compass about the righteous; therefore judgement goeth forth perverted. 5 Behold ye among the nations, and regard, and wonder marvellously: for I work a work in your days, which ye will not believe though it be told you. 6 For, lo, I raise up the Chaldeans, that bitter and hasty nation; 7 which march through the breadth of the earth, to possess dwelling places that are not theirs. 8 They are terrible and dreadful: their judgement and their dignity proceed from themselves. 9 Their horses also are swifter than leopards, and are more fierce than the evening wolves; and their horsemen spread themselves: yea, their horsemen come from far: they fly as an eagle that hasteth to devour. 9 They come all of them for violence; 10 their faces are set eagerly as the east wind; and they gather captives as the sand. 11 We shall not die. O Lord, thou hast ordained him for judgement; and thou, O Rock, hast established him for correction. 13 Thou that art of pure eyes shalt behold evil, and that canst not look on perverseness, wherefore lookest thou upon them that deal treacherously, and holdest thy peace when the wicked swalloweth up the man that is more righteous than he; 14 and maketh men as the fishes of the sea, as the creeping things, that have no ruler over them? 15 He taketh up all of them with the angle, he catcheth them in his net, and gathereth them in his drag: therefore he rejoiceth and is glad. 16 Therefore he sacrificeth unto his net, and burneth incense unto his drag; because by them his portion is fat, and his meat plenteous. Shall he therefore empty his net, and not spare to slay the nations continually? 1 I will stand upon my watch, and set me upon the 2 tower, and will look forth to see what he will speak with me, and what I shall answer concerning my complaint. 2 And the Lord answered me, and said, Write the vision, and make it plain upon tables, that he may run that readeth it. 3 For the vision is yet for the appointed time, and it hasteth toward the end, and shall not lie: though it tarry, wait for it; because it will surely come, it will not delay. 4 Behold, his soul is puffed up, it is not upright in him: but the just shall live by his faith. 5 Yea, moreover, wine is a treacherous dealer, a haughty man, and s] that keepeth not at home; who enlargeth his desire as hell, and he is as death, but the just shall live by his faith. 6 Shall not all these take up a parable against him, and a taunt poem against him, and say, Woe to him that increaseth that which is not his! how long? and that laden himself with pledges! 7 Shall they not rise up suddenly that shall bite thee, and awaken that shall vex thee, and thou shalt be for booties unto them? Because thou hast spoiled many nations, all the remnant of the peoples shall spoil thee; because of men's blood, and for the violence done to the land, to the city and to all that dwell therein.

13 Woe to him that getteth an evil gain for his house, that he may set his nest on high, that he may be delivered from the hand of evil! 14 Thou hast consulted shame to thy house, by cutting off many peoples, and hast sinned against thy soul. 15 For the stone shall cry out of the wall, and the beam out of the timber shall answer it.

4 And the Holy One from Mount Paran. [Selah His glory covered the heavens. 5 God came from Edom, 6 And the Lord came out of Sinai, with powerful signs. 7 And the Lord appeared in the exodus of Egypt, 8 And the Lord came down in a cloud; 9 And standeth on the fleece of Aaron, 10 And the Lord answered, and said, Woe unto him that buildeth a town with blood, and stablisheth a city by iniquity! 13 Behold, is it not of the Lord of hosts that the peoples labour for the fire, and the nations weary themselves for vanity? 14 For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea.

He had rays coming forth from his hand:
And there was the hiding of his power.
5 Before him went the pestilence, and fiery bolts went forth at his feet.
6 He stood, and measured the earth;
And the eternal mountains were scattered.
The everlasting hills did bow;
His goings were as of old.
7 I saw the tents of Cushan in affliction:
The curtains of the land of Midian did tremble.
8 Was the Lord displeased against the rivers?
Was thine anger against the sea,
9 Or thy wrath against the sea,
That thou didst ride upon thine horses?
Upon thy chariots of salvation?
9 Thy bow was made quite bare;
The oaths to the tribes were a nought word.
[Selah]
10 Thou didst cleave the earth with rivers,
The mountains saw thee, and were afraid;
The tempest of waters passed by:
The deep uttered his voice, and lifted up his hands on high.

11 The sun and moon stood still in their habitation;
At the light of thine arrows as they went,
At the shining of thy glittering spear.
12 Thou didst march through the land in indignation,
Thou didst thresh the nations in anger.
13 Thou wentest forth for the salvation of thy people.

9 For the salvation of thine anointed;
10 Thou didst woundest the head out of the house of the wicked,
Laying bare the foundation even unto the neck.
[Selah]
14 Thou didst pierce with your own staves the head of his warriors:
They came as a whirlwind to scatter me:
Their rejoicing was as to devour the poor secretly.
15 Thou didst tread the sea with thine horses.
The 16 heap of mighty waters.

16 I heard, and my belly trembled,
My lips quivered at the voice;
Rottenness entered into my bones, and I trembled in my place:
That I should rest in the day of trouble,
When it cometh up against the people which invadeth him introops.
17 For though the fig tree shall not blossom,
Neither shall fruit be in the vine;
The labour of the olive shall fail,
And the fields shall yield no meat;
The flock shall be cutoff from the fold, And there shall be no herd in the stables;
18 Yet I will rejoice in the Lord,
I will joy in the God of my salvation.
19 Jehovah, the Lord, is my strength,
And he maketh my feet like hinds' feet, And will make me to walk upon mine high places.

ZEPHANIAH.

1 The word of the Lord which came unto Zephaniah the son of Cushiel, the son of Gedaliah, the son of Amariah, the son of Hezekiah, in the days of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah.

2 I will utterly consume all things from off the face of the ground, saith the Lord. 3 I will consume man and beast; I will consume the fowls of the heaven, and the fishes of the sea, and the stumb'lingblocks with the wicked; and I will cut off man from off the face of the ground, saith the Lord. 4 And I will stretch out mine hand upon Judah, and upon all the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and I will cut off the remnant of Baal from this place, and the name of the Chemarim with the priests; and them that worship the host of heaven upon the housetops; and them that worship, which swear by the host of heaven upon the housetops; and them that swear by the name of Malcam; 6 and them that return back from following the Lord; and those that have not sought the Lord, nor inquired after him.

7 Hold thy peace at the presence of the Lord God: for the day of the Lord is at hand: for the Lord hath prepared a sacrifice, he hath sanctified his guests. 8 And it shall come to pass in the day of the Lord's sacrifice, that I will punish the princes, and the king's sons, and all such as are clothed with foreign apparel. 9 And in that day I will punish all those that leap over the threshold, which fill their master's house with violence and deceit. 10 And in that day, saith the Lord, there shall be the noise of a cry from the fish gate, and an howling from the second quarter, and a great crashing from the hills. 11 Howl, ye inhabitants of Maktesh, for all the people of Canaan are undone: all they that were laden with silver are cut off. 12 And it shall come to pass at that time, that I will search Jerusalem with candles, and I will punish the men that are settled on their lees, that say in their heart, The Lord will not do good, neither will he do evil. 13 And their wealth shall become a spoil, and their houses a desolation: yea, they shall build houses, but shall not inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, but shall not drink the wine thereof. 14 The great day of the Lord is near, it is near and hasteth greatly, even the voice of the day of the Lord; a the mighty man crieth there bitterly. 15 That day is a day of wrath, a day of trouble and distress, a day of wasteness and desolation, a day of darkness and gloominess, a day of clouds and thick darkness, a day of the trumpet and alarm, against the fenced cities, and against the high battlements. 16 And I will bring distress upon men, that they shall walk like blind men, because they have sinned against the Lord: and their blood shall be poured out as dust, and their flesh as dung. 18 Neither their silver nor their gold shall be able to deliver them in the day of the Lord's wrath; but the whole land shall be devoured by the fire of his jealousy: for he shall make an end, yea, a terrible end, of all them that dwell in the land. 19 Gather yourselves together, ye heart of the army, to the battle. 20 Before the decree bring forth, before the day pass as the chaff, before the fierce anger of the Lord come upon you, before the day of the Lord's anger come upon you. 21 Seek ye the Lord, all ye meek of the earth, which have wrought this judgement; seek righteousness, seek meekness: it may be ye shall be hid in the day of the Lord's anger. 22 For Gaza shall be forsaken, and Ashkelon a desolation: they shall drive out Ashdod at the noonday, and Ekron shall be rooted up. 23 Woe unto the inhabitants of the sea coast, the nation of the Philistines! The word of the Lord is against you, O Canaan, the land of the Philistines; I will destroy thee, that there shall be no remnant.
inhabitant. 6 And the sea coast shall be pastures, with 1 cottages for shepherds and folds for flocks. 7 And the coast shall be for the remnant of the house of Judah; they shall feed their flocks thereupon: in the houses of Ashkelon shall they lie down in the evening; for the Lord their God shall visit them, and bring again their captivity. 8 I have heard the reproach of Moab, and the revilings of the children of Ammon, wherewith they have reproached my people, and magnified themselves against their border. 9 Therefore as I live, saith the Lord, the host of hosts, Surely Moab shall be as Sodom, and the children of Ammon as Gomorrah, a possession of nettles, and saltpits, and a perpetual desolation: the residue of my people shall spoil them, and the remnant of my nation shall inherit them. 10 This shall they have for their pride, because they have reproached and magnified themselves against their border. 11 The Lord will be terrible unto them: for he will famish all the gods of the earth; and men shall worship him, every one from his place, even all the isles of the nations. 12 Ye Ethiopians also, shalt thou be slain by my sword. 13 And he will stretch out his hand against the north, and destroy Assyria; and will make Nineveh a desolation, and dry like the wilderness. 14 And herds shall lie down in the midst of her, all the beasts of the nations: both the pelican and the porcupine shall lodge in the chapters thereof: their voice shall sing in the windows; desolation shall be in the thresholds: for he hath laid bare the cedar work. 15 This is the joyous city that dwelt carelessly, that said in her heart, I am, and there is none else beside me; how is she become a desolation, a place for beasts to lie down in! every one that passeth by her shall hiss, and wag his hand. 16 Woe to her that is rebellious and polluted, to the oppressing city! 2 She obeyed not the voice; she received not correction; she trusted not in the Lord; she drew not near to her God. 3 Her princes in the midst of her are roaring lions; her judges are evening wolves; they leave nothing till the morrow. 4 Her prophets are light and treacherous persons; her priests have profaned the sanctuary, they have done violence to the law. 5 The Lord in the midst of her is righteous; he will not do iniquity; every morning doth he bring his judgement to light, he faileth not; but the unjjust knoweth no shame. 6 I have cut off nations, their battlements are desolate; I have made their streets waste, that none passeth by: their houses are burnt up, that none inhabitant. 7 I said, Surely thou wilt fear me, thou wilt receive correction; so her dwelling should not be cut off, according to all that I have appointed concerning her: but they rose early and corrupted all their doings. 8 Therefore wait ye for me, saith the Lord, until the day that I rise up to the prey: for my determination is to gather the nations, that I may assemble the kingdoms, to pour upon them mine indignation, even all my fierce anger; for all the earth shall be devoured with the fire of my jealousy. 9 For then will I turn to the peoples a pure language, that they may all call upon the name of the Lord, to serve him with one consent. 10 From beyond the rivers of Ethiopia my suppliants, even the daughter of my dispersed, shall bring mine offering. 11 In that day shalt thou not be ashamed for all thy doings, wherein thou hast transgressed against me: for then I will take away out of the midst of thee thy proudly exulting ones, and thou shalt no more be haughty in my holy mountain. 12 But I will leave in the midst of thee an afflicted and poor people, and they shall trust in the name of the Lord. 13 The remnant of Israel shall not do iniquity, nor speak lies; neither shall a deceitful tongue be found in their mouth: for they shall feed and lie
In the second year of Darius the king, in the sixth month, in the first day of the month, came the word of the Lord by Haggai the prophet unto Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, saying, Thus speaketh the Lord of hosts, saying, This people say, It is not the time for us to come, the time for the Lord's house to be built. Then came the word of the Lord by Haggai the prophet, saying, Is it a time for you yourselves to dwell in your cedared houses, while this house lieth waste? Now therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts: Consider your ways. Ye have sown much, and bring in little; yea, ye eat, but ye have not enough; ye drink, but ye are not filled with drink; ye clothe you, but there is none warm; and he that earneth wages earneth wages to put it into a bag with holes. Thus saith the Lord of hosts: Consider your ways. Go up to the mountain, and bring wood, and build the house; and I will take pleasure in it, and I will be glorified, saith the Lord. Ye looked for much, and, lo, it came to little; and when ye brought it home, I did blow upon it. Why saith the Lord of hosts: Because of mine house that lieth waste, while ye run every man to his own house. Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts: Consider your ways. Ye have sown much, and bring in little; yea, ye eat, but ye have not enough; ye drink, but ye are not filled with drink; ye clothe you, but there is none warm; and he that earneth wages earneth wages to put it into a bag with holes. Thus saith the Lord of hosts: Consider your ways. Go up to the mountain, and bring wood, and build the house; and I will take pleasure in it, and I will be glorified, saith the Lord. Ye looked for much, and, lo, it came to little; and when ye brought it home, I did blow upon it.
In the seventh month, in the one and twentieth day of the month, came the word of the Lord by Haggai the prophet, saying, 2 Speak now to Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua, son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and to the remnant of the people, saying, 3 Who is left among you that saw this house in its former glory? and how do ye see it now? is it not in your eyes as nothing? 4 Yet now be strong, O Zerubbabel, saith the Lord; and be strong, O Joshua, son of Jehozadak, the high priest: and be strong, all ye people of the land, saith the Lord, and work, for I am with you, saith the Lord of hosts. 5 According to the word that I covenanted with you when ye came out of Egypt, and my spirit abode among you: fear ye not. 6 For thus saith the Lord of hosts: Yet once, it is a little while, and I will shake the heavens, and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land; 7 and I will shake all nations, and the desirable thing of all nations shall come, and I will fill this house with glory, saith the Lord of hosts. 8 The silver is mine, and the gold is mine, saith the Lord of hosts. 9 The latter glory of this house shall be greater than the former, saith the Lord of hosts: and in this place will I give peace, saith the Lord of hosts.

In the fourth and twentieth day of the month, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the Lord by Haggai the prophet, saying, 11 Thus saith the Lord of hosts: Ask now the priests concerning the law, saying, 12 If one bear holy flesh in the skirt of his garment, and with his skirt do touch bread, or pottage, or wine, or oil, or any meat, shall it become holy? And the priests answered and said, 13 No. Then said Haggai, 14 If one that is unclean by a dead body touch any of these, shall it be unclean? And the priests answered and said, It shall be unclean. 15 Then answered Haggai and said, So is this people, and so is this nation before me, saith the Lord; and so is every work of their hands; and that which they offer there is unclean. 16 And now, I pray you, consider from before a stone was laid upon a stone in the temple of the Lord: 17 through all that time, when one came to an heap of twenty measures, there were but ten; when one came to the wine-press for to draw out fifty vessels, there were but twenty. 18 I smote you with blasting and with mildew and with hail in all the work of your hands; yet ye turned not to me, saith the Lord. 19 Consider, I pray you, from this day and upward, from the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, since the day that the foundation of the Lord's temple was laid, consider it. 20 Is the seed yet in the barn? yea, the vine, and the fig tree, and the pomegranate, and the olive tree hath not brought forth; from this day will I bless you. 21 And the word of the Lord came the second time unto Haggai, in the four and twentieth day of the month, saying, 22 Speak to Zerubbabel, governor of Judah, saying, I will shake the throne of kingdoms, and I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the nations: and I will overthrow the chariots, and those that ride in them; and the horses and their riders shall come down, every one by the sword of his brother. 23 In that day, saith the Lord of hosts, I will take thee, O Zerubbabel, my servant, the son of Shealtiel, saith the Lord, and will make thee as a signet: for I have chosen thee, saith the Lord of hosts.
In the eighth month, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the LORD unto Zech-ariah the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo, the prophet, saying, to The LORD hath been sore displeased with your fathers. Therefore say thou unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Return unto me, saith the LORD of hosts, and I will return unto you, saith the LORD of hosts. Be ye not as your fathers, unto whom the former prophets cried, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Return ye now from your evil ways, and from your evil doings: but they did not hear, nor hearken unto me, saith the LORD. Your fathers, where are they, and the prophets, do they live for ever? But my words and my statutes, which I commanded my servants the prophets, did they not overtake your fathers? and they turned and said, Like as the LORD of hosts thought to do unto us, according to our ways, and according to our doings, so hath he dealt with us.

Upon the four and twentieth day of the eleventh month, which is the month Shebat, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the LORD unto Zechariah the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo, the prophet, saying, I saw in the night, and behold a man riding upon a red horse, and he stood among the myrtle trees that were in the lowest; and behind him there were horses, red, sorrel, and white. Then said I, O my lord, what are these? And he answered me, These are the horns which have scattered Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem. And the LORD shewed me four smiths. And said I, What come theses to do? And he spake, saying, These are the horns which scattered Judah, so that no man did lift up his head: but these are come to fray them, to cast down the horns of the nations, which lifted up their horn against the land of Judah to scatter it.

And I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold fourhorns. And I said unto the angel that talked with me, What be these? And he answered me, These are the horns which have scattered Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem. And the LORD shewed me four smiths. Then said I, What cometh these to do? And he spake, saying, These are the horns which scattered Judah, so that no man did lift up his head: but these are come to fray them, to cast down the horns of the nations, which lifted up their horn against the land of Judah to scatter it.

And I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold a man with a measuring line in his hand. Then said I, Whither goeth thou? And he answered me, To measure Jerusalem, to see what is the breadth thereof, and what is the length thereof. And, behold, the angel that talked with me went forth, and another angel went out to meet him, and said unto him, Run, speak to this young man, say—
3 And he shewed me Joshua the high priest standing before the angel of the Lord, and Satan standing at his right hand to be his adversary. 4 And the Lord said unto Satan, The Lord rebuke thee, O Satan; yea, the Lord that hath chosen Jerusalem rebuke thee: is this not a brand plucked out of the fire? 3 Now Joshua was clothed with filthy garments, and stood before the angel. 4 And he answered and spake unto those that stood before him, saying, Take the filthy garments from off him. And unto him he said, Behold, I have caused thine iniquity to pass from thee, and I will clothe thee with rich apparel. 5 And I said, Let them set a fair mitre upon his head. So they set a fair mitre upon his head, and clothed him with garments; and the angel of the Lord stood by. 6 And the angel of the Lord protested unto Joshua, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hosts: If thou wilt walk in my ways, and if thou wilt keep my charge, then thou also shalt judge my house, and thou shalt also keep my courts, and I will give thee a place of access among these that stand by. 8 Hear now, O Joshua the high priest, thou and thy fellows that sit before thee; for they are men which are a sign: for, behold, I will bring forth my servant the Branch. 9 For behold, the stone that I have set before Joshua; upon one stone are seven eyes: behold, I will engrave the graving thereof, saith the Lord of hosts, and I will remove the iniquity of that land in one day. 10 In that day, saith the Lord of hosts, shall every man call his neighbour, a sign under the vine and under the fig tree.

And

the angel that talked with me came again, and waked me, as a man that is wakened out of his sleep. 2 And he said unto me, What seest thou? And I said, I have seen, and beheld, a candlestick all of gold, with its bowl upon the top of it, and its seven lamps thereon: there are seven pipes to each of the lamps, which are upon the top thereof: 3 and two olive trees by it, one upon the right side of the bowl, and the other upon the left side thereof. 4 And I answered and spoke unto the angel that talked with me, saying, What are these, my lord? 5 Then the angel that talked with me answered and said unto me, Knowest thou not what these be? And I said, No, my lord. 6 Then he answered and spake unto me, saying, This is the word of the Lord unto Zerubbabel, saying, Not by might, nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the Lord of hosts. 7 Who art thou, O great mountain? before Zerubbabel thou shalt become a plain: and he shall bring forth the head stone with shoutings of Grace, grace, unto it. 8 Moreover the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, The hands of Zerubbabel have laid the foundation of this house; his hands shall ZECHARIAH.

1 Then the angel talked with me, and said unto me, Lift up now thine eyes, and see what is this that goeth forth. 2 And I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold, a flying roll. 3 Then said he unto me, What seest thou? And I answered, I see a flying roll; the length thereof is twenty cubits, and the breadth thereof ten cubits. 4 Then said he unto me, This is the curse that goeth forth over the face of the whole land: for every one that sweareth shall be purged out on the one side according to it; and every one that swareth shall be purged out on the other side according to it. 5 I will cause it to go forth, saith the Lord of hosts, and it shall enter into the house of the thief, and into the house of the swearer falsely by my name: and it shall abide in the midst of his house, and shall consume it with the timber thereof and the stones thereof. 6 Then the angel that talked with me went forth, and said unto me, Lift up now thine eyes, and see what is this that goeth forth. 7 And I said, What is it? And he said, This is the ephah that goeth forth. 8 He said moreover, This is their resemblance in all the land: 9 (and behold, there was lifted up a talent of lead upon the mouth thereof. 10 Then the angel that talked with me went forth, and sought to go that north country; and the grisled went forth after them; and the white went forth after them; and the bay went forth after them, and sought to go that they might walk to and fro through the earth: and he said, Get you hence, walk to and fro through the earth. 11 Then said I, Whither do these bear the ephah? 12 And he said unto me, To build an house in the land of Shinar. 13 Then I said, Whence shall these come? 14 And he answered, These are the four winds of heaven, which go forth from the four corners of the earth. 15 And the spirit went forth, and stood before the Lord of all the earth. 16 And the spirit lifted up an ephah of lead; and put it in the midst of the ephah. 17 And he said, This is the iniquity of Babylon, that satterreth herself in the midst of the nations; and she hath been reigned over the nations. 18 And he said, This is Wickedness. 19 Then said I, Whither goeth the ephah? 20 And he answered, To be set upon the head of Joshua the son of Jozadak, the high priest.
the son of Jehozadak, the high priest; 2a and speak unto him, saying, Thus speaketh the Lord of hosts, saying, Behold, the man whose name is the Branch; and he shall grow up out of his place, and he shall build the temple of the Lord; 3b even he shall build the temple of the Lord; 4a and he shall bear the glory, and shall sit and rule upon his throne; 4b and he shall be a priest upon his throne: 5a and the counsel of peace shall be between them both. 6a And the 6 crowns shall be to 6 Hellem, and to 6 Tobijah, and to 6 Jedaiah, and 6 to Hen 6 the son of Zephaniah, for a memorial in the temple of the Lord. 7a And they that are far off shall come and build in the temple of the Lord, 7b and ye shall know that the Lord of hosts hath sent me unto you. 8a And this shall come to pass, if ye will diligently obey the voice of the Lord your God.

And it came to pass in the fourth year of king Darius, that the word of the Lord came unto Zechariah in the fourth day of the ninth month, even in 7 Chislev.

Now they of Beth-el had sent Sharezer and Regem-melech, and their men, to intreat the favour of the Lord, 3 and to speak unto the priests of the house of the Lord of hosts, 4 and to the prophets, saying, Should I weep in the fifth month, separating myself, as I have done these so many years? Then came the word of the Lord of hosts unto me, saying, 5 Speak unto all the people of the land, and to the priests, saying, When ye fasted and mourned in the fifth and in the seventh month, even these seventy years, did ye at all fast unto me, even to me? 6 And when ye eat, and when ye drink, do not ye eat for yourselves, and drink for yourselves? 7 Should ye not hear the words which the Lord hath cried by the former prophets, when Jerusalem was inhabited and in prosperity, and the cities thereof round about her, and the South and the lowland were inhabited? 8 And the word of the Lord came unto Zechariah, saying, 9 Thus hath the Lord of hosts spoken, saying, 'Execute true judgement, and shew mercy and compassion every man to his brother: 10 and oppress not the widow, nor the fatherless, the stranger, nor the poor; and let none of you imagine evil against his brother in your heart. 11 But none of you imagine evil against his brother in your heart. 12 But none of you imagine evil against his brother in your heart. 13 But none of you imagine evil against his brother in your heart.'

And the word of the Lord of hosts came to me, saying, 2 Thus saith the Lord of hosts: I am jealous for Zion with great jealousy, and I am jealous for her with great fury. 3 Thus saith the Lord: 'I am returned unto Zion, and I will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem: 4 and Jerusalem shall be called The city of truth; and the mountain of the Lord of hosts, The holy mountain. 5 Thus saith the Lord of hosts: There shall yet be old men and old women in the streets of Jerusalem, every man with his staff in his hand 16 for very age. 6 And the streets of the city shall be full of boys and girls playing in the streets thereof. 6 Thus saith the Lord of hosts: 7 If it be marvellous in the eyes of the remnant of this people in those days, 8 should it also be marvellous in mine eyes? saith the Lord of hosts. 7 Thus saith the Lord of hosts: Behold, 1 I will save my people from the east country, and from the west country: 8 and I will bring them in, and they shall dwell in the midst of Jerusalem.
Thus saith the LORD of hosts: It shall yet come to pass, that there shall come peoples, and the inhabitants of many cities: and the inhabitants of one city shall go to another, saying, Let us go speedily to intreat the favour of the LORD, and to seek the LORD of hosts: I will go also. Ye, many peoples and strong nations shall come to seek the LORD of hosts in Jerusalem, and to intreat the favour of the LORD. Thus saith the LORD of hosts: In those days it shall come to pass, that ten men shall take hold, 'out of all the languages of the nations, shall even take hold of the skirt of him that is a Jew, saying, We will go with you, for we have heard that God is with you.

The burden of the word of the LORD upon the land of Hadrach, and Damascus shall be its resting place: for the eye of man and of all the tribes of Israel is toward the LORD: and Hamath also which bordereth thereon: Tyre and Zion, because she is very wise. And Tyrif did build herself a strong hold, and heaped up silver as the dust, and fine gold as the mire of the streets. Behold, the Lord will dispossess her, and he will smite her power in the sea; and Tyre shall be devoured with fire.

Ashkelon shall see it, and fear; Gaza also, and shall be sore pained; and Ekron, for her expectation shall be ashamed: and the king shall perish from Gaza, and Ashkelon shall not be inhabited. And a bastard shall dwell in Ashdod, and I will cut off the pride of the Philistines. And I will take away his blood out of his mouth, and his abominations from between his teeth; and he also shall be a remnant for our God: and he shall be as a chieftain in Judah, and Ekron as a Jebusite. And I will encamp about mine house against the army, that none pass through or return: and no oppressor shall pass through them any more: for now have I seen with mine eyes.

unto thee: he is just, and having salvation; walking, and riding upon an ass, even upon a colt the foal of an ass. 10 And I will cut off the chariot from Ephraim, and the horse from Jerusalem, and the battle bow shall be cut off; and he shall speak peace unto the nations: and his dominion shall be from sea to sea, and from the River to the ends of the earth. 11 As for thee also, because of the blood of thy covenant I have sent forth thy prisoners out of the pit wherein is no water. 12 Turn you to the strong hold, ye prisoners of hope: even to-day do I declare that I will render double unto thee. 13 For I have bent Judah for me, I have filled the bow with Ephraim; and I will stir up thy sons, O Zion, against thy sons. 14 O Greece, and will make thee as the sword of a mighty man. 15 And the Lord shall be seen over them, and his arrow shall go forth as the lightning: and the Lord God shall blow the trumpet, and shall go with whirlwinds of the south. 16 The Lord of hosts shall defend them; and they shall devour, and shall tread down the sling stones; and they shall drink, and make a noise as through wine: and they shall be filled like bowls, like the corners of the altar. 17 For I have bent Judah for me, I have filled the bow with Ephraim; and I will stir up thy sons, O Zion, against thy sons. 18 Goodly ones are spoiled: howl, O ye oaks of Bashan, for the strong and pine trees of the wood. 19 For the spoiler shall come up before the poplar, and shall enter into the house of the covenant. 20 Ye have multiplied thy merchants over seas; thy merchants were the chief of the nations. 21 And I will bring them again also out of Assyria; and I will give them into the land of Gilead and Lebanon; and place shall not be found for them, nor shall they be cast away any more; and nations shall not客商 them. 22 Ask ye of the Lord rain in the time of the latter rain, even of the Lord that maketh lightnings; and he shall give them showers of rain, to every one grass in the field. 2 For the teraphim have spoken vanity, and the diviners have seen a lie; and they have told false dreams, they comfort in vain: therefore they go their way like sheep, they are afflicted, because there is no shepherd. 3 Mine anger is kindled against the shepherds, and I will punish the he-goats: for the Lord of hosts hath visited his flock the house of Judah, and shall make them as his goodly horse in the battle. 4 From him shall come forth the corner stone, from him the nailing, from him the battle bow, from him every exactor together. 5 And they shall be as mighty men, treading down their enemies in the midst of the streets in the battle; and they shall fight, because the Lord is with them: and the riders on horses shall be confounded. 6 And 7 I will strengthen the house of Judah, and I will save the house of Joseph, and I will bring them again, for I have mercy upon them; and they shall be as though I had not cast them off: for I am the Lord their God, and I will hear them. 8 And they of Ephraim shall be like a mighty man, and their heart shall rejoice as through wine: yea, their children shall see it, and rejoice; their hearts shall be glad in the Lord. 9 I will sow them among the peoples; and they shall remember me in far countries: and they shall live with their children, and shall return. 10 I will bring them again also out of the land of Egypt, and gather them out of Assyria; and I will bring them into the land of Gilead and Lebanon; and place shall not be found for them, nor shall they be cast away any more: and nations shall not客商 them. 11 In the mean time of the latter rain, even of the Lord that maketh lightnings; and he shall give them showers of rain, to every one grass in the field. 12 And Joseph shall be a fruitful branch for the Lord; and they shall eat of it in the strength of the Lord.”
pride of Jordan is spoiled. 4 Thus said the LORD my God: 5 Feed the flock of slaughter; 6 whose possessors slay them, and hold themselves not guilty; and they that sell them say, Blessed be the LORD, for I will no more pity the inhabitants of the land, saith the LORD: but, lo, I will deliver the men every one into his neighbour's hand, and into the hand of his king: and they shall smite the land, and out of their hand I will not deliver them. 7 So I fed the flock of slaughter, verily "the poor of the flock. And I took unto me two staves; the one I called "Bands; "and I fed the flock. 8 And I cut off the three shepherds in one month; for my soul was weary of them, and their soul also loathed me. 9 Then said I, I will not feed you: that that dieth, let that die; and that that is to be cut off, let it be cut off; and let them which are left eat every one the flesh of another. 10 And I took my staff Beauty, and cut it asunder, that I might break my covenant which I had made with all the peoples. 11 And it was broken in that day: and thus the poor of the flock that gave heed unto me knew that it was the word of the LORD. 12 And I said unto them, If ye think good, give me my hire; and if not, forbear. So they weighed for my hire thirty pieces of silver. 13 And the LORD said unto me, Cast it unto the potter, the goodly price that I was prised at of them. And I took the thirty pieces of silver, and cast them "unto the potter, in the house of the LORD. 14 Then I cut asunder mine other staff, even Bands, that I might break the brotherhood between Judah and Israel. 15 And the LORD said unto me, Take unto thee yet again the instruments of a foolish shepherd. 16 For, lo, I will raise up a shepherd in the land, which shall not visit those that be cut off, neither shall seek those that be scattered, nor heal that that is broken; neither shall he feed that which is sound, but he shall eat the flesh of the fat, and shall tear their hoofs in pieces. 17 "Woe to the worthless shepherd that leaveth the flock! the sword shall be upon his arm, and upon his right eye: his arm shall be clean dried up, and his right eye shall be utterly darkened.

The burden of the word of the LORD concerning Israel. Thus saith the LORD, which stretcheth forth the heavens, and layeth the foundation of the earth, and formeth the spirit of man within him: a Behold, I will make Jerusalem a cup of reeling unto all the peoples round about, and upon Judah also shall it be in the siege against Jerusalem. 3 And it shall come to pass that in that day, that I will make Jerusalem a burden-some stone for all the peoples; all that burden themselves with it shall be sore wounded; and all the nations of the earth shall be gathered together against it. 4 In that day, saith the LORD, I will make every horse & with astonishment, and his rider with madness: and I will open mine eyes upon the house of Judah, and will smite every horse of the peoples with blindness. 5 And the chieftains of Judah shall say in their heart, The inhabitants of Jerusalem are my strength in the LORD of hosts their God. 6 In that day will I make the chieftains of Judah like a pan of fire among wood, and like a torch of fire among shaves; and they shall devour all the peoples round about, on the right hand and on the left: and Jerusalem shall yet again dwell in her own place, even in Jerusalem.

7 The LORD also shall save the tents of Judah first, that the glory of the house of David and the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem be not magnified above Judah. 8 In that day shall the LORD defend the inhabitants of Jerusalem: and he that is feeble among them at that day shall be as David; and the house of David shall be as God, as the angel of the LORD before them. 9 And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will seek to destroy all the nations that come against Jerusalem. 10 And I will pour upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the spirit of grace and of supplication; and they shall look unto me whom they have pierced: and they shall mourn for him, as one mourneth for his only son, and shall be in bitterness for him, as one that is in bitterness for his firstborn. 11 In that day shall there be a great mourning in Jerusalem, as the mourning of Hadadrimmon in the valley of Megiddon. 12 And the land shall mourn, every family apart; the family of the house of David apart, and their wives apart; the family of the house of Nathan apart, and their wives apart; 13 the family of the house of Levi apart, and their wives apart; 14 the families that remain, every family apart, and their wives apart.

13 In that day there shall be a fountain opened to the house of David and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, for sin and for uncleanness. 2 And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord of hosts, that I will cut off the names of the idols out of the land, and they shall no more be remembered: and also I will cause the prophets and the unclean spirit to pass out of the land. 3 And it shall come to pass, that when any shall yet prophesy, then his father and his mother that begat him shall say unto him, Thou shalt not live: for thou speakest lies in the name of the Lord; and his father and his mother that begat him shall thrust him through when he prophesieth.

4 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the prophets shall be ashamed every one of his vision, when he prophesieth; neither shall they wear a hairy mantle to deceive: 5 but he shall say, I am no prophet, I am a tiller of the ground; for I have been made a bondman from my youth.

6 And one shall say unto him, What are these wounds between thine arms? Then he shall answer, Those with which I was wounded in the house of my friends.

7 Awake, O sword, against my shepherd, and against the man that is my fellow, saith the Lord of hosts: smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered; and I will turn mine hand upon the little ones. 8 And it shall come to pass, that in all the land, saith the Lord, two parts therein shall be cut off and die; 9 but the third shall be left therein. 9 And I will bring the third part through the fire, and will refine them as silver is refined, and will try them as gold is tried: they shall call on my name, and I will hear them. 10 And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord, that the mourning of Jerusalem shall be as the mourning of Haddadrimmon in the valley of Megiddon. 11 And the land shall mourn, every family apart; the family of the house of David apart, and their wives apart; the family of the house of Nathan apart, and their wives apart; 12 the family of the house of Levi apart, and their wives apart; 13 all the families that remain, every family apart, and their wives apart.

14 Behold, a day is coming, when the Lord cometh, when thy spoil shall be divided in the midst of thee. 2 For I will gather all nations against Jerusalem to battle; and the city shall be taken, and the houses rifled, and the women ravished: and half of the city shall go forth into captivity, and the residue of the people shall not be cut off from the city. 3 Then shall the Lord go forth, and fight against those nations, as when he fought in the day of battle. 4 And his feet shall stand in that day upon the mount of Olives, which is before Jerusalem on the east, and the mount of Olives shall cleave in the midst thereof toward the east and toward the west, and half of the mountain shall remove toward the north, and half of it toward the south. 5 And ye shall flee by the valley of the mountains; for the mountain shall remove toward the valley of the mountains; and half of the valley shall be cut off from the city, and half of it shall be cut off from the city.

6 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the Lord shall bring the host of the sea from the east, and shall have many nations against Jerusalem to battle; and the city shall be taken, and the houses rifled, and the women ravished: and half of the city shall go forth into captivity, and the residue of the people shall not be cut off from the city. 7 Then shall the Lord gather to Jerusalem all the nations that have assembled against her; and the city shall be inhabited again, and the houses shall be built in that day. 8 And it shall come to pass in that day, that living waters shall go out from Jerusalem; half of them toward the eastern sea, and half of them toward the western sea: 9 and in summer and in winter shall there be meat upon the house roofs, and my people shall sit within, and shall not go out.T 10 And it shall come to pass in the day when thou shalt shake a fruitful branch in the land, that it shall be for a song, for it was not so in thy song at thy time of pilgrimage. 11 And the house of David and the house of Nathan shall be as in the song of that day. 12 And I will multiply upon them loving kindness and mercy for ever, and my house shall be named upon the house of David and upon the house of my people Israel, that I bestow upon them mercy for evermore. 13 And I will smite the earth with the great and mighty earthquake in the days of the Lord; and there shall be no more the strength of men, nor the strength of horses; for they shall be utterly cut off. 14 And I will say in that day, Lo, it is I who build up Jerusalem, and I will be glorified in the midst of her. 15 And I will save the house of Judah, and the house of Joseph; and I will build them, and they shall know me; for I will be their God, and they shall be my people. 16 And Judah shall build upon Zion, and Jerusalem shall build upon her stones. 17 And the house of Jacob shall be a light in the land, and the house of Joseph a light in Zion; and the house of Zion shall be a light in the earth. 18 And the Gentiles shall look to them and be surprised, and the kingdoms of the earth shall be afraid of them. 19 And when they see Jerusalem built up, established in evil, they shall be astonished at it, and look upon it with wonder and amazement. 20 And they shall say, Lo, this is our Lord; and they shall be sure of it, for the Lord shall come, and all the Gentiles shall see him. 21 And the Lord shall be king over all the earth: in that day it shall be said, Lo, the Lord is king over all the earth. 22 And the Lord shall be one, and his name one. 23 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the Lord shall be the God of all the tribes of Israel, and their God. 24 And it shall come to pass in that day, that Jerusalem shall be inhabited, even as cities and towns; and the Jebusites shall dwell in Jerusalem among the Jewish. 25 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the great sound of a great noise shall be heard in the land of Jacob, such as the noise of eyes, and such as the noise of heard. 26 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the Lord shall be sought of all nations, and shall be save of those nations. 27 And many nations shall come, and say, Lo, this is the place of our Lord, this is the place of the house of our God, and this is the place of prayer; and I will come and will pray here. 28 And the Lord shall be one, and his name one.
And in summer and in winter shall it be. And the Lord shall be king over all the earth: in that day shall the Lord be one, and his name one.

All the land shall be turned as the Arabah, from Geba to Rimmon south of Jerusalem; and she shall be lifted up, and Jeshanah shall dwell in her place, from Benjamin's gate unto the place of the first gate, unto the corner gate, and from the tower of Hananel unto the king's winepresses. And men shall dwell therein, and there shall be no more curse: but Jerusalem shall dwell safely.

And this shall be the plague wherewith the Lord will smite all the nations that have warred against Jerusalem: their flesh shall consume away while they stand upon their feet, and their eyes shall consume away in their sockets, and their tongue shall consume away in their mouth. And it shall come to pass in that day, that a great tumult from the Lord shall be among them; and they shall lay hold every one on the hand of his neighbour, and his hand shall rise up against the hand of his neighbour.

And Judah also shall fight against Jerusalem; and the wealth of all the nations round about shall be gathered together, gold, and silver, and apparel, in great abundance. And so shall be the plague of the horse, of the mule, of the camel, and of the ass, and of all the beasts that shall be in those camps, as this plague.

And it shall come to pass, that every one that is left of all the nations which came against Jerusalem shall go up from year to year to worship the King, the Lord of hosts, and to keep the feast of tabernacles. And it shall be, that whosoever of all the families of the earth goeth not up unto Jerusalem to worship the King, the Lord of hosts, and to keep the feast of tabernacles, he shall be cut off from among his people.

This shall be the punishment of Egypt, and the punishment of all the nations that go not up to keep the feast of tabernacles, so in that day shall there be upon the bells of the horses, holy unto the Lord; and the pots in the Lord's house shall be like the bowls before the altar.

Yea, every pot in Jerusalem and in Judah shall be holy unto the Lord; and all they that sacrifice shall come and take of them, and seethe therein: and in that day there shall be no more the Canaanite in the house of the Lord of hosts.
MALACHI.

1 a The burden of the word of the Lord to Israel by Malachi.

2 a I have loved you, saith the Lord. b Yet ye say, Wherein hast thou loved us? c Was not Esau Jacob's brother? saith the Lord; d yet I loved Jacob; 3 but Esau I hated, and e made his mountains a desolation, and gave his heritage to the jackals of the wilderness.

4 a Whereas Edom saith, We are beaten down, but we will return and build the waste places; thus saith the Lord of hosts, They shall build, but I will throw down: and men shall call them The border of wickedness, and The people against whom the Lord hath indignation for ever.

5 a And your eyes shall see, and ye shall say, The Lord be magnified beyond the border of Israel.

6 a A son honoureth his father, and a servant his master: if then I be a father, where is mine honour? and if I be a master, where is my fear? saith the Lord of hosts unto you, 'i O priests, that despise my name. d And ye say, Wherein have we despised thy name? e Ye offer polluted bread upon mine altar. d And ye say, Wherein have we polluted thee? In that ye say, 'The table of the Lord is contemnible. 8 a And when ye offer the blind for sacrifice, it is no evil; 9 and when ye offer the lame and sick, it is no evil! Present it now unto thy governor; will he be pleaded with thee? or will he accept thy person? saith the Lord of hosts. 9 And now, I pray you, dintreat the favour of God, that he may be gracious unto us: this hath been by your means: 10 will he accept any of your persons? saith the Lord of hosts. 10 a Oh that there were one among you that would shut the doors, that ye might not kindle fire on mine altar in vain! I have no pleasure in you, saith the Lord of hosts, neither will I accept an offering at your hand. 12 For from the rising of the sun even unto the going down of the same my name is great among the Gentiles; and in every place incense is offered unto my name, and a pure offering: for my name is great among the Gentiles, saith the Lord of hosts. 12 But ye profane it, in that ye say, 'The table of the Lord is polluted, and the fruit thereof, even his meat, is contemnible. 13 Ye say also, Behold, what a weariness is it! and ye have smitten at it, saith the Lord of hosts; and ye have brought that which was taken by violence, and the lame, and the sick; thus ye bring the offering: should I accept this of your hand? saith the Lord. 14 But cursed be the deceiver, which hath in his flock a male, and a voweth, and sacrifeth unto the Lord a blemished thing: for I am a great king, saith the Lord of hosts, and my name is terrible among the Gentiles.

1 And now, a O ye priests, b this commandment is for you. 2 If ye will not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to give glory unto my name, saith the Lord of hosts, then will I send upon you the curse upon you, and I will curse your blessings: yea, I have cursed them already, because ye do not lay it to heart. 3 Behold, I will rebuke the seed for your sake, and will spread dung upon your faces, even the dung of your sacrifices; and ye shall be taken away with it. 4 And ye shall know that I have sent this commandment unto you, that my covenant might be with Levi, saith the Lord of hosts. 5 My covenant was with him of peace; and I gave them to him that he might fear, and he feared me, and stood in awe of my name. 6 The law of truth was in his mouth, and unrighteousness was not found in his lips: he walked with me in peace and uprightness, and did turn many away from iniquity. 7 For the priest's lips should keep knowledge, and they should seek the law at his mouth: for he is the messenger of the Lord of 10 Have we not all one father? hath not one God created us? why do we deal treacherously every man against his brother, profaning the covenant of our fathers? 11 Judah hath dealt treacherously, and an abomination is committed in Israel and in Jerusalem; for 12 Judah hath profaned the holiness of the LORD which he loveth, and hath married the daughter of a strange god. 13 The LORD will cut off to man that doeth this him that waketh and him that answereth, out of the tents of Jacob, and him that offereth an offering unto the LORD of hosts. 14 And this again ye do: yea cover the altar of the LORD with tears, with weeping, and with sighing, insomuch that he regardeth not the offering any more, neither receiveth it with good will at your hand. 15 Yet ye say, Wherefore? Because the LORD hath been witness betwixt thee and the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast dealt treacherously, and the wife of thy covenant. 16 And did he not make one, although he had the residue of the spirit? And wherefore one? He sought a godly seed. Therefore take heed to your spirit, and let none deal treacherously against the wife of his youth. 17 Ye have wearied the LORD with your words. Yet ye say, Wherein have we wearied him? In that ye say, Every one that doeth evil is good in the sight of the LORD, and he delighteth in them; or 18 where is the God of judgement?

Yea have said, It is vain to serve God: and what profit is it that we have kept his charge, and that we have walked mournfully before the Lord of hosts? And now we call thee the proud happy; yea, they that work wickedness are built up; yea, they tempt God, and are delivered. Then they that feared the Lord spake one with another: and the Lord hearkened, and heard, and a book of remembrance was written before him, for them that feared the Lord, and that thought upon his name. And they shall be mine, saith the Lord of hosts, in the day that I make, even a peculiar treasure; and I will spare them, as a man spareth his own son that serveth him. Then shall ye return and discern between the righteous and the wicked, between him that serveth God and him that serveth him not. For, behold, the day cometh, it burneth as a furnace; and all the proud, and all that work wickedness, shall be stubble: and the day that cometh shall burn them up, saith the Lord of hosts, that it shall leave them neither root nor branch. But unto you shall the sun of righteousness arise with healing in his wings: and ye shall go forth, and gambol as calves of the stall. And ye shall tread down the wicked; for they shall be ashes under the soles of your feet in the day that I do make, saith the Lord of hosts. Remember ye the law of Moses my servant, which I commanded unto him in Horeb for all Israel, even statutes and judgments. 1918
The Version of the Apocrypha which is here presented to the Reader forms the last portion of the Revision of the Authorised Version of 1611. The present work, owing to various circumstances, has been somewhat long delayed. It will be found, however, to have been executed carefully and faithfully, though it was of necessity intrusted to small Committees formed out of the two Companies of Revisers. The Revision of the Authorised Version of the Apocrypha was included in the arrangement between the Companies and the Representatives of the Presses of Oxford and Cambridge, and was to be proceeded with as soon as the other and greater portions of the work were concluded. No division of labour in regard to the Apocrypha was formally made between the two Companies, but as it appeared clearly desirable that there should be no unnecessary delay in the revision, there was an understanding between the Companies that the New Testament Company should commence the work as soon as the Revision of the Authorised Version of the New Testament was completed and published. For this, preparation was made by the New Testament Company as their work was drawing to its close, and in the following manner.

It was resolved (March 21, 1879) that, after the conclusion of the Revision of the Authorised Version of the New Testament, the Company should be divided into three Committees, to be called the London, Westminster, and Cambridge Committees, for the purpose of beginning the Revision of the Apocrypha.

The London Committee was to consist of the following members:—The Bishop of Gloucester and Bristol (Dr. Ellicott), the Bishop of Salisbury (Dr. Moberly), the Bishop of St. Andrews (Dr. Wordsworth), the Dean of Rochester (Dr. Scott), the Dean of Lichfield (Dr. Bickersteth), the Master of the Temple (Dr. Vaughan), Rev. Principal Angus, and Rev. Prebendary Humphry. This Committee was to take the Book of Ecclesiasticus.

The Westminster Committee was to consist of the following members:—The Archbishop of Dublin (Dr. Trench), the Dean of Westminster (Dr. Stanley), the Archdeacon of Dublin (Dr. Lee), the Archdeacon of Oxford (Dr. Palmer), Rev. Dr. Scrivener, Rev. Principal Brown, Rev. Principal Newth, and Rev. Dr. Vance Smith. This Committee was to take the First Book of Maccabees. The Books of Tobit and Judith were afterwards, by special arrangement with the Old Testament Company, undertaken by this Committee.

The Cambridge Committee was to consist of the following members:—The Bishop of Durham (Dr. Lightfoot), the Dean of Lincoln (Mr. Blakesley), Rev. Professor Hort, Rev. Professor Kennedy, Rev. Professor Westcott, Rev. Dr. Milligan, Rev. Dr. Moulton, and Rev. Dr. Roberts. This Committee was to take the Book of Wisdom and the Second Book of Maccabees.

In connexion with the foregoing resolution it was resolved at the final meeting of the Company, on Thursday, November 11, 1880:—(1) that the decisions be arrived at by simple majorities; (2) that the successive portions of the work when printed be forwarded to the members of the other two Committees. A third resolution was passed constituting the Rev. Dr. Troutbeck the General Secretary of the three Committees, and, as such, responsible for the printing of the portions of the work as they were finished; but the latter part of this resolution was modified, and the whole of the printing was carried on at the University Press, Oxford.

The London Committee, to which the Revision of the Authorised Version of the Book of Ecclesiasticus was intrusted, commenced their labour on May 11, 1881, and completed their first revision of the Version on July 20, 1882, and their second and final revision on May 25, 1883. The breaking up of the text of the Version into parallelisms was undertaken at a later period. Of the members of the Committee, two, the Bishops of Salisbury and St. Andrews, found themselves unable through age and distance from London to attend the meetings. The attendance of the remainder was such that there were rarely less than four present. Whenever the number fell below this, all debateable points were reserved for fuller meetings.

Considerable attention was paid to the text; but the materials available for correcting it were but scanty. In regard to the revision of the Version, especial care was taken to preserve the general tone of the Authorised Version, and to maintain the somewhat greater freedom of rendering which characterizes the translation of the Apocrypha when compared with the translation of the Old or of the New Testament.

The Westminster Committee completed their first revision of the First Book of Maccabees on July 5, their second revision on November 3, 1881. Their first revision of the Books of Judith and Tobit was completed on July 6, their second revision on October 11, 1882. With regard to the Greek text they derived great assistance from Dr. Scrivener, but the number of places in which it was thought right to abandon readings that seemed to be represented in the Authorised Version was not large. The English Version was found to require much care. In the First Book of Maccabees, for example, a well-known peculiarity of the writer had been obliterated by the repeated introduction, with or without the use of italics, of the words 'God' and 'the Lord,' which never occur in the best Greek text. Archbishop Trench worked with the Committee until they were close to the end of the First Book of Maccabees. Dean Stanley also attended up to about the same time: Principal Brown did not take any part in the work.

Of the members of the Cambridge Committee the Bishop of Durham (Dr. Lightfoot), the Dean of Lincoln (Mr. Blakeley), and Professor Kennedy were compelled for various reasons to withdraw from the work of revision. Dr. Roberts supplied notes on various parts of the two books. Dr. Hort, Dr. Moulton and Dr. Westcott conducted the revision with this assistance at weekly meetings during term time from March 3, 1881 to the spring of 1890, when Dr. Westcott was removed to Durham. In the remainder of the work Dr. Westcott took part by correspondence. The first revision of 2 Maccabees was completed on May 20, 1885, and the final revision December 7, 1889. The first revision of Wisdom was completed between May 20, 1885 and June 20, 1886; and the second revision between November 23, 1889 and November 21, 1891. The singular difficulty and importance of the Book of Wisdom led the revisers to review the version a third time. The whole revision of the two books was substantially completed before the summer of 1892. A few questions were reserved for later decision. These were considered by Dr. Hort in the summer of that year, and, with the help of his notes, finally determined by Dr. Westcott and Dr. Moulton.

After the revision of the Old Testament had been completed the Old Testament Company (July 9, 1884) passed the following resolution:—
PREFACE.

'That the Dean of Peterborough (Dr. Perowne), Professor Lumby, Professor Robertson Smith, Mr. Bensly, Mr. Cheyne, and the Secretary (Mr. Aldis Wright) be a Committee to translate the remaining books of the Apocrypha, and

That Dr. Field be invited to assist in the formation of the text.'

The Dean of Peterborough (Dr. Perowne), now Bishop of Worcester, and Mr. (now Professor) Cheyne, found themselves unable to take part in the work, and the Committee were deprived of the assistance of Dr. Field by his death in April, 1885.

The Books of the Apocrypha which were left for them to revise were 1 and 2 Esdras, the additions to Esther, Baruch, the Song of the Three Holy Children, the History of Susanna, Bel and the Dragon, and the Prayer of Manasses.

For the text of these portions, with the exception of 2 Esdras, they were entirely dependent upon the inadequate materials already existing, and did not therefore attempt any complete revision. But as the late Professor Bensly had reconstructed the text of the Latin version of 2 Esdras from a full collation of all the independent MSS. at present known, the Committee fully availed themselves of the results which he generously placed at their disposal. They were thus able to incorporate the missing fragment, vii. 36–105, which was edited by Professor Bensly with elaborate care, and published by the Cambridge University Press (1875), and to make use of many improved readings which he proposed to adopt in his critical edition. It is satisfactory to know that this work has been left in a sufficiently forward state to admit of its being easily completed.

In regard to the language of the Revised Version the Committee followed the general principles which were observed by the Old Testament Revision Company.

In the case of Proper Names it has not been found possible to secure uniformity of plan in the work of the four Committees. In some Books these names appear in their familiar Old Testament forms, after the Hebrew; whilst in others, the forms of the Authorised Version are usually retained, or are but slightly altered, in accordance with the Greek. Lists of the Greek readings—or, in 2 Esdras, the Latin readings—adopted by the Committees will shortly be published*.

Such is a brief account of the circumstances under which the present work was executed. The Revisers conclude with the hope and the belief that it will be found helpful to the student, and acceptable to the general reader of the Apocrypha.

January, 1895.

* The preparation of these lists was undertaken by Dr. Moulton. As however the work was still far from complete at the time of his death in February 1898, the publication of the readings has now been abandoned.

I. ESDRAS.

1. And Josias held the passover in Jerusalem unto his Lord, and offered the passover the fourteenth day of the first month: having set the priests according to their daily courses, being arrayed in their vestments, in the temple of the Lord. 2 And he spake unto the Levites, the temple-servants of Israel, that they should hallow themselves unto the Lord, to set the holy ark of the Lord in the house that king Solomon the son of David had built: and said, 3 Ye shall no more have need to bear it upon your shoulders: now therefore serve the Lord your God, and minister unto his people Israel, and prepare you after your fathers' houses and kindreds, 4 according to the writing of David king of Israel, and according to the magnificence of Solomon his son: and standing in the holy place 5 according to the several divisions of the families of you the Levites, who minister in the presence of your brethren the children of Israel, offer the passover in order, and make ready the sacrificial bread seven days. 6 And such a passover was not held in Israel since the time of the prophet Samuel. 7 Yea, all the kings of Israel held not such a passover as Josias, and the priests, and the Levites, and the Jews, held with all Israel that were present in their dwelling place at Jerusalem. 8 In the eighteenth year of the reign of Josias was this passover held. 9 And the works of Josias were upright before his Lord with a heart full of godliness. 10 Moreover the things that came to pass in his days have been written in times past, concerning those that sinned, and did wickedly against the Lord above every people and kingdom, and how they grieveth him exceedingly, so that the words of the Lord were confirmed against Israel.

9. Now after all these acts of Josias it came to pass, that Pharaoh the king of Egypt came to raise war at Carmeshum upon Ethiopia: and Josias went out against him. 10 But the king of Egypt sent him, saying, What have I to do with thee, O king of Judes? 11 I am not sent out from the Lord God against thee; for my war is upon Ethiopia: and now the Lord is with me, yea, the Lord is with me hasting me forward: depart from me, and be not against the Lord. 12 Howbeit Josias did not turn back unto his chariot, but undertook to fight with him, notwithstanding the words of the prophet Jeremy spoken by the mouth of the Lord: 13 but joined battle with him in the plain of Megiddo, and the princes came down against king Josias. 14 Then Josias offered the fat until night: and the Levites prepared for themselves, and for the priests their brethren, the sons of Aaron. 15 The holy singers also, the sons of Asaph, were in their order, according to the appointment of David, to sing, Asaph, Zacharias, and Edinmus, who was of the king's retinue. 16 Moreover the porters were at every gate; none had need to depart from his daily course: for their brethren the Levites prepared for them. 17 Thus were the things that belonged to the sacrifices of the Lord accomplished in that day, in holding the passover, and offering sacrifices upon the altar of the Lord, according to the commandment of king Josias. 18 So the children of Israel which were present at that time held the passover, and the feast of unleavened bread seven days. 19 And such a passover was not held in Israel since the time of the prophet Samuel. 20 Yea, all the kings of Israel held not such a passover as Josias, and the priests, and the Levites, and the Jews, held with all Israel that were present in their dwelling place at Jerusalem. 21 In the eighteenth year of the reign of Josias was this passover held. 22 And the works of Josias were upright before his Lord with a heart full of godliness. 23 Moreover the things that came to pass in his days have been written in times past, concerning those that sinned, and did wickedly against the Lord above every people and kingdom, and how they grieveth him exceedingly, so that the words of the Lord were confirmed against Israel.

| said the king unto his servants, Carry me away out of the battle; for I am very weak. And immediately his servants carried him away out of the host. They then set him up upon his second chariot, and being brought back to Jerusalem, he died, and was buried in the sepulchre of his fathers. And in all Jewry they mourned for Josias; and the chief men with the women made lamentation for him, unto this day: and this was given out for an ordinance to be done continually in all the nation of Israel. These things are written in the book of the histories of the kings of Judaea, and every one of the acts that Josias did, and his glory, and his understanding in the law of the Lord, and the things that he had done before, and the things now recited, are reported in the book of the histories of Judah and Jerusalem. And the people that were not slain with the sword, round about their holy temple, and spared neither young man nor maid, old man nor child; but he delivered all unto their hands. And they burned the holy vessels of the Lord, and the king's treasures, and carried them away unto Babylon. And they burnt the house of the Lord, and brake down the walls of Jerusalem, and burnt the towers thereof with fire; and as for her glorious things, they never ceased till they had brought them all to Babylon: and the people that were not slain with the sword he carried unto Babylon; and they were servants unto him and to his children, till the Persians reigned, to fulfil the word of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremy: Until the land had enjoyed her sabbaths, the whole time of her desolation shall she keep sabbath, to fulfill threescore and ten years. And in the first year of Cyrus king of the Persians, that was the word of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremy might be accomplished, the Lord stirred up the spirit of Cyrus king of the Persians, and he made proclamation through all his kingdom, and also by writing, saying, Thus saith Cyrus king of the Persians; The Lord of Israel, the Most High Lord, hath made me king of the whole world, and commanded me to build him a house at Jerusalem in Judaea. If therefore there be any of you that are of his people, let the Lord, even his Lord, be with him, and let him go up to Jerusalem that is in Judaea, and build the house of the Lord of Israel; he is the Lord that dwelleth in Jerusalem. Of such therefore as dwell in divers places, let them that are in his own place help each one with gold, and with silver, with gifts, with horses also and cattle, beside the other things which have been added by vow for the temple of the Lord which is in Jerusalem.

Then the chief of the families of Judah and of the tribe of Benjamin stood up; the priests also, and the Levites, and all they whose spirit the Lord had stirred to go up, to build the house for the Lord which is in Jerusalem.

Cyrus also brought forth the holy vessels of the Lord, which Nabuchodonosor had carried away from Jerusalem, and had set up in his temple of idols. Now when Cyrus king of the Persians had heard of the fame of Jerusalem, he sought out Mithradas, his treasurer, and by him they were delivered to Sanballat the governor of Judaea.

And this was the number of them: A thousand golden cups, a thousand cups of silver, 24 censers of silver twenty nine, vials of gold thirty, and of silver 25 two thousand four hundred and ten, and other vessels a thousand. So all the vessels of gold and of silver that were brought up, even five thousand four hundred threecore and nine, 26 and were carried back by Sanballas, together with them of the captivity, from Babylon to Jerusalem.

But in the time of Artaxerxes king of the Persians Belemus, and Mithradas, and Tabellius, and Rathmus, and Beelthasmus, and Samellius the scribe, and the others that were in commission, and dwelling in Samaria and other places, wrote unto him against them that dwell in Judaea and Jerusalem the letter following: To king Artaxerxes our lord, Thy servants, Rathmus the storywriter, and Samellius the scribe, and the rest of their council, and the judges that are in Coelezyria and Phoenicia. Be it now known to our lord the king, that the Jews that are come up from thee into Judaea, do build that rebellious and wicked city, and do repair the marketplaces and the walls of it, and do lay the foundation of a temple. Now if this city be builded and the walls thereof be finished, they will not only refuse to give tribute, but will even stand up against kings. And forasmuch as the things pertaining to the temple are now in hand, we think it meet not to neglect such a matter, but to speak unto our lord the king, to the intent that, if it be thy pleasure, search may be made in the books of thy fathers: and thou shalt find in the chronicles what is written concerning these things, and shalt understand that that city was rebellious, troubling both kings and cities: and that the Jews were rebellious, and raised always wars therein of old time; the which cause even this city was laid waste. Wherefore now we do declare unto thee, O lord the king, that if this city be builded again, and the walls thereof set up anew, thou shalt from henceforth have no passage into Coelezyria and Phoenicia. Then the king wrote back again to Rathmus the storywriter, and Beelthasmus, and Samellius the scribe, and to the rest that were in commission, and dwelt in Samaria and Syria and Phoenicia, after this manner: I have read the epistle which ye have sent unto me: therefore I commanded to make search, and it hath been found that this city of old time hath made insurrection against kings; and the men were given to rebellion and war therein: and that mighty kings and fierce were in Jerusalem, who reigned and exacted tribute in Coelezyria and Phoenicia. Now therefore I have commanded to hinder those men from building the city, and to have it taken that there be nothing done contrary to the king's order; and that those wicked doings proceed no further to the annoyance of kings. Then king Artaxerxes his letters being read, Rathmus, and Samellius the scribe, and the rest that were in commission with them, removing in haste unto Jerusalem with horsemen and a multitude of people in battle array, began to hinder the builders; and the building of the temple in Jerusalem ceased until the second year of the reign of Darius king of the Persians.

Now king Darius made a great feast unto all his subjects, and unto all that were born in his house, and unto all the princes of Media and of Persia, and to all the scribes and captains and governors that were under him, from India unto Ethiopia, in the hundred twenty and seven provinces. And when they had eaten and drunken, and being satisfied were gone home, then Darius the king went into his bedchamber, and slept, and awaked out of his sleep.

Then the three young men of the body-guard, that kept the king's person, spake one to another: Let every one of us say one thing which shall be strongest: and he whose sentence shall seem wiser than the others, unto him shall Darius the king give great gifts, and great honours in token of victory: as, to be clothed in purple, to drink in gold, and to sleep upon gold, and a chariot with bridles of gold, and a head-24.

sure of fine linen, and a chain about his neck: 7 and he shall sit next to Daruth because of his wisdom, and shall be called Darith his cousin. 8 And then they wrote every one his sentence, and set to their seals, and laid the writing under king Darith his pillow, 9 and said, When the king is risen, some shall give him the writing; and of whose side the king and the three princes of Persia shall judge that his sentence is the wisest, to him shall the victory be given, as it is written. 10 The first wrote, Wine is the strongest: 11 The second wrote, The king is strongest: 12 The third wrote, Women are strongest:

but above all things Truth beareth away the victory.

Now when the king was risen up, they took the writing, and gave it unto him, and so he read it: 14 and sending forth he called all the princes of Persia and of Media, and the captains, and the governors, and the chief officers; 15 and set him down in the royal seat of judgement; and the writing was read before them. 16 And he said, Call the young men, and they shall explain their own sentences. So they were called, and came in. 17 And they said unto them, Declare unto us your mind concerning the things ye have written.

The began the first, who had spoken of the strength of wine, 18 and said thus,
O sirs, how exceeding strong is wine! 19 it causeth all men to err that drink it:
so it maketh the mind of the king and of the fatherless child to be all one; of the bondman and of the freeman, of the poor man and of the rich: so it turneth also every thought into jollity and mirth, so that a man remembereth neither sorrow nor grief, and maketh the silver rich, so that a man remembereth neither kingdom nor satraps; and it maketh to speak all things by talents: and when they are in their cups, they forget their love both to friends and brethren, and a little after draw theirs swords: 21 but when they awake from their wine, they remember not what they have done. 22 O sirs, is not wine the strongest, seeing that it enforceth to do thus? And when he had so spoken, he held his peace.

Then the second, that had spoken of the strength of the king, began to say, O sirs, do not men excel in strength, that bear rule over the sea and land, and all things in them? 3 But yet is the king stronger: and he is their lord, and hath dominion over them; and in whatsoever he commandeth them they obey him. 4 If he bid them make war the one against the other, they do it; and if he send them out against the enemies, they go, and overcome mountains, walls, and towers. 5 They slay and are slain, and transgress not the king's commandment: if they get the victory, they bring all to the king, as well the spoil, as all things else. 6 Likewise for those that are no soldiers, and have not to do with wars, but use husbandry, when they have reapèd again that which they had sown, they bring it to the king; and compel one another to pay tribute unto the king: And he is 1 but one man: 8 If he command to kill, they kill; if he command to spare, they spare; 9 if he command to smile, they smile: if he command to make desolate, they make desolate; if he command to build, they build; 10 if he command to cut down, they cut down; if he command to plant, they plant. 11 So all his people and his armies obey him: furthermore he lieth down, he eateth and drinketh, and taketh his rest; and the kings and the princes of Persia and Media do the same round about him, neither may any one deject, and do his own business, neither disobey him in anything. 12 O sirs, how should not the king be strongest, seeing that in such sort he is obeyed? And he held his peace.

Then the third, who had spoken of women, and of truth, (this was Zoro-babel) began to speak. 14 O sirs, is not the king great, and men are many, and wine is strong? who is it then that ruleth them, or hath the lordship over them? are they not women? 15 Women have borne the king and all the people that bear rule by sea and land. 16 Even of them came they: and they nourished them up that planted the vineyards, from whence the wine cometh. 17 These also make garments for men; these bring glory unto men; and without women men cannot be. 18 Yes, and if men have gathered together gold and silver, and every other goodly thing, and see a woman which is comely in favour and beauty, 19 they let all those things go, and 20 they forget their love both to friends and brethren, and 21 gape after her, and even with open mouth fix their eyes fast on her;
and have all more desire unto her than unto gold or silver, or any goodly thing whatsoever. 22 A man leaveth his wife. And with his wife he endeth his days, and remembereth neither father, nor mother, nor country. 23 By this also ye must know that women have dominion over you: do ye not labour and toil, and give and bring all to women? 24 A man taketh his own father that brought him up, and his own country, and cleaveth unto his wife. 25 And with his wife he endeth his days, and remembereth neither father, nor mother, nor country. 26 By this also ye must know that women have dominion over you: do ye not labour and toil, and give and bring all to women? 27 Yes, a a man taketh his sword, and goeth forth to make out roads, and to rob and to steal, and to sail upon the sea and upon rivers; 28 and looketh upon a lion, and walketh in the darkness; and when he hath stolen, spoiled, and robbed, he bringeth it to his love. Wherefore a man loveth his wife better than father or mother. Yes, many there be that have run out of their wise for women, and become bondmen for their sakes. Many also have perished, have stumbled, and sinned, for women. And now do ye not believe me? is not the king great in his power? do not all regions fear his touch him? Yet did I see him and Apane, the king's concubine, the daughter of the illustrious Bartacus, sitting at the right hand of the king, and taking the crown from the king's head, and setting it upon her own head; yes, she struck the king with her left hand: and therewithal the king gaped and gazed upon her with open mouth: if she laughed upon him, he laughed also: but if she took any displeasure at him, he was faint to flatter, that she might be reconciled to him again. 32 O sirs, how can it be but women should be strong, seeing they do thus?

33 Then the king and the nobles looked one upon another: so he began to speak concerning truth. 34 O sirs, are not women strong? great is the earth, high is the heaven, swift is the sun in his course, for he compasseth the heavens round about, and fetcheth his course out of his realm up into Jewry, concerning their freedom, that no officer, nor governor, nor satrap, nor treasurer, should forcibly enter into their doors; and that all the country which they occupied should be free to them without tribute; and that the Edomites should give over the villages of the Jews which they should hold: and that there should be yearly given twenty talents to the building of the temple, until the time that it were built; and other ten talents yearly, for burnt offerings to be presented upon the altar every day, as they had a commandment to do. 35 Then said the king unto him, Ask what thou wilt more than is appointed in writing, and we will give it thee, inasmuch as thou art found wisest; and thou shalt sit next me, and shalt be called my cousin. 36 Then said he unto the king, Remember thy vow, which thou didst vow to build Jerusalem, in the day when thou camest to thy kingdom, and to send away all the vessels that were taken out of Jerusalem, which Cyrus set apart, when he vowed to destroy Babylonia, and vowed to send them again thither. 37 Then didst also vow to build up the temple, which the Edomites burned when Judea was made desolate by the Chaldeans. 38 And now, O lord the king, this is that which I require, and which I desire of thee, and this is the princely liberality, thy servant proceed from thee: I pray therefore that thou make good the vow, the performance whereof thou hast vowed to the King of heaven with thine own mouth.

47 Then Darius the king stood up, and kissed him, and wrote letters for him unto all the treasurers and governors and captains and satraps, that they should safely bring on their way both him, and all these men, and let them go up with him to build Jerusalem. 48 He wrote letters also unto all the governors that were in Coele Syria and Phoenicia, and unto them in Libanus, that they should bring cedar wood from Libanus unto Jerusalem, and that they should build the city with him. Moreover he wrote for all the Jews that should go out of his realm up into Jewry, concerning their freedom, no governor, nor satrap, nor treasurer, should forcibly enter into their doors; and that all the country which they occupied should be free to them without tribute; and that the Edomites should give over the villages of the Jews which they should hold: and that there should be yearly given twenty talents to the building of the temple, until the time that it were built; and other ten talents yearly, for burnt offerings to be presented upon the altar every day, as they had a commandment to offer seventeen: 53 and that all they that should come from Babylonia to build the city should have their freedom, as well as their posterity, and all the priests that came. 54 He wrote also to give them their charges, and the priests' vestments wherein they minister; and for the burnt offerings, he wrote that their charges should be given them until the day that the house were finished, and Jerusalem builded up. 55 And he commanded to give to all that kept the city lands and wages. 57 He sent away also all the vessels from Babylonia, that Cyrus had set apart; and all that Cyrus had given in commandment, the same charged he also to be done, and sent unto Jerusalem.
After this were the chief of the fathers' houses chosen to go up according to their tribes, with their wives and sons and daughters, with their men-servants and maidservants, and their cattle. And Darius sent with them a thousand horsemen, till they had brought them back to Jerusalem safely, and with musical instruments, tabrets and flutes. And all their brethren played, and he made them go up together with them.

And these are the names of the men which went up, according to their families, and the一只 of their brethren that went up with them:

The priests, the sons of Phinehas, the sons of Aaron:
- "Jesus the son of Josedek, the son of Betolion, fifty and two; the sons of the tribe of Judah; who spake wise sentences before Darius the king of Persia in the second year of his reign, in the first month, which is the first month. These came up from 36Therapeut, and 37Thelersas, 38Charasathalans, and 40Asiah, 39Assareas, and 41Alisle, and they could not shew their families, nor their stock, how they were of Israel: the sons of 42Dalan the son of 43Ban, the sons of 44Nekodan, six hundred fifty and two. And of the priests, they that usurped the office of the priesthood and were not found: the sons of 45Obdia, the sons of 46Akkos, the sons of Jaddus, who married Angia one of the daughters of 47Zorbelles, and was called after his name. And when the description of the kindred of these men was sought in the register, and was not found, they were removed from executing the office of the priesthood: 48For unto them said Nehemias and JAtharrias, that they should not be partakers of the holy things, till there arose up a high priest wearing 49Urim and Thummim. 50 So all they of Israel, from twelve years old and upward, beside menservants and womenservants, were in number forty and two thousand three hundred and sixty. 49 Their menservants and handmaids were seven thousand three hundred thirty and seven: the minstrels and singers, two hundred forty and five: 43 four hundred thirty and five camels, seven 46 thousand thirty and six horses, two hundred forty and five mules, five thousand five hundred twenty and five beasts of burden. 44 And certain of the chief men of their families, when they came to the temple of God that is in Jerusalem, vowed to set up the house again in its own place according to their ability, 45 and to give into the holy treasury of the works a thousand pounds of gold, five thousand of silver, and a hundred priestly vestments. 46 And the priests and the Levites and they that were the sons of Jerusalem and the country; the holy singers also and the porters and all Israel in their villages.
47 But when the seventh month was at hand, and when the children of Israel were every man in his own place, they came all together with one consent into the broad place before the first porch which is toward the east. 48 Then stood up Jezus the son of Josedek, and his brethren the priests, and the sons of Asaph, the son of Salathiel, and his brethren, and made ready the altar of the God of Israel, 49 to offer burnt sacrifices upon it, according as it is expressly commanded in the book of Moses the man of God. 50 And certain were gathered unto them out of the other nations of the land, and they erected the altar upon its own place, because all the nations of the land did oppress them, and oppressed them; and they offered sacrifices according to the time, and burnt offerings to the Lord both morning and evening. 51 Also they held the feast of tabernacles, 52 as it is commanded in the law, and offered sacrifices daily, as was meet: 53 and after that, the continual oblations, and the sacrifices of the sabbaths, and of the new moons, and of all the consecrated feasts. 54 And all they that had made any vow to God began to offer sacrifices to God from the new moon of the 55 seventh month, although the temple of God was not yet built. 54 And they gave money unto the masons and carpenters; and meat and drink, 55 and cars unto them of Sidon and Tyre, that they should bring cedar trees from Libanus, 56 and convey them in floats to the haven of Joppas, according to the commandment which was written for them by Cyrus king of the Persians. 57 And in the second year after his coming to the temple of God at Jerusalem, in the second month, began Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, and Jesus the son of Josedek, and their brethren, and the priests the Levites, and all they that were come unto Jerusalem out of the captivity: 57 and they laid the foundation of the temple of God on the new moon of the second month, in the second year after they were come to Jewry and Jerusalem.

1 And they appointed the Levites from twenty years old over the works of the Lord.

2 Then stood up Jesus, and his sons and brethren, and Kadmiel his brother, and the sons of Jesus, Emadabun, and the sons of Joda the son of Lladym, and their sons and brethren, all the Levites, with one accord setters forward of the business, labouring to advance the works in the house of God. So the builders builded the temple of the Lord.

3 And the priests stood arrayed in their vestments with musical instruments and trumpets, and the Levites the sons of Assaph with their cymbals, singing songs of thanksgiving, and praising the Lord, after the order of David king of Israel.

4 And they sang aloud, praising the Lord in songs of thanksgiving, because his goodness and his glory are for ever in all Israel. And all the people sounded trumpets, and shouted with a loud voice, singing songs of thanksgiving unto the Lord for the rearing up of the house of the Lord.

5 Also of the priests the Levites, and of the heads of their families, the ancients who had seen the former house of God, reared up it, they came to know what that noise sounded marvellously, so that it was heard afar off.

6 Wherefore when the enemies of the tribe of Judah and Benjamin heard it, they came to know what that noise of trumpets should mean.

7 And they perceived that that they that were of the captivity did build the temple unto the Lord, the God of Israel.

8 So the elders of the captivity came to the building of this with lamentation and great weeping.

9 But many with trumpets and joy shouted with loud voice, insomuch that the people heard not the trumpets for the noise thereof afar off.

10 Wherefore the enemies of the tribe of Judah and Benjamin heard it, they came to know what that noise of trumpets should mean.

11 And they perceived that that they that were of the captivity did build the temple unto the Lord, the God of Israel.

12 So the elders of the captivity said these elders, saying, By whose commandment do ye build this house, and this roof, and perform all the other things? and who are the builders that perform these things? Nevertheless the elders of the Jews obtained favour, because the Lord had visited the captivity and they were not hindered from building, until such time as communication was made unto Darius concerning them, and his answer signified.

13 The copy of the letter which Sisinni the governor of Syria and Phoenicia, with Sathrabuzanes and his companions, and said unto them, Be who your Lord, and do sacrifice unto him. Therefore, to the intent that we may give knowledge unto thee by writing who were the chief doers, we questioned them, and we required of them the names in writing of their principal men. And we asked them, whether they had any answer, We are the servants of the Lord which made heaven and earth. And as for this house, it was builded many years ago by a king of Israel great and strong, and was finished. But when our fathers sinned against the Lord of Israel which is in heaven, and provoked him unto wrath, he gave them over into the hands of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, king of the Assyrians, and Zedekias, and the chief men of the families of Israel said unto them, We will build together with you. For we likewise, as ye, do obey your Lord, and do sacrifice unto him from the days of Asbasareth the king of the Assyrians, who brought us hither. Thereupon Zorobabel and Jesus and the chief men of the families, and said unto them, We will build together with you. For we likewise, as ye, do obey your Lord, and do sacrifice unto him from the days of Asbasareth the king of the Assyrians, who brought us hither.

14 Weourselves alone will build unto the Lord of Israel, according as Cyrus the king of the Persians hath commanded us. But the heathen of the land lying heavy upon the inhabitants of Judea, and holding them strait, hindered their building; and by their secret plots, and popular persuasions and commotions, they hindered the finishing of the building all the time that king Cyrus lived: so they were hindered from building for the space of two years, until the reign of Darius. Then stood up Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, and Jesus the son of Josedek, and began to build the house of the Lord at Jerusalem, the prophets of the Lord being with them, and helping them. At the same time came unto them Sisinni the governor of Syria and Phoenicia, with Sathrabuzanes and his companions, and said unto them, By whose appointment do ye build this house and this roof, and perform all the other things? and who are the builders that perform these things? Nevertheless the elders of the Jews obtained favour, because the Lord had visited the captivity and they were not hindered from building, until such time as communication was made unto Darius concerning them, and his answer signified.

7 The copy of the letter which Sisinni, governor of Syria and Phoenicia, with Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, the rulers in Syria and Phoenicia, wrote and sent unto Darius; To king Darius, greeting: I have heard that it is of good omen, when men build the temple to the Lord, the God of Israel which is in heaven, and when they offer sacrifices and burnt offerings, and thanksgiving. And the copy of the letter which Sisinni the governor of Syria and Phoenicia, with Sathrabuzanes and his companions, and said unto them, Be who your Lord, and do sacrifice unto him. Therefore, to the intent that we may give knowledge unto thee by writing who were the chief doers, we questioned them, and we required of them the names in writing of their principal men. And we asked them, whether they had any answer, We are the servants of the Lord which made heaven and earth. And as for this house, it was builded many years ago by a king of Israel great and strong, and was finished. But when our fathers sinned against the Lord of Israel which is in heaven, and provoked him unto wrath, he gave them over into the hands of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, king of the Assyrians, and Zedekias, and the chief men of the families of Israel said unto them, We will build together with you. For we likewise, as ye, do obey your Lord, and do sacrifice unto him from the days of Asbasareth the king of the Assyrians, who brought us hither.

15 So the copy of the letter which Sisinni the governor of Syria and Phoenicia, with Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, the rulers in Syria and Phoenicia, wrote and sent unto Darius; To king Darius, greeting: I have heard that it is of good omen, when men build the temple to the Lord, the God of Israel which is in heaven, and when they offer sacrifices and burnt offerings, and thanksgiving. And the copy of the letter which Sisinni the governor of Syria and Phoenicia, with Sathrabuzanes and his companions, and said unto them, By whose commandment do ye build this house, and this roof, and perform all the other things? and who are the builders that perform these things? Nevertheless the elders of the Jews obtained favour, because the Lord had visited the captivity and they were not hindered from building, until such time as communication was made unto Darius concerning them, and his answer signified.
1 Then Sisamnes the governor of Syria and Phoenicia, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, following the commandments of king Darius, did very carefully oversee the holy works, assisting the elders of the Jews and rulers of the temple. 2 And so the holy works prospered, while Aggauus and Zacharias the prophets prophesied. 3 And they finished these things by the commandment of the Lord, the God of Israel, and with the consent of Cyrus, Darius, and Artaxerxes, kings of the Persians. 4 And thus was the house finished, and the work thereof being still a building, it is not named, for the name is there called upon, utterly destroyed. 5 And every king and nation, that shall come and destroy the temple of the Lord, that shall be destroyed to the foundations. 6 And that captivity, that were added unto them, did according to the things written in the book of Moses. 7 And to the dedication of the temple of the Lord they offered a hundred bullocks, two hundred rams, four hundred lambs, and twelve he-goats for the sin of all Israel. 8 And the children of Israel, the priests, and the Levites, and the other that were of the captivity, that were added unto them, did according to the things written in the book of Moses: and there was provision made for all. 9 And the priests also and the Levites stood arrayed in their vestments, according to their kindreds, for the services of the Lord, the God of Israel, according to the book of Moses: and the porters at every gate.

10 And the children of Israel that came out of the captivity held the passover in the fourteenth day of the first month, when the priests and the Levites were look diligently to help those that be of the captivity of Judæa, till the house of the Lord be finished: 11 and that out of the tribute of Coele Syria and Phœnicia a portion be carefully given these men for the sacrifices of the Lord, that is, to Zorobabel the governor, for bullocks, and rams, and lambs; and also corn, salt, wine, and oil, and that continually every year without further question, according as the priests that be in Jerusalem shall signify to be daily spent: 12 that drink offerings may be made to the Most High God for the king and his children, and that they may pray for their lives. 13 And that commandment be given that whosoever shall transgress, yes, or neglect anything herein written, out of his own house shall a tree be taken, and he thereof be hanged, and all his gods seized for the king. 14 The Lord therefore, whose name is there called upon, utterly destroy every king and nation, that shall come and destroy that house of the Lord in Jerusalem. 15 I Darius the king have ordained that according unto these things it be done with diligence.
sancetified together, and all they that were of the captivity; for they were sanctified. For the Levites were all sanctified together, and they offered the passover for all them of the captivity, and for their brethren the priests, and for themselves. And the children of Israel that came out of the captivity did eat, even all they that had separated themselves from the abominations of the heathen, and sought the Lord. And so that the feast of unleavened bread seven days, making merry before the Lord, for that he had turned the counsel of the king of Assyria toward them, to strengthen their hands in the works of the Lord, the God of Israel.

8 And after these things, when Artaxerxes the king of the Persians reigned, came Esdras the son of Azariah, the son of Zerubbabel, the son of Helcias, the son of Salem, the son of Sadduk, the son of Ahitob, the son of Amarias, the son of Oria, the son of Memereth, the son of Zerarias, the son of Siavan, the son of Bocca, the son of Abisue, the son of Phinees, the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron the chief priest. This Esdras went up from Babylon, as being a ready scribe in the law of Moses, which was given by the Lord of heaven, and of Israel. And the king gave him of all good things which were in the land of Babylon, and gave him liberal provision for all that he had to do. And the king also commanded him to take such men of talent as were found in the land of Babylon, to go up with him to Jerusalem, and of all things that God would put into his heart, to see. And Esdras had a talent of gold and silver, and of all manner of precious things, and of hard stones, and of fresh honey, and of oil, and of wine, and of wine of raisins, and of meat, of all that was given of the king, and of the spoil of Babylon, which he had brought. And the holy vessel that was in the temple of the Lord, which was given of the king for the use of the temple of the Lord, was also in his hand. And this artificer Esdras had also skill, so that he omitted nothing of the things that have employment in this temple, neither of the law and commandments of the Lord, and that no man have authority to impose anything upon them. And Esdras measured all things, and wrote it in the book of the law of God diligently unto the Most High God, that wrath come not upon the kingdom of the king and his sons.

10 Then said Esdras the scribe, Blessed be the only Lord, the God of my fathers, who hath put these things into the heart of the king, to glorify his house that is in Jerusalem: Z*; UM (hath honoured me of Levi, the son of Israel, Asebebias, in the sight of the king, and his counsel and his sons, and his brethren, who were eighteen; and of the temple-servants whom David and the principal men had appointed for the service of the Levites, two hundred and twenty temple-servants, the catalogue of all their names was shewed. And there I vowed a fast for these men, and our Lord, to desire of him a prosperous journey both for us and for our children and cattle that were with us: for I was ashamed to ask of the king footmen, and horsemen, and conduct for safeguard against our adversaries. For we had said unto the king, that the power of our Lord would be with them that seek him, to support them in all ways. And again we besought our Lord as touching these things, and found him favourable unto us. Then I separated twelve men of the chiefs of the priests, Esebebias, and Assamias, and ten men of their brethren with them: and I weighed them the silver, and the gold, and the vessels, even of fine brass, glittering like gold. And I said unto them, Both ye and your children are holy unto the Lord, and the vessels are holy, and the gold and the silver are a vow unto the Lord, the Lord of our fathers. And when I had weighed it, I delivered unto them six hundred and fifty talents of silver, and silver vessels of a hundred talents, and a hundred and fifty men: and I delivered unto them six hundred and fifty men: and I weighed them the silver, and the gold, and the vessels which were in Jerusalem, brought them into the temple of our Lord, which the king, and his counsellors, and the nobles, and all Israel, had given. And when I had weighed it, I delivered unto them seven talents of silver, and seven talents of gold, and twelve talents of brick, and twelve talents of brass, even of fine brass, glittering like gold. And I said unto them, Both ye are holy unto the Lord, and the vessels are holy, and the gold and the silver are a vow unto the Lord, the Lord of our fathers. And when I had weighed them, I delivered unto them. And ye shall deliver them to the priests and Levites, and to the principal men of the families of Israel, in Jerusalem, in the chambers of the house of our Lord. So the priests and the Levites, who received the silver and the gold and the vessels which were in Jerusalem, brought them into the temple of the Lord. And from the river Theras we departed the twelfth day of the first month, until we came to Jerusalem, by the mighty hand of our Lord which was upon us: and the Lord delivered us from assault by the way, from every enemy, and so we came to Jerusalem. And when we had been there three days, the silver and gold was weighed and delivered in the house of our Lord on the fourth day unto Marmoth the priest the son of Urias. And with him was Eleazar the son of Phineas, and with them were Josaphat the son of Jeshua and the Levites. All was delivered by number and weight. And all the weight of them was written up the same hour. Moreover they that were come out of the captivity offered sacrifices unto the Lord, the God of Israel, even twelve bullocks for all Israel, four-score and sixteen rams, and three-score and twelve lambs, goats for a peace offering, all of them a sacrifice to the Lord. And they delivered the king's commandments unto the king's stewards, and to the governors of the Gentiles, to wit, of the Canaanites, Hittites, Perizzites, Jebusites, and the Moabites, Egyptians, and Edomites. For both they and their sons have married with their daughters, and the holy seed is mixed with the strange people of the land; and from the beginning of this matter the rulers and the nobles have been partakers of this iniquity. And now, O Lord, what shall we say, having these things? For we have transgressed thy commandments, which thou gavest by the hand of thy servants the prophets, saying, That the land, which ye enter into to possess as a heritage, is a land polluted with the pollutions of the strangers of the land, and they have filled it with their uncleanness. Therefore now shall ye not join your daughters unto their sons, neither shall ye take their daughters unto your sons. Neither shall ye seek to have peace with them for ever, that ye may be strong, and eat the good things of the land, and that ye may leave it for an inheritance unto your children for evermore. And all that is belongeth unto us for our wicked works and great sins: for thou, O Lord, didst make our sins light, and didst give unto us such a root: but we have turned back again to transgress thy law, in mingling ourselves with the uncleanness of the heathen of the land. Thou wast not angry with us to destroy us, till thou hadst left us neither Froot, seed, nor name. O Lord, thou art no: for we are left among the multitude. Then Jedediah the son of Jeiel, one of the princes, and the chief of the Levites, said unto all Israel, And to the priests and Levites, Take the holy seed unto the Lord. And they delivered the holy seed unto the Lord, and lodged there, and did eat no bread nor drink water, mourning for the great iniquities of the multitude. 3 And there was made proclamation in all Jewry and Jerusalem to all them that were of the captivity, that they should be gathered together at Jerusalem: 4 and that whosoever might not there within two or three days, according as the elders that bare rule appointed, their cattle should be seized to the use of the temple, and himself cast out from the multitude of them that were of the captivity.

5 And in three days were all they of the tribe of Judah and Benjamin gathered together at Jerusalem: this was the ninth month, on the twentieth day of the month. 6 And all the multitude sat together in the broad place before the temple because of the present foul weather. 7 So Esdras arose up, and said unto them, Ye have transgressed in law and married strange sons of Bebai; Joannes, and Ananias, and Moseb, and Zabadeas. 8 And of the sons of Baanai; Jeremia, Mordis, and Ismael, and Eleazar, and Hieremoth. 9 Of the sons of Bebai;
Jozab, and Helias, and Sabathus, and Zardues. 10 Of the sons of Babai; Joannes, and Ananias, and Moseb, and Zabadeas. 11 Of the sons of Zamoth; Eliasims, Othonias, Jarimoth, and Sabathus, and Zardues. 11 Of the sons of Babai; Joannes, and Ananias, and Moseb,

of Babai; Joannes, and Ananias, and Moseb,

18 And of the priests that were come together, and had strange wives, there were found; 19 of the sons of Esdras the chief priest brought the law of Moses, that was given to our fathers, and do his will, and sepa-rerate yourselves from the heathen of the land, and from the strange women. 20 Then cried the whole multitude, and said with a loud voice, Like as thou hast spoken, so will we do. 21 But forasmuch as the multitude is great, and it is foul weather, so that we cannot stand without, and this is not a work of two or three days, seeing our sin in these things is spread far: 22 therefore let the rulers of the multitude stay, and let all them of our habitations that have strange wives come at the time appointed, till we turn away the wrath of the Lord from us for this matter. 23 Then Jonathan the son of Azael and Ezekias the son of Thocan took the matter upon them: 24 and Mosoliamus and Levis and Sabanethus were assessors to them. 25 And they that were of the captivity did according to all these things.

And Esdras the priest chose unto him principal men of their families, all by name: and on the new moon of the tenth month they were shut in together to examine the matter. 27 So their cause that held strange wives was brought to an end by the new moon of the first month. 28 And of the priests that were come together, and had strange wives, there were of the sons of Jesua the son of Josechak and his brethren; 29 Mathelas, and Eleazar, and Joribus, and 30 Joadanan. 30 And they gave their hands to put away their wives, and to offer rams to make reconcilement for their error. 31 And of the sons of Emmer; Ananias, and Zabbeus, and Manes, and Sameas, and Hieroel, and Azarias. 32 And of the Levites;
Jonabas, and Ezekias, and Nathamuel, and Osdelius, and Sabas.
33 And of the Levites; Jonabas, and Semeis, and Colias, who was called Calitas, and Pathus, and Judas, and Jonas. 34 Of the holy singers; Elia-sims, Othonias, Jarimoth, and Sabathus, and Zardues. 35 Of the porters; Saltimus, and Toblanes. 36 Of Israel, of the sons of Pheros; Hiermas, and Jubaeus, and Jasael, and Jasael, and Eleazar, and Asias, and Basoom, and Banneas.
37 Of the Levites; Jozab, and Semeis, and Colius, who was called Calitas, and Patheus, and Judas, and Jonas. 38 Of the holy singers; Elia-sims, Othonias, Jarimoth, and Sabathus, and Zardues. 39 Of the sons of Babai; Joannes, and Ananias, and Moseb, and Zabadeas. 40 Of the Levites;
Jozab, and Semeis, and Colius, who was called Calitas, and Patheus, and Judas, and Jonas. 41 Of the holy singers; Elia-
sims, Othonias, Jarimoth, and Sabathus, and Zardues.

And in three days were all they of
the tribe of Judah and Benjamin gathered together at Jerusalem: this was the ninth month, on the twentieth
day of the month. 6 And all the multitude
sat together in the broad place before
the temple because of the present foul weather. 7 So Esdras arose up, and said unto them, Ye have transgressed in law and married strange wives, thereby to increase the sins of Israel. 8 And now make confession and give glory unto the Lord, the God of our fathers, and do his will, and sepa-rerate yourselves from the heathen of the land, and from the strange women. 9 Then cried the whole multitude, and
said with a loud voice, Like as thou hast spoken, so will we do. 10 But

the temple from morning unto midday, before both men and women; and all the multitude gave heed unto the law. 43 And Esdras the priest and reader of the law stood up upon the pulpit of wood, which was made for that purpose. 44 And there stood up by him Mattathias, Samnus, Ananias, Azarias, Urias, 2 Ezechias, 3 Basalsamus, upon the right hand: 44 and upon his left hand, 4 Phaldous, Misael, Melchias, 5 Lothasubus, Naborias, Zacharias. 45 Then took Esdras the book of the law before the multitude, and sat honourably in the first place before all. 46 And when he opened the law, they stood all straight up. So Esdras blessed the Lord God Most high, 9 the God of hosts, Almighty. 47 And all the people answered, Amen; and lifting up their hands they fell to the ground, and worshipped the Lord. 48 Also Jesus, Amnum, Sarabias, Iadinus, Jacobus, Sabaienus, 6 Anues, Maiammas, and Calitas, Azarias, and Josabuds, and Ananias, Phalies, the Levites, taught the law of the Lord. 7 and read to the multitude the law of the Lord, making them to understand it. 49 Then said 8 Atharates unto Esdras the chief priest and reader, and to the Levites that taught the multitude, even to all, 50 This day is holy unto the Lord; (now they all wept when they heard the law:) 51 go then, and eat the fat, and drink the sweet, and send portions unto them that have nothing; 52 for the day is holy unto the Lord; and be not sorrowful; for the Lord will bring you to honour. 53 So the Levites published all things to the people, saying, This day is holy; be not sorrowful. 54 Then went they their way, every one to eat and drink, and make merry, and to give portions unto them that had nothing, and to make great cheer; 55 because they understood the words wherein they were instructed, and for the which they had been assembled.

II. ESDRAS.

1 The second book of the prophet Esdras, the son of Saraias, the son of Azaraias, the son of Helkias, the son of Saraias, the son of Sadoc, the son of Ahitob, 2 the son of Achias, the son of Phineas, the son of Heli, the son of Amazias, the son of Ariel, the son of Marimuth, the son of Arus, the son of Oziias, the son of Borith, the son of Abissei, the son of Phinees, the son of Eleazar, 3 the son of Aaron, of the tribe of Levi; which was captive in the land of the Medes, in the reign of Artaxerxes king of the Persians.

4 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, 5 Go thy way, and shew my people their sinful deeds, and their children their wickedness which they have done against me; that they may tell their children's children: 6 because the sins of their fathers are increased in them: for they have forgotten me, and have done sacrifice unto strange gods. 7 Did not I 8 bring them out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage? but they have provoked me unto wrath, and despised my counsels. 9 Shake thou then the hair of thy head, and cast all evils upon them, for they have not been obedient unto my law, 10 but it is a rebellious people. 9 11 How long shall I forbear them, unto whom I have done so much good? 10 12 Many kings have I overthrown for their sakes; 13 Pharaoh with his servants and all his host have I smitten down. 11 I All the nations I have destroyed before them, and in the east I have scattered the people of two provinces, even of 2 Tyre and Sidon, and have slain all their adversaries. 12 Speak thou therefore unto them, saying, Thus saith the Lord, 13 Of a truth I brought you through the sea, and where there was no path I made for you highways; I gave you Moses for a leader, and Aaron for a priest. 14 I gave you light in a pillar of fire, and great wonders have I done among you; yet ye have forgotten me, saith the Lord.

15 Thus saith the Lord Almighty, The quails were for a token to you: 16 I gave you a camp for your safeguard, nevertheless ye murmured there: 17 and ye triumphed not in my name for the destruction of your enemies, but ever to this day do ye yet murmur. 18 Where are the benefits that I have done for you? when ye were hungry and thirsty in the wilderness, did ye not cry unto me, saying, Why hast thou brought us into this wilderness to kill us? 19 It had been better for us to have served the Egyptians, than to die in this wilderness. 20 I had pity upon your mournings, and gave you manna for food; ye did eat angels' bread. 20 When ye were thirsty, did I not leave the rock, and waters flowed out to your fill? for the heat I covered you with the leaves of the trees. I divided among you fruitful lands; I cast out the Canaanites, the Pherezites, and the Philistines, before you: what shall I yet do more for you? saith the Lord.

As saith the Lord Almighty, When ye were in the wilderness, at the bitter river, being athirst, and blaspheming my name, I gave you that fire for your blasphemies, but cast a tree in the water, and made the river sweet. What shall I do unto thee, O Jacob? thou, Judah, wouldst not obey me: I will turn me to other nations, and unto them will I give my name, that they may keep my statutes. Seeing ye have forsaken me, I also will forsake you; when ye ask me to be merciful unto you, I will have no mercy upon you. When I now do unto you, I will not hear you: for ye have defiled your hands with blood, and your feet are swift to commit manslaughter. Ye have not as it were been forsaken, but your own selves, saith the Lord.

Thus saith the Lord Almighty, Have I not prayed for you as a father his sons, as a mother her daughters, and as a nurse her young babes, that ye would be my people, and I should be your God; that this land should be your inheritance forever? mother of the children: for I have chosen thee, saith the Lord. 38 For thy help will I send my servants Esaias and Jeremiah, after whose counsel I have sanctified and prepared for thee twelve trees laden with divers fruits, and as many fountains flowing with milk and honey, and seven mighty mountains, whereupon there grow roses and lilies, whereby I will fill thy children with joy. 39 Do right to the widow, judge the fatherless, give to the poor, defend the orphans, clothe the naked, heal the broken, and the weak, laugh against thee, man to acom, defend the maidens, and let the blind man come unto the sight of my glory. 40 Keep the old and young within thy walls. Wheresoever thou findest the dead, set a sign upon them, and commit them to the grave, and I will give thee the first place in my resurrection. 44 Abide still, O my people, and take thy rest, for thy quietness shall come. 45 Nourish thy children, O nation, and establish thy children, and prosper thy feet. 46 As for the servants whom I have given thee, there shall not one of them perish; for I will require them from among thy number. 47 Be not careful in much: for when the day of tribulation and anguish cometh, others shall weep and be sorrowful, but thou shalt be merry and have abundance. 48 The nations shall envy thee, but they shall be afraid of thee. 49 For I will secretly take away thine enemy, saith the Lord. 50 My hands shall cover thee, so that thy children see not hell. 51 Be joyful, 10 thou mother, with thy children; for I will deliver thee, saith the Lord. 52 Remember thy children that sleep, for I shall bring them out of the secret places of the earth, and shew mercy unto them: for I am merciful, saith the Lord Almighty. 53 Embrace thy children until I come, and proclaim mercy unto them: for my isEsdras) was in Babylon, and 54 Be ready to the rewards of the kingdom, for the everlasting light shall shine upon you for evermore. 52 Be ready to the rewards of the kingdom, for the everlasting light shall shine upon you for evermore. 53 Be ready to the rewards of the kingdom, for the everlasting light shall shine upon you for evermore. 54 Be ready to the rewards of the kingdom, for the everlasting light shall shine upon you for evermore. 55 Be ready to the rewards of the kingdom, for the everlasting light shall shine upon you for evermore. 3 In the thirtieth year after the ruin of the city, I Salathiel (the same is Esdras) saw Babylon, and lay troubled upon my bed, and my thoughts came up over my heart: for I saw the desolation of Sion, and the wealth of them that dwelt at Babylon. And my spirit was sore moved, so that I began to speak words full of fear to the Most High, and said, 4 O Lord that bearest the land, thou didst not speak at the beginning, when thou didst fashion the earth, and to the children of men thou gavest the dust, and gavest the world and all that therein is. 5 And thou didst give thee Adam, a body without a soul? yet it was the workmanship of thine hands, and thou didst breathe into him the breath of life, and he was made living before thee. 6 And thou lestd he bring to the world, which thy right hand did plant, before ever the earth came forward. 7 And unto him thou gavest the one commandment: "Thou shalt notcovet." 8 And immediately thou appointedst death for him and in his generations; and there were born of him nations and tribes, peoples and kindreds, out of number. 8 And every nation walked after their own will, and did ungodly things before thee, and despised thy commandments, and thou didst not forbid them. 9 Nevertheless again in another thousand years, came a flood upon those that dwelt in the world, and destroyed them. 10 And it came to pass that the same hap befell them; like as death was to Adam, so was the flood to these. 11 Nevertheless one of them thou leftest, 2Noah with his household, even all the righteous men that came of him. 12 And it came to pass, that when they that dwelt upon the earth began to multiply, they multiplied also children, and people, and many nations, and began again to be more ungodly than the first. 13 And it came to pass, when they did wickedly before thee, thou didst choose thee one from among them, whose name was Abraham; 14 and him thou lovedest, and unto him only thou shewedst the end of his days. 15 And thou gavest Isaac, and unto Isaac thou gavest Jacob and Esau. 16 And thou didst set apart Jacob for thyself, but didst put by Esau: and Jacob became a great multitude. 17 And it came to pass, that when thou leddest his seed out of Egypt, thou broughtest them up to the mount Sinai. 18 Thou bowedest the heavens also, and didst shake the earth, and movedst the whole world, and the nations, and the kings thereof. 19 Thou art the only God. 20 And they kept thy precepts; but nations thou hast not signified 21 unto any how thy way may be comprehended. 22 Are the deeds of Babylon better than those of Sion? 23 Or is there any other nation that knoweth thee beside Israel? or what tribes have so believed thy covenants as these tribes of Jacob? 24 And yet their reward appeared not, and their labour hath no fruit: for I have gone hither and thither through the nations, and I see that they abound in wealth, and think not upon thy commandments; thou therefore our iniquities now in the balance, and theirs also that dwell in the world; and so shall it be found when we come to pass.
are above the firmament? or which are the outgoings of hell? or which are the paths of paradise? or perchance thou wouldest say unto me, 13 how then can a man comprehend the way of the Most High? and how can he that is already worn out with the corrupted world understand incorruption? 14 And when I heard these things, I fell upon my face, and said unto him, 15 it were better that we were not here at all, than that we should come hither and live in the midst of ungodliness, and suffer, and not know wherefore.

7 Then answered me, and said, 16 The waves of the sea also in like manner took counsel together, and said, Come, let us go up and subdue the wood of the plain, that there also we may make us more woods. 17 The waves of the sea also in like manner took counsel together, and said, Come, let us go up and subdue the wood of the plain, that there also we may make us more woods. 18 And when I heard these things, I fell upon my face, and said unto him, 19 it were better that we were not here at all, than that we should come hither and live in the midst of ungodliness, and suffer, and not know wherefore.

by us daily; 1 because Israel is given up as a reproach to the heathen, and the people whom thou hast loved is given over unto ungodly nations, and the law of one forefathers is made of none effect, and the written covenants are nowhere regarded. 2 and we pass away out of the world as grasshoppers, and our life is as a vapour, neither are we worthy to obtain mercy. 3 What will he then do for his name where by we are called? Of these things have I asked.

Then answered he me, and said, 4 if thou be alive, thou shalt see, and if thou livest long, thou shalt marvel, 5 for the world hasteth fast to pass away. 6 For it is not able to bear the things that are promised to the righteous in the times to come: 7 for this world is full of sadness and infirmities. 8 For the evil whereof thou askest me is sown, but the gathering thereof is not yet come. 9 If therefore that which is sown be not reaped, and if the place where the evil is sown pass not away, these things cannot come the field where the good is sown.

10 For a grain of evil seed was sown in the heart of Adam from the beginning, and how much wickedness hath it brought forth unto this time! and how much shall it yet bring forth until the time of threshing come? 11 Ponder now by thyself, how great fruit of wickedness a grain of evil seed hath brought forth. 12 When the seasons which are we use shall be sown, how great a floor shall they fill!

13 Then I answered and said, How long? and when shall these things come to pass? wherefore are our years few and evil?

14 And he answered me, and said, 15 Thou dost not hasten more than the Most High: for thy haste is for thine own self, but he that is above hasteneth on behalf of many. 16 Did not thy seed of the righteous ask question of these things in their chambers, saying, How long are we here when cometh the fruit of the time of our reward? 17 And unto them Jeremiel the archangels gave answer, and said, 18 Even when the number is fulfilled of them that are like unto you. 19 For he hath weighed the world in the balance; 20 and by measure hath he measured the times, and by number hath he numbered the seasons; and he shall not move nor stir them, until the said measure be fulfilled.

37 Then answered I and said, O Lord, wherefore is the power of understanding given unto me? 38 For it was not my mind to be curious of the ways above, but of such things as pass peradventure it is that the threshing time of the righteous is kept back, because of the sins of them that dwell upon the earth.

40 So he answered me, and said, Go thy way to a woman with child, and ask of her when she hath fulfilled her nine months, if her womb may keep the birth any longer within her.

41 Then said I, No, Lord, that can it not.

And he said unto me, If the grave of the chambers of souls are like to the womb; for like as a woman that night, which many have not known: but it happened, that when the flame was gone by I looked, and, behold, the smoke remained still. 49 After this there passed by before me a watery cloud, and sent down much rain with a storm; and when the stormy rain was past, the drops remained therein still.

50 Then said he unto me, Consider with thyself; as the rain is more than to talk with me; as the rain is more, so the smoke was gone by I looked, and, behold, the smoke remained still. 49 After this there passed by before me a watery cloud, and sent down much rain with a storm; and when the stormy rain was past, the drops remained therein still.

51 Then said he unto me, Stand up upon the right side, and I shall expound the similitude unto thee.

4 Then answered I and said, All I have found favour in thy sight, and if it be thy will, let me be meet therefore, and let me shew me this also, whether there be many, and shall not be found: and unrighteousness and incontinency shall be multiplied upon earth. 51 Nevertheless as concerning the tokens whereof thou askest me, I shall not obtain: they shall labour, but then shall withide itself, and they shall not be found: and unrighteousness and incontinency shall be multiplied upon earth.
Chap. 5, v. 23.

II. ESDRAS.

10 Lord that bearest rule, of all the woods of the earth, and of all the trees thereof, thou hast chosen thee one vine: and of all the lands of the world thou hast chosen thee one country: and of all the flowers of the world thou hast chosen thee one lily: and of all the depths of the sea thou hast filled thee one river: and of all builded cities thou hast hallowed Sion unto thyself: and of all the fowls that are created thou hast named thee one dove: and of all the cattle that are made thou hast provided thee one sheep: and among all the multitudes of peoples thou hast gotten thee one people: and unto this people, whom thou lovedst, thou gavest a law that is approved of all. And now, O Lord, why hast thou given this one people over unto many, and hast dishonoured the one root above others, and hast scattered them among many? And they which did gainsay thy promises have trodden them down that believed thy covenants. If thou dost so much hate thy people, they should be punished with thine own hands.

Now when I had spoken these words, the angel that came to me the night afore was sent unto me, and said unto me, Hear me, and I will instruct thee the things that I shall tell thee more.

And I said unto me, Thou art sore troubled in mind for Israel's sake: lovest thou that people better than he that made them?

And I said, No, Lord: but of very grief have I spoken: for my reins torment me every hour, while I labour to comprehend the way of the Most High, and the secret of his judgment.

And he said unto me, Thou canst not. And I said, Wherefore, Lord, or whereunto was I born? or why was not my mother's womb then my grave, that I might not have seen the travail of Jacob, and the wearisome toil of the created.

And he said unto me, Number me them that are not yet come, gatherme together the drops that are scattered abroad, make me the flowers green again that are withered, open me the chambers that are closed, and bring me forth the winds that in them are shut up, or shew me the image of a voice: and then I will declare to thee the travail that thou askest to see.

And I said, O Lord that bearest rule, who may know these things, but he that hast not his dwelling with men? And as for me, I am unwise: how may I then speak of these things whereof thou askest me?

Then said he unto me, Like as thou canst do none of these things that I have spoken of, even so canst thou not find out my judgement, or the end of the love that I have promised unto my people.

And I said, But, lo, O Lord, thou hast made the promise unto them that be in the end: and what shall they do that have been before us, or we that be now, or they that shall come after us? And he said unto me, I will liken my judgement unto a ring: like as there is no slackness of them that be last, even so there is no swiftness of them that be first.

So I answered and said, Couldest thou not make them to be at once that have been made, and that be now, and that are for to come; that thou mightest shew thy judgement the sooner?

Then answered he me, and said, The creature may not haste above the creator; neither may the world hold them at once that shall be created therein.

And he said unto me, Ask the womb of a woman, and say unto her, If thou bringest forth ten children, why dost thou at several times? pray her therefore to bring forth ten children at once.

And I said, She cannot: I must do it by distance of time.

Then said he unto me, Even so have I given the womb of the earth to those that be sown therein in their several times. For like as a young child may not bring forth, neither she that is grown old bring forth any more, even so have I disposed the world which I created.

And I asked, and said, Seeing thou hast now shewed me the way, I will speak before thee: Is our mother, of whom thou hast told me, still young? or doth she now draw nigh unto age?

He answered me, and said, Ask a woman that beareth children, and she shall tell thee. Say unto her, Wherefore are not they whom thou hast now brought forth like those that were before, but less of stature? And she also shall answer thee, They that be born in the strength of youth are of one fashion, and they that are born in the time of women, when the womb is falshin, are otherwise. Consider therefore thou also, how that Jye are less of stature than... those that were before you. And so are they that come after you less than ye, as born of the creature which now beginneth to be old, and is past the strength of youth.

6 Then said I, Lord, I beseech thee, if I have found favour in thy sight, shew thy servant by whom thou visitest thy creation. And he said unto me, In the beginning, when the earth was made, before the outgoings of the world were fixed, or ever the gatherings of the winds blew, before the voices of the thunder sounded and before the flashes of the lightning shone, or ever the foundations of paradise were laid, 3 before the fair flowers were seen, or ever the powers of the earthquake were established, 4 or ever the immemorial hosts of angels were gathered together, 4 or ever the heights of the air were lifted up, before the measures of the firmament were named, or ever the footstool of Sion was established, 5 and ere the present years were sought out, and ever the imaginations of them that now sin were estranged, before they were sealed that have gathered faith for that which is to come, and for that which is to be, 6 and the earth shall stand not on the place whereon it was lifted up, 7 and before the发出 of the world. 8 9 Then answered I and said, What shall be the parting asunder of the times? or when shall be the end of the beginning, and the beginning of it that followeth?

10 And he said unto me, From Abraham and Isaac shall be born of him, for Jacob's hand held the heel of Esau from the beginning. For Esau is the end of Jacob, and Jacob is the beginning of it that followeth. 11 The beginning of a man is his hand, and the end of a man is his heel; between the heel and the hand seek thou not else, Edras.

12 I answered then and said, O Lord that bearest rule, if I have found favour in thy sight, 12 I beseech thee, shew thy servant the end of thy tokens, 13 whereof thou wouldest me part the last night.

13 So he answered and said unto me, 1 Stand up upon thy feet, and thou shalt hear a mighty sounding voice; and if the place whereon thou standest be greatly moved, 2 when it speaketh behold, the word is of the end, and the foundations of the earth shall understand, 3 that the speech is of them: they shall tremble and be moved: for they know that their end must be changed.

17 And it happened, that when I had heard it I stood up upon my feet, and heartened, and beheld, there was a voice that spake, and the sound of it was like the sound of many waters. 18 And it said, Behold, the days come, and it shall be that when I draw nigh to visit them that dwell upon the earth, 19 and when I shall make inquisition of them that have done hurt, 20 and when the affliction of Sion shall be fulfilled, 21 and when the seal shall be set upon the world that is to pass away, then will I shew these tokens: 22 the books shall be opened before the firmament, and all shall see together: as the children of a year old shall speak with their voices, the women with child shall bring forth un timelily children at three or four months, 23 and they shall live, and come to their years, 24 and suddenly shall the sown places appear unsown, the full storehouses shall suddenly be found empty: 25 and the trumpet shall give a sound, which when every man heareth, they shall be suddenly afraid. 26 At that time shall friends make war one against another like enemies, and the earth shall stand in fear with those that dwell therein, in those springs of the earth, and in those places of them that have been, 27 and suddenly shall the sown places appear unsown, the full storehouses shall suddenly be found empty: 28 and the trumpet shall give a sound, which when every man heareth, they shall be suddenly afraid. 29 At that time shall friends make war one against another like enemies, and the earth shall stand in fear with those that dwell therein, in those springs of the earth, and in those places of them that have been, 30 and suddenly shall the sown places appear unsown, the full storehouses shall suddenly be found empty: 31 and the trumpet shall give a sound, which when every man heareth, they shall be suddenly afraid. 32 At that time shall friends make war one against another like enemies, and the earth shall stand in fear with those that dwell therein, in those springs of the earth, and in those places of them that have been, 33 and suddenly shall the sown places appear unsown, the full storehouses shall suddenly be found empty: 34 and the trumpet shall give a sound, which when every man heareth, they shall be suddenly afraid. 35 At that time shall friends make war one against another like enemies, and the earth shall stand in fear with those that dwell therein, in those springs of the earth, and in those places of them that have been, commandment unto the earth, that it should bring forth before thee cattle, beasts, and creeping things: and over these Adam, whom thou ordainedst lord over all the works that thou hast made: of him come we all, the people whom thou hast chosen. All this have I spoken before thee, O Lord, because thou hast said that for our sakes thou madest this world. As for the other nations, which also come of Adam, thou hast said that they are nothing, and are like unto spittle: and thou hast likened the abundance of them unto a drop that falleth from a vessel. And now, O Lord, behold, these nations, which are reputed as nothing, the lords over us, and devour us. But we thy people, whom thou hast called thy firstborn, thy only begotten, and thy fervent lovers, are given into their hands.

If the world now be made for our sakes, why do we not possess for an inheritance our world? How long shall this endure?

7 And when I had made an end of speaking these words, there was sent unto me the angel which had been sent unto me the nights afore: and he said unto me, Up, Esdras, and hear the words that I am come to tell thee. And I said, Speak on, my Lord. Then said he unto me, There is a sea set in a wide place, that it might be broad and vast. But the entrance thereof shall be set in a narrow place so as to be like a river; whose then should desire to go into the sea to look unto the seventh part, where the water in a dangerous place to fall, having a drop that falleth from a vessel. vain things, they can never receive those that are laid up for them. 15 Now therefore why disquietest thou thyself, seeing thou art but a corruptible man? and why art thou moved, whereas thou art but mortal? 16 and why hast thou not considered in thy mind that which is to come, rather than that which is present? 17 Then answered I and said, O Lord that bearest rule, lo, thou hast ordained J in thy law, that the righteous should inherit these things, but that the ungodly should perish. 18 The righteous therefore shall suffer strait things, and hope for wide: but they that have done wickedly have suffered the strait things, and yet shall not see the wide. 19 And he said unto me, Thou art not a judge above God, neither hast thou understanding above the Most High. 20 Yea, rather let many that now be perished, than that the law of God which shall he speak unto them in the day of judgement. 21 And I answered, I said even then, O Lord, and I say now: Blessed are those soulsthat were committed unto thee; and who of the sons of men hast not made one world, but two. 22 Therefore, Esdras, for the empty are empty things, and for the full are the full things. 23 For behold, the time shall come, and it shall be, when these tokens, of which I told thee before, shall come to pass, that the bride shall appear, even statutes ordained of thee. 24 But as they are delivered from the foresaid evils, the same shall see my wonders. 25 For my son Jesus shall be revealed with those that be with him, and shall rejoice them that remain four hundred years. 26 After these years shall my son Christ die, and all that have the breath of life. 27 And the world shall be turned into the old silence seven days, like as in the first beginning: so that no man shall remain. 28 And he is not; and knew not his ways: only the splendour of the glory of the Most High shall be revealed with those that be alive. 29 And then shall the Most High say, Blessed are these years. 30 This is my judgement and the ordaincethereof: But to thee only have I shewed these things. 31 And I answered, I said even then, O Lord, and I say now: Blessed are they that be now alive J and keep the statutes ordained of thee. 32 But as touching them O whom for whom my prayer was made, what shall I say? 33 For who are the forefathers of them that are born, neither stained, and who of the sons of men that hath not transgressed thy covenant? 34 And now I see, that the world to come shall bring delight to few, but torments unto many. 35 For an evil heart hath grown up in us, which hath led us astray from these statutes, and hath brought us into corruption and into the ways of death, hath shewed us the paths of perturbation and removed us far from life: and who were not yet awakened not, shall be raised up, and that shall die that is corruptible. 36 And the earth shall restore those that are asleep in her, and so shall the dust those that dwell therein in silence, and the secret places shall deliver those souls that were committed unto them. 37 And the Most High shall be revealed upon the seat of judgement, and compassion shall pass away, and longsuffering shall be withdrawn: but judgement only shall remain, 'truth shall stand, and faith shall wax strong: and the work shall follow, and the reward shall be shewed, and good deeds shall awake, and wicked deeds shall not sleep. 38 And the pit of torment shall appear, and over against it shall be the place of rest: and the furnace of hell shall be shewed, and over against it the paradise of delight. 39 And then shall the Most High say to the nations that are raised from the dead, See ye and understand whom ye have denied, or whom ye have not served, or whose commandments ye have despised. 40 Look on this side and on that: here is delight and rest, and there fire and torments. Thus shall he speak unto them in the day of judgement. 41 This is a day that hath neither sun, nor moon, nor stars, in neither cloud, nor thunder, nor lightning, neither wind, nor water, nor fire, neither darkness, nor evening, nor morning, neither summer, nor spring, nor heat, nor winter, neither frost, nor cold, nor hail, nor rain, nor dew, neither noon, nor night, nor dawn, neither shining, nor brightness, nor light, save only the splendour of the glory of the Most High, whereby all shall see the things that are set before them: for it shall endure as it were a week of years. 42 This is my judgement and the ordinance thereof: But to thee only have I shewed these things. 43 And I answered, I said even then, O Lord, and I say now: Blessed are they that be now alive J and keep the statutes ordained of thee. 44 But as touching them O whom for whom my prayer was made, what shall I say? 45 For who is the forefather of them that are born, neither stained, and who of the sons of men that hath not transgressed thy covenant? 46 And now I see, that the world to come shall bring delight to few, but torments unto many. 47 For an evil heart hath grown up in us, which hath led us astray from these statutes, and hath brought us into corruption and into the ways of death, hath shewed us the paths of perturbation and removed us far from life: and who were not yet awakened not, shall be raised up, and that shall die that is corruptible. 48 And the earth shall restore those that are asleep in her, and so shall the dust those that dwell therein in silence, and the secret places shall deliver those souls that were committed unto them. 49 And the Most High shall be revealed upon the seat of judgement, and compassion shall pass away, and longsuffering shall be withdrawn: but judgement only shall remain, 'truth shall stand, and faith shall wax strong: and the work shall follow, and the reward shall be shewed, and good deeds shall awake, and wicked deeds shall not sleep. 50 And the pit of torment shall appear, and over against it shall be the place of rest: and the furnace of hell shall be shewed, and over against it the paradise of delight.
ungodly abound, hear the answer thereunto. [53] If thou have choice stones exceeding few, wilt thou set for thee over against them according to their number things of lead and clay? [54] And he said unto me, Not only this, but ask the earth, and she shall tell thee; interreat her, and she shall declare to thee. [55] For, if thou shalt say unto her, Thou bringest forth gold and silver and brass, and iron also and lead and clay: [56] but silver is more abundant than gold, and brass than silver, and iron than brass, lead than iron, and clay than lead. [57] Judge thou therefore which things are precious and to be desired, whatso is abundant or what is rare.

[58] And I said, O Lord that bearest rule, that which is plentiful is of less worth, for that which is more rare is more precious.

[59] And he answered me, and said,

1 Weigh within thyself the things that thou hast thought, for that hath what is hard to get rejoiced over him kept in rest until those times come, [60] and that hath what is plentiful. [61] So also is the 1judgement which I have promised: for I will rejoice over the few that shall be saved, inasmuch as these will shew thee this also; but join not thee with them that are scorers, nor number thyself with them that are tormented. [62] And I will not grieve over the multitude of them that perish; for of good works laid up with the Most High have found grace in thy sight, O Lord.

[63] And he answered me, and said, shew this also unto thy servant, whether we shall be tormented forthwith. [64] And I answered and said, If I have found grace in thy sight, O Lord, shew this also unto thy servant, whether after death, even now when every one of us giveth up his soul, we shall be kept in rest until those times come, [65] in which thou shalt renew the creation, or whether we shall be tormented forthwith.

[66] And he answered me, and said, I will shew thee this same way, that ye are they that have made my glory now thyself with them that are scorers, nor number thyself with them that are tormented. [67] For thou hast a treasure of good works laid up with the Most High, but it shall not be shewed thee until the last times. [68] For concerning death the teaching is: When the determinate sentence hath gone forth from the Most High that a man should die, as the soul leaveth the body to return to him who gave it, it adoreth the glory of the Most High first of all. [69] And if it be one of those that have been scorers and have not kept the way of the Most High, and that have despised his law, and that hate them that love the Most High, and that are defiled with iniquities, and are full of sins and laden with offences: [70] and if after death we were not to come into judgement, persadventure it had been better for us.

[71] And he answered me, and said, When the Most High made the world, and Adam and all them that came of him, he first prepared the judgement and the things that pertain unto the judgement. [72] And now understand from thine own words, for thou hast said that the mind growth with us. [73] They therefore that dwell upon the earth shall be tormented for this reason, that they have understanding that have been scorers, and receiving commandments have not kept them, and having obtained a law they dealt unfaithfully with that which they received. [74] What then will they have to say in the judgement, or how will they answer in the last times? For how great a time hath the Most High been long-suffering with those that inhabit the world, and not for their sakes, but because of the times which he hath fore-ordained!

[75] And I answered and said, If I have found grace in thy sight, O Lord, shew this also unto thy servant, whether after death, even now when every one of us giveth up his soul, we shall be kept in rest until those times come, [76] in which thou shalt renew the creation, or whether we shall be tormented forthwith.

[77] For thou hast a treasure of good works laid up with the Most High, but it shall not be shewed thee until the last times. [78] For concerning death the teaching is: When the determinate sentence hath gone forth from the Most High that a man should die, as the soul leaveth the body to return to him who gave it, it adoreth the glory of the Most High first of all. [79] And if it be one of those that have been scorers and have not kept the way of the Most High, and that have despised his law, and that hate them that love the Most High, and that are defiled with iniquities, and are full of sins and laden with offences: [80] and if after death we were not to come into judgement, persadventure it had been better for us.

[81] For thou hast a treasure of good works laid up with the Most High, but it shall not be shewed thee until the last times. [82] For concerning death the teaching is: When the determinate sentence hath gone forth from the Most High that a man should die, as the soul leaveth the body to return to him who gave it, it adoreth the glory of the Most High first of all. [83] And if it be one of those that have been scorers and have not kept the way of the Most High, and that have despised his law, and that hate them that love the Most High, and that are defiled with iniquities, and are full of sins and laden with offences: [84] and if after death we were not to come into judgement, persadventure it had been better for us.

the aforesaid ways, because they shall pine away in confusion and be consumed with shame, and shall be withered up by fears, seeing the glory of the Most High be before them, whilst living, and before whom they shall be judged in the last times. [25] Now this is the order of those who have kept the ways of the Most High, when they shall be separated from the corruptible vessel. [26] In the time that they dwelt therein they painfully served the Most High, and were in jeopardy every hour, that they might keep the law of the lawgiver perfectly. [27] Wherefore this is the teaching concerning them: [28] First of all they shall see with great joy the glory of him who taketh them up, for they shall have rest in seven orders. [29] The first order, because they have striven with great labour to overcome the evil thought which was fashioned together with them, that it might not allure them astray from life to death. [30] The second order, because they kept the piety in which the souls of the ungodly wander, and the punishment that awaiteth them. [31] The third order, they see the witness which God hath given of those, becoming conscious of them, that while they lived they kept the law which was given them in trust. [32] The fourth order, they understand the rest which, being gathered in their chambers, they now enjoy with great quietness, guarded by angels, and the glory that awaiteth them in the last days. [33] The fifth order, they rejoice, seeing how they have now escaped from that which is corruptible, and how they shall inherit that which is to come, while they see moreover the strictness and the painfulness from which they have been delivered, and the large room which they shall receive with joy and immortality: and all who were aforesaid, because they kept the aforesaid orders, therefore they rejoice with confidence, and because they shall be bold without confusion, and shall be glad without fear, for they hasten to behold the face of him who in their lifetime they served, and from whom they shall receive their reward in glory. [34] This is the order of the souls of the just, as henceforth is announced unto them, and aforesaid are the ways of torture which they that would not give heed shall suffer from henceforth. [35] And I answered and said, Shall time therefore be given unto the souls after they are separated from the bodys, that they may see that whereof thou hast spoken unto me? [36] And he said, Their freedom shall be for seven days, that for seven days then they may see of the things that have been told, and afterwards they shall be gathered together in their habitations. [37] And I answered and said, If I have found favour in thy sight, shew further unto me thy servant whether in the day of judgement the just will be able to intercede for the ungodly or to interreat the Most High for them, [38] whether fathers for children, or children for parents, or brethren for brethren, or kinsfolk for their next of kin, or friends for them that are most dear. [39] And he answered me, and said, Since thou hast found favour in my sight, I will shew thee this also: The day of judgement is a day of decision, and displayeth unto all the seal of truth; even as now a father sendeth not his son, or a son his father, because he is a master, or a slave, or a friend him that is most dear, that in his stead he may be sick, or sleep, or eat, or be healed: [40] so never shall any one pray for another in that day, neither shall one labour on another, for they shall all bear every one his own righteousness or unrighteousness.

36 [106] And I answered and said, How do we now find that first Abraham prayed for the people of Sodom, and [41] Moses for the fathers that sinned in the wilderness: [72] and [42] Joshua for him for Israel in the days of Achar: [38] and [43] Samuel 2 in the days of Saul; and [44] David for the plague: and [45] Solomon for them that should worship in the sanctuary: [39] and [46] Elijah for those that received rain; and [47] for the dead, that he might live: [49] and [48] Hezekiah for the people in the days of Sennacherib, and [40] for the souls that should be gathered together in their habitations, that while they lived they kept the law which was given them in trust. [41] And I answered then and said, This present world is not the end; the full glory abideth not therein: therefore have they who were able prayed for the weak. [42] But the day of judgement shall be the end of this time, and the beginning of the immortality for to come, wherein corruption is passed away, and infinity is cut off, but righteousness is grown, and truth shall spring up. [43] Then shall no man be able to have mercy on him that is cast in judgement, nor to thrust down him that hath obtained the victory. [44] [107] I answered then and said, This is the Latin here corrupt. 1 So the Oriental versions. 2 The Latin omits a bold day. 3 The Latin omits in that day. 4 So the Syriac. The Latin omits in that day. 5 See Josh. 7, 1. 6 So the Syriac and other versions. 7 The Latin omits in the days of Saul. 8 Omitted in the Latin.
is my first and last saying, that it had been better that the earth had not given thee Adam: or else, when it had given him, to have restrained him from sinning. For what profit is it for all that are in this present time to live in heaviness, and after death to look for punishment? O thou Adam, what hast thou done? for though it was thou that sinned, the evil is not fallen on thee alone, but upon all of us that come of thee. For what profit is it unto us, if there be promised us an immortal time, whereas we have done the works that bring death? And that there is promised us an everlasting hope, whereas ourselves most miserably are become vain? And that there are reserved habitations of health and safety, whereas we have lived wickedly? And that the glory of the Most High shall defend them which have led a pure life, whereas we have wasted them with wicked ways of all? And that there shall be shewed a paradise, whose fruit endureth without decay, wherein is abundance and healing: but we shall not enter into it, for we have walked in unpleasing places. And that the faces of them which have used abstention shall shine above the stars, whereas our faces shall be blacker than darkness. And that the Most High shall defend them which have lived a pure life, whereas we have wasted them with wicked ways of all? And that the faces of them which have used abstention shall shine above the stars, whereas our faces shall be blacker than darkness.

8 And he answered me, and said, The Most High hath made this world for many, but the world to come for few. I will tell thee now a similitude, Esdras; As when thou askest the earth, it shall say unto thee, that it giveth very much mould whereby earthen vessels are made, and little dust that gold cometh of: so is it the course of the present world. There be many created, but few shall be saved.

And I answered and said, Swallow down understanding then, O my soul, and let my heart devour wisdom. For thou art come hither without thy will, and departest when thou wouldest not: for there is given thee no longer space than to live a short time. O Lord, that art over us, suffer thy servant, and that there is promised ns an everlasting hope, whereas ours is now breasts, that the thing which is fa...

will speak; touching man in general, thou knowest best; but touching thy people will I speak, for whose sake I am sorry; and for thine inheritance, for whom cause I mourn, and for Israel, for whom I am heavy; and for the seed of Jacob, for whose sake I am troubled; therefore will I begin to pray before thee for myself and for them: for I see the falls of us that dwell in the land; but I have heard the swiftness of the judgement which is to come. Therefore hear my voice, and understand my saying, and I will speak before thee.

The beginning of the words of Esdras, before he was taken up. And he said,

So Lord, thou art abidest for ever, whose eyes are exalted, and whose chambers are in the air; whose throne is not estimable; whose glory may not be comprehended; before whom the hosts of angels stand with trembling, and whose bidding they are changed to wind and fire; whose word is sure, and sayings constant; whose ordinance maketh the mountains to melt away, and whose truth beareth witness: hear, O Lord, the prayer of thy servant, and give ear season, or if it be corrupted through the prayer of thy servant, then will I return to prayer. Some things hast thou spoken aright, and some things hast thou spoken not aright. But some things hast thou heard, and some things hast thou received.

Therefore will I begin to pray before thee for myself and for them: for I see the falls of us that dwell in the land; and our fathers have passed our livings like beasts; for we and our fathers have passed our livings in ways that bring death: but thou because of us sinners art called merciful.3 For if thou hast a desire to have among the righteous, so as to be much glorified.3 For in truth there is no man among them that be born, but he hath dealt wickedly; and among them that have lived there is none which hath not done amiss.3 For in this, O Lord, thy righteousness and thy goodness shall be declared, if thou be merciful unto them which have no store of good works.

27 Then answered he me, and said, Some things hast thou spoken aright, and according unto thy words so shall it come to pass.3 For indeed I will not think on the fashioning of them who have sinned, or their death, their judgement, or their destruction; but I will rejoice over the framing of the righteous,2 their pilgrimage also, and the salvation,2 and the reward, that they shall have.4 Like therefore as I have spoken, so shall it be.4 For as the husbandman soweth much seed upon the ground, and planteth many trees, and yet not all that is sown shall come up in due season, neither shall all that is planted take root: even so they that are sown in the world shall not all be saved.

1 I answered then and said, If I have found favour, let me speak before thee. 43 Forasmuch as the husbandman's seed, if it come not up, seeing that it hath not received thy rain in due season, or if it be corrupted through too much rain, so perisheth;44 likewise man, which is formed with thy hands, and is called thine own image, because he is made like unto thee, for whose sake I am troubled; for he is as an image, and as a likeness to thee.5 For in thee the fashioning of all things is prepared, plenteousness is made for the tree of life is planted, the time the life is planted, the time to come is prepared, plenteousness is made ready, a city is built, and rest is allowed, goodness is perfected, wisdom being perfect aforesight. 53 The root of evil is sealed upon you, weakness is done away from you, and [death] is hidden; therefore hell and corruption are fled into forgetfulness: 54 Sorrow is passed away, and in the end is shewed the treasure of immortalitv. 55 Therefore ask thou no more questions concerning the multitude of them that perish. 56 For when they had received liberty, they despised the Most High, thought scorn of his law, and forsook his ways.

Moreover they have trodden down his righteous, 57 and said in their heart, that there is no God; yes, and that knowing they must die. 58 For as the things aforesaid shall receive you, so thirst and pain which are prepared shall receive them: 59 for the Most High willed not that men should come to as the field is, so is also the seed; and there is no God; yea, and that speaking it also hereafter, that there be more of them which perish, than of them which shall be saved: 60 like as a wave is greater than a drop.

Then answered I and said, 61 Behold, O Lord, now hast thou shewed me the multitude of the wonders, which thou wilt shew: but at what time, thou hast not shewed me.

And he answered me, and said, Measure thou diligently within thyself: and when thou seest that a certain part of the signs are past, which have been told thee beforehand, 62 then shalt thou understand, that it is the very time, wherein the Most High will visit the world which was made by him. 63 And therefore is my judgement now at hand, 64 where I have not shewed unto all men, but unto thee, and a few thereof.

Then answered I and said, 65 Behold, O Lord, now hast thou shewed me the multitude of the wonders; which thou wilt shew: but at what time, thou hast not shewed me.

9 Measure thou diligently within thyself: and when thou seest that a certain part of the signs are past, which have been told thee beforehand, 66 then shalt thou understand, that it is the very time, wherein the Most High will visit the world which was made by him. 67 And therefore is my judgement now at hand, 68 where I have not shewed unto all men, but unto thee, and a few thereof.
didst shew thyself among us, unto our fathers in the wilderness, when they went forth out of Egypt, and when they came into the wilderness, where no man treadeth and that beareth not fruit; 3and thou didst say, Hear me, thou Israel; and mark my words, O seed of Jacob. 3fFor, behold, I sow my law in you, and it shall bring forth fruit in you, and ye shall be glorified in it for ever.

2But our fathers, which received the law, kept it not, and observed not the statutes; and the fruit of the law did not perish, neither could it, for it was thine; 3yet they that received it perished, because they kept not the things that were sown in them. 3And, lo, it is a custom, that when the ground hath received seed, or the sea a ship, or any vessel meat or drink, and when it cometh to pass that that which is sown, or that which is launched, or the things which have been received, should come to an end, then they go up to another, but the receptacles remain: yet with us it hath not happened so. 3For we that have received the law shall perish by sin, and our heart also which received it. 3But notwithstanding the law perisheth not, but remaineth in its honour.

3And when I spake these things in my heart, I looked about me with mine eyes, and upon the right side I saw a woman, and she mourned and wept with a loud voice, and was much grieved in mind, and her clothes were rent, and she had ashes upon her head. 3Then let me in thought wherefore I was occupied, and turned me unto her, and said unto her, Wherefore woepest thou? and why art thou grieved in thy mind?

4And she said unto me, Let me alone, my lord, that I may bewail myself, and looke out of thy windows, and hear what thou heardest of them that are in the city. 4And I said unto her, What al leth thee? tell me. 43She said unto me, I thy servant was barren, and had no child, though I had a husband thirty years. 44And every hour and every day there was a sigh in my mind, and brought very low.

5And I said unto her, What al leth thee? she told me. 5She said unto me, I and my husband, and all my neighbours: and we gave great honour unto the Mighty. 5And I nourished him with great travail. 5So when he grew up, and I came to take him a wife, I made a feast day. 5And it so came to pass, that when my son was come entered into his wedding chamber, he fell down, and died. 5Then we all overthrew the lights, and all my neighbours rose up to comfort me: and I remained quiet until the second day at night. 5And it came to pass, when they had all left off to comfort me, to the end I might be quiet, then rose I up by night, and fled, and came hither into this field, as thou seest. 4And I do now purpose not to return into the city, but here to stay, and neither to eat nor drink, but continually to mourn and to fast until I die.

6Then left I the meditations wherein I was, and answered her in anger, and said, Thou foolish woman, art thou grieved in thy mind? with sorrow; even so the earth also hath not happened so. 6And said unto me, Wherefore woepest thou? tell me. 6She said unto me, I am, and answered her in anger, and said, Thou foolish woman, art thou grieved in thy mind? with sorrow; even so the earth also hath not happened so. 6And said unto me, Wherefore woepest thou? tell me. 6She said unto me, I am, and answered her in anger, and said, Thou foolish woman, art thou grieved in thy mind? with sorrow; even so the earth also hath not happened so.

8Who then should make more mourning, she, that hath lost so great a multitude, or thou, which art grieved but for one? 8But if thou sayest unto me, My lamentation is not like the earth's, for I have lost the fruit of my womb, which I brought forth with pains, and bare with sorrows: 8but it is with the earth after the manner of the earth; the multitude present in it is gone, as it came: 8then say I unto thee, Like as thou hast brought forth with sorrow; even so the earth also hath given her fruit, namely, man, ever since the beginning unto him that made him. 8Then thou shalt say unto me, My lamentation is not like the earth's, for I have lost the fruit of my womb, which I brought forth with pains, and bare with sorrows: 8but it is with the earth after the manner of the earth; the multitude present in it is gone, as it came: 8then say I unto thee, Like as thou hast brought forth with sorrow; even so the earth also hath given her fruit, namely, man, ever since the beginning unto him that made him. 8Then thou shalt say unto me, My lamentation is not like the earth's, for I have lost the fruit of my womb, which I brought forth with pains, and bare with sorrows: 8but it is with the earth after the manner of the earth; the multitude present in it is gone, as it came: 8then say I unto thee, Like as thou hast brought forth with sorrow; even so the earth also hath given her fruit, namely, man, ever since the beginning unto him that made him.

9Who then should make more mourning, she, that hath lost so great a multitude, or thou, which art grieved but for one? 9But if thou sayest unto me, My lamentation is not like the earth's, for I have lost the fruit of my womb, which I brought forth with pains, and bare with sorrows: 9but it is with the earth after the manner of the earth; the multitude present in it is gone, as it came: 9then say I unto thee, Like as thou hast brought forth with sorrow; even so the earth also hath given her fruit, namely, man, ever since the beginning unto him that made him. 9Then thou shalt say unto me, My lamentation is not like the earth's, for I have lost the fruit of my womb, which I brought forth with pains, and bare with sorrows: 9but it is with the earth after the manner of the earth; the multitude present in it is gone, as it came: 9then say I unto thee, Like as thou hast brought forth with sorrow; even so the earth also hath given her fruit, namely, man, ever since the beginning unto him that made him.
the name that is called upon us is profaned; our freemen are despitefully treated, our priests are burnt, our Levites are gone into captivity, our virgins are defiled, and our wives ravished; our righteous men carried away, our little ones betrayed, and our young men brought into bondage, and our strong castles are become the spoil of the enemy, and, what is more than all, the seal of Sion—for she hath now lost the seal of her honour, and is delivered into the hands of them that hate us. 24 Thou therefore shake off thy great heaviness, and put away from thee the multitude of sorrows, that the Mighty may be merciful unto thee again, and the Most High may give thee rest, even ease from thy travails.

And it came to pass, while I was talking with her, behold, her face upon a sudden shined exceedingly, and her countenance glistered like lightning, so that I was sore afraid of her, and mused what this might be; 26 and, behold, suddenly she made a great cry very fearful; so that the earth shook at the noise. 27 And I looked, and, behold, the woman appeared unto me no more, but there was a city built, and a place shewed itself from the sea to Jerusalem for ever; this was the destruction that came to Jerusalem. 28 And whereas she said unto thee, My son shall remain here; 29 and whereas she said unto thee, There shall be a city builded, and offered offerings: then it was that the barren bare a son. 30 And whereas she told thee that she nourished him with travail, that was the dwelling in Jerusalem. 31 And whereas she said unto thee, My son coming in his marriage chamber died, and that misfortune befell her: this was the destruction that came to Jerusalem. 32 And, behold, thou sawest her likeness, how she mourned for her son, and thou begannest to comfort her for what hast befallen her; 33 these were the things to be opened unto thee. 34 For now the Most High, seeing that thou art grieved unfeignedly, and sufferest from thy whole heart, may shew thee ythe brightness of her glory, and the comeliness of her beauty: 35 and whereas she said unto thee, I lay as one that had been dead, and bade thee remain in the field where no house was builded: 36 for I knew that the Most High would shew this unto thee. 37 Therefore I commanded thee to come into the field, where no foundation of any building was. 38 For in the place wherein the city of the Most High was to be shewed, the work of no man's building could stand. 39 Therefore fear thou not, nor let thine heart be afrighted, but go thy way in, and see the beauty and greatness of the building, as much as thine eyes may be able to see: 40 and then shalt thou hear as much as thine ears may comprehend. 41 For thou art blessed above many, and with the Most High art called by name, like as but few. 42 But to-morrow at night thou shalt remain here; 43 and so shall the Most High shew thee those visions in dreams, of what the Most High will do unto them that dwell upon earth in the last days. So I slept that night and another, like as he commanded me.

And it came to pass the second night that I saw a dream, and, behold, there came up from the sea an eagle, which had twelve feathered wings, and three heads. 2 And I saw, and beheld, she spread her wings over all the earth, and all the winds of heaven blew on her, and the clouds were gathered together against her. 3 And I beheld, and out of her wings there grew other wings over against them; and they became little wings and small. 4 But her heads were at rest: the head in the midst was greater than the other heads, yet rested it with them. 5 Moreover I beheld, and, lo, the eagle flew with her wings, to reign over the earth, and over them that dwelt therein. 6 And I beheld how that all things under heaven were subject unto her, and no man spake against her, no, not one creature upon earth. 7 And I beheld, and, lo, the eagle rose upon her talons, and uttered her voice to her wings, saying, 8 Watch not all at once; sleep every one in his own place, and watch by course: 9 but let the heads be over the earth, and over them that dwell therein. 10 And I numbered her wings that remained the two heads, which also in themselves from the six, and remained 11 after this I beheld, and, lo, the head also of these8 under heaven were subject unto turned with them that were with it, and did eat up the two under wings that thought to have reigned. 12 But this head held the whole earth in possession, and bare rule over those that dwelt therein with much oppression; and it had the governance of the world more than all the wings that had been. 13 And after this I beheld, and, lo, the voice went not out of her that was in the midst suddenly appeared no more, like as the wings. 14 But there remained the two heads, which also in like sort reigned over the earth, and over those that dwell therein. 15 And I beheld, and, lo, the head upon the right side devoured it that was upon the left side.

Then I heard a voice, which said unto me, Look before thee, and consider the thing that thou seest. 17 And I beheld, and, lo, as it were a lion roused out of the wood roaring: and I heard how that he sent out a man's voice unto the eagle, and spake, saying, 18 Hear thou, I will talk with thee, and the Most High shall say unto thee, Art not thou it that remainest of the four beasts, whom I made to reign in my world, that the end of my times might come through thy time, 19 and the third, and had the rule as the that were past, and held the world in governance with great trembling, and the whole compass of the earth with grievous oppression; and so long time dwelt he upon the earth with deceit. 20 And thou hast judged the earth, but not with truth. 21 For thou hast afflicted the meek, thou hast hurt the peaceable, thou hast hated them that spoken truth, thou hast loved liars, and destroyed the dwellings of them that brought forth fruit, and hast cast down the walls of such as did thee no harm. 22 Therefore is thy insolent dealing come up unto the Most High, and thy pride unto the Mighty. 23 The Most High also hath looked upon his times, and, behold, they are ended, and his ages are fulfilled. 24 And therefore appear no more, thou eagle, nor thy horrible wings, nor thy evil little wings, nor thin cruel heads, nor thy hurtful talons, nor all thy vain body; 9 that all the earth may be refreshed, and be eased, being delivered from thy violence, and that she may hope for the judgement and mercy of him that made her. 10 And it came to pass, whiles the lion spake these words unto the eagle, I beheld, and, lo, the head that remained appeared no more, and the two wings which went over upon the heads of them that were to reign, and their kingdom was small, and full of uproar. 11 And I beheld, and, lo, they appeared no more, and the whole body of the eagle was burnt, so that the earth was in great fear: then awaked I by reason of great ecstasy of mind, and from great fear, and said unto my spirit, 12 Lo, this hast thou done unto me, in that thou searchest out the ways of the Most High. 13 Lo, I am yet weary and weak in my spirit; nor is there the least strength in me, for the great fear wherewith I was afflicted this night. 14 Therefore will I now beseech the Most High, that he will strengthen me unto the end. 15 And I am justified with thee as thou sawest that the great fear wherewith I was with pain. 16 But for the two that remained, the sword shall devour them. 17 For the sword of the one shall devour him that was with him: but he also shall fall by the sword in the last days. 18 And whereas thou sawest two under wings passing over unto the head that is on the right side, this is the interpretation: These are they, whom the Most High hath kept unto his end: this is the small kingdom and full of trouble, and shall heap upon them for their wickedness and their unrighteousness, and shall reprove them for their unrighteousness and shall heap up before them their contemptuous dealings. 19 For at the first he shall set them alive in his judgement, and when he hath reproved them, he shall destroy them. 20 And for the rest of my people he shall deliver with mercy, those that have been among the head of the seed of David, and he shall come and speak unto them and reprove them for their wickedness and their unrighteousness, and shall heap upon them before them their contemptuous dealings. 21 And thou shalt teach them the wise of thy people, whose hearts thou sawest the eight under wings sticking to her wings, this is the interpretation: That in it there shall arise eight kings, whose times shall be but small, and their years swift. 22 And whereas thou sawest three heads resting, this is the interpretation: In the last days thereof shall the Most High raise up three kingdoms, and renew many things therein, and they shall bear rule over the earth, and over those that dwell therein, with much oppression, above all those that were before them: therefore are they called the heads of the eagle. 23 For these are they that shall accomplish her wickedness, and that shall finish her last end. 24 And whereas thou sawest the four heads, the wings thereof appeared no more, it signifieth that one of them shall die upon his bed, and yet with pain. 25 But for the two that remained, the sword shall devour them. 26 For the sword of the one shall devour him that was with him: but he also shall fall by the sword in the last days. 27 And whereas thou sawest two under wings passing over unto the head that is on the right side, this is the interpretation: These are they, whom the Most High hath kept unto his end: this And it came to pass, when all the people saw that the seven days were past, and I not come again into the city, they gathered them all together, from the least unto the greatest, and came unto me, and spake to me, saying, What have we offended thee? and what evil have we done against thee, that thou hast utterly forsaken us, and sittest in this place? And for all the prophets only art left us, as a cluster of the vintage, and as a lamp in a dark place, and as a haven for a ship saved storm; and fell upon the assault of the multitude which was prepared to fight, and burned them up every one, so that upon a sudden of an innumerable multitude nothing was to be perceived, but only dust of ashes and smell of smoke.

And I beheld the same man come down from the mountain, and call unto him another multitude which was peaceable. And there came much people unto him, whereof some were glad, some were sorry, some of them were bound, and other some brought of them that were offered: then through great weeping and great lamentation, and was swelled up as an ocean, so that we counted not one more. And I beheld the sea to which I was come to fight was filled with the blood of men, out of number, from the four winds of heaven, to make war against the keep them that be fallen into danger, and to feed the multitude that was assembled against the man that came out of the sea.

And I beheld, and, lo, he graved himself a great mountain, and flew up upon it.

toward the Almighty. 44 Know therefore, that they which be left behind are more blessed than they that be dead.

45 These are the interpretations of the vision: Whereas thou sawest a man coming up from the midst of the sea, 46 the same is he whom the Most High hath kept a great season, which by his own self shall deliver his creature: and he shall order them that are left behind. 47 And other shall come and establish themselves in the midst of the sea, and dwell on the earth. 48 And one shall think to war against another, city against city, place against place, people against people, and kingdom against kingdom. 49 And it shall be, when these things shall come to pass, and the signs shall happen which I shewed thee before, then shall my Son be revealed, whom thou sawest as a man ascending.

50 And it shall be, when all the nations bear his voice, every man shall see him, and shall have his own land and the battle they have one another against another. 51 And an innumerable multitude shall be gathered together, as thou sawest, desiring to come, and to fight against him. 52 But he shall stand upon the top of the mount Sion. 53 And Sion shall come, and shall be shewed to all men, being prepared and built up, like as thou sawest the mountain "graven without hands." 54 And this is my Son shall redeem the nations which are come for their wickedness, with plagues that are like unto a tempest; 55 and shall taunt them to their face with their evil thoughts, and the torments wherewith they shall be tormented, which are likened unto a flame: and he shall destroy them without labour by the law, which is likened unto fire. 56 And whereas thou sawest that he gathered unto him another multitude that was peaceful; 57 these are the ten tribes, which were led away out of their own land in the time of Osea the king, whom Salmonazar the king of the Assyrians led away captive, and he carried them beyond the River, and they were carried into another land. 58 But they took this counsel among themselves, that they would leave the multitude of the heathen, and go forth into a foreign country, where never mankind dwelt; 59 that they might there keep their statutes, which they had not kept in their own land. 60 And they entered by the narrow passages of the river Euphrates.

seasons; and commanded him, saying, 6 These words shalt thou publish openly, and these shalt thou hide. 7 And now I say unto thee, 8 Lay up in thy heart the signs that I have showed, and the dreams that thou hast seen, and the interpretations which thou hast heard: 9 for thou shalt be taken away from men, and from henceforth thou shalt remain with thy son, and with 10 such as be like thee, until the times be ended. 11 For the world hath lost its youth, and the times begin to wax old. 12 For the world is divided into twelve parts, and ten parts of it are gone already, 13 even the half of the tenth part; 14 and there remain of it two parts after the middle of the tenth part. 15 Now therefore set thine house in order, and reprovethe people that now be: 16 but ye yourselves, and your fathers, have done unrighteousness, and have not kept the ways which the Most High commanded you. 17 And forasmuch as he is a righteous judge, he took from you for a while the thing that he had given you. 18 And now ye are here, and your brethren are among you. 19 Therefore if so be that ye know not over your own understanding, and instruct your hearts, ye shall be kept alive, and after death ye shall obtain mercy. 20 For after death shall the judgement come, 21 when we shall live again: and then shall the names of the righteous be manifested, and the works of the ungodly shall be declared. 22 Let no man therefore come unto me now, nor seek after me these forty days. 23 So I took the five men, as he commanded me, and we went forth into the land of Sion, given you for a possession: 24 but ye yourselves, and your fathers, have done unrighteousness, and have not kept the ways which the Most High commanded you. 25 And forasmuch as he is a righteous judge, he took from you for a while the thing that he had given you. 26 And now ye are here, and your brethren are among you. 27 Therefore if so be that ye know not over your own understanding, and instruct your hearts, ye shall be kept alive, and after death ye shall obtain mercy. 28 For after death shall the judgement come, 29 when we shall live again: and then shall the names of the righteous be manifested, and the works of the ungodly shall be declared. 30 Let no man therefore come unto me now, nor seek after me these forty days. 31 So I took the five men, as he commanded me, and we went forth into the field, and remained there. 32 And it came to pass on the morrow that, lo, a voice called me, saying, Ezra, open thy mouth, and drink that I give thee to drink. 33 Then opened I my mouth, and said, 34 I will speak before thee, O Lord. 35 Behold, I will go, as thou hast commanded me, and reprovethe people that now be: 36 but that they shall be born afterward, who shall admonish them? for the world is set in darkness, and they that dwell therein are without light. 37 For thy law is burnt, therefore men know not the things that are done of thee, or the works that shall be done. 38 But if I have found favour before thee, 39 send the Holy Spirit into me, and I shall publish to thee all which hath been done in the world since the beginning, even the things that were written in thy law, that men may be able to find the path, and that they which would live in the latter days may live. 40 And he answered me, Go thy way, and tell the people together, and say unto them, 41 that they seek thee not for forty days. 42 But look thou prepare thee many tablets, and take with thee Sarea, Dabria, Selemia, Ethamus, and Asiel, these five, which are ready to write swiftly; 43 and come hither, and I shall light a lamp of understanding in thine heart, which shall not be put out, till the things be ended which thou shalt write. 44 And when thou hast done, some things shalt thou publish openly, and some things shalt thou deliver in secret to the wise: to-morrow this hour shalt thou begin to write. 45 Then went I forth, as he commanded me, and gathered all the people together, and said, 46 Hear these words, O Israel. 47 Our fathers at the beginning were strangers in Egypt, and they were delivered from thence, 48 and received the law of life, which they kept not, 49 which ye also have transgressed after them. 50 Then was 6 the land, even the land of Sion, given you for a possession: but ye yourselves, and your fathers, have done unrighteousness, and have not kept the ways which the Most High commanded you. 51 And forasmuch as he is a righteous judge, he took from you for a while the thing that he had given you. 52 And now ye are here, and your brethren are among you. 53 Therefore if so be that ye know not over your own understanding, and instruct your hearts, ye shall be kept alive, and after death ye shall obtain mercy. 54 For after death shall the judgement come, 55 when we shall live again: and then shall the names of the righteous be manifested, and the works of the ungodly shall be declared. 56 Let no man therefore come unto me now, nor seek after me these forty days. 57 So I took the five men, as he commanded me, and we went forth into the field, and remained there. 58 And it came to pass on the morrow that, lo, a voice called me, saying, Ezra, open thy mouth, and drink that I give thee to drink. 59 Then opened I my mouth, and said, 60 I will speak before thee, O Lord. 61 Behold, I will go, as thou hast commanded me, and reprovethe people that now be: 62 but that they shall be born afterward, who shall admonish them? for the world is set in darkness, and they that dwell therein are without light. 63 For thy law is burnt, therefore men know not the things that are done of thee, or the works that shall be done. 64 But if I have found favour before thee, 65 send the Holy Spirit into me, and I shall publish to thee all which hath been done in the world since the beginning, even the things that were written in thy law, that men may be able to find the path, and that they which would live in the latter days may live. 66 And he answered me, Go thy way, and tell the people together, and say unto them, 67 that they seek thee not for forty days. 68 But look thou prepare thee many tablets, and take with thee Sarea, Dabria, Selemia, Ethamus, and Asiel, these five, which are ready to write swiftly; 69 and come hither, and I shall light a lamp of understanding in thine heart, which shall not be put out, till the things be ended which thou shalt write. 70 And when thou hast done, some things shalt thou publish openly, and some things shalt thou deliver in secret to the wise: to-morrow this hour shalt thou begin to write. 71 Then went I forth, as he commanded me, and gathered all the people together, and said, 72 Hear these words, O Israel. 73 Our fathers at the beginning were strangers in Egypt, and they were delivered from thence, 74 and received the law of life, which they kept not, 75 which ye also have transgressed after them. 76 Then was 6 the land, even the land of Sion, given you for a possession: but ye yourselves, and your fathers, have done unrighteousness, and have not kept the ways which the Most High commanded you. 77 And forasmuch as he is a righteous judge, he took from you for a while the thing that he had given you. 78 And now ye are here, and your brethren are among you. 79 Therefore if so be that ye know not over your own understanding, and instruct your hearts, ye shall be kept alive, and after death ye shall obtain mercy. 80 For after death shall the judgement come, 81 when we shall live again: and then shall the names of the righteous be manifested, and the works of the ungodly shall be declared. 82 Let no man therefore come unto me now, nor seek after me these forty days. 83 So I took the five men, as he commanded me, and we went forth into the field, and remained there. 84 And it came to pass on the morrow that, lo, a voice called me, saying, Ezra, open thy mouth, and drink that I give thee to drink. 85 Then opened I my mouth, and said, 86 I will speak before thee, O Lord. 87 Behold, I will go, as thou hast commanded me, and reprovethe people that now be: 88 but that they shall be born afterward, who shall admonish them? for the world is set in darkness, and they that dwell therein are without light. 89 For thy law is burnt, therefore men know not the things that are done of thee, or the works that shall be done. 90 But if I have found favour before thee, 91 send the Holy Spirit into me, and I shall publish to thee all which hath been done in the world since the beginning, even the things that were written in thy law, that men may be able to find the path, and that they which would live in the latter days may live. 92 And he answered me, Go thy way, and tell the people together, and say unto them, 93 that they seek thee not for forty days. 94 But look thou prepare thee many tablets, and take with thee Sarea, Dabria, Selemia, Ethamus, and Asiel, these five, which are ready to write swiftly; 95 and come hither, and I shall light a lamp of understanding in thine heart, which shall not be put out, till the things be ended which thou shalt write. 96 And when thou hast done, some things shalt thou publish openly, and some things shalt thou deliver in secret to the wise: to-morrow this hour shalt thou begin to write.
15 Behold, speak thou in the ears of the people the words of prophecy, which I will put in thy mouth, saith the Lord: and cause them to be written in paper: for they are faithful and true. Fear not their imaginations against thee, lest not the unbelievers of them, and let not the unbelievers of them believe thee, lest they should turn thee. For all the unbelievers shall die in their unbelief.

Behold, saith the Lord, I bring evils upon the whole earth; sword and famine, and death and destruction. For wickedness hath prevailed over every land, and they that dwell therein are come to the full. Therefore saith the Lord, I will hold my peace no more as touching their wickedness, which they profanely commit, neither will I suffer them in these things, which they wickedly practise: behold, the innocent and righteous blood crieth unto me, and the souls of the righteous cry out continually. I will surely avenge them, saith the Lord, and will receive unto me all the innocent blood that is shed among them.

Behold, my people is led as a flock to the slaughter: I will not suffer them now to dwell in the land of Egypt: but I will bring them out with a mighty hand and with a high arm, and will smite Egypt with plagues, as aforetime, and will destroy all the land thereof. Let Egypt mourn, and waste a portion of the land of Egypt; and the foundations thereof, for the plague of Egypt shall come upon it.

The husbandmen that till the ground shall turn themselves, conspiring together in great power to persecute them, and shall pour out a plentiful rain upon the earth, so that all they which shall hear them may fear also and tremble. Also the Carmonians raging in wrath shall come out with many chariots, and shall make an assault on their hough. And there shall be fearfulness upon the whole earth: and they shall pour out a plentiful rain upon the earth, so that all they which shall hear their voice may fear also and tremble.

And the nations of the dragons of Arabia shall come out with many chariots, and shall make an assault on their hough. And there shall be fearfulness upon the whole earth: and they shall pour out a plentiful rain upon the earth, so that all they which shall hear their voice may fear also and tremble.

16 Woe unto thee, Babylon, and all Asia! Woe unto thee, Egypt, and Syria! Gird up yourselves with sackcloth and garments of hair, and bewail your children, and lament; for your destruction is at hand. A word is sent upon you, and who is he that may turn it back? A fire is sent upon you, and who is he that may quench it? 5 Evils are sent upon you, and who is he that may drive them away? 6 May one drive away a hungry lion in the wood? or may one quench the fire in stubble, when it hath once begun to burn? 7 May one turn again the arrow that is shot of a strong archer? 8 The Lord God sendeth the fire, and who is he that may quench it? 9 The fire shall go forth from his wrath, and who is he that shall put it down? 10 He shall cast lightning, and who shall not fear? he shall thunder, and who shall not tremble? 11 The Lord shall threaten, and who shall not be utterly broken in pieces at his presence? 12 The earth quaketh, and the foundations thereof; the sea ariseth up with waves from the deep, and the waves of it shall be troubled, and the fishes thereof also, at the presence of the Lord, and before the glory of his power: 13 for strong is his right hand that bendeth the bow, his arrows that he shooteth are sharp, and shall not miss, when they begin to be shot into the ends of the world. 14 Behold, the evils are sent forth, and shall not return again, until they come upon the earth. 15 The fire is kindled, and shall not be put out, till it consume the foundations of the earth. 16 Like as an arrow which is shot of a mighty archer returneth not backward, even so the evils that are sent forth upon earth shall not return again.
II. ESDRAS.

17 Woe is me! woe is me! who will deliver me in those days?

18 a The beginning of sorrows, and there shall be great mourning; the beginning of wars, and many shall perish; the beginning of births, and many shall tremble; and they do in all this when the evils shall come. 19 Behold, famine and plague, the tribulation and anguish! they are sent as scourges for amendment. 20 But for all these things they shall not turn from them their wickedness, nor be always mindful of the scourges. 21 Behold, victuals shall be so good sheep upon earth, that they shall think themselves to be in good case, and even then shall no tumult grow upon earth, sword, famine, and great confusion. 22 For many of them that dwell upon earth shall perish of famine; and the other, that escape the famine, shall the sword destroy. 23 And the dead shall be cast out as dung, and there shall be no man to comfort them: for the earth shall be left desolate, and the cities thereof shall be cast down. 24 There shall be no husbandman left to till the earth, and to sow it: and they shall give fruits; and who shall gather them? 25 The grapes shall ripen, and who shall tread iniquity, when she decketh herself, and her ways and all her paths shall bring her down. 26 There shall be no shepherd, nor one that searcheth out every sin upon the earth. 27 Therefore be ye not like them unto, nor to the works thereof. 28 For ye shall be scourged out a little while, and iniquity shall be taken away, and righteousness shall reign over you, because no sheep shall pass through. 29 The virgins shall mourn, having no bridegrooms; the women shall mourn, having no husbands; their daughters shall mourn, having no helpers. 30 In the wars shall their bridegrooms be destroyed, and their husbands shall perish of famine. 31 Hear now these things, and understand them, ye servants of the Lord. 32 Behold, the word of the Lord, receive it: divinely things that the Lord speaketh. 33 Behold, the evils draw nigh, and are not slack. 34 I Like as a woman with child in the ninth month, when the hour of her delivery draweth near, within two or three hours doeful pains compass her womb, and when the child cometh forth from the womb, there shall be no tarrying for a moment: 35 even so shall not the evils be slack to come upon the earth, and the world shall groan, and sorrows shall take hold of it on every side. 36 O my people, hear my word: make you ready to the battle, and in those evils be even as pilgrims upon the earth. 37 He that slieth, let him be as he that fleeth away: and he that beareth much, and perceiveth that he shall lose: 38 he that oppresseth merchandise, as that he hath no profit by it: and he that buildeth, as he that shall not dwell therein: 39 he that soweth, as if he should not reap: so also he that preacheth the vine, as he that shall not gather the grapes: 40 they that marry, as they that shall get no children; and they that marry not, as the widowed. 41 Whoso is found among them that shall be found in any place, and that shall not give alms, and build, and plant, and work, and enter into any cause in any place, and do not whatsoever is in my sight. 42 And the dead shall be cast out as dung, and thereshall be no man that traffick to become a spoil: 43 And the dead shall be cast out as dung, and thereshall be no man that traffick to become a spoil: 44 they that marry, as they that shall get no children; and they that marry not, as the widowed. 45 Inasmuch as they that labour lahour and build, as he that buildeth, as he that fleeth away, and he that buildeth, as he that shall not dwell therein: 46 he that slieth, let him be as he that fleeth away: and he that shall beget their children: and they that marry, as they that shall get no children; and they that marry not, as the widowed. 47 And the dead shall be cast out as dung, and there shall be no man that traffick to become a spoil: 48 themore will I hate them for they shallaccuseher to her face, when he shallburn coalsof fire upon his head, which saith, I have not sinned; 49 Like as a right honest and good husbandman, and who shall gather them? 50 The grapes shall ripen, and who shall tread iniquity, when she decketh herself, and her ways and all her paths shall bring her down. 51 The virginsshallstarestablished, and who knoweth the number of the stars? 52 Therefore be ye not like them unto, nor to the works thereof. 53 For ye shall be scourged out a little while, and iniquity shall be taken away, and righteousness shall reign over you, because no sheep shall pass through. 54 And his word were the stars established, and he knoweth the number of the stars. 55 Who said, Let the heaven be made; and it was made: 56 And the upright man, and he that hath the measure, and what it containeth. 57 Who hath shut the sea in the midst of the waters, and with his word hath he hanged the earth upon the waters. 58 Who spreadeth out the heaven like a vault; upon the waters hath he founded it. 59 Who hath made in the depths springs which flow upon the tops of the mountains, to send forth rivers from the height to water the earth. 60 Who framed man, and put a heart in the midst of the body, and gave him breath, life, and understanding, the spirit of God Almighty. He who made all things, and searcheth out hidden things in hidden plantes; surely he knoweth your imagination, and what ye think in your hearts. Woe to them that sin, and would fain hide their sin! Forasmuch as the Lord will exactly search out all your works, and he will put you all to shame. And when your sins are brought forth before men, ye shall be ashamed; and your own iniquities shall stand as your accusers in that day. What will ye do? or how will ye hide your sins before God and his angels? Behold, God is the judge, fear him: leave off from your sins, and forget your iniquities, to meddle no more with them for ever: so shall God lead you forth, and deliver you from all tribulation.

For, behold, the burning wrath of a great multitude is kindled over you, and they shall take away certain of you, and feed you with that which is slain unto idols. And they that say unto them shall be had in derision and in reproach, and be trodden under foot of them. For there shall be in divers places, and in the next cities, a great insurrection upon those that fear the Lord. They shall be like mad men, sparing none, but spoiling and destroying them that still fear the Lord. For they shall waste and take away their goods, and cast them out of their houses. Then shall be manifest the trial of mine elect, even as the gold that is tried in the fire. Ye, O ye mine elect, saith the Lord, shall depart from the refined in the fire: and ye who keep my commandments and precepts, saith the Lord, ye shall stand as your accusers in that day. Therefore be ye not afraid, neither doubt; for God is your guide: and ye who keep my commandments and precepts, saith the Lord, ye shall stand as your accusers in that day.

II. ESRAS—TOBIT.

1 The book of the words of Tobit, the son of Tobiel, the son of Ananiel, the son of Aduel, the son of Gabael, of the seed of Asiel, of the tribe of Naphtali; who in the days of Enemesser king of the Assyrians was carried captive out of Thiasa, which is on the right hand of Redesh Naphtali in Galilee above Asher.

3 I Tobit walked in the ways of truth and righteousness all the days of my life, and I did many almsdeeds to my brethren and my nation, who went with me into the land of the Assyrians, to Nineveh. And when I was in mine own country, in the land of Israel, while I was yet young, all the tribe of Naphtali my father fell away from the house of Jerusalem, which was chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, that all the tribes should sacrifice there, and the temple of the habitation of the Most High was hallowed and built therein for all ages. And all the tribes which fell away together sacrificed to the heifer Baal, and so did the house of Naphtali my father. And I alone went often to Jerusalem at the fasts, as it hath been ordained unto all Israel by an everlasting decree, having the firstfruits and the tenths of mine increase, and that which was first shorn; and I gave them at the altar to the priests the sons of Aaron. The tenth part of all mine increase I gave to the sons of Levi, who ministered at Jerusalem: and the second tenth part I sold away, and went, and spent it each year at Jerusalem. And the third I gave unto them whom it was meet, as Deah the brother of Gabriel, at Bages of the Gentiles: but I kept myself from eating, because I remembered God with all my soul. And the Most High gave me grace and favour in the sight of Enemesser, and I was his purveyor. And I went into Media, and left in trust with Gabael, the brother of Gabris, at Rages of Media, ten talents of silver.

And when Enemesser was dead, Semachtherib his son reigned in his stead; and in his time the highways were troubled, and I could no more go into Media. And in the days of

To the feast of Pentecost, which is the holy feast of the seventh weeks, there was a good dinner prepared, and I sat down to eat. And I saw abundance of meat, and I said to my son, Go and bring what poor man soever thou shalt find of our brethren, who is in want, and I will feed him and beabed in his stead. And he came, and said, Father, one of our race is strangled, and is cast out in the marketplace. And before I had tasted any, I sprang up, and took him up into a chamber until the sun was set. And I returned, and washed myself, and ate my bread in heaviness, and remembered the prophecy of Amos, as he said:

"Your feasts shall be turned into mourning,
And all your mirth into lamentation.

And when the sun was set, I went and made a grave, and buried him. And my neighbours mocked me, and said, He is no longer afraid to be put to death for this matter: and yet he fled away; and, lo, he buried the dead again. And the same night I returned from burying him, and slept by the wall of my courtyard, being polluted; and my face was uncovered: and I knew not that there were sparrows in the wall; and, mine eyes being open, the sparrows mutated warm dung into mine eyes; and I went to the physicians, and they helped me not: but Achiacharus did nourish me, until I went into Elamaria.

And my wife Anna did spin in the women's chambers, and did send the work back to the owners. And they on their part paid her wages, and gave her also besides a kid. But when it came to my house, it began to cry, and I said unto her, From whence is this kid? is it lawful to eat anything that is stolen? But she said, It hath been given me for a gift more than the wages. And I did not believe her, and I bade her render it to the owners; and I was abashed at her. But she answered and said unto me, Where are thine alms and thy righteousness? behold, thou and all thy works are amnified over thee. And I was sought for to be put to death, I stolen? render it to the owners; for it is not lawful to eat anything that is stolen.

And I was grieved and wept, and prayed in sorrow, saying,

"O Lord, thou art righteous, and all thy ways are mercy and truth, and thou judgest true and righteous judgement for ever. Remember me, and look on me; take not vengeance on me for my sins and mine ignorances, and the sins of my fathers, which sinned before me. Now when I was come home to my house, it began to cry; and I said, Father, one of our race is strangled, and is cast out in the marketplace. And before I had tasted any, I sprang up, and took him up into a chamber until the sun was set. And I returned, and washed myself, and ate my bread in heaviness, and remembered the prophecy of Amos, as he said:

"Your feasts shall be turned into mourning,
And all your mirth into lamentation.

The same day it happened unto Sarah the daughter of Raguel in Media, that she also was reproached by her father's maidservants; because that she had been given to seven husbands, and Asmodaeus the evil spirit slew them, before they had lain with her. And they said unto her, Dost thou not know that thou sliainest thy husbands? the seven husbands thou hast had already seven husbands, and thou hast had no profit of any one of them. Wherefore

dost thou scourge us? if they be dead, go thy ways with them; let us never see of thee either son or daughter. 10 When she heard these things, she was grieved exceedingly, so that she thought to have hanged herself; and she said, I am the only daughter of my father; if I do this, it shall be a reproach unto him, and I shall bring down his old age with sorrow to the grave. 11 And she prayed by the window, and said, "Blessed art thou, Lord, that hast given me this child, and blessed is thy holy and honourable name for ever: let all thy works praise thee for ever. 12 And now, Lord, I have set mine eyes and my face toward thee; 13 command that the sight of the Most High for all that thou hast not counsel; but the Lord him. 4 For thou dost the truth, thy doings shall prosperously succeed to thee, and to all them that do righteousness. 7Give alms of thy substance; and when thou givest alms, let not thine eye be envious: 8 turn not away thy face from any poor man, and the face of God shall not be turned away from thee. 8 As thy substance is, give alms of it according to thine abundance: if thou hast little, be not afraid to give alms according to that: 9 for thou layest up a good treasure for thy heart in necessity: 10 because alms delivereth from death, and suffereth not to come into darkness. 11 Alms is a good gift in the sight of the Most High for all that give it. 12 Beware, my child, of all whoredom, and take first a wife of the seed of thy fathers, and take not a strange wife, which is not of thy father's tribe: for we are the sons of the prophets. Noah, Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, their fathers of old time, remember, my child, that they all took wives of their brethren, and were blessed in their children, and their seed shall inherit the land. 13 And now, my child, love thy brethren, and scorn not in thy heart thy brethren, and the sons and the daughters of thy people, to take a wife of them: for in scorning is destruction and much trouble, and in naughtiness is decay and great want; for naughtiness is the mother of famine. 14 Let not the wages of any man, which shall work for thee, tarry with thee, but render it unto him that giveth it. 15 When thy substance; and when thou givest alms, 16 give alms of thy bread to the hungry, and of thy garments to them that are naked: 17 of all thine abundance give alms; and let not thine eye be envious when thou givest alms. 18 Pour out thy bread on the 19 burial of the just, and give nothing to sinners. 20 Ask counsel of every man that is wise, and despise not any counsel that is profitable. 21 And bless the Lord thy God at all times, and ask of him that they may be set to thee, and straighten thy ways and counsels may prosper: for every nation hath not counsel; but the Lord himself giveth all good things, and he humbleth whom he will, as he will. And now, my child, remember my commandments, and let them not be blotted out of thy mind. 22 And now I shew thee of the ten talents of silver, which I left in trust with Gabaith, the son of Gabrielias at Rages of Media. 23 And fear not, my child, because we are made poor: 1thon hast much wealth, if thou fear God, and depart from all sin, and do that which is pleasing in his sight.

5 And Tobias answered and said unto him, Father, I will do all things, whatsoever thou hast commanded me: but how shall I be able to receive the money, seeing I know him not?

6 And he gave him the handwriting, and said unto him, Seek thee a man which shall go with thee, and I will give him wages, whilsts I yet live: and go and receive the money. 7 And he went to seek a man, and found him, a hired man which was an angel; and he knew it not; and he said unto him, Can I go with thee to Rages of Media? and knowest thou the places well? 8 And the angel said unto him, I would know, brother, thy kindred and thy name.

9 And he said, I am Azarias, the son of Ananias the great, of thy brethren. 10 And he said unto him, Welcome, brother; and be not angry with me, because I sought to know thy tribe and family: and thou art my brother, of what family art thou? Shew me thy tribe and what family art thou of? 11 And Tobias said unto him, I will go with thee, and I know the way well: and I have lodged with our brother Gabael. 12 And Tobias said unto him, Wait for me, and I will tell my father. 13 And he said unto Tobias, Go and take my son with thee, and his luggage, and I will send him. 14 And he went in and said to his father, Behold, I have found one which will go with me. And the young man said unto him, Can I go with thee to Ecbatana? 15 And the young man said, I am Azarias, the son of Shemaiah the great, of thy brethren. 16 And he said, I am Azarias, the son of Ananias the great, of thy brethren. 17 And he said unto him, Welcom, brother; and be not angry with me, because I sought to know thy tribe and family: and thou art my brother, of what family art thou of?

18 But when they drew nigh unto Rages, 19 the angel said unto the young man, Brother, to-day we shall lodge with a Raguell, and he is thy kinsman; and he hath an only daughter, named Sarah. I will speak for her, that she should be given thee for a wife. 20 For to thee doth the inheritance of her appertain, and thou art the only of her kindred: 21 and the maid is fair and beautiful. And now we will speak to her father; and when we return from Rages we will celebrate the marriage: for I know that Raguell may in no wise marry her to another according to the law of Moses, or else he shall be liable to death, because it appeareth unto thee to take the inheritance, rather than any other. 22 Then the young man said unto the angel, Brother Azarias, I have heard that this maid hath been given to seven men, and that they all perished in the wilderness; and I have heard that a good angel shall go with me, and his journey shall be prosperous, and he shall return safe and sound. 23 And he gave him the handwriting, and said unto him, Go thou with this man; but God, which dwelleth in heaven, shall prosper thy journey; and may his angel go with you. And they both went forth to depart, and the young man's dog with them.
And now I am the only son of my father, and I am afraid, lest I go in and die, even as those before me: for a devil loveth her, which hurtext no man, but those which come unto her: and now I fear lest I die, and bring my father's and my mother's life to the grave with sorrow because of me: and they have no other son to bury them. But the angel said unto him, Dost thou not remember the words which thy father commanded thee, that thou shouldest take a wife of thine own kindred? and now hear me, brother; for she shall be thy wife; and make thou no reckoning of the devil; for this night shall she be given thee to wife. And when thou shalt come into the bride-chamber, thou shalt take the sakes of incense, and shalt lay upon them some of the heart and liver of the fish, and shalt make a smoke therewith: and the devil shall smell it, and flee away, and never come again any more. But when thou goest nigh unto her, rise up both of you, and cry to God which is merciful, and he will be merciful to thee, and have mercy on you. Fear not, for she was prepared for thee from the beginning; and thou shalt save her, and she shall go with thee. And I suppose that thou shalt have children of her. And when Tobias heard these things, he loved her, and his soul clave to her exceedingly.

And they came to Ecbatana, and arrived at the house of Raguel. But Sarah met them; and she saluted them, and they her; and she brought them into the house. And he said to Edna his wife, How like is the young man to Tobit my cousin? And Raguel asked them, From whence are ye, brethren? And they said unto him, We are of the sons of Naphtali, which are captives in Nineveh. And he said unto them, Know ye Tobit our brother? But they said, We know him. And he said unto them, Is he in good health? But they said, He is both alive, and in good health: and Tobias said, He is my father. And Raguel sprang up, and kissed him, and went, and said to Tobias, Son, I am the son of an honest and good man. And when he had heard that Tobit had lost his sight, he was grieved, and wept; and Edna his wife and Sarah his daughter wept. And they received them gladly; and they killed a ram of the flock, and set store of meat before them.

But Tobias said to Raphael, Brother Azarias, speak of those things of which thou didst talk in the way, and let the matter be finished. And he communicateth the thing to Raguel: and Raguel said to Tobias, Eat and drink, and make merry: for it shall come to pass unto thee to take my child. Howbeit I will shew thee the truth. I have given my child to seven men, and whosoever they came in unto her, they died in the night. But they will not live for the present be merry. And Tobias said, I will taste nothing here, until ye make covenant and enter into covenant with me. And Raguel said, Take her to thyself from henceforth according to the manner: thou art her brother, and she is thine: but the merciful God shall give all good success to you. And he called his daughter Sarah, and took her by the hand, and gave her to be wife to Tobias, and said, Behold, take her to thyself after the law of Moses, and lead her away to thy father. And he blessed them; and he called Edna his wife, and took a book, and wrote an instrument, and sealed it. And they began to eat.

And Raguel called his wife Edna, and said unto her, Sister, prepare the other chamber, and bring her in thither. And she did so, and brought her in thither: and she wept, and she received the tears of her daughter, and said unto her, Be of good comfort, my child; the Lord of heaven and earth give thee favour for this thy sorrow: be of good comfort, my daughter.

And when they had finished their supper, they brought Tobit in unto her. But as he went, he remembered the words of Raphael, and took the ashes of the incense, and put the heart and the liver of the fish thereupon, and made a smoke therewith. But when the devil smelled the smell, he fled into the uppermost parts of Egypt, and the angel bound him. But after they were both shut in together, Tobias rose up from the bed, and said, Sister, arise, and let us pray that the Lord may have mercy on us. And Tobias began to say, Blessed art thou, O God of our fathers, and blessed is thy holy and glorious name for ever; let the heavens bless thee, and all thy creatures. Thou hast blessed me, and was before the seed of man: thou didst say, It is not good that the man should be alone; let us make him a helper like unto him. And now, O Lord, I take not this my sister for lust, but in truth: command that I may find mercy and grow old with her. And she said with him, Amen. And they slept both that night. And Raguel arose, and went and dug a grave, saying, Let also he also should die. And Raguel came into his house, and said to Edna his wife,
Send one of the maidservants, and let the maidservant see whether he be alive: but if not, 3 that we may bury him, and no man know it. 4 So the maidservant opened the door, and went in, and found them both sleeping. 5 And she came forth, and told them that he was alive. 6 And Raguel blessed God, saying,

b Blessed art thou, O God, with all pure and holy blessing; and let thy saints bless thee, and all thy creatures; and let all thine angels and thine elect bless thee for ever. 7 Blessed art thou, because thou hast made me glad; and it hath not befallen me as I suspected; but thou hast dealt with us according to thy great mercy. 8 Blessed art thou, because thou hast had mercy on two that were the only begotten children of their parents: shew them mercy, O Lord; accomplish their life in health with gladness and mercy.

9 And Tobias called Raphael, and said unto him, 1 Brother Azarias, take with thee a servant, and two camels, and go to Raguel of Media to near unto Nineveh. 11 And Raphael went and came to the door, and went in, and found them sleeping. 12 And he kept the handwriting: but he about toward the way for his son. 13 And Raphael went and lodged with Gabael, and after them. 14 And Anna sat looking on his way, and gave him r the handwriting: but he about toward the way for his son, and gave them to him. 15 And they rose up early in the morning together, and came to the wedding feast: and Tobias blessed his wife.

1 And Tobit his father made his count every day: and when the days of the journey were expired, and they came not, he said, 2 Is he perchance detained? or is Gabael perchance dead, and there is no man to give him the money? 3 And he was sorely grieved. 4 But his wife said unto him, The child hath perished, seeing he tarried long; and she began to bewail him, and said, 5 I care for nothing, my child, since I have let thee go, the light of mine eyes. 6 And Tobias said unto him, Hold thy peace, deceive me not; my child hath perished. And she went out every day into the way by which they went, and did eat no bread in the day-time, and ceased not whole nights to bewail her son Tobias, until 7 the fourteen days of the wedding feast were expired, which Raguel had sworn that he should spend there.

But Tobias said unto Raguel, Send me away, for my father and my mother look no more to see me. 8 But his father in law said unto him, Abide with me, and I will send to thy father, and they shall declare unto him how things go with thee. 9 And Tobias saith, No; but send me away to my father. 10 But Raguel arose, and gave him Sarah his wife, and half his goods, servants and cattle and money; 11 and he blessed them, and sent them away, saying, The God of heaven shall prosper you, my children, before I die. 12 And he said to his daughter, Honour thy father and thy mother in law; they and Anna are now to let me hear a good report of thee. And he kissed her. And Edna said to Tobias, The Lord of heaven restore thee, dear brother, and grant to me that I may see thy children of my daughter Sarah, that I may rejoice before the Lord: and, behold, I commit my daughter unto thee in special trust: vex her not.

11 After these things Tobias also went his way, blessing God because he had prospered his journey; and he blessed Raguel and Edna his wife. And he went on his way till they drew near unto Nineveh. 12 And Raphael said to Tobias, Knowest thou not, brother, how thou didst leave thy father? 13 Let us run forward before thy father; and prepare the house. 14 But take in thy hand the gall of the fish. And they went their way, and they went after them. 15 Anna saw looking about toward the way for her son. 16 And she espied him coming, and said to his father, Behold, thy son cometh, and the man that went with him. 17 And Raphael said, I know, Tobias, that thy father will open his eyes. 18 Do thou therefore anoint his eyes with the gall, and being pricked therewith, he shall rub, and shall make the white films to fall away, and he shall see thee.

9 And Anna ran unto him, and said upon the neck of her son, and said unto him, I have seen thee, my child; 20 from henceforth I will die. And they wept both. 21 And Tobias went forth toward the door, and stumbled: but his son ran unto him, 22 and took hold of his father; and he strake the gall on his father's eyes, saying, Be of good cheer, my father. 23 But when his eyes began to smart, he rubbed them; 24 and the white films scaled away from the corners of his eyes; and he saw his son, and fall upon his neck. 4 And he wept, and said, 2 Blessed art thou, O God, and blessed is thy name for ever, and blessed are all thy holy angels; 5 for thou didst all things, and didst have mercy on me: behold, I see my son Tobias. And his son went in rejoicing, and told his father the great things that had happened to him in Media.

26 And Tobit went out to meet his daughter in law at the gate of Nineveh, rejoicing, and blessed God: and they which saw him marveled, because he had received his sight. 27 And Tobit gave thanks before them, because God had shewed mercy on him. And when Tobit came near to Sarah his daughter in law, he blessed her, saying, 1 Welcome, daughter: blessed is God which came; wherefore bless him for ever.

12 And Tobit called his son Tobias, and said unto him, See, my child, that the man which went with thee have his wages, and thou must give him more. 2 And he said unto him, Father, it is no harm to me to give him the half of those things which I have brought: for he hath led me for thee in safety, and he cured my wife, and brought my money, and likewise cured thee. 3 And the old man said, It is due unto him. 4 And he called the angel, and said unto him, Take the half of those things which I have brought: for he hath led me for thee in safety, and he cured my wife, and brought my money, and likewise cured thee. 5 And the old man said, It is due unto him. 6 And he called the angel, and said unto him, Take the half of all that ye have brought. 7 Then he called them both privily, and said unto them, Be blessed God, and give him thanks, and magnify him, and give him thanks in the sight of all that live, for the things which he hath done with you. 8 It is good to bless God and exalt his name, shewing forth with honour the works of God; and be not slack to give him thanks in the sight of all that live, for the things which he hath done with you.

13 And when thou didst pray, and Sarah thy daughter in law, I did bring the memorial of your prayer before the Holy One: and when thou didst bury the dead, I was with thee likewise. 14 And when thou didst not delay to rise up, and leave thy dinner, that thou mightest go and cover the dead, thy good deed was not hid from me: but I was with thee. 15 And now God did send me to heal thee and Sarah thy daughter in law. 16 I am Raphael, one of the seven holy angels, which present the prayers of the saints, and go in before the glory of the Holy One. 17 And they were both troubled, and fell upon their faces; for they were afraid. 18 And he said unto them, Be not afraid, ye shall have peace; but bless God for ever. 19 For not of any favour of mine, but by the will of your God I came; wherefore bless him for ever. 20 All these days did I appear unto you; and I did neither eat nor drink, but ye saw a vision. 21 And now give God thanks: because I ascend to him that sent me: and write in a book all the things which have been done. 22 And they rose up, and saw him no more.

17 And they confessed the great and wonderful works of God, and how the angel of the Lord had appeared unto them. 2 And Tobit wrote a prayer for rejoicing, and said, Blessed is God that liveth for ever, and blessed is his kingdom.

24 For he scourgeth, and sheweth mercy: He leadeth down to the grave, and bringeth up again: And there is none that shall escape his hand.

3 Give thanks unto him before the Gentiles, ye children of Israel: For he hath scattered us among nations among whom ye are scattered.

4 There declare his greatness, And extol him before all the living: Because he is our Lord, And God is our Father for ever.

5 And he will scourge us for our iniquities, and will again shew mercy, And will gather us out of all the nations among whom ye are scattered.

6 If ye turn to him with your whole heart and with your whole soul, To do truth before him, Then will he turn unto you, And will not hide his face from you. And see what he will do with you, And give him thanks with your whole mouth, And bless the Lord of righteousness, And exalt the everlasting King. I in the land of my captivity give him thanks, And shew his strength and majesty to a nation of sinners.

Gr. Hades.
Turn, ye sinners, and do righteousness before him: 4 Who can tell if he will accept you, and have mercy on you? 5 I exalt my God, and my soul doth exalt the King of heaven, and it shall rejoice in his greatness. 6 Let all men speak, and let them give him thanks in Jerusalem. 7 O Jerusalem, the holy city, He will scourge thee for the works of thy sons, and we again have mercy on the sons of the righteous. 8 Give thanks to the Lord with goodness, and bless the everlasting King, That his tabernacle may be built in thee again with joy, and that he may make glad in thee those that are captives, and love in thee for ever those that shall turn to fear the Lord God, and shall build the house, and a not like to the former house, until the times of that age be fulfilled; and afterward they shall return from the places of their captivity, and build up Jerusalem with honour, and the house of God shall be built in it for ever with a glorious building, even as the prophets spake concerning it. 9 And all the nations shall shew mercy to our brethren, and shall revolve their idols. 10 And all the nations shall bless the Lord, and his people shall give thanks unto God, and the Lord shall exalt his people; and all that love the Lord God in truth and righteousness shall rejoice, showing mercy to our brethren. 11 And now, my child, depart from Nineveh, because those things which the prophet Jonah spake surely came on them, that they may keep the law and the ordinances, and shew thyself merciful and righteous, that it may be well with thee. 12 And bury me decently, and thy mother with me; and dwell ye no longer at Nineveh. See, my child, what Aman did to Achiachars, but the other had his recompense, and he went down into darkness. 13 Manasses gave alms, and escaped the snare of death which he set for him; but Aman fell into the snare, and perished. 14 And now, my children, consider what alms doeth, and how righteousness doth deliver. And while he was saying these things, he gave up the ghost in the bed; but he was a hundred and eight and fifty years old, and he buried him magnificently. 15 And when Aman died, he buried her with his father. But Tobias departed with his wife and his sons to Ecbatana unto Raguel his father in law, and he grew old in honour, and he buried his father and mother in law magnificently, and he inherited their substance, and his father Tobit's. 16 And he died at Ecbatana of Media, being a hundred and seven and twenty years old. 17 And before he died he heard of the destruction of Nineveh, which Nebuchadnezzar and Absaluerus took captive; and before his death he rejoiced over Nineveh.
IN the twelfth year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar, who reigned over the Assyrians in Nineve, was the great city; in the days of Arphaxad, who reigned over the Medes in Ecbatana, and built at Ecbatana and round about it walls of hewn stones three cubits broad and six cubits long, and made the height of the wall seventy cubits, and the breadth thereof fifty cubits; 3 and set the towers thereof at the gates thereof, a hundred cubits high, and the breadth thereof in the foundation threescore cubits; 4 and made the gates thereof, even gates that were raised to the height of seventy cubits, and the breadth of them forty cubits, for the going forth of his mighty hosts, and the setting in array of his footmen: 5 even in those days king Nebuchadnezzar made war with king Arphaxad in the great plain; this plain is in the borders of Aragan. 6 And there came to meet him all that dwelt in the land, a hundred and twenty days: 7 and all that dwelt by Euphrates, and spoiled the streetsthereof, and turned the beauty thereof into shame. 8 And he took Arphan in the mountains of Ragan, and smote him through with his darts, and destroyed him utterly, unto this day. 9 And he returned with them to Nineveh, he and all his company of sundry nations, an exceeding great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, he and his host. 10 And in the eighteenth year, the two and twentieth day of the first month, there was talk in the house of Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians, that he should be avenged on all the land, even as he spake. 11 And he called together all his servants, and all his great men, and communicated with them his secret counsel, and concluded the afflicting of all the hind out of his land, 12 and communicated with them to Nineveh, he and all his company of sundry nations, an exceeding great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, he and his host. 13 And in the eighteenth year, the two and twentieth day of the first month, there was talk in the house of Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians, that he should be avenged on all the land, even as he spake. 14 And he called together all his servants, and all his great men, and communicated with them his secret counsel, and concluded the afflicting of all the hind out of his land, 15 and communicated with them to Nineveh, he and all his company of sundry nations, an exceeding great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, he and his host. 16 And he returned with them to Nineveh, he and all his company of sundry nations, an exceeding great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, he and his host. 17 And in the eighteenth year, the two and twentieth day of the first month, there was talk in the house of Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians, that he should be avenged on all the land, even as he spake. 18 And he called together all his servants, and all his great men, and communicated with them his secret counsel, and concluded the afflicting of all the hind out of his land, 19 and communicated with them to Nineveh, he and all his company of sundry nations, an exceeding great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, he and his host. 20 And in the eighteenth year, the two and twentieth day of the first month, there was talk in the house of Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians, that he should be avenged on all the land, even as he spake. 21 And he called together all his servants, and all his great men, and communicated with them his secret counsel, and concluded the afflicting of all the hind out of his land, 22 and communicated with them to Nineveh, he and all his company of sundry nations, an exceeding great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, he and his host. 23 And Nebuchadnezzar was exceeding wroth with all this land, and he swore by his throne and kingdom, that he would surely be avenged upon all the coasts of Cilicia and Damascus and Syria, that he would slay with his sword all the inhabitants of the land of Moab, and the children of Ammon, and all Judaea, and all that were in Egypt, until thou comest to the borders of two seas. 24 And he set the battle in array with his host against king Arphaxad in the fourteenth year; and he prevailed in his battle, and turned to flight all the host of Arphaxad, and all his horse, and all his chariots; 25 and he became master of his cities, and he came even unto Ecbatana, and took the towers, and spoiled the streets thereof, and turned the beauty thereof into shame. 26 And he took Arphan in the mountains of Ragan, and smote him through with his darts, and destroyed him utterly, unto this day. 27 And he returned with them to Nineveh, he and all his company of sundry nations, an exceeding great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, he and his host. 28 And he returned with them to Nineveh, he and all his company of sundry nations, an exceeding great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, he and his host. 29 And he returned with them to Nineveh, he and all his company of sundry nations, an exceeding great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, he and his host. 30 And he returned with them to Nineveh, he and all his company of sundry nations, an exceeding great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, he and his host. 31 And he returned with them to Nineveh, he and all his company of sundry nations, an exceeding great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, he and his host. 32 And he returned with them to Nineveh, he and all his company of sundry nations, an exceeding great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, he and his host. 33 And he returned with them to Nineveh, he and all his company of sundry nations, an exceeding great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, he and his host. 34 And he returned with them to Nineveh, he and all his company of sundry nations, an exceeding great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, he and his host. 35 And he returned with them to Nineveh, he and all his company of sundry nations, an exceeding great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, he and his host. 36 And he returned with them to Nineveh, he and all his company of sundry nations, an exceeding great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, he and his host. 37 And he returned with them to Nineveh, he and all his company of sundry nations, an exceeding great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, he and his host. 38 And he returned with them to Nineveh, he and all his company of sundry nations, an exceeding great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, he and his host. 39 And he returned with them to Nineveh, he and all his company of sundry nations, an exceeding great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, he and his host. 40 And he returned with them to Nineveh, he and all his company of sundry nations, an exceeding great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, he and his host. 41 And he returned with them to Nineveh, he and all his company of sundry nations, an exceeding great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, he and his host. 42 And he returned with them to Nineveh, he and all his company of sundry nations, an exceeding great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, he and his host. 43 And he returned with them to Nineveh, he and all his company of sundry nations, an exceeding great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, he and his host. 44 And he returned with them to Nineveh, he and all his company of sundry nations, an exceeding great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, he and his host. 45 And he returned with them to Nineveh, he and all his company of sundry nations, an exceeding great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, he and his host. 46 And he returned with them to Nineveh, he and all his company of sundry nations, an exceeding great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, he and his host. 47 And he returned with them to Nineveh, he and all his company of sundry nations, an exceeding great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, he and his host. them captives to the utmost parts of all the earth. 20 But thou shalt go forth, and take beforehand for me all their coasts; and 1 if they shall yield themselves unto thee, then shalt thou reserve for me till the day of their reproof.

11 But as for them that are disobedient, 23 thine eye shall not spare; but thou shalt give them up to be slain and to be spoiled in all thy land. 22 For as I live, and by the power of my kingdom, I have spoken, and I will do this with my hand.

23 And thou, moreover, shalt not transgress of the commandments of thy lord, but thou shalt surely accomplish them, as I have commanded thee, and thou shalt not defer to do them.

24 And Holofernes went forth from the presence of his lord, and called all the governors and the captains and officers of the host of Asshur; 25 and he numbered chosen men for the battle, 26 as his lord had commanded him, unto a hundred and thirty thousand horsemen, and to an hundred and twenty thousand archers on horseback; 27 and he ranged them, as a great multitude is ordered for the war. 28 And he took camels and asses and mules for their baggage, an exceeding great multitude; and sheep and oxen and goats without number for their provision; 29 and great store of victual for every man, and exceeding much gold and silver out of the king's house. 30 He also brought with him his governors and the captains and officers of his sight. 31 Behold, our dwellings, and all that we have, are thy servants: 32 come and deal with them as is good in thy sight.

33 And the men came to Holofernes, and declared unto him according to these words.

34 And he came down toward the sea coast, he and his host, and set garrisons in the high cities, and took out of them chosen men and officers, and arrayed them, and he gave them power in every place. 35 And they went up against the land of the Philistines, and went away from thence into the hill country, and took the land of the Philistines, and they came unto the borders of Gilead, and unto the borders of the Sidonians, and unto the borders of the Amorites, and unto the borders of the Jebusites, and unto the borders of the Canaanites, and unto the borders of Zebulun, and unto the borders of Asher, and unto the borders of Naphtali. 36 And the borders of Asher were unto Zaphon, and unto the borders of the tribe of Naphtali, and unto the borders of the tribe of the children of Manasseh, and toward the borders of Merom, toward the borders of the children of Zebulun, and toward the borders of the children of Issachar, and toward the borders of the tribe of the children of Dan, and toward the borders of Asher, and toward the borders of the tribe of the children of Naphtali. 37 And the borders of Zebulun were from Reuben toward the sea, and toward the borders of Asher, and toward the borders of Issachar, and toward the borders of Naphtali, and toward the borders of the sea, toward the east sea, and toward the borders of Jordan. 38 And the borders of Reuben were from the sea toward the south, and toward the borders of Judah, and toward the borders of the sea, toward the east sea, toward the borders of the sea, toward the south. 39 And the borders of Judah were from the sea toward the south, and toward the borders of the tribe of the children of Levi, and toward the borders of Issachar, and toward the borders of Zebulun, and toward the borders of Asher, and toward the borders of Naphtali, and toward the borders of the sea, toward the south. 40 And the borders of the tribe of the children of Levi were from the south toward the borders of Judah, and toward the borders of the sea, toward the south. 41 And the borders of the tribe of the children of Joseph were from the sea toward the south, and toward the borders of the tribe of the children of Levi, and toward the borders of Issachar, and toward the borders of Naphtali, and toward the borders of the tribe of the children of Asher, and toward the borders of the sea, toward the south. 42 And the borders of the tribe of the children of Joseph, which was called, were from the sea toward the south, and toward the borders of the sea, toward the south, and toward the borders of the tribe of the children of Naphtali, and toward the borders of the tribe of the children of Asher, and toward the borders of the tribe of the children of Manasseh, and toward the borders of the sea, toward the south. 43 And the borders of Manasseh were from the sea toward the south, and toward the borders of the tribe of the children of Issachar, and toward the borders of the tribe of the children of Reuben, and toward the borders of the tribe of the children of Asher, and toward the borders of the tribe of the children of Zebulun, toward the borders of the sea, toward the south. 44 And the borders of the tribe of the children of Zebulun were toward the sea, and toward the borders of the tribe of the children of Asher, and toward the borders of the tribe of the children of Naphtali, toward the borders of the sea, toward the south. 45 And the borders of the tribe of the children of Asher were toward the sea, and toward the borders of the tribe of the children of Zebulun, toward the borders of the tribe of the children of Naphtali, toward the borders of the sea, toward the south. 46 And the borders of the tribe of the children of Naphtali were toward the sea, and toward the borders of the tribe of the children of Zebulun, toward the borders of the tribe of the children of Asher, toward the borders of the sea, toward the south. 47 And the borders of the tribe of the children of Galilee were toward the sea, and toward the borders of the tribe of the children of Issachar, and toward the borders of the tribe of the children of Zebulun, toward the borders of the sea, and Belzaim, and Jericho, and to Chobe, and Edora, and to the valley of Sam: 3 and they possessed themselves beforehand of all the tops of the high mountains, and fortified the villages that were in them, and laid up victual for the provision of war: 4 for their fields were newly reaped. 6 And Joakim the high priest, which was in their midst at Jerusalem, wrote to them that dwelt in Bethulia, and Bethes-atham, which is over against Edraselon the plain that is nigh unto Doha-thaim, charging them to seize upon the ascents of the hill country; because by them was the entrance into Judea, and it was easy to stop them from approaching, insomuch as the approach was narrow, with space for two men at the ascent. 8 And the children of Isra-eldid as Joakim the high priest had commanded them, and the senate of all the people of Israel, which dwelt at Jerusalem.

9 And every man of Israel cried to God with great earnestness, and with great earnestness did they humble their souls.
10 They, and their wives, and their babes, and their cattle, and every sojourner and hiredling and servant bought with their money, 11 girt about with sackcloth,and offered their sight. 12 And God dried up the hills, and the waters of the river Gihon:
and they cried unto the Lord: 13 and the Lord heard their voice, and smote all the Chaldeans that were in the land of Canaan:
and there they sojourned there many days. 14 And their God commanded them to depart from the place where they dwelt: and there shall no man come out of the mouth of the Chaldean. 15 7 And they departed from the way of their parents, and worshipped the God of heaven, the God whom they knew:
and they cast
off their image and their strength, and what king is set up among them.
16 And they were increased in Jerusalem, which dwelt at of the hill-country, and the Shechemite, and all the Girgashites, and they dwelt in that country many days. 17 And whilst they sinned not before their God, they prospered, because God that hateth iniquity was with them. 18 But when they departed from the way which he appointed them, they were destroyed in many battles very sore, and were led captives into a land that was not theirs, and the temple of their God was cast to the ground, and their cities were taken by their adversaries. 19 And now they are returned to their God, and are come up from the dispersion where they were dispersed, and passed over the sea, and are come into the land of their possession, where their sanctuary is, and are seated in the hill country: for it was desolate. 20 And now, my lord and master, if there is any error in this people, and they sin against their God, we will consider what this thing is wherein they stumble, and we will go up and overcome them. 21 But if there is no lawlessness in their nation, let my lord now pass by, 22 and let their Lord defend them; and their God be for them, and we shall be a reproach before all the earth.

And it came to pass, when Achior had finished speaking these words, all the people that compassed the tent stood round about it murmured; and the great men of Holofernes, and all that dwelt by the sea side, and in Moab, spake that he should kill him. 5 And they will not be strict with the children of Israel: for, lo, it is a people that hath no power nor might to make the battle strong. 6 Wherefore now we will go up, and they shall be a prey to be devoured of all thine army, lord Holofernes.

And when the tumult of the men that were about the council was ceased, Holofernes the chief captain to the rulers of the city; which that were about the council was away into Bethalia, and presented him unto the rulers of their city; which were in those days Ozias the son of Micah, of the tribe of Simeon, and Chabrias the son of Gothoniel, and Charmis the son of Melchiel. 2 And they called together all the elders of the city; and all their young men ran together, and their women, to the assembly; and they set Achior in the midst of all their people. And Ozias asked him of that which had happened: and he answered and declared unto them the words of the council of Holofernes, and all the words that he had spoken in the midst of the princes of the children of Ashur, and all the great words that Holofernes had spoken against the house of Israel. 3 And the people fell down worshiped God, and cried, saying, 4 O Lord God of heaven, behold their arrogancy, and pity the low estate of these that are sanctified unto thee this day. And Ozias and the rest of Achior, and praised him exceedingly. And Ozias took him out of the assembly into his house, and made a feast to the elders; and they called on the God of Israel for help all that night.

But the next day Holofernes gave command to all his army, and to all his people which were come to be his allies, that they should remove their camp toward Bethulia, and take aforehand the ascents of the hill country, and make war against the children of Israel. And every mighty man of them removed that day, and the host of their men of war was a hundred and seventy thousand footmen, and twelve thousand horsemen, beside the baggage, and the men that were afoot among them, an exceeding great multitude. And they set them in array against Bethulia, by the fountain, and they spread themselves in breadth over Dothaim even to Belmaim, and in length from Bethulia unto Gysmon, which is over against Esdraelon.

But the children of Israel, when they saw the multitude of them, were troubled exceedingly, and said every one to his neighbour, Now shall these men lick up the earth; and neither the high mountains, nor the valleys, nor the hills, shall be able to bear their weight. And every man took up his weapons of war, and when they had handied their baggage, they removed that day, and the host of the children of Israel was a great multitude.

But on the second day Holofernes led out all his horse in the sight of the children of Israel, which were in Bethulia, and viewed the ascents to their city, and searched out the fountains of the waters, and seized upon them, and set garrisons of men of war over them, and himself set guard to his people Bethulia.

And there came unto him all the rulers of the children of Eshan, and all the leaders of the people of JMoab, and the captains of the sea coast, and said:

Let our lord now hear a word, that there be not an overthrow in thy host.

For this people of the children of Israel do not trust in their spears, but in the height of the mountains wherein they dwell, for it is not easy to come up to the tops of their mountains.

And now, my lord, fight not against them as men fight who join battle, and there shall not be much as one man of thy people perish. Remain in thy camp, and keep safe every man of thy host, and let thy servants get possession of the fountain of water, which is setm forth of the foot of the mountain: because all the inhabitants of Bethulia have their water thence; and thirst shall kill them, and they shall give up their city: and we and our people will go up to the tops of the mountains that are near, and will encamp upon them, to watch that not one man go out of the city. And they shall be consumed with famine, they and their wives and their children, and before the sword come against them they shall be laid low in the streets where they dwell.

And thou shalt render them an evil reward; because they rebelled, and met not thy face in peace.

And their ideas were pleasing in the sight of Holofernes and in the sight of all his servants; and he appointed to do as they had spoken. And the army of the children of Ammon removed, and with them five thousand of the children of Asshur, and they encamped in the valley, and seized upon the waters and the fountains of the waters of the children of Israel. And the children of Ammon, and encamped in the hill country over against Dothaim: and they sent some of them toward the south, and toward the east, over against Ekrebel, which is near unto Chisra, which is upon the brook Mochmur; and the rest of the army of the Assyrians encamped in the plain, and covered all the face of the land; and their tents and baggage were pitched upon it in a great crowd, and they were an exceeding great multitude.

And the children of Israel cried unto the Lord their God, for their spirit fainting; for all their enemies had compassed them round about, and there was no way to escape out from among them. And all the army of Asshur removed about Bethulia, and the inhabitants of Bethulia were in great fear of their people being taken. And all their vessels of water failed all the inhabitants of Bethulia. And the city was emptied, and they had not water to drink; the flood for one day: for they gave them drink by measure. And they wept, and they were children of Ammon were of heart, and the women and the young men of the city, and the gates of the city, and the passages of the gates, and there was no longer any strength in them. And all the people were gathered together against Otaias, and against the rulers of the city, the young men and the women and the children, and they cried with a loud voice, and said before all the elders,

God be judge between you and us: because ye have done us unto, that we should be laid low before them with thirst and great destruction. And now call them unto you, and deliver up the whole city for a prey to the people of Holofernes, and to all his hosts. For it is better for us to be made a spoil unto them: for we shall be servants, and our souls shall live, and we shall not see the death of our babes before our eyes, and our wives and our children fainting in death.
And they came unto her, and she said unto them, Hear me now. O ye rulers of the inhabitants of Bethulia: for your word that ye have spoken before the people this day is not right, and ye have set the oath which ye have pronounced between God and you, and have promised to deliver the city to our enemies, unless within these days the Lord turn to help you. And now who are ye that have tempted God this day, and stand instead of God among the children of men? And now try the Lord Almighty, and ye shall never know anything. For ye shall not find the depth of the heart of man, and ye shall not perceive the things that he thinketh: and how shall ye search out God, which hath made all these things, and know his mind, and comprehend his purposes? Nay, my brethren, provoke not the Lord our God to anger. For if he be not pleased to help us within these five days, he hath power to defend us in such time as he will, or to destroy us before the face of our enemies. But do not ye pledge the counsels of the Lord our God: for God is not as man, that he should be threatened: neither is the son of man, that he should be turned by intreaty. Wherefore let us wait for the salvation that cometh from him, and call upon him to help us, and he will hear our voice, and will deliver us from the hands of our enemies. For there arose none in our age, neither is there any of us to-day, tribe, or kindred, or family, or city, which worship gods made with hands, as it was in the former days; for the which cause our fathers were given to the Assyrians after five days, and ye shall be an offence and a reproach before the face of our enemies. But we know none other god beside him, wherefore we hope that he will not deal with us according to our sins and the sins of our fathers, that he do not according as we have said this day.

And there was great weeping of all with one consent in the midst of the assembly; and they cried unto the Lord God with a loud voice. And Oziæas said to them, Brethren, be of good courage, let us yet endure five days, in which space the Lord our God shall turn his heart, and us; for he will not forsake us utterly. But if these days pass, and there come no help unto us, I will do according to your words. And he dispersed the people, every man to his own camp; and they went away unto the walls and towers of their city; and he sent the women and children into their houses: and they were brought very low in the city.

And in the mean time Judith heard thereof, the daughter of Merari, the son of Ox, the son of Joseph, the son of Oziæal, the son of Elkah, the son of Ananiah, the son of Gideôn, the son of Rahiphæm, the son of Aluhït, the son of Eilhîu, the son of Eliah, the son of Na-thanæel, the son of Balsamiel, the son of Salasadal, the son of Israel. And her husband was Manasses, of her tribe and of her family, and he died. In the days of these harvoys, and she remembered them that bound sheaves in the field, and the heat came upon his head, and neither is there any of us to-day, tribe, or kindred, or family, or city, which worship gods made with hands, as it was in the former days; for the which cause our fathers were given to the Assyrians after five days, and ye shall be an offence and a reproach before the face of our enemies. But we know none other god beside him, wherefore we hope that he will not deal with us according to our sins and the sins of our fathers, that he do not according as we have said this day. happened to Jacob in Mesopotamia of Syria, when he kept the sheep of Laban his mother's brother. 27 For he hath not tried us in the fire, as he did them, to search out their hearts, neither hath he taken vengeance on us; 2 but the Lord doth scourge them that come near unto him, to admonish them.

28 And 38 Oziias said to her, All that thou hast spoken hast spoken with a good heart, and there is none that shall gainsay thy words. 29 For this is not the first day wherein thy wisdom is manifested; but from the beginning of thy days all the people have known thine understanding, because the disposition of thy heart is good. 30 But the people were exceeding thirsty, and compelled us to do as we spake to them, and to bring an oath upon ourselves, which we will not break. 31 And now pray thou for us, 32 because thou art a godly woman, and the Lord shall send us rain to fill our cisterns, and we shall faint no more. 33 And Judith said unto them, Hear me, and I will do a thing, which shall go down to all generations among the children of our race. 34 Ye shall stand at the gate this night, and I will go forth with my maid: and, within give unto my hand, which am a widow, the children of our race. 35 And Judith said unto them, The Lord shall visit Israel by my hand. 36 And they returned from the tent, and went to their stations. 37 But Judith fell upon her face, and put ashes upon her head, and uncovered the sackcloth wherewith she was clothed; and the incense of waters, King of every creature, heard the voice, and said, 38 O Lord God of my father Simeon, into whose hand thou gavest a sword to take vengeance of the strangers, who loosened the girdle of a virgin to defile her, and uncovered the thigh to her shame, and profaned the womb to her other that protecteth the race of Israel, who know that thou art God, the God of all power and might, and that there is none other that protecteth the race of Israel but thou. 39 And it came to pass, when she had ceased to cry unto the God of Israel, and had made an end of all these words, 40 that she rose up where she had fallen down, and called her maid, and went down into the house, in the which she was wont to abide on the sabbath days and on her feast days, and pulled off the sackcloth which she had put on, and put on the garments of her widowhood, and washed her body...

the birds of the heaven shall live through thy strength, in the time of Nebuchadnezzar and of all his house. 8 For we have heard of thy wisdom and the subtil devices of thy soul, and it hath been reported in all the earth, that thou only art brave in all the kingdom, and mighty in knowledge, and wonderful in feats of war. 9 And now as concerning the matter, which Achiord did speak in thy council, we have heard his words: for the men of Bethulia saved him, and he declared unto them what if thou had spoken before thee. 10 Wherefore, O lord and master, neglect not his word, but lay it up in thy heart, for it is true: for our race shall not be punished, neither shall the sword prevail against them, except they sin against their God. 11 And now, that my lord be not defeated and frustrate of his purpose, and that death may fall upon them, their sin hath overtaken them, when they did not observe that they shall provoke their God to anger, when thereof, lest there be an occasion of stumbling: but provision shall be made for me of the things that are come with me. 12 And Holofernes said unto her, But if the things that be with thee should fail, whence shall we be able to give thee the like? for there is none of thy race with us. And Judith said unto him, As thy soul liveth, my lord, thy servant shall not spend them, but lay it up in thy heart, for it is true: for our race shall not be punished, neither shall the sword prevail against them, except they sin against their God. 13 For thy servant is religious, and serveth the God of heaven by day and night: and now, in clean, and remained in the tent, until the morning watch. 14 And Holofernes commanded his guards that they should not stay her: and she abode in the tent, and she rose up toward the morning watch, and sent toward the morning watch, and sent and sent unto thee; and thou shalt go forth to Bagoas the eunuch, who had charge to the banquet. 15 And he commanded to bring her in where his silver vessels were set, and bade that they should prepare for her of his own meats, and that she should drink of his own wine. 16 And Judith said, I will not eat thereof, lest there be an occasion of stumbling: but provision shall be made for me of the things that are come with me. 17 And Holofernes said unto her, But if the things that be with thee should fail, whence shall we be able to give thee the like? for there is none of thy race with us. And Judith said unto him, As thy soul liveth, my lord, thy servant shall not spend them, but lay it up in thy heart, for it is true: for our race shall not be punished, neither shall the sword prevail against them, except they sin against their God. 18 For thy servant is religious, and serveth the God of heaven by day and night: and now, in clean, and remained in the tent, until the morning watch. 19 And he commanded to bring her in where his silver vessels were set, and bade that they should prepare for her of his own meats, and that she should drink of his own wine. 20 And Judith said, I will not eat thereof, lest there be an occasion of stumbling: but provision shall be made for me of the things that are come with me. 21 And Holofernes said unto her, But if the things that be with thee should fail, whence shall we be able to give thee the like? for there is none of thy race with us. And Judith said unto him, As thy soul liveth, my lord, thy servant shall not spend them, but lay it up in thy heart, for it is true: for our race shall not be punished, neither shall the sword prevail against them, except they sin against their God. 22 And her words were pleasing in the sight of Holofernes and of all his servants; and they marvelled at her wisdom, and said, There is not such a woman from one end of the earth to the other, for beauty of face, and wisdom of words. 23 And Holofernes said unto her, God did well to send thee before the people, that might be should be in our hands, and destruction among them that lightly regarded my lord. 24 And now thou art beautiful in thy countenance, and witty in thy words: for if it be so thou hast spoken, thy God shall be my God, and thou shalt dwell in the house of king Nebuchadnezzar, and shalt be renowned through the whole earth.
his presence, and to drink wine and be merry with us, and to be made this day as one of the daughters of the children of Asshur, which wait in the house of Nebuchadnezzar. 14 And Judith said unto him, And who am I, that I should gainsay my lord? for whatsoever shall be pleasing in his eyes I will do speedily, and this shall be my joy unto the day of my death. 15 And she arose, and decked herself with her apparel and all her beauty, and her servant went and laid fleeces on the ground for her over against Holofernes, which she had received of Bagoas for her daily use, that she might sit and eat upon them. 16 And Judith came in and sat down, and Holofernes' heart was ravished done even this day. And it came to pass, when the men of her city heard her voice, they made haste to go down to the gate of their city, and they called together all the men of the city. 17 And they ran all together, both small and great, for it was strange unto them that she was come: and they opened the gate, and received them, making a fire to give light, and compassed them round about. 18 And she said to them with a loud voice, Praise God, praise him: praise God, who hath not taken away his mercy from the house of Israel, but hath destroyed our enemies by my hand this day. 19 And Judith said afar off to the watchmen at the gates, Open, open now the gate: God is with us, even our God, to shew his power yet in Israel, and his might against the enemy, as he hath done even this day. 20 And it came to pass, when the men of her city heard her voice, they made haste to go down to the gate of their city, and they called together all the men of the city. 21 And they ran all together, both small and great, for it was strange unto them that she was come: and they opened the gate, and received them, making a fire to give light, and compassed them round about. 22 And she said to them with a loud voice, Praise God, praise him: praise God, who hath not taken away his mercy from the house of Israel, but hath destroyed our enemies by my hand this day. 23 And Judith said afar off to the watchmen at the gates, Open, open now the gate: God is with us, even our God, to shew his power yet in Israel, and his might against the enemy, as he hath done even this day. 24 And it came to pass, when the men of her city heard her voice, they made haste to go down to the gate of their city, and they called together all the men of the city. 25 And they ran all together, both small and great, for it was strange unto them that she was come: and they opened the gate, and received them, making a fire to give light, and compassed them round about. 26 And she said to them with a loud voice, Praise God, praise him: praise God, who hath not taken away his mercy from the house of Israel, but hath destroyed our enemies by my hand this day.

But when the evening was come, his servants made haste to depart, and Bagoas shut the Asshur, and behold, there the canopy, whereon he lay. 2 And Judith bade her servants make haste, and say, Sir, let me have the head of Holofernes. 3 And Judith went and laid fleeces on the ground, and said, Strengthen me, O Lord, in my heart. 4 And Judith said, I will drink now, my lords, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born. 5 And she took and ate before him what her servant had prepared. 6 And Holofernes took great delight in her, and drank exceeding much wine, more than he had drunk before. 7 And Judith made haste, and said, Drink now, and be merry with us, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born. 8 And Judith said, I will drink now, my lords, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born. 9 And Judith made haste, and said, Drink now, and be merry with us, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born. 10 And Judith made haste, and said, Drink now, and be merry with us, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born. 11 And Judith made haste, and said, Drink now, and be merry with us, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born. 12 And Judith made haste, and said, Drink now, and be merry with us, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born. 13 And Judith made haste, and said, Drink now, and be merry with us, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born. 14 And Judith made haste, and said, Drink now, and be merry with us, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born. 15 And Judith made haste, and said, Drink now, and be merry with us, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born. 16 And Judith made haste, and said, Drink now, and be merry with us, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born. 17 And Judith made haste, and said, Drink now, and be merry with us, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born. 18 And Judith made haste, and said, Drink now, and be merry with us, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born. 19 And Judith made haste, and said, Drink now, and be merry with us, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born. 20 And Judith made haste, and said, Drink now, and be merry with us, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born. 21 And Judith made haste, and said, Drink now, and be merry with us, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born. 22 And Judith made haste, and said, Drink now, and be merry with us, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born. 23 And Judith made haste, and said, Drink now, and be merry with us, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born. 24 And Judith made haste, and said, Drink now, and be merry with us, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born. 25 And Judith made haste, and said, Drink now, and be merry with us, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born. 26 And Judith made haste, and said, Drink now, and be merry with us, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born. 27 And Judith made haste, and said, Drink now, and be merry with us, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born. 28 And Judith made haste, and said, Drink now, and be merry with us, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born. 29 And Judith made haste, and said, Drink now, and be merry with us, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born. 30 And Judith made haste, and said, Drink now, and be merry with us, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born. 31 And Judith made haste, and said, Drink now, and be merry with us, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born. 32 And Judith made haste, and said, Drink now, and be merry with us, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born.

Hear me now, my brethren, and take this head, and hang it upon the battlement of your wall. 2 And Judith said unto them, Hear me now, my brethren, and take this head, and hang it upon the battlement of your wall.
shall be, so soon as the morning shall appear, and the sun shall come forth upon the earth, ye shall take up every one his weapons of war, and go forth every valiant man of you out of the city, and ye shall set a captain over them, as though ye would go down to the plain toward the watch of the children of Asshur; and ye shall not go down. 3 And these shall take up their panoplies, and shall go into their camp, and rouse up the captains of the host of Asshur, and they shall run together to the tent of Holofernes, and they shall not find him: and fast shall fall upon them, and they shall flee before your face. 4 And ye, and all that inhabit every coast of Israel, shall pursue them, and overthrow them as they go. 5 But before ye do these things, call me Achior the Ammonite, that he may see and know him that deepled the house of Israel, and that sent him to us, as it were to atthis thing that was come to pass.

And they called Achior out of the tents of Ozi- as; but when he came, and saw the head of Holofernes in a man’s hand in the assembly of the people, he fell upon his face, and his spirit failed. 7 But when they had recovered him, he fell at Judith’s feet, and did reverence unto her, and said, Blessed art thou in every tent of Judah, and in every nation, which hearing thy name shall be troubled. 8 And now tell me all the things that thou hast done in these days. 9 And Judith declare unto him in the midst of the people all the things that she had done, from the day that she went forth until the time that she spake unto them. 10 But when she left off speaking, the people shouted with a loud voice, and made a joyful noise in their city. 11 But when Achior saw all the things that the God of Israel had done, he believed In God exceedingly, and circumsized his flesh of his foreskin, and was joined unto the house of Israel, unto this day.

But as soon as the morning arose, they hanged the head of Holofernes upon the wall, and every man took up his weapons, and they went forth by bands unto the ascents of the mountain. 14 But when the children of Asshur saw them, they sent hither and thither to their captains and tribunes, and to every one of their rulers. 15 And they came to Holofernes’ tent, and said to him that was over all that he had, Waken now our lord: for the slaves have been bold to come down against us to battle, that they may be utterly destroyed. 16 And Bosses went in, and knocked at the outer door of the tent; for he supposed that he was sleeping with Judith. 17 But when none hearkened to him, he opened it, and went into the bedchamber, and found him cast upon the threshold dead, and his head had been taken from him. 18 And he cried with a loud voice, with weeping and groaning, and a mighty cry, and rent his garments. 19 And he entered into the tent where Judith lodged: and he found her not, and he leaped out to the people, and cried aloud.

The slaves have dealt treacherously: one woman of the Hebrews hath brought shame upon the house of king Nebuchadnezzar: for, behold, Holofernes lieth upon the ground, and his head is not on him. 21 But when the rulers of the host of Asshur heard the words, they rent their coats, and their soul was troubled exceedingly, and there was a cry and an exceeding great noise in the midst of the camp.
She anointed her face with ointment, and bound her hair in a tiara, and took a linen garment to deceive him.

9 Her sandal ravished his eyes, and her beauty took his soul prisoner: the scimitar passed through his neck.

10 The Persians quaked at her daring, and the Moabites were dismayed at her boldness.

11 Then they fairly cried aloud, and my weak ones were terrified and crooked for fear: they lifted up their voice, and they were turned to flight.

12 The sons of damsels pierced them through, and wounded them as runagates' children; they perished by the battle of my Lord.

13 I will sing unto my God a new song: O Lord, thou art great and glorious, marvellous in strength, invincible.

14 Let all thy creation serve thee: for thou spakest, and they were made.

15 Thou didst send forth thy spirit, and it builded them, and there is none that shall resist thy voice.

16 For the mountains shall be moved from their foundations with the waters, and the rocks shall melt as wax at thy presence.

17 Woe to the nations that rise up continually. And their horsemen covered the hills.

P He said that he would burn up my borders, and kill my young men with the sword, and throw my suckling children to the ground, and alive smite infants for a prey, and make my virgins a spoil.

Q The Almighty Lord brought them to nought by the hand of a woman.

7 For their mighty one did not fall by young men, neither did sons of the Titans smite him, nor did high giants set upon him: But Judith, the daughter of Merari made him weak with the beauty of her countenance.

R For she put off the apparel of her widowhood. For the exaltation of those that were distressed in Israel.
went away to Bethulia, and remained in her own possession, and was honourable in her time in all the land. And many desired her, and no man knew her all the days of her life. From the day that Manasses her husband died and was gathered to his people. And she increased in greatness exceedingly; and she waxed old in her husband's house, unto a hundred and five years, and let her maid go free: and she died in no long time after her death.

PART OF THE TENTH CHAPTER
AFTER THE GREEK.

Then Mardocheus said, These things are of God. For I remember the dream which I saw concerning these matters, and nothing thereof hath failed. As for the little fountain that became a river, and there was light, and the sun, and much water, the river is Esther, whom the king married, and made queen: and the two dragons are I and Aman: and the nations are those that were assembled to destroy the name of the Jews: and my nation, this is Israel, which cried to God, and were saved: for the Lord hath saved his people, and the Lord hath delivered us from all these times, and God hath wrought signs and great wonders, which have not been done among the nations. Therefore hath he made two lots, one for the people of God, and another for all the nations. And these two lots came at the hour, and time, and day of judgement, before that should befall them, and were ready to perish. Then they cried unto God, and upon their cry, as it were from a little fountain, there came a great river, and many waters: The light and the sun rose up, and the lowly were exalted, and devoured the glorious. Now when Mardocheus, who had seen this dream, and what God had determined to do, was awake, he bare it in mind, — —. In the fourth year of the reign of Artaxerxes the great, in the first day of the month Nisan, Mardocheus the son of Jairus, the son of Semeias, the son of Kiseus, of the tribe of Benjamin, had a dream; who was a Jew, and dwelt in the city of Susa, a great man, being a servant in the king's court; and he was of the captivity, which Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon carried from Jerusalem with Jeconias king of Judah; and this was his dream: Behold, two great dragons came forth, both of them ready to fight, and their cry was great. And at their cry all nations were ready to battle, that they might fight against the righteous nation. And, lo, a day of darkness and gloominess, tribulation and anguish, affliction and great uproar upon the earth. And the whole righteous nation was troubled, fearing the evils that should befall them, and were ready to perish. Then they cried unto God, and upon their cry, as it were from a little fountain, there came a great river, and many waters: The light and the sun rose up, and the lowly were exalted, and devoured the glorious.
were about to lay hands upon Artaxerxes the king; and he certified the king of them. Then the king examined the two eunuchs, and after that they had confessed it, they were led to execution.

And the king wrote these things for a memorial; and Mardochoes also wrote concerning these things. So the king commanded Mardochoes to serve in the court, and for this he gave him gifts. Howbeit Aman the son of Amadasus, "a Bugean, who was in great honour with the king, sought to molest Mardochoes and his people because of the two eunuchs of the king.

1Now this is the copy of the letter: "The great king Artaxerxes, who writeth these things to the princes of a hundred and seven and twenty provinces which are in all the earth, and to the governors that are set under them.

After that I became lord over many nations, and had dominion over the whole world, not lifted up with presumption of my authority, but carrying myself alway with equity and mildness,

I purposed to settle my subjects continually in a quiet life, and making my kingdom peaceable, and open for passage to the utmost coasts, to renew peace, and for this he gave him gifts.

Now when I asked my counsellors how this might be brought to pass, Aman, that excelled in wisdom among us, and was approved for his constant good will and stedfast fidelity, and had the honour of the second place in the kingdom, declared unto us, that in all nations throughout the world there was scattered a certain malignant people, that had always been contrary to all nations, and continually set aside the commandments of kings, so as the uniting of our kingdoms, honourably intended by us, cannot go forward. Seeing then we understand that this nation is alone continually in opposition unto all men, following perversely a life which is strange to our laws, and evil affected to our state, working all the mischief she prayed unto the Lord, the God of Israel, saying, O my Lord, thou only art our King: help me that am desolate and without another helper but thee: for my danger is in mine hand.

From my youth up I have heard in the tribe of my family, that thou, O Lord, tookest Israel from among all the nations, and our fathers from all their progenitors, for a perpetual inheritance, and didst perform for them whatsoever thou didst promise. And now we have sinned before thee, and thou hast given us into the hands of our enemies, because we glorified their gods: O Lord, thou art righteous. Nevertheless it satisfieth them not, that we are in bitter captivity: but they have stricken hands unto the Lord, calling to remembrance all the works of the Lord, and said, O Lord, Lord, thou King Almighty: for the whole world is in thy power, and if it be thy will to save Israel, there is no man that can gainsay thee: for thou hast made heaven and earth, and all the wondrous things that are beneath the heaven; and thou art Lord of all, and there is no man that can withstand thee, which art the Lord. Thou knowest all things, and thou knowest, Lord, that it was neither in contempt nor pride, nor for any desire of glory, that I did not bow down to proud Aman. For I could have been content with good will for the salvation of Israel to kiss the soles of his feet. But I did this, that I might not prefer the glory of man above the glory of God: neither did I bow down unto any but to thee, which art my Lord, neither will I do it in pride.

And now, O Lord, thou God and King, spare thy inheritance: and destroy the heritage, that hath been wrought from the beginning. Howbeit Aman, who was in great honour all the days of Dario the king, sought to molest Mardochoes, who was lord over all the king's provinces. But Mardochoes, after the manner of the king's commands, that they that were set over them should set aside the commandments of the king, which were about to lay hands upon Artaxerxes the king, and he certified the king of them.

Then Mardochoes made his prayer unto the Lord, calling to remembrance all the works of the Lord, and said, O Lord, Lord, thou King Almighty: for the whole world is in thy power, and if it be thy will to save Israel, there is no man that can gainsay thee: for thou hast made heaven and earth, and all the wondrous things that are beneath the heaven; and thou art Lord of all, and there is no man that can withstand thee, which art the Lord. with their idols, that they will abolish the thing that thou with thy mouth hast ordained, and destroy thine inheritance, and stop the mouth of them that praise thee, and quench the glory of thy house, and stifle it with the breath of thy mouth. 11 And the king changed the name of the maid that went before them, and opened the months of the heathen to set forth the virtues of idols, and that a foolish king shall be magnified for ever. 12 O Lord, give not thy sceptre unto them that be nothing, and let them not laugh at our fall; but turn their device upon themselves, and make him an example, that hath begun this against us. 13 Remember, O Lord, make thyself known in the time of our affliction, and give me boldness, O King of the gods, and holder of all dominion. 14 Give me eloquent speech in my mouth; before the lion; and turn his heart to hate him that fighteth against us, that there may be an end of him, and of them that are likeminded with him: but deliver us with thine hand, and help me that am desolate and have no other keeper but thee, O Lord. 15 Thou hast knowledge of all things; and thou knowest that I hate the glory of the wicked, and abhor the bed of the uncircumcised, and of every alien. 16 Thou knowest my necessity: that I abhor the sign of my high estate, which is upon mine head in the days wherein I shew myself. I abhor it as a menstruous rag, and I wear it not when I am private by myself. 17 And thine handmaid hath not eaten at Aman's table, neither have I honoured to bear abundance, do take in hand to put on her glorious apparel. 18 And being majestically adorned, after she had called upon the all-seeing God and saviour, she took her two maids with her: 2 and upon the one she leaned, as carrying herself delicately; 4 and the other followed, bearing up her train. 5 And she was ruddy through the perfection of her beauty, and her comely time was cheerful and right amiable: but her heart was in anguish for fear. 6 Then having passed through all the doors, she stood before the king, who sat upon his royal throne, and was clothed with all his robes of majesty, all glittering with gold and precious stones; and he was very dreadful. 7 Then lifting up his countenance that was flushed with glory, he looked upon her in fierce anger: 8 and the queen fell down, and turned pale, and fainted, and she bowed herself upon the head of the maid that went before. 9 Then God changed the name of the king into mildness, who in an agony leaped from his throne, and took her in his arms, till she came to herself again, and comforted her with soothing words, and said unto her, 9 Esther, what is the matter? I am thy brother, be of good cheer: 10 thou shalt not die, for 2 our commandment is for our subjects: come near. 11 So he held up his golden sceptre, and laid it upon her neck, 12 and embraced her, and said, Speak unto me. 13 Then said she unto him, I saw thee, my lord, 2 as an angel of God, and my heart was troubled for fear of thy glory. 14 For wonderful art thou, my lord, and thy countenance is full of grace. 15 And as she was speaking, she fell down for faintness. 16 Then the king was troubled, and all his servants comforted her. 17 The great king Artaxerxes unto the governors of countries in a hundred and seventy provinces from India unto Ethiopia, and unto them that are well affected to our state, greeting. 18 Many, the more often they are honoured with the great bounty of their benefactors, the more proud they are waxen, 3 and endeavour to hurt the king's feast, nor drunk the wine practise also against those that do them good: and take not only thankfulness away from among men, but also lifted up with the boastful words of them that were never good, they think to escape the evil-hating justice of God, 3 who alway seeth all things. 19 Oftentimes also fair speech of those that are put in trust to manage their friends' affairs, hath caused many that are in authority to be partakers of innocent blood, and hath ensnared them in remediless calamities: 6 begging with the false deceit of their lewd disposition the innocent good will of princes. 20 Now ye may see this, as we have declared, not so much by more ancient histories, as ye may, if ye search what hath been wickedly done of late through the pestilent behaviour of them that are unworthily placed in authority. 21 And we must take care for the time to come, that our kingdom quiet and peaceable for all men, both by changing our purposes, and always judging things that come before our eyes with more equal proceeding. 22 For Aman, a Macedonian, the son of Amadathus, an alien in truth from the Persian blood, and far distant from our goodness, being as a guest.

THE WISDOM OF SOLOMON.

I. Love righteousness, ye that be judges of the earth, Think ye of the Lord with a good mind, And in singleness of heart seek ye him; \( \text{Because he is found of them that tempt him not, And is manifested to them that do not distrust him.} \)

II. For crooked thoughts separate from God; And the supreme Power, when it is brought to the proof, \( \text{putth to confusion the foolish: } \)

III. Because wisdom will not enter into a soul that deviseth evil, Nor dwell in a body that is held in pledge by sin.

IV. For a holy spirit of discipline will flee deceit,
And will start away from thoughts that are without understanding,
And will be put to confusion when unrighteousness hath come in.

V. For \( \text{wisdom is a spirit that loveth man, } \) And she will not hold a \( \text{blasphemer guilty for his lips; } \)

VI. \( \text{Because God beareth witness of his reins, And is a true overseer of his heart, } \)

VII. \( \text{And a hearer of his tongue: } \)

VIII. Because \( \text{the spirit of the Lord hath filled the world, } \)

IX. And that which holdeth all things together hath knowledge of every voice.

X. Therefore no man that uttereth unrighteous things shall be unseen; \( \text{Neither shall Justice, when it convicteth, pass him by. } \)

XI. For in the midst of his counsels the ungodly shall be searched out;
And the sound of his words shall come unto the Lord
To bring to conviction his lawless deeds:

XII. Because there is an ear of jealousy that listenth to all things,
And the noise of murmuring is not hid.

Beware then of unprofitable murmuring.

And refrain your tongue from backbiting;

Because no secret utterance shall go on its way void,

And a mouth that believeth destroyeth a soul.

Counsel not death in the error of your life;

Neither draw upon yourselfs destruction by the works of your hands:

Because God made not death;

Neither delighteth he when the living perish:

For he created all things that they might have being:

And the generative powers of the world are healthsome,

And there is no poison of destruction in them:

Nor hath Hades royal dominion upon earth,

But ungodly men by their hands and their words called death unto them:

Deeming him a friend they consumed away,

And they made a covenant with him,

Because they are worthy to be of his murmuring.

For they said within themselves, reasoning not aright,

Short and sorrowful is our life;

And there is no healing when a servant of the Lord

Is chased by the beams of the sun.

The hitter end of the righteous he shall be turned into ashes;

And he shall be scattered as a mist,

Which being extinguished, the body shall be turned into ashes,

And the spirit shall be dispersed as thin air;

And our name shall be forgotten in time,

And no man shall remember our works;

And our life shall pass away as the traces of a cloud;

And it is chased by the beams of the sun,

And overcome by the heat thereof.

For our allotted time is the passing of a shadow,

And our end retreateth not;

Because it is fast sealed, and none turneth it back.

Come therefore and let us enjoy the good things that now are;

In our proud revelry:

Everywhere let us leave tokens of our portion, and our soul.

And let us fill ourselves with costly wine and perfumes;

And let no flower of spring pass us by:

Let us crown ourselves with rose-buds, before they be withered:

And let us use the creation all around us;

And let us lie in wait for the righteous poor;

Because he is of disservice to us, and is contrary to our works,

And upbraided us with sins against the law,

And layeth to our charge sins against our discipline.

He professeth to have knowledge of God,

And nameth himself servant of the Lord.

He became to us a reproofof our thoughts.

He is grievous unto us even to behold,

Because his life is unlike other men's,

And his paths are of strange fashion.

We were accounted of him as base metal,

And he abstaineth from our ways as from uncleannesses.

The latter end of the righteous he calleth happy;

And he vaunteth that God is his father.

Let us see if his words be true,

And let us try what shall befall in the ending of his life.

For if the righteous man is God's son, he will uphold him,

And he will deliver him out of the hand of his adversaries.

With outrage and torture let us put him to the test,
That we may learn his gentleness,
And may prove his patience under wrong.

10 Let us condemn him to a shameful death;
For he shall be visited according to his words.

11 Thus reasoned they, and they were led astray;
For their wickedness blinded them.
And they knew not the mysteries of God,
Neither hoped they for wages of holiness,
Nor did they judge that there is a prize for blameless souls.

12 Because God created man for in-corruption,
And made him an image of his own proper being;
13 But by the envy of the devil death entered into the world.
And they that are of his portion make trial thereof.

1 But the souls of the righteous are in the hand of God,
And no torment shall touch them.
2 In the eyes of the foolish they seemed to have died;
And their departure was accounted to be their ruin:
3 But by the energy of the devil death entered into the world.
And they that are of his portion make trial thereof.

But their children shall shine forth,
Because it is recognised both before God and before men.

22 As gold in the furnace he proved them,
And as a whole burnt offering he accepted them.

23 In the time of their visitation they shall shine forth,
And as sparks among stubble they shall run to and fro.
24 They shall judge nations, and have dominion over peoples;
And the Lord shall reign over them for evermore.

25 They that trust on him shall understand truth,
And the faithful shall abide with him in love;
Because grace and mercy are to his chosen.

26 But the ungodly shall be requited even as they reasoned,
They which lightly regarded the righteous man, and revolted from the Lord;
13 (For he that setteth at nought wisdom and discipline is miserable):

28 Their wives are foolish, and wicked are their children;
13 Accursed is their begetting.
Because happy is the barren that is not defiled.
She who hath not conceived in transgression shall have fruit when God visiteth souls.

14 And happy is the son which hath not known lawless deeds with his hands,
Nor imagined wicked things against the Lord;
For there shall be given him for his faithfulness a peculiar favour,
And a lot in the sanctuary of the Lord more delightful than wife or children.

15 For good labours have fruit of great renown;
And the root of understanding can not fail.
But children of adulterers shall not come to maturity,
And the seed of an unlawful bed shall vanish away.

17 For if they live long, they shall be held in no account,
And at the last their old age shall be without honour.
And if they die quickly, they shall have no hope,
Nor in the day of decision shall they have consolation.

19 For the end of an unrighteous generation is always grievous.

20 Better than this is childlessness with virtue;
For in the memory of virtue is immortality:
Because it is recognised both before God and before men.

21 When it is present, men imitate it;
And they long after it when it is departed:
And throughout all time it marcheth crowned in triumph,
Victorious in the strife for the prizes that are undefiled.

23 But the multiplying brood of the ungodly shall be of no profit,
And with bastard slips they shall not strike deep root,
Nor shall they establish a sure hold.
For even if these put forth boughs and flourish for a season, Yet, standing unsure, they shall be shaken by the wind,
And by the violence of winds they shall be rooted out.
Their branches shall be broken off before they come to maturity,
And their fruit shall be useless.
Never ripe to eat, and fit for nothing.
For children unlawfully begotten are witnesses of wickedness Against parents when God searcheth them out.

But a righteous man, though he die before his time, shall be at rest.
(For honourable old age is not that which standeth in length of time, Nor is its measure given by number of years):
But understanding is gray hairs unto men,
And an unspotted life is ripe old age.)
Being found well-pleasing unto God
he was beloved of him,
And while living among sinners he was translated:
He was caught away, lest wickedness should change his understanding.
Or guile deceive his soul.
(For the bewitching of naughtiness bedideth the things which are good,
And the giddy whirl of desire perverteth an innocent mind.)
Being made perfect in a little while,
he fulfilled long years;
For his soul was pleasing unto the Lord:
Therefore hasted he out of the midst of wickedness.
But as for the peoples, seeing and understanding not,
Neither laying this to heart,
That grace and mercy are with his
And that he visiteth his holy ones:—
But a righteous man that is dead shall condemn the ungodly that are living,
And youth that is quickly perfected the many years of an unrighteous man's old age;
For the ungodly shall see a wise
man's end,
And shall not understand what the Lord purposed concerning him,
And for what he safely kept him:—
They shall see, and they shall despise;
But them the Lord shall laugh to scorn.
And after this they shall become a dishonoured carcasse,
And a reproach among the dead for ever:
Because he shall dash them speechless
to the ground,
And shall shew them from the foundations,
And they shall lie utterly waste,
and they shall be in anguish,
And their memory stand in great boldness
Before the face of them that afflicted him,
And them that make his labours of
no account:
When they see it, they shall be troubled with terrible fear,
And shall be amazed at the marvel of God's salvation:
They shall say within themselves
And for distress of spirit shall they groan,
This was he whom aforetime we had in derision,
And made a parable of reproach:
We fools accounted his life "madness,
And his end without honour:
How was he numbered among sons of God?
And how is his lot among saints?
Verily we went astray from the way of truth,
And the light of righteousness
shined not for us,
And the sun rose not for us.
We took our fill of the paths of lawless ness and destruction,
And we journeyed through trackless
deserts,
But the way of the Lord we knew not.
What did our arrogancy profit us?
And what good have riches and vaunting brought us?
Those things all passed away as a shadow,
And as a message that runneth by:
As a ship passing through the billo
lowy water,
Whereof, when it is gone by, there is no trace to be found,
Neither pathway of its keel in the billows:
Or as when a bird flieth through the air,
No token of her passage is found,
But the light wind, lashed with the stroke of her pinions,
And rent asunder with the violent rush of the moving wings, is passed through,
And afterwards no sign of her coming is found therein:

18 Or as when an arrow is shot at a mark, immediately, so that men know not where it passed through:

13 So we also, as soon as we were born, ceased to be; and of virtue we had no sign to shew, but in our wickedness we were utterly consumed.

24 Because the hope of the ungodly man is as chaff carried by the wind, and as foam vanishing before a tempest; and is scattered as smoke is scattered by the wind, and passeth by as the remembrance of a guest that tarrieth but a day.

25 But the righteous live for ever, and in the Lord is their reward, and the care for them with the Most High.

16 Therefore shall they receive the crown of royal dignity and the diadem of beauty from the Lord's hand; because with his right hand shall he cover them, and with his arm shall he shield them.

17 He shall take his jealousy as complete armour, and make the whole creation his weapons for vengeance on his enemies:

18 He shall put on righteousness as a breastplate, and shall array himself with judgment unfeigned as with a helmet; and shall take holiness as an invincible shield, so shall he sharpen stern wrath for a sword:

20 And the world shall go forth with him to fight against his insensate foes.

21 Shafts of lightning shall fly with true aim, and from the clouds, as from a well-drawn bow, shall they leap to the mark.

22 And as from an engine of war shall be hurled hailstones full of wrath; the water of the sea shall be angered against them, and rivers shall sternly overwhelm them;

23 A mighty blast shall encounter them, and as a tempest shall it winnow them away:

24 And so shall lawlessness make all the land desolate, and their evil-doing shall overturn the thrones of princes.

6 1 Hear therefore, ye kings, and understand; learn, ye judges of the ends of the earth:

2 Give ear, ye that have dominion over much people, and make your boast in multitudes of nations.

3 Because your dominion was given you from the Lord, and your sovereignty from the Most High;

4 Who shall search out your works, and shall make inquisition of your counsels:

5 Because being officers of his kingdom ye did not judge aright.

6 For the man of low estate may be pardoned in mercy, but mighty men shall be searched out mightily.

7 For the Sovereign Lord of all will not refrain himself for any man's person, neither will he reverence greatness;

8 Because he that made both small and great, and alike he taketh thought for all;

9 But strict is the scrutiny that cometh upon the powerful.

10 Unio you therefore, O princes, are my words, that ye may learn wisdom and fall not from the right way.

11 For they that have kept holy the things that are holy shall themselves be hallowed; and they that have been taught them shall find what to answer;

12 Set your desire therefore on my words; Long for them, and ye shall be trained by their discipline.

18 Wisdom is radiant and fadeth not away; and easily is she beheld of them that seek her, and found of them that seek her.

12 She foretelleth them that desire to know her, making herself first known.

14 He that riseth up early to seek her shall have no toil.

THE WISDOM OF SOLOMON.

9. The circuits of years and the positions of stars;
10. The natures of living creatures and the ragings of wild beasts,
The violence of winds and the thoughts of men,
The diversities of plants and the virtues of roots:
11. All things that are either secret or manifest I learned,
12. For she is the artificer of all things taught me, even wisdom.

For there is in her a spirit quick of understanding, holy,

13. Alone in kind, manifold,
Subtil, freely moving,
Clear in utterance, unpolluted,
Distinct, unharmed,

14. Loving what is good, keen, unhindered,
And more than all loving toward man,
Steadfast, sure, free from care,
All-powerful, all-surveying,
And penetrating through all spirits
That are quick of understanding, pure, most subtil:

15. For wisdom is more mobile than any motion;
Yes, she pervadeth and penetrateth all things by reason of her pureness.

16. For she is a breath of the power of God,
And a clear effluence of the glory of the Almighty;
Therefore can nothing defiled find entrance into her.

17. For she is an effulgence from everlasting light,
And an unsotted mirror of the working of God,
And an image of his goodness.

18. And she, being one, hath power to do all things;
And remaining in herself, renaweth all things:
And from generation to generation passing into holy souls
She maketh men friends of God and prophets.

19. For nothing doth God love save when I give judgement.

20. Because of her I shall have glory among multitudes,
And honour in the sight of elders,
Though I be young.

21. I shall be found of a quick conceit among the stars: for me;

22. Being compared with light, she is found to be before it;

23. For to the light of day succeedeth night,
But against wisdom evil doth not prevail;

8 But she reacheth from one end of the world to the other with full strength,
And ordereth all things graciously.
THE WISDOM OF SOLOMON.

1 "I shall govern peoples,
And nations shall be subjected to me.
2 Dread princes shall fear me when they hear of me.
Among my people I shall shew myself a good ruler, and in war courageous.
3 When I am come into my house, I shall find rest with her;
For converse with her hath no bitterness,
And to live with her hath no pain, but gladness and joy.
4 "I went about seeking how to take her come, toil with me,
And she shall guard me in her glory.
And great renown in having fellowship with her words,
And in her friendship is good delight,
And in the labours of her hands is wealth that faileth not.
And what is right according to thy pleasure.
5 "That being present with me she may send her forth out of the holy tabernacle which I gave her me.
And the works that I had given unto my father's throne, we find with labour;
And reject me not from among thy servants:
And who ever gained knowledge of the Lord's heart?
And who should have dominion over the creatures that were made by thee,
And rule the world in holiness and righteousness,
And execute judgement in uprightness of soul;
And guide us in our ways of soberness,
And in my doing she shall guide me in ways of soberness,
And she shall guard me in her glory.
And so shall my works be acceptable,
And I shall judge thy people righteously,
And I shall be worthy of my father's throne.
6 For even if a man be perfect among the sons of men, yet if the wisdom that cometh from thee be not with him, he shall be held in no account.
7 "Thou didst choose me before my brethren to be king of thy people,
And to do judgement for thy sons and daughters.
8 "Thou gavest command to build a sanctuary in thy holy mountain,
And an altar in the city of thy habitation.
A copy of the holy tabernacle which thou preparedst aforehand from the beginning.
9 And with thee is wisdom, which knoweth thy works,
And was present when thou wast making the world,
And which understandeth what is pleasing in thine eyes,
And what is right according to thy commandments.
10 Send her forth out of the holy heavens,
And from the throne of thy glory bid her come,
That being present with me she may toil with me,
And that I may learn what is well-pleasing before thee.
11 For she knoweth all things and hath understanding thereof.
And in her friendship is good delight,
And in the labours of her hands is wealth that faileth not.
And what is right according to thy pleasure.
12 O God of the fathers, and Lord of thy mercy.
Who madest all things by thy word;
Or who shall conceive what the Lord willeth?
And by thy wisdom thou forrested man,
That he should have dominion over the creatures that were made by thee,
And rule the world in holiness and righteousness,
And execute judgement in uprightness of soul;
And give me wisdom, Jher sitteth by thee on thy throne;
And reject me not from among thy servants:
Because I am thy bondman and the son of thy handmaid,
A man weak and short-lived,
And small of power to understand judgement and laws.
13 Timorous,
And our devices are prone to fail.
For a corruptible body weigheth down the soul,
And the earthy frame lieth heavy on a mind that is full of cares.
And hardly do we divine the things that are on earth,
And the things that are at close hand we find with labour;
But the things that are in the heavens who ever yet traced out?
And who ever gained knowledge of thy counsel, except thou gavest wisdom?
And sentest thy holy spirit from on high?
And it was thus that the ways of them which are on earth were corrected, and men were taught the things that are pleasing unto thee; and through wisdom were they saved.

Wisdom guarded to the end the first formed father of the world, that was created alone, and delivered him out of his own transgression, and gave him strength to get dominion over all things.

But when an unrighteous man fell away from her in his anger, wisdom forsook him not, and kept him strong when his heart yearned toward his child.

While the ungodly were perishing, wisdom delivered a righteous man, when he fled from the fire that descended out of heaven on Pentapolis.

To whose wickedness a smoking waste still witnesseth, and plants bearing fair fruit that cometh not to ripeness, Yes and a disbelieving soul hath a memorial there, a pillar of salt still standing.

For having passed wisdom by, not only were they disabled from recognising the things which are good, but they also left behind them for human life a monument of their folly; to the end that where they went astray they might fall even to be unseen:

But wisdom delivered out of troubles those that waited on her.

When a righteous man was a fugitive from a brother's wrath, wisdom guided him in straight paths; she shewed him God's kingdom, and gave him knowledge of holy things; she prospered him in his toils, and multiplied the fruits of his labour; when in their covetousness men dealt hardly with him, she stood by him and made him rich; she guarded him from enemies, and from those that lay in wait she kept him safe, and over his sore conflict she watched as judge, that he might know that godliness is more powerful than all.

When a righteous man was sold, wisdom forsook him not, but from sin she delivered him; she went down with him into a dungeon, and in bonds she left him not, till she brought him the sceptre of a kingdom, and authority over those that dealt tyrannously with him; she shewed them also to be false that had mockingly accused him, and gave him eternal glory.

Wisdom delivered a holy people and a blameless seed from a nation of oppressors. She entered into the soul of a servant of the Lord, and withstood terrible kings in wonders and signs. She rendered unto holy men a reward of their toils; she guided them along a marvellous way, and became unto them a covering in the day-time, and a flame of stars through the night.

She brought them over the Red Sea, and led them through much water; but their enemies she drowned, and out of the bottom of the deep she cast them up.

Therefore the righteous spoiled the ungodly; and they sang praise to thy holy name, O Lord, and exulted with one accord thy hand that fought for them; because wisdom opened the mouth of the dumb, and made the tongues of babes to speak clearly.
II
1. She prospered their works in the hand of a holy prophet.
2. They journeyed through a desert without inhabitant, and in trackless regions they pitched their tents.
3. They withstood enemies, and repelled foes.
4. They thirsted, and they called upon thee, and there was given them water out of the flinty rock, and healing of their thirst out of the hard stone.
5. By what things their foes were punished, by these they in their need were benefitted.
6. When the enemy were troubled with clotted blood instead of a river's ever-flowing fountain, thou gavest them abundant water beyond all hope.
7. Having shewn them by the thirst which they had suffered how thou didst punish the adversaries.
8. For when they were tried, albeit in mercy chastened, they learned how the ungodly were but in mercy chastened, being judged with wrath.
9. For these, as a father, admonishing tormenting, thou didst prove; but those, as a stern king, condemning them, thou didst search out.
10. Yea and whether they were far off from the righteous or near them, they were alike distressed; for a double grief took hold on them, and a groaning at the remembrance of things past.
11. For when they heard that through their own punishments the others had been benefitted, they felt the presence of the Lord; for him who long before was cast forth and exposed they left off mocking.
12. But in requital of the senseless imaginations of their unrighteousness, wherein they were led astray to worship irrational reptiles and wretched vermin, thou didst send upon them a multitude of irrational creatures for vengeance;
13. That they might learn, that by what things a man sinneth, by these he is punished.
14. For thine all-powerful hand, that created the world out of formless matter, lacked not means to send upon them a multitude of bears, full of rage, of unknown kind, either breathing out a blast of fiery breath, or blowing forth from their nostrils noisome smoke, or flashing dreadful sparkles from their eyes;
15. Which had power not only to consume them by their violence, but to destroy them even by the terror of their sight.
16. But whereas these they had fallen by a single breath, being pursued by justice, and scattered abroad by the breadth of thy power.
17. But by measure and number and weight thou didst order all things.
18. For to be greatly strong is thine at all times; and the might of thine arm who shall withstand?
19. Because the whole world before thee is past as a grain in a balance; and as a drop of dew that at morning cometh down upon the earth.
20. But thou hast mercy on all men, because thou hast power to do all things, and thou overlookest the sins of men to the end they may repent.
21. For thou lovest all things that are, and abhorrest none of the things which thou didst make; for never wouldst thou have formed anything if thou didst hate it.
22. And how would anything have endured, except thou hadst willed it? or that which was not called by thee, how would it have been preserved?
23. But wondrous things thou hast formed for little and little them that are fallen from the right way,
24. For thine incorruptible spirit is in all things.
25. Wherefore thou convikeyest by little and little them that fell from the right way,

And, putting them in remembrance by the very things wherein they sin, dost thou admonish them, that escaping from their wickedness they may believe on thee, O Lord.

Neither shall king or prince be able to look thee in the face to plead for those whom thou hast punished.

The words rendered slaughters and impious in verses 5 and 6 differ slightly from the readings of the Greek text, which have said no sense. 1 Thes. children 2 Or, in them 3 Or, even beyond 4 Gr. living creatures: and so elsewhere in this book.
But they that would not be admonished by a mocking correction as of children shall have experience of a judgement worthy of God.

For through the sufferings whereby they were inguillant, being punished in these creatures which they supposed to be gods, they saw, and recognised as the true God him whom before they refused to know:

Wherefore also the last end of condemnation came upon them.

For verily all men by nature were but vain who had no perception of God, and from the good things that are seen they god power to know him that is, neither by giving heed to the works did they recognise the artificer;

But either fire, or wind, or swift fowl, or 4 circling stars, or raging water, or 8 luminaries of heaven, they thought to be gods that rule the world.

And if it was through delight in their beauty that they took them to be gods, let them know how much better than these is the first author of beauty created them:

But if it was through astonishment at their power and 8 influence, let them understand from them how much more powerful is he that formed them;

For from the greatness of the beauty even of created things I the proportion of man form the image of their first maker.

But yet for these men there is but small blame, for they too peradventure do but go astray.

While they are seeking God and desiring to find him.

And they yield themselves up to sight, because the things that they look upon are beautiful.

But again even they are not to be excused.

For if they had power to know so much, that they should be able to explore the course of things,

How is it that they did not sooner find the Sovereign Lord of these his works?

But miserable were they, and in dead things were their hopes, who called them gods which are works of men's hands, Gold and silver, wrought with careful art, and likenesses of animals, or a useless stone, the work of an ancient hand.

Ye and if some 16 woodcutter, having sawn down a 17 tree that is easily moved, skillfully strippeth away all its bark and fashioning it in comely form maketh a vessel useful for the service of life;

And burning the refuse of his handy-work to dress his food, exteth his fill;

And taking the very refuse thereof which served to no use, a crooked piece of wood and full of knots, carveth it with the diligence of his idleness, and shapeth it by the skill of his 18 indolence; Then he giveth it the semblance of the image of a man, or maketh it like some 18 paltry animal,

Smearing it with vermillion, and with paint colouring it red, and smearing over every stain that is therein;

And having made for it a chamber worthy of it, he setteth it in a wall, making it fast with iron.

Yea for health he calleth upon that which is weak, and for life he beseecheth that which is dead, and for aid he supplicateth that which hath least experience, and for a good journey that which cannot so much as move a step,

And for gaining and getting and good success of his hands.

THE WISDOM OF SOLOMON.

He asketh ability of that which with its hands is most unable.

Again, one preparing to sail, and about to journey over raging waves,
Calleth upon a piece of wood more rotten than the vessel that carrieth him;
For that vessel the hunger for gains devised, And an artificer, ever wisdom, built it;
And thy providence, O Father, guideth it along,
Because even in the sea thou gavest a way,
And in the waves a sure path,
Shewing that thou canst save out of every danger,
That so even without art a man may put to sea;
And it is thy will that the works of thy wisdom should not be idle;
Therefore also do men intrust their lives to a little piece of wood,
And passing through the surge on a raft are brought safe to land.

For in the old time also, when proud giants were perishing,
The hope of the world, taking refuge on a raft,
Left to the race of men a seed of generations to come,
Thy hand guiding the helm.

For blessed hath been wood through which cometh righteousness:
But the idol made with hands is accursed, itself and he that made it;
Because his was the working, and the corruptible thing was named a god:
For both the ungodly doer and his ungodliness are alike hateful to God;
For verily the deed shall be punished together with him that committed it.

Therefore also among the idols of the nations shall there be a visitation,
Because, though formed of things which God created, they were made an abomination,
And stumblingblocks to the souls of men,
And a snare to the feet of the foolish.

For the devising of idols was the beginning of fornication,
And the invention of them the corruption of life:
For neither were they from the beginning, neither shall they be for ever;

For by the vaingloriousness of men they entered into the world,
And therefore was a speedy end devised for them.
For a father worn with untimely grief,
Making an image of the child quickly taken away,
Now honoured him as a god which was then a dead man,
And delivered to those that were under him mysteries and solemn rites.
Afterward the ungodly custom, in process of time grown strong, was kept as a law,
And by the commandments of princes the graven images received worship.
And when men could not honour them in presence because they dwelt far off, Imagining the likeness from afar, They made a visible image of the king whom they honoured,
That by their seal they might flatter the absent as if present.
But unto a yet higher pitch was worship raised even by them that knew him not,
Urged forward by the ambition of the artificer:
For he, wishing peradventure to please one in authority,
'Used his art to force the likeness toward a greater beauty;
And the multitude, allured by reason of the grace of his handy-work,
Now accounted as an object of devotion him that a little before was honoured as a man.
And this became a hidden danger unto life,
Because men, in bondage either to calamity or to tyranny,
Invested stones and stocks with the incommunicable Name.
Afterward it was not enough for them to go astray as touching the knowledge of God;
But also, while they live, in sore conflict through ignorance of him,
That multitude of evils they call peace.
For either slaughtering children in solemn rites, or celebrating secret mysteries,
Or holding frantic revels of strange ordinances,
Or no longer do they guard either life or purity of marriage,
But one brings upon another either death by treachery, or anguish by adulterate offspring.

CHAP. 14, v. 25.  THE WISDOM OF SOLOMON.  CHAP. 15, v. 16.

25 And all things confusedly are filled with blood and murder
Corruption, faithlessness, tumult, perjury,
Ingratitude for benefits received,
Defiling of souls, confusion of sex,
Disorder in marriage, adultery and wantonness.

37 For the worship of those nameless idols
In beginning and cause and end of every evil.

38 For their worshippers either make merry unto madness, or prophesy lies,
Or live unrighteously, or lightly forswear themselves.

39 For putting their trust in lifeless idols,
When they have sworn a wicked oath, they expect not to suffer harm.
But for both sins shall the just doom pursue them,
Because they had evil thoughts of God by giving heed to idols,
And swore unrighteously in deceit through contempt for holiness.

3 x For it is not the power of them by whom men swear;
But it is that justice which hathe regard to them that sin,
That visiteth always the transgression of the unrighteous.

15 Yet thou, our God, art gracious and true,
Longsuffering, and in mercy ordering all things.
For even if we sin, we are thine, knowing thy dominion;
But we shall know, knowing that we have been accounted thine:
3 For to be acquainted with thee is perfect righteousness,
And to know thy dominion is the root of immortality.
4 For neither were we led astray by any evil device of men's art,
Nor yet by painters' fruitless labour,
A form stained with varied colours;
5 The sight whereof leadeth fools into lust;
For their desire is for a breathless form of a dead image.
6 Lovers of evil things, and worthy of such hopes as these,
Are both they that do, and they that desire, and they that worship.

7 For a potter, kneading soft earth,
Laboriously mouldeth each several vessel for our service:

Nay, out of the same clay doth he fashion
Both the vessels that minister to clean uses, and those of a contrary sort,
All in like manner;
But what shall be the use of each vessel of either sort,
The craftsman himself is the judge.

8 And also, labouring to an evil end,
He mouldeth a vain god out of the same clay,
He who, having but a little before been made of earth,
After a short space goeth his way to the earth out of which he was taken,
When he is required to render back the soul which was lent him.

9 Howbeit he hath anxious care,
Not because his powers must fail,
Nor because his span of life is short:
But he matcheth himself against goldsmiths and silversmiths,
And he imitateth moulders in brass,
And esteemeth it glory that he mouldeth counterfeit.

10 His heart is ashes,
And his hope of less value than earth,
And his life of less honour than clay;
11 Because he was ignorant of him that moulded him,
And of him that inspired into him an active soul,
And breathed into him a vital spirit.

12 But he accounted our very life to be a 13 plaything,
And our lifetime a gainful 15 fair;
For, saith he, one must get gain whence one can, though it be by evil.
13 For this man beyond all others knew that he sinneth,
Out of earthly matter making brittle vessels and gravens images.
14 But most foolish were they all, and of feeble soul than a babe,
The enemies of thy people, who opposed them;
15 Because they even accounted all the idols of the nations to be gods;
Which have neither the use of eyes for seeing,
Nor nostrils for drawing breath,
Nor ears to hear,
Nor fingers for handling,
And their feet are helpless for walking.

16 For a man made them,
And one whose own spirit is borrowed moulded them;
For no one hath power, being a man, to mould a god like unto himself,
17 But, being mortal, he maketh a death thing by the work of lawless hands; for he is better than the objects of his worship, because they were worthy to lie hands; for, if they should desire them, they have escaped both the praise of God and his blessing.

18 Yea, and the creatures that are most hateful do they worship, for being compared as to want of sense, these are worse than all others; for he is better than the objectsof punishment by such as these; his worship, but thy sons not the very teeth of venomous dragons overcame, and were quickly saved, lest, falling into deep forgetfulness, they should become unable to be crossed by thy beneficence.

19 Neither, as seen beside other creatures, are they beautiful, so that one should desire them, but they have escaped both the praise of God and his blessing.

For this cause were these men ever so lovingly punished through creatures like those which they worship,

And tormented through a multitude of vermin.

Instead of which punishment, thou, bestowing benefits on thy people, preparedst quails for food, food of rare taste, to satisfy the desire of their appetite;

To the end that thine enemies, desiring food, might for the hideousness of the creatures sent among them lose the even the necessary appetite; but these, thy people, having for a short space suffered want, might even partake of food of rare taste.

For it was needful that upon those should come inexorable want in their tyrannous dealing, but that to these it should only be shewed how their enemies were tormented.

For even when terrible raging of wild beasts came upon thy people, and they were perishing by the bites of crooked serpents, thy wrath continued not to the uttermost;

But for admonition were they troubled for a short space, having a token of salvation, to put them in remembrance of the commandment of thy law:

For that turned toward it was not saved because of that which was beheld, but because of thee, the Saviour of all.

Yes, and in this didst thou persuade our enemies, that thou art he that delivereth out without their toil, without every evil.

And there was not found a healing for their life, because they were worthy to be punished by such as these;

But thy sons not the very teeth of venomous dragons overcame, for thy mercy passed by where they were, and healed them.

For they were bitten, to put them in remembrance of thine oracles; and were quickly saved, lest, falling into deep forgetfulness, they should become unable to be crossed by thy beneficence.

For of a truth it was neither herb nor mollifying plaister that cured them, but thy word, O Lord, which healeth all things;

For thou hast authority over life and death, and thou ledest down to the gates of Hades, and ledest up again. But though a man may slay by his wickedness, yet the spirit that is gone forth he shewed how the enemies were mightily;

But thy hand it is not possible to escape;

For ungodly men, refusing to know thee, were scourged in the strength of thine oracles, pursued with strange rains and hails and showers inexorable, and utterly consumed with fire;

For, what was most marvellous of all, in the water which quencheth all things, the fire wrought yet more mightily;

For the world fighteth for the righteous.

For at one time the flame lost its fierceness, that it might not burn up the creatures sent against the ungodly,

But that these themselves as they looked might see that they were chased through the judgement of God:

And at another time even in the midst of water it burneth above the power of fire;

That it may destroy the fruits of an unrighteous land.

Instead whereof thou gavest thy people angels food to eat, and bread ready for their use didst thou provide for them from heaven without their toil, bread having the virtue of every pleasant savour, and agreeing to every taste;
THE WISDOM OF SOLOMON.

1 "For thy nature manifested thy sweetness toward thy children; While that bread, ministering to the desire of the eater, Tempered itself according to every man's choice.

2 But snow and ice endured fire, and melted not,

3 And that this element again, in order that righteous men may be nourished, Hath even forgotten its own power.

4 For the creation, ministering to thee its maker, Straineth its force against the unrighteous, for punishment.

5 Therefore at that time also, converting itself into all forms, It ministered to thine all-nourishing bounty, According to the desire of them that made supplication;

6 That thy sons, whom thou lovedst, O Lord, might learn That it is need of the growth of the earth's fruits that nourisheth a man, But that thy word preserveth them that trust thee.

7 For that which was not marred by fire,

8 When it was simply warmed by a faint sunbeam melted away;

9 That it might be known that we which could on no side be escaped.

10 And must plead with the eater the tiling,

11 And must rise before the sun to give it back,

12 And must be pressed hard by conscience, "always forecasteth the worst lot:

13 For fear is nothing else but a surrender of the succour which reason offereth;

14 And from within the heart the expectation of them being less Maketh of greater account the ignorance of the cause that bringeth the torment.

15 But they, all through the night that they held a holy nation in their power, Close kept beneath their roofs, Lay exiled from the eternal providence.

16 For while they thought that they were unseen in their secret sins, They were sundered one from another by a dark curtain of forgetfulness, Stricken with terrible awe, and sore troubled by spectral forms.

17 For neither did the dark recesses that held them guard them from fears, But sounds rushing down rang around them, And phantoms appeared, cheerless with unsmiling faces.

18 And no force of fire prevailed to give them light,

19 Neither were the brightest flames of the stars strong enough to illumine that gloomy night:

20 But only there appeared to them the glimmering of a fire self-kindled, full of fear;

21 And in terror they deemed the things which they saw To be worse than that sight, on which they could not gaze.

22 And they lay helpless, made the sport of magic art,

23 And a shameful rebuke of their vaunts of understanding:

24 For they that promised to drive away terrors and troublings from a sick soul, These were themselves sick with a ludicrous fearfulness:

25 For even if no troublous thing affrighted them,

26 Yet, scared with the creepings of vermin and hissings of serpents, they perished for very trembling,

27 Refusing even to look on the air,

28 And must be pressed hard by conscience, "always forecasteth the worst lot:

29 For wickedness, condemned by a witness within, is a coward thing,

30 And, being pressed hard by conscience, always forecasteth the worst lot:

31 For fear is nothing else but a surrender of the succour which reason offereth;

32 And from within the heart the expectation of them being less Maketh of greater account the ignorance of the cause that bringeth the torment.

33 But they, all through the night that which was powerless indeed, And which came upon them out of the recesses of powerless Hades, All sleeping the same sleep,

34 Now were haunted by monstrous apparitions,

35 And now were paralysed by their soul's surrender;

36 For fear sudden and unlooked for came upon them.
16 So then every man, whosoever it might be, sinking down in his place, was kept in ward shut up in that prison which was barred with iron;

17 For whether he were a husbandman, or a shepherd, or a labourer whose toils were in the wilderness,
He was overtaken, and endured that inevitable necessity.
For with one chain of darkness were they all bound.

18 Whether there were a whistling wind, or a melodious noise of birds among the spreading branches, or a measured fall of water running Violently, or a harsh crashing of rocks hurled down, or the swift course of animals bounding along unseen, or the voice of wild beasts harshly roaring, or an echo rebounding from the hollows of the mountains,
All these things paralyzed them with terror.

20 For the whole world beside was enlightened with clear light,
And was occupied with unhinder'd sacred songs of praise.

21 But for thy holy ones there was great light;
And the Egyptians, hearing their voice but seeing not their form,
Counted it a happy thing that they too had suffered.

22 Yet for that they do not hurt them now, though wronged by them before, they are thankful;
And because they had been at variance with them, they made supplication to them.

23 Whereas thou didst provide for thy people a burning pillar of fire,
To be a guide for their unknown journey,
And withal a kindly sun for their proud exile.

24 For well did the Egyptians deserve to be deprived of light and imprisoned by darkness.
They who had kept in close ward thy sons,
Through whom the incorruptible light of the law was to be given to the race of men.

5 After they had taken counsel to slay the babes of the holy ones,
And when a single child had been cast forth and saved to convict them of their sin,
Thou tookest away from them their multitude of children,
And destroyed all their host together in a mighty flood.

6 Of that night were our fathers made aware beforehand,
That, having sure knowledge, they might be cheered by the oaths which they had trusted:

7 So by thy people was expected salvation of the righteous and destruction of the enemies;
For as thou didst take vengeance on the adversaries,
By the same means, calling us unto thyself, thou didst glorify us.

9 For holy children of good men of the wilderness, And destroyed all the firstborn to the sound of the firstborn, As the fathers already leading the sacred songs of praise.

10 But there sounded back in discord the cry of the enemies;
And a piteous voice of lamentation for children was borne abroad.

11 And servant along with master punished with a like just doom,
And commoner suffering the same as king,
Yes, all the people together, under one form of death.
Had with them corpses without number;
For the living were not sufficient even to bury them,
Yet for that they do not hurt them even to bury them,
To be deprived of light and imprisoned by darkness.

12 And because they had been at variance with them, they made supplication to them.

13 For while they were disbelieving all things by reason of the enchantments,
Upon the destruction of the firstborn they confessed the people to be God's son.

14 For while peaceful silence enwrapped all things,
And night in her own swiftness was in mid course,
Thine all-powerful word leaped from heaven out of the royal throne,
A stern warrior, into the midst of the 17 doomed land,
Bearing as a sharp sword thine unfeigned commandment;
And the standing it filled all things with death; And while it touched the heaven "they would repent themselves and turn from their wildness. And standing it filled all things with death; And while it touched the heaven "they would repent themselves and turn from their wildness. And standing it filled all things with death; And while it touched the heaven "they would repent themselves and turn from their wildness. And standing it filled all things with death; And while it touched the heaven "they would repent themselves and turn from their wildness. And standing it filled all things with death; And while it touched the heaven "they would repent themselves and turn from their wildness. And standing it filled all things with death; And while it touched the heaven "they would repent themselves and turn from their wildness. And standing it filled all things with death; And while it touched the heaven "they would repent themselves and turn from their wildness.
THE WISDOM OF JESUS THE SON OF SIRACH,

OR

ECCLESIASTICUS.

The Prologue of the Wisdom of Jesus the Son of Sirach.

Whereas many and great things have been delivered unto us by the law and the prophets, and by the others that have followed in their steps, for which things we must give Israel the praise of instruction and wisdom; and since not only the readers must needs become skilful themselves, but also they that love learning must be able to profit them which are without, both by speaking and writing; my grandfather Jesus, having much given himself to the reading of the law, and the prophets, and the other books of our fathers, and having gained great familiarity therein, was drawn on also himself to write somewhat pertaining to instruction and wisdom; in order that those who love learning, and are addicted to these things, might make progress much more by living according to the law. Ye are interested therefore to read with favour and attention, and to pardon us, if in any parts of what we have laboured to interpret, we may seem to fail in some of the phrases. For things originally spoken in Hebrew have not the same force in them, when they are translated into another tongue: and not only these, but the law itself, and the prophecies, having much given him to the reading of the law, and the prophets, and the other books of our fathers, and having gained great familiarity therein, was drawn on also himself to write somewhat pertaining to instruction and wisdom; in order that those who love learning.

apply some diligence and travail to interpret this book; applying indeed much watchfulness and skill in that space of time to bring the book to an end, and set it forth for them also, who in the land of their sojourning are desirous to learn, fashioning their manners beforehand, so as to live according to the law.

To whom hath the root of wisdom been revealed? And who hath known her shrewd counsels?

There is none wise, greatly to be feared,

The Lord sitting upon his throne:

9 He created her,

And saw her and numbered her;

And the lips of many shall tell forth his understanding.

15 'With men she laid an eternal foundation;

And with their seed she shall be had in trust.

16 To fear the Lord is the fulness of wisdom;

And she shall fill all her house with desirable things,

And her garners with her produce.

18 The fear of the Lord is the crown of wisdom,

Making peace and perfect health to flourish.

19 He both saw and numbered her;

He reigned down skill and knowledge of understanding,

And exalted the honour of them that held her fast.

20 To fear the Lord is the root of wisdom;

And her branches are length of days.

21 Unjust wrath can never be justified;

For the sway of his wrath is his downfall.

22 A man that is longsuffering will bear it for a season,

And afterward gladness shall spring up unto him;

23 He will hide his words for a season,

And the lips of many shall tell forth his understanding.

24 A parable of knowledge is in the treasures of wisdom;

But godliness is an abomination to a sinner.

25 If thou desire wisdom, keep the commandments,

And the Lord shall give her unto thee freely:

26 For the fear of the Lord is wisdom and instruction;

And in faith and meekness is his good pleasure.

27 Disobey not the fear of the Lord;

And come not unto him with a double heart.

28 Be not a hypocrite in the mouths of men;

And take good heed to thy lips.

29 Exalt not thyself, lest thou fall,

And bring dishonour upon thy soul;

30 And the Lord shall reveal thy secrets,

And shall cast thee down in the midst of the congregation;

Because thou camest not unto the fear of the Lord,

And thy heart was full of deceit.

2 My son, if thou comest to serve the Lord,

Prepare thy soul for temptation.

Set thy heart aright, and constantly endure,

And make not haste in time of calamity.

3 Cleave unto him, and depart not,

That thou mayest be increased at thy latter end.

4 Accept whatsoever is brought upon thee,

And be longsuffering when thou passest into humiliation.

2 Verse 19 is omitted by the best authorities.
3:22. The things that have been commanded thee, think thereupon; For thou hast no need of the things that are secret.
23 Be not over busy in thy superfluous works: For more things are shewed unto thee than men can understand.
24 For the conceit of many hath led them astray; And evil surmising hath caused their judgement to alip.
25 A stubborn heart shall fare ill at the last; And he that loveth danger shall perish therein.
26 The calamity of the proud is no healing; For a plant of wickedness hath taken root in him.
27 The heart of the prudent will understand a parable; And the ear of a listener is the desire of a wise man.
28 Water will quench a flaming fire; And almsgiving will make atonement for sins.
29 He that requiteth good turns is mindful of that which cometh afterward; And in the time of his falling he shall find a support.

4:1. My son, do not deprive the poor of his living, And make not the needy eyes to wait long.
2 Make not a hungry soul sorrowful; Neither provoke a man in his distress.
3 To a heart that is provoked add not more trouble; And defer not to give to him that is in need.
4 Reject not a suppliant in his affliction; And turn not away thy face from a poor man.
5 Turn not away thine eye from one that asketh of thee, And give none occasion to a man to curse thee.
6 For if he curse thee in the bitterness of his soul, He that made him will hear his supplication.
7 Get thyself the love of the congregation; And to a great man bow thy head.
8 Incline thine ear to a poor man, And answer him with peaceable words in meekness.

9 Deliver him that is wronged from the hand of him that wrongeth him; And be not fainthearted in giving judgement.
10 Be as a father unto the fatherless, And instead of a husband unto their mother: So shalt thou be as a son of the Most High, And he shall love thee more than thy mother doth.
11 Wisdom exalteth her sons, And taketh hold of them that seek her.
12 He that loveth her loveth life; And they that seek to her early shall be filled with gladness.
13 He that holdeth her fast shall inherit glory; And where he entereth, the Lord will bless.
14 They that do her service shall minister to the Holy One; And them that love her the Lord doth love.
15 He that giveth ear unto her shall judge the nations; And he that giveth heed unto her shall dwell securely.
16 If he trust her, she shall inherit her; And his generations shall have her in possession.
17 For at the first she will walk with him in crooked ways, And will bring fear and dread upon him, And torment him with her discipline, Until she may trust his soul, and try him by her judgements:
18 Then will she return again the straight way unto him, And will gladden him, and reveal to him her secrets.
19 If he go astray, she will forsake him, And give him over to his fall.
20 Observe the opportunity, and beware of evil; And be not ashamed concerning thy soul.
21 For there is a shame that bringeth sin; And there is a shame that is glory and grace.
22 Accept not the person of any against thy soul; And reverence no man unto thy falling.
23 Refrain not speech, when it tendeth to safety; And hide not thy wisdom for the sake of fair-seeming.
24 For by speech wisdom shall be known; And instruction by the word of the tongue.
Chap. 4, v. 25. Ecclesiasticus.

25 Speak not against the truth; And be ashamed for thine ignorance. And be not ashamed to make confession of thy sins; And for the sake of thy neighbours, lay not thyself down for a fool to tread upon; And accept not the person of one that is mighty. Strive for the truth unto death, and the Lord God shall fight for thee.

26 Be not hasty in thy tongue, And in thy deeds slack and remiss. Be not as a lion in thy house, Nor fanciful among thy servants. Let not thine hand be stretched out to receive, and closed when thou shouldst repay.

27 Set not thy heart upon thy goods; And say not, They are sufficient for me. Follow not thine own mind and thy strength. To walk in the desires of thy heart; And say not, Who shall have dominion over me? For the Lord will surely take vengeance on thee.

28 Say not, I sinned, and what happened unto me? For the Lord is longsuffering. Concerning alms, be not without fear. To add sin upon sins: And say not, His compassion is great; He will be pacified for the multitude of my sins. For mercy and wrath are with him, And his indignation will rest upon sinners.

29 Make no tarrying to turn to the Lord; And put not off from day to day: For suddenly shall the wrath of the Lord come forth; And thou shalt perish in the time of vengeance.

30 Set not thine heart upon unrighteous gains: For thou shalt profit nothing in the day of calamity. Winnow not with every wind, And walk not in every path: Thus doeth the sinner that hath a double tongue. Be steadfast in thy understanding; And let thy word be one.

31 Be swift to hear; And with patience make thine answer.

12 If thou hast understanding, answer thy neighbour; And if not, let thy hand be upon thy mouth.

13 Glory and dishonour is in talk: And the tongue of a man is his fall.

14 Be not called a whisperer; And lie not in wait with thy tongue: For upon the thief there is shame, And an evil condemnation upon him that hath a double tongue.

15 In a great matter and in a small, be not ignorant; And instead of a friend become not an enemy.

16 For an evil name inherit shame and reproach: Even so shall the sinner that hath a double tongue.

17 Exalt not thyself in the counsel of thy soul; That thy soul be not torn in pieces for thy soul.

18 Thou shalt eat up thy leaves, and destroy thy fruits, And leave thyself as a dry tree.

19 A wicked soul shall destroy him that hath gotten it, And shall make him a laughing-stock to his enemies.

20 Set not thy heart upon unrighteous gains: For thou shalt profit nothing in the day of calamity.

21 Winnow not with every wind, And walk not in every path: Thus doeth the sinner that hath a double tongue.

22 Sweet words will multiply a man's friends; And a fair-speaking tongue will multiply courtesies.

23 In a great matter and in a small, be not ignorant; And instead of a friend become not an enemy; For an evil name inherit shame and reproach:

24 A faithful friend is a strong defence;
And he that hath found him hath found a treasure.

15 There is nothing that can be taken in exchange for a faithful friend; And his excellency is beyond price.

16 A faithful friend is a medicine of life; And they that fear the Lord shall find him.

17 He that fears the Lord directeth his friendship aright;

19 For as he is, so is his neighbour also.

30 How exceeding harsh is she to the unlearned!

And he that is without understanding taketh her.

3 Do no evil, so shall no evil overtake thee.

7 Do not go astray from the multitude of the city,

And cast not thyself down in the crowd.

8 Bind not up sin twice; For in one sin thou shalt not be unpunished.

9 Say not, He will look upon the multitude of my gifts; And when I offer to the Most High God, he will accept it.

10 Be not fainthearted in thy prayer; And neglect not to give alms.

11 Laugh not at a man to scorn when he is in the bitterness of his soul; For there is one who humbleth and exalteth.

12 Devise not a lie against thy brother; Neither do the like to a friend.
13 Love not to make any manner of lie;
For the custom thereof is not for good.

14 Prate not in the multitude of elders;
And repeat not thy words in thy prayer.

15 Hate not laborious work;
Neither husbandry, which the Most High hath ordained.

16 Never bless not thyself among the multitude of sinners;
Remember that wrath will not tarry.

17 For the punishment of the ungodly man is fire and the worm.

18 Change not a friend for a thing indifferent;
Neither a true brother for the gold of Ophir.

19 Forget not a wise and good wife;
For her grace is above gold.

20 Entreat not evil a servant that worketh truly,
Nor a hireling that giveth thee his life.

21 Let thy son love a wise servant;
Haply he overweigh thee:

22 Hast thou cattle? have an eye to them;
And if they are profitable to thee, let them stay by thee.

23 Hast thou children? correct them,
And bow down their neck from their youth.

24 Hast thou daughters? give heed to their body,
And make not thy face cheerful toward them,
And give thy daughter in marriage, and thou shalt have accomplished a great matter:
And give her to a man of understanding.

25 Hast thou a wife after thy mind? cast her not out:
But trust not thyself to one that is hateful.

26 Give glory to thy father with thy whole heart;
And forget not the pangs of thy mother.

27 Remember that of them thou wast born:
And what will thou recompense them for the things that they have done for thee?

28 Fear the Lord with all thy soul;
And reverence his priests.

29 With all thy strength love him that made thee;
And forsake not his ministers.

30 Fear the Lord, and glorify the priest;
And give him his portion, even as it is commanded thee;

31 The firstfruits, and the trespass offering, and the gift of the shoulders,
And the sacrifice of sanctification, and the firstfruits of holy things.

32 Also to the poor man stretch out thy hand,
That thy blessing may be perfected.

33 A gift hath grace in the sight of every man living;
And for a dead man keep not back grace.

34 Be not wanting to them that weep;
And mourn with them that mourn.

35 Be not slow to visit a sick man;
For by such things shalt thou gain love.

36 In all thy matters remember thy end,
And thou shalt never do amiss.
And if thou lend, be as one that hath lost.

Be not surety above thy power; and if thou be surety, take thought as one that will have to pay.

Go not to law with a judge; for according to his honour will they give judgement for him.

Go not in the way with a rash man, lest he be aggrieved with thee; for he will do according to his own will, and thou shalt perish with his folly.

Fight not with a wrathful man, and travel not with him through the desert:

For blood is as nothing in his sight; and where there is no help, he will overthroe thee.

Take not counsel with a fool; for he will not be able to conceal the matter.

Do no secret thing before a stranger; for thou knowest not what he will of a city.

Open not thine heart to every man; and let him not return thee a favour.

Be not jealous over the wife of thy bosom,

And teach her not an evil lesson against thyself.

Give not thy soul unto a woman, that she should set her foot upon thy strength.

Go not to meet a woman that playeth the harlot,

Lest haply thou fall into her snares.

Use not the company of a woman that shall be commended: and a city will be established through the understanding.

Turn away thine eye from a comely woman,

And gaze not on another's beauty:

By the beauty of a woman many have been led astray; and therewith love is kindled as a fire.

Sit not at all with a woman that hath a husband;

And revel not with her at the wine; lest haply thy soul turn aside unto her,

And with thy spirit thou slide into destruction.

Forsake not an old friend;

For the new is not comparable to him:

A new wine, so is a new friend;

If it become old, thou shalt drink it with gladness.

 envy not the glory of a sinner:

For thou knowest not what shall be his overthrow.

Delight not in the delights of the ungodly:

Remember they shall not go unpunished unto the grave.

Keep thee far from the man that hath power to kill,

And thou shalt have no suspicion of the fear of death:

And if thou come unto him, commit no fault,

Lest he take away thy life:

Know surely that thou goest about in the midst of snares,

And walkest upon the battlements of a city.

As well as thou canst, guess at thy neighbours;

And take counsel with the wise.

Let thy converse be with men of understanding;

And let all thy discourse be in the law of the Most High.

For the hand of the artificers a work shall be commended:

And he that ruleth the people shall be counted wise for his speech.

A man full of tongue is dangerous in his city;

And he that is headlong in his speech shall be hated.

A wise judge will instruct his people;

And the government of a man of understanding shall be well ordered.

As is the judge of his people, so are his ministers;

And as is the ruler of the city, such are all they that dwell therein.

An un instructed king will destroy his people;

And a city will be established through the understanding of the powerful.

In the hand of the Lord is the authority of the earth;

And in due time he will raise up over it one that is profitable.

In the hand of the Lord is the prosperity of a man;
And upon the person of the scribe shall he lay his honour.

6 Be not wroth with thy neighbour for wrong; and give him not over to the anger of the Lord: and do nothing by works of violence.

7 Pride is hateful before the Lord and before men; and in the judgment of both will unrighteousness err.

8 Sovereignty is transferred from nation to nation, because of iniquities, and deeds of violence, and greed of money.

9 Why is earth and ashes proud? Because in his life he hath cast away his bowels.

10 It is a long disease; the physician mocketh; and he is a king to day, and to morrow he shall die.

11 For when a man is dead, he shall inherit creeping things, and beasts, and worms.

12 It is the beginning of pride when a man departeth from the Lord; and his heart is departed from him that made him.

13 For the beginning of pride is sin; and he that keepeth it will pour forth abomination.

For this cause the Lord brought upon them strange calamities, and overthrow them utterly.

14 The Lord cast down the thrones of rulers, and set the meek in their stead.

15 The Lord plucked up the roots of nations, and planted the lowly in their stead.

16 The Lord overthrew the lands of nations, and destroyed them unto the foundations of the earth.

17 He took some of them away, and destroyed them, and made their memorial to cease from the earth.

18 Pride hath not been created for men. Nor wrathful anger for the offspring of women.

19 What manner of seed hath honour? the seed of man.

What manner of seed hath honour? they that fear the Lord.

What manner of seed hath no honour? the seed of man.

What manner of seed hath no honour? they that transgress the commandments.

20 In the midst of brethren he that ruleth them hath honour; and in the eyes of the Lord they that fear him.

21 The rich man, and the honourable, and the poor,

Their glorying is the fear of the Lord.

23 It is not right to dishonour a poor man that hath understanding; and it is not fruitful to glorify a man that is a sinner.

24 The great man, and the judge, and the mighty man, shall be glorified; and there is not one of them greater than he that feareth the Lord.

25 Free men shall minister unto a wise servant; and a man that hath knowledge will not murmur thereat.

26 Be not over wise in doing thy work; and glorify not thyself in the time of thy distress.

27 Better is he that laboureth, and abstemeth in all things, than he that glorifieth himself, and lacketh bread.

28 My son, glorify thy soul in meekness, and *give it honour according to the wealthiness thereof.

29 Who will justify him that sinneth against his own soul? And who will glorify him that dishonoureth his own life?

30 A poor man is glorified for his knowledge; and a rich man is glorified for his riches.

31 But he that is glorified in poverty, how much more in riches? and that is inglorious in riches, how much more in poverty?

II

1 The wisdom of the lowly shall lift up his head, and *make him to sit in the midst of great men.

2 Command not a man for his beauty; and abhor not a man for his outward appearance.

3 The bee is little among such as fly; and her fruit is the chief of sweetmeats.

4 Glory not in the putting on of raiment, and *exalt not thyself in the day of honour;

5 For the works of the Lord are wonderful, and his works are hidden among men.

6 Many kings have set down upon the ground; and one that was never thought of hath worn a diadem.

7 Many mighty men have been greatly disgraced; and men of renown have been delivered into other men's hands.

8 Blame not before thou hast examined:

1 The text here is uncertain. 2 Two lines of this verse are here omitted by the best authorities. 3 The MSS. here greatly differ. The rendering represents the most probable text. 4 Verse 21 is omitted by the best authorities. 5 The Greek text of this verse is uncertain. 6 Or, proceeds.
Understand first, and then rebuke.

1 Answer not before thou hast heard; And interrupt not in the midst of speech.
2 Strive not in a matter that concerneth thee not; And where sinners judge, sit not thou with them.

5 My son, be not busy about many matters: For if thou meddle much, thou shalt not be unpunished; And if thou pursue, thou shalt not overtake; And thou shalt not escape by fleeing.

13 There is one that toil eth, and laboureth, and maketh haste, And is so much the more behind.

17 The gift of the Lord remaineth with the godly, And his good pleasure shall prosper for ever.

23 There is that waxeth rich by his wariness and pinching, And this is the portion of his reward:

29 When he saith, I have found rest, And now will I eat of my goods; Yet he knoweth not what time shall pass, And he shall leave them to others, and die.

30 Be stedfast in thy covenant, and be conversant therein, And wax old in thy work.

34 Receive a stranger into thine house, And estrange thee from thine own.

12 If thou do good, know to whom thou dost it; And thy good deeds shall have thanks.

Do good to a godly man, and thou shalt find a recompense; And if not from him, yet from the Most High.

There shall no good come to him that continueth to do evil, Nor to him that giveth no alms.

Give to the godly man, And I will help not the sinner.

Do good to one that is lowly, And give not to an ungodly man: Keep back his bread, and give it not to him, Lest he overmaster thee thereby: For thou shalt receive twice as much evil

For all the good thou shalt have done unto him.

For the Most High also hateth sinners, And will repay vengeance unto the ungodly.

7 Give to the good man, and help not the sinner.

And a man's friend will not be fully tried in prosperity; and his enemy will not be hidden in adversity.

In a man's prosperity his enemies are grieved; and in his adversity even his friend will be separated from him.

Never trust thine enemy: for like as the brass rusteth, so is his wickedness.

Though he humble himself, and go crouching, yet take good heed, and beware of him. And thou shalt be unto him as one that hath wiped a mirror, and shalt know that he hath not utterly rusted it.

Set him not by thee. Let he overthrow thee and stand in thy place; let him not sit on thy right hand, let he seek to take thy seat, and at the last thou acknowledge my words, and be pricked with my sayings.

What will pity a charmer that is bitten with a serpent, or any that come nigh wild beasts? Even so who will pity him that goeth to a sinner, and is mingled with him in his sins?

For a while he will abide with thee, and if thou give way, he will not hold out. And the enemy will speak sweetly with his lips, and in his heart take counsel how to overthrow thee into a pit: the enemy will weep with his eyes, and if he find opportunity, he will not be satiated with blood.

If adversity meet thee, thou shalt find him there before thee, and as though he would help thee, he will trip up thy heel. He will shake his head, and clap his hands, and whisper much, and change his countenance.

This shall smite, and that shall be dashed in pieces.

The rich man doeth a wrong, and he threateneth withal: the poor is wronged, and he shall intreat withal.

If thou be wronged, he will make merchandise of thee; and if thou be in want, he will forsake thee.

If thou have substance, he will live with thee; and he will make thee bare, and will not be sorry.

Hath he had need of thee? then he will deceive thee, and smile upon thee, and give thee hope: he will speak thee fair, and say, What needest thou? And he will shame thee by his meat, and at the last he will laugh thee to scorn: afterward will he see thee, and will forsake thee, and shake his head at thee.

Press not upon him, lest thou be thrust back; and stand not far off, lest thou be forgotten.

Affect not to speak with him as an equal, and believe not his many words: for with much talk will he try thee, and in a smiling manner will search thee out.

It that keepeth not to himself words spoken is unmerciful; and he will not spare to hurt and to bind.

Keep them to thyself, and take earnest heed, for thou walkest in peril of thy falling.

Every living creature loveth his like, and every man loveth his neighbour. All flesh consorteth according to kind, and a man will cleave to his like.

What fellowship shall the wolf have with the lamb? So is the sinner unto the godly.

What peace is there between the hyena and the dog? And what peace between the rich man and the poor?

Wild asses are the prey of lions in the wilderness; so poor men are pasture for the rich.

Or, punished. 2 Or, if he hath not utterly rusted him. 3 Or, along with. 4 The remainder of verse 12, and verse 14, are omitted by the best authorities.
Lowliness is an abomination to a proud man;
So a poor man is an abomination to the rich.
1 Lowliness is an abomination to a proud man;
So a poor man is an abomination to the rich.

21 A rich man when he is shaken is held up of his friends;
But one of low degree being down is thrust away also by his friends.
When a rich man is fallen, there are many helpers;
He speaketh things not to be spoken, and men justify him:
A man of low degree falleth, and men rebuke him withal;
He uttereth wisdom, and no place is allowed him.
And what he saith they extol to the clouds:
A poor man speaketh, and they say,
Who is this?
And if he stumble, they will help to overthrow him.

4 Riches are good that have no sin;
And poverty is evil in the mouth of the ungodly.
The heart of a man changeth his countenance,
Whether it be good for or for evil.
A cheerful countenance is a token of a heart that is in prosperity;
And the finding out of parables is a weariness of thinking.
Blessed is the man that hath not slipped with his mouth,
And is not pricked with sorrow for sins.

31 Riches are not comely for an ignard;
And what should an envious man do with money?
He that gathereth by taking from his own soul gathereth for others;
And others shall revel in his goods.
He that is evil to himself, to whom will he be good?
And he shall not rejoice in his possessions.

6 There is none more evil than he that envieth himself;
And this is a recompense of his wickedness.

7 Even if he doeth good, he doeth it in forgetfulness;
And at the last he sheweth forth his wickedness.
Evil is he with that envieth with his eye,
Turning away the face, and despising the souls of men.
A covetous man's eye is not satisfied with his portion;

And wicked injustice drieth up his soul.

My son, according as thou hast, do well unto thyself,
And bring offerings unto the Lord worthily.

Remember that death will not tarry,
And that the covenant of the grave is not shewed unto thee.

Do well unto thy friend before thou diest;
And according to thy ability stretch out thy hand and give to him.
Defraud not thyself of a good day;
And let not the portion of a good desire pass thee by.

Shalt thou not leave thy labours unto another?
And thy toils to be divided by lot?
Give, and take, and beguile thy soul;
For there is no seeking of luxury in the grave.

All flesh waxeth old as a garment;
For the covenant from the beginning is, Thou shalt die the death.

As of the leaves flourishing on a thick tree,
Some it sheddeth, and some it maketh to grow;
So also of the generations of flesh and blood,
One cometh to an end, and another is born.

Every work rotteth and faileth away,
And the worker thereof shall depart with it.

Blessed is the man that shall meditate in wisdom,
And that shall discourse by his understanding.
He that considereth her ways in his heart
Shall also have knowledge in her secrets.

Go forth after her as one that tracketh,
And lie in wait in her ways.

He that priesteth at her windows
Shall also hearken at her doors.

He that pitcheth his tent night at hand to her,
And shall lodge in a lodging where good things are.

He shall set his children under her shelter,
And shall rest under her branches.

By her he shall be covered from heat,
And shall lodge in her glory.
15. He that feareth the Lord will do this; And he that hath possession of the law shall obtain her.

3. Trust not thou in their life. Neither rely on their condition: For one is better than a thousand; And to die childless is better than to have ungodly children.

6. In the congregation of sinners shall a fire be kindled; And in a disobedient nation wrath is kindled.

7. He was not pacified toward the giants of old time, Who revolted in their strength.

10. For they multiply, delight not in them. But a race of wicked men shall be made desolate.

5. Many such things have I seen with mine eyes; And mine ear hath heard mightier things than these.

14. Say not thou, I shall be hidden from the Lord; Who are gathered together in the congregation of sinners shall a fire be kindled; And in a disobedient nation wrath is kindled.

15. Say not thou, I shall be hidden from the Lord; Who are gathered together in the congregation of sinners shall a fire be kindled; And in a disobedient nation wrath is kindled.

16. Say not thou, I shall be hidden from the Lord; Who are gathered together in the congregation of sinners shall a fire be kindled; And in a disobedient nation wrath is kindled.

17. Say not thou, I shall be hidden from the Lord; Who are gathered together in the congregation of sinners shall a fire be kindled; And in a disobedient nation wrath is kindled.

18. Behold, the heaven, and the heaven of heavens, And who shall remember me from on high? I shall not be known among so many people;

For what is my soul in a boundless creation?
The deep, and the earth, shall be moved when he shall visit. And ears, and heart, gave he them to understand withal.

And mountains and foundations of the earth together are shaken with trembling, when he looketh upon them. And who shall conceive his ways? For his covenant is afar off.

He that is wanting in understanding shall be rebuked, and the wise man shall hear and learn knowledge, and give heed to my words with thy heart.

I will shew forth instruction by weight, and declare knowledge exactly. In the judgment of the Lord is his work from the beginning; and from the making of them he disposed the parts thereof. He enriched his works for ever, and the beginnings of them unto their generations: They neither hunger, nor are weary, and they cease not from their works. No one thrusteth aside his neighbour; and they shall never disobey his word. After this also the Lord looked upon the earth, and filled it with his blessings.

All manner of living things covered the face thereof; and into it is their return.

The Lord created man of the earth, and turned him back unto it again. He gave them days by number, and set time. And gave them authority over the things that are thereon. He endowed them with strength proper to them; and made them according to his own image. He put the fear of man upon all flesh, and gave him to have dominion over beasts and fowls.

Council, and tongue, and eyes, ears, and heart, gave he them to understand withal.

And filled them with the knowledge of wisdom, and shewed them good and evil. He set his eye upon their hearts, to shew them the majesty of his works.

And they shall praise the name of his holiness; that they may declare the majesty of his works. He added unto them knowledge, and gave them a law of life for a heritage.

Their ways are ever before him; they shall not be hid from his eyes. Their eyes saw the majesty of his glory; and their ear heard the glory of his voice. And he said unto them, Beware of all unrighteousness; and he gave them commandment, each man concerning his neighbour.

All their works are as the sun before him; and his eyes are continually upon their ways. Their iniquities are not hid from him; and all their sins are before the Lord. With him the alms of a man is as a signet; and he will keep the bounty of a man as the apple of the eye.

Afterwards he will rise up and recompense them, and render their recompense upon their head. Howbeit unto them that repent he granteth a return; and he comforteth them that are losing patience.

Return unto the Lord, and forsake sins: make thy prayer before his face, and lessen the offence. Turn again to the Most High, and turn away from iniquity; and greatly hate the abominable thing.

Who shall give praise to the Most High in the grave, instead of them which live and return thanks?
28. Thanksgiving perisheth from the dead, as from one that is not:

He that is in life and health shall praise the Lord.

29. How great is the mercy of the Lord, And his forgiveness unto them that turn unto him! For all things cannot be in men. Because the son of man is not immortal.

30. What is brighter than the sun? yet this faileth: And an evil man will think on flesh and blood. He looketh upon the power of the height of heaven: And all men are earth and ashes.

31. He that liveth forever created all things in common.

4. To none hath he given power to declare his works: And who shall trace out his mighty deeds? Who shall number the strength of his majesty? And who shall also tell out his mercies?

6. As for the wondrous works of the Lord, it is not possible to take from them nor add to them. Neither is it possible to track them out. When a man hath finished, then he is but at the beginning; And when he ceaseth, then shall he be in perplexity.

8. What is man, and whereto serveth the time of hunger, What is his good, and what is his evil? The number of man's days at the most are a hundred years. As a drop of water from the sea, and a pebble from the sand; So are a few years in the days of eternity.

11. For this cause the Lord was long-suffering over them, And poured out his mercy upon them. He saw and perceived their end, that it is evil; Therefore he multiplied his forgiveness.

13. The mercy of a man is upon his neighbour; But the mercy of the Lord is upon all flesh. Reproving, and chastening, and teaching, And bringing again, *as a shepherd doth his flock.

14. He hath mercy on them *that accept chastening.

And that diligently seek after his judgements. My son, to thy good deeds add no blemish; And no grief of words in any of thy giving. Shall not the dew assuage the scorching heat? So is a word better than a gift.

17. Lo, is not a word better than a gift? And both are with a gracious man. A fool will upbraid ungraciously; And the gift of an envious man consumeth the eyes.

18. Learn before thou speak; And have a care of thy health or ever thou be sick. Before judgement examine thyself; And in the hour of visitation thou shalt find forgiveness.

19. Humble thyself before thou be sick; And wait not until death to be justified.

20. Think upon the wrath that shall be in the days of the end, And the time of vengeance, when he turneth away his face. In the days of fulness remember the time of hunger, And poverty and want in the days of wealth. From morning until evening the time changeth; And all things are speedy before the Lord.

21. A wise man will fear in everything; And in days of sinning he will beware of offence. Every man of understanding knoweth wisdom; And he will give thanks unto him that found her.

They that were of understanding in sayings became also wise themselves, *And poured forth apt proverbs.

23. Go not after thy lusts; And refrain thyself from thine appetites. If thou give fully to thy soul the delight of her desire, As a shepherd doth his flock. He hath mercy on them that accept chastening.

And at the last end thereof is the pit of Hades.

1 He that keepeth the law cometh master of the intent thereof; And the end of the fear of the Lord is wisdom.

2 He that is not clever will not be instructed; And there is a cleverness which maketh bitterness to abound.

3 The knowledge of a wise man shall be made to abound as a flood; And his counsel as a fountain of life.

4 The inward parts of a fool are like a broken vessel; And he will hold no knowledge.

5 If a man of knowledge hear a wise word, He will commend it, and add unto it: The dissolute man heareth it, and it displeaseth him, And he putteth it away behind his back.

6 The discourse of a fool is like a burden in the way; But grace shall be found on the lips of the wise.

7 The mouth of the prudent man shall be sought for in the congregation; And they will ponder his words in their heart.

8 As a house that is destroyed, so is wisdom to a fool; And the knowledge of an unwise man is talk without sense.

9 Instruction is as feters on the feet of an unwise man, And as manacles on the right hand.

10 A fool lifteth up his voice with laughter; But a clever man will scarce smile quietly.

11 Instruction is to a prudent man as an ornament of gold, And as a bracelet upon his right arm.

12 The foot of a fool is soon in another man’s house; But a man of experience will be ashamed of entering.

13 A foolish man peepeth in from the door of another man’s house; But a man that is instructed will stand without.

14 It is a want of instruction in a man to listen at the door; But the prudent man will be grieved with the disgrace.

15 The lips of strangers will be grieved at these things; But the words of prudent men will be weighed in the balance.

16 The heart of fools is in their mouth; But the mouth of wise men is their heart.

17 When the ungodly curseth Satan, He curseth his own soul.

18 A whisperer deflieth his own soul, And shall be hated wheresoever he sojourneth.

19 A slothful man is compared to a stone that is defiled; And every one will hiss him out in his disgrace.

20 A slothful man is compared to the filth of a dunghill: Every man that taketh it up will shake out his hand.

21 A father hath shame in having begotten an un instructed son; And a foolish daughter is born to his loss.

22 A prudent daughter shall inherit a husband of her own; And she that bringeth shame is the grief of him that begat her.

23 She that is bold bringeth shame upon father and husband; And she shall be despised of them both.

24 Unseasonable discourse is as music in mourning; But stripes and correction are wisdom at every season.

25 He that teacheth a fool is as one that giveth a potsherd together; Even as one that waketh a sleeper out of a deep sleep.

26 He that discourseth to a fool is as one discourseing to a man that slumbereth; And at the end he will say, What is it?

27 Weep for the dead, for light hath failed him; And weep for a fool, for understanding hath failed him: Weep more sweetly for the dead, because he hath found rest; But the life of the fool is worse than death.

28 Seven days are the days of mourning for the dead; But for a fool and an ungodly man, all the days of his life.

29 Talk not much with a foolish man, And go not to one that hath no understanding: Beware of him, lest thou have trouble; And so thou shalt not be defiled in his onslaught: Turn aside from him, and thou shalt find rest; And so thou shalt not be wearied in his madness.

What shall be heavier than lead?

And what is the name thereof, but a fool?
15 Sand, and salt, and a mass of iron, is easier to bear,
Than a man without understanding.

16 Timber girl and bound into a building shall not be loosed with shaking:
So a heart established in due season on well advised counsel shall not be afraid.

17 A heart settled upon a thoughtful understanding
Is as an ornament of plaister on a polished wall.

18 Pales set on a high place will not stand against the wind:
So a fearful heart in the imagination of a fool will not stand against any fear.

19 He that pricketh the eye will make tears to fall;
And he that pricketh the heart maketh it to shew feeling.

20 Whoso casteth a stone at birds * frayeth them away;
And he that upbraidth a friend will dissolve friendship.

21 If thou hast drawn a sword against a friend, despair not;
For there may be a returning.

22 If thou hast opened thy mouth against a friend, fear not;
For there may be a reconciling;
Except it be for upbraiding, and arrogance, and disclosing of a secret, and a treacherous blow:
For these things every friend will flee.

23 Gain trust with thy neighbour in his poverty,
That in his prosperity thou mayest have gladness:

24 Abide steadfast unto him in the time of his affliction,
That thou mayest be heir with him in his inheritance.¹

25 Before fire is the vapour and smoke of a furnace;
So revellings before bloodshed.

26 I will not be ashamed to shelter a friend;
And I will not hide myself from his face:

27 And if any evil happen unto me because of him,
Every one that heareth it will beware of him.

28 Who shall set a watch over my mouth,
And a seal of shrewdness upon my lips,
That I fall not from it, and that my tongue destroy me not?

Remember thy father and thy mother; for thou sittest in the midst of great men; that thou be not forgetful before them, and become a fool by thy custom; so shalt thou wish that thou hadst not been born, and curse the day of thy nativity.

A man that is accustomed to words of reproach will not be corrected all the days of his life.

Two sorts of men multiply sins, and the third will bring wrath. A hot mind, as a burning fire, will not be quenched till it be consumed: a fornicator in the body of his flesh will never cease till he hath burned out the fire.

Saying in his heart, Who seeth me? Darkness is round about me, and the walls hide me, and no man seeth me; of whom am I afraid? The Most High will not remember my sins; and the eyes of men are his terror. And whosoever not that the eyes of the Lord are ten thousand times brighter than the sun, beholding all the ways of men, and looking into secret places.

All things were known unto him or ever they were created; and in like manner also after they were perfected.

This man shall be punished in the streets of the city; and where he suspected not he shall be taken.

So also a wife that leaveth her husband, and bringeth in an heir by a stranger. For first, she was disobedient in the law of the Most High; and secondly, she trespassed against her own husband; and thirdly, she played the adulteress in whoredom. And brought in children by a stranger.

She shall be brought out into the congregation; and upon her children shall there be visitation.

Her children shall not spread into roots, and her branches shall bear no fruit. She shall leave her memory for a curse; and her reproach shall not be blotted out.

And they that are left behind shall know that there is nothing better than the fear of the Lord, and nothing sweeter than to take heed unto the commandments of the Lord.

Wisdom shall praise herself, and shall glory in the midst of her people.

In the congregation of the Most High she shall open her mouth, and glory in the presence of his power.

I came forth from the mouth of the Most High, and covered the earth as a mist.

Alone I compassed the circuit of heaven, and walked in the depth of the abyss.

In the waves of the sea, and in all the earth, and in every people and nation, I got a possession.

With all these I sought rest; and in whose inheritance shall I lodge?

Then the Creator of all things gave me a commandment; and he that created me made my tabernacle to rest, and said, Let thy tabernacle be in Jacob, and thine inheritance in Israel.

He created me from the beginning before the world; and to the end I shall not fail.

In the holy tabernacle I ministered before him; and so was I established in Sion.

In the beloved city likewise he gave me rest; and in Jerusalem was my authority. And I took root in a people that was glorified, even in the portion of the Lord's own inheritance.

I was exalted like a cedar in Lebanon, and as a cypress tree on the mountains of Hermon.

I was exalted like a palm tree on the sea shore, and as rose plants in Jericho, and as a fair olive tree in the plain; and I was exalted as a plane tree.

As cinnamon and aspalthus, I have given a scent of perfumes; and as choice myrrh, I spread abroad a pleasant odour; as galbanum, and onyx, and stacte, and as the fume of frankincense in the tabernacle.
25 In three things I was beautified, and stood up beautiful before the Lord and men: the concord of brethren, and friendship of neighbours, and a woman and her husband that walk together in agreement.

And three sorts of men my soul hated, and I am greatly offended at their life: a poor man that is haughty, and a rich man that is a liar, and an old man that is an adulterer lacking understanding.

In thy youth thou hast not gathered, and how abundant thou findest in the old age?

How beautiful a thing is judgment for gray hairs, and for elders to know counsel!

How beautiful is the wisdom of old men, and thought and counsel to men that are in honour!

Much experience is the crown of old men; and their glorying is the fear of the Lord.

There be nine things that I have thought of, and in mine heart counted happr; and the tenth I will utter with my tongue:

A man that hath joy of his children; a man that liveth and looketh upon the fall of his enemies;

Happy is he that dwelleth with a wife of understanding; and he that hath not slipped with his tongue; and he that hath not served a man that is unworthy of him;

Happy is he that hath found prudence; and he that discourseth in the ears of them that listen.

How great is he that hath found wisdom! Yet is there none above him that feareth the Lord.

The fear of the Lord passeth all things: He that holdeth it, to whom shall he be likened?

Give me any plague but the plague of the heart; and any wickedness but the wickedness of a woman;

Any calamity, but a calamity from them that hate me; and any vengeance, but the vengeance of enemies.

All these things are the book of the covenant of the Most High God, Even the law which Moses commanded us for a heritage unto the assemblies of Jacob.

It is he that maketh wisdom abundant, as *Pishon, And as *Tigris in the days of new fruits;

That maketh understanding fail as *Euphrates, And as *Jordan in the days of harvest;

That maketh instruction to shine forth as the light, As *Gihon in the days of vintage.

The first man knew her not perfectly; And in like manner the last hath not traced her out.

For her thoughts are filled from the sea, And her counsels from the great deep.

And I came out as a *stream from a river, And as a conduit into a garden.

I said, I will water my garden, And will water abundantly my garden beds; And, lo, *my stream became a river, And my river became a sea.

I will yet bring instruction to light as the morning, And will make these things to shine forth afar off.

I will yet pour out doctrine as prophecy, And leave it unto generations of years.

Behold that I have not laboured for myself only, But for all them that diligently seek her.

15 There is no head above the head of a serpent; And there is no wrath above the wrath of an enemy.
16 J[1] will rather dwell with a lion and a dragon, Than keep house with a wicked woman.
17 The wickedness of a woman changeth her look, And darkeneth her countenance as a bear doth hold.
18 Her husband shall sit at meat among his neighbours, And when he heareth it he sighest bitterly.
19 All malice is but little to the malice of a woman: Let the portion of a sinner fall on her.
20 As the going up a sandy way is to the feet of the aged, So is a wife full of words to a quiet man.
21 Throw not thyself upon the beauty of a woman; And desire not a woman for her beauty.
22 There is anger, and impudence, and great reproach, If a woman maintain her husband.
23 A wicked woman is abasement of heart, And sadness of countenance, and a wounded heart: A woman that will not make her husband happy
In as hands that hang down, and palpied knees.
24 From a woman was the beginning of sin; And because of her we all die.
25 Give not water an outlet; Neither to a wicked woman freedom of speech.
26 If she go not as thou wouldest have her, Cut her off from thy flesh.
27 Happy is the husband of a good wife; And the number of his days shall be twofold.
28 A brave woman rejoiceth her husband; And he shall fulfil his years in peace.
29 A good wife is a good portion: She shall be given in the portion of such as fear the Lord.
30 Whether a man be rich or poor, A good heart maketh at all times a cheerful countenance.
31 Of three things my heart was afraid; And concerning the fourth kind I made supplication:

The slander of a city, and the assembly of a multitude, and a false accusation:
All these are more grievous than death.
6 A grief of heart and sorrow is a woman that is jealous of another woman, And the scourge of a tongue communicating to all.
7 A wicked woman is as a yoke of oxen shaken to and fro: He that taketh hold of her is as one that graspeth a scorpion.
8 A drunken woman causeth great wrath; And she will not cover her own shame.
9 The whoredom of a woman is in the lifting up of her eyes; And it shall be known by her eyes lifting up.
10 Look well after an impudent eye; And marvel not if it trespass against thee.
11 She will open her mouth, as a thirsty traveller, And drink of every water that is near: At every post will she sit down, And open her quiver against any arrow.
12 The grace of a wife will delight her husband; And her knowledge will fatten his bones.
13 A silent woman is a gift of the Lord; And there is nothing so much worth as a well-instructed soul.
14 A shamefast woman is grace upon grace; And there is no price worthy of a continent soul.
15 As the sun when it ariseth in the highest places of the Lord, So is the beauty of a good wife in the ordering of a man's house.
16 As the lamp that shineth upon the holy candlestick, So is the beauty of the face in ripe age.
17 As the golden pillars are upon a base of silver, So are beautiful feet with the breasts of one that is steadfast.
18 For two things my heart is grieved; And for the third anger cometh upon me: A man of war that suffereth for poverty;

CHAP. 28, V. 2. ECCLESIASTICUS. [CHAP. 29, V. 6.

Mark 11. 23.

Forgive thy neighbour the hurt he hath done thee; And then thy sins shall be pardoned when thou prayest.

3 Man cherisheth anger against man; And doth he seek healing from the Lord?

4 Upon a man like himself he hath no mercy; And doth he make supplication for his own sins?

5 He being himself flesh nourisheth wrath: Who shall make atonement for his sins?

6 Remember thy last end, and cease from enmity; Remember corruption and death, and abide in the commandments.

7 Remember the commandments, and be not wroth with thy neighbour; And remember the covenant of the Highest, and wink at ignorance.

8 Abstain from strife, and thou shalt diminish thy sins: For a passionate man will kindle strife;

9 And a man that is a sinner will trouble friends, And will make debate among them that be at peace.

10 As is the fuel of the fire, so will it burn; And as the stoutness of the strife is, so will it burn:

11 As is the strength of the man, so will his wrath; And as is his wealth, so will he exalt his anger.

12 A contention begun in haste kindleth a fire; And a hasty fighting sheddeth blood.

13 If thou blow a spark, it shall burn; And if thou spit upon it, it shall be quenched:

14 A third person's tongue hath shaken many, And dispersed them from nation to nation;

15 A third person's tongue hath cast out brave women.

16 He that hearkeneth unto it shall not find rest, Nor shall he dwell quietly.

17 The stroke of a whip maketh a mark in the flesh;

But the stroke of a tongue will break bones.

18 Many have fallen by the edge of the sword:

19 Yet not so many as they have fallen because of the tongue.

20 Happy is he that is sheltered from it, That hath not passed through the wrath thereof;

21 That hath not drawn its yoke, And hath not been bound with its bands.

22 For the yoke thereof is a yoke of iron.

23 And the bands thereof are bands of brass.

24 The death thereof is an evil death; And Hades were better than it.

25 It shall not have rule over godly men;

26 And they shall not be burned in its flame.

27 They that forsake the Lord shall fall into it;

28 And it shall burn among them, and shall not be quenched:

29 It shall be sent forth upon them as a lion; And as a leopard it shall destroy them.

30 Look that thou hedge thy possession about with thorns; Bind up thy silver and thy gold;

31 And make a balance and a weight for thy words;

32 Take heed lest thou slip therein; Lest thou fall before one that lieth in wait.

33 He that sheweth mercy will lend unto his neighbour;

34 And he that strengtheneth him with his hand keepeth the commandments.

35 Lend to thy neighbour in time of his need;

36 And pay thou thy neighbour again in due season.

37 Confirm thy word, and keep faith with him;

38 And at all seasons thou shalt find what thou needest.

39 Many have reckoned a loan as a windfall,

40 And have given trouble to those that helped them.

41 Till he hath received, he will kiss a man's hands;

42 And for his neighbour's money he will speak submissively;

43 And when payment is due, he will prolong the time,

44 And return words of heaviness, and complain of the times.

45 If he prevail, he shall hardly receive the half;

1 The order of the lines in this verse is uncertain. 2 Gr. the season.
And he will count it as a windfall:
If not, he hath deprived him of his money,
And he hath gotten him for an enemy without cause:
He will pay him with cursings and railings;
And for honour he will pay him disgrace.

1 Many on account of men's ill-dealing have turned away;
They have feared to be defrauded for nought.

Howbeit with a man in poor estate be longsuffering;
And let him not wait for thine alms.
Help a poor man for the commandment's sake;
And according to his need send him not empty away.
Lose thy money for a brother and a friend;
And let it not rust under the stone to be lost.

Bestow thy treasure according to the commandments of the Most High;
And it shall profit thee more than gold.
Shut up alms in thy store-chambers;
And it shall deliver thee out of all affliction:
It shall fight for thee against thine enemy
Better than a mighty shield and a ponderous spear.

A good man will be surety for his neighbour;
And he that hath lost shame will fail him.
Forget not the good offices of thy surety;
For he hath given his life for thee.
A sinner will overthrow the good estate of his surety;
And he that is of an unthankful mind will fail him that delivered him.
Sureship hath undone many that were prospering,
And shaken them as a wave of the sea:
Mighty men hath it driven from their homes;
And they wandered among strange nations.
A sinner that falleth into sureship,
And undertaketh contracts for work,
shall fall into lawsuits.
Help thy neighbour according to thy power,
And take heed to thyself that thou fall not to the same.

The chief thing for life is water,
And bread, and a garment, and a house to cover shame.

Better is the life of a poor man under a shelter of logs,
Than sumptuous fare in another man's house.
With little or with much, be well satisfied.
It is a miserable life to go from house to house:
And where thou art a sojourner, thou shalt not dare to open thy mouth.
Thou shalt entertain, and give to drink, and have no thanks:
And besides this thou shalt hear bitter words.
Come hither, thou sojourner, furnish a table,
And if thou hast aught in thy hand, feed me with it.
Go forth, thou sojourner, from the face of honour;
My brother is come to be my guest;
I have need of my house.
These things are grievous to a man of understanding:
The upbraiding of house-room, and the reproaching of the money-lender.

He that loveth his son will continue to lay stripes upon him,
That he may have joy of him in the end.
He that chastiseth his son shall have profit of him,
And shall glory of him among his acquaintance.
He that teacheth his son shall provoke his enemy to jealousy;
And before friends he shall rejoice of him.
His father dieth, and is as though he had not died;
For he hath left one behind him like himself.
In his life, he saw and rejoiced in himself.
And when he died, he sorrowed not:
He left behind him an avenger against his enemies,
And one to requite kindness to his friends.
He that maketh too much of his son shall bind up his wounds;
And his heart will be troubled at every cry.
An unbroken horse becometh stubborn;
And a son left at large becometh headstrong.
Cocker thy child, and he shall make thee afraid:
Play with him, and he will grieve thee.
Laugh not with him, lest thou have sorrow with him;
And thou shalt gnash thy teeth in the end.
11 Give him no liberty in his youth, And wink not at his follies.
12 Bow down his neck in his youth, And beat him on the sides while he is a child,
Lest he wax stubborn, and be disobedient unto thee;
And there shall be sorrow to thy soul.
13 Chastise thy son, and take pains with him,
Lest his shameless behaviour be an offence unto thee.
14 Better is a poor man, being sound and strong of constitution,
Than a rich man that is plagued in his body.
15 Health and a good constitution are better than all gold;
And a strong body than wealth without measure.
16 There is no riches better than health of body;
And there is no gladness above the joy of the heart.
17 Death is better than a bitter life, And eternal rest than a continual sickness.
18 Good things poured out upon a mouth that is closed
And messes of meat laid upon a grave.
19 What doth an offering profit an idol? For neither shall it "eat nor "smell: So is he that is afflicted of the Lord, Seeing with his eyes and groaning, As an eunuch embracing a virgin and groaning.
20 Give not over thy soul to sorrow;
And afflicts not thyself in thine own counsel.
21 Gladness of heart is the life of a man;
And the joyfulness of a man is length of days.
22 Love thine own soul, and comfort thy heart:
And remove sorrow far from thee;
For sorrow hath destroyed many, And there is no profit therein.
23 Envy and wrath shorten a man's days;
And care bringeth old age before the time.
24 A cheerful and good heart
Will have a care of his meat and diet.
25 Wakefulness that cometh of riches consumeth the flesh,
And the anxiety thereof puttheth away sleep.
Wakeful anxiety will crave slumber;
And in a sore disease sleep will be broken.

31 2 A rich man goeth in gathering money together;
And "when he resteth, he is filled with his good things.
4 A poor man goeth in lack of substance;
And when he resteth, he becometh needy.
5 He that loveth gold "shall not be justified;
And he that followeth destruction shall himself have his fill of it.
6 Many have been given over to ruin for the sake of gold;
And their perdition meeteth them face to face.
7 It is a stumblingblock unto them that sacrifice unto it;
And every fool shall be taken therewith.
8 Blessed is the rich that is found without blemish,
And he that goeth not after gold.
9 Who is he? and we will call him blessed: For wonderful things hath he done among his people.
10 Who hath been tried thereby, and found perfect? Then let him glory.
Who had the power to transgress, and hath not transgressed? And to do evil, and hath not done it?
11 His goods shall be made sure, And "the congregation shall declare his alms.
12 Sittest thou at a great table? If be not greedy upon it,
And say not, Many are the things upon it.
13 Remember that an evil eye is a wicked thing: What hath been created more evil than an eye? Therefore it sheddeth tears from every face.
14 Stretch not thine hand whithersoever it looketh,
And thrust not thyself with it into the dish.
15 Consider thy neighbour's liking by thine own;
And be discreet in every point.
16 Let, as becometh a man, those things which are set before thee;
And let not greedily, lest thou be hated.
17 Be first to leave off for manners' sake;
And be not insatiable, lest thou offend.
18 And if thou sittest among many,
Reach not out thy hand before them.
19 How sufficient to a well-mannered man is a very little,
And he doth not breathe hard upon his bost.

ECCLESIASTICUS.

5. Speak, thou that art the elder, for it becometh thee, but with sound knowledge; And hinder not counsel.
4. Pour not out talk where there is a performance of music.
And display not thy wisdom out of season.
5. As a signet of carbuncle in a setting of gold,
So is a concert of music in a banquet of wine.
6. As a signet of emerald in a work of gold.
So is a strain of music with pleasant wine.

6. Speak, young man, if there be need of thee;
Yet scarcely if thou be twice asked.

7. Sum up thy speech, many things in few words; Be as one that knoweth and yet holdeth his tongue.

8. If thou be among great men, be not holden his tongue; And when another is speaking, make not much babbling.

Before thunder speedeth lightning;
And before a shamefast man favour shall go forth.

Rise up betimes, and be not the last:
Wine is as good as life to men.
Get thee home quickly and loiternot:
What life is there to a man that is without wine?

And it hath been created to make men glad.

Wine drunk hugely is bitterness of soul,
With provocation and conflict.

Drunkenness increaseth the rage of a fool unto his heart;
It diminisheth strength, and addeth wounds.

Rebuke not thy neighbour at a banquet of wine,
Neither set him at nought in his mirth:
Speak not unto him a word of reproach,
And press not upon him by asking back a debt.

Have they made thee a ruler of a feast?
Be not lifted up,
Be thou among them as one of them;
Take thought for them, and so sit down.
And when thou hast done all thy office, take thy place,
That thou mayest be gladdened on their account.
And receive a crown for thy well ordering.

1 Gr. without stumblingblocks.
And beware of thine own children.

In every work trust thine own soul; For this is the keeping of the commandments.

He that believeth the law giveth heed to the commandment; And he that trusteth in the Lord shall suffer no loss.

There shall no evil happen unto him that feareth the Lord; But in temptation once and again will he deliver him.

A wise man will not hate the law; But he that is a hypocrite therein as a ship in a storm.

A man of understanding will put his trust in the law; And the law is faithful unto him, as when one asketh at the oracle.

Prepare thy speech, and so shalt thou be heard; Bind up instruction, and make thine answer.

The heart of a fool is as a cart-wheel; And his thoughts like a rolling axle-tree.

A stallion horse is as a mocking friend; He neigheth under every one that sitteth upon him.

Why doth one day excel another, When all the light of every day in the year is of the sun?

By the knowledge of the Lord they were distinguished; And the varied seasons and feasts:

Some of them he exalted and shal lowed, And some of them hath he made ordinary days.

And all men are from the ground, And Adam was created of earth.

In the abundance of his knowledge the Lord distinguished them, And made their ways various:

Some of them he blessed and exalted, And some of them he hallowed and brought nigh to himself:

And all men are from the ground, And all his ways are according to his good pleasure; So men are in the hand of him that made them, To render unto them according to his judgement.

Good is set over against evil, And life over against death: So is the sinner over against the godly.

And thus look upon all the works of the Most High; Two and two, one against another.

And I awaked up last, As one that gleaneth after the grape-gatherers: By the blessing of the Lord I got before them, And filled my winepress as one that gathereth grapes.

Consider that I laboured not for myself alone, But for all them that seek instruction.

Hear me, ye great men of the people, And hearken with your ears, ye rulers of the congregation.

To son and wife, to brother and friend, Give not power over thee while thou livest; And give not thy goods to another, Lost thou repent and make supplication for them again.

Whilst thou yet livest, and breath is in thee, Give not thyself over to anybody. For better it is that thy children should supplicate thee, Than that thou shouldst look to the hand of thy sons.

In all thy works keep the upper hand; Bring not a stain on thine honour.

In the day that thou endest the days of thy life, And in the time of death, distribute thine inheritance.

Fodder, a stick, and burdens, for an ass; Bread, and discipline, and work, for a servant.

Set thy servant to work, and thou shalt find rest: Leave his hands idle, and he will seek liberty.

Yoke and thong will bow the neck: And for an evil servant there are racks and tortures.

Send him to labour, that he be not idle; For idleness teacheth much mischief.

Set him to work, as is fit for him; And if he obey not, make his fettors heavy.

And be not excessive toward any; And without judgement do nothing.

If thou hast a servant, let him be as thyself, Because thou hast bought him with blood.

A line of this verse is here omitted by the best authorities.
31 If thou hast a servant, treat him as thyself; for as thine own soul wilt thou have need of him: If thou treat him ill, and he depart and run away, Which way wilt thou go to seek him?

32 Vain and false hopes are for a man void of understanding: And dreams give wings to fools.

33 The vision of dreams is as this thing against that; the likeness of a face over against a face.

34 Of an unclean thing what shall be cleansed? And of that which is false what shall be true?

35 Divinations, and soothsayings, and dreams, are vain: And the heart fantasieth, as a woman’s is travail.

36 If they be not sent from the Most High in thy visitation, Give not thy heart unto them.

37 In dreams he have led many astray: And they have failed by putting their hope in them.

38 Without lying shall the law be accomplished; And wisdom is perfection to a faithful mouth.

39 A well-instructed man knoweth many things; And he that hath much experience will declare understanding.

40 He that hath no experience knoweth few things: But he that hath wandered shall increase his skill.

41 In my wandering I have seen many things; And more than my words is my understanding.

42 Ofttimes was I in danger even unto death; And I was preserved because of these things.

43 The spirit of those that fear the Lord shall live; For their hope is upon him that saveth them.

44 Whose fear the Lord shall not be afraid, and shall not play the coward; For aile is his hope.

45 Blessed is the soul of him that feareth the Lord: To whom doth he give heed? and who is his stay?

46 The eyes of the Lord are upon them that love him,

47 A mighty protection and strong stay, A cover from the hot blast, and a cover from the noonday, 48 A guard from stumbling, and a succour from falling.

49 He raiseth up the soul, and enlighteneth the eyes: He giveth healing, life, and blessing.

50 He that sacrificeth of a thing wrongfully gotten, his offering is made in mockery; And the mockeries of wicked men are not well-pleasing.

51 The Most High hath no pleasure in the offerings of the ungodly;

52 Neither is he pacified for sins by the multitude of sacrifices.

53 As one that killeth the son before his father’s eyes Let he that bringeth a sacrifice from the goods of the poor:

54 The bread of the needy is the life of the poor: He that depriveth him thereof is a man of blood.

55 As one that slayeth his neighbour is he that taketh away his living; And he that giveth alms sacrificeth a thank-offering.

56 He that washeth himself after touching a dead body, and to achieth it again, What profit hath he in his washing?

57 Even so a man fasting for bis sins. And going again, and doing the same; Who will listen to his prayer? And what profit hath he in his humiliation?

58 He that keepeth the law multiplieth offerings; He that taketh heed to the commandments sacrificeth a peace offering.

59 He that requiteth a good turn offereth fine flour; And he that giveth alms sacrificeth a thank offering.

60 To depart from wickedness is a thing pleasing to the Lord; And to depart from unrighteousness is a purification.

61 For all these things are to be done because of the commandment.

62 The offering of the righteous maketh the altar fat; And the sweet savour thereof is before the Most High.
Chap. 35, v. 7.

ECCELSIASTICUS.

Chap. 36, v. 17.

The sacrifice of a righteous man is acceptable; and the memorial thereof shall not be forgotten. Glorify the Lord with a good eye, and stip not the firstfruits of thine hands. In every gift shew a cheerful countenance; and dedicate thy tithes with gladness.

Give unto the Most High according as he hath given; and as thy hand hath found, give with a good eye. For the Lord recompeneth, and he will recompense thee sevenfold.

Think not to corrupt with gifts; for he will not receive them: and set not thy mind on an unrighteous sacrifice; for the Lord is judge, and with him is no respect of persons. He will not accept any person against a poor man; and he will listen to the prayer of him that is wronged. He that serveth God according to his good pleasure shall be accepted, and his supplication shall reach unto the clouds.

The prayer of the humble pierceth the clouds; and till it come nigh, he will not be comforted; and he will not depart, till the Most High shall visit; and he shall judge righteously, and execute judgement.

And the Lord will not be slack, neither will he be longsuffering toward them, till he have smashed the loins of the unmerciful; and he shall repay vengeance to the heathen; till he have taken away the multitude of the haughty, and broken in pieces the sceptres of the unrighteous; till he have rendered to every man according to his doings, and to the works of men according to their devices; till he have judged the cause of his people; and he shall make them to rejoice in his mercy.

Mercy is seasonable in the time of his afflicting them, as clouds of rain in the time of drought.

Have mercy upon us, O Lord the God of all, and behold; and send thy fear upon all the nations: and let them see thy mighty power. As thou wast sanctified in us before them, so be thou magnified in them before us.

And let them know thee, as we also have known thee, That there is no God but only thou, O God. Shew new signs, and work divers wonders; Glorify thy hand and thy right arm. Raise up indignation, and pour out wrath; Take away the adversary, and destroy the enemy.

Hasten the time, and remember the oath; and let them declare thy mighty works. Let him that escapeth be devourcd by the rage of fire; and may they that harm thy people find destruction.

Crush the heads of the rulers of the enemies, That say, There is none but we. Gather all the tribes of Jacob together, and take them for thine inheritance, as from the beginning. O Lord, have mercy upon the people that is called by thy name, and upon Israel, whom thou didst liken unto a firstborn.

Have compassion upon the city of thy sanctuary, Jerusalem, the place of thy rest. Fill Sion; exalt thine oracles, and fill thy people with thy glory. Give testimony unto those that were thy creatures in the beginning, and raise up the prophecies that have been in thine name.

Give reward unto them that wait for thee: and men shall put their trust in thy prophets.

Hearken, O Lord, to the prayer of thy suppliants, according to the blessing of Aaron concerning thy people; and all they that are on the earth shall know

1 Gr. if. 2 Some ancient authorities read for the righteous. 3 The remainder of this verse is omitted by the best authorities. 4 The ancient authorities read I took them for mine inheritance: but the Greek text is here very confused.

109
That thou art the Lord, the eternal God.

18 The belly will eat any meat; Yet is one meat better than another.
19 The mouth tasteth meats taken in hunting; So doth an understanding heart false speeches.

20 A froward heart will cause heaviness: And a man of experience will compensate him.
21 A woman will receive any man; But one daughter is better than another.
22 The beauty of a woman cheereth the countenance; And a man desireth nothing so much.

23 If there is on her tongue mercy and meekness, Her husband is not like the sons of men.
24 He that getteth a wife entereth upon a possession; A help meet for him, and a pillar of rest.

25 Where no hedge is, the possession will be laid waste: And he that hath no wife will mourn as he wandereth up and down.

26 For who will trust a nimble robber, that skippest from city to city? Even so who shall trust a man that hath no nest, and lodgeth where heover he findeth himself at nightfall?

37 Every friend will say, I also am his friend: But there is a friend, which is only a friend in name.

3 Is there not a grief in it even unto death, When a companion and friend is turned to enmity?
3 O wicked imagination, whence cometh thou rolling in To cover the dry land with deceitfulness?
4 There is a companion, which rejoiceth in the gladness of a friend, But in time of affliction will be against him.
5 There is a companion, which for the belly's sake laboreth with his friend. In the face of battle will take up the buckler.

6 Forget not a friend in thy soul; And be not unmindful of him in thy riches.

7 Every counsellor extolleth counsel; But there is that counselleth for himself.
8 Let thy soul beware of a counsellor, And know thou before what is his interest

(For he will take counsel for himself);
Lost he A cast the lot upon thee, And B say unto thee, Thy way is good:
And he will stand over against thee, to see what shall befall thee.

10 Take not counsel with one that looketh askance at thee; And hide thy counsel from such as are jealous of thee.

11 Take not counsel with a woman about her rival; Neither with a coward about war;
Nor with a merchant about exchange;
Nor with a buyer about selling; Nor with an envious man about thankfulness;
Nor with an unmerciful man about kindliness;
Nor with a sluggard about any business: Give not heed to these in any matter of counsel.

12 But rather be continually with a godly man, Whom thou shalt have known to be a keeper of the commandments, Who in his soul is as thine own soul, And who will grieve with thee, if thou shalt miscarry.

13 And make the counsel of thy heart to stand; For there is none more faithful unto thee than it.

14 For a man's soul is sometime wont to bring him tidings, More than seven watchmen that sit on high on a watch-tower.

15 And above all this intreat the Most High, That he may direct thy way in truth.

16 Let reason be the beginning of every work, And let counsel go before every action.
17 As a token of the changing of the heart,
18 four manners of things do rise up, Good and evil, life and death; And that which ruleth over them continually is the tongue.

19 There is one that is shrewd and the instructor of many, And yet is unprofitable to his own soul.

20 There is one that is subtle in words, and is hated; He shall be destitute of all food:
21 For grace was not given him from the Lord; Because he is deprived of all wisdom.

22 There is one that is wise to his own soul: And the fruits of his understanding are trusteworthy in the month.
23. "A wise man will instruct his own people; And the fruits of his understanding are trustworthy.
24. A wise man shall be filled with blessings; And all they that see him shall call him happy.
25. "The life of man is numbered by days; And the days of Israel are immeasurable.
26. The wise man shall inherit confidence among his people, And his name shall live for ever.
27. My son, prove thy soul in thy life, And see what is evil for it, and give not that unto it.
28. For all things are not profitable for all men, Neither hath every soul pleasure in every thing.
29. "Be not insatiable in any luxury, And be not greedy on the things that thou eatest.
30. "For a multitude of meats there shall be disease, And surfeiting shall come nigh unto colic.
31. Because of surfeiting have many perished; But he that taketh heed shall prolong his life.
32. Honour a physician according to thy need of him, with the honours due unto him: For verily the Lord hath created him.
33. For from the Most High cometh healing; And from the king he shall receive a gift.
34. The skill of the physician shall lift up his head; And in the sight of great men he shall be admired.
35. The Lord created medicines out of the earth; And a prudent man will have no disgust at them.
36. Was not water made sweet with wood, That the virtue thereof might be known?
37. And he gave men skill, That they might be glorified in his marvellous works.
38. With them doth he heal a man, And taketh away his pain.
39. With these will the apothecary make a confection; And his works shall not be brought to an end; And from him is peace upon the face of the earth.

9. My son, in thy sickness be not negligent; But pray unto the Lord, and he shall heal thee.
10. Put away wrong doing, and order thine hands aright, And cleanse thy heart from all manner of sin.
11. Give a sweet savour, and a memorial of fine flour; And make fat thine offering, as one that is not.
12. Then give place to the physician, for verily the Lord hath created him; And let him not go from thee, for thou hast need of him.
13. There is a time when in their very hands is the issue for good.
14. For they also shall beseech the Lord, That he may prosper them in giving relief and in healing for the maintenance of life.
15. He that sinneth before his Maker, Let him fall into the hands of the physician.
16. "My son, let thy tears fall over the dead, And as one that suffereth grievously begin lamentation;
17. And wind up his body according to his due, And neglect not his burial.
18. "Make bitter weeping, and make passionate wailing, And let thy mourning be according to his desert, For one day or two, lest thou be evil spoken of: And so be comforted for thy sorrow.
19. For of sorrow cometh death, And sorrow of heart will bow down the strength.
20. In calamity sorrow also remaineth: And the poor man's life is grievous to the heart.
21. Give not thy heart unto sorrow: Put it away, remembering the last end:
22. Forget it not, for there is no returning again: Him thou shalt not profit, and thou wilt hurt thyself.
23. Remember the sentence upon him; for so shall also thine be: Yesterday for me, and to-day for thee.
24. When the dead is at rest, let his remembrance rest; And be comforted for him, when his spirit departeth from him.
25. The wisdom of the scribe cometh by opportunity of leisure; And he that hath little business shall become wise.
26. How shall he become wise that holdeth the plough, That glorifieth in the shaft of the goad,
That driveth oxen, and is occupied in their labours,
And whose discourse is of the stock of bulls?
26 He will set his heart upon turning his furrows;
And his wakefulness is to give his heifers their fodder.
27 So is every artificer and workmaster,
That passeth his time by night as by day;
They that cut gravings of signets,
And his diligence is to make great variety;
He will set his heart to preserve likeness in his portraiture,
And will be wakeful to finish his work.
28 So is the smith sitting by the anvil,
And considering the unwarred iron:
The vapour of the fire will waste his flesh;
And in the heat of the furnace will he wrestle with his work:
The noise of the hammer will be ever in his ear,
And his eyes are upon the pattern of the vessel;
He will set his heart upon perfecting his works,
And he will be wakeful to adorn them perfectly.
29 So is the potter sitting at his work,
And turning the wheel about with his feet,
Who is always anxiously set at his work,
And all his handywork is by number;
30 He will fashion the clay with his arm,
And will bend its strength in front of his feet;
He will apply his heart to finish the glazing;
And he will be wakeful to make clean the furnace.
31 All these put their trust in their hands;
And each becometh wise in his own work.
32 Without these shall not a city be inhabited,
And men shall not sojourn nor walk up and down therein.
33 They shall be sought for in the council of the people,
And in the assembly they shall not mount on high;
They shall not sit on the seat of the judge,
And they shall not understand the covenant of judgement:
Neither shall they declare instruction and judgement;
And where parables are they shall not be found.
34 But they will maintain the fabric of the world;
And in the handywork of their craft is their prayer.
39 x Not so he that hath applied his soul,
And meditated in the law of the Most High;
He will seek out the wisdom of all the ancients,
And will be occupied in prophecies.

Hearken unto me, ye holy children, and bud forth as a rose growing by a brook of water:

And give ye a sweet savour as frankincense, and put forth flowers as a lily, spread abroad a sweet smell, and sing a song of praise;

Bless ye the Lord for all his works.

Magnify his name, and give utterance to his praise with the songs of your lips, and with harps; and thus shall ye say when ye utter his praise:

All the works of the Lord are exceeding good, and every command shall be accomplished in his season.

None can say, What is this? wherefore is that? For in his season they shall all be sought out. At his word the waters stood as a harp, and the receptacles of waters at the word of his mouth.

At his command is all his good pleasure done; and there is none that shall hinder his salvation. The works of all flesh are before him; and it is not possible to be hid from his eyes.

He beholdeth from everlasting to everlasting; and there is nothing wonderful before him.

None can say, What is this? wherefore is that? For all things are created for their uses.

His blessing covered the dry land as a river, and saturated it as a flood.

As he hath turned the waters into saltiness; so shall the heathen inherit his wrath.

His ways are plain unto the holy; so are they stumblingblocks unto the wicked.

Good things are created from the beginning for the good; so are evil things for sinners.

The chief of all things necessary for the life of man are water, and fire, and iron, and salt, and flour of wheat, and honey, and milk, the blood of the grape, and oil, and clothing.

All these things are for good to the godly; so to the sinners they shall be turned into evil.

There be winds that are created for vengeance, and in their fury lay on their scourges heavily:

In the time of consumption they pour out their strength, and shall appease the wrath of him that made them.

Fire, and hail, and [famine], and death, all these are created for vengeance:

Teeth of wild beasts, and serpents and adders, and a sword punishing the ungodly unto destruction.

They shall rejoice in his commandment, and shall be made ready upon earth; when need is; and in their seasons they shall not transgress his word.

Therefore from the beginning I was resolved, and I thought this, and left it in writing:

All the works of the Lord are good: and he will supply every need in its season.

And none can say, This is worse than that; for they shall all be well approved in their season.

And now with all your heart and mouth sing ye praises, and bless the name of the Lord.

Great travail is created for every man, and a heavy yoke is upon the sons of Adam, from the day of their coming forth from their mother's womb, until the day for their burial in the mother of all things.

The expectation of things to come, and the day of death, Trouble their thoughts, and cause fear of heart;

From him that sitteth on a throne of glory, even unto him that is humbled in earth and ashes;

From him that weareth purple and a crown, even unto him that is clothed with a hempen frock.

There is wrath, and jealousy, and trouble, and disquiet, and fear of death, and anger, and strife; and in the time of rest upon his bed his night sleep doth change his knowledge.

A little or nothing is his resting; and afterward in his sleep, as in a day of keeping watch,
He is troubled in the vision of his heart, as one that hath escaped from the front of battle. In the very time of his deliverance he awaketh, and marvelleth that the fear is nought.

It is thus with all flesh, from man to beast, and upon sinners sevenfold more. Death, and bloodshed, and strife, and word, calamities, famine, tribulation, and the scourge; all these things were created for the wicked, and because of them came the flood.

All things that are of the earth turn to the earth again: and all things that are of the waters return into the sea.

All bribery and injustice shall be blotted out; and good faith shall stand for ever.

The goods of the unjust shall be dried up like a river, and like a great thunder in rain shall go off in noise.

The children of the ungodly shall not put forth many branches; and are as unclean roots upon a sheer rock.

The sedge that groweth upon every water and bank of a river shall be plucked up before all grass.

Bounty is as a garden of blessings, and almsgiving endureth for ever.

The life of one that laboureth, and is contented, shall be made sweet; and he that findeth a treasure is above both.

Children and the building of a city establish a man’s name; and a blameless wife is counted above both.

Wine and music rejoice the heart; and the love of wisdom is above both.

The pipe and the psaltery make pleasant melody; and a pleasant tongue is above both.

Thine eye shall desire grace and beauty; and above both the green blade of corn.

A friend and a companion never meet amiss; and a wife with her husband is above both.

Brethren and succour are for a time of affliction; and almsgiving is a deliverer above both.

Gold and silver will make the foot stand sure; and counsel is esteemed above them both.

Riches and strength will lift up the heart; and the fear of the Lord is above both.

There is nothing wanting in the fear of the Lord, and there is no need to seek help therein.

The fear of the Lord is as a garden of blessing, and covereth a man above all glory.

My son, lead not a beggar’s life; better it is to die than to beg.

A man that looketh unto the table is more blessed than he that is full of bread.

The goods of the unjust shall be dried up like a river. He will pollute his soul with another man’s meats:

The pipe and the psaltery make pleasant melody; and a pleasant tongue is above both.

And he that findeth a treasure is above both.

Children and the building of a city establish a man’s name; and a blameless wife is counted above both.

Wine and music rejoice the heart; and the love of wisdom is above both.

The pipe and the psaltery make pleasant melody; and a pleasant tongue is above both.

Thine eye shall desire grace and beauty; and above both the green blade of corn.

A friend and a companion never meet amiss; and a wife with her husband is above both.
6 And the inheritance of sinners' children shall perish, And with their posterity shall be a perpetual reproach.
7 Children will complain of an ungodly father, Because they shall be reproached for his sake.
8 Woe unto you, ungodly men, Which have forsaken the law of the Most High God!
9 If ye be born, ye shall be born to a curse; If ye die, a curse shall be your portion.
10 All things that are of the earth shall go back to the earth: So the ungodly shall go from a curse unto perdition.
11 The mourning of men is about their bodies: But the name of sinners being evil shall be blotted out.
12 Have regard to thy name; For it continueth with thee longer than a thousand great treasures of gold.
13 A good life hath its number of days; And a good name continueth for ever.
14 My children, keep instruction in peace:
15 Better is a man that hideth his foolishness Than a man that hideth his wisdom.
16 Wherefore shew reverence to my word:
17 Be ashamed of whoredom before father and mother: And of a lie before a prince and a mighty man;
18 Of an offence before a judge and ruler; Of iniquity before the congregation and the people; Of unjust dealing before a partner and friend;
19 And of theft in regard of the place where thou sojournest, And in regard of the truth of God and his covenant;
20 Of leaming with thine elbow at meat; And of scruality in the matter of giving and taking;
21 And of silence before them that salute thee; And of looking upon a woman that is a harlot;
22 And of turning away thy face from a kinsman;
23 Of taking away a portion or a gift; Of gazing upon a woman that hath a husband;
24 Of being over busy with his maid; And come not near her bed;
25 Of upbraiding speeches before friends;
26 And after thou hast given, upbraid not;
27 Of repeating and speaking what thou hast heard; And of revealing of secrets.

28 Woe unto you, ungodly men, friends; Which have forsaken the law of the Most High, and his covenant; And of judgement to do justice to the ungodly;
29 Of reckoning with a partner and with travellers; And of a gift from the heritage of friends; And of much correction of children; And of exactness of balance and weights; And of indecent selling of merchants; And sure keeping is good, where an evil servant is; And approved in the sight of every man living.

30 Be not ashamed to instruct the unwise and foolish, And one of extreme old age that contendeth with those that are young; And so shalt thou be well instructed indeed, And approved in the sight of every man living.
31 A daughter is a secret cause of wakefulness to a father; And the care for her puttest away sleep; In her youth, lest she pass the flower of her age; And when she is married, lest she should be hated;
32 In her virginity, lest she should be defiled. And be with child in her father's house; And when she hath a husband, lest she should transgress;
And when she is married, lest she should be barren.

11 Keep a strict watch over a headstrong daughter, lest she make thee a laughingstock to thine enemies.

A byword in the city and notorious among the people, and shame thee before the multitude.

12 Look not upon everybody in regard of beauty, and sit not in the midst of women; for from garments cometh a moth, and from a woman a woman's wickedness.

13 Better is the wickedness of a man than a pleasant-dealing woman, and a woman which putteth theeto shameless reproach.

14 I will make mention now of the works of the Lord, and will declare the things that I have seen:

15 In the words of the Lord are his works. The sun that giveth light looketh upon all things; and the work of the Lord is full of his glory.

16 The word hath not given power to the saints to declare all his marvellous works; which the Almighty Lord firmly settled, that whatsoever is might be established in his glory.

17 He searcheth out the deep, and the heart, and he hath understanding of their cunning devices: for the Most High knoweth all knowledge, and he looketh into the signs of the world.

18 Declaring the things that are past, and the things that shall be, and revealing the traces of hidden things.

19 No thought escapeth him; there is not a word hid from him.

20 The mighty works of his wisdom he hath ordered, who is from everlasting to everlasting; nothing hath been added unto them, nor diminished from them; and he had no need of any counsellor.

21 How desirable are all his works! One may behold this even unto a spark.

22 And these things live and remain for ever in all manner of uses, and they are all obedient.

23 All things are double one against another; and he hath made nothing imperfect.

24 One thing establisheth the good things of another: and who shall be filled with beholding his glory?

25 The pride of the height is the firmament in its clearness, The appearance of heaven, in the spectacle of its glory.

26 The sun when he appeareth, bringing tidings as he goeth forth, is a marvellous instrument, the work of the Most High:

27 At his noon he drieth up the country, and who shall stand against his burning heat?

28 A man blowing a furnace is in works of heat, but the sun three times more, burning up the mountains: breathing out fiery vapours, and sending forth bright beams, he dimmeth the eyes.

29 Great is the Lord that made him; and at his word he hasteneth his course.

30 The moon also is in all things for her season, for a declaration of times, and a sign of the world.

31 The beauty of heaven, the glory of the stars, An instrument of the hosts on high, exceeding beautiful in the brightness of its glory.

32 The Arbeit 2. 24.

33 All these things live and remain for ever in all manner of uses, and they are all obedient.

34 All things are double one against another: and he hath made nothing imperfect.

1 Or, a rejoicing. 2 Gr. called forth. 3 Gr. sign. 4 Gr. of clearness. 5 Gr. judgement.
And at his appearing the mountains will be shaken, and at his will the south wind will blow.

The voice of his thunder maketh the earth to tremble; so doth the northern storm and the whirlwind:

As birds flying down he sprinklet with the snow;

And as the lighting of the locust is the falling down thereof:

The eye will marvel at the beauty of its whiteness, and the heart will be astonished at the raining of it.

The hoar frost also he poureth on the earth as salt; and when it is congealed, it is as points of thorns.

The cold north wind shall blow, and the ice shall be congealed on the water: it shall lodge upon every gathering together of water, and the water shall put on as it were a breastplate.

It shall devour the mountains, and burn up the wilderness, and consume the green herb as fire.

A mist coming speedily is the healing of all things; a dew coming after heat shall bring cheerfulness.

By his counsel he hath stilled the deep, and planted islands therein.

They that sail on the sea tell of the danger thereof; and when we hear it with our ears, we marvel.

Therein be also those strange and wondrous works, variety of all that hath life, the race of sea-monsters.

By reason of him his end hath succeeded, and by his word all things consist.

We may say many things, yet shall we not attain; and the sum of our words is, He is all.

How shall we have strength to glorify him? for he is himself the great one above all his works.

The Lord is terrible and exceeding great; and marvellous is his power.

When ye glorify the Lord, exalt him as much as ye can; for even yet will he exceed: and when ye exalt him, put forth your full strength: be not weary; for ye will never attain.

Who hath seen him, that he may declare him? and who shall magnify him as he is?

Many things are hidden greater than these; for we have seen but a few of his works.

For the Lord made all things; and to the godly gave he wisdom.

Let us now praise famous men, and our fathers that begat us.

The Lord manifested in them great glory, even his mighty power from the beginning.

Such as did bear rule in their kingdoms, and were men renowned for their power, giving counsel by their understanding, such as have brought tidings in prophecies:

Leaders of the people by their counsels, and by their understanding men of learning for the people; wise were their words in their instruction:

Such as sought out musical tunes, and set forth verses in writing:

Rich men furnished with ability, living peaceably in their habitations:

All these were honoured in their generations, and were a glory in their days.

There be of them, that have left behind them, to declare their praises.

And some there be, which have no memorial; who are perished as though they had not been,

And are become as though they had not been born; and their children after them.

But these were men of mercy, whose righteous deeds have not been forgotten.

With their seed shall remain continually a good inheritance; their children are within the covenants.

Their seed standeth fast, and their children for their sakes.

Their seed shall remain for ever, and their glory shall not be blotted out.

Their bodies were buried in peace, and their name liveth to all generations.

Peoples will declare their wisdom, and the congregation tell out their praise.
16 "Enoch pleased the Lord, and was translated,
* Being an example of repentance to all generations.

17 "Noah was found perfect and righteous;
* In the season of wrath he was taken in exchange for the world;
* Therefore was there left a remnant unto the earth,
* When the flood came.

18 "Everlasting covenants were made with him,
* That all flesh should no more be blotted out by a flood.

19 "Abraham was a great father of a multitude of nations;
* And there was none found like him in glory;
* Who kept the law of the Most High,
* And was taken into covenant with him:
* In his flesh he established the covenant;
* And when he was proved, he was found faithful.

20 "Therefore he assured him by an oath,
* That the nations should be blessed in his seed;
* That he would multiply him as the dust of the earth,
* And exalt his seed as the stars,
* And cause them to inherit from sea to sea,
* And from the River unto the utmost part of the earth.

21 "In Isaac also did he establish likewise,
* For Abraham his father's sake,
* The blessing of all men, and the covenant:
* And he made it rest upon the head of Jacob;
* He acknowledged him in his blessings,
* And gave to him by inheritance,
* And divided his portions;
* Among twelve tribes did he part them.

22 "And he brought out of him a man of mercy,
* Which found favour in the sight of all flesh;
* A man beloved of God and men,
* Even Moses,
* Whose memorial is blessed.
* He made him like to the glory of the saints,
* And magnified him in the fears of his enemies.
* By his words he caused the wonders to cease;
* He glorified him in the sight of kings;
* He gave him commandment for his people,
* And showed him part of his glory.
* He sanctified him in his faithfulness and meekness;
* He chose him out of all flesh.
* He made him to hear his voice,
* And led him into the thick darkness,
* And gave him commandments to face to face.
* Even the law of life and knowledge,
* That he might teach Jacob the covenant,
* And Israel his judgements.

23 "He exalted Aaron, a holy man like unto him,
* Even his brother, of the tribe of Levi.
* He established for him an everlasting covenant;
* And gave him the priesthood of the people;
* He beautified him with comely ornaments,
* And girded him about with a robe of glory.
* He clothed him with the perfection of exultation;
* And strengthened him with apparel of honour,
* The linen breeches, the long robe, and the ephod.
* And he compassed him with pomegranates of gold,
* And with many bells round about,
* To send forth a sound as he went,
* To make a sound that might be heard in the temple,
* For a memorial to the children of his people;
* With a holy garment, with gold and blue and purple, the work of the embroiderer,
* With an oracle of judgement, Perez with the Urim and Thummim;
* With twisted scarlet, the work of the craftsman;
* With precious stones graven like a signet, in a setting of gold, the work of the jeweller,
* For a memorial engraved in writing, after the number of the tribes of Israel;
* With a crown of gold upon the mitre, having graven on it, as on a signet, HOLINESS,
* An ornament of honour, a work of might,
* The desires of the eyes, goodly and beautiful.
* Before him there never have been any such;
* No stranger put them on, but his sons only, and his offspring perpetually.
* His sacrifices shall be wholly consumed
* Every day twice continually.
* Moses consecrated him,
* The blessing of all men, and the engraving of a signet of holiness.
* Moses filled his hands.
And anointed him with holy oil: It was unto him for an everlasting covenant, And to his seed, all the days of heaven, To minister unto him, and to execute also the priest's office, And bless his people in his name. 16 And he chose him out of all living To offer sacrifice to the Lord, Incense, and a sweet savour, for a memorial, To make reconciliation for thy people. 17 * He gave unto him in his commandments, Yea, authority in the covenants of judgements, 'To teach Jacob the testimonies, And to enlighten Israel in his law. 18 Strangers gathered themselves together against him, And envied him in the wilderness, Even Dathan and Abiram with their company, And the congregation of Korah, with wrath and anger. 19 * The Lord saw it, and it displeased him; And in the wrath of his anger they were destroyed: He did wonders upon them, To consume them with flaming fire. 20 * And he added glory to Aaron, And gave him a heritage: He divided unto him the first fruits of the increase; And first did he prepare bread in abundance: 21 * For they shall eat the sacrifices of the Lord, Which he gave unto him and to his seed. 22 Howbeit in the land of the people he shall have no inheritance, And he hath no portion among the people. For he himself is thy portion and inheritance. 23 And Phinehas the son of Eleazar is the third in glory, In that he was zealous in the fear of the Lord, And stood fast in the good forwardness of his soul when the people turned away, And he made reconciliation for Israel. Therefore was there a covenant of peace established for him, That he should be leader of the saints and of his people; That he and his seed Should have the dignity of the priesthood for ever. 25 * Also he made a covenant with David the son of Jesse, of the tribe of Judah; The inheritance of the king is his alone from son to son; So the inheritance of Aaron is also unto his seed. 26 God give you wisdom in your heart To judge his people in righteousness, That their good things be not abolished, And that their glory endure for all their generations.

10 That all the children of Israel might see That it is good to walk after the Lord.

11 Also the judges, every one by his name,
"All whose hearts went not a whoring,
And who turned not away from the Lord,
May their memorial be blessed.

12 May their bones flourish again out of their place,
And may the name of them that have been honoured be renewed upon their children.

13 Samuel, the prophet of the Lord,
Beloved of his Lord,
Established a kingdom, and anointed princes over his people.

14 By the law of the Lord he judged the congregation,
And the Lord visited Jacob.

15 By his faithfulness he was proved to be a prophet,
And his words he was known to be faithful in vision.

16 Also when his enemies pressed him round about
He called upon the Lord, the Mighty One,
With the offering of the sucking lamb.

17 And the Lord thundered from heaven,
And made his voice to be heard.

18 And he utterly destroyed the rulers of the Tyrians,
And all the princes of the Philistines.

19 Also before the time of his 1long sleep
He made protestations in the sight of the Lord and his anointed,
I have not taken any man's goods, so much as a shoe:
And no man did accuse him.

20 And after he fell asleep he prophesied,
And shewed the king his end,
And lifted up his voice from the earth in prophecy,
To blot out the wickedness of the people.

47 And after him rose up a son, a man of understanding;
And for his sake he dwelt at large.

2 As is the fat when it is separated from the peace offering,
So was David separated from the children of Israel.

3 He played with lions as with kids,
And with bears as with lambs of the flock.

4 In his youth did he not slay a giant,
And take away reproach from the people,
When he lifted up his hand with a sling stone,
And beat down the boasting of Goliath?

5 For he called upon the Most High Lord;
And he gave him strength in his right hand,
To slay a man mighty in war,
To exalt the horn of his people.

6 So they glorified him for his ten thousands,
And praised him for the blessings of the Lord,
In that there was given him a dia-dem of glory.

7 For he destroyed the enemies on every side,
And brought to nought the Philistines his adversaries,
Brake their horn in pieces unto this day.

8 In every work of his he gave thanks to the Holy One Most High with his words of glory;
With his whole heart he sang praise,
And loved him that made him.

9 Also he set singers before the altar,
And to make a sweet melody by their music.

10 He gave comeliness to the feast,
And set in order the seasons to perfection,
While they praised his holy name,
And the sanctuary sounded from early morning.

11 The Lord took away his sins,
And exalted his horn forever.

12 After him rose up a son, a man of understanding;
And for his sake he dwelt at large.

13 Solomon reigned in days of peace;
And to him God gave rest round about,
That he might set up a house for his name,
And prepare a sanctuary for ever.

14 How wise wast thou made in thy youth,
And filled as a river with understanding?

15 Thy soul covered the earth,
And thou filledst it with 24 dark parabies.

16 Thy name reached unto the isles afar off;
And for thy peace thou wast beloved.

17 For thy songs and proverbs and parables,
And for thine interpretations, the countries marvelled at thee.

1 Gr. age-long sleep. 2 The remainder of this verse is omitted by the best authorities.
18 By the name of the Lord God, Which is called the God of Israel, Thou didst gather gold as tin,
And didst multiply silver as lead.
19 Thou didst bow thy loins unto women,
And in thy body thou wast brought into subjection.
Thou didst dangle thine honour,
And profane thy seed.
20 So that the sovereignty was divided,
And out of Ephraim ruled a disobedient kingdom.
But the Lord will never forsake his mercy;
And he will not destroy any of his works,
Nor blot out the posterity of his elect;
And in thy body thou wast brought into subjection.
21 Thou didst bow thy loins unto women,
And gave unto Ephraim a way of sin.
And their sins were multiplied exceedingly,
22 To remove them from their land.
For they sought out all manner of wickedness,
Till vengeance should come upon them.
23 And so rested Solomon with his fathers;
And of his seed he left behind him Rehoboam,
Even the foolishness of the people,
And one that lacked understanding,
Who made the people to revolt by his counsel.
Also Jeroboam the son of Nebat,
Who made Israel to sin,
And gave unto Ephraim a way of sin.
24 And their sins were multiplied exceedingly,
25 To remove them from their land.
For they sought out all manner of wickedness,
Till vengeance should come upon them.
26 Elijah it was, who was wrapped in a tempest:
And Elisha was filled with his spirit;
And in all his days he was not moved by the fear of any ruler,
And no one brought him into subjection.
27 Nothing was too high for him;
And when he was laid on sleep his body prophesied.
28 As in his life he did wonders,
So in death were his works marvelous.
29 For all this the people repented not,
And departed not from their sins,
Till they were carried away as a spoil from their land.
30 And the people was left very few in number,
And a ruler was left in the house of David.
31 Some of them did that which was pleasing to God,
And some multiplied sins.
32 Also there arose Elijah the prophet as fire,
And his word burned like a torch.
2 Who brought a famine upon them,
And by his zeal made them few in number.
3 By the word of the Lord he shut up the heaven:
Thrice did he thus bring down fire.
4 How wast thou glorified, O Elijah, in thy wondrous deeds!
And who shall glory like unto thee?
5 Who did raise up a dead man from death,
And from the place of the dead, by the word of the Most High:
6 Who brought down kings to destruction,
And honourable men from their bed:
7 Who heard rebuke in Sinai,
And judgments of vengeance in Horeb:
8 Who anointed kings for retribution,
And prophets to succeed after him:
9 Who was taken up in a tempest of fire,
In a chariot of fiery horses:
10 Who was recorded for reproofs in their seasons,
To pacify anger, before it brake forth into wrath;
11 To turn the heart of the father unto the son,
And to restore the tribes of Jacob.
12 Blessed are they that saw thee, And they that have been beautified with love;
For we also shall surely live.
13 So that the sovereignty was divided,
And out of Ephraim ruled a disobedient kingdom.
But the Lord will never forsake his mercy;
And he will not destroy any of his works,
Nor blot out the posterity of his elect;
And in thy body thou wast brought into subjection.
To pacify anger, before it brake forth into wrath;
And why was I grieved for thy folly:
And to restore the tribes of Jacob.
14 As in his life he did wonders,
So in death were his works marvelous.
15 For all this the people repented not,
And departed not from their sins,
Till they were carried away as a spoil from their land.
And the people was left very few in number,
And a ruler was left in the house of David.
31 Some of them did that which was pleasing to God,
And some multiplied sins.
17 Hesekiah cfortified his city,
And brought in water into the midst of them:
He digged the sheer rock with iron,
And built up wells for waters.
18 In his days Sennacherib came up,
And sent Rabshakeh, and departed;
And he lifted up his hand against Jerusalem,
And boasted great things in his arrogance.
19 Then were their hearts and their hands shaken,
And they were in pain, as women in travall;
20 And they called upon the Lord which is merciful, Spreading forth their hands unto him:
And the Holy One heard them speedily out of heaven,
And delivered them by the hand of Israel.
CHAP. 48, V. 21.] ECCLESIASTICUS. [CHAP. 50, V. 8.

21. "He smote the camp of the Assyrians, And his angel utterly destroyed them. And he comforted Jacob, And delivered them by confidence of hope.

11. How shall we magnify "Zerubbabel? And he was as a signet on the right hand;

12. So was "Jehu the son of Joseck; "Who in their days builded the house, And exalted a people holy to the Lord, Prepared for everlasting glory.

13. Also of "Nehemiah the memorial is great;

14. No man was created upon the earth such as was "Noach;

15. And was strong in the ways of David his father, pleasing to the Lord;

16. "How shall we magnify "Zerubbabel?

17. "Who was great and faithful in his vision. "So was Jesus the son of Josedar;

18. "Who in their days builded the house, And exalted a people holy to the Lord, Prepared for everlasting glory.

49. The memorial of "Josiah is like the composition of incense Prepared by the work of the apothecary:

50. "It was Simon, the son of Onias, the "great priest, Who in his life repaired the house, And in his days strengthened the temple:

1. The morning star in the midst of a cloud, As the moon shining forth upon the sanctuary, And made her streets desolate, And took away the abominations of iniquity.

2. He set his heart right toward the Lord; In the days of wicked men he made godliness to prevail.

3. Except "David and "Hezekiah and "Josiah, All committed trespass:

4. For they forsook the law of the Most High;

5. The kings of Judah failed.

6. For they gave their power unto others, And their glory to a strange nation.

7. They set on fire the chosen city of the sanctuary, And made her streets desolate, As it was written by the hand of Jeremiah.

8. For they entreated him evil; And yet "he was sanctified in the womb to be a prophet, To root out, and to afflict, and to destroy;

9. To build and to plant.

10. Also of the twelve prophets May the bones flourish again out of their place.
And he bowed himself down in worship the second time,
1 To declare the blessing from the Most High.

28 And now bless ye the God of all,
29 Which everywhere doeth great things,
30 Which exalteth our days from the womb,
And dealeth with us according to his mercy.

3 May he grant us joyfulness of heart,
And that peace may be in our days in Israel for the days of eternity:
To intrust his mercy with us;
And let him deliver us in his time!

31 With two nations is my soul vexed;
And the third is no nation:
32 They that sit upon the mountain of Samaria,
And foolish people that dwelleth in Sichem.

3 I have written in this book the instruction of understanding and knowledge,
I Jesus, the son of Sirach Eleazar, of Jerusalem,
Lord of the second times.

4 They sounded the trumpets of beaten work,
They made a great noise to be heard,
For a remembrance before the Most High.

5 Then shouted the sons of Aaron,
They sounded the trumpets of beaten work,
A sweet-smelling savour unto the Most High, the King of all.

6 Then shouted the sons of Aaron,
They sounded the trumpets of beaten work,
They made a great noise to be heard,
For a remembrance before the Most High.

7 Then all the people together hasted,
And fell down upon the earth on their faces
To worship their Lord, the Almighty, God Most High.

8 The singers also praised him with their voices;
In the whole house there was made sweet melody.

9 And the people besought the Lord Most High,
In prayer before him that is merciful,
Till the worship of the Lord should be ended;
And so they accomplished his service.

10 Then he went down, and lifted up his hands
Over the whole congregation of the children of Israel,
To give blessing unto the Lord with his lips,
And to glory in his name.

A Prayer of Jesus the son of Sirach.

I will give thanks unto thee, O Lord, O King,
And will praise thee, God my Saviour:
I do give thanks unto thy name:

For thou wast my protector and helper,
And didst deliver my body out of destruction,
And out of the snare of a slanderous tongue,
From lips that forge lies,
And wast my helper before them that stood by:

And didst deliver me, according to the abundance of thy mercy, and greatness of thy name,
From the gnashings of teeth ready to devour,
Out of the hand of such as sought my life,
Out of the manifold afflictions which I had;
4 From the choking of a fire on every side, And out of the midst of fire which I kindled not;
5 Out of the depth of the belly of the grave, And from an unclean tongue, And from lying words,
6 The slander of an unrighteous tongue unto the king. My soul drew near even unto death, And my life was near to the grave beneath.
7 They compassed me on every side, And there was none to help me. I was looking for the succour of men, And it was not.
8 And I remembered thy mercy, O Lord, And thy working which hath been from everlasting, How thou deliverest them that wait for thee, And savest them out of the hand of the enemies.
9 And I lifted up my supplication from the earth, And prayed for deliverance from death.
10 I called upon the Lord, the Father of my Lord, That he would not forsake me in the days of affliction, In the time when there was no help against the proud.
11 I will praise thy name continually, And will sing praise with thanksgiving; And my supplication was heard: For thou savest me from destruction, And deliveredst me from the evil time: Therefore will I give thanks and praise unto thee, And bless the name of the Lord.
12 When I was yet young, Or ever I went abroad, I sought wisdom openly in my prayer.
13 Before the temple I asked for her, And I will seek her out even to the end.
14 From her flower as from the ripening grapes, My heart delighted in her: My foot trod in uprightness, From my youth I tracked her out.
15 I bowed down mine ear a little, and received her, And found for myself much instruction.
16 I profited in her: Unto him that giveth me wisdom I will give glory.
17 For I purposed to practise her, And I was zealous for that which is good; And I shall never be put to shame.
18 My soul hath wrestled in her, And in my doing I was exact: I spread forth my hands to the heaven above, And bewailed my ignorances of her.
19 I set my soul aright unto her, And in pureness I found her.
20 I gained a heart joined with her from the beginning: Therefore shall I not be forsaken.
21 My inward part also was troubled to seek her: Therefore have I gotten a good possession.
22 The Lord gave me a tongue for my reward; And I will praise him therewith.
23 Draw near unto me, ye unlearned, And lodge in the house of instruction. Say, wherefore are ye lurking in these things, And your souls are very thirsty?
24 I opened my mouth, and spake, Get her for yourselves without money, Put your neck under the yoke, And let your soul receive instruction: She is hard at hand to find.
25 Behold with your eyes, How that it laboureth but a little. And found for myself much rest.
26 Get you instruction with a great sum of silver, And gain much gold by her. May your soul rejoice in his mercy, And may ye not be put to shame in praising him.
27 Work your work before the time cometh, And in his time he will give you your reward.
And these are the words of the book, which Baruch the son of Nerias, the son of Maaseas, the son of Sedekias, the son of Asadias, the son of Helkias, wrote in Babylon, in the fifth year, and in the seventh day of the month, what time as the Chaldeans took Jerusalem, and burnt it with fire.

And Baruch did read the words of this book in the hearing of Jehochanias the son of Joakim king of Judah, and in the hearing of all the people that came to hear the book, and in the hearing of the mighty men, and of the kings' sons, and in the hearing of the elders, and in the hearing of all the people, from the least unto the greatest, even of to them that dwelt at Babylon by the river Sud.

And they went, and fasted, and prayed before the Lord; they made also a collection of money according to every man's power.

And they sent if to Jerusalem unto Joakim the high priest, the son of Helkias, the name of Saul, and to the priests, and to all the people which were found with him at Jerusalem, at the same time when he took the vessels of the house of the Lord, that had been carried out of the temple, to return them into the land of Judah, the tenth day of the month Sivan, namely, silver vessels, which the son of Josias king of Judah had made, after that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon had carried away Joachim, and the princes, and the captives, and the mighty men, and the people of the land, from Jerusalem, and brought them unto Babylon. And they said, Behold, we have sent you money; buy you therefore with the money burnt offerings, and sin offerings, and incense, and prepare an oblation, and offer upon the altar of the Lord our God; and pray for the life of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and for the life of Baltasar his son, that their days may be as the days of heaven above the earth: and the Lord will give us strength, and will lighten our eyes, and we shall live under the shadow of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and under the shadow of Baltasar his son, and we shall serve them many days, and find favour in their sight.

Pray for us also unto the Lord our God, for we have sinned against the Lord our God; and unto this day the wrath of the Lord and his indignation is not turned from us. And ye shall read this book which we have sent unto you, to make confession in the house of the Lord, upon the day of the feast and on the days of the solemn assembly.

And ye shall say, To the Lord our God belongeth righteousness, but unto us a confusion of face, as at this day, unto the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to our kings, and to our princes, and to our priests, and to our prophets, and to our fathers: that we have sinned before the Lord, and disobeyed him, and have not hearkened unto the voice of the Lord our God, to walk in the commandments of the Lord that he hath set before us:

since the day that the Lord brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, unto this present day, we have been disobedient unto the Lord our God, and we have dealt unadvisedly in not hearkening unto his voice. Wherefore the plague hath clung unto us, and the curse, which the Lord commanded Moses his servant to pronounce in the day that he brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, to give us a land that floweth with milk and honey, as at this day.

Nevertheless we have sinned not unto the voice of the Lord our God, according unto all the words of the prophets, whom he sent unto us: but we walked every man in the imagination of his own wicked heart, to serve strange gods, and to do that which is evil in the sight of the Lord our God. Wherefore therefore the Lord hath made good his word, which he pronounced against us, and against our judges that judged Israel, and against our kings, and against our princes, and against the men of Israel and Judah, to bring upon us great plagues, such as never happened under the whole heaven, as it came to pass in Jerusalem, according to the things that are written in the law of Moses; that we should eat every man the flesh of his own son, and every man the flesh of his own daughter. Moreover he hath given them to be in subjection to all the kingdoms that are round about us, to a reproach and a desolation among all the people round about, where the Lord hath scattered them. Thus were they cast down, and not exalted, because we sinned against the Lord our God, in not hearkening unto his voice. To the Lord our God belongeth righteousness:
And now, O Lord, thou God of Israel, that hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and with signs, and with wonders, and with great power, and with a high arm, and hast gotten thyself a name, as at this day: 21 O Lord our God, we have sinned, we have done ungodly, we have dealt unrighteously in all these ordinances. 22 Let thy wrath turn from us, and return to the heathen, where thou hast scattered us. 23 Hear our prayer, O Lord, and our petition, and deliver us for thine own sake, and give us favour in the sight of them which have led us away captive: 24 that all the earth may know that thou art the Lord our God, because Israel and his posterity is called by thy name. 25 O Lord, look down from thine holy house, and consider us, 26 and the eyes that fail, and the hungry ones: 27 the voice of gladness, the voice of mirth, and the voice of the bride: and the whole land shall be desolate without inhabitant. 28 For thou hast sent thy wrath and thine indignation upon mercy upon us, because we have sinned before the Lord. 29 And I will bring them again into the land which I sware unto their fathers to give them, 30 and I will make an everlasting covenant with them to be their God, and they shall be my people: 31 and I will no more remove my people of Israel out of the land that I have given them. 32 O Lord Almighty, thou God of Israel, 33 the soul in anguish, the soul that is greatly vexed, which goeth stooping and feeble, and the eyes that fall, and the hungry soul, will give thee glory and righteousness, O Lord. 34 For we do not present our supplication before thee, O Lord, our God, for the righteousness of our fathers, and of our kings. 35 For thou hast sent thy wrath and thine indignation upon us, as thou hast spoken by thine servants the prophets, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Bow your shoulders to serve the king of Babylon, and remain in the land that I gave unto your fathers. 36 But if ye will not hear the voice of the Lord, to serve the king of Babylon, 37 I will cause to cease out of the cities of Judah, and from without Jerusalem, the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride: and the whole land shall be desolate without inhabitant. 38 But we would not hearken unto thy voice, to serve the king of Babylon: therefore hast thou made good thy words that thou spakest by thy servants the prophets, namely, that the bones of our kings, and the bones of our fathers, should be taken out of their places. 39 And, lo, 2 they are cast out to the heat by day, and to the frost by night, and they died in great miseries by famine, by sword, and by pestilence. 40 And the house which is called by thy name hast thou laid waste, as at this day, for the wickednesses of the house of Israel and the house of Judah. 41 Yet, O Lord our God, thou hast dealt with us after all thy kindness, and according to all that great mercy of thine, as thou spakest by thy servant Moses in the day when thou didst command him to write thy law before the children of Israel, saying, 42 If ye will not hear my voice, surely this very great multitude shall be turned into a small number among the nations, where I will scatter them. 43 For I know that they will not hear thee, because it is a stiffnecked people: 44 but in the land of their captivity they shall lay it to heart, and shall know that I am the Lord their God: and I will give them a heart, and ears to hear: 45 and they shall praise me in the land of their captivity, and think upon my name, 46 and shall return from their stiff neck, and from their wicked deeds: for they shall remember the way of their fathers, which sinned before the Lord. 47 And I will bring them again into the land which I sware unto their fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, and they shall be my people: and I will increase them, and they shall not be diminished. 48 And I will make an everlasting covenant with them to be their God, and they shall be my people: 49 and I will no more remove my people of Israel out of the land that I have given them.
mind all the iniquity of our fathers, that sinned before thee. Behold, we are yet this day in our captivity, where thou hast scattered us, for a reproach and a curse, and to be subject to penalty, according to all the iniquities of our fathers, which departed from the Lord our God.

9 Hear, O Israel, the commandments of life: give ear to understand wisdom. How happeneth it, O Israel, that thou art in thine enemies' land, that thou art waxen old in a strange country, that thou art defiled with the dead, that thou art counted with them that go down into the grave? Thou hast forsaken the fountain of wisdom. For if thou hast walked in the way of God, thou shouldest have dwelt in peace for ever.

12 Learn where is wisdom, where is strength, where is understanding; that thou mayest know also where is length of days, and life, where is the light of the eyes, and peace. Who hath found out her place? and who hath come into her treasures? Where are the princes of heaven, and such as rule the beasts that are upon the earth; they that have had their pastime with the fowls of the air, and they that hoarded up silver and gold, wherein men trust; and of whose getting there is no end? For they are wrought in silver, and were so careful, and whose works are past finding out, they are vanished and gone down to the grave, and others are come up in their steads. Younger men have seen the light, and dwelt upon the earth: but the way of knowledge have they not known, neither understood they the paths thereof: neither have their children laid hold of it: they are gone off from their way, and it hath not been heard of in Canaan, neither hath it been seen in J’teman. The sons also of Agrar that seek understanding, which are in the land, the merchants of Merran and J’teman, and the authors of fables, and the searchers of understanding out of understanding; none of these have known the way of wisdom, or remembered her paths.

24 O Israel, how great is the house of God! and how large is the place of his possession! great, and hath none end; high, and unmeasurable. There were the giants born that were famous of old, great of stature, and expert in war. These did not God choose, neither gave he the way of knowledge unto them: so they perished, because they had no wisdom, they perished through their own foolishness. Who hath gone up into heaven, and taken her, and brought her down from the clouds? Who hath gone over the sea, and found her, and will bring her for choice gold? There is none that knoweth her way, nor any that comprehendeth her path. But he that knoweth all things knoveth her, he found her out with his understanding: he that prepared the earth for evermore hath filled it with fourfooted beasts: he that sendeth forth the light, and it goeth; he called it, and it obeyed him with fear; and the stars shined in their watches, and were glad: when he called them, they said, Here we be; they shined with gladness unto him that made them. This is our God, and there shall none other be accounted of in comparison of him. He hath found out all the way of knowledge, and hath given it unto Jacob his servant, and to Israel that is beloved of him. Afterward did she appear upon earth, and was conversant with men.

4 This is the book of the commandments of God, and the law that endureth for ever: all they that hold it fast are appointed to life; but such as leave it shall die. Turn thee, O Jacob, and take hold of it: walk towards her shining in the presence of the light thereof. Give not thy glory to another, nor the things that are profane unto thee to a strange nation. O Israel, happy are we: for the things that are pleasing to God are made known unto us. Be of good cheer, my people, the memorial of Israel. Ye were sold to the nations, but not for destruction: because ye moved God to wrath, ye were delivered unto your adversaries. For ye provoked him that made you by sacrificing unto demons, and not to God. Ye forgot the everlasting God, that brought you up; ye grieved also Jerusalem, that nurtured you. For the wrath that is come upon you from God, and said, Hearken, ye women, that dwell about Sion: for God hath brought upon me great mourning; for I have seen the captivity of my sons and daughters, which the Everlasting hath brought upon them. For with joy did I nourish them; but sent them away with weeping and mourning. Let no man rejoice over me, a widow, and forsaken of many: for the sins of my children am I left desolate; because they turned aside from the law of God, and had no regard to his statutes, neither walked they in the ways of God's commandments, nor trod in the paths of discipline in his righteousness. Let them that dwell about Sion come, and remember ye the captivity of my sons and daughters, which the Everlasting hath brought upon them. For he hath brought a nation upon them from far, a shameless nation, and of a strange language, who neither reverenced old man, nor pitied child. 16 And they have carried away the dear beloved sons of the widow, and left her that was alone desolate of her daughters. 17 But I, what can I help you? 18 For he that brought these plagues upon you will deliver you from the hand of your enemies. 19 Go your way, O my children, go you up to the holy city, and bring up the vessels of the Lord, of the holy place. 20 For I have put off the garment of peace, and put upon me the sackcloth of my petition: I will cry unto the Everlasting as long as I live. 21 Be of good cheer, O my children, cry unto God, and he shall deliver you from the power and hand of the enemies. 22 For I have trusted in the Everlasting, that he will save you; and joy is come unto me from the Holy One, because of the well-doing that shall soon come unto you 1 from the Everlasting your Saviour.

5 For I sent you out with mourning and weeping: 2 but God will give you to me again with joy and gladness for ever. 3 For like as now they that dwell about Sion have seen your captivity: so shall they see shortly your salvation from God: for they shall be turned again with joy unto the holy city, and shall tread upon their necks. 4 My delicate ones have gone rough ways; they were taken away as a flock carried off by the enemies. 5 Be of good cheer, O my children, and cry unto God: for ye shall be remembered of him that hath brought these things upon you. 6 For as it was your mind to go astray from God: so, return and seek him ten times more. 7 For he that brought these plagues upon you shall bring you everlasting joy again with your salvation. 8 Be of good cheer, O Jerusalem: for he that called thee by name will comfort thee. 9 Miserable are they that afflicted thee, and rejoiced at thy fall. 10 Miserable are the cities which thy children served: miserable is she that received thy sons. 11 For she rejoiced at thy fall, and was glad of thy ruin: so shall she be grieved for her own desolation. 12 And I will take away her exultation in her great multitude, and her boasting shall be turned into mourning. 13 For fire shall come upon her from the Everlasting, long to endure; and she shall be inhabited of none. 14 O Jerusalem, look about thee toward the east, and behold the joy that cometh unto thee from God. 15 Lo, thy sons come, whom thou sentest away, they come gathered together from the east to the west at the word of the Holy One, rejoicing in the glory of God. 16 Put off, O Jerusalem, the garment of thy mourning and affliction, and put on the comeliness of the glory that cometh from God for ever. 17 Cast about thee the robe of the righteousness which cometh from God; 18 see a diadem on thine head, the glory of the Everlasting, and the mercy and righteousness that cometh from God in the right hand of his power; 19 that thou mayest be comforted, that thy voice may be carried to God, 20 and the Lord hath turned away thy captivity to all the ends of the earth. 21 O Jerusalem, see about thee from the hand of thy enemie which cometh from God; set what can I help you? 22 For he that the glory that cometh from God forever.

6 A copy of an epistle, which Jeremy sent unto them which were in Babylon, to certify them, as it was commanded him of God. 2 Because of the sins which ye have committed before God, ye shall be led away captives into Babylon by Nabuchodonosor the king of the Babylonians, to certify Israel with joy in the light of his glory with the mercy and righteousness that cometh from him.

THE EPISTLE OF JEREMY.

The epistle of Jeremy.

1 Or, from your everlasting Saviour. 2 Another reading is, O Jerusalem. 3 Or, and he casteth. 4 Or, destroy. 5 Another reading is, as children of the kingdom. 6 Or, and he careth. 7 Or, lives.
as it were for a virgin that loveth to go gay, they make crowns for the heads of their gods: and sometimes also the priests convey from their gods gold and silver, and bestow it upon themselves; and will even give thereof to the common harlots: and they deck them as men with garments, even the gods of silver, and gods of gold, and of wood. Yet can nothing be had from rust and moths, though they be covered with purple raiment. They wipe their faces because of the dust of the temple, which is thick upon them. And he that cannot put to death one that offendeth against him holdeth a sceptre, as though he were judge of a country. He hath also a dagger in his right hand, and an axe: but cannot deliver himself from robbers. Wherefore they are known not to be gods: therefore fear them not. For like as a vessel that a man useth is nothing worth when it is broken; even so it is with their gods: when they be set up in the temples their eyes be full of dust through the feet of them that come in. And as the courts are made sure on every side upon him that offendeth the king, as being committed to suffer death; even so the priests make fast their temples with doors, with locks, and bars, lest they be carried off by robbers. They light them candles, more than for themselves, whereof they cannot see one. They are as one of the beams of the temple; and men say their hearts are eaten out, when things creeping out of the earth devour both them and their ramification: they feel it not, when their faces are black, and their heads are shaven, and nothing wherein there is no breath are bought at any cost. Having no feet, they are borne upon shoulders, whereby they declare unto men that they be nothing worth. And they also that serve them are ashamed: for if they fall to the ground at any time, they cannot rise up again of themselves: neither, if one set them upright, can they move of themselves: neither, if they be laden with an axe: but the offerings are set before them, as if they were dead men. And the things that are sacrificed unto them, their priests sell and spend; and in like manner their wives also lay part thereof in salt; but unto the poor and to the impotent will they give nothing thereof.

The menstruous woman and the woman in childbed touch their sacrifices: knowing therefore by these things that they are no gods, fear them not. For how can they be called gods? because women set meat before the gods of silver, gold, and wood. And in their temples the priests sit on seats, having their clothes rent, and their heads and beards shaven, and nothing upon their heads. They roar and cry before their gods, as men do at the feast when one is dead. The priests also take off garments from them, and clothe their wives and children withal.

Whether it be evil that one doeth unto them, or good, they are not able to recompense it: they can neither set a king, nor put him down. In like manner, they can neither give nor money: though a man make a vow unto them, and keep it not, they will never exact it. They can save no man from death, neither deliver the weak from the mighty. They cannot restore a blind man to his sight, nor deliver any that is in distress. They can shew no mercy to the widow, nor do good to the fatherless. They are like the stones that are thrown out of the temple, these gods of wood, and that are overlaid with gold and with silver: they that minister unto them shall be confounded.

How should a man then think or say that they are gods, when the Chaldeans themselves disown them? Who if they shall see one dumb that cannot speak, they bring him, and interreat him to call upon Bel, as though he were able to understand. Yet they cannot perceive this themselves, and forsake them: for they have no understanding. The women also with cords about them sit in the ways, burning bran for incense: but if any of them, drawn by some that passeth by, she reproacheth her fellow, as though she was not thought as worthy as herself, nor her cord broken. Whatsoever is done among them is false: how should a man then think or say that they are gods? They are fashioned by carpenters and goldsmiths: they can be nothing else than the workmen will have them to be. And they themselves that fashioned them can never continue long: how then should the things that are fashioned by them?

For they have left their flies and robbers. Wherein there is no breath are bought at any cost. Having no feet, they are borne upon shoulders, whereby they declare unto men that they be nothing worth. And they also that serve them are ashamed: for if they fall to the ground at any time, they cannot rise up again of themselves: neither, if one set them upright, can they move of themselves: neither, if they be laden with an axe, can they make themselves straight: but the offerings are set before them, as if they were dead men. And the things that are sacrificed unto them, their priests sell and spend; and in like manner their wives also lay part thereof in salt; but unto the poor and to the
But of wood, and overlaid with gold and with silver, it shall be known hereafter that they be false: and it shall be manifest to all nations and kings that they are no gods, but the works of men's hands, and that there is no work of God in them. Who then may not know that they are no gods? For neither can they set up a king in a land, nor give rain unto men. Neither can they judge their own cause, nor redress a wrong, being unable: for they are as crows between heaven and earth. For even when fire falleth upon the house of gods of wood, or overlaid with gold or with silver, their priests will flee away, and escape, but they themselves shall be burnt asunder like beams. Moreover they cannot withstand any king or enemies: how should a man then allow or think that they be gods? Neither are those gods of wood, and overlaid with silver or with gold, able to escape either from thieves or robbers. Whose gold, and silver, and garments wherewith they are clothed, they that are strong will take from them, and go away with: neither shall they be able to help themselves. Therefore it is better to be a king that abideth his manhood, or else a vessel in a house profitable for that whereof the owner shall have need, than such false gods; or even a door in a house, to keep the things that be rotten upon them: and they themselves therein, than such false gods; or a pillar of wood in a palace, than such false gods. For sun, and moon, and stars, being bright and sent to do their offices, are obedient. Likewise also the lightnings when it glittereth is fair to see; and after the same manner the wind also bloweth in every country. And when God commandeth the clouds to go over the whole world, they do as they are bidden. And the fire sent from above to consume mountains and woods doth as it is commanded: but these are to be likened unto them neither in shew nor power. Wherefore a man should neither think nor say that they are gods, seeing they are able neither to judge causes, nor to do good unto men. Knowing therefore that they are no gods, fear them not. For they can neither curse nor bless kings: neither shall they shew signs in the heavens among the nations, nor shine as the sun, nor give light as the moon. The beasts are better than they: for they can get under a covert, and help themselves. In no wise then is it manifest unto us that they are gods: therefore fear them not. For as a scarecrow in a garden of cucumbers that keepeth nothing, so are their gods of wood, and overlaid with gold and with silver, are like to a white thorn in an orchard, that every bird sitteth upon; as also to a dead body, that is cast forth into the dark. And ye shall know them to be no gods by the bright purple that roteth upon them: and they themselves afterward shall be consumed, and shall be reproached in the country. Better therefore is the just man that hath none idols: for he shall be far from reproach.

THE SONG OF THE THREE HOLY CHILDREN,

Which followeth in the third Chapter of DANIEL after this place,—fell down bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.—Verse 23. That which followeth is not in the Hebrew, to wit, And they walked—unto these words, Then Nebuchadnessar—verse 24.

And they walked in the midst of the fire, praising God, and blessing the Lord. Then Azarias stood, and prayed on this manner; and opening his mouth in the midst of the fire said, Blessed art thou, O Lord, thou God of our fathers, and worthy to be praised; and thy name is glorified for evermore: for thou art righteous in all the things that thou hast done: yea, true are all thy works, and thy ways are right, and all thy judgements truth. In all the things that thou hast brought upon us, and upon the holy city of our fathers, even Jerusalem, thou hast executed true judgments: for according to truth and justice hast thou brought all these things upon us because of our sins. For we have sinned and committed iniquity, in departing from thee. In all things we have trespassed, and not obeyed thy commandments, nor kept them, neither done as thou hast commanded us, that it might go well with us. Wherefore SONG OF THE THREE CHILDREN.

[[v. 83]

all that thou hast brought upon us, and everything that thou hast done to us, that thou hast done in true judgement. 9 And thou didst deliver us into the hands of lawless enemies, and most hateful for-sakers of God, and to an unjust king, and the most wicked in all the world. 10 And now we cannot open our mouth; Jahazme and reproach have beenfallen thy servants, and them that worship thee. 11 Deliver us not up utterly, for thy name's sake, neither disannul thy covenant: 12 and cause not thy mercy to depart from us, for the sake of Abraham, that is beloved of thee, and for the sake of Isaac thy servant, and Israel thy holy one; 13 to whom thou didst promise, 14 that thou wouldest multiply their seed as the stars of heaven, and as the sand that is upon the sea shore. 15 For we, O Lord, 16 are become less than any nation, and be kept under this day in all the world because of our sins. 17 Neither is there at this time prince, or prophet, or leader, or burnt offering, or sacrifice, or oblation, or incense, or place to offer before thee, and to find mercy. 18 Nevertheless I am a contrite heart and a humble spirit let us be accepted; 19 like as in the burnt offerings of rams and bullocks, and like as in ten thousands of fat lambs; so let our sacrifice be in thy sight this day, and grant that we may wholly go after thee, that they shall not be ashamed that put their trust in thee. 20 And now we follow thee with all our heart, we fear thee, and seek thy face. 21 For we, not to blame: but I deal with us after thy kindness, and according to the multitude of thy mercy. 22 Deliver us also according to thy marvellous works, and give glory to thy name, O Lord: and let all them that do thy servants hurt be confounded; 23 and let them be ashamed of all their power and might, and let their strength be broken; 24 and let them know thou art the Lord, the only God, and glorious over the whole world. 25 And the king's servants, that put them in, ceased not to make the furnace hot with naphtha, pitch, tow, and small wood; 26 so that the flame streamed forth above the furnace forty and nine cubits. 27 And it spread, and burned those Chaldeans whom it found about. 28 But let the king's servants, that put them in, ceased not to make the furnace hot with naphtha, pitch, tow, and small wood; 29 so that the flame streamed forth above the furnace forty and nine cubits. 30 And it spread, and burned those Chaldeans whom it found about the furnace. 31 But the angel of the Lord came down into the furnace to go in with Azariah and his fellows, and Azariah and his fellows, and he smote the flame of the fire out of the furnace; 32 and made the midst of the furnace as it had been a moist whirlwind, so that the fire touched them not at all, neither hurt nor troubled them. 33 Then the three, as out of one mouth, praised, and glorified, and blessed God in the furnace, saying, 34 Blessed art thou, O Lord, thou God of our fathers: 35 and to be praised and exalted above all for ever. 36 And blessed is thy glorious name: and to be praised and exalted above all for ever. 37 Blessed art thou in the temple of thine holy glory: and to be praised and glorified above all for ever. 38 Blessed art thou that beholdest the depths, and 39 sittest upon the cherubim: and to be praised and exalted above all for ever. 40 Blessed art thou on the throne of thy kingdom: and to be praised and glorified for ever. 41 O ye works of the Lord, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. 42 O ye waters that be above the heaven, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. 43 O ye ye heavens, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. 44 O ye sun and moon, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. 45 O ye stars of heaven, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. 46 O ye every 47 O ye fire and heat, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. 48 O ye ye light and darkness, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. 49 O ye years and days, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. 50 O ye lightnings and clouds, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. 51 O ye earth bless the Lord: let it praise and exalt him above all for ever. 52 O ye mountains and hills, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. 53 O ye all ye things that grow on the earth, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. 54 O ye trees and all that move in the waters, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. 55 O ye all ye fowls of the air, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. 56 O ye rivers and streams, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. 57 O ye birds of the air, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.
Lord: praise and exalt him above all forever. 59 O ye all beasts and cattle, Lord: praise and exalt him above all forever. 60 O ye children of men, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all forever. 61 O ye priests of Bered out of the midst of the furnace and burning flame, even out of the midst of the fire hath he delivered us. 62 Give thanks unto the Lord, for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever. 63 O ye servants of the Lord, bless ye the Lord: give thanks unto the Lord, for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever. 64 O ye spirits and souls of the righteous, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all forever. 65 O ye that are holy and humble of heart, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all forever. 66 O Ananias, Azaria, and Misael, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all forever: for he hath rescued us from hell, and saved us from the hand of death: he hath delivered us out of the midst of the furnace and burning flame, even out of the midst of the fire hath he delivered us. 67 Give thanks unto the Lord, for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever. 68 O all ye that worship the Lord, bless ye the God of gods, praise him, and give him thanks: for his mercy endureth for ever.

THE HISTORY OF SUSANNA,

Set apart from the beginning of DANIEL, because it is not in the Hebrew, as neither the Narration of Bel and the Dragon.

1 There dwelt a man in Babylon, and his name was Joakim: and he took a wife, whose name was Susanna, the daughter of Helkias, a very fair woman, and one that feared the Lord. 2 Her parents also were righteous, and taught their daughter according to the law of Moses. 3 Now Joakim was a great rich man, and had a fair garden joining unto his house: and to him returned the Jews; because he was more honourable than all others. 4 And the same year there were appointed two of the ancients of the people to be judges, such as the Lord spake of, that wickedness came from Babylon from ancient judges, who were accounted to govern the people. 5 These kept much at Joakim's house: and all that had any suits in law came unto them. 6 Now when the people departed away at noon, Susanna went into her husband's garden to walk. 7 And the two elders beheld her going in every day, and walking; and they were inflamed with love for her. 8 And they perverted their own mind, and turned away their eyes, that they might not look unto heaven, nor remember just judgements. 9 And albeit they both were wounded with her love, yet durst not make them to see another his grief. 10 For they were ashamed to declare their lust, that they desired to have to do with her. 11 Yet they watched jealously from day to day to see her. And the one said to the other, Let us now go home: for it is dinner time. 12 So when do it, than to sin in the sight of the Lord. 38 With that Susanna cried with a loud voice: and the two elders cried out against her. 39 Then ran the one, and opened the garden doors. 40 So when the servants of the house heard the cry in the garden, they rushed in at the side door, to see what had befallen her. 41 But when the elders had told their tale, the servants were greatly ashamed: for there was never such a report made of Susanna. 42 And it came to pass on the morrow, when the people assembled to her husband Joakim, the two elders came full of their wicked intent against Susanna to put her to death; 43 and said before the people, Send for Susanna, the daughter of Hilkias, Joakim's wife. So they sent; 44 and she came with her father and mother, her children, and all her kindred. 45 Now Susanna was a very delicate woman, and pensive to behold. 46 And these wicked men commanded her to be unmasked, (for she was veiled) that they might be filled with her beauty. 47 Then the two elders stood up in the midst of the people, and laid their hands upon her head. 48 And she weeping looked up toward heaven: for her heart trusted in the Lord. 49 And the elders said, As we walked in the garden alone, this woman came in with two maids, and shut the garden doors, and sent the maids away. 50 And a young man, who there was hid, came unto her, and lay with her. 51 And we, thine heart. 52 And hath received that sentence of God and her children, and all her kindred. 53 In pronouncing unjust judgement, and condemning the innocent, and letting the guilty go free; albeit the Lord saith, The innocent and righteous shalt thou not slay. 54 Now when they saw the men fain to slay the innocent, they stood together, and said unto them, Put them asunder one from another, and I will examine them. 55 And Daniel said, Righteousshalt thou not slay. 56 Now are thy sins come home to thee which thou hast committed aforesight. 57 Thus have ye dealt with the daughter of Judah; would not abide your companying together? Who answered, Under a mastick tree. 58 And Daniel said, Right well hast thou lied against thine own head; for even now the angel of God waiteth with the sword at once to cut thee in two. 59 Return again to the place of judgement: for these have borne false witness against her. 60 Wherefore all the people turned again in haste, and the elders said unto him, Come, sit down among us, and shew it us, seeing God hath given thee the honour of an elder. 61 Then said Daniel unto them, Put them asunder one from another, he called one of them, and said unto him, O thou that art waxen old in wickedness, now are thy sins come home to thee which thou hast committed aforesight. 62 and in pronouncing unjust judgement, and condemning the innocent, and letting the guilty go free; albeit the Lord saith, The innocent and righteous shalt thou not slay. 63 Therefore they sent; old in wickedness, now are thy sins come home to thee which thou hast committed aforesight. 64 And the Lord heard her voice. 65 Therefore when she was laid away to be put to death, God raised up the holy spirit of a young youth, whose name was Daniel: 66 and he cried with a loud voice, I am clear from the blood of this woman. 67 Then all the people turned toward him, and said, What mean these words that thou hast spoken? 68 So he standing in the midst of them said, Are ye such fools, ye sons of Israel, that without examination or knowledge of the truth ye have condemned a daughter of Israel? 69 Return again to the place of judgement: for these have borne false witness against her. 70 Wherefore all the people turned again in haste, and the elders said unto him, Come, sit down among us, and shew it us, seeing God hath given thee the honour of an elder. 71 Then said Daniel unto them, Put them asunder one from another, he called one of them, and said unto him, O thou that art waxen old in wickedness, now are thy sins come home to thee which thou hast committed aforesight. 72 in pronouncing unjust judgement, and condemning the innocent, and letting the guilty go free; albeit the Lord saith, The innocent and righteous shalt thou not slay. 73 Now when they saw the men fain to slay the innocent, they stood together, and said unto them, Put them asunder one from another, and I will examine them. 74 So when they were put asunder one from another, he called one of them, and said unto him, O thou that art waxen old in wickedness, now are thy sins come home to thee which thou hast committed aforesight. 75 Thus have ye dealt with the daughters of Israel, and they for fear companied with you: but / the daughter of Judah would not abide your companying together? Who answered, Under a mastick tree. 76 And Daniel said, Right well hast thou lied against thine own head; for even now the angel of God waiteth with the sword at one to cut thee in two. 77 So he put him aside, and commanded to bring the other, and said unto him, O thou seed of Canaan, and not of Judah himself, left he deceiveth thee, and lusteth perverted thine heart. 78 In pronouncing unjust judgement, and condemning the innocent, and letting the guilty go free; albeit the Lord saith, The innocent and righteous shalt thou not slay. 79 Now therefore tell me, Under what tree sawest thou them companying together? Who answered, Under a mastick tree. 80 And Daniel said, Right well hast thou lied against thine own head; for even now the angel of God waiteth with the sword at one to cut thee in two. 81 So he put him aside, and commanded to bring the other, and said unto him, O thou seed of Canaan, and not of Judah himself, left he deceiveth thee, and lusteth perverted thine heart. 82 Thus have ye dealt with the daughters of Israel, and they for fear companied with you: but / the daughter of Judah would not abide your companying together? Who answered, Under a holm tree. 83 Then said Daniel unto them, Put them asunder one from another, he called one of them, and said unto him, O thou that art waxen old in wickedness, now are thy sins come home to thee which thou hast committed aforesight. 84 in pronouncing unjust judgement, and condemning the innocent, and letting the guilty go free; albeit the Lord saith, The innocent and righteous shalt thou not slay.

BEL AND THE DRAGON.

1 And king Astyages was gathered to his fathers, and Cyrus the Persian received his kingdom. And Daniel lived with the king, and was honored above all his friends. Now the Babylonians had an idol, called Bel, and there were spent upon him every day twelve great measures of fine flour, and forty sheep, and six firkins of wine. And the king did honor to it, and went daily to worship it: but Daniel worshipped his own God. And the king said unto him, Why dost thou not worship Bel? And he said, Because I may not do honor to idols made with hands, but to the living God, who hath created the heaven and the earth, and hath sovereignty over all flesh. Then said the king unto him, Thinkest thou not that Bel is a living god? or seest thou not how much he eateth and drinketh every day? Then Daniel laughed, and said, O king, be not deceived: for this is but clay within, and brass without, and did never eat or drink anything. And the king was wroth, and called for his priests, and said unto them, If ye tell me not who this is that devoureth these expenses, ye shall die. But if ye can shew me that Bel devoureth them, then Daniel shall die: for he hath spoken blasphemy against Bel. And Daniel said unto the king, Let it be according to thy word. Now the priests of Bel were three-score and ten, besides their wives and children. And the king went with Daniel into the temple of Bel. So Bel's priests said, Lo, we will get us out: but, O king, set on the meat, and mingle the wine and set it forth, and shut the door fast, and seal it with the king's signet; and when thou comest in the morning, if thou find not that Bel hath eaten up all, we will suffer death: or else Daniel, that speaketh falsely against us. And they little regarded it: for under the table they had made a privy entrance, whereby they entered in continually, and consumed those things. And it came to pass, when they were gone forth, the king set the meat before Bel. Now Daniel had commanded his servants to bring ashes, and they strewed all the temple with them in the presence of the king alone: then went they out, and shut the door, and sealed it with the king's signet, and so departed. Now in the night came the priests with their wives and children, as they were wont to do, and did eat and drink up all. In the morning before the king arose, and Daniel with him. And the king said, Daniel, are the seals whole? And he said, Yes, O king, they be whole. And as soon as he had opened the door, the king looked upon the table, and cried with a loud voice, Great art thou, O Bel, and with thee is no deceit at all. Then laughed Daniel, and held the king that he should not go in, and said, Behold now the pavement, and mark well whose footsteps are these. And the king said, I see the footsteps of men, women, and children. And then the king was angry, and took the priests with their wives and children, who shewed him the privy doors, where they came in, and consumed such things as were upon the table. Therefore the king slew them, and delivered Bel into Daniel's power, who overthrew him and his temple. And in that same place there was a great dragon, which they of Babylon worshipped. And the king said unto Daniel, Wilt thou also say that this is of brass? lo, he liveth, and eateth and drinketh; thou canst not say that he is no living god: therefore worship him. Then said Daniel, I will worship the Lord my God: for he is a living God. But give me leave, O king, and I shall slay this dragon without sword or staff. The king said, I give thee leave. Then Daniel took pitch, and fat, and hair, and did seethe them together, and model lumps thereof: this he put in the dragon's mouth, so the dragon did eat and burst in sunder: and Daniel said, Lo, these are the gods ye worship.
day two carcases, and two sheep: which were not given to them, to the intent they might devour Daniel.

23 Now there was in Jewry the prophet Habakkuk, who had made pottage, and had broken bread into a bowl, and was going into the field, for to bring it to the reapers. 34 But the angel of the Lord said unto Habakkuk, Go carry the dinner that thou hast into Babylon unto Daniel, in the lions' den. 35 And Habakkuk said, Lord, I never saw Babylon; neither do I know where the den is. 36 Then the angel of the Lord took him by the crown, and lifted him up by the hair of his head, and with the blast of his breath set him in Babylon over the den. 37 And Habakkuk cried, saying, O Daniel, Daniel, take the dinner which God hath sent thee. 38 And Daniel said, Thou hast remembered me, O God; neither hast thou forsaken them that love thee. 39 So Daniel arose, and did eat: and the angel of God set Habakkuk in his own place again immediately. 40 Upon the seventh day the king came to bewail Daniel: and when he came to the den, he looked in, and beheld, Daniel was sitting. 41 Then cried the king with a loud voice, saying, Great art thou, O Lord, thou God of Daniel, and there is none other beside thee. 42 And he drew him out, and cast those that were the cause of his destruction into the den: and they were devoured in a moment before his face.

THE PRAYER OF MANASSES
KING OF JUDAH,
WHEN HE WAS HOLDEN CAPTIVE IN BABYLON.

O Lord Almighty, thou art in heaven, 6th thou God of our fathers, of Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and of their righteous seed; who hast made heaven and earth, with all the ornament thereof; who hast bound them by the word of thy commandment; who hast shut up the deep, and sealed it by thy terrible and glorious name; whom all things fear, yea, tremble before thy power; for the majesty of thy glory cannot be borne, and the anger of thy threatening toward sinners is importable: thy merciful promise is unmeasurable and unsearchable; for thou art the Lord Most High; of great compassion, longsuffering and abundant in mercy, and repentest of bringing evils upon men.

Thou, O Lord, according to thy great goodness hast promised repentance and forgiveness to them that have sinned against thee: and of thine infinite mercies hast appointed repentance unto sinners, that they may be saved. Thou therefore, O Lord, that art the God of the just, hast not appointed repentance to the just, to Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, which have not sinned against thee; but thou hast appointed repentance unto me that am a sinner: for I have sinned above the number of the sands of the sea. My transgressions are multiplied, O Lord: my transgressions are multiplied, and I am not worthy to behold and see the height of heaven for the multitude of mine iniquities. I am bowed down with many iron bands, that I cannot lift up mine head by reason of my sins, neither have I any respite: for I have provoked thy wrath, and done that which is evil before thee: I did not thy will, neither kept I thy commandments: I have set up abominations, and have multiplied detestable things. Now therefore I bow the knee of mine heart, beseeching thee of grace. I have sinned, O Lord, I have sinned, and I acknowledge mine iniquities: but I humbly beseech thee, forgive me, O Lord, forgive me, and destroy me not with mine iniquities. Be not angry with me for ever, by reserving evil for me; neither condemn me into the lower parts of the earth. For thou, O Lord, art the God of them that repent: and in me thou wilt shew all thy goodness: for thou wilt save me, that am unworthy, according to thy great mercy. And I will praise thee for ever and ever all the days of my life: P for all the host of heaven doth sing thy praise, and thine is the glory for ever and ever. Amen.
And it came to pass, after that Alexander the Macedonian, the son of Philip, who came out of the land of Chittim, and smote Darius king of the Persians and Medes, it came to pass, after he had smitten him, that he reigned in his stead, in former time, over Greece. And he fought many battles, and won many strongholds, and slew the kings of the earth, and went through to the ends of the earth, and took spoils of a multitude of nations. And the earth was quiet before him, and he was exalted, and his heart was lifted up, and he gathered together an exceeding strong host, and ruled over countries and nations and principalities, and they became tamed unto him. And after these things he fell sick, and perceived that he should die. And he called his servants, which were honourable, which had been brought up with him from his youth, and he divided unto them his kingdom, while he was yet alive. And Alexander reigned twelve years, and he died. And his servants bare rule, each one in his place. And they did all put diadems upon themselves after that he was dead, and so did their sons after them many years: and they multiplied evils in the earth.

And there came forth out of them a sinful root, Antiochus Epiphanes, son of Antiochus the king, who had been a hostage at Rome, and he reigned in the hundred and thirty and seventh year of the kingdom of the Greeks.

In those days there came forth out of Israel transgressors of the law, and persuaded many, saying, Let us go and make a covenant with the Gentiles that are round about us; for since we were parted from them many evils have befallen us. And the saying was good in their eyes. And certain of the people were forward Acreis and I went to the king, and he gave them licence to do after the ordinances of the Gentiles. And they built a place of exercise in Jerusalem according to the laws of the Gentiles; and they made themselves uncircumcised, and forsook the holy covenant, and joined themselves to the Gentiles, and sold themselves to do evil.

And the kingdom was well ordered in the sight of Antiochus, and he thought to reign over Egypt, that he might reign over the two kingdoms. And he entered into Egypt with a great multitude, with chariots, and with elephants, and with horsemen, and with a great navy; and he made war against Ptolemy king of Egypt; and Ptolemy was put to shame before him, and fled; and many fell wounded to death. And they got possession of the strong cities in the land of Egypt; and he took the spoils of Egypt.

And Antiochus, after that he had smitten Egypt, returned in the hundred and forty and third year, and went up against Israel and Jerusalem with a great multitude, and entered presumptuously into the sanctuary, and took the golden altar, and the candlestick of the light, and all that pertained thereto, and the table of the shewbread, and the cups to pour withal, and the bowls, and the golden censers, and the veil, and the crowns, and the adorning of gold which was on the face of the temple, and he scaled it all off. And he took the silver and the gold and the precious vessels; and he took the hidden treasures which he found. And when he had taken the he went away into his own land, and he made a great slaughter, and spake very presumptuously. And there came great mourning upon Israel, in every place where they were; and the rulers and elders groaned, the virgins and young men were made feeble, and the beauty of the women was changed. Every bridegroom took up lamentation, she that sat in the marriage chamber was in heaviness. And the land was moved for the inhabitants thereof, and all the house of Jacob was clothed with shame.

And after two full years the king sent a chief collector of tribute unto the cities of Judah, and he came unto Jerusalem with a great multitude. And he spake words of peace unto them in subtlety, and they gave him credence; and he fell upon the city suddenly, and smote it very sore, and destroyed many people out of Israel. And he took the spoils of the city, and set it on fire, and pulled down the houses thereof and the walls thereof on every side. And they led captive the women and the children, and the cattle they took in possession. And they built the city of David with a great and strong wall, with strong towers, and it became unto them a citadel. And they put there a sinful nation, transgressors of the law, and they strengthened themselves therein. And they stored up arms and victuals, and gathering together the spoils of Jerusalem, they laid them up there, and they became a sore matter: and it became a place to lie in wait against the sanctuary, and an evil enemy to Israel continually. And they shed innocent blood on every side of the sanctuary, and defiled the sanctuary. And the inhabitants of Jerusalem fled because of them; and she became a habitation of strangers, and shallows were born in her, and her children forsook her. Her sanctuary was laid waste like a wilderness, her feasts into reproach, her honour into contempt. According to her glory, so was her estate confirmed in themselves not to eat unclean meats, and to walk in the ordinances of the enemies. Her vessels of glory are carried away from her: and she is become as a man that was glorious: her vesselsofglory are carried away from her; and her children forsake her. And all the nations agreed according to the word of the king: and many of Israel consented to his worship, and sacrificed to the idols, and profaned the sabbath. And the king sent letters by the hand of messengers unto Jerusalem and the cities of Judah, that they should follow laws strange to the land, and should forbid whole burnt offerings, and sacrifices, and drink offerings in the sanctuary; and should profane the sabbaths and feasts, and pollute the sanctuary and them that were holy; that they should build altars, and temples, and shrines for idols, and should sacrifice swine's flesh and unclean beasts: and that they should leave their sons uncircumcised, that they should make their sons abominable with all manner of uncleanness and profanation, so that they might forget the law, and change all the ordinances. And whosoever shall not do according to the word of the king, he shall die. According to all these words wrote he to his whole kingdom; and he appointed overseers over all the people, and he commanded the cities of Judah to sacrifice, city by city. And from the people were gathered together unto them many, every one that had forsaken the law; and they did evil things in the land; and they made Israel to hide themselves in every place of refuge which they had.

And on the fifteenth day of Chisleu, in the hundred and forty and fifth year, they builded an abomination of desolation upon the altar, and in the cities of Judah on every side they builded idol altars. And at the doors of the houses and in the streets they burnt incense. And they rent in pieces the books of the law which they found, and set them on fire. And whosoever was found with any a book of the covenant, and if any consented to the law, the king's sentence delivered him to death. Thus did they in their mind unto Israel, to those that were found month by month in the cities. And on the five and twentieth day of the month they sacrificed upon the idol altar, which was upon the altar of God. And the women that had circumcised their children they put to death according to the commandment. And they hanged their babes about their necks, and destroyed their houses, and them that had circumcised them. And many in Israel were fully resolved and confirmed in themselves not to eat unclean things. And they chose to die, that they might not be defiled with the meats, and that they might not profane the holy covenant: and they died. And the nation were coming exceeding great wrath upon Israel.

1 In those days rose up Mattathias, the son of John, the son of Simeon, a priest of the sons of Joarib, from Jerusalem; and he dwelt at Modin. And he had five sons, John, who was surnamed Gaddis; Simon, who was called Thassi; Judas, who was called Maccabeus; Eleazar, who was called Avaran; Jonathan, who was called Apphas. And he saw the blasphemies that were committed in Judah and in Jerusalem, and he said, Woe is me wherefore was I born to see the destruction of my people, and the destruction of the holy city, and to dwell there, when it was given into the hand of the enemy, the sanctuary into the hand of aliens? Her temple is become as a man that was become a woman; her vessels of glory are carried away into captivity, her infants are slain in her streets, her young men with the sword of the enemy. What nation hath not inherited her palaces, and gotten possession of her spoils? her adorning is all taken away; instead of a free woman she is become a bond woman; and, behold, our holy things

And our beauty and our glory are laid waste, and the Gentiles have profaned them. Wherefore should we live any longer?

And Mattathias and his sons rent their clothes, and put on sackcloth, and mourned exceedingly.

And the king's officers, that were enforcing the apostasy, came into the city of Modin to sacrifice. And many of Israel came unto them, and Mattathias and his sons were gathered together. And the king's officers answered and spake to Mattathias, saying, Thou art a ruler and an honourable and great man in this city, and strengthened with sons and brethren: therefore come thou first and do the commandment of the king, for all the nations have done, and the men of Judah, and they that remain in Jerusalem to sacrifice.

And all they that fled from the house of the king's dominion hearkened unto him, to fall away each one from the worship of his fathers, and have made choice to follow his commandment. And Mattathias saw it, and his zeal was kindled, and his reins a stone at them, nor stopped up the secret places.

And the secret places in the wilderness; Op. ch. 1. And in irbe and our glory are laid Jerusalem, the city of David, that certain men, who had broken the king's commandment, were gone down into the secret places in the wilderness; and many pursued after them, and having overtaken them, they encamped against them, and set the battle in array against them on the sabbath day. And they said unto them, Thus far. Come forth, and do according to the word of the king, and ye shall live. And they said, We will not come forth, neither will we do the word of the king, b to profane the sabbath day. And they hastened to give them battle. And they answered them not, neither cast they a stone at them, nor stopped up the secret places, saying, Let us die all in our innocency: heaven and earth witness over us, that ye put us to death without trial. And they rose up against them in battle array, and smote as sinners in their anger. And the days of Mattathias drew near. And they rescued the law out of the hand of the Gentiles, and became they wives and their children, and their cattle, to the number of a thousand souls. And Mattathias and his friends knew it, and they mourned over them exceedingly. And one said to another, If we all do as our brethren have done, and fight not against the Gentiles for our lives and our ordinances, they will now quickly destroy us from off the earth. And they took counsel on that day, saying, Whosoever shall come against us to battle on the sabbath day, let us fight against him, and we shall in no wise all die, as our brethren died in the secret places.

And Mattathias and his friends went round about, and pulled down the altars; and they circumcised by force the children that were uncircumcised, as many as they found in the coasts of Israel. And they pursued after the sons of pride, and the work prospered in their hand. And they rescued the law out of the hand of the Gentiles, and out of the hand of the kings, neither suffered they the sinner to triumph. And the days of Mattathias drew near that he should die, and he said unto his sons,

Now have pride and rebuke gotten strength, and a season of overthrow, and wrath of indignation. And now, my children, be ye zealous for the law, and give your lives for the covenant of your fathers. And call to mind...
I. MACCABEES.

remembrance the deeds of our fathers which they did in their generations; and receive great glory and an everlasting name. 56 Was not Abraham found faithful in temptation, and 57 it was accounted unto him for righteousness? 58 Jacob in time of distress kept the commandment, and became lord of Egypt. 59 Phinehas our father, for that he was zealous exceedingly, obtained the covenant of an everlasting priesthood. 60 Joshua for fulfilling the word became a judge in Israel. 61 Caleb for bearing witness in the congregation obtained a heritage in the land. 62 David for being merciful inherited the throne of kings for ever and ever. 63 Elijah, for that he was exceding zealos for the law, was taken up into heaven. 64 Hananiah, Azariah, Mishael, believed, and were saved out of the fire. 65 Daniel for his innocency was delivered from the mouth of lions. 66 And thus consider ye from generation to generation, that none that put their trust in him shall want for strength. 67 And be not afraid of the words of a sinful man; for his glory shall be dung and worms. 68 To-day he shall be lifted up, and to-morrow he shall in no wise be found, because he is returned unto his dust, and his thought is perished. 69 And ye, my children, be strong, and shew yourselves men in the behalf of law; for therein shall ye obtain glory. 70 And, behold, Simon your brother, I know that he is a man of counsel, go unto him and say, he shall be a father unto you. 71 And dJudas Maccabeus, he hath been strong and mighty from his youth: he shall be your captain, and shall fight the battle of the people. 72 And take ye unto you all the doers of the law, and avenge the wrong of your people. 73 Render a recompense to the Gentiles, and take heed to the commandments of the law. 74 And he blessed them, and was gathered to his fathers. 75 And he died in the hundred and forty and sixth year, and his sons buried him in the sepulchres of his fathers at Modin, and all Israel made great lamentation for him.

3 1And his son Judas, who was called Maccabeus, rose up in his stead. 2 And all his brethren helped him, and so did all they that clave forours lives and laws. 3 And he fought with gladness the battle of Israel. 3 And he got his people great glory, and put on a breastplate as a giant, and girt his warlike harness about him, and set battles in array, protecting the army with his sword. 4 And he was like a lion in his deeds, and as a lion's whelp roaring for prey. 5 And he pursued the lawless, seeking them out, and he burnt up those that troubled his people. 6 And the lawless shrank for fear of him, and all the workers of lawlessness were sore troubled, and salvation prospered in his hand. 7 And he angered many kings, and made Jacob glad with his acts, and his memorial is blessed for ever. 8 And he went about among the cities of Judah, and destroyed the ungodly out of the land, and turned away wrath from Israel: 9 and he was renowned unto the utmost part of the earth, and gathered together such as were ready to perish.

10 And eApollonius gathered the Gentiles together, and a great host from Samaria, to fight against Israel. 11 And Judas perceived it, and he went forth to meet him, and smote him, and slew him: and many fell wounded to death, and the rest fled. 12 And they took their spoils, and Judas took the sword of Apollonius, and therewith he fought all his days.

13 And Seron, the commander of the host of Syria, heard say that Judas had gathered a great host for his glory shall be dung and worms. 14 And be not afraid of the words of a sinful man; for his glory shall be dung and worms. 15 And he was like a lion in his deeds, and as a lion's whelp going down of Bethhoron, and Judas went forth of Bethhoron, and Judas went forth to fight against so great and strong a multitude? and we for our part are faint, having tasted no food this day. 16 And he said, I will make myself a name and get me glory in the kingdom; and I will fight against Judas and them that are with him, that set at nought the word of the king. 17 And there went up with him also a mighty army of the ungodly to help him, to take vengeance on the children of Israel. 18 And he came near unto the going up of Bethoron, and Judas went forth to meet him with a small company. 19 But when they saw the army coming to meet them, they said unto Judas, What? shall we be able, being a small company, to fight against so great and strong a multitude? and we for our part are faint, having tasted no food this day. 20 And Judas said, It is an easy thing for many to be shut up in the hands of a few; and with the heaven it is all one, to save by many or by few: 21 for victory in battle standeth not in the multitude of a host; but strength is from heaven. 22 They come unto us in fulness of insolence and lawlessness, to destroy us and our wives and our children, for to spoil us: 23 but we fight for our lives and our laws. 24 And he himself will discomfit them before our face: but as for you, be ye not afraid of them. 25 Now when he had left off speaking, he leapt suddenly upon them, and Seron and his army were discomfited before him. 26 And they pursued them in the going down of Bethoron unto the plain, and there fell of them about eight hundred men; but the residue fled into the land of the Philistines.

And the fear of Judas and his brethren, and the dread of them, began to fall upon the nations round about them: and his name came near even unto the king, and every nation told of the battles of Judas.

But when king Antiochus heard these words, he was full of indignation: and he sent and gathered together all the forces of his realm, an exceeding strong army. And he opened his treasury, and gave his forces pay for a year, and commanded them to be ready for every need. And he saw that the money failed from his treasuries, and that the tributes of the country were small, because of the dissension and plague which he had brought upon the land, to the end that he might take away his laws which had been from the first days; and he feared that he should not have enough as at other times for the charges and the gifts which he gave aforesight with a liberal hand, and he abounded above the kings that were before him. And he was exceedingly perplexed in his mind, and he determined to go into Phœrenia, and to take the tributes of the countries, and to gather much money. And he left Lysias, an honorable man, and one of the seed royal, to be over the affairs of the king from the river Euphrates unto the borders of Egypt, and to bring up his son Antiochus, until he came again. And he delivered unto him the half of his forces, and the elephants, and gave him charge of all the things that he would have done, and concerning them that dwelt in Judæa and Jerusalem, that he should say nothing against them, to root out and destroy the strength of Israel, and the remnant of Jerusalem, and to take away their memorial from the place; and that he should make strangers dwell under their coats, and should divide their land to them for hire. And the king took the half that remained of the forces, and removed from Antiochus, from his royal city, the hundred and forty and seventh year; and he passed over the river Euphrates, and went throughout the upper countries.

And Lysias chose Ptolemy the son of Dorymenes, and Nicanaor, and Gorgias, mighty men of the king's friends; and with them he sent forty thousand footmen, and seven thousand horse, to go into the land of Judæa, and to destroy it, according to the word of the king. And they removed with all their host, and came and pitched near unto Emmaus in the plain country. And the merchants of the country heard the fame of them, and took silver and gold exceeding much, with fetters, and came into the camp to take the children of Israel for servants: and there were added unto them the forces of Syria and of the land of the Philistines.

And Judas and his brethren saw that evils were multiplied, and that the forces were encamping in their borders; and they took knowledge of the king's words which he had commanded, to destroy the people and make an end of them; and they said each man to his neighbour, Let us raise up the ruin of our people, and let us fight for our people and the holy place. And the congregation was gathered together, that they might be ready for battle, and that they might pray, and ask for mercy and compassion. And Jerusalem was without inhabitant as a wilderness, there was none of men, saying, What shall we do now? and went out; and the sanctuary was trodden down, and the sons of strangers were in the citadel, the Gentiles lodged therein; and joy was taken away from Jacob, and the pipe and the harp ceased. And they gathered themselves together, and came to Mirpeth over against Jerusalem; for in Mirpeth there was a place of prayer aforesight for Israel. And they fasted that day, and put on sackcloth, and put ashes upon their heads, and rent their clothes, and laid open the book of the law, concerning which the Gentiles were wont to inquire, seeking the likeness and form of their idols. And they brought the priests' garments, and the firstfruits, and the tithes: and they stirred up the Nazirites, who had accomplished their days. And they cried aloud toward heaven, saying, What shall we do with these men, and whither shall we carry them away? And the holy place is trodden down and profaned, and the priests are in heaviness and brought low. And, behold, the Gentiles are assembled together against us to destroy us; thou knowest we shall not be able to stand against them, except thou be our help? And they sounded with the trumpets, and cried with a loud voice.

And after this Judas appointed leaders of the people, captains of thousands, and captains of hundreds, and captains of fifties, and captains of tens. And he said to them that were building houses, and were betrothing wives, and were planting vineyards, and were fearful, that they should return, each man to his own house, according to the law. And the army removed, and encamped upon the south side of Emmaus. And Judas said, Give yourselves, and be valiant men, and be in... readiness against the morning, that ye may fight with the Gentiles, that are assembled together against us to destroy us, and our holy place: so that for it is better for us to die in battle, than to look upon the evils of our nation and the holy place. Nevertheless, as may be the will in heaven, so shall he do.

And Gorgias took five thousand footmen, and a thousand chosen horse, and the army removed by night, so that it might fall upon the army of the Jews and smite them suddenly: and the men of the citadel were his guides. And Judas heard thereof, and removed, and be valiant men, that he might smite the king's host which was at Emmas, while as yet the forces were dispersed from the camp. And Gorgias came into the camp of Judas by night, and found no man; and he went up to the mountains; for he said, These men flee from us. And as soon as it was day, Judas appeared in the plain with three thousand men: howbeit they had not armour nor swords to their minds. And they saw the camp of the Gentiles strong and fortified, and horsemen compassing it round about; and these were expert in war. And Judas said to the men that were with him, Fear ye not their multitude, neither be ye afraid of their onset. Remember how our fathers were saved in the Red sea, when Pharaoh pursued them with a host. And now let us cry unto heaven, if he will have us, and will remember the covenant of our fathers, and destroy this army before our face to-day: and all the Gentiles shall know that there is one who redeemeth and saveth Israel. And the strong army saw it, and were afraid, and saw them coming over against them: and they went out of the camp to battle. And they that were with Judas sounded their trumpets, and joined battle, and the Gentiles were discomfited, and fled into the plain. But all the hindmost fell by the sword: and they pursued them unto Gaza, and unto the plains of Idumaea and Azotus and Jamnia, and there fell of them about three thousand men. And Judas and his host returned from pursuing after them, and he said unto the people, Be not greedy of the spoil, inasmuch as there is a battle before us; and Gorgias and his host are nigh unto us in the mountain. But stand ye now against our enemies, and fight against them, and afterwards take the spoils with boldness. While Judas was yet making an end of these words, there appeared a part of them looking out from the mountain: and saw that their host had been put to flight, and that the Jews were burning the camp; for the smoke that was seen declared what was done. But when they perceived these things, they were sore afraid; and perceiving also the army of Judas in the plain ready for battle, they fled all of them into the land of the Philistines. And Judas returned to spoil the camp, and they got much gold, and silver, and blue, and scarlet, and fine linen, and great riches. And they returned home, and sang a song of thanksgiving, and gave praise unto heaven; for the Lord is good, because his mercy endureth for ever. And Israel had a great deliverance that day.

But the strangers, as many as had escaped, came and told Lysias all the things that had happened: but when he heard thereof, he was confounded and discouraged, because neither had such things as he would been done unto Israel, nor had such things as the king commanded him come to pass. And in the next year he gathered together three thousand chosen footmen, and five thousand horse, that he might subdue them. And they came into Idumaea, and encamped at Bethbauram; and Judas met them with ten thousand men. And he saw that the army was strong, and he prayed and said, Blessed art thou, Lord of Israel, who didst quell the onset of the mighty man by the hand of thy servant David, and didst deliver the army of the Philistines into the hands of Jonathan the son of Saul, and of his armour bearer: who shut up this army in the hands of thy people Israel, and let them be ashamed for their host and their horsemen: give them faintness of heart, and cause the boldness of their strength to melt away, and let them be defeated and destroyed. And Lysias cast them down with the sword of them that love thee, and let all that know thy name praise thee with thanksgiving.

And they joined battle; and there fell of the army of Lysias about five thousand men, and they fell down over against them. But when Lysias saw that his array was put to flight, and the boldness that had come upon them that were with Judas, and how they were ready either to live or to die nobly, he removed to Antioch, and gathered together hired soldiers, that he might come again into J udaean with even a greater company. But Judas and his brethren said, Behold, our enemies are discomfited: let us go up to cleanse the holy place, and to dedicate it afresh. And all the army was gathered together, and they went up unto mount Sion. And they saw the sanctuary laid desolate, and the altar profaned, and the gates burned up, and shrubs growing in the courts as in a forest or as on one of the mountains, and the priests' chambers pulled down; 39 and they rent their clothes, and made great lamentation, and put ashes upon their heads, 40 and fell on their faces to the ground, and blew with the 41 solemn trumpets, and cried toward heaven. 41 Then Judas appointed certain men to fight against those that were in the citadel, until he should have cleansed the holy place. 42 And he chose blameless priests, such as had pleasure in the law: 43 and they cleansed the holy place, and bare out the stones of defilement into an unclean place. 44 And they took counsel concerning the altar of burnt offerings, which had been profaned, what they should do with it: 45 and there came into their mind a good counsel, that they should pull down the altar, and it should be reproach to them, because the Gentiles had defiled it: and they pulled down the altar, and laid up the stones in the mountain of the house in a convenient place, until there should come a prophet to give an answer concerning them: and they took white stones according to the law, and built a new altar after the fashion of the former; 46 and they built the holy place, and the inner parts of the house; 47 and they hallowed the courts. 48 And they made the holy vessels new, and they brought the altar of burnt offerings and of incense, and the table, into the temple. 49 And they burned incense upon the altar, and they lighted the lamps that were upon the candlestick, and they gave light in the temple. 50 And they set leavens upon the table, and their faces, and worshiped, and finished all the works which they made. 51 And they rose up early in the morning, on the five and twentieth day of the ninth month, which is the month Chislev, in the hundred and forty and eighth year, 52 and offered sacrifice and sacrifice of tribute upon the altar of burnt offerings which they had made. 53 At what time and on what day the Gentiles had profaned it, even on that day was it dedicated a fresh, with songs and harps and cymbals, 54 And all the people fell upon their faces, and worshipped, and gave praise unto heaven, which had given them good success. 55 And they kept the dedication of the altar eight days, and offered burnt offerings with gladness, and sacrificed a sacrifice of deliverance and praise. 56 And they decked the forefront of the temple with crowns of gold and small shields, and dedicated afresh the gates and the priests' chambers, and made doors for them. 57 And there was exceeding great gladness among the people, and the reproach of the Gentiles was turned away. 58 And Judas and his brethren and the whole congregation of Israel ordained, that the days of the dedication of the altar should be kept in their seasons from year to year by the space of eight days, from the five and twentieth day of the month Chislev, with gladness and joy. 59 And at that season they built up the mount Sion with high walls and strong towers round about, lest haply the Gentiles should come and tread them down, as they had done aforetime. 60 And he set there a force to keep it, and they fortified Bethsura to keep it; that the people might have a stronghold over against Idumaea.

5 And it came to pass, when the Gentiles round about heard that the altar was built, and the sanctuary dedicated as aforetime, they were exceeding wroth. 6 And they took counsel to destroy the race of Jacob that was in the midst of them, and they began to slay and destroy among the people. 7 And Judas and the children of Esau in Idumaea as Akrahantine, because they besieged Israel: and he smote them with a great slaugher, and brought down their pride, and took their spoils. 8 And he remembered the wickedness of the children of Esau, who were unto the people a snare and a stumbling-block, lying in wait for them in the ways. 9 And they were shut up by him in the towers; and he encamped against them, and destroyed them utterly, and burned with fire the towers of the place, with all that were therein. 10 And he passed unto Bashan, and the children of Ammon, and found a mighty band, and much people, with Timotheus for their leader. 11 And he fought many battles with them, and they were discomfited before his face; and he smote them, and got possession of Jazer, and the villages thereof, and returned again into Judaea. 12 And the Gentiles that were in Gilead gathered themselves together against the Israelites that were on their borders, to destroy them. And they fled to the stronghold of Dathema, and sent letters unto Judas and his brethren, saying, The Gentiles that are round about us are gathered together against us to destroy us: and they are preparing to come and get possession of the stronghold whereto we are fled for refuge, and Timotheus is the leader of their host. 13 Now therefore come and deliver us from their hand, for many of us are fallen. 14 And all our brethren that were in the land of Tabias have 1 Or. trumpets of signals. 2 Or. pure praise, looking up unto heaven, to him which been put to death; and they have carried into captivity their wives and their children and their stuff; and they destroyed those about a thousand men. 14 While the latter were yet reading, behold, there came other messengers from Galilee with their clothes rent, bringing a report after this wise, saying, That there were gathered together against them those of Ptolemais, and of Tyre, and of Sidon, and all Galilee of the Gentiles, to consume them.

16 Now when Judas and the people heard these words, there assembled together a great congregation, to consult what they should do for their brethren, that were in tribulation, and were assailed of them. 17 And Judas said unto Simon his brother, Choose these out men, and go and deliver thy brethren that are in Galilee, but I and Jonathan my brother will go into the land of Gilead. 18 And he left Joseph the son of Zacharias, and Azarias, as leaders of the people, and gave the remainder of the host to Judas, for to keep it. 19 And he gave commandment unto them, saying, Take ye the charge of this people, and fight without the battle with the Gentiles until that we come again. 20 And unto Simon were divided three thousand men to go into Galilee, but unto Judas eight thousand men to go into the land of Gilead.

22 And Simon went into Galilee, and fought many battles with the Gentiles, and the Gentiles were discomfited before him. 23 And he pursued them unto the gate of Ptolemais; and there fell of the Gentiles about three thousand men, and he took their spoils. 24 And they took to them those that were in Galilee, and in Arbatta, with their wives and their children, and all that they had, and brought them into Judas, with mercy prevailing.

24 And Judas Maccabees and his brother Jonathan passed over Jordan, and went three days' journey in the wilderness; and they met with the Nabathians, and these met them in a peaceable manner, and told them all things that had befallen their brethren in the land of Gilead: and how that many of them were shut up in Bosora, and Bosor, and Alema, and Casphor, and Maked, and Carmina; all these cities are strong and great: and how that they were shut up in the rest of the cities of the land of Gilead, and that to-morrow they have appointed to encamp against the strongholds, and to take them, and to destroy all these men in one day. 26 And Judas and his army turned suddenly by the way of the wilderness unto Bosora; and he took the city, and slew all Judas, and cast them out with the edge of the sword, and took all their spoils, and burned the city with fire. 27 And he removed from thence by night, and went till he came to the stronghold. 28 And the morning came, and they lifted up their eyes, and behold, much people which army not to be numbered, bearing ladders and engines of war, to take the stronghold; and they were fighting against them. 29 And Judas saw that the battle was begun, and that the cry of the city went up to heaven, with trumpets and a great sound, and he said unto the men of his host, Fight this day for your brethren. 30 And he went forth behind them in three companies, and they sounded with their trumpets, and cried out in prayer. 31 And the army of Timotheus perceived that it was Maccabees, and they fled from before him: and he smote them with a great slaughter: and there fell of them on that day about eight thousand men. 32 And he turned aside to Mizpeh and fought against it, and took it, and slew all the males thereof, and took the spoil thereof, and burned it with fire. 33 From thence they removed, and took Casphor, Maked, Bosor, and the other cities of the land of Gilead.

37 Now after these things Timotheus gathered another army, and encamped over against Haphon beyond the brook. 38 And Judas sent men to the army of Timotheus, and they brought him word, saying, All the Gentiles that be round about us are gathered together unto them, an exceeding great host. 39 And they have hired Arabians to help them, and are encamping against the brook, ready to come against thee to battle. 40 And Judas went to meet them. 41 And Timotheus said unto the captains of his host, when Judas and his army drew nigh unto the brook of water, if he pass over first unto us, we shall not be able to withstand him; for he will multiply greatly prevailing. 42 But if he be afraid, and encamp beyond the river, we will cross over unto him, and prevail against him. 43 Now when Judas came nigh unto the brook of water, he caused the scribes of the people to remain by the brook, and gave commandment unto them, saying, Suffer no man to encamp, but let all come to the battle. 44 And he crossed over the first against them, and all the people after him: and all the Gentiles were discomfited before his face, and cast away their arms, and fled unto the temple at Carmain. 45 And they took the city, and burned the temple with fire, together with all that were therein. And Carmain was subdued, neither could they stand any longer before the face of Judas.

48 And Judas gathered together all Israel, them that were in the land of Gilead, from the least unto the greatest, and their wives, and their children, and their stuff, an exceeding great army, that they might come into the land of Judah. And they came as far as Ephron, and this same city was great, and it was in the way as they should go, exceeding strong: they could not turn aside from it on the right hand or on the left, but must needs pass through the midst of it. And they of the city shut them out, and stopped up the gates with stones. And Judas sent unto them with words of peace, saying, We will pass through thy land to go into our own land, and none shall do you any hurt, we will only pass by on our feet. And they would not open unto him. And Judas commanded proclamation to be made in the army, that each man should encamp in the place where he was. And the men of the host encamped, and fought against the city all that day and all that night, and the city was delivered into his hands; and he destroyed all the males with the edge of the sword, and raised the city, and took upon them, and passed through the city over them that were slain. And they went over Jordan into the great plain over against Bethshan. And Judas gathered together those that lagged behind, and encouraged the people all the way through, until he came into the land of Judah. And they went up to mount Sion with gladness and joy, and offered whole burnt offerings, because not so much as one of them was slain until they returned in peace.

And in the days when Judas and Jonathan were in the land of Gilead, and Simon his brother in Galilee before Ptolemais, Joseph the son of Zacharias, and Azarias, rulers of the host, heard of their exploits and of the war, what things they had done; and they said, Let us also get us a name, and let us go fight against the Gentiles that are round about us. And they gave charge unto the men of the host that was with them, and went toward Jammia. And Gorgias and his men came out of the city to meet them in battle. And Joseph and Azarias were put to flight, and were pursued unto the borders of Judah; and there fell on that day of the people of Israel about two thousand, and all the rest were great overthrow among the people, because they hearkened not unto Judas and his brethren, thinking to do some exploit. But they were not of the seed of those men, by whose hand deliverance was given unto Israel. And the man Judas and his brethren were glorified exceedingly in the sight of all Israel, and of all the Gentiles, wheresoever their name was heard of; and men gathered together unto them, acclaiming them.

And Judas and his brethren went forth, and fought against the children of Esau in the land toward the south, and he smote Hebron and the villages thereof, and pulled down the strongholds thereof, and burned the towers thereof round about. And he removed to go into the land of the Philistines, and he went through Samaria. In that day certain priests, desiring to do exploits there, were slain in battle, when he went out to battle unadvisedly. And Judas turned aside to Azotus, to the land of the Philistines, and pulled down their altars, and burned the carved images of their gods with fire, and took the spoil of their cities, and returned into the land of Judah.

And king Antiochus was journeying through the upper countries; and he heard, that in Elymais in Persia there was a city renowned for riches, for silver and gold; and that Alexander, son of Philip, the Macedonian king, who reigned first among the Greeks, left behind there. And he came and sought to take the city, and to pillage it; and he was not able, because the thing was known to them of the city, and they rose up against him to battle: and he fled, and removed thence with great heaviness, to return unto Babylon.

And there came one bringing tidings into Persia, that the armies, which went against the land of Judah, had been put to flight; and that Lysias went first with a strong host, and was put to shame before them; and that they had waxed strong by reason of arms and power, and with store of spoils, which they took from the arms that they had cut off; and that they had pulled down the abomination which he had built upon the altar that was in Jerusalem; and that they had compassed about the sanctuary with high walls, as before, and Bethsura, his city. And it came to pass, when the king heard these words, he was astonished and moved exceedingly: And he laid him down upon his bed, and fell sick for grief, because it had not befallen him as he looked for. And he was there many days, because great grief was renewed upon him, and he made account that he should die. And he called for all his friends, and said unto them, Sleep departeth from mine eyes, and my heart faileth for care. And I said in my heart, Unto what account that he should die. And he called for all his friends, and said unto them, Sleep departeth from mine eyes, and my heart faileth for care.
tribulation am I come, and how great a flood is it, wherein I now am! for I was gracious and beloved in my power. But now I remember the evils which I did at Jerusalem, and that I took all the vessels of silver and gold that were therein, and sent forth to destroy the inhabitants of Judah without a cause. I perceive that on this account these evils are come upon me, and behold, I perish through great grief in a strange land. And he called for one of his friends, and set him over all his kingdom, and gave him his diadem, and his robe, and his signet-ring, to the end he should bring Antiochus his son, and nourish him up that he might be king. And king Antiochus died there in the hundred and forty and ninth year. And knew that the king was dead, and he set up Antiochus his son to reign, whom he had nourished up being young, and he called his name Eupator. And the multitudes shut up Israel round about the sanctuary, and sought always their hurt, and the strengthening of the Gentiles. And Judas thought to destroy them, and called all the people together to besiege them. And they were gathered together, and besieged the city in the hundred and fiftieth year, and he made mounds to shoot from, and engines of war. And there came forth some of them that were shut up, and there were joined unto them certain ungodly men of Israel. And they went unto the king, and said, How long wilt thou not execute judgement, and avenge our brethren? We were willing to serve thy father, and to walk after his words, and to follow his commandments; and for this cause the children of our people besieged the city and were beheaded by many of us, as they could light on they slew, and spoiled their inheritances. And not against us only did they stretch out their hand, but also against all their borders. And, behold, they are encamped this day against the city at Jerusalem, to take it: and the sanctuary and Bethsura have they fortified. And if ye are not beforehand with them, quickly, they will do greater things than these, and thou shalt not be able to control them. And when the king heard this, he was angry, and gathered together all his friends, even the rulers of his host, and them that were over the horse. And there came unto him from other kingdoms, and from the seas of the land, bands of hired soldiers. And the number of his forces was a hundred thousand footmen, and twenty thousand horsemen, and two and thirty elephants trained for war. And they went through Idumea, and encamped against Bethsura, and fought against it many days, and made engines of war; and they of Bethsura came out, and burned them with fire, and fought valiantly. And Judas removed from the citadel, and encamped at Bethsazarias, over against the king's camp. And the king rose early in the morning, and removed his army four furlongs along the road to Bethsazarias, and his forces made them ready to battle, and sounded with the trumpets. And they shewed the elephants the blood of grapes and mulberries, that they might prepare them for the battle. And they divided the beasts among the phalanxes, and they set by each elephant a thousand men armed with coats of mail, and helmets of brass on their heads; and for each beast were appointed five hundred chosen horsemen. These were ready beforehand, wheresoever the beast was; and the withersoever the man that warred with them; they departed not from him. And towers of wood were upon them, strong and covered, one upon each beast, girt fast upon him with cunning contrivances; and upon each beast were two and thirty valiant men that fought upon them, beside his Indian (and the residue of the horsemen he set on this side and that side at the two parts of the army), striking terror into the enemy, and protected by the phalanxes. Now when the sun shone upon the shields of gold and brass, the mountains shone therewith, and his banners were blazed like torches of fire. And a part of the king's army was spread upon the high mountains, and some on the low ground, and they went on firmly and in order. And all that heard the noise of their multitude, and the marching of the multitude, and the rattling of the multitudes, did wonder. And for the army was exceeding great and strong. And Judas and his army drew near for battle, and there fell of the king's army six hundred men. And Elazar, who was called Avaran, saw one of the beasts armed with royal breastplates, and he was higher than all the beasts, and the king seemed to be upon him; and he gave himself to deliver his people, and to get him an everlasting name; and he ran upon him courageously into the midst of the phalanx, and slew on the right hand and on the left, and they parted asunder from him on this side and on that. And he crept under the elephant, and thrust him from beneath, and slew him; and the elephant fell to the earth upon him, and he died there. And they saw the strength of the kingdom, and the fierce onset of the hosts, and turned away from them.
48 But they of the king's army went up to Jerusalem to meet them, and the king encamped toward Judaea, and toward mount Sion. 49 And he made peace with them of Bethsura; and he came out of the city, because they had no food there to endure the siege, because it was a sabbath to the land. 50 And the king took Bethsura, and appointed a garrison there to keep it the sanctuary many days; and set there mounds to shoot from, and engines of war, and instruments for casting fire and stones, and pieces to cast darts, and slings.

51 And they also made engines against their engines, and fought for many days. 52 But there were no victuals in the sanctuary, because it was the seventh year, and they that fled for safety into Judea from among the Gentiles had eaten up the residue of the store; 53 and there were but a few left in the sanctuary, because the famine prevailed against them; and they were scattered, each man to his own place.

54 And *Lydia heard say, that *Philip, Antiochus the king, whiles he was yet alive, appointed to nourish up his son Antiochus, that he might be king, 55 as was returned from *Persia and Media, and would be the king of the kingdom, and that he was seeking to take unto him the government. 56 And he made haste, and gave consent to depart; and he said to the king and the leaders of the host and to the men, We decy daily, and our food is scant, and the place where we encamp is a wilderness, and the affairs of the kingdom lie upon us: now therefore let us give the right hand to these men, and make peace with them and with all their nation, 57 and covenant with them, that they shall walk after their own laws and customs: for because of their laws which they have established they were angered, and did all these things. 58 And the saying pleased the king and the princes, and he sent unto them to make peace; and they accepted thereof. 59 And the king and the princes swore unto them: thereupon they came forth from the stronghold. 60 And the king entered into mount Sion; and he saw the wall of the place, and set at nought the oaken which he had sworn, and gave commandment to pull down the wall round about. 61 And he returned unto Antioch, and found *Philip married to the city; and he fought against him, and took the city by force.

16 In the hundred and one and fifth year *Demetrius the son of Seleucus came forth from *Rome, and went up with a few men unto a city by the sea, Thamath. 2 And it came to pass, when he would go into the house of the kingdom of his fathers, that the army laid hands on Antiochus and Lysias, and brought unto him the head. 3 And the thing was known to him, and he said, Shew me not their faces. 4 And the army slew them. And Demetrius sat upon the throne of his kingdom. 5 And there came unto him all *the lawless and ungodly men of Israel; and *Alcimus was their leader, desiring to be high priest; 6 and they accused the people to the king, saying, Judas and his brethren have destroyed all thy friends, and have scattered us from our own land. 7 Now therefore send a man whom thou trustest, and let him go and see all the harov which he hath made of us, and of the king's country, and how he hath punished them and all that helped them. 8 And the king chose *Bacchides, one of the king's *Friends, who was ruler in the country beyond the river, and was a great man in the kingdom, and was faithful to the king. 9 And he sent him, and that ungodly *Alcimus, and made sure to him the high priesthood, and he commanded him to take vengeance upon the children of Israel. 10 And they removed, and came with a great host into the land of Judah, and he sent messengers to Judas and his brethren with words of peace: and they went forth to obtain peace with them. 11 And they gave no heed to their words; for they saw that they were come with a great host. 12 And there were gathered together unto *Alcimus and *Bacchides a company of scribes, to seek for justice.

13 And the *Hasideans were the first among the children of Israel that sought peace of them; 14 for they said, One that is a priest of the seed of Aaron is come with the forces, and he will do us no wrong. 15 And he spake with them words of peace, and was sure to them, saying, We will seek the hurt neither of you nor of your father's house. And they gave him credence: and he laid hands on threescore men of them, and slew them in one day, according to the word which *the psalmist wrote,

16 That *the flesh of thy saints did *cast out,

And their blood did they shed round about Jerusalem;
And there was no man to bury them.

And the fear and the dread of them fell upon all the people, for they said,
There is neither truth nor judgement in them; for they have broken the covenant and the oath which they sware.

21 But *Bacchides removed from Jerusalem, and encamped in Bezek; and he sent and took many of the deserters that were with him, and certain of the people, and he slew them, and *cast them into the gulf. And he came to the country to Alcimus, and left with him a force to aid him; and Bacchides went away unto the king.

22 And Alcimus strove for his high priesthood once more; and there were gathered unto him all they that troubled their people, and they got the mastery of the land of Judah, and did great hurt in Israel. 23 And Judas saw all the mischief that Alcimus and his company had done among the children of Israel, even above the Gentiles, and he went out into all the coasts of Judas round about, and took vengeance on the men that had deserted from him, and they were restrained from going forth into the country. 24 But when Alcimus saw that Judas and his company waxed strong, and knew that he was not able to withstand them, he returned to the king, and brought evil accusations against them.

25 And the king sent Nicana, one of his honourable princes, a man that hated Israel and was their enemy, and commended him to the king. 26 And Nicana came to Jerusalem with a great host; and he sent unto Judas and his brethren deceitfully with words of peace, saying, 27 Let there be no battle between me and you; I will come with a few men, that I may see your faces in Jerusalem. 28 And they sent him welcome to Jerusalem, and they saluted one another peaceably.

And the enemies were ready to take away Judas by violence. 29 And the thing was known to Judas, to wit, that he came unto him with deceit, and he was sore afraid of him, and would see his face no more. 30 And Nicana knew that his counsel was discovered; and he went out to meet Judas in battle beside Capharsalama; 31 and there fell of Nicana's side about five hundred men, and they fled into the city of Dabarath.

32 And after these things Nicana went up to mount Sion: and there came some of the priests out of the sanctuary, and some of the elders of the people, to salute him peaceably, and to shew him the whole burnt sacrifice that was being offered for the king. 33 And he mocked them, and laughed at them, and treated them shamefully, and spake haughtily, and sware in a rage, saying, Unless Judas and his army be now delivered into my hands, it shall be that, if I come again in peace, I will burn up this house: and he went out in a great rage. 34 And the priests entered in, and stood before the altar and the temple; and they wept, and said, Thou didst choose this house to be called by thy name, to be a house of prayer and supplication for thy people; 35 take vengeance on this man and his army, and let them fall by the sword: remember their blasphemies, and suffer them not to live any longer.

36 And Nicana went forth from Jerusalem, and there met him the host of Syria. 37 And Judas encamped in Adasa with three thousand men: and 38 Judas prayed and said, 39 When that they came from the king blasphemed, thine angel went out, and smote among them a hundred and fourscore and five thousand. 40 Even so discomfit thou this army before us to-day, and let all the rest know that he hath spoken wickedly against thy sanctuary, and judge thou him according to his wickedness. 41 And on the thirteenth day of the month, 42 Adar the armies joined battle: and Nicana's army was discomfited, and 43 he himself was the first to fall in the battle. 44 Now when his army saw that Nicana was fallen, they cast away their arms, and fled. 45 And they pursued after them a day's journey from Adasa until they came to 46 and they sent an alarm before them with 47 trumpets. 48 And they came forth out of all the villages of Judas round about, and 49 closed them in; and these turned back on those, and they all fell by the sword, and there was not one of them left. 50 And they were exceeding glad, and they kept that day as a day of great gladness. 51 And they ordained to keep this day year by year, to wit, the thirteenth day of Adar. 52 And the land of Judah had rest a little while.

8 And Judas heard of the fame of the Romans, that they are valiant men, and have pleasure in all that join themselves unto them, and make amity with all such as come unto them, 53 and that they are valiant men. And they told him of their wars and exploits which they do among the Gauls, and how that they conquered them, and brought them under tribute; and what things they did in the land of Spain, that they might become masters of the mines of silver and gold which were there; 54 and how that by their policy and persistence they conquered all the place (and the place was exceeding far from them), and the kings that came against them from the uttermost part of the earth, until they had discomfited them, and smitten them very sore; and how the rest gave them tribute year by year: 55 and Philip, and Perseus, king of Chitthis, and them that were against them, did they discomfit in battled, and conquered them: 6 Antiochus also, the great king of Asia, who came against them to battle, having a hundred and twenty elephants, with horse and chariots, and an exceeding great host, and he was discomfited by them, and they took him alive, and appointed that both he and such as were his captains, to be killed, and of the rest, to be made captive, and to be sold for money. And this is the copy of the writing which they wrote back again on tables of brass, and sent to Jerusalem, that it might be with them there for a memorial of peace and confederacy: 7 Good success be to the Romans, and to the nation of the Jews, by sea and by land for ever: the sword also and the enemy be far from them. 8 But if war arise for Rome first, or any of their confederates in all their dominion, the nation of the Jews shall help them as confederates, as the occasion shall prescribe to them, with all their heart: and unto them that make war upon them they shall not give, neither supply, food, arms, money, or ships, as it hath seemed good unto Rome, and they shall keep their ordinances without taking anything therefore. 9 In the same manner, moreover, if war come first upon the nation of the Jews, the Romans shall help them as confederates with all their soul, as the occasion shall prescribe to them: and to them that are confederates with their foes there shall not be given food, arms, money, or ships, as it hath seemed good unto Rome; and they shall keep their ordinances, and that without deceit. 10 According to these words have the Romans made a covenant thus with the people of the Jews. If but if hereafter the one party and the other shall take counsel to add or diminish anything, they shall do it at their pleasure, and whatsoever they shall add or take away shall be established. 11 And as touching the evils which king Demetrius doeth unto them, we have written to him, saying, Wherefore hast thou made thy yoke heavy upon our forefathers, and upon the Jews? 12 If therefore they plead any more against thee, we will do them justice, and fight with thee by sea and by land.

And that the nation of the Jews might be made secure, and that they might be registered your confederates and friends.

And the thing was well-pleasing in the sight of many. And this is the copy of the writing which they wrote back again on tables of brass, and sent to Jerusalem, that it might be with them there for a memorial of peace and confederacy:

exceedingly; and many slipped away out of the army; there were not left of them more than eight hundred men. And Judas saw that his army was discomfited, and that the battle pressed upon him, and he was sore troubled in heart, for that he had no time to gather them together, and he waxed faint. And he said to them that were left, Let us arise and go up against our adversaries, if perhaps we may be able to fight with them. And they would have dissuaded him, saying, We shall in no wise be able: but let us rather save our lives now: let us return again, we and our brethren, and fight against them: but we are few. And Judas said, Let it not be so that I should do this thing, to flee from them: and if our time is come, let us die manfully for our brethren's sake, and not leave a cause of reproach against our glory. And the host removed from the camp, and stood to encounter them, and the horse was past into the wilderness, and the slingers and the archers went before the host, and all the mighty men that fought in the front of the battle. But Bacchides was in the right wing; and the phalanx drew near on the two parts, and they blew with their trumpets. And they pierced them, even they sounded with their trumpets, and the earth shook with the shout of the armies, and the battle was joined, and continued from morning until evening. And Judas saw that Bacchides and the strength of his army were on the right side, and there went with him all that were brave in heart, and the right wing was discomfited by them, and he pursued after them unto the mount Azotus. And they that were on the left wing saw that the right wing was discomfited, and they turned and followed up upon the footsteps of Judas and of those that were with him: and the battle waxed sore, and many on both parts fell wounded to death. And Judas fell, and the rest fled. And Jonathan and Simon took Judas their brother, and buried him in the sepulchre of his fathers at Modin. And they bewailed him, and all Israel made great lamentation for him, and mourned many days, and said, How is the mighty fallen, the saviour of Israel! And the rest of the acts of Judas, and his wars, and the valiant deeds which he did, and his greatness, are not written; for they were exceeding many.

And it came to pass after the death of Judas, that the lawless put forth their heads in all the coasts of Israel, and all they that wrought iniquity rose up against the nations (and fed upon exceeding great famine), and the country went over with them. And Bacchides chose out the ungodly men, and made them lords of the country. And they sought out and searched for the friends of Judas, and brought them unto Bacchides, and he took vengeance on them, and used them desperately. And there was a great tribulation in Israel, such as was not since the time that a prophet appeared unto them. And all the friends of Judas were gathered together, and they said unto Jonathan, Since thy brother Judas hath died, we have no man like him to go forth against our enemies and Bacchides, and among them of our nation that hate us. Now therefore we have chosen this day to be our prince and leader in his stead, that thou mayest fight our battles. And Jonathan took the government upon him at that time, and rose up in the stead of his brother Judas.

And Bacchides knew it, and he sought to slay him. And Jonathan, and Simon his brother, and all that were with him, knew it; and they fled into the wilderness, and encamped by the water of the pool Asphalt. And Bacchides knew it, and on the sabbath day, and came, and he and all his army, over Jordan. And Jonathan sent his brother, a leader of the multitude, and besought his friends and the Nabateans, that they might leave with them their baggage, which was much. And the children of Jambri came out of Medeba, and took John, and all that he had, and went their way with it.

But after these things they brought word to Jonathan and Simon his brother, that the children of Jambri were making a great marriage, and were bringing the bride from Nadabath with a great train, a daughter of one of the great nobles of Canaan. And they remembered John their brother, and went up, and hid themselves under the covert of a mountain: and they lifted up their eyes, and saw, and beheld, a great ado and much baggage: and the bridegroom came forth, and his friends and his brethren, to meet them with timbrels, and minstrels, and many weapons. And they rose up against them from their ambush, and slew them, and many fell wounded to death, and the remnant fled into the mountain, and they took all their spoils. And the marriage was turned into mourning, and the voice of their minstrels into lamentation. And they avenged fully the blood of their brother, and turned back to the marsh of Jordan.

And Bacchides heard it, and he came on the sabbath day unto the banks of Jordan with a great host. And Jonathan said to his company, Let us stand up now and fight for our lives, for it is not with us to-day, as yesterday and the day before. For, behold, the battle is before us and behind us; moreover the water of the Jordan...
is on this side and on that side, and 66marsh and wood; and there is no place to turn aside. 67Now therefore cry unto heaven, that ye may be delivered out of the hand of your enemies. 47And the battle was joined, and Jonathan stretched forth his hand to smite Bacchides, and he turned away back from him. 48And Jonathan and they that were with him leapt into the Jordan, and swam over to the other side: and they did not pass over Jordan against them. 49And there fell of Bacchides’ company that day about a thousand men; 50and he returned to Jerusalem. And they builded strong cities in Judea, the stronghold that was in Jericho, and 1Emmanu, and 2Bethhoron, and 3Bethel, and 4Timnath, 5Pharathon, and 6Tophon, 7with high walls and bars. 51And in them he set a garrison, to vex Israel. 52And he fortified the city 8Bethsura, and 9Gazara, and 10the citadel, and put forces in them, and store of victuals. 53And he took the sons of the chief men of the country for hostages, 11and put them in ward in the citadel at Jerusalem. 54And in the hundred and fifty and third year, in the second month, 12Alcimus commanded to pull down 13the wall of the inner court of the sanctuary; he pulled down also 14the works of the prophets; 15and he began to pull down. At that time was Alcimus stricken, and his works were hindered; and his mouth was stopped, and he could no more speak anything and give order concerning his house. 56And Alcimus cried at the gates of Jerusalem, and his house was burned. 57And 1Bacchides saw that Alcimus was dead, and he returned to the king: 18for he will remember all the evildo that we have done against him. And in the hundred and sixty-ninth year Alexander Epiphanes, the son of Antiochus, went up and took possession of 19Ptolemais: and they received him, and he reigned. 20And 2Demetrius sent letters unto Jonathan with words of peace, so as to magnify him. For he said, Let us be beforehand to make peace with them, whereas we make peace with Alexander against us: 21for he will remember all the evils that we have done against him, and unto his brethren and unto his nation. 22And he gave him authority to gather together forces, and to provide arms, and that he should be his confederate and he commanded that they should deliver up to him 23the hostages that were in 24the citadel. 25And Jonathan came to Jerusalem, and read the letters in the audience of all the people, and of them that were made it strong. 26And Bacchides knew it, and he gathered together all his multitude, and sent word to them that were of Judea. 27And he went and encamped against Bethbasi, and fought against it many days, and made engines of war. 28And Jonathan left his brother Simon in the city, and went forth into the country, and he went with a few men. 29And the men of the tribe of Othman and his brethren, and the children of Phasiron in their tent. 30And they began to smite them, and to go up with their forces. And Simon and they that were with him went out of the city, and set on fire the engines of war, 31and fought against Bacchides, and he was discomfited by them, and they afflicted him sore; for his counsel was in vain, and his irred. 32And they went very wrong with the lawless men 33that gave him counsel to come into the country, and they slew many of them. And he took counsel to depart into his own land. 34And Jonathan had knowledge thereof, and sent ambassadors unto him, 35to the end that they should make peace with him, and that he should restore unto them the captives. 36And he accepted the thing, and did according to his words, and swore unto him that he would not seek his hurt all the days of his life. 37And he restored unto him the captives which he had taken aforetime out of the land of Judah, and he returned and departed into his own land, and came not any more into their borders. 38And the sword ceased from Israel. And Jonathan dwelt at 39Michmash: and Jonathan began to judge the people; and he destroyed the ungodly out of Israel.
in the citadel: and they were sore afraid, when they heard that the king had given him authority to gather together a host. And they of the citadel delivered up the hostages unto Jonathan, and he restored them unto their parents.

And Jonathan dwelt in Jerusalem, and began to build and renew the city.

And he commanded them that did the work to build the walls and the mount Zion round about with square stones for defence; and they did so. And the strangers, that were in the strong-holds which Bacchides had built, fled away; and each man left his place, and departed into his own land. Only at Bethusura were there left certain of those that had forsaken the law and the commandments; for it was a place of refuge unto them.

And king Alexander heard all the promises which Demetrius had sent unto Jonathan: and they told him of the battles and the valiant deeds which he and his brethren had done in the toils which they had endured; and he said, Shall we find such another man? and now will we make him our friend and confederate.

And he wrote letters, and sent them unto him, according to these words, saying,

28 King Alexander to his brother Jonathan, greeting: We have heard of among the king's forces about thirty thousand men of the Jews, and pay shall be given unto them, as belongeth to all their commandments; for it was a place of solitude of the Jews, that had been carried away; and each man left his place, and departed into his own land. Only at Bethusura were there left certain of those that had forsaken the law and the commandments; for it was a place of refuge unto them.

And Jonathan put on the holy garments in the seventh month of the hundred and sixtieth year, at the feast of the tabernacles, and he gathered together four thousand men of the valour, and meet to be our friend. And now we have appointed the third day to be high priest of that nation, and to be called the king's friend (and he sent unto him a purple robe and a crown of gold), and to take our part, and to keep friendship with us.

And Jonathan put on the holy garments in the seventh month of the hundred and sixtieth year, at the feast of tabernacles, and he gathered together four thousand men of the valour, and met to be our friend.

And now we have appointed the third day to be high priest of that nation, and to be called the king's friend, and he sent unto him a purple robe and a crown of gold, and to take our part, and to keep friendship with us.

As for forsooth as ye have kept your covenants with us, and have continued in our friendship, and have not joined yourselves to our enemies, we have heard hereof, and are glad.

And now continue ye still to keep faith with us, and we will recompense unto you good things in return for your dealings with us, and will grant you immunities, and give you gifts.

And now do I free you, and release all the Jews, from the tributes, and from the customs of salt, and from the crowns. And instead of the third part of the seed, and instead of the half of the fruit of the trees, which felleth to me to receive, I release it from this day and henceforth, so that I will not take it from the land of Judah, and from the three governments which are added thereunto from the country of Samaria and Galilee, from this day forth and for all time. And let Jerusalem be holy and free, and her borders; the tents and the tolls also. I yield up also my authority over the citadel which is at Jerusalem, and give it to the high priest, that he may appoint in it such men as he shall choose to keep it. And every soul of the Jews, that hath been carried captive from the land of Judah into any part of my kingdom, I set at liberty without price; and let all remit the tributes of their cattle also. And all the feasts, and the sabbaths, and new moons, and appointed times, and three days before a feast, and three days after a feast, let them all be days of immunity and release for all the Jews that are in my kingdom. And no man shall have authority to exact from any of them, or to trouble them concerning any matter. And let there be enrolled among the king's forces about thirty thousand men of the Jews, and pay shall be given unto them, as belongeth to all the commandments; for it was a place of solitude of the Jews, that had been carried away; and each man left his place, and departed into his own land. found within all the borders thereof, whether one owe moneys to the king, or any other matter, let them go free, and all that they have in my kingdom. 44 And for the building and renewing of the works of the sanctuary the expense shall be given also out of the king's revenue. 45 And for the building of the walls of Jerusalem, and the fortifying thereof round about, and all the expenses for it be given also out of the king's revenue, and for the building of the walls in Judæa.

46 Now when Jonathan and the people heard these words, they gave no credence unto them, nor received them; because they remembered the great evil which he had done in Israel, and that he had afflicted them very sore. 47 And they were well pleased with Alexander, because he preserved the peace that was betwixt God's people and the king, and in words of peace unto them, and they were confederate with him always. 48 And king Alexander gathered together great forces, and encamped over against Demetrius. 49 And the two kings joined battle, and the army of Alexander fled; and Demetrius followed after him, and prevailed against them. 50 And he strengthened the battle exceedingly until the sun went down; and Demetrius fell that day.

54 And Alexander sent ambassadors to Ptolemy king of Egypt according to these words, saying, 55 Forasmuch as I am returned to my kingdom, and am set on the throne of my fathers, and have gotten the dominion, and have overthrow Demetrius, and have gotten possession of our country: 56 yea, I joined battle with him, and he and his army were discomfited by us, and we sat upon the throne of his kingdom: 57 now also let us establish amity one with the other, and go with thee to Jerusalem, and make proclamation, that no man complain against him of any matter, and let no man trouble him for any manner of cause. 58 And it came to pass, when they that complained against him saw his glory according as the herald made proclamation, and saw him clothed in purple, they all fled away. 59 And the king gave him honour, and wrote him among his Chief Friends, and made him a captain, and governor of a province. 60 And Jonathan returned to Jerusalem with peace and gladness.

64 And it in the hundred and threescore and fifth year came Demetrius, son of Alexander, out of Crete into the land of his fathers: 65 and king Alexander heard thereof, and he was grieved exceedingly, and returned unto Antioch. 66 And Demetrius appointed Apollonius, who was over Celesyria, and he gathered together a great host, and encamped against Demetrius, and Demetrius met him in the midst of the city, and made proclamation, that no man complain against him of any matter, and let no man trouble him for any manner of cause. 67 And it came to pass, when they that complained against him saw his glory according as the herald made proclamation, and saw him clothed in purple, they all fled away.

70 Thou alone liftest up thyself against us, but I am had in derision and in reproach because of thee. And why dost thou vaunt thy power against us in the mountains? and we set our trust in thee, and thou art come down to us into the plain, and there let us try the matter together; for with me is the power of the cities. 71 Ask and learn who I am, and the rest that help us; and they say, Your foot cannot stand before our face; for thy fathers have been twice put to flight in their own land. 72 And now thou shalt not be able to abide the horse and such a host as this in the plain, where is neither stone nor flint, nor place to flee unto.

74 Now when Jonathan heard the words of Apollonius, he was moved in his mind, and he chose out ten thousand men, and went forth from Jerusalem, and Simon his brother met him for to help him. 75 And he encamped against Joppa: and they of the city shut him out, because Apollonius had a garrison in Joppa. 76 And they fought against it. And they of the city were afraid, and opened unto him: and Jonathan became master of Joppa. 77 And Apollonius heard, and he gathered an army of three thousand horse, and a great host, and went to Azotus as though he were on a journey, and therewithal drew onward into the plain, because he had a multitude of horse, and trusted therein. And he pursued after him to Azotus, and the armies joined battle. And Apollo had left a thousand horse behind them privily. And Jonathan knew that there was an ambushment behind him. And they compassed round his army, and cast their darts at the people, from morning until evening; but the people stood still, as Jonathan commanded them: and their horses were wearied. And Simon drew forth his host, and joined battle with the phalanx (for the horsemen were spent), and they were discomfited by him, and fled. And the horsemen were scattered in the plain, and they fled to Azotus, and entered into Beth-dagon, their idol's temple, to save themselves. And Jonathan burned the temple of Dagon, and them that fled about it, she burned with fire. And they that had fallen by the sword, with them that were burned, were about eight thousand men. And from thence Jonathan removed, and encamped against Ascalon, and they of the city came forth to meet him with great pomp. And Jonathan gave him three thousand men. And Simon drew forth his host, and cast the darts at the people, and their horses were wearied. And Jonathan met the king with pomp at Joppa, and they saluted one another, and they slept there. And Jonathan went with the king as far as the river that is called Eleutherus, and returned to Jerusalem. But king Ptolemy became master of the cities upon the sea coast, unto Seleucia which is by the sea, and he devised evil devices concerning Alexander. And he sent ambassadors unto king Demetrius, saying, Come, let us make a covenant with one another, and I will give thee my daughter whom Alexander hath, and them that have reigned over thy father's kingdom; for I have repented that I gave my daughter unto him, for he sought to slay me. And he cast blame on him, because he coveted his kingdom. And taking his daughter from him, he gave her to Demetrius, and was estranged from Alexander, and their enmity was openly seen. And Ptolemy entered into Antioch, and put on the dances of Asia; and he put two diaadems upon his head, the diadem of Egypt and that of Asia. But king Alexander was in Cilicia at that season, because they of those parts were in revolt. And Alexander heard of it, and he came against him in war: and Ptolemy led forth his host, and met him with a strong force, and put him to flight. And Alexander fled into Arabia, that he might be sheltered there; but king Ptolemy was exalted. And Zabdiel the Arabian took Alexander's head, and sent it to Ptolemy. And king Ptolemy died the third day after, and they that were in his strongholds were slain by them that were in the strongholds. And Demetrius reigned in the hundred and threescore and seventh year.

In those days Jonathan gathered together the host of Judas, to take the citadel that was at Jerusalem: and he made many engines of war against it. And certain that hated their own nation, men that transgressed the law, went unto the king, and reported to him that Jonathan was besieging the citadel. And he heard, and was angered; but when he heard it, he set forth immediately, and came to Ptolemais, and wrote unto Jonathan, that he should not besiege it, and that he should meet him and speak with him at Ptolemais with all speed. But when Jonathan heard this, he commanded to besiege it still: and he chose certain of the elders of Israel and of the priests, and put himself in peril, and taking silver and gold and raiment and divers presents besides, went to Ptolemais unto the king. And he found them in his sight. And certain lawless men of them that were of the nation made complaints against him, and the king did unto him even as his predecessors had done unto him, and exalted him in the sight of all his friends, and confirmed him in the high priesthood, and all the other honours that he had before, and gave him precedence among his chief friends. And Jonathan requested of the king, that he would make Judaea free from tribute, and the three provinces, and the country of Samaria; and promised him three hundred talents. And the king consented, and wrote letters unto Jonathan concerning all these things after this manner:

39 King Demetrius unto his brother Jonathan, and unto the nation of the Jews, greeting: 33 The copy of the letter which we wrote unto Lasthenes our kinsman concerning you, we have written also unto you, that ye may see it.

40 King Demetrius unto Lasthenes his father, greeting: 33 We have determined to do good to the nation of the Jews, who are the children of Abraham our father, and to help them, as is just toward us, because of their good will toward us. 34 We have confirmed therefore unto them the borders of Judea, and also the three governments of Apheiræa and Lydda and Ramathaim; these were added unto Judaea from the country of Samaria, and all things appertaining unto them, for all such as do sacrifice in Jerusalem, instead of the king's dues which the king received of them yearly aforesaid from the produce of the earth and the fruits of trees.

41 And as for the other things that pertain unto us from henceforth, of the tenth and the tolls that pertain unto us, and the salt pits, and the crowns that pertain unto us, all these we will bestow upon them. 34 And not one of these things shall be annulled from this time forth and for ever. 37 Now therefore be called the kings of these kings, and let it be given unto Jonathan, and let it be set up on the holy mount in a meet and conspicuous place.

42 And king Demetrius saw that the land was quiet before him, and that no resistance was made to him, and he sent away all his forces, each man to his own place, except the foreign forces, which he had raised from the isles of the Gentiles: and all the forces of his fathers hated him. 39 Now Tryphon was of those who aforetime had been of Alexander's part, and he saw that all the forces were murmured against Demetrius, and he went to Imalene the Arabian, who was nourishing up Antiochus, the young child of Alexander, and pressed sore upon him that he should deliver him unto him, that he might reign in his father's stead: and he told him all that Demetrius had done against him, whereby his forces hated him; and he abode there many days.

44 And Jonathan sent unto king Demetrius, that he should cast out of Jerusalem them that were in the strongholds; for they fought against Israel continually. 44 And Demetrius sent unto Jonathan, saying, I will not only do this for thee and thy nation, but I will greatly honour thee and thy nation, if I find fair occasion. 33 Now therefore thou shalt do well, if thou send me men who shall fight for me; for all my forces are revolted. 44 And Jonathan sent him three thousand valiant men unto Antioch: and they came to the king, and the king was glad at their coming. 44 And they of the city gathered themselves together into the midst of the city, to the number of a hundred and twenty thousand men, and they were minded to slay the king. 46 And the king fled into the court of the palace, and they of the city seized the passages of the city, and began to fight. 48 And when the king called the Jews to help him, and they were gathered together unto him all at once, and they dispersed themselves in the city, and slew that day to the number of a hundred thousand. 49 And they set the city on fire, and burnt many spoils that day, and saved the king. 3* And they of the city saw that the Jews had made themselves masters of the city as they would, and they waxed faint in their hearts, and they cried out to the king with supplication, saying, 50 Give us thy right hand, and let the Jews cease from fighting against us and the city. 51 And they cast away their arms, and made peace; and the Jews were glorified in the sight of the king, and before all that were in his kingdom; and they returned to Jerusalem, having many spoils. 51 And king Demetrius became fretful in his kingdom, and the land was quiet before him. 53 And he lied in all that he spake, and estranged himself from Jonathan, and recommenced him not according to the benefits with which he had recommenced him, and afflicted him exceedingly.

54 Now after this Tryphon returned, and with him the young child Antiochus; and he reigned, and put on a diadem. 35 And there were gathered unto him all the forces which Demetrius had sent away with disgrace, and they fought against him, and he fled and was put to the rout. 36 And Tryphon took the elephants, and became master of Antioch. 37 And the young Antiochus wrote unto Jonathan, saying, I confirm unto thee the high priesthood, and appoint thee over the four governments, and to be one of the king's friends. 38 And he sent unto him golden vessels and furniture for the table, and gave him leave to drink in golden vessels, and to be clothed in purple, and to have a golden buckle. 29 And his brother Simon he made captain from the ladder of Tyre unto the borders of Egypt. 30 And Jonathan went forth, and took his journey beyond the river and through the cities; and all the forces of Syria gathered themselves unto him to be his confederates. And he came to Ascalon, and they of the city met him honourably. 31 And he departed thence to Gaza, and they of Gaza shut him out; and he laid siege unto it, and burned the suburbs thereof with fire, and spoiled them. 32 And they of Gaza made request unto Jonathan, and he gave them his right hand, and took the sons of their princes for hostages, and sent them away to Jerusalem; and he passed through the country as far as Damascus.

48 And Jonathan heard that Demetrius' princes were come to Kedesh, which is in Galilee, with a great host, supporting them that lay round about them. And he was minded to meet them, but Simon his brother he left in the country. 49 And Simon encamped against Bethsura, and fought against it many days, and shut it up: 50 and they made request to him that he would give them his right hand, and he gave it to them; and he put them out from thence, and took possession of the city, and set a garrison there. 51 And Jonathan and his army encamped at the west of Bethsura, and early in the morning they went thither, and Jonathan's confederates and friends, in this was left, except Mattathiasthe son of John, and his brother he left in the country. 52 And hands, have assayed to send that we should be clothed in purple, and to have our enemies have been brought low. 53 We chose therefore Numenius the son of Antiochus, and Antipater the son of Jason, and have sent them unto the Romans, to renew the friendship that we had with them, and the former confederacy. 54 We commanded them therefore to go also unto you, and to salute you, and to deliver you our letters concerning the renewing of friendship and our brotherhood. And now ye shall do well if ye give us an answer thereto.

59 And this is the copy of the letters which they sent to Onias:

Arius king of the Spartans to Onias the chief priest, greeting: It hath been found in writing, concerning the Spartans and the Jews, that they are of the same friendship and of the same stock of Abraham; and now, since 1 So the old Latin versions and Josephus: compare also ver. 20. All the other authorities read Durus in this place.
this is come to our knowledge, ye shall do well to write unto us of your prosperity. And we moreover do write on our part to you, that your cattle and goods are ours, and ours are yours. We do command therefore that they make report unto you on this wise.

43 And Jonathan heard that Demetrius' princes were returned to fight against him with a greater host than afore, and he removed from Jerusalem, and met them in the country of Hamath; for he gave them no respite to set foot in his country. 44 And he sent spies into his camp, and they came again, and reported to him that they were appointed in such and such a way to fall upon them in the night season.

45 But so soon as the sun was down, Jonathan commanded his men to watch, and to be in arms, that all the night long they should be on his battle: and he put forth sentinels round about the camp. 46 And the adversaries heard that Jonathan and his men were ready for battle, and they feared, and trembled in their hearts, and they kindled fires in their camp. 47 But Jonathan and his men knew not till the morning, for they saw the lights burning. 48 And Jonathan pursued after them, and overtook them not; for they were gone over the river Eleutherus. 49 And Jonathan turned aside to the Arabians, who are called Zabadeans, and smote them, and took their spoils. 50 And he set out from thence, and came to Damascus, and took Jonathan's journey through all the country. 51 And Simon went forth, and took his journey as far as Ascalon, and the strongholds that were near unto it. And he turned aside to Joppa, and took possession of its citadel, and heard that they were minded to deliver the stronghold unto the men of Demetrius; and he set a garrison there to keep it.

52 And Jonathan returned, and called the elders of the people together; and he took counsel with them to build walls of the city, and to raise a great mound between the citadel and the city, for to separate it from the city, that so it might be all alone, that men might neither buy nor sell. 53 And they were gathered together to build the city, and there fell down part of the wall of the brook that is on the east side, and he repaired that which is called Chaphenatha. 54 And Simon also built Adidaes in the plain country, and made it strong, and set up gates and bars.

55 And Tryphon sought to reign over Asia, and to put on himself the diadem, and to stretch forth his hand against Antiochus the king. 56 And he was afraid lest haply Jonathan should not suffer him, and lest he should fight against him; and he sought a way how to take him, that he might destroy him. And he removed, and came to Bethshan. 57 And Jonathan came forth to meet him with forty thousand men chosen for battle, and came to Bethshan. 58 And Tryphon saw that he came with a great host, and he was afraid, and he stretched forth his hand against his king, and he said unto Jonathan, Why hast thou put all this people to trouble, seeing there is no war betwixt us? 59 And now send them away to their homes, but choose for thyself a few men who shall be with thee, and come thou with me to Ptolemais, and I will give it up to thee, and the rest of the strongholds and the rest of the forces which is left, and the king's children, and I will return and depart: for this is the cause of my coming. 60 And he put trust in him, and did even as he said, and sent away his forces, and they departed into the land of Judah. 61 But he reserved to himself three thousand men, of which he left two thousand in Galilee, but one thousand went with him.

62 Now as soon as Jonathan entered into Ptolemais, they of Ptolemais shut the gates, and laid hands on him; and all that came in with him they slew with the sword. 63 And Tryphon sent forces and horsemen into Galilee, and into the great plain, to destroy all Jonathan's men. 64 And they perceived that he was taken and had perished, and they that were with him; and they encouraged one another, and went on their way close together, prepared to fight. 65 And they that followed him said that they were ready to fight, for their lives were at stake; and they returned back again. 66 And they all came in peace into the land of Judah, and they mourned for Jonathan, and they that were with him, and they were sore afraid; and all Israel mourned with a great mourning, and made themselves holy, and put on the garments that were round about them, to destroy them utterly: for they said, They have no ruler, nor any to help them: now therefore let us fight against them, and take away their memorial from among men.

1 And Simon heard that Tryphon had gathered together a mighty host to come into the land of Judah, and destroy it utterly. 2 And he saw that the people trembled and were in great fear; and he went up to Jerusalem, and gathered the people together; and he encouraged them, and said unto them, Ye yourselves know all the things that I, and my brethren, and my father's house, have done for the laws and the sanctuary, and the battles and the distresses which we have seen: 4 by reason hereof all my brethren have perished for Israel's sake, and I am left alone. 5 And now be it far from me, that I should spare mine own life in any time of affliction; 6 for I am not better than my brethren. 7 Howbeit I will take vengeance for my nation, and for the sanctuary, and for our wives and children; because all the Gentiles are gathered to destroy us of very hatred. 8 And the spirit of the people revived, as soon as they heard these words. 9 And they answered with a loud voice, saying, Thou art our leader instead of Judas and Jonathan thy brother. 10 Fight thou our battles, and all that thou shalt say unto us, that will we do. 11 And he gathered together all the men of war, and made haste to finish the walls of Jerusalem, and he fortified it round about. 12 And he sent Jonathan the son of Abiail, and with him a mighty host, to Joppa, and he cast out them that were therein, and abode there in it. 13 And 4 Tryphon removed from Ptolemais with a mighty host to enter into the land of Judah, and Jonathan was with him in ward. 14 But Simon encamped at Adida, Puce, against the plain. 15 And 4 Tryphon knew that Simon was risen up instead of his brother Jonathan, and meant to join battle with him, and he sent ambassadors unto him, saying, 16 It is for money which Jonathan thy brother owed unto the king's treasure, by reason of the offices which he had, that we hold him fast. 17 And now send a hundred talents of silver, and two of his sons for hostages, that when he is set at liberty he may not revolt from us, and we will set him at liberty. 18 And Simon knew that they spoke unto him deceitfully, therefore he sent these men the greeting: 2 The money, and the children, lest peradventure he should procure to himself great hatred of the people, 19 And they should say, Because I sent him not the money and the children, he perished. 20 And he sent the children and the hundred talents, and he dealt falsely, and did not set Jonathan at liberty. 21 And after this Tryphon came to invade the land, and destroy it, and he went round about by the way that leadeth unto Adora: and Simon and his army marched over against him to every place, wheresoever he went. 22 Now one of the citadels sent unto Tryphon ambassadors, hastening him to come unto them through the wilderness, and to send them victuals. 23 And Tryphon made ready all his horse to come: and on that night there fell a very great snow, and he came not by reason of the snow. 24 And he removed, and came into the country of Gilead. 25 But when he came near to Bascama, he slew Jonathan, and he was buried there. 26 And Tryphon returned, and went away into his own land. 27 And Simon sent, and took the bones of Jonathan his brother, and buried him at Modin, the city of his fathers. 28 And all Israel made great lamentation over him, and mourned for him many days. 29 And Simon built a monument upon the sepulchre of his father and his brethren, and raised it aloft to the sight, with polished stone behind and before. 30 And he set up seven pyramids, one over another against, for his father, and his mother, and his four brethren. 31 And for these he made cunning devices, setting about them great pillars, and upon the pillars he fashioned all manner of arms for a perpetual memory, and beside the arms ships carved, that they should be seen of all that sail on the sea. 32 This is the sepulchre which he made at Modin, and it is there unto this day. 33 Now Tryphon departed from Ptolemais, and went away into his own land. 34 And Jonathan removed from Adora, and went away unto Adora: and Simon and his army marched over against him to every place, wheresoever he went. 35 Now they of the citadel sent unto Tryphon ambassadors, hasting him to come unto them through the wilderness, and to send them victuals, 36 when he removed, and came into the country of Gilead. 37 But when he came near to Bascama, he slow Jonathan, and he was buried there. 38 And Tryphon departed from Ptolemais, and went away into his own land. 39 And Tryphon returned, and went away into his own land. 40 And Simon sent, and took the bones of Jonathan his brother, and buried him at Modin, the city of his fathers. 41 And all Israel made great lamentation over him, and mourned for him many days. 42 And Simon built a monument upon the sepulchre of his father and his brethren, and raised it aloft to the sight, with polished stone behind and before. 43 And he set up seven pyramids, one over another against, for his father, and his mother, and his four brethren. 44 And for these he made cunning devices, setting about them great pillars, and upon the pillars he fashioned all manner of arms for a perpetual memory, and beside the arms ships carved, that they should be seen of all that sail on the sea. 45 This is the sepulchre which he made at Modin, and it is there unto this day.
In those days he encamped against Gaza, and compassed it round about with his engines of siege, and brought it up to the city, and smote a tower, and took it. And they that were in the engine leaped forth into the city; and there was a great uproar in the city: and they of the city rent their clothes, and went up on the walls with their wives and children, and cried with a loud voice, making request to Simon to give them his right hand. And they said, Deal not with us according to our wickednesses, but according to thy mercy. And Simon was reconciled unto them, and did not fight against them: and he put them out of the city, and cleansed the houses wherein the idols were, and so entered into it with singing and giving praise. And he put all uncleanness out of it, and placed in it such men as would keep up the stronger of the land before it was, and built therein a dwelling place for himself.

But the citadel in Jerusalem were hindered from going forth, and from going into the country, and from buying and selling; and they hungered exceedingly, and a great number of them perished through famine. And they cried out to Simon, that he should give them his right hand; and he gave it to them: and he put them out from thence, and he cleansed the citadel from its pollutions. And he entered into it on the three and twentieth day of the second month, in the hundred and seventy and first year, with praise and palm branches, and with harps, and with cymbals, and with viols, and with hymns, and with songs: because a great enemy was destroyed on behalf of Israel. And he made peace in the land, and Israel rejoiced with great joy: and they sat each man under his vine and his fig tree, and there was none to make them afraid: and there ceased in the land any that fought against them: and the kings were discouraged in those days. And he strengthened all those of his people that were brought low: the law he searched out, and every lawless and wicked person he took away. He glorified the sanctuary, and the vessels of the temple he multiplied.

And it was heard at Rome that Jonathan was dead, and even unto Sparta, and they were exceeding sorry. But as soon as they heard that his brother Simon was made high priest in his stead, and ruled the country, and the cities were dispersed in those days. And he strengthened all those of his people that were brought low: the law he searched out, and every lawless and wicked person he took away. He glorified the sanctuary, and the vessels of the temple he multiplied.

The rulers of the Spartans, and the city, unto Simon the high priest, and unto the elders, and the priests, and the residue of the people of the Jews, our brethren, greeting: as the ambassadors that were sent unto our people made report to us of your glory and honour: and we were glad for their coming, and we did register the things that were spoken by them in the public records after this manner: Numenius son of Antiochus, and Antipater son of Jason, the Jews' ambassadors, came unto us to renew the friendship they had with us. And it pleased the people to entertain the men honourably.

and to put the copy of their words in the public records, to the end that the people of the Spartans might have a memorial thereof; moreover they wrote a copy of these things unto Simon the high priest.

After this Simon sent Numenius to Rome with a great shield of gold of a thousand pound weight, in order to confirm the confederacy with them.

But when the people heard these things, they said, What thanks shall we give to Simon and his sons? for he and his brethren and the house of his father have made themselves strong, and have chased away in flight the enemies of Israel from them, and confirmed liberty to Israel. And they wrote on tables of brass, and set them upon pillars in mount Sion: and this is the copy of the writing:

On the eighteenth day of Elul, in the hundred and seventy and second year, and this is the third year of Simon the high priest, in Asarel, in a great congregation of priests and people and princes of the nation, and of the elders of the country, was it notified unto us: Forasmuch as oftentimes there have been wars in the country, but Simon the son of Mattathias, the son of Joarib, and his brethren, put themselves in jeopardy, and withstood the enemies of their nation, that their sanctuary and the law might be established, and that the people or of the prieststo set at liberty to Israel.

And they commanded to put this writing on tables of brass, and to set it up within the precinct of the sanctuary in a conspicuous place; and moreover to put the copies thereof in the treasury, to show that Simon and his sons might have them.

And they wrote a copy of the writing: and to all the nation: and the contents thereof were after this manner:

And Antiochus son of Demetrius the king sent letters from the isles of the sea unto Simon the high priest and governor of the Jews, and to all the nation; and the contents thereof were after this manner:

15 King Antiochus to Simon "the chief priest and governor, and to the nation of the Jews, greeting: 3 Forasmuch as certain pestilent fellows have made themselves masters of the kingdom of our fathers, but my purpose is to claim the kingdom, that I may restore it as it was before; and moreover I have raised a multitude of foreign soldiers, and have prepared ships of war; 4 moreover I am minded to land in the country, that I may punish masters that have destroyed our country, and them that have made many cities in the kingdom desolate: 5 Now therefore I confirm unto thee all the exactions which the kings that were before me remitted unto thee, and whatsoever gifts besides they remitted unto thee: 6 and I give thee leave to coin money for thy country with thine own stamp, 7 but that Jerusalem and the sanctuary should be free: and all the arms that thou hast prepared, and the strongholds that thou hast built, which thou hast in thy possession, let them remain unto thee: moreover, when we shall have established our kingdom, we will glorify thee and thy nation, and the temple and all the vessels thereof, and the glory shall be made manifest in all the earth.

10 In the hundred and seventy and fourth year went Antiochus forth into the land of his fathers; and all the forces came together unto him, so that there were few men with Tryphon. 11 And king Antiochus pursued him, and he came, as he fled, unto Dor, which is by the sea: 12 for he knew that troubles were come upon him all at once, and that his forces had forsaken him. 13 And Antiochus encamped against Dor, and with him he brought twenty thousand horse, and eight thousand horse. 14 And he compassed the city round about, and the ships joined in the attack from the sea; and he vexed the city by land and sea, and suffered no man to go out or in.

15 And Numerius and his company came from Rome, having letters to the kings and to the countries, wherein were written these things:

16 Lucius, consul of the Romans, unto king Ptolemy, greeting: 17 The Jews' ambassadors came unto us as our friends and confederates, to renew the old friendship and confederacy, being sent from Simon the high priest, and from the people of the Jews: 18 moreover they brought a shield of gold of a thousand pound. 19 It pleased us therefore to write unto the kings and unto the countries, that they should not seek their hurt, nor fight against them, and their cities, and their country, nor be confederates with such as fight against them. 20 Moreover it seemed good to us to receive the shield of them. 21 If therefore any pestilent fellows have fled from their country unto you, deliver them unto Simon the high priest, that he may take vengeance on them according to their law. 22 And the same things wrote he to Demetrius the king, and to Attalus, and to Aristes, and to Armas, and unto all the countries, and unto the Spartans, and unto Delos, and unto Mnysos, and unto Sicyon, and unto Caria, and unto Samos, and unto Eleya, and unto Halicarnassus, and unto Rhodes, and unto Phaselis, and unto Cos, and unto Side, and unto Aradius, and Gortyna, and Cydonia, and Cyprus, and Crete, and Cyp. 23 But the copy hereof they wrote to Simon the high priest.

25 But Antiochus the king encamped against Dor the second day, bringing his forces up to it continually, and making engines of war, 2 And he shut up Tryphon from going in or out. 3 And Simon sent him two thousand chosen men to choose a place for his side; and silver, and gold, and instruments of war in abundance. 4 And he would not receive them, but set at nought all the covenants which he had made with him aforesaid, and was estranged from him. 5 And he sent unto him Athenobius, one of his friends, to commune with him, saying, Ye hold possession of Joppa and d Gaza and the citadel that is in Jerusalem, cities of my kingdom. 6 The borders thereof ye have wasted, and done great hurt in the land, and got the dominion of many places in my kingdom. 7 Now therefore deliver up the cities which ye have taken, and the tributes of the places whereof ye have gotten dominion without the borders of Judaea: 8 or else give me for them five hundred talents of silver; and for the harm that ye have done, and the tributes of the cities, other five hundred talents: or else we will come and subdue you. 9 And Athenobius the king's friend came to Jerusalem; and he saw the glory of Simon, and the cupboards of gold and silver vessels, and his great attendance, and he was amazed; and he reported to him the king's words. 10 And Simon answered, and said unto him,

We have neither taken other men's land, nor have we possession of that which appertaineth to others, but of the inheritance of our fathers: howbeit, it... was had in possession of our enemies wrongfully for a certain time. 23 But we, having opportunity, held fast the inheritance of our fathers. 24 But as touching cJoppa and dGazara, which thou demandest, they did great harm among the people throughout our country, we will give a hundred talents for them.

And he answered him not a word, 3 but returned in a rage to the king, and reported unto him these words, and the glory of Simon, and all that he had seen; and the king was exceeding wroth. 2 And Tryphon embarked on board a ship, and fled to Orthio. 3 And the king appointed Cendebeus chief captain of the sea coast, and gave him forces of foot and horse: and he commanded him to encamp before Judæa, and he commanded him to build up Kidron, and to fortify the gate, and that he should fight against the people: but the king pursued Tryphon. 4 And Cendebeus came to Jannia, and began to provoke the people, and to invade Judæa, and to take the people captive, and to slay them. 5 And he built Kidron, and set horsemen there, and forces of foot, to the end that issuing out they might make out roads upon the ways of Judæa, according as the king commanded him.

And John went up from Gázara, and told Simon his father what a Cendebeus was doing. 2 And Simon called his two eldest sons, Judas and John, and said unto them, 3 "I and my brethren and my father's house have fought the battles of Israel from our youth, even unto this day; and things have prospered in our hands, that we should deliver Israel oftentimes. 4 But now I am old, and ye moreover, by his mercy, are of a sufficient age now. 5 Go therefore, and let every man go his way to his tribe, and let them see to their own affairs. 6 Moreover, by his mercy, are of a sufficient age now. 7 And Simon committed a great iniquity, and recompensed evil for good. 8 And he committed a great iniquity, and recompensed evil for good.

And Simon was visiting the cities that were in the country, and taking care for the good ordering of them; and he went down to Jericho, and made him the silver and gold; 10 for he was the high priest's son in law. 11 And his heart was lifted up, and he was minded to make himself master of the country, and he took counsel deceitfully against Simon and his sons, to make away with them. 12 Now Simon was visiting the cities that were in the country, and taking care for the good ordering of them; and he went down to Jericho, and made him the silver and gold; 13 for he was the high priest's son in law. 14 And his heart was lifted up, and he was minded to make himself master of the country, and he took counsel deceitfully against Simon and his sons, to make away with them. 15 Now Simon was visiting the cities that were in the country, and taking care for the good ordering of them; and he went down to Jericho, and made him the silver and gold; 16 for he was the high priest's son in law. 17 And his heart was lifted up, and he was minded to make himself master of the country, and he took counsel deceitfully against Simon and his sons, to make away with them. 18 Now Simon was visiting the cities that were in the country, and taking care for the good ordering of them; and he went down to Jericho, and made him the silver and gold; 19 for he was the high priest's son in law. 20 And his heart was lifted up, and he was minded to make himself master of the country, and he took counsel deceitfully against Simon and his sons, to make away with them. 21 Now Simon was visiting the cities that were in the country, and taking care for the good ordering of them; and he went down to Jericho, and made him the silver and gold; 22 for he was the high priest's son in law. 23 And his heart was lifted up, and he was minded to make himself master of the country, and he took counsel deceitfully against Simon and his sons, to make away with them.
THE SECOND BOOK OF THE MACCABEES.

I the brethren, the Jews that are in Jerusalem and they that are in the country of Judaea, send greeting to the brethren, the Jews that are throughout Egypt, and wish them good peace: and may God do good unto you, and remember his covenant with Abraham and Isaac and Jacob, his faithful servants: and give you all a heart to worship him and do his pleasure with a great heart and a willing soul; and open your heart in his law and in his statutes, and make peace, and hearken to your supplications, and be reconciled with you, and not forsake you in an evil time. And now we here are praying for you. In the reign of Demetrius, in the hundredth three and ninth year, we the Jews have already written unto you in the tribulation and in the extremity that hath come upon us in these years, from the time that Jason and his company revolted from the holy land and the kingdom, and set the gate on fire, and shed innocent blood: and we besought the Lord, and were heard; and we offered sacrifice and meal offering, and we lighted the lamps, and we set forth the shewbread. And now we keep the days of the feast of tabernacles of the month Chislev. Written in the hundred fourscore and eighth year.

There are in Jerusalem and they that are in Judaea and this senate and Judas, unto Aristobulus, king Ptolemy's teacher, who is also of the stock of the anointed priests, and unto the Jews that are in Egypt, send greeting and peace. Having been saved by God out of great perils, as men arrayed against a king, we thank him greatly. For himself cast into Persia the priests, and others that arrayed themselves against us in the holy city. For when the prince was come there, and the army with him that seemed irresistible, they were cut to pieces in the temple of Namaea by the treachery of Namaea's priests. For Antiochus, on the presence that he would marry her, came into the place, he and his friends that were with him, that they might take a great part of the treasures in name of a dowry. And when the priests of Namaea's temple had set the treasures forth, and he was come there with a small company within the wall of the precincts, they shut to the temple when Antiochus came in: and opening the secret place, Antiochus and they that were with him, and they threw stones and struck down the prince, and they hewed him and his company in pieces, and smote off their heads, and cast them to those that were without. Blessed be our God in all things, who gave for a prey them that had committed impiety.

Whereas we are now about to keep the purification of the temple in the month Chislev, on the fifth and twentieth day, we thought it necessary to certify you thereof, that ye also may keep a feast of tabernacles, and a memorial of the feast which was given when Nehemiah offered sacrifices, after that he had built both the temple and the altar. For indeed when our fathers were about to be led into the land of Persia, the godly priests of that time took of the fire of the altar, and hid it privately in the hollow of a wall that was without walls, wherein they made it sure, so that the place was unknown to all men. Now after many years, when it pleased God, Nehemiah, having received a charge from the king of Persia, sent in quest of the fire the descendants of the priests that had it. When they declared to us that they had found no fire, but thick water, he commanded them to draw out thereof and bring to him: and when the sacrifices had been offered on the altar, Nehemiah commanded the priests to sprinkle with the water both the wood and the things laid thereon. When they had done, and some time had passed, and the sun shone out, which before was hid with clouds, there was kindled a great blaze, so that all men marvelled. And the priests made a prayer while the sacrifice was consuming, both the priests and all others. Jonathan leading and the rest answering, as Nehemiah did. And the prayer was after this manner: O Lord, Lord God, the Creator of all.

things, who art terrible and strong and righteous and merciful, who alone art King and gracious, who alone suppliest every need, who alone art righteous and merciful, who art the saviour of all who are in distress, who art the saviour of Israel out of all evil, who madest the fathers thy chosen, and didst sanctify them: accept the sacrifice for all thy people Israel, and guard thine own portion, and consecrate it. Gather together our Dispersion, set at liberty them that are in bondage among the heathen, look upon them that are despised and abhorred, and let the heathen know that thou art our God. Torment them that oppress us and in arrogance shamefully entreat us. Plant thy people in thy holy place, even as Moses said.

And thereupon the priests sang the hymns. And as soon as the sacrifice was consumed, then Nehemiah commanded to pour upon great stones the water that was left. And when this was done, a flame was kindled; but when it was brought from the altar alone over against it, all was consumed. And when the matter became known, and it was told the king of the Persians, that in the place where the priests that were led away had hid the fire, there appeared the water, wherewith also Nehemiah and they that were with him purified the sacrifice, then the king, inclosing the place, made it sacred, after he had proved the matter. And when the king would shew favour to any, he would take from them many presents and give them some of this water. And Nehemiah and they that were with him called this thing Nephthar, which is by interpretation, Cleansing; but most men call it Nephthah.

It is also found in the records, that Jeremiah the prophet commanded the men that were carried away to take of the beams and the hallowed above, and how that the prophet charged them that were carried away, having given them the law, that they should not forget the statutes of the Lord, neither be led astray in their minds, when they saw images of gold and silver, and the adornment thereof. And with other such words exhorted he them, that the law should not depart from their heart. And it was contained in the writing, that the prophet, being warned of God, commanded that the tabernacle and the ark should follow with him. when he went forth into the mountain where Moses went up and beheld the heritage of God. And Jerome came and found a chamber in the rock, and there he brought in the tabernacle, and the ark, and the altar of incense; and he made fast the door. And some of those that followed with him came there that they might mark the way, and could not find it. But when Jeremiah perceived it, he blamed them, saying, Ye and the place shall be unknown until God gather the people again together, and mercy come: and then shall the Lord disclose these things, and the glory of the Lord shall be seen, and the cloud.

As also it was showed with Moses; as also Solomon besought that the place might be consecrated greatly, and it was also declared that he, having wisdom, offered a sacrifice of dedication, and of the finishing of the temple; so we would have it now. As Moses prayed unto the Lord, and fire came down out of heaven and consumed the sacrifice, even so prayed Solomon also, and the fire came down and consumed the burnt offerings; and Moses said, Because the sin offering had not been eaten, it was consumed in like manner with the rest;) and Solomon kept the eight days.

And the same things were related both in the public archives and in the records that concern Nehemiah; and how he, founding a library, gathered together the books about the kings and the prophets, and the stories of David, and letters of kings about sacred gifts. And in like manner Judas also gathered together for us all those writings that had been scattered by reason of the war that befell, and they are still with us.

If therefore ye have need thereof, send some to fetch them unto you.

Seeing then that we are about to keep the purification, we write unto you; ye will therefore do well if ye keep the days. Now God, who saved all his people, and restored the heritage to all, and the kingdom, and the priesthood, and the hallowed, even as he promised through the law,—in God have we hope, that he will quickly have mercy upon us, and gather us together out of all the earth into the holy place: for he delivered us out of great evils, and purified the place.

Now the things concerning Judas Maccabaeus and his brethren, and the purification of the great temple, and the dedication of the altar, and further the wars against Antiochus Epiphanes, and Eupator his son, and the manifestations that came from heaven unto those that vied with one another in manifold deeds for the religion of the Jews; so that, being but a few, they rescued the whole country, and chased the barbarous multitudes, and recovered again the temple renovated all the world over, and freed the city, and restored the laws which were like to be overthrown, seeing the Lord became gracious unto them with all forbearance: these things, I say, which have been declared by Jason & Cypre in five books, we will assay to abridge in one work. For having in view the confused history, by reason of the abundance of the matter, we were careful that they who choose to read may be attracted, and that they who wish well to our cause may find it easy to recall what we have written, and that all readers may have profit, and that the king himself may have taken upon us the painful labour of the abridgement, the task is not easy, but a matter of sweat and watching (even as it is no light thing unto him (that prepareth a banquet, and seeketh the benefit of others); yet for the sake of the gratitude of the many we will gladly endure the painful labour, leaving to the historian the exact handling of every particular, and again having no strength to fill in the outlines of our abridgement. As for the masterbuilder of a new house must care for the whole sanctum that undertake to decorate and paint it must seek out the things fit for the adornment thereof; even so I think it is also with us. To occupy the ground, and indulge in long discussions, and to be curious in particulars, becomes the first author of the history: but to strive after brevity of expression, and to avoid a laboured fulness in the treatment, is to be granted to him that would bring a writing into a new form. Here then let us begin the narration, only adding thus much to that which hath been already said; for it is a foolish thing to make a long prologue to the history, and to abridge the history itself.

Now the holy city was inhabited with all peace, and the laws were kept very well, because of the godliness of Onias the high priest, and his hatred of wickedness. It came to pass that even the kings themselves did not honour the place, and glorify the temple with the noblest presents; insomuch that even Seleucus the king of Asia of his own revenues bare all the costs belonging to the services of the sacrifices. But one of the tribe of Benjamin, having been made guardian of the temple, fell out with the high priest about the ruling of the market in the city. And when he could not overcome Onias, he sent him to Apollonius the son of Thraseas, who at that time was governor of Coele Syria and Phoenicia: and he brought him word how that the treasury in Jerusalem was full of untold sums of money, so that the multitude of the funds was innumerable, and that he did not know what to account of the sacrifices, but that it was possible that these should fall under the king's power. And when Apollonius met the king, he informed him of the money whereof he had been told; and the king appointed Heliodorus, who was his chamberlain, to him to have a commandment to accomplish the removal of the aforesaid money. So forthwith Heliodorus took his journey, under a colour of visiting the cities of Coele Syria and Phoenicia, but in fact to execute the king's purpose. And when he was come to Jerusalem, and had been courteously received by the high priest, he informed him, and that there were in the treasury deposits of money belonging to Hyrcanus the son of Tobias, a man in very high place, and that the case was not as that impious Simon falsely alleged; and that in all there were four hundred talents of silver and two hundred of gold; and that it was altogether impossible that wrong should be done unto them that had put trust in the holiness of the place, and in the majesty and inviolable sanctity of the temple, honoured over all the world. But Heliodorus, because of the king's commandments given him, said that in any case this money must be confiscated for the king's treasury.

So having appointed a day, he entered in to direct the inquiring concerning these matters; and there was no small distress throughout the whole city. 15 And the priests, prostrating themselves before the altar in their priestly garments, and looking toward heaven, called upon him that gave the law concerning deposits, that he should preserve these treasures safe for those that had deposited them. 16 And whosoever saw the mien of the high priest was wounded in mind; for his countenance and the change of his colour betrayed the distress of his soul. 17 For a terror and a shuddering of the body had come over the man, whereby the pain that was in his heart was plainly shewn to them that looked upon him. 18 And they that were in the houses rushed flocking out to make a universal supplication, because the place was like to come into contempt. 19 And the women, girt with sackcloth under their breasts, stretched their hands toward heaven, made their solemn supplication. 20 Then it would have pleased God to see the priests prostrating themselves all mingled together, and the expectation of the high priest in his sore distress.

While therefore they called upon the Almighty Lord to keep the things intrusted to them safe and sure for those that had intrusted them, Heliodorus went on to execute that which had been decreed. 21 But when he was already present there with his guards over the treasury, the Sovereign of spirits and of all authority appeared to him, and all that had presumed to come in with him, stricken with dismay at the power of God, fell into a great train, which was manifestly made to recognise the sovereignty of God. 22 And so, while he, through the working of God, speechless and bereft of all hope and deliverance, lay prostrate, they blessed the Lord, that made marvellous his own place; and the temple, which a little afore was full of terror and alarm, was filled with joy and gladness after the Almighty Lord appeared.

But quickly certain of Heliodorus's familiar friends besought Onias to call upon the Most High, and grant life to him who lay quite at the last gasp. 3 And the high priest, secretly fearing lest the king might come to think that some treachery toward Heliodorus had been perpetrated by the Jews, brought a sacrifice for the deliverance of the man. 3 But as the high priest was making the supplication, the same young men appeared again to Heliodorus, arrayed in the same garments, and said, Give Onias the high priest great thanks, for he is the Lord thy God which hath granted thee life; 34 and do thou, since thou hast been scourged from heaven, publish unto all men the sovereignty of God. And when they had spoken thus, they vanished out of sight. 35 So Heliodorus, having offered a sacrifice unto the Lord and vowed great vows unto him that had saved his life, and having graciously received Onias, returned with his host to the king. 36 And he testified to all the works of the great God which he had beheld with his eyes.

And when the king asked Heliodorus, what manner of man was fit to be sent yet once again to Jerusalem, he said, 37 If thou hast any enemy or conspirator against the state, send him thither, and thou shalt receive him back well scourged, if he even escape with his life; because of the truth there is about the place a power of God. 38 For he that hath his dwelling in heaven with self-righteousness upon that place, and helpeth him; and them that come to hurt him he smiteth and destroyeth.

And such was the history of Heliodorus and the keeping of the treasury.

But the aforesaid Simon, he who had given information of the money, and had betrayed his country, slandered Onias, saying that it was he who had incited Heliodorus, and made himself the author of these evils. 4 And him that was the benefactor of the city, and the guardian of his fellow-countrymen, and a zealot for the laws, he dared to call a conspirator against the state. 3 But when the growing enmity between them waxed so great, that even murders were perpetrated through one of Simon's trusted followers.
Onias, seeing the danger of the contention, and that Apollonius the son of Menestheus, the governor of Cæsarea Phœnicia, was increasing Simon's malice, betook himself to the king, not to be an accuser of his fellow-citizens, but looking to the good of all the people, both public and private; for he saw that without the king's providence it was impossible for the state to obtain peace any more, and that Simon would not cease from his mad endeavor. 2. But when Seleucus was deceased, and Antiochus, who was called Epiphanes, succeeded to the kingdom, Jason the brother of Onias supplanted his brother in the high priesthood, having promised unto the king at an audience three hundred and threescore talents of silver and out of another fund eighty talents; and beside this, he undertook to assign a hundred and fifty more, if it might be allowed him through the king's authority to set him up as a Greek place of exercise and form a body of young men to be called Citizens, and register the inhabitants of Jerusalem as citizens of Antioch. And when the king had given assent, and he had gotten possession of the office, he forthwith brought over them of his own race to the Greek fashion. 2. And setting up the royal ordinances of special favor to the Jews, granted by the means of John the father of Eupolemus, who went on the ambassador to the Romans for friendship and alliance, and seeking to overthrow the lawful modes of life, he brought in new customs forbidden by the law; 3. For he eagerly established a Greek place of exercise under the citadel itself; and caused the noblest of the young men to wear the Greek cap. 4. And thus there was an extreme of Greek fashions, and an advance of an alien religion, by reason of the exercising profaneness of Jason, that was despised and held in no high priest; so that the priests had no more any zeal for the services of the altar: but despising the sanctuary, and neglecting the sacrifices, they hastened to enjoy that which was unlawfully provided in the presence of the summons of the discoursers; making no account the honours of their fathers, and thinking the glories of the Greeks best of all. 5. By reason whereof sore calamity betest them; and the men whose ways of living they earnestly followed, and unto whom the discipline was to be made like in all things, they had to be their enemies and to punish them. 6. For it is not a light thing to do impiously against the laws of God; but these things the time following shall declare. 7. Now when certain games that came every fifth year were kept at Tyre, and the king was present, he who Jason sent sacred envoys, as being Antiochians of Jerusalem, bearing three hundred drachmas of silver to the sacrifice of Hercules, which even the bearers thereof thought not right to use for any sacrifice, because it was not fit, but to expend on another charge. 8. And though in the purpose of the sender this money was for the sacrifice of Hercules, yet on account of present circumstances it went to the equipment of the galleys. 9. Now when Apollonius the son of Menestheus was sent into Egypt for the enthronement of Ptolemy Philometor as king, Antiochus, learning that Ptolemy had shewn himself ill affected towards his state, took thought for the security of his realm; wherefore, going by sea to Joppa, he sent his elder brother Jerusalem. And being magnificently received by Jason and the city, he was brought in with torches and shoutings. This done, he afterward led his army down into Phœnicia.

II. MACCABEES.

10. Now after a space of three years Jason sent Menelaus, the aforesaid Simon's brother, to bear the money unto the king, and to make reports concerning some necessary matters. 11. But he being commended to the king, and having glorified himself by the display of his authority, got the high priesthood by the son by three hundred talents of silver. 12. And having received the royal mandates he came to Jerusalem, bringing nothing worthy the high priesthood, but having the passion of a cruel tyrant, and the rage of a savage beast. 13. And whereas Jason, who had supplanted his own brother, was supplanted by another and driven as a fugitive into the country of the Ammonites, Meleaeus had possession of the office: but of the money that had been promised to the king nothing was duly paid, and that though Sostratus the governor of the citadel demanded it (for unto him it was apprented the gathering of the revenues); for which cause they were both called by the king to his presence. 14. And Meleaeus left his own brother Lysimachus for his deputy in the high priesthood; and Socrates left Crales, who was over the Ophraimites.
things, it came to pass that they of Tarsus and Mallus made insurrection, because they were to be given to Andronicus certain vessels of gold belonging to the temple, which he had stolen: other vessels also he had already sold into Tyre and the cities round about. And when Onias had sure knowledge of this, he sharply reproved him, having withdrawn himself into a sanctuary at Daphne, that is, the Cilicia, the Jews that were in the city pleaded before aims against Andronicus (the Greeks also joining with them in hatred of the wickedness), urging that Onias had been wrongfully slain. Antiochus therefore was heartily sorry, and was moved to pity, and wept, because of the sober and well ordered life of him that was dead; and being inflamed with passion, forthwith he stripped off Andronicus's purple robe, and rent off his under garments, and when he had clothed the whole city unto that very place where he had committed impiety against Onias, there he put the murderer out of the way, the Lord rendering to him the punishment he had deserved.

Now when many sacrifices had been committed in the city by Lysimachus, with the consent of Menelaus, and when the bruit thereof was spread abroad outside, the people gathered themselves together against Lysimachus, after many vessels of gold had been already dispersed. And when the multitude were roused against Ais, and were filled with anger, Lysimachus armed about three thousand men, and with unrighteous violence began the conflict, one Hauran, a man far gone in years and no less also in madness, leading the attack. But when they perceived the assault of Lysimachus, they caught up stones, others logs of wood, and some took handfuls of the ashes that lay near, and they flung them all pellet-ment upon Lysimachus and his men; 46 by reason of which they wounded many of them, and some they struck to the ground, and all of them they forced to flee, but the author of the sacrilege himself they killed beside the treasury.

But touching these matters there was an accusation laid against Menelaus. And when the king was come to Tyre, the three men that were sent by the senate pleaded the cause before him. But Menelaus, seeing himself now defeated, promised much money to Ptolemy the son of Dorymenes, that he might win over the king. Whereupon Ptolemy taking the king aside into a cloister, as it were to take the air, brought him to be of another mind: and he that was the cause of all the evil, Menelaus, he discharged from the accusations; but those hapless men, if they were not altogether killed, at least, Sicythians, would have been discharged uncondemned, them he sentenced to death. Soon then did they that were the spokesmen for the city and the families of Israel and the holy vessels suffer that unrighteous penalty. For which cause even certain Tyrians, moved with hatred of the wickedness, provided magnificently for their burial. But Menelaus through the covetous dealings of them that were in power remained still in his office, 53 clearing to wickedness, as a great conspirator against his fellow-citizens.
setting up trophies over enemies, and not over fellow-countrymen. 7 The office however he did not get, but, receiving shame as the end of his conspiracy, he passed again a fugitive into the country of the Ammonites. 8 At the last therefore he met with a miserable end: having been shut up at the court of Aretas the prince of the Arabians, fleeing from city to city, pursued of all men, hated was an apostate from the laws, and held in abomination as the butcher of his country and his fellow-citizens, he was cast forth into Egypt; and he that had driven many from their own country into strange lands perished himself in a strange land, having crossed the sea to the Lacedemonians, as thinking to find shelter there because they were near of kin; 9 and he that had cast out a multitude unto him having no heart for him, nor had he any funeral at all, or place in the sepulchre of his fathers.

10 Now when tidings came to the king concerning that which was done, he thought that Judea was in revolt; whereupon setting out from Egypt in a furious mind, he took the city by force of arms, and commanded his soldiers to cut down without mercy such as came in their way, and to slay such as went upon the houses; 11 and there was killing of young and old, making away of boys, women, and children, slaying of virgins and infants. 12 And in all the three days of the slaughter there were destroyed fourscore thousand, whereof forty thousand were slain in close combat, and no fewer were sold than slain. 13 But not content with this he presumed to enter into the most holy temple, and all the edifice by force of arms, 14 and commanded his soldiers to cut down without mercy such as came in their way, and to slay such as went upon the houses; 15 and there was killing of young and old, making away of boys, women, and children, slaying of virgins and infants. 16 And in all the three days of the slaughter there were destroyed fourscore thousand, whereof forty thousand were slain in close combat, and no fewer were sold than slain. 17 But not content with this he presumed to enter into the most holy temple, and all the edifice by force of arms, 18 and commanded his soldiers to cut down without mercy such as came in their way, and to slay such as went upon the houses; 19 and there was killing of young and old, making away of boys, women, and children, slaying of virgins and infants. 20 And it had not so been that they were already holden by many sins, this man, even as Heliodorus who was sent by Seleucus the king to view the treasury, would, so soon as he pressed forward, have been scourged and turned back from his daring deed. 21 Howbeit the Lord did not choose the nation for the place's sake, 22 but the place for the nation's sake. 23 Wherefore also the place itself, having partaken in the calamities that befell the nation, did afterward share in its benefits; 24 and the place which was forsaken in the wrath of the Almighty was, at the reconciliation of the great Sovereign, restored again with all glory.

15 As for Antiochus, when he had carried away out of the temple a thousand and eight hundred talents, he departed in all haste unto Antioch, weeping in his arrogancy to make the land navigable and the sea passable by foot, because his heart was lifted up. 16 And moreover he left governors to afflict the race: at Jerusalem, Philip, by race a Phrygian, and in character more barbarous than him that set him there; 17 and at Gerizim, Andronicus; and besides these, Menedemos, who worse than all the rest of them hurt on himself for his fellow-citizens. And having a malicious mind toward the Jews whom he had made his citizens, 18 he sent that Lord of pollutions Apollonius with an army of two and twenty thousand, commanding him to slay all those that were of full age, and to sell the women and the younger men. 19 And he coming to Jerusalem, and playing the man of peace, waited till the holy day of the sabbath, and finding the Jews at rest from work, he commanded his men to parade in arms. 20 And he put to the sword all them that came forth to the spectacle; and running into the city with the armed men he slew great multitudes. 21 But Judas, who is also called Maccabees, with nine others or thereabout, withdrew himself, and with his company kept himself alive in the mountains after the manner of the wild beasts, and in the wilderness they continued feeding on such poor herbs as grew there, that they might not be partakers of the threatened pollution.

6 And not long after this the king sent forth an old man of Athens to come among the Jews, to draw the laws of their fathers, and not to live after the laws of God; 2 and also to pollute the sanctuary in Jerusalem, and to call it by the name of Jupiter Olympus, and to call the sanctuary in Gerizim by the name of Jupiter the Protector of strangers, even as they were that dwelt in the place. 3 But sore and utterly grievous was the visitation of this evil. 4 For the temple was filled with riot and revellings by the heathen, who dinned with harlots, and had to do with women within the sacred precincts, and moreover brought inside things that were not befitting; 5 and the place of sacrifice was filled with those abominable things which had been prohibited by the laws. 6 And a man could neither keep the sabbath, nor so much as confess himself to be a Jew. 7 And on the day of the king's birth every month they were led along with bitter constraint to eat of the sacrifices; and when the first feast of Bacchus came, they were compelled to go in procession in the image of Bacchus, wearing wreaths of ivy. 8 And there went out a decree to the neighbouring Greek cities, by the suggestion of Ptolemy, that they should observe the same conduct against the Jews, and should make them eat of the sacrifices; 9 and that they should play such as did not choose to go over to the Greek rites. So the present misery was for all to see: for two women were brought up for having circumcised their children; and these, when they had led them publicly round about the city, when they came from their breasts, they cast down headlong from the wall. 10 And others, that had run together into the caves near by to keep the seventh day secretly, being betrayed to Philip were all burnt together, because they scrupled to defend themselves, from the honour of that most solemn day.

11 I beseech therefore those that read this book, that they be not discouraged because of the calamities, but account that these punishments were not for the destruction, 12 but for the chastening of our race. 13 For indeed those who act impiety be not let alone any long time, but straightway meet with retribution, is a sign of great beneficence. 14 For in the case of the other nations the Sovereign Lord doth with long-suffering forbear, until that he punish them to the full measure of their sins; but not so judged he as touching us, that he may not take vengeance on us afterward, 15 when we be come unto the height of our sins. 16 Wherefore he never draweth his mercy from us; but through he chasteneth with calamity, yet doth he not forsake his own people. 17 Howbeit let this that we have spoken suffice to put you in remembrance; 18 but after these few words we must come to the narrative.

19 Eleazar, one of the principal scribes, a man already well stricken in years, and of a noble countenance, was compelled to open his mouth to eat swine's flesh. 20 But he, welcoming death with renown rather than life with pollution, advanced of his own accord to the instrument of torture, but first spat forth the flesh, 21 being forward as men ought to come that are resolute to repel such things as not even for the natural love of life is it lawful to taste. 22 But they that had the charge of that forsook 23 sacrificial feast took the man aside, for the acquaintance which of old times they had with him, and privately besought him to bring flesh of his own providing, such as was befitting for him to use, and to make as if he did eat of the flesh from the sacrifices, as had been commanded by the king; 24 that by so doing he might be delivered from death, and for his ancient friendship with them might be treated kindly. 25 But he, having formed a high resolve, and one that became his years, and the dignity of old age, and the very grey hairs which he had reached with honour, and his excellent education from a child, for rather that became the holy laws of God's ordaining, declared his mind accordingly, bidding them quickly send him unto Hades. 26 For no more years to dissemble, said he, that through this many of the young should suppose that Eleazar, the man of fourscore years and ten, had gone over unto an alien religion; 27 and so they, by reason of my dissimulation, and for the sake of this brief and momentary life, should be led astray because of me, 28 and thus I get to myself a pollution and a stain of mine old age. 29 For even if for the present time I shall remove from me the punishment of men, yet shall I not escape the hands of the Almighty, either living or dead. 30 Wherefore, by manifestly parting with my life now, I will shew myself worthy of mine old age, and leave behind a noble example to the young to die willingly and nobly a glorious death for the revered and holy laws. And when he had said these words, he went straightway to the instrument of torture. 31 And when they changed the goodwill they bare him a little before into ill will, because they thought, 32 mere madness, and when he was at the point to die with the stripes, he groaned aloud and said, To the Lord, that hath the holy knowledge, it is manifest that, whereas I might have been delivered from death, I endure sore pains in my body by being scourged; but in soul I gladly suffer these things for my fear of him. 33 So this man also died after this manner, leaving his death for an ensample of nobleness and a memorial of virtue, not only to the young but also to the great body of his nation.

7 1 And it came to pass that seven brethren also with their mother were at the king's command taken and shamefully handled with scourges and thou doest what thou wilt; yet think not that our race hath been forsaken of God; 27: but hold thou on thy way, and behold his sovereign majesty, 28: how it will torture thee and thy seed.

28 And after him they brought the sixth. And when he was at the point to die, he said, Be not vainly deceived, 29: for we suffer these things for our own doings, as sinning against our own God: marvellous things are come to pass; 30: but think not thou that thou shalt be unpunished, having assayed 31: to fight against God.

32 But above all was the mother marvellous and worthy of honourable memory; for when she looked on seven sons perishng within the space of one day, she bare the sight with a good courage for the hopes that she had set on the Lord. 33: And she exhorted each one of them in the language of their fathers, filled with a noble temper and stirring up her womanish thought with manly words, but also at the same time procssed, as the first had done. 34: Therefore the Creator of the world, who fashioned the generation of all things, in mercy giveth back to you again both your spirit and your life, as ye now contemn these; and from him I hope wise give heed, the king called unto him his friend and intrusted him with trustful, and did not only make his appeal to him by words, but also at the same time promised with oaths that he would enrich him, 35: and raise him to high estate, if he would turn from the customs of his fathers, and that he would take him for his friend and intrust him with affairs. 36: But when the young man would in no wise give heed, him I hailed unto him his mother, and exhorted her that she would counsel the lad to save himself. 37: And when he had exhorted her with many words, she undertook to persuade her son. 38: But bending toward him, laughing the cruel tyrant to scorn, she spake thus in the language of her fathers: My son, have pity upon me that bore thee suck three years, and gave thee life and sustenance, and nourished and brought thee up unto this age, and sustained thee. 39: I beseech thee, my child, to lift thine eyes unto the heaven and the earth, and to see all things that are therein, and thus to recognise that God made them not of themselves, but of all things that were, and that the race of men in this wise cometh into being. 40: Fear not this butcher, but, proving thyself worthy of thy brethren, accept thy death, that in the mercy of God I may receive thee again with thy brethren. 32 But before she had yet ended speaking, the young man said, Whom wait ye for? I obey not the commandment of the king, but I hearken to the commandment of the law that was given to our fathers through Moses. 33 But thou, that hast devised all manner of evil against the Hebrews, shalt in no wise escape the hands of God. 34 For we are suffering because of our own sins; and if for rebuke and chastening our living Lord hath been angered a little while, yet shall he again be reconciled with his own servants. 35 But then, O unholy man and of all most vile, be not vainly lifted up in thy wild pride with uncertain hopes, raising thy hand against the heavenly children; 36 for not yet hast thou escaped the judgement of the Almighty God that sealèd thee, having endured a short pain that bringeth everlasting life, have now died under God’s covenant; but thou, through the judgement of God, shalt receive in just measure the penalties of thine arrogancy. 37 But I, as my brethren, give up both body and soul for the laws of our fathers, calling upon God that he may speedily become gracious to the nation; and that thou amidst trials and plagues mayst confess that he alone is God; 38 and that in me and my brethren thon mayest stay the wrath of the Almighty, which hath been justly brought upon our whole race. 39 But the king, falling into a rage, handled him worse than all the rest, being exasperated at his mocking. 40 So he also died pure from pollution, putting his whole trust in the Lord his God. 41 And last of all after her sons the mother died. 42 Let it then suffice to have said thus much concerning the enforcement of sacrificial feasts and the King’s exceeding barbarities.

8 But Judas, who is also called Maccabees, and they that were with him, making their way privately into the villages, called unto them their kinsfolk; and taking unto them such as had continued in the Jews’ religion, gathered together as many as six thousand. 4 And they called upon the Lord, beseeching him to look upon the people that was oppressed by all; and to have compassion on the sanctuary also that had been profaned by the ungodly men; and to have pity on the city also that was suffering ruin and ready to be made even with the ground; and to hearken to the blood that cried unto him; 4 and to remember also the lawless slaughter of the innocent infants, and the blasphemies that had been committed against his name; and to shew his hatred of wickedness. And when Maccabaeus had trained his men for service, the heathen at once found him irresistible, for that the wrath of the Lord was turned into pity. 5 And coming unaware he set fire to cities and villages. And in winning back the most important positions, putting to flight no small number of the enemies, he specially took advantage of the nights for such assaults. And his courage was loudly talked of everywhere.

But when *Philip saw the man gaining ground by little and little, and increasing more and more in his prosperity, he wrote unto Ptolemy, the governor of Cyzicis and Phoenicia, that he should support the king’s cause. 3 And Ptolemeus persuaded the king to send the son of Ptolemy, one of the king’s chief friends, and sent him, in command of no fewer than twenty thousand of all nations, to destroy the whole race of Judæa; and with him he joined Gorgias also, a captain and general, that had experience in matters of war. 4 And Nicoranº undertook by the sale of the captive Jews to make up for the king the tribute of two thousand talents which he was to pay to the Romans. 5 And immediately he sent unto the cities upon the sea coast, inviting them to buy Jewish slaves, promising to allow fourscore and ten slaves for a talent, not expecting the judgement that was to follow upon him from the Almighty. 6 But tidings came to Judas concerning the coming of Nicoran; and when he communicated to them that were with him the presence of the army, they that were cowardly and distrustful of the judgement of God ran away and left the country. 7 And others sold all that was left over to them, and withal besought the Lord to deliver them that had been sold as slaves by the impious Nicoran or ever he met them; and this, if not for their own sakes, yet for the covenants made with their fathers, and because he had called them by his reverend and glorious name. 8 And Maccabees gathered his men together, six thousand in number, and exhorted them not to be stricken with dismay at the enemy, nor to fear the great multitude of the heathen who came unworthily against them; but to contend nobly, setting before their... eyes the outrage that had been lawlessly perpetrated upon the holy place, and the shameful handling of the city received from their ancestors. For they, said he, trust to arms, and withal to deeds of daring; but we trust on the Almighty God, since he is able at a beck to cast down... of victory of the city of their fathers, they burned those that had not the sacred gates on fire, and among them Callisthenes, who had fled into an outhouse; and so they received the most reward of their iniquity.

And they killed the phyllarch of Timotheus's forces, a most unholy man, and one who had done the Jews much hurt. And they thus called the war upon the Gauls, how that they came to the engagement eight thousand in all, with four thousand Macedonians, and how they were defeated, how they were put to flight, how they kept the six thousand destroyed the hundred and twenty thousand, because of the succour which they had from heaven, and took great booty. And when he had with these words made them of good courage, and ready to die for the faith of the country and the Temple, he apportioned the army into four parts; appointing his brethren to be with himself leaders of the several bands, to fight Joseph and Jonathan, giving each the command of fifteen hundred men, and moreover Eleazar also; then, having read aloud the sacred book, and having given as watchword, THE HELP OF GOD, leading the first band himself, he joined battle with Nicanor. And, since the Almighty fought on their side, they slew of the enemy above nine thousand, and wounded and disabled the more part of Nicanor's army and compassed all to flee; and they took the money of those that had come there to buy them. And after they had pursued them for some distance, they returned, being constrained by the time of the day, and the day before the sabbath, and for this cause they made no effort to chase them far. And when they had gathered the arms of the enemy together, and had stripped off their spoils, they occupied themselves about the sabbath, blessing and thanking the Lord exceedingly, who had saved them unto this day, for that he had caused a beginning of mercy to distil upon them. And after the sabbath, when they had given of the spoils to the maimed, and to the widows and orphans, the residue they distributed among themselves and their children. And when they had accomplished these things, and had made a common supplication, they besought the merciful Lord to be wholly reconciled with his servants.

And having had an encounter with the forces of Timotheus and Baschides, they killed above twenty thousand of them, and made themselves masters of strongholds exceeding high, and divided very much plunder, giving the maimed and orphans and widows, and moreover the aged also, an equal share with themselves. And when they had gathered the arms of the enemy together, they stored them all up carefully in the most important positions, and the residue of the spoils they carried to Jerusalem.

And they killed the phyllarch of Timotheus's forces, a most unholy man, and one who had done the Jews much hurt. And they thus called the war upon the Gauls, how that they came to the engagement eight thousand in all, with four thousand Macedonians, and how they were defeated, how they kept the six thousand destroyed the hundred and twenty thousand, because of the succour which they had from heaven, and took great booty. Chap. 9, v. 3.

[See ch. 8, 20.]

Timothy. 4 And being lifted up by his passion he thought to make the Jews suffer even for the evil-doing of those that had not been slain. Wherefore, the judgement from heaven even now accompanying him, he gave order to his charioteer to drive without ceasing and despatch the journey; for thus he arrogantly spoke: I will make Jerusalem a common graveyard of Jews, when I come thither. But the All-seeing Lord, the God of Israel, smote him with a fatal and invisible stroke; and as soon as he had ceased speaking this word, an incurable pain of the bowels seized him, and bitter torments of the inner parts; and that most justly, for he had tormented other men's bowels with many and strange sufferings. 7 But he in no wise ceased from his rude insolence; nay, still more was he filled with arrogance, breathing fire in his passion against the Jews, and commanding to hasten, that it came to pass moreover that he fell from his chariot as it rushed-along, and having a grievous fall was racked in all the members of his body. 8 And he that but now supposed himself to have the waves of the sea at his bidding, so vainglorious was he, that the chariot of man, and that thought to weigh the heights of the mountains in a balance, was now brought to the ground and carried in a litter, shewing unto all that the power was manifestly God's; 9 so that out of the body of the impious man worms swarmed, and while he was still living in anguish and pains, his flesh fell off, and by reason of the stench all the army turned with loathing from his corruption. 10 And the man that a little afore supposed himself to touch the stars of heaven, no one could endure to hear of his voice without horror, loathing the stench. 11 Hereupon therefore he began in great part to cease from his arrogance, being broken in spirit, and to come to knowledge under the scourge of God, his pains increasing every moment. 12 And when he himself could not abide his own smell, he said these words: It is right to be subject unto God, and that one who is mortal should not be minded arrogantly. 13 And the vile man vowed unto the Sovereign Lord, who now no more would have pity upon him, saying on this wise: 14 that the holy city, to which he was going in haste, to lay it even with the ground and to make it a common graveyard, he would declare free; 15 and as touching the Jews, whom he had decided not even to count worthy of burial, but to cast them out to waste with their infants, for the birds to devour, he would make them all equal to citizens of Athens; and the holy sanctuary, which before he had spoiled, he would adorn with goodliest offerings, and would restore all the sacred vessels many times multiplied, and out of his own revenues would defray the charges that were required for the sacrifices; 17 and, beside all this, that he would become a Jew, and would visit every inhabited place, publishing abroad the might of God. 18 But when his sufferings did not at once cease, for the judgement of God had come upon him in righteousness, having given up all hope of himself, he wrote unto the Jews the letter written below, having the nature of a supplication, to this effect: 19 To the worthy Jews, this fellow-citizens, Antiochus, king and general, wisheth much joy and health and prosperity. 20 May ye and your children fare well; and your affairs shall be to your mind. Having my hope in heaven, 21 I remember with affection your honour and good will toward me. Returning out of the region of Persia, and being taken with a noisome sickness, I deemed it necessary to take thought for the common safety of all, not despairing of myself, but having great hope of escape from the sickness. 22 But considering that my father also, at what time he led an army into the upper country, appointed his successor, 23 to the end that, if anything fell out contrary to expectation, or if any unwelcome tidings were brought, they remained in the country, knowing to whom the state had been left, might not be troubled; 24 and, beside all this, observing how that the princes that are borderers and neighbours unto my kingdom watch opportunities, and look for the future event, I have appointed my son Antiochus my successor, who, like myself, I often committed and commended to most of you, when I was hastening unto the upper provinces; and I have written to him what is written below. 26 I exhort you therefore and beseech you, having in your remembrance the benefits done to you in common and severally, to preserve each of you your present good will toward me and my son. 27 For I am persuaded that in gentleness and kindness will follow my purpose and treat you with indulgence.

And Maccabeus and they that were with him, the Lord leading them on, recovered the temple and the city; and they pulled down the altars that had been built in the marketplace by the aliens, and also the walls of sacred inclosures. And having cleansed the sanctuary they made another altar of sacrifice; and striking stones and taking fire out of them, they offered sacrifices, andyle lamps and lighted lamps, and set forth the shew-bread. And when they had done these things, they fell prostrate and besought God that they might fall no more into such evils; but that, if ever they should sin, they might be chastened by him with forbearance, and not be delivered unto blaspheming and barbarous heathen. Now on the same day that they began to recover the temple, it fell into the hands of aliens, upon that very day it did come to pass that the cleansing of the sanctuary was made, even on the five and twentieth day of the same month, which is Chislev. And they kept eight days with gladness in the manner of the feast of tabernacles, remembering how that not long after, during the feast of tabernacles, they were wandering in the mountains and in the caves after the manner of wild beasts. Wherefore hearing wands wreathed with leaves, and fair boughs, and palms also, they offered up hymns of thanksgiving to him that had prosperously brought to pass the cleansing of his own place. They ordained also with a common statute and decree, for all the nation of the Jews, that they should keep these days every year. Accordingly, Joseph, and Lucius besides and Gorgias, when he was made chancellor and supreme governor of the district, maintained a good example of observing justice toward the heathen. Now Simon and they that were with him, having turned traitors, and forthwith took possession of the two towers. And prospering with his band of Antiochus, who was called Epiphanes, he slew these men for having accused by the king's friends before and accused an enemy to his enemies and an adversary to their adversaries, as the law declareth. And rising from the prayer they took up their arms, and advanced some distance from the city; and when they had come near to their enemies they halted. And when the dawn was now spreading, the two armies joined battle; the one part having this, beside their virtue, for a pledge of success and victory, that they had fled unto the Lord for refuge, the others making their passion their leader in the strife. 29 But when the battle waxed strong, there appeared out of heaven unto their adversaries five men on horses with bridles of gold, in splendid array; and two of them, leading on the Jews, and taking Maccabeus in the midst of them, and covering him with their own armour, guarded him from wounds, while on the adversaries they shot arrows and thunderbolts; by reason whereof they were blazed and thrown into confusion, and were cut to pieces, filled with bewildermcnt. 30 And there were slain twenty thousand and five hundred, beside six hundred horsemen. 31 But Timotheus himself fled into a stronghold called Gazara, a fortress of exceeding strength, Chereas being in command there. 32 But Maccabeus and his men were glad and laid siege to the fortress four and twenty days. 33 And then, having strengthened the strength of the place, blasphemed exceedingly, and hurled forth impious words. 34 But at dawn of the fifth and twentieth day certain young men of the company of Maccabeus, inflamed with passion because of the blasphemies, assaulted the wall with masculine force and with furious passion, and cut down whosoever came in their way. 35 And others climbing up in like manner, while the besieged were distracted with that had made their way within, set fire to the towers, and kindling fires burned the blasphemers alive; while others broke open the gates, and, having given entrance to the rest of the band, occupied the city. 36 And they slew Timotheus, who was hidden in a cistern, and his brother Chereas, and Apollonius. 37 And who they had accomplished these things, they blessed the Lord with hymns and thanksgivings, him who doeth great benefits unto king. 38 And Maccabeus gave consent upon all the conditions which Lysias proposed to him, being careful of the common good; for whatsoever were done in Jerusalem, there appeared unto the Jews from Lysias were to this effect: Lysias unto the people of the Jews, greeting; 17 John and Absalom, who were sent from you, having delivered the petition written below, made request concerning the things signified therein. 18 Wherein I before had need be brought before the king I declared to him, and what things were possible he allowed. 19 If then ye will preserve your good will toward the state, henceforward also will I endeavour to contribute to your good. 20 And on this behalf I have given order in detail, both to these men and to those that are sent from me, to confer with you.

1. So when these covenants had been made, Lysias departed unto the king, and the Jews went about their husbandry.

2. But certain of the governors of districts, *Timothens and Apollonius the son of Gennaeus, and Hieronymus also and Demophon, and beside them Nicantor the governor of P Cyprus, would not suffer them to enjoy tranquillity and live in peace. 3. And men of Joppa perverted this great impity: they invited the Jews that dwelt among them to go with their wives and children into the boats which they had provided, as though they had no ill will towards them; and when the Jews, relying on the command of the king, accorded the invitation, as men desiring to live in peace and suspecting nothing, they took them out to sea and drowned them, in number not less than two hundred.

4. But when Judas heard of the cruelty done unto his fellow-countrymen, giving command to the men that were with him and calling upon God the righteous Judge, he came against the murderers of his brethren, and set the haven on fire by night, and burnt the boats, and put to the sword those that had fled thereto. 5. But when the town was closed against him, he withdrew, intending to come again to root out the whole community of the men of Joppa. 6. But learning that the men of Jamnia were minded to do in like manner unto the Jews that sojourned among them, he fell upon the Jammites also by night, and set fire to the haven together with the fleet, so that the glare of the light was seen at Jerusalem, two hundred and forty furlongs distant.

7. Now when they had drawn off nine furlongs from thence, as they marched against Joppa well, a certain city named in the hundred forty and eighth year, on the fifteenth day of Xanthicus. 8. And the Romans also sent unto them a letter in these words:

Quintus Memmius and Titus Manius, ambassadors of the Romans, unto the people of the Jews, greeting. 9. In regard to the things which Lysias the king's kinsman granted you, we also give consent. 10. But as for the things which he judged should be referred to the king, send one forthwith, after ye have advised thereof, that we may publish such decrees as befit your case; for we are on our way to Antioch. 11. Wherefore send some with speed, that we also may learn what is your mind. 12. Farewell. Written in the hundred forty and eighth year, on the fifteenth day of Xanthicus.

inhabited by a mixed multitude of divers nations; and it was named Caspin.

14 But they that were within, trusting to the strength of the walls and to their store of provisions, behaved themselves rudely toward Judas and them that were with him, railing, and furthermore blaspheming and speaking impious words. 15 But Judas and his company, calling upon the great Sovereign of the world, who without rams and cunning engines of war hurled down Jericho in the times of Joshua, rushed wildly against the wall; and having taken the city by the will of God, they made unspeakable slaughter, insomuch that the adjoining lake, which was two furlongs broad, appeared to be filled with the deluge of blood.

16 And when they had drawn off seven hundred and fifty furlongs from thence, they made their way to Charax, unto the Nabataeans. 17 And Timotheus they found not in occupation of that district, for he had then departed from the district without accomplishing anything, but had left behind a garrison, and that a very strong one, in a certain post. 18 But Dositheus and Maccabees and the captains, sallied forth and destroyed those that had been left by Timotheus in the stronghold, above ten thousand men. 19 And Maccabees, ranging his own army by bands, set these two over the bands, and marched in haste against Timotheus, who had with him a hundred and twenty thousand footmen and two thousand and five hundred horsemen. 20 But when Timotheus heard of the inroad of Judas, he at once sent away the women and the children and also the baggage into the fortress called Carnion; for the place was hard to besiege and difficult of access by reason of the narrowness of the approaches on all sides. 21 But when the band of Judas, who led the van, appeared in sight, and when terror came upon the enemy and fear, because of the manifestation of him who beheld all things came upon them, they fled amain, carried this way and that, so that they were often hurt of their own men, and pierced with the points of their swords. 22 And Judas continued the pursuit the more hotly, putting the wicked wretches to the sword, and he destroyed as many as thirty thousand men. 23 But Timotheus himself, falling in with the company of Dositheus and Socipater, besought them with much crafty guile to let him go with his life, because he had in his power the parents of many of them and the brethren of some; otherwise, said he, little regard will be shewn to them. 24 So when he had with many words confirmed the agreement to restore them without hurt, they let him go that they might save their brethren.

25 And Judas, marching against Carnion and the temple of Atergatis, slew five and twenty thousand persons. 26 And after he had put these to flight and destroyed them, he marched against Ephron also, a strong city, wherein were multitudes of people of all nations; and stalwart young men placed on the walls made a vigorous defence; and there were great stores of engines and darts there. 27 But calling upon the Sovereign who with might breaketh in pieces the strength of the enemy, they got the city into their hands, and slew as many as twenty and five thousand of them that were within. 28 And setting out from thence they marched in haste against Ephron, which is distant from Jerusalem six hundred furlongs. 29 But when the Jews that were settled there testified of the good will that the Scythopolitans had shewn towards them, and of their kindly bearing toward them in the times of their misfortunes, they did not depart, and they exhorted them to remain well affected toward the race for the future; and they went up to Jerusalem, the feast of weeks being close at hand.

30 But after the feast called Pentecost they marched in haste against Gorgias, the governor of Iduma; and he came out with three thousand footmen and four hundred horsemen. 31 And when they had set themselves in array, it came to pass that a few of the Jews fell. 32 And a certain Dositheus, one of Bacoenor’s company, who was on the back and a strong hand on Gorgias, and taking hold of his cloak drew him along by main force; and while he was minded to take the accursed man alive, one of the Thracian horsemen bore down upon him and disabled his shield and sword. 33 And Gorgias escaped unto a marine. 34 And when they that were with Esdris had been fighting long and were weary out, Judas called upon the Lord to shew himself, fighting on their side and leading the van of the battle; and they in the language of his fathers he raised the battle-cry joined with hymns, and rushing unawares upon the troops of Gorgias put them to flight. 35 And Judas gathering his army came unto the city of Adullam; and as the seventh day was coming on, they purified themselves according to the custom, and kept the sabbath there.
And on the day following, at which time it had become necessary, Judas and his company came to take up the bodies of them that had fallen, and in company with their kinmen to bring them back unto the sepulchres of their fathers. But under the garments of each one of the dead they found consecrated tokens of the idols of Samnia, which the law forbids the Jews to have any part with, and it became clear to all that it was for this cause that they had fallen. All therefore, blessing the works of the Lord, the righteous Judge, who maketh manifest the things that are hid, betook themselves unto supplication, beseeching that the sin committed might be wholly blotted out. And the noble Judas exhorted the multitude to keep themselves from sin, forasmuch as they had gazed in the eyes of their fathers, and that things had come to pass because of the sin of them that had fallen. And when he had made a collection man by man to the sum of two thousand drachmas of silver, he sent unto Jerusalem to offer a sacrifice for sin, doing therein right well and honourably, in that he took thought for a resurrection. For if we were not expecting that they that had fallen would rise again, it were superfluous and idle to pray for the dead. (And if he did it looking unto an honourable memorial of gratitude laid up for them that 'died in godliness, holy and godly was the thought.) Wherefore he made the propitiation for them that had died, that they might be released from their sin.

And committing the decision, Antiochus Eupator was coming with nobly even unto death for laws, temple, city, country, commonwealth, he pitched his camp by night and penetrated to the arms of the bravest young men he fell upon the army as many as two thousand men, and three hundred chariots armed with king's tent, and slew of the army as many as he could. Many as four hundred and fifty, including the chief elephant with his terrors, that they might be wholly blotted out. And the thirtieth day, at which fifty cubits high, full of ashes, and it had all round it a gallery descending sheer on every side into the ashes. Here him that is guilty of sacrilege, or hath attained a preeminence in any other evil deeds, they all push forward into destruction. By such a fate it befall the breaker of the law, Meneius, to die, without obtaining so much as a grove in the earth, and this right justly; for inasmuch as he had performed many sins against the altar, whose fire and whose ashes were holy, in ashes did he receive his death.

Now the king, infuriated in spirit, was coming with intent to inflict on the Jews the very worst of the sufferings that had befallen them in his father's time. But when Judas heard of these things, he gave charge to the multitude to call upon the Lord, beseeching him, if ever at any other time, now to succour them that were at the point to be deprived of the law and the their country and the holy temple, and not to suffer the people that had been but now a little while revived to fall into the hands of those profane heathens. So when they had all done the same thing together, beseeching the merciful Lord with great alacrity, he sent and called to him for service. And having gone apart with the elders he resolved that, before the king's army should enter into Judea and make themselves masters of the city, they should go forth and try the matter in fight by the help of their God. And committing the decision to the Lord of the world, and exhorting them that the Lord might stir them on nobly even unto death for laws, temple, city, country, commonwealth, he pitched his camp by Modin. And having given out to his men the watchword, victory is God's, with a chosen body of the bravest young men he fell upon the camp by night and penetrated to the king's tent, and slew the army as many as two thousand men, and brought down the chief elephant with his terrors, that was in the tower upon him. And at last they filled the army with terror and alarm, and departed with good success. And this had been accomplished when the day was but now dawning, because of the Lord's protection that gave Judas help.

But the king, having had a taste of the exceeding boldness of the Jews, made attempts by stratagem upon their positions, and sought for the strong fortresses of the Jews at Bethura; he advanced, was have for the things that concern the king, and secondly because I have regard also to mine own fellow-citizens: for, through the unadvised dealing of those of whom I spoke before, our whole race is in no small misfortunes. But do thou, O king, having informed thyself of these things severally, take thought both for our country and for our race, which is surrounded by foes, according to the gracious kindness with which thou receivest all. For as long as Judas remaineth alive, it is impossible that the state should find peace. And when he had spoken such words, and we, as always, the rest of the king's friends, having ill will against Judas, inflamed Demetrius yet more. And forthwith appointing Nicanor, who had been master of the elephants, and making him governor of Judæa, he sent him forth, giving him written instructions to make away with Judas himself and to scatter them that were with him and to set up Alcimus in high priest. And those in Judæa that had before driven Judas into exile thronged to Nicanor in flocks, supposing that the misfortunes and calamities of the Jews would be successes to themselves. But when the Jews heard of Nicanor's inroad and the assault of the heathen, they sprinkled earth upon their heads and made solemn supplication to him who had established his own people for evermore, and who always, making manifest his presence, upholdeth them that are his own portion. And when the leader had given his commands, he straightway seteth out from thence, and jointeth battle with them at a village called Lesusan. But when Simon, the brother of Judas, had encountered Nicanor, yet not till late, having received a check by reason of the sudden consternation caused by his adversary, Nevertheless Nicanor, hearing of the manliness of them that were with Judas, and their courage in fighting for their country, shrank from bringing the matter to the decision of the sword. Wherefore he sent Posidonius and Theodotus and Mattathias to give and receive pledges of friendship. So when these proposals had been long considered, and the leader had made the troops acquainted therewith, and it appeared that they were all of like mind, they consented to the covenants. And they appointed a day on which to meet together by themselves. And a litter was borne forward from each army; they set chairs of state; Judæa stationed armed men ready in convenient places; lest haply there should suddenly turned back, failed, was defeated. And Judas conveyed such things as were necessary unto them that were within. But Rhodocus, from the Jewish ranks, made known to the enemy the secrets of his countrymen. He was sought out, and taken, and shut up in prison. The king treated with them in Bethsura the second time, gave his hand, took theirs, departed, attacked the forces of Judas, was put to the worse, heard that Philip who had been left as chancellor in Antioch had become reckless, was maineth alive, it is impossible that the...

Sovereign in heaven, who bade us observe the seventh day; that he might be the one, I also am a sovereign upon the earth, who now command to take up arms and execute the king's business. Nevertheless he prevailed not to execute his sacred purpose.

And Nicanor, bearing himself haughtily in all vaingloriousness, had determined to set up a monument of complete victory over Judas and all them that were with him: but Maccabees still trusted unceasingly, with all hope that he should obtain help from the Lord. And the he exhorted his company not to be fearful at the inroad of the heathen, but, keeping in mind the help which of old they had oft-times received from heaven, now also to look for the victory which would come unto them from the Almighty; and comforting them out of the law and the prophets, and withal putting them in mind of the conflicts that they had maintained, he made them more eager for the battle. And when he had rekindled the spirit and gave them his commands, at the same time pointing out the perfidiousness of the heathen and their breach of their oaths. And arming each one of them, not so much with the sure defence of shields and spears as with the encouragement that had been given, and as new-resolving relating to them a dream worthy to be believed, he made them all exceeding glad. And the vision of that dream was this: He saw a Onias, him that was high priest, a noble and good man, reverend in bearing, yet gentle in manner and well-spoken, and exercised from all points of view, with outstretched hands invoking blessings on the whole body of the Jews: thereupon he saw a man appear, of venerable age and exceeding glory, and wonderful and most majestic was the dignity around him: and Onias answered and said, This is the lover of the brethren, he who prays much for the people and the holy city. Jeremiah the prophet of God: and Jeremiah stretching forth his right hand delivered to Judas a sword of gold, and in giving it addressed him thus, Take the holy sword, a gift from God, wherewith thou shalt smite down the adversaries.

And being encouraged by the words of Judas, which were of a lofty strain, and able to incite unto virtue and to stir the souls of the young unto manly courage, they determined not to carry on a campaign, but nobly to bear down upon the enemy, and fighting hand to hand with all courage bring the matter to an issue, because the city and the sanctuary and the temple were in danger. For their fear for wives and children, and furthermore for brethren and kinsfolk, was in less account with them; but greatest and first was their fear for the consecrated sanctuary. And they also that were shut up in the city were in no light distress, being troubled because of the encounter in the open ground.

And when all were now waiting for the decision of the issue, and the enemy had already joined battle, and the army had been set in array, and the elephants brought back to a convenient post, and the horsemen drawn up on the flank, Maccabees, perceiving the presence of the troops, and the various arms with which they were equipped, and the savageness of the elephants, holding up his hands unto heaven called upon the Lord that worketh wonders, recognizing that success cometh not by arms, but that, according as the Lord shall judge, he gaineth the victory for them that call upon God he said after this manner: Thou, O Sovereign Lord, didst send thine angel in the time of Hezekiah king of Judea, and he slew of the host of Sennacherib as many as a hundred fourscore and five thousand; and so now also, O Sovereign Lord of the heavens, send a good angel before us to bring terror and trembling: through the greatness of thine arm let them be stricken with dismay that with blasphemy are come hither against thy holy people. And as he ended with these words, Nicanor and his company advanced with trumpets, but Judas and his company joined battle with the enemy with invocation and prayers. And contending with their hands, and praying unto God with their hearts, they slew no less than thirty and five thousand men, being made exceeding glad by the manifestation of God.

And when the engagement was over, and they were returning again with joy, they recognised Nicanor lying dead in full armour; and there arose a shout and tumult, and then they blessed the Sovereign Lord in the language of their fathers. And he that in all things was in body and soul the foremost champion of his fellow-citizens, he that kept through life the good will of his youth toward his countrymen, commanded to cut off Nicanor's head, and his hand with the shoulder, and bring them to Jerusalem. And when he had arrived there, and had called his countrymen together and set

REVISERS' PREFACE TO THE NEW TESTAMENT.

The English Version of the New Testament here presented to the reader is a Revision of the Translation published in the year of Our Lord 1611, and commonly known by the name of the Authorised Version.

That Translation was the work of many hands and of several generations. The foundation was laid by William Tyndale. His translation of the New Testament was the true primary Version. The Versions that followed were either substantially reproductions of Tyndale's translation in its final shape, or revisions of Versions that had been themselves almost entirely based on it. Three successive stages may be recognised in this continuous work of authoritative revision: first, the publication of the Great Bible of 1539-41 in the reign of Henry VIII; next, the publication of the Bishops' Bible of 1568 and 1572 in the reign of Elizabeth; and lastly, the publication of the King's Bible of 1611 in the reign of James I. Besides these, the Genevan Version of 1560, itself founded on Tyndale's translation, must here be named; which, though not put forth by authority, was widely circulated in this country, and largely used by King James' Translators. Thus the form in which the English New Testament has now been read for 270 years was the result of various revisions made between 1525 and 1611; and the present Revision is an attempt, after a long interval, to follow the example set by a succession of honoured predecessors.

I. Of the many points of interest connected with the Translation of 1611, two require special notice; first, the Greek Text which it appears to have represented; and secondly, the character of the Translation itself.

1. With regard to the Greek Text, it would appear that, if to some extent the Translators exercised an independent judgement, it was mainly in choosing amongst readings contained in the principal editions of the Greek Text that had appeared in the sixteenth century. Wherever they seem to have followed a reading which is not found in any of those editions, their rendering may probably be traced to the Latin Vulgate. Their chief guides appear to have been the later editions of Stephanus and of Beza, and also, to a certain extent, the Complutensian Polyglott. All these were founded for the most part on manuscripts of late date, few in number, and used with little critical skill. But in those days it could hardly have been otherwise. Nearly all the more ancient of the documentary authorities have become known only within the last two centuries; some of the most important of them, indeed, within the last few years. Their publication has called forth not only improved editions of the Greek Text, but a succession of instructive discussions on the variations which have been brought to light, and on the best modes of distinguishing original readings from changes introduced in the course of transcription. While therefore it has long been the opinion of all scholars that the commonly received text needed thorough revision, it is but recently that materials have been acquired for executing such a work with even approximate completeness.

2. The character of the Translation itself will be best estimated by considering the leading rules under which it was made, and the extent to which these rules appear to have been observed.

The primary and fundamental rule was expressed in the following terms:— 'The ordinary Bible read in the Church, commonly called the Bishops' Bible, to be followed, and as little altered as the truth of the Original will permit.' There was, however, this subsequent provision:— 'These translations to be used, when they agree better with the text than the Bishops' Bible: Tindale's, Matthew's, Coverdale's, Whitchurch's, Geneva.' The first of these rules, which was substantially the same as that laid down at the revision of the Great Bible in the reign of Elizabeth, was strictly observed. The other rule was but partially followed. The Translators made much use of the Genevan Version. They do not however appear to have frequently returned to the renderings of the other Versions named in the rule, where those Versions differed from the Bishops' Bible. On the other hand, their work shows evident traces of the influence of a Version not specified in the rules, the Rhemish, made from the Latin Vulgate, but by scholars conversant with the Greek Original.

Another rule, on which it is stated that those in authority laid great stress, related to the rendering of words that admitted of different interpretations. It was as follows:— 'When a word hath divers significations, that to be kept which hath been most commonly used by the most of the ancient fathers, being agreeable to the propriety of the place and the analogy of the faith.' With this rule was associated the following, on which equal stress appears to have been laid:—‘The old ecclesiastical words to be kept, viz. the word Church not to be translated Congregation, &c.’ This latter rule was for the most part carefully observed; but it may be doubted whether, in the case of words that admitted of different meanings, the instructions were at all closely followed. In dealing with the more difficult words of this class, the Translators appear to have paid much regard to traditional interpretations, and especially to the authority of the Vulgate; but, as to the large residue of words which might properly fall under the rule, they used considerable freedom. Moreover they profess in their Preface to have studiously adopted a variety of expression which would now be deemed hardly consistent with the requirements of faithful translation. They seem to have been guided by the feeling that their Version would secure for the words they used a lasting place in the language; and they express a fear lest they should ‘be charged (by scoffers) with some unequal dealing towards a great number of good English words,’ which, without this liberty on their part, would not have a place in the pages of the English Bible. Still it cannot be doubted that they carried this liberty too far, and that the studied avoidance of uniformity in the rendering of the same words, even when occurring in the same context, is one of the blemishes in their work.

A third leading rule was of a negative character, but was rendered necessary by the experience derived from former Versions. The words of the rule are as follows:—‘No marginal notes at all to be affixed, but only for the explanation of the Hebrew or Greek words which cannot without some circumlocution so briefly and fitly be expressed in the text.’ Here again the Translators used some liberty in their application of the rule. Out of more than 760 marginal notes originally appended to the Authorised Version of the New Testament, only a seventh part consist of explanations or literal renderings; the great majority of the notes being devoted to the useful and indeed necessary purpose of placing before the reader alternative renderings which it was judged that the passage or the words would fairly admit. The notes referring to variations in the Greek Text amount to about thirty-five.

Of the remaining rules it may be sufficient to notice one, which was for the most part consistently followed:—‘The names of the prophets and the holy writers, with the other names of the text, to be retained, as nigh as may be, according as they were vulgarly used.’ The Translators had also the liberty, in ‘any place of special obscurity,’ to consult those who might be qualified to give an opinion.

Passing from these fundamental rules, which should be borne in mind by any one who would rightly understand the nature and character of the Authorised Version, we must call attention to the manner in which the actual work of the translation was carried on. The New Testament was assigned to two separate Companies, the one consisting of eight members, sitting at Oxford, the other consisting of seven members, sitting at Westminster. There is no reason to believe that these Companies ever sat together. They communicated to each other, and likewise to the four Companies to which the Old Testament and the Apocrypha had been committed, the results of their labours; and perhaps afterwards reconsidered them; but the fact that the New Testament was divided between two separate bodies of men involved a grave inconvenience, and was beyond all doubt the cause of many inconsistencies. These probably would have been much more serious, had it not been provided that there should be a final supervision of the whole Bible, by selected members from Oxford, Cambridge, and Westminster, the three centres at which the work had been carried on. These supervisors are said by one authority to have been six in number, and by another twelve. When it is remembered that this supervision was completed in nine months, we may wonder that the incongruities which remain are not more numerous.

The Companies appear to have been occupied in the actual business of revision about two years and three quarters.

Such, so far as can be gathered from the rules and modes of procedure, is the character of the time-honoured Version which we have been called upon to revise. We have had to study this great Version carefully and minutely, line by line; and the longer we have been engaged upon it the more we have learned to admire its simplicity, its dignity, its power, its happy turns of expression, its general accuracy, and, we must not fail to add, the music of its cadences, and the felicities of its rhythm. To render a work that had reached this high standard of excellence still more excellent, to increase its fidelity without destroying its charm, was the task committed to us. Of that task, and of the conditions under which we have attempted its fulfilment, it will now be necessary for us to speak.
II. The present Revision had its origin in action taken by the Convocation of the Province of Canterbury in February 1870, and it has been conducted throughout on the plan laid down in Resolutions of both Houses of the Province, and, more particularly, in accordance with Principles and Rules drawn up by a special Committee of Convocation in the following May. Two Companies, the one for the revision of the Authorised Version of the Old Testament, and the other for the revision of the same Version of the New Testament, were formed in the manner specified in the Resolutions, and the work was commenced on the twenty-second day of June 1870. Shortly afterwards, steps were taken, under a resolution passed by both Houses of Convocation, for inviting the co-operation of American scholars; and eventually two Committees were formed in America, for the purpose of acting with the two English Companies, on the basis of the Principles and Rules drawn up by the Committee of Convocation.

The fundamental Resolutions adopted by the Convocation of Canterbury on the third and fifth days of May 1870 were as follows:—

1. That it is desirable that a revision of the Authorised Version of the Holy Scriptures be undertaken.
2. That the revision be so conducted as to comprise both marginal renderings and such emendations as it may be found necessary to insert in the text of the Authorised Version.
3. That in the above resolutions we do not contemplate any new translation of the Bible, or any alteration of the language, except where in the judgement of the most competent scholars such change is necessary.
4. That in such necessary changes, the style of the language employed in the existing Version be closely followed.
5. That it is desirable that Convocation should nominate a body of its own members to undertake the work of revision, who shall be at liberty to invite the co-operation of any eminent for scholarship, to whatever nation or religious body they may belong.'

The Principles and Rules agreed to by the Committee of Convocation on the twenty-fifth day of May 1870 were as follows:—

1. To introduce as few alterations as possible into the Text of the Authorised Version consistently with faithfulness.
2. To limit, as far as possible, the expression of such alterations to the language of the Authorised and earlier English Versions.
3. Each Company to go twice over the portion to be revised, once provisionally, the second time finally, and on principles of voting as hereinafter is provided.
4. That the Text to be adopted be that for which the evidence is decidedly preponderating; and that when the Text so adopted differs from that from which the Authorised Version was made, the alteration be indicated in the margin.
5. To make or retain no change in the Text on the second final revision by each Company, except two thirds of those present approve of the same, but on the first revision to decide by simple majorities.
6. In every case of proposed alteration that may have given rise to discussion, to defer the voting thereupon till the next Meeting, whencever the same shall be required by one third of those present at the Meeting, such intended vote to be announced in the notice for the next Meeting.
7. To revise the headings of chapters and pages, paragraphs, italics, and punctuation.
8. To refer, on the part of each Company, when considered desirable, to Divines, Scholars, and Literary Men, whether at home or abroad, for their opinions.'

These rules it has been our endeavour faithfully and consistently to follow. One only of them we found ourselves unable to observe in all particulars. In accordance with the seventh rule, we have carefully revised the paragraphs, italics, and punctuation. But the revision of the headings of chapters and pages would have involved so much of indirect, and indeed frequently of direct interpretation, that we judged it best to omit them altogether.

Our communications with the American Committee have been of the following nature. We transmitted to them from time to time each several portion of our First Revision, and received from them in return their criticisms and suggestions. These we considered with much care and attention during the time we were engaged on our Second Revision. We then sent over to them the various portions of the Second Revision as they were completed, and received further suggestions, which, like the former, were closely and carefully considered. Last of all, we forwarded to them the Revised Version in its final form; and a list of those passages in which they desire to place on record their preference of other readings and renderings will be found at the end of the volume. We gratefully acknowledge their care, vigilance, and accuracy; and we humbly pray that their labours and our own, thus happily united, may be permitted to bear a blessing to both countries, and to all English-speaking people throughout the world.

The whole time devoted to the work has been ten years and a half. The First Revision occupied about six years; the Second, about two years and a half. The remaining time has been spent in the consideration of the suggestions from America on the Second Revision, and of many details and reserved questions arising out of our own labours. As a rule, a session of four days has been held every month (with the exception of August and September) in each year from the commencement of the work in June 1870. The average attendance for the whole time has been sixteen each day; the whole Company consisting at first of twenty-seven, but for the greater part of the time of twenty-four members, many of them residing at great distances from London. Of the original number four have been removed from us by death.

At an early stage in our labours, we entered into an agreement with the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge for the conveyance to them of our copyright in the work. This arrangement provided for the necessary expenses of the undertaking; and procured for the Revised Version the advantage of being published by Bodies long connected with the publication of the Authorised Version.

III. We now pass onward to give a brief account of the particulars of the present work. This we propose to do under the four heads of Text, Translation, Language, and Marginal Notes.

1. A revision of the Greek Text was the necessary foundation of our work; but it did not fall within our province to construct a continuous and complete Greek Text. In many cases the English rendering was considered to represent correctly either of two competing readings in the Greek, and then the question of the text was usually not raised. A sufficiently laborious task remained in deciding between the rival claims of various readings which might properly affect the translation. When these were adjusted, our deviations from the text presumed to underlie the Authorised Version had next to be indicated, in accordance with the fourth rule; but it proved inconvenient to record them in the margin. A better mode however of giving them publicity has been found, as the University Presses have undertaken to print them in connexion with complete Greek texts of the New Testament.

In regard of the readings thus approved, it may be observed that the fourth rule, by requiring that 'the text to be adopted' should be 'that for which the evidence is decidedly preponderating,' was in effect an instruction to follow the authority of documentary evidence without deference to any printed text of modern times, and therefore to employ the best resources of criticism for estimating the value of evidence. Textual criticism, as applied to the Greek New Testament, forms a special study of much intricacy and difficulty, and even now leaves room for considerable variety of opinion among competent critics. Different schools of criticism have been represented among us, and have together contributed to the final result. In the early part of the work every various reading requiring consideration was discussed and voted on by the Company. After a time the precedents thus established enabled the process to be safely shortened; but it was still at the option of every one to raise a full discussion on any particular reading, and the option was freely used. On the first revision, in accordance with the fifth rule, the decisions were arrived at by simple majorities. On the second revision, at which a majority of two thirds was required to retain or introduce a reading at variance with the reading presumed to underlie the Authorised Version, many readings previously adopted were brought again into debate, and either re-affirmed or set aside.

Many places still remain in which, for the present, it would not be safe to accept one reading to the absolute exclusion of others. In these cases we have given alternative readings in the margin, wherever they seem to be of sufficient importance or interest to deserve notice. In the introductory formula, the phrases 'many ancient authorities,' 'some ancient authorities,' are used with some latitude to denote a greater or lesser proportion of those authorities which have a distinctive right to be called ancient. These ancient authorities comprise not only Greek manuscripts, some of which were written in the fourth and fifth centuries, but versions of a still earlier date in different languages, and also quotations by Christian writers of the second and following centuries.

2. We pass now from the Text to the Translation. The character of the Revision was determined for us from the outset by the first rule, 'to introduce as few alterations as possible, consistently with faithfulness.' Our task was revision, not re-translation.
REVISERS' PREFACE TO THE NEW TESTAMENT.

In the application however of this principle to the many and intricate details of our work, we have found ourselves constrained by faithfulness to introduce changes which might not at first sight appear to be included under the rule.

The alterations which we have made in the Authorised Version may be roughly grouped in five principal classes. First, alterations positively required by change of reading in the Greek Text. Secondly, alterations made where the Authorised Version appeared either to be incorrect, or to have chosen the less probable of two possible renderings. Thirdly, alterations of obscure or ambiguous renderings into such as are clear and express in their import. For it has been our principle not to leave any translation, or any arrangement of words, which could adapt itself to one or other of two interpretations, but rather to express as plainly as was possible that interpretation which seemed best to deserve a place in the text, and to put the other in the margin.

There remain yet two other classes of alterations which we have felt to be required by the same principle of faithfulness. These are,—Fourthly, alterations of the Authorised Version in cases where it was inconsistent with itself in the rendering of two or more passages confessedly alike or parallel. Fifthly, alterations rendered necessary by consequence, that is, arising out of changes already made, though not in themselves required by the general rule of faithfulness. Both these classes of alterations call for some further explanation.

The frequent inconsistencies in the Authorised Version have caused us much embarrassment from the fact already referred to, namely, that a studied variety of rendering, even in the same chapter and context, was a kind of principle with our predecessors, and was defended by them on grounds that have been mentioned above. The problem we had to solve was to discriminate between varieties of rendering which were compatible with fidelity to the true meaning of the text, and varieties which involved inconsistency, and were suggestive of differences that had no existence in the Greek. This problem we have solved to the best of our power, and for the most part in the following way.

Where there was a doubt as to the exact shade of meaning, we have looked to the context for guidance. If the meaning was fairly expressed by the word or phrase that was, before us in the Authorised Version, we made no change, even where rigid adherence to the rule of translating, as far as possible, the same Greek word by the same English word might have prescribed some modification.

There are however numerous passages in the Authorised Version in which, whether regard be had to the recurrence (as in the first three Gospels) of identical clauses and sentences, to the repetition of the same word in the same passage, or to the characteristic use of particular words by the same writer, the studied variety adopted by the Translators of 1611 has produced a degree of inconsistency that cannot be reconciled with the principle of faithfulness. In such cases we have not hesitated to introduce alterations, even though the sense might not seem to the general reader to be materially affected.

The last class of alterations is that which we have described as rendered necessary by consequence; that is, by reason of some foregoing alteration. The cases in which these consequential changes have been found necessary are numerous and of very different kinds. Sometimes the change has been made to avoid tautology; sometimes to obviate an unpleasing alliteration or some other infelicity of sound; sometimes, in the case of smaller words, to preserve the familiar rhythm; sometimes for a convergence of reasons which, when explained, would at once be accepted, but until so explained might never be surmised even by intelligent readers.

This may be made plain by an example. When a particular word is found to recur with characteristic frequency in any one of the Sacred Writers, it is obviously desirable to adopt for it some uniform rendering. Again, where, as in the case of the first three Evangelists, precisely the same clauses or sentences are found in more than one of the Gospels, it is no less necessary to translate them in every place in the same way. These two principles may be illustrated by reference to a word that perpetually recurs in St. Mark's Gospel, and that may be translated either 'straightway,' 'forthwith,' or 'immediately.' Let it be supposed that the first rendering is chosen, and that the word, in accordance with the first of the above principles, is in that Gospel uniformly translated 'straightway.' Let it be further supposed that one of the passages of St. Mark in which it is so translated is found, word for word, in one of the other Gospels, but that there the rendering of the Authorised Version happens to be 'forthwith' or 'immediately.' That rendering must be changed on the second of the above principles; and yet such a change would not have been made but for this concurrence of two sound principles, and the consequent necessity of making a change on grounds extraneous to the passage itself.
This is but one of many instances of consequential alterations which might at first sight appear unnecessary, but which nevertheless have been deliberately made, and are not at variance with the rule of introducing as few changes in the Authorised Version as faithfulness would allow.

There are some other points of detail which it may be here convenient to notice. One of these, and perhaps the most important, is the rendering of the Greek aorist. There are numerous cases, especially in connexion with particles ordinarily expressive of present time, in which the use of the indefinite past tense in Greek and English is altogether different; and in such instances we have not attempted to violate the idiom of our language by forms of expression which it could not bear. But we have often ventured to represent the Greek aorist by the English preterite, even where the reader may find some passing difficulty in such a rendering, because we have felt convinced that the true meaning of the original was obscured by the presence of the familiar auxiliary. A remarkable illustration may be found in the seventeenth chapter of St. John's Gospel, where the combination of the aorist and the perfect shews, beyond all reasonable doubt, that different relations of time were intended to be expressed.

Changes of translation will also be found in connexion with the aorist participle, arising from the fact that the usual periphrasis of this participle in the Vulgate, which was rendered necessary by Latin idiom, has been largely reproduced in the Authorised Version by 'when' with the past tense (as for example in the second chapter of St. Matthew's Gospel), even where the ordinary participial rendering would have been easier and more natural in English.

In reference to the perfect and the imperfect tenses but little needs to be said. The correct translation of the former has been for the most part, though with some striking exceptions, maintained in the Authorised Version: while with regard to the imperfect, clear as its meaning may be in the Greek, the power of expressing it is so limited in English, that we have been frequently compelled to leave the force of the tense to be inferred from the context. In a few instances, where faithfulness imperatively required it, and especially where, in the Greek, the significance of the imperfect tense seemed to be additionally marked by the use of the participle with the auxiliary verb, we have introduced the corresponding form in English. Still, in the great majority of cases we have been obliged to retain the English preterite, and to rely either on slight changes in the order of the words, or on prominence given to the accompanying temporal particles, for the indication of the meaning which, in the Greek, the imperfect tense was designed to convey.

On other points of grammar it may be sufficient to speak more briefly.

Many changes, as might be anticipated, have been made in the case of the definite article. Here again it was necessary to consider the peculiarities of English idiom, as well as the general tenor of each passage. Sometimes we have felt it enough to prefix the article to the first of a series of words to all of which it is prefixed in the Greek, and thus, as it were, to impart the idea of definiteness to the whole series, without running the risk of overloading the sentence. Sometimes, conversely, we have had to tolerate the presence of the definite article in our Version, when it is absent from the Greek, and perhaps not even grammatically latent; simply because English idiom would not allow the noun to stand alone, and because the introduction of the indefinite article might have introduced an idea of oneness or individuality, which was not in any degree traceable in the original. In a word, we have been careful to observe the use of the article wherever it seemed to be idiomatically possible: where it did not seem to be possible, we have yielded to necessity.

As to the pronouns and the place they occupy in the sentence, a subject often overlooked by our predecessors, we have been particularly careful; but here again we have frequently been baffled by structural or idiomatical peculiarities of the English language which precluded changes otherwise desirable.

In the case of the particles we have met with less difficulty, and have been able to maintain a reasonable amount of consistency. The particles in the Greek Testament are, as is well known, comparatively few, and they are commonly used with precision. It has therefore been the more necessary here to preserve a general uniformity of rendering, especially in the case of the particles of causality and inference, so far as English idiom would allow.

Lastly, many changes have been introduced in the rendering of the prepositions, especially where ideas of instrumentality or of mediate agency, distinctly marked in the original, had been confused or obscured in the translation. We have however borne in mind the comprehensive character of such prepositions as 'of' and 'by,' the one in reference to agency and the other in reference to means, especially in the English of the seventeenth century; and have rarely made any change where the true meaning of the original as expressed in the Authorised Version would be apparent to a reader of ordinary intelligence.
3. We now come to the subject of Language.

The second of the rules, by which the work has been governed, prescribed that the alterations to be introduced should be expressed, as far as possible, in the language of the Authorised Version or of the Versions that preceded it.

To this rule we have faithfully adhered. We have habitually consulted the earlier Versions; and in our sparing introduction of words not found in them or in the Authorised Version we have usually satisfied ourselves that such words were employed by standard writers of nearly the same date, and had also that general hue which justified their introduction into a Version which has held the highest place in the classical literature of our language. We have never removed any archaisms, whether in structure or in words, except where we were persuaded either that the meaning of the words was not generally understood, or that the nature of the expression led to some misconception of the true sense of the passage. The frequent inversions of the strict order of the words, which add much to the strength and variety of the Authorised Version, and give an archaic colour to many felicities of diction, have been seldom modified. Indeed, we have often adopted the same arrangement in our own alterations; and in this, as in other particulars, we have sought to assimilate the new work to the old.

In a few exceptional cases we have failed to find any word in the older stratum of our language that appeared to convey the precise meaning of the original. There, and there only, we have used words of a later date; but not without having first assured ourselves that they are to be found in the writings of the best authors of the period to which they belong.

In regard of Proper Names no rule was prescribed to us. In the case of names of frequent occurrence we have deemed it best to follow generally the rule laid down for our predecessors. That rule, it may be remembered, was to this effect, 'The names of the prophets and the holy writers, with the other names of the text, to be retained, as near as may be, accordingly as they were vulgarly used.' Some difficulty has been felt in dealing with names less familIarly known. Here our general practice has been to follow the Greek form of names, except in the case of persons and places mentioned in the Old Testament: in this case we have followed the Hebrew.

4. The subject of the Marginal Notes deserves special attention. They represent the results of a large amount of careful and elaborate discussion, and will, perhaps, by their very presence, indicate to some extent the intricacy of many of the questions that have almost daily come before us for decision. These Notes fall into four main groups: first, notes specifying such differences of reading as were judged to be of sufficient importance to require a particular notice; secondly, notes indicating the exact rendering of words to which, for the sake of English idiom, we were obliged to give a less exact rendering in the text; thirdly, notes, very few in number, affording some explanation which the original appeared to require; fourthly, alternative renderings in difficult or debatable passages. The notes of this last group are numerous, and largely in excess of those which were admitted by our predecessors.
In the 270 years that have passed away since their labours were concluded, the Sacred Text has been minutely examined, discussed in every detail, and analysed with a grammatical precision unknown in the days of the last Revision. There has thus been accumulated a large amount of materials that have prepared the way for different renderings, which necessarily came under discussion. We have therefore placed before the reader in the margin other renderings than those which were adopted in the text, wherever such renderings seemed to deserve consideration. The rendering in the text, where it agrees with the Authorised Version, was supported by at least one third, and, where it differs from the Authorised Version, by at least two thirds of those who were present at the second revision of the passage in question.

A few supplementary matters have yet to be mentioned. These may be thus enumerated,— the use of Italics, the arrangement in Paragraphs, the mode of printing Quotations from the Poetical Books of the Old Testament, the Punctuation, and, last of all, the Titles of the different Books that make up the New Testament,—all of them particulars on which it seems desirable to add a few explanatory remarks.

(a) The determination, in each place, of the words to be printed in Italics has not been by any means easy; nor can we hope to be found in all cases perfectly consistent. In the earliest editions of the Authorised Version the use of a different type to indicate supplementary words not contained in the original was not very frequent, and cannot easily be reconciled with any settled principle. A review of the words so printed was made, after a lapse of some years, for the editions of the Authorised Version published at Cambridge in 1629 and 1638. Further, though slight, modifications were introduced at intervals between 1638 and the more systematic revisions undertaken respectively by Dr. Paris in the Cambridge Edition of 1762, and by Dr. Blayney in the Oxford Edition of 1769. None of them however rested on any higher authority than that of the persons who from time to time superintended the publication. The last attempt to bring the use of italics into uniformity and consistency was made by Dr. Scrivener in the Paragraph Bible published at Cambridge in 1870-73. In succeeding to these labours, we have acted on the general principle of printing in italics words which did not appear to be necessarily involved in the Greek. Our tendency has been to diminish rather than to increase the amount of italic printing; though, in the case of difference of readings, we have usually marked the absence of any words in the original which the sense might nevertheless require to be present in the Version; and again, in the case of inserted pronouns, where the reference did not appear to be perfectly certain, we have similarly had recourse to italics. Some of these cases, especially when there are slight differences of reading, are of singular intricacy, and make it impossible to maintain rigid uniformity.

(b) We have arranged the Sacred Text in paragraphs, after the precedent of the earliest English Versions, so as to assist the general reader in following the current of narrative or argument. The present arrangement will be found, we trust, to have preserved the due mean between a system of long portions which must often include several separate topics, and a system of frequent breaks which, though they may correctly indicate the separate movements of thought in the writer, often seriously impede a just perception of the true continuity of the passage. The traditional division into chapters, which the Authorised Version inherited from Latin Bibles of the later middle ages, is an illustration of the former method. These paragraphs, for such in fact they are, frequently include several distinct subjects. Moreover they sometimes, though rarely, end where there is no sufficient break in the sense. The division of chapters into verses, which was introduced into the New Testament for the first time in 1551, is an exaggeration of the latter method, with its accompanying inconveniences. The serious obstacles to the right understanding of Holy Scripture, which are interposed by minute subdivision, are often overlooked; but if any one will consider for a moment the injurious effect that would be produced by breaking up a portion of some great standard work into separate verses, he will at once perceive how necessary has been an alteration in this particular. The arrangement by chapters and verses undoubtedly affords facilities for reference: but this advantage we have been able to retain by placing the numerals on the inside margin of each page.

(c) A few words will suffice as to the mode of printing quotations from the Poetical Books of the Old Testament. Wherever the quotation extends to two or more lines, our practice has been to recognise the parallelism of their structure by arranging the lines in a manner that appears to agree with the metrical divisions of the Hebrew original. Such an arrangement will be found helpful to the reader; not only as directing his attention to the poetical character of the quotation, but as also tending to make its force and pertinence more fully felt. We have treated in the same way the hymns in the first two chapters of the Gospel according to St. Luke.

(d) Great care has been bestowed on the punctuation. Our practice has been to maintain what is sometimes called the heavier system of stopping, or, in other words, that system which, especially for convenience in reading aloud, suggests such pauses as will best ensure a clear and intelligent setting forth of the true meaning of the words. This course has rendered necessary, especially in the Epistles, a larger use of colons and semicolons than is customary in modern English printing.

(e) We may in the last place notice one particular to which we were not expressly directed to extend our revision, namely, the titles of the Books of the New Testament. These titles are no part of the original text; and the titles found in the most ancient manuscripts are of too short a form to be convenient for use. Under these circumstances, we have deemed it best to leave unchanged the titles which are given in the Authorised Version as printed in 1611.

We now conclude, humbly commending our labours to Almighty God, and praying that His favour and blessing may be vouchsafed to that which has been done in His name. We recognised from the first the responsibility of the undertaking; and through our manifold experience of its abounding difficulties we have felt more and more, as we went onward, that such a work can never be accomplished by organised efforts of scholarship and criticism, unless assisted by Divine help.

We know full well that defects must have their place in a work so long and so arduous as this which has now come to an end. Blemishes and imperfections there are in the noble Translation which we have been called upon to revise; blemishes and imperfections will assuredly be found in our own Revision. All endeavours to translate the Holy Scriptures into another tongue must fall short of their aim, when the obligation is imposed of producing a Version that shall be alike literal and idiomatic, faithful to each thought of the original, and yet, in the expression of it, harmonious and free. While we dare to hope that in places not a few of the New Testament the introduction of slight changes has cast a new light upon much that was difficult and obscure, we cannot forget how often we have failed in expressing some finer shade of meaning which we recognised in the original, how often idiom has stood in the way of a perfect rendering, and how often the attempt to preserve a familiar form of words, or even a familiar cadence, has only added another perplexity to those which already beset us.

Thus, in the review of the work which we have been permitted to complete, our closing words must be words of mingled thanksgiving, humility, and prayer. Of thanksgiving, for the many blessings vouchsafed to us throughout the unbroken progress of our corporate labours; of humility, for our failings and imperfections in the fulfilment of our task; and of prayer to Almighty God, that the Gospel of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ may be more clearly and more freshly shewn forth to all who shall be readers of this Book.

8 Or. Magi. Compare Esth. 1.13; Dan. 2.12.

5 And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Judaea; for thus it is written by the prophet, Art in no wise least among the princes of Judah:

6 And thou Bethlehem, land of Judah, For out of thee shall come forth a governor, Which shall be shepherd of my people Israel.

7 Then Herod privily called the wise men, and learned of them carefully what time the star appeared. 8 And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Go and search out carefully concerning the young child; and when ye have found him, bring me word, that I also may come and worship him. 9 And they, having heard the king, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was. 10 And when they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy. 11 And they came into the house and saw the young child with Mary his mother; and they fell down and worshipped him; and opening their treasures they offered unto him gifts, gold and frankincense and myrrh. 12 And being warned of God in a dream that they should not return to Herod, they departed into their own country another way.

13 Now when they were departed, behold, an angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph in a dream, saying, Arise and take the young child and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be thou there until I tell thee: for Herod will seek the young child to destroy him. 14 And he arose and took the young child and his mother, and departed into Egypt; and was there until the death of Herod: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying, Out of Egypt did I call my son.

15 Then Herod, when he saw that he was mocked of the wise men, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth, and slew all the male children that were in Bethlehem, and in all the borders thereof, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had carefully learned of the wise men. 17 Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremiah the prophet, saying, A voice was heard in Ramah, WEEPING and great mourning, Rachel weeping for her children; And she would not be comforted, because they are not.

19 But when Herod was dead, behold, an angel of the Lord appeared in a dream to Joseph in Egypt, saying, Arise and take the young child and his mother, and go into the land of Israel: for they are dead that sought the young child's life. 21 And he arose and took the young child and his mother, and came into the land of Israel. 22 But when he heard that Archelaus was reigning over Judaea in the room of his father Herod, he was afraid to go thither; and being warned of God in a dream, he withdrew into the parts of Galilee, and came and dwelt in a city called Nazareth: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophets, that he should be called a Nazarene.

3 And in those days cometh John the Baptist, preaching in the wilderness of Judæa, saying, Repent ye; for the kingdom of heaven is at hand. 3 For this is he that was spoken of by Isaiah the prophet, saying, The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Make his paths straight.

4 Now John himself had raiment of camel's hair, and a leathern girdle about his loins; and his food was locusts and wild honey. 5 Then went out unto him Jerusalem, and all Judæa, and all the region round about Jordan; 6 and they were baptized of him in the river Jordan, confessing their sins. 7 But when he saw many of the Pharisees and Sadducees coming to his baptism, he said unto them, Ye offspring of vipers, who warned ye to flee from the wrath to come? 8 Bring forth therefore fruit worthy of repentance: and think not that I say to you yourselves,
Then cometh Jesus from Galilee to the Jordan unto John; to be baptized of him. 14 But John would have hindered him, saying, I have need to be baptized of thee, and comest thou to me? 15 But Jesus answering said unto him, Suffer it now: for thus it becometh us to fulfil all righteousness. Then he suffered him. 16 And Jesus, when he was baptized, went up straightway from the water: and lo, the heavens were opened, and he saw the Spirit of God descending as a dove, and coming upon him; 17 and lo, a voice out of the heavens, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom my delight is.

And on their hands they shall bear thee up, Lest haply thou dash thy foot against a stone.

Jesus said unto him, Again it is written, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God. 8 Again, the devil taketh him unto an exceeding high mountain, and sheweth him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them; 9 and he said unto him, All these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me. 10 Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.

Now when he heard that John was delivered up, he withdrew into Galilee; 13 and leaving Nazareth, he came and dwelt in Capernaum, which is by the sea, in the borders of Zebulun and Naphtali: 14 that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Isaiah the prophet, saying, The land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, 15 toward the sea, beyond Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles,

The people which sat in darkness Saw a great light, And to them which sat in the region and shadow of death, To them did light spring up.

And walking by the sea of Galilee, he saw two brethren, Simon who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea; for they were fishers. 19 And he saith unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you fishers of men. 20 And they immediately left their nets and followed him. 21 And going on from thence he saw other two brethren, James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, in the boat with Zebedee their father, mending their nets; and he called them.
straightway left the boat and their father, and followed him.

23 And Jesus went about in all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of disease and all manner of sickness among the people. And the report of him went forth into all Syria: and they brought unto him all that were sick, holding with divers diseases and torments, possessed with devils, and epileptic, and palsied; and he healed them. And there followed him great multitudes from Galilee and Decapolis and Jerusalem and Judaea and from beyond Jordan.

5 And seeing the multitudes, he went up into the mountain: and when he had sat down, his disciples came unto him: and he opened his mouth and taught them, saying,

3 Blessed are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

4 Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted.

5 Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth.

6 Blessed are they that hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled.

7 Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy.

8 Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God.

9 Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called sons of God.

10 Blessed are they that have been persecuted for righteousness' sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

11 Blessed are ye when men shall reproach you, and persecute you, and say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake. Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you.

13 Ye are the salt of the earth: but if the salt have lost its savour, wherewith shall it be salted?

it is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out and trodden under foot of men. Ye are the light of the world. A city set on a hill cannot be hid. Neither do men light a lamp, and put it under the bushel, but on the stand; and it shineth unto all that are in the house. Even so let your light shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven.

17 Think not that I came to destroy the law or the prophets: I came not to destroy, but to fulfil.

For verily I say unto you, Till heaven and earth pass away, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass away from the law, till all things be accomplished.

19 Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, shall be called least in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall do and teach them, he shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven.

20 For I say unto you, that except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no wise enter into the kingdom of heaven.

21 Ye have heard that it was said of old time, Ye shall not kill; and whosoever shall kill shall be in danger of the judgement; but I say unto you, that every one who is angry with his brother shall be in danger of the judgement; and whosoever shall say to his brother, Raca, shall be in danger of the council; and whosoever shall say, Thou fool, shall be in danger of the hell of fire.

22 If therefore thou shalt offer thy gift before the altar, and go thy way, and thy gift be hindered in the offering, it is thine own loss.

23 For verily I say unto thee, Every one shall quickly come in judgment of the law, and of the prophets, and of the Son of man. Verily I say unto thee, Today shall this scripture be fulfilled in your ears. Amen, I say unto you, This generation shall not pass away, till all things be accomplished. And heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away.

27 Ye have heard that it was said, "Thou shalt not commit adultery: 28 but I say unto you, that every one that looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart. 29 And if thy right eye causeth thee to stumble, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not thy whole body go into 30 hell. 31 It was also said, 'Whosoever shall put away his wife, let him give her a writing of divorcement: 32 but I say unto you, that every one that putteth away his wife, causing her to be put away commit adultery: and whosoever shall marry a woman put away she is to have glory of men.

33 Again, ye have heard that it was said of old time, "Thou shalt not forswear thyself, but shalt perform unto the Lord thine oaths: 34 but I say unto you, Swear not at all; neither by the heaven, for it is the throne of God; nor by the earth, for it is the footstool of his feet; nor by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the great King. 35 Neither shalt thou swear by thy head, for thou canst not make one hair white or black. 36 But let your speech be, Yea, yea; Nay, nay: and whatsoever is more than these is of the evil one.

38 Ye have heard that it was said, An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth: 39 but I say unto you, Resist not him that is evil: but if any man would go to law with thee, let him have thy cloak also. 40 And whosoever shall compel thee to go one mile, go with him twain. 41 Give to him that asketh thee, and from him that would borrow of thee turn not thou away.

43 Ye have heard that it was said, Thou shalt love thy neighbour, and hate thine enemy: 44 but I say unto you, Love your enemies, and praying for them that persecute you; 45 that ye may be sons of your Father which is in heaven: for he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and the good, and sendeth rain on the just and the unjust. 46 For if ye love them that love you, what reward have ye? do not even the publicans the same? 47 And if ye salute your brethren only, what do ye more than others? do not even the Gentiles the same? 48 Ye therefore shall be perfect, as your heavenly Father is perfect.

6 Take heed that ye do not your righteousness before men, to be seen of them: else ye have no reward with your Father which is in heaven.

2 When therefore thou doest alms, sound not a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. Verily I say unto you, They have received their reward. 3 But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth: 4 that thine alms may be in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret shall recompense thee.

5 And when ye pray, ye shall not be as the hypocrites: for they love to stand and pray in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, They have received their reward. 6 But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy inner chamber, and shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret, and thy Father which seeth in secret shall recompense thee.

7 And in praying use not vain repetitions, as the Gentiles do: for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking. 8 Be not therefore like unto them: for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him. 9 After this manner therefore pray ye: Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. 10 Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, as in heaven, so on earth. 11 Give us this day our daily bread. 12 And forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors.
forgiven our debtors. 12 And bear not grudging us not into temptation, but deliver us from the evil one. 14 For if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you. 15 But if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

16 Moreover when ye fast, be not, as the hypocrites , of a sad countenance: for they disfigure their faces, that they may be seen of men to fast. * Verily I say unto you, They have received their reward.

17 But thou, when thou fastest, shalt anoint thy head, and wash thy face; 18 that thou be not seen of men to fast, but of thy Father which is in secret: and thy Father, which seeth in secret, shall recompense thee.

19 Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon the earth, where moth and rust doth consume, and where thieves break through and steal: 20 but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth consume, and where thieves do not break through nor steal: 21 for where thy treasure is, there will thy heart be also. 22 The lamp of the body is the eye: if therefore it be enlightened, thy whole body shall be full of light. 23 But if thine eye be evil, thy whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, how great is the darkness!

24 No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon. 25 Therefore I say unto you, Be not anxious for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink: nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. 26 Is not the life more than the food, and the body than the raiment? 27 Behold the birds of the heaven, that they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; and your heavenly Father feedeth them. 28 Are not ye of much more value than they?

29 And which of you by being anxious can add one foot to his stature? 30 And why are ye anxious concerning raiment? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin; 31 yet I say unto you, that even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. 32 But if God doth so clothe the grass of the field, which to-day is, and to-morrow is cast into the oven, shall he not much more clothe you? O ye of little faith? 33 Be not therefore anxious, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed? 34 For after all these things do the Gentiles seek; * for your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things. 35 But seek ye first his kingdom, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you. 36 Be not therefore anxious for the morrow: for the morrow will be anxious for itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.

1 Judge not, that ye be not judged. 2 For with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged: and * with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured unto you. 3 And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye? 4 Or how wilt thou say to thy brother, Let me cast out the mote out of thine eye; and lo, the beam is in thine own eye? 5 Thou hypocrirte, cast out first the beam out of thine eye; and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thine brother's eye.

6 Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast your pearls before the swine, lest haply they trample them under their feet, and turn and rend you. 7 * Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; * knock, and it shall be opened unto you: 8 for every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and of him to whom the spirit of wisdom shall be opened. 9 Or what man is there of you, who, if his son shall ask him for a loaf, will give him a stone? 10 or if he shall ask for a fish, will give him a serpent? 11 If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your Father which is in heaven give good things to them that ask him? 12 "All things therefore whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, even so do ye also unto them: for this is the law and the prophets.

13 "Enter ye in by the narrow gate: for wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many be they that enter in thereby. 14 "For narrow is the gate, and straitened the way, that leadeth unto life, and few be they that find it.

15 "Beware of false prophets, which come unto you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly are ravening wolves. 16 "By their fruits ye shall know them. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles? 17 "Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit: but the corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit. 18 "A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit. 19 "Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire. 20 Therefore by their fruits ye shall know them. 21 "Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven.

22 Many shall come from the east and the west, and shall sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, in the kingdom of heaven: 23 but the sons of the kingdom shall be cast forth into the outer darkness: *there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth. 24 And Jesus said unto the centurion, Go thy way; aathou hast believed, so be it done unto thee. 25 And the servant was healed in that hour.

26 And it came to pass, when Jesus ended these words, /the multitudes were astonished at his teaching: 27 for he taught them as one having authority, and not as their scribes.

S. MATTHEW.

wife's mother lying sick of a fever. 15 And he "touched her hand, and the fever left her; and she arose, and ministered unto him. 16 And when even was come, they brought unto him many 1 be possessed with devils: and he cast out the spirits 2 with a word, and healed all that were sick; 17 d that it might be fulfilled which was spoken 3 by Isaiah the prophet, saying, "Himself took our infirmities, and bare our diseases.

18 Now 7 when Jesus saw great multitudes about him, 6 he gave commandment to depart unto the other side. 19 And there came a scribe, and said unto him, 4 Master, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest. 20 And Jesus saith unto him, 2 But Jesus saith unto him, Follow me; and leave 7 the dead to bury their own dead.

23 6 And when he was entered into a boat, his disciples followed him. 24 And behold, there arose a great tempest in the sea, insomuch that the boat was covered with the waves: but 4 he was asleep. 25 And they came to him, and awoke him, saying, 4 Save, Lord; we perish. 26 And he saith unto them, Why are ye 4 fearful,° O ye of little faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the winds and the sea; and 4 there was a great calm. 27 And the men marvelled, saying, What manner of man is this, that even 4 the winds and the sea obey him?

28 And when he was come to the other side into the country of the Gadarenes, there met him two 1 u possessed with devils, coming forth out of the tombs, exceeding fierce, so that no man could pass by that way. 29 And behold, they cried out, saying, °What have we to do with thee, 2 thou Son of God? art thou come hither to torment us before the time? 30 Now there was afar off from them a herd of many swine feeding. 31 And the 6 devils besought him, saying, If thou cast us out, send us away into the herd of swine. 32 And he said unto them, Go. And they came out, and went into the swine; and behold, the whole herd rushed down the steep into the sea, and perished in the waters. 33 And they that fed them fled, and went away into the city, and told everything, and what was befallen to them that were 4 possessed with devils. 34 And behold, all the city came out to meet Jesus: and when they saw him, 4 they besought him that he would depart from their borders.

1 And he entered into a boat, and crossed over, and came into 5 his own city. 2 And behold, they brought to him a man sick of the palsy, lying on a bed: and Jesus 3 seeing their faith said unto the sick of the palsy,° Son, ° be of good cheer; ° thy sins are forgiven. 4 And behold, certain of the scribes said within themselves, ° This man blasphemeth. 4 And Jesus 5 knowing their thoughts said, Wherefore think ye evil in your hearts? 5 For whether is easier, to say, Thy sins are forgiven; or to say, Arise, and walk? 6 But that ye may know that the Son of man hath 9 power on earth to forgive sins (then saith he to the sick of the palsy), Arise, and take up thy bed, and go unto thy house. 7 And he arose, and departed to his house. 8 But when the multitudes saw it, ° they were afraid, and ° glorified God, which had ° given such 9 power unto men.

9 ° And as Jesus passed by from thence, he saw a man, called° Matthew, sitting at the place of toll: and he saith unto him, Follow me. And he arose, and followed him.

10 And it came to pass, as he ° sat at meat in the house, behold, many ° publicans and sinners came and sat down with Jesus and his disciples. 11 And when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto his disciples, Why eateth your 4 Master with ° the publicans and sinners? 12 But when he heard it, he said, They that are ° whole have no need of a physician, but they that are sick.

13 But go ye and learn ° what this meaneth, ° I desire mercy, and not sacrifice: for ° I came not to call the righteous, ° but sinners.

principles of John saying, 'Why do we and the Pharisees fast oft, but thy disciples fast not? 15 And Jesus said unto them, 'Can the sons of the bridechamber mourn, as long as the bridegroom is with them? but when the days come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and then will they fast. 16 And no man putteth a piece of undressed cloth upon an old garment; for that which should fill it up taketh from the garment, and a worse rent is made. 17 Neither do men put new wine into old wine-skins: else the skins burst, and the wine is spilled, and the skins perish: but they put new wine into fresh wine-skins, and both are preserved.

18 While he spake these things unto them, behold, there came a ruler, and worshipped him, saying, My daughter is even now dead: but come and lay thy hand upon her, and she shall live. 19 And Jesus arose, and followed him, and so did his disciples. 20 And behold, a woman, who had an issue of blood twelve years, came behind him, and touched the border of his garment: 21 for she said within herself, If I do but touch his garment, I shall be made whole. 22 But Jesus turning and seeing her said, Daughter, be of good cheer; thy faith hath made thee whole.' And the woman was made whole from that hour. 23 And when Jesus came into the ruler's house, and saw the flute-players, and the crowd making a tumult, 24 he said, Give place: for the damsel is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorn. 25 But when the crowd was put forth, he entered in, and took her by the hand; and the damsel arose. 26 And the fame thereof went forth into all that land. 27 And as Jesus passed by from thence, two blind men followed him, crying out, and saying, Have mercy on us, 'thou son of David. 28 And when he was come into the house, the blind men came to him: and Jesus saith unto them, Believe ye that I am able to do this? They say unto him, Yea, Lord. 29 Then touched he their eyes, saying, According to your faith be it done unto you. 30 And their eyes were opened. And Jesus 'strictly charged them, saying, 31 But they went forth, and spread abroad his fame in all that land.

32 And as they went forth, behold, 33 there was brought to him a dumb man *possessed with a 34 devil. 35 And when the *devil was cast out, the dumb man spake: and the multitudes *marvelled, saying, It was never so seen in Israel. 36 But the Pharisees said, *By the Prince of the 37 devils casteth he out 38 devils.

39 And Jesus went about all the cities and the villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of disease and all manner of sickness. 40 But when he saw the multitudes, *he was moved with compassion for them, because they were distressed and scattered, as sheep not having a shepherd. 41 Then saith he unto his disciples, The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few. 42 Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he send forth labourers into his harvest. 43 And he called unto him his twelve disciples, and gave them authority over unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of disease and all manner of sickness.

44 Now the names of the twelve apostles are these: The first, Simon, who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother; *James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother; 3 Philip, and Bartholomew; Thomas, and Matthew the publican; James the son of Alpheus, and Thaddaeus; 4 Simon the *Cananaean, and Judas Iscariot, who also betrayed him. 5 *These twelve Jesus sent forth, and charged them, saying,

Go not into any way of the Gentiles, and enter not into any city of the Samaritans: 6 but go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel. 7 And as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand. 8 Heal the sick, raise the dead, cleanse the lepers, cast out devils: freely ye receive, freely give. 9 *Get ye no gold, nor silver, nor brass in your purses; 10 no wallet for your journey, neither two coats, nor shoes, nor staff:

for the labourer is worthy of his food. 11 And into whatsoever city or village ye shall enter, search out who in it is worthy; and there abide till ye go forth. 12 And as ye enter into the house, salute it. 13 And if the house be p worthy, let your peace return to you. 14 And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words, as ye go forth out of that house or that city, shake off the dust of your feet. 15 Verily I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgement, than for that city.

16 Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves: be therefore wise as serpents, and harmless as doves. 17 But beware of men: for they will deliver you up to councils, and in their synagogues they will scourge you; 18 and before governors and kings ye shall be brought; for the labourer is worthy of his wages. 19 But when they deliver you up, be not anxious how or what ye shall speak: for it is not ye that speak, but the Spirit of your Father that speaketh in you. 20 Ye shall be given two loaves of bread in one basket; 21 and one hundred pence shall be given you in your hand; and a sword shall be in your girdle. 22 And into whatsoever city or village ye shall enter, first find out who in it is worthy; and there abide more than three days. 23 For a prophet is not without honour save in his own country, and among his own brethren. 24 But whoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my Father which is in heaven. 25 And every one who shall speak a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but whosoever shall speak against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, neither in the world to come. 26 Only ye be wise as serpents, and harmless as doves.

I. And it came to pass, when Jesus had made an end of commanding his twelve disciples, he departed thence to teach and preach in their cities.

2 Now when John heard in the prison the works of the Christ, he sent by his disciples, and said unto him, Art thou he that cometh, or look we for another? 4 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Go your way and tell John the things which ye do hear and see: 5 the blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, and the dead are raised up, and the poor have good tidings preached to them. 6 And blessed is he, whosoever shall find none occasion of stumbling in me. 7 And as these went their way, Jesus began to say unto the multitudes concerning John, What went ye out to see? a reed shaken with the wind? 8 But what went ye out for to see? a man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they that wear soft raiment are in kings' houses. 9 But wherefore went ye out to see? to see a prophet? Yea, I say unto you, and much more than a prophet. 10 This is he, of whom it is written, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, Who shall prepare thy way before thee.

Who shall prepare thy way before thee.

11 Verily I say unto you, Among them that are born of women there hath not arisen a greater than John the Baptist: yet he that is but little in the kingdom of heaven is greater than he. 12 And from the days of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of heaven suffereth violence, and men of violence take it by force. 13 For all the prophets and the law prophesied until John. 14 And if ye are willing to receive it, this is Elijah, which is to come. 15 He that hath ears to hear, let him hear. 16 But whereunto shall I liken this generation? It is like unto children sitting in the market-places, which call unto their fellows, 17 and say, We piped unto you, and ye did not dance; we wept, and ye did not mourn. 18 For John came neither eating nor drinking; and they say, He hath a devil. 19 The Son of man came eating and drinking, and they say, Behold, a gluttonous man, and a winebibber, a friend of publicans and sinners! And wisdom is justified by her works.

20 Then began he to upbraid the cities wherein most of his mighty works had been done, because they repented not. 21 Woe unto thee, Chorazin! woe unto thee, Bethsaida! for if the mighty works which were done in you, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes. 22 Howbeit I say unto you, it shall be more tolerable for Sodom which were done in thee, in the day of judgement, than for thee. 23 And thou, Capernaum, shalt thou be exalted unto heaven? thou shalt go down unto Hades: for if the mighty works which were done in thee, they would have remained until this day.

24 Howbeit I say unto you, that it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom in the day of judgement, than for thee.

25 At that season Jesus answered and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou didst hide these things from the wise and understanding, and didst reveal them unto babes: 26 yea, Father, for so it was well pleasing in thy sight. 27 All things have been delivered unto me of my Father: and no one knoweth the Son, but the Father; neither doth any know the Father, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son will to reveal him. 28 Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. 29 Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls. 30 For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.

11 At that season Jesus went on the sabbath day through the cornfields; and his disciples were an hungred, and began to pluck ears of corn, and to eat. 2 But the Pharisees, when they saw it, said unto him, Behold, thy disciples do that which is not lawful to do on the sabbath day. 3 But he said unto them, Have ye never read what David did, when he was an hungered, he and they that were with him: 4 how he entered into the house of God, and did eat the showbread, which ought not to be eaten but by the priests, and gave also to them which were with him? 5 And he said unto them, The Son of man is Lord also of the sabbath day.

4 Have ye not read what David did, when he was an hungry, and they that were with him; 5 how he entered into the house of God, and did eat the shewbread, which it was not lawful for him to eat, neither for them that were with him, but only for the priests? 6 Or have ye not read the law, how that on the sabbath day the priests in the temple profane the sabbath, and are guiltless? 7 But I say unto you, that one greater than the temple is here. 8 But if ye had known what this meaneth, I desire mercy, and not sacrifice, ye would not have condemned the guiltless. 9 For the Son of man is lord of the sabbath.

9 And he departed thence, and went into their synagogue: 10 and beholding a man having a withered hand. And they asked him, saying, 11 Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath day? that their might accuse him. 12 And he said unto them, that shall have one sheep, and if this fall into a pit on the sabbath day, will he not lay hold on it, and lift it out? 13 How much then is a man of more value than a sheep! Wherefore it is lawful to do good on the sabbath day. 14 Then saith he to the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he stretched it forth; and it was restored whole, according to the word of Jesus.

15 And Jesus perceiving it with joy, said unto them, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath day? 16 And when the scribes and Pharisees saw it, they began to reason with themselves, saying, 17 May it be that he casteth out devils by Beelzebub the prince of devils? 18 And knowing their thoughts, he answered them, 19 Every sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven men; but the blasphemy against the Holy Spirit shall not be forgiven. 20 And whosoever shall speak a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him; but he that shall speak against the Holy Spirit, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, nor in that which is to come. 21 Henceforth let it be known unto you, that they are not all justified which cast out devils. 22 Then was brought unto him one possessed with a devil, blind and dumb: and he healed him, insomuch that the dumb man spake and saw. 23 And all the multitude were amazed, and said, 24 This is the son of David? 25 But when the Pharisees heard it, they said, This man doth not cast out devils, but by Beelzebub the prince of devils. 26 And knowing their thoughts he said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand: 27 and if Satan casteth out Satan, he is divided against himself; how then shall his kingdom stand? 28 And if I cast out devils by Beelzebub, the prince of devils, then is this the kingdom of God come upon you. 29 Or how can one enter into the house of the strong man, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man, and then he will spoil his goods. 30 He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth. 31 Therefore I say unto you, Every sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men; but the blasphemy against the Spirit shall not be forgiven. 32 And whosoever shall speak a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him; but he that shall speak against the Holy Spirit, it shall not be forgiven. 33 Either make the tree good, and its fruit good: or make the tree corrupt, and its fruit corrupt: 34 for the tree is known by its fruit. 35 Ye offspring of vipers, how can ye, being evil, speak good things? 36 For of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaketh.
13 On that day went Jesus out of the house, and sat by the sea side. 2 And there were gathered unto him great multitudes, so that he entered into a boat, and sat; and all the multitude stood on the beach. 3 And he spake to them many things in parables, saying, Behold, the sower went forth to sow: 4 and as he sowed, some seeds fell by the wayside, and the birds came and devoured them: 5 and others fell upon the rocky places, where they had not much earth: and straightway they sprang up, because they had no deepness of earth: 6 and when the sun was risen, they were scorched; and because they had no root, they withered away. 7 And others fell upon thorns; and they grew up, and choked them: 8 and others fell upon good ground, and yielded fruit, some a hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty. 9 And he that hath ears, let him hear.

10 And the disciples came, and said unto him, Why spakest thou unto them in parables? 11 And he answered and said unto them, 2 Unto you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given. 12 For whosoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have abundance: but whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken away even that which he hath. 13 Therefore speak I to them in parables; because 3 seeing they see not, and hearing they hear not, 4 neither do they understand. 14 And unto them is fulfilled the prophecy of Isaiah, which saith, 5 By hearing ye shall hear, and shall in no wise understand; And seeing ye shall see, and shall in no wise perceive:

15 For this people's heart is waxed gross,
And their ears are dull of hearing.
And their eyes they have closed;
Lest haply they should perceive with their eyes,
And hear with their ears,
And understand with their heart,
And should turn again,
And I should heal them.

But blessed are your eyes, for they see; and your ears, for they hear.
For verily I say unto you, that many prophets and righteous men desired to see the things which ye see, and saw them not; and to hear the things which ye hear, and heard them not.

shall cast them into the furnace of fire: there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth. 43 Then shall they the righteous shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. 44 For he that hath ears, let him hear.

44 The kingdom of heaven is like unto a treasure hidden in the field: which a man found, and hid; and in his joy he goeth and selleth all that he hath, and *bought that field.

45 Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a merchant seeking goodly pearls: 46 and having found *one pearl of great price, *he went and sold all that he had, and *bought it.

47 Again, the kingdom of heaven is *like unto a net, that was cast into the sea, and *gathered of every kind: 48 which, when it was filled, *they drew up on the beach; and they sat down, and gathered the good into vessels, but the bad they cast away. 49 So shall it be in the end of the world: the angels shall come forth, and *sever the wicked from among the righteous, 50 *and shall cast them into the furnace of fire: *there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth.

51 52 And he said unto them, Therefore every *scribe who hath been instructed to the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a householder, which *bringeth forth of his treasure things new and old.

53 And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished these parables, he departed hence. 54 And coming into *his own country *he taught them in their synagogue, insomuch that they *were astonished, and said, Whence hath this man this wisdom, and these *mighty works? 55 Is not this *the carpenter's son? is not his mother called Mary? and *his brethren, James, and Joseph, and Simon, and Judas? 56 And his sisters, are they not all with us? tudes to sit down on the grass; and he took the five loaves, and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed, and brake and gave the loaves to the disciples, and the disciples to the multitudes.

20 And they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up that which remained over of the broken pieces, twelve baskets full.

21 And they that did eat were about five thousand men, beside women and children.

22 And straightway he constrained the disciples to enter into the boat, and to go before him unto the other side, till he should send them multitudes away. 23 But the boat was now in the midst of the sea, distressed by the waves: for the wind was contrary.

24 And in the fourth watch of the night he came unto them, walking on the sea.

25 And when the disciples saw him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, It is an apparition; and they cried out for fear.

26 But when he saw the wind, he was afraid; and beginning to sink, he cried out, saying, Lord, save me.

27 And immediately Jesus stretched forth his hand, and took hold of him, and said unto him, O thou of little faith, wherefore didst thou doubt? 28 And when they were gone up into the boat, the wind ceased.

29 And they that were in the boat, came and worshipped him, saying, Of a truth thou art the Son of God.

30 And when they had crossed over, they came to the land, unto Gennesaret.

31 And when the men of that place knew him, they sent unto all that region round about, and brought unto him all that were sick: 32 and they besought him that they might only touch the border of his garment: and as many as touched were made whole.

33 And he went up into the mountain to pray: and when even was come, he was there alone.

34 But the boat was now in the midst of the sea, distressed by the waves: for the wind was contrary.

35 And when the men of that place knew him, they sent unto all that region round about, and brought unto him all that were sick: and they besought him that they might only touch the border of his garment: and as many as touched were made whole.

15 Then there came to Jesus from Jerusalem Pharisees and scribes, saying, Why do thy disciples transgress the tradition of the elders? for they wash not their hands when they eat bread. 2 And he answered and said unto them, Why do ye also transgress the commandment of God because of your tradition?

3 For God said, Honour thy father and thy mother: and, He that speaketh evil of father or mother, let him die the death. 4 But ye say, Whosoever shall say to his father or his mother, That wherewith thou mightest have been profited by me is given to God; he shall not honour his father. 5 And ye have made void the word of God because of your tradition. 6 Ye hypocrites, well did Isaiah prophesy of you, saying,

7 This people honoureth me with their lips; but their heart is far from me.

8 For they honoureth me with their lips; but their heart is far from me. 9 Howbeit in vain do they worship me, teaching as their doctrine the precepts of men.
which proceed out of the mouth come forth out of the heart; and they defile the man. 19 For out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies: 20 these are the things which defile the man: but to eat with unwashed hands defileth not the man.

21 And Jesus went out thence, and withdrew into the parts of Tyre and Sidon. 22 And behold, a Canaanitish woman came out from those borders, and cried, saying,

'Have mercy on me, O Lord, thou son of David; my daughter is grievously vexed with a devil. 23 But he answered her not a word. And his disciples came and besought him, saying, 24 Send her away; for she crieth after us. 25 But he answered and said, It is not meet to take the children's bread and to cast it to the dogs. 26 And she said, Yea, Lord: for even the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from the children's table. 27 And Jesus answered and said unto her, Great is thy faith: be it done unto thee even as thou wilt. 28 And her daughter was healed from that hour.

29 And Jesus departed thence, and came nigh unto the sea of Galilee; and he went up into the mountain, and sat there. 30 And there came unto him great multitudes, having with them the lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and they cast them down at his feet; and he healed them: 31 and they glorified the God of Israel.

32 And Jesus called unto him his disciples, and said, I have compassion on the multitude, when they saw the dumb speaking, 33 and they glorified the God of Israel.

34 And Jesus called unto him his disciples, and said, I have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three days and have nothing to eat: and I would not send them away fasting, lest haply they faint in the way. 35 And the disciples say unto him, them not beware of the leaven of 1 bread, but of the teaching of the Pharisees and Sadducees.

13 Now when Jesus came into the parts of Caesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying, Who do men say that the Son of man is?
14 And they said, Some say, John the Baptist; some, Elijah; and others, Jeremiah, or one of the prophets.

15 He saith unto them, But who say ye that I am? 16 And Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God. 17 And Jesus answered and said unto him, Blessed art thou, Sim-blood hath not revealed unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven.

18 And I also say unto thee, that thou art Peter, and upon this rock
I will build my church; and the keys of Hades shall not prevail against it. 19 I will give unto thee
the keys of the kingdom of heaven; and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven:
and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven. 20
Then charged he the disciples that they should tell no man that he was the Christ.

21 From that time began Jesus to shew unto his disciples, how that he must go unto Jerusalem, and suffer many things of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and the third day be said, Arise, and be not afraid. 22 And Peter took him, and began to rebuke him, saying, Be it far from thee, Lord:
this shall never be unto thee. 23 But he turned, and said unto Peter, Get

In that hour came the disciples unto Jesus, saying, Who then is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven? 2And he called to him a little child, and set him in the midst of them, and said, Verily I say unto you, Except ye become as little children, ye shall in no wise enter into the kingdom of heaven. 4Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven. 5And whoso shall receive one such little child in my name receiveth me: 6But whoso shall cause one of these little ones which believe on me to stumble, it is profitable for him that a great millstone should be hanged about his neck, and that he should be sunk in the depth of the sea. 7Woe unto the world because of occasions of stumbling! 8For it must needs be that the occasions come; but woe to that man through whom the occasion cometh! 9And if thy hand or thy foot causeth thee to stumble, cut it off, and cast it from thee: it is good for thee to enter into life maimed or halt, rather than having two hands or two feet to be cast into the eternal fire. 10And if thine eye causeth thee to stumble, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: it is good for thee to enter into life with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be cast into the hell of fire. 11See that ye despise not one of these little ones; for I say unto you, that in heaven their angels do always behold the face of my Father which is in heaven. 12How think ye? If any man have a hundred sheep, and one of them be gone astray, doth he not leave the ninety and nine, and goeth and seek that which is gone astray? 13And if so be that he find it, verily I say unto you, he rejoiceth over it more than over the ninety and nine which have not gone astray. 14Even so it is not the will of my Father which is in heaven, that one of these little ones should perish. 15And if thy brother sin against thee, 16Go, shew him his fault between thee and him alone: if he hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother. 17But if he hear thee not, take with thee one or two 18the multitude, there came to him a man, kneeling to him, and saying, 19Lord, have mercy on my son: for he is 20epileptic, and suffereth grievously: for oft-times he falleth into the fire, and oft-times into the water. 21And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not cure him. 22And Jesus answered and said, O faithless and perverse generation, 23how long shall I be with you? how long shall I bear with you? bring him hither to me. 24And Jesus rebuked him; and the devil went out from him: and the boy was cured from that hour. 25Then came the disciples to Jesus apart, and said, Why could not we cast it out? 26And he saith unto them, Because of your little faith: for verily I say unto you, If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, 27ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible unto you. 28And while they abode in Galilee, Jesus said unto them, The Son of man shall be delivered up to men; 29and they shall kill him, and the third day he shall be raised up. And they were exceeding sorry. 30And when they were come to Capernaum, they that received the half-shekel came to Peter, and said, Doth not thy master pay the half-shekel? 31He saith, Yea. 32And when he came into the house, Jesus spake first to him, saying, Thinkest thou, Simon, 33of whom do they receive 'toll or 'tribute? of the kings of the earth, from whom do they receive? 34Of the king's sons, or from strangers? 35And when he said, From strangers, Jesus said unto him. Therefore the sons are free. 36But, lest we cause them to stumble, go thou to the sea, and cast a hook, and take up the fish that first cometh up; and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt find a shekel: that take, and give unto them for me and thee.
1. Then Peter said to Him, Lord, how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? until seven times? 2. Jesus said unto him, I say not unto you until seven times, but, Until seventy times seven. 3. Therefore is the kingdom of heaven likened unto a certain king, which would make a reckoning with his bondservants. 4. And when he had begun to reckon, one was brought unto him, which owed him ten thousand talents. 5. But as much as he had not wherewith to pay, he fell down and worshipped him, saying, Lord, have patience with me, and I will pay thee all. 6. The lord being moved with compassion, released him, and forsook him the debt. 7. But when that bondservant went out, and found one of his fellow-servants, which owed him an hundred pence: and he laid hold on him, and took him by the throat, saying, Pay what thou owest. 8. So his fellow-servant fell down and besought him, saying, Have patience with me, and I will pay thee. 9. And he would not: but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay that which was due. 10. So when his fellow-servants saw what was done, they were exceeding sorry, and came and told unto their lord all that was done. 11. Then his lord called him unto him, and said unto him, Wicked bondservant, I forgave thee all that debt, because thou besoughtest me: 12. Shouldest thou not also have had mercy on thy fellow-bondservant, even as I had mercy on thee? And his lord was wroth, and delivered him to the tormentors, till he should pay all that was due. 13. eunuchs, which were made eunuchs by men: and there are eunuchs, whose which made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heaven's sake. He that is able to receive it, let him receive it.

13 Then were there brought unto him little children, that he should lay his hands on them, and pray: and the disciples rebuked them.

14 But Jesus said, Suffer the little children, and forbid them not, to come unto me: for of such is the kingdom of heaven. And he laid his hands on them, and departed thence.

15 And beholding, one came to him and said, Master, what good thing shall I do, that I may have eternal life? And he said unto him, Why askest thou me concerning that which is good? One there is who is good: but if thou wouldest enter into life, keep the commandments.

16 He saith unto him, All these things have I observed; what lack I yet? And Jesus said unto him, If thou wouldest be perfect, go, sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, follow me.

17 For the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a householder, which went out early in the morning to hire labourers into his vineyard.

18 And when he had agreed with the workmen for a penny a day, he sent them into his vineyard.

19 And when he had agreed with the labourers for a penny a day, he sent them into his vineyard.

20 And when they received it, they were as two or three. And he went out again about the third hour, and found others standing; and he said unto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle? They say unto him, Because no man hath hired us.

21 He saith unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever is right I will give you. And they went their way, finding others standing.

22 And he saith unto the overseer of his household, Call the labourers, and pay them their hire, beginning from the last unto the first.

23 And when they received it, they were as two or three. And he went away sorrowful: for he was one that had great possessions.

24 And again I say unto you, It is hard for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of heaven. 25 And when the disciples heard it, they were astonished exceedingly, saying, Who then can be saved? 26 And Jesus looking upon them said to them, With men this is impossible; but with God all things are possible.

27 Then answered Peter and said unto him, Lo, we have left all, and followed thee; what shall we have? 28 And Jesus said unto them, Verily I say unto you, that ye which have followed me, in the regeneration, when the Son of man shall sit on the throne of his glory, ye also shall sit upon twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel. 29 And every one that hath left houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, 4 or children, or lands, for my name's sake, shall receive a hundredfold, and shall inherit eternal life. 30 But many shall be last that are first; and first that are last.

20 And when he had agreed with the labourers for a penny a day, he sent them into his vineyard.

21 And when they received it, they were as two or three. And he went out about the third hour, and found others standing, and saw others standing in the marketplace idle; and to them he said, Go ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever is right I will give you. And they went their way.

22 Again he went out about the sixth and the ninth hour, and did likewise. 23 And about the eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing; and he said unto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle? They say unto him, Because no man hath hired us.

24 He saith unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever is right I will give you. And they went their way. 25 And when they received it, they were as two or three.

26 One hour, and thou hast made them equal unto us, which have borne the burden of the day and the scorching heat. 27 But he answered and said to one of them, Friend, I do thee no wrong: didst not thou agree with me for a penny? 28 And Jesus said unto them, Verily I say unto you, that ye which have followed me, in the regeneration, when the Son of man shall sit on the throne of his glory, ye also shall sit upon twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.
14 Take up that which is thine, and go thy way; it is my will to give unto this last, even as unto thee. 15 Is it not lawful for me to do what I will with mine own? or is thine eye evil, because I am good? 16 So the third day shall be first, and the first last. 17 And as Jesus was going up to Jerusalem, he took the twelve disciples apart, and in the way he said unto them, 18 Behold, we go up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man shall be delivered unto the chief priests and scribes; and they shall condemn him to death, 19 and shall deliver him unto the Gentiles to mock, and to scourgery to crucify: and the third day he shall be raised up. 20 Then came to him the mother of the sons of Zebedee with her sons, 21 worshipping him, and asking a certain thing of him. 22 But Jesus answered and said, Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able to drink the cup that I am about to drink? They say unto him, We are able. 23 He saith unto them, My cup indeed ye shall drink: but to sit on my right hand, and on my left hand, is not mine to give, but it is for them for whom it hath been prepared of my Father. 24 And when the ten heard it, they were moved with indignation concerning the two brethren. 25 But Jesus called them unto him, and said, Ye know that the rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and their great ones exercise authority over them. 26 Not so shall it be among you: but whosoever would become great among you shall be your minister, 27 and whosoever would be first among you shall be your servant: even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many. 28 And as they went out from Jericho, a great multitude followed him. 30 And behold, two blind men sitting by the way side, when they heard that Jesus was passing by, cried out, saying, Lord, have mercy on us, thou son of David. 31 And the multitude rebuked them, that they should hold their peace: but they cried out the more, saying, Lord, have mercy on us, thou son of David. 32 And Jesus stood still, and called them, and said, What will ye that I should do unto you? 33 They say unto him, Lord, that our eyes may be opened. 34 And Jesus, being moved with compassion, touched their eyes: and straightway they received their sight, and followed him. 1 And when they drew nigh unto Jerusalem, and came unto Bethphage, unto the mount of Olives, then Jesus sent two disciples, saying unto them, Go into the village that is over against you, 2 and as ye go ye shall find an ass tied, and a colt with her; loosethem, and bring them unto me. 3 And if any one say aught unto you, say, The Lord hath need of them; and straightway he will send them. 4 Now this is come to pass, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying, 5 Tell ye the daughter of Zion, Behold, thy King cometh unto thee, 6 Meek, and riding upon an ass, and a colt the foal of an ass. 7 And the disciples went, and did even as Jesus appointed them, and brought the ass, and the colt, and put on them their garments; and he sat thereon. 8 And most part of the multitude spread their garments in the way; and others cut branches from the trees, and spread them in the way. 9 And the multitude that went before him, and that followed, cried, saying, Hosanna to the son of David: Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord; Hosanna in the highest. 10 And when he was come into Jerusalem, all the city was stirred, saying, Who is this? 11 And the multitudes said, This is he that prophethet Jesus, from Nazareth of Galilee.
And Jesus entered into the temple of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of them that sold the doves; and he saith unto them, It is written, ‘My house shall be called a house of prayer: but ye have made it a den of robbers.’ And the blind and the lame came to him in the temple: and he healed them.

And when the chief priests and the scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children that were crying in the temple and saying, ‘Hosanna to the son of David; they were moved with indignation, and said unto him, ‘Hearest thou what these are saying?’ And Jesus saith unto them, ‘Yea: did ye never read, ‘Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings hast thou perfected praise?’ And he left them, and went forth out of the city to Bethany, and lodged there.

Now in the morning as he returned to the city, he hungered. And seeing a fig tree by the way side, he came to it, and found nothing thereon, but leaves only; and he saith unto it, ‘Let there be no fruit from thee henceforward.’ And immediately the fig tree withered away. And when the disciples saw it, they marvelled, saying, ‘How did the fig tree immediately wither away?’ And Jesus answered and said unto them, ‘Verily I say unto you, if ye have faith, and doubt not, ye shall not only do what is done to the fig tree, but even if ye shall say unto this mountain, ‘Be thou taken up and cast into the sea,’ it shall be done.

And all things whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive.

And when he was come into the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people came unto him as he was teaching, and said, ‘By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authority?’ And Jesus answered and said unto them, I also will ask you one question, which if ye tell me, I likewise will tell you by what authority I do these things.

The baptism of John, whence was it from heaven or from men? And they reasoned with themselves, saying, ‘If we shall say, From heaven; he will say unto us, Why then did ye not believe him?’ But if we shall say, From men; we fear the multitude; for all hold John as a prophet. And they answered Jesus, and said, ‘We know not. He also said unto them, Neither tell me by what authority I do these things. But what think ye? A man had two sons; and he came to the first, and said, ‘Son, go work to-day in the vineyard.’ And he answered and said, I go, sir: and went not. Whether of the twain did the will of his father? They say, The first. Jesus saith unto them, ‘Verily I say unto you, that the publicans and the harlots go into the kingdom of God before you.

For John came unto you in the way of righteousness, and ye believed him not; but the publicans and the harlots believed him: and ye, when ye saw it, did not repent yourselves afterward, that ye might believe him.

Hear another parable: There was a man that was a householder, which planted a vineyard, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into another country. And when he was come back into it, he will say unto us,’ Why did ye not do what I commanded you? ‘They will say unto him, ‘Lord, we knew thee not.’ And he will say unto them, ‘Ye shall go out therefore of me.’
men? 41 They say unto him, 2 He will miserably destroy those miserable men, and 9 will let out the vineyard unto other husbandmen, which shall render him the fruits in their seasons. 42 Jesus saith unto them, *Did ye never read in the scriptures, *The stone which the builders rejected, The same was made the head of the corner: *This was from the Lord, And it is marvellous in our eyes? 43 Therefore say I unto you, *The kingdom of God shall be taken away from you, and shall be given to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof. 44 *And he that falleth on this stone shall be broken to pieces: but 4 on whomsoever it shall fall, it will scatter him as dust. 45 And when the chief priests and the scribes heard his parables, they perceived that he spake of them. 46 And *when they sought to lay hold on him, they feared the multitude, because they took him for 4 a prophet.

22 And Jesus answered and spake again in parables unto them, saying, 2 The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a certain king, which made 4 a marriage feast for his son, and 4 sent forth his servants to call them that were bidden to the marriage feast: and they would not come. 4 4 Again he sent forth other servants, saying, Tell them that were bidden, Be ready; for the kingdom of heaven is at hand. 4 But 4 they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his own farm, another to his merchandise: 6 and the rest laid hold on his servants, and 4 entreated them shamefully, and 4 killed them. 4 But the king was wroth; and he sent his armies, and 4 destroyed those murderers, and burned their city. 8 Then saith he to his servants, The wedding is ready, but they 4 that were bidden were not worthy. 4 Go ye therefore unto 4 the parts of the highways, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage feast. 10 And those 2 servants went out into the highways, and 4 gathered together all as many as they found, both bad and good: and the wedding was filled with guests. 11 But when the king came in to behold the guests, he saw there a man which had not on a wedding-garment: 12 and he saith unto him, 4 Friend, how camest thou in hither not having a wedding-garment? And he was speechless. 13 Then the king said to the 4 servants, Bind him hand and foot, and 4 cast him out into the outer darkness; 4 there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth. 14 For many are called, but few 4 chosen.

15 Then went the Pharisees, and took counsel how they might ensnare him in his talk. 16 And they sent to him 4 their disciples, with 4 the Herodians, saying, 4 Master, 4 we know that thou art true, and teachest 4 the way of God in truth, and carest not for any one: for 4 thou regardest not the person of men. 17 Tell us therefore, What thinkest thou? Is it lawful to give tribute unto Caesar, or not? 18 But Jesus perceived their wickedness, and said, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites? 19 Shew me the tribute money. And they brought unto him a 4 penny. 20 And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription? 21 They say unto him, Caesar's. 22 Then saith he unto them, 4 Render therefore unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's; and unto God the things that are God's.

23 On that day there came to him 4 Sadducees, 4 which say that there is no resurrection: and they asked him, 4 saying, 4 Master, Moses said, 4 If a man die, having no children, his brother 4 shall marry his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother. 24 Now there were with us seven brethren: and the first married and deceased, and having no seed left his wife unto his brother; 26 in like manner the second also, and the third, unto the 8 seventh. 27 And after them all the woman died. 28 In the resurrection therefore whose wife shall she be of the seven? for they all had her. 29 But Jesus answered and said unto them, Ye do err, not knowing the scriptures, nor the power of God. 30 For in the resurrection they neither marry, nor are given in marriage, but are angels in heaven. 31 But as touching the resurrection of the dead, have ye not read that which was spoken unto you by God, saying, 32 I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? God is not the God of the dead, but of the living. 33 And when the multitudes heard it, they were astonished at his teaching.

"But the Pharisees, when they heard that he had put the Sadducees to silence, gathered themselves together. 35 And one of them, a lawyer, asked him a question, tempting him, 36 Master, which is the great commandment in the law? 37 And he said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. 38 This is the great and first commandment. 39 And a second like unto it is this, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. 40 On these two commandments hangeth the whole law, and the prophets.

41 Now while the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them a question, saying, What think ye of the Christ whose son is he? They say unto him, "The son of David. 42 He saith unto them, How then doth David in the Spirit call him Lord, saying, 43 The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I put thine enemies under thy feet? 44 If David then calleth him Lord, how is he his son? 45 And no one was able to answer him a word, neither durst any man from that day forth ask him any more questions.

Then spake Jesus to the multitudes and to his disciples, saying, The scribes and the Pharisees sit on Moses' seat: all things therefore whatsoever they bid you, these do and observe; but do not ye after their works; for they say, and do not.

46 Yea, they bind heavy burdens and grievous to be borne, and lay them on men's shoulders: but they themselves will not move them with their finger. 47 But all their works they do "for to be seen of men: for they make broad their phylacteries, and enlarge the borders of their garments, 5 and love the chief place at feasts, and the chief seats in the synagogues, and the salutations in the marketplaces, and to be called of men, "Rabbi. 5 But be not ye called Rabbi: for one is your teacher, and all ye are "brethren.

6 And call no man your father on the earth: for one is your Father, which is in heaven. 7 Neither be ye called masters: for one is your master, even the Christ. 8 And whoever shall exalt himself shall be humbled; and whoever shall humble himself shall be exalted. 9 But woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! because ye shut the kingdom of heaven against men: for ye enter not in yourselves, neither suffer ye them that enter in. 10 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte; and when he is become, ye make him twofold more a son of hell than yourselves. 11 Woe unto you, ye blind guides, which say, Whosoever shall swear by the temple, it is nothing; but whosoever shall swear by the gold of the temple, he is a debtor. 12 Ye fools and blind: for whether is greater, the gold, or the temple that hath sanctified the gold? 13 And, Whosoever shall swear by the altar, it is nothing; but whosoever shall swear by the gift that is upon it, he is a debtor. 14 Ye blind: for whether is greater, the gift, or the altar that sanctifieth the gift? 15 He therefore that sweareth by the altar, sweareth by it, and by all things thereon. 16 And he that sweareth by the temple, sweareth by it, and by him that dwelleth therein.

23 Then spake Jesus to the multitudes and to his disciples, saying, The scribes and the Pharisees sit on Moses' seat: all things therefore whatsoever they bid you, these do and observe: but do not ye after their works; for they say, and do not.
by the throne of God, and by him that sitteth thereon.

23 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye tithe mint and anise and cummin, and have left undone the weightier matters of the law, judgment, and mercy, and faith: but these ye ought to have done, and not to have left the other undone. Ye blind guides, which strain out the gnat, and swallow the camel.

24 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye cleanse the outside of the cup and of the platter, but within they are full of extortion and excess. Ye blind Pharisee, cleanse first that which is within, that is, the generation of evil doers, and then that which is without, that is, the dishes of fine meat.

33 Ye serpents, ye offspring of vipers, how will ye escape the judgement of hell? For if I will that he hear whom ye have heard; then shall ye also speak before the angels of God. And if this be so in the loftiest heaven, how much more shall theirincrease be in the lowest hell? Wherefore then do ye think evil in your hearts? For behold, the days shall come, in which they shall say, This man was not of the Son of God. But now shall the axe be laid to the root of the trees: every one therefore that heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, shall be likened unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock:

42 And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock. And every one therefore that heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, shall be likened unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock: and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock.

43 But every one that heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, which built his house upon the sand:

44 And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock: and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock. And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock.
unto all the nations; and then shall the end come.

15 When therefore ye see the abomination of desolation, which was spoken of by Daniel the prophet, standing in 2 the holy place, (whom let him that readeth understand, 16 then let them that are in Judea flee unto the mountains: 17 and let him that is in the field not return back to take his cloak. 18 But 1wo unto them that are with child and to them that give suck in those days! 20 And pray ye that your flight be not in the winter, neither on a sabbath: 21 for then shall be a great tribulation, such as hath not been from the beginning of the world until now, no, nor ever shall be. 22 And except those days had been shortened, no flesh would have been saved: but for 2 the elect's sake those days shall be shortened.

23 Then if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is the Christ, or, Here is the Christ, 24 For there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall shew great signs and wonders; to lead astray, if possible, even the elect. 25 Behold, I have told you beforehand. 26 If therefore they shall say unto you, Behold, he is in the wilderness; go not forth: Behold, he is in the inner chambers; believe 4 it not. 27 For as the lightning cometh forth from the east, and is seen even unto the west; so shall be the 6 coming of the Son of man.

28 Wheresoever the carcasse is, there will the 6 eagles be gathered together.

29 But immediately, after 6 the tribulation of those days, 2 the sun shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken: 30 and then shall appear 5 the sign of the Son of man in heaven: and they shall see the Son of man coming on the clouds of heaven with power and great glory. 31 And 6 he shall send forth his angels 7 with 8 a great sound of 9 a trumpet, and they shall gather together his elect from 10 the four winds, 11 from one end of heaven to the other.

32 Now learn from the fig tree learn her parable: when her branch is now become tender, and putteth forth its leaves, ye know that the summer is nigh; 33 even so ye also, when ye see these all these things, know ye that 9 he is nigh, even 12 at the doors. 34 Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass away, till all these things be accomplished. 35 6 Heaven and earth shall pass away, but 13 my words shall not pass away. 36 But of that day and hour 14 knoweth no one, not even the angels of heaven, 15 neither the Son, 16 but the Father only. 37 And as were the days of Noah, 4 so shall be the 5 coming of the Son of man. 38 For as in those days which were before the flood they were eating and drinking, 17 marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the ark, and they knew not until the flood came, and took them all away; 39 so shall be the 6 coming of the Son of man.

40 Then shall two men be in the field; and one 8 be taken, and one 8 is left. 41 Two women that be grinding at an mill; one shall be taken, and one 8 shall be left.

42 Watch therefore: for ye know not 5 when the Son of man cometh. 43 But know this, that 6 the one who is faithful and wise 11 servant, whom his lord when he cometh found watching, was of use and profitable to his lord. 44 Then came in the evil servant, saying, Lord, when thou wentest hence, thou saidst unto me, Watch therefore; and I kept watch. 45 Sir, said he, thou hadst but one drawer of oil; and I kept watch. 46 But his lord said unto him, I will say unto thee, Thou evil servant: I knew thou wast evil; and thou wast to have been faithful; why then hast thou not kept watch? 47 And he said, Lord, I knew thee to be a hard master; and thou wentest forth into thy field, and left it naked; 48 and thou saidst, Watch therefore: 49 and, lo, I am with thee, and will keep watch, 50 and will not suffer any hurt to my sheep. 51 And he said, Good servant: because thou hast been faithful in a very small thing, I will set thee over much: enter thou into the joy of thy lord. 52 And he said unto the wicked servant, Thou evil servant, howbeit thou knewest that I was harsh, and took the money of thee; 53 and thou didst not put it to use, as the honest servant 5 did; 54 but having taken it, thou hast gone, and cast it into the harlot's house. 55 Therefore will I condemn thee, thou wicked servant: thou knewest that I was an austere man, taking up that which I left unsecured; 56 and thou couldst have put it to use, and would not have suffered thy fellow-servant 8 to be thus 5 broken through. 57 And I will appoint unto thee a ruler over thy substance.

49 Therefore be ye also ready: for in an hour that ye think not 1 the Son of man cometh. 50 Who then 2 is the faithful and 3 wise 8 servant, whom his lord hath set over his household, to give them their food in due season? 51 But know this, that if the master of the house had known what hour the thief was coming, he would have watched, and would not have suffered his house to be broken through. 52 Therefore be ye also ready; for in an hour ye think not, the Son of man cometh. 53 Who then shall be the faithful and wise 8 servant, whom his lord hath set over his household, to give them their food in due season? 54 But 8 know this, that if the master of the house had known what hour the thief was coming, he would have watched, and would not have suffered his house to be broken through. 55 Therefore be ye also ready: for in an hour ye think not, the Son of man cometh.
he expecteth not, and in an hour when he knoweth not, 51 and shall cut him asunder, and appoint his portion with the hypocrites: there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth.

Then shall the kingdom of heaven be likened unto a man which was a king going to a voyage, and called his servants, and delivered unto them his talents: 2 and to one he gave five talents, and to another two, and to another one, and to the rest that had nothing, 3 to every one according to his several ability; and straightway went he on his journey.

And his servant came, and said, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me five talents: lo, I have gained other five talents. 4 And his master said unto him, Well done, good and faithful servant; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will set thee over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord. 5 And I was afraid, and went away and hid thy talent in the earth: 6 lo, thou hast thine own. 7 But the other servant said, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me two talents: lo, I have gained other two talents. 8 And his master said unto him, Well done, good and faithful servant; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will set thee over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord.

For when a man hath achieved something, he should reckon the same to me, 9 inasmuch as I gave it to him. 10 And I will set him over all that I have. 11 But the servant that had received the one talent came and said, Lord, knowing thou that I am an unprofitable servant, I have gained another talent. 12 His master said unto him, Thou wicked and slothful servant, thou knewest that I reap where thou didst not sow, and gather where thou didst not scatter. 13 Well done, good and faithful servant; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will set thee over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord.

For every one that hath, shall be given; and from him that hath not, even that which he hath shall be taken away. 15 But when the son of man cometh in his glory, and all the angels with him, 16 then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory: 17 and before him shall be gathered all the nations: and he shall separate them one from another, as the shepherd separateth the sheep from the goats: 18 and he shall set the sheep on his right hand, but the goats on the left. 19 Then shall he say unto them on his right hand, Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom which was prepared for you from the foundation of the world: 20 for I was hungry, and thou deliveredst unto me; 21 or I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink; 22 or was a stranger, and ye took me in; 23 or naked, and ye clothed me; 24 or sick, and ye visited me; 25 or in prison, and ye came unto me. 26 Then shall the righteous answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee hungry, and fed thee? or thirsty, and gave thee drink? 27 or as a stranger, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and came unto thee? 28 And he shall answer them, saying, Verily I say unto you, inasmuch as ye did it to one of the least of these, ye did it to me. 29 Then shall they also on the left hand answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee hungry, or thirsty, or a stranger, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and did not the same? 30 Then shall he answer them, saying, Verily I say unto you, inasmuch as ye did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not to me. 31 Then shall they also say unto them, verily I say unto you, inasmuch as ye knew me not, ye knew him not. 32 Then shall he also say unto them, verily I say unto you, ye knew me not, ye knew him not. 33 Then shall they also answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee? and he shall say unto them, verily I say unto you, inasmuch as ye did it not to one of these, ye did it not to me.
ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye *gave me drink: *I was a stranger, and ye took me in; *naked, and ye clothed me: *I was sick, and ye visited me: *I was in prison, and ye came unto me. 37 Then shall the righteous answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungered, and fed thee? or thirsty, and gave thee drink? 38 And when saw we thee a stranger, and took thee in? or naked, and clothed thee? 39 And when saw we thee sick, or in prison, and came unto thee? 40 And the King shall answer and say unto them, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye did it unto one of these *my brethren, even these least, ye did it unto me. 41 Then shall he say also unto them on the left hand, Depart from me, ye cursed, into the eternal fire which is prepared for *the devil and his angels: 42 for I was an hungered, and ye gave me no meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me no drink: 43 I was a stranger, and ye took me not in; naked, and ye clothed me not; sick, and in prison, and ye visited me not. 44 Then shall they also answer, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungered, or thirsty, or a stranger, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and did not minister unto thee? 45 Then shall he answer them, saying, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye did it not unto one of these least, ye did it not unto me. 46 And these shall go away into eternal punishment: but the righteous into eternal life.

26 And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished all these words, he said unto his disciples, Ye know that after two days "the passover cometh, and the Son of man is delivered up to be crucified. 3 Then were gathered together the chief priests, and the elders of the people, unto the court of the high priest, who was called Caiaphas; and they took counsel together that they might take Jesus by subtlety, and kill him. 5 But they said, Not during the feast, lest a tumult arise among the people. 6 Now when Jesus was in Bethany, in the house of Simon the leper, there came unto him a woman, which had been of much debt, and she poured upon his feet; and she poured *an alabaster cruse of exceeding precious ointment, and she poured it upon his head, as he sat at meat. 8 But when the disciples saw it, they had indignation, saying, To what purpose is this waste? 9 For this ointment might have been sold for much, and *given to the poor. 10 But Jesus perceiving it said unto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for she hath wrought a good work upon me. 11 For ye have the poor always with you; but *me ye have not always. 12 For in that she poured this ointment upon my body, she did it to prepare me for burial. 13 Verily I say unto you, Wheresoever this gospel shall be preached in the whole world, that also which this woman hath done shall be spoken of for a memorial of her.

14 Then one of the twelve, who was called Judas Iscariot, went unto the chief priests, and said, What will ye give me, and I will deliver him unto you? And they weighed unto him thirty pieces of silver. 15 And from that man if he had not been bought, it had been well for him if that man had not been born. 25 And Judas, which betrayed him, answered and said, 5 Or, Depart from me under a curse. 2 Or, a feast. 3 Gr. cust. 4 Or, these good feelings. 5 Or, or that man. 6 Chap. 25, v. 35. 8. it is "Rabbi? He saith unto him, 26 "Thou hast said. And as they were eating, Jesus took bread, and blessed, and brake it; and he gave to the disciples, and said, Take; eat; this is my body. 27 And he took a cup, and gave thanks, and gave to them, saying, Drink ye all of it; 28 for this is my blood of the covenant, which is shed for many unto remission of sins. 29 But I say unto you, I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new with you in my Father's kingdom.

30 And when they had sung a hymn, they went out into the mount of Olives.

31 Then saith Jesus unto them, All ye shall be offended in me this night: for it is written, I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered abroad. 32 But after I am raised up, I will go before you into Galilee. 33 But Peter answered and said unto him, If all shall be offended in thee, I will never be offended. 34 Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, that this night, before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice. 35 But Peter saith unto him, Even if I must die with thee, yet will I not deny thee. Likewise also said all the disciples.

36 Then cometh Jesus with them unto a place called Gethsemane, 37 and saith unto Peter and the two sons of Zebedee, and with him a great multitude of disciples, he began to be sorrowful and sore troubled. 38 Then saith he unto them, My soul is exceeding sorrowful, even unto death: abide here, and watch with me. 39 And he went forward a little, and fell on his face, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if this cannot pass away, except I drink it, *thy will be done. 40 And he came again and found them sleeping, for *their eyes were heavy. 41 And he left them again, and went away, and prayed a third time, saying again the same words. 42 Then cometh he to the disciples, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: behold, *the hour is at hand, and *the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. 43 Arise, let us be going: behold, he is at hand that betrayeth me.

47 And while he yet spake, lo, Judas, one of the twelve, came, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and elders of the people. 48 Now he that betrayed him gave them a sign, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that is he: take him. 49 And straightway he came to Jesus, and said, Hail, *Rabbi; and *kissed him. 50 And Jesus said unto him, Friend, *do that for which thou art come. Then they came and laid hands on Jesus, and took him. 51 And behold, one of them that were with Jesus stretched out his hand, and drew his sword, and smote the *slave of the high priest, and struck off his ear. 52 Then saith Jesus unto him, Put up again thy sword into its place: for all they that take the sword shall perish with the sword. 53 Or thinkest thou that I cannot beseech my Father, and he shall even now send me more than twelve *legions of angels? 54 How then should the scriptures be fulfilled, that thus it must be? 55 In that hour said Jesus to the multitudes, Are ye come out as against a robber with swords and staves to seize me? 56 But all this is come to pass, that the scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled. Then all the disciples left him, and fled.

CHAP. 26, V. 58.]

S. MATTHEW.

Now when morning was come, all the chief priests and the elders of the people took counsel against Jesus to put him to death: and they bound him, and led him away, and delivered him up to Pilate the governor.

Then Judas, which betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, repented himself, and brought back the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders, saying, I have sinned in that I betrayed innocent blood. But they said, What is that to us? see thou to it.

And he cast down the pieces of silver into the sanctuary, and came out, and hanged himself. And the chief priests took the pieces of silver, and said, It is not lawful to put them into the treasury, since it is the price of blood.

And they took counsel, and bought with them the potter's field, to bury strangers in. Wherefore that field was called, The field of blood, unto this day. Wherefore that field was sold, that there might be accomplished what was spoken by Jeremiah the prophet, saying, And he went away, and hanged himself. And the chief priests took the pieces of silver, and said, It is not lawful to put them into the treasury, since it is the price of blood.

Now Peter was sitting without in the court, and a maid came unto him, saying, Thou also wast with Jesus the Galilean.

But he denied before them all, saying, I know not what thou meanest.

And when he was gone out into the porch, another maid saw him, and said unto those which stood by, This man was also with Jesus the Nazarene.

And again he denied with an oath, I know not the man.

And after a little while another saw him, and said, Thou art one of them; for thy speech bewrayeth thee.

Then began he to curse and to swear, I know not the man. And straightway the cock crew. And Peter remembered the word which Jesus had said, before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice. And he went out, and wept bitterly.

27 Now when Pilate heard of the judgment of the chief priests and elders, he sent his officers to take Jesus: and they came and brought him. And Pilate said unto them, What sin hath he committed? But they cried out, saying, If he were not a rebel against the nation, we would not have delivered him up to thee.

Then said Pilate unto them, Take ye him, and judge him according to your law. The Jews therefore said unto him, It is not lawful for us to put any man to death: this is the king's power.

Then delivered he him therefore to them to be scourged. And as they led him away, they laid hold of one Simon a Cyrenian, who was coming out of the country, and on whom they imposed the cross, that he might bear it after Jesus.

They found him: and as they were bringing him untoPkake, they met a certain Samarian, which offered to bear his cross. And they said unto him, Go up and help him.

And when they came to Jerusalem, they entered into the court of the temple; and Jesus began to teach in the temple by the school of Nathan the scribe.

Now at the feast the governor was wont to release unto the multitude one prisoner, whom they would.

And they had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas. Now there was sitting at table with the governor an officer of the Jews, named Caiaphas, who was the high priest that year. But the chief priests and elders persuaded the governor that he should release Barabbas unto them.

And Pilate answered and said unto them, Will ye that I release unto you the king of the Jews? For this is he, whom they delivered unto me, after that I had condemned him.

But you have a custom of releasing one man unto you at the feast: and they said, That it should be Barabbas.

Now the governor was wont at the feast to release unto the multitude one prisoner. And they were then at the feast: and they said unto him, Our custom is, that we should release unto you one prisoner, whom we will.

And they chose Barabbas unto them; and Jesus they delivered up to be crucified. Then Pilate therefore again said unto them, What shall I do then with Jesus, whom ye call the king of the Jews? And they answered and said unto him, Crucify him. And Pilate said unto them, Shall I crucify your king? And the chief priests said, We have no king but Caesar.

Then delivered he him therefore unto them to be crucified. And they took Jesus, and led him out to crucify him. And they went out, and took the cross that was laid against him: and when they came unto a place called the place of a skull, they began to mock him, saying, If thou be the king of the Jews, come down from the cross.

And they that were crucified with him cast also their reproaches among him. And when the centurion, which stood over against him, saw that he so durstfully bore witness, he gave a commandment to his soldiers, that he might be crucified with the rude. And the soldiers did this. And when the violets were in blossom, Jesus was about thirty years old, and went up from Galilee to Judaea, to the feast of thePassover.

And when he was come into Jerusalem, all the city was moved, saying, Who is this?

And certain of the Pharisees said unto him, Art thou a master of the sabbath? for it is not lawful to work on the sabbath day.

And he said unto them, The sabbath was made for man, and not man for the sabbath: therefore the Son of man is Lord also of the sabbath.

And he entered into the temple, and drove out all them that sold and bought in the temple; and overthrew the tables of the moneychangers, and the seats of them that sold doves; and said unto them that sold doves, Take hence your things hence, and depart from hence, leave the house of my Father empty, and the thought that you have hath filled it. And he left them, and went out of the city.

Then say unto those who go down to the sea, Cast in your net on the right side, and ye shall find. And do this also.
before they were gathered together,
Pilate said unto them, Whom will ye that I release unto you? Barabbas, or Jesus which is called Christ? 18 For he knew that for envy they had delivered him up. 19 And while he was sitting on the judgement-seat, his wife sent unto him, saying, Have thou nothing to do with that righteous man: for I have suffered many things this day in a dream because of him. 20 Now the chief priests and the elders persuaded the multitudes that they should ask for Barabbas, and destroy Jesus. 21 But the governor answered and said unto them, Whether of the twain wilt ye that I release unto you? And they said, Barabbas. 22 Pilate saith unto them, What shall I do unto Jesus which is called Christ? 23 They all say, Let him be crucified. 24 And he said, Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out exceedingly, saying, Let him be crucified. 25 So when Pilate saw that he prevailed nothing, but rather that a tumult was arising, he took water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this righteous man: see ye to it. 26 And he said, What shall I do unto Jesus which is called Christ? 27 They all say, Let him be crucified. 28 And he said, Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out exceedingly, saying, Let him be crucified. 29 So when Pilate saw that he prevailed nothing, but rather that a tumult was arising, he took water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this righteous man: see ye to it. 30 And all the people answered and said, His blood be on us, and upon our children. 31 Then released he unto them Barabbas: but Jesus he scourged and delivered to be crucified. 32 Then the soldiers of the governor took Jesus into the second palace, and gathered unto him the whole band. 33 And they stripped him, and put on him a scarlet robe. 34 And they plaited a crown of thorns and put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand; and they bowed down before him, and mocked him, saying, Hail, King of the Jews! 35 And when they had mocked him, they took off from him the robe, and put on his garments, and led him away to crucify him. 36 And as they came out, they found a man of Cyrene, Simon by name: him they compelled to go with them, that he might bear his cross. 37 And when they were come unto a place called Golgotha, that is to say, The place of a skull, 38 they gave him wine to drink mingled with gall: and when he had tasted it, he would not drink. 39 And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments among them, casting lots: and they sat and watched him there. 40 And they set up over his head his accusation written, THIS IS JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS. 41 Then were there crucified with him two robbers, one on the right hand, and one on the left. 42 And one of them, when he saw that he suffered thus, said, Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom. 43 And Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, This day shalt thou be with me in paradise. 44 And when the centurion saw what was done, he glorified God, saying, Certainly this was a righteous man. 45 And all that heard it repented at that which they had done. Then said Jesus, 'As it is written, 'For my sake they shall mock him, and mock me: 'Yet I willed it, that it might be so. 'And I am with thee in the spirit of power. And when the centurion saw what was done, he praised God, saying, 'Lord, Lord, what manner of man art thou! for even the devil itself is subject to thee. 'Then said Jesus, 'Verily I say unto thee, Today shalt thou be with me in paradise.'
many bodies of the saints that had fallen asleep were raised; 53 and coming forth out of the tombs after his resurrection they entered into the holy city and appeared unto many. 54 Now the centurion, and they that were with him, watching Jesus, when they saw the earthquake, and the things that were done, feared exceedingly, saying,

"Truly this was the Son of God."

55 And many women were there beholding from afar, which had followed Jesus from Galilee, ministering unto him: 56 among whom was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James and Joses, and the mother of the sons of Zebedee.

57 And when even was come, there came a rich man from Arimathea, named Joseph, who also himself was Jesus’s disciple: 58 this man went to Pilate, and asked for the body of Jesus. Then Pilate commanded it to be given up. 59 And Joseph took the body, and wrapped it in a clean linen cloth, 60 and laid it in his own new tomb, 61 which he had hewn out in the rock: and he rolled a great stone to the door of the tomb, and departed. 62 And Mary Magdalene was there, and the other Mary, sitting over against the sepulchre.

63 Now on the morrow, which is the day after the Preparation, the chief priests and the Pharisees were gathered together unto Pilate, 64 saying, Sir, we remember that that deceiver said, while he was yet alive, 65 After three days I rise again. 66 Command therefore that the sepulchre be made sure until the third day, 67 lest haply his disciples come and steal him away, and say unto the people, He is risen from the dead: and the last error will be worse than the first. 68 Pilate said unto them, Ye have a guard: go your way, make it as sure as ye can. 69 So they went, and made the sepulchre sure, sealing the stone, the guard being with them.

28 1 Now late on the sabbath day, as it began to dawn, toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.

2 And behold, there was a great earthquake; for an angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled away the stone, and sat upon it. 3 His appearance was as lightning, and his raiment white as snow: 4 and for fear of him the watchers did quake, and became as dead men. 5 And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, which hath been crucified. 6 He is not here; for he is risen, even as he said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay.

7 And go quickly, and tell his disciples, He is risen from the dead; and lo, he goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see him: lo, I have told you. 8 And they departed quickly from the tomb with fear and great joy, and ran to bring his disciples word. 9 And behold, Jesus met them, saying, All hail. And they came and took hold of his feet, and worshipped him.

10 Then saith Jesus unto them, Fear not: go tell my brethren that they depart into Galilee, and there shall they see me.

11 Now while they were going, behold, some of the guard came into the city, and told unto the chief priests all the things that were come to pass. 12 And when they were assembled with the elders, and had taken counsel, they gave large money unto the soldiers, 13 saying, Say ye, His disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept. 14 And if this come to the governor’s ears, we will persuade him, and rid you of care. 15 So they took the money, and did as they were taught: and this saying was spread abroad among the Jews, and continued until this day.

16 But the eleven disciples went into Galilee, unto the mountain where Jesus had appointed them. 17 And when they saw him, they worshipped him: but some doubted. 18 And Jesus came to them and spake unto them, saying, All authority hath been given unto me in heaven and on earth. 19 Go ye therefore, and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them into the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost:
20 teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I commanded you: and lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO S. MARK.

1 The beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ, the Son of God:

2 Even as it is written in Isaiah the prophet,
Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, Who shall prepare thy way;
3 The voice of one crying in the wilderness,
Make ye ready the way of the Lord.

Make his paths straight:
4 John came, who baptized in the wilderness and preached the baptism of repentance unto remission of sins.
And there went out unto him from all the country of Judea, and all the city of Jerusalem, and all the multitude of the land who were baptized of him in the river Jordan, confessing their sins.
And John was clothed with camel's hair, and had a leather girdle about his loins; and did eat locusts and wild honey.
And he preached, saying, There cometh one mightier than I, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to unloose.
And the unclean spirits, when he had cast them out, cried out, saying, What manner of man is this, that even the wind itself is come to him?
And there were also many of the Jews which went up out of the land of the north, and they saw the works of power done by him.
And they were all amazed, and said, What manner of man is this, that even the wind itself is come to him?
And the place was called Bethsaida, of Galilee.

5 And there went out to him all the country of the Jordan, and they were baptized of him in the river Jordan, confessing their sins.
And John was asked of them all, and Answered, and said, I am not that, but one going before you, saying, Are ye prepared for the kingdom of God?
For he whom God hath anointed, with the Holy Ghost and with fire,
And his name is the Son of God.

6 And John had his garments of camel's hair, and a girdle of a skin about his loins, and his flesh did wax gross.
And he did eat locusts and wild honey: and the people were professing their repentance, and saying unto him, What shall we do?
And John answered and said unto them, He that hath two coats, let him impart to him that hath none; and he that hath food, let him do likewise.

7 And there came also publicans and sinners, to hear him.
And the Pharisees and Scribes murmured, saying, This man receiveth publicans and sinners, and eateth with them.
And the Pharisees and Scribes said, This man receiveth publicans and sinners, and eateth with them.

8 And Jesus answered and said unto them, They that are whole need not a physician; but they that are sick.
And they that are whole need not a physician; but they that are sick.

9 And no man, having put on a new garment, and going to a wedding, putteth his old coats on the new; lest, having done this, he make the new unclasp and be naked.
And no man, having put on a new garment, and going to a wedding, putteth his old coats on the new; lest, having done this, he make the new unclasp and be naked.

10 And he said also unto them, Which of you, having an ass which is fallen into a pit, will not release it, but will cast it in?
And he said also unto them, Which of you, having an ass which is fallen into a pit, will not release it, but will cast it in?

11 And they answered him, None.
And they said unto him, None.

12 And he said unto them, Which of you, if he have one hundred sheep, and one of them be sick, will he not lay him down on a place of dry ground, and gather other beasts to his side?
And he said unto them, Which of you, if he have one hundred sheep, and one of them be sick, will he not lay him down on a place of dry ground, and gather other beasts to his side?

13 And out of the mouth of Jacob two kings shall come, out of men of Israel shall two kings reign.
And out of the mouth of Jacob two kings shall come, out of men of Israel shall two kings reign.

14 And he said unto the disciples, When ye pray, say, Father, hallowed be thy name, come thy kingdom,
And he said unto the disciples, When ye pray, say, Father, hallowed be thy name, come thy kingdom,

15 And forgive us our sins; for we also forgive to all them that are indebted to us. And also give us daily bread.
And forgive us our sins; for we also forgive to all them that are indebted to us. And also give us daily bread.

16 And he said, Which of you shall have a friend, and shall go unto him at midnight, and say to him, Friend, lend me three loaves;
And he said, Which of you shall have a friend, and shall go unto him at midnight, and say to him, Friend, lend me three loaves;

17 For he will answer and say to him, There is no bread here; the women came not to the table to give me anything to eat?
For he will answer and say to him, There is no bread here; the women came not to the table to give me anything to eat?

18 And another friend, who had nothing in the house, answered and said, A little while, and I will bring you.
he commandeth even the unclean spirits, and they obey him. 28 And the report of him went out straightway everywhere into all the region of Galilee round about.

29 And straightway, 1 when they were come 2 out of the synagogue, they came into the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John. 30 Now Simon's wife's mother lay sick of a fever; and straightway they tell him of her: 31 and he came and 2 took her by the hand, and raised her up; and the fever left her, and she ministered unto them.

32 And at even, when the sun did set, they brought unto him all that were sick, and them that were possessed with devils. 33 And all the city was gathered together at the door. 34 And he healed many that were sick with divers diseases, and cast out many 2 devils; and he suffered not the devils to speak, because they knew him. 35 And in the morning, a great crowd came to him from every quarter.

36 And he went forth again by the sea side, and all the city came together at the place of toll, and he taught them. 37 And many came to him, and they ministered unto him, and they healed all that were sick among them.
18 And John's disciples and the Pharisees were fasting: and they came and said unto him, Why do John's disciples and the disciples of the Pharisees fast, but thy disciples fast not? 19 And Jesus said unto them, Can the sons of the bride-chamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them? as long as they have the bridegroom with them, they cannot fast. 20 But the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and then will they fast in that day.

21 No man seweth a piece of undressed cloth on old garment: else that which should fill it up, the new from the old, and that which was made new will burst the skins, and the wine will perish withal, and the skins: but they that are whole have no need to sew garments, but they that are sick: I came not to call the righteous, but sinners.

22 And no man putteth new wine into old wine-skins: else the wine will burst the skins, and the wine will be poured out, and the skins will be wasted. 23 And it came to pass, that he was going on the sabbath day through the cornfields; and his disciples, *and a little boat should have been with him, that they might pluck the ears of corn. 24 And the Pharisees said unto him, Behold, why do they on the sabbath day *that which is not lawful? 25 And he said unto them, Did ye never read what David did, when he had need, and was a hungr? 26 And *he had healed many; insomuch that as many as had 11 plagues pressed upon him, that they might touch him. 27 And the unclean spirits, whatsoever they beheld, fell down before him, and cried, saying, Thou art the Son of God. 28 And he charged them much that they should not make him known.

29 And he went up into the mountain, and called unto him all whom he himself would: and they went up unto him. 30 And he appointed twelve, whom he called, Peter, and Simon the son of Jonah, and James, and John, and Philip, and Bartholomew, and Matthew, and Thomas, and James the son of Alphaeus, and Simon called Zelotes, and Judas Iscariot, which also called Judas. 31 These twelve Jesus sent forth, and charged them, saying, 32 Go not into the way of the Gentiles, and into any city of the Samaritans enter ye not: 33 But go rather to the heathen, and teach them to repent, and believe in the gospel. 34 And they went forth, and preached that men should repent. 35 And *John's disciples and *the disciples of the Pharisees fasted, but *the disciples of Jesus said, Why fast ye, seeing the Son of man is here? *For ver. 10. 4: See Matt. 9. 14. 5. See Luke 5. 32. 6: See Matt. 11. 27.
James; and them he surnamed Boanerges, which is, "Sons of thunder: 18 and Andrew, and Philip, and Bartholomew, and {Matthew, and Thomas, and James the son of Alphaeus, and Thaddeus, and Simon the Canaanæan, 19 and Judas Iscariot, which also betrayed him.

And he cometh 2 into a house. 20 And the multitude cometh together again, 21 so that they could not so much as eat bread. 22 And when James heard it, they went out to lay hold on him: for they said, He s is beside himself. 23 And the scribes which came down from Jerusalem said, 24 He hath Beelzebub, and, 25 By the prince of the devils casteth he out the devils. 26 And he called them unto him, and said unto them in parables, How can Satan cast out Satan? 27 For if a kingdom be divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand. 28 But whoever shall blaspheme against the Holy Spirit hath never forgiveness, but is guilty of an eternalsin: 29 because they said, He hath an unclean spirit.

31 And there come his mother and his brethren; and, standing without, they sent unto him, calling him. 32 And a multitude was sitting about him; and they say unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren without seek for thee. 33 And he answered them, and saith, Who is my mother, and my brethren? 34 And looking round upon them that sat round about him, he saith, Behold, my mother and my brethren! 35 For whosoever shall do the will of God, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother. 36 And again he began to teach by the sea side. And there is gathered unto him a very great multitude, 37 so that he entered into a boat, and sat in the sea; and all the multitude were by the sea on the land. 2 And he taught them many things in parables, and said unto them in his teaching; 3 Hearken: Behold, a sower went forth to sow: 4 and it came to pass, as he sowed, some seed fell by the wayside, and the birds came and devoured it. 5 And other fell on the rocky ground, where it had not much earth; and straightway it sprang up, because it had no depth of earth: 6 and 7 when the sun was risen, it was scorched: and because it had no root, it withered away. 8 And others fell into the good ground, and yielded fruit, growing up and increasing; and brought forth, thirtyfold, and sixtyfold, and 9 a hundredfold. 9 And he said, 10 Who hath ears to hear, let him hear. 10 And 11 when he was alone, they that were with him about the twelve asked of him the parables. 12 And he said unto them, 13 Unto you is given the mystery of the kingdom of God: but unto them that are without, all things are done in parables: 14 that seeing they may see, and not perceive; and hearing they may hear, and not understand; lest haply they should turn again, and be forgiven them. 15 And he saith unto them, Know ye not this parable? and how shallyeknow it, and it should be forgiven them.

17 And when he was alone, they that were about him with the twelve asked of him the parables. 18 And he said unto them, 19 Unto you is given the mystery of the kingdom of God: but unto them that are without, all things are done in parables:

and it becometh unfruitful. 20 And those are they that were sown upon the good ground: such as hear the word, and accept it, and bear fruit, thirtyfold, and sixtyfold, and a hundredfold.

21 And he said unto them, 22 Is the lamp brought to be put under the bushel, or under the bed, and not to be put on the stand? 23 For there is nothing hid, save that it should be manifested: neither was anything made secret, but that it should come to light. 24 If any man hath ears to hear, let him hear. 25 And he said unto them, Take heed what ye hear: with what measure ye mete it shall be measured unto you: and more shall be given unto you. 26 For he that hath, to him shall be given: and he that hath not, from him shall be taken away even that which he hath.

27 And he said, So is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast seed upon the earth: 28 and should sleep and rise night and day, and the seed should spring up and grow, 29 he knoweth not how. 30 The earth bringeth forth fruit of herself; first the blade, then the ear, then the full corn in the ear. 31 But when the fruit is ripe, straightway he that receiveth the harvest is come.

32 And he said, How shall we liken the kingdom of God? or in what parable shall we set it forth? 33 It is like a grain of mustard seed, which, when it is sown upon the earth, though it be less than all the seeds that are upon the earth, 34 yet when it is sown, groweth up, and becometh greater than all the herbs, and putteth out great branches; so that the birds of the heaven can lodge under the shadow thereof.

35 And with many such parables spake he the word unto them, 36 as they were able to hear it: 37 and without a parable spake he not unto them: but privately to his own disciples he expounded all things.

38 And on that day, when even was come, he saith unto them, Let us go over unto the other side. 39 And leaving the multitude, they take him with them, even as he was, in the boat. And other boats were with him. 37 And there ariseth a great storm of wind, and the waves beat into the boat, insomuch that the boat was now fulling. 38 And he himself was in the stern, asleep on the cushion: and they awake him, and say unto him, Master, carest thou not that we perish? 39 And he awoke, and rebuked the wind, and said unto the sea, Peace, be still. And the wind ceased, and there was a great calm. 40 And he said unto them, Why are ye so fearful? have ye not yet faith?

5 And they feared exceedingly, and said one to another, Who then is this, that even the wind and the sea obey him?

And they came to the other side of the sea, into the country of the Gerasenes. 2 And when he was come out of the boat, straightway there met him out of the tombs a man with an unclean spirit, 3 who had had his dwelling in the tombs: and no man could any more bind him, no, not with a chain: 4 because that he had been often bound with fetters and chains, and the chains had been rent asunder by him, and the fetters broken in pieces, and no man had strength to tame him. 5 And always, night and day, in the tombs and in the mountains, he was crying out, and cutting himself with stones. 6 And when he saw Jesus from afar, he ran and worshipped him; 7 and crying out, with a loud voice, he saith, 8 What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of the Most High God? 9 I adjure thee by God, torment me not. 10 For he said unto him, Come forth, thou unclean spirit, out of the man. 11 And he asked him, What is thy name? And he said unto him, My name is Legion: for we are many. 12 And he besought him much that he would not send them away out of the country. 13 Now there was there upon the mountain side a herd of swine feeding. 14 And they besought him, saying, Send us into the swine, that we may enter into them. 15 And he gave them leave. And the unclean spirits came out. 16 And they entered into the swine: and the herd rushed down the steep into the sea, in number about two thousand: and they were choked with the water.
in the sea. 14 And they that fed them, and told it in the city, and in the country. And they came to see what it was that had come to pass. 15 And they come to Jesus, and behold 1 him that was possessed with devils sitting, 2 clothed and in his right mind, even him that had the legion; and they were afraid. 16 And they that saw it declared unto them how it befell 1 him that was possessed with devils, and concerning the swine. 17 And they began to beseech him to depart from their borders. 18 And as he was entering into the boat, he that had been possessed with devils besought him that he might be with him. 19 And he suffered him not, but saith unto him, Go to thy house, and to thy friends, and 3 tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and how he had mercy on thee. 20 And he went his way, and began to publish in 2 Decapolis how great things Jesus had done for him: and all men did marvel.

21 And when Jesus had crossed over again in the boat unto the other side, a great multitude was gathered unto him: and he was by the sea. 22 And there cometh one of the rulers of the synagogue, Jairus by name; and seeing him, he falleth at his feet, 23 and beseecheth him much, saying, My little daughter is at the point of death: 24 And he went with him; and a great multitude followed him, and they thronged him.

25 And a woman, 9 which had an issue of blood twelve years, 26 and had suffered many things of many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and was nothing bettered, but rather grew worse, 27 having heard the things concerning Jesus, came in the crowd behind, and touched his garment. 28 And she said, If I touch but his garments, I shall be made whole. 29 And straightway the fountain of her blood was dried up; and she felt in her body that she was healed of her plague. 30 And straightway Jesus, perceiving in himself that the power proceeding from him had gone forth, turned him about in the crowd, and said, Who touched my garments? 31 And his disciples said unto him, Thou seest the multitude thronging thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me? 32 And he looked round about to see her that had done this thing. 33 But the woman fearing and trembling, knowing what had been done to her, came and fell down before him, and told him all the truth. 34 And he said unto her, Daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole: go in peace, and be whole of thy plague.

35 While he yet spake, they came from the ruler of the synagogue's house, saying, Thy daughter is dead: why dost thou trouble me any further? 36 But Jesus, 9 not heeding the word spoken, saith unto the ruler of the synagogue, Fear not, only believe. 37 And he suffered no man to follow with him, save Peter, and James, and John the brother of James. 38 And they came to the house of the ruler of the synagogue; and he beheld him, and was amazed, saying, Why make ye a tumult, and weep? 39 And when he entered in, he saith unto them, Why make ye this tumult, and weep? 40 For she is not dead, but is asleep. 41 And they laughed him to scorn. But he, 9 having put them all forth, taketh the father of the child and her mother and them that were with him, and goeth in where the child was. 42 And 9 taking the child by the hand, he saith unto her, Talitha cumi; which is, being interpreted, Damsel, I say unto thee, Arise. 43 And straightway the damsel rose up, and walked: for she was twelve years old. And they were amazed straightway with a great amazement.

44 And he charged them that no man should know this: and he commanded that some things should be given her to eat. 45 And he went out from thence; and he cometh into his own country; and his disciples follow him. 46 And when the sabbath was come, he began to teach in the synagogue: and 9 many hearing him were astonished, saying, Whence hath this man these things?
and, What is the wisdom that is given unto this man, and what mean such mighty works wrought by his hands? Is not this the carpenter, the son of Mary, and brother of James, and Joses, and Judas, and Simon? and are not his sisters here with us? And they were offended in him. And Jesus said unto them, A prophet is not without honour, save in his own country, and among his own kin, and in his own house. And he could there do no mighty work, save that he laid his hands upon a few sick folk, and healed them. And he marvelled because of their unbelief.

And he went round about the villages teaching.

And he called unto him the twelve, and began to send them forth by two and two; and he gave them authority over the unclean spirits; and he charged them that they should take nothing for their journey, save a staff only; no bread, no wallet, no money in their purse; but to go shod with sandals: and said he, put not on two coats. And he said unto them, Wheresoevery enter into a house, there abide till ye depart thence. And whatsoever place shall not receive you, and they hear you not, as ye go forth thence, shake off the dust that is under your feet for a testimony unto them. And they went out, and preached that men should repent. And they cast out many devils, and anointed with oil many that were sick, and healed them.

And king Herod heard thereof; for his name had become known: and he said, This is John the Baptist; he is risen from the dead, and therefore these powers work in him. But others said, It is a spirit of Elias. And Herod, when he heard thereof, said, I am the Baptist, even as one of the prophets. But Herod, when he heard thereof, said, John, whom I beheaded, he is risen. For Herod himself had sent forth and laid hold upon John, and bound him in prison for the sake of Herodias, his brother Philip's wife: for he had married her. And John said unto Herod, It is not lawful for thee to have thy brother's wife.
6 And when they had crossed over, they came to the land unto Gennesaret, and moored to the shore. 7 And when they were come out of the boat, straightway the people knew him, and ran about him to hear him. 8 And he taught them many things, and said unto them, "Give me the loaves and the fishes;" and he said unto them, "Shall we go and buy two hundred pennyworth of bread, and give them to eat?" 9 And they say, "Five, and two fishes." 10 And they set themselves in the boat, and they sat down in ranks, by hundreds, and by fifties. 11 And he took the five loaves and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed, and brake them, and gave them to the disciples to set before them; and the two fishes divided he among them all. 12 And they did all eat, and were filled. 13 And they took up broken pieces, twelve basketfuls, and also of the fishes. 14 And they that ate the loaves were five thousand men, and of the fishes, twelve baskets. 15 And straightway he constrained his disciples to enter into the boat, and to go before him unto the other side to Bethsaida, while he himself sendeth the multitude away. 16 And after he had taken leave of them, he departed into the mountain to pray. 17 And when even was come, the boat was in the midst of the sea, and he alone on the land. 18 And seeing them distressed in rowing, for the wind was contrary unto them, about the fourth watch of the night he came unto them, walking on the sea; and they would have passed by him. 19 But they, when they saw him walking on the sea, supposed that it was an apparition, and cried out: 20 for they all saw him, and they were troubled. But he straightway spake with them, and saith unto them, "Be of good cheer: it is I; be not afraid." 21 And he went up unto them into the boat; and the wind ceased: and they were sore amazed in themselves; and they understood not concerning the loaves, but their heart was hardened. 22 And when they had crossed over, they came to the land unto Gennesaret, and moored to the shore. 23 And when they were come out of the boat, straightway the people knew him, and ran round about that whole region, and began to carry about on their beds those that were sick, where they heard he was. 24 And wheresoever he entered, into villages, or into cities, or into the country, they laid the sick in the marketplaces, and besought him that they might touch if it were but the border of his garment: and as many as touched it were made whole. 25 And when the day was now far spent, the disciples came unto him, saying, "Lord, what shall we buy for these that we may give them to eat?" 26 But he said unto them, "Have ye money in your purse to buy food?" They then said, "There is nothing in our purse, but two pennies, and there are many fishes in our boat." 27 And he said unto them, "Bring them that eat." And they brought them that sat down to eat, about five thousand men, and also the fishes. 28 And when they had eaten, they filled them all, and took up twelve baskets of the broken pieces left over. 29 And he said unto his disciples, "The scribes sit throughout all the cities, and drink the dregs of the wine; but ye sit throughout the villages." 30 And the disciples came to Jesus, and said, "Do thou send the multitude away, that they may go into the country and villages round about, and buy food; for they cannot take food with them." 31 But he said unto them, "You give them to eat." And they said, "We have no more than five loaves, and two fishes; if I should send them away, they will faintly away. 32 And Jesus said unto them, "Bring them unto me." And they brought them. 33 And he commanded them, that all should as it were a number by number, and they all ate, and were filled. 34 And they took up twelve baskets full of the broken pieces, and the fishes. 35 And the people were brought together the multitude, that they might all hear the word of God. 36 And when the day was now far spent, the disciples came unto him, saying, "Lord, what shall we buy for these that we may give them to eat?" 37 But he said unto them, "You give them to eat." And they said, "We have no more than five loaves, and two fishes; if I should send them away, they will faintly away. 38 And Jesus said unto them, "Bring them unto me." And they brought them. 39 And he commanded them, that all should as it were a number by number, and they all ate, and were filled. 40 And they took up twelve baskets full of the broken pieces, and the fishes. 41 And he said unto them, "Take nothing into your hand;" and they did, and knew not what they had done. 42 And he said unto them, "Whereunto are your eyes pointed?" And they answered him, "To the mountain." 43 And he said unto them, "You go to the village, there at the entrance of the gate put in your hand a litmus into the pot; and the rooster shall crow before that you come out. 44 And he said unto them, "If it be said to you, You give the young men bread; give them bread. 45 And straightway he constrained his disciples to enter into the boat, and to go before him unto the other side to Bethsaida, while he himself sendeth the multitude away. 46 And after he had taken leave of them, 47 he departed into the mountain to pray. 48 And when he had gone over, he straightway went into the land of the Gennesaretes. 49 And he entered into a ship and went over, and the multitudes followed with him in a boat. 50 And when he was come into the land, he saw a great multitude, and he had compassion on them, and commanded his disciples to them. 51 But his disciples said unto him, "Where is it possible for us to buy all these bread for these people, that they may eat?" 52 And he said unto them, "You give them to eat." And they said, "We have nothing but five loaves and two fishes; if we should send them away, they will faintly away. 53 And he said unto them, "You give them to eat." And they did, and knew not what they had done. 54 And they all ate, and were filled. And they took up twelve baskets full of the broken pieces, and of the fishes. 55 And immediately the disciples of Jesus, turning about, make into the mountain to pray. 56 And when they were come down into the boat, there waited on them the multitude, and they were gone a little way from land. 57 And he said unto them, "This is my beloved Son; in whom be all my delight. This is my Son: hear him." 58 And this saying went forth from them. And when they were come down into the boat, they went into the land of Gennesaret."
And he said unto them, Full well do ye reject the commandment of God, that ye may keep your tradition. For Moses said, HONOUR thy father and thy mother; and, HE that speaketh evil of father or mother, let him die the death: but ye say, If a man shall say to his father or his mother, That wherewith thou mightest have been profited by me is Corban, that is to say, Given to God; ye no longer suffer him to do aught for his father or his mother; 13 making void the word of God by your tradition, which ye have delivered: and many such like things do ye. 14 And he called to him the multitude again, and said unto them, Hear me all of you, and understand: 15 there is nothing from without the man, that going into him into him can defile him: but the things which proceed out of the man are those that defile the man. 17 And when he was entered into the house from the multitude, one of his disciples asked him the parable. 18 And he saith unto them, Are ye so without understanding also? Perceive ye not, that whatsoever from without goeth into the man, it cannot defile him; 19 because it goeth not into his heart, but into his belly, and goeth out into the draught? This he said, making all meats clean. 20 And he said, That which proceedeth out of the man, that defileth the man. 21 For from within, out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, covetings, wickedness; all these evil things proceed from within, and defile the man. 24 And from thence he arose, and went away into the borders of Tyre and Sidon. And he entered into a house, and would have no man know it: and he could not be hid. 25 But straightway a woman, whose little daughter had an unclean spirit, having heard of him, came and fell down at his feet. 26 Now the woman was a Greek, a Syrophoenician by race. And she besought him that he would cast forth the devil out of her daughter. 27 And he said unto her, Let the children first be filled: for it is not meet to take the children's bread and cast it to the dogs. 28 But she answered and said unto him, Yea, Lord: even the dogs under the table eat of the children's crumbs. 29 And he said unto her, For this saying go thy way; the devil is gone out of thy daughter. 30 And she went away unto her house, and found the child laid upon the bed, and the devil gone out.
thanks, he brake, and gave to his disciples, to set before them; and they set them before the multitude. 7 And they had a few small fishes: and having blessed them, he commanded to set these also before them. 8 And they did eat, and were filled: and they took up, of broken pieces that remained over, seven baskets. 9 And they were about four thousand: and he sent them away. 10 And straightway he entered into the boat with his disciples, and came into the parts of b Dalmanutha. 11 c And the Pharisees came forth, and began to question with him, seeking of him a sign from heaven, to tempt him. 12 And he spake deeply in his spirit, and saith, Why doth this generation seek a sign? verily I say unto you, There shall no sign be given unto this generation. 13 And he left them, and again entering into the boat departed to the other side. 14 And they forgot to take bread; and they had not in the boat with them more than one loaf. 15 And he charged them, saying, Take heed, beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and the leaven of Herod. 16 And they reasoned one with another, saying, We have no bread. 17 And Jesus perceiving it saith unto them, Why reason ye, because ye have no bread? * do ye not yet perceive, neither understand? have ye your heart hardened? 18 Having eyes, see ye not? and having ears, hear ye not? and do ye not remember? 19 When I brake the five loaves among the five thousand, how many baskets full of broken pieces took ye up? They say unto him, Twelve. 20 And when the seven among the four thousand, how many baskets full of broken pieces took ye up? And they say unto him, Seven. 21 And he said unto them, Do ye not yet understand?

22 And they come unto Bethsaida. And they bring to him a blind man, and beseech him to touch him. 23 And he took hold of the blind man by the hand, and brought him out of the village; and when he had spitt on his eyes, and laid his hands upon him, he asked him, Seest thou aught? 24 And he looked up, and said, I see men; for I behold them as trees, walking. 25 Then again he laid his hands upon his eyes; and he looked steadfastly, and was restored, and saw all things clearly. 26 And he sent him away to his home, saying, Do not even enter into the village. 27 And Jesus went forth, and his disciples, into the villages of Cesaarea Philippi: and in the way he asked his disciples, saying unto them, Who do men say that I am? 28 And they told him, saying, c John the Baptist: and others, Elijah; but others, One of the prophets. 29 And he asked them, But who say ye that I am? Peter answering and saith unto him, Thou art the Christ. 30 And he charged them that they should tell no man of him. 31 d And he began to teach them, that the Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected by the elders, and the chief priests, and the scribes, and be killed; and after three days rise again. 32 And he spake the saying openly. And Peter took him, and began to rebuke him. 33 But he turning about, and seeing his disciples, rebuked Peter, and saith, Get thee behind me, Satan: for thou mindest not the things of God, but the things of men. 34 And he called unto him the multitude with his disciples, and said unto them, If any man would save his life shall lose it; and whosoever shall lose his life for my sake and the gospel's shall save it. 35 For whosoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words in this adulterous and sinful generation, the Son of man also shall be ashamed of him. 36 But he that shall confess and be acknowledged of me before men, the same shall be acknowledged of the Son of man before the angels of God. 37 For whosoever shall give to drink unto one of these little ones a cup of cold water only in the name of a disciple, verily I say unto you, there shall no.

2 And after six days Jesus taketh with him Peter, and James, and John, and bringeth them up into a high mountain apart by themselves: and he was transfigured before them: and his garments became glistening, exceeding white; so as no fuller on earth can whiten them. 4 And there appeared unto them Elias with Moses: and they were talking with Jesus. 5 And Peter answered and saith to Jesus, 6 Rabbi, it is good for us to be here: let us make thee three tabernacles: one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias. 7 For he wist not what to answer; for they became sore afraid. 8 And there came a cloud overshadowing them: and there came a voice out of the cloud, 9 This is my beloved Son: hear ye him. 10 And suddenly looking round about, they saw no one any more, save Jesus only with themselves.

And as they were coming down from the mountain, he charged them that they should tell no man what things they had seen, save Jesus only with themselves.

And when they came to the lake, his disciples asked him privately, saying, We could not cast it out. 29 And he said unto them, This kind can come out by nothing, save by prayer. 30 And they went forth from thence, and passed through Galilee; and he would not that any man should know it. 31 For he taught his disciples, and said unto them, The Son of man is delivered up into the hands of men, and they shall kill him; and when he is killed, after three days he shall rise again.

And when they came to the disciples, they saw a great multitude about them, and scribes questioning with them. 15 And straightway all the multitude, when they saw him, were greatly amazed, and running to him saluted him. 16 And he asked them, What question ye over it taketh him. it 'distract him down: and be foamed, and grindeth his teeth, and pineth away: and I spake to thy disciples that they should cast it out; and they were not able. 19 And he answered them and saith, O faithless generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I bear with you? bring him unto me. 20 And they brought him unto him: and when he saw him, straightway the spirit 21 'tare him grievously; and he fell on the ground, and foamed. 21 And he asked his father, How long time is it since this hath come unto him? And he said, From a child. 22 And oft-times it hath cast him both into the fire and into the waters, to destroy him: but if thou canst do anything, have compassion on us, and help us. 23 And Jesus said unto him, If thou canst! All things are possible to him that believeth. 24 Straightway the father of the child cried out, and said, I believe; help thou mine unbelief. 25 And when Jesus saw that a multitude came running together, he rebuked the unclean spirit, saying unto him, Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I command thee, come out of him, and enter no more into him. 26 And having cast it out, and torn him much, he came out: and the child became as one dead; insomuch that the more part said, He is dead. 27 But Jesus took him by the hand, and raised him up; and he arose. 28 And when he was come into the house, his disciples asked him privately, saying, We could not cast it out. 29 And he said unto them, This kind can come out by nothing, save by prayer. 30 And they went forth from thence, and passed through Galilee; and he would not that any man should know it. 31 For he taught his disciples, and said unto them, The Son of man is delivered up into the hands of men, and they shall kill him; and when he is killed, after three days he shall rise again.
And he arose from thence, and went into the borders of Judea and beyond Jordan: and multitudes came together unto him; and, as he was wont, he taught them again. And there came unto him Pharisees, and asked him, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife? tempting him. And he answered and said unto them, What did Moses command you? And they said, Moses said, Whosoever shall put away his wife, and marry another, committeth adultery. But Jesus said unto them, Whosoever shall put away his wife, and marry another, committeth adultery against her. But if she herself shall put away her husband, and marry another, she committeth adultery. But if she herself shall put away her husband, and marry another, she committeth adultery. And they brought unto him little children, that he should touch them: and the disciples rebuked them. But when Jesus saw it, he was moved with indignation, and said unto the disciples, Suffer the little children, and forbid them not, to come unto me: for the kingdom of heaven is of such little children. And he took them in his arms, and blessed them, laying his hands upon them.

And as he was going forth by the way, there ran one to him, and said, Master, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest. And Jesus said unto him, Follow me; but let the dead bury their dead. And he fell on his face, and worshipped him, saying, Lord, open my eyes. And Jesus suffered him not to speak, but put him forth, saying, Go thy way; thy faith hath saved thee. And seeing a man possessed with a devil, and asking Jesus by power to cast him out, Jesus said unto him, How is it that thou seest me and art able to speak? and yet sayest not, Why hast thou not feared me? and fearest thou a man, and fearest not God? And when his father and mother and brethren, and his sisters, and his mother's sister, gathered together to take him away from him, said his brethren unto him, Depart hence, and go into thine own country. And he said unto them, My multitude in this city is smaller than in Cana of Galilee. And he went forth, and spoke in the synagogue, and taught them.
kill, Do not commit adultery, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Do not defraud, Honour thy father and mother. 20 And he said unto him, 21 Master, all these things have I observed from my youth. 22 And Jesus looking upon him loved him, and said unto him, One thing thou lackest: go, sell whatsoever thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, follow me. 23 But his countenance fell at the saying, and he went away sorrowful: for he was one that had great possessions.

24 And Jesus looked round about, and saith unto his disciples, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God! 25 And the disciples were amazed at his words. But Jesus answered again, and said unto them, Children, how hard is it for them that trust in riches to enter into the kingdom of God? 26 And they were astonished exceedingly, saying unto him, Then who can be saved? 27 Jesus looking upon them saith, With men it is impossible, but not with God: for all things are possible with God. 28 And they were amazed; saying unto him, Lo, we have left all, and have followed thee. 29 And Jesus said, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or brethren, or sisters, or mother, or father, or children, or lands, for my sake, and for the gospel’s sake, 30 but he shall receive a hundredfold now in this time, houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands, with persecutions; and in the world to come eternal life. 31 But many that are first shall be last; and the last first.

32 And they were in the way, going up to Jerusalem; and Jesus was going before them: and they were amazed; and they that followed were afraid. 33 And they came to Jerusalem; and the Son of man shall be delivered unto the chief priests and the scribes; and he cried out the more a great deal, Thou son of David, have mercy on me. 49 And Jesus stood still, and said, Call ye him. And they called the blind man, saying unto him, *Be of good cheer. 50 And he, casting away his garment, sprang up, and came to Jesus. 51 And Jesus answered him, and said, *What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? And the blind man said unto him, "Rabboni, that I may receive my sight. 52 And Jesus said unto him, Go thy way; thy faith hath made thee whole. And straightway he received his sight, and followed him in the way. 53 And when they drew nigh unto Jerusalem, unto Bethphage and Bethany, at the mount of Olives, he sent out two of his disciples, 54 And said unto them, Go into the village that is over against you: and as ye enter into it, ye shall find a colt tied, whereon no man ever sat; loose him, and bring him. 55 And if any one say unto you, Why do ye this? say ye, The Lord hath need of him; and straightway he will send him back hither. 56 And they went away, and found a colt tied at the door without in the open street; and they loosed him, and brought him. 57 And certain of them that stood there said unto them, What do ye, loosing the colt? 58 And they said unto them even as Jesus had said: and they let them go. 59 And they brought the colt unto Jesus, and cast on him their garments; and he sat upon him. 60 And many spread their garments upon the way; and others spread the branches which they had cut from the fields. 61 And they went before, and they that followed, crying, Hosanna; Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord: 62 Blessed is the kingdom of our father David: Amen. 63 And he entered into Jerusalem, into the temple: and when he had looked round about upon all things, it being now even, he went out unto Bethany with the twelve. 64 And on the morrow, when they were come out from Bethany, what authority doest thou these things? or who gavethis authority to do these things? 29 And Jesus saith unto them, I will ask of you one question, and answer me, and I will tell you by what authority I do these things. 30 The baptism of John, was it from heaven, or of men? answer me. 31 And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say, Why then did ye not believe him? 32 But should we say, From men — m they feared the people: 3 for all verily held John to be a prophet. 33 And they answered Jesus and say, We know not. And Jesus saith unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

12 r And he began to speak unto them in parables. A man planted a vineyard, and set a hedge about it, and digged a pit for the winepress, and built a tower, and 1 let it out to husbandmen, and 1 went into another country. 2 And at the season he sent to the husbandmen a 4 servant, that he might receive from the husbandmen of the fruits of the vineyard. 3 And they took him, and beat him, and sent him away empty. 4 And again he sent unto them another 4 servant; and him they wounded in the head, and handled shamefully. 5 And he sent another; and him they killed, and cast him forth out of the vineyard. 6 He had yet one, a beloved son: he sent him last unto them, saying, They will reverence my son. 7 But those husbandmen said among themselves, This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and the inheritance shall be ours. 8 And they took him, and killed him, and 1 cast him forth out of the vineyard. 9 What therefore will the lord of the vineyard do? He will 1 come and destroy the husbandmen, and 2 will give the vineyard unto others. 10 Have ye not read even this scripture; 'The stone which the builders rejected, The same was made the head of the corner: 11 This was from the Lord, And it is marvellous in our eyes?
and the God of Jacob? 27 He is not the God of the dead, but of the living: ye do greatly err. 28 And one of the scribes came, and heard them questioning together, and knowing that he had answered them well, asked him, What commandment is the first of all? 29 Jesus answered, The first is, *Hear, O Israel; 1 The Lord our God, the Lord is one: 30 and thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and 2 with all thy strength. 31 The second is, *Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these. 32 And the scribe said unto him, Of truth, *Master, thou hast well said: this is one and the same, that thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy understanding; and to love thy neighbour as thyself, is much more than all whole burnt offerings and sacrifices. 33 And when Jesus saw that he answered discreetly, he said unto him, Thou art not far from the kingdom of God. 34 And no man after that durst ask him any question.

35 And Jesus answered and said, as he taught in the temple, How say the scribes that the Christ is the son of David? 36 David himself said in *the Holy Spirit, *The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool. 37 David himself calleth him Lord; and *whence is he his son? And *the common people *heard him gladly.

38 And in his teaching he said, Beware of the scribes, which desire to walk in long robes, and to have salutations in the marketplaces, 39 and chief seats in the synagogues, and *chief places at feasts: 40 they *which devour widows' houses, 41 and *for a pretence make long prayers; these shall receive *greater condemnation. 42 And he sat down over against the treasury, and beheld how the multitude *cast in much money and many that were rich cast in much. 43 And there came a poor widow, and she cast in two mites, which make a farthing. 44 And he called unto him his disciples, and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, *This poor widow cast in more than all they which are cast into the treasury: 45 for they did cast in of their superfluity; but she of her *want did cast in all that she had, *even all her living.

A And as he went forth out of the temple, one of his disciples saith unto him, 5 Master, behold, what manner of stones and what manner of buildings! 6 And Jesus said unto him, Seest thou these great buildings? 7 There shall not be left here one stone upon another, which shall not be thrown down.

And he sat on the mount of Olives opposite the temple, 9 Peter and James and John and *Andrew asked him *privately, 10 Tell us, *when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign when these all things are about to be accomplished? 11 And Jesus began to say unto them, *Take heed that no man lead you astray. 12 Many shall come in my name, saying, *I am he; and shall lead many astray. 13 And when ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars, *be not troubled: these *must needs come to pass; but the end is not yet. 14 For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: there shall be *earthquakes in divers places; there shall be *famines: these are the beginning of travail.

9 But *take ye heed to yourselves: for they shall deliver you up to *councils; and *in synagogues ye shall be beaten; and before governors and *kings shall ye stand for my sake, *for a testimony unto them. 10 And the gospel must first be preached unto all the nations. 11 And when they lead you to *judgement, and deliver you up, *take no anxious beforehand what ye shall speak: but *whatsoever shall be given you in that hour, that speak ye: *for it is not ye that speak, but *the Holy Ghost. 12 And brother shall deliver up brother to brother, and the father his child; and children shall rise up against parents, and 1 cause them to be put to death. 13 And yet ye shall be hated of all men for my name’s sake: 1 but he that endureth to the end, the same shall be saved.

14 But when ye see the abomination of desolation standing where he ought not, (let him that readeth understand,) then let them that are in Judea flee unto the mountains: 15 and let him that is on the housetop not go down, nor enter in, to take anything out of his house: 16 and let him that is in the field not return back to take his cloak. 17 But woe unto them that are with child, and to them that giveth suck in those days! 18 And pray ye that it be not brought to pass. 19 But if the Lord had not shortened the days, no flesh would have been saved: but for the elect's sakes, whom he chose, he shortened the days. 20 And except the Lord had shortened the days, no flesh should have been saved: but for the elect's sakes, whom he chose, he shortened the days. 21 And then if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is the Christ; or, Lo, there; believe it not: 22 for there shall arise false Christs and false prophets, and shall shew signs and wonders, 23 that they may lead astray, if possible, the elect. 24 But take ye heed: behold, I have told you all things beforehand.

25 But in those days, after that tribulation, the sun shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give light, 26 and the stars shall be falling from heaven, and the powers that are in the heavens shall be shaken. 27 And then shall they see the Son of man coming in clouds with great power and glory, 28 and then shall he send forth the angels, and shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from the uttermost part of the earth unto the uttermost part of heaven.

29 Now from the fig tree learn their parable: when her branch is now become tender, and puttheth forth its leaves, ye know that the summer is nigh; 30 even so ye also, when ye see these things coming to pass, know ye that it is nigh, even at the doors. 31 Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass away, until all these things be accomplished. 32 Heaven and earth shall pass away: but my words shall not pass away. 33 But of that day or that hour knoweth no one, neither the angels in heaven, 34 the Father. 35 Take ye heed, and pray: for ye know not when the time is.

36 For it is as when a man, sojourning in another country, having left his house, and given authority to his servants, to each one his work, commanded also the porter to watch. 37 Watch therefore: for ye know not when the lord of the house cometh, whether at even, or at midnight, or at the cockcrowing, or in the morning; 38 lest coming suddenly he found you asleep. 39 And what I say unto you I say unto all, Watch.

15 Now after two days was the feast of the passover and the unleavened bread: and the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might take him with subtlety, and kill him: 2 for they said, Not during the feast, lest the people.
hath done what she could: she hath anointed my body aforehand for the burying. 9 And verily I say unto you, Wheresoever the gospel shall be preached throughout the whole world, that also which this woman hath done shall be spoken of for a memorial of her.

10 And Judas Iscariot, he that was one of the twelve, went away unto the chief priests, that he might deliver him unto them. 11 And they, when they heard it, were glad, and promised to give him money. And he sought how he might conveniently deliver him unto them.

12 And on the first day of unleavened bread, when they sacrificed the passover, his disciples say unto him, Where wilt thou that we go and make ready that thou mayest eat the passover? 13 And he sent two of his disciples, and saith unto them, Go into the city, and there shall meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water: follow him; 14 and wheresoever he shall enter in, say to the master of the house, The Master saith, Where is my guest-chamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples? 15 And he will himself shew you a large upper room furnished and ready: and there make ready for us. 16 And the disciples went, and came into the city, and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.

17 And when it was evening he cometh with the twelve. 18 And as they sat and were eating, Jesus said, Verily I say unto you, One of you shall betray me, even he that eateth with me. 19 And they began to be sorrowful, and to say unto him one by one, Is it I? 20 And he said unto them, It is one of the twelve, he that shall dip with me in the dish. 21 For the Son of man goeth, even as it is written of him: but woe unto that man through whom the Son of man is betrayed! good were it if that man had not been born.

22 And as they were eating, he took "bread, and when he had blessed, he brake it, and gave to them, and said, Take ye: this is my body. 23 And he took a cup, and when he had given thanks, he gave to them: and they all drank of it. 24 And he said unto them, 2 This is my blood of the covenant, which is shed for many.

25 Verily I say unto you, I will no more drink of the fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new in the kingdom of God. 26 And when they had sung a hymn, they went out unto the mount of Olives.

27 And Jesus saith unto them, All ye shall be offended for it is written, I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered abroad. 28 Howbeit, after I am raised up, I will go before you into Galilee. 29 But Peter said unto him, Although all shall be offended, yet will I not. 30 And Jesus saith unto him, Verily I say unto thee, that thou shalt go hence day even this night, before the cock crow twice, shalt deny me thrice. 31 But he spake exceeding vehemently, If I must die with thee, I will not deny thee. And in like manner also said they all.

32 And they come unto a place which was named Gethsemane: and he saith unto his disciples, Sit ye here, while I pray. 33 And he taketh with him Peter and James and John, and began to be greatly amazed, and sore troubled. 34 And he saith unto them, My soul is exceeding sorrowful even unto death: abide ye here, and watch. 35 And he went forward a little, and fell on his face, and prayed, saying the same words. 36 And again he went away, and prayed, saying the same words. 40 And again he went, and found them sleeping, for their eyes were very heavy; and they wist not what to answer him. 41 And he cometh the third time, and saith unto them. Sleep on now, and take your rest: it is enough; the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. 43 Arie, let us be going: behold, he that betrayeth me is at hand. 44 And straightway, while he yet spake, cometh Judas, one of the twelve, and with him a multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and the scribes and the elders. 45 Now he that betrayed them had given them a token, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that is he; take him, and lead him away safely. 46 And when he was come, straightway he came to him, and saith, Rabbi; and he kissed him. 47 And they laid hands on him, and took him. 48 But a certain one of them that stood by drew his sword, and smote the servant of the high priest, and struck off his ear. 49 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Are ye come out, as against a robber, with swords and staves to seize me? 50 I was daily with you in the temple teaching, and ye took me not: 51 And a certain young man followed with him, having a linen cloth cast about him, over his naked body: and they lay hold on him; 52 but he left the linen cloth, and fled naked.

53 And a certain young man followed with him, having a linen cloth cast about him, over his naked body: and they lay hold on him; 54 And Peter had followed him afar off, even within, into the court of the high priest; and he was sitting with the officers, and warming himself in the light of the fire. 55 Now the chief priests and the whole council sought witness against Jesus to put him to death; and found it not. 56 For many bare false witness against him, and their witness agreed not together. 57 And there stood up certain, and bare false witness against him, saying, 58 We heard him say, I will destroy this temple that is made with hands, and in three days I will build another made without hands. 59 And not even so did their witness agree together. 60 And the high priest stood up in the midst, and asked Jesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these witness against thee? 61 But he held his peace, and answered nothing. 62 Again the high priest asked him, and saith unto him, Art thou the Christ, the Son of the Blessed? 63 And Jesus said, I am: and ye shall see the Son of man sitting at the right hand of power, and coming with the clouds of heaven. 64 And the high priest rent his clothes, and saith, What further need have we of witnesses? 65 Ye have heard the blasphemy: what think ye? And they all condemned him to be worthy of death. 66 And as Peter was beneath in the court, there cometh one of the maids of the high priest; 67 and seeing Peter ranning himself, 68 he denied, saying, I neither know, nor understand. 69 But one of them that stood by drew his sword, and smote the servant of the high priest, and struck off his ear. 70 But Jesus answered and said, 71 But thou art one of them. 72 And straightway the cock crew. And the Lord turned and looked upon Peter, and said unto him, 73 And Peter called to mind the word, how that Jesus said unto him, Before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice. 74 And when he thought thereon, he wept.
4 And Pilate again asked him, saying, \textit{Who is he that is to answer for these things?} Unto this he made no answer again.

5 And Pilate said to the chief priests and to the people, \textit{I find no cause for accusation in this man.}

6 But even as he wished to release him, they cried out again, \textit{Say, \textit{The King of the Jews!}}

7 And Pilate answered them again and again, \textit{I find no cause for fault in this man.}

8 Then with many words he charged him to the chief priests and to the people,

9 And he released Barabbas unto them: and when he had scourged Jesus, he delivered him to be crucified.

10 And the soldiers led him away into the praetorium; and they gathered the whole band together,

11 And they stripped him, and put on him a purple robe,

12 And set a crown of thorns on his head, and thenceforth gave him to drink of sour wine,

13 And they set before him a table, and they put before him the vinegar,

14 Saying, \textit{If thou art the King of the Jews, save thyself.}

15 And many of the people, standing by, spake evil of him, saying, \textit{Thou who destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days, save thyself.}

16 And if so be thou be the Christ, \textit{the Son of God, save thyself.}

17 And the soldiersMocked him, saying, \textit{Thou save others; save thyself.}

18 And an inscription was written over him, \textit{This is the King of the Jews.}

19 And with him were crucified two thieves, one on his right hand, and one on his left.

20 And the people that stood by said, \textit{Surely this man hath done some good.}

21 And they execrated him, saying, \textit{Thou that madest the temple in three days, save thyself.}

22 Or. \textit{Save thyself.}

23 And if thou be the Son of God, why dost thou not save thyself? And the people also derided him.

24 And when it was the third hour, there was darkness over the whole land until the ninth hour.

25 And at the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, \textit{Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani? which is, \textit{My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?}

26 When some of them that stood by, when they saw the light and the darkness, the trembling of the earth, the signs, they said, \textit{Truly this was the Son of God.}

27 And many of the women who had followed Jesus from Galilee, saying, \textit{Who soever might have been his mother, sister, or mother-in-law, his mother's sister, or his mother's sister's daughter, his wife, or his mother's daughter, his sister's daughter, his sister's daughter's daughter, his mother's son, or his mother's son's son, his mother's daughter's son, or his mother's daughter's daughter's son, all these were together at the cross.}

28 And there were also women looking from afar, who had followed him out of Galilee, saying, \textit{When he was in Galilee, he did many signs there, and he healed all that were sick in Galilee.}

29 And many other women which came with him from Galilee, which followed him, were ministering unto him. And among them was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James the less and of Joses, and Salome; and many others, which came with them up to Jerusalem.
women which came up with him unto Jerusalem.

A Luke 2.4.

And when even was now come, because it was the Preparation, that is, the day before the sabbath, there came Joseph of Arimathaea, a councillor of hon-ourable estate, who also himself was looking for the kingdom of God; and he boldly went in unto Pilate, and asked for the body of Jesus. 44 And Pilate marvelled if he were already dead: and calling unto him the centurion, he asked him whether he had been any while dead. 45 And when he learned of the centurion, he granted the corpse to Joseph. 46 And he bought a linen cloth, and taking him down, wound him in the linen cloth, and laid him in a tomb which had been hewn out of a rock; and he rolled a stone against the door of the tomb. 47 And Mary Magdalene and Mary the mother of Joses beheld where he was laid.

16 And when the sabbath was past, Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Salome, bought spices, that they might come and anoint him. 2 And very early on the first day of the week, they came to the tomb. 3 And they believed him not, because they believed not those which had seen him after he was risen. 4 And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature. 5 He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be condemned.

And afterward he was manifested unto the seven disciples, as it was ministered unto them: and they went forth, and preached everywhere, the Lord working among them, and confirming the word by the signsthatfollowed. Amen.

Chapter 1

Forasmuch as many have taken in hand to draw up a narrative concerning those matters which have been fulfilled among us, even as they delivered them unto us, which from the beginning were eye-witnesses and ministers of the word, it seemed good to me also, having traced the course of all things accurately from the first, to write unto thee in order, most excellent Theophilus; that thou mightest know the certainty concerning the things wherein I have instructed.

5 There was in the days of Herod, king of Judea, a certain priest named Zacharias, of the course of Abijah: and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elisabeth. And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless. And they had no child, because that Elisabeth was barren, and they both were now well stricken in years.

8 Now it came to pass, while he executed the priest's office before God in the order of his course, according to the custom of the priest's office, his lot was to enter into the holy temple of the Lord and burn incense. And the whole multitude of the people were praying without at the hour of incense. And there appeared unto him an angel of the Lord standing on the right side of the altar of incense. And he said unto Zacharias, Fear not, Zacharias: for thy supplication is heard, and thy wife Elisabeth shall bear thee a son, and thou shalt call his name John. And thou shalt have joy and gladness; and many shall rejoice at his birth. For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord, and he shall drink no wine nor strong drink; and he shall be filled with the Holy Ghost, even from his mother's womb. And many of the children of Israel shall he turn unto the Lord their God.

17 And he shall go before the face of the Lord to prepare his ways; to turn the heart of the fathers to children, and the disobedient to walk in the wisdom of the just; to make ready for the Lord a people prepared for him.

18 And Zacharias said unto the angel, Whereby shall I know this? for I am an old man, and my wife well stricken in years.

19 And the angel answered and said unto him, I am Gabriel, that standeth in the Presence of God; and I was sent to speak unto thee, and to make thee these good tidings. 20 And behold, thou shalt be dumb, and not able to speak, until the day that these things shall come to pass, because thou believest not my words, which shall be fulfilled in their season.

21 And the people were waiting for Zacharias, and they marvelled while he tarried in the temple, and they marvelled 10 while he tarried in the temple. 22 And when he came out, he could not speak unto them; and they perceived that he had seen a vision in the temple: and he continued making signs unto them, and remained dumb. 23 And it came to pass, when the days of his ministration were fulfilled, he departed unto his house.

24 And after these days Elisabeth his wife conceived; and she hid herself five months, saying, Thus hath the Lord done unto me in the days wherein he looked upon me, and in the eyes of all the people. 25 And unto Zacharias were given the words spoken in his mouth, and the hands which he held fast, that he could not speak, until the day that these things were fulfilled.
S. LUKE.

[CHAP. I. v. 25.]

"And Mary spake all this, being with child of Jesus."

26 And in the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth, 27 to a virgin betrothed to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David; and the virgin's name was Mary. 28 And when she heard these things, she spake with the angel which stood over against her, and said, 29 How is it that I should hear these things? for I have not known a man. 30 And the angel answered and said unto her, The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Most High shall overshadow thee: wherefore also that which is born shall be called holy, the Son of God. 31 And behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and shalt call his name JESUS. 32 He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the Most High: and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David: 33 and he shall reign over the house of Jacob for ever; and of his kingdom there shall be no end. 34 And Mary said unto the angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not a man? 35 And the angel answered and said unto her, The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Most High shall overshadow thee: wherefore also that which is born shall be called holy, the Son of God. 36 And behold, Elisabeth thy kinswoman, she also hath conceived a son in her old age: and this is the sixth month with her that was barren. 37 For there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved. 38 And Mary said, Behold, the handmaid of the Lord; be it unto me according to thy word. And the angel departed from her.

39 And Mary arose in those days, and went into the hill country with haste, into a city of Judah; 40 and entered into the house of Zacharias, and saluted Elisabeth. 41 And it came to pass, when Elisabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the babe leaped in her womb; and Elisabeth was filled with the Holy Ghost; 42 and she lifted up her voice with a loud cry, and said, "Blessed art thou among women, and blessed is the fruit of thy womb. 43 And whence is this to me, that the mother of my Lord should come unto me? 44 For behold, when the voice of thy salutation came into mine ears, the babe leaped in my womb for joy. 45 And blessed is she that believed: for there shall be a fulness of the things which have been spoken to her from the Lord. 46 And Mary said, "My soul doth magnify the Lord." 47 And my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour. 48 For he hath looked upon the low estate of his handmaiden: For behold, from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed. 49 For he that is mighty hath done to me great things; and holy is his name. 50 And his mercy is unto generations and generations. 51 He hath shewed strength with his arm; and scattered the proud in the imaginations of their hearts. 52 He hath put down princes from their thrones, and exalted them of low degree. 53 The hungry he hath filled with good things; and the rich he hath sent empty away. 54 He hath holpen Israel his servant, That he might remember mercy 55 (As he spake unto our fathers) Toward Abraham and his seed for ever. 56 And Mary abode with her about three months, and returned unto her house. 57 Now Elisabeth's time was fulfilled that she should be delivered: and she brought forth a son. 58 And her neighbours and her kinsfolk heard that the Lord had magnified his mercy towards her; and they rejoiced with her. 59 And it came to pass on the eighth day, that they came to circumcise the child: and they would have called him ZACHARIAS. 60 But his mother answered and said, "Not so; but he shall be called by the name which the Lord shall set upon him." 61 And they called him Zacharias. 62 And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, and was in the desert until the day of his manifestation to Israel."
Zacharias, after the name of his father. 66 And his mother answered and said, Not so: but he shall be called John. 67 And they said unto her, There is none of thy kindred that is called by this name. 68 And they made signs to his father, what he would have him called. 69 And he asked for a writing tablet, and wrote, saying, "His name is John. 66 And "fear came on all that dwelt round about them: and all these sayings were noised abroad throughout all the hill country of Judea. 70 And all that heard them laid them up in their heart, saying, What then shall this child be? For "the hand of the Lord was with him.

67 And his father Zacharias was filled with the Holy Ghost, and "prophesied, saying, 68 "Blessed be the Lord, "the God of Israel; For he hath "visited and wrought "redemption for his people, 69 And "hath raised up a horn of salvation for us 70 In the house of his servant David. 71 ("As he spake by the mouth of his holy prophets which have been since the world began), 72 "Salvation from our enemies, and from the hand of all that hate us;

"To shew mercy towards our fathers, 74 "And to remember his holy covenant: 75 "The oath which he sware unto Abraham our father, 76 To grant unto us, that we being delivered out of the hand of our enemies 77 Should serve him "without fear, 78 "In holiness and righteousness before him "all our days. 79 Yea and thou, child, shalt be called "the prophet of the Most High:

For "thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his ways; 77 To give knowledge of salvation unto his people 78 In the remission of their sins, 79 Because of the "tender mercy of our God,' 80 "Whereby the dayspring from on high shall visit us, 81 "To shine upon "them that sit in darkness and the shadow of death; 82 To guide our feet into the way of peace.

80 "And the child grew, and waxed "strong in spirit, and was "in the deserts till the day of his shewing unto Israel.

1 Now it came to pass in those days, there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be enrolled.

2 This was the first "enrolment made when Quirinius was governor of Syria. 3 And all went to enrol themselves, every one to his own city. 4 And Joseph also went up "from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, to "the city of David, which is called "Bethlehem, "because he was of the house and family of David; 5 to enrol himself with Mary, who was betrothed to him, being great with child. 6 And it came to pass, "while they were there, the days were fulfilled that she should be delivered.

7 And she brought forth her first-born son; and she "wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and "laid him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn.

8 And there were shepherds in the same country abiding in the field, and keeping "watch by night over their flock. 9 And an angel of the Lord "stood before them, and "the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid. 10 And the angel said unto them, Be not afraid; for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all the people: 11 For "there is born to you this day in "the city of David "a Saviour, which is "Christ the Lord. 12 And "this is the sign unto you: Ye shall find a babe "wrapped in swaddling clothes, and lying in a manger.

13 And suddenly there was with the angel "a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, 14 "Glory to God "in the highest,
And on earth peace among men in whom he is well pleased.

And it came to pass, when the angels went away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing that is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us. And they came with haste, and found both Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in the manger. And when they saw it, they made known concerning the saying which was spoken to them about this child. And all that heard it wondered at the things which were spoken to them. But Mary kept all these sayings, pondering them in her heart. And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, even as it was spoken unto them.

And when eight days were fulfilled for circumcision, his name was called Jesus, which was so called by the angel before he was conceived in the womb.

And when the days of their purification according to the law of Moses were fulfilled, they brought him up to Jerusalem, to present him to the Lord, as it is written in the law of the Lord, Every male that openeth the womb shall be called holy to the Lord, and to offer a sacrifice according to that which is said in the law of the Lord, A pair of turtledoves, or two young pigeons. And behold, there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon; and this man was righteous and devout, looking for the consolation of Israel: and the Holy Spirit was upon him. And it had been revealed unto him by the Holy Spirit, that he should not see death, before he had seen the Lord's Christ. And he came in the Spirit into the temple: and when the parents brought in the child Jesus, that they might do concerning him after the custom of the law, 28then he received him into his arms, and blessed God, and said, Now Jezes the Lord's servant, depart.

According to thy word, in peace;

For mine eyes have seen thy salvation;

Which thou hast prepared before the face of all peoples;

A light for revelation to the Gentiles,

And the glory of thy people Israel.

And his father and his mother were marveling at the things which were spoken concerning him; and said unto Mary his mother, Behold, this child is set for the falling and rising up of many in Israel; and for a sign which is spoken against; 35 and a sword shall pierce through thine own soul; that thoughts out of many hearts may be revealed. 36 And there was one Anna, a prophetess, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Asher (she was of a great age, having lived with a husband seven years from her virginity, and had been a widow even for fourscore and four years), which departed not from the temple, worshipping with fastings and supplications night and day. 38 And coming up at that very hour she gave thanks unto God, and spake of him to all them that were looking for the redemption of Jerusalem. 39 And when they had accomplished all things that were according to the law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their own city Nazareth.

And the child grew, and waxed strong, filled with wisdom: and the grace of God was upon him.

And his parents went every year to Jerusalem at the feast of the passover. 42 And when he was twelve years old, they went up after the custom of the feast; 43 and when they had fulfilled the days, as they were returning, the boy Jesus tarried behind in Jerusalem; and his parents knew it not; but supposing him to be in the company, they went a day's journey; and they sought for him among their kinsfolk and acquaintance: 45 and when they found him not, they returned to Jerusalem, seeking for him. 46 And

Many ancient authorities read peace; good pleasure among men. 2 Gr. men of good pleasure. 3 Gr. saying. 4 Or. things. 5 Gr. bondservant. 6 Gr. Master. 7 Gr. the unscripting of the Gentiles. 8 Gr. advanced in many days. 9 Gr. becoming full of wisdom.
it came to pass, after three days they found him in the temple,坐着 in the midst of they doctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions: and all that heard him were amazed at his understanding and his answers. And when they saw him, they were astonished: and his mother said unto him, Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? behold, thy father and I sought thee mourning. And he said unto them, How is it that ye sought me? wist ye not that I must be in my Father's house? And they understood not the saying which he spake unto them. And he went down with them, and came to Nazareth; and he was subject unto them: and his mother kept all these sayings in her heart.

And Jesus advanced in wisdom and stature, and in favour with God and men.

Now in the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Caesar, Pontius Pilate being governor of Judea, and Herod being tetrarch of Galilee, and his brother Philip tetrarch of Iturea and Trachonitis, and Lysanias tetrarch of Abilene, 2 in the high-priesthood of Annas and Caiaphas, 3 the word of God came unto John the son of Zacharias in the wilderness. And he came into all the region round about Jordan, preaching 4 the baptism of repentance unto remission of sins; 5 as it is written in the book of the prophecy of Isaiah, the voice of one crying in the wilderness, Make ye ready the way of the Lord, Make his paths straight. 6 Every valley shall be filled; and every mountain and hill shall be brought low; 7 And the crooked shall become straight, And the rough ways smooth; 8 All flesh shall see the salvation of God.

He said therefore to the multitudes that went out to be baptized of him, 9 Ye offspring of vipers, who warned you to flee from the wrath to come? 8 Bring forth therefore fruits worthy of repentance, and begin not to say within yourselves, I have Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, that God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham. 9 And even now is the axe also laid unto the root of the trees: therefore that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire. 10 And the multitudes asked him, saying, 4 What then must we do? 11 And he answered and said unto them, 4 He that hath two coats, let him impart to him that hath none; and he that hath food, let him do likewise. 12 And 4 there came also 5 publicans to be baptized, and they said unto him, 4 Master, 4 what must we do? 13 And he said unto them, 4 Extort no more than that which is appointed you. 14 And 4 soldiers also asked him, saying, And we, 4 what must we do? 15 And he answered and said unto them, 4 Tax and extortion no more than that which is appointed you. 16 And he said unto them, 4 Extort no more than that which is appointed you. 17 And he said unto them, 4 Extort no more than that which is appointed you. 18 And they said unto him, 4 Master, 4 what must we do? 19 And he said unto them, 4 Do violence to no man, neither 11 extact anything wrongfully; and be content with your wages.

15 And as the people were in expectation, and all men reasoned in their hearts concerning John, 4 whether haply he were 4 the Christ; 16 4 John answered, saying unto them all, I indeed baptize you with water; but 4 there cometh he that is mightier than I, 4 the latchet of whose shoes I am not 4 worthy to unloose: he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost and with fire: 17 whose f fan is in his hand, throughly to cleanse his threshing-floor, and to 4 gather the wheat into his garner; 4 but the chaff he will burn up with 4 unquenchable fire.

18 With many other exhortations therefore preached he good tidings unto the people; 19 but 4 Herod the tetrarch, being reproved by him for Herodias his brother's wife, and for all the evil things which Herod had done, 20 added yet this above all, that 4 he shut up John in prison.

21 Now it came to pass, when all the people were baptized, that 4 Jesus also having been baptized, and praying, the heaven was opened, and 4 the Holy Ghost descended in a bodily form, as a dove, upon him, and 4 a voice came out of heaven, 4 Thou art my beloved Son; in thee I am well pleased.
23 And Jesus himself, when he began to teach, was about thirty years of age, being the son (as was supposed) of Joseph, the son of Heli, 24 the son of Matthath, the son of Levi, the son of Melchi, the son of Jannat, the son of Joseph, 25 the son of Mattathias, the son of Amos, the son of Nahum, the son of Esai, the son of Naggai, 26 the son of Maath, the son of Mattathias, the son of Semel, the son of Josech, the son of Joda, 27 the son of Joanan, the son of Rhesa, the son of Zerubbabel, the son of Neri, 28 the son of the Melchi, the son of Addi, the son of Cosam, the son of Elamdis, the son of Er, 29 the son of Jesus, the son of Elizeer, the son of Jorim, the son of Matthath, the son of Levi, 30 the son of Symeon, the son of Judas, the son of Joseph, the son of Jonam, the son of Eleakim, 31 the son of Melea, the son of Menan, the son of Mattathias, the son of Nathan, the son of David, 32 the son of Jesse, the son of Obed, the son of Boaz, the son of Salmon, 33 the son of Nahshon, the son of Menja, the son of Mattathias, the son of Hezron, the son of Perez, 34 the son of Periz, the son of Judah, 35 the son of Nohah, the son of Serug, the son of Reu, the son of Peleg, the son of Eber, the son of Shelah, 36 the son of Cainan, the son of Arphaxad, the son of Shem, the son of Noah, the son of Lamech, 37 the son of Methuselah, the son of Enoch, the son of Jared, the son of Mahalalel, 38 the son of Cainan, 39 the son of Enoas, the son of Seth, the son of Adam, the son of God.

4 And Jesus, full of the Holy Spirit, returned from the Jordan, and was led by the Spirit in the wilderness for forty days, being tempted of the devil. And he did eat nothing in those days; and when they were completed, he hungered. 3 And the devil said unto him, If thou art the Son of God, command this stone to become bread. 4 And Jesus answered unto him, "It is written, 'Man shall not live by bread alone,' 5 but thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and 'him only thou shalt serve.'" 6 And he led him up on a high mountain, and showed him all the kingdoms of the world in a moment of time. 7 And the devil said unto him, To thee will I give all this authority, and the glory of them; for it hath been delivered unto me; and to whomsoever I will I give it. 8 If thou therefore wilt worship before me, it shall all be thine. 9 And Jesus answered and said unto him, "It is written, 'Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and 'him only shalt thou serve.'” 10 And he led him to Jerusalem, and set him on the pinnacle of the temple, and said unto him, If thou art 'the Son of God, cast thyself down from hence: 10 for it is written, 11 "He shall give his angels charge concerning thee, to guard thee: 12 and, 13 "On their hands they shall bear thee up, 14 Lest haply thou dash thy foot against a stone."

12 And Jesus answering said unto him, "Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God."

13 And when the devil had completed every temptation, he departed from him for a season.

14 And Jesus returned in the power of the Spirit into Galilee: and a fame went out concerning him through all the region round about. 15 And 16 he taught in their synagogues, being glorified of all.

16 And he came to Nazareth, where he had been brought up: and he entered, "as his custom was, into the synagogue on the sabbath day, and stood up 17 to read. 18 And there was delivered unto him the book of the prophet Isaiah. And he opened the 19 book, and found the place where it was written, 20 "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, 21 Because he anointed me to "preach good tidings to the poor; 22 He hath sent me to proclaim release to the captives, And "recovering of sight to the blind, 23 To set at liberty them that are bruised, 19 "To proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord.

20 And he closed the book, and gave it back to the attendant, and sat down: and the eyes of all in the synagogue were fastened on him. 21 And he began to say unto them, To-day is this scripture been fulfilled in your ears. 22 And all bare him witness, and wondered at the words of grace which proceeded out of his mouth; and they said, "Is not this Joseph's son? 23 And he said unto them, Doubtless ye will say unto me this parable, 'Physician, heal thyself: whatsoever we have heard done at Capernaum, do also here in thine own country.' 24 And he said, Verily I say unto you, "No prophet is acceptable in his own country. 25 But all the prophets, save Jereimiah, were done in Jerusaleem. 26 For as touching Jereimiah, he saith of himself, "I was cast out of my people, and spurned of my brethren and kinsfolks." 27 And they rose up, and cast him out of the city, and led him by the head to the brow of the hill whereon the city was built, that they might throw him down headlong. 28 But he passing through the midst of them went his way.

29 And they rose up, and cast him out of the city, and led him by the head to the brow of the hill whereon the city was built, that they might throw him down headlong. 30 But he passing through the midst of them went his way.

31 And he came down to Capernaum, a city of Galilee. And he was teaching them on the sabbath day: 32 and they were astonished at his teaching: for his word was with authority. 33 And in the synagogue there was a man, which had a spirit of an unclean devil; and he cried out with a loud voice, 34 "Ah! what have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? 35 I know thee who thou art, the Holy One of God. 36 And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the devil had thrown him down in the midst, he came out of him, having done him no hurt. 37 And "amazement came upon all, and they spake together, one another, saying, What is this word? for with authority and power he commandeth the unclean spirits, and they come out. 38 And "there went forth a rumour concerning him into every place of the region round about.

39 And he rose up from the synagogue, and entered into the house of Simon. And 'Simon's mother was holden with a great fever; and they besought him for her. 40 And he stood over her, and rebuked the fever; and it left her: and immediately she rose up and ministered unto them. 41 And when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him; and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them. 42 And devils also came out from many, crying out, and saying, Thou art the Son of God. And rebuking them, he suffered them not to speak, because they knew that he was the Christ.

43 And when it was day, he came out and went into a desert place: and the multitude sought after him, and came unto him, and would have stayed him, that he should not go from them. 44 But he said unto them, 45 I must feed the multitude of the kingdom of God to the other cities also: for therefore was I sent.

46 And he was preaching in the synagogues of Galilee.

1 Now it came to pass, while the multitude pressed upon him and heard the word of God, that he was standing by the lake of Gennesaret; 2 and he saw two boats standing by the lake: but the fishermen had gone out of them, and were washing their nets. 3 And he entered into one of the boats, which was Simon's, and asked him to put out a little from the land. 4 And he sat down and taught the multitudes out of the boat. 5 And when he had left speaking, he said unto Simon, 'Put out into the deep, and let down your nets for a draught. 5 And Simon answered and said, Master, *we toiled all night, and took nothing: but at thy word I will let down the nets. 6 And when they had done this, they enclosed a great multitude of fishes; and *their nets were breaking; 7 and they beckoned unto *their partners in the other boat, that they should come and help them. And they came, and filled both the boats, so that they began to sink. 8 But Simon Peter, when he saw it, fell down at Jesus' knees, saying, *Depart from me; for I am a sinful man, O Lord. 9 For he was amazed, and all that were with him, at the draught of the fishes which they had taken; 10 and so were also James and John, sons of Zebedee, which were partners with Simon. And Jesus said unto Simon, Fear not; from henceforth thou shalt catch men. 11 And when they had brought their boats to land, *they left them, and followed him. 12 And it came to pass, while he was in one of the cities; 'behold, a man full of leprosy: and when he saw Jesus, he *fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. 13 And he stretched forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will; be thou made clean. And straightway the leprosy departed from him. 14 And he charged him to tell no man: but go thy way, and shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, according as Moses commanded, *for a testimony unto them. 15 But so much the more went abroad the report concerning him: and great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed of their infirmities. 16 But *he withdrew himself in the deserts, and *prayed. 17 And it came to pass on one of those days, that he was teaching; and there were Pharisees and *doctors of the law sitting by, which were come out of every village of Galilee and Judea and Jerusalem: and *the power of the Lord was with him *to heal. 18 *And behold, men bring *on a bed a man that was palsied: and they sought to bring him in, and to lay before him. 19 And not finding by what way they might bring him in because of the multitude, they went up to the house-top, and let him down *through the tiles with his couch into the midst before Jesus. 20 And *seeing their faith, he said, Man, *thy sins are forgiven thee. 21 And the scribes and the Pharisees began to reason, saying, Who is this that speaketh blasphemies? 1Who can forgive sins, but God alone? 22 But Jesus was *perceiving their reasonings, answered and said unto them, *What reason ye in your hearts? 23 Whether is easier, to say, Thy sins are forgiven thee; or to say, Arise and walk? 24 But that ye may know that *the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins (he said unto him that was palsied), I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy couch, and go unto thy house. 25 And immediately he rose up before them, and took up that whereon he lay, and departed to his house, glorifying God. 26 And amazement took hold on all, and they glorified God; and they were filled with fear, saying, We have seen strange things to-day. 27 *And after these things he went forth, and beheld a publican, named Levi, sitting at the place of toll, and said unto him, Follow me. 28 And he forsook all, and rose up and followed him. 29 And Levi made him a great feast in his house: and there was a great multitude of publicans and of others that were sitting at meat with them. 30 And *the Pharisees and *their scribes murmured against his disciples, saying, *Why do ye eat and drink with the publicans and sinners? 31 And Jesus answering said unto them, They that are whole have no need of a physician; but they that are sick. 32 *I am not come to call the righteous but sinners to repentance: 33 And they said unto him, *The disciples of John *fast often, and *make supplications; 34 likewise also the disciples of the Pharisees; but thine eat and drink. 35 And Jesus said unto them, *Can ye make the sons of the bride-chamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them? 36 But *the days will come, when the bridegroom.
shall be taken away from them, that then will they fast in those days.
36 And he spake also a parable unto them; No man rendeth a piece from a new garment and putteth it upon an old garment; else he will rend the new, and also the piece from the new will not agree with the old. 37 And no man putteth new wine into old wine-skins; else the new wine will burst the skins, and itself will be spilled, and the skins will perish. 38 But new wine must be put into fresh wine-skins. 39 And no man having drunk old wine desireth new; for he saith, The old is good.

6 Now it came to pass on a sabbath, that he was going through the cornfields; and his disciples* plucked the ears of corn, and did eat, rubbing them in their hands. 2 But certain of the Pharisees said,'Why do ye that which is not lawful to do on the sabbath day? 3 And Jesus answering them said, Have ye not read eventhis,'what Daviddid, when he was an hungred, he, and they that were with him; 4 how he entered into the house of God, and did take and eat■ the shewbread, and gave also to them that were with him; 5 which it is not lawful to eat save for the priests alone? 6 And he said unto them, The Son of man is lord of the sabbath.

And it came to pass on another sabbath, that he entered into the synagogue* and taught: and there was a man there, and his right hand was withered. 2 And the scribes and the Pharisees watched him, whether he would heal on the sabbath; that they might find how to accuse him. 3 But he knew their thoughts; and he said to the man that had his hand withered, Rise up, and stand forth in the midst. And he arose and stood forth. 4 And Jesus said unto them, I ask you,'Is it lawful on the sabbath to do good, or to do harm? to save a life, or to destroy it? 5 And he looked round about on them all, and said unto them, Stretch forth thy hand. And he did so: and his hand was restored. 11 But they were filled with envy; and communed one with another what they might do to Jesus.

12 And it came to pass in these days, that he went out into the mountain to pray; and he continued all night in prayer to God. 13 And when it was day, he called his disciples: * and he chose from them twelve, whom also he named apostles: 14 Simon, whom he also named Peter, and Andrew his brother, and James and John, and Philip and Bartholomew, 15 and Matthew and Thomas, and James the son of Alpheus, and Simon which was called the Zealot, 16 and Judas the son of James, and Judas Iscariot, which was the traitor; 17 and he came down with them, and stood on a level place, and a great multitude of his disciples, and a great number of the people from all Judea and Jerusalem, and the sea coast of Tyre and Sidon, which came to hear him, and to be healed of their diseases; 18 and troubled with unclean spirits were healed. 19 And all the multitude* sought to touch him: for 20 power came forth from him, and healed them all.

20 And he lifted up his eyes on his disciples, and said, Blessed are the poor: for yours is the kingdom of God. 21 'Blessed are ye that hunger now : for ye shall be filled. 22 Blessed are ye, when men shall hate you, and when they shall separate you from their company, and reproach you, and cast out your name as evil, for the Son of man's sake. 23 And *he said, blessed are ye that weep now: for ye shall laugh. 24 Blessed are ye, when men shall speak evil against you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my name's sake. 25 And 26 But woe unto you, who are rich! for ye have received your consolation. 27 Woe unto you, ye that are full now! for ye shall hunger. 28 Woe unto you, ye that laugh now! for ye shall mourn and weep. 29 Woe unto you, when all men shall speak well of you! for so did their fathers unto the false prophets.

27 But I say unto you which hear, 1 Love your enemies, 2 do good to them that hate you, 3 4 bless them.
that curse you, pray for them that despitefully use you. 29 For to him that smiteth thee on the cheek offer also the other; and from him that taketh away thy cloak withold not thy coat also. 30 *Give to every one that asketh thee; and of him that taketh away thy goods ask them not again. 31 And *as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise. 32 And if ye love them that love you, what thanked have ye? for even sinners love those that love them. 33 And if ye do good to them that do good to you, what thank have ye? for even sinners do the same. 34 And if ye love your enemies, and do them good, and lend, never *despairing; and your reward shall be great, and *ye shall be sons of *the Most High: for *he is kind toward the unthankful and evil. 35 Be *merciful even as your Father is merciful. 36 And *judge not, and ye shall not be judged: and condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned: *release, ye shall be released: *give, and ye shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, shaken to together, running over, shall they give *into your bosom. For *with what measure ye mete it shall be measured to you again.

39 And he spake also a parable unto them, *Can the blind guide the blind? shall they not both fall into a pit? 40 *The disciple is not above his *master: but every one when he is *perfected shall be as his *master. 41 *And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but *considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye?
42 Or how canst thou say to thy brother, Brother, let me cast out the mote that is in thine eye, when thou thyself beholdest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Thou hypocrite, cast out first the beam out of thine own eye, and then shall thou see clearly to cast out the mote that is in thy brother's eye. 43 For *there is no good tree that bringeth forth corrupt fruit; nor again a corrupt tree that bringeth forth good fruit. 44 For *each tree is known by its own fruit.

For of thorns men do not gather figs, nor of a bramble bush gather they grapes. 45 The good man out of the good treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is good; and the evil man out of the evil treasure bringeth forth *that which is evil: *for out of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaketh.

46 And *why *call ye me, Lord,
Lord, and do not the things which I say? 47 *Every one that cometh unto me, and heareth my words, and doeth them, I will shew you unto him whom he is like: 48 he is like a man building a house, who digging and went deep, and laid a foundation upon the rock: and when a flood arose, the stream brake against that house, and could not shake it:
because it had been well builted.

49 But he that heareth, and doeth not, is like a man that built a house upon the earth without a foundation; against which the stream brace, and straightway it fell in;
and the ruin of that house was great.

7 1 After he had ended all his sayings in the ears of the people, he entered into Capernaum.

2 And a certain centurion's *servant, who was *dear unto him, was sick and at the point of death.
3 And when he heard concerning Jesus, *he sent unto him elders of the Jews, asking him that he would come and save his *servant. 4 And they, when they came to Jesus, be-told him that a centurion had sent to him, saying, Lord, I am not worthy that thou shouldest enter unto me: but only say the word, and *my *servant shall be healed.
5 And Jesus went with them into the house of the centurion.

6 And when he saw the faith of the centurion, *Be it known unto you, that there shall be none faith in Israel, but among the Gentiles, yea, *among the house of Israel. 7 And those that were sent to Jesus returned, and told him of their manner of doing. 8 And Jesus said, *When the Son of man came into the world, he came to save that which was lost.

9 And they came to him, *calling unto him. And he said unto them,
*Every one that hath received un-receiving. 10 For he that is not against us is with us: and *he that is not with us is against us.

11 Now he sat on the mount of olives, and the pupils of the eye of his disciples were pained. 12 And he said unto them, *Ye shall suffer much reproach and rejection, and injuries: *be yoked, and bear up under great humiliation.

13 And ye shall deliver your to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it. And when Jesus heard these things, he marvelled at him, and turned and said unto the multitude that followed him, I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel. And they that were sent, returning to the house, found the servant whole.

And it came to pass, as soon afterwards, that he went to a city called Nain; and his disciples went with him, and a great multitude. Now when he drew near to the gate of the city, behold, there was carried out one that was dead, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow: and much people of the city was with her. And when the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her, and said unto her, Weep not. And he came nigh and touched the bier: and the bearers stood still. And he said, Young man, Arise. And he that was dead sat up, and began to speak. And he gave him to his mother. And fear took hold on all: and they glorified God, saying, A great prophet is arisen among us; and God hath visited his people. And this report went forth concerning him in the whole region round about.

And the disciples of John told him of all these things. And John calling unto him two of his disciples sent them to the Lord, saying, Art thou he that cometh, or look we for another? And when the men were come unto him, they said, John the Baptist hath sent us unto thee, saying, Art thou he that cometh, or look we for another? In that hour he cured many of diseases and plagues and evil spirits; and on many that were blind he bestowed sight. And he answered and said unto them, Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard; the blind receive their sight, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, the poor have good tidings preached to them. And blessed is he, whosoever shall find none occasion of stumbling in me.

And when the messengers of John were departed, he began to say unto the multitude concerning John, What went ye out into the wilderness to behold? a reed shaken with the wind? But what went ye out to see? a prophet? Yes, I say unto you, and much more than a prophet. This is he of whom it is written, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, Who shall prepare thy way before thee.

I say unto you, Among them that are born of women there is none greater than John: yet he that is but little in the kingdom of God is greater than John. And all the people when they heard, and the publicans, justified God, being baptized with the baptism of John. But the Pharisees and the lawyers rejected themselves of the counsel of God, being not baptized of him. Whereunto then shall I liken the men of this generation, and to what are they like? They are like unto children that sit in the marketplace, and call one to another; which say, We piped unto you, and ye did not dance; we wept, and ye did not weep. For John the Baptist is come eating no bread nor drinking wine: and ye say, He hath a devil. The Son of man is come eating and drinking: and ye say, Behold, a gluttonous man, and a winebibber; a friend of publicans and sinners! And wisdom is justified of all her children.

And one of the Pharisees desired him that he would eat with him. And he entered into the Pharisee's house, and sat down to meat. And behold, a woman which was in the city, a sinner; and when she knew that he was sitting at meat in the Pharisee's house, she brought an alabaster cruse of ointment, and stood behind at his feet, weeping; she began to wet his feet with her tears, and wiped them.
and with the hair of her head, and he kissed his feet, and anointed him with the ointment. Now when the Pharisee which had bidden him saw it, he spake within himself, saying, This man, if he were a prophet, would have perceived who and what manner of woman this is which toucheth him, that she is a sinner. And Jesus answering said unto him, Simon, I have somewhat to say unto thee. And he saith, Master, say on. A certain lender had two debtors: the one owed fifty pence, and the other fifty. When they had not with whom to pay, he forgave them both. Which of them therefore will love him most? Simon answered and said, He, because he of whom he forgave most. And he said unto him, Thou hast right judgment. And turning to the woman, he said unto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entered into thine house, thou gavest me no kiss: but she, when I came in, my feet, wiped them with her hair. Thou gavest me no water for my feet; but she, since the time I came in, wetted them with her tears, and wiped them with her hair. My head with oil thou didst not anoint: but she, since the time I came in, hath not ceased to kiss my feet.

And when a great multitude came together, and they of every city resorted unto him, he spake by a parable: The sower went forth to sow his seed: and as he sowed, some fell by the way side; and it was trodden under foot, and the birds of the heaven devoured it. And other fell on stony places, who when they had received the word, received it with joy; and these had no root, which for a while believed, and in time of temptation fell away. And other fell among the thorns; and these were they which grew up and were choked; and these had no fruit. And other fell on good ground; and these were they which, when they had heard the word, received it, and brought forth fruit, a hundred fold. As he said these things, he cried, He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.
be taken away even that which he 1 thinketh he hath. 19 And there came to him his mother and 2 brethren, and they could not come at him for the crowd. 20 And it was told him, Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to see thee. 21 But he answered and said unto them, My mother and my brethren are these which hear the word of God, and do it.

22 Now it came to pass on one of those days, that he entered into a boat, himself and his disciples; and he said unto them, Let us go over unto the other side of the lake; and they launched forth. 23 But as they sailed he fell asleep: and there came down a storm of wind on the lake; and they were filling with water, and were in jeopardy. 24 And they came to him, and awoke him, saying, Master, master, we perish. And he rebuked the wind and the raging of the water: and they ceased, and there was a calm.

25 And he said unto them, Where is your faith? And being afraid they sailed he fell asleep: and there came down a storm of wind on the lake; and they were filling with water, and were in jeopardy. 24 And they came to him, and awoke him, saying, Master, master, we perish. And he rebuked the wind and the raging of the water: and they ceased, and there was a calm.

26 And they arrived at the country of the 2 Gerasenes, which is over against Galilee. 27 And when he was come forth upon the land, there met him a certain man out of the city, who had 3 devils; and for a long time he had worn no clothes, and was in Jeopardy. 28 And they came to him, and awoke him, saying, Master, master, we perish. And he rebuked the wind and the raging of the water: and they ceased, and there was a calm.

29 Then came he unto the other side of the lake, and they came to Jesus, and asked him to depart from them; for they were holden with great fear: and he entered into a boat, and returned. 30 But the man from whom the 3 devils were gone out, sat down before him, and 4 with a loud voice said, What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of the Most High God? I beseech thee, torment me not. 29 For he commanded the unclean spirit to come out from the man. For oftentimes it had seized him: and he was kept under guard, and bound with chains and fetters; and breaking the bands asunder, he was driven of the 4 devil into the deserts. 30 And Jesus asked him, What is thy name? And he said, Legion; for many 3 devils were entered into him. 31 And they intreated him that he would not command them to depart into the abyss. 32 Now there was there a herd of many swine feeding on the mountain: and they intreated him that he would give them leave to enter into them. And he gave them leave. 33 And the 3 devils came out from the man, and entered into the swine: and the herd rushed down the steep into the lake, and were choked.

34 And when they that fed them saw what had come to pass, they fled, and told it in the city and in the country. 35 And they went out to see what was come to pass; and they came to Jesus, and found the man, from whom the 3 devils were gone out, sitting, clothed and in his right mind, 5 at the feet of Jesus: and they were afraid. 36 And they that saw it told them how he that was possessed with 3 devils was made whole. 37 And all the people of the country of the Gerasenes round about asked him to depart from them; for they were holden with great fear: and he entered into a boat, and returned. 38 But the man from whom the 3 devils were gone out prayed him that he might be with him: but he sent him away, saying, Return to thy house, and 6 declare how great things God hath done for thee. And he went his way, publishing throughout the whole city how great things Jesus had done for him.

40 And as Jesus returned, the multitude welcomed him; for they were all waiting for him. 41 And behold, there came a man named Jairus, and he was 4 a ruler of the synagogue: and he fell down at Jesus' feet, and besought him to come into his house; 42 for he had an only daughter, about twelve years of age, and she lay a dying. But as he went the multitudes thronged him.

43 And a woman 7 having an issue of blood twelve years, which had spent all her 8 living upon physicians, and could not be healed of any, 4 came behind him, and touched the border of his garment: and 9 immediately the issue of her blood stanched. 44 And Jesus said, Who is it that touched me? And when all denied, Peter said, and they that were with him. Master, the multitudes press thee and crush thee. 46 But Jesus said, Some one did touch me: for I perceived that a power had gone forth from me. 47 And when the woman saw that she was not hid, she came trembling, and falling down before him declared in the presence of all the people for what cause she touched him, and how she was healed immediately. 48 And he said unto her, Daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole; go in peace.

49 While he yet spake, there cometh one from the ruler of the synagogue's house, saying, Thy daughter is dead; 50 but Jesus hearing it, answered him, Fear not: only believe, and she shall be made whole. 51 And when he came to the house, he suffered not any man to enter in with him, save Peter, and James, and John, and the father of the maiden and her mother. 52 And all were weeping, and bewailing her: but he said, Weep not; for she is not dead, but sleepeth. 53 And they laughed him to scorn, knowing that she was dead. 54 But he took them, and withdrew apart, to a city called Bethsaida. 55 And when he came to the house, he suffered not any man to enter in with him, save Peter, and James, and John, and the father of the maid, and her mother. 56 And he took her by the hand, called, saying, Maiden, arise. 57 And her spirit returned, and she rose up immediately: and he commanded that something be given her to eat. 58 And her parents were amazed: but he charged them to tell no man what had been done.

9 And he called the twelve together, and gave them power and authority over all devils, and to cure diseases. 2 And he sent them forth to preach the kingdom of God, and to heal the sick. 3 And he said unto them, Take nothing for your journey, neither staff, nor basket, nor bread, nor money; neither have two coats. 4 And into whatsoever house ye enter, there abide, and thence depart. 5 And as many as receive you not, when ye depart from that city, shake off the dust of your feet from it for a testimony against them. 6 And they departed, and went throughout the villages, preaching the gospel, and healing everywhere. 7 And he charged them, and committed unto them all that he had commanded them; 8 and they went forth, and preached every where, healing everywhere. 9 And Herod the tetrarch heard of all that was done; and he was very much perplexed, because that it was said by some, that John was risen from the dead; 10 and by some, that Elijah had appeared; and by others, that one of the old prophets was risen again. 11 And Herod said, John I beheaded: but who is this, about whom I hear such things? And he sought to see him. 12 And the apostles, when they were returned, declared unto him what things they had done. 13 And he took them, and withdrew apart to a city called Bethsaida. 14 But the multitudes perceiving it followed him: and he welcomed them, and spake to them of the kingdom of God, and them that had need of healing he healed. 15 And the day began to wear away; and the twelve came, and said unto him. Send the multitude away; that they may go into the villages and country round about, and lodge, and get victuals: for we are here in a desert place. 16 But he said unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they said, We have no more than five loaves and two fishes; except we should go and buy food for all this people. 17 For they were about five thousand men. 18 And he said unto his disciples, Make them sit down in companies, about fifty each. 19 And they did so, and made them all sit down. 20 And he took the five loaves and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed them, and brake and gave to the disciples to set before them. 21 And they did eat, and were all filled: and there was taken up that which remained over to them of broken pieces, twelve baskets.
28 And it came to pass about eight days after these sayings, he took with him Peter and John and James, and went up into the mountain to pray. 29 And as he was praying, the passion of his countenance was altered, and his raiment became white and dazzling. 30 And behold, there talked with him two men, which were Moses and Elijah: 31 who appeared in glory, and spake of his departure which he was about to accomplish at Jerusalem. 32 Now Peter and they that were with him were heavy with sleep: but when they were fully awake, they saw his glory, and the two men that stood with him. 33 And it came to pass, as they were parting from him, Peter said unto Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here: and let us make thee three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah: 34 And while he said these things, there came a cloud and overshadowed them: and they feared as they entered into the cloud. 35 And a voice came out of the cloud, saying, This is my Son, my chosen: hear ye him. 36 And when the voice was past, Jesus was found alone. 37 And it came to pass, on the next day, when they were come down from the mountain, a great multitude met him. 38 And beheld, a man from the multitude cried, saying, O Master, I beseech thee to look upon my son; for he is mine only child: and he is fallen into a spirit, and it hardly departeth from him, bruising him sorely. 39 And Jesus answered and said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you, and bear with you? bring hither thy son. 40 And he brought him: and when Jesus beheld him, he spake of his death, saying, O father, why hast thou brought me this sorrow? for thy son is not dead, but is asleep. 41 And Jesus answered and said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you, and how long shall I suffer you? bring hither thy son. 42 And he brought him: and when Jesus beheld him, he said unto him, young man, I beseech thee to arise. 43 And he cast him out of his body: and his nurse took him by the feet, and brought him to his father. 44 And when he saw him, he thanked God, and said unto him, Master, I believe; help thou my unbelief. 45 And when Jesus beheld it, he marvelled, and said unto them, Why have ye not believed, when I said unto you that the Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and the third day be raised up? 46 And he said unto them, Woe unto you, for ye desire a sign: verily I say unto you, A righteous one shall not perish thereby. 47 But I say unto you, Except ye shall turn, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven.
10 And the seventy returned with joy, saying, Lord, *even the *devils are subject unto us in thy name. 18 And he said unto them, *I beheld Satan as fallen as lightning from heaven. 19 Behold, I have given you authority to tread upon serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy: and nothing shall in any wise hurt you. 20 *Howbeit in this rejoice not, that the spirits are subject unto you; but rejoice that your names are written in heaven.

S. LUKE.

[CHAP. 10, v. 21.]

Joiced in the Holy Spirit, and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou hidest these things from the wise and understanding, and revealed them unto babes: yea, Father; for so it was well-pleasing in thine sight. 23 All things have been delivered unto me of my Father: and no one knoweth who the Son is, save the Father; and who the Father is, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son willeth to reveal him. 24 And turning to the disciples, he said privately, Blessed are the eyes which see the things that ye see: for I say unto you, that many prophets and kings desired to see the things which ye see, and saw them not; and to hear the things which ye hear, and heard them not.

25 And behold, a certain lawyer stood up, and tempted him, saying, Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life? 26 And he said unto him, What is written in the law? how readest thou? 27 And he answered saying, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbour as thyself. 28 And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right: this do, and thou shalt live. 29 But he, desiring to justify himself, said unto him, Master, who is my neighbour? 30 Jesus made answer and said, A certain man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho; and he fell among robbers, which stripped him, and beat him, and departed, leaving him half dead. 31 And by chance a certain priest was going down that way; and when he saw him, he passed by on the other side. 32 And in like manner a Levite, when he came to the place, saw him, and passed by on the other side. 33 But a certain Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was: and when he saw him, he was moved with compassion, and came to him, and bound up his wounds, pouring on oil and wine; and he set him on his own beast, and took care of him. 35 And the morrow he took out two pence, and gave them to the host, and said, Take care of him; and whatsoever thou spendest more, I, when I come back again, will repay thee. 36 Which of these three, thought thou, proved neighbour unto him that fell among the robbers? 37 And he said, He that shewed mercy on him. And Jesus said unto him, Go, and do thou likewise.

38 Now as they went on their way, he entered into a certain village: and a certain woman named Martha received him into her house. 39 And she had a sister called Mary, which also sat at the Lord's feet, and heard his word. 40 But Martha was hindered about much serving; and she came up to him, and said, Lord, dost thou not care that my sister did leave me to serve alone? bid her therefore that she help me. 41 But the Lord answered and said unto her, Martha, Martha, thou art anxious and troubled about many things: but one thing is needful; for Mary hath chosen the good part, which shall not be taken away from her.

And it came to pass, as he was praying in a certain place, that when he ceased, one of his disciples said unto him, Lord, teach us to pray, even as John also taught his disciples. 2 And he said unto them, When ye pray, say, Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our sins; for we ourselves also forgive every one that is indebted to us. And lead us not into temptation. 4 And he said unto them, Which of you shall have a friend, and shall go unto him at midnight, and say to him, Friend, lend me three loaves: 5 for a friend of mine is come to me from a journey, and I have nothing to set before him; 6 and he from within shall answer, and say, Trouble me not: the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed; I cannot rise and give.

For ver. ch. 1.

And I say unto you, Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you.

For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened.

And of which you shall say, Lo a blind man, and he shall lead him to the house where he has his son ask a loaf, and he give him a stone? or fish, and he for a fish give him a serpent? Or if he shall ask an egg, will he give him a scorpion? Or if he be a guest, will he give him a dog's head? And if he be an evil master, will he give him money? I say unto you, That an evil and adulterous generation seeks after a sign; and there shall be no sign given it but the sign of the prophet Jonas. For as Jonas was three days and three nights in the bowels of the whale; so shall the Son of man be three days and three nights in the bowels of hell.

As a house divided against itself shall not stand, so neither can one kingdom divide itself against itself; if a kingdom divide itself, it shall fall; but if it be on a house one, then is that house standeth.

And if Satan himself be cast out of hell, he is able to cast out devils. But if I by the Spirit of God cast out devils, shall then it be that he is of God? But if by my Ghost I cast out devils, then is the kingdom of God come upon you.

And if I cast out devils by the Spirit of God, wherefore do the people of the kings of the Gentiles believe not, having been moved with a fear greater than Solomon? But if I by the Ghost of Jesus Christ cast out devils, then is this the Son of God. But if I by the Holy Ghost I cast out devils, shall then it be of Satan that your father casts them out? And if a kingdom be divided against itself, it is not able to stand. But if Satan cast out Satan, he is divided against himself; how shall then his kingdom stand? And if I cast out devils by the Spirit of God, the kingdom of God is come upon you. But if I by the Spirit of God cast out devils, is not the kingdom of God come upon you? When a strong man armeth himself, he strengtheneth his arm, and is able to guard his house; but when a stronger than he is come upon him, and overcome him, he taketh from him his arm wherein he trusted, and divideth his spoils.

He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth. None, the saith, I will turn back unto my house whence I came out. And when he is come, he findeth it swept and garnished.

And goeth he, and taketh to him seven other spirits more evil than himself; and they enter in and dwell there; and the last state of that man becometh worse than the first.

And it came to pass, as he said these things, a certain woman out of the multitude lifted up her voice, and said unto him, Blessed is the womb that bare thee, and the breasts which thou didst suck. But Yea rather, blessed are they that hear the word of God, and keep it.

And when the multitudes were gathering together unto him, he began to say, This generation is an evil generation: for it seeketh a sign; and there shall no sign be given unto it but the sign of Jonah. For even as Jonas became a sign unto the Ninevites, so shall also the Son of man be to this generation.

The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgement with this generation, and shall condemn them: for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and behold, a greater than Solomon is here.

The men of Nineveh shall stand up in the judgement with this generation, and shall condemn them: for they repented at the preaching of Jonah; and beheld, a greater than Jonah is here.

No man, when he hath lighted a lamp, putteth it in a cellar, neither under the bushel, but on the stand, that they which enter in may see the light. For the lamp of thy body is thine eye: when thine eye is single, thy whole body is full of light; but when it is evil, thy body also is full of darkness.

Look therefore whether the light that is in thee be not darkness. If therefore thy whole body be full of light, having no part dark, it shall be wholly full of light, as when the lamp with its bright shining doth give thee light.

Now as he spake, a Pharisee asketh him to dine with him; and he went in, and sat down to meat.

5 Or, whatsoever things 6 Some ancient authorities omit a loaf; and he give him a stone 7 Or, more than 8 Or, himself
38 And when the Pharisee saw it, he marvelled that he had not first washed before dinner. 39 And the Lord said unto him, Now do ye Pharisees cleanse the outside of the cup and of the platter; but your inward part is full of extortion and wickedness. 40 Ye foolish ones, did not he that made the outside make the inside also? 41 Howbeit give for alms those things which are within; and behold, all things are clean unto you.

42 But woe unto you Pharisees! for ye tithe mint and rue and every herb, and pass over judgment and the love of God: but these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone. 43 Woe unto you Pharisees! for ye love the chief seats in the synagogues, and the salutations in the market-places. 44 Woe unto you! for ye are as the tombs which appear not, and the men that walk over them know it not.

45 And one of the lawyers answering saith unto him, Master, in saying this thou reproachest us also. 46 And he said, Woe unto you lawyers! for ye have taken away the key of knowledge: ye have shut up the kingdom of heaven against men. 47 'Woe unto you Pharisees! for ye build the tombs of the prophets, and your fathers slew them. 48 But ye wax fat with iniquity, and replenish your carcases in the last day. 49 Woe unto you lawyers! for ye compass the sea and the lands to shew your proficiency, and ye have left no room for the poor. 50 And I say unto you, Make to know that ye are they which justify yourselves before men, but God knoweth otherwise: the men who are exalted before men are abased; and the abased before men are exalted. 51 "And when he was come out from thence, the scribes and the Pharisees began to press upon him vehemently, and to provoke him to speak of many things; 52 laying wait for him, that he might catch something out of his mouth.
said unto him, 1 Master, bid my brother divide the inheritance with me. 14 But he said unto him, 2 Man, 3 who made me a judge or a divider over you? 15 And he said unto them, 4 Take heed, and keep yourselves from all covetousness: 5 for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth. 16 And he spake a parable unto them, saying, 6 The ground of a certain rich man brought forth plentifully: 17 and he reasoned within himself, saying, 7 What shall I do, because I have not where to bestow my fruits? 18 And he said, This will I do: I will pull down my barns, and build greater; and there will I bestow all my corn and my goods. 19 And I will say to my soul, 8 Thou hast much treasure laid up for many years; 20 and it may be that death shall come upon thee suddenly; 21 and then what shall be his portion of goods? 22 For the eye is an evil thing, 9 that it striveth after, and it is an abomination. 23 And if God so regard not a man's soul, 10 how much will he regard flesh? 24 And he said unto his disciples, 25 Therefore I say unto you, Be not an anxious for your 6 life, what ye shall eat or what ye shall drink; nor for your body, what ye shall put on. 26 For the life is more than the food, and the body than the raiment. 27 Consider the ravens, that they sow not, neither reap; which have no store-chamber nor barn; and God feedeth them: for how much more are ye valued than the birds? 28 And when one of you is an anxious concerning his apparel, how is he able to add aught to his 8 stature? 29 And if then ye be not able to do even that which is least, why are ye anxious concerning the rest? 30 Consider the lilies, how they grow: they toil not, neither do they spin: 31 yet I say unto you, 2 Even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. 32 But if God doth so clothe the grass of the field, which to-day is, and to-morrow is cast into the oven; how much more shall he clothe you, 3 O ye of little faith? 33 And seek not ye what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; neither be ye of doubtful mind. 34 For all these things do the nations of the world seek after: but 35 your Father knoweth that ye have need of these things. 36 Howbeit seek ye first his kingdom, and these things shall be added unto you. 37 Fear not, little 9 flock; for 9 it is your Father's good pleasure to give you 9 the kingdom. 38 Sell that ye have, and 2 give alms; 2 make for yourselves purses which wax not old, 1 a treasure in the heavens that faileth not, where no thief draweth near, neither moth destroyeth. 39 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also. 40 Let your loins be girded about, and your lamps burning; and be ye yourselves like unto men looking for their lord, when he shall return from the marriage feast; for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of Man cometh. 41 And Peter said, Lord, speak thou this parable unto us, or even unto all? 42 And the Lord said, Who then is a faithful and 2 wise 3 steward, whom his lord shall set over his household, to give them their portion of food in due season? 43 Blessed is that 12 servant, whom his lord when he came shall find so watching: verily I say unto you, that he shall be clothed with a garment of purple. 44 But if that 12 servant shall say in his heart, My lord delayeth his coming; and shall begin to beat the menservants and the maidservants, neither 2 be ye of doubtful mind. 45 For all these things do the nations of the world seek after: but 35 your Father knoweth that ye have need of these things. 36 Howbeit seek ye first his kingdom, and these things shall be added unto you. 37 Fear not, little 9 flock; for 9 it is your Father's good pleasure to give you 9 the kingdom. 38 Sell that ye have, and 2 give alms; 2 make for yourselves purses which wax not old, 1 a treasure in the heavens that faileth not, where no thief draweth near, neither moth destroyeth. 39 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also. 40 Let your loins be girded about, and your lamps burning; and be ye yourselves like unto men looking for their lord, when he shall return from the marriage feast; for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of Man cometh. 41 And Peter said, Lord, speak thou this parable unto us, or even unto all? and to eat and drink, and to be drunken; 46 the lord of that 1 servant shall come in a day when he expecteth not, and in an hour when he knoweth not, and shall cut him asunder, and appoint his portion with the unfaithful. 47 And that servant, which knew his lord's will, and made not ready, nor did according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes: 48 but he that knew not, and did things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes. 49 And to whomsoever much is given, of him shall much be required: and to whom they commit much, of him will they ask the more.

13 Now there were some present at that very season which told him of the Galileans, whose blood Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices. 2 And he answered and said unto them, 3 Think ye that these Galileans were sinners above all the Galileans, because they have suffered these things? 3 I tell you, Nay: but, except ye repent, ye shall all in like manner perish. 4 Or those eighteen, upon whom the tower in Siloam fell, and killed them, think ye that they were more offenders above all the men that dwell in Jerusalem? 5 I tell you, Nay: but, except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.

6 And he spake this parable; A certain man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard; and he came seeking fruit thereon, and found none. 7 And he said unto the vinedresser, Behold, these three years I come seeking fruit on this fig tree, and find none: cut it down; why doth it still? why doth it also cumber the ground? 8 And he answering saith unto him, Lord, let it alone this year also, till I shall dig about it, and dung it: and if it bear fruit, well; but if not, thou shalt cut it down.

10 And he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the sabbath day. 11 And behold, a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift herself up. 12 And when Jesus saw her, he called her, and said to her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity.

13 And he laid his hands upon her: and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God. 14 And the ruler of the synagogue, being moved with indignation because Jesus had healed on the sabbath, answered and said to the multitude, There are six days in which men ought to work: in them therefore come and be healed, and not on the day of the sabbath. 15 But the Lord answered him, and said, Yea hypocrites, doth not each one of you loose his ox or his ass from the stall, and lead them away to watering? 16 And ought not this woman, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan had bound, lo, these eighteen years, to come out thence, till thou have paid the very last cent.
have been loosed from this bond on the day of the sabbath? 17 And as he said these things, "all his adversaries were put to shame; and all the multitude rejoiced for all the glorious things that were done by him.

18 He said therefore, Unto what is the kingdom of God like? and whereunto shall I liken it? 19 It is like unto a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and cast into his own garden; and it grew, and became a tree; and the birds of the heaven lodged in the branches thereof.

20 And again he said, Whereunto shall I liken the kingdom of God? 21 It is like unto leaven, which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal, till it was all leavened.

22 And he went on his way through cities and villages, teaching, and journeying on unto Jerusalem.

23 And one said unto him, Lord, are they few that are saved? 24 And he said unto them, Strive to enter in by the narrow door: for many, I say unto you, shall seek to enter in, and shall not be able. 25 When once the master of the house is risen up, and hath shut the door, and ye begin to stand without, and to knock at the door, saying, Lord, open to us; and he shall answer and say to you, I know you not whence ye are; then shall ye begin to say, Lord, Lord, we have eaten and drunk in thy presence, and have wrought thy miracles before thee. 26 And he shall answer and say to them, I tell you, I know you not whence ye are; depart from me, ye workers of iniquity. 27 There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth, when ye shall see Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the prophets, in the kingdom of God, and yourselves cast forth without. 28 And they shall come from the east and west, and from the north and south, and shall sit down in the kingdom of God. 29 And behold, there are last which shall be first, and there are first which shall be last.

30 In that very hour there came certain Pharisees, saying to him, Get thee out, and go hence: for Herod would fain kill thee. 31 And he said unto them, Go and say to that fox, Behold, I cast out devils and perform cures to-day and to-morrow, and the third day I am perfected. 32 Howbeit 'I must go on my way to-day and to-morrow, and the day following: for it cannot be that a prophet perish out of Jerusalem. 33 O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, which killeth the prophets, and stonesth them that are sent unto her! how often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her own brood under her wings, and ye would not! 35 Behold, your house is left unto you desolate: and I say unto you, Ye shall not see me, until ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

14 And it came to pass, when he went into the house of one of the rulers of the Pharisees to eat bread, that they were watching him. 2 And behold, there was before him a certain man which had the dropsy. 3 And Jesus answering spake unto them, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath, or not? 4 But they held their peace. 5 And he took him, and healed him, and let him go. 6 And he said unto them, 'Which of you shall have an ass or an ox fallen into a well, and will not straightway draw him up into a sabbath day? 7 And they could not answer again unto these things.

7 And he spake a parable unto those which were bidden, when he marked how they chose out the chief seats; saying unto them, 8 When thou art bidden of any man to a marriage feast, sit not down in the chief seat; lest haply a more honourable man than thou be bidden of him, and he that bade thee and him shall come and say to thee, Give this man place; and then thou shalt begin with shame to take the lowest place. 10 But when thou art bidden, go and sit down in the lowest place; that when he that hath bidden thee cometh, he may say to thee, Friend, go up higher: then shalt thou have glory in the presence of all that sit at meat with thee. 11 For every one that exalteth himself shall be humbled; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

12 And he said to him also that had bidden him, When thou makest a dinner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, nor thy kinsmen, nor rich neighbours; lest haply they also bid thee again, and a recompense be made thee. 13 But when thou makest a feast, bid the poor, the maimed, the lame, and the blind: and thou shalt be blessed; because they have not wherewith to recompense thee: for thou shalt be recompensed in the resurrection of the just.

15 And when one of them that sat at meat with him heard these things, he said unto him, Blessed is he that shall eat bread in the kingdom of God. 16 But he said to him, A certain man made a great supper; and he bade many: 17 and he sent forth his servant at supper time to say to them that were bidden, Come; for all things are now ready. 18 And they all with one consent began to make excuse. The first said unto him, I have bought a field, and I must needs go out and see it: I pray thee have me excused. 19 And another said, I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to prove them: I pray thee have me excused. 20 And another said, I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come. 21 And the servant came, and told his lord these things. Then the master of the house being angry said to his servant, Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in hither the poor and maimed and blind and lame. 22 And the servant said, Lord, what thou didst command is done, and yet there is room. 23 And the lord said unto the servant, Go out into the highways and hedges, and compel them to come in, that my house may be filled. 24 For I say unto you, that none of those men which were bidden shall taste of my supper.

25 Now there went with him great multitudes: and he turned, and said unto them, 26 If any man cometh unto me, and hateth not his own father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, yea, and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple. 27 Whosoever doth not bear his own cross, and come after me, cannot be my disciple. 28 For which of you, desiring to build a tower, doth not first sit down and count the cost, whether he have wherewith to complete it?

29 Least haply, when he hath laid a foundation, and is not able to finish, all that behold begin to mock him, 30 saying, This man began to build, and was not able to finish. 31 Or what king, as he goeth to encounter another king in war, will not sit down first and take counsel whether he is able with ten thousand to meet him that cometh against him with twenty thousand? 32 Or else, while the other is yet a great way off, he sendeth an ambassage, and asketh conditions of peace. 33 So therefore whosoever he be of you that renounceth not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple. 34 Salt therefore is good: but if the salt have lost its savour, wherewith shall it be seasoned? 35 It is fit neither for the laud nor for the dunghill: men cast it out. He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

the piece which I had lost. 10 Even so, I say unto you, there is joy in the presence of the angels of God ever one sinner that repenteth.

11 And he said, A certain man had two sons: 12 and the younger of them said to his father, Father, give me the portion of thy substance that falleth to me. 13 And not many days after the younger son gathered all together, and took his journey into a far country; and there he wasted his substance with riotous living. 14 And when he had spent all, there arose a famine in that country; and he began to be in want. 15 And he went and joined himself to one of the citizens of that country; and he sent him into his fields to feed swine. 16 And he would fain have been filled with the husks that the swine did eat: and no man gave unto him. 17 But when he came to himself he said, How many hired servants of my father's have bread even and to spare, and I perish herewith hunger. 18 I will arise and go to my father, and will say unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in thy sight:
19 I am no more worthy to be called thy son: make me as one of thy hired servants. 20 And he arose, and came to his father. But while he was yet afar off, his father saw him, and was moved with compassion, and ran, and fell on his neck, and kissed him. 21 And the sons said unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in thy sight:
22 But the father said to his servants, Bring forth quickly the best robe, and put it on him; and put a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feet: 23 and bring forth the fattened calf, and kill it, and let us eat, and make merry: for this my son was dead, and is alive again; and was lost, and is found.

16 And he said also unto the disciples, There was a certain rich man, which had a steward; and the same was accused unto him that he was wasting his goods.
2 And he called him, and said unto him, What is this that I hear of thee? render the account of thy stewardship; for thou canst be no longer steward. 3 And the steward said within himself, What shall I do, seeing that my lord taketh away the stewardship from me? I have not strength to dig; to beg I am ashamed. 4 I am resolved what to do, that, when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses. 5 And calling to each one of his lord's debtors, he said to the first, How much owest thou unto my lord? 6 And he said, A hundred measures of oil. And he said to the second, And how much ostwest thou unto me? 7 And he said, A hundred measures of wheat. 8 Then said he unto him, Make a measure of oil, and he said unto him, Take thy bond, and sit down quickly and write fifty.
9 Then said he to another, And how much owest thou? And he said, A hundred measures of wheat. 10 And his lord commended the unrighteous steward because he had done wisely: for the sons of this world are for their own generation wiser than the sons of the light. 11 And I say unto you, Make to yourselves friends by means of the mammon of unrighteousness; that, when it shall fail, they may receive you into the eternal tabernacles. 10 He that is faithful in a very little is faithful also in much: and he that is unrighteous in a very little is unrighteous also in much. 11 If therefore ye have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon, who will commit to your trust the true riches? 12 And if ye have not been faithful in that which is another's, who will give you that which is your own? 13 No servant can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

14 And the Pharisees, who were lovers of money, heard all these things; and they scoffed at him. 15 And he said unto them, Ye are they that justify yourselves in the sight of men; but God knoweth your hearts: for that which is exalted among men is an abomination in the sight of God. 16 The law and the prophets were until John: but since the time of John the kingdom of God is preached, and every man entereth violently into it. 17 But it is easier for heaven and earth to pass away, than that one tittle of the law to fall. 18 Everyone that putteth away his wife, and marrieth another, committeth adultery: and he that marrieth one that is put away from his husband committeth adultery.

19 Now there was a certain rich man, and he was clothed in purple and fine linen, and did feasting sumptuously every day: 20 and a certain beggar named Lazarus was laid at his gate, full of sores, and desiring to be fed with the crumbs that fell from the rich man's table; yes, even the dogs came and licked his sores. 21 And it came to pass, that the beggar died, and that he was carried away by the angels into Abraham's bosom: and the rich man also died, and was buried. 22 And in Hades he lifted up his eyes, being in torments, and saw Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom. 23 And he cried and said, Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue; for I am in anguish in this flame. 24 But Abraham said, Son, remember that thou in thy lifetime receivestst thy good things, and Lazarus in like manner evil things: but now here he is comforted, and thou art in anguish. 25 And beside all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed, that they which would pass from hence to you may not be able, and that none may cross over from hence to us. 26 And he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldst send him to my father's house; 27 for I have five brethren; that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment. 28 But Abraham said, They have Moses and the prophets; let them hear them. 29 And he said, Nay, father Abraham, but if one go to them from the dead, they will repent. 30 And he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, if one rise from the dead.

17 And he said unto his disciples, It is impossible but that occasions of stumbling should come: but woe unto him through whom they come! 2 It was well for him if a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were thrown into the sea, rather than that he should cause one of these little ones to stumble. 3 Take heed to yourselves: if thy brother sin, rebuke him; and if he repent, forgive him. 4 And if he sin against thee seven times in the day, and seven times turn again to thee, saying, I repent; thou shalt forgive him.

5 And the apostles said unto the Lord, Increase our faith. 6 And the Lord said, If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye would say unto this sycamine tree, Be thou rooted up, and be thou planted in the sea; and it would have obeyed you. 7 But who is there of you, having a servant plowing or keeping sheep, that will say unto him when he is come in from the field, Come straightway and sit down to meat; and will not rather say unto him. Make ready wherewith I may sup, and gird thyself, and serve me, till I have eaten and drunk; and afterward thou shalt eat and drink? 9 Doth he thank the servant because he did the things that were commanded? 10 Even so ye also, when ye shall have done all the things that are commanded you, say, We are unprofitable servants; we have done that which it was our duty to do.

11 And it came to pass, as they were on the way to Jerusalem, that he was passing through the midst of Samaria and Galilee. 12 And as he entered into a certain village, there met him ten men that were lepers, which stood afar off: 13 and they lifted up their voices, saying, Jesus, Master, have mercy on us. 14 And when he saw them, he said unto them, Go and shew yourselves unto the priests. And it came to pass, as they went, they were cleansed.

15 And one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, and with a loud voice glorifying to God; 16 and he fell upon his face at his feet, giving him thanks: and he was a Samaritan. 17 And Jesus answering said, Were not ten cleansed? but where are the nine? 18 And there were none found that returned to give glory to God; save this stranger. 19 And he said unto him, Arise, and go thy way: thy faith hath made thee whole.

20 And being asked by the Pharisees, when the kingdom of God cometh, he answered them and said, The kingdom of God cometh not with observation: 21 neither shall they say, Lo, here! or, There! for, lo, the kingdom of God is within you.

22 And he said unto the disciples, The days will come, when ye shall desire to see one of the days of the Son of man, and ye shall not see it.

23 And they shall say to you, Lo, here! or, There! go not away, nor follow after them: 24 for as the lightning, when it lighteneth out of one part of the under heaven, shineth unto the other part under heaven; so shall the Son of man be in his day. 25 But first must he suffer many things and be rejected of this generation. 26 And as it came to pass in the days of Noah, even so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man. 27 They ate, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they builded; 28 but in the day that Lot went out from Sodom it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all: 30 after the same manner shall it be in the day that the Son of man is revealed. 31 In that day, he which shall be on the house-top, and his goods in the house, let him not go down to take them away: and let him that is in the field likewise not return back. 32 Remember Lot's wife. 33 Whosoever shall seek to gain his life shall lose it: but whosoever shall lose his life shall preserve it.

34 And he spake a parable unto them to the end that they should always pray, and not to faint: 2 saying, There was in a city a judge, which feared not God, and regarded not man: 3 and there was a widow in that city; and she vexed him, a long season, calling upon him, 4 saying, Avenge me of mine adversary. 5 And he would not for a while: but afterward he said within himself, Though I fear not God, nor regard man; 6 yet because this widow troubleth me, I will avenge her, lest she wear me out by her continual coming.

6 And the Lord said, Hear what the unrighteous judge saith. 7 And shall not God avenge his elect, which cry to him day and night, and yet he shall tarry many years before he stretcheth forth his hand?
him day and night, and he is long-suffering over them? 8 I say unto you, that he will avenge them speedily. Howbeit when the Son of man cometh, shall he find faith on the earth?

9 And he spake also this parable unto certain which trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and set at naught all others at nought: 10 To two men went up into the temple to pray: the one a Pharisee, and the other a publican. 11 The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself, God, I thank thee, that I am not as the rest of men, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even the publican. 12 But he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

13 But he that exalteth himself shall be humbled: and shall rise again. 14 Say unto you, This man went down to his house justified rather than the other: for every one that exalteth himself shall be humbled; but he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

15 And brought them unto him also their babes, that he should bless them: but when the disciples saw it, they rebuked them. 16 But Jesus called them unto him, and said, Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of heaven.

17 Verily I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever ye shall loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven. 18 Therefore go ye and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: 19 And teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world.

20 And when Jesus had called them unto him, and said, Blessed are ye, for ye are the salt of the earth: 21 For salt is good, but when it is salted, wherewith shall it be salted? from thenceforth it is good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be trodden under foot of men.

22 Then Jesus said unto his disciples, Be therefore wise as serpents, and harmless as doves. 23 Beware of men: for they will deliver you up to the councils, and they will scourge you in their synagogues; 24 And ye shall be brought before governors and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them and the Gentiles. 25 And when they deliver you up, take no thought how or what ye shall speak: for it shall be given you in that same hour what ye shall speak.

26 For it is given unto you to speak as it were by the Spirit of God; for the Father himself will give you the言, and ye shall say what ye have to say. 27 But I say unto you, Do not resist him that hath the authority to you: for he that resisteth the authority resisteth the will of the Lord; and they that resist shall receive to themselves damnable things.

28 And they shall say unto you, See that ye say not what ye have to say. 29 But the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God: for it is secret with God, that he may reveal it to his holy ones. 30 And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever taketh the water of life freely.

31 And I shall shew unto the sinners the kingdom of heaven as a little child, who is in the midst of them, and shall make them to understand the kingdom of heaven.

32 For whosoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words in this adulterous and perverted generation, of the Son of man in the day of judgment shall be ashamed. 33 But he that shall keep my word unto the end, the same shall be blessed. 34 And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come.

35 And when he had come near, he saw a certain city, and asked where the lodging would be for the night. 36 And when he was come nigh to Jericho, a certain blind man sat by the way side begging: 37 And hearing a multitude going by, he asked who it was. 38 And they told him, Say, Lord, have mercy on me.

39 And he said, What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? And he said, Lord, that I may receive my sight. 40 And Jesus said unto him, Receive thy sight: thy faith hath saved thee.
sight: "thy faith hath made thee whole." 43 And immediately he received his sight, and followed him, glorifying God: and all the people, when they saw it, gave praise unto God.

19 And he entered and was passing through Jericho.

20 And behold, a man called by name Zacchæus: and he was a chief publican, and he was rich.

And he sought to see Jesus who he was; and could not for the crowd, because he was little of stature.

And he ran on before, and climbed up into a sycomore tree to see him: for he was to pass that way. 5 And when Jesus came to the place, he looked up, and said unto him, Zacchæus, make haste, and come down; for to-day I must abide at thy house.

And he made haste, and came down, and received him joyfully. 7 And when they saw it, they all murmured, saying, He is gone in to lodge with a man that is a sinner.

And Zacchæus stood, and said unto the Lord, Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor, and if I have wrongly exacted aught of any man, I restore it fourfold.

And Jesus said unto him, To-day is salvation come unto this house, forasmuch as he also is a son of Abraham. 10 For the Son of man came to seek and to save that which was lost.

11 And as they heard these things, he added and spake a parable, because he was nigh to Jerusalem, and because they supposed that the kingdom of God was immediately to appear.

12 He said therefore, A certain nobleman went into a far country, to receive for himself a kingdom, and to return. 13 And he called ten servants of his, and gave them ten pounds, and said unto them, Trade ye herewith till I come. 14 But his citizens hated him, and sent an ambassador after him, saying, We will not that this man reign over us.

15 And it came to pass, when he was come back again, having received the kingdom, that he commanded these servants, unto whom he had given the money, to be called to him, that he might know what they had by trading. 16 And the first came before him, saying, Lord, thy pound made ten pounds more.

17 And he said unto him, Well done, thou good servant: because thou hast kept that I laid up in a napkin: 21 for I feared thee, because thou art an austere man: thou takest up that thou layedst not down, and reapest that thou didst not sow.

22 He saith unto him, Out of thine own mouth will I judge thee, thou wicked servant. Thou knewest that I am an austere man, taking up that I laid not down, and reaping that I did not sow; 23 then whereas gavest thou not my money into the bank, and I at my coming should have required it with interest?

24 And he said unto them that stood by, Take away from him that pound, and give it unto him that hath the ten pounds. 25 And they said unto him, Lord, he hath ten pounds.

26 I say unto you, that unto every one that hath shall be given; but from him that hath not, even that which he hath shall be taken away from him.

27 Howbeit these mine enemies, which cried against you; in the which as ye enter ye shall find a colt tied, whereon no man ever sat: loose him, and bring him. 31 And if any one ask you, Why do ye loose him? thus shall ye say, The Lord hath need of him.

32 And they that were sent went away, and found even as he had said unto them.

33 And as they were loosing the colt, the owners thereof said unto them,
Why loose ye the colt? 34 And they said, The Lord hath need of him. 35 And they brought him to Jesus; and they threw their garments upon the colt, and set Jesus thereon. 36 And as he went, they spread their garments in the way. 37 And as he was now drawing nigh, even at the descent of the mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to rejoice and praise God with a loud voice for all the mighty works which they had seen; 38 saying, 39 Blessed is the King that cometh in the name of the Lord: peace in heaven, and glory in the highest. 40 And some of the Pharisees from the multitude said unto him, Master, rebuke thy disciples. 41 And he answered and said, If these shall hold their peace, the stones will cry out. 42 And when he drew nigh, they saw him, and were moved with pity over him. 43 For the days shall come upon thee, when thine enemies shall cast up a bank about thee, and compass thee round, and keep thee in on every side, and shall dash thee to the ground, and thy children within thee; and they shall not leave in thee one stone upon another; because thou knewest not the time of thy visitation. 44 And he entered into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold, 45 saying unto them, It is written, 46 And he was teaching daily in the temple. 47 But the chief priests and the scribes and the principal men of the people sought to destroy him: 48 and they could not find what they might do; for the people all hung upon him, listening. 49 And it came to pass, on one of the days, as he was teaching the people in the temple, and preaching the gospel, 50 And they came upon him the chief priests and the scribes and the elders; and they spake, saying unto him, Tell us: what authority dost thou these things? or who is he that gave thee this authority? 51 And he answered and said unto them, I also will ask you a question; and tell me: 52 The baptism of John, was it from heaven, or from men? 53 And they reasoned among themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say, Why did ye not believe him? 54 But if we shall say, From men; all the people will stone us: for they be persuaded that John was a prophet. 55 And they answered, That they knew not whence it was. 56 And Jesus said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.
priests sought to lay hands on him in that very hour; and they feared the people: for they perceived that he spake this parable against them. 20 And they watched him, and sent forth spies, which spied themselves to be righteous, that they might take hold of his speech, so as to deliver him up to the rule and to the authority of the governor. 21 And they asked him, saying, Master, we know that thou sayest and teachest righteously, and acceptest not the person of any, but of a truth teachest the way of God: 22 is it lawful for us to give tribute unto Caesar, or not? 23 But he perceived their craftiness, and said unto them, Shew me a penny. Whose image and superscription hath it? And they showed him. 24 And Jesus answering said unto them, Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's. 25 And they were not able, that take hold of the saying before the people: and they marvelled at his answer, and held their peace.

27 And there came to him certain of the Sadducees, which say there is no resurrection; and they asked him, saying, 28 Master, Moses wrote unto us, that if a man's brother die, having a wife, and he be childless, his brother should take the wife, and raise up seed unto his brother. 29 There were therefore seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and died childless; 30 and the second; and the third took her; and likewise the seven also left no children, and died. 32 Afterward the woman also died. 33 In the resurrection therefore whose wife of them shall she be? for the seven had her to wife.

34 And Jesus said unto them, The sons of this world marry, and are given in marriage: 35 but they that are accounted worthy to attain to that world, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry, nor are given in marriage: 36 for neither can they die any more: for they are equal unto the angels; and are sons of God, being sons of the resurrection. 37 But that the dead are raised, even Moses shewed in the place concerning the Bush, when he calleth the Lord the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. 38 Now is he not the God of the dead, but of the living: for all live unto him. 39 And certain of the scribes and Pharisees answered, saying, Master, thou hast well said. 40 For they durst not any more ask him any question.

42 And he said unto them, How say they that the Christ is the son of David? 43 For David himself saith in the book of Psalms,

The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, 44 David therefore calleth him Lord, and how is he his son? 45 And in the hearing of all the people he spake nothing further: but as they went forth from thence, he saith unto them, 46 Beware of the scribes, which desire to walk in long robes, and love salutations in the marketplaces, and chief seats in the synagogues, and chief places at feasts; 47 which devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayers: these shall receive greater condemnation.

things must needs come to pass first; but the end is not immediately.

10 Then said he unto them, a Nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom; and there shall be great earthquakes, and in divers places famines and pestilences; and there shall be tears and great signs from heaven.

12 But before all these things, they shall lay their hands on you, and shall persecute you, delivering you up to the synagogues and prisons, bringing you before kings and governors for my name's sake. 13 For it shall turn unto you for a testimony. 14 Settle it therefore in your hearts, a not to meditate beforehand how to answer: 15 for I will give you a mouth and wisdom, which all your adversaries shall not be able to withstand or to gainsay. 16 But ye shall be delivered up even by your parents, and brethren, and kinsfolk, and friends; and some of you shall be put to death, 17 by the hand of all men for my name's sake. 18 And not a hair of your head shall perish. 19 In your patience ye shall win your souls.

20 But when ye see Jerusalem compassed with armies, then know that her desolation is at hand. 21 Then let them that are in Judæa flee unto the mountains; and let them that are in the midst of her depart out; and let not them that are in the country enter therein. 22 For these are the days of vengeance, that all things which are written may be fulfilled. 23 Woe unto them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days! for there shall be great distress upon the land, and wrath upon this people. 24 And they shall fall by the edge of the sword, and shall be led captive into all nations: and Jerusalem shall be trodden down of the Gentiles, until the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled. 25 And there shall be signs in sun and moon and stars; and on the earth distress of nations, in perplexity for the roaring of the sea and the billows; 26 men fainting for fear, and for expectation of the things which are coming on the world: for for the powers of the heavens shall be shaken. 27 And then shall they see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory.

28 But when these things begin to come to pass, look up, and lift up your heads; because your redemption draweth nigh.

29 And he spake to them a parable: Behold the figtree, and all the trees: 30 when they now shoot forth, ye see it and know b of your own selves that the summer is now nigh. 31 Even so ye also, when ye see these things coming to pass, know ye that the kingdom of God is nigh. 32 Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass away, till all things be accomplished. 33 Heaven and earth shall pass away: but my words shall not pass away.

34 But take heed to yourselves, lest haply your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting, and drunkenness, and cares of this life, and that day come on you suddenly as a snare: 35 for so shall it come upon all them that dwell on the face of all the earth. 36 But watch ye at all seasons, making supplication, that ye may prevail to escape all these things that shall come to pass, and to stand before the Son of man.
to deliver him unto them in the absence of the multitude.

7 And the day of unleavened bread came, on which the passover must be sacrificed. And he sent Peter and John, saying, Go and make ready for us the passover, that we may eat. And they said unto him, Where wilt thou that we make ready? And he said unto them, Behold, when ye are entered into the city, there shall meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water; follow him into the house whereinto he goeth. And ye shall say unto the goodman of the house, The Master saith unto thee, Where is the guest-chamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples? And he will shew you a large upper room furnished: there make ready. And they went, and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.

14 And when the hour was come, he sat down, and the apostles with him. And he said unto them, With desire I have desired to eat this passover with you before I suffer: for I say unto you, I will not eat from henceforth of this bread, until it be fulfilled in me. And he received a cup, and when he had given thanks, he said, Take this, and divide it among yourselves: for I say unto you, I will not drink from henceforth of this fruit of the vine, until the kingdom of God shall come.

19 And he took bread, and when he had given thanks, he brake it, and gave to them, saying, This is my body which is given for you: this do in remembrance of me. And the cup in like manner after supper, saying, This cup is the new covenant in my blood, even for the kingdom of God shall come. And he took bread, and when he had given thanks, he brake it, and gave to them, saying, This is my body which is given for you: this do in remembrance of me. And the cup in like manner after supper, saying, This cup is the new covenant in my blood, even for the kingdom of God shall come.

22 For the Son of man indeed goeth, as it hath been determined: but woe unto that man through whom he is betrayed! And they began to question among themselves, which of them it was that should do this thing.

24 And there arose also a contention among them, which of them is accounted to be greatest.

25 And he said unto them, The kings of the Gentiles have lordship over them; and they that have authority over them are called Benefactors. But ye shall not be so: but he that is the greater among you, let him become as the younger; and he that is chief, as he that doth serve. For whether is greater, he that sitteth at meat, or he that serveth? But ye are they which have continued with me, even in my temptations; and ye shall sit on thrones judging the twelve tribes of Israel. Simon, Simon, behold, Satan asked to have you, that he might sift you as wheat; but I made supplication for thee, that thy faith fail not: and thou, when once thou hast turned again, establish thy brethren.

35 And he said unto them, When I sent you forth without purse, and without shoes, lacked ye anything? And they said, Nothing. And he said unto them, But now, he that hath a purse, let him take it, and likewise a wallet: he that hath none, let him sell his cloak, and buy a sword. For I say unto you, that this which is written must be fulfilled in me, and the things that concern me hath fulfilment. And they said, Lord, behold, here are two swords. And he said unto them, It is enough.
them, "Pray that ye enter not into temptation." And he was parted from them about a stone's cast; and he kneeled down and prayed. 42 And being in an agony he prayed more earnestly: and his sweat became as it were great drops of blood falling down upon the ground. 43 And 44 And 45 And when he rose up from his prayer, he came unto the disciples, and found them sleeping for sorrow, 46 And said unto them, Why sleep ye? rise and pray, that ye enter not into temptation. 47 While he yet spake, behold, a multitude, and he that was called Judas, one of the twelve, went before them; and he drew near to Jesus to kiss him. 48 But Jesus said unto him, Judas, betrayest thou the Son of man with a kiss? 49 And when they that were about him saw what would follow, they said, Lord, shall we smite with the sword? 50 And a certain one of them smote the servant of the high priest, and struck off his right ear. 51 But Jesus answered and said, Suffer ye thus far. And he touched his ear, and healed him. 52 And Jesus said unto the chief priests, and captains of the temple, and elders, which were come against him, Are ye come out, as against a robber, with swords and staves? 53 When I was daily with you in the temple, ye stretched not forth your hands against me: but this is your hour, and the power of darkness. 54 And they seized him, and led him away into the high priest's house. 55 And when they had kindled a fire in the midst of the court, and had sat down together, Peter sat in the midst of them. 56 And a certain maid seeing him as he sat in the light of the fire, and looking steadfastly upon him, said, This man also was with him. 57 But he denied, saying, Woman, I know him not. 58 And after a little while another came, and said, Thou also art one of them. But Peter said, Man, I am not. 59 And after the space of about one hour another confidently affirmed, saying, Of a truth this man also was with him: for he is a Galilean. 60 But Peter said, Man, I know not what thou sayest. And immediately, while he yet spake, the cock crew. 61 And the Lord turned, and looked upon Peter. And Peter remembered the word of the Lord, how that he said unto him, Before the cock crow this day, thou shalt deny me thrice. 62 And he went out, and wept bitterly. 63 And the men that held Jesus mocked him, and beat him. 64 And they blindfolded him, and asked him, saying, Prophesy: who is he that struck thee? 65 And many other things spake they against him, reviling him. 66 And as soon as it was day, the assembly of the elders of the people was gathered together, both chief priests and scribes; and they led him away into their council, saying, 67 If thou be the Christ, tell us. But he said unto them, If I tell you, ye will not believe: 68 and if I ask you, ye will not answer. 69 But from henceforth shall the Son of man be seated at the right hand of the power of God. 70 And they all said, Art thou then the Son of God? And he answered them and said, Thou sayest. 71 And they said, What further need have we of witness? for we ourselves have heard from his own mouth. 72 And the whole company of them rose up, and brought him before Pilate. 73 And they began to accuse him, saying, We found this man perverting our nation, and forbidding to give tribute to Caesar, and saying that he himself is Christ a king. 74 And Pilate asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? 75 And he answered him and said, Thou sayest. 76 And Pilate said unto the chief priests and the multitudes, I find no fault in this man. 77 But they were more urgent, saying, He stirreth up the people, teaching throughout all Judea, and beginning from Galilee even unto this place. 78 But when Pilate heard it, he said, Thou also art one of them. But Peter said, Man, I am not. 59 And after the space of about one hour another confidently affirmed, saying, Of a truth this man also was with him: for he is a Galilean. 60 But Peter said, Man, I know not what thou sayest. And immediately, while he yet spake, the cock crew.

1 Or, Yttnint.
he asked whether the man were a Galilean. 7 And when he knew that he was of Herod's jurisdiction, he sent him unto Herod, who himself also was at Jerusalem in these days.

8 Now when Herod saw Jesus, he was exceeding glad: for he was of a long time desirous to see him, because he had heard concerning him; and he hoped to see some miracle done by him. 9 And he questioned him in many words; but he answered him nothing. 10 And the chief priests and the scribes stood, vehemently accusing him. 11 And Herod with his soldiers set him at naught, and mocked him, arraying him in gorgeous apparel, and sending him back to Pilate. 12 And Herod and Pilate became friends: for Herod gave sentencethat what they desired: and they were friends again, desiring to release Jesus; 13 but Jesus he delivered up to their will.

26 And when they had him away, they laid hold upon one Simon of Cyrene, coming from the country, and laid on him the cross, to bear it after Jesus.

27 And there followed him a great multitude of the people, and of women who bewailed and lamented him. 28 But Jesus turning unto them said, "Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves, and for your children. 29 For behold, "the days are coming, in which they shall say, Plead ye are the barren, and the wombs that never bare, and the breasts that never gave suck, what shall be done in "the dry tree? 30 Then shall they begin to say to the mountains, Fall on us; and to the hills, Cover us. 31 For "if they do these things in "the green tree, what shall be done in "the dry? 32 And there were also two others, malefactors, led with him to be put to death.

33 And when they came unto the place which is called "The skull, there they crucified him, and the malefactors, one on the right hand and the other on the left. 34 And Jesus said, Father, "forgive them; for they know not what they do. 35 And parting his garments among them, they cast lots. 36 And the soldiers also scoffed at him, saying, "He saved others; let him save himself. 37 If this is "the Christ of God, his chosen, saved others, but himself "he cannot save. 38 "If thou art "the King of the Jews, save thyself. 39 "And there was also a superscription over him, THIS is "THE KING OF THE JEWISH.

39 And one of the malefactors which were hanged "riled on him, saying, Art not thou "the Christ? save thyself and us. 40 But the other answered, and rebuking him said, Dost thou not even fear God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation? 41 And we indeed justly: for we receive the due reward of our evil deeds. 42 But Jesus he delivered up to their will.

50 And behold, a man named Joseph, who was a councillor, a good man and a righteous * (he had not consented to their counsel and deed), * was of Arimathea, a city of the Jews, who * was looking for the kingdom of God: 51 this man went to Pilate, and asked for priests and "our rulers delivered him up to be condemned to death, and crucified him. 21 But we hoped that it was he "which should redeem Israel. Yes and beside all this, it is now the third day since these things came to pass. 22 Moreover certain women of our company amazed us, 4v having been early at the tomb; 23 and if when they found not his body, they came, saying, that they had also seen a vision of angels, which said that he was alive. 24 And certain of them that were with us went to the tomb, and found it even so as the women had said: but him they saw not. 25 And he said unto them, O foolish men, and slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken. 26 Behold it not * the Christ to suffer these things, and to enter into his glory? 27 And "beginning from *Moses and from *all the prophets, he interpreted to them in all and in all the scriptures the things concerning himself. 28 And they drew nigh unto the village, whither they were going: and he made as though he would go further. 29 And they constrained him, saying, Abide with us; for it is toward evening, and the day is now far spent. 30 And he went in to abide with them. 31 And it came to pass, when he had said this, "he shewed them his hands and his feet. 32 And while they still doubted "for joy, and wondered, "he said unto them, Have ye here anything to eat? 33 And they gave him a piece of a broiled fish. 34 And he took it, and did eat before them. 35 And they said one to another, "Was not our heart burning within us, while he talked with us upon the way, while he opened to us the scriptures, 36 And as they spake these things, 36 And as they spake these things, he himself stood in the midst of them, *and saith unto them, Peace be unto you. 37 But they were "terrified, and affrighted, and supposed that they beheld a spirit. 38 And he said unto them, Why are ye troubled? and wherefore do reasons arise in your heart? 39 See my hands and my feet, that it is I myself: *handle me, and see; for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye behold me having. 40 And when he had said this, he shewed them his hands and his feet. 41 And while they still disbelieved "for joy, and wondered, "he said unto them, Have ye here anything to eat? 42 And they gave him a piece of a broiled fish. 43 And he took it, and did eat before them. 44 And he said unto them, *These are my words which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you, 45 how that all things must needs be fulfilled, which are written in the law of Moses, and the prophets, and "the psalms, concerning me. 46 And then "opened he their minds, and "he said unto them, Thus it is written, that the Christ should suffer, and "rise again from the dead the third day; 47 and that "repentance "and remission of sins should be preached in his name "unto all the nations, 48 beginning from Jerusalem. 49 Ye are witnesses of these things. 50 And behold, I send forth *the promise of my Father upon you: but tarry ye in the city, until ye be clothed with *power from on high. 51 And *he led them out until they were "over against Bethany: and he lifted up his hands, and blessed them. 52 And it came to pass, while he blessed them, "he parted from them, and was carried up into heaven. 53 And they worshipped him, and returned to Jerusalem "with great joy: 54 and were continually in the temple, *blessing God.

In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God.

The same was in the beginning with God. All things were made by him; and without him was not anything made that hath been made. In him was life; and the life was the light of men. And the light shineth in the darkness; and the darkness apprehended it not. There came a man, sent from God, whose name was John. The same came for witness, that he might bear witness of the light, that all might believe through him. He was not the light, but came that he might bear witness of the light. There was the true light, even the light which lighteth every man, coming into the world, and the world was made by him, and the world knew him not. He came unto his own, and they that were his own received him not. But to them that received him, to them gave he power to become children of God, even to them that believe on his name: which were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God. And the Word became flesh, and dwelt among us (and we beheld his glory, glory as of the only begotten from the Father), full of grace and truth. John bare witness of him, and cried, saying, This was he of whom I said, After me cometh a man which is become before me: for he was before me. And I knew him not; but that he should be made manifest to Israel. For this cause came I baptizing with water. And John bare witness, saying, I have seen the Spirit descending as a dove out of heaven; and it abode upon him.
knew him not: but he that sent me to baptize with water, he said unto me, Upon whomsoever thou shalt see the Holy Spirit descending, and abiding upon him, the same is he that baptizeth with the Holy Spirit. And I have seen, and have borne witness that this is the Son of God.

35 Again on the morrow John was standing, and two of his disciples; 36 and he looked upon Jesus as he walked, and saith, Behold, the Lamb of God! 37 And the two disciples heard him speak, and they followed Jesus. 38 And Jesus turned, and beheld them following, and saith unto them, What seek ye? And they said unto him, Rabbi (which is to say, being interpreted, Master), where abidest thou? 39 He saith unto them, Come, and ye shall see. They came therefore and saw where he abode: and they abode with him that day: it was about the tenth hour. 40 One of the two that heard John speak, and followed him, was Andrew, Simon Peter's brother. 41 He found first his own brother Simon, and said unto him, We have found the Messias (which is, being interpreted, Christ). 42 He brought him unto Jesus. Jesus looked upon him, and said, Thou art Simon the son of John: thou shalt be called Cephas (which is by interpretation Peter).

43 On the morrow he was minded to go forth into Galilee, and he foundeth Philip: and Jesus saith unto him, Follow me. 44 Now Philip was from Bethsaida, of the city of Andrew and Peter. 45 Philip findeth Nathanael, and saith unto him, We have found him of whom Moses in the law, and the prophets, did write, Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph. 46 And Nathanael said unto him, Can any good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip saith unto him, Come and see. 47 Jesus saw Nathanael coming to him, and saith of him, Behold, an Israelite indeed, in whom is no guile! 48 Nathanael saith unto him, Whence knowest thou me? Jesus answered and said unto him, Before Philip called thee, when thou wast under the fig tree, I saw thee. 49 Nathanael answered him, Rabbi, thou art the Son of God; thou art the King of Israel. 50 Jesus answered and said unto him, Because I said unto thee, I saw thee under the fig tree, believest thou that I shall see greater things than these. 51 And he saith unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Ye shall see the heaven opened, and the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of man.

2 And the third day there was a marriage in Cana of Galilee; and the mother of Jesus was there: 2 and Jesus also was bidden, and his disciples, to the marriage. 3 And when the wine failed, the mother of Jesus saith unto him, They have no wine. 4 And Jesus saith unto her, Woman, what have I to do with thee? mine hour is not yet come. 5 His mother saith unto the servants, whatsoever he saith unto you, do it. 6 Now there were six waterpots of stone set there after the Jews' manner of purifying, containing two or three firkins apiece. 7 Jesus saith unto them, Fill the waterpots with water. And they filled them up to the brim. 8 And he saith unto them, draw out now, and bear unto the ruler of the feast. And they bare it. 9 And when the ruler of the feast tasted the water now become wine, and knew not whence it was (but the servants which had drawn the water knew), the ruler of the feast calleth the bridegroom, 10 and saith unto him, Every man setteth on first the good wine; and when men have drunk freely, then that which is worse: thou hast kept the good wine until now.

11 This beginning of his signs did Jesus in Cana of Galilee, and manifested his glory; and his disciples believed on him.

12 After this he went down to Capharnaum, he, and his mother, and his brethren, and his disciples: and there they abode not many days.

13 And the passover of the Jews was at hand, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem. 14 And he found in the temple those that sold oxen and sheep and doves, and the changers of money sitting: 15 and he made a scourge of cords, and cast all out of the temple.
of the temple; both the sheep and the oxen; and he poured out the changeerus' money, and overthrew their tables; and said unto them that sold the doves he said, Take these things hence; make not my Father's house a house of merchan-tise.
17 His disciples remembered that it was written, *The zeal of thine house shall eat me up. 18 The Jews therefore answered and said unto him, "What sign shewest thou unto us, seeing that thou doest these things? 19 Jesus answered and said unto them, Destroy this 1 temple, and in three days *I will raise it up. 20 The Jews therefore said, Forty and six years was this 1 temple in building, and wilt thou raise it up in three days? 21 But he spake of "the temple of his body. 22 When therefore he was raised from the dead, *his disciples remembered that he spake this; and they believed the scripture, and the word which Jesus had said.
23 Now when he was in Jerusalem at the passover, during the feast, many believed on his name, beholding his signs which he did.
24 But Jesus *did not trust himself unto them, for 'he knew that any one should bear witness concerning 2 man; for 'he himself knew what was in man.
25 Now there was a man of the Pharisees, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews: a the same time came Jesus and said unto him,"Rabbi," we know that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can do these signs that thou doest, except God be with him.
26 Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Ye must be born again. 27 *The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the voice thereof, but knowest not whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every one that is born of the Spirit. 9 Nicodemus answered and said unto him, *How can these things be? 10 Jesus answered and said unto him, Art thou the teacher of Israel, and underestonest not these things? 11 Verily, verily, I say unto thee, We speak that we do know, and bear witness of that we have seen; and ye receive not our witness. 12 If I told you earthly things, and ye believe not, how shall ye believe, if I tell you heavenly things? 13 And no man hath ascended into heaven, but *he that descended out of heaven, even the Son of man, 'which is in heaven.
14 And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up: 15 that whosoever *believeth may *inhim have eternal life.
16 For *God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son of God. 19 And this is the gift of eternal life. 18 He that believeth on the Son of God is not judged: he that believeth not hath been judged already, because he hath not *believed on the name of the only begotten Son of God. 19
And this is the judgement, that *the light is come into the world, and men loved the darkness rather than the light; for *their works were evil. 20 For every one that *doeth illhathethe light, and cometh not to the light, lest his works should be reproved.
21 But he that *doeth the truth
*cometh to the light, that his works may be made manifest, *that they have been wrought in God.
22 After these things came Jesus and his disciples into the land of Judæa; and there he dwelt with them, and *baptized. 23 And John also was baptizing in Enon near to Salim, because there 20 was much water there: and they came, and were baptized. 24 For John was not yet cast into prison. 25 There therefore arose a questioning on the part of John’s disciples with a Jew about purifying. 26 And they came unto John, and said to him, Rabbi, he that was with thee beyond Jordan, to whom thou hast borne witness, behold, and all men come to him. 27 John answered and said, A man can receive nothing, except it have been given him from heaven. 28 Ye yourselves bear me witness, that I said, I am not the Christ, but, that I am sent before him. 29 He that hath the bride is the bridegroom: but he that loveth the bridegroom, when he seeth the bridegroom’s face, he rejoiceth greatly: because of the bridegroom’s voice: this therefore am I rejoicing to hear. 30 He must increase, but I must decrease. 31 He that cometh from above is above all: he that is of the earth is of the earth, and speaketh of the earth; he that cometh from heaven is above all. 32 What he hath seen and heard, of that he saith: and no man receiveth his witness. 33 He that hath received his witness, hath set his seal to this, that God is true. 34 For the word of God is truth. 35 The Father loveth the Son, and hath given all things into his hand. 36 He that believeth on the Son hath eternal life; but he that believeth not the Son shall not see life, but the wrath of God abideth on him. 37 When therefore the Lord knew how that the Pharisees had heard that Jesus was making and baptizing more disciples than John (although Jesus himself baptized not, but his disciples), 38 he left Judaea, and departed again into Galilee. 39 And Jesus knew how the Pharisees had heard that he was making and baptizing more disciples than John. 40 He left Judaea, and departed again into Galilee. 41 For he knew that the Pharisees had heard that he had made and baptized more disciples than John. 42 Jesus answered and said unto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink; thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given thee living water. 41 The woman saith unto him, Sir, thou hast nothing to draw with, and the well is deep: from whence then hast thou that living water? 42 Art thou greater than our father Jacob, which gave us the well, and drank thereof himself, and his sons, and his cattle? 43 Jesus answered and said unto her, Every one that drinketh of this water shall thirst again: 44 but he that drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall become in him a well of waterspringing up unto eternal life. 45 The woman saith unto him, Sir, give me this water, that I thirst not, neither come all the way hither to draw. 46 Jesus saith unto her, Go, call thy husband, and come hither. 47 The woman answered and said unto him, I have no husband. Jesus saith unto her, Thou saidst well, I have no husband: 48 for thou hast had five husbands; and he whom thou now hast is not thy husband: this hast thou said truly. 49 The woman saith unto him, Sir, I perceive that thou art a prophet. 50 Our fathers worshipped in this mountain; and ye say, that in Jerusalem is the place where men ought to worship. 51 Jesus saith unto her, Woman, believe me, the hour cometh, when ye shall worship the Father in spirit and truth: for such do the Father. 52 Be it known unto thee, that the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and truth: 53 But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and truth: 54 Some ancient authorities read that which is from heaven hath witnes" of what he hath seen and heard. 55 Or, before not: 56 Or, springing; and in ver. 14; but not in ver. 11, 12. 57 Or, he went 58 Some ancient authorities read, For Jews have no dealings with Samaritans. 59 Or, Lord 60 Or, for such the Father saith with thee.
S. JOHN.

1 And after these things there was a great feast in Jerusalem: and Jesus went up to the feast.

2 Now there is in Jerusalem by the sheep gate a pool, which is called in Hebrew Bethesda, having five porches. 3 In these lay a multitude of them that were sick, blind, halt, withered. 4 And a certain man was there, which had been an hundred and forty and eight years in his infirmity. 5 And when Jesus saw him lying, and knew that he had been a long time, he said unto him, Wilt thou be made whole? 6 And he said unto him, Sir, I have no man, when the water moveth, to put me into the pool: but when I am ambitious the water is troubled, and I go down and am made whole. 7 And a certain nobleman had a son sick, whom they called a prince of the priests: 8 When therefore he heard that Jesus was come out of Judea into Galilee, he went unto him, and besought him that he would come down, and heal his son; for he was at the point of death. 9 Jesus therefore said unto him, Except ye see signs and wonders, ye will in no wise believe. 10 The nobleman saith unto him, Sir, come down ere my child die. 11 Jesus saith unto him, Go thy way; thy son liveth. The man believed the word that Jesus spoke unto him, and he went his way. 12 And as he was now going down, his servants met him, saying, Thy son liveth. 13 So he inquired of them the hour when he began to amend. They said therefore unto him, Yesterday at the seventh hour the fever left him. 14 So the father knew that it was at that hour in which Jesus said unto him, Thy son liveth: and himself believed, and his whole house. 15 And this is again the second sign that Jesus did, having come out of Judea into Galilee. 16 Then was there a great feast in Jerusalem: and they loved Jesus because of all the miracles that he did. 17 And the Pharisees and the doctors of the law cursed him, saying, Find ye any proof that he speaketh with authority? 18 And Jesus answered and said unto them, I spake unto you that ye might be made whole. 19 For the judgment of Moses hath remained, and ye have not kept the commandment: for he said, I am the Lord that brought you out of the land of Egypt; and ye returned unto evil. 20 Ye therefore come to me, because ye will have me to speak unto you of eternal life. 21 For the words which I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life. 22 But there are among you some that believe not. For Jesus knew from the beginning who they were that believed not, and who should turn away; 23 That he might say unto the rest, Persevere in thy faith, and thou shalt live. 24 And he that shall drink of the water that I shall give shall never thirst: but the water that I shall give shall become in him a spring of living water, springing up unto everlasting life. 25 And the woman said unto him, Sir, give me this water, that I may not thirst, nor come hither to draw. 26 Jesus saith unto her, Go, call thy husband, and come again. 27 The woman answered and said, I have no husband. Jesus saith unto her, Ye said well, I have no husband. 28 For ye have had five husbands; and he whom ye now have is not thy husband: and ye say well. 29 Jesus saith unto her, Whosoever drinketh of this water shall thirst again; 30 But whosoever shall drink of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall become in him a spring of living water, springing up unto everlasting life. 31 The woman saith unto him, Sir, give me this water, that I may not thirst. For my fathers worshipped in this mountain; and ye say, In Jerusalem is the place where men ought to worship. 32 Jesus saith unto her, Woman, believe me, the hour cometh when ye shall neither in this mountain, nor yet at Jerusalem, worship the Father. 33 Ye worship ye know not what: we know what we worship: for salvation is of the Jews. 34 But the hour cometh, and now is, when true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and truth: for the Father seeketh such to worship him. 35 God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship in spirit and truth. 36 The woman saith unto him, I know that the Messiah cometh (which is called Christ): when he is come, he will declare unto us all things. 37 Jesus saith unto her, I that speak unto thee am he. 38 And upon this came his disciples; and they marvelled that he was speaking with a woman: yet no man said, What seekest thou? or, Why speakest thou with her? 39 So the woman loft her waterpot, and went away into the city, and saith to the men, Come, see a man, which told me all things that ever I did. Can this be the Christ? 40 They went out of the city, and were coming to him. 41 In the mean while the disciples prayed him, saying, Rabbi, cat. 42 But he said unto them, I have meat to eat that ye know not. 43 The disciples therefore said one to another, Hath any man brought him aught to eat? 44 Jesus saith unto them, My meat is to do the will of him that sent me, and to accomplish his work. 45 Say not ye, There are yet four months, and then cometh the harvest? behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields, that they are white already unto harvest. 46 He that reapeth receiveth wages, and gathereth fruit unto life eternal; that he that reapeth and sement work together. 47 For herein is the saying true, One soweth, and another reapeth. 48 And I sent you to reap that whereon ye have not laboured: others have laboured, and ye are entered into their labour. 49 And from that city many of the Samaritans believed on him because of the word of the woman, who testified, He told me all things that ever I did.
8. JOHN.

lying, and knew that he had been now a long time in that case, he saith unto him, Wouldest thou be made whole? 7 The sick man answered him, Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming, another steppeth down before me. 8 Jesus saith unto him, Arise, take up thy bed, and walk. 9 And straightway the man was made whole, and took up his bed and walked.

"Now it was the sabbath on that day. 10 so the Jews said unto him that was cured, It is the sabbath, and it is not lawful for thee to do any work. 11 But he answered them, He that made me whole, the same said unto me, Take up thy bed, and walk. 12 They asked him, Who is the man that said unto thee, Take up thy bed, and walk? 13 But he that was healed wist not who it was: for Jesus had conveyed himself away, a multitude being in the place.

14 Afterward Jesus found him in the temple, and said unto him, Be hold, thou art made whole: sin no more, lest a worse thing befall thee. 15 The man went away, and told the Jews that it was Jesus which had made him whole. 16 And for this cause did the Jews persecute Jesus, because he did these things on the sabbath. 17 But Jesus answered them, My Father worketh even until now, and I work. 18 For this cause therefore the Jews sought the more to kill him, 19 because he not only brake the sabbath, but also called God his own Father, making himself equal with God. 20 Jesus therefore answered and said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father doing: for what things soever he doeth, these the Son also doeth in like manner. 20 For the Father loveth the Son, and sheweth him all things that himself doeth: and greater works than these will he shew him, that ye may marvel. 21 For as the Father raiseth the dead and quickeneth them, even so the Son also quickeneth whom he will. 22 For neither doth the Father judge any man, but he hath given all judgement unto the Son: 23 that all may honour the Son, even as they honour the Father. 24 He that honoureth not the Son honoureth not the Father which sent him. 25 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth him that sent me, hath eternal life, and cometh not into judgement, but hath passed out of death into life. 25 Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour cometh, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear shall live. 26 For as the Father hath life in himself, even so gave he to the Son also to have life in himself: 27 and he gave him authority to execute judgement, because he is the Son of man. 28 Marvel not at this: for the hour cometh, in which all that are in the tombs shall hear his voice, and shall come forth: 29 they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life; and they that have done ill, unto the resurrection of judgement.

30 I can of myself do nothing: as I hear, I judge: and my judgement is righteous; because I seek not mine own will, 31 but the will of him that sent me. 32 If I bear witness of myself, my witness is not true. 33 It is another that beareth witness of me; and I know that the witness which he witnesseth of me is true. 34 Ye have sent unto John, and he hath borne witness unto the truth. 35 But the witness which I receive is not from man: howbeit I say these things, that ye may be saved. 36 He was the lamp that burneth and shineth: and ye were willing to rejoice for a season in his light. 36 But the witness which I have is greater than that of John: for the works which the Father hath given me to accomplish, the very works that I do, bear witness of me, that the Father hath sent me. 37 And the Father which sent me, he hath borne witness of me. Ye have neither heard his voice at any time, nor seen his form. 38 And ye have not his word abiding in you: for whom he sent, him ye believe not. 39 "Ye search the scriptures, because ye think that in them ye have eternal life; and these are they which bear witness of me: 40 and ye will not come to me, that ye may have life. 41 "I receive not glory from men. 42 But I know you, that ye have not the love of God in yourselves. 43 I am come in my Father's name, and ye receive me not: if another shall come in his own name, him ye will receive. 44 How can ye believe, which receive glory one of another, and the glory that cometh from the only God ye seek not? 45 Think not that I will accuse you to the Father: there is one that accuseth you, even Moses, whom ye have set your hope in. 46 For if ye believed Moses, ye would believe me; for he wrote of me. 47 But if ye believe not his writings, how shall ye believe my words? 6 After these things Jesus went away to the other side of the sea of Galilee, which is the sea of Tiberias. 2 And a great multitude followed him, because they beheld the signs which he did on them that were sick. 3 And Jesus went up into the mountain, and there he sat with his disciples. 4 Now the passover, the feast of the Jews, was at hand. 5 Jesus therefore lifting up his eyes, and seeing that a great multitude came unto him, saith unto Philip, Whence are we to buy bread, that these may eat? 6 And this he said to prove him: for he himself knew what he would do. 7 "Philip answered him, Two hundred pennyworth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one may take a little. 8 One of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, saith unto him, "There is a lad here, which hath five barley loaves and two fishes: but what are these among so many? 10 Jesus said, Make the people sit down. 11 Now there was much grass in the place. So the men sat down, in number about five thousand. 12 Jesus therefore took the loaves; and having given thanks, he distributed to them as much as they would have. 13 And when they were filled, he saith unto his disciples, Gather up the broken pieces which remain over, that nothing be lost. 14 So they gathered them up, and filled twelve baskets with broken pieces from the five barley loaves, which remained over unto them that had eaten. 15 When therefore the people saw the sign which he did, they said, This is of a truth the prophet that cometh into the world. 16 And when evening came, his disciples went down unto the sea; 17 and they entered into a boat, and were going over the sea unto Caper- naum. And it was now dark, and Jesus had not yet come to them. 18 And the sea was rising by reason of a great wind that blew. 19 When therefore they had rowed about five and twenty or thirty furlongs, they beheld Jesus walking on the sea, and drawing nigh unto the boat: and they were afraid. 20 But he saith unto them, It is I; be not afraid. 21 They were willing therefore to receive him into the boat: and straightway the boat was at the land whither they were going. 22 On the morrow the multitude which stood on the other side of the sea saw that there was none other boat there, save one, and that Jesus entered not with his disciples into the boat, but that his disciples went away alone. 23 (Howbeit there came seven boats from Tiberias nigh unto the place where they ate the bread after the Lord had given thanks;) 24 when the multitude therefore saw that Jesus was not there, neither his disciples, they themselves got into the boats, and came to Caper- naum, seeking Jesus. 25 And when they found him on the other side of the sea, they said unto him, Rabbi, when camest thou hither? 26 Jesus answered them and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Ye seek me, not because ye saw signs, but because ye ate of the loaves, and were ye believenot. 39, ye think that in them ye have eternal life; and these are they which bear witness of me: 40 and ye will not come to me, that ye may have life. 41 I receive not glory from men. 42 But I know you, that ye have not the love of God in yourselves. 43 I am come in my Father's name, and ye receive me not: if another shall come in his own name, him ye will receive. 44 How can ye believe, which receive glory one of another, and the glory that cometh from the only God ye seek not? 45 Think not that I will accuse you to the Father: there is one that accuseth you, even Moses, whom ye have set your hope in. 46 For if ye believed Moses, ye would believe me; for he wrote of me. 47 But if ye believe not his writings, how shall ye believe my words? 6 After these things Jesus went away to the other side of the sea of Galilee, which is the sea of Tiberias. 2 And a great multitude followed him, because they beheld the signs which he did on them that were sick. 3 And Jesus went up into the mountain, and there he sat with his disciples. 4 Now the passover, the feast of the Jews, was at hand. 5 Jesus therefore lifting up his eyes, and seeing that a great multitude came unto him, saith unto Philip, Whence are we to buy bread, that these may eat? 6 And this he said to prove him: for he himself knew what he would do. 7 Philip answered him, Two hundred pennyworth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one may take a little. 8 One of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, saith unto him, There is a lad here, which hath five barley loaves and two fishes: but what are these among so many? 10 Jesus said, Make the people sit down. 11 Now there was much grass in the place. Work not for the meat which perisheth, but for the meat which weltheth into eternal life, which the Son of man shall give unto you: 29 For I am the bread of life. 30 They said therefore unto him, What then dost thou for a sign, that we may see, and believe thee? what workest thou? 31 Our fathers ate the manna in the wilderness; as it is written, He gave them bread out of heaven to eat. 32 Jesus therefore said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Not Moses gave you the bread out of heaven; but my Father giveth you the true bread out of heaven. 33 For the bread of God is that which cometh down out of heaven, and giveth life unto the world. 34 They said therefore unto him, Lord, evermore give us this bread. 35 Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me shall not hunger; and he that believeth on me shall never thirst. 36 But I said unto you, Ye have seen me, and ye believe not. 37 All that ke the Father giveth me shall come unto me; and I him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out. 38 For I came down from heaven, not to do mine own will, but the will of him that sent me. 39 And this the will of him that sent me, that of all to which he hath given me I should lose nothing, but should raise it up at the last day. 40 For this is the will of my Father, that every one that believeth in him should have eternal life; and I will raise him up at the last day.

41 The Jews therefore murmured concerning him, because he said, I am the bread which came down out of heaven. 42 And they said, Is not this Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? how doth he now say, I am come down out of heaven? 43 Jesus answered and said unto them, Murmur not among yourselves. 44 No man can come to me, except the Father which sent me draw him; and I will raise him up in the last day. 45 It is written in the prophets, And they shall all be taught of God. 46 Not that any man hath seen the Father, save he which is from God, he hath seen the Father. 47 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth hath eternal life. 48 I am the bread of life. 49 Your fathers did eat the manna in the wilderness, and they died. 50 This is the bread which cometh down out of heaven, that a man may eat thereof, and not die. 51 I am the living bread which came down out of heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live for ever: ye and the bread which I will give is my flesh. 52 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that eateth this bread shall live for ever.

53 Jesus therefore said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except ye eat the flesh of the Son of man and drink his blood, ye have no life in yourselves. 54 He that eateth my flesh and drinketh my blood hath eternal life: and I will raise him up at the last day. 55 For my flesh is meat indeed, and my blood is drink indeed. 56 He that eateth my flesh and drinketh my blood hath eternal life; and I live because of the Father; so he that eateth me, he also shall live because of me. 57 This is the bread which came down out of heaven: not as the fathers did eat, and died: he that eateth this bread shall live for ever. 58 This is the bread which I will give unto the world. 59 These things said he in the synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.
before? 65 \[It is the spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing: the words that I have spoken unto you are spirit, and are life. 66 But there are some of you that believe not. For Jesus knew from the beginning who they were that believed not, and who it was that should betray him. 67 And he said, For this cause have I told you, that no man can come unto me, except it be given unto him of the Father. 68 Upon this many of his disciples went back, and walked no more with him. 69 Jesus said therefore unto the twelve, Would ye also go away? 70 Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou hast the words of eternal life. 71 And we have believed and known that thou art the Holy One of God. 72 Jesus answered them, Did I not choose you the twelve, and one of you is a devil? 73 He spoke of Judas the son of Simon Iscariot, for he it was that should betray him, being one of the twelve.

2 And after these things Jesus walked in Galilee: for he would not walk in Judæa, because the Jews sought to kill him. 2 Now the feast of the Jews, the feast of tabernacles, was at hand. 3 His brethren therefore said unto him, Depart hence, and go into Judæa, that thy disciples also may behold thy works which thou dost. 4 For no man doeth anything in secret, and himself seeketh to be known openly. If thou dost these things, manifest thyself to the world. 5 For even if his brethren did not believe on him, 6 Jesus therefore saith unto them, My time is not yet come; but your time is alway ready. 7 The world cannot hate you; but I hate it, because I testify of it, that its works are evil. 8 Go ye up unto the feast: I go not up yet unto this feast; because my time is not yet fulfilled. 9 And having said these things unto them, he abode still in Galilee.

10 But when his brethren were gone up unto the feast, then went he also up, not publically, but as it were in secret. 11 The Jews therefore sought him at the feast, and said, Where is he? 12 And there was much murmuring among the multitudes concerning him: 13 some said, He is a good man; others said, Not so, but he leadeth the multitude astray. 14 Howbeit no man spake openly of him for fear of the Jews.

15 But when it was now the midst of the feast Jesus went up into the temple, and taught. 16 The Jews therefore marvelled, saying, How knoweth this man letters, having never learned? 17 Jesus therefore answered them, and said, My teaching is not mine, but his that sent me. 18 If any man will he do his will, ye shall know of the teaching, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself. 19 He that speaketh of himself seeketh his own glory: but he that seeketh the glory of him that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him. 20 Did not Moses give you the law, and yet none of you doeth the law? 21 Why seek ye to kill me? 22 The multitude answered, Thou hast a devil! who seeketh to kill thee? 23 Jesus answered and said unto them, I did one work, and ye all marvel.

24 For this cause hath Moses given you circumcision (not that it is of Moses, but of the fathers); and on the sabbath ye circumcise a man. 25 If a man receiveth circumcision on the sabbath, that the law of Moses may not be broken; ye are wroth with me, because I made a man every whit whole on the sabbath? 26 A Judge not according to appearances, but judge righteous judgment.

27 Some therefore of them of Jerusalem said, Is not this he whom they seek to kill? 28 And lo, I speaketh openly, and they say nothing unto him. Can it be that the rulers indeed know that this is the Christ? 29 Howbeit we know this man whose he is: but when the Christ cometh, no one knoweth whence he is. 30 Jesus therefore cried in the temple, teaching and saying, Ye both know me, and know whence I am; and ye are not come of myself, but the Father sent me true, whom ye know not. 29 I know him: because I am from him, and he sent me. 30 They sought therefore to take him: and no man laid his hand on him, because his hour was not yet come. 31 But of the multitude many believed on him; and they said, When the Christ shall come, will he do more signs than those which this man hath done? 32 The Pharisees heard the multitude murmuring concerning him; and the chief priests and the Pharisees sent officers to take him. 33 Jesus therefore said, Yet a little while am I with you, and I go unto him that sent me. 34 Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, ye cannot come. 35 The Jews therefore said among themselves, Whither will this man go that we shall not find him? will he go unto the Dispersion among the Greeks, and teach the Greeks? 36 What is this word that he said, Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, ye cannot come? 37 Now on the last day, the great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink. 38 He that believeth on me, as the scriptures hath said, out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water. 39 But this spake he of the Spirit, which they that believed on him were to receive: for the Spirit was not yet given; because Jesus was not yet glorified. 40 Some of the multitude therefore, when they heard these words, said, This is of a truth the prophet. 41 Others said, This is the Christ. But some said, What, doth the Christ come out of Galilee? 42 Hath not the scripture said that the Christ cometh of the seed of David, and from Bethlehem, the village where David was? 43 So there arose a division in the multitude because of him. 44 And some of them would have taken him: but no man laid hands on him.

45 The officers therefore came to the chief priests and Pharisees; and they said unto them, Why did ye not bring him? 46 The officers answered, Never man so spake. 47 The Pharisees therefore answered them, Are ye also led astray? 48 Hath any of the rulers believed on him, or of the Pharisees? But this multitude which knoweth not the law are accursed. 49 Nicodemus saith unto them (he that came to him before, being one of them), 50 Doth our law judge a man, except it first hear from himself and know what he doeth? 52 They answered and said unto him, Art thou also of Galilee? Search, and see that out of Galilee ariseth no prophet.

53 And they went every man unto his own house: but Jesus went unto the mount of Olives. 2 And early in the morning he came again into the temple, and all the people came unto him; and he sat down, and taught them. 3 And the scribes and the Pharisees brought a woman taken in adultery: and having set her in the midst, they said unto him, 4 Master, this woman hath been taken in adultery, in the very act. 5 Now in the law Moses commanded us to stone such: what then sayest thou of her? 6 And this they said, tempting him, that they might have whereof to accuse him. But Jesus stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground. 7 But when they continued asking him, he lifted up himself, and said unto them, He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her. 8 And again he stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground. 9 And they, when they heard it, went out one by one, beginning from the eldest, even unto the last: and Jesus was left alone, and the woman, where she was, in the midst. 10 And Jesus lifted up himself, and said unto her, Woman, where are they? did no man condemn thee? 11 And she said, No man, Lord. And Jesus said, Neither do I condemn thee: go thy way; from henceforth sin no more.]
12 Again therefore Jesus spake unto them, saying, 'I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life. 13 The Pharisees therefore said unto him, *Thou bearest witness of thyself; thy witness is not true. 14 Jesus answered and said unto them, Even if I bear witness of myself, my witness is true; for I know whence I came, and whither I go; but *you know not whence I come, or whither I go. 15 Ye judge after the flesh; I judge no man. 16 Ye and if I judge, my judgement is true; for I am not alone, but I and the Father that sent me, 17 Ye and in your law it is written, that the witness of two men is true. 18 I am he that beareth witness of myself, and the Father that sent me beareth witness of me. 19 They said therefore unto him, Where is thy Father? Jesus answered, *Ye know neither me, nor my Father: *if ye knew me, ye would know my Father also. 20 These words spake he in the treasury, as he taught in the temple: and no man took him; because his hour was not yet come.

21 He said therefore again unto them, *I go away, and ye shall seek me, and *shall die in your sins: whither I go, ye cannot come. 22 The Jews therefore said, *Will he kill himself, that he saith, Whither I go, ye cannot come? 23 And he said unto them, *Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father is your will to do. 24 I said therefore unto you, that ye *shall die in your sins: for *except ye believe that I am he, ye shall die in your sins. 25 They said therefore unto him, *Who art thou? Jesus said unto them, *Even that which I have spoken unto you from the beginning. 26 I have many things to speak and to judge concerning you: but I keep them back, that the world may not number them. 27 They perceived not that the word spake to them of the Father. 28 Jesus therefore said, When ye have lifted up the Son of man, then shall ye know that *I am he, and that *I do nothing of myself, but 'as the Father taught me, I speak these things. 29 And he spake also to many other things, *which he did not say to them. 30 He spake these things, and many believed on him.

31 Jesus therefore said to those Jews which had believed him, *If ye abide in my word, then are ye my disciples: 32 and ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free. 33 They answered and said unto him, *We be Abraham's seed, and have never yet been in bondage to any man: how sayest thou, Ye shall be made free? 34 Jesus answered them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Every one that believeth on me shall have everlasting life. 35 And the bondservant abideth in the house for ever: the son abideth forever. 36 If therefore *the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed. 37 I know that ye are Abraham's seed; yet ye seek to kill me, because my word *hath not free course in you. 38 *I speak the things which I have seen with my Father: and ye also do the things which ye heard from your father. 39 They answered and said unto him, Our father is Abraham. 40 Jesus answered, *He that believeth on me, the Son of God, is lifted up; 41 Ye do the works of your father. They said unto him, *We were not born of fornication: we have *one Father, even God. 42 Jesus said unto them, *If God were your Father, ye would love me: for I came forth, and am come from God; and if ye believed me, *as ye have received doctrine from Abraham. 43 Why do ye not believe me? 44 *Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father is your will to do. *He was a murderer from the beginning, and *10 stood not in the truth, because 45 Or, I am 2 Or, How is it that I even speak to you at all? 5 Or, into. 4 Or, I am Or, I am he: and I do 5 Or, hath no place in you. 6 Or, the Father: do ye also therefore the things which ye heard from the Father. 2 Or, see 7 Some ancient authorities read ye do the works of Abraham. 9 Or, know 10 Some ancient authorities read standeth.
there is no truth in him. 1 When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father thereof. 45 But because I say the truth, ye believe me not.

46 Which of you convinceth me of sin? If I say truth, why do ye not believe me? 47 He that is of God heareth the words of God: for this cause ye hear them not, because ye are not of God. 48 The Jews answered and said unto him, Say we not well that thou art a Samaritan, and hast a devil? 49 Jesus answered, I have not a devil; but I honour my Father, and ye dishonour me. 50 But I seek not mine own glory: there is one that doeth the works of God, him ye see, and him ye do because he is in your midst. 51 Verily, verily, I say unto you, a man keep my word, he shall never see death.

52 The Jews said unto him, How then were thine eyes opened? 53 Jesus answered, If a man hath a devil, heareth not my words: for that which beareth evil hath not the ability to keep the truth. 54 Jesus answered, If I do not the works of my Father, then believe me not. 55 But if I do, though ye believe not me, believe the works: that ye may know and believe that the Father is in me, and I in him. 56 *Your father Abraham rejoiced to see my day: and he saw it, and was glad. 57 The Jews therefore said unto him, Thou art not yet fifty years old, and hast thou seen Abraham? 58 Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Before Abraham was, I am. 59 They took up stones therefore to cast at him: but Jesus hid himself, and went out of the temple. 60 And as he passed by, he saw a man blind from his birth. 61 And his disciples asked him, saying, Rabbi, who did sin, this man, or his parents, that he should be born blind? 62 Jesus answered, Neither did this man sin, nor his parents: but that the works of God should be made manifest in him. 63 We must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work. 64 When I am in the world, I am the light of the world.

65 When he had thus spoken, he departed and hid himself, and went out again, and sought another place, that he might not be found of the Jews. 66 There was much public speaking in the temple: some of the Jews, of the sect of the Pharisees, said, This is a good saying: every one of us will hear Jesus: 67 Others said, Let this man alone: let us know first what his will and doctrine is. 68 Or else because Jesus did not speak publicly, but his disciples. 69 Other said, He will not speak publicly, lest he should be put out of the temple. 70 Said others, He will not speak publicly, lest he should be put out of the temple: for he saith, I am the son of God. 71 Others said, This is the Christ; but some said, Christ is about to come, with the Son of God. 72 The Pharisees therefore said among themselves, Ye see ye see me, but ye know not what is to do. 73 Or. That he should be born blind? 80 Jesus answered, Neither did this man sin, nor his parents: but that the works of God should be made manifest in him.

born blind: 21 but how he now seeth, we know not; or who opened his eyes, we know not: ask him; he is of age: he shall speak for himself. 22 These things said his parents. 23 The Pharisees therefore said to them, 24 "Are we also blind?" 41 Jesus said unto them, If ye were blind, ye would have no sin: but now ye say, We see: your sin remaineth.

10 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that entereth not by the door into the fold of the sheep, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber.

40 Those of the Pharisees which were with him heard these things, and said unto him, "Are we also blind?" 41 Jesus said unto them, If ye were blind, ye would have no sin: but now ye say, We see: your sin remaineth.

Therefore doth the Father love me, because I lay down my life, that I may take it again. No one taketh it away from me, but I lay it down of myself. I have power to lay it down, and I have power to take it again. This commandment received I from my Father. There arose a division again among the Jews because of these words. And many of them said, He hath a devil, and is mad; why heareth ye him? Others said, These are not the sayings of one possessed with a devil. Can a devil open the eyes of the blind? And it was the feast of the dedication at Jerusalem: it was winter; and Jesus was walking in the temple in Solomon's porch. The Jews therefore came round about him, and said unto him, How long dost thou hold us in suspense? If thou art the Christ, tell us plainly. Jesus answered them, I told you, and ye believe not: the works that I do in my Father's name, these bear witness of me. But ye believe not, because ye are not of my sheep. My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me: and I give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish, and no one shall snatch them out of my hand. My Father, which hath given them unto me, is greater than all: and no one is able to snatch them out of the Father's hand. The Jews took up stones again to stone him. Jesus answered them, Many good works have I shewed you from the Father; for which of those works do ye stone me? The Jews answered him, For a good work we stone thee; and after this he saith to the disciples, Let us go into Judaea again. The disciples say unto him, Rabbi, the Jews were but now seeking to stone thee; and goest thou thither again? Jesus answered, Are there not twelve hours in the day? If a man walk in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world. But if a man walk in the night, he stumbleth, because the light is not in him. These things spake he: and after this he saith unto them, Our friend Lazarus is fallen asleep; but I go, that I may awake him out of sleep. Lazarus is dead. Then Jesus therefore said unto them, Let us go unto him. II Now a certain man was sick, Lazarus of Bethany, of the village of Mary and her sister Martha. And it was that Mary which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her hair, whose brother Lazarus was sick. The sisters therefore sent unto him, saying, Lord, be thou the light of God, that the Son of God may be glorified thereby. Now Jesus loved Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus. When therefore he heard that he was sick, he abode at that time two days in the place where he was. Then after this he saith to the disciples, Let us go into Judaea again. The disciples say unto him, Rabbi, the Jews were but now seeking to stone thee; and goest thou thither again? Jesus answered, Are there not twelve hours in the day? If a man walk in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world. But if a man walk in the night, he stumbleth, because the light is not in him. These things spake he: and after this he saith unto them, Our friend Lazarus is fallen asleep; but I go, that I may awake him out of sleep. The disciples therefore said unto him, Lord, if he is fallen asleep, he will recover. Now Jesus had spoken of his death; but they thought that he spake of taking rest in sleep. Then Jesus therefore said unto them plainly, Lazarus is dead. And I am glad for your sakes that he was not there, to the intent ye may believe; nevertheless let us go unto him. 16 Thomas therefore, who is called Didymus, said unto his fellow-disciples, Let us also go, that we may die with him.

17 So when Jesus came, he found that he had been in the tomb a four days already. 18 Now Bethany was nigh unto Jerusalem, about fifteen furlongs off; 19 and many of the Jews had come to Martha and Mary, 20 to console them concerning their brother. 21 Martha therefore, when she heard that Jesus was coming, went and met him; but Mary still sat in the house. 22 Martha therefore said unto Jesus, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died. 23 And even now I know that, whatsoever thou shalt ask of God, 24 God will give thee. 25 Martha saith unto him, Thy brother shall rise again. 26 Jesus saith unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth on me, thou shalt live. 27 She saith unto him, Yea, Lord: I have believed that thou art the Christ, the Son of God, even from the resurrection and the life. 28 And when she had said this, she went away, and called her sisters secretly, saying, 29 The Master is here, and calleth thee. 30
And when she had said this, she went away, and called her sister secretly, saying, 31 The Master is here, and calleth thee. 32 And when she had heard it, arose quickly, and went unto him. 33 Mary therefore, when she came where Jesus was, and saw him, fell down at his feet, saying unto him, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died. 34 When Jesus therefore saw her weeping, and the Jews also weeping which came with her, he was troubled. 35 And said, Where have ye laid him? They say unto him, Lord, come and see.
36 Jesus therefore again groaning in himself cometh to the tomb. Now it was a stone lay against it. 37 Jesus saith, Take ye away the stone. 38 Martha, the sister of him that was dead, saith unto him, Lord, by this time he teacheth, thou shouldst did the glory of God? 41 So they took away the stone. And Jesus lifted up his eyes, and said, Father, I thank thee that thou heardest me.
42 And I knew that thou hearest me:
but because of the multitude which standeth around, said I, 'that they may believe that thou didst send me. 43 And when he had thus spoken, he cried with a loud voice, Lazarus, come forth.

bound hand and foot with grave-clothes; and his face was bound to Mary and beheld that which he did, believed on him. 46 But some of them went away to the Pharisees, and told them the things which Jesus had done.

47 The chief priests therefore and the Pharisees gathered a council, and said, What do we? for this man doeth many signs. 48 If we let him thus alone, all men will believe on him: and because of the multitude which standeth around I said it, 49 that they may believe that thou didst send me. 49 And when he had thus spoken, he cried with a loud voice, Lazarus, come forth.
50 He that was dead came forth, them, Loose him, and let him go.

and should die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not. 5 They all this he said not of himself: but being high priest that year, he prophesied that Jesus should die for the nation; 52 and not for the nation only, but that he might also gather together into one the children of God that are scattered abroad. 53 So from that day forth they took counsel that they might put him to death.

54 Jesus therefore walked no more openly among the Jews, but departed thence into the country near to the wilderness, into a city called Ephraim; and there he tarrried with the disciples. 55 Now either the passover of the Jews was at hand: and 5 many went up to Jerusalem out of the country before the passover, to purify themselves.
56 They sought therefore forJesus, and spake on with another, as they came, 57 The chief priests and the Pharisees had given commandment, that, if any man knew where he was, he should shew it, that they might take him.

12 Before the passover came unto Bethany, where Lazarus was, whom Jesus raised from the dead. 2 So they made him a supterd there: and they came, not forJesus'

Lazarus also, whom he had raised from the dead. 10 But the chief priests took counsel that they might put Lazarus also to death; 11 be-because that 12 by reason of him many of the Jews went away, and believed on Jesus.

12 On the morrow there was a great multitude that had come to the feast, when they heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem, 13 took the branches of the palm trees, and went forth to meet him, and cried out, Hosanna: Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord, even the King of Israel. 14 And Jesus, having found a young ass,
he was, he should shew it, that they might take he.

11 When Jesus was glorified, then remembered they that these things had done the servants of him. 12 Then took they counsel that they might put him to death.

20 Now there were certain Greeks among those that went up to worship at the feast: 21 these therefore came to 2 Philip, who was of Bethsaida of Galilee, and asked him, saying, Sir, we would see Jesus. 22 Philip cometh and telleth Andrew and Philip, and they tell Jesus. 23 And Jesus answereth them, saying, the hour is come, 2 that the Son of man should be glorified. 24 Verily, veri-

9 The common people therefore of the Jews learned that he was there: and they came, not for Jesus' sake only, but that they might see Lazarus also, whom he had raised from the dead. 10 But the chief priests took counsel that they might put Lazarus also to death; 11 be-because that 12 by reason of him many of the Jews went away, and believed on Jesus.

there shall also my servant be: if any man serve me *him will the Father honour. 27 *Now is my soul troubled; and what shall I say? Father, *save me from this hour. But *for this cause came I unto this hour. 28 Father, glorify thy name. There came therefore a voice out of heaven, saying, I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again. 29 The multitude therefore, that stood by, and heard it, said that it had thundered: others said, *An angel hath spoken to him. 30 Jesus answered and said, *This voice hath not come for my sake, but for your sakes. 31 *Now is the judgement of this world: now shall the prince of this world be cast out. 32 And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, *will draw all men unto myself. 33 But this he said, *signifying by what manner of death he should die. 34 The multitude therefore answered him, We have heard out of the law that the Christ abideth forever: and how sayest thou, *The Son of man must be lifted up? who is this Son of man? 35 Jesus therefore said unto them, *Yet a little while is the light among you. *Walk while ye have the light, that darkness may not take you: and he that walketh in the darkness knoweth not whither he goeth. 36 While ye have the light, believe on the light, that ye may become sons of light. 37 These things spake Jesus, and he departed and hid himself from them. 38 Yet a little while is the light among you. *Walk while ye have the light, that darkness may overtake you not: and *he that walketh in the darkness knoweth not whither he goeth. 39 While ye have the light, believe on the light, that ye may become sons of light. 40 These things spake Jesus, and he departed and hid himself from them. 37 But though he had done so many signs before them, yet they believed not on him: 38 that the word of Isaiah the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spake, *Lord, who hath believed our report? And to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed? 39 For this cause they *could not believe, for that Isaiah said again, 40 *He hath blinded their eyes, and he *hardened their heart; Lest they should see with their eyes, and perceive with their heart, And should turn, And I should heal them. 41 These things said Isaiah, because he saw his glory; and he spake of him. 42 Nevertheless even of the rulers many believed on him; 43 but *because of the Pharisees he did not *confess *of *himself, lest they should be put out of the synagogue: 44 *for they loved the glory of men more than the glory of God. 45 And Jesus cried and said, *He that believeth on me, believeth not on me, but *on him that sent me. 46 *And he that *beholdeth me shall behold him that sent me. 47 And if any man *hearken my sayings, and keep them not, I judge him not: for I came not to judge the world, but to save the world. 48 *He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my sayings, hath one that judgeth him: *the word that I speak, the same shall judge him in the last day. 49 For I spake not from mine own self; but the Father whom sent me hath given me a commandment, what I should say, and what I should speak. 50 And I know that his commandment is life eternal: the things therefore which I speak, even as the Father hath said unto me, so I speak. 1 Now before the feast of the passover, Jesus knowing that his hour was come that he should depart out of this world unto the Father, *having loved his own which were in the world, he loved them unto the end. 2 And during supper, *the devil having already put into the heart of Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, to betray him, 3 Jesus, knowing *that the Father had given all things into his hands, and that *he came forth from God, and *goeth unto God, *riseth from supper, and layeth aside his garments; and he took a towel, and 4 *girded himself. 5 Then he *poured water into the bason, and began to wash the disciples' feet, and to wipe them with the towel whereewith he was girded. 6 So he cometh to Simon Peter. He saith unto him, Lord, dost thou wash my feet? 7 *Jesus answered and said unto him, What do *I thou knowest now; but thou shalt understand hereafter. 8 *Peter saith unto him,

When therefore he was gone out of Jerusalem, Jesus went into the country of Samaria.

13 Now there is nothing hid from the skies, and the earth cannot contain the words of truth.

14 Verily, verily, I say unto you, if ye have known the Father, ye have also known me.

15 Verily, verily, I say unto you, he that receiveth me receiveth me that sent me.

16 Simon Peter saith unto him, Lord, whom shall I go from thee?

17 Verily, verily, I say unto thee, wheresoever thou goest, I will go also.

18 The cowardly have not stood firm, in whose mouth thou hast spoken these things.

19 Simon Peter saith to him, Lord, I am ready to go with thee both to death.

20 Lord, why must I go? I am ready to go both to death.

21 Lord, I am ready to go both to death.

22 The night is at hand; and the devil desireth to have you, that he may work on you.

23 He saith unto them, But now shall the Son of man go to the place where the Bible is written.

24 Simon Peter saith unto him, Lord, whither goest thou?

25 The Lord saith, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, there is a way; and there is a way, and there is a way.

26 Thomas saith unto him, Lord, we know not where thou goest.

27 Thomas said, Lord, we know not where thou goest.

28 Simon Peter saith to him, Lord, whither goest thou?

29 Lord, why must I go from thee? I am ready to go with thee both to death.
we know not whither thou goest; how know we the way? 6 Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, and the truth, and the life: no one cometh unto the Father, but by me. 7 If ye had known me, ye would have known my Father also: from henceforth ye know him, and ye have seen him. 8 Philip saith unto him, Lord, show us the Father. All this shall be in you. 9 Jesus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and dost thou not know me, Philip? he that hath seen me hath seen the Father; how sayest thou, Shew us the Father? 10 Believest thou not that I am in the Father, and the Father in me? the words that I say unto you, I speak not from myself: but the Father abiding in me doeth his works. 11 Believe me that I am in the Father, and the Father in me: or else I believe me for the very works' sake. 12 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto the Father. 13 And whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son. 14 If ye ask anything in my name, that will I do. 15 If ye love me, ye will keep my commandments. 16 And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may be with you for ever, even the Holy Spirit, whom the Father shall send in my name, that he may teach you all things, and bring forth glory to me. 17 Peace I leave with you, and my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be fearful. 18 Ye have heard how I said unto you, I go away, and I come unto you. If ye loved me, ye would have rejoiced, because I go unto the Father. 19 And now I have told you, before it come to pass, that, the world may know that I love the Father, and as the Father gave me commandment, even so do I. Arise, let us go hence. 20 I am the true vine, and my Father is the husbandman. 21 Every branch in me that beareth not fruit, he taketh it away: and every branch that beareth fruit, he cleaneth it, that it may bear more fruit. 22 Ye are clean because of the word which I have spoken unto you. 23 Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; so neither can ye, except ye abide in me. 24 I am the vine, ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same beareth much fruit: for apart from me ye and will manifest myself unto him. 25 Judas (not Iscariot) saith unto him, Lord, what is come to pass that thou wilt manifest thyself unto us, and not unto the world? 26 Jesus answered and said unto him, If a man love me, he will keep my word: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him. 27 Peace I leave with you, and my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be fearful. 28 Ye have heard how I said unto you, I go away, and I come unto you. If ye loved me, ye would have rejoiced, because I go unto the Father. 29 And now I have told you, before it come to pass, that, the world may know that I love the Father, and as the Father gave me commandment, even so do I. Arise, let us go hence. 30 I am the true vine, and my Father is the husbandman. 31 Every branch in me that beareth not fruit, he taketh it away: and every branch that beareth fruit, he cleaneth it, that it may bear more fruit. 32 Ye are clean because of the word which I have spoken unto you. 33 Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; so neither can ye, except ye abide in me. 34 I am the vine, ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same beareth much fruit: for apart from me ye and will manifest myself unto him.
8. JOHN.

8:16 These things have I spoken unto you, that ye should not be made to stumble.

8:2 They shall put you out of the synagogues: ye shall suffer persecution; and ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake.

8:16 Ye are my friends, if ye do the things which I command you. 17 Ye shall be my disciples; even as I have kept my Father's commandments, and abide in his love. 18 These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy may be fulfilled in you. 19 I have told you this, that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be fulfilled. 20 Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends. 21 Ye are my friends, if ye do the things which I command you. 22 And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may be with you for ever, 23 even the Spirit of truth, which the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you. 24 I will not leave you comfortless; I will come unto you. 25 Little children, yet ye have received my doctrine, and have not rejected my speech. 26 And now, when I go, I will ye this comfort, that in me ye believe. 27 But the Comforter, whom I will send unto you, the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: ye know him, for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you. 28 I will not leave you comfortless; I will come to you. 29 After I am gone away, then will ye know that I am in my Father, and ye in me, and I in you. 30 He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me: and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him. 31 But these things will I first tell you, that, when I go away, I will send the Comforter unto you. 32 When he is come, he will reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgement: 33 of sin, because they believe not on me; 34 of righteousness, because I go to the Father, and ye behold me no more; 35 of judgement, because the prince of this world hath been judged. 36 I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now. 37 But these things will I first tell you, that, when I go away, I will send the Comforter unto you. 38 When he is come, he will reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgement: 39 of sin, because they believe not on me; 40 of righteousness, because I go to the Father, and ye behold me no more; 41 of judgement, because the prince of this world hath been judged. 42 I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now. 43 But these things will I first tell you, that, when I go away, I will send the Comforter unto you.

S. JOHN.

ACTS 16. 13.

18 And ye therefore now have sorrow: but I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no one take from you. 19 And in that day ye shall ask me nothing. Verily, verily, I say unto you, If ye shall ask anything of the Father, he will give it you in your name.

20 Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name: ask, and ye shall receive, that your joy may be fulfilled.

21 These things have I spoken unto you in proverbs: but the hour cometh, when I shall no more speak unto you in proverbs, but shall tell you plainly of the Father.

22 In that day ye shall ask in my name: and I say not unto you, That I will pray for them: 23 But I: pray not for the world; 24 But for the Father himself loveth you, because ye have loved me, and have believed that I came forth from the Father. 25 I came out from the Father, and am come into the world: again, I leave the world, and go unto the Father.

26 His disciples say, Lo, now speaketh thou plainly, and speakest no more in proverbs. 27 Now know we that thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should ask thee: by this we believe that thou wast come forth from God. 28 Jesus answered them, Do ye now believe? 29 Behold, the hour cometh, yea, is come, that ye shall be scattered, every man to his own, and shall leave me alone: and yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me.

30 These things have I spoken unto you, that ye may have peace: in the world ye shall have tribulation: but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world.

1 Thessalonians 1.9. 17 And lifting up his eyes to heaven, he said, Father, the hour is come; glorify thy Son, that the Son may glorify thee: 2 even as thou gavest him authority over all flesh, that whatsoever thou hast given him, to them he should give eternal life. 3 And this is life eternal, that they should know thee the only true God, and him whom thou didst send; even Jesus Christ. 4 I glorified thee on the earth, having accomplished the work which thou hast given me to do. 5 And now, O Father, glorify thou me with thine own self with the glory which I had with thee before the world was. 6 I manifested thy name unto them, and thou gavest me out of the world: thine they were, and thou gavest them to me; and they have kept thy word. 7 Now they know that whatsoever thou hast given me is from thee: 8 for the words which thou gavest me I have given unto them; and they received them, and knew of a truth, that I came forth from thee, and they believed that thou didst send me. 9 I asked not for them: I pray for them: 10 That they all might be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us, that the world may believe that thou hast sent me. 11 The glory which thou gavest me I have given them; that they also may be one in me, even as thou, Father, art in me.
but for those whom thou hast given me; for they are thine: and all things that are mine are thine, and thine are mine: and I am glorified in them. 11 And I am no more in the world, and these are in the world, and I come to thee. 12 Holy Father, keep them in thy name which thou hast given me, that they may be one, even as we are.

13 While I was with them, I kept them in thy name which thou hast given me: and I have guarded them, and not one of them perished, but the son of perdition; that the scripture might be fulfilled. 14 But now I come to thee; and these things I speak in the world, that they may have my joy fulfilled in themselves.

15 I pray not that thou shouldest take them from the world, but that thou shouldest keep them from the evil one. 16 They are not of the world, even as I am not of the world. 17 Sanctify them in the truth: thy word is truth. 18 As thou didst send me into the world, even so sent I them into the world.

19 And for their sakes I sanctify myself, that they themselves also may be sanctified in truth. 20 Neither for these only do I pray, but for all them which whatsoever thy Son shall give me I will that they should be one; even as we are one.

21 I in them, and thou in me, that they may be perfected into one; that the world may know that thou hast loved me. 22 And the glory which thou hast given me I have given unto them; and I in them, that they may be one, even as we are one; even as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me.

23 And the glory which thou hast given me I have given unto them; and I in them, that they may be perfected into one; that the world may know that thou didst send me, and lovedst them, even as thou lovedst me. 24 Father, that which thou hast given me I will that where I am, they also may be with me; that they may behold my glory, which thou hast given me: for thou lovedst me before the foundation of the world.

25 O righteous Father, the world knew thee not, but I knew thee; and these knew that thou didst send me; and I made known unto them thy name, and will make it known; that the love wherewith thou lovedst me may be in them, and I in them.
one man should die for the people.

15 And Simon Peter followed Jesus, and so did another disciple. Now that disciple was known unto the high priest, and entered in with Jesus into the court of the high priest; 16 but Peter was standing at the door without. So the other disciple, which was known unto the high priest, went out and spake unto her that kept the door, and brought in Peter.

17 The maid therefore that kept the door saith unto Peter, Art thou also one of this man's disciples? He saith, I am not. 18 Now the servants and the officers were standing there, having made a fire of coals; for it was cold; and they were warming themselves: and Peter also was with them, standing and warming himself.

19 The high priest therefore asked Jesus of his disciples, and of his teaching. 20 Jesus answered him, I have spoken openly to the world; I ever taught in synagogues, and in the temple, where all the Jews come together; and in secret spake I nothing. 21 Why askest thou me? ask them that have heard me, what I spake unto them: behold, these know the things which I said. 22 And when he had said this, one of the officers standing by struck Jesus with his hand, saying, Answerest thou the high priest so? 23 Jesus answered him, If I have spoken evil, bear witness of the evil: but if well, why smittest thou me? 24 Annas therefore sent him bound unto Caiphas the high priest.

25 Now Simon Peter was standing and warming himself. They said therefore unto him, Art thou also one of his disciples? He denied, and said, I am not. 26 One of the servants of the high priest, being a kinsman of him whose ear Peter cut off, saith unto him, Did not I see thee in the garden with him? 27 Peter therefore denied again: and a third time said he, I know not the man. 28 They lead Jesus therefore from Caliphas into the palace: and it was early; and they themselves entered not into the palace, that they might not be defiled, but might eat the passover. 29 Pilate therefore went out unto them, and saith, What accusation bring ye against this man? 30 They answered and said unto him, If this man were not an evil-doer, we should not have delivered him up unto thee. 31 Pilate therefore said unto them, Take him yourselves, and judge him according to your law. The Jews said unto him, It is not lawful for us to put any man to death: 32 that the word of Jesus might be fulfilled, which he spake, signifying by what manner of death he should die.

33 Pilate therefore entered again into the palace, and called Jesus, and said unto him, Art thou the King of the Jews? 34 Jesus answered, Sayest thou this of thyself? or did others tell it thee concerning me? 35 Pilate answered, Am I a Jew? Thine own nation and the chief priests delivered thee unto me: what hast thou done? 36 Jesus answered, My kingdom is not of this world: if my kingdom were of this world, then would my servants fight, that I should not be delivered unto the Jews: but now is my kingdom not from hence. 37 Pilate therefore said unto him, Art thou a king then? Jesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a king. 38 To this end have I been born, and to this end came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth. 39 Every one that is of the truth heareth my voice.

40 Then Pilate therefore said unto them, Art thou a king then? Jesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a king. 41 To this end have I been born, and to this end came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth. 42 And when he had said this, he went out again unto the Jews, and saith unto them, I find no crime in him.

43 But ye have a custom, that I should release unto you one at the passover: will ye therefore that I release unto you the King of the Jews? 44 They cried out again, saying, Not this man, but Barabbas. Now Barabbas was a robber.

45 Then Pilate therefore took Jesus, and scourged him. 46 And the soldiers plaited a crown of thorns, and put it upon his head, and arrayed him in a purple garment: and they led him out, and scourged him. 47 And set him crossway the cock crew. 48 They lead Jesus therefore from Caiaphas into the palace: and it was early; and they themselves entered not into the palace, that they might not be defiled, but might eat the passover. 49 Pilate therefore went out unto them, and saith, What accusation bring ye against this man? 50 They answered and said unto him, If this man were not an evil-doer, we should not have delivered him up unto thee. 51 Pilate therefore said unto them, Take him yourselves, and judge him according to your law. The Jews said unto him, It is not lawful for us to put any man to death: 52 that the word of Jesus might be fulfilled, which he spake, signifying by what manner of death he should die.

53 Pilate therefore entered again into the palace, and called Jesus, and said unto him, Art thou the King of the Jews? 54 Jesus answered, Sayest thou this of thyself? or did others tell it thee concerning me? 55 Pilate answered, Am I a Jew? Thine own nation and the chief priests delivered thee unto me: what hast thou done? 56 Jesus answered, My kingdom is not of this world: if my kingdom were of this world, then would my servants fight, that I should not be delivered unto the Jews: but now is my kingdom not from hence. 57 Pilate therefore said unto him, Art thou a king then? Jesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a king. 58 To this end have I been born, and to this end came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth. 59 Every one that is of the truth heareth my voice.

60 Then Pilate therefore said unto them, Art thou a king then? Jesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a king. 61 To this end have I been born, and to this end came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth. 62 And when he had said this, he went out again unto the Jews, and saith unto them, I find no crime in him.

63 But ye have a custom, that I should release unto you one at the passover: will ye therefore that I release unto you the King of the Jews? 64 They cried out again, saying, Not this man, but Barabbas. Now Barabbas was a robber.

65 Then Pilate therefore took Jesus, and scourged him.
And Pilate went out again, and said unto them, Behold, I bring him out to you, that ye may know that I find no crime in him. 5 Jesus therefore came out, wearing the crown of thorns and the purple garment. And Pilate saith unto them, Behold, the man! 6 When therefore the chief priests and the officers saw him, they cried out, saying, Crucify him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, Take yourselves, and crucify him: for I find no crime in him. 7 The Jews answered him, We have a law, and by that law he ought to die, because he made himself the Son of God. 8 When Pilate therefore heard this saying, he was more afraid; 9 and he entered into the palace again, and saith unto Jesus, Whence art thou? But Jesus gave him no answer. 10 Pilate therefore saith unto him, Speakest thou not unto me? knowest thou not that I have power to release thee, and have power to crucify thee? 11 Jesus answered him, Thou wouldest have no power against me, except it were given thee from above: therefore I that delivered me unto thee had greater sin. 12 Upon this Pilate sought to release him: but the Jews cried out, saying, If thou release this man, he whom they have set before us, whom we saw and heard, speaking against Caesar, and saying, I am king of the Jews, this man will not cease from teaching us. 13 Then Pilate therefore took Jesus, and smote him with the palms of his hands, 14 and wrote a title also, and put it before him: 15 (and the writing was in Hebrew, and in Latin, and in Greek,) 16 Jesus of Nazareth, the King of the Jews. 17 This title therefore read many of the Jews: for the place where Jesus was crucified was nigh to the city: and it was written in Hebrew, and in Latin, and in Greek. 18 The chief priests of the Jews therefore said to Pilate, Write not, The King of the Jews; but, that he said, I am King of the Jews. 19 Pilate answered, What I have written I have written. 20 The soldiers therefore, when they had crucified Jesus, took his garments, and made four parts, to every soldier a part; and also the coat: now the coat was without seam, woven from the top throughout. 21 They parted my garments among them, and upon my vesture did they cast lots. 22 These things therefore the soldiers did. 23 But there were standing by the cross of Jesus his mother, and his mother's sister, Mary the wife of Clopas, and Mary Magdalene. 24 When Jesus therefore saw his mother, and the disciple standing by whom he loved, he saith unto his mother, Woman, behold, thy son! 25 Then saith he to the disciple, Behold, thy mother! And from that hour the disciple took her unto his own home. 26 After this Jesus, knowing that all things were now finished, that the scripture might be accomplished, saith, I thirst. 27 There was set there a vessel full of vinegar: so they put a sponge full of vinegar upon hyssop, and brought it to his mouth. 28 When Jesus therefore had received the vinegar, he said, It is finished: and he bowed his head, and gave up his spirit. 29 The Jews therefore, because it was the Preparation, that the bodils should not remain on the cross upon the sabbath (for the day of that sabbath was 'a high day), asked of Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken away. 32 The soldiers therefore came, and brake the legs of the first, and of the other * which was crucified with him: 33 but when they came to Jesus, and saw that he was dead already, they brake not his legs: 34 howbeit one of the soldiers with a spear pierced his side, and straightway there came out * blood and water. 35 And he that hath seen hath borne witness, and * his witness is true: and he knoweth that he saith true, * that ye also may believe. 36 * For these things were written, that the scripture might be fulfilled, * A bone of him shall not be broken. 37 And again another scripture saith, * They shall look on him whom they pierced.

38 And after these things Joseph of Arimathæa, being a disciple of Jesus, but secretly * for fear of the Jews, asked of Pilate that his body might be taken away. 39 Pilate gave him leave. He came therefore, and took away his body. 40 And there came also Nicodemus, he who at the first came to him by night, * bringing a mixture of myrrh and aloes, about a hundred pound weight.

41 Now in the place where he was crucified there was a garden; and in the garden a new tomb wherein was never man yet laid. 42 There was laid therefore the body of Jesus, and bound it in linen clothes with the spices, as the custom of the Jews is to bury.

43 Now on the first day of the week cometh Mary Magdalene early, while it was yet dark, unto the tomb; and seeth the stone taken away from the tomb. 44 She runneth therefore, and cometh to Simon Peter, and to the other disciple, * whom Jesus loved, and saith unto them, They have taken away the Lord out of the tomb, and we know not where they have laid him. 45 Peter therefore went forth, and the other disciple, and they went toward the tomb. 46 And they ran both together: and the other disciple outran Peter,
And after eight days again his disciples were within, and Thomas with them. Jesus cometh, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you. Then saith he to Thomas, Reach hither thy finger, and see my hands; and reach hither thy hand, and put it into my side: and be not faithless, but believing. Thomas answered and said unto him, My Lord and my God. Jesus saith unto him, Thomas, son of Zebedee, art thou come to believe, because thou hast seen me? blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed.

21 After these things Jesus manifested himself again to the disciples, at the sea of Tiberias; and he manifested himself unto them, I go a fishing. They say unto him, We also come with thee. They went forth, and entered into a ship; and continued fishing. But when they had made a little way, they saw Jesus standing on the shore, and say unto him, Lord, who art thou? Jesus saith unto them, Ye have no bread? Go and catch the fish, and whatsoever thou shalt take out of the sea, cast into this basket. So they went forth, and did as Jesus commanded them; and they took out a great number of fishes, and a net wherein they had not much. Then that disciple which Jesus loved saith unto Peter, It is the Lord. And as soon as Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he put on his coat, (for he had cast in the net,) and came softly into the sea; but the other disciples came in a little boat, dragging the net with fish. Then, when they had brought their boats to land, they forsook all, and followed him.

22 When he was come into the land, he took unto him the twelve disciples, and sat with them on the sea shore. And he taught them many things, and said unto them, Hear ye me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light. Then said Jesus unto them, Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.
THE ACTS OF THE APOSTLES.

1 The 1 former treatise I made, O Theophilus, concerning all that Jesus began both to do and to teach, until the day in which he was received up, after that he had given commandment through the Holy Ghost unto the apostles whom he had chosen; 3 to whom also he showed himself alive after his passion by many proofs, appearing unto them by the space of forty days, and speaking the things concerning the kingdom of God: 4 and, 6 being assembled together with them, he charged them not to depart from Jerusalem, but to wait for the promise of the Father, which, said he, ye heard from me: 5 for John indeed baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost, not many days hence. 6 They therefore, when they were come together, asked him, saying, Lord, dost thou at this time restore the kingdom to Israel? 7 And he said unto them, It is not for you to know "times or seasons, which the Father hath set within his own authority. 8 But ye shall receive power, when the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be my witnesses both in Jerusalem, and in all Judæa and Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth. 9 And when he had said these things, as they were looking steadfastly into heaven as he went, behold, two men stood beside them in white apparel; 10 which also said, Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye looking into heaven? this Jesus, which was received up from you into heaven, shall so come in like manner as ye beheld him going into heaven. 11 Then returned they unto Jerusalem from the mount called Olivet, which is nigh unto Jerusalem, a sabbath day's journey off. 12 And when they were come in, they went up into the upper chamber, where they were abiding: both Peter and John and James and Andrew, Philip and Thomas, Bartholomew and Matthew, James the son of Alphaeus, and Simon the Zealot, and Judas the son of James. 14 These all with one accord continued steadfastly in prayer, with the women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with his brethren.

15 And in these days Peter stood up in the midst of the brethren, and said (and there was a multitude of persons gathered together, about a hundred and twenty), 16 Brethren, it was needful that the scripture should be fulfilled, which the Holy Ghost spake before by them of David concerning Judas, who was guide to them that took Jesus.

17 For he was numbered among us, and received his portion in this ministry. 18 (Now this man obtained a field with the reward of iniquity; and falling headlong, he burst asunder in the midst, and all his bowels gushed out.) 19 And it became known to all the dwellers at Jerusalem; insomuch that, in their language that field was called Akeldama, that is, The Field of Blood.

20 For it is written in the book of Psalms, 'Let his habitation be made desolate, and no man dwell therein:

21 His office let another take.

22 Of the men therefore which have companied with us all the time that the Lord Jesus went in and went out among us, beginning from the baptism of John, unto the day that he was received up from us, of these must one become a witness with us of his resurrection.

23 And they put forward two, Joseph called Barsabbas, who was surnamed Justus, and Matthias. 24 And they prayed, and said, Thou, Lord, which knowest the hearts of all men, shew of these two the one whom thou hast chosen. 25 And he took the lot of Matthias, for the apostleship from which Judas fell away, that he might go to his own place. 26 And they gave lots for them; and the lot fell upon Matthias; and he was numbered with the eleven apostles.
And your young men shall see visions,
And your old men shall dream dreams:
18 Yea and on my servants and
And on my handmaids in those days
Will I pour forth of my Spirit; and they shall prophesy.
19 And I will shew wonders in the heaven above,
And signs on the earth beneath:
Blood, and fire, and vapour of smoke:
20 The sun shall be turned into darkness,
And the moon into blood,
Before the day of the Lord come,
That great and notable day:
21 And it shall be, that whatsoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved.
22 Ye men of Israel, hear these words: Jesus of Nazareth, a man approved of God unto you by mighty works and wonders and signs, which God did by him in the midst of you, even as ye yourselves know; 23 him, being delivered up by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye by the hand of wicked men did crucify and slay: 24 whom God raised up, having loosed the pains of death: because it was not possible that he should be holden of it.
25 For David saith concerning him,
I beheld the Lord always be before my face;
For he is on my right hand, that I should not be moved:
26 Therefore my heart was glad, and my tongue rejoiced; Moreover my flesh also shall dwell in hope:
27 Because thou wilt not leave my soul in Hades,
Neither wilt thou give thy Holy One to see corruption.
28 Thou madest known unto me the ways of life;
Thou shalt make me full of gladness with thy countenance.
29 Brethren, I may say unto you freely of the patriarch David, that he both died and was buried, and his tomb is with us unto this day.
30 Being therefore a prophet, and knowing that God had sworn with an oath, that of the fruit of his loins he would set one upon his throne; 31 he foreseeing this spake of the resurrection of the Christ, that neither was he left in Hades, nor did his flesh see corruption. 32 This Jesus did God raise up, whereof we all are witnesses.
33 Being therefore by the right hand of God exalted, and having received of the promise of the Holy Ghost, he hath poured forth this, which ye see and hear.
34 For David ascended not into the heavens: but he saith himself,
'The Lord said unto my Lord, Sitt on my right hand,'
Now Peter and John were going up into the temple at the hour of prayer, the ninth hour. And a certain man that was lame from his mother's womb was brought, whom they laid daily at the door of the temple which is called Beautiful, to ask alms of them that entered into the temple; 3 who seeing Peter and John about to go into the temple, asked to receive an alms. 4 And Peter, fastening his eyes upon him, with John, said, Look on us. 5 And he gave heed unto them, expecting that some one should receive alms from them. 6 But Peter said, Silver and gold have I none; but what I have, that will I give to thee. In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, walk. 7 And he took him by the right hand, and raised him up: and immediately his feet and his ankle-bones received strength. 8 And leaping up, he stood, and began to walk; and he entered with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God. 9 And all the people saw him walking and praising God, and all the people saw him walking and praising God. 10 And as he held Peter and John, all the people ran together unto them, in the porch that is called Solomon's, greatly wondering. 11 And when Peter saw it, he answered unto the people, Ye men of Israel, why marvel ye at this man? or why fasten ye your eyes on us, as though by our own power or godliness we had made him to walk? 12 The God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob, the God of our fathers, *hath glorified his Servant Jesus; whom ye delivered up, and denied before the face of Pilate,* when he had determined to release him. 14 But ye denied the Holy and Righteous One, and asked for a murderer to be granted unto you, 15 and killed the Prince of life; whom God raised from the dead: 16 whereof we are witnesses. 17 And by faith in his name hath he made this man strong, whom ye behold and know: ye, the faith which is through him hath given him this perfect soundness in the presence of you all. 18 And now, brethren, I wot that in ignorance and hardness of heart, ye did it, as did also your rulers. 19 But the things which God foretold by the mouth of all the prophets, that his Christ should suffer, 20 he thus fulfilled. 21 Repent ye therefore, and turn again. 22 That your sins may be blotted out, that there may come seasons of refreshing from the presence of the Lord; 23 and that he may send the Christ who hath been appointed for you, even Jesus: 24 whom the heaven must receive until the times of restoration of all things, whereof God spake by the mouths of all the prophets, that his Christ should suffer. 25 Now ye repent, and be converted of every wasteness of sin. 26 For whom God raised from the dead, and made him sit on his right hand in the presence of his glory, 27 this Jesus, whom *you delivered up, *and denied before Pilate, when he was judged by him to be innocent. 28 Of whom the written prophets have prophesied; 29 which Jesus also foretold both before Pontius Pilate: 30 saying unto him, Art thou the king of the Jews? 31 Then *Pontius Pilate answered him, Art thou a king then? 32 *Jesus answered, *Thou sayest: Thou sayest. 33 Thou art king then? *Jesus answered him, *Thou sayest: Thou sayest. 34 Art thou the king of the Jews? *Jesus answered him, *Thou sayest: Thou sayest.
And as they spake unto the people, 1 the priests and 2 the captain of the temple and 3 the Sadducees came upon them, being sore troubled because they taught the people, and proclaimed in Jesus the resurrection from the dead. 4 And they laid hands on them, and put them in ward unto the morrow: for it was now eventide. 5 But many of them that heard the word believed; and 6 the number of the men came to be about five thousand.

And it came to pass on the morrow, that their rulers and elders and scribes were gathered together in Jerusalem; 6 and Annas the high priest was there, and Caiaphas, and John, and Alexander, and as many as were of the kindred of the high priest. 7 And when they had set them in the midst, they inquired, 8 by what power, or in what name, have ye done this? 8 Then Peter, 9 filled with the Holy Ghost, said unto them, Ye rulers of the people, and elders, if we this day are examined concerning a good deed done to an impotent man, 9 by what means this man is made whole; 10 be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that in the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead, even in him doth this man stand here before you whole.

11 He is the stone which was set at nought of you, builders, which was made the head of the corner. 12 And in none other is there salvation: for neither is there any other name under heaven that is given among men, wherein we must be saved. 13 Now when they beheld the boldness of Peter and John, and had perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marvelled; and they took knowledge of them, that they had been with Jesus. 14 And seeing the man which was healed standing with them, 15 they could say nothing against it. 16 But when they had commanded them to go aside out of the council, they conferred among themselves, saying, 17 What shall we do to these men? for that in deed a notable miracle hath been wrought through them, is manifest to all that dwell in Jerusalem; and we cannot deny it. 17 But that it spread no further among the people, let us threaten them, 18 that they speak henceforth to no man in this name. 18 And they called them, and charged them not to speak at all nor teach in the name of Jesus. 19 But Peter and John answered and said unto them, Whether it be right in the sight of God to hearken unto you rather than unto God, judge ye: 20 for we cannot but speak the things which we saw and heard. 21 And they, when they had further threatened them, let them go, finding nothing how they might punish them, 22 because of the people; for all men glorified God for that which was done. 22 For the Man was more than forty years old, on whom this miracle of healing was wrought.

And being let go, they came to their own company, and reported all that the chief priests and the elders had said unto them. 24 And they, when they heard it, lifted up their voice to God with one accord, saying, 25 Lord, Thou didst make the heaven and the earth and the sea, and all that is in them: 25 who by the Holy Ghost, by the mouth of our father David thy servant, didst say, Why did the Gentiles rage, and the people imagine vain things? 26 The kings of the earth set them selves in array, and the rulers were gathered together, against the Lord, and against his anointed:

For a truth in this city against thy holy Servant Jesus, whom thou didst anoint, both Herod and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles and of the people of Israel, were gathered together, to do whatsoever they might devise to pass. 29 And now, Lord, look upon their threatenings: and grant unto thy servants to speak thy word with all boldness, so while thou stretchest forth thy hand to heal; and that signs and wonders may be done through the name.
And when they had prayed, the place was shaken wherein they were gathered together; and they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and spake the word of God with boldness.

And the multitude of them that believed were of one heart and soul: and not one of them said that ought of the things which he possessed was his own; but they had all things common.

And with great power gave the apostles their witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus: and great grace was upon them all.

For neither was there among them any that lacked: for as many as were possessors of lands or houses sold them, and brought the prices of the things that were sold, and laid it at the apostles' feet: and distribution was made unto each, according as any one had need.

And Joseph, who by the apostles was surnamed Barnabas (which is, being interpreted, Son of exhortation), a Levite, a man of Cyprus by race, having a field, sold it, and brought the money, and laid it at the apostles' feet.

But a certain man named Ananias, with Sapphira his wife, sold a possession, and kept back part of the price, his wife also being privy to it, and brought a certain part, and laid it at the apostles' feet.

But Peter said, Ananias, why hath Satan filled thy heart to lie to the Holy Ghost, and to keep back part of the price of the land? Whiles it remained, did it not remain thine own? and after it was sold, was it not in thy power? How is it that thou hast conceived this thing in thy heart? thou hast not lied unto men, but unto God.

And Ananias hearing these words fell down and gave up the ghost: and a great fear came upon all that heard it.

And the young men arose and wrapped him round, and they carried him out and buried him.

And it was about the space of three hours after, when his wife, not knowing what was done, came in. And Peter answered unto her, Tell me whether ye sold the land for so much. And she said, Yea, for so much. But Peter said unto her, How is it that ye have agreed together to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? Behold, the feet of them which have buried thy husband are at the door, and they shall carry thee out.

And she fell down immediately at his feet, and gave up the ghost: and the young men came in and found her dead, and they carried her out and buried her by her husband.

And a great fear came upon the whole church, and upon all that heard these things.

And by the hands of the apostles were many signs and wonders wrought among the people; and they were all with one accord in Solomon's porch. But of the rest durst no man join himself to them: howbeit they were more added to the Lord, multitudes both of men and women; insomuch that they even carried out the sick into the streets, and laid them on beds and couches, that, as Peter came by, at the least his shadow might overshadow some one of them. And there also came together the multitude from the cities round about Jerusalem, bringing sick folk, and them that were vexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed every one.
Now when the captain of the temple and the chief priests heard these words, they were much perplexed concerning them whereunto this would grow. 25 And there came one and told them, Behold, the men whom ye put in the prison are in the temple standing and teaching the people. 26 Then went the captain with the officers, and brought them, but without violence; for they feared the people, lest they should be stoned. 27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the council. And the high priest asked them, saying, 28 We strictly charged you not to teach in this name: and behold, ye have filled Jerusalem with your teaching, and intend to bring this man's blood upon us. 29 But Peter and the apostles answered and said, 30 We must obey God rather than men. 31 The God of our fathers raised up Jesus, whom ye slew, hanging him on a tree. 32 Him did God exalt with his right hand to be a Prince and a Saviour, for to give repentance to Israel, and remission of sins. 33 And we are witnesses of these things; and so is the Holy Ghost, whom God hath given to them that obey him. 34 But they, when they heard this, were cut to the heart, and were cut to the heart, and were minded to slay them. 35 But there stood up one in the council, a Pharisee, named Gamaliel, a doctor of the law, had in honour of all the people, and commanded to put the men forth a little while. 36 And he said unto them, Ye men of Israel, take heed to yourselves as touching these men, what ye are about to do. 37 For before these days rose up Theudas, giving himself out to be some one; to whom a number of men, about four hundred, joined themselves: who was slain; and all, as many as obeyed him, were dispersed, and came to nought. 38 After this man rose up Judas of Galilee in the days of the enrolment, and drew away some of the people after him: he also perished; and all, as many as obeyed him, were scattered abroad. 39 And now I say unto you, Refrain from these men, and let them alone: for if this counsel or this work be of men, it will be overthrown: 40 but if it be of God, ye will not be able to overthrow them; lest ye be found even yet even to be fighting against God. 41 And to him they agreed: and when they had called the apostles unto them, they beat them and charged them not to speak in the name of Jesus, and let them go. 42 They therefore departed from the presence of the council, rejoicing that they were counted worthy to suffer dishonour for the Name. 43 And every day, in the temple and at home, they ceased not to teach and to preach Jesus as the Christ.

1 Now in these days, when the number of the disciples was multiplied, there arose a murmuring of the Greek against the Hebrews, because their widows were neglected in the daily ministration. 2 And the twelve called the multitude of the disciples unto them, and said, It is not meet that we should desert the word of God, and serve tables. 3 But they agreed and when they had called the apostles unto them, they said, 4 It is not meet that we should desert the word of God, and serve tables. 5 But we will continue steadfastly in prayer, and in the ministry of the word. 6 And the saying pleased the whole multitude: and they chose Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Spirit, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolas a proselyte of Antioch: 7 whom they set before the apostles: and when they had prayed, they laid their hands on them. 8 And the word of God increased, and the number of the disciples multiplied in Jerusalem exceedingly; and a great company of the priests were obedient unto the faith.

dom and the Spirit by which he spake. 11 Then they suborned men, which said, We have heard him speak blasphemous words against Moses, and against God. 12 And they stirred up the people, and the elders, and the scribes, and came upon him, and seized him, and brought him into the council, 13 and set up false witnesses, which said, This man ceaseth not to speak words against * this holy place, and the law: 14 for we have heard him say, that this Jesus of Nazareth shall destroy this place, and shall * change the customs which Moses delivered unto us. 15 And all that sat in the council, fastening their eyes on him, saw his face as it had been the face of an angel.

7 And the high priest said, Are these things so? 2 And he said, Brethren and fathers, hearken. 3 The God of glory appeared unto our father Abraham, when he was in Mesopotamia, * before he dwelt in Haran, 3 and said unto him, Get thee out of thy land, and from thy kindred, and come into the land which I shall shew thee. 4 Then came he out of the land of the Chaldeans, and dwelt in Haran: and from thence, when his father was dead, * God removed him into this land, wherein ye now dwell: 5 and he gave him none inheritance in it, no, not so much as to set his foot on: and he promised that he would give it to him in possession, and to his seed after him, when as yet he had no child. 6 And God spake on this wise, that his seed should sojourn in a strange land, and that they should bring them into bondage, and entreat them evil, four hundred years. 7 And the nation to which they shall be in bondage * will I judge, said God: and after that they shall come forth, and serve me in this place. 8 And he gave him the covenant of circumcision: and * so Abraham begat Isaac, and * circumcised him the eighth day; and * Isaac begat Jacob, and * Jacob the twelve patriarchs. 9 And the patriarchs, * moved with jealousy against Joseph, * sold him into Egypt: and * God was with him, 10 and delivered him out of all his afflictions, and * gave him favour and wisdom before Pharaoh king of Egypt; and * he made him governor over Egypt and all his house. 11 Now * there came a famine over all Egypt and Canaan, and great affliction: and our fathers found no sustenance. 12 But when Jacob heard that there was corn in Egypt, he sent forth our fathers the first time. 13 And * at the second time * Joseph was made known to his brethren; and * Joseph's race became manifest unto Pharaoh. 14 And * Joseph sent, and called to him Jacob his father, and all his kindred, * threescore and fifteen souls. 15 And * Jacob went down into Egypt; and * he died, himself, * and our fathers; 16 and * they were carried over unto Shechem, and laid in the tomb that * Abraham bought for his seed of * Hamor in Shechem. 17 But * as the time of the promise drew nigh, which God vouchsafed unto Abraham, * the people grew and multiplied in Egypt, till there arose another king over Egypt, * which knew not Joseph. 18 Then the same dealt subtilly with our race, and evil entreated our fathers, * that * they should cast out their babes to the end they might not live. 20 At which season Moses was born, and was * exceeding fair, and he was nourished three months in his father's house: 21 and * when he was cast out, Pharaoh's daughter took him up, and nourished him for her own son. 22 And Moses * was instructed in all the wisdom of the Egyptians; and he was * mighty in his words and works. 23 But when he was well-nigh forty years old, it came into his heart * to visit his brethren the children of Israel. 24 And seeing one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and avenged him that was oppressed, smiting the Egyptian: 25 and he supposed that his brethren understood how that God by his hand was giving them deliverance; but they understood not. 26 And the day following he appeared unto them as they strove, and would have set them at one again, saying, Sirs, ye are brethren; why do ye wrong one to another? 27 But he that did his neighbour wrong thrust him away, saying,
Who made thee a ruler and a judge over us? wouldst thou kill me, as thou killedst the Egyptian yesterday? 29 And Moses fled at this saying, and became a sojourner in the land of Midian, where he begat two sons. 30 And when forty years were fulfilled, an angel appeared to him in the wilderness of mount Sinai, in a flame of fire in a bush. 31 And when Moses saw it, he wondered at the sight: and as he drew near to behold, there came a voice of the Lord, 32 I am the God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob. And Moses trembled, and durst not behold. 33 And the Lord said unto him, Loose the shoes from off thy feet: for the place whereon thou standest is holy ground. 34 I have seen the affliction of my people which is in Egypt, and have heard their groaning, and am come down to deliver them: and now come, I will send the angel which I will appoint thee, and he shall smite the Egyptians, and thou shalt lead my people out of Egypt. 35 This Moses whom they refused, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge? him hath God sent to be a deliverer unto my people which is in Egypt, and in the wilderness. 36 This man led them forth, having wrought wonders and signs in Egypt, and in the Red sea, and in the wilderness forty years. 37 This is that Moses, which said unto the children of Israel, A prophet shall God raise up unto you from among your brethren, like unto me. 38 This is he that was in the church in the wilderness with the angel which spake to him in the mount Sinai, and with our fathers: who received living oracles to give unto us: 39 to whom our fathers would not be obedient, but thrust him from them, and turned back in their hearts unto Egypt, 40 saying unto Aaron, Make us gods which shall go before us: as thy fathers did, so do ye. 41 And they made a calf in those days, and brought a sacrifice unto the idol, and rejoiced in the works of their hands. 42 But God turned, and gave them up to serve the host of heaven; as it is written in the book of the prophets, 43 Did ye offer unto me slain beasts and sacrifices forty years in the wilderness, O house of Israel? 44 And ye took up the tabernacle of Moloch, And the star of the god Rephan, The figures which ye made to worship them: And I will carry you away beyond Babylon. 45 Our fathers had the tabernacle of the testimony in the wilderness, even as he appointed who spake unto Moses, that he should make it according to the figure that he had seen. 46 Which also our fathers, in their turn, brought in with Joshua when they entered on the possession of the nations, which God thrust out before us, unto the days of David; 47 who found favour in the sight of God, and asked to find a habitation for the God of Jacob. 48 But Solomon built him a house. 49 Howbeit the Most High dwelleth not in houses made of hands; as saith the prophet, 49 The heaven is my throne, And the earth the footstool of my feet: What manner of house will ye build me? saith the Lord: Or what is the place of my rest? 50 Did not my hand make all these things? 51 Ye stiffnecked and uncircumcised in heart and ears, ye do always resist the Holy Ghost: as your fathers did, so do ye. 52 Which of the prophets did not your fathers persecute? and they killed them which spewed out of the coming of the Righteous One; of whom ye have now become betrayers and murderers; 53 ye which received the law as it was ordained by angels, and kept it not. 54 Now when they heard these things, they were cut to the heart, and they gnashed on him with their teeth. 55 But he, being full of the Holy Ghost, looked up steadfastly into heaven, and saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing on the right hand of God, 56 and said: \[\text{CHAP. 7, v. 56.}\]

said, Behold, I see the heavens opened, and the Son of man standing on the right hand of God. 57 But they cried out with a loud voice, and stopped their ears, and rushed upon him with one accord; 58 and they cast him out of the city, and stoned him: and the witnesses laid down their garments at the feet of a young man named Saul. 59 And they stoned Stephen, calling upon the Lord, and saying, Lord Jesus, receive my spirit. 60 And he knelt down, and cried with a loud voice, Lord, lay not this sin to their charge. And when he had said this, he fell asleep. 61 And Saul was consenting unto his death.

And there arose on that day a great persecution against the church which was in Jerusalem; and they were all scattered abroad throughout the regions of Judaea and Samaria, except the apostles. 62 And devout men buried Stephen, and made great lamentation over him. 63 But Saul laid waste the church, entering into every house, and haling men and women committed to prison.

4 They therefore that were scattered abroad went about preaching the word. 5 And Philip went down to the city of Samaria, and proclaimed unto them the Christ. 6 And the multitudes gave heed with one accord unto the things that were spoken by Philip, when they heard, and saw the signs which he did. 7 For from many of those which had unclean spirits, they came out, crying with a loud voice: and many that were palsied, and that were lame, were healed. 8 And there was much joy in that city.

9 But there was a certain man, Simon by name, which beforetime in the city used sorcery, and amazed the people of Samaria, giving out that himself was some great one: 10 to whom they all gave heed, from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is that power of God which is called Great. 11 And they gave heed to him, because of that long time he had amazed them with his sorceries. 12 But when they believed Philip preaching good tidings concerning the kingdom of God and the name of Jesus Christ, 13 And Simon also himself believed; and being baptized, he continued with Philip; and beholding signs and great miracles wrought, he was amazed.

14 Now when the apostles which were at Jerusalem heard that Samaria had received the word of God, they sent unto them Peter and John: 15 who, when they were come down, prayed for them, that they might receive the Holy Ghost: 16 for as yet he was fallen upon none of them: only they had been baptized into the name of the Lord Jesus. 17 Then laid they their hands on them, and they received the Holy Ghost. 18 Now when Simon saw that through the laying on of the apostles' hands the Holy Ghost was given, he offered them money, saying, Give me also this power, that on whomsoever I lay my hands, he may receive the Holy Ghost. 20 But Peter said unto him, Thy silver perish with thee, because thou hast thought to obtain the gift of God with money. 21 Thou hast neither part nor lot in this matter: for thy heart is not right before God. 22 Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray the Lord, if perhaps the thought of thy heart shall be forgiven thee. 23 For I see that thou art in the gall of bitterness and in the bond of iniquity. 24 And Simon answered and said, Pray ye for me to the Lord, that none of these things which ye have spoken come upon me. 25 They therefore, when they had testified and spoken the word of the Lord, returned to Jerusalem, and preached the gospel to many villages of the Samaritans.
to Jerusalem for to worship; 28 and he was returning and sitting in his chariot, and was reading the prophet Isaiah. 29 And the Spirit said unto Philip, Go near, and join thyself to this chariot. 30 And Philip ran to him, and heard him reading Isaiah the prophet, and said, Understandest thou what thou readest? 31 And he said, How can I, except some one shall guide me? And he besought Philip to come up and sit with him. 32 Now the place of the scripture which he was reading was this,

He was led as a sheep to the slaughter;
And as a lamb before his shearer is dumb,
So he openeth not his mouth:

33 In his humiliation his judgement was taken away;
For his life is taken from the earth.

And the eunuch answered Philip, and said, I pray thee, of whom speaketh the prophet this of himself, or of some other? 35 And Philip opened his mouth, and beginning from this scripture, preached unto him Jesus. 36 And as they went on the way, they came unto a certain water; and the eunuch saith, Behold, here is water; what doth hinder me to be baptized? 38 And Philip said, If thou believest with all thy heart, thou mayest. And he answered and said, I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God. 39 And as he journeyed, it came to pass that he drew nigh unto Damascus; and suddenly there shone round about him a light out of heaven:

9 But Saul, yet breathing threatening and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went unto the high priest, and asked of him letters to Damascus unto the synagogues, that if he found any that were of the Way, whether men or women, he might bring them bound to Jerusalem. 3 And as he journeyed, it came to pass that he drew nigh unto Damascus; and suddenly there shone round about him a light out of heaven:
the disciples which were at Damascus. 20 And straitway in the synagogue he proclaimed Jesus, 1 that he is the Son of God. 21 And all that heard were amazed, and said, Is not this he 2 that in Jerusalem 3 made havoc of them which called on this name? and he had come hither for this intent, that he might bring them bound before the chief priests. 22 But Saul v increased the more in strength, and 5-confounded the Jews which dwelt at Damascus, proving a that this is the Christ.

23 And 6 when many days were fulfilled, the Jews took counsel together to kill him: 24 but their 6-plot became known to Saul. And they watched the gates also day and night that they might kill him: 25 but his disciples took him by night, and 1-let him down through the wall, lowering him in a basket.

26 And 1 when he was come to Jerusalem, he assayed to join himself to the disciples: and they were all afraid of him, not believing that he was a disciple. 27 But 7 Barnabas took him, and 9 brought him to the apostles, and declared unto them how he had seen the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken to him, and 1-how at Damascus he had preached boldly in the name of Jesus. 28 And he was with them going in and going out at Jerusalem, preaching boldly in the name of the Lord: and he spake and disputed against 8 the Grecian Jews; but 9 they went about to kill him.

29 And when 10 the brethren knew it, they sat up. 30 And he gave her his hand, and raised her up; and calling 11 her, he said, Tabitha, arise. 31 And when she was called, she opened her eyes: and when she saw Peter, she sat up.

32 And Peter arose and went with them. 33 And straightway he arose. 34 And all that dwelt at Lydda returned to the Lord.

36 Now there was at Joppa a certain disciple named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called Dorcas: this woman was full of good works and almsdeeds which she did. 37 And it came to pass in those days, that she fell sick, and died: and when they had washed her, 1-laid her 2 in an upper chamber. 38 And as Lydda was nigh unto Joppa, the disciples, hearing that Peter was there, sent two men unto him, intreating him, c De- lay not to come on unto us. 39 And Peter arose and went with them. And when he was come, they brought him into 4 the upper chamber: and all the widows stood by him weeping, and shewing the coats and garments which Dorcas made, while she was with them. 40 But Peter 5 put them all forth, and 6-kneeled down, and prayed; and turning to the body, 7 he said, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes; and when she saw Peter, she sat up.

41 And he gave her his hand, and raised her up; and calling the saints and widows, he presented her alive. 42 And it became known throughout all Joppa: and many believed on the Lord. 43 And it came to pass, that he abode many days in Joppa with one Simon a tanner.

10 Now there was a certain man in Cæsarea, Cornelius by name, a centurion of 10 the band called the Italian band, 2 a devout man, and 3 one that feared God with all his house, who gave much alms unto the people, and prayed to God always. 2 He saw in a vision openly, as it were, about the ninth hour of the day, an angel of God coming unto him in saying, Cornelius. 4 And he, fastening 6 his eyes upon him, being affrighted, said, What is it, Lord? And he said unto him, Thy prayers and thine alms 7 are gone up 1 for a memorial before God.

5 And now send men to Joppa, and fetch one Simon, who is surnamed Peter: 6 he lodged 7 with one Simon a tanner, whose house is by the sea side. 7 And when the angel that spake unto him was departed, he called two of his 8-household-ser vants, and a devout soldier of them that waited on him continually; and having rehearsed all things unto them, he sent them to Joppa.

9 Now on the morrow, as they were on their journey, and drew nigh unto the city, Peter went up upon the house top to pray, about the sixth hour: and he became hungry, and desired to eat: but while they made ready, he fell into a trance; and he beheld in an open heaven, and a certain vessel descending, as it were a great sheet, let down by four corners upon the earth: 12 wherein were all manner of fourefooted beasts and creeping things of the earth and fowls of the heaven. 13 And there came a voice to him, Rise, Peter; kill and eat. 14 But Peter said, Not so, Lord; for I have never eaten anything that is common and unclean.

15 And a voice came unto him again the second time, What God hath cleansed, make not thou common. 16 And this was done thrice: and the sheet was received up into heaven.

17 Now while Peter was much perplexed in himself what the vision which he had seen might mean, behold, the men that were sent by Cornelius, having made inquiry for Simon's house, stood before the gate, and called and asked whether Simon, which was surnamed Peter, were lodging there. 18 And while Peter thought on the vision, the Spirit said unto him, Behold, three men seek thee. 19 But Peter said, Who sekest thou? And while he spake, lo, the men which were sent from Cornelius were standing over against the house, and said, Who is there that cometh down from heaven? 20 And when Peter saw it, he answered, When I had visions, while I was in prayer, according to the manner of the custom of us Jews, when eight days were accomplished, from the time that I was baptized, I saw, above in the heavens, a certain vision. 21 And the angel that spake unto me said unto me, Depart, and go thy way into the city, and say to John, Why didst thou doubt in thy heart? for behold, the heaven is opened, and the Spirit is received in my name. 22 And when I heard this, I saw the vision again: and the four beasts, and the four and twenty elders, fell down before the Lamb, having every one a harp, and having every one his garment white as snow: 23 And they sung a new song, saying, Thou art worthy to receive glory and honor and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created. 24 And I said, Surely they shall come down now, and take away from me; for I am only a man, and have not power to withstand the host of heaven. 25 But one like unto the Son of man came and said, 26 I will set my hand upon him, and he shall deliver all his substance unto me. 27 And when I heard this, I fell upon my knees, and said, Why, Lord? And the vision was taken away from me.
him. 39 And we are witnesses of all things which he did both in the country of the Jews, and in Jerusalem; whom also they slew, hanging him on a tree. 40 Him God raised up the third day, and gave him to be made manifest, 41 not to all the people, but unto witnesses that were chosen before of God, even to us, 42 who did eat and drink with him after he rose from the dead. 43 And he charged us to preach unto the people, and to testify that this is he which is ordained of God to be the Judge of quick and dead. 44 For he is the propitiation for our sins: and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world. 45 And I have seen the blood of Jesus, and said, I will declare his death for him. 46 And now, behold, we are witnesses of these things; and so is the Holy Ghost, whom God hath given to them that obey him. 47 For he is the propitiation for our sins: and not only for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world.

I

1 Now the apostles and the brethren that were in Judea, heard that the Gentiles also received the word of God. 2 And when Peter was come up to Jerusalem, they 3 saying, 4 Thou wentest into men uncircumcised, and didst eat with them. 4 But Peter began, and expounded the matter unto them in order, saying, 5 I was in the city of Joppa praying: and in a trance I saw a vision, a certain vessel descending, as it were a great sheet let down from heaven by four corners; and it came even unto me: 6 upon the which I saw the form of four beasts of the earth, and wild beasts and creeping things and fowls of the heaven. 7 And I heard also a voice saying unto me, Rise, Peter; kill and eat. 8 But I said, Not so, Lord: for nothing common or unclean hath entered into my mouth. 9 But a voice answered from heaven, What God hath cleansed, make not thou common. 10 And this was done thrice: and all were drawn up again into heaven. 11 And beholding, with three men stood before the house in which we were, having been sent from Caesarea unto me. 12 And the Spirit bade me go with them, making no distinction. 13 And these six brethren also accompanied me; and we entered into the man's house: 14 and he told us how he had seen the angel standing in his house, and saying, Send to Joppa, and fetch Simon, whose surname is Peter; 15 who shall speak unto thee words, whereby thou shalt be saved, thou and all thy house. 16 And as I began to speak, the Holy Ghost fell on them, even as on us at the beginning. 17 And I remembered the word of the Lord, how that he said, John indeed can with water baptize, but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost. 18 If then God gave unto them the like gift as he did also unto us, when we believed on the Lord Jesus Christ, who was I, that I could withstand God? 19 And when they heard these things, they held their peace, and glorified God, saying, Then to the Gentiles also hath God granted repentance unto life. 20 They therefore that were scattered abroad upon the tribulation that arose about Stephen, as far as Phoenicia, and Cyprus, and Antioch, speaking the word to none save only to Jews. 21 But there were some of them, men of Cyprus and Cyrene, who, when they came to Antioch, spake unto the 23 Greeks also, preaching the Lord Jesus. 22 And the hand of the Lord was with them: and a great number believed, and turned unto the Lord. 23 And the report concerning them came to the ears of the church which was in Jerusalem: and they sent forth Barnabas as far as Antioch: 24 who, when he was come, and had seen the grace of God, was glad; and he exhorted them all, that with purpose of heart they would cleave unto the Lord: 24 for he was a good man, and full of the Holy Ghost and of faith: and much people was added unto the Lord. 25 And he went forth to Tarsus to seek for Saul: and when he had found him, he brought him unto Antioch. And it came to pass, that even for a whole year they were gathered together with the church, and taught much people; and that the disciples were called Christians first in Antioch.

27 Now in these days there came down prophets from Jerusalem unto Antioch. 28 And there stood up one of them named Agabus, and signified by the Spirit that there should be a great famine over all the world: which came to pass in the days of Claudius.

29 And the disciples, every man according to his ability, determined to send relief unto the brethren that dwelt in Judaea: 30 which also they did, sending it to the elders by the hand of Barnabas and Saul.

12 Now about that time Herod the king put forth his hands to afflict certain of the church. 2 And he killed James the brother of John with the sword. 3 And when he saw that it pleased the Jews, he proceeded to seize Peter also. And those were the days of unleavened bread. 4 And when he had taken him, he put him in prison, and delivered him to four quaternions of soldiers to guard him; intending after the Passover to bring him forth to the people.

5 Peter therefore was kept in the prison: but prayer was made earnestly of the church unto God for him. 6 And when Herod was about to bring him forth, the same night Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains: and guards before the door kept the prison. 7 And behold, an angel of the Lord stood by him, and a light shined in the cell: and he smote Peter on the side, and awoke him, saying, Rise up quickly. And his chains fell off from his hands. 8 And the angel said unto him, Gird thyself, and thy sandals. And he did so. And he saith unto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me. 9 And he went out, and followed; and he wist not that it was true which was done by the angel, but thought he saw a vision.

10 And when they were past the first and the second ward, they came unto the iron gate that leadeth into the city; which opened to them of its own accord: and they went out, and passed on through one street; and straightway the angel departed from him. 11 And when Peter was come to himself, he said, Now I know of a truth, that the Lord hath sent forth his angel and delivered me out of the hand of Herod, and from all the expectation of the people of the Jews. 12 And when he had considered the thing, he came to the house of Mary the mother of John whose surname was Mark; where many were gathered together and were praying. 13 And when he knocked at the door of the gate, a maid came to answer, named Rhoda. 14 And when she knew Peter's voice, she opened not the gate for joy, but ran in, and told that Peter stood before the gate. 15 And they said unto her, Thou art mad. But she confidently affirmed that it was so. And they said, It is a madman. 16 But Peter continued knocking: and when they had opened, they saw him, and were amazed. 17 But he, beckoning unto them with the hand to hold their peace, declared unto them how the Lord had brought him forth out of the prison. And he said, Tell these things unto James, and to the brethren. And he departed, and went to another place. 18 Now as soon as it was day, there was no small stir among the soldiers, what was become of Peter. 19 And when Herod had sought for him, and found him not, he examined the guards, and commanded that they should be put to death. And he went down from Judea to Cesarea, and tarried there.

20 Now he was highly displeased with them of Tyre and Sidon: and they came with one accord to him, and having made Blastus the king's chamberlain their friend, they... asked for peace, because their country was fed from the king’s country. 21 And upon a set day Herod arrayed himself in royal apparel, and sat on the 1 throne, and made an oration unto them. 22 And the people shouted, saying, The voice of a god, and not of a man. 23 And immediately an angel of the Lord smote him, because he gave not God the glory: and he was eaten of worms, and gave up the ghost.

24 But the word of God grew and multiplied.

25 And Barnabas and Saul returned from Jerusalem, when they had fulfilled their ministration, taking with them John whose surname was Mark.

13 Now there were at Antioch, in the church that was there, Prophets and Teachers, Barnabas, and Symeon that was called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, and Manaen the foster-brother of Herod the tetrarch, and Saul. 2 And as they ministered to the Lord, and fasted, the Holy Ghost said, separate me Barnabas and Saul for the work whereunto I have called them. 3 Then, when they had fasted and prayed and laid their hands on them, they sent them away.

4 So they, being sent forth by the Holy Ghost, went down to Seleucia; and from thence they sailed to Cyprus. 5 And when they were at Salamis, they proclaimed the word of God in the synagogues of the Jews: and they had also John as their attendant. 6 And when they had gone through the whole island unto Paphos, they found a certain sorcerer, a false prophet, a Jew, whose name was Bar-Jesus; 7 which was with the proconsul, Sergius Paulus, a man of understanding. The same called unto him Barnabas and Saul, and sought to hear the word of God. 8 But Elymas the sorcerer (for so is his name by interpretation) withstood them, seeking to turn aside the proconsul from the faith. 9 But Saul, who is also called Paul, filled with the Holy Ghost, fastened his eyes on him, 10 and said, O full of all guile and all villany, thou son of the devil, thou enemy of all righteousness, wilt thou not cease to pervert the right ways of the Lord? 11 And now, behold, the hand of the Lord is upon thee, and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the sun for a season. And immediately there fell on him a mist and a darkness; and he went about seeking some to lead him by the hand.

12 Then the proconsul, when he saw what was done, believing, was astonished at the teaching of the Lord.

13 Now Paul and his company set sail from Paphos, and came to Perge in Pamphylia: and John departed from them and returned to Jerusalem. 14 But they, passing through from Perge, came to Antioch of Pisidia; and they went into the synagogue, speaking and exhorting for the people, saying, 15 And after the reading of the law and the prophets, the rulers of the synagogue sent unto them, saying, brethren, if ye have any word of exhortation for the people, say on. 16 And Paul stood up, and beckoning with the hand said,

Men of Israel, and ye that fear God, hearken. 17 The God of this people Israel chose our fathers, and exalted the people when they suffered for a season under Egyptians, 18 And about the time of forty years 19 suffered he their manners in the wilderness. 19 And when he had destroyed seven nations in the land of Canaan, he gave them their land for an inheritance, for about four hundred and fifty years: 20 and after these things 21 gave they judges until Samuel the prophet. 21 And afterward they asked for a king; and God gave unto them Saul the son of Kish, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, for the space of forty years. 22 And when he had reigned over them, he raised up David to be their king; to whom also he bare witness, and said, I have found David the son of Jesse, a man after my heart, who shall do all my will. 23 Of this man’s seed hath God according to promise brought unto Israel a Saviour, Jesus; 24 when John had first preached before his coming 182
The baptism of repentance to all the people of Israel. 25 And as John was fulfilling his course, he said, What suppose ye that I am? I am not he. But behold, there cometh one after me, whose shoes I am not worthy to unloose. 26 Brethren, children of the stock of Abraham, and those among you that fear God, to us is the word of this salvation sent forth. 27 For they that dwell in Jerusalem, and their rulers, because they knew him not, nor the voices of the prophets which are read every sabbath, fulfilled them by condemning him. 28 And though they found no cause of death in him, yet asked they of Pilate that he should be slain. 29 And when they had fulfilled all things that were written of him, they took him down from the tree, and laid him in a tomb. 30 But God raised him from the dead: 31 and he was seen of many, as also it is written in the second psalm, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee. 32 And the multitudes, they were filled with jealousy, and contradicted the things which were spoken by Paul, and blasphemed. 46 And Paul and Barnabas spake out boldly, and said, It was necessary that the word of God should first be spoken to you. Seeing ye thrust it from you, and judge yourselves unworthy of eternal life, lo, we turn to the Gentiles. 47 For so hath the Lord commanded us, saying, I have set thee for a light of salvation unto the uttermost part of the earth.

48 And as the Gentiles heard this, they were glad, and glorified the word of God: and as many as were ordained to eternal life believed. 49 And the word of the Lord was spread abroad throughout all the region. 50 But the Jews urged on the devout women of honourable estate, and the chief men of the city, and stirred up a persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and cast them out of their borders. 51 But they shook off the dust of their feet,25 and came unto Iconium. 52 And the disciples were filled with joy and with the Holy Ghost.

And it came to pass in Iconium, that they entered together into the synagogue of the Jews, and so spake, that a great multitude both of Jews and of Greeks believed. 2 But the Jews that were disobedient stirred up the souls of the Gentiles, and made them evil affected against the brethren. 3 Long time therefore they tarried there speaking boldly in the Lord, which bare witness unto the word of his grace, granting signs and wonders to be done by their hands. 4 But the multitude of the city was divided; and part held with the Jews, and part with the apostles. 5 And when there was made an onset both of the Gentiles and of the Jews with their rulers, to entreat them shamefully, and tostonethem, 6 they became aware of it, and fled unto the cities of Lycaonia, Lystra and Derbe, and the region round about; and there they preached the gospel.

8 And at Lystra there sat a certain man, impotent in his feet, a cripple from his mother's womb, who never had walked. 9 The same heard Paul speaking: who fastening his eyes upon him, and seeing that he had faith to be made whole, said with a loud voice. Stand upright on thy feet. And he leaped up and walked, n And when the multitude saw what Paul had done, they lifted up their voice, saying in the speech of Lycaonia, The gods are come down to us in the likeness of men. 12 And they called Barnabas, Jupiter; and Paul, Mercury, because he was the chief speaker. 13 And the priest of Jupiter whose temple was before the city, brought oxen and garlands unto the gates, and would have done sacrifice with the multitude. 14 But when the apostles, Barnabas and Paul, heard of it, they rent their garments, and sprang forth among the multitude, crying out and saying, Sirs, why do ye these things? We also are men of like passions with you, and bring you good tidings, that ye should turn from these vain things unto the living God, who made the heaven and the earth and the sea, and all that in them is: 16 who in the generations gone by suffered all the nations to walk in their own ways. 17 And yet he left not himself without witness, in that he did good, and gave you from heaven rains and fruitful seasons, filling your hearts with food and gladness. 18 And with these sayings scarce restrained they the multitudes from doing sacrifice unto them.

19 But there came Jews thither from Antioch and Iconium: and having persuaded the multitude, they stoned Paul, and dragged him out of the city, supposing that he was dead. 20 But as the disciples stood round about him, he rose up, and entered into the city: and on the morrow he went forth with Barnabas to Derbe. 21 And when they had preached the gospel to that city, and had made many disciples, they returned to Lystra, and to Iconium, and to Antioch, confirming the souls of the disciples, exhorting them to continue in the faith, and that through many tribulations we must enter into the kingdom of God. 22 And when they were come through Pisidia, they came to Pamphylia. 23 And when they had spoken the word in Perga, they went down to Attalia; 26 and thence they sailed to Antioch, from whence they had been committed to the grace of God for the work which they had fulfilled. 24 And they passed through Pisidia, and came to Pamphylia, and thence came to Attalia; 26 and thence they sailed to Antioch, from whence they had been committed to the grace of God for the work which they had fulfilled. 27 And when they were come, and had gathered the church together, they rehearsed all things that God had done with them, and how that he had opened a door of faith unto the Gentiles. 28 And they tarried no little time with the disciples.

1 And certain men came down from Judea and taught the brethren, saying, Except ye be circumcised after the custom of Moses, ye cannot be saved. 2 And when Paul and Barnabas had no small dissension and question ing with them, the brethren appointed that Paul and Barnabas, and certain other of them, should go up to Jerusalem unto the apostles and elders about this question. 3 They therefore, being brought on their way by the church, passed through both Phœnicia and Samaria, de-18 Saith the Lord, 2 who maketh these things 3 known from the beginning of the world.

19 Wherefore 1 my judgement is, that we trouble not them which from among the Gentiles 2 turn to God: 20 but that we 3 write unto them, 4 that they abstain from 4 the pollutions of idols, and from 4 fornication, and from 4 what is strangled, and from 4 blood. 21 For Moses from generations of old hath in every city them that preach him, 6 being read in the synagogues every sabbath.

22 Then it seemed good to the apostles and the elders, with the whole church, to choose men out of their company, and send them to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas; namely, Judas called 4 Barsabas, and 4 Silas, chief men among 4 the brethren; 23 and they wrote thus by them, 4 *The apostles and the elder brethren unto 4 the brethren which are of the Gentiles in Antioch and Syria and Cilicia, 4 greeting: 24 Forasmuch as we have heard that 4 certain 4 which went out from us have troubled you with words, subverting your souls; to whom we gave no commandment; 25 it seemed good to us, having come 4 to one accord, to choose out men and send them unto you with our beloved Barnabas and Paul, 26 men that have hazarded their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.

27 We have sent therefore 4 Judas and Silas, who themselves also shall tell you the same things by word of mouth. 28 For it seemed good to 4 the Holy Ghost, and to us, 4 to lay upon you no greater burden than these necessary things; 29 4 that ye abstain from 4 things sacrificed to idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication; from which if ye keep yourselves, it shall be well with you. 30 Fare ye well.

31 So they, when they were dismissed, came down to Antioch; and having gathered the multitude together, they delivered the epistle. 32 And when they had read it, they rejoiced for the 4 consolation. 33 And Judas and Silas, being themselves also 4 prophets, 6 exhorted 4 the brethren with many words, and
But Paul chose Silas, and went forth, being recommended by the brethren to the grace of the Lord. 41 And he went through Syria and Cilicia, confirming the churches.

And he came also to Derbe and to Lystra; and behold, a certain disciple was there, named Timothy, the son of a Jewess which believed; but his father was a Greek, 2 and he was well reported of by the brethren that were at Lystra and Iconium. 3 Him would Paul have to go forth with him: and he took and circumcised him because of the Jews that were in those parts: for they all knew that his father was a Greek. 4 And as they went on their way through the cities, they delivered them the decrees for to keep, which had been ordained of the apostles and eldersthat were at Jerusalem. 5 So the churches were strengthened in the faith, and increased in number daily.

And they went through the region of Phrygia and Galatia, having been forbidden of the Holy Ghost to speak the word in Asia; and when they were come over against Mysia, they assayed to go into Bithynia; and the Spirit of Jesus suffered them not: 7 and passing by Mysia, they came down to Troas. 8 And a vision appeared to Paul in the night: There was a man of Macedonia standing, beseeching him, and saying, Come over into Macedonia, and help us. 9 And when he had seen the vision, straightway we sought to go forth into Macedonia, concluding that God had called us for to preach the gospel unto them.

10 Setting sail therefore from Troas, we made a straight course to Samothrace, and the day following to Neapolis; 11 and from thence to *Philippi, which is a city of Macedonia, the first of the district, *a Roman colony: and we were in this city tarrying certain days. 12 And on the sabbath day we went forth without the gate by a river side, where we supposed there was a place of prayer; and we sat down, and spake unto the women which were come together. 13 And a certain woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the city of Thyatira, one that worshipped God, heard us: whose heart the Lord opened, to give heed unto the things which were spoken by Paul. 14 And when she was baptized, and her household, she besought us, saying, If ye have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my house, and abide there. And she constrained us. 15 And it came to pass, as we were going to the place of prayer, that a certain maid having a spirit of divination met us, which brought her masters much gain by soothsaying. 16 The same following after Paul and us cried out, saying, These men are servants of the Most High God, which prophesy unto you what way of salvation. 17 And this she did for many days. But Paul, being sore troubled, turned and said to the spirit, I charge thee in the name of Jesus Christ to come out of her. And it came out at that very hour. 18 But when her masters saw that the hope of their gain was gone, they laid hold on Paul and Silas, and dragged them into the marketplace before the rulers, 19 and when they had brought them unto the magistrates, they said, These men, being Jews, do exceedingly trouble our city, 20 and set forth to Paul in the night; There was a man of Macedonia standing, beseeching him, and saying, Come over into Macedonia, and help us. 21 And when he had seen the vision, straightway we sought to go forth into Macedonia, concluding that God had called us for to preach the gospel unto them.
customs which it is not lawful for us to receive, or to observe, being Romans. 22 And the multitude rose up together against them: and the 1 magistrates rent their garments off them, and commanded 2 to beat them with rods. 23 And when they had laid many stripes upon them, they cast them into prison, charging the jailor to keep them safely; 24 who, having received such a charge, cast them into the inner prison, and made their feet fast in 3 the stocks. 25 But 4 about midnight Paul and Silas were praying and singing hymns unto God, and the prisoners were listening to them; 26 and suddenly 5 there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison-house were shaken: and immediately 6 all the doors were opened; and 7 every one's bands were loosed. 27 And the jailor being wakened out of sleep, and seeing the prison-doors open, drew his sword, and was about to kill himself, supposing that the prisoners had escaped. 28 But Paul cried with a loud voice, saying, Do thyself no harm: for we are all here. 29 And he called for lights, and sprang in, and, trembling for fear, fell down before Paul and Silas. 30 And immediately the jailor took them and washed their stripes, and was baptized, he and all his family. 31 And they spoke the word of the Lord unto him, with all his house, and were added to the number of the brethren, and of the devout Greeks 32 every one of them, and the woman named Damaris, who was a worshipper. And these all were in the house of the jailor. 33 And he took them the same hour of the night, and washed their stripes; and 34 was baptized, he and all his family. 35 And he brought them up into his house, and set meat before them, and rejoiced greatly, with all his house, having believed in God.

36 But when it was day, the 1 magistrates sent the 5 serjeants, saying, Let those men go. 37 And the jailor reported the words to Paul, saying, The 1 magistrates have sent to let you go: now therefore come forth, and go in peace. 38 But Paul said unto them, They have beaten us publicly, uncondemned, men that are Romans, and have cast us into prison; and do they now cast us out privately? Nay verily; but let them come themselves and bring us out. 39 And the 5 serjeants reported these words unto the 1 magistrates: and 4 they feared, when they heard that they were Romans; 40 and they came and besought them; and when they had brought them out, they asked them to go away from the city. 41 And they went out of the prison, and entered into the house of Lydia: and when they had seen 6 the brethren, they comforted them, and departed.

17 Now when they had 7 passed through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where was a synagogue of the Jews: 2 and Paul, 4 as his custom was, went in unto them, and for three 5 sabbath days reasoned with them from the scriptures, 3 opening and alleging, that it behoved 1 the Christ to suffer, and 4 to rise again from the dead; and that this Jesus, whom, said he, I proclaim unto you, is the Christ. 4 And some of them were persuaded, and consorted with Paul and Silas; and of the devout Greeks 3 a great multitude, and of the chief women not a few. 5 But the Jews, being moved with jealousy, took unto them 7 certain vile fellows of the rabble, and gathering a crowd, set the city on an uproar; 6 and assaulting the house of Jason, they sought to bring them forth to the rulers of the city, crying, These that have turned 7 the world upside down are come hither also; 7 whom Jason hath received: and these all act contrary to 7 the decrees of Caesar, saying that there is 7 another king, one Jesus. 8 And they troubled the multitude and the rulers of the city, when they heard these things. 9 And when they had taken security from Jason and the brethren, they sent away Paul and Silas by night unto Berea: who when they came thither 7 went into the synagogue of the Jews. 10 Now these were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, examining the scriptures daily, whether these things were so.

12 Many of them therefore believed; also of the Greek women of honourable estate, and of men, not a few. 13 But when the Jews of Thessalonica had knowledge that the word of God was proclaimed of Paul at Berea also, they came thither likewise, stirring up and troubling the multitudes. 14 And then immediately the brethren sent forth Paul to go as far as to the sea: and Silas and Timothy abide there still. 15 But they that conducted Paul brought him as far as Athens: and receiving a commandment unto Silas and Timothy that they should come to him with all speed, they departed.

Now while Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was provoked within him, as he beheld the city

17 full of idols. 18 So he reasoned in the synagogue with the Jews and the devout persons, and in the marketplace every day with them that met with him. 19 And certain also of the Epicurean and Stoic philosophers encountered him. And some said, 'What would this babber say? other some, He seemeth to be a setter forth of strange gods; because he preached Jesus and the resurrection. 20 And they took hold of him, and brought him unto

the Areopagus, saying, May we know what this new teaching is, which is spoken by thee? 20 For thou bringest certain strange things to our ears: we would know therefore what these things mean. 21 (Now all the Athenians and the strangers sojourning there spent their time in nothing else, but either idolatry, or some straying philosophers met with them.) 22 And Paul stood in the midst of the Areopagus, and said,

Ye men of Athens, in all things I perceive that ye are somewhat superstitious. 23 For as I passed along, and observed the objects of your worship, I found also an altar with this inscription, 44 TO AN UNKNOWN GOD. 24 What therefore ye worship in ignorance, this set I forth unto you. 25 The God that made the world and all things therein, he, being Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands; 26 neither is he served by men's hands, 27 as though he needed anything, seeing he himself giveth to all life, and breath, and all things: 28 and he made of one every nation of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, having determined their appointed seasons, and the bounds of their habitation; 29 that they should seek God, if haply they might feel after him, and find him, though he is not far from one of us: 30 for in him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain even of your own poets have said, For we are also his offsprings. 31 Being then the offspring of God, we ought not to think that the Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone, graven by art and device of man. 32 The times of ignorance therefore God overlooked; but now he hath commanded that all should everywhere repent: 33 inasmuch as he hath appointed a day, in the which he will judge the world in righteousness by that man whom he hath ordained; whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead.

Now when they heard of the resurrection of the dead, some mocked; but others said, We will hear thee concerning this yet again. 33 Thus Paul went out from among them. 34 But certain men clave unto him, and believed: among whom also was Dionysius the Areopagite, and a woman named Damaris, and others with them.

18 After these things he departed from Athens, and came to Corinth. 2 And he found a certain Jew named Aquila, a man of Pontus by race, lately come from Italy, with his wife Priscilla, because Claudius had commanded all the Jews to depart from Rome: and he came unto them; and 3 because he was of the same trade, he abode with them, and they wrought; for by their trade they were tentmakers. And he reasoned in the synagogue with hands; 25 neither is he served by men's hands, 27 as though he needed anything, seeing he himself giveth to all life, and breath, and all things: 28 and he made of one every nation of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, having determined their appointed seasons, and the bounds of their habitation; 29 that they should seek God, if haply they might feel after him, and find him, though he is not far from one of us: 30 for in him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain even of your own poets have said, For we are also his offspring. 31 Being then the offspring of God, we ought not to think that the Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone, graven by art and device of man. 32 The times of ignorance therefore God overlooked; but now he hath commanded that all should everywhere repent: 33 inasmuch as he hath appointed a day, in the which he will judge the world in righteousness by that man whom he hath ordained; whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead.

18 After these things he departed from Athens, and came to Corinth. 2 And he found a certain Jew named Aquila, a man of Pontus by race, lately come from Italy, with his wife Priscilla, because Claudius had commanded all the Jews to depart from Rome: and he came unto them; and 3 because he was of the same trade, he abode with them, and they wrought; for by their trade they were tentmakers. And he reasoned in the synagogue with hands; 25 neither is he served by men's hands, 27 as though he needed anything, seeing he himself giveth to all life, and breath, and all things: 28 and he made of one every nation of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, having determined their appointed seasons, and the bounds of their habitation; 29 that they should seek God, if haply they might feel after him, and find him, though he is not far from one of us: 30 for in him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain even of your own poets have said, For we are also his offspring. 31 Being then the offspring of God, we ought not to think that the Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone, graven by art and device of man. 32 The times of ignorance therefore God overlooked; but now he hath commanded that all should everywhere repent: 33 inasmuch as he hath appointed a day, in the which he will judge the world in righteousness by that man whom he hath ordained; whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead.
5 But when Silas and Timothy came down from Macedonia, Paul was constrained by the word, 2 testifying to the Jews that Jesus was the Christ. 3 And when they opposed themselves, and 4 blasphemed, he shook out their raiment, and said unto them, 5 Your blood be upon your own heads: 6 I am clean: from henceforth I will go unto the Gentiles. 7 And he departed thence, and went into the house of a certain man named Titus Justus, one that worshipped God, whose house was hard by the synagogue. 8 And Crispus, the ruler of the synagogue, believed in the Lord with all his house; and many of the Corinthians hearing believed, and were baptized.

9 And the Lord said unto Paul in the night by a vision, Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace: 10 for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to harm thee: for I have much people in this city. 11 And he dwelt there a year and six months, teaching the word of God among them.

12 But when Gallio was proconsul of Achaia, the Jews with one accord rose up against Paul, and brought him before the judge-seat. 13 And they all laid hold on him, and beat him before the judge-seat, 14 saying, This man persuadeth the people, and is a ringleader of these who are so disposed. 15 And the chief full of the people gave an order to a jury of five hundred drachmas, 16 saying, He persuadeth men to worship God contrary to the law. 17 But Paul was minded to pass over into Achaia, and the brethren encouraged him, and wrote to the disciples to receive him: and when he was come, 18 he helped them much which had believed through the way of the Lord; 19 and he began to speak boldly in the synagogue. But when Priscilla and Aquila heard him, they took him unto them, and expounded unto him the way of God more carefully. 20 And when he had landed at Cezarea, he went up and saluted the church, and went down to Antioch. 21 And having spent some time there, he departed, and went through the region of Galatia and Phrygia in order, establishing all the disciples.

22 Now a certain Jew named Apollos, an Alexandrian by race, 23 a learned man, came to Ephesus; and he was mighty in the scriptures. 24 This man had been instructed in the way of the Lord; and being fervent in spirit, he spake and taught carefully the things concerning Jesus, knowing only the baptism of John: 25 and he began to speak boldly in the synagogue. But when Priscilla and Aquila heard him, they took him unto them, and expounded unto him the way of God more carefully.

26 And when he was minded to pass over into Achaia, the brethren encouraged him, and wrote to the disciples to receive him: and when he was come, he helped them much which had believed through grace: 27 for he powerfully confuted the Jews, and that publicly, shewing by the scriptures that Jesus was the Christ. And it came to pass, that while Apollos was at Corinth, Paul having passed through the upper country came to Ephesus, and found certain disciples: 2 and he said unto them, Did ye receive the Holy Ghost when ye believed? And they said unto him, Nay, we did not so much as hear whether the Holy Ghost was given. 3 And he said, Into what then were ye baptized? And they said, Into John's baptism. 4 And Paul said, John baptized with the baptism of repentance, saying unto the people, that they should believe on him which should come after him, that is, on Jesus. 5 And when they heard this, they were baptized into the name of the Lord Jesus.
Lord Jesus. 6 And when Paul had laid his hands upon them, the Holy Ghost came on them; and they spake with tongues, and prophesied. 7 And they were in all about twelve men.

8 And he entered into the synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of three months, reasoning and persuading as to the things concerning the kingdom of God. 9 But when some were hardened and disobedient, speaking evil of the Way before the multitude, he departed from them, and separated the disciples, reasoning daily in the school of Tyrannus. 10 And this continued for the space of two years; so that all which dwelt in Asia heard the word of the Lord, both Jews and Greeks. 11 And God wrought special miracles by the hands of Paul: 12 insomuch that unto the sick were carried away from his body handkerchiefs or aprons, and the diseases departed from them, and the evil spirits went out. 13 But certain also of the strolling Jews, exorcists, took upon them to name over them which had the evil spirits the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, I adjure you by Jesus whom Paul preacheth. 14 And there were seven sons of one Sceva, a Jew, a chief priest, which did this. 15 And the evil spirit answered and said unto them, Jesus I know, and Paul I know; but who are ye? 16 And the man in whom the evil spirit was leaped upon them, and mastered both of them, and prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded. 17 And this became known to all, both Jews and Greeks, that dwelt at Ephesus; and fear fell upon them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified. 18 Many also of them that had believed came, confessing, and declaring their deeds. 19 And not a few of them that practised curious arts brought their books together, and burned them in the sight of all: and they counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand pieces of silver. 20 So mightily grew the word of the Lord and prevailed.

21 Now after these things were ended, Paul purposed in the spirit, when he had passed through Macedonia and Achaia, to go to Jerusalem, saying, After I have been there, if it be so that I must also see Rome. 22 And having sent into Macedonia two of them that ministered unto him, Timothy and Erastus, he himself stayed in Asia for a while. 23 And about that time there arose no small stir concerning the Way. 24 For a certain man named Demetrius, a silversmith, which made silver shrines of Diana, brought no little business unto the craftsmen; 25 whom he gathered together, with the workmen of like occupation, and said, Sirs, ye know that this business we have our wealth. 26 And ye see and hear, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia, this Paul hath persuaded and turned away much people, saying that they be no gods, which are made with hands: 27 and not only is there danger that this our trade come into disrepute; but also that the temple of the great goddess Diana be made of no account, and that she should even be deposed from her magnificence, whom all Asia and the world worshippeth. 28 And when they heard this, they were filled with wrath, and cried out, saying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians. 29 And the city was filled with the confusion: and they ran with one accord into the theatre, having seized Gaius and Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, Paul's companions in travel. 30 And when Paul was minded to enter in unto the people, the disciples suffered him not. 31 And certain also of the chief officers of Asia, being his friends, sent unto him, and besought him not to adventure himself into the theatre. 32 Some therefore cried one thing, and some another: for the assembly was in confusion; and the more part knew not wherefore they were come together. 33 And they brought Alexander out of the multitude, the Jews putting him forward. And Alexander beckoned with the hand, and would have made a defence unto the people. 34 But when they perceived that he was a Jew, all with one voice about the space of two hours cried out, "Great is Diana of the Ephesians. 35 And when the town-crier had quieted the multitude, he saith, Ye men of Ephesus, what man is there who knoweth not how that the city of the Ephesians is temple-keeper of the great Diana, and of the image which fell down from 2 Jupiter? 36 Seeing then that these things cannot be gainsaid, ye ought to be quiet, and to do nothing rash. 37 For ye have brought hither these men, which are neither robbers of temples nor blasphemers of our goddess. 38 If therefore Demetrius, and the craftsmen that are with him, have a matter against any man, the courts are open, and there are proconsuls: let them accuse one another. 39 But if ye seek anything about other matters, it shall be settled in the regular assembly. 40 For indeed we are in danger to be accused concerning this day's riot, having no cause for it; and as touching it we shall not be able to give account of this concourse. 41 And when he had thus spoken, he dismissed the assembly.

And after the uproar was ceased, Paul having sent for the disciples and exhorted them, took leave of them, and departed for to go into Macedonia. 2 And when he had gone through those parts, and had given them much exhortation, he came into Greece. 3 And when he had spent three months there, and a plot was laid against him by the Jews, as he was about to set sail for Syria, he determined to return through Macedonia. 4 And there accompanied him as far as Asia Cepha-ter, the son of Pyrrhus; and of the Thessalonians, Aristarchus and Secundus; and Gaius of Derbe, Timothy; and of Asia, Tychicus and Trophimus. 5 But these had gone before, and were waiting for us at Troas. 6 And we sailed away from Philippi after the days of unleavened bread, and came unto them to Troas in five days; where we tarried seven days.

And upon the first day of the week, when we were gathered together to break bread, Paul discoursed with them, intending to depart on the morrow; and prolonged his speech until midnight. 8 And there were many lights in the upper chamber, where we were gathered together. 9 And there sat in the window a certain young man named Eutychus, borne down with deep sleep; and as Paul discoursed yet longer, being borne down by his sleep he fell down from the third story, and was taken up dead. 10 And Paul went down, and made on him, and embracing him said, Make ye no ado; for his life is in him. 11 And when he was gone up, and had broken the bread, and eaten, and had talked with them a long while, even till break of day, so he departed. 12 And they brought the lad alive, and were not a little comforted.

13 But we, going before to the ship, set sail for Assos, there intending to take in Paul: for so had he appointed, intending himself to go by land. 14 And when he met us at Assos, we took him in, and came to Mitylene. 15 And sailing from thence, we came the following day over against Chios; and the next day we came to Miletus. 16 For Paul had determined to sail past Ephesus, that he might not have to spend time in Asia; for he was hastening, if it were possible for him, to be at Jerusalem the day of Pentecost.

17 And from Miletus he sent to Ephesus, and called to him the elders of the church. 18 And when they were come to him, he said unto them,

"Ye yourselves know, from the first day that I set foot in Asia, after what manner I was with you all the time, serving the Lord with all lowliness of mind, and with tears, and with trials which befell me by the plots of the Jews: 20 how that I shrank not from declaring unto you anything that was profitable, and teaching you publicly, and from house to house, 21 testifying both to Jews and to Greeks repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ. 22 And now, behold, I go among you ce..."
bound in the spirit unto Jerusalem, not knowing the things that shall befal me there: 23 save that the Holy Ghost testifieth unto me in every city, saying that bonds and afflictions abide me. 24 But I hold not my life of any account, as dear unto myself, 25 so that I may accomplish my course, and the ministry which I received from the Lord Jesus, to testify the gospel of the grace of God. 25 And now, behold, I know that ye all, among whom I went about preaching the kingdom, shall see my face no more.

26 Wherefore I testify unto you this day, that I am pure from the blood of all men. 27 For I shrank not from declaring unto you the whole counsel of God. 28 Take heed unto yourselves, and to all the flock, in the which the Holy Ghost hath made you bishops, to feed the church of God, which he purchased with his own blood. 29 I know that after I depart grievous wolves shall enter in among you, not sparing the flock; 30 and from among your own selves shall men arise, speaking perverse things, to draw away the disciples after them.

31 Wherefore watch ye, remembering that by the space of three years I ceased not to admonish every one night and day with tears. 32 And now I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you the inheritance among all them that are sanctified. 33 I coveted no man's silver, or gold, or apparel. 34 Ye yourselves know that these hands ministered unto my necessities, and to them that were with me. 35 In all things I gave you an example, how that so labouring ye ought to help the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he himself said, It is more blessed to give than to receive.

36 And when he had thus spoken, he kneeled down, and prayed with them all. 37 And they all wept sore, and fell on Paul's neck, and kissed him, 38 sorrowing most of all for the word which he had spoken, that they should behold his face no more. And they brought him on his way unto the ship.

1 And when it came to pass that we were parted from them, and had set sail, we came with a straight course unto Cos, and the next day unto Rhodes, and from thence unto Patara; and having found a ship crossing over unto Phoenicia, we went into a board, and set sail. 3 And when we had come in sight of Cyprus, leaving it on the left hand, we sailed unto Syria, and landed at Tyre: for there the ship was to unde her burden. 4 And having found the disciples, we tarried there seven days: and these said to Paul through the Spirit, that he should not set foot in Jerusalem. 5 And when it came to pass that we had accomplished the days, we departed and went on our journey; and they all, with wives and children, brought us on our way, till we were out of the city: and kneeling down on the beach, we prayed, and bade each other farewell; and we went on board the ship, but they returned home again.

7 And when we had finished the voyage from Tyre, we arrived at Ptolemais; and we saluted the brethren, and abode with them one day. 8 And on the morrow we departed, and came unto Caesarea: and entering into the house of Philip the evangelist, who was one of the seven, we abode with him. 9 Now this man had four daughters, virgins, which did prophesy. 10 And as we tarried there many days, there came down from Judea a certain prophet, named Agabus. 11 And coming to us, and taking Paul's girdle, he bound his own feet and hands, and said, Thus saith the Holy Ghost, So shall the Jews at Jerusalem bind the man that owneth this girdle, and shall deliver him into the hands of the Gentiles. 12 And when we heard these things, both we and they of that place besought him not to go up to Jerusalem. 13 Then Paul answered, "What do ye, weeping and breaking my heart? for I am ready not to be bound only, but also to die at Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus. 14 And when he would not be persuaded, "we ceased, saying, "The will of the Lord be done.

15 And after these days we took up our baggage, and went up to Jerusalem. 16 And there went with us also certain of the disciples from Caesarea, bringing with them one Mnason of Cyprus, an early disciple, with whom we should lodge.

17 And when we were come to Jerusalem, "the brethren received us gladly. 18 And the day following Paul went in with us unto James; and all the elders were present. 19 And when he had saluted them, "he rehearsed one by one the things which God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ministry. 20 And they, when they heard it, "glorified God; and they said unto him, Thou seest, brother, how many thousands there are among the Jews of them which have believed; and they are all zealous for the law: 21 and they have been informed concerning thee, that thou teachest all the people, every man which hath a vow on them; from what is strangled, and from blood, and men which have a vow on them; from what is sacrificed to idols, and from blood, and from blood, and from blood; and all shall know that there is no truth in the things whereof they have been informed concerning thee; but that thou thyself also walkest orderly, keeping the law. 22 But as touching the Gentiles which have believed, "we wrote, giving judgement that they should keep themselves from things sacrificed to idols, and from blood, and from what is strangled, and from fornication. 23 Then Paul took the men, and the next day "purifying himself with them "went into the temple, declaring the fulfilment of the days of purification, until the offering was offered for every one of them.

27 And when "the seven days were almost completed, the Jews from Asia, when they saw him in the temple, stirred up all the multitude, and laid hands on him, 28 crying out, Men of Israel, help: This is the man, that "teacheth all men everywhere against the people, and "the law, and this place: and moreover he brought Greeks also into the temple, and hath defiled this holy place. 29 For they had before seen with him in the city "Trophimus the Ephesian, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple. 30 And all the city was moved, and the people ran together: and they laid hold on Paul, and dragged him out of the temple: and straightway the doors were shut. 31 And as they were seeking to kill him, tidings came up to the chief captain, that all Jerusalem was in confusion. 32 And forthwith he took soldiers and centurions, and ran down upon them: and they, when they saw the chief captain and the soldiers, left off beating Paul. 33 Then the chief captain came near, and laid hold on him, and commanded him "to be bound with two chains; and inquired who he was, and what he had done. 34 And some shouted one thing, some another, among the crowd: and when he could not know the certainty for the uproar, he commanded him to be brought into the castle. 35 And when he came upon the stairs, so it was, that he was borne of the soldiers for the violence of the crowd; 36 for the multitude of the people followed after, crying out, Away with him.

37 And as Paul was about to be brought into the castle, he saith unto the chief captain, May I say something unto thee? And he said, Dost thou know Greek? 38 Art thou not then the Egyptian, which before these days stirred up sedition and led out into the wilderness the four thousand men of the Assassins? 39 But Paul said, "I am a Jew, of Tarsus in Cilicia, a citizen of no mean city: and I beseech thee, give me leave to speak unto the people. 40 And when he had given him leave.
leave, Paul, standing on the stairs, | beckoned with the hand unto the people; and when there was made a great silence, he spake unto them in the Hebrew language, saying,

1 Brethren and fathers, hear ye the defence which I now make unto you.

2 And when they heard that he spake unto them in the Hebrew language, they were the more quiet: and he saith,

3 I am a Jew, born in Tarsus of Cilicia, but brought up in this city, at the feet of Gamaliel, instructed according to the strict manner of the law of our fathers, being zealous for God, even as ye all are this day: and I persecuted this Way unto the death, binding and delivering into prisons both men and women. 4 And as also the high priest doth bear me witness, and all the estate of the elders: from whom also I received letters unto the brethren, and journeyed to Damascus, to bring them also which were there unto Jerusalem, in bonds, for to be punished. 5 And it came to pass, that, as I made my journey, and drew nigh unto Damascus, suddenly there shone from heaven a great light round about me. 6 And I fell unto the ground, and heard a voice saying unto me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? 7 And I answered, Who art thou, Lord? And he said unto me, I am Jesus of Nazareth, whom thou persecutest. 8 And he that was with me beheld indeed the light, but they heard not the voice of him that spake to me. 9 And I said, What shall I do, Lord? And the Lord said unto me, Arise, and go into Damascus; and there it shall be told thee of all things which are appointed for thee to do. 10 And when I could not for the glory of that light, being led by the hand of them that were with me, I came into Damascus. 12 And one Ananias, a devout man according to the law, well reported of by all the Jews that dwelt there, came unto me, and standing by me said unto me, Brother Saul, receive thy sight. And it in that very hour I looked up on him. 14 And he said, The God of our fathers hath appointed thee to know his will, and to see the Righteous One, and to hear a voice from his mouth. 15 For thou shalt be a witness for him unto all men of what thou hast seen and heard. 16 And now why tarriest thou? Arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, calling on his name. 17 And it came to pass, that, when I had returned to Jerusalem, and while I prayed in the temple, I fell into a trance, and saw him saying unto me, Make haste, and get thee quickly out of Jerusalem: because they will not receive of thee testimony concerning me. 18 And I said, Lord, they themselves know that I imprisoned and beat in every synagogue them that believed on thee: 19 and when the blood of Stephen thy witness was shed, I also was standing by, and consenting, and keeping the garments of them that slew him. 21 And he said unto me, Depart: for I will send thee forth far hence unto the Gentiles. 22 And they gave him audience unto this word; and they lifted up their voice, and said, Away with such a fellow from the earth: for it is not fit that he should live. 23 And as they cried out, and threw off their garments, and cast dust into the air, 24 the chief captain commanded him to be brought into the castle, bidding that he should be examined by scourging, that he might know for what cause they so shouted against him. 25 And when they had tied him up with the thongs, Paul said unto the centurion that stood by, Is it lawful for you to scourge a man that is a Roman, and uncondemned? 26 And when the centurion heard it, he went to the chief captain, and told him, saying, What art thou about to do? for this man is a Roman. 27 And the chief captain came, and said unto him, Tell me, art thou a Roman? And he said, Yea. 28 And the chief captain answered, With a great sum obtained I this citizen: and Paul said, But I am a Roman born. 29 They then which were about to examine him straightway departed from him: and the chief captain also was afraid, when he knew that he was a Roman, and because he had bound him.

20 But on the morrow, desiring to know the certainty, wherefore he was accused of the Jews, he loosed him, and commanded the chief priests and all the council to come together, and brought Paul down, and set him before them.

23 And Paul, looking steadfastly on the council, said, Brethren, "I have lived before God in all good conscience until this day. And the high priest Ananias commanded them that stood by him to smite him on the mouth. And then said Paul unto him, God shall smite thee, thou whitened wall: and I shall judge thee according to the law, and commandest me to be smitten contrary to the law? And they that stood by said, Revilest thou God's high priest? And Paul said, 'I wist not, brethren, that he was high priest: for it is written, Thou shalt not speak evil of a ruler of thy people. But when Paul perceived that the one part were Sadducees, and the other Pharisees, he cried out in the council, Brethren, I am a Pharisee, a son of Pharisees: touching the hope and resurrection of the dead I am called in question. And when he had so said, there arose a dissension between the Pharisees and Sadducees; and the assembly was divided. For the Sadducees say that there is no resurrection, neither angel, nor spirit: but the Pharisees confess both. And there arose a great clamour: and some of the scribes of the Pharisees' part stood up, and strove, saying, We find no evil in this man: and what if a spirit hath spoken to him, or an angel? And when there arose a great dissension, the chief captain, fearing lest Paul should be torn in pieces by them, commanded the soldiers to go down and take him by force from among them, and bring him into the castle.

17 And the night following, the Lord stood by him, and said, Be of good cheer: for as thou hast testified concerning me at Jerusalem, so must thou bear witness also at Rome.

12 And when it was day, the Jews banded together, and bound themselves under a curse, saying that they would neither eat nor drink till they had killed Paul. And they were more than forty which made this conspiracy. And they came to the chief priests and the elders, and said, We have bound ourselves under a great curse, to taste nothing until we have killed Paul. Now therefore do ye with the council signify to the chief captain that he bring him down unto you, as though ye would judge of his case more exactly: and we, or ever he come near, are ready to slay him. But Paul's sister's son heard of their lying in wait, and he came and entered into the castle, and told Paul. And Paul called unto him one of the centurions, and said, Bring this young man unto the chief captain, for he hath something to tell him. So he took him, and brought him to the chief captain, and said, Paul the prisoner called me unto him, and asked me to bring this young man unto thee, who hath something to say to thee. And the chief captain took him by the hand, and going aside asked him privately, What is that thou hast to tell me? And he said, The Jews have agreed to ask thee to bring down Paul to-morrow unto the council, as though thou wouldest inquire somewhat more exactly concerning him. Do not thou therefore yield unto them: for there lie in wait for him of them more than forty men, which have bound themselves under a curse, neither to eat nor to drink till they have slain him: and now are they ready, looking for the promise from thee. So the chief captain let the young man go, charging him, Tell no man that thou hast signified these things to me. And he called unto him two of the centurions, and said, Make ready two hundred soldiers and horsemen threescore and ten, and spearmen two hundred, at the third hour of the night: and he bade them provide beasts, that they might set Paul thereon, and bring him safe unto Felix the governor. And he wrote a letter after this form:

26 Claudius Lysias unto the most excellent governor Felix, "greeting. 27" This man was seized by the Jews, and was about to be slain of them, when I came upon them with the soldiers, and rescued him, having learned that he was a Roman. 28 And desiring to know the cause wherefore they accused him, I brought him down unto their council: 29 whom I found to be accused about questions of their law, but to have nothing laid to his charge worthy of death or of bonds. 30 And when it was shewn to me that there would be a plot against the man, I sent him to thee forthwith, charging his accusers also to speak against him before thee.

31 So the soldiers, as it was commanded them, took Paul, and brought him by night to Antipatris. 32 But on the morrow they left the horsemen to go with him, and returned to the castle: 33 and they, when they came to Caesarea, and delivered the letter to the governor, presented Paul also before him. 34 And when he had read it, he asked of what province he was; and when he understood that he was of Cilicia, 35 I will hear thy cause, said he, when thine accusers also are come: and he commanded him to be kept in Herod's palace.

And after five days the high priest Ananias came down with certain elders, and with an orator, one Tertullus; and they informed the governor against Paul. 2 And when he was called, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying:

Seeing that by thee we enjoy much peace, and that by thy providence evil spirits are corrected for this nation, 3 we accept it in all ways and in all places, most excellent Felix, with all thankfulness. 4 But, that I be not further tedious unto thee, I intreat thee to hear us of thy clemency a few words. 5 For we have found this man a pestilent fellow, and a mover of insurrections among all the Jews throughout the world, and a ring-leader of the sect of the Nazarenes: who moreover assayed to profane the temple: on whom also we laid hold: from whom thou wilt be able, by examining him thyself, to take knowledge of all these things, whereof we accuse him. 9 And the Jews also joined in the charge, affirming that these things were so.

10 And when the governor had beckoned unto him to speak, Paul answered,

Forasmuch as I know that thou hast been of many years a judge unto this nation, I do cheerfully make my defence: 11 seeing that thou canst take knowledge, that it is not more than twelve days since I went up to worship at Jerusalem: 12 and neither in the temple did they find me disputing with any man or stirring up a crowd, nor in the synagogues, nor in the city. 13 Neither can they prove to thee the things whereof they now accuse me. 14 But this I confess unto thee, that after the Way which they call a sect, so serve I the God of our fathers, believing all things which are according to the law, and which are written in the prophets: 15 having hope toward God, which these also themselves seek for, that there shall be a resurrection both of the just and unjust. 16 Herein do I also exercise myself to have a conscience void of offence toward God and men always. 17 Now after many years I came to bring alms to my nation, and offerings:

The Jews also joined in the charge, affirming that these things were so.

10 And when the governor had beckoned unto him to speak, Paul answered, deferred them, saying, When Lysias the chief captain shall come down, I will determine your mater.

23 And he gave order to the centurion that he should be kept in charge, and should have indulgence; and not to forbid any of his friends to minister unto him.

24 But after certain days, Felix came with Drusilla, his wife, which was a Jewess, and sent for Paul, and heard him concerning the faith in Christ Jesus. 25 And as he rea-sioned of righteousness, and temperance, and the judgement to come, Felix was terrified, and answered, Go thy way for this time; and when I have a convenient season, I will call thee unto me. 26 He hoped withal that money would be given him of Paul: wherefore also he sent for him the oftener, and communed with him. 27 But two years were fulfilled, Felix was succeeded by Porcius Festus; and desiring to gain favour with the Jews, Felix left Paul in bonds.

25 And when he had tarried among them not more than eight or ten days, he went down unto Cesarea; and on the morrow he sat upon the judgment-seat, and commanded Paul to be brought. 26 How-bett Festus answered, that Paul was kept in charge at Cesarea, and that he himself was about to depart thither shortly. 27 Let them therefore, saith he, which are of power among you, go down with me, and if there is anything amiss in the man, let them accuse him.

them not more than eight or ten and on the morrow he sat upon the judgement-seat, and commanded Paul to be brought. 7 And when he was come, the Jews which had come down from Jerusalem stood round about him, bringing against Paul many and grievous charges, which they could not prove;

Neither against the law of the Jews, nor against the temple, nor against Caesar, have I sinned at
To-morrow, saith he, thou shalt hear him.

23 So on the morrow, when ἀγριππάς was come, and Bernice, with great pomp, and they were entered into the place of hearing, with the chief captains, and the principal men of the city, at the command of Festus Paul was brought in. 24 And Festus saith, King Agrippa, and all men which are here present with us, ye behold this man, about whom all the multitude of the Jews made suit to me, both at Jerusalem and here, crying that he ought not to live any longer.

25 But I found that he had committed nothing worthy of death: and as he himself appealed to the emperor I determined to send him. 26 Of whom I have no certain thing to write unto my lord. Wherefore I have brought him forth before you, and specially before thee, king Agrippa, that, after examination had, I may have somewhat to write. 27 For it seemeth to me unreasonable, in sending a prisoner, not withal to signify the charges against him.

26 And ἀγριππάς said unto Paul, Thou art permitted to speak for thyself. Then Paul stretched forth his hand, and made his defence:

2 I think myself happy, king Agrippa, that I am to make my defence before thee this day touching all the things whereof I am accused by the Jews: 3 especially because thou art expert in all customs and questions which are among the Jews: wherefore I beseech thee to hear me patiently. 4 For my manner of life before my youth up, which was from the beginning among mine own nation, and at Jerusalem, know all the Jews; 5 having knowledge of me from the first, if they be willing to testify, how that after the straitest sect of our religion I lived a Pharisee. 6 And now I stand here to be judged for the hope of the promise made of God unto our fathers; 7 unto which promise our twelve tribes, earnestly serving God night and day, hope to attain. And concerning this hope I am accused by the Jews, O king! 8 Why is it judged incredible with you, if God doth raise the dead? 9 *I verily thought with myself, that I ought to do many things contrary to the name of Jesus of Nazareth. 10 And I also did in Jerusalem: and I both shut up many of the saints in prisons, having received authority from the chief priests, and when they were put to death, I gave my vote against them. 11 And *punishing them oftentimes in all the synagogues, I strove to make them blaspheme; and *being exceedingly mad against them, I persecuted them even unto foreign cities. 12 Whereupon ἀσ I journeyed to Damascus with the authority and commission of the chief priests, 13 at midday, O king, I saw on the way a light from heaven, above the brightness of the sun, shining round about me and them that journeyed with me. 14 And when we were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice saying unto me in the Hebrew language, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? it is hard for thee to kick against the goad. 15 And I said, Who art thou, Lord? And he said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest. 16 But arise, and stand upon thy feet: for to this end have I appeared unto thee, to appoint thee a minister and a witness both of the things wherein thou hast seen me, and of the things wherein I will appear unto thee; 17 delivering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, unto whom I send thee, 18 to open the eyes of them that are asleep, and to lead out of the prison those that sit in darkness and shadow of death, and to the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive remission of sins and an inheritance among them that are sanctified by faith in me. 19 Wherefore, O king Agrippa, I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision: 20 but declared both to them of Damascus first, and at Jerusalem, and throughout all the country of Judæa, and also to the Gentiles, that they should repent and turn to God, doing works worthy of repentance. 21 For this cause I was taken forth among you this day, to be judged of you.
therefore obtained the help that is from God. 1 I stand unto this day testifying both to small and great, saying nothing but what the prophets and Moses did say should come; 23 1 how that the Christ 2 must suffer, and 1 how that he first by the resurrection of the dead should proclaim 1 light both to the people and to the Gentiles. 24 And as he thus made his defence, Festus saith with a loud voice, Paul, 1 thou art mad; thy much learning doth turn thee to madness. 25 But Paul saith, I am not mad, 1 most excellent Festus; but speak forth 1 words of truth and 1 soberness. 26 For 1 the king knoweth of these things, unto whom also I speak freely: for I am persuaded that none of these things is hidden from him; for this hath not been done in a corner. 27 King Agrippa, believest thou the prophets? I know that thou believest. 28 And Agrippa said unto Paul, With but little persuasion thou wouldest fain make me a Christian. 29 And Paul saith, I would to God, that whether with little or with much, not thou only, but also all that hearme this day, f might become such as I am, except these bonds. 30 And the king rose up, and the governor, and Bernice, and they that sat with them: 31 and when they had withdrawn, they spake one to another, saying, This man doeth nothing worthy of death or of bonds. 32 And Agrippa said unto Festus, This man might have been set at liberty, if he had not appealed 1 unto Caesar. 1 27 And when it was determined that we should sail for Italy, they delivered Paul and certain other prisoners to a centurion named Julius, of the band. 2 And embarking in a ship of Adramyttium, which was about to sail unto the places on the coast of Asia, we put to sea, Aristarchus, a Macedonian of Thessalonica, being with us. 3 And the next day we touched at Sidon. And Julius treated Paul kindly, and gave him leave to go unto his friends and refresh himself. 4 And putting to sea from thence, we sailed under the lee of Cyprus, because the winds were contrary. 5 And when we had sailed across the sea which is off Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myra, a city of Lycia. 6 And there the centurion found a ship of Alexandria sailing for Italy; and he put us therein. 7 And when we had sailed slowly many days, and were come with difficulty over against Cnidus, the wind not further suffering us, we sailed under the lee of Crete, over against Samone; 8 and with difficulty coasting along it we came unto a certain place called Fair Havens; nigh whereunto was the city of Lasa. 9 And when much time was spent, and the voyage was now dangerous, because the Fast was now already gone by, Paul admonished them, 10 and said unto them, Sirs, I perceive that the voyage will be with injury and much loss, not only of the lading and the ship, but also of our lives. 11 But the centurion gave more heed to the master and to the owner of the ship, than to those things which were spoken by Paul. 12 And because the haven was not commodious to winter in, the more part advised to put to sea from thence, if by any means they could reach Phoenix, and winter there; which is a haven of Crete, looking north-east and south-east. 13 And when the southwind blew softly, supposing that they had obtained their purpose, they weighed anchor and sailed along Crete, close in shore. 14 But after no long time there beat down from it a tempestuous wind, which is called Euraquilo: 15 and when the ship was caught, and could not face the wind, we gave way to it, and were driven. 16 And running under the lee of a small island called Cauda, we were able, with difficulty, to secure the boat: 17 and when they had holsted it up, they used helps, under-girding the ship; and, fearing lest they should be cast upon the Syrtis, they lowered the gear, and so were driven. 18 And as we laboured exceedingly with the storm, the next day they began to throw the freight overboard; 19 and the third day they cast out with their own hands the tackling of the ship. 20 And when neither sun nor stars shone upon us... for many days, and no small tempest lay on it, all hope that we should be saved was now taken away. 21 And when they had been long without food, then Paul stood forth in the midst of them, and said, Sirs, ye should have hearkened unto me, and not have set sail from Crete, and have gotten this injury and loss. 22 And now I exhort you to be of good cheer: for there shall be no loss of life among you, but only of the ship. 23 For there stood by me this night an angel of the God whose I am, whom also I serve, saying, Fear not, Paul; thou must stand before Caesar: and lo, God hath granted thee all that sail with thee. 24 Wherefore, sirs, be of good cheer: for I believe God, that it shall be even so as it hath been spoken unto me. 25 Howbeit we must be cast upon a certain island.

26 But when the fourteenth night was come, as we were driven to and fro in the sea of Adria, about midnight the sailors surmised that they were drawing near to some country; and they sounded, and found twenty fathoms: and after a little space, they sounded again, and found fifteen fathoms. 27 And fearing lest haply we should be cast ashore on rocky ground, they let go four anchors from the stern, and wished for the day. 28 And as the sailors were seeking to flee out of the ship, and had lowered the boat into the sea, under colour as though they would cast themselves from the foreship, 29 And fearing lest haply we should be cast ashore on rocky ground, they let go four anchors from the stern, and wished for the day. 30 And as the sailors were seeking to flee out of the ship, and had lowered the boat into the sea, under colour as though they would cast themselves from the foreship, 31 Paul said to the centurion and to the soldiers, Except these abide in the ship, ye cannot be saved. 32 Then the soldiers cut away the ropes of the boat, and let her fall off. 33 And while the day was coming on, Paul besought them all to take some food, saying, This day is the fourteenth day that ye wait and continue fasting, having taken nothing, 34 Wherefore I beseech you to take some food: for this is for your safety; for there shall not a hair perish from the head of any of you. 35 And when he had said this, and had taken bread, he gave thanks to God in the presence of all; and he brake it, and began to eat.

28 And when we were escaped, then we knew that the island was called Melita. 2 And the barbarians shewed us no common kindness: for they kindled a fire, and received us all, because of the present rain, and because of the cold. 3 But when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks, and laid them on the fire, a viper came out by reason of the heat, and fastened on his hand. 4 And when the barbarians saw the beast hanging from his hand, they said one to another, No doubt this man is a murderer, whom, though he hath escaped from the sea, yet Justice hath not suffered to live. 5 Howbeit he shook off the beast into the fire, and took no harm. 6 But they expected that he would have swollen, or fallen down dead suddenly: but when they were long in expectation, and beheld no thing altered, then knew they that we were saved.
thing amiss come to him, they changed their minds, and said that he was a god.

7 Now in the neighbourhood of that place were lands belonging to the chief man of the island, named Publius; who received us, and entertained us three days courteously.

8 And it was so, that the father of Publius lay sick of fever and dysentery: unto whom Paul entered in, and "prayed, and laying his hands on him healed him. 9 And when this was done, the rest also which had diseases in the island came, and were cured: who also honoured us with many honours; and when we sailed, they put on board such things as we needed.

11 And after three months we set sail in a ship of Alexandria, which had wintered in the island, whose sign was The Twin Brothers.

12 And touching at Syracuse, we tarried there three days. 13 And from thence we made a circuit, and arrived at Rhegium: and on the second day we came to Puteoli: where we found brethren, and were intreated to tarry with them seven days: and so we came to Rome. 15 And from thence the brethren, when they heard of us, came to meet us as far as The Market of Appius, and The Three Taverns: whom when Paul saw, he thanked God, and took courage.

16 And when we entered into Rome, a Paul was suffered to abide by himself with the soldier that guarded him.

17 And it came to pass, that after three days he called together those that were the chief of the Jews: and when they were come together, he said unto them, I, brethren, though I had done nothing against the people, or the customs of our fathers, yet was delivered prisoner from Jerusalem into the hands of the Romans: who, when they had examined me, desired to set me at liberty, because there was no cause of death in me. 19 But when the Jews spake against it, I was constrained to appeal unto Caesar: not that I had ought to accuse my nation of. 20 For this cause therefore did I treat you to see and to speak with me: for because of the hope of Israel I am bound with this chain.

21 And they said unto him, We neither received letters from Judea concerning thee, nor did any of the brethren come hither and report or speak any harm of thee. 22 But we desire to hear of thee what thou thinkest: for as concerning this sect, it is known to us that everywhere it is spoken against.

23 And when they had appointed him a day, they came to him into his lodging in great number; to whom he expounded the matter, testifying the kingdom of God, and persuading them concerning Jesus, both from the law of Moses and from the prophets, from morning till evening. 24 And some believed the things which were spoken, and some disbelieved. 25 And when they agreed not among themselves, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one word, Well saying, *Go thou unto this people, and say, *By hearing ye shall hear, and shall in no wise understand; And seeing ye shall see, and shall in no wise perceive: 27 For this people's heart is waxed gross, And their ears are dull of hearing, And their eyes they have closed; Least haply they should perceive with their eyes, And hear with their ears, And understand with their heart, And should turn again, And I should heal them. 28 Be it known therefore unto you, that this is the salvation of God sent unto the Gentiles: they will also hear.

29 And he abode two whole years in his own hired dwelling, and received all that went in unto him, 30 preaching the kingdom of God, and teaching the things concerning the Lord Jesus Christ with all boldness; none forbidding him.
THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE ROMANS.

1 PAUL, a servant of Jesus Christ, called to be an apostle, separated unto the gospel of God, which was promised afore by his prophets in the holy scriptures, 3 concerning his Son, who was born of the seed of David according to the flesh, 4 who was declared to be the Son of God with power, according to the spirit of holiness, by the resurrection of the dead; even Jesus Christ our Lord, 5 through whom we received grace and apostleship, unto obedience 6 of faith among all the nations, for his name's sake: among whom are ye also, called to be saints: 7 grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

8 First, I thank my God through Christ Jesus for you all, that your faith is proclaimed throughout the whole world. 9 For God is my witness, whom I serve in my spirit in the gospel of his Son, how unceasingly I make mention of you, always in my prayers making request, if by any means now at length I may be prospered by the will of God to come unto you. 10 For I long to see you, that I may impart unto you some spiritual gift, to the end ye may be established; 11 that, with you, I may be comforted together by you, each of us by the other's faith, both yours and mine. 12 And I would not have you ignorant, brethren, that oftentimes I purposed to come unto you (and was hindered hitherto), that I might have some fruit in you also, even as in the rest of the Gentiles. 13 For I am debtor both to Greeks and to Barbarians, both to the wise and to the foolish. 14 So, as much as I am in the lusts of men, I am ready for the gospel to you also that are in Rome. 15 For I am not ashamed of the gospel: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek. 16 For therein is revealed righteousness of God by faith unto faith: as it is written, But the righteous shall live by faith. 17 For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who hold down the truth in unrighteousness; 18 because that which may be known of God is manifest in them; for God manifested it unto them. 20 For the invisible things of him since the creation of the world are clearly seen, being perceived through the things that are made, even his everlasting power and divinity; 19 that they may be without excuse: 21 because that, knowing God, they glorified him not as God, neither gave thanks; 22 but became vain in their reasonings, and their senseless heart was darkened. 23 And changed the glory of the incorruptible God for a lie, and worshipped and served the creature rather than the Creator, 24 wherefore God gave them up also to uncleanness, that their bodies should be dishonoured among themselves: 25 for that they exchanged the truth of God for a lie, and worshipped and served the creature rather than the Creator, 26 For this cause God gave them up unto vile passions: for their women changed the natural use into that which is against nature: 27 and likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust one toward another, men with men working unseemly things, and receiving in themselves the recompense of their error which was due. 28 And even as they refused to accept the truth as such, so, too, did they refuse to accept the Father's truth.
have God in "their" knowledge; God gave them up unto a reproue mind, to do those things which are not fitting; 29 being filled with all unrighteousness, wickedness, covetousness, maliciousseness; full of evvy, murder, strife, deceit, malignity; whisperers, backbiters, hateful to God, insolent, haughty, boastful, inventors of evil things, disobedient to parents, without understanding, covenant-breakers, without natural affection, unmerciful: 32 who, knowing the ordinance of God, that they which practise such things are worthy of death, not only do the same, but also consent with them that practise them.
2 Wherefore thou art without excuse, O man, forsoever thou art that judgest: for wherein thou judgest another, thou condemnest thyself; for thou that judgest dost practise the same things. 2 And we know that the judgement of God is according to truth against them that practise such things. 3 And reckonest thou the riches of his goodness and forbearance and longsuffering, not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance? 5 but after thy hardness and impenitent heart thou treasur'st up for thyself wrath in the day of wrath and revelation of the righteous judgement of God: 4 Or despisest thou the riches of his goodness and forbearance and longsuffering, not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance? 5 but after thy hardness and impenitent heart thou treasur'st up for thyself wrath in the day of wrath and revelation of the righteous judgement of God: 6 Who will render to every man according to his works: 7 to them that by patience in well-doing seek for glory and honour and incorruption, eternal life: 8 but unto them that are factious, and obey not the truth, but obey unrighteousness, shall be wrath and indignation, tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that worketh evil, of the Jew first, and also of the Greek; 10 but glory and honour and peace to every man that worketh good, to the Jew first, and also to the Greek: 11 for there is no respect of persons with God. 12 For as many as have sinned without law shall also perish without law: and as have sinned under law shall be judged by law; 13 for not the hearers of a law are just before God, but the doers of a law shall be justified: 14 for when Gentiles which have no law do by nature the things of the law, these, having no law, are a law unto themselves; 15 in that they shew that the work of the law is written in their hearts, their conscience bearing witness with them, and their thoughts one with another accusing or else excusing them; 16 in the day when God shall judge the secrets of men, according to my gospel, by Jesus Christ.
heart, in the spirit, not in the letter; * whose praise is not of men, but of God.

1 What advantage then hath the Jew or what is the profit of circumcision? * Much every way: first of all, that they were intrusted with * the oracles of God. 3 For * what if some were without faith? * shall their want of faith make of none effect the faithfulness of God? * God forbid: * ye shall God be found true, but * every man a liar; as it is written,

"That thou mightest be justified in thy words, And mightest prevail when thou * comest into judgment."

4 But if our unrighteousness commendeth the righteousness of God, what shall we say? * Is God unrighteous who visiteth with wrath? (* I speak after the manner of men.) 6 God forbid: for then how shall God judge the world? * But if the truth of God through my lie abounded unto his glory, * why am I also still judged as a sinner? 8 and why not (as we be slanderously reported, and as some affirm that we say), * Let us do evil, that good may come?* whose condemnation is just.

9 What then? * are we in worse case than they? No, in no wise: * for we before laid to the charge both of Jews and * Greeks, that they are all * under sin; * as it is written, * There is none righteous, no, not one; 11 There is none that understandeth, There is none that seeketh after God;

12 They have all turned aside, they are together become unprofitable; * There is none that doeth good, no, not so much as one:

13 * Their throat is * an open sepulchre: With their tongues they have used deceit; * The poison of asps is under their lips:

14 * Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness:

15 Their feet are swift to shed blood; 16 Destruction and misery are in their ways; 17 And * the way of peace have they not known:

18 * There is no fear of God before their eyes.

19 Now we know that what things soever * the law saith, it speaketh to them that are under the law; * that every mouth may be stopped, and * all the world may be brought under the judgment of God: * because * by the works of the law shall no flesh be * justified in his sight: for * through the law cometh the knowledge of sin. 20 But now apart from the law * a righteousness of God hath been manifested, * being witnessed by the law and the prophets; 22 even the righteousness of God * through faith * in Jesus Christ unto all * them that believe; * for there is no distinction; 23 for * all have sinned, and * short fall of the glory of God; 24 * being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus: 25 whom God set forth unto be a propitiation, through faith, * by his blood, to shew his righteousness, because of the passing over of * the sins done aforetime, in * the forbearance of God: 26 for the shewing, * I say, of his righteousness at this present season: that he might himself be * just, and the * justifier of him that * hath faith 8 in Jesus. 27 Where then is the glorying? It is excluded. By what manner of law? of works? Nay: but by a law of faith. 28 We reckon therefore that a man is justified * apart from * the works of the law. 29 Or * is God the Jews only? * is he not the God of Gentiles also? Yea, of Gentiles also: 30 if so be that * God is one, and * he shall justify the circumcision 4 by faith, and * the uncircumcision 16 through faith. 31 Do we then make 14 the law of none effect 18 through faith? God forbid: nay, we establish 16 the law.

1 What then shall we say 17 that Abraham, our forefather according to the flesh, hath... found? For if Abraham was justified by works, he hath whereof to glory; but not toward God. 3 For what saith the scripture? And Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned unto him for righteousness. 4 Now to him that worketh, the reward is not reckoned as of grace, but as of debt. 5 But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is reckoned for righteousness. 6 Even as David also pronounceth blessing upon the man, unto whom God reckoneth righteousness apart from works, saying, 7 Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven, And whose sins are covered.

8 Blessed is the man to whom the Lord will not reckon sin.

e Cor. 3.19.
c ch. 3.30.
d ver. 3.

e Gen. 17.10.

9 Is this blessing then pronounced upon the circumcision, or upon the uncircumcision also? for as we say, To Abraham his faith was reckoned for righteousness. 10 How then was it reckoned? when he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision: 11 and he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had while he was in uncircumcision: that he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be in uncircumcision, that righteousness might be reckoned unto them; 12 and the father of circumcision to them who not only are of the circumcision, but who also walk in the steps of that faith of our father Abraham which he had in uncircumcision.

saved from the wrath of God through him. 10 For if, while we were enemies, we were reconciled to God through the death of his Son, much more, being reconciled, shall we be saved by his life; 11 and not only so, but we also rejoice in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have now received the reconciliation. 12 Therefore, as through one man sin entered into the world, and death through sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all sinned:— 13 for until the law sin was in the world: but sin is not imputed when there is no law. 14 Nevertheless death reigned from Adam until Moses, even over them that had not sinned after the likeness of Adam's transgression, 15 but not as the trespass, so also is the free gift. For if by the trespass of the one the many died, much more did the grace of God, and the gift by the grace of the one man, Jesus Christ, abound unto the many. 16 And not as through one that sinned, so is the gift: for the judgement came of one unto condemnation, but the free gift came of many trespasses unto justification. 17 For if, by the trespass of the one, death reigned through the one; much more shall they that receive the abundance of grace and the gift of righteousness reign in life through the one, even Jesus Christ. 18 So then as through one trespass the judgement came unto all men to condemnation; even so through one act of righteousness the free gift came unto all men to justification of life. 19 For as through the one man's disobedience the many were made sinners, even so through the obedience of the one shall the many be made righteous. 20 And as the law came in, beside that the trespass might abound; but where sin abounded, grace did abound more exceedingly: 21 that, as sin reigned in death, even so might grace reign through righteousness unto eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

1 What shall we say then? 2 Shall we continue in sin, that grace may abound? 3 Or do you not know that to whom ye present the members of sin are presented as members of righteousness? 4 Or do you not know that he who gives for sin to one who does sin is the servant of him to whom you do sin, and not the Lord? 5 But thanks be to God, that, whereas ye were servants of sin, ye became obedient from the heart to that form of teaching wherein ye were delivered; 6 and being made free from sin, ye became servants of righteousness. 7 All things therefore are for our benefit, that in Christ we might have abundant grace through his abundant grace.
cause of the infirmity of your flesh: for as ye presented your members as servants to uncleanness and to iniquity unto iniquity, even so now present your members as servants to righteousness unto sanctification. 20 For when ye were servants of sin, ye were free in regard of righteousness. 21 What fruit then had ye at that time at these things? Whereof ye are now ashamed? If ye then answered to gain, ye are not so now, are ye? 22 But now being made free from sin, and become servants to God, ye have your fruit unto sanctification, and the end eternal life. 23 For the wages of sin is death; but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord. 7 Or are ye ignorant, brethren, (for I speak to men that know the law,) how that the law hath dominion over a man for so long time as he liveth? 2 For the woman that hath a husband is bound by law to the husband while he liveth: but if the husband die, she is discharged from the law of the husband. 3 So then if, while the husband liveth, she be joined to another man, she shall be called an adulteress: but if the husband die, she is free from the law, so that she is no adulteress, though she be joined to another man. 4 Wherefore, my brethren, ye also were made dead to the law through the body of Christ; that ye should be joined to another, even to him who was raised from the dead, that we might bring forth fruit unto God. 5 For when we were in the flesh, the sinful passions, which were through the law, wrought in our members to bring forth fruit unto death. 6 But now we have been discharged from the law, having died to that wherein we were holden; so that we serve in newness of spirit, and not in oldness of letter. 7 What shall we say then? Is the law sin? God forbid. Howbeit, I had not known sin, except through the law: for I had not known coveting, except the law had said, Thou shalt not covet: 8 but sin, finding occasion, wrought in me through the commandment all manner of coveting: woe apart from the law sin is dead. 9 And I was alive apart from the law once: but when the commandment came, sin revived, and I died; 10 and the commandment, which was unto life, this I found to be unto death: 11 for sin, finding occasion, through the commandment beguiled me, and through it slew me. 12 So that the law is holy, and the commandment holy, and righteous, and good. 13 Did then that which is good become death unto me? God forbid. But sin, that it might be shewn to be sin, by working death to me through that which is good:—that through the commandment sin might become exceeding sinful. 14 For we know that the law is spiritual: but I am carnal, sold under sin. 15 For that which I do I know not: for not what I would, that do I; but what I hate, that I do. 16 If that which I would, I do it, but sin which dwelleth in me. 17 For I know that the law is good. 18 For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord. 19 For I, through the law, am dead to the law, lest I should die according to the law. 20 But sin, finding occasion, through the commandment brought life into me, that sin by working death to me should be made dead; that the commandment should be sin unto me, that I might be justified from the law by the death of the commandment, that I might receive righteousness by faith. 21 But now the righteousness of God without the law is manifested, being witnessed by the law and the prophets; 22 even the righteousness of God through faith in Jesus Christ unto all and upon all that believe. For there is no difference: 23 for all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God; 24 being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus: 25 whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation through faith in his blood, to declare his righteousness for the remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God; 26 to declare, I say, at this time his righteousness; that he might be just, and the justifier of him which believeth in Jesus. 27 Where is now the condemnation of the law? The body of Christ.
through the flesh, *God, sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh *and as an offering for sin, condemned sin in the flesh: 4 that *the ordinance of the law might be fulfilled in us, *who walk not after the flesh, but after the spirit. 5 For *they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the spirit *the things of the spirit. 6 For *the mind of the flesh is death; but the mind of the spirit is life and peace: 7 because the mind of the flesh is enmity against God; for it is not subject to the law of God, *neither indeed can it be: 8 and they that are in the flesh cannot please God. 9 But ye are not in the flesh, but in the spirit; if so be that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you. But *if any man hath not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his. 10 And if Christ is in you, the body is dead because of sin; but the spirit is life because of righteousness. 11 But if the Spirit of God dwell in you, he that raised up Jesus from the dead shall quicken also your mortal bodies through his Spirit that dwelleth in you.

12 So then, brethren, we are debtors, *not to the flesh, to live after the flesh: 13 for ye live after the flesh, ye must die; but if by the spirit ye mortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live. 14 For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, these *are sons of God. 15 For ye received not *the spirit of bondage again unto fear; but ye received *the spirit of adoption, whereby we cry, *Abba, Father. 16 The Spirit himself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are children of God: 17 and if children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ; *if so be that we suffer with him, that we may also be glorified with him.

18 For I reckon that the sufferings of this present time *are not worthy to be compared with *the glory which shall be revealed to us. 19 For the earnest expectation of the creation waiteth for *the revealing of the sons of God. 20 For the creation *was subjected to vanity, not of its own will, but *by reason of him who subjected it, *in hope 21 that *the creation itself also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the liberty of the glory of the children of God. 22 For we know that *the whole creation groaneth and travaileth in pain together until now. 23 And not only so, but ourselves also, which have the firstfruits of the Spirit, *even we ourselves groan within ourselves, *waiting for our adoption, to wit, *the redemption of our body. 24 For *by hope were we saved: but *hope that is seen is not hope: *for who hopeth for that which he seeth? 25 But if we hope for that which we see not, then do we with *patience wait for it. 26 And in like manner the Spirit also helpeth our infirmity: for *we know not how to pray as we ought; but *the Spirit itself maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered; 27 and *he that searcheth the hearts knoweth what is the mind of the Spirit, *because he maketh intercession for *us with groanings which cannot be uttered.

28 And we know that to them that love God *all things work together for good, to them that love God and are called according to his purpose. 29 For whom he foreknew, he also foreordained *to be conformed to the image of his Son, that he might be the firstborn among many brethren: 30 and whom he foreordained, them he also called: and whom he called, them he also *justified: and whom he justified, them he also *glorified.

31 What then shall we say to these things? *If God *is for us, who *is against us? 32 He that spared not his own Son, but delivered him up for us all, how shall he not also with him freely give us all things? 33 Who shall lay anything to the charge of God's elect? 18 *It is God that justifieth: *who is he that shall condemn? *It is Christ Jesus that died, yea rather, that was raised from the dead, *who is at the right hand of God, *who hath also *over all the principality and the power and the excellency.

1 Or, flesh of sin. 2 Or, and for sin. 3 Or, requirement. 4 Many ancient authorities read because of. 5 Or, make to die. 6 Or, things. 7 Or, in hope; because the creation groaneth. 8 Or, with us. 9 See ch. 1.25. 10 Some ancient authorities read receive. 11 Or, that. 12 Some ancient authorities read God worketh all things for them for good. 13 Or, Shall God that justifieth? 14 Or, Shall Christ Jesus that died? ... us?
hand of God, who also maketh intercession for us. 35 Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? shall tribulation, or anguish, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword? 36 Even as it is written,

"For thy sake we are killed all the day long; We were accounted as sheep for the slaughter."

37 Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him that loved us. 38 For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor things present, nor things to come, nor powers, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

9 I say the truth in Christ, I lie not, my conscience bearing witness with me in the Holy Ghost, that I have great sorrow and unceasing pain in my heart. 3 For I could wish that I myself were condemned to death on account of my brethren, my kinsmen. 4 But that which does not kill us makes us stronger. 5 For we do not live for ourselves, but for Jesus Christ who died and rose again for us. 6 So we also must die to the law in order that we may live to God. 7 For he who has given us the Spirit of his Son into our hearts, he is our Father. 8 And you who are sons of God, what must we say? 9 Or if, once for all, Christ died for the living God, how much more should he die for a greater God? 10 For if the recompense of the righteous is according to their works, why did God maximize his offspring? 11 For if those who are righteous receive the reward, much more will those who are marked out by God receive it.

14 What is this other thing? What else do I have to say? 15 For I could wish that I myself were accursed and cut off from Christ for the sake of my brethren, my kinsmen according to the flesh. 16 For not all Israel are of Israel, neither are all of the children of promise also children of the promise. 17 For the word is written, "One of the children was cast out because he was not of the covenant of promise, but the other was by grace." 18 For the scripture saith unto Pharaoh, "For this very purpose did I raise thee up, that I might show in thee my power, and that my name might be published abroad in all the earth. 19 And so I have mercy on whom I will, and whom I will I harden."

19 Thou wilt say then unto me, Why doth he still find fault? For who withstandeth his will? 20 Nay but, O man, who art thou who art judging against God's will? 21 Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it, "Why didst thou make me thus?" 22 Or hath not the potter a right over the clay, from the same lump to make one part a vessel unto honour, and another unto dishonour? 23 What if God, willing to show his wrath, and to make his power known, endured with much long-suffering vessels of wrath fitted unto destruction? 24 and that he might make known the riches of his glory upon vessels of mercy, which he had afore prepared unto glory, even us, whom he also called, not from the Jews only, but also from the Gentiles. 25 As he saith also in Hosea,

"I will call that my people, which was not my people; And her beloved, which was not beloved.

26 And it shall be, that in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people. There shall they be called sons of the living God."

27 And Isaiah crieth concerning Israel, "If the number of the children of Israel be as the sand of the sea, it is the remnant that shall be saved: 28 for the Lord will execute his word upon the earth, finishing it and cutting it short. 29 And, as Isaiah hath said before, 30 What shall we say then? That the Gentiles, which followed not after righteousness, attained to righteousness, even as the righteousness which is of faith: 31 but Israel, following after a law of righteousness, did not arrive at that law. 32 Wherefore? Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by works. They stumbled at the stone of stumbling; 33 even as it is written, Behold, I lay in Zion a stone of stumbling and a rock of offence: and he that believeth on him shall not be put to shame. 10 Brethren, my heart's desire and my supplication to God is for them, that they may be saved. a For I bear them witness that they have a zeal for God, but not according to knowledge. 3 For being ignorant of God's righteousness, and seeking to establish theirown, they did not subject themselves to the righteousness of God. 4 For Christ is the end of the law unto righteousness to every one that believeth. 5 For Moses writeth that the man that doeth the righteousness which is of the law shall live thereby. 6 But the righteousness which is of faith saith thus, Say not in thy heart, Who shall ascend into heaven? (that is, to bring Christ down:) 7 or, Who shall descend into the abyss? (that is, to bring Christ up from the dead.) 8 But what saith it? The word is nigh thee, in thy mouth, and in thy heart: that is, the word of faith, which we preach: 9 because if thou shalt confess with thy mouth Jesus as Lord, and shalt believe in thy heart that God raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved: 10 for with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation. 11 For the scripture saith, Whosoever believeth on him shall not be put to shame. 12 For there is no distinction between Jew and Greek: for the same Lord is Lord of all, and is rich unto all that call upon him: 13 for, Whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved. 14 How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in him whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear without a preacher? 15 and how shall they preach, except they be sent? even as it is written, How beautiful are the feet of them that bring glad tidings of good things! 16 But they did not all hearken to the glad tidings. For Isaiah saith, a Lord, who hath believed our report? 17 So belief cometh of hearing, and hearing by the word of Christ. 18 But I say, Did they not hear? Yea, verily, Their sound went out into all the earth, And their words unto the ends of the world. 19 But I say, Did Israel not know? First Moses saith, a I will provoke you to jealousy with that which is no nation, With a nation void of understanding will I anger you. 20 And Isaiah is very bold, and saith, a I was found of them that sought me not; I became manifest unto them that asked not of me. 21 But as to Israel he saith, All the day long did I spread out my hands unto a disobedient and gainsaying people. 22 I say then, a Did God cast off his people? God forbid.

11 Even so then at this present time also there is 1 a remnant according to the election of grace. 2 But if it is by grace, it is no more of works: otherwise it is no more grace. 3 What then? 4 That which Israel seeketh for, that he obtained not; but the election obtained it, and the rest 5 were hardened: 6 according as it is written, 7 God gave them a spirit of stupor, 8 eyes that they should not see, and ears that they should not hear, unto this very day. 9 And David saith, 10 Let their table be made a snare, and a trap, and a stumblingblock, and a recompense unto them: 11 Let their eyes be darkened, that they may not see, and bow thou down their back alway.

12 I say then, Did they stumble that they might fall? God forbid: 13 But if they did not fall: whom shall they stumble? 14 Even me they stumble not. 15 For if the casting away of them be the riches of the world, and the loss of the riches of the Gentiles; how much more their fulness?

16 But I speak to you that are Gentiles. Inasmuch then as 1 I am an apostle of Gentiles, I glory my ministry: 14 if by any means I may provoke to jealousy them that are my flesh, and 14 may save some of them. 15 For if the casting away of them be 1 the reconciling of the world, what shall the receiving of them be, but life from the dead?

16 And if the firstfruit is holy, so is the lump: and if the root is holy, so are the branches. 17 But if some of the branches were broken off, and thou, 1 being a wild olive, wast grafted contrary to nature into a good olive tree: how much more shall these, which are the natural branches, be grafted into their own olive tree?

18 For I would not, brethren, have you ignorant of this mystery, 2 lest ye be wise in your own conceits, 3 1 of a hardening in part hath befallen Israel, 4 until the fulness of the Gentiles be come in; 26 and so all Israel shall be saved: even as it is written, 5 There shall come out of Zion the Deliverer; and he shall turn away 6 ungodliness from Jacob:

27 And this is 7 my 8 covenant unto them, 9 When I shall take away their sins.

28 As touching the gospel, they are enemies for your sake: but as touching the election, they are 7 beloved for the fathers' sake. 29 For the gifts and 1 the calling of God are 9 without repentance. 30 For as ye be in time past were disobedient to God, but now have obtained mercy by their disobedience, 31 even so have these also now been disobedient, that by the mercy shewn to you they also may now obtain mercy. 32 For God 1 hath shut up to you the riches of his wrath.

33 O the depth 4 of the riches both of 1 the wisdom and the knowledge of God! *how unsearchable are his judgements, and his ways past tracing out! 34 For who hath known the mind of the Lord? or 9 who hath been his counsellor? 35 or 1 who hath first given to him, and it shall be recompensed unto him again? 36 For 1 of him, and through him, and unto him, are all things. 4 To him be the glory for ever. Amen.
12 I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, ¹ to present your bodies: ² for a living sacrifice, holy, ³ acceptable to God, which is your ⁴ reasonable service. ² And be not fashioned according to this world: but be ye transformed ³ by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is the good and ⁴ acceptable and perfect will of God. ³ For I say, through the grace that was given me, to every man that is among you, ³ not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think; but so to think as to think soberly, ³ according as God hath dealt to each man a measure of faith. ⁴ For even as we have many members in one body, and all the members have not the same office: ⁵ so we, ⁶ who are many, ⁷ are one body in Christ, and severally members one of another. ⁸ And having gifts differing according to the grace that was given to us, whether ⁹ prophecy, let us prophesy according to the proportion of our faith; ¹⁰ or ministroy, let us give ourselves to our ministry; or he that teacheth, to his teaching; ¹¹ or he that exhorteth, to his exhorting: he that giveth, let him do it with ¹² liberality; ¹³ he that ruleth, with diligence; he that sheweth mercy, with cheerfulness. ¹⁴ Let love be without hypocrisy. ¹⁵ Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good. ¹⁶ In ¹⁷ love of the brethren be tenderly affectioned one to another; ¹⁸ in honour preferring one another; ¹⁹ in diligence not slothful; ²⁰ fervent in spirit; ²¹ serving the Lord; ²² rejoicing in hope; ²³ patient in tribulation; ²⁴ continuing steadfastly in prayer; ²⁵ communicating to the necessities of the saints; ²⁶ given to hospitality. ²⁷ Bless them that persecute you, bless, and curse not. ²⁸ Rejoice with them that rejoice; weep with them that weep. ²⁹ Be of the same mind one toward another. ³⁰ Set not your mind on high things, but ³¹ condescend to ³² things that are lowly. ³³ Be not wise in your own conceits. ³⁴ Render to no man evil for evil. ³⁵ Take thought for things honourable in the sight of all men. ³⁶ If it be possible, as much as in you lieth, ³⁷ be at peace with all men. ³⁸ Avenge not yourselves, beloved, but give place unto wrath: ³⁹ for it is written, ⁴⁰ Vengeance belongeth unto me; I will recompense, saith the Lord. ⁴¹ But ⁴² if thine enemy hunger, feed him; ⁴³ if he thirst, give him to drink: ⁴⁴ for in so doing thou shalt heap coals of fire upon his head. ⁴⁵ Be not overcome of evil, but overcome with good.

13 Let every soul ¹ be in subjection to the higher powers: ² for there is no power but of God; and the powers ³ that be are ordained of God. ⁴ Therefore he that resisteth the power, withstandeth the ordinance of God: and they that withstand shall receive to themselves judgement. ⁵ For rulers are not a terror to the good work, but to the evil. ⁶ And wouldst thou have no fear of the power? do that which is good, and thou shalt have praise from the same: ⁷ for he is a minister of God to thee for good. ⁸ But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid; ⁹ for he is a minister of God, an avenger for wrath to him that doeth evil. ¹⁰ Wherefore ye must needs be in subjection, not only because of the wrath, but also for conscience sake. ¹¹ For for this cause ye pay tribute also: for they are ministers of God's service, attending continually upon this very thing. ¹² Render to all their dues: tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom; fear to whom fear; honour to whom honour.

8 Owe no man anything, save to love one another: ¹³ for he that loveth ¹⁴ his neighbour hath fulfilled the law. ¹⁵ For this, ¹⁶ Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not covet, and if there be any other commandment, it is summed up in this word, namely, ¹⁷ Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. ¹⁸ Love worketh no ill to his neighbour;

And every tongue shall confess to God.

12 So then each one of us shall give account of himself to God.

13 Let us not therefore judge one another any more: but judge ye this rather, 14 that no man put a stumbling-block in his brother's way, or an occasion of falling. 14 I know, and am persuaded in the Lord Jesus, that there is nothing unclean of itself: 15 save that to him who regards it as unclean, to him it is unclean. For If because of meat that brother is grieveth, 16 let not then your good be evil spoken of: 17 for the kingdom of God is not eating and drinking, but righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Ghost. 18 For he that herein seveth Christ is well-pleasing to God, and approved of men. 19 So then let us follow after things which make for peace, and things whereby we may edify one another. 20 Overthrow not for meat's sake the work of God. All things indeed are clean; but he that regardeth them not hath been cleansed in the sight of God. 21 It is good not to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor to do anything whereby thy brother stumbleth. 22 The faith which thou hast, have confidence in that; but he that doth doubt, let him take the same to himself. 23 But he that doubteth is condemned if he eat, because he eateth not to faith; and whatsoever is not of faith is sin.

I Now we that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves. 2 Let each one of us please his neighbour for his good, unto edifying. 3 For Christ also pleased not himself; but, as it is written, "The reproaches of them that reproached thee fell upon me. 4 For whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that through patience and through comfort of the scriptures we might have hope. 5 Now the God of patience and of comfort grant you a to be of the same mind.
one with another according to Christ Jesus: 6 that with one accord ye may with one mouth glorify the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ. 7 Wherefore receive ye one another, even as Christ also received you, to the glory of God. 8 For I say that Christ hath been made a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, that he might confirm the promises given unto the fathers, 9 and that the Gentiles might glorify God for his mercy; as it is written,

"Therefore will I give praise unto thee among the Gentiles, And sing unto thy name.

10 And again he saith, "Rejoice, ye Gentiles, with his people.

11 And again, "Praise the Lord, all ye Gentiles; And let all the peoples praise him.

12 And again, Isaiah saith, "There shall be the root of Jesse, And he that ariseth to rule over the Gentiles;" 13 Now the God of hope shall fill you with all joy and peace in believing, even as your fathers, 14 that ye may abound in hope, in the power of the Holy Ghost.

15 And I myself also am persuaded of you, my brethren, that ye yourselves are full of goodness, filled with all knowledge, able also to admonish one another. 16 But I write the more boldly unto you in some measure, as putting you again in remembrance, because of the grace that was given me of God, 17 that I should be a minister of Christ Jesus unto the Gentiles, ministering the gospel of God, ministering the gospel of God, 18 and the offering up of the Gentiles might be made acceptable, being sanctified by the Holy Ghost. 19 Therefore will I give praise unto thee among the Gentiles, and sing unto thy name.

20 For I say that Christ hath been made a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, that he might confirm the promises given unto the fathers, 21 and that the Gentiles might glorify God for his mercy; as it is written,

"Therefore will I give praise unto thee among the Gentiles, And sing unto thy name.

22 Wherefore also I was hindered these many times from coming to you: 23 but now, having no more any place in these regions, and having these many years a longing to come unto you, 24 whenever I go unto Spain (for I hope to see you in my journey, and to be brought on my way thitherward by you, if first in some measure I shall have been satisfied with your company) — 25 but now, I say, "I go unto Jerusalem, ministering unto the saints.

26 For it hath been the good pleasure of Macedonia and Achaia to make a certain contribution for the poor among the saints that are at Jerusalem. 27 Yes, it hath been their good pleasure; and their debtors they are. For if the Gentiles have been made partakers of their spiritual things, 28 they owe it to them also to minister unto them in carnal things. 29 When therefore I have accomplished this, and have sealed to them this fruit, I will go on by you unto Spain. 30 And I know that, when I come unto you, I shall come in the fulness of the blessing of Christ.

31 Now I beseech you, brethren, by our Lord Jesus Christ, and by the love of the Spirit, that ye strive together with me in your prayers to God for me; 32 that I may be delivered from them that are disobedient in Judea, and that my ministration which I have for Jerusalem may be acceptable to the saints; 33 that I may come unto you in joy through the will of God, and together with you find rest. 34 Now I beseech you, brethren, by our Lord Jesus Christ, and by the love of the Holy Spirit, that ye strive together with me in your prayers to God for me.
17 Now I beseech you, brethren, mark them which are causing the divisions and occasions of stumbling, contrary to the doctrine which ye learned: and turn away from them. 18 For they that are such serve not our Lord Christ, but their own belly; and by their smooth and fair speech they beguile the hearts of the innocent. 19 For your obedience is come abroad unto all men. I rejoice therefore over you: but I would have you wise unto that which is good, and simple unto that which is evil. 20 And the God of peace shall bruise Satan under your feet shortly. 21 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you.

18 Timothy my fellow-worker saluteth you; and  22 I Tertius,  who write the epistle, saluteth you in the Lord. 23 26 Timothy my fellow-worker in Christ, and Stachys my beloved. 24 Salute one another with a holy kiss. All the churches of Christ salute you.

17 Now I beseech you, brethren,
THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE
TO THE CORINTHIANS.

I

Paul, called to be an apostle of Jesus Christ through the will of God, and of our brother, to the church of God which is at Corinth, even they that are sanctified in Christ Jesus, called to be saints, with all that call upon the name of our Lord Jesus Christ in every place, their Lord and ours: 3Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. 4I thank my God always concerning you, for the grace of God which was given you in Christ Jesus; 5that in everything ye were enriched in him, in all utterance and all knowledge; 6even as the testimony of Christ was confirmed in you: 7so that ye come behind in no gift; 8waiting for the revelation of our Lord Jesus Christ; 9who shall also confirm you unto the end, that ye be unreproveable. 10And now I beseech you, brethren, through the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you; 11but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgement. 12For it hath been signified unto me concerning you, my brethren, by them which are of the household of Chloe, that there were contentions among you. 13Now this I mean, that each one of you saith, I am of Paul; and I of Apollos; and I of Cephas; and I of Christ. 14Is Christ divided? was Paul crucified for you? or were ye baptized into the name of Paul? 15I thank God that I baptized none of you, but Crispus and Gaius; 16lest any man should say that ye were baptized into my name. 17And I baptized also the household of Stephanas: besides, I know not whether I baptized any other. 18For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the gospel: 19not in wisdom of words, lest the cross of Christ should be made void. 20For the word of the cross is to them that are perishing foolishness; but unto us which are being saved it is the power of God. 21For it is written, 22That I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, And the prudence of the prudent will I reject. 23Where is the wise? where is the scribe? where is he that hath learned knowledge? 24For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. 25For it is written, 26That he was in the generation of the foolishness of God and the power of God; and the wisdom of God and the foolishness of God: 27that no flesh should glory in things of the world, and the things of God. 28For to the weak every thing is clean: but to them that are pure all things are pure. 29But if it is an offence to be circumcised, I will not make myself an offence. 30For if I testify again of circumcision, my children are accursed: 31though I should be unprofitable to you in the flesh. 32For I have received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, That the Lord Jesus the same night in which he was betrayed took bread: 33And when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat: this is my body, which is broken for you: this do in remembrance of me. 34After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the new covenant in my blood: this do ye, as often as ye drink it, in remembrance of me. 35For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do shew the Lord's death till he come. 36Wherefore whosoever shall eat this bread, or drink this cup of the Lord, unworthily, shall be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord. 37But let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup. 38For he that eateth and喝喝 unworthily eateth and drinketh damnation to himself, not regarding the body and blood of the Lord. 39For a man ought to eat and drink, discerning the Lord's body: 40For this cause many be weak and sickly, and many be not of good report.
should glory before God. 30 But of him are ye in Christ Jesus, who was made unto us wisdom from God, and righteousness and sanctification, and redemption: 31 that, according as it is written,
He that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord.

2 And I, brethren, when I came unto you, came not with excellency of speech or of wisdom, proclaiming to you the mystery of God. 2 For I determined not to know anything among you, save Jesus Christ, and him crucified. 3 And I was with you in weakness, and in fear, and in much trembling. 4 And my speech and my preaching were not in persuasive words of wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power: 5 that your faith should not stand in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God. 6 Howbeit we speak wisdom among them the world, and that which men of this world, which are coming to nought: 7 but we speak among the perfect: yet a wisdom not of this world, nor of the rulers of this world, which are not capable of receiving it, neither of that which is spiritual.
prove each man's work of what sort it is. If any man's work shall abide which he built thereon, he shall receive a reward. If any man's work shall be burned, he shall suffer loss: but he himself shall be saved; yet so as through fire.

16 Know ye not that ye are a temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you? If any man destroyeth the temple of God, him shall God destroy; for the temple of God is holy, 2 which temple ye are.

18 Let no man deceive himself. If any man thinketh that he is wise among men, let him become a fool, that he may become wise. For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. For it is written, He that taketh the wise in their craftiness: 20 and again, The Lord knoweth the reasons of the wise, that they are vain. Wherefore let no one glory in men. For all things are yours; whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death, or things present, or things to come; all are yours; 23 and ye are Christ's; and Christ is God's.

1 Let a man so account of us, as of ministers of Christ, and stewards of the mysteries of God. For the things which are written have been written for instruction of the weak. And I have written briefly, if necessity be, to the Corinthians, that the church of God might learn that we are watchmen of the things which are written; 3 and that no one of you a be puffed up for the one against the other. For who maketh thee to differ?
rather mourn, that he that had done this deed might be taken away from among you. 3 For I verily, being absent in body but present in spirit, have already, as though I were present, judged him that hath so wrought this thing, 4 in the name of our Lord Jesus, ye being gathered together, and my spirit, with the power of our Lord Jesus, 5 to deliver such a one unto Satan for the destruction of the flesh, 6 that the spirit may be saved 7 in the day of the Lord 1 Jesus. 6 1 Your glorying is not good. Know ye not that 8 a little leaven leaveth the whole lump? 7 Purge out the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, even as ye are unleavened. For our passover also hath been sacrificed, even Christ: 8 wherefore let us 9 keep the feast, 10 not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness, but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.

9 I wrote unto you in my epistle to have no company with fornicators; 10 6 not altogether with the fornicators of this world, or with the covetous and extortioners, or with idolaters; 11 for then must ye needs go out of the world: 12 but now I write unto you not to keep company, if any man that is named a broth er be a fornicator, or covetous, or an idolator, or a reviler, or a drunkard, or an extortioner; with such a one no, not to eat. 13 For what have I to do with judging them that are without? 14 Do not ye judge them that are within? 15 rather mourn, that he that had done this deed might be taken away from among you. 16 For I verily, being absent in body but present in spirit, have already, as though I were present, judged him that hath so wrought this thing, 17 in the name of our Lord Jesus, ye being gathered together, and my spirit, with the power of our Lord Jesus, 18 to deliver such a one unto Satan for the destruction of the flesh, 19 that the spirit may be saved 20 in the day of the Lord 1 Jesus. 6 1 Your glorying is not good. Know ye not that a little leaven leaveth the whole lump? 7 Purge out the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, even as ye are unleavened. For our passover also hath been sacrificed, even Christ: 8 wherefore let us 9 keep the feast, 10 not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness, but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.

1 I CORINTHIANS.

1 Dare any of you, having a matter against his neighbour, go to law before the unrighteous, 2 and not before the saints? 3 Or know ye not that the saints shall judge the world? and if the world is judged by you, are ye unworthy 4 to judge the smallest matters? 5 Know ye not that we shall judge 6 angels? how much more, things that pertain to this life? 7 If then ye have 7 to judge things pertaining to this life, 8 do ye not set them to judge who are of no account in the church? 9 I say this to move you to shame. Is it so, that there cannot be found among you one wise man, who shall be able to decide between his brethren, 10 but brother goeth to law with brother, and that before unbelievers? 11 Nay, already it is altogether 6 a defect in you, that ye have lawsuits one with another. 12 Why not rather take wrong? why not rather be defrauded? 13 Nay, but ye yourselves do wrong, and defraud, and that 14 your brethren. 15 Or know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived: 16 neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with men, nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners, shall inherit the kingdom of God. 17 And 18 were some of you: but 19 ye were washed, 20 ye were sanctified, 21 ye were justified in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, and in the Spirit of our God.

19 All things are lawful for me; but not all things are expedient. All things are lawful for me; but I will not be brought under the power of any. 20 But brother goeth to law with brother, and that before unbelievers? 21 Or know ye not that the saints shall judge the world? and if the world is judged by you, are ye unworthy 4 to judge the smallest matters? 22 Know ye not that we shall judge 6 angels? how much more, things that pertain to this life? 23 If then ye have 7 to judge things pertaining to this life, 8 do ye not set them to judge who are of no account in the church? 9 I say this to move you to shame. Is it so, that there cannot be found among you one wise man, who shall be able to decide between his brethren, 10 but brother goeth to law with brother, and that before unbelievers? 11 Nay, already it is altogether 6 a defect in you, that ye have lawsuits one with another. 12 Why not rather take wrong? why not rather be defrauded? 13 Nay, but ye yourselves do wrong, and defraud, and that 14 your brethren. 15 Or know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived: 16 neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with men, nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners, shall inherit the kingdom of God. 17 And 18 were some of you: but 19 ye were washed, 20 ye were sanctified, 21 ye were justified in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, and in the Spirit of our God.

20 But brother goeth to law with brother, and that before unbelievers? 21 Or know ye not that the saints shall judge the world? and if the world is judged by you, are ye unworthy 4 to judge the smallest matters? 22 Know ye not that we shall judge 6 angels? how much more, things that pertain to this life? 23 If then ye have 7 to judge things pertaining to this life, 8 do ye not set them to judge who are of no account in the church? 9 I say this to move you to shame. Now concerning the things whereof ye wrote: 7 It is good for a man not to touch a woman. 2 But, because of fornications, let each man have his own wife, and let each woman have her own husband. 3 Let the husband render unto the wife her dues: and likewise also the husband unto the wife. The wife hath not power over her own body, but the husband: and likewise also the husband hath not power over his own body, but the wife. 5 Decease ye not one another, except it be by consent for a season, that ye may give yourselves unto prayer, and may be together again, that Satan tempt you not because of your incontinency. 6 But this I say by way of permission, not of commandment. 7 Yet I would that all men were even as I myself. Now be each man have his own gift from God, one after this manner, and another after that. 8 But I say to the unmarried and to widows, It is good for you to be even as I. 9 But if they have not continency, let them marry: for it is better to marry than to burn. 10 But unto the married I give charge, yet I, not I, but the Lord. 11 That the wife depart not from her husband 11 (but and if she depart, let her remain unmarried, or else be reconciled to her husband); and that the husband leave not his wife. 12 But to the rest say I, not the Lord: If any brother hath an unbecoming wife, and she is content to dwell with him, let him not leave her. 13 And the woman which hath an unbecoming husband, and he is content to dwell with her, let her not leave her husband. 14 For the unbecoming husband is sanctified in the wife, and the unbecoming wife is sanctified in the brother: else were your children unclean; but now are they holy. 15 Yet if the unbecoming departeth, let him depart: the brother or the sister is not under bondage in such cases: but God hath called us 2 us in peace. 16 For how knowest thou, O wife, whether thou shalt save thy husband? or how knowest thou, O husband, whether thou shalt save thy wife? 17 Only, as the Lord hath distributed to each, so God hath called each, so let him walk. 18 Was any man called being circumcised? let him not become uncircumcised. Hath any called in uncircumcision? let him not be circumcised. 19 Circumcision is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing; but the keeping of the commandments of God. 20 Let each man abide in that calling wherein he was called. 21 Wast thou called being a bondservant? care not for it: 8 but if thou canst not become free, use it rather. 22 For he that was called in the Lord, being a bondservant, is the Lord's freedman: likewise he that was called being free, is Christ's bondservant. 23 Ye were bought with a price; become not bondservants of men. 24 Brethren, let each man wherein he was called, therein abide with God. 25 Now concerning virgins I have no commandment of the Lord: but I give my judgement, as one that hath obtained mercy of the Lord to be faithful. 26 I think therefore that this is good by reason of the present distress, namely, that he it is good for a man 4 to be as though he had none: 30 and that he may please the Lord in what he doeth. 31 And so they that marry, marry as though they had none; and they that marry not, as though they had none; but each one and the same, according to his own mind, not so much as in the flesh: and I would spare you. 29 But this I say, brethren, the time is short: it运行eth at a rate, that whereas both those that have wives may be as though they had none: 30 and those that weep, as though they wept not; and those that rejoice, as though they rejoiced not; and those that buy, as though they possessed not; 31 and those that use the world, as not 4 abusing it: for 5 the fashion of this world passeth away. 32 But I would have you to be 6 free from cares. He that is unmarried is careful for the things of the Lord, how he may please the Lord: 33 but he that is married is careful for the things of the world, how he may please the Lord.
please his 1 wife. 34 And there is a difference also between the wife and the virgin. She that is unmarried is careful for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy both in body and in spirit: but she that is mar-rried is careful for the things of the world, how she may please her husband. 35 And this I say for your own profit; not that I may 7 cast a snare upon you, but for that which is seemly, and that ye may attend upon the Lord without distraction. 36 But if any man thinketh that he behave himself unseemly toward his 2 virgin daughter, if she be 4 past the flower of her age, and if need so requireth, let him do what he will; he sinneth not; let them marry. 37 But he that standeth stedfast in his heart, having no necessity, but hath power touching his own will, and hath determined this in his own heart, to keep his own 2 virgin daughter, shall do well. 38 So then both he that giveth his own 2 virgin daughter in marriage doeth well; and he that giveth her not in marriage shall do well. 39 A wife is bound for so long time as her husband liveth; but if the husband be 4 dead, she is free to be married to whom she will; only in the Lord.
40 But she is happier if she abide as she is, 5 after my judgement: and I think 7 that I also have the Spirit of God.

8 Now concerning 2 things sacrificed to idols: We know that we all have "knowledge.
Knowledge puffeth up, 8 but love edifieth. 9 If any man thinketh that he knoweth anything, he knoweth not yet as he ought to know; 3 but if any man loveth God, his own profit; not that I may 7 cast a

which is seemly, and that ye may hope, and he that thresheth, to thresh in hope of partaking. 11 If we sowed unto you spiritual things, is it a great matter if we shall reap your carnal things? 12 If others partake of this right over you, do we not yet more? Nevertheless we did not use this right; but we bear all things, that we may cause no hindrance to the gospel of Christ. 13 Know ye not that they which exercise singleness of heart in the ministry of God, do it for a double portion with the altar? 14 Even so did the Lord ordain that they which wait upon the altar have their portion with the altar. 15 But I have used none of these things: and I write not these things, that it may be so done in my case: for it were good for me rather to die, than that any man should make my glorying void. 16 For if I preach the gospel, I have nothing to glory of; for necessity is laid upon me; for woeful is the gospel. 17 For if I do this of mine own will, I have a reward: but if not of mine own will, I have a stewardship in the temple, and have a portion with the altar. 18 What then is my reward? That, when I preach the gospel, I may make the gospel void. 19 For I would not, brethren, have you ignorant, how that our fathers were all under the cloud, and all passed through the sea; 20 and were all baptized into Moses in the cloud and in the sea; 21 and did all drink the same spiritual drink; 22 and did all drink the same spiritual drink: for they drank of that spiritual rock that followed them: and the rock was Christ. 23 Howbeit with most of them God was not well pleased: for they were overthrown in the wilderness. 24 Now these things were our examples, to the intent we should not lust after evil things, as they also lusted. 25 Neither be ye idolaters, as were some of them; as it is written, The people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to play. 26 Neither let us commit fornication, as some of them committed, and fell in one day three and twenty thousand. 27 Neither let us tempt the Lord, as some of them tempt, and perish by the serpents. 28 Neither murmur ye, as some of them murmured, and perished by the destroyer.

10 Now these things happened unto them as examples, and they were written for our admonition, upon whom the ends of the ages are come. 12 Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall. 13 There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation make also the way of escape, that ye may be able to endure it. 14 Wherefore, my beloved, flee from idolatry. 15 I speak as unto wise men; judge ye what I say. 16 The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not a communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not a communion of? 17 For I will not, brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this mystery, lest ye should be wise in your own conceits. 18 For this communion of the Body and of the Blood of the Lord, doth partake of the Body and of the Blood of the Lord. 19 And when ye eat, do ye not eat for your spirits, but for your bodies, for thanksgiving? P 20 For this cause made the Lord both the communion and the cup, saying, This is my blood; which is poured out for many for the remission of sins. 21 Wherefore he that shall eat this bread or drink the fruit of this cup, eateth and drinketh the body and blood of the Lord. 22 For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do shew the Lord's death till he come. 23 Wherefore let every one of you in his own order receive. For I have received of the Lord that which I also delivered unto you. 24 That the Lord Jesus on the night in which he was betrayed took of the bread, and gave thanksgiving, said, Take, eat; this is my body. 25 And likewise also the cup after supper, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood. Do this, as oft as ye shall drink it, in remembrance of me. 26 For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink the fruit of this cup, ye do shew the Lord's death.

munion of the body of Christ?

17 Seeing that we, who are many, are one bread, one body: for we all partake of the one bread.

18 Behold Israel after the flesh: are not they which eat the sacrifices communion with the altar?

19 What say I then? that a thing sacrificed to idols is anything, or that an idol is anything?

20 But I say, that the things which the Gentiles sacrifice, they sacrifice to devils, and not to God: and I would not that ye should have communion with devils. 21 Ye cannot drink the cup of the Lord, and the cup of devils: ye cannot partake of the table of the Lord, and of the table of devils. 22 Or do we provoke the Lord to jealousy?

23 All things are lawful: but all things edify not. 24 Let no man seek his own, but each his neighbour's good.

25 Whosoever is sold in the shambles, eat, asking no question for conscience sake; 26 for the earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof. 27 If one of them that believeth not, or is an heathen, or is called a name, and a guest, is taken in by one of your faiths, 28 Let him eat of your table, asking no question for conscience sake. 29 For why is my liberty judged by another man's con- science? 30 If I by grace partake, why am I evil spoken of for this cause? 31 Whether therefore ye eat, or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God.

32 Give no occasion of stumbling, either to Jews, or to Greeks, or to the church of God: 33 even as I also please all men in all things, not seeking mine own profit, but the profit of the many, that they may be saved. 34 Be ye imitators of me, even as I also am of Christ.

2 Now I praise you that ye remember me in all things, and hold fast the traditions, even as I delivered them to you. 3 But I would have you know, that the head of every man is Christ; and the head of the woman is the man; and the head of Christ is God. 4 Every man praying or prophesying, having his head covered, dishonoureth his head. 5 But every woman praying or prophesying, with her head unveiled dishonoureth her head: for it is one and the same thing as if she were shaven. 6 For if a woman be not veiled, let her also be shorn: but if it is a shame to a woman to be shorn or shaven, let her be veiled. 7 For a man indeed ought not to have his head veiled, forsooth as he is the image and glory of God: but the woman is the glory of the man. 8 For the man is of the woman; but the woman of the man: 9 for neither was the man created for the woman, but the woman for the man: 10 for this cause ought the woman to have a sign of authority on her head, because of the angels.

11 Howbeit neither is the woman without the man, nor the man without the woman, in the Lord. 12 For as the woman is of the man, so is the man also by the woman; but all things are of God. 13 Judge ye in yourselves: is it seemly that a woman pray unto God unveiled? 14 Doth not even nature itself teach you, that if a man have long hair, it is a shame for him? 15 But if a woman have long hair, it is a dishonour to her for her hair is given her for a covering. 16 But if any man seemeth to be contentious, we have no such custom, neither the churches of God.

17 But in giving you this charge, I praise you not, that ye come together not for the better but for the worse. 18 For first of all, when ye come together in the church, I hear that there are divisions among you; and I partly believe it. 19 For there must be also 11 heresies among you, that they which are approved may be made manifest among you. 20 When therefore ye assemble yourselves together, it is not possible to eat the Lord's supper: 21 for in your eating each one taketh before himself, and glorifieth not the Lord. 22 What? have ye not houses to eat and to drink it, or despi\e the e \e\hurch of God, and 2 put them to "shame that have not? What shall I say to you? 3 shall I praise you in this? I praise you not. 23 For I received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, how that 2 the Lord Jesus in the night in which he was betrayed took bread; 24 and when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, This is my body, which % is for you: this do in remembrance of me. 25 In like manner also the cup, after supper, saying. This cup is the new coven\ant in my blood: this do, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me. 26 For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink the cup, ye proclaim the Lord's death 9 till he come. 27 Wherefore 5 whosoever shall eat the bread or drink the cup of the Lord unworthily, shall be guilty of the body and the blood of the Lord. 28 But 9 let a man prove himself, and so let him eat of the bread, and drink of the cup. 29 For he that eateth and drinketh, eateth and drinketh judgment unto himself, if he 9 discern not the body. 30 For this cause many among you are weak and sickly, and not a few sleep. 31 But 9 if we 7 discern ourselves, we should not be judged. 32 But 9 when we are judged, 2 we are chastened of the Lord, that we may not be condemned with the world. 33 Wherefore, my brethren, when ye come together to eat, wait one for another. 34 If any man is hungry, let him eat at home; that your coming together be not unto judgment. And the rest 5 will I set in order 6 whencesoever I come. 12 Now 12 concerning spiritual gifts, brethren, I would not have you ignorant. 2 Ye know that 2 when ye were Gentiles ye were led away unto those dumb idols, howsoever ye might be led. 3 Wherefore I give you to understand, that 2 no man speaking in the Spirit of God saith, Jesus is anathema; and 2 no man can say, Jesus is Lord, but in the Holy Spirit. 4 Now 2 there are diversities of gifts, but 1 the same Spirit. 5 And 2 there are diversities of ministrations, and 1 the same Lord. 6 And there are diversities of workings, but 1 the same God, who worketh all things in all. 7 But 7 to each one is given the manifestation of the Spirit to profit withal. 8 For to one is given through the Spirit the word of wisdom; and to another the word of knowledge, according to the same Spirit: 9 to another faith, in the same Spirit; and to another gifts of healings, in the one Spirit; 10 and to another workings of miracles; and to another prophecy; and to another the interpretation of tongues: but all these worketh the one and the same Spirit, dividing to each one severally as he will. 11 For as 5 the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of the body, being many, are one body; so also is Christ. 12 For 4 in one Spirit were we all baptized into one body, whether 3 Jews or Greeks, whether bond or free; and were all made to drink of one Spirit. 14 For the body is not one member, but many. 15 If the foot shall say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body; it is not therefore not of the body. 16 And if the ear shall say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body; it is not therefore not of the body. 17 If the whole body were eye, where were the hearing? If the whole were hearing, where were the smelling? 18 But now hath God set the members each one of them in the body, even as it pleased him. 19 And if they were all one member, where were the body? 20 But now they are many members, but one body. 21 And 2 the eye cannot say to the hand, I have no need of thee: or again the head to the feet, I have no need of you. 22 Nay, much rather, those members of the body which seem to be more feeble are necessary: 23 and those parts of the body, which we think to be less honourable, upon these we bestow more abundant honour; and our uncomely parts have more abundant comeliness; 24 whereas our comely parts have no need: but God tempered the body together, giving more abundant honour to that part 1 Or, congregations. 2 Or, have nothing. 3 Or, shall I praise you? In this I praise you not. 4 Many ancient authorities read 1 be broken for you. 5 Or, testament. 6 Gr. discriminated. 7 Gr. discriminated. 8 Or, when we are judged of the Lord, we are chastened. 9 Gr. powers. 10 Or, put on.
13 Of men and of angels, but have not love, I become sounding brass, or a clanging cymbal. 2 And if I have the gift of prophecy, and know all mysteries and all knowledge; and if I have all faith, so as to remove mountains, but have not love, I am nothing. 3 And if I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and if I give my body to be burned, but have not love, it profiteth me nothing. 4 For if I pray in a tongue, my spirit prayeth, but my understanding knoweth not what I say. 5 But the spirit speaketh mysteries, because it seeketh not its own. 6 And the things of God are to be known by the spirit of God. 7 But the natural man receiveth not the things of the spirit of God; for they are foolishness unto him; neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned. 8 But he that hath the gift of prophecy speaketh the word of God. 9 For the prophecy speaketh not unto itself, but prophesieth things to come. 10 But he that hath the gift of tongues, speaketh not unto men, but unto God; for no man understandeth, but in the spirit he speaketh mysteries. 11 But he that prophesieth speaketh to men, edifying and confirming. 12 Then he that prophesieth, speaketh unto the same, edifying and confirming. 13 For he that speaketh with tongues, saith not unto others, but to God; for no man understandeth, but in the spirit he speaketh mysteries. 14 But he that prophesieth speaketh to men, edifying and confirming. 15 Then he that prophesieth, speaketh unto the same, edifying and confirming.
standing is unfruitful. 15 What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, and I will pray with the understanding also: 16 I will sing with the spirit, and I will sing with the understanding also. Else if thou bless with the spirit, how shall he that filleth the place of 1 the unlearned say the Amen at 2 thy giving of thanks, seeing he knoweth not what thou sayest? 17 For thou verily givest thanks well, but the other is not edified. I thank God, I speak with tongues more than you all: 19 howbeit in the church I had rather speak five words with my understanding, that I might instruct others also, than ten thousand words in a tongue.

20 Brethren, be not children in mind: howbeit in malice be ye babes, but in mind be men. 21 In the law it is written, 22 For men of strange tongues and by the lips of strangers will I speak unto this people; and not even thus will they hear me, saith the Lord. 23 Wherefore tongues are for a sign, not to them that believe, but to the unbelieving: but prophesying is for a sign, not to the unbelieving, but to them that believe. 24 If therefore the whole church be assembled together, and all speak with tongues, and there come in men unlearned or unbelieving, will they not say that ye are mad? 25 If all prophesy, and there come in one unbelieving or unlearned, he is reproved: and so he will have fallen on his face and worship God, declaring that God is among you indeed.

26 What is it then, brethren? When ye come together, each one hath a psalm, hath a teaching, hath a revelation, hath a tongue, hath an interpretation. 27 Let all things be done unto edifying: 28 If any man speaketh in a tongue, let it be by two, or at the most three, and that in turn; and let one interpret: 29 but if there be no interpreter, let him keep silence in the church; and let him speak to himself, and to God. 30 And let the prophets speak two or three, and let the others discern. 31 But if a revelation be made to another sitting by, let the first keep silence.

32 For ye all can prophesy one by one, that all may learn, and all may be comforted; 33 and the spirits of the prophets are subject to the prophets; 34 for God is not a God of confusion, but of peace; as in all the churches of the saints. 35 Let the women keep silence in the churches: for it is not permitted unto them to speak; but let them be in subjection, as also saith the law. 36 And if they would learn anything, let them ask their own husbands at home: for it is shameful for a woman to speak in the church. 37 If any man thinketh himself to be a prophet, or spiritual, let him take knowledge of the things which I write unto you, that they are the commandment of the Lord. 38 But if any man is ignorant, let him be ignorant.

39 Wherefore, my brethren, desire earnestly to prophesy, and forbid not to speak with tongues. 40 But let all things be done decently and in order. Now I make known unto you, brethren, the gospel which I preached unto you, which also ye received, wherein also ye stand, by which also ye are saved: I make known, I say, in what words I preached it unto you, if ye hold it fast, except ye believed it in vain. 41 For I delivered unto you first of all that which also I received, wherein also ye stand, 2 by which also ye are saved: I make known, I say, in what words I preached it unto you, if ye hold it fast, except ye believed it in vain. 42 For I delivered unto you first of all that which also I received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures; 4 and that he was buried; and that he hath been raised on the third day according to the scriptures; 5 and that he appeared to Cephas; then to the twelve; 6 then he appeared to above five hundred brethren at once, of whom the greater part remain until now, but some are fallen asleep; 7 then he appeared to James; then to all the apostles; 8 and last of all, as unto one born out of due time, he appeared to me also. 9 For I am the least of the apostles, that am not meet to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God. 10 But by the grace of God I am what I am: and his grace which was bestowed upon me was not found vain; but I laboured more, abundantly than they all: yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me. 11 Whether then it be I or they, so we preach, and so ye believed.

12 Now if Christ is preached that he hath been raised from the dead, how say some among you that there is no resurrection of the dead? 13 But if there is no resurrection of the dead, *neither hath Christ been raised: 14 and if Christ hath not been raised, then is our preaching vain, and your faith also is vain. 15 Yes, and we are found false witnesses of God; because we witnessed of God that *he raised up 16 Christ: whom he raised not up, if so be that the dead are not raised. 17 For if the dead are not raised, neither hath Christ been raised: 18 and if Christ hath not been raised, your faith is vain; we are yet in your sins. 19 Then also which *are fallen asleep in Christ have perished. 20 But now *hath Christ been raised from the dead, *the firstfruits of them that are asleep. 21 For since *by man came death, *by man came also the resurrection of the dead. 22 For *as in Adam all die, so also in Christ shall all be made alive. 23 But each in his own order: Christ the firstfruits: *then they that are Christ's, *at his coming.

24 Then cometh the end, when he shall deliver up the kingdom to 6 God, even the Father; when he shall have abolished all rule and all authority and power. 25 For he must reign, till he hath put all his enemies under his feet. 26 The last enemy that shall be abolished is death. 27 For, *he put all things in subjection under his feet. 28 But when he saith, All things are put in subjection (excepting him who did subject all things unto him), when he saith, All things are put in subjection, 29 then shall the Son also himself be subjected to him that did subject all things unto him, that 6 God may be all in all.

30 Else what shall they do which are baptized for the dead? If the dead are not raised at all, why then are they baptized for them? 31 why do we also stand in jeopardy every hour? 32 I protest by 6 that glorying in you, brethren, which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, 6 I die daily. 33 If after the manner of men *I fought with beasts at Ephesus, 9 what doth it profit me? If the dead are not raised, *let us eat and drink, 4 for to-morrow we die. 34 1 Be not deceived: *Evil company doth corrupt good manners. 35 But some one will say, 9 How are the dead raised? and with what manner of body do they come? 36 Thou foolish one, that thou thinkest that thou sowest, thou sowest not; for some have no knowledge of God: 1 a speak this to move you to shame.

37 But some one will say, 9 How are the dead raised? and with what manner of body do they come? 38 But one thing is certain: Christ hath been raised, and he maketh alive all who sleep in Christ. 39 All flesh is not the same flesh: but there is one flesh of men, and another flesh of beasts, and another flesh of birds, and another of fish: 40 There are also celestial bodies, and bodies terrestrial: but the glory of the terrestrial is one, and the glory of the celestial is another. 41 There is one glory of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars: for one star differeth from another star in glory.

became a living soul. 4 The last Adam became a life-giving spirit.
46 Howbeit that is not first which is spiritual, but that which is natural; then that which is spiritual.
47 The first man is of the earth, earthy: the second man is of heaven. 48 As is the earthly, such are they also that are earthly: and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly. 49 And as we have borne the image of the earthy, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.
50 Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption.
51 Behold, I tell you a mystery: We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed, in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump: for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed. 53 For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality. 54 But when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall come to pass the saying that is written, ‘Death is swallowed up in victory.’
55 ‘O death, where is thy victory? O death, where is thy sting? The sting of death is sin; and the power of sin is the law: but thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.’
56 ‘Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong.’

10 Now if Timothy come, see that he be with you without fear; for he worketh the work of the Lord, as I also do: 11 let no man therefore despise him. But set him forward on his journey thither; for I have fully consented to send him.
12 But as touching Apollos, brother, I besought him much to come with us unto you: and it was not at all at his will, 13 but in the way. And I said unto him, ‘You must come now; but he will come when he shall have opportunity.’
14 ‘Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong.’

15 Now I beseech you, brethren, (ye know the house of Stephanas, that it is the first fruit of Achaia, and that they have set themselves to minister unto the saints,) 16 that ye also be in subjection unto such, and to every one that helpeth with you in the work and laboureth.
17 And I rejoice at the coming of Stephanas and Fortunatus and Achaicus: for that which was lacking among you I supplied, 18 for they refreshed my spirit and yours: 19 acknowledge ye therefore them that are such.

19 The churches of Asia salute you. Aquila and Priscilla salute you much in the Lord, with the church that is in their house. 20 All the brethren salute you. 21 Salute one another with a holy kiss.
22 The salutation of me Paul, 23 the brother of Jesus Christ, sent to the church which is in your house. 24 Grace be with you. Amen.
THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE
TO THE CORINTHIANS.

1 Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus through the will of God, and Timothy our brother, unto the church of God which is at Corinth, with all the saints which are in the whole of Achaia: 2 Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies and of God of all comfort; 4 who comforteth us in all our affliction, that we may be able to comfort those that are in any affliction, through the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God.

5 For as the sufferings of Christ abound unto us, even so our comfort also aboundeth through Christ. 6 But whether we be afflicted, it is for your comfort and salvation; or whether we be comforted, it is for your comfort, which worketh in the patient enduring of the same sufferings which we also suffer: 7 and our hope for you is stedfast; knowing that, 8 as ye are partakers of the sufferings, so also are ye of the comfort.

9 For we would not have you ignorant, brethren, concerning our affliction which befell us in Asia, that we were weighed down exceeding, beyond our power, inso much that we despaired even of life: 10 yea, we ourselves have had the answer of death within ourselves, 11 but in God which raiseth the dead: 12 who delivered us out of so great a death, and will deliver: 13 on whom we have set our hope that he will also still deliver us; 14 ye also helping together on our behalf by your supplication; that, 15 for the gift bestowed upon us by means of many, thanks may be given by many persons on our behalf.

16 For our glorying is this, 17 the testimony of our conscience, that in holiness and sincerity of God,

17 not in fleshly wisdom but in the grace of God, we behaved ourselves in the world, and more abundantly to youward. 18 For we write none other things unto you, than what ye read or even acknowledge, and I hope ye will acknowledge unto the end: 19 as also ye did acknowledge us in part, that ye are our glorying, even as ye also are ours, in the day of our Lord Jesus.

20 And in this confidence I was minded to come before unto you, that ye might have a second benefit; 21 and by you to pass into Macedonia, and again from Macedonia to come unto you, and of you to be set forward on my journey unto Judea. 22 When I therefore was thus minded, did I shew fickleness or the things that I purpose, do I purpose according to the flesh, that with me there should be the yea yea and the nay nay? 23 But as God is faithful, our word toward you is not yea and nay. 24 For the Son of God, Jesus Christ, who was preached among you 6 by us, even 6 by me and Silvanus and Timothy, was not yea and nay, but 6 in him is yea. 25 For how many soever be the promises of God, in him is the yea: wherefore also through him is the Amen, unto the glory of God through us.

26 Now he that stablisheth us with you in Christ, and anointed us, is God; 27 who also sealed us, and gave us the earnest of the Spirit in our hearts.

28 But I call God for a witness upon my soul, that I forbore to come unto Corinth. 29 Not that we have lordship over your faith, but are helpers of your joy: for 6 by faith ye stand. 30 But I determined this 2 for myself, that I would not come again to you with sorrow.

31 For if I make you sorry, who then is he that maketh me glad but he that is made sorry by me? 3 And I wrote this very thing, lest, when I came, I should have sorrow from them of whom I ought to rejoice: 4 having confidence in you all, that my joy is the joy of you all. 4 For out of much affliction and anguish of heart, I wrote unto you with many tears; not that ye should be made sorry, but that ye might know the love which I have more abundantly unto you.

5 But if any hath caused sorrow, he hath caused sorrow, not to me, but in part (that I press not too heavily) to you all.

6 Sufficient to such a one is this punishment which was inflicted by the many; so that contrariwise ye should rather forgive him and comfort him, lest by any means such a one should be swallowed up with his overmuch sorrow. 8 Wherefore I beseech you to confirm your love toward me. 9 For to this end also did I write, that I might know the proof of you, whether ye are obedient in all things. 10 But to whom ye forgive anything, I forgive also: for what I also have forgiven, if I have forgiven anything, for your sakes have I forgiven it in the person of Christ; 11 that no advantage may be gained over us by Satan: for we are not ignorant of his devices.

12 Now when I came to Troas for the gospel of Christ, and when a door was opened unto me in the Lord, 13 I had no relief for my spirit, because I found not Titus my brother: but taking my leave of them, I went forth into Macedonia. 14 But thanks be unto God, which always leadeth us in triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest through us the savour of his knowledge in every place. 15 For we are a sweet savour of Christ unto God, in them that are being saved, and in them that are perishing; 16 to the one a savour from death unto death; to the other a savour from life unto life. And 17 who is sufficient for these things?

For we are not as the many, corrupting the word of God: but as of sincerity, but as of God, in the sight of God, speak we in Christ.

3 *Are we beginning again to commend ourselves? or need we, as do some, epistles of commendation to you or from you? 2 *Ye are our epistle, written in our hearts, known and read of all men; 3 being made manifest that ye are an epistle of Christ, ministered by us, written not with ink, but with the Spirit of Life the living God; not in tables of stone, but in tables of flesh. 4 And such confidence have we through Christ to Godward: 5 that not we are sufficient of ourselves to account anything as from ourselves; 6 but our sufficiency is from God; 7 who also made us sufficient as ministers of a new covenant, not of the letter, but of the spirit: for the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life. 8 But if the ministration of death, written, and engrafted on stones, came with glory; 9 so that the children of Israel could not look steadfastly on the end of that which glory was passing away: 10 how shall not rather the ministration of the spirit be with glory? 11 For if the ministration of condemnation is glory, much rather doth the ministration of righteousness exceed in glory. 12 For verily that which hath been made glorious hath not been made glorious in this respect, by reason of the glory that surpasseth. 13 But for that which passeth away was glory, much more that which remaineth is in glory.

13 Having therefore such a hope, we use great boldness of speech, 14 and are not as Moses, 15 who put a veil upon his face, that the children of Israel should not look steadfastly upon the face of Moses for the glory of his face; 15 whereof glory was passing away: 16 but their minds were hardened: for until this very day at the reading of the old covenant the same veil remaineth unliifted; which veil is done away in Christ. 17 But unto this day, whosoever Moses is read, a veil lieth upon their heart. 18 But whenever it shall turn to the...
Therefore seeing we have this ministry, even as we obtained mercy, we faint not: 2 but we have renounced the hidden things of shame, not walking in craftiness, nor handling the word of God deceitfully; but by the manifestation of the truth commending ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God. 3 But and if our gospel is veiled, it is veiled in them that are perishing: 4 in whom the god of this world hath blinded the minds of the unbelieving, 5 that the light of the gospel of the glory of Christ, who is the image of God, should not dawn upon them. 5 For we preach not ourselves, but Christ Jesus as Lord, and ourselves as your servants for Jesus' sake. 6 Seeing it is God, that said, Light shall shine in darkness, who shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ. 7 But we have this treasure in earthen vessels, that the exceeding greatness of the power may be of God, and not from ourselves; 8 we are pressed on every side, yet not straitened; perplexed, yet not despairs; 9 pursued, yet not forsaken; smitten down, yet not destroyed: 10 always bearing about in the body the dying of Jesus, that the life also of Jesus may be manifested in our body. 11 For we which live are always delivered unto death for Jesus' sake, that the life also of Jesus may be manifested in our mortal flesh. 12 So then death worketh in us, but life in you. 13 But having the same spirit of faith, according to that which is written, I believed, and therefore did I speak; we also believe, and therefore also we speak; 14 knowing that he which raised up the Lord Jesus shall raise us up also with Jesus, and shall present us with you. 15 For all things are for your sakes, that the grace, being multiplied through the many, may cause the thanksgiving to abound unto the glory of God. 16 Wherefore we faint not; but though our outward man is decaying, yet our inward man is renewed day by day. 17 For our light affliction, which is for the moment, worketh for us more and more exceedingly an eternal weight of glory; 18 while we look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen: for the things which are not seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal. 19 For we know that if the earthly house of our tabernacle be dissolved, we have a building from God, a house not made with hands, eternal, in the heavens. 20 For verily in this we groan, longing to be clothed upon with our habitation which is from heaven: 3 If so be that being clothed we shall not be found naked. 4 For indeed we that are in this tabernacle do groan, being burdened; not for that we would be unclothed, but that we would be clothed upon, that what is mortal may be swallowed up of life. 5 Now that he which wrought us for this very thing is God, who gave unto us the earnest of the Spirit. 6 Being therefore always of good courage, and knowing that whilst we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord; 7 if so be that being clothed we shall not be found naked. 8 For indeed we that are in this tabernacle do groan, being burdened; not for that we would be unclothed, but that we would be clothed upon, that what is mortal may be swallowed up of life. 9 Now he that wrought us for this very thing is God, who gave unto us the earnest of the Spirit. 10 Being therefore always of good courage, and knowing that whilst we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord; 11 if so be that being clothed we shall not be found naked. 12 For we must all be made manifest before the judgment-seat of Christ; that each one may receive the things done in the body, according to what he hath done, whether it be good or bad.
Knowing therefore the fear of the Lord, we persuade men, but we are made manifest unto God; and I hope that we are made manifest also in your consciences. 12 For we are not again commending ourselves unto you, but speak as giving you occasion of glorying on your behalf, that ye may have wherewith to answer them that glory in appearance, and not in heart. 13 For whether we be beside ourselves, it is unto God; or whether we are of sober mind, it is unto you. 14 For the love of Christ constrains us; because we thus judge, that one died for all, therefore all died; 15 and he died for all, that they which live should no longer live unto themselves, but unto him who for their sakes died and rose again. 16 Wherefore we henceforth know no man after the flesh: even though we have known Christ after the flesh, yet now we know him so no more. 17 Wherefore if any man is in Christ, he is a new creature: the old things are passed away; behold, they are become new. 18 And all things are of God, who for his sakes died and rose again; who for theirsakes died and rose again. 19 To wit, that God was in Christ reconciling the world unto himself, not reckoning unto them their trespasses, and having committed unto us the word of reconciliation. 20 We are ambassadors therefore on behalf of Christ, as though God were intreating by us: we bearethou on behalf of Christ, be ye reconciled to God. 21 Him who knew no sin he made to be sin on our behalf; that we might become the righteousness of God in him. 22 And working together with him we intreat also that ye receive not the grace of God in vain (for he saith, At an acceptable time I have hearkened unto thee, And in a day of salvation did I succour thee: behold, now is the acceptable time; behold, now is the day of salvation; giving no occasion of stumbling in anything, that our ministration be not blamed; but in everything commending ourselves, as ministers of God, in much patience, in afflictions, in necessities, in distresses, in stripes, in imprisonments, in tumults, in labours, in watchings, infastings; in pureness, in knowledge, in longsuffering, in kindness, in the Holy Ghost, in love unfeigned, in the word of truth, in the power of God; by the armour of righteousness on the right hand and on the left, by glory and dishonour, by evil report and good report; as deceivers, and yet true; as unknown, and yet well known; as dying, and behold, we live; as chastened, and not killed: as sorrowful, yet always rejoicing; as poor, yet making many rich; as having nothing, and yet possessing all things.

Our mouth is open unto you, O Corinthians, our heart is enlarged. 12 Ye are not straitened in us, but ye are straitened in your own affections. 13 Now a for a recompense in kind (I speak as unto my children), be ye also enlarged. 14 Be not unequally yoked with unbelievers: for what fellowship have righteousness and iniquity? or what communion hath light with darkness? 15 And what agreement hath a believer with an unbeliever? 16 And what agreement hath a temple of God with idols? for we are a temple of the living God; even as God said, I will dwell in them, and I will walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. 17 Wherefore Come ye out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, And touch no unclean thing; And I will receive you. 18 And will be to you a Father, And ye shall be to me sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty. 19 Having therefore these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all defilement of flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God.
II. CORINTHIANS.

21 Open your hearts to us: we were wronged no man, we corrupted no man, we took advantage of no man.

3 I say it not to condemn you: for I have said before, that ye are in our hearts to die together and live together. 4 Great is my boldness of speech toward you, great is my glorying on your behalf: I am filled with comfort, I overflow with joy in all our affliction.

5 For even when we were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no relief, but we were afflicted on every side: without were fightings, within were fears. 6 Nevertheless he that comforteth the lowly, even God, comforted us by the coming of Titus; 7 and not by his coming only, but also by the comfort wherewith he was comforted in you, while he told us your longing, your zealous care for us; so that I rejoiced yet more. 8 For though I made you sorry with my epistle, I do not regret it, though I did regret; for I see that that epistle made you sorry, though but for a season. 9 Now I rejoice, not that ye were made sorry, but that ye were made sorry unto repentance: for ye were made sorry after a godly sort, that ye might suffer loss by us in nothing. 10 For a godly sorrow worketh repentance unto salvation, a repentance which bringeth no regret: but the sorrow of the world worketh death.

11 For, behold, this selfsame thing, that ye were made sorry after a godly sort, that earnest care it wrought in you, yea, what clearing of yourselves, yea, what indignation, yea, what fear, yea, what longing, yea, what zeal, yea, what avenging! In everything ye approved yourselves to be pure in the matter. 12 So although I wrote unto you, I wrote not for his cause that did the wrong, nor for his cause that suffered the wrong, but that your earnest care for us might be made manifest unto you in the sight of God. 13 Therefore we have been comforted: and in our comfort we joyed the more exceedingly for the joy of Titus, because his spirit had been refreshed by you all. 14 For if in anything I have gloriied to him on your behalf, I was not put to shame; but, as we speak all things to you in truth, so our glorying also, which I made before Titus, was found to be truth.

15 And his inward affection is more abundantly toward you, whilst he remembereth the obedience of you all, how with fear and trembling ye received him. 16 I rejoice that in everything I am of good courage concerning you.

Moreover, brethren, we make known to you the grace of God which hath been given in the churches of Macedonia; 2 that in much proof of affliction the abundance of their joy and their deep poverty abounded unto the riches of their liberality. 3 For according to their power, I bear witness, ye and beyond their power, they gave of their own accord, 4 beseeching us with much intreaty in regard of this grace and the fellowship in the ministering of the saints: 5 and this, not as we had hoped, but first they gave their own selves to the Lord, and to us by the will of God. 6 Insomuch that we exhorted Titus, that as he had made a beginning before, so he would also complete in you this grace also. 7 But as ye abound in everything, in faith and utterance, and knowledge, and in all earnestness, and in your love to us, I speak not by way of command or of power, but as proving through the earnestness of others the sincerity also of your love. 8 For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that, though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty might become rich. 9 And herein I give my judgement: for this is expedient for you, who were the first to make a beginning of a year ago, not only to do, but also to will. 10 But now complete the doing also; that as there was the readiness to will, so there may be the completion also of your ability. 11 For if the readiness is there, it is acceptable according as a man hath, not according as he hath not. 12 For I say not this, that others may be eased, and yo distressed: 13 but by equality; your abundance being a supply at this present time for their want, that their abundance also may become a supply for your want; that there may be equality: 15 as it is written, He that gathered much had nothing over; and he that gathered little had no lack.

16 But thanks be to God, which putthethesame earnest care for you into the heart of Titus. 17 For indeed he accepted our exhortation; but being himself very earnest, he went forth unto you of his own accord. 18 And we have sent together with him the brother whose praise in the gospel is spread through all the churches; 19 and not only so, but who was also appointed by the churches to travel with us in thematter of this grace, which is ministered by us to the glory of the Lord, and to show our readiness: 20 avoiding this, that any man should blame us in the matter ofthis bounty which is ministered by us: 21 for we take thought for things honourable, not only in the sight of the Lord, but also in the sight of men. 22 And we have sent with them our brother, whom we had nothing over; and he that gathered much had no lack. 16 But thanks be to God, which putthethesame earnest care for you into the heart of Titus. 17 For indeed he accepted our exhortation; but being himself very earnest, he went forth unto you of his own accord. 18 And we have sent together with him the brother whose praise in the gospel is spread through all the churches; 19 and not only so, but who was also appointed by the churches to travel with us in thematter of this grace, which is ministered by us to the glory of the Lord, and to show our readiness: 20 avoiding this, that any man should blame us in the matter ofthis bounty which is ministered by us: 21 for we take thought for things honourable, not only in the sight of the Lord, but also in the sight of men. 22 And we have sent with them our brother, whom we had nothing over; and he that gathered much had no lack.

5 I thought it necessary therefore to intreat the brethren, that they would go before unto you, and make up beforehand your aforepromised bounty, that the same might be ready, as a matter of bounty, and not of extortion.

6 But this I say, that soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he that soweth bountifully shall reap also bountifully. 7 Let each man do according as he hath purpose in his heart; a not sparingly, or of necessity: for God loveth a cheerful giver. 8 And God is able to make all grace abound unto you; that ye, having always all sufficiency in everything, may abound unto every good work: 9 as it is written, He hath scattered abroad, he hath given to the poor.
walk in the flesh, we do not war according to the flesh (for the weapons of our warfare are not of the flesh, but mighty before God to the casting down of strong holds); casting down imaginations, and every high thing that is exalted against the knowledge of God, and bringing every thought into captivity to the obedience of Christ; and being in readiness to avenge all disobedience, when your obedience shall be fulfilled. 7 Ye look at the things that are before your face. 8 If any man trusteth in himself that he is Christ's, let him consider this again with himself, that, even as he is Christ's, so also are we. 9 For though I should glory somewhat abundantly concerning our authority (which the Lord gave for building you up, and not for casting you down), I shall not be put to shame: 10 that I may not seem as if I would terrify you by my letters. 11 For, His letters, they say, are weighty and strong; but his bodily presence is weak, and his speech of no account. 12 Let such a one reckon this, that, what we are in word by letters when we are absent, such are we also in deed when we are present. 13 For we are not bold to number or compare ourselves with certain of them that call themselves apostles: but they themselves, measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves with themselves, are without understanding. 14 But we will not glory beyond our measure, but according to the measure of the province which God apportioned to us as a measure, that we may reach even unto you. 15 For we stretch not ourselves overmuch, as though we came even as far as unto you in the gospel of Christ: 16 not glorying beyond our measure, that is, in other men's labours; but having hope that, as your faith groweth, we shall be magnified in you as according to our 4 province unto further abundance, so as to preach the gospel even unto the parts beyond you, and not to glory in another's 4 province in regard of things ready to our hand. 17 But he that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord. 18 For not he that commendeth himself is approved, but whom the Lord commendeth.
therefore if his ministers also fashion themselves as ministers of righteousness; whose end shall be according to their works.

26 I say again, Let no man think me foolish; but if ye do, yet as foolish receive me, that I also may glory a little. 27 That which I speak, I speak not after the Lord, but as in foolishness, in this confidence of glorying. 28 Seeing that many glory after the flesh, I will glory also. 29 For ye bear with the foolish gladly, b being wise yourselves. 30 For ye bear with a man, if he bringeth you into bondage, if he devoureth you, if he taketh you captive, if he exalteth himself, if he smiteth you on the face. 31 I speak by way of disparagement, b as though we had been weak. Yet whereforeever any is bold (I speak in foolishness), I am bold also. 32 Are they Hebrews? so am I. Are they Israelites? so am I. Are they the seed of Abraham? so am I. Are they the seed of Isaac? so am I. Are they servants of Christ (I speak as one beside himself) I more; in labours more abundantly, a in prisons more abundantly, b in stripes above measure, b in deaths oft. 33 Of the Jews five times received I forty stripes save one. 34 Thrice was I stoned, thrice I suffered shipwreck, a night and a day have I been in the deep; 35 in journeys often, in perils of rivers, in perils of robbers, 36 in perils of the city, in perils in the wilderness, in perils in the sea, in perils among false brethren; 37 in labours and travail, in watchings often, in hunger and thirst, in fastings oft, in cold and nakedness. 38 Besides those things that are without, there is that which presseth upon me daily, anxiety for all the churches.

29 "Who is weak, and I am not weak? who is made to stumble, and I burn not? 30 If I must needs glory, I will glory of the things that concern my weakness. 31 The God and Father of the Lord Jesus, who is blessed for evermore, a knoweth that I lie not. 32 In Damascus the governor under b Aretas the king c guarded the city of the Damascenes, in order to take me; 33 and through a window was I let down in a basket by the wall, and escaped his hands.

12 I must needs glory, though it is not expedient; but I will come to visions and revelations of the Lord. 1 A man in Christ, fourteen years ago (whether in the body, I know not; or whether out of the body, I know not; a God knoweth), such a one a caught up even to b the third heaven. 2 And I know such a man (whether in the body, or apart from the body, I know not; a God knoweth), 3 how that he was caught up into a Paradise, and heard unspeakable words, which it is not lawful for a man to utter. 4 On behalf of such a one will I glory: but on mine own behalf I will not glory, b save in my weaknesses. 5 For if I should desire to glory, I shall not be foolish; for I shall speak the truth: but I forbear, lest any man should account of me above that which he seeth me to be, or heareth from me. 6 And by reason of the exceeding greatness of the revelations—wherefore, b that I should not be exalted overmuch, there was given to me a b thorn in the flesh, a messenger of Satan to buffet me, that I should not be exalted overmuch. 7 Concerning this thing I besought the Lord thrice, that it might depart from me. 8 And he said unto me, My grace is sufficient for thee: for my power is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my weaknesses, that the power of Christ may rest upon me. 9 Wherefore I take pleasure in weaknesses, in injuries, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses, for Christ's sake: for when I am weak, then am I strong.
except it be that I myself was not a burden to you? forgive me this wrong.

14 Behold, this is the third time I am ready to come to you; and I will not be a burden to you: for if I seek not yours, but you: for the children ought not to lay up for the parents, but the parents for the children. 15 And I will most gladly spend and be 1 spent for your souls. If I love you more abundantly, am I loved the less? 16 But be it so, I did not myself burden you; but, being crafty, I caught you with guile. 17 Did I take advantage of you by any one of them whom I have sent unto you? 18 I exhorted Titus, and I sent the brother with him. Did Titus take any advantage of you? did we not walk by the same Spirit? did we not walk in the same steps?

g 3 Ye think all this time that we are excusing ourselves unto you. In the sight of God speak we in Christ. But all things, beloved, are for your edifying. 20 For I fear, lest by any means, when I come, I should find you not such as I would, and should myself be found of you such as ye would not; lest by any means there should be strife, jealousy, wars, factions, backbitings, whisperings, swellings, tumults; lest, when I come again, my God should humble me before you, and I should mourn for many of them that have sinned heretofore, and repented not of the uncleanliness and fornication and lasciviousness which they committed.

13 This is the third time I am coming to you. At the mouth of two witnesses or three shall every word be established. 2 I have said 4 beforehand, and I do say beforehand, as when I was present the second time, so now, being absent, to them that have sinned heretofore, and to all the rest, that, if I come again, I will not spare; 3 seeing that ye seek a proof of Christ that speaketh in me; who to you-ward is not weak, but is powerful in you: for he was crucified through weakness, yet he liveth through the power of God. For we also are weak in him, but we shall live with him through the power of God toward you. 5 Try your own selves, whether ye be in the faith; prove your own selves.

Or know ye not as to your own selves, that Jesus Christ is in you? unless indeed ye be reprobate. 6 But I hope that ye shall know that we are not reprobate. 7 Now we pray to God that ye do no evil; not that we may appear approved, but that ye may do that which is honourable, though we be as reprobate. For we can do nothing against the truth, but for the truth. 9 For we rejoice, when we are weak, and ye are strong: this we also pray for, even your perfecting. 10 For this cause I write these things while absent, that I may not when present deal sharply, according to the authority which the Lord gave me for building up, and not for casting down.

11 Finally, brethren, farewell. Be perfected; be comforted; be of the same mind; live in peace: and the God of love and peace shall be with you. 12 Salute one another with a holy kiss.

13 All the saints salute you. The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Ghost, be with you all.
THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO THE GALATIANS.

1 Paul, an apostle (not from men, neither through a man, but through Jesus Christ, and God the Father, who raised him from the dead), and all the brethren which are with me, unto the churches of Galatia: Grace to you and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ, whom I declare to you now, and in all places, and reveal as k I might preach among the Gentiles; immediately I conferred not with flesh and blood: neither went I up to Jerusalem to them which were apostles before me: but I went away into Arabia; and again I returned unto Damascus.

18 Then after three years I went up to Jerusalem to visit Cephas, and tarried with him fifteen days. But other of the apostles saw I none, only James the Lord's brother. 20 Now touching the things which I write unto you, behold, before God, I lie not. 21 Then I came into the regions of Syria and Cilicia. 22 And I was still unknown by face unto the churches of Judea which were in Christ: but they only heard, He that once persecuted the faith of which he once made havoc; and they glorified God in me.

1 Then after the space of fourteen years I went up again to Jerusalem with Barnabas, and took Titus with me. 2 And I went up by revelation, and I laid before them privately that which I had preached among the Gentiles. 3 But concerning the third space I went up to Jerusalem with Titus and another man; and I confessed no man for the sake of glory. 4 But if I also were bold, or if my apostles were bold, we have done nothing without you, or took anything of the Gentiles beside the gospel. 5 For I purpose by the space of my visitation to come to you again, in order, if it be upon the will of God, to build up that which I began to build among you. 6 But other of the brethren which came with me to Jerusalem from Cilicia were Silas, whom I persuade to continue with you for a season. 7 And I saw also the Gentiles of Illyricum and Asia; so was I compelled to stay there a little time. 8 But I went through all of them, declaring the kingdom of God, and teaching the things which pertained unto the apostles. 9 And I went into Syria and Cilicia, again, and built up that which I had previously built. 10 And after that I went up into Jerusalem again; and I communed with them, and was a witness of the grace of God. 11 And I came also to Dudea; and I proved all things accurately, testifying the kingdom of God among them. 12 And I went also into Damascus, and proved that which pertained to the grace of God; and I have much to write, but I am not able at present to write unto you. 13 For the time now is ripe for my journey and departure; and the Lord hath helped me to it, that I may minister to his gospel. 14 And I trust that, as I visited you, I may visit you again in the space of a year; and I am persuaded that I shall; 15 But when it was good pleasure of God, we separated me, even from my mother's womb, and called me through his grace, to reveal his Son in me, that I might preach among the Gentiles; immediately I conferred not with flesh and blood: 16 for I neither went I up to Jerusalem to them which were apostles before me: but I went away into Arabia; and again I returned unto Damascus.

TO THE GALATIANS.

[CHAP. 3. V. 15.]

I have been crucified with Christ; yet I live, and yet no longer I, but Christ liveth in me; and that life which I now live in the flesh I live in faith, the faith which is in the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself up for me. 21 I do not make void the grace of God: for if righteousness is through the law, then Christ died for nought.

3 O foolish Galatians, who did bewitch you, before whose eyes Jesus Christ was openly set forth crucified? 2 This only would I learn from you, Ye received ye the Spirit by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith? 3 Are ye so foolish? Having begun in the Spirit, are ye now perfected with the flesh? 4 Did ye suffer so many things in vain? if it be indeed in vain.

5 For we are of God the children of light, and sons of the day: we are not of the night, nor of darkness. 6 For he that doeth the works of light, betheth the light, and doeth the works of darkness, receiveth not the light, but the darkness弖, who walketh in darkness, and walketh in the unknown darkness of error. 7 But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin. 8 If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. 9 If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. 10 If we say that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

11 This is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil. 12 For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved. 13 But he that doeth truth cometh to the light, that his works may be made manifest, that they are wrought in God. 14 And ye may see that no man is justified in the sight of God by the law; for, I say, the written law hath power of life unto him that executeth it. 15 But if the circumcision be not of the heart, but of the flesh, and not of a faithful spirit, it is not circumcision indeed: 16 And the external Gentiles, which by nature are not circumscribed, but who walk in the laws of nature, these for righteousness' sake do with the heart. 17 Therefore also God hath examined their hearts, and hath given them the Spirit, which witnesseth, or testifieth, that they are sons of God.
man of men: "Though it be not a man's covenant, yet when it had been confirmed, no one maketh it void, or addeth thereto. 16 Now to Abraham were the promises spoken, and to his seed. He saith not, And to seeds, as of many; but as of one, And to thy seed, which is Christ. 17 Now this I say; A covenant confirmed beforehand by God, the law, which came after four hundred and thirty years after, doth not disannul, so as to make the promise of none effect. 18 For if the inheritance of the law, it is no more of promise: but God hath granted it to Abraham by promise.

19 What then is the law? It was added because of transgressions, till the promise had been made; and it was ordained through angels by the hand of a mediator. 20 Now a mediator is not a mediator of one; but God is one. 21 Is the law then against the promises of God? God forbid: for if there had been a law given which could make alive, verily righteousness would have been of the law. 22 Howbeit the scripture hath shut up all things under sin, that the promise by faith in Jesus Christ might be given to them that believe.

23 But before faith came, we were kept in ward under the law, shut up unto the faith which should afterwards be revealed. 24 So that the law hath been our tutor to bring us unto Christ, that we might be justified by faith. 25 But now that faith is come, we are no longer under a tutor. 26 For ye are all sons of God through faith, in Christ Jesus. 27 For as many of you as were baptized into Christ did put on Christ. 28 There can be neither Jew nor Greek, there can be neither bond nor free, there can be no male and female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus. 29 And if ye are Christ's, then are ye Abraham's seed, heirs according to promise.

4 But I say that so long as the heir is a child, he differeth nothing from a bondservant, though he is lord of all; 2 but is under guardians and stewards until the term appointed of the father.

3 So we also, when we were children, were held in bondage under the rudiments of the world: 4 but when the fulness of the time came, God sent forth his Son, born of a woman, born under the law, that he might redeem them which were under the law, that we might receive the adoption of sons. 5 And because ye are sons, God sent forth the Spirit of his Son into our hearts, crying, Abba, Father. 7 So that thou art no longer a bondservant, but a son; and if a son, then an heir through God.

8 Howbeit at that time, not knowing God, ye were in bondage to them by which nature are no gods: 9 but now that ye have come to know God, rather to be known of God, how turn ye back again to the weak and beggarly rudiments, whereby ye desire to be in bondage over again? 10 Ye observe days, and months, and seasons, and years. 11 I am afraid of you, lest by any means I have bestowed labour upon you in vain.

12 I beseech you, brethren, be as I am, for I am as ye are. 13 Ye did me no wrong: 14 but ye know that because of an infirmity of the flesh I preached the gospel unto you the first time: 15 and that which was a temptation to you in my flesh ye despised not, nor rejected; but ye received me as an angel of God, even as Christ Jesus. 16 Where then is that gratulation of yourselves? for I bear you witness, that, if possible, ye would have plucked out your eyes and given them to me. 17 So then am I become your enemy, because I tell you the truth? 18 They zealously seek you in no good way; nay, they desire to shut you out, that ye may seek them. 19 But it is good to be zealously sought in a good matter at all times, and not only when I am present with you. 20 My little children, of whom I again in travailing until Christ be formed in you, 21 I could wish to be present with you now, and to change my voice; for I am perplexed about you.

22 Tell me, ye that desire to be under the law, do ye not hear the law?
ham had two sons, 1 one by the handmaid, and 2 one by the freewoman. 3 Now the son by the handmaid is born after the flesh; 4 but the son by the freewoman is born through promise. 5 Which things contain an allegory: for these women are two covenants: 6 one from mount Sinai, bearing children unto bondage, which is Hagar. 7 8 Now this Hagar is mount Sinai in Arabia, and answereth to the Jerusalem that now is: for she is in bondage with her children. 9 But the Jerusalem that is above is free, which is our mother. 10 For it is written, 11 "Rejoice, thou barren that bearest not: 12 Break forth and cry, thou that travailest not: 13 For more are the children of the desolate than of her which hath the husband.

28 Now we, brethren, as Isaac was, 14 are children of promise. 15 But as then he that was born after the flesh persecuted him that was born after the Spirit, 16 even so it is now. 17 Howbeit what saith the scripture? "Cast out the handmaid and her son: for the son of the handmaid shall not inherit with the son of the freewoman. 18 Wherefore, brethren, we are not children of a handmaid, but 19 of the freewoman. 20 With which freedom Christ set us free: 21 stand fast therefore, and be not entangled again in a yoke of bondage. 22 Behold, I Paul say unto you, that, 23 if ye receive circumcision, 24 Christ will profit you nothing. 25 Yea, I testify again to every man that receiveth circumcision, 26 that he is a debtor to do the whole law. 27 Ye are 28 severed from Christ, 29 who would be justified by the law; 30 ye are fallen away from grace. 31 For we through the Spirit by faith wait for the hope of righteousness. 32 For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision availeth anything, nor uncircumcision; 33 but faith working through love. 34 Ye were running well; who did hinder you that ye should not obey the truth? 35 This persuasion came not of him that calleth you. 36 A little leaven leaveneth the whole lump. 37 I have confidence to you-ward in the Lord, that ye will be none otherwise minded: but 38 he that troubleth you shall bear his judgement, whosoever he be.
burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ. 3 For if a man thinketh himself to be something, when he is nothing, he deceiveth himself. 4 But let each man prove his own work, and then shall he have his glorying in regard of himself alone, and not of his neighbour. 5 For each man shall bear his own burden.

6 But let him that is taught in the word communicate unto him that teacheth in all good things. 7 Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. 8 For he that soweth unto his own flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth unto the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap eternal life. 9 And let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not. 10 For as many as desire to be approved, they moreover take the cross of Christ, that they may be glorified in him upon the earth. 11 I Cor. 10. 12 As many as desire to be approved, they moreover take the cross of Christ, that they may be glorified in him upon the earth.
that we should be "unto the praise of his glory, we who 1 had before hoped in Christ: 13 in whom ye also, having heard the word of the truth, the gospel of your salvation, — in whom, having also believed, ye were sealed with the Holy Spirit of promise, 14 which is an earnest of our inheritance, unto the redemption of God's own possession, unto the praise of his glory.

15 For this cause I also, having heard of the faith in the Lord Jesus which is among you, and which ye show toward all the saints, 16 cease not to give thanks for you, making mention of you in my prayers; 17 that the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, may give unto you a spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of him; 18 having the eyes of your heart enlightened, that ye may know what is the hope of his calling, what the riches of the glory of his inheritance in the saints, 19 and what the exceeding greatness of his power to us-ward who believe, according to that working of his strength of his might, which he wrought in Christ, when he raised him from the dead, and made him to sit at his right hand in the heavenly places, far above all rule and authority, power, and dominion, and every name that is named, not only in this world, but also in that which is to come: 22 and he put all things in subjection under his feet, and gave him to be head over all things to the church, 23 which is his body, the fulness of him that filleth all in all.

2 And you did he quicken, when ye were dead through your trespasses and sins, 2 wherein aforetime ye walked according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the power of the air, of the spirit that now worketh in the sons of disobedience; 3 among whom we also once lived in the lusts of our flesh, doing the desires of the flesh and of the mind, and were by nature children of wrath, even as the rest: 4 but God, being rich in mercy, 5 for his great love wherewith he loved us, 6 even when we were dead through our trespasses, quickened us together with Christ (by grace have ye been saved), 7 and raised us up with him, and made us to sit with him in the heavenly places, in Christ Jesus; 8 that in the ages to come he might shew the exceeding riches of his grace in kindness toward us in Christ Jesus: 9 for by grace have ye been saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: 10 it is the gift of God: 11 not of works, that no man should glory. 12 For we are his workmanship, 13 created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God afore prepared that we should walk in them.

11 Wherefore remember, that aforetime ye, the Gentiles in the flesh, who were called Uncircumcision by that which is called Circumcision, in the flesh, made by hands; 12 that ye were at that time separate from Christ, alienated from the commonwealth of Israel, and strangers from the covenants of promise, having no hope and without God in the world. 13 But now in Christ Jesus ye that were far off are made nigh through the blood of Christ. 14 For he is our peace, who made both one, and brake down the middle wall of partition, 15 having abolished in his flesh the enmity, even the law of commandments contained in ordinances; 16 that he might create in himself of the twain one new man, so making peace; 17 and might reconcile them both in one body unto God through the cross, having slain the enmity thereby: 18 and he came and preached peace to you that were far off, and to those that were nigh: 19 for through him we both have our access in one Spirit unto the Father. 20 So then ye are no more strangers and sojourners, but ye are fellow-citizens with the saints, and of the household of God,
TO THE EPHESIANS.

[CHAP. 4, v. 13.

20 St being built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Christ Jesus himself being the chief corner stone; 21 in whom each several building, fitly framed together, growth into a holy temple in the Lord; 22 in whom ye also are built together for a habitation of God in the Spirit.

1 For this cause I Paul, the prisoner of Christ Jesus in behalf of you Gentiles,— 2 if so be that ye have heard of the dispensation of that grace of God which was given me to you-ward; 3 how that by revelation was made known unto me the mystery of Christ; 4 whereby, when ye read, ye can perceive my understanding in the mystery of Christ; 5 which in other generations was not made known unto the sons of men, as it hath now been revealed unto his holy apostles and prophets in the Spirit:

6 to wit, that the Gentiles are fellow-members of the body, and fellow-partakers of the promise in Christ Jesus through the gospel, 7 whereof I was made a minister, according to the gift of that grace of God which was given me according to the working of his power.

8 Unto me, who am lessthan the least of all saints, this grace was given, to preach unto the Gentiles the unspeakable riches of Christ; 9 and to make all men see what is the dispensation of the mystery which from all ages hath been hid in God who created all things; 10 to the intent that now unto the principalities and the powers in the heavenly places might be made known through the church the manifold wisdom of God, 11 according to the eternal purpose which he purposed in Christ Jesus our Lord:

12 in whom we have boldness and access in full assurance of faith in him. 13 Wherefore I order you, 14 to lay hold upon the hope of ye faith, which is your tribute for you, which are our glory.

14 For this cause I bow my knees unto the Father, 15 from whom is every family in heaven and on earth named, 16 that he would grant you, according to the riches of his glory, that ye may be strengthened with power through his Spirit in the inward man:

17 that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith; to the end that ye, being rooted and grounded in love, 18 may be strong to apprehend with all the saints what is the breadth and length and height and depth, 19 and to know the love of Christ which passeth knowledge, that ye may be filled unto all the fulness of God.

20 Now unto him that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us, unto him be glory in the church and in Christ Jesus unto all generations for ever and ever. Amen.

1 I therefore, the prisoner in the Lord, beseech you to walk worthy of the calling wherewith ye were called, 2 with all lowliness and meekness, with longsuffering, forbearing one another in love; 3 giving diligence to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace. 4 There is one body, and one Spirit, even as also ye were called in one hope of your calling; 5 one Lord, one faith, one baptism, 6 one God and Father of all, who is over all, and through all, and in all. 7 But unto each one of us was the grace given according to the measure of the gift of Christ. 8 Wherefore he saith,

9 When he ascended on high, he led captivity captive, and gave gifts unto men.

9 (Now this, He ascended, what is it but that he also descended into the lower parts of the earth? 10 He that descended is the same also that ascended far above all the heavens, that he might fill all things.)

11 And he gave some to be apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, pastors and teachers; 12 for the perfecting of the saints, unto the work of ministering, unto the building up of the body of Christ; 13 till we all attain unto the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a full grown man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ: 14 that we may no longer children, tossed to and fro and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, in craftiness, after the wiles of error; 15 but speaking truth in love, may grow up in all things into him, which is the head, even Christ; 16 from whom the whole body fitly framed and knit together through that which every joint supplieth, according to the working in due measure of each several part, maketh the increase of the body unto the building up of itself in love.

17 This I say therefore, and testify in the Lord, that ye no longer walk as the Gentiles also walk, in the vanity of their mind, 18 being darkened in their understanding, alienated from the life of God because of the ignorance that is in them, because of the hardening of their heart; 19 who being past feeling gave themselves up to lasciviousness, to work all uncleanness with greediness. 20 But ye did not so; but ye heard him, and were taught in him, even as truth is in Jesus: 22 that ye put away, as concerning your former manner of life, the old man, which waxeth corrupt after the lusts of deceit; 23 and that ye be renewed in the spirit of your mind, 24 and put on the new man, which after God hath been created in righteousness and holiness of truth.

25 Wherefore, putting away false-hood, speak ye truth each one with his neighbour: for we are members one of another. 26 Be ye angry, and sin not: let not the sun go down upon your wrath: 27 neither give place to the devil. 28 Let him that stole steal no more: but rather let him labour, working with his hands the thing that is good, that he may have whereof to give to him that hath need. 29 Let no corrupt speech proceed out of your mouth, but such as is good for edifying as the need may be, that it may give grace to them that hear. 30 And grieve not the Holy Spirit of God, from whom ye were sealed unto the day of redemption.

31 Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and railing, be put away from you, with all malice: 32 and be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving each other, even as God also in Christ forgave you.

1 Be ye therefore imitators of God, as beloved children; 2 and walk in love, even as Christ also loved you, and gave himself up for us, an offering and a sacrifice to God for an odour of a sweet smell. 3 But fornication, and all uncleanness, or covetousness, let it not even be named among you, as becometh saints; 4 neither filthiness, nor foolish talking, nor jesting, which are not befitting: but rather giving of thanks. 5 For this ye know of a surety, that no fornicator, nor unclean person, nor covetous man, which is an idolater, hath any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and God.

6 Let no man deceive you with empty words: for because of these things came the wrath of God upon the sons of disobedience. 7 Be not foolish, but understanding what the will of the Lord is.

8 And be ye filled with the spirit of God; speaking to each other in psalms, and hymns, and spiritual songs, singing and making melody in your heart to the Lord; 9 prizing the Word of Christ above all things, 10 and teaching each other and admonishing one another, with all wisdom, to the end that ye may perfect the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a full grown man, unto the measure of the fulness of Christ.
18 Wives, be in subjection unto your own husbands, as unto the Lord. 19 For the husband is the head of the wife, even as Christ also is the head of the church; and he is the saviour of the body. 20 Likewise also the great is to be subject to his wife: so likewise the husband the wife; because he is the husband of her. 21 For the husband is the head of the wife, even as Christ also is the head of the church; and he is the saviour of the body. 22 Every woman that prayeth or speaketh in the church, having no head, i.e., the husband, let her pray in her liberty. 23 But I say, that the more is the woman, so much the more she should be silent in the church; for she is not created out of man, but out of woman; 24 neither was man created out of woman, but woman out of man. 25 For the man is the image of God: but the woman is the glory of man. 26 For man is not of woman; neither was woman made of man; but the one of the other. 27 For this cause man shall leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife: and they two shall be one flesh. 28 What therefore God hath joined together, let not the man分开, for the two shall become one flesh. 29 This mystery is great: but I speak concerning Christ and the church. 30 For this reason I wish that a woman pray in the church, with a head covering. 31 But if a woman have no head covering, let her have long hair. 32 For a man indeed ought not to have his head covered: for why? for woman is of the man; and man is of the woman: as also the Church is of Christ. 33 And the man is not from the woman, but the woman from the man. 34 Neither was the man created for the woman, but the woman for the man. 35 For this reason the woman ought to have a sign of authority on her head, because of the angels. 36 No, woman, I beg you, in the churches not to say anything, but let the wives have authority in their husbands in everything. 37 And the wife may be in subjection to her own husband, when they are without. 38 But if it is against the law, let it be against the law. 39 For it is better that woman should be in silence, without speaking, because she is subject unto the word of God, that she may not be shamed. 40 If there be any question, let them also ask their husbands at home. 41 For it is written, A woman shall be saved through the offspring. 42 Yet if they will not obey, they shall teach them by rebuking.
an ambassador in chains; that in it I may speak boldly, as I ought to speak.

21 But that ye also may know my affairs, how I do, Tychicus, the beloved brother and faithful minister in the Lord, shall make known to you all things: whom I have sent unto you for this very purpose, that ye may know our state, and that he may comfort your hearts.

22 Peace be to the brethren, and /love with faith, from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

23 Grace be with all them that love our Lord Jesus Christ in uncorruptness.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE PHILIPPPIANS.

I, Paul and Timothy, servants of Christ Jesus, to all the saints in Christ Jesus which are at Philippi, with the bishops and deacons: grace be to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 I thank my God upon all my remembrance of you, always in every supplication of mine on behalf of you. Making my supplication with joy,

5 for your fellowship in furtherance of the gospel from the first day until now, being confident of this very thing, that he which began a good work in you will perfect it until the day of Jesus Christ:

6 even as it is right for me to be thus minded on behalf of you all, because I have you in my heart, inasmuch as, both in my bonds and in the defense and confirmation of the gospel, ye all are partakers with me of grace.

8 For God is my witness, how I long after you all in the tender mercies of Christ Jesus.

9 And this I pray, that your love may abound yetmore and more in knowledge and all discernment; that ye may approve the things that are excellent; that ye may be sincere and void of offence unto the day of Christ.

10 But of the progress of the gospel;

13 so that my bonds became manifest in Christ throughout the whole prætorian guard, and to all the rest;

14 and that most of the brethren in the Lord, being confident through my bonds, are more abundantly bold to speak the word of God without fear.

15 Some indeed preach Christ even of envy and strife; and some also of good will:

16 the one do it of love, knowing that I am set for the defense of the gospel:

17 but the other proclaim Christ of faction, not sincerely, thinking to raise up affliction for me in my bonds.

18 What then? only that in every way, whether in pretense or in truth, Christ is proclaimed; and therein I rejoice, yea, and will rejoice.

19 For I know that this shall turn to my salvation through your supplication and the supply of the Spirit of Jesus Christ, 20 according to my earnest expectation and hope, that in no thing shall I be put to shame, but that the fruit of my work, — if this is the fruit of my work, then what shall I choose but to live is Christ, and to die is gain.

21 But if to live in the flesh: — if this is the fruit of my work, then what shall I choose but to live is Christ, and to die is gain.

22 For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain.

23 But I am in a strait betwixt the two, having the desire to depart and be with Christ; for it is very far better:

24 yet to abide in the flesh is more needful for your sake.

25 And having this confidence, I know that I shall abide, yea, and unto the progress of the gospel; abide with you all, for your progress and joy in the faith; 26 that your glorying may abound in Christ Jesus in me through my presence with you again. 27 Only let your manner of life be worthy of the gospel of Christ: that, whether I come and see you or be absent, I may hear of your state, that ye stand fast in one spirit, with one soul striving for the faith of the gospel; 28 and in nothing affrighted by the adversaries: which is for them an evident token of perplexity, but of your salvation, and that from God; 29 because to you it hath been granted in the behalf of Christ not only to believe on him, but also to suffer in his behalf: 30 having the same conflict which ye saw in me, and now hear to be in me.

1 If there is therefore any comfort in Christ, if any consolation of his love, if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any tender mercies and compassions, 2 fulfil ye my joy, that ye be of the same mind, having the same love, being of one accord, of one mind; 3 doing nothing through faction or through vainglory, but in lowliness of mind each counting other better than himself; 4 not looking each of you to his own things, but each of you also to the things of others. 5 Have this mind in you, which was also in Christ Jesus: 6 who, being in the form of God, counted not equality with God, 7 but emptied himself, taking the form of a servant, being made in the likeness of men; 8 and being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himself, becoming obedient even unto death, 9 yea, the death of the cross. 10 Wherefore also God highly exalted him, and gave unto him the name which is above every name; 11 that in the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven and things on earth and things under the earth, 12 and that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

12 So then, my beloved, even as ye have always obeyed, not as ye are now made obedient, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling; 13 for it is God which worketh in you both to will and to work, for his good pleasure. 14 Do all things without murmuring and disputing; 15 that ye may be blameless and harmless, children of God without blemish in the midst of a crooked and perverse generation, among whom ye are seen as lights in the world, 16 holding forth the word of life; that I may have whereof to glory in the day of Christ, that I did not run in vain neither labour in vain. 17 Yea, and if I am offered upon the sacrifice and service of your faith, I joy, and rejoice with you all: 18 and in the same manner do ye also joy, and rejoice with me.

19 But I hope in the Lord Jesus to send Timothy shortly unto you, that I also may have good comfort, when I know your state. 20 For I have no man likeminded, who will care truly for your state. 21 For they all seek their own, not the things of Jesus Christ. 22 But ye know the proof of him, that, as a child serveth a father, so ye served me in furtherance of the gospel. 23 Him therefore I hope to send forthwith, so soon as I shall see how it will go with me: 24 but I trust in the Lord that I myself also shall come shortly. 25 But I counted it necessary to send you Epaphroditus, my brother and fellow-worker and fellow-soldier, and your messenger and minister to my need; 26 since he langued 15 after you all, and was sore troubled, because ye had heard that he was sick: 27 for indeed he was sick nigh unto death: but God had mercy on him; and not on him only, but on me also, that I might not have sorrow upon sorrow. 28 I have sent him therefore the more diligently, that, when ye see him again, ye may rejoice, and that I may be the less sorrowful. 29 Receive him as a drinking-offering, ancien powers read of the same mind. 3 Gr. being originally. 4 Gr. becoming to. 5 Gr. things of the world below. 6 Gr. forced out as a drinking-offering.

1 Or, of faith. 2 Gr. behave as citizens worthily. 3 Gr. with. 4 Some ancient authorities read of the same mind. 5 Gr. being originally. 6 Gr. things of the world below. 7 Gr. becoming to. 8 Some ancient authorities read of the same mind. 9 Gr. forced out as a drinking-offering. ancien authorities read to see you all.
therefore in the Lord with all joy; and hold such in honour: 30 because for the work of Christ he came nigh unto death, hazarding his life to supply that which was lacking in your service toward me. 31 Finally, my brethren, rejoiced in the Lord. 3 To write the same things to you, to me indeed is not irksome, but for you it is safe. 2 Beware of * the dogs, beware of * the evil workers, beware of the concision: 3 for we are the circumcision, * who worship by the Spirit of God, and * glory in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh: 4 * though I myself might have confidence even in the flesh: if any other man thinketh to have confidence in the flesh, I yet more: * circumcised the eighth day, * of the stock of Israel, * of the tribe of Benjamin, * a Hebrew of Hebrews; as touching the law, * a Pharisee; * as touching zeal, * persecuting the church; * as touching the righteousness which is in the law, found blameless. 7 Howbeit * what things were gain to me, * these have I counted loss for Christ. 8 Ye verily, and I count all things to be loss for Christ. 9 Yet to have apprehended: but one thing I do, * to forget the things which are behind, and stretching forward to the things which are before, 10 I press on toward the goal unto a prize of the 30 high calling of God in Christ Jesus. 15 Let us therefore, as many as be perfect, be thus minded: and if in anything ye are otherwise minded, * even this shall God reveal unto you: 16 only, whereunto we have already attained, * by that same rule let us walk. 27 Brethren, * be ye imitators together of me, and mark them which thus walk * even as ye have us for an ensample. 18 For * many walk, of whom I told you often, and now tell you * even weepingly, that they are the enemies of the cross of Christ: 19 * whose end is perdition, * whose god is the belly, and * whose glory is in their shame, who * mind earthly things. 20 For * our citizenshipe is in heaven; * from whence also we * wait for a Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ: 21 who shall fashion anew * the body of our humiliation, that it may be * conformed to the body of his glory, * according to the working whereby he is able even * to subject all things unto himself. Wherefore, my brethren beloved and longed for, * my joy and * crown, so stand fast in the Lord, my beloved. 2 I exhort Euodia, and I exhort Syntyche, to be * of the same mind among yourselves. 3 Ye see also, true yokefellow, help these women, for they laboured with me in the gospel, with Clement also, and the rest of my fellow-workers, * whose names are in the book of life. 4  Rejoice in the Lord always: again I will say, Rejoice. 5 Let your * forbearance be known unto all men. * The Lord is at hand. 6 In nothing be anxious; but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God. 7 And * the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall guard your hearts and your thoughts in Christ Jesus. 8 Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are * honourable, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatevsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things. 9 The things which ye both learned and received and heard and saw in me, these things do: and the God of peace shall be with you.

10 But I rejoiced in the Lord greatly, that now at length ye have revived your thought for me; wherein ye did indeed take thought, but ye lacked opportunity. 11 Not that I speak in respect of want: for I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, therein to be content. 12 I know how to be abased, and I know also how to abound: in everything and in all things have I learned the secret both to be filled and to be hungry, both to abound and to be in want. 13 I can do all things in him that strengtheneth me.

14 Howbeit ye did well, that ye had fellowship with my affliction. 15 And ye yourselves also know, ye Philippians, that in the beginning of the gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, no church had fellowship with me in the matter of giving and receiving, but ye only; 16 for even in Thessalonica ye sent once and again unto my need. 17 Not that I seek for the gift, but for the fruit that increaseth to your account. 18 But I have all things, and abound: I am filled, having received from Epaphroditus the things that came from you, an odour of a sweet smell, a sacrifice acceptable, well-pleasing to God.

19 And my God shall fulfill every need of you according to his riches in glory in Christ Jesus. 20 Now unto our God and Father be the glory forever and ever. Amen.

21 Salute every saint in Christ Jesus. The brethren which are with me salute you. 22 All the saints salute you, especially they that are of Caesar's household. 23 The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE COLOSSIANS.

1 Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus by the will of God, and Timothy our brother, 2 to the saints and faithful brethren in Christ which are at Colossae,Grace to you and peace from God our Father.

3 We give thanks to God the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, praying always for you, 4 having heard of your faith in Christ Jesus, and of the love which ye have toward all the saints, 5 because of the hope which is laid up for you in the heavens, whereof ye heard before in the word of the truth of the gospel, 6 which is come unto you; even as ye learned of Epaphras our beloved fellow-servant, who is a faithful minister of Christ on our behalf, 7 who also declared unto us your love in the Spirit.

8 For this cause we also, since the day we heard it, do not cease to pray and make request for you, that ye may be filled with the knowledge of his will in all spiritual wisdom and understanding, 9 that ye may walk worthy of the Lord unto all pleasing, bearing fruit in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of God;

10 strengthened with all power, according to the might of his glory, unto all patience and long-suffering with joy;

11 giving thanks unto the Father, who made me meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints in light; 12 who delivered us out of the power of darkness, and translated us into the kingdom of the Son of his love;

13 in whom ye also trusted, that ye might be able to attain to the in inheritance of the saints in light; 14 which is his precious treasure, set apart before the foundation of the world,

15 that he might be exceedingly rich in glory by the power of his power,

16 which he wrought in Christ Jesus our Lord;

17 who is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn of every creature,

18 who is also the head of the church: which is his body, the fulness of him that filleth all in all.
redemption, the forgiveness of our sins: 15 who is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn of all creation; 16 for in him were all things created, 17 and he is before all things, and in him all things consists. 18 And he is the head of the body, the church: who is the beginning, the firstborn from the dead; 2 that in all things he might have the preeminence. 19 For it was the good pleasure of the Father that in him should all the fullness dwell; 20 and through him to reconcile all things unto himself, having made peace through the blood of his cross; through him, I say, whether heathen and enemies, in your mind: 21 but now hath he reconciled in the body of his flesh through death, 22 that present you holy and without blemish and unreprouvable before him: 23 if so be that ye continue in the faith, grounded and stedfast, and not moved away from the hope of the gospel which ye heard, which was preached in all creation under heaven; 24 whereof I Paul was made a minister.

Now I rejoice in my sufferings for your sake, and am full up on my part that which is lacking of Christ's afflictions in my flesh for his body's sake, which is the church; 25 whereof I was made a minister, according to the dispensation of God which was given me to you-ward, to fulfill the word of God, 26 even the mystery which hath been hid from all ages and generations: but now hath it been manifested to his saints, 27 to whom God was pleased to make known what is the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles, which is Christ in you, the hope of glory:

we may present every man perfect in Christ; 29 whereunto I labour also, striving according to his working, which worketh in me mightily.

For I would have you know how greatly I strive for you, and for them at Laodicea, and for as many as have not seen my face in the flesh; 2 that their hearts may be comforted, they being knit together in love, and unto all riches of the ful assurance of understanding, that they may know the mystery of God, 3 even Christ, 4 in whom are all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge hidden.

This I say, that no one may delude you with persuasiveness of speech. 5 For though I am absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, rejoicing and beholding your order, and the steadfastness of your faith in Christ.

As therefore ye received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk in him, 6 rooted and built up in him, and stablished in your faith, even as ye were taught, abounding in thanksgiving.

Take heed lest there shall be any one that maketh spoil of you through his philosophy and vain deceit, after the tradition of men, after the rudiments of the world, and not after Christ: 9 for in him dwelleth all the fulness of the Godhead bodily, and in him ye are made full, who is the head of all principality and power: 10 in whom ye were also circumcised with a circumcision not made with hands, in the putting off of the body of the flesh, in the circumcision of Christ; 11 being dead through your trespasses and sins: 12 having been buried with him in baptism, whereinto ye were also raised with him through faith in the working of God, who raised him from the dead. 13 And you, being dead through your trespasses and the uncircumcision of your flesh, you, I say, did he quicken together with him, having forgiven us all our trespasses; 14 having blotted out the bond written in ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us: and he hath taken it out of the way, nailing ing it to the cross; 15 a having put off from himself the principalities and the powers, 4 he made a show of them openly, triumphing over them in it.

16 Let no man therefore judge you in meat, or in drink, or in respect of a feast day or a new moon or a sabbath day: 17 which are a shadow of the things to come; but the body is Christ's. 18 Let no man rob you of your prize by a voluntary humility and worshipping of the angels, 4 dwelling in the things which he hath seen, vainly puffed up by his fleshly mind, and not holding fast the Head, from whom all the body, being supplied and knit together through the joints and bands, increaseth with the increase of God.

20 If ye died with Christ from the rudiments of the world, why, as though living in the world, do ye subject yourselves to ordinances, 21 hand not, nor taste, nor touch 22 (all which things are to perish with the using), after the precepts and doctrines of men? 23 Which things have indeed a show of wisdom in will-worship, and humility, and severity to the body; but are not of any value against the indulgence of the flesh.

3 If then ye were raised together with Christ, seek the things that are above, where Christ is, seated on the right hand of God. 2 Set your mind on the things that are above, not on the things that are upon the earth. 3 For ye died, and your life is hid with Christ in God. 4 When Christ, who is our life, shall be manifested, then shall ye also be manifested in glory.

5 Mortify therefore your members which are upon the earth; 4 fornication, uncleanness, passion, evil desire, and covetousness, the which is idolatry: 6 for which things' sake cometh the wrath of God upon the sons of disobedience; 7 in the which ye also walked aforetime, when ye lived in these things. 8 But now ye put away all these: 9 anger, wrath, malice, railing, shameful speaking out of your mouth: 10 lie not one to another; seeing that ye have put off the old man with his doings, 11 and have put on the new man, which is being renewed unto knowledge after the image of him that created him: 12 where there cannot be Greek and Jew, circumcision and uncircumcision, barbarian, Scythian, bondman, freeman: but Christ is all, and in all.

13 Put on therefore, as God's elect, holy and beloved, a heart of compassion, kindness, humility, meekness, longsuffering; 14 bearing one another, and forgiving each other, if any man have a complaint against any; even as the Lord forgave you, so also do ye: 15 and above all these things put on love, which is the bond of perfectness. 16 And let the peace of Christ rule in your hearts, to the which also ye were called in one body; and be ye thankful.

17 Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; teaching and admonishing one another with psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts unto God. 18 And whatsoever ye do, in word or in deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through him.

18 Wives, be in subjection to your husbands, as is fitting in the Lord. 19 Husbands, love your wives, and be not bitter against them. 20 Children, obey your parents in all things, for this is well-pleasing in the Lord. 21 Fathers, provoke not your children, that they be not discouraged. 22 Servants, obey in all things that are your masters according to the flesh; not with eyeservice, as men-pleasers, but in singleness of heart, fearing the Lord; 23 doing work 4 heartily, 5 as unto the Lord, and not unto men; 24 knowing that from the Lord ye shall receive the recompense of the inheritance: 6 for he that doeth wrong shall receive again for the wrong that he hath done: and there is no respect of persons. 1Masters, render unto your servants that which is just and equal; knowing that ye also have a Master in heaven.

2 Continue stedfastly in prayer, watching therein with thanksgiving; and withal praying for us also, that God may open unto us a door for the word, to speak the mystery of Christ, for which I am also in bonds; that I may make it manifest, as I ought to speak. 3 Walk in wisdom toward them that are without, redeeming the time. 4 Let your speech be always with grace, seasoned with salt, that ye may know how ye ought to answer each one.

5 All my affairs shall Tychicus make known unto you, the beloved brother and faithful minister and fellow-servant in the Lord: whom I have sent unto you for this very purpose, that ye may know our estate, and that he may comfort your hearts; 6 together with Onesimus, the faithful and beloved brother, who is one of you. They shall make known unto you all things that are done here.

7 Aristarchus my fellow-prisoner saluteth you, and Mark, the cousin of Barnabas (touching whom ye received commandments; if he come unto you, receive him), 8 and Jesus, which is called Justus, who are of the circumcision: these only among my fellow-workers unto the kingdom of God, men that have been a comfort unto me. 9 Epaphras, who is one of you, a servant of Christ Jesus, saluteth you, always striving for you in his prayers, that ye may stand perfect and fully assured in all the will of God.

10 For I bear him witness, that he hath much labour for you, and for them in Laodicea, and for them in Hierapolis. 11 Luke, the beloved physician, and Demas saluteth you. 12 Tychicus and Marcus, the cousins of Barnabas (touching whom ye received commandments; if he come unto you, receive him), 13 and Jesus, which is called Justus, who are of the circumcision: these only are my fellow-workers unto the kingdom of God, men that have been a comfort unto me. 14 Epaphras, who is one of you, a servant of Christ Jesus, saluteth you, always striving for you in his prayers, that ye may stand perfect and fully assured in all the will of God.

15 For I bear him witness, that he hath much labour for you, and for them in Laodicea, and for them in Hierapolis. 16 And from you hath sounded forth the word of the Lord, not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but in every place your faith to God-ward is gone forth; so that we need not to speak anything. 17 For they themselves report concerning us what manner of men we shewed ourselves toward you for your sake. 18 And ye became imitators of us, and of the Lord, having received the word in much affliction, with joy of the Holy Ghost; 19 so that ye became an ensample to all that believe in Macedonia and in Achaia.

20 From you hath sounded forth the word of the Lord, not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but in every place your faith to God-ward is gone forth; so that we need not to speak anything. 21 For they themselves report concerning us what manner of men we shewed ourselves toward you for your sake.
manner of entering in we had unto you; and how ye turned unto God from idols, to serve a living and true God, 10 and to wait for his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead, even Jesus, which delivereth us from the wrath to come.

1 For yourselves, brethren, know our entering in unto you, that it hath not been found vain: 2 but having suffered before, and been shamefully entreated, as ye know, at Philippi, we waxed bold in our God itospeak unto you the gospel of God in much conflict.
3 For our exhortation is not of error, nor of uncleanness, nor in guile: 4 but even as we have been approved of God to be in the presence of him, not in heart, endeavored the more exceedingly to see your face with great desire: 5 because we would fain have come unto you, I Paul once and again; and Satan hindered us. 6 For what is our hope, or joy, or crown of glory? 7 Are not even ye, before our Lord Jesus at his 6 coming?

1 Wherefore when we could no longer forbear, we thought it good to be left behind at Athens alone; 2 and sent Timothy, our brother and 7 God's minister in the gospel of Christ, to establish you, and to comfort you concerning your faith; 3 that no man be moved by these afflictions; for yourselves know that hereunto we are appointed. 4 For verily, when we were with you, we told you 5 beforehand that we are to suffer affliction; 6 even as it came to pass, and ye know. 7 For this cause I also, 8 when I could no longer forbear, 9 sent that I might know your faith, lest by any means 10 the tempter had tempted you, and our labour should be in vain.

6 But when Timothy came even now unto us from you, and brought us glad tidings of your faith and love, and that ye have good remembrance of us always, 13 longing to see us, even as we also to see you; 7 for this cause, brethren, we were comforted over you in all our distress and affliction through your faith; 8 for now we live, if ye stand fast in the Lord.

0 Or, plainly thanksgiving can we render again unto God for you, for all the joy wherewith we joy for your sakes before our God; 10 night and day praying exceedingly 1 that we may see your face, and 2 may perfect that which is lacking in your faith? 11 Now may 3 our God and Father himself, and our Lord Jesus, v direct our way unto you: 4 and the Lord 5 make you to increase and abound in love 1 one toward another, and toward all men, even as we also do toward you; 12 to the end he may 6 establish your hearts unblameable in holiness before 7 of our Lord Jesus 8 with all saints. 2

1 Finally then, brethren, we beseech and exhort you in the Lord Jesus, that, as ye 9 received of us shew how ye ought to walk and to please God, even as ye do walk, — that ye 10 abound more and more. 2 For ye know what 11 charge we gave you through the Lord Jesus. 3 For this is the will of God, even your sanctification, 7 that ye abstain from fornication; 4 that each one of you know how to possess himself of his own 12 vessel in sanctification and 13 honour, 5 not in the passion of lust, 6 even as the Gentiles 7 which know not God; 8 that no man 9 transgress, and 10 wrong his brother in the matter: because the Lord is an avenger in all these things, as also we forewarned you and testified. 7 For God called us not unto uncleanliness, but unto holiness, as also our God and Father hath called us; that he may 13 come unto you, 6 and the Lord 7 make you to increase and abound in love 8 one toward another, 9 and toward all men, even as we also do toward you; 10 to the end he may 11 establish your hearts unblameable in holiness before our Lord Jesus 12 with all saints. 2

1 But concerning love of the brethren 3 ye have need that one write unto you: for ye yourselves 4 are taught of God 5 to love one another; 6 for indeed 7 ye do it toward all the brethren which are in all Macedonia. But we exhort you, brethren, that ye 8 abound more and more; 9 and that ye 10 study 11 to be quiet, and 12 to do your own business, and 13 to work with your hands, even as we charged you; 14 that ye may 15 walk honestly toward them 16 that are without, and may have need of nothing.

15 But we would not have you ignorant, brethren, concerning them that fell asleep; 17 that ye sorrow not, even as the rest, 18 which have no hope. 14 For 19 if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so 20 them also that are fallen asleep 21 in Jesus will God bring with him. 15 For this we say unto you 22 by the word of the Lord, that 23 we that are alive, that are left un 24 the 1 coming of the Lord, shall in no wise precede them that are fallen asleep. 16 For 25 the Lord himself shall descend from heaven, 26 with a shout, with the voice of 27 the archangel, and 28 with the trump of God: 29 and the dead in Christ shall rise first: 30 then we that are alive, that are left, shall together with them be caught up 31 in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so shall we ever be with the Lord. 18 Wherefore 2 comfort one another with these words. 3 But concerning the times and the seasons, brethren, ye have no need that ought to be written unto you. 2 For yourselves know perfectly that 3 the day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night. 3 When they are saying, Peace and safety, then sudden destruction cometh upon them, 4 as travail upon a woman with child; and they shall in no wise escape. 4 But ye, brethren, 5 are not in darkness, that that day should overtake you as a thief: 5 for ye are all 6 sons of light, and sons of the day: we are not of the night, nor of darkness; 6 so then let us not sleep, as do the rest, but let us 7 watch and 8 be sober. 7 For they that sleep sleep in the night; and they that be drunken 9 are drunken in the night. 8 But let us, since we are of the day, be sober. 9 putting on the breastplate of 10 faith and love; 8 and for a helmet, the hope of salvation. 9 For God appointed us not unto wrath, but unto the obtaining of salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ, 10 who died and rose again, 12 and 5 ascended into heaven, 13 and sitteth on the right hand of the Majesty of God, 14 expecting the time of his return; 15 whereunto also 16 we pray: 17 that yr hope may be increased more and more in love, 18 and in knowledge, 19 and in every good work and thing which be good, even as ye study 20 and know the will of God. 21 Favour is to be had of all men, 22 but of the Lord 23 we require that every man speak truth with his neighbour: for we 24 are members one of another. 25 Abstain from 26 anger, and 27 from strife and contention. 26 If any 27 strive among you, let them 28 be under 29 correction of the church. 30 I lay it upon you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, 31 that ye 32 be fastened together, and 33 stand firm in the faith, as ye have been taught, 34 and let no man 35 pull you by a 36 foolish 37 zeal. 37 For they be not yourselves that are guided: 38 but 39 ye are guided of God. 3 For 40 whereunto also we pray, that your love may abound more and more in knowledge and in all judgment, 41 according to the rule of the doctrine of Christ, both in faith and in charity.
sleep, we should live together with him. 11 Wherefore 1 exhort one another, and build each other up, even as also ye do.

12 But we beseech you, brethren, 2 to know them that labour among you, and are over you in the Lord, and admonish you; 3 and to esteem them exceeding highly in love for their work’s sake. 4 Be at peace among yourselves. 5 And we exhort you, brethren, admonish the disorderly, encourage the fainthearted, support the weak, 6 be longsuffering toward all. 7 See that none render unto any one evil for evil; but always follow that which is good, one toward another, and toward all. 8 Rejoice always; 9 pray without ceasing; 10 in every thing give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus toward you. 11 Quench not the Spirit; 12 despise not prophesyings; 13 prove all things; hold fast that which is good; 14 abstain from every form of evil.

23 And 24 the God of peace himself sanctify you wholly; and may your spirit and soul and body be preserved entire, without blame at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. 25 Brethren, pray for us. 26 Salute all the brethren with a holy kiss. 27 Adjure you by the Lord that this epistle be read unto all the brethren. 28 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE THESALONIANS.

1 Paul, and Silvanus, and Timothy, unto the church of the Thessalonians in God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ; 2 Grace to you and peace from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. 3 We are bound to give thanks to God always for you, brethren, even as it is meet, for that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the love of each one of you all toward one another abundeth; 4 so that we ourselves glory in you in the churches of God for your patience and faith in all your persecutions and in the afflictions which ye endure; 5 which is a manifest token of the righteous judgement of God; to the end that ye may be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which ye also suffer: 6 if so be that it is a righteous thing with God to recompense affliction to them that afflict you, 7 and to you that are afflicted rest with us, 8 at the revelation of the Lord Jesus from heaven with the angels of his power 9 in flaming fire, rendering vengeance to them 10 that know not God, and to them that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus: 11 who shall suffer punishment, 12 even eternal destruction from the face of the Lord and from the glory of his might, 13 when he shall come to be glorified in his saints, and to be marvelled at in all them that believed (because our testimony unto you was believed) 14 in that day. 15 To which end we also pray always for you, that our God may count you worthy of your calling, and fulfil every desire of goodness and every work of faith, with power: 16 that the name of our Lord Jesus may be glorified in you, and ye in him, according to the grace of our God and the Lord Jesus Christ. 17 Now we beseech you, brethren, touching the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and our gathering together unto him; 18 to the end that ye be not quickly shaken from your mind, nor yet be troubled, either by spirit, or by word, or by epistle as from us, as that the day of the Lord is now present; 19 let no man beguile you in any wise: for it will not be, except the falling away come first, and the man of sin be revealed, who opposeth and exaltest himself against all that is called God or that is worshiped; so that he sitteth in the temple of God, setting himself forth as God. 5 Remember ye not, that, when I was yet with you, I told you these things? 6 And now ye know that which restraineth, to the end that he may be revealed in his own season. 7 For the mystery of iniquity doth already work: only there is that restraineth now, until he be taken out of the way. 8 And then shall be revealed the lawless one, whom the Lord Jesus shall slay with the breath of his mouth, and bring to nought by the manifestation of his coming: 9 even he, whose coming is according to the working of Satan with all power and signs and lying wonders, 10 and with all deceit of unrighteousness for them that perish; because they received not the love of truth, that they might be saved. 11 And for this cause God sendeth them a working of error, that they should believe a lie: 12 that all might be judged who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness. 13 But ye are bound to give thanks to God always for you, brethren beloved of the Lord, for that God chose you from the beginning unto salvation, in sanctification of the Spirit and belief of the truth: 14 whereunto he called you through our gospel, to the obtaining of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ. 15 So then, brethren, stand fast, and hold the traditions which ye were taught, whether by word, or by epistle of ours. 16 Now our Lord Jesus Christ, himself, and our God Father, which loved us and gave us eternal comfort and good hope through grace, comfort your hearts and establish them in every good work and word. 17 Finally, brethren, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may run and be glorified, even as also it is with you; and that we may be delivered from unreasonable and evil men; for all have not faith. 18 But the Lord is faithful, who shall establish you, and guard you from the evil one. 19 And we have confidence in the Lord touching you, that ye both do and will do the things which we command. 20 And the Lord direct your hearts into the love of God, and into the patience of Christ. 21 Now we command you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye withdraw yourselves from every brother that walketh disorderly, and not after the tradition which they received of us. 22 For yourselves know how ye ought to imitate us: for we behaved not ourselves disorderly among you; 23 neither did we eat bread for nought at any man's hand, but labouring and striving night and day, that we might not burden any of you: 24 but labouring and striving, that we might minister unto you of the gospel of Christ. 25 And ye yourselves know, that by reason of the testimony of Jesus Christ, we walked in the hardness of our years.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO TIMOTHY.

1 Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus, according to the commandment of our Saviour, and Christ Jesus our hope: 2 unto Timothy, my true child in faith:

1 And the grace, mercy, peace, from God our Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

2 As I exhorted thee to tarry at Ephesus, when I was going into Macedonia, that thou mightest charge certain men not to teach a different doctrine, 3 neither to give heed to fables and endless genealogies, which minister questions, rather than dispensation of God which is in faith; so do I now. 4 But the end of the charge is love out of a pure heart and a good conscience and faith unfeigned: 5 from which things some having swerved have turned aside unto vain talking; 6 from which things some having swerved have turned aside unto vain talking; 7 desiring to be teachers of the law, they understand neither what they say, nor whereof they confidently affirm. 8 But we know that the law is good, if a man use it lawfully, 9 as knowing this, that the law is not made for a righteous man, but for the lawless and unruly, for the ungodly and sinners, for the unholy and profane, for murderers of fathers and murderers of mothers, for fornicators, for men-stealers, for liars, for false swearers, and if there be any other thing contrary to the sound doctrine; 11 according to the gospel of the blessed God, which was committed to my trust.

12 I thank him that enabled me, even Christ Jesus our Lord, for that he counted me faithful, appointing me to his service; 13 though I was before a blasphemer, and a persecutor, and injurious: howbeit I obtained mercy, because I did it ignorantly in unbelief; 14 and the grace of our Lord abounded exceedingly with faith and love which is in Christ Jesus. 15 Faithfulness is the saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; of whom I am chief: 16 howbeit for this cause I obtained mercy, that in me as chief might Jesus Christ shew forth all his longsuffering, for an ensample of them which should hereafter believe on him unto eternal life. 17 Now unto the King eternal, incorruptible, invisible, the only God, be honour and glory for ever and ever. Amen.

18 This charge I commit unto thee, my child Timothy, according to the prophecies which went before on thee, that by them thou mayest war the good warfare; 19 holding faith and a good conscience; which some having attained from them made shipwreck concerning the faith; 20 of whom is Hymenaeus and Alexander; whom I delivered unto Satan, that they might be taught not to blaspheme. 21 I exhort therefore, first of all, that supplications, prayers, intercessions, thanksgivings, be made for all men; 22 for kings and all that are in high place, that we may lead a tranquil and quiet life in all godliness and gravity. 23 This is good and acceptable in the sight of our Saviour; who willeth that all men should be saved, and come to the knowledge of the truth. 24 For there is one God, one mediator also between God and men, himself man, Christ Jesus, who gave himself a ransom for all; 25 for the testimony to be borne in its own times; 26 whereunto I was appointed a preacher and an apostle (I speak the truth, I lie not), a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and truth.

27 I desire therefore that the men pray everywhere, lifting up holy hands, without wrath and disputing. 28 In like manner, that women adorn themselves in modest apparel, with shamefacedness and sobriety; not with braided hair, and gold or pearls or costly apparel; 29 but (which becometh women professing godliness) through good works. 11 Let a woman learn in quietness with all subjection. 12 But I permit not a woman to teach, nor have dominion over a man, but to be in quietness. 13 For Adam was first formed, then Eve; 14 and Adam was not beguiled, but the woman being beguiled hath fallen into transgression: 15 but she shall be saved through the childbearing, if they continue in faith and love and sanctification with sobriety.

3 Faithful is the saying, If a man seeketh the office of a bishop, he desireth a good work. 2 The bishop therefore must be without reproach, the husband of one wife, temperate, sober-minded, orderly, given to hospitality, apt to teach; 3 no brawler, no striker; but gentle, not contentious, no lover of money; 4 one that ruleth well his own house, having his children in subjection with all gravity; 5 (but if a man knoweth not how to rule his own house, how shall he take care of the church of God?) 6 not a novice, lest he be puffed up and fall into the condemnation of the devil. 7 Moreover he must have good testimony from them that are without; lest he fall into reproach and the snare of the devil. 8 Deacons in like manner must be grave, not double-tongued, not given to wine, not greedy of filthy lucre; 9 holding the mystery of the faith in a pure conscience. 10 And let these also first be proved; then let them serve as deacons, if they be blameless. 11 Women in like manner must be grave, not slanderers, temperate, faithful in all things. 12 Let deacons be husbands of one wife, ruling their children and their own houses well. 13 For they that have served well as deacons gain to themselves a good standing, and great boldness in the faith which is in Christ Jesus.

14 These things write I unto thee, hoping to come unto thee shortly; 15 but if I tarry long, that thou mayest know how men ought to behave themselves in the house of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and ground of the truth. 16 And without controversy great is the mystery of godliness: 17 He who was manifested in the flesh, justified in the spirit, 18 seen of angels, 19 preached among the nations, 20 believed on in the world, 21 received up in glory. 22 But the Spirit saith expressly, that in later times some shall fall away from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits and doctrines of demons, 23 through the hypocrisy of men, which speak lies, branded in their own conscience as with a hot iron; 24 forbidding to marry, and commanding to abstain from meats, 25 which God created to be received with thanksgiving by them that believe and know the truth. 26 For every creature of God is good, and nothing is to be rejected, if it be received with thanksgiving: 27 for it is sanctified through the word of God and prayer. 28 If thou put the brethren in mind of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of Christ Jesus, nourished in the words of the faith, and of the good doctrine which thou hast followed until now: 29 but refuse profane and old wives' fables. 30 Exercisethyself unto godliness: 31 for bodily exercise is profitable for a little; but godliness is profitable for all things, having promise of the life which now is, and of that which is to come. 31 Faithful is the saying, and worthy of all acceptance. 10 For to this end we labour and strive, because we have our hope set on the living God, who is the Saviour of all men, specially of them that believe. 11 These things command and teach. 12 Let no man despise thy youth; but be thou an ensample to them that believe, in word, in manner of life, in love, in faith, in purity. 13 Till I come, give heed to reading, to exhortation, to teaching. 14 Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee by prophecy, with the laying on of the hands of the presbytery. 15 Be diligent in these things; give thyself wholly to them; that thy progress may be manifest unto God, profitable unto thee.
I. TIMOTHY.

5 Rebuke not an elder, but exhort him as a father; the younger men as brethren; the elder women as mothers; the younger as sisters, in all purity.

6 Honour widows that are indeed. But if any widow hath children or grandchildren, let them learn first to shew piety towards their own family, and to requite their parents: for this is acceptable in the sight of God. 5 Now she that is a widow indeed, and desolate, hath her hope on God, and continueth in supplications and prayers night and day.

7 These things also command, that they may be without reproach. 8 But if any provide not for his own, especially his own household, let him be esteemed worse than an unbeliever. 20 If any woman that believeth hath widows, let her relieve them, and let not the church be burdened; that it may relieve them that are widows indeed.

17 Let the elders that rule well in the faith be counted worthy of double honour, especially those who labour in the word and in teaching. For the scripture saith, Thou shalt not muzzle the ox when he treadereth out the corn. And, 20 The labourer is worthy of his hire. 19 Against an elder receive not an accusation, except at the mouth of two or three witnesses. 20 They that sin therein shall be rebuked, and shall stand in judgment with all the congregation.

21 Let as many as are servants under the yoke count their own masters worthy of all honour, that the name of God and the doctrine be not blasphemed. 22 And they that have believing masters, let them not despise them, because they are brethren; but let them serve them the rather, because that they have used hospitality to strangers, and opened their houses unto them, and have glorified God.

23 Be no longer a drinker of water, but use a little wine for thy stomach's sake and thine often in infirmities. 24 Some men's sins are evident, going before unto judgment; and some men also they follow after. 25 In like manner also there are good works that are evident; and such as are otherwise cannot be hid.
I. TIMOTHY

1 Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus by the will of God, according to the promise of life which is in Christ Jesus,

2 to Timothy, my beloved child: Grace be with you.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO TIMOTHY.

3 I thank God, whom I serve according to my forefathers, in a pure conscience,
4 how unceasing is my remembrance of thee in my supplications, night and day longing to see thee, remembering thy tears, that I may be filled with joy;
5 having been reminded of the unfeigned faith that is in thee,
6 dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and thy mother Eunice; and, I am persuaded, in thee also.
7 For the which cause I put thee in remembrance, that thou stir up the gift of God which is in thee through the laying on of my hands.
8 For God gave us not a spirit of fearfulness, but of power and love and discipline.
9 Be not ashamed therefore of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner: but suffer hardship with the gospel according to the power of God;
10 who saved us, and called us to a holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before times eternal,
11 but hath now been manifested by the appearing of our Saviour Christ Jesus, who abolished death, and brought life and immortality to light by the gospel;
12 who only hath immortality, dwelling in light unapproachable; whom no man hath seen, nor can see: to whom be honour and power eternal. Amen.

13 Charge them that are rich in this present world, that they be not highminded, nor have their hope set on the uncertainty of riches, but on God,
14 who giveth us richly all things to enjoy;
15 that they do good, that they are rich in good works, that they be ready to distribute,
16 laying up in store for themselves a good foundation against the time to come, that they may lay hold on that life which is indeed.

17 O Timothy, guard that which is committed unto thee, turning away from the profane babblings and oppositions of the knowledge which is falsely so called;
18 which some professing have erred concerning the faith.

19 Grace be with you.
incorruption to light through the gospel, unto whereunto I was appointed a preacher, and an apostle, and a teacher. For which cause I suffer also these things: yet I am not ashamed; for I know whom I have believed, and I am persuaded that he is able to guard that which I have committed unto him against that day. Hold the pattern of sound words which thou hast heard from me, in faith and love which is in Christ Jesus. That good thing which was committed unto thee I care also the things: yet am not ashamed; for I know him whom I have believed, and I am persuaded that he is able to guard that which I have committed unto thee through the Holy Ghost which dwelleth in us.

15 This thou knowest, that all that are in Asia turned away from me; of whom are Phygelus and Hermogenes. The Lord shall give thee understanding in all things. The Lord grant unto him to the house of Onesiphorus: for he ministered unto me, and commended me in the faith. And I am certain that he will do more according to his abundant grace, when he shall come unto thee.

16 The things which thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, commit thou to faithful men who shall be able to teach others also. Be thou diligent in doctrine and in godliness; endure sufferings, and do the work of an evangelist, making full proof of the ministry. For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine, but after their own lusts shall gather to them and shall bring them into many vain and hurtful questions. Whereunto they will not be able to learn; for they are of men, not of God; for they have not patience to hear the doctrine of righteousness. But being filled with of corruption, and of unrighteousness, they are full of confusion and of every wicked deceit. Now as the true seed of David, according to my gospel: wherein I suffer hard s unto bonds, as a malefactor; but the word of God is not bound. Therefore I endure all things for the elect's sake, that they also may obtain the salvation which is in Christ Jesus with eternal glory.

17 Faithful is the saying: For if we died with him, we shall also live with him: if we endure, we shall also reign with him: if we deny him, he also will deny us: if we are faithless, he abideth faithful; for he cannot deny himself. Of these things put them in remembrance, charging them in the sight of the Lord, that they strive not about words, to no profit, to the subverting of them who hear. Give diligence to present thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, handling aright the word of truth.

18 But shun profane babblings: for they will proceed further in ungodliness, and their word will eat as doth a gangrene: of whom is Hymenaeus and Philetus; men who concerning the truth have erred, saying that the resurrection is past already, and overthrow the faith of some. Howbeit the firm foundation of God standeth, having this seal, The Lord knoweth them that are his: and let every one that nameth the name of the Lord depart from unrighteousness.

20 Now in great love he hath begotten us again unto a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, to an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that doth not fade away, reserved in heaven for you who by the power of great faith have been sealed unto的话.
selves out of the snare of the devil, having been taken captive by the Lord's servant unto the will of God. But know this, that in the last days grievous times shall come. For men shall be lovers of self, lovers of money, boastful, haughty, railers, disobedient to parents, unholy, without natural affection, implacable, slanderers, without self-control, fierce, no lovers of good, traitors, headstrong, ppuffed up, lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God; holding a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof: from these also turn away. For of these are they that creep into houses, and take captive silly women laden with sins, led away by divers lusts, ever learning, and never able to come to the knowledge of the truth. And like as Jannes and Jambres withstood Moses, so do these also withstand the truth: men corrupted in mind, reproducing the concerning the faith. But they shall proceed no further: for their folly shall be evident unto all men, as theirs also came to be. But thou didst follow my teaching, conduct, purpose, faith, long-suffering, love, patience, persecutions, sufferings; what things befell me at Antioch, at Iconium, at Lystra; what persecutions I endured: and out of them all the Lord delivered me. 12 Yea, and all that would have gone godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution. 13 But evil men and impostors shall wax worse and worse, deceiving and being deceived. 14 But abide thou in the things which thou hast learned and hast been assured of, knowing of whom thou hast learned them; 15 and that from a babe thou hast known the sacred writings which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus. 16 Every scripture inspired of God is also profitable for teaching, for reproof, for correction, for instruction which is in righteousness: 17 that the man of God may be complete, furnished unto every good work.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO TITUS.

PAUL, a servant of God, and an apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the faith of God's elect, and the knowledge of the truth which is according to godliness, 2 in hope of eternal life, which God, who cannot lie, promised beforehand by his holy prophets in the messa ging, 3 with which I was trusted according to the commandment of God our Saviour; 4 to Titus, my true child after a common faith: Grace and peace from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Saviour.

5 For this cause left I thee in Crete, that thou shouldst set in order the things that were wanting, and appoint elders in every city, as I gave thee charge; 6 if any man is blameless, the husband of one wife, having children that believe, who are not accused of riot or unruly. 7 For the bishop must be blameless, as God's steward; not self-willed, not soon angry, no brawler, no striker, not greedy of filthy lucre; 8 but given to hospitality, a lover of good, sober-minded, just, holy, temperate; 9 holding to the faithful word which is according to the teaching, that he may be able both to exhort in the sound doctrine, and to convict the gainsayers.

10 For there are many unruly men, men who overthrow whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, for filthy lucre's sake. 12 One of themselves, a prophet of their own, said, Cretans are always liars, evil beasts, idle gluttons. 13 This testimony is true. For which cause I reproved them sharply, that they may be sound in the faith, 14 not giving heed to Jewish fables, and commandments of men who turn away from the truth. 15 The pure all things are pure: but to them that are defiled and unbelieving nothing is pure; but both their mind and their conscience are defiled. 16 They profess that they know God; but by their works they deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, and unto every good work reprobate.

1 But speak thou the things which befit the sound doctrine: 2 that aged men be temperate, grave, sober-minded, sound in faith, in love, in patience: 3 that aged women likewise be reverent in their behaviour, not slanderers nor enslaved to much wine, teachers of that which is good; 4 that they may train the young women to love their husbands, to love their children, 5 to be soberminded, chaste, workers at home, kind, being in subjection to their own husbands, 6 that the word of God be not blasphemed: 7 in all things shewing thyself an ensample of good works; in thy doctrine shewing uncorruptness, gravity, sound speech, that cannot be condemned; 8 that he that is of the contrary part may be ashamed, having no evil thing to say of you.

9 a Exhort servants to be in subjection to their own masters, and to be well-pleasing to them in all things; not gnashings; 10 not pursuing, 11 but shewing all good fidelity; 12 that they may adorn the doctrine of God our Saviour in all things. 11 For the grace of God 12 hath appeared, bringing salvation to all men, 13 instructing us, to the intent that, denying ungodliness and worldliness, 14 we should live soberly and righteously and godly in this present world; 15 looking for the blessed hope and appearing of the glory of our great God and Saviour Jesus Christ; 16 who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himself a people for his own possession, zealous of good works.

17 These things speak and exhort and reprove with all authority. 18 Let no man despise thee.

1 Put them in mind to be in subject to rulers, to authorities, to be obedient, 2 to be ready unto every good work, 3 to speak evil of no man, 4 not to be contentious, 5 to be gentle, shewing all meekness toward all men. 6 For we also were sometime foolish, disobedient, deceived, serving divers lusts and pleasures, living in malice and envy, hateful, hating one another. 7 But when the kindness of God our Saviour, and his love toward man, appeared, 8 not by works done in righteousness, which we did ourselves, but according to his mercy he saved us, through the washing of regeneration and renewing of the Holy Ghost, 9 which he poured out upon us richly through Jesus Christ our Saviour; 10 that being justified by his grace, we might be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life.

11 Faithful is this saying, and concerning these things I will that thou affirm confidently, to the end that they which have believed God may be careful to maintain good works. These things are good and profitable unto men: 12 but shun foolish questionings, and genealogies, and strifes, and fightings about the law; for they are unprofitable and vain. 13 A man that is heretical after a first and second admonition refuse; 14 knowing that such a one is perverted, and sinneth, being self-condemned. 15 When I shall send Artemas unto thee, or Tychicus, give diligence to come unto me to Nicopolis: for there I have determined to winter. 16 Set forward Zenas the lawyer and Apelles on their journey diligently, that nothing be wanting unto them. 17 And let our people also learn to maintain good works for necessary uses, that they be not unfruitful. 18 All that are with me salute thee. Saluteth them that love us in faith.

*Grace be with you all.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO PHILEMON.

1 Paul, a prisoner of Christ Jesus, and Timothy our brother, to Philemon our beloved and fellow-worker, and to Apphia our sister, and to Archippus our fellow-soldier, and to the church in thy house: Grace to thee, and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

4 I thank my God always, making mention of thee in my prayers, 5 hearing of thy love, and of the faith which thou hast toward the Lord Jesus, and toward all the saints; 6 that the fellowship of thy faith may become effectual, in the knowledge of every good thing which is in you, unto Christ.

7 For I had much joy and comfort in thy love, because the hearts of the saints have been refreshed through thee, brother.

8 Wherefore, though I have all boldness in Christ to enjoin thee
THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE HEBREWS.

I, God, having of old time spoken unto the fathers in the prophets by divers portions and in divers manners, 2 that which is befitting, 9 yet for love's sake I rather beseech, being such a one as Paul 10 the aged, and now a prisoner also of Christ Jesus: 10 I beseech thee for my child, whom I have begotten in mine bonds, 2 Onesimus, 11 who was aforetime unprofitable to thee, but now is profitable to thee and to me: 12 whom I have sent back to thee in his own person, that is, my very heart: 13 whom I would fain have kept with me, that in thy behalf he might minister unto me 14 in the bonds of the gospel: 15 but without my mind I would do nothing; that thy goodness should not be as of necessity, but of free will.
15 For perhaps 16 he was therefore parted from thee for a season, that thou shouldest have him forever: 17 no longer as a servant, but more than a servant, a brother beloved, specially to me, but how much rather to thee, both in the flesh and in the Lord.

and again,

17 If then thou countest me a partner, receive him as myself. 18 But if he hath wronged thee at all, or oweth thee aught, put that to mine account:

that I say not unto thee how that thou owest to me even thine own self besides. 20 Yea, brother, let me have 4 joy of thee in the Lord: refresh my heart in Christ.

unto him, he left nothing that is not subject to him. But now we see not yet all things subjected to him. 9 But we behold him, as though he had been made a little lower than the angels, because of the suffering of death crowned with glory and honour, that by the grace of God he should taste death for every man. 10 For it became him, for whom are all things, and through whom are all things, in bringing many sons unto glory, to make the author of their salvation perfect through sufferings. 11 For both he that sanctifieth and they that are sanctified are all of one: for which cause he is not ashamed to call them brethren, 12 saying, I will declare thy name unto my brethren, In the midst of the congregation will I sing thy praise. 13 And again, Behold, I will put my trust in him. And again, Behold, I and the children which God hath given me. 14 Since then the children are sharers of flesh and blood, he also himself in like manner partook of the same; that through death he might bring to nought him that had the power of death, that is, the devil; 15 and might deliver all them who through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage. 16 For verily not of angels doth he take hold, but he taketh hold of the seed of Abraham. 17 Wherefore it behoved him in all things to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest in things pertaining to God, to make propitiation for the sins of the people. 18 For in that he himself hath suffered being tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

Wherefore, holy brethren, partakers of a heavenly calling, consider the Apostle and High Priest of our confession, even Jesus; 2 who was faithful to him that appointed him, as was also Moses in all his house. 3 For he hath been counted worthy of more glory than Moses, by so much as 4 Gr. distributions. 5 Or, Holy Spirit: and so throughout this book. 6 Or, the inhabited earth. 7 Or, for a little while lower. 8 Many authorities omit And didst. 9 Or, blood and flesh. 10 Or, many. 11 Or, Kath. 12 Or, For having been himself tempted in that wherein he hath suffered. 13 Or, wherein. 14 Gr. made. 15 That is, 16 Cp. 1 Cor. 15.28. 17 Phil. 2. 7-9. 18 See John ii. 17. 19 Acts 3. 12. 20 See Acts 2. 21. 21 Matt. 16. 28. 22 See John 20. 30. 23 Matt. 16. 28. 24 See John 17. 22. 25 Cp. he that built the house hath more honour than the house. 4 For every house is built by some one; but he that built all things is God. 5 And Moses indeed was faithful in all his house as a servant, for a testimony of those things which were afterward to be spoken; 6 but Christ b as a son, over this house; whose house are we, if we hold fast our boldness and the glorying of our hope firm unto the end. 7 Wherefore, even as the Holy Ghost saith, 8 "To-day if ye shall hear his voice, Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation, Like as in the day of the temptation in the wilderness, 9 Wherewith your fathers tempted me by proving me, And saw my works forty years. 10 Wherefore I was displeased with this generation, And said, They do always err in their heart: But they did not know my ways; 11 "As I sware in my wrath, They shall not enter into my rest. 12 Take heed, brethren, lest any of you be hardened by a provocation. 13 For we were not all able to come into the rest, even as they were not; 14 for they were not able to enter in because of unbelief. 15 But the work of the Lord was finished on the earth. 16 And after forty years they were overpersuaded in their works: 17 and to whom was he displeased forty years? was it not with them that sinned, whose graves fell in the wilderness? 18 And to whom were they not able to enter into his rest, but to them that were disobedient? 19 And we see that they were not able to enter in because of unbelief.
15 For we have not a high priest that cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but one that hath been in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin. 16 Let us therefore draw near with boldness unto the throne of grace, that we may receive mercy, and may find grace to help us in time of need.

5 For every high priest, being appointed from among men, is at pointed for men in things pertaining to God, that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins: a who can have gently with the ignorant and erring, for that he himself also is compassed with infirmity; and by reason thereof is bound, as for the people, so also for himself, to offer for sins. 4 And no man taketh the honour unto himself, but when he is called of God, even as was Aaron. 5 So Christ also glorified not himself to be made a high priest, but he said, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee: a

6 Who in the days of his flesh, having offered up prayers and supplications with strong crying and tears unto him that was able to save him from death, and having been heard for his godly fear, 3 though he was a Son, yet learned obedience by the things which he suffered; 2 and being made perfect, he became unto all them that obey him the author of eternal salvation; 10 named of God a high priest after the order of Melchizedek.

11 Of whom we have many things to say, and hard of interpretation, seeing ye are become dull of hearing. 12 For when by reason of the time ye ought to be teachers, ye have need again as one teacheth the rudiments of the first principles of the oracles of God; and are become such as have need of milk, and not of solid food. 13 For every one that partaketh of milk is without experience of the word of righteousness; for he is as a babe. 14 But solid food is for full grown men, even those who by reason of use have their senses exercised to discern good and evil.

1 Wherefore let us cease to speak of "the first principles of Christ, and press on unto perfection; not laying again a foundation of repentance from dead works, and of faith toward God, 2 of the teaching of baptisms, and of laying on of hands, and of resurrection of the dead, and of eternal judgement. 3 And this will we do, if God permit. 4 For as touching those who were once enlightened and tasted of the heavenly gift, and were made partakers of the Holy Ghost, 5 and tasted the good word of God, and the powers of the age to come, 6 and then fell away, 7 it is impossible to renew them again unto repentance; 12 seeing they crucify to themselves the Son of God afresh, and put him to an open shame. 7 For the land which hath drunk the rain that cometh oft upon it, and bringeth forth herbs meet for them for whose sake it is also tilled, receiveth blessing from God: 8 but if it beareth thorns and thistles, it is rejected and nigh unto a curse; 9 whose end is to be burned.

9 But, beloved, we are persuaded better things of you, and things that accompany salvation, though we thus speak: 10 for God is not unrighteous to forget your work and the love which ye shewed toward his name, in that ye ministered unto the saints, and still do minister. 11 And we desire that each one of you may shew the same diligence unto the fullness of hope even to the end: 12 that ye be not sluggish, but imitators of them through faith and patience inherit the promises.

13 For when God made promise to Abraham, since he could swear by none greater, he sware by himself, 14 saying, Surely blessing I will bless thee, and multiplying I will multiply thee. 15 And thus...
11 Now if there was perfection through the Levitical priesthood (for under it they had the people received the law), what further need was there that another priest should arise after the order of Melchizedek, and not be reckoned after the order of Aaron? 12 For the priesthood being changed, there is made of necessity a change also of the law. 13 For he of whom these things are said did belong to another tribe, from which no man hath given attendance at the altar. 14 For it is evident that our Lord hath sprung out of Judah; as to which tribe Moses spake nothing concerning priests. 15 And what we say is yet more abundantly evident, if after the likeness of Melchizedek there ariseth another priest, who hath been made, not after the law of a carnal commandment, but after the power of an endless life: 16 For this Melchizedek, king of Salem, priest of God Most High, who met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kings, and blessed him, to whom also Abraham gave a tenth part of all: (and these things are true, as pertaining to the priesthood) 17 Wherein the vessels of Aaron's ministration in the tabernacle of witness, which the children of Israel made, there was no part nor shadow passing... priests, to offer up sacrifices, first for his own sins, and then for the sins of the people: for this he did once for all, when he offered up himself. 28 For the law appointeth men high priests, having infirmity, but the word of the oath, which was after the law, appointeth a Son, perfect for evermore.

8 Now in the things which we are saying the chief point is this: We have such a high priest, 9 who sat down on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens, 10 a minister of the sanctuary, and of the true tabernacle, which the Lord pitched, not man. 11 For every high priest is appointed to offer both gifts and sacrifices: wherefore it is necessary that this high priest also have somewhat to offer. 12 Now if he were on earth, he would not be a priest at all, seeing there are those who offer the gifts according to the law; 13 who serve that which is a copy and shadow of the heavenly things, even as Moses is warned of God when he is about to make the tabernacle: for, See, saith he, that thou make all things according to the pattern that was shewed thee in the mount. 14 But now hath he obtained a ministry more excellent, by how much also he is the mediator of a better covenant, which hath been enacted upon better promises. 15 For if that first covenant had been faultless, then would no place have been sought for a second. 16 For finding fault with them, he saith, Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, That I will make a new covenant, which will be in the law, which I will put into their minds, and upon their hearts I will write them: and I will be to them a God, and they shall be to me a people:

9 Now even the first covenant had ordinances of divine service, and its sanctuary, a sanctuary of this world. 2 For there was a tabernacle prepared, the first, wherefore were the candlestick, and the table, and the showbread; which is called the Holy place. 3 And after the second veil, the tabernacle which is called the Holy of holies; 4 having a golden censer, and the ark of the covenant overlaid round about with gold, wherein was a golden pot holding the manna, and Aaron’s rod that budded, and the tables of the covenant; 5 and above it a cherubim of glory overshadowing the mercy-seat; of which things we cannot now speak severally.

10 For this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel; After those days, saith the Lord;
1 And perfect, i.e. only (with) meats and drinks and divers washings) carnal ordinances, imposed until a time of reformation.

11 But Christ having come a high priest of the good things to come, through which greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this creation, nor yet through the blood of goats and calves, having obtained eternal redemption.

13 For if the blood of goats and bulls, and the ashes of a heifer sprinkling them that have been defiled, sanctify unto the cleanness of the flesh: 14 how much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without blemish unto God, cleanse your conscience from dead works to serve the living God? 15 And for this cause he is the mediator of a new covenant, that death having taken place for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first covenant, they that are called may draw nigh unto the Holy Place;

16 For where a testament is, there is a shadow of things to come, but the true tabernacle was not made with hands, like the ones which are on earth;

17 For when every commandment had been spoken by Moses unto all the people, he took the blood of calves and goats, with water and scarlet wool and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book itself, and all the people, saying, This is the blood of the covenant which God commanded to you.

18 Wherefore even the first covenant
19 For when every commandment had been spoken to Moses, he took the blood of calves and goats, and water and scarlet wool, and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book, and all the people, saying, This is the blood of the covenant which God commanded to you.

21 Moreover the tabernacle and all the vessels of the ministry he sprinkled in like manner with the blood.

22 And according to the law, I may almost say, all things are cleansed with blood, and apart from shedding of blood there is no remission.

23 It was necessary therefore that the copies of the things in the heavens should be cleansed with these; but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these.

24 For Christ entered not into a holy place made with hands, like in pattern to the true; but into heaven itself, now to appear before the face of God for us: 25 nor yet that he should offer himself often, as the high priest entereth into the holy place year by year with blood of goats and calves, 26 else must he often have suffered since the foundation of the world: but now one sacrifice put away sin by the sacrifice of himself. 27 And inasmuch as it is appointed unto men once to die, and after this cometh judgment; 28 so Christ also, having been once offered unto God without sin, 29 to serve the living God. 30 For the law, having a shadow of things to come, and not the image of the things to come, is abolished through that which is offered.

31 For the law was given through Moses; grace and truth came by Jesus Christ.

32 For no animal sacrifice could take away the guilt of sins for ever; but it was necessary that the copies of the things in the heavens should be cleansed with these;
eth away the first, that he may establish the second. 10 By which will we have been sanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ, once for all. 11 And every 2 priest indeed standeth day by day ministering and offering oftentimes the same sacrifices, the 3 which can never take away sins: 12 but he, when he had offered one sacrifice for sins for ever, 4 sat down on the right hand of God; 13 from henceforth expecting till his enemies be made the footstool of his feet. 14 For by one offering he hath perfected for ever them that are sanctified. 15 And the Holy Ghost also beareth witness to us: for after he saith, 16 'This is the 5 covenant that I will make with them of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our body washed with pure water: 23 let us hold fast the confession, 24 not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the custom of some is, but exhorting one another; and so much the more, as ye see the day drawing nigh. 25 For if we sin wilfully 4 after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, 3 there remaineth no more a sacrifice for sins, 26 but a certain fearful expectation of judgement, and 8 fierceness of fire which shall devour the adversaries. 26 A man that hath set at nought Moses' 5 law dieth without comparison 6 on the word of two or three witnesses: 29 of how much sorer punishment, think ye, shall he be judged worthy, 7 who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted 9 the blood of the covenant, 8 wherewith he was sanctified, 9 an unholy thing, and 9 hath done despite unto the Spirit of grace? 30 For we know him that said, 10 'Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense.' And again, 11 'The Lord shall judge his people.' 31 'It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.' 32 But call to remembrance the former days, in which, after ye were enlightened, ye endured a great conflict of sufferings; 33 partly, being made a gazingstock both by reproaches and afflictions; and partly, becoming partakers with them that were so used. 34 For ye both had compassion on them that were in bonds, and took joyfully the spoiling of your possessions, knowing 10 that ye yourselves have 12 a better possession and an abiding one. 35 Cast not away therefore your boldness, which hath great recompense of reward. 36 For ye have need of patience, that, having done the will of God, ye may receive the promise. 37 For ye yet a very little while, He that cometh shall come, and shall not tarry. 38 But my righteous one shall live by faith: And if he shrink back, my soul hath no pleasure in him. 39 But we are not of them that shrink back unto perdition; but of them that have faith unto the saving of the soul.

1 Now faith is 15 the assurance of things hoped for, the 16 proving of things not seen. 2 For therein the elders had witnessed before him. 3 By faith we understand that 17 the world was framed by the word of God, so that what is seen hath not been made out of things which do not exist.
appear. 4 By faith *Abel offered unto God *a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, through which he was made born to him that he was righteous. 1*God bearing witness in respect of his gifts: and *through it he being dead yet *speaketh.

5 By faith *Enoch was translated that he should not see death; and he was not found, because God translated him: for before his translation he hath had witness borne to him that he had been well-pleasing unto God: 6 and without faith it is impossible to be well-pleasing *unto him: for that he cometh to God must believe that he is, *and that he is a rewarder of them that seek after him. 7 By faith *Noah, being warned of God concerning things not seen as yet, moved with godly fear, prepared an ark to the saving of his house; through which he condemned the world, and became heir of the righteousness which is according to faith. 8 By faith *Abraham, when he was called, obeyed to go out unto a place which he was to receive for an inheritance; and he went out, not knowing whither he went. 9 By faith he became a sojourner in the land of promise, as in a land not his own, *dwelling in tents, *with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with regard to the promises of God. 10 And was it not that Abraham, when he was ninety years old, and Sarah his wife was in the likeness of an hundred years, that it was Early said unto Abraham, *I am thy son, and in thine eyes art thou a man of a hundred years old? 11 And he said, *Thy servant was an hundred years old when my lord came unto me at Zoven, the井-fields of Kedesh. 12 And I beheld thee in the field of the Cherethites and the Sepharadim; and I said, *Lo a nation shall come from the land of the north, and shall set thee upon the eyes of thine feet, and shall bring thee unto Sodom. 13 And he answered, *I will go to my son Isaac. 14 But as for me, as I came from Padan, my two wives, Rebekah the daughter of Bethuel of Paddan, and Sarah the daughter of Haran, the servant of Abraham my father, were with me. 15 And the Angel of Jehovah appeared unto him in the top of a terebinth, which was in mount Moriah. 16 And he looked, and lo a sheaf of corn burning with fire in the midst thereof, and he said, *Lay mine hand upon the sheaf, and he that layeth upon the sheaf the same shall be thy pasture. 17 And Abel offerings burned of a lamb, and incense, which the LORD received of him. 18 And he looked upon it, and said, *Thou art a righteous man with God. 19 And he said, *Thy servant hath found grace in thine eyes, that thou hast brought me out of the way of the man, and that hast shewed me kindness of heart. 20 And thou didst open mine eyes, and I saw a burning flame of fire in the midst of the sheaf of corn. 21 And when the King saw it, he said, *I have sinned, because I did not go up, neither to see the face of Jehovah. 22 And he said, *Lo a lamb is presented unto thee of Jehovah. 23 And he took it, and offered it for a sacrifice. 24 And he said, *I have sinned, because I went not up: I have seen the face of Jehovah. 25 And he said, *If thou hadst not sinned, thou hadst been as me. 26 And he commanded the angel, and he brought forth the days of the river. 27 And the angel of Jehovah came upon me in the terebinth of mount Moriah, 28 And said unto me, *Look thou toward heaven, and count the stars, if thou be able to number them: and he said, *I am not able. 29 Then said he unto me, *What is man, that thou art mindful of him, or the son of man, that thou regardest him? 30 For thou hast made him a little lower than the angels, and hast put all power under his feet. 31 And thou makest him to rule over the works of thy hands; thou hast put all things under his feet: 32 All things were delivered to him, and no creature is left that shall not be given to him. 33 And he said, *Lo a name I will call thee, and thou shalt be called Jehovah. 34 And he said unto me, *Thou art a righteous man with God. 35 And he said, *Lo a lamb is presented unto thee of Jehovah. 36 And when the King saw it, he said, *I have sinned, because I did not go up, neither to see the face of Jehovah. 37 And he said, *I have sinned, because I went not up: I have seen the face of Jehovah. 38 And he commanded the angel, and he brought forth the days of the river. 39 And the angel of Jehovah came upon me in the terebinth of mount Moriah, 40 And said unto me, *Look thou toward heaven, and count the stars, if thou be able to number them: and he said, *I am not able. 41 Then said he unto me, *What is man, that thou art mindful of him, or the son of man, that thou regardest him? 42 For thou hast made him a little lower than the angels, and hast put all power under his feet. 43 And thou makest him to rule over the works of thy hands; thou hast put all things under his feet: 44 All things were delivered to him, and no creature is left that shall not be given to him. 45 And he said, *Lo a name I will call thee, and thou shalt be called Jehovah. 46 And he said unto me, *Thou art a righteous man with God. 47 And he said, *Lo a lamb is presented unto thee of Jehovah. 48 And when the King saw it, he said, *I have sinned, because I did not go up, neither to see the face of Jehovah. 49 And he said, *I have sinned, because I went not up: I have seen the face of Jehovah. 50 And he commanded the angel, and he brought forth the days of the river. 51 And the angel of Jehovah came upon me in the terebinth of mount Moriah, 52 And said unto me, *Look thou toward heaven, and count the stars, if thou be able to number them: and he said, *I am not able. 53 Then said he unto me, *What is man, that thou art mindful of him, or the son of man, that thou regardest him? 54 For thou hast made him a little lower than the angels, and hast put all power under his feet. 55 And thou makest him to rule over the works of thy hands; thou hast put all things under his feet: 56 All things were delivered to him, and no creature is left that shall not be given to him. 57 And he said, *Lo a name I will call thee, and thou shalt be called Jehovah. 58 And he said unto me, *Thou art a righteous man with God. 59 And he said, *Lo a lamb is presented unto thee of Jehovah. 60 And when the King saw it, he said, *I have sinned, because I did not go up, neither to see the face of Jehovah. 61 And he said, *I have sinned, because I went not up: I have seen the face of Jehovah. 62 And he commanded the angel, and he brought forth the days of the river. 63 And the angel of Jehovah came upon me in the terebinth of mount Moriah, will fail me if I tell of 'Gideon, Barak, 'Samson, 'Jephthah; of David and 'Samuel and the prophets: 32 who through faith subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, obtained promises,
stopped the mouths of lions, quenched the power of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, from weakness were made strong,
waxed mighty in war, turned to flight armies of aliens. 35 'Women received their death by a resurrection: and others were tortured, not accepting their deliverance;
that they might obtain a better resurrection:
and others had trial of mockings and scourgings, yea, moreover of bonds and imprisonment: 37 they were stoned, they were sawn asunder, they were tempted,
they were slain with the sword:
they went about in sheepskins, in goatskins; being destitute, afflicted, evil entreated 38 (of whom the world was not worthy), wandering in deserts and mountains and caves, and the holes of the earth. 39 And these all, having had witness borne to them through their faith, received not the promise,
God having provided
some better thing for them, that they might strengthen the hearts of those that look for it. 40 For unto the Father of spirits,
our souls are tried in every place.
unto them: 20 for they could not endure that which was enjoined, 21 if even a beast touch the mountain, it shall be stoned; 22 and so fearful was the appearance, that 23 Moses said, I exceedingly fear and quake: 24 but ye are come unto Mount Zion, and unto the city of the living God, 25 and to 26 innumerable hosts of angels, 27 to the general assembly and church of the firstborn who are 28 enrolled in heaven, and to 29 God the Judge of all, and to the spirits of just men made perfect, 30 and to Jesus 31 the mediator of a new 32 covenant, and to 33 the blood of sprinkling 34 that speaketh better than 35 that of Abel. 36 See that ye refuse not him that speaketh. For 37 if they escaped not, when they were not stoned; 38 and 39 so endure that which was enjoined; 40 if even a beast touch the mountain, it shall be stoned; 41 and 42 the blood of the eternal covenant, even our Lord Jesus, 43 make you 44 free from the love of money; 45 content with such things as ye have: for himself hath said, 46 I will in no wise fail thee, neither will I in any wise forsake thee. 47 So that with good courage we say, 48 'The Lord is my helper; 49 I will not fear:

What shall man do unto me?

7 Remember them 51 that had the rule over you, who spoke unto you the word of God; and concerning the issue of their 52 life, imitate their faith. 53 Jesus Christ is 54 the same yesterday and today, 55 and for ever. 56 Be not carried away by divers and strange teachings: for it is good that the heart be established by grace; 57 not by meats, wherein they that 58 occupied themselves were not profited. 59 We have an altar, 60 whereof they have no right to eat which serve the tabernacle. 61 For 62 the bodies of those beasts, whose blood was brought into the holy place 63 by the high priest as an offering for sin, are burned 64 without the camp. 65 Wherefore Jesus also, that he might sanctify the people through his own blood, 66 suffered 67 without the gate. 68 Let us therefore go forth unto him without the camp, bearing 69 his reproach. 70 For we have not here an abiding city, but we seek after the city which is to come. 71 Through him 72 then let us offer up 73 a sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, the fruit of lips which make confession to his name. 74 But to do good and 75 to communicate forget not: for with such 76 sacrifices God is well pleased. 77 Obey them 78 that have the rule over you, and submit to them; 79 for they watch in behalfof their 80 charge. 81 We offer up 82 a sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, the fruit of lips which make confession to his name. 83 But to do good and 84 to communicate forget not: for with such 85 sacrifices God is well pleased. 86 Obey them 87 that have the rule over you, and submit to them: 88 for they watch in behalfof your souls, as they that shall 89 give account; 90 that they may do this with joy, and not with 91 grief: for this were unprofitable for you.

13 92 Pray for us: for we are persuaded that we have a good conscience, desiring to live honestly in all things. 93 And I exhort you the more exceedingly to do this, 94 that I may be restored to you the sooner.

20 Now 95 the God of peace, 96 who brought again from the dead 97 the great shepherd of the sheep 98 with the blood of the eternal covenant, even our Lord Jesus, 99 make you perfect in every good 100 thing to do his will, 101 working in 102 us that which is well-pleasing in his sight,
TO THE HEBREWS — JAMES.

THE GENERAL EPISODE OF JAMES.
this man's* religion is vain. 27 Pure religion and undefiled before our God and Father is this, to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world.

1 My brethren, hold not the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, * the Lord of glory, with respect of persons. 2 For if there come into your * synagogue a man with a gold ring, in fine clothing, and there come in also a poor man in vile clothing; 3 and ye have regard to him that weareth the fine clothing, and say, Sit thou here in a good place; and ye say to the poor man, Stand thou there, or sit under my footstool; 4 are ye not divided in your own mind, and become judges with evil thoughts? 5 Hearken, my beloved brethren; has God chosen the poor as to the world to be rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom which he promised to them that love him? 6 But ye have dishonoured the poor man. Do not the rich oppress you, and themselves drag you before the judgement-seats? 7 Do not they blaspheme the honourable name by the which ye are called? 8 Howbeit if ye fulfill the royal law, according to the scripture, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself, ye do well: 9 but if ye have respect of persons, ye commit sin, being convicted by the law as transgressors. 10 For he that said, * Do not commit adultery, said also, * Do not kill. Now if thou dost not commit adultery, but killest, thou art become a transgressor of the law. 11 So speak ye, and so do, as men that are to be judged by the law of liberty. 12 For judgment is without mercy to him that hath shewed no mercy: mercy glorifieth against judgement.

14 What doth it profit, my brethren, if a man say he hath faith, but have not works? can that faith save him? 15 If a brother or sister be naked, and in lack of daily food, and one of you say unto them, Go in peace, be ye warmed and filled: and yet ye give them not the things needful to the body; what doth it profit? 16 and one of you say unto them, Go in peace, be ye warmed and filled: and yet ye give them not the things needful to the body; what doth it profit? 17 even so faith, if it have not works, is dead in itself. 18 Yea, a man will say, Thou hast faith, and I have works: shew me thy faith apart from thy works, and I by my works will shew thee my faith. 19 Thou believest that God is one; thou doest well: * the devils also believe, and shudder. 20 But wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith apart from works is barren? 21 Was not Abraham our father justified by works, in that he offered up Isaac his son upon the altar? 22 Thou seest that * faith wrought with his works, and thereby was faith made perfect; 23 and was he not * justified by his works, which that saith, 24 And Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned unto him for righteousness? 25 But to him that worketh, the wages are not counted a gift, but *the reward of righteousness. 26 But to him that worketh, the wages are not counted a gift, but *the reward of righteousness.

3 Be not many teachers, my brethren, knowing that we shall receive heavier judgement. 2 For in many things we all stumble. If any stumbleth in word, the same is a perfect man, able to bridle the whole body also. 3 For we all stumble in many things. If any stumbleth not in word, 4 the same is a perfect man, able to bridle the whole body also. 5 Now if we put the horses bridles into their mouths, that they may obey us, we turn about their whole body also. 6 Behold, the ships also, though they are so great, and are driven by rough winds, are yet turned about by a very small rudder, whither the impulse of the steersman willeth. 7 So the tongue also is a little member, and 8 boasteth great things. Behold, 9 how much wood is kindled by how small a fire! 10 And the tongue is 11 a fire: the world of iniquity among our members is the tongue, which deflieth the whole body, and setteth... on fire the wheel of nature, and is set on fire by hell. 7 For every kind of beast and birds, of creeping things and things in the sea, is tamed, and hath been made tame: 8 by mankind: 8 but the tongue can no man tame; 9 it is a restless evil, it is 10 full of deadly poison. 9 Therewith bless we the Lord and Father; and therewith curse we men, which are made after the likeness of God: 10 out of the same mouth cometh forth blessing and cursing. My brethren, these things ought not so to be. 11 Doth the fountain send forth from the same opening sweet water and bitter? 12 can a fig tree, my brethren, yield olives, or a vine figs? neither can salt water yield sweet.

13 Who is wise and understanding among you? Let him shew by his good life his works in meekness of wisdom. 14 But if ye have bitter jealousy and faction in your heart, glory not and lie not against the truth. 15 This wisdom is not that which cometh down from above, but is earthly, sensual, devilish. 16 For where jealousy and faction are, there is confusion and every vile deed. 17 But the wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, easy to be intreated, full of mercy and good fruits, without 18 varience, without hypocrisy. 19 And the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace for them that make peace.

4 Wherefore come wars and 5 howl and faction among you? come they not hence, even of your pleasures that war in your members? 2 Ye lust, and have not: 3 ye kill, and covet, and cannot obtain: ye fight and war; ye have not, because ye ask not. 3 Ye ask, and receive not, because ye ask amiss, that ye may spend it in your pleasures. 4 Ye adulteresses, know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God? Whosoever therefore would be a friend of the world maketh himself an enemy of God. 5 Or think ye that the scripture 6 speaketh in vain? 11 Doth the spirit 12 which he made to dwell in us long unto envying? 6 But he giveth more grace. Wherefore the scripture saith, 7 God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace to the humble. 8 Be subject therefore unto God; but 9 resist the devil, and he will flee from you. 8 Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. 10 Cleanse your hands, ye sinners; and purify your hearts, 11 ye doubleminded. 9 Be afflicted, and mourn, and weep: let your laughter be turned to mourning, and your joy to heaviness. 10 Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall exalt you.

11 Speak not one against another, brethren. He that speaketh against a brother, or 10 judgeth his brother, speaketh against the law, and judgeth the law: but if thou judgest the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a judge. 11 One only 11 is the lawgiver and 12 judge, even he who is able to save and to destroy: are thou that judgeth thy neighbour? 13 Go to now, ye that say, 12 To-day or to-morrow we will go into this city, and spend a year there, and trade, and get gain: whereas ye know not what shall be upon the morrow. What is your life? For ye are a vapour, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away. 14 For that ye ought to say, 13 If the Lord will, we shall both live, and do this or that. 15 But now ye glory in your vaunting: 16 all such glorying is evil. 17 To him therefore that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin.

1 Go to now, ye rich, weep and howl for your miseries that are coming upon you. 2 Your riches are corrupted, and your garments are moth-eaten. 3 Your gold and your silver are rusted; and their rust shall be for a testimony against you, and shall eat your flesh as fire. 4 Ye have laid up your treasure in the last days. 5 Behold, the hire of the labourers who mowed your fields, which is of you kept back by fraud, crieth out: and the cries of them that are压迫 that reaped have entered into the ears of the Lord of Sabaoth. 5*Ye have lived delicately on the earth, and * taken your pleasure; ye have nourished your hearts in * a day of slaughter. 6 Ye have condemned;
ye have killed* the righteous one;
he doth not resist you.
7 Be patient therefore, brethren, to the * coming of the Lord.
Behold, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, being patient over it, until * it receive the early and latter rain.
8 Be ye also patient; * establish your hearts: for the * coming of the Lord is at hand.
9 Murmur not, brethren, one against another, * that ye be not judged: behold, * the judge standeth * before the doors.
10 Take, brethren, for an example of suffering and of patience, * the prophets who spake in the name of the Lord.
11 Behold, we call them blessed which endured: ye have heard of * the patience of Job,
and have seen* the end of the Lord, how that* the Lord is full of pity, and merciful.
12 But above all things, my brethren, * swear not, neither by the heaven, nor by the earth, nor by any other oath: but * let your yea be yea, and your nay, nay; that ye fall not under judgement.
13 Is any among you suffering? let him pray. Is any cheerful? let him * sing praise.
14 Is any among you sick? let him call for the elders of the church; and let them pray over him, * and * anointing with oil in the name of the Lord: 15 and the prayer of faith shall save him that is sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; and * if he have committed sins, it shall be forgiven him.
16 * Confess therefore your sins one to another, and pray one for another, * that ye may be healed.
17 * The supplication of a righteous man availeth much in its working.
18 Elijah was a man * of like passions with us, and he prayed fervently that it might not rain; and it rained not on the earth for * three years and six months.
19 * And he prayed again; and the rain fell again, and the earth brought forth her fruit.
20 My brethren, * if any among you do err from the truth, and one
* convert him; 21 * let him know, that he which converteth a sinner from the error of his way shall save a soul from death, and * shall cover a multitude of sins.

JAMES — I. PETER.
tion. The prophets sought and searched diligently, who prophesied of the grace that should come unto you: 11 searching what time or manner of time the Spirit of Christ which was in them did point unto, 12 when it testified beforehand the sufferings of Christ, and the glories that should follow them. 13 To whom was revealed, that 14 not unto themselves, but unto you, did they minister these things, which now have been annouced unto you through those things which the Father hath set forth in his grace unto you 2 by the Holy Ghost sent forth from heaven; 15 which things angels desire to look into. 16 Wherefore girding up the loins of your mind, be sober and set your hope perfectly on the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, 17 looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of your faith, who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God. 18 For ye have not received the spirit of bondage again to fear; but ye have received the Spirit of adoption, wherein ye cry, Abba, Father. 19 The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God: 20 and if children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joints heirs with Christ; 21 if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together. 22 For as many as hearkened to Moses were not delivered; but received the pattern of Christ in the figure. 23 Now this was done, that the Pattern should be put off: 24 not that we should be judged after the manner of the world, but after the manner of God, who do revealeth the thoughts of our hearts. 25 And when ye were children, ye did according to the image of the gods that were called your fathers; 26 but when the counsel of God which searcheth all things both deep and shallow, had made known his will by the good preaching of: 27 and gave him glory; so that your faith and hope might be in God. 28 Seeing ye have purified your souls in obedience to the truth through the Spirit of living; 29 for ye are not inheritance of this corruptible bond, but heirs of the incorruptible possession. 30 For the Son of man is not come to destroy men living, but to save them that are alive. 31 And the Lord also said, Whereunto shall I go and declare, seeing there is none that seeketh after thee? 32 But as one man in a house, which turns thesWithout blemish and without spot, even the blood of Christ: 33 who was foreknown indeed before the foundation of the world, but was manifested at the end of the times for your sake, 34 who through him are believers in God, 35 which raised him from the dead, and gave him glory; so that your faith and hope might be in God. 36 Seeing ye have purified your souls in obedience to the truth through an unfeigned love of the brethren, 37 love one another from the heart fervently: 38 having been begotten again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, through the word of God, which liveth and abideth. 4 For, 4 All flesh is as grass, and all the glory thereof as the flower of grass. 5 But the word of the Lord abideth for ever. 6 And this is the word of good tidings which was preached unto you: 7 Putting away therefore all wickedness, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envies, and all evil speakings, 8 as you were born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, through the word of God, which liveth and abideth. 9 But ye are 10 called unto the inheritance of the holiest in the faith, which was foreknown indeed before the foundation of the world, 11 which was manifest at the end of the times for your sake, 12 who through him are believers in God, 13 which raised him from the dead, and gave him glory; so that your faith and hope might be in God. 14 Seeing ye have purified your souls in obedience to the truth through an unfeigned love of the brethren, 15 love one another from the heart fervently: 16 having been begotten again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, through the word of God, which liveth and abideth. 17 For, 18 All flesh is as grass, and all the glory thereof as the flower of grass. 19 But the word of the Lord abideth for ever. 20 And this is the word of good tidings which was preached unto you:

231
Beloved, I beseech you as sojourners and pilgrims, to abstain from fleshly lusts, which war against the soul; having your behaviour seemly among the Gentiles, that, wherein they speak against you as evil-doers, they may by your good works, which they behold, glorify God in the day of visitation.

Be subject to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake: whether it be to the king, as supreme; or to governors, as sent by him for vengeance on evil-doers and for praise to them that do well. For so is the will of God, that by well-doing ye should put to silence the ignorance of foolish men: as free, and not using your freedom for a cloke of wickedness, but as bondservants of God. Honour all men. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honour the king.

Servants, be in subjection to your masters with all fear: not only to the good and gentle, but also to the froward. For this is acceptable with God, if for conscience' sake toward God a man endureth griefs, suffering wrongfully. For what glory is it, if, when ye sin, and are buffeted for it, ye shall take it patiently? but if, when ye do well, and suffer for it, ye shall take it patiently: this is acceptable with God. Therefore be ye hereunto were ye called: because Christ also suffered for you, leaving you an example, that ye should follow his steps: who did no evil, neither was guile found in his mouth: who, when he was reviled, reviled not again; when he suffered, threatened not; but committed himself to him that judgeth righteously: who his own self bare our sins in his body upon the tree, that we, having died unto sins, might live unto righteousness: by whose stripes ye were healed. For ye were going as sheep astray; but are now returned unto the Shepherd and Bishop of your souls.

In like manner, ye wives, be in subjection to your own husbands; that, even if any obey not the word, they may without the word be gained by your chaste behaviour of your wives: a beholding your chaste behaviour coupled with fear. Whose adorning let it not be the outward adorning of plaiting the hair, and of wearing jewels of gold, or of putting on apparel; but let it be the hidden man of the heart, in the incorruptible apparel of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price. For after this manner aforetime the holy women also, who hoped in God, adorned themselves, being in subjection to their own husbands: as Sarah obeyed Abraham, calling him lord: whose children ye now are, if ye do well, and are not put in fear by any terror.

Ye husbands, in like manner, dwell with your wives according to knowledge, giving honour unto the woman, as unto the weaker vessel, as being also joint-heirs of the grace of life; to the end that your prayers be not hindered.

Finally, be ye all likeminded, compassionate, loving as brethren, tenderhearted, humble-minded: not rendering evil for evil, or reviling for reviling; but contrariwise blessing; for hereunto were ye called, that ye should inherit a blessing. For he that would love life, and see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile:

And let him turn away from evil, and do good; Let him seek peace, and pursue it.

For the eyes of the Lord are upon the righteous, and his ears unto their supplication:

But the face of the Lord is upon them that do evil.

And *who is he that will harm you, if ye be zealous of that which is good? But and if ye should suffer for righteousness' sake, blessed are ye; and *fear not their fear, neither be troubled; but sanctify in your hearts Christ as Lord: being ready always to give answer to every man that asketh...
you a reason concerning the hope that is in you, yet 2 with meekness and 4 fear: 16 having a good conscience; that, 6 wherein ye are spoken against, they may be put to shame who revile your good manner of life in Christ. 17 For 8 it is better, if the will of God should so will, that ye suffer for well-doing, than for evil-doing.

18 Because Christ also 15 suffered for sins 14 once, the righteous for the unrighteous, 10 that he might bring us to God; being put to death 13 in the flesh, but quickened 12 in the spirit; 19 in which also he went and 4 preached unto the spirits in prison, 11 which aforetime were disobedient, 8 when the long-suffering of God waited in the days of Noah, 7 while the ark was a preparing, 8 wherein few, that is, 8 eight souls, were saved through water: 21 which also 8 after a truelikeness doth now save you, even baptism, 9 being the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but 8 the 4 interrogation of a good conscience toward God, 8 through the resurrection of Jesus Christ; 22 who is on the right hand of God, 5 having gone into heaven; 6 angels and authorities and powers being made subject unto him.

1 Forasmuch then as 1 Christ suffered in the flesh, 14 arm ye yourselves also with the same 9 mind; for he that hath suffered in the flesh hath ceased 4 from sin; 12 that ye no longer should live 4 the rest of your time in the flesh to the lusts of men, 4 but to the will of God. 3 For the time past 4 may suffice 3 to have wrought the desire of the Gentiles, and to have walked in lasciviousness, lusts, 6 winebisions, revellings, carousings, and abominable idolatries: 8 wherein they think that strange that ye run not with them into the same excess of 6 riot, 8 speaking evil of you: 5 who shall give account to him that is ready 4 to judge the quick and the dead. 6 For unto this end 29 was the gospel preached even to the dead, that they might be judged according to men in the flesh, but live according to God in the spirit.

7 But 8 the end of all things is at hand: be ye therefore 2 of sound mind, and 7 be sober 10 unto 40 prayer:

8 above all things being fervent in your love among yourselves; for 1 love covereth a multitude of sins:

9 using hospitality one to another without murmuring:

10 according as each hath received a gift, ministering it among yourselves, 9 as good stewards of the manifold grace of God; 11 if any man speaketh, speaking as it were 9 oracles of God; 9 if any man ministereth, ministering 8 as of the strength which God supplieth: that in all things 9 God may be glorified through Jesus Christ; 12 whose is the glory and 9 the dominion 12 for ever and ever.

Amen.

12 Beloved, think it not strange concerning 9 the fiery trial among you, which cometh upon you to prove you, as though a strange thing happened unto you: 13 but inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings, rejoice; that 3 at the revelation of his glory also ye may rejoice with exceeding joy.

14 14 If ye are reproached 12 for the name of Christ, blessed are ye; because the Spirit of glory and the Spirit of God resteth upon you.

15 For 2 let none of you suffer as a murderer, 6 or a thief, 8 or an evil doer, 8 or as a meddler in other men's matters: 10 but 6 if a man suffer as 3 a Christian, let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify God 3 in this name.

17 For the time 4 is come for judgement 2 to begin at the house of God: and 1 if it begin 6 first at us, 4 what shall be the end of them that 4 obey not the gospel of God? 18 And 7 if the righteous be scarcely saved, 6 where shall the godly and sinner appear? 19 Wherefore let them also that suffer according to the will of God 5 commit their souls in well-doing unto a faithful Creator.

1 The elders therefore among you I exhort, 3 who am a fellowelder, and 4 a witness of the sufferings of Christ, who am also a partaker of the glory of that shall be revealed:

2 "Tend the flock of God which is among you, 12 exercising... the oversight, not of constraint, but willingly, according unto God; nor yet for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind; 3 neither as lording it over the charge allotted to you, but making yourselves examples to the flock. 4 And when the chief Shepherd shall be manifested, ye shall receive the crown of glory that fadeth not away. 5 Likewise, ye younger, be subject unto the elder. Yea, all of you gird yourselves with humility, to serve one another: for God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace to the humble. 6 Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time; 7 casting all your anxiety upon him, because he careth for you.  8 Be sober, be watchful: for your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour: 9 whom withstanding, and making strong your faith in your salvation, knowing that the same sufferings are accomplished in your brethren who are in the world. 10 And the God of all grace, who called you unto his eternal glory in Christ, after that ye have suffered a little while, shall himself perfect, establish, strengthen you. 11 To him be the dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

II By Silvanus, our faithful brother, as I account him, I have written unto you briefly, exhorting, and testifying that this is the true grace of God: stand ye fast therein. 12 She that is in Babylon, elect together with you, saluteth you; and so doth Mark my son. 13 Salute one another with a kiss of love.

Peace be unto you all that are in Christ.
Christ signified unto me. 15 Yea, I will give diligence that at every time ye may be able after my decease to call these things to remembrance. 16 For we did not follow cunningly devised fables, when we made known unto you the power and 2 coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but we were eyewitnesses of his majesty. 17 For he received from God the Father honour and glory, when there came such a voice to him from the excellent glory, 18 This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased: 19 and this voice we ourselves heard come out of heaven, when we were with him in the holy mount. 20 And we have the word of prophecy made more sure; whereunto ye do well that ye put them in remembrance. 21 For no prophecy ever came by the will of man: but men spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost.

But there arose false prophets also among the people, as among you also there shall be false teachers, which shall privily bring in destructive heresies, denying even the Master that bought them, bringing upon themselves swift destruction. 2 And many shall follow their lascivious doings; by reason of whom the way of the truth shall be evil spoken of. 3 And in covetousness they were feigned words make merchandise of you: whose sentence now from of old lingereth not, and their destruction slumbereth not. 4 For if God spared not angels when they sinned, but cast them down to hell, and committed them to pits of darkness, to be reserved unto judgement; 5 and spared not the ancient world, but reserved Noah with seven others, a preacher of righteousness, when he brought forth a flood upon the world of the ungodly; 6 and turning the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah into ashes condemned them with an overthrow, 7 having made them an example unto those that should live ungodly: 8 and delivered righteous Lot, sore distressed by the lascivious life of the wicked for that righteous man dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, vexed his righteous soul from day to day with their lawless deeds: 9 the Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptation, and to keep the unrighteous under punishment unto the day of judgement; 10 but chiefly 1 them that walk after the flesh in the lust of dejection, and despise dominion. Daring, selfwilled, they tremble not 2 to rail at dignities, 3 whereas angels, though greater in might and power, bring not a railing judgment against them before the Lord. 12 But these, as creatures without reason, born mere animals to be taken and destroyed, railing in matters whereof they are ignorant, shall in their destroying surely be destroyed, 13 suffering wrong as the hire of wrong-doing; men that count it pleasure to revel in the day-time, spots and blemishes, revelling in their 2 love-feasts while they feast with you; 14 having eyes full of 3 admiring, 4 and in every wanton sin; speaking things worthy of 5 condemnation, and perversion of knowledge.

Ver. 16. 1. Or, the Lord shall come. 2. Or, in the day of the Lord's 3. Or, are none of you. 4. Or, with which is the Lord's 5. Or, tongues. 6. Or, in the day of those who sleepeth. 7. Or, the Lord's.
II. PETER.

3 This is now, beloved, the second epistle that I write unto you; and in both of them I stir up your sincere mind by putting you in remembrance;

2 that ye should remember the words which were spoken before by the holy prophets, and the commandment of the Lord and Saviour through your apostles:

3 knowing this first, that in the last days mockers shall come with mockery, walking after their own lusts, and saying, Where is the promise of his coming? for, from the day that the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation.

4 For this they wilfully forget, that there were heavens from of old, and an earth compacted out of water and amidst water, by the word of God; 5 by which means the world that then was, being overflowed with water, perished: 6 but the heavens that now are, and the earth, by the same word have been stored up for fire, being reserved against the day of judgement and destruction of ungodly men.

7 But forget not this one thing, beloved, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day. 8 The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some count slackness; but is longsuffering to usward, 9 not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance. 10 But the day of the Lord will come as a thief; in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall be dissolved with fervent heat, and the earth and the works that are therein shall be burned up.

11 Seeing that these things are thus all to be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy living and godliness, looking for and earnestly desiring the coming of the day of God, by reason of which the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat? 12 But, according to his promise, we look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness.

13 Wherefore, beloved, seeing that ye look for these things, give diligence that ye may be found in peace, without spot and blameless in his sight.

14 Wherefore, beloved, grow in grace and knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. 15 To him be the glory both now and for ever. Amen.
THE FIRST EPISTLE GENERAL OF

JOHN.

I

1 That which was from the beginning, that which we have heard, that which we have seen with our eyes, that which we beheld, and our hands handled, concerning the Word of life; 2 and the life was manifested, and we have seen, and bear witness, and declare unto you the life, the eternal life, which was with the Father, and was manifested unto us; 3 which we have seen, and declared unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us: yea, and our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ; 4 and these things we write, that our joy may be fulfilled.

5 And this is the message which we have heard from him, and announce unto you, that God is light, and in him is no darkness at all. 6 If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in the darkness, we lie, and do not the truth: 7 but if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanseth us from all sin. 8 If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. 9 If we confess our sins, he is faithful and righteous to forgive us oursins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. 10 If we say that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

11 I write unto you, my little children, because you are sons of the Father. 12 I write unto you, young men, because you have overcome the evil one. 13 I write unto you, fathers, because you know him which is from the beginning. 14 I write unto you, little children, because you know the Father. 15 I love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. 16 For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the vainglory of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world. 17 And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever.

1 Or, word 2 Many ancient authorities read you. 3 Or, Comforter Or, Helper Gr. Paraclete. 4 Or, I wrote 5 Or, He spoke. 6 Or, fellowship. 7 Or, His word. 8 Or, I have. 9 Or, I have received.
Little children, it is the last hour: and as ye heard that Antichrist cometh, even now have there arisen many antichrists; whereby we know that it is the last hour.

And ye shall know that he is of the Father, and he is of God. And the Father shall keep him, and the Father shall manifest him.

Little children, I write these things unto you, that ye sin not. And if any man sin, we have an Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the Righteous.

And he is the propitiation for our sins: and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world.

And this is the Father’s will which hath sent me, that of every one which seeth me may believe in me, that I might give unto them eternal life; and they might live for ever, and might have the name and likeness of the Son of God: and this is eternal life, to know you the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom you have sent.

I write these things to you, that your joy may be full.

Little children, these things write I unto you, that ye sin not. And if any man sin, we have an Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the Righteous.

And he is the propitiation for our sins: and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world.

I write these things to you, that your joy may be full. Who is he that overcometh the world, but he that believeth that Jesus is the Son of God? He is the Son of God, and the Father hath given him power to execute judgment because he is the Son of man. Little children, these things write I unto you, that your joy may be full.

I write these things to you, that your joy may be full.
I. JOHN.

1. Beloved, *let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is begotten of God, and knoweth God. 2Whoever believeth that Jesus is the Christ, is begotten of God: and whoever loveth him that begat loveth him also that is begotten of him. 3Therefore we love, because he first loved us. 4Beloved, *let us love not every spirit, but prove the spirits, whether they are of God: because many false prophets are gone out into the world. 5Hereby we know the Spirit of truth, and *the spirit which is of the world: and *the spirit which is of the world, he taketh to witness of the world; and *the spirit of truth he taketh to witness of truth. 6And there is no fear in love: but perfect love casteth out fear, because fear hath punishment: and he that feareth is not made perfect in love. 7He that loveth not his brother, he is a liar: for he that loveth God loveth his brother also.

2. No man hath beheld God at any time: if we love one another, God abideth in us, and *his love is perfected in us: 8Hereby know we that we abide in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit. 9And *we have beheld and bear witness that 10the Father hath sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world. 11Whosoever shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God abideth in him, and he in God. 12And 13we know and have believed the love which God hath in us. 14*God is love; and 15he that abideth in love abideth in God, and God abideth in him. 16Herein is love made perfect with us, that we may have boldness in the day of judgement; because 17as he is, even so are we in this world. 18There is no fear in love: but *perfect love casteth out fear, because fear hath punishment: and he that feareth is not made perfect in love. 19*We love, because he first loved us.

3. *No man hath beheld God at any time: if we love one another, God abideth in us, and 20his love is perfected in us: 21Hereby know we that we abide in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit. 22And 23we have beheld and bear witness that 24the Father hath sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world. 25Whosoever shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God abideth in him, and he in God. 26And 27we know and have believed the love which God hath in us. 28*God is love; and 29he that abideth in love abideth in God, and God abideth in him. 30Herein is love made perfect with us, that we may have boldness in the day of judgement; because 31as he is, even so are we in this world. 32There is no fear in love: but *perfect love casteth out fear, because fear hath punishment: and he that feareth is not made perfect in love. 33*We love, because he first loved us.
and the three agree in one. 9 If we receive the witness of men, the witness of God is greater: for the witness of God is this, that he hath borne witness concerning his Son. 10 He that believeth on the Son of God hath the witness in him: he that believeth not God has made him a liar; because he hath not believed in the witness that God hath borne concerning his Son. 11 And the witness is this, that God gave unto us eternal life, and this life is in his Son. 12 He that hath the Son hath the life: he that hath not the Son of God hath not the life.

13 These things have I written unto you, that ye may know that ye have eternal life, even unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God. 14 And this is the boldness which we have toward him, that, if we ask anything according to his will, he heareth us: 15 and if we know that he heareth us whatsoever we ask, we know that we have the petitions which we have asked of him. 16 If any man see his brother sinning a sin not unto death, he shall ask, and God will give him life for them that sin not unto death. 17 All unrighteousness is sin: and there is a sin unto death.

18 We know that whosoever is begotten of God sinneth not; but he that was begotten of God keepeth his commandments, and the evil one toucheth him not. 19 We know that we are of God, and the whole world lieth in the evil one. 20 And we know that the Son of God is come, and hath given us an understanding, that we know him that is true, and we are in him that is true, even in his Son Jesus Christ. This is the true God, and eternal life.

21 My little children, guard yourselves from idols.
THE THIRD EPISTLE OF

JOHN.

1 A elder unto Gaius the beloved, whom I love in truth.
2 Beloved, I pray that in all things thou mayest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth.
3 For I rejoiced greatly, when brethren came and bare witness unto thy truth, even as thou walkedest in truth.
4 Greater joy have I none than this, to hear of my children walking in the truth.
5 Beloved, thou doest a faithful work in whatsoever thou doest toward them that are brethren and strangers withal; 6 who bare witness to thy love before the church:
7 whom thou wilt do well to set forward on their journey worthily of God: 8 because that for the sake of the Name they went forth, taking nothing of the Gentiles.
9 I wrote somewhat unto the church: but Diotrephes, who loveth to have the preeminence among them, receiveth us not. 10 Therefore, if I come, I will bring to remembrance his works which he doeth, prating against us with wicked words: and not content therewith, neither doth he himself receive the brethren, and them that would he forbiddest, and casteth them out of the church.
11 Beloved, imitate not that which is evil, but that which is good. 12 He that doeth good is of God: he that doeth evil hath not seen God.
13 I had many things to write unto thee, but I am unwilling to write them with ink and pen: 14 but I hope shortly to see thee, and we shall speak face to face. Peace be unto thee. The friends salute thee. Salute the friends by name.

THE GENERAL EPISTLE OF

JUDE.

1 A servant of Jesus Christ, and brother of James, to them that are called, beloved in God the Father, and kept for Jesus Christ: 2 Mercy unto you and peace and love be multiplied.
3 Beloved, while I was giving all diligence to write unto you of our common salvation, I was constrained to write unto you exhorting you to contend earnestly for the faith which was once for all delivered unto the saints.
4 For there are certain men crept in privily, even they who were of old set forth unto this condemnation, ungodly men, turning the grace of our God into lasciviousness, and denying our only Master and Lord, Jesus Christ.
5 Now I desire that you remember, though ye know all things once for all, how that the Lord, having saved a people out of the land of Egypt, afterward destroyed them that believed not.
6 And angels which kept not their own principality, but left their proper habitation, he hath kept in everlasting bonds under darkness unto the judgement of the great day.
7 Even as Sodom and Gomorrah, and the cities about them, having given themselves over to fornication, and gone after strange flesh, are set forth as an example, suffering the punishment of eternal fire.
8 Yet in like manner these also in their dreamings defile the flesh, and set at nought dominion, and "rail at dignities. But Michael the archangel, when contending with the devil he disputed about the body of Moses, durst not bring against him a railing judgement, but said, 'The Lord rebuke thee. 10 But these rail at whatsoever things they know not: and what they understand naturally, like the creatures without reason, in these things are they 2 destroyed. 11 Woe unto them! for they went in the way of Cain, and ran riotously in the error of Balaam for hire, and perished in the gaining of Korah. 12 These are they who are hidden rocks in your love-feasts when they feast with you, 'shepherdsthat without fear feed themselves; clouds without water, carried along by winds; autumn trees without fruit, twice dead; plucked up by the roots; 13 "wild waves of the sea, foaming out their own shame; wandering stars, for whom the blackness of darkness hath been reserved forever.

14 And to these also Enoch, the seventh from Adam, prophesied, saving, 'Behold, the Lord came with 6 ten thousand of his holy ones, 15 to execute judgement upon all, and to convict all the ungodly of all their work of ungodliness which they have wrought, and of all the hard things which ungodly sinners have spoken against him. 16 These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their lusts (and their mouth speaketh great swelling words), showing respect of persons for the sake of advantage. 17 But ye, beloved, remember ye the words which have been spoken before by the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ; 18 how that they said to you, 'In the last time there shall be mockers, walking after their own ungodly lusts. 19 These are they who make separations, sensual, having not the Spirit. 20 But ye, beloved, building up yourselves on your most holy faith, praying in the Holy Spirit, 21 keeping yourselves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto eternal life. 22 And on some have mercy, 10 who are in doubt; 23 and some save, snatching them out of the fire; and on some have mercy with fear; hating even the garment spotted by the flesh. 24 Now unto him that is able to guard you from stumbling, and to set you before his presence of his glory without blemish in exceeding joy, 25 to the only God our Saviour, through Jesus Christ our Lord, beglory, majesty, dominion and power, before all time, and now, and forevermore. Amen.

THE REVELATION

OF S. JOHN THE DIVINE.

1 The Revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave him to shew unto his 18 servants, even the things which must shortly come to pass: and he sent and signified it by his angel unto his servant John; who bare witness of the word of God, and of the testimony of Jesus Christ, even of all things that he saw. 3 Blessed is he that readeth, and they that heareth the words of the prophecy, and keep the things which are written therein: 4 for the time is at hand.

1 John 5. 17. 2 Pet. 1. 10. 3 Or, colt themselves a dunghill through. 4 Or. spots 5 Or. or. their own lusts of ungodliness. 8 Or. natural. Or. animal. 9 The Greek text in this passage is ... fire is somewhat uncertain. 10 Or, while they dispute with you. 11 Or, unto all the ages. 12 Or, pure unto him, to shew unto his servants the things which 8 Or. bounden - render: and so throughout this book. 13 Or, them. 15 Or, which concerneth and 4 the ruler of the kings of the earth. Unto him 2 he that loveth us, and 1 first brought us from our sins 2 by his blood; 3 and he made us 3 to be a kingdom, to be 2 priests unto his God and Father; 4 to him be the glory and the dominion 2 ever and ever. Amen. 7 Behold, 2 he cometh with the clouds; and every eye shall see him, and they which pierced him; and all the tribes of the earth shall mourn over him. Even so, Amen.

I am the Alpha and the Omega, says the Lord God, who is and who was and who is to come, the Almighty. And I, Jesus, who am the living one; I was dead and behold, I am alive, and hold the keys of death and of Hades. 19 Write therefore 2 the things which thou sawest, and the things which are, and the things which shall come to pass hereafter; 20 the mystery of the seven stars which thou sawest 11 in my right hand, and 12 the seven golden 2 candlesticks. The seven stars are the angels of the seven churches: and 14 the seven 1 candlesticks are the seven churches. 15 To the angel of the church in Ephesus write:

These things says 1 he that holdeth the seven stars in his right hand, 2 that walketh in the midst of the seven golden 2 candlesticks; 16 I know thy works and thy toil and patience, and that thou canst not bear evil men, and didst try them which call themselves apostles, and they are not, and didst find them false; 17 and thou hast patience and didst bear for my name's sake, and hast not grown weary. 18 But I have this against thee, that thou didst leave thy first love. 5 Remember therefore from whence thou fellst, and repent, and do 2 the first works; or else I will come to thee, and will move thy candlestick out of its place, except thou repent. 6 But this thou hast, that thou hast hated the works of 10 the Nicolaitans, which I also hate.

He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches. 7 To him that overcometh, I will give to eat of the tree of life, which is in 13 the Paradise of God.

And to the angel of the church in Smyrna write:

These things says 1 he that was first and the last, which was dead, and lived again; 9 I know thy tribulation, and 0 thy poverty (but thou art rich), and the 14 blasphemy of them which say they are Jews, and they are not, but are a synagogue of Satan. 10 Fear not the things which thou shalt be subject to suffer: behold, the devil is about to cast some of you into prison, 2 that ye may be tried; 11 and 2 ye shall have 10 tribulation ten days. 12 Be thou faithful 2 unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life. 13 will give thee the crown of life.

12 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches. He that overcometh shall not be hurt of the second death.

12 And to the angel of the church in Pergamum write:

These things saith he that hath the sharp two-edged sword: 13 I know where thou dwellest, even where Satan's throne is: and thou holdest fast my name, and didst not deny my faith, even in the days of Antipas, my witness, my faithful one, who was killed among you, where Satan dwelleth. 14 But I have a few things against thee, because thou hast there some that held the teaching of Balaam, who taught Balak to cast a stumblingblock before the children of Israel, 15 to eat things sacrificed to idols, and to commit fornication. 16 So hast thou also some that hold the teaching of the Nicolaitans in like manner. 17 Repent therefore; or else I will come to thee quickly, and will make war against them with the sword of my mouth. 18 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.

18 And to the angel of the church in Thyatira write;

These things saith he that hath the seven Spirits of God, and the seven stars: I know thy works, that thou hast a name that thou livest, and thou art dead. 2 Be watchful, and stablish the things which remain, which was ready to die: for I have found thy works, that thou hast a name that thou livest, and thy name is not known to them which aredead; and I will kill her out of her place, but she shall be killed. 4 But thou hast a few names in Sardis which did know my works, and repent; and repent; and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee. 5 But thou hast a few names in Sardis which did know my works, and repent; and repent; and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee. 6 But thou hast a few names in Sardis which did know my works, and repent; and repent; and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee. 7 But thou hast a few names in Sardis which did know my works, and repent; and repent; and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee. 8 But thou hast a few names in Sardis which did know my works, and repent; and repent; and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee. 9 But thou hast a few names in Sardis which did know my works, and repent; and repent; and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee. 10 But thou hast a few names in Sardis which did know my works, and repent; and repent; and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee. 11 But thou hast a few names in Sardis which did know my works, and repent; and repent; and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee. 12 But thou hast a few names in Sardis which did know my works, and repent; and repent; and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee. 13 But thou hast a few names in Sardis which did know my works, and repent; and repent; and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee. 14 But thou hast a few names in Sardis which did know my works, and repent; and repent; and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee. 15 But thou hast a few names in Sardis which did know my works, and repent; and repent; and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee. 16 But thou hast a few names in Sardis which did know my works, and repent; and repent; and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee. 17 But thou hast a few names in Sardis which did know my works, and repent; and repent; and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee. 18 But thou hast a few names in Sardis which did know my works, and repent; and repent; and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee. 19 But thou hast a few names in Sardis which did know my works, and repent; and repent; and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee. 20 But thou hast a few names in Sardis which did know my works, and repent; and repent; and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee. 21 But thou hast a few names in Sardis which did know my works, and repent; and repent; and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee. 22 But thou hast a few names in Sardis which did know my works, and repent; and repent; and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee.
have the key of David, 8 he that openeth, and none shall shut, and that shutteth, and none openeth: 9 I know thy works (behold, I have set before thee a door opened, which none can shut); that thou hast a little power, and didst keep my word, and didst not deny my name. 10 Behold, I give of the synagogue of Satan, of them which say they are Jews, and they are not, but do lie; behold, 11 I will make them to come and worship before thy feet, and to know that I have loved thee. 12 Because thou didst keep the word of my patience, I also will keep thee from the hour of trial, which shall come upon the whole world, to try them that dwell upon the earth. 13 I come quickly: hold fast that which thou hast, that no one take away thy crown. 14 He that overcometh, I will make him a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall go out thence no more: and I will write upon him my new name. 15 Behold, I come quickly; and my reward is with me, to give every man according to his work. 16 I am the root and the offspring of David, and the bright morning star. 17 The spirit and the powers of the world now impend; and now is the perfect hour, which shall come upon the whole world, 18 the hour of trial, which shall come upon the whole world, and upon the churches. 19 And they that are in My church shall be arrayed in white garments, 20 and these things I say, and they shall hear the things which shall come to pass hereafter. 21 After these things I saw, and behold, a door opened in heaven, and the first voice which I heard, a voice as of a trumpet speaking with me, one saying, 22 Come up hither, and I will shew thee the things which must come to pass hereafter. 23 Straightway I was in the Spirit: and behold, there was a throne set in heaven, and one sitting upon the throne; 24 and he that sat was to look upon like a jasper stone and a sardius: and there was a rainbow round about the throne, like an emerald to look upon. 25 And round about the throne were four and twenty elders sitting, arrayed in white garments; and on their heads crowns of gold. 26 And out of the throne proceeded lightnings and voices and thunders. And there were seven lamps of fire burning before the throne, which are the seven Spirits of God: 27 and before the throne, as it were a crystal sea like unto glass, and in the midst of the throne, and round about the throne, four living creatures full of eyes before and behind. 28 And the first creature was like a lion, and the second creature like a calf, and the third creature had a face as of a man, and the fourth creature was like a flying eagle. 29 And the four living creatures, having each one of them six wings, are full of eyes round about and within; and they have no rest day and night, saying, Holy, holy, holy, is the Lord God, the Almighty, which was and which is and which shall come to pass. 30 And when the living creatures shall give glory and honour and thanks to him that sitteth on the throne, to him that liveth for ever and ever, to the four and twenty elders shall fall the power of prayer.
down before him that sitteth on the throne, and shall worship him that liveth forever and ever, and shall cast their crowns before the throne, saying, 11 Worthy art thou, our Lord and our God, to receive the glory and the honour and the power: for thou didst create all things, and because of thy will they were, and were created.

And I saw in the right hand of him that sat on the throne a book written within and on the back, closed sealed with seven seals.

And I saw a strong angel proclaiming with a great voice, Who is worthy to open the book, and to loose the seals thereof? And no one in the heaven, or on the earth, or under the earth, was able to open the book, or to look thereon. And I wept much, because no one was found worthy to open the book, or to look thereon: and one of the elders saith unto me, Weep not: behold, the Lion that is of the tribe of Judah, the Root of David, hath overcome, to open the book and the seven seals thereof.

And I saw in the midst of the throne and of the four living creatures, and in the midst of the elders, a Lamb standing, as though it had been slain, having seven horns, and seven eyes, which are the seven Spirits of God, sent forth into all the earth.

And he came, and he taketh it out of the right hand of him that sat on the throne. And when he had taken the book, the four living creatures and the four and twenty elders fell down before the Lamb, having each one a harp, and golden bowls full of incense, which are the prayers of the saints. And they sing a new song, saying, Worthy art thou to take the book, and to open the seals thereof: for thou wast slain, and didst purchase unto God with thy blood men of every tribe, and tongue, and people, and nation, and madest them to be unto our God a kingdom and priests; and they reign upon the earth.

And I saw, and I heard a voice of many angels round about the throne and the living creatures and the elders; and the number of them was tens thousands ten thousand, and thousands of thousands; 12 saying with a great voice, Worthy is the Lamb that hath been slain to receive the power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing.

And every created thing which is in the heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and on the sea, and all things that are in them, heard I saying, Unto him that sitteth on the throne, and unto the Lamb, be the blessing, and the honour, and the glory, and the dominion, for ever and ever. And the four living creatures said, Amen. And the elders fell down and worshipped.

And I saw when the Lamb opened one of the seven seals, and I heard one of the four living creatures saying, 3 as with a voice of thunder, Come. And I saw, and behold, a white horse: and he that sat thereon had a bow: and there was given unto him a crown: and he came forth conquering, and to conquer.

And when he opened the second seal, I heard one of the living creatures saying, 4 Come. And another horse came forth, a red horse: and he that sat thereon it was given to take peace from the earth, and that they should slay one another: and there was given unto him a great sword.

And when he opened the third seal, I heard one of the three living creatures saying, 5 Come. And I saw, and behold, a black horse; and he that sat upon him, his name was Death; and Hades followed with him. And there was given unto him a balance: and he did measure the earth, and the sea, and the air, and them that dwelt upon the earth.

And when he opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth living creature saying, 6 Come. And I saw, and behold, a pale horse: and he that sat upon him, his name was Death; and Hades followed with him. And there was given unto him a sword, with which to smite mankind, and to kill.
with death, and by the wild beasts of the earth.

9 And when he opened the fifth seal, I saw underneath the altar the souls of them that had been slain for the word of God, and for the testimony which they held: and they cried with a great voice, saying, "How long, O Master, dost thou not judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?" And there was given to each one a white robe; and it was said unto them, that they should rest yet for a little time, until their fellow-servants also and their brethren, which should be killed even as they were, should be fulfilled.

12 And I saw when he opened the sixth seal, and there was a great earthquake; and the sun became black as sackcloth of hair, and the whole moon became as blood; and the stars of the heaven fell unto the earth, as a fig tree casteth her unripe figs, when she is shaken of a great wind.

14 And the heaven was removed as a scroll when it is rolled up; and every mountain and island were moved out of their places.

15 And the kings of the earth, and the princes, and the chief captains, and the rich, and the strong, and every bondman and freeman, hid themselves in the caves and in the rocks of the mountains; and they said to one another, 'The day of the Lord is at hand; and the hour of vengeance is come; and who is able to stand?'

7 After this I saw four angels standing at the four corners of the earth, holding the four winds of the earth, that no wind should blow on the earth, or on the sea, or upon any tree. And I saw another angel ascend from the rising sun, having the seal of the living God: and he cried with a great voice to the four angels, to whom it was given to hurt the earth and the sea, saying, 'Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we shall have sealed the servants of our God on their foreheads.' And I heard the number of them which were sealed, a hundred and forty and four thousand, sealed out of every tribe of the children of Israel.

5 Of the tribe of Judah were sealed twelve thousand:
Of the tribe of Reuben twelve thousand:
Of the tribe of Gad twelve thousand:
Of the tribe of Asher twelve thousand:
Of the tribe of Naphtali twelve thousand:
Of the tribe of Manasseh twelve thousand:
Of the tribe of Simeon twelve thousand:
Of the tribe of Levi twelve thousand:
Of the tribe of Issachar twelve thousand:
Of the tribe of Zebulun twelve thousand:
Of the tribe of Joseph twelve thousand:
Of the tribe of Benjamin were sealed twelve thousand:

9 After these things I saw, and behold, a great multitude, which no man could number, out of every nation, and of all tribes and peoples and tongues, standing before the throne and before the Lamb, arrayed in white robes, and palms in their hands; and they cry with a great voice, saying, 'Salvation unto our God which sitteth on the throne, and unto the Lamb; for the great day of their wrath is come; and who is able to stand?'

10 And I saw a like figure in heaven; and behold, a great crowd, which no man could number, of all nations, and kindreds, and people, and tongues, standing before the throne, and before the Lamb, arrayed in white robes, and palms in their hands; and theycry with a great voice, saying, 'Salvation and glory and honour and power, and thanksgiving, be unto our God for ever and ever. Amen.'

14 And one of the elders answered, saying unto me, These which are arrayed in the white robes, who are they, and whence came they? And I answered him, and said, These are they which come out of the great tribulation, and washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb.
and upon the fountains of the waters; and the name of the star is called Wormwood: and the third part of the waters became wormwood; and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.

12 And the fourth angel sounded, and the third part of the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars; that the third part of them should be darkened, and the day should not shine for the third part of it, and the night in like manner.

13 And I saw, and I heard an eagle, flying in mid heaven, saying with a great voice, Woe, woe, woe, for them that dwell on the earth, by reason of the other voices of the trumpet of the three angels, who are yet to sound.

1 And the fifth angel sounded, and I saw a star from heaven fallen unto the earth: and there was given unto him the key of the pit of the abyss. 2 And he opened the pit of the abyss; and there went up a smoke out of the pit, as the smoke of a great furnace; and the third part of the sun was darkened, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars; 3 and the third part of the sea was dried up, and the third part of the waters became blood; and the third part of them which were in the sea, died; and the third part of the ships were destroyed.

10 And the third angel sounded, and there fell from heaven a great star, burning as a torch, and it fell upon the third part of the rivers, and upon the fountains of the waters; and the name of the star is called Wormwood: and the third part of the waters became wormwood; and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.

9 And the first and the second and the third and the fourth angel sounded, and no man could stand; for the judgments of the great anger of God are come to pass. 2 And I heard the angel of the waters say, You have kept the covenant of God, and the souls of men; but they have corrupted themselves; and have made the waters bitter. 3 And I heard another angel saying, Woe, woe, woe to the inhabitants of the earth, because of thefires of the wrath of the reprobate angels.

8 And the seventh angel sounded; and there was silence in heaven about the seventh seal, there followed a great earthquake in the heaven. 9 And the seventh angel came, who had charge of the seven trumpets; and he said to me, Go, stand alone on the mountain of God. 10 And he said to me, Behold, I will give you the key of the pit of the abyss. 11 And when I received the key of the pit of the abyss, I opened the pit of the abyss, and there rose up a great smoke from the pit, as the smoke of a great furnace; and the third part of the sun was darkened, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars; 12 and the third part of the sea was dried up, and the third part of the waters became blood; and the third part of them which were in the sea, died; and the third part of the ships were destroyed.
the sound of their wings was as the sound of chariots, of many horses rushing to war. 10 And they have tails like unto scorpions, and stings; and in their tails is their power to hurt men five months. 11 They have over them as king of the angel of the abyss: his name in Hebrew is Abaddon, and in the Greek tongue he hath the name Apollyon.

12 The first Woe is past: behold, there come yet two Woes hereafter.

13 And the sixth angel sounded, and I heard a voice from the horns of the golden altar which is before God, 14 one saying to the sixth angel, which had the trumpet, Loose the four angels which are bound at the great river Euphrates. 15 And the four angels were loosed, which had been prepared for the hour and day and month and year, that they should kill the third part of men. 16 And the number of the army of the horsemen was twice ten thousand times ten thousand: I heard the number of them. 17 And thus I saw the horses in the vision, and them that sat on them, having breastplates as of fire and of hyacinth and of brimstone: and the heads of the horses are as the heads of lions; and out of their mouths proceedeth fire and smoke and brimstone. 18 By these three plagues was the third part of men killed, by the fire and the smoke and the brimstone, which proceeded out of their mouths. 19 For the power of the horses is in their mouth, and in their tails: for their tails are like unto serpents, and have heads; and with them they do hurt. 20 And the rest of mankind, which were not killed with these plagues, repented not of the works of their hands, that they should not worship devils, and the idols of gold, and of silver, and of brass, and of stone, and of wood; which can neither see, nor hear, nor walk: 21 and they repented not of their murders, nor of their sorceries, nor of their fornication, nor of their thefts.

I And I saw another strong angel coming down out of heaven, arrayed with a cloud; and a rainbow was upon his head, and his face as the sun, and his feet as pillars of fire; and he had in his hand a little book open: and he set his right foot upon the sea, and his left upon the earth; 3 and he cried with a great voice, as a lion roareth: and when he cried, the seven thunders uttered their voices. 4 And when the seven thunders uttered their voices, I was about to write: and I heard a voice from heaven saying, Seal up the things which the seven thunders uttered, and write them not. 5 And the angel which I saw standing upon the sea and upon the earth lifted up his right hand to heaven, 6 and sware by him that liveth for ever and ever, who created the heaven and the things that are therein, and the earth and the things that are therein, and the sea and the things that are therein, that there shall be six time no longer: 7 but in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he is about to sound, then is finished the mystery of God, according to the good tidings which he declared to his servants the prophets. 8 And the voice which I heard from heaven, I heard it again speaking with me, and saying, Go, take the book which is open in the hand of the angel that is about to sound, and eat it up; and it shall make sweet as honey. 9 And I took the little book out of the hand of the angel, and ate it up; and it was made bitter. 10 And they say unto me, Thou must prophesy again seven times over many peoples and nations and tongues and kings.

11 And there was given me a reed like unto a rod: and one said, Rise, and measure the temple of God, and the altar, and them that worship therein. 12 And the court which is without the temple leave without, and measure it not; for it hath been given unto the nations: and the holy city shall they tread under foot forty and two months. 3 And I will give unto my two witnesses, and they shall prophesy a thousand two hundred and threescore days, clothed in sackcloth. 4 These are the two olive trees and the two candlesticks, standing before the Lord of the earth. 5 And if any man desireth to hurt them, fire proceedeth out of their mouth, and devoureth their enemies: and if any man desireth to hurt them, in this manner must he be killed. 6 These have the power to shut the heaven, that it rain not during the days of their prophecy: and they have power over the waters to turn them into blood, and to smite the earth with every plague, as often as they shall desire. 7 And when they have finished their testimony, the beast that cometh up out of the abyss shall make war with them, and overcome them, and kill them. 8 And their dead bodies lie in the street of the great city, which spiritually is called Sodom and Egypt, where also their Lord was crucified. 9 And from among the peoples and tribes and tongues and nations do men look upon their dead bodies three days and a half, and suffer not their dead bodies to be laid in a tomb. 10 And they that dwell on the earth, and after the threescore and two weeks, the earth rejoiced over them, and they were not found in the tomb. 11 Then was opened the temple of God that is in heaven, and there was seen in his temple the ark of his covenant; and there followed lightnings, and voices, and thunders, and an earthquake, and great hail.

12 And there was opened one of the four sepulchres, and out of it came an angel with a great multitude of the heavenly host, and they went forth unto the woman clothed with the sun, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars, and upon her head a great sign was seen in heaven; a woman arrayed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars; and she was with child: and she crieth out, travailing in birth, and in pain to be delivered. 3 And there was seen another sign in heaven; and behold, a great red dragon, having seven heads and ten horns, and upon his head seven diadems. 4 And his tail draweth the third part of the stars of heaven, and did cast them to the earth: and the dragon stood before the woman which was about to be delivered, that when she was delivered, she might devour her child. 5 And she was delivered, but the devil cast her into the earth: and the dragon stood before the woman which was about to be delivered, to deceive her child. 6 And she was delivered, and was not found in the tomb, for her child was found dead. 7 And the dragon stood before the woman which was about to be delivered, to deceive her child. 8 And she was delivered, but the devil cast her into the earth: and the dragon stood before the woman which was about to be delivered, to deceive her child. 9 And she was delivered, but the devil cast her into the earth: and the dragon stood before the woman which was about to be delivered, to deceive her child. 10 And she was delivered, but the devil cast her into the earth: and the dragon stood before the woman which was about to be delivered, to deceive her child. 11 And she was delivered, but the devil cast her into the earth: and the dragon stood before the woman which was about to be delivered, to deceive her child. 12 And she was delivered, but the devil cast her into the earth: and the dragon stood before the woman which was about to be delivered, to deceive her child. 13 And she was delivered, but the devil cast her into the earth: and the dragon stood before the woman which was about to be delivered, to deceive her child. 14 And she was delivered, but the devil cast her into the earth: and the dragon stood before the woman which was about to be delivered, to deceive her child. 15 And she was delivered, but the devil cast her into the earth: and the dragon stood before the woman which was about to be delivered, to deceive her child.

dragon warred and his angels; and they prevailed not, and neither was their place found any more in heaven. 9 And the great dragon was cast down, the old serpent, that is called the Devil and Satan, who deceives the whole world; 10 he was cast down to the earth, and his angels were cast down with him.

10 And I heard a great voice in heaven, saying, Now is come the salvation and the power of the kingdom of our God, and the authority of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, who accused them before our God day and night.

11 And they overcame him because of the blood of the Lamb, and because of the word of their testimony; and they loved not their life even unto death.

12 Therefore rejoice, O heavens, and ye that dwell in them. Woe to the earth and the sea, because the devil is gone down unto you, having great wrath, knowing that he hath but a short time.

13 And when the dragon saw that he was cast down to the earth, he persecuted the woman which brought forth the man child.

14 And there were given to the woman the two wings of the great eagle, that she might fly into the wilderness, into her place, where she is nourished a while for a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent. 15 And the serpent cast out of his mouth after the woman water as a river, that he might cause her to be carried away by the stream. 16 And the earth helped the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed up the river which the dragon cast out of his mouth. 17 And the dragon waxed wroth with the woman, and went away to make war with the rest of her seed, who keep the commandments of God, and hold the testimony of Jesus: and he stood upon the sand of the sea.

18 And I saw a beast coming up out of the sea, having ten horns and seven heads, and on his horns ten diadems, and upon his heads names of blasphemy. 2 And the beast which I saw was like unto a leopard, and his feet were as the feet of a bear, and his mouth as the mouth of a lion: and the dragon gave him his power, and his throne, and great authority.

3 And I saw one of his heads as though it had been smitten unto death; and his death-stroke was healed: and the whole earth wondered after the beast; 4 and they worshipped the dragon, because he gave his authority unto the beast; and they worshipped the beast, saying, Who is like unto the beast? and who is able to war with him?

5 And there was given to him a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies; and there was given to him authority to make war with the saints, and to overcome them; and there was given to him authority over every tribe and people and language and nation. 6 And all that dwell on the earth shall worship him, every one whose name hath not been written in the book of life from the foundation of the world;

7 And it was given unto him to make war with the saints, and to overcome them; and there was given to him authority over every tribe and people and language and nation. 8 And all that dwell on the earth shall worship him, every one whose name hath not been written in the book of life from the foundation of the world; 9 and he was not slain to the earth, and he was cast down to the earth, and his death-stroke was healed: 10 the whole earth wondered after the beast; 11 and they worshipped the beast, saying, Who is like unto the beast? and who is able to war with him?

12 And I saw another beast coming up out of the earth; and he had two horns like unto a lamb, and he spake as a dragon. 13 And he exerciseth all the authority of the first beast in his sight. And he maketh the earth and them that dwell therein to worship the first beast, whose death-stroke was healed.

14 And he deceiveth them that dwell on the earth by reason of the signs which was given him to do in the sight of the beast; saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make an image to the beast, who hath the stroke of the sword, and lived.

5 And it was given unto him to give breath to it, even to the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should both speak, and cause that as many as should not worship the image of the beast should be killed. 6 And he causeth all, the small and the great, and the rich and the poor, and the free and the bond, that there be given them a mark on their right hand, or upon their forehead; 7 and that no man should be able to buy or to sell, save he that hath the mark, even the name of the beast or the number of his name. 8 * Here is wisdom. He that hath understanding, let him count the number of the beast; for it is the number of a man: and his number is Six hundred and sixty and six.

And I saw, and behold, the Lamb standing on the mount Zion, and with him a hundred and forty and four thousand, having his name, and the name of his Father, written on their foreheads. 2 And I heard a voice from heaven, as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of a great thunder: and the voice which I heard was as the voice of harpers harping with their harps: 3 and they sing as it were a new song before the throne, and before the four living creatures and the elders: and no man could learn the song save the hundred and forty and four thousand, that had been purchased out of the earth. 4 These are they which were not defiled with women; for they are virgins. These are they which follow the Lamb whithersoever he goeth. These were purchased from among men, to be the firstfruits unto God and unto the Lamb. 5 And in their mouth was found no lie: they are * without blemish.

And I saw another angel flying in mid heaven, having an eternal gospel to proclaim unto them that dwell on the earth, and unto every nation and tribe and tongue and people; 7 and he saith with a great voice, Fear God, and give him worship: for the hour of his judgment is come; and worship him that made the heaven and the earth and sea and fountains of waters.

8 And another, a second angel, followed, saying, Fallen, fallen is Babylon the great, which hath made all the nations to drink of the wine of the wrath of her fornication.

9 And another angel, a third, followed them, saying with a great voice, If any man worshippeth the beast and his image, and receiveth a mark on his forehead, or upon his hand, 10 he also shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is prepared unmixed in the cup of his anger; and he shall be tormented with fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb: 11 and the smoke of the torment goeth up forever and ever; and they have no rest day and night, they that worship the beast and his image, and those that receive the mark of his name.

12 * Here is the patience of the saints, they that keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus.

13 And I heard a voice from heaven saying, Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours; for their works follow with them.

14 And I saw, and behold, a white cloud; and on the cloud I saw one sitting *like unto a son of man, having on his head a golden crown, and in his hand a sharp sickle. 15 And another angel came out from the temple, crying with a great voice to him that was on the cloud, Send forth thy sickle, and reap: for the hour of the harvest of the earth is over-ripe. 16 And he that sat on the cloud cast his sickle upon the earth; and the earth was reaped.

17 And another angel came out from the temple which is in heaven, he also having a sharp sickle. 18 And another angel came out from the altar, * he that hath power over fire; and he called with a great voice to him that had the...
And I heard a great voice out of the temple, saying to the seven angels, Go ye, and pour out the seven bowls of the wrath of God into the earth.

And the first went, and poured out his bowl into the sea; and it became blood as of a dead man; and every living soul died, even the things that were in the sea.

And the second poured out his bowl into the sea; and it became blood as of a dead man; and it became blood as of a dead man; and every living soul died, even the things that were in the sea.

And the third poured out his bowl into the rivers and the fountains of the waters: and it became blood.

And I heard the angel of the waters saying, Righteous are thy judgments, O Lord God, the Almighty; righteous and true are thy judgments.

Who shall not fear, O Lord, and glorify thy name? for thou only art holy; for all nations shall come and worship before thee; for thy righteous acts have been made manifest.

And after these things I saw, and the temple of the tabernacle of the testimony in heaven was opened: and there came out of the temple, saying to the seven angels, Go ye, and pour out the seven bowls of the wrath of God into the earth.

And the angel cast his sickle into the earth, and gathered the clusters of the vine of the earth; for her grapes are fully ripe.

And the winepress was trodden with fire; and blood came out of the winepress, even unto the bridles of the horses, as far as a thousand and six hundred furlongs.

I saw another sign in heaven, great and marvellous, seven angels having seven plagues, which are the last, for in them is finished the wrath of God.

And I saw as it were a glassy sea mingled with fire; and them that come victorious from the seven plagues, which are the last, for in them is finished the wrath of God.

And they sing the song of Moses the servant of God, and of the Lamb, saying, Great and marvellous are thy works, O Lord God, the Almighty; righteous and true are thy ways, o thou King of the ages.

Who shall not fear, O Lord, and glorify thy name? for thou only art holy; for all nations shall come and worship before thee; for thy righteous acts have been made manifest.

And the fourth poured out his bowl upon the sun; and it was given unto it to scorch men with fire.

And men were scorched with great heat: and they blasphemed the name of the God which hath the power over these plagues; and they repented not to give him glory.

And the fifth poured out his bowl upon the throne of the beast; and his kingdom was darkened; and they gnawed their tongues for pain, and they blasphemed the name of the God of heaven because of their pains and sores; and they repented not of their works.

And the sixth poured out his bowl upon the great river, the river Euphrates; and the water thereof was dried up, so that the way might be made ready for the kings that came out of the rising sun.

And I saw coming out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet, three unclean spirits, as it were

And the winepress was trodden with fire; and blood came out of the winepress, even unto the bridles of the horses, as far as a thousand and six hundred furlongs.

I saw another sign in heaven, great and marvellous, seven angels having seven plagues, which are the last, for in them is finished the wrath of God.

And I saw as it were a glassy sea mingled with fire; and them that come victorious from the seven plagues, which are the last, for in them is finished the wrath of God.

And they sing the song of Moses the servant of God, and of the Lamb, saying, Great and marvellous are thy works, O Lord God, the Almighty; righteous and true are thy ways, o thou King of the ages.

Who shall not fear, O Lord, and glorify thy name? for thou only art holy; for all nations shall come and worship before thee; for thy righteous acts have been made manifest.

And the fourth poured out his bowl upon the sun; and it was given unto it to scorch men with fire.

And men were scorched with great heat: and they blasphemed the name of the God which hath the power over these plagues; and they repented not to give him glory.

And the fifth poured out his bowl upon the throne of the beast; and his kingdom was darkened; and they gnawed their tongues for pain, and they blasphemed the name of the God of heaven because of their pains and sores; and they repented not of their works.

And the sixth poured out his bowl upon the great river, the river Euphrates; and the water thereof was dried up, so that the way might be made ready for the kings that came out of the rising sun.

And I saw coming out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet, three unclean spirits, as it were

And the seventh poured out his bowl upon the air; and there came forth a great voice out of the temple, from the throne, saying, It is done: 18 and there were lightnings, and voices, and thunders, and *there was a great earthquake, such as was not since there were men upon the earth, so great an earthquake, so mighty. 19 And the great city was divided into three parts, and the nations of the nations fell: and Babylon the great was remembered in the sight of God, to give unto her the cup of the wine of the fierceness of his wrath. 20 And every island fled away, and the mountains were not found. 21 And a great hall, every stone about the weight of a talent, cometh down out of heaven upon men: and men blasphemed God because of the plague of the hail; and the plague thereof is exceeding great.

And there came one of the seven angels that had the seven bowls, and spake with me, saying, Come hither, I will shew thee the judgement of the great harlot that sitteth upon many waters; 2 by whom the kings of the earth committed fornication, and they that dwell in the earth were made drunken with the wine of her fornication. 3 And he carried me away into the Spirit into a wilderness: and I saw a woman sitting upon a scarlet-coloured beast, full of names of blasphemy, having seven heads and ten horns. 4 And the woman was arrayed in purple and scarlet, and decked with gold and precious stone and pearls, having in her hand a golden cup full of abominations, even the unclean things of her fornication, and upon her forehead a name written, Mystery, Babylon the Great, the Mother of the Harlots and of the Abominations of the Earth. 5 And I saw the woman drunken with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of the martyrs of Jesus. And when I saw her, I wondered with a great wonder. 6 And the angel said unto me, Wherefore didst thou wonder? I will tell thee the mystery of the woman, and of the beast that carrieth her, which hath the seven heads and the ten horns. 7 The beast that thou savest was, and is not; and *is about to come out of the abyss. 8 And *is to go into perdition. And *they that dwell on the earth shall wonder, they whose name hath not been written in the book of life from the foundation of the world, when they behold the beast, how that *he was, and is not, and *shall come. 9 Here is the mind which hath wisdom. The seven heads are seven mountains, on which the woman sitteth: 10 and upon her forehead is a name written, full of blasphemy, cup full of abominations, even the name of blasphemy, cup full of abominations, eventhe name of blasphemy, cup full of abominations, even 17 For God did put in their hearts to do his mind, and to come to one mind, and to give their kingdom unto the beast, until the words of God should be accomplished. 18 And the woman whom thou sawest is the great city, which reigneth over the kings of the earth.

18 After these things I saw another angel coming down out of heaven, having great authority; and the earth was lightened with his glory. 2 And he cried with a mighty voice, saying, Fallen, fallen is Babylon the great, and is become a habitation of devils, and a hold of every unclean spirit, and a hold of every unclean and hateful bird. 3 For by the wine of the wrath of her fornication the whole nations are fallen; and the kings of the earth committed fornication with her, and the merchants of the earth waxed rich by the power of her wantonness.

4 And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, Come forth, my people, out of her, that ye have no fellowship with her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues: 5 for her sins have reached unto heaven, and God hath remembered her iniquities. 6 Render unto her seven pints of her cup in the sight of kings, even of the kings of the earth, of the merchants of the sea, and of the inland merchants; 7 who have grown rich of the wealth of her houses, and have waxed wanton, and have drunk wine in the cup of her fornication.

8 Therefore in one day shall her plagues come, death, and mourning, and famine; and she shall be utterly burned with fire; for strong is the Lord God which judgeth her. 9 And the kings of the earth, who committed fornication and lived wantonly with her, shall weep and wail over her, 10 when they look upon the smoke of her burning, 11 standing afar off for the fear of her torment, saying, Woe, woe, the great city, Babylon, the strong city! for in one hour is thy judgement come. 12 And the merchants of the earth weep and mourn over her, for no man buyeth their merchandise any more; 13 merchandise of gold, and silver, and precious stone, and pearls, and fine linen, and purple, and silk, and scarlet; and all thyine wood, and every vessel of ivory, and every vessel made of most precious wood, and of brass, and iron, and marble; and merchandise of horses and chariots and slaves; and souls of men. 14 And the fruits which thy soul lusted after are gone from thee, and all things that were dainty and sumptuous are perished from thee, and men shall find them no more at all. 15 The merchants of these things, who were made rich by her, shall stand afar off for the fear of her torment, weeping and mourning; 16 saying, Woe, woe, the great city, she that was arrayed in fine linen and purple and scarlet, and decked with gold and precious stone and pearl! 17 for in one hour so great riches is made desolate. And every shipmaster, and every one that saileth any whither, and mariners, and as many as gain their living by the sea, stood afar off, and cried out as they looked upon the smoke of her burning, saying, What city is like the great city? 18 And they cast dust on their heads, and cried, weeping and mourning, saying, Woe, woe, the great city, wherein were made rich all that had their ships in the sea by reason of her costliness! for in one hour is she made desolate. 19 Rejoice over her, thou heaven, and ye saints, and ye apostles, and ye prophets; for God hath judged your judgement on her.

20 And a strong angel took up a stone as it were a great millstone, and cast it into the sea, saying, With this shall the great city Babylon be cast down, and shall be found no more at all. 21 And the voice of harpers and minstrels and flute-players and trumpeters shall be heard no more at all in thee: and no craftsman, of whatsoever craft, shall be found any more at all in thee; and the voice of a millstone shall be heard no more at all in thee: 23 and the light of a lamp shall shine no more at all in thee: and the voice of the bridegroom and of the bride shall be heard no more at all in thee: for they merchants were the princes of the earth; for with their sorcery were all the nations deceived. 24 And in her was found the blood of prophets and of saints, and of all that have been slain upon the earth.

1 And after these things I heard 2 a great voice, saying, 3 Hallelujah; 4 Salvation, and glory, and power, belong to our God: 5 for his judgments are true and righteous are they. 6 And a voice came forth from the throne, saying, Give praise to our God, all ye his servants, ye that fear him, the small and the great. 7 And I heard as it were the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thunders, saying, Hallelujah: for the Lord our God, the Almighty, reigneth. 8 And again I heard one mighty voice, saying, 9 Behold, the tabernacle of God is come to men. He will dwell with them, and will be their God, and they shall be his people. 10 And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed.

11 And I saw 12 the heaven opened, and there came a voice from the throne, saying, 13 Behold, the tabernacle of God is come to men. He will dwell with them, and will be their God, and they shall be his people. 14 And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed.

15 And the armies which are in heaven, followed him upon white horses, clothed in fine linen, white and pure. 16 And out of his mouth proceedeth 17 a sharp sword, that with it he should smite the nations: and he should rule them with a rod of iron; and he treadeth the winepress of the fierce wrath of the wrath of Almighty God. 18 And he hath on his garment and on his thigh a name written, KING OF KINGS, AND LORD OF LORDS.

19 And I saw a white horse: and he that sat upon him had a crown given unto him, and he went forth conquering, and to conquer. 20 And I heard a strong voice, saying, 21 Behold, the tabernacle of God is come to men. He will dwell with them, and will be their God, and they shall be his people. 22 And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed.
20 And I saw an angel coming down out of heaven, having the key of the abyss and a great chain in his hand. 2 And he laid hold on the dragon, the old serpent, which is the Devil and Satan, and bound him for a thousand years, 3 and cast him into the abyss, and shut it, and sealed it over him, that he should deceive the nations no more, until the thousand years should be finished: after this he must be loosed for a little time. 4 And I saw thrones, and they sat upon them, and judgment was given unto them: and I saw the souls of them that had been beheaded for the testimony of Jesus, and for the word of God, and such as worshipped not the beast, neither his image, and received not the mark upon their forehead and upon their hand; and 3 they lived, and reigned with Christ a thousand years. 5 The rest of the dead lived not until the thousand years should be finished. This is the first resurrection. 6 Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection: over these 3 the second death hath no power; but they shall be priests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with him a thousand years. 7 And when the thousand years are finished, Satan shall be loosed out of his prison, and shall go out and come forth to deceive the nations which are in the four corners of the earth, Gog and Magog, and compass the camp of the saints about, and the beloved city; and fire came down out of heaven, and devoured them. 8 And the devil that deceived them was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, where are also the beast and the false prophet; and they shall be tormented day and night forever and ever. 9 And I saw a great white throne, and him that sat upon it, from whose face the earth and the heaven fled away; and there was found no place for them. 10 And I saw the dead, the great and the small, standing before the throne; and books were opened: and another book was opened, which is the book of life: and the dead were judged out of the things which were written in the books, according to their works. 11 And the sea gave up the dead which were in it; and death and Hades gave up the dead which were in them: and they were judged every man according to their works. 12 And death and Hades were cast into the lake of fire. This is the second death, even the lake of fire. 13 And if any was not found written in the book of life, he was cast into the lake of fire.
burneth with fire and brimstone; which is the second death. 9 And there came one of the seven angels who had the seven bowls, who were laden with the seven last plagues; and he spake with me, saying, Come hither, I will shew thee the bride, the wife of the Lamb. 10 And he carried me away in the Spirit to a mountain great and high, and showed me the holy city Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, 11 having the glory of God: and her light was like unto a stone most precious, as it were a jasper stone, clear as crystal: 12 having a wall great and high; and having twelve gates, and at the gates twelve angels; and names written thereon, which are the names of the twelve tribes of Israel: 13 on the east were three gates: and on the north three gates; and on the south three gates; and on the west three gates. 14 And the wall of the city had twelve foundations, and on them twelve names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb. 15 And he that spake with me had for a measure an golden reed to measure the city, and the gates thereof, and the wall thereof. 16 And the city lieth foursquare, and the length thereof is as great as the breadth: and he measured the city with the reed, twelve thousand furlongs: the length and the breadth and the height thereof are equal. 17 And he measured the wall thereof, a hundred and forty and four cubits, according to the measure of a man, that is, of an angel. 18 And the building of the wall thereof was jasper; and the city was pure gold, as like unto pure glass. 19 The foundations of the wall of the city were adorned with all manner of precious stones. The first foundation was jasper: the second, sapphire; the third, chalcedony: the fourth, emerald; 20 the fifth, sardonyx: the sixth, sardius; the seventh, chrysolite: the eighth, beryl: the ninth, topaz: the tenth, chrysoprase: the eleventh, amethyst: 21 And the twelve gates were twelve pearls; each one of the several gates was of one pearl: and the street of the city was pure gold, as it were transparent glass. 22 And I saw no temple therein: for the Lord God the Almighty, and the Lamb, are the temple thereof. 23 And the city hath no need of the sun, neither of the moon, to shine upon it: for the glory of God did lighten it, and the lamp thereof was the Lamb. 24 And the nations shall walk by the light thereof: and the kings of the earth do bring their glory into it. 25 And the gates thereof shall in no wise be shut by day (for there shall be no night there): 26 and they shall bring the glory and the honour of the nations into it: 27 and there shall in no wise enter into it anything unclean, or he that maketh an abomination and a lie: but only they which are written in the Lamb's book of life.
I heard and saw, 'I fell down to worship before the feet of the angel which shewed me these things. And he saith unto me, See thou do it not: I am a fellow-servant with thee and with thy brethren the prophets, and with them which keep the words of this book: worship God. And he saith unto me, 'Seal not up the words of the prophecy of this book; for the time is at hand. He that is unrighteous, let him be made unrighteous still: and he that is righteous, let him be made righteous still: and he that is filthy, let him be made filthy still: and he that is holy, let him be made holy still. Behold, I come quickly. And my reward is with me, to render to each man according as his work is. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the first and the last, the beginning and the end. Blessed are they that wash their robes, that they may have the right to come to the tree of life, and may enter in by the gates into the city. Without are the dogs, and the fornicators, and the murderers, and the idolaters, and every one that loveth and maketh a lie. I Jesus have sent mine angel to testify unto you these things for the churches. I am the root and the offspring of David, the bright, the morning star. And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And he that heareth, let him say, Come. And he who is athirst, let him come: he that will, let him take the water of life freely. I testify unto every man that heareth the words of the prophecy of this book, If any man shall add unto them, God shall add unto him the plagues which are written in this book: and if any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part from the tree of life, and out of the holy city, which are written in this book. He which testifieth these things saith, Yea: I come quickly. Amen. The grace of the Lord Jesus be with the saints. Amen.
